59 SENIORS GET DIPLOMAS ON THURSDAY

Commencement Program At Penniman-Allen Will Include Play

The long awaited time for the 1935 seniors of Northville high school has arrived. With the baccalaureate service Sunday evening at the Methodist church, class night Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium, and commencement Thursday in the Penniman-Allen theater, when the 59 seniors will receive their diplomas from Superintendent H. H. Amernan, all the ceremonies associated with graduation will be finished.

In a new world, the theme of the baccalaureate message that the Rev. H. Z. Mallinson will bring to the seniors Sunday evening, and that theme will be carried out in the entire service, he says.

The church altar will be decorated with blue and gold, the class colors, and with many bouquets of flowers. The service will be one especially planned and designed for youth. Leslie G. Lee, director of the choir, has planned some special music appropriate to the occasion.

All of the churches of the village will be asked to take part in the service, and particularly the pastors. The seniors will march down the aisles to occupy the front pews, with space directly behind them reserved for their parents and friends, and with the remaining space for the general public. No tickets will be required.

Class Night on Tuesday. On Tuesday evening, class night, in the high school auditorium, the stage will be transformed into a broadcasting station in appearance at least, with the call letters, "NHS".

Outstanding among the features of this radio program will be the address of the salutatorian, Edward F. Angove.

The master of ceremonies for the evening will be Eddie Bender. Spencer Van Valkenburgh will be the announcer and song leader. The broadcast will be an amateur program, and as the song will be sung to signify when the powers that be have heard enough of any of the efforts of the participants, Stanley Taylor, Orange & Black, editor, will have the role of staff advertiser. His duty will be to get in a little sales talk now and then for Jones & Jones Company, or whatever company it happens to be, makers of fine facial soaps that will keep that schoolgirl complexion for you, that will not harm the most tender skin.

Although it will be an "amateur program," some of radio's most famous personalities will be presented at least in name, and included in these impersonations will be Cab Calloway, Joe Penner, and even the famous opera star, Lily Pons. Some of the "artists" will appear individually and some in groups, the committee says.

Also, a class prophecy will be given by William Owen, the last will and testament of the class by Marguerite Norton and Maurice Giles, the class history by Violet Johnson and the giftatory by Marion Turnbull and Donna Ferguson.

1935 CLASS IS LARGEST EVER TO GRADUATE

Unusually High Grades Are Attained By Honor Students

The 1935 graduating class of the Northville high school is larger than any previous class in the history of the school, having 59 members. It more than the 1934 class, and in addition to that, has a scholastic average which is probably higher than that of former classes.

The class of 1935 had 40 members in the 1932 class had 40, and in 1928, the first year that Superintendent H. H. Amernan was here as principal, only 18 graduated.

Mary Louise Boyden, class valedictorian, made an especially fine record, Mr. Amernan said, getting only two marks below A's in her entire high school career, and those were B's Edward Angove, and Tom Carrington are not far behind.

NORTHVILLE RELIEF WORK SLOWS DOWN

Village Hopes For Projects Under New Federal Appropriation

The public works projects in Northville, which are operated under the Wayne County Relief Administration, formerly under the OWPA, are going ahead very slowly, awaiting the possibility of some of the new projects being approved by the government $4,800,000,000 public works program committee.

The total number of men now on the payroll is about 32, or only 50 per cent as many as were employed here a year ago. These men are only working a few hours a week. Horace A. Boyden, foreman, says: "Work on the foundation of the Boy Scout Building at the corner of East Dunlap street and Hutton avenue is progressing especially slowly since the men employed on it work only one day a week. At this rate the foundation will be completed and the building moved on to the lot after July 1."

The building will then be brick-lined and completely redecorated on the inside to make it a really beautiful community building.

The relief work here now is very indefinite, Mr. Boyden said, and it appears that it will not be increased any until President Roosevelt's $4,800,000,000 work program is begun. This is scheduled to start July 1.

Northville asked on February 11 for $562,000 in public works project money under the new program and at that time a committee of local citizens personally tendered the combined petition of the village, school district and the township to the Michigan State Planning Commission, a body organized for the purpose, which in turn delivered it to the national committee.

No information was available this week as to what chance Northville stands to get a portion at least of the projects which were submitted for approval. The project will all be considered on the basis of a list of conditions which have been drawn up for the purpose.

The communities with the biggest relief rolls will get first call. The funds allotted for labor will also be given preference. The projects must in all cases give employment to those on relief rolls.

EXCHANGE CLUB TO PLAN NEW PROJECTS

There were fewer members of the Exchange club at its meeting Wednesday because quite a few took a few days off to go fishing. The men who were at the session discussed matters that have to do with the betterment of Northville.

The idea of having a master plan for developing the town, including streets, new dwellings, building codes, and other items that will make for beauty and utility were discussed.

A study of the possibilities is to be made and positive ideas presented. Howard Hall will give some pictures at the next meeting.

HOFFMAN TO ENTER M. A. A. U. MEET

Henry Hoffman, Northville high student, will compete in the pole vault event at the M. A. A. U. meet June 15 at Grand Rapids. He had for first place at the state meet Saturday in this event at Lansing.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Many parents will be pleased to know that on Monday, June 10, Mrs. Martha Erge will start her second year of summer school at Northville.

Northville School Room Transformed Into Broadcasting Studio; 'Ty Tyson' And 'C. C. Bradner' Go On The Air

"You can never tell what talent is hidden under the tumbled thatch of a school boy's head," a visitor to our public schools said Friday afternoon.

Quite different from the old-time Friday afternoon programs with their "pieces" and jolly songs from the school chapbook.

The fifth grade was all agog with excitement. With difficulty did the teacher, Miss Ellen Reincke, plot the spelling class through its words before a rap was heard on the door. In marched a delegation from Mrs. Hawkins' sixth grade, headed by Douglas McKluskie bearing a very realistic microphone.

"Let's be original," had said the sixth graders when they were planning their program.

"Let's broadcast," said Douglas. And immediately such a lot of heads were close together that Mrs. Hawkins knew something different was forthcoming.

A microphone was crested from a tin pickle jar wired to the long-handled window washer of Mrs. McKluskie and before this stood the announcer, Douglas.

Such a program as came in over the air!

DeVere Grover, as C. C. Bradner, gave a snappy outline of the day's news. Louis Eaton and Harold Martin played several clarinet numbers, and Bobby Boyden put on a jodeling stunt.

The fifth graders were spellbound during a wild west performance by Jackie Holcomb and Douglas and another thrilling play by "Honey Boy" and "Sassafraz," by Harry Ritchie and Alfred Kurchberger. In direct contrast came some old favorite songs by Marilyn Cavell and Mary Ellen Burgess.

Even the story hour by the "lady" was put on by Billy Washburne in high falsetto and a fast ball game was announced by Ty Tyson. Louis Eaton, who cut short his story by calling together imaginary clouds and rain fell to dispel the crowd.

Not only the children, but the teachers and the visitors had to admit as the "lady" filed out, "Kids are pretty smart these days."

BOYCE DISCUSSES WORLD WAR VETS AT ROTARY CLUB

Soldiers of the World war are not a privileged class and therefore are not entitled to privileged treatment, said John A. Boyce, president of the Depositors State Bank and executive man, in a Memorial Day talk at the Rotary meeting Tuesday in the Presbyterian church house.

Mr. Boyce impressed his audience with his right to talk on the subject due to his personal knowledge and experience in the "World war." "Pay tribute to the living and dead heroes of the war just as we pay tribute to our Mother's Mother's Day," he suggested. "Make the country a safe and a better place in which to live and you have paid honor to every world war veteran, not before us but our government has been so threatened," said Mr. Boyce.

The program chairman, Charles Thibault, presented the speakers as well as the visitor, St. John, John Davison of Plymouth.

A & P STORE MOVES INTO NEW BUILDING

The Northville A & P store moved to its new building on the north side of Main street Monday night and began business there at the usual time Tuesday morning.

The new store is handsomely decorated and has new equipment and fixtures of the latest type. An opening sale is planned to begin soon.

ELY TAX SUIT TO BE HEARD ON TUESDAY

Motions Are Made By State County, Farmington for Dismissal

A hearing will be held Tuesday, June 4, as the result of motions by the state of Michigan, Oakland county and the city of Farmington to dismiss the suit filed against them by Carl E. Ely of Northville, administrator of the estate of the late Charles H. Ely.

The bill of complaint, which was filed by Mr. Ely about May 1, 1934, charges that the assessment made in 1927 on the old Ely farm for which $23,242.40 was collected in taxes that year, was so grossly excessive as to amount to fraud. It also asks that all of this amount be returned.

Answers to the bill of complaint and motions for dismissal were entered Wednesday, May 15, by Attorney General John J. O'Hara, for the state of Michigan; by Donald Perritt, assistant prosecuting attorney for Oakland county; and Judge John J. Schulte, Jr. for the city of Farmington.

The answers given by these three governing bodies in their motions for dismissal were essentially the same.

One reason they give is that the time elapsed is so long as to outlaw the suit under the Statute of Limitations. The property was assessed eight years ago and the payment in question that of 1927 was made six years ago.

The defense also charges that Mr. Ely does not own the property in question and that therefore he is not a proper plaintiff. It is owned by Mrs. Blanche Ely, the widow of Charles Ely.

The motions for dismissal also state that the school district should have previously been named a defendant since it received a part of the taxes.

The defense concludes that the taxes were assessed before the taxes have been retroactively and the money already distributed to the various branches of government, and that even if they were decided on Mr. Ely's favor, it would be impossible to make a settlement.

VILLAGE WORSHIPS SUNDAY EVENING IN HONOR OF VETERANS

The annual community Memorial service, which always precedes Memorial day in Northville as part of the observance, was held at the Baptist church Sunday evening.

Four local organizations, the North H. Green post No. 147, American Legion, the American Legion auxiliary, the Women's Relief Corps, and the D. A. R. all marched to the service in their respective groups.

The D. A. R. has been represented at a memorial service here its members who attended were Mrs. Carl H. Bryan, Mrs. James F. Busby, Mrs. Royal B. Larkins, and Mrs. I. W. Linton.

The male quartet, composed of R. H. Amernan, the Rev. E. S. North, Clifford C. Winters, and W. H. Corrun, contributed to the music of the service with several selections.

The sermon of the evening was given by Mr. North, who took as his theme, "The Inspiration of Memory." The Rev. H. H. Mallinson also took part in the service.

Harry G. Marburger will be among the host of Shiners who will invade Washington, D. C. in June. He will go with the Modern Temple in Detroit.

Heavy Spring Rain Is Welcomed Here By Local Farmers

Northville received a heavy rain Tuesday that was heartily welcomed by local farmers, a rain that seemed late in the afternoon like a veritable cloudburst.

The Bell Telephone Company reported that as high as 60 telephones were out of order Tuesday night. Further than this, however, little damage was done; here by the storm, the real force striking further east, around the vicinity of Mr. Clemens.

Only the wholesome effects of the storm were felt here, although some of the streets were flooded from curb to curb. Cautions here after overflowing also.

The rain began Monday evening and continued intermittently throughout that night until Tuesday afternoon when the real storm broke. For a time it was mixed with the rain.

Several "ulers of the soil" remarked Wednesday that now it is more certain that this would be a "good season" for their crops. The rain came at the time when it was most needed, in their opinion it is also the belief by some here, who profess to be weather prophets, that rain will come frequently all during the summer months.

OVER 1,500 POPPIES SOLD BY VETERANS

Legion Members Work Here From Dawn To Dark On Streets

Poppy Day in Northville Saturday was a big success.

That is the report which comes from Claude N. Ely, commander of the American Legion post No. 147, which sponsored the sale of these red memorial flowers.

All of the 1,500 poppies were sold here Saturday, Mr. Ely reports, which is a substantial increase over the sales of other years, and brings the total of the Memorial day sale to a general amount of more than 10,000 poppies.

The funds raised from the poppy sale will go to the welfare work of the Northville American Legion.

All of the poppy dealers, including those of the old French war, were in uniform, and a number of poppies in one hand and a money receipt in the other. Several of the men were out on the job as early as a quarter of the morning, and the campaign had proceeded until after dark in an evening, 15 hours later.

The poppy vendors were provided their meals at the Legion home on East Main street by two members of the Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Florence Alexander and Mrs. William H. Safford. The men went there at various times to insure that some of them would be on duty selling poppies all the time.

Several of the daughters of the Legionnaires also joined in the sale. These were Mary and Constance Burgess, Dorothy and Jean Vroman and Peggy Ely.

The American Legion wishes to thank the community for the fine support shown them on Poppy Day, and for the many generous contributions that were made.

OVER 300 ATTEND DANCE SATURDAY AT MEADOWBROOK

The Meadowbrook Country club held its formal opening dinner-dance Saturday evening more than 300 members being present to dine and to dance to the music of Freddy Zierer and his orchestra.

The nine-course dinner was served in the dining room which was beautifully decorated with many bouquets of tulips, baskets of white carnations and lavender lilies. Fifteen large baskets filled with spring flowers also were distributed around the dance floor.

The orchestra scored a hit with the dancers, especially Billy Richardson, attractive feminine singer, capturing generous applause each time she sang.

NEW AIRPORT PROPOSED FOR NORTHVILLE

Major Evans Suggests That The Village Lease Old Stinson Field

Northville may get a new airport and call it the "Stinson Memorial Airport," soon if the village commission decides in favor of it at its meeting Monday evening.

Major Floyd B. Evans, director of the State Department of Aeronautics, in a recent letter to Dr. H. H. Burkard, president of the village commission, urged that the village obtain a lease on the grounds where the old Stinson airport was located.

He expressed the belief that there will be sufficient funds made available under the new $4,800,000,000 Federal work program to develop the field providing the village would lease it for a minimum period of five years.

"We will co-operate with you in every way possible in the development of this field if the village will execute a lease on it," he said.

Major Evans spoke at a meeting of the Exchange club here April 24. At that time the idea of using the old Stinson airport again was first brought up. It is suggested then that the new field be called the Stinson Memorial Airport.

Another of the results of the talk here then is that a class in the ground work of aviation will be started this fall. Sometime during the summer the instructor will be selected. Classes will be held evenings at the high school. The only expense to students will be the purchase of a textbook.

AMERMAN TALKS AT ALUMNI BANQUET OF BELLEVILLE SCHOOL

H. H. Amernan, superintendent of Northville schools, was one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the Belleville high school Friday at Belleville, which he attended with Mrs. Amernan.

About 200 people attended the banquet of the Belleville school, which was held at the old French war home on Main street in uniform, which he had not seen in many years. He was in uniform in fourth grade and a money receipt in the other hand. Several of the men were out on the job as early as a quarter of the morning, and the campaign had proceeded until after dark in an evening, 15 hours later.

The poppy vendors were provided their meals at the Legion home on East Main street by two members of the Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Florence Alexander and Mrs. William H. Safford. The men went there at various times to insure that some of them would be on duty selling poppies all the time.

Several of the daughters of the Legionnaires also joined in the sale. These were Mary and Constance Burgess, Dorothy and Jean Vroman and Peggy Ely.

The American Legion wishes to thank the community for the fine support shown them on Poppy Day, and for the many generous contributions that were made.

JOHN DOLPH SAW ACTION '61 WITH FAMOUS REGIMENT

John W. Dolph, of Los Angeles, Calif., finds that he and one other fellow are the only survivors of Co. G of the 22nd N.Y. cavalry who were mustered out of the Civil War 70 years ago this week. That regiment was disbanded around the dance floor.

The orchestra scored a hit with the dancers, especially Billy Richardson, attractive feminine singer, capturing generous applause each time she sang.

More than 200 guests played on the club course on Sunday, August 19. Robert manager, said the next dinner-dance will be given on Saturday, June 22.

OUR IDLE BOYS AND GIRLS

These are days for a lot of sober thinking. Problems press on every hand. The wage earner has his difficulties and the business man his troubles. School teachers are pressed in making ends meet.

Here is a big worry—the number of our graduates of high school and college who are unemployed. Maybe because Northville has only a few dozen of such young people, we hadn't thought about this—even though the homes involved have been concerned mightily about it.

In Detroit last week, Dr. Walter B. Pitkin, author of "Life Begins at Forty," told the Rotary club that there are eight million young men and women who have finished their high school and college work who have been unable to get regular jobs.

What can be done about these idle eight millions? Well, Dr. Pitkin urges personal contacts with the boys and girls (we are all boys and girls, older grown). "Let the youths know you are a disappointed man. Don't try to convert them but let them know they are not forgotten."

From employment agencies without a hearing. Let them tell on one of your staff their boys, and let them have a sympathetic, intelligent man talk to them. Don't let an office boy or a dead old man coldly turn them away. I know it's a nuisance to a lot of you, but you're being swamped with applicants for jobs. Be a man and now choose between nuisance and revolution. Make up your mind!

In discussing the problem of unemployed youth Dr. Pitkin said this encouraging thing: "There are many new opportunities in this country for the youth of today, but they have to be sought. Finding them will show them the way."

ANXIOUS NIGHTS

The apple trees are heavy with their pink and white blossoms. Pictures of the blossoms are everywhere. The peach trees and their blossoms of yellow and white are also in bloom.

And yet a lot of anxiety surrounds our Northville and our Michigan fruit crops. True, the promise for an abundant fruit crop is splendid. "I can see 6,000 bushels of apples on one orchard alone," says a good friend. Think what a fine fruit crop will mean to all of us.

But frost could ruin the prospects over night—gone might be a part, or all of the crop in certain areas. As we write this on Friday afternoon, we look out in the back yard and see apple trees, hanging white like snowbanks with their heavy blossoms.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL JOURNALISTS

A large proportion of Record readers have during the past school year found interest and delight in the Orange and Black school page. It has in this and other years been one of the bright spots of the home newspaper.

Few of our readers, however, have much conception of the industry, inspiration, and stick-to-it-iveness on the part of the staff who have edited this page. It is more work to gather material for this page, edit it and be fair to all the various school interests than you folks realize. It is fine, creative work that will be appreciated later more than it is now.

So we are glad now to plant a few flowers of gratitude for the outgoing staff. They have helped record history for Northville schools. They have been both historians and interpreters. Around the Record office, as the "O and B" went to press weekly we have provided desk room for two of the staff on whom fell the heaviest burden. Editor Stanley Tarver and his assistant, Miss Altha Hagermaster, they have labored well and faithfully. Finally, we thank them for their co-operation in helping give Northville a better newspaper. We place them in the hall of fame of preceding Orange and Black workers who will be long remembered. And, of course, for the other members of the staff of whom we have seen little, we have the same high regard and to them we also give our best wishes for success in life.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

"We have been and we still are, going too fast. We need to stop to let our souls catch up."

(Classified ad in the Grandville Star)—For Sale—barber shop, good business. Reason for selling, going on relief.

"Northville certainly has great possibilities," said an Ann Arbor visitor to us one day last week. The outside world's watching us.

The way that untold thousands, from coast to coast, "tell for" the chain letter racket makes it easier to understand why thousands and thousands pin their faith on Coughlin, Townsend and Long. Luckily, the people's second judgment is usually pretty good.

It is very encouraging to notice the splendid spirit with which Northville is co-operating in the home modernizing and home building plans. It is a good time to repeat the old slogan for unity: "Remember the banana, every time it leaves the bunch it gets skinned."

It is variously estimated that from 75,000 to 150,000 people visited the little city of Holland, over in Western Michigan, during its Tulip-Week festival. For two days, Saturday and Sunday, there was hardly standing room, says an editorial in The Zeeland Record, published in the nearby city. Holland's tulip jubilation has been such a success that now Zeeland is talking of adopting some other flower than the tulip and of having some kind of a flower festival. If Northville can continue the plans for a community flower, started by the Exchange club, this community could in a few short years attract one hundred thousand people to our town. That would be wonderful advertising for Northville.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What would you estimate as the net loss that Northville people suffered from the chain letter scheme?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT
EDUCATION VS. CHARACTER
(W. H. Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant)

In a bulletin sent out from the office of the Michigan Education Association, we read: "Civilization is a race between catastrophe and education."

Education is by far our best insurance against communism, and all other isms which are attempting to overthrow our democratic form of government. Democracy will continue to grow and improve only so far as we promote and encourage public schools.

We wonder just how much of the above is true. With all due respect to education, we just can't help remembering that this country was built up by a class of people with considerable less education than the average of today and that crime was much less rampant then than now.

We also remember that while we have had more young people in high school during the past few years than ever before, we also have a much larger percentage of young men in our prisons. We would not discourage education, nor seek to devalue our civilization, but we do believe our civilization depends so much upon education as it does on moral values. Education without a spiritual awakening will not add much to the safety of civilization.

In spite of our boasted education we still have 100 grocery stores, 55 filling stations, 49 restaurants and 35 drug stores to every single book store in our country, which would indicate that our form of education doesn't create so large a demand for continuing education through books as it does for creature comforts, joy rides and luxuries.

BACK TO THE LAND
Richard Cook in The Hastings Banner

Colonel Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, not ranked as the No. 1 newspaper man of the country, declared in an address at Grand Rapids recently that one of the prime needs of this country was a return to the land.

By this he meant an increase in the number of individual property owners. He said that during the past few decades the tendency to center control and ownership of property in a few large holdings was so pronounced. The democratic form of government is impossible, he believes, unless the great majority of the people own property of some form, whether it be a farm or a home. Ultimately, he said, where property comes into the control of the minority, the "haves" ones will rise up and overthrow existing forms of government. Then a socialized state, such as the one in Russia, will inevitably follow. Only the widespread ownership of property can keep the philosophy of a real democratic government alive. There is considerable food for thought in what Colonel Knox says. The study of history from ancient times

HOW TO SPEND A DIME
(Schuyler Marshall in Clinton County Republican News)

In its last analysis the chain letter gag is illegal and vicious. The average person who sticks in a dime of a dollar may not be injured. They can chalk it up to experience. But the suckers who organize an office and make a business to reap large amounts from suckers are nothing more or less than plain, ordinary crooks. Yes, we mean just that—and if you have joined in the craze you have contributed to just that extent in making their game possible.

If you really are willing to spend a dime or a dollar, why not stop the best ragged, sallow-faced little kid you meet on the street and buy him an ice cream sundae with the dime or a new pair of tennis shoes with the dollar? Talk about returns—the chain letter you buy will likely never see you a cent back, although that's what you hoped for in the case of the needy orphan. You'll get a ten-dollar grin of recognition and appreciation every time you meet him on the street in the future. We know, we've tried it.

N. H. S. TRACK MEN FAIL AT STATE MEET

Orange and Black Boys Are Listed as Also Ran in Lansing Tourney

Due to a very warm day and not enough sleep the night before, the N. H. S. boys failed to make a very good showing at the State track meet Saturday, May 25, at Lansing. Hoffman led for first after winning the pole vault last year. His pole broke and that was a distinct disadvantage to him. Giles was fifth in the mile and Strain took a third in the shot put. Customarily, he throws the shot 45 feet but Saturday he threw only 42 feet. Bray and Gregory, both had off days. After winning the Regional in 2-6, Bray did not place at State. Gregory ran a good race, but he did not place.

All these boys have worked exceptionally hard and they say they are very glad track season is over.

DID YOU NOTICE?

M. S. running around with a worried look on her face? She lost the back of her graduation dress.

The senior class decided not to give their last dance? Excuse, too busy!

Tom G. telling the seniors what he would do if they were noisy in class meeting?

Treat the skipping school crabs has passed?

All the chain letters floating around?

That some seniors think the idea of amateur night is silly?

E. Anshler tearing up the note in physics class when Mr. Watts asked for it?

Mr. Thompson and his typing ability?

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Seniors are busy! So busy in fact, that it makes one wish that they had been graduated and enroute to Washington, D. C. via a B. & O. train at the present time.

A class meeting was held last week to decide whether to have a senior dance or not. The majority voted in the negative.

Commencement practices have been running smoothly all this week. "The Sails of Success" under the guidance of the faculty, Mrs. Cobb, Miss Palmer, Mrs. Chapman, Miss Huff and Miss Ludwig, will be presented by the seniors on June 1.

Class night is to be held on June 1, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. It will be in the form of an amateur program, the class history, class will prophesy and gittatory being given by some of our best amateurs. Maurice Giles is the author of the class will, Violet Johnson the class history, Bill Owen the prophesy, and Marian Turnbull and Donna Ferguson conducting the gittatory.

A special class meeting was held Monday, June 27. The date for the Washington, D. C. trip was set for June 16. Mr. Lee gave a report on the commencement tickets. Mr. Amerman discussed the class activities and urged everyone to co-operate with teachers in regard to practices.

Friday, May 31, was set for the practice in determining whether to take the trip or not. Seniors not planning to go to Washington were asked to give their decisions to any of the class officers.

Rehearsal for class night was held Wednesday. Baccalaureate practice is this afternoon.

Tuesday afternoon, seniors are asked to see Mr. Amerman in regard to going on the trip.

OBSERVATION COLUMN

This week another couple is about to be observed. The girl is a new member in Northville high school this year. She has dark hair and blue eyes and likes to dance. Both the boy and girl are active members in the junior class. The boy looks a number of this year's golf team works in a store downtown, and has worked for several years. They are very often seen at school activities. Guess who?

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Seniors Recall Many Happy Years

The seniors of 1935 are now going through a period of recalling their past twelve years of school life.

The first thing that they can recall is the first day they started to school and also how strange some of the other students looked to them. Some were timid while others seemed to be very active and did not dread the first few weeks of their educational career. As they look back from that time until this very day they seem to recall some of the happiest days of their lives.

They remember how they hit Mary or Johnny in the back of the ear with a paper wad or Sammy put a mouse in the teacher's desk. Yes, that is part of their happy days which have now vanished into the past.

The editor of The Orange and Black wishes to take this opportunity to thank Leslie G. Lee, Orange and Black reporter, Altha Hagemaster, the typist, R. H. Amerman and other students for their splendid co-operation which they have shown in publishing this year's school page. Those who helped outside of the school were Warner Neal and Ed Tor R. Baldwin.

We wish the next year's co-editors Ida Altmann and Irene Modes, and the assistant editor, Tom McLoughlin, the very greatest success. We have tried our utmost to give you readers a good page this year and whether we have accomplished this is very doubtful.

It is really as much fun to be graduated as many people believe it to be. Some say it is, while others believe just the opposite. We believe that no matter who the senior is, the last few days before he is to be graduated are the most enjoyable of his life.

Some of the things that the seniors have done together are: they have had a picnic at Cass Benton park, they have had a picnic at the University of Michigan, they have had a picnic at the University of Detroit, they have had a picnic at the University of Detroit.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Robert Kenneth Porter
Kenneth, as he is called, was born at Eastville, Michigan, October 19, 1915.

His favorite sport is football. He has played on the team for three years. Kenneth also likes back at football. He has been a member of the team for two years. A member of the K. K. Club for four years. He has been in at hobby is taking birds apart.

Due to his work, the letter being at the Kroger store, Kenneth has had no time to participate in school activities.

Kenneth has many things that he would like to do after graduation, therefore he cannot state any definite plans.

Benny A. Zaytz

Benny was born outside of Northville and has lived in and around here since that time. He attended the Base Line school for the first eight grades and then came here for his high school education.

When in grade school he won two dictionaries and an atlas in the Detroit News annual spelling bee. He won one dictionary in the seventh grade and the other one and an atlas in the 8th grade.

His favorite sport is hockey, and he used to collect stamps, but the hobby grew stale so he quit. He was on a committee for the J-Hop and the senior prom.

Benny plans on going on to school some where and then joining the navy. Although Benny lives on a farm and has practically all his life, he does not like farm life.

YOUR NEXT PARTY

Will be a great success if you serve Fry's delicious home-made ice cream. Economical, pleasingly different, and a real treat. Royal Ann Cafe, Northville.

N. H. S. STUDENTS HEAR MR. HEDGE TALK ON SCHOOLS

Mr. Hedges from the University of Detroit spoke to the senior class on May 21.

Mr. Hedges teaches in the school to commerce there and particularly wished to call our attention to advance work in that field.

You should consider the University of Detroit, although you may be closer to the University of Michigan or Wayne University. From the standpoint of expense, the University of Detroit is best for Northville students, he said.

It may be arranged for you to go to school in the morning and work in the afternoon, he said.

In Mr. Hedges' point of view the person who works his way through school achieves more.

The U. of D. may be a Catholic institution, but it caters to all classes of people. Religion doesn't enter into education, he pointed out.

The tuition for day school is $200 and for night school $150.

U. of D. is recognized by the North Central Association of colleges, he concluded.

SOPHOMORES ELECT FIVE CLASS OFFICERS

Thursday, May 23, the sophomores had a class meeting to elect officers for their junior year.

Benny Hagedorn was elected president. Lucille Simmons vice-president. Marjorie Chase secretary. Ruth Campbell treasurer, and George Westcott alternates.

Officers this year were James Gosselin president, Eva Goodale vice president, Helen Johnson secretary and treasurer, and Betty Hagedorn alternates.

CORNER FOR BOOK LOVERS

Magie! Isn't there a lot in that word? Just say it to yourself and see what it calls to mind. Witch doctors, perhaps, and tom-toms, Gypsies with red handkerchiefs and gypsy earrings and modern magicians in evening clothes.

Then say "Houdini" and you have the perfect counterpart of magie. For there has been only one Houdini and he is gone.

So, at least, says Walter B. Gibson in his introduction to Houdini's "Escapes and Magie" and I do not think any of us will disagree with him. We have all, at some time or another come in contact with a magician. He might have been one of those whose names are a byword of the black arts or he might be a noted, a famous Houdini or Houdini, but one who has not yet arrived. But very few people except perhaps the class clown, can ever equal the mighty magician in our eyes.

Without you let have to know about these things, which seem almost miraculous, are made very simple and easy to do. You will find more than you can imagine in this book. Mr. Houdini has a "secret" under his belt, but it is a "secret" that he has shared with his magicians and his assistants. It is a "secret" that he has shared with his magicians and his assistants. It is a "secret" that he has shared with his magicians and his assistants.

There are these advantages in buying Standard's ISO-VIS "D"

You SEE what goes into your crankcase
Iso-Vis "D" is dispensed from clean, clear glass bottles.

You get the RIGHT GRADE
Each bottle of Iso-Vis "D" is clearly marked at the full quart level, carefully tested according to government standards.

You get the ORIGINAL ANTI-SLUDGE motor oil
This is the famous anti-sludge motor oil first introduced through the world by Standard. Entirely overhead distilled, and purified by the Chlorox Extraction and Process Devising Process. Prevents piston rings and valves from sticking, oil lines and filters from fouling. A straight mineral oil that fully protects high-speed bearing metals.

You get FASTER SERVICE
It is the quickest method yet devised for dispensing oil. Each quart is ready to pour into your crankcase immediately—no delay, no wait.

You pay for NOTHING EXTRA
You don't buy the bottle—there's no charge for the "package" when you get Iso-Vis "D". Every penny goes for the oil itself.

You get the FASTEST LASTS LONGER
You'll find fewer added quarts between drainings because Iso-Vis "D" resists heat. It has a remarkably high "viscosity index," which means that extremes of temperature do not greatly change its body.

Graduation Presents

At no other time in the life of a boy or a girl is a substantial gift so appropriate and no occasion merits a token of approval and encouragement more.

The proud day of graduation for the boy offers a suitable time for the gift of a Watch, Fountain Pen, Chain or Ring.

For the girl, a Diamond is most appreciated but whatever the amount you can afford to invest, some selection from our Jewelry stock will please best and carry the most endearing remembrance.

NATURAL FORCES AID BUSINESS RECOVERY

By R. S. BECHT President American Bankers Association

ALTHOUGH, as official studies of business conditions show, business is still far from having struck its full stride, nevertheless, believe that it is undoubtedly true that the natural economic processes which have always brought the nation out of a slump are now and have been for some time steadily at work laying the foundations for more active business conditions.

I believe that there is growing a broader public perception that the people of this country must make their own prosperity and not wait for the Government at Washington to make it for them. In other words, the normal economic vigor and vitality of the United States is slowly but inevitably bringing recovery.

Like a doctor, the administration can help nature. But the fundamental healing processes will come from natural causes and not from political remedies. Despite the slackening of business now apparent, despite expressions of disappointment we hear from various quarters, nevertheless I am confident that these fundamental healing processes, if not spectacular, are none the less sure to work.

Gradually our business leaders are showing greater confidence in the future and are assuming a more forward looking position. I firmly believe that if we will make up our minds to replace fear-psychology with confidence-psychology the results will fully justify such a new attitude.

THE VOICE OF THE PULPIT IN NORTHVILLE

"It Is I—Be Not Afraid"—Jesus

St. Matthew, in the fourteenth chapter of his gospel account, tells a beautiful story which is recorded in the Sacred Book for our learning and comfort. Jesus had one day preached on the shore of Lake Genesaree, had healed the sick and fed the hungry, all night had fallen. Then He sent away the crowds of people, who thronged about Him and even requested His disciples to "get into a ship and to go before Him into the other side of the lake. Finally He was all alone. And immediately He climbed a nearby mountain or hill. Why? To pray. He was tired from the day's work, perhaps even a little discouraged and heart-sick at the indifference of the people toward His message. At any rate, He felt that He needed new strength and courage for the labors and trials of the morrow. And where and how could He get that? At His Father's throne, in prayer.

But now Peter did a strange thing. He said, "Lord, if it be Thou, bid me come to Thee on the Water." And Jesus said, "Come." Upon hearing this "come," the believing disciple stepped out of the boat and walked on the water to go to Jesus. He walked on until suddenly he espied a particularly large wave coming. Involuntarily he wondered if he could weather that wave and the minute he wondered or doubted, he began to sink. But immediately cried out, "Lord, save me, I perish." And Jesus stretched out His hand and rescued him. "Oh, what a lesson for us, as long as Peter believed he was able to walk unharmed upon the raging waters! The minute he doubted he was in danger of perishing. As long as we believe and trust Jesus, doubting nothing, accepting His word, no wave of trouble can harm us. Our hearts will be calm and peaceful. But as soon as we begin to doubt His word, or His goodness, and His mercy, as soon as we begin to grumble and complain about His doings with us, as soon as we are no longer sure that His loving hand will sustain us and keep us, we shall begin to go down, submerged by the waters of trouble. Let us hold on, therefore, to this faith. He has never failed us of anyone else in any crisis. He will not fail us today. Trust Him, believe Him, and you will be saved spiritually, physically, eternally.

Note.—This is the very thing for which this little "corner" was started—to give other women a chance to "air" their ideas and make suggestions. Shyness, being too busy, or something has held these ideas back. And now here comes a contribution from a woman reader who has cherished a secret longing for a career and after all has learned that the "career" of most of us women is helping along the ambitions of others.

After reading this, why not hand on your own experience—for the encouragement of others? "Mrs. Editor" will be glad for any good recipes for this column.

FINDING CAREERS FOR OTHERS

by P. S. ELLIOTT

For years I've had a career and haven't known it!

Always I have wanted a career for myself; first as a doctor, then as a writer.

But what I haven't realized is that while trying to "perfect" myself in my various pursuits, I've really had another vocation; and what's more, disconcerting to face having more success at it than in writing, my latest and most serious vocation.

I've been doing this: I've been helping others start careers while building success in my own.

There was a time when one of my sisters needed absorbing work to forget a great tragedy. Nursing came to my mind as the link between her former life and a new start. The girl took up nursing, at first as a rock to which she might cling in distress, later more seriously. Now she is connected with an important institution that provides her with absorbing work.

Another sister is digging into data concerned with sewing and clothes designing.

It's always been my belief that women, even though happily married and mothers of several children, should interest themselves in extra-domestic work. Consequently, I have at all times encouraged my three sisters to train themselves in any kind of work outside of home duties. At the same time, I have tried to impress on them the importance of fitting their outside interests into their already organized domestic lives skillfully or disaster will ensue.

I have a brother whom we all have helped financially, and with encouragement to make a career of piano playing. He is now studying music at one of the great state schools and though his true work may never bring him great rewards, the satisfaction from playing well will be excellent enough compensation.

I have been asked to help many. If the case were desperate, I have given money, food and time. If not so desperate, I have tried to help the man or woman find himself of herself a job, at first an emergency job, later one that fitted in with his and her aptitudes.

Magic White Sauce

If you want to make "something out of nothing," white sauce is your best aid. Meats, fish, chicken or vegetables—held together with it make fine gravies. These may be served hot, making "a la King" dishes; hot biscuit, either broken on the plate and covered with the gravy, or based on top of a pan of the gravy—make "meat" fish or vegetable pies. Escalloped "dishes" may be made combining white sauce with meat, fish, or vegetables; then covering with "buttered" bread or cracker crumbs, and baking. It may be wise to mix a few of the crumbs in the body of the dish if it seems too liquid.

A cheese dish with white sauce is "Welch rabbit," which is simply white sauce, with cheese added, and served with toast. Cheese may be added to scalloped potatoes, fish and vegetables, or to rice with white sauce. When adding cheese to white sauce, first cook the sauce then add grated cheese and sit on the back of the stove for a few minutes, until the cheese has melted. To stir the sauce with the cheese added makes the cheese stringy, and one may set it back where it will not scorch if it is too stirred.

The Window Box

A window box may be a thing of beauty and a joy throughout the summer. It should be at least six inches deep. Cyprus wood is disable for it; and screws should be used instead of nails in its making, as they do not pull out when the box swells with soaking.

The soil in the box might be a mixture of three parts of garden soil, one part leaf mold and one part of well rotted manure. If the manure is not available, use a smaller quantity of bone-meal. Do not have the soil too heavy nor compact nor too rich with the bone-meal.

In the box you will want some upright plants, as geraniums or dwarf cannas, some trailing plants, as the ivy or vine vine; and some bushy plants as foliage plants, begonias, marguerites, nasturtiums, petunias or sweet alyssum. Do not make the mistake of having too many varieties.

BASE LINE SCHOOL

We made a trip to the Edison Institution at Dearborn on May 24. This was the last day of our school term.

We had a baseball game with the Thayer school last Friday. We lost, but we thoroughly enjoyed the game.

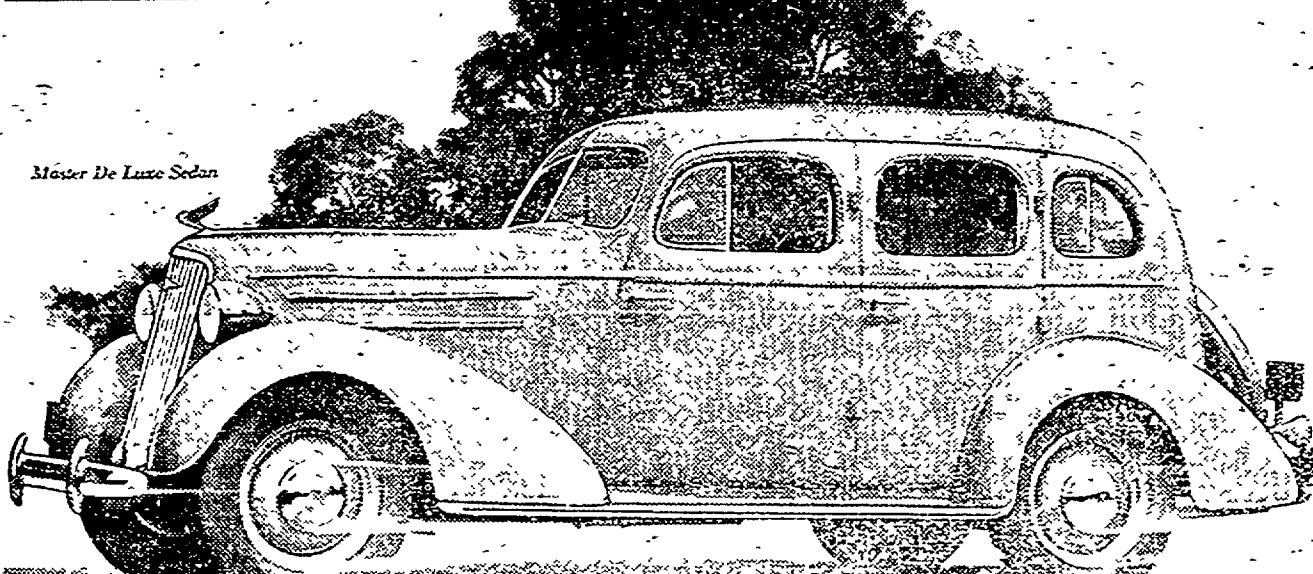

This will be the last report for this school term. We have enjoyed writing for the Northville Record. The Base Line school children thank the people at the Record office for the opportunity they have given us in publishing our news. We hope to continue writing for the paper when school is resumed in the fall.

Sea Urchins Used as Food

The Bureau of Fisheries says that sea urchins are used as food in the United States to some extent. They have, never, become popular with Americans and the only regular commercial catch is for New England, where they are sold to Italian trade in Boston and other large cities.

Soap Plants

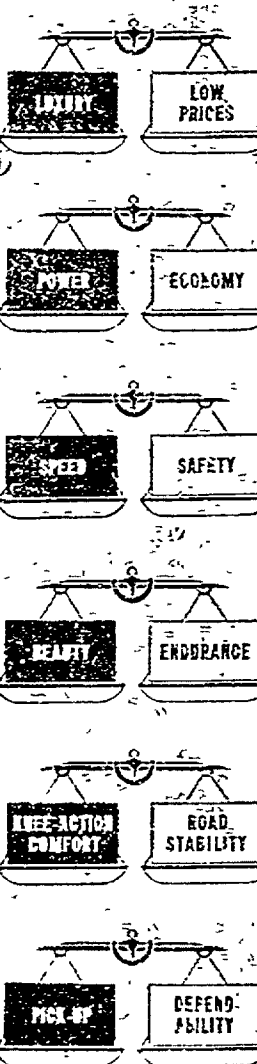

Although the Indians of the Southwest did not have soap such as we are familiar with, they used one of a fairly satisfactory substitute which they found in roots of certain wild plants for washing purposes.

— if your gasoline hasn't these 3 Different Kinds of Power —

4 OUT OF EVERY 5 miles you drive are within 25 miles of your doorstep... making business, shopping and social calls. This continual "stop-and-go" wastes your money—unless your gasoline has 3 distinct kinds of power—PERFECTLY BALANCED.

It must have POWER for quick starting... POWER for swift pickup... POWER for steady running.

Super-Shell, the first truly balanced gasoline, has these 3 kinds of power, and so CUTS YOUR DRIVING COSTS in three ways:

Can save up to a cupful of gasoline on every "Cold" Start. Super-Shell starts instantly—often warms up in half the time of ordinary gasolines—with less wasteful chocking.

Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in 10 Minutes of Hard Pulling. Because of Super-Shell's even volatility, you can accelerate rapidly, or race your car up steep hills—on less gasoline—without wasteful knocking.

Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in One Hour of Steady Running. Every drop of Super-Shell vaporizes more completely at every engine temperature. So it saves on long runs, too.

SUPER-SHELL is also "weather-conditioned" for changes in temperature in all different climates.

Drop into one of the Shell stations, and fill your tank with it today. You'll see why thousands of motorists are becoming Shell "regulars."

Sugar A Fuel Food; Get It In Fruits

Many Have Lost Food Balance By Lacking Top Freely Of Refined Sugar

By Mary Spalding, Chief of Nutrition, Massachusetts State Department of Public Health

In studies of dietaries we find many a case where the food balance is out of kilter. One of the most common is that of the so-called "fuel food," which is sugar. In refined sugar, only the sugar is left, and all the vitamins and minerals are taken out.

This sugar, Dr. Martha Kohlenstein, of the University of Michigan, published a study on the effect of sugar on the diet of children. She found that the diet of persons who are especially "fuel food" eaters is the one that is deficient in vitamins and minerals.

Sugar as "Bait" Dr. Henry C. Sherman of Columbia University, has ably said that a small amount of sugar is used as a bait in fruits, which give other valuable substances like minerals and vitamins. Many high school girls and some boys are enticed to spend their small amount of lunch money for candy and have none left when they arrive at the milk or salad counter. These girls and boys have lost their food balance, at least at one of the three meals during the day, at an age when food values are most important.

In meal planning, homemakers are using some unrefined molasses or sorgho syrup, one pint of which equals one pound of sugar. This costs a little more, but is an economy as the homemaker buys some iron and calcium as well as the fuel food. Dried raisins, figs, apricots, peaches, and dates are all well liked. Some of these contain from fifty to seventy-five per cent of sugar when dried, but are good sources of iron and vitamins A and B.

In Massachusetts our dried fruit candy recipes are most popular. Mothers make fruit lozenges, fruit surprises as well as date ships as treats for children.

Sweets to Fruits People will probably always like sweets. We are wondering if the homemaker is not going to shift part of the sweets from refined sugar to more fruits, fresh and dried, and unrefined sugars such as molasses and honey.

100,000 BASEBALLS ARE USED BY THE TWO MAJOR LEAGUES DURING A SINGLE PLAYING SEASON

APPROXIMATELY 20 MILLION BUY CIRCUS TICKETS ANNUALLY!

IN SIXTEEN STATES WOMEN CANNOT WORK IN PUBLIC PLACES AFTER 10 O'CLOCK

BASEBALL spells Big Business. The one item of baseballs costs the 16 major clubs some $125,000 a season. Almost two-thirds of the balls are lost over the fence or in the stands.

About one out of every six of us sit under the Big Top last year. But it isn't all fun to circus owners. Consider only the mere item of Food. One circus has some 1700 employees and serves about 5,000 meals a day, to say nothing of feeding 100 tons of elephant. Losses by the score and many other creatures too numerous to mention.

Just a part of the daily menu would read something like this: 2,500 pounds of meat, 2,000 loaves of bread, 200 pounds of coffee, 250 dozen eggs, 300 gallons of milk, 300 pounds of butter. When pancakes are on the griddle, a good 10,000 are needed to go around.

A drug store in Utah provides two retail office buildings with copies of the store's luncheon menu. Delivery is made around 10 o'clock each work-day morning. Each office in these large buildings is supplied with a copy of the day's menu. The druggist's telephone number is prominently displayed on the luncheon copy. Two boys in white uniforms speed luncheon to all and sundry who order their food by telephone. The plan is going over big.

Farm fires were responsible for less last year of more than $100,000,000. A stupendous figure. Eleven million of the 24,000,000 automobiles in use in this country are five years old.

Over seven million in 1934 were 631 and some 5,500,000 have reached the mature age of seven years.

Cheerful Chase Game Perhaps no people in the world were more greatly influenced by agurites and onions than the Ohio Indians. All their activities were directed by the gods of superstition. One strange custom, for example, led them to carry all food out of a house, whose occupants they had just playfully scolded and, which was to be set aside afterward, in the belief that destroying food unnecessarily would anger the Great Spirit.

Cobethan Class Holds Final Meeting Before Vacation

The Cobethan class of the Methodist Sunday school met Monday evening for its final gathering before vacation with its president, Mrs. Helen Leonardson at the home of Mrs. Bertha Neal.

After a co-operative supper the class held a business meeting when Miss Grace Angell was elected president, Miss Ellen Reincke, vice-president, and Miss Doris Shepard, secretary and treasurer.

The class presented a token of good will to Mrs. Edward F. Baughn (nee Jane Lawrence), who became a bride recently.

Two Birthdays Are Celebrated Sunday At Rogers Home

Celebrating the birthdays of their son, Rogers, and their grand-son, Albert, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Rogers welcomed a company of 21 guests at their country home on the Nine Mile road Sunday.

A bountiful dinner was enjoyed by the happy party who afterward revelled in the delights of spring time under the apple trees in full blossom.

Mrs. Verkes Offers Hospitality To Party of Friends

At a very delightful Maytime luncheon Mrs. C. C. Verkes entertained a group of eight friends at their country home on the Eight Mile road Monday afternoon. The appointments of the table were lovely with a large bowl of pink and white apple blossoms as a centerpiece.

Enjoying the occasion with their hostess were Mrs. E. H. Burkart, Mrs. E. L. Mills, Mrs. Elmer Smith, Mrs. A. H. Steele, Mrs. Robert G. Verkes, Mrs. H. R. Richardson.

Mary Atwater, both of Detroit, Mrs. Amber's daughter, Mrs. Thelma Scholtz, and Mrs. Fowers' daughter, Miss Marian Fower, of Northville.

These young ladies brightened the day for their elders. We regretted the absence of Mesdames O'Lea, Dean and Rogers who were unable to attend.

Miss Leah Cull Weds Russell Alger Friday, May 24

In the presence of eight members of the immediate family, the marriage ceremony of Miss Leah Cull and Russell Alger was performed Friday evening, May 24, in the Methodist parsonage, Rev. H. H. Mallinson officiating. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Westphal.

Both bride and groom are Northville residents, the bride being the daughter of Mrs. James Cull and Mr. Alger the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Alger. Both attended high school in this village.

The new home will be made in the apartment of Mrs. Bertha Neal.

Even Friends Enjoy An Afternoon With Mrs. Bunn

An even dozen friends, including the hostess, Mrs. Dayton Bunn, dined together with pleasure at the residence of Mrs. Bunt on South Rogers street Thursday afternoon, May 23.

Spring flowers were used effectively in decoration of the rooms the party being seated sociably at three small tables.

Those participating in the pleasure were: Mrs. Bunn, Mrs. E. S. Willis, Mrs. E. L. Mills, Mrs. Ralph A. Orr, Mrs. E. H. Burkart, Mrs. Elmer Smith, Mrs. H. R. Richardson, Mrs. LeRoy Stewart, Mrs. Scott Lovell, and Mrs. A. C. Schrader, all of Northville; Mrs. Wm. Davis of North Canaan; and Mrs. E. A. Eaton of Plymouth.

Miss Dorothy Sanders Weds Wendell J. Lent

A beautiful home wedding was celebrated on Friday afternoon, March 24, when Miss Dorothy Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Sanders, became the bride of Wendell J. Lent at the home of Wendell J. Lent at the home on Wing street, Plymouth.

At 6:30, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by the bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur McGorey, the bride and groom, attended by Miss Martha Lutz of Logansport, Ind., and Harold Brown of Plymouth, took their place under an archway in the spacious living room where the impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, pastor of the Congregational church of Salem.

The bride was charming in a powder blue silk suit and white hat with a corsage of tansan roses.

A delicious two-course dinner followed the ceremony after which the guests dined the new bungalow ready and furnished for the young couple on Starkweather avenue. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Lent will be at home to their friends.

The guests present at the wedding were: the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lent, Robert Lent, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McGorey, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lent and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lent and son, Richard, Mrs. Gertrude Brown, all of Hillsdale; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, Plant, besides the guests from Plymouth.

Mr. Lent is proprietor of the Plymouth used-car market. Mrs. Lent is one of the popular young women of Plymouth. Many friends extend best wishes.

Party of Twelve Spend Saturday Evening In Melonsville Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin gave pleasure to ten friends Saturday evening when they were hosts at dinner in their own delightfully informal way.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. McLoughlin, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Schreiber, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell, Mrs. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, D., and Mrs. E. H. Burkart, and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Eaton.

TRENDS FAVORABLE IN STATE BANKING

Recent Figures Indicate Large Increases in Deposits and Invested Funds

Improvement in the condition of state banks in almost every respect during 1934 is shown by statistics recently compiled by Robert M. Horns, Inc. that Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, points out in an article in "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association. The figures in which this statement is based were obtained by the Committee on State Bank Research of the American Bankers Association through the co-operation of state supervisors through the year 1934.

For the year 1934 the number of state banks has declined from 13,781 in 1933 to 13,771 in 1934. The decline has been particularly abrupt. Total deposits in state banks declined from $20,325,762,000 on December 31, 1933, to $15,424,825,000 on December 31, 1934. The record for 1934 shows a recovery to $17,505,750,000 at the year-end.

Significance of Increased Deposits

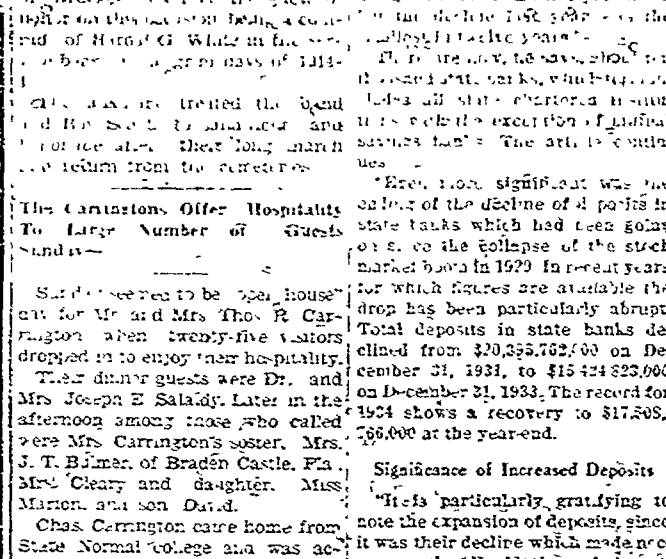

This is particularly gratifying to note the expansion of deposits, since it was their decline which made necessary the liquidation of investments, the calling of loans, and all the other phenomena which go under the name of "deflation" and have brought banks so much criticism in recent years. It is now plain that this was due to efforts of the banks to place themselves in the possession of enough liquid assets to meet the growing demands of depositors for the return of a part of the money which had been placed on deposit.

That this is true is borne out by the movement of invested funds of state banks, which has paralleled that of deposits. These invested funds (loans and discounts plus investments) for state banks, dropped from $29,251,239,000 at the end of 1933, to $14,515,174,000 at the end of 1934. By December 31, 1934, however, they had recovered to $15,767,510,000. All of this gain is accounted for by the increase in investments during 1934; the expansion amounting to approximately $1,200,000,000.

As for loans and discounts, they registered a slight drop again in 1934, but the rate of decline was much smaller than in previous years, which in itself is progress. Whereas the drop in loans and discounts amounted to approximately $5,399,000,000 in 1933, it was less than $500,000,000 in 1934.

In another respect the balance sheet figures for December 31, 1934, were especially impressive. Bills payable and rediscounts of the state banks, which at the end of 1933 had reached a depression high of $68,709,000, had dropped by the close of last year to the low figure of $32,101,000. One must search the records as far back as 1915 to find bills payable and rediscounts of state banks at a lower figure.

'Captain Hurricane' Will Be Shown Here Saturday; 'Princess O'Hara,' Damon Runyon Film, Wednesday

'Captain Hurricane,' RKO-Radio original author set down. The writer's colorful comedy-drama of Cape Cod folk, which comes to the Penniman-Albee theatre Saturday, June 1, is a story of a captain who loved the sea, even though he tried to get away from it and live a sedate life on the land, where he never felt at home.

James Barton, noted Broadway star, brings to the screen the role of the explosive Captain Zenas play of 'Gambling Lady,' 'Bond-Henry Webster, being so hard to get along with, and so temperamental, he could be accepted by the woman to whom he had been proposing marriage for twenty years, but who would never have him because of his roving disposition and his terrible temper.

'Princess O'Hara'

One of the greatest newspaper reporters of the present generation, Damon Runyon, authored 'Princess O'Hara,' which comes to the local theatre on Wednesday, June 3. He is beyond doubt, the best sports writer and one of the top-notch feature writers of the journalistic field.

'Princess O'Hara' is a comedy in magazine form, and is considered to be one of the best things Runyon has ever written. It contains every element necessary for a thrilling, dramatic picture, good, wholesome, sturdy substance.

THIS WEEK

By H. H. WHITE

One can hardly doubt the fact that the screen has recently undergone a cleansing process. In the few months it has been in the medium of entertainment.

It is further evident that the scenario writers and some producers have had to exercise their brains a bit more in order to have this happen.

CHURCH NEWS

Novi Methodist Church

Holy Communion will be served to our people who love the Lord at the 10 o'clock on Sunday morning. Do not miss this service. It will do all good to be present.

First Presbyterian Church

Sunday, 10:30 a. m. Regular morning service. Mr. Winfield will preach. Church school at 12:00 o'clock noon. The Nellie Yerkes auxiliary will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. L. M. Eaton on Eaton drive.

Salem Congregational Church

Rev. Lucie M. Stroh, Minister. The Rev. and Mrs. H. Baerwald, returned missionaries from Colombo, South America, will speak Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m. telling of their thrilling experiences in that interesting country.

If they are able to remain, there will be a union service at 7:30 Sunday evening. The congregational and Federated churches will unite to hear these splendid people. Be sure to attend the services.

Practice Sunday for the Sunday school children at 2 p. m. in the church house for the Children's day program. Mrs. Harry Clark is chairman and Mrs. Emily Lewis director of music. The Children's day service will be held Sunday at 10:30 a. m. All are cordially invited.

Practice for the united church Saturday evening in the church. Bible school will be held this Sunday at the usual time, 11:45 a. m. All are urged to come, as the missionaries will also speak at this time.

Mrs. George Foreman of Salem is entertaining the Ladies Auxiliary Thursday evening, June 13 at her home. Supper will be served. All women are welcome.

Church of Our Lady of Victory

From now on until October the Sunday services will consist of two Masses at 7:30 and 10 o'clock in the morning. For the next two Sundays there will be one Mass at 10 o'clock at 9 a. m.

The coincidence of Decoration Day and Ascension Day on the same date this Thursday, May 30, makes a day of double obligation for Catholics. There is the civic duty of a patriotic "in memoriam" as well as the religious duty of worship. Masses are at 7:30 and 10 a. m.

All high school students who have not yet taken their finals for this year are to report at the church this Friday at 3:45 p. m.

Plans are being attempted for a Holy Name Breakfast picnic to call the men and boys on the regular monthly Sunday, June 9. It will be a general pot-luck affair, taking place immediately after the 7:30 Mass. There will be relaxation for the boys and a different way of holding the picnic. The picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. M. J. Brown at 10:30 a. m. on Sunday, June 9. It will be a general pot-luck affair, taking place immediately after the 7:30 Mass. Christian Science Churches

Andean and Modern Nationality, the Memorial and Hygiene. Discussed will be a subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 2. Among the Bible citations is this passage, Isaiah 6:11, 12: "Put on the whole armor of God; that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil; for we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 294): "Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do no more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment, if virtue and truth build a strong defense."

Blessed are we if we have reached this stage in our Bible study. It was in a Primary class. The teacher had been telling the story of Jesus and the fishermen of Galilee, and was showing a beautiful picture of Christ and some of His disciples. Each one took the picture and looked at it, then passed it on. When the teacher received it back, she asked, "Has everybody seen the picture?" "I didn't," promptly spoke up one rather grumpy little fellow. So the teacher took him close to the picture, now pinned on the wall. Looking at it, he pointed a pudgy finger at the representation of Christ. "I didn't see HIM," Bless his soul, he had seen the essence of the whole thing. The artist had done his work well. Can we do ours as well, so that folks can say, "I didn't see them. I only saw HIM?"

Divine Instructor, gracious Lord! Be Thou forever near; Teach me to love Thy sacred Word. And view my Savior there. The hour for worship and Sunday school is the usual time, 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach.

It is very gratifying indeed to see such large attendance at our services here of late. We wish to take this opportunity in extending a cordial invitation to all strangers and visitors in the community, as well as people without a church home to come and worship with us. We are glad that they hear the Word of God and they hear the (Continued from page one) raised as those principles are illustrated in the course of the play. The valedictorian of the class, Mary Louise Boyden, will give her address, during the play, and later present the prizes to the senior girls for the best graduation dresses, which they will wear at this time. The girls will be dressed all up white, while the boys will wear white flannels, white shoes and dark coats. Immediately after the play has been finished, the recipient of the scholarship given by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp, will be announced.

Following this, Assistant Principal Paul P. Thompson will formally present the class to Superintendent B. H. American, who will then proceed with the presentation of the diplomas to the 59 seniors. Each senior will be allowed ten tickets for commencement night, five of which will be reserved seats. About half of the seats, 350, will be general admission seats.

The faculty committee in charge of the program is Miss Ione Palmer, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. Vivid Cobb, Miss Gladys Ludwig and Miss Gertrude Huff. The decoration committee is composed of Mrs. Wilma Taylor and Mrs. Mildred Zimmerman. Leslie G. Lee is in charge of the decorations.

REPAIR, ALTER and IMPROVE YOUR HOME

If you haven't enough cash—credit is available to home owners on easy terms at local financial institutions. Now is the time to go ahead!

FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

Paul H. Brennan has recently had the two houses at Base Lane and the railroad reshingled and other work repaired. These houses are both now occupied and will soon be repainted.

Andrew Ludwig on Clement road is remodeling his home and particularly modernizing the upstairs. Ed Musolf is doing the work.

Berton H. Jackson of Birmingham is having considerable work done in the Jackson home at 1720 East Eight Mile road, including replastering the bath room and redecorating several rooms.

Mrs. Chas. Filkins is having a great deal of work done at her home at 543 Dunlap street. In addition to decorating several rooms a fireplace has been built, a new front door installed and the exterior of the house painted. They will also soon build a fence around the back yard.

Mrs. L. M. Hunter of 264 South Wagon street has recently had a porch fence built around her back yard.

The Frank E. Hills home at 273 W. Cady street is being redecorated throughout. Arthur Humphreys is doing the work.

Mrs. Nana Shrimpton Brown of Centre road between the Six and Seven Mile roads, is building a garage and repairing a cottage.

M. Boyce on the Six Mile road near Salem has just completed a 20 by 20 foot poultry house.

George Hicks is rushing to completion a barn 32 by 64 feet for Mr. Greer near Orchard lake. He has just completed a barn 32 by 66 feet for Louis Salow off the Six Mile road near Newburg road. This barn will be ready for the having soon.

The activity in the building of barns is a decided change from the lack of farm building in several years and local building and supply dealers state that they have so far this season had more farm material sales than in many years, having in fact this year sold more than two car loads of fence post.

Northville lumber dealers are having difficulty getting cedar shingles due to a strike of lighter workers on the west coast—the strike has taken on serious aspects due to the sympathetic strike of the switchmen. It is hoped that a cessation of the lumber industry and a halting of the building activity may be averted and all of the arguments soon settled.

Meaning of "Ise-Banko" The Japanese embassy says that Ise-Banko is a term referring to a type of pottery manufactured in the vicinity of the great Shrines of Ise. These constitute the most holy of Shinto shrines and to the Japanese they are what Mecca is to the Moslems or Jerusalem to the Christians.

Founded by Aristotle The Peripatetic School was the school or system of philosophy founded by Aristotle, who used to walk about as he taught his disciples in the covered walk of the lyceum. This colonnade was called the Peripatos.

The economy of this heater is a delightful surprise—its patented principle of heating water with a tiny gas flame and storing it like a thermos bottle is the secret of its popularity in thousands of homes.
