30 SENIORS LEAVE SUNDAY FOR CAPITAL

Will Return Thursday After Seeing Washington, Annapolis

Thirty members of the 1935 graduating class of Northville high school will reap a long awaited reward Sunday at 5:45 p.m. when they will board a special car of the "Sportsman" in Plymouth bound for Washington, D.C.

The graduates will ride in this modern air conditioned train all the way to their destination, arriving there at 12:30 p.m. Monday afternoon to spend three days in the national capital.

Going with them as chaperones will be Supt. and Mrs. R. H. Amerman, and Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, class adviser.

One of the first places they will visit will be Mt. Vernon, where they will go Monday afternoon. On Tuesday they will visit the United States naval academy at Annapolis and later return to Washington and go through government buildings.

Lloyd P. Messmore of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad company will act as the guide of the party throughout the tour. His particular business is conducting school parties to Washington.

On Wednesday at 11:45 a.m. the group will get on a train bound for home, arriving in Plymouth at 8:15 a.m. Thursday morning.

The seniors have worked hard and long to earn the funds for their trip. The money raising activities include the booth at the fair in 1934, selling Christmas cards and candy and several card parties and dances.

Every member of the class was given an equal chance to go on the trip, only 30 signifying they wished to go.

BOARD OF REVIEW TO MEET JUNE 18TH

The Northville township board of review will meet Tuesday and Wednesday, June 18 and 19, at the village hall from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. when the assessment roll of the township for the year 1935 will be open for public inspection.

Taxpayers in the township can at that time appear and make any claims about their assessments. All appeals to the board of review from any assessment appearing on the list must be filed with W. A. Ely, township supervisor, on or before June 24, 1935.

A & P OPENING SALE DRAWS BIG CROWD

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company sale incident to the opening of the new store on East Main street has been a great success, states Fraser Staman, manager of the local store.

"The percentage of increase in business for the past week has been very gratifying," says Mr. Staman, "and the entire local organization wishes to thank the Northville friends who have made this fine showing possible."

COMMITTEE PLANS FOR HORSE SHOW

Fair time is approaching and with a full program to be worked out, the Northville Wayne County Fair association horse show committee gathered at the home of the chairman, John L. Nelson, on Haigerty highway Tuesday evening. Several innovations to be worked out in this highlight of the fair will be announced later. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker.

YOUR NEXT PARTY will be a great success if you serve Fry's delicious home-made ice cream. We cut and wrap free of charge, for the sanatoriums during the last year for clothes and other needs, she said. Many clothes are contributed too, and in addition to these

SCHRADER VOICES OPTIMISM OVER NORTHVILLE FAIR

Tells Exchange Club About Features Including Horse Show.

By CHARLES A. DOLPH

The coming Northville Wayne County Fair is a subject that makes Nelson C. Schrader, its president, enthuse quickly, and at the Exchange Club Wednesday noon he jumped at the chance to respond to a request for information.

"It's going to be the best fair yet," said Mr. Schrader. "We are going to spend money to get people there, and we shall not hold back."

"Splendid is the word," continued Mr. Schrader as he told about the free acts, the horse show, and the other special features. "Three automobile shows are to be given away this year, and some folks are going to be made very happy," he said.

Some pertinent questions were asked about the late Bay Lake fishing trip, as the Exchange Club meeting progressed, and in self defense, Mr. Schrader had to tell the truth before the jury of his peers. Some proof was offered, and accepted as reasonable.

When the fish stories were out of the way, Dr. H. L. Sparling was called upon to favor his fraternity with selections from his harmonica. In furtherance of its plan for beautifying Northville, the club is anxious that all property holders shall keep their lawns or vacant lots trimmed, the members said, "so that visitors may not have to comment adversely." The evergreens that adorn the business places were spoken of most favorably.

Great at the meeting were E. E. Gunther, Neil Hannaford, and G. S. Andrews.

WOLVERINES BEAT PONTIAC HERE, 7-2

Andy Bolde Wrenches Knee in Fifth After Giving Only Two Hits

The Wolverines won easily 7 to 2, from Pontiac Sunday afternoon at the Northville Wayne County fair grounds, before a small crowd of spectators.

Andy Bolde, who started on the mound for Northville, was forced to retire from the game at the end of the fifth inning. He wrenched his right knee badly, tearing a ligament loose, as he started to run to first base after hitting an infield grounder. The injury will keep him from playing for another week.

In five innings he pitched, he allowed the Pontiac batters only two hits, keeping them scoreless.

"Lefty" Hartner then went in the game, allowing Pontiac four hits which scored two runs, one of which came in the eighth and the other in the ninth.

The Wolverines continued to hit well, Whitley Martin, Charles Wolfson and John Descasano all getting two hits out of four times at bat. The two Pontiac pitchers were hit for a total of ten hits while only six hits were made from the offerings of Bolde and Hartner.

Descasano played short stop for the Wolverines Sunday in the place

EIGHT TEAMS IN BALL LOOP START PLAY

Games Are Played Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday

The Recreation playground baseball league is in full swing this week with games already played Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at the high school playground before good sized audiences.

Eight teams have signed up for the league this season and include the Infants, managed by Don Bray, Detroit Edison, managed by Ray Stewart, Orbits, managed by Alex Johnson; Maybury, sanatorium, managed by Don Eaktion; Big Ice Coal, managed by Ivan Ely, and the Green team, managed by Orlo G. Owen.

All games begin at 5:30 p.m. according to Edward Keeney, who is in charge of the league and will start at that time regardless of how many men a team may have present to begin the game. The schedule will continue until September 23. Games will be played on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

In the first game played, Ely & Sons' Ice and Coal company, defeated Maybury sanatorium, 17-2 Monday evening. Walter Moore, Ely pitcher, allowed only three hits.

On Tuesday evening the Detroit Edison company defeated the Infants, 7-5. Don Bray pitched for the Infants, while Orson Atchison did the hurling for the Edison team. No admission will be charged to see any of the games. A collection will be taken each evening, however, the funds to go to the P.T.A. free lunch fund for school children in Northville. As many as 300 attended the twilight games here last season, it is reported, and crowds

Ladies of American Legion Auxiliary Distribute 4,000 Magazines in Eight Months to Veterans at Sanatoriums

The distribution of 4,000 magazines in the last eight months is $56 has been spent for shoes, socks, underwear and other supplies for the veterans. This money comes from the poppy sale, and illustrates one of the uses of the funds received in this way.

In the few weeks before Christmas the ladies of the auxiliary and of the King's Daughters were kept busy, meeting together in sewing sessions to make gifts in the form of clothing for the veterans at the sanatoriums. The other women's clubs in Northville also helped in this work.

On four days of each year, Armistice, Christmas, Easter and Memorial day, the veterans all receive from the committee gift boxes that contain such articles as cigarettes, candy, baked goods, fruit jelly, writing paper and all kinds of toilet articles.

To make certain that all of the ex-service men have enough of such essentials as shaving cream, tooth paste, soap and other toilet articles a "service basket" is maintained at the Maybury sanatorium, in charge of the nurses there, and is kept filled at all times.

F. A. Northrop House on Farm Near Northville Example of What Can Be Done in Modernization

The Floyd A. Northrop house on his farm on Fishery road is a striking example of what can be done in remodeling a home with a small amount of money and an idea.

The pictures on this page tell the whole story. The first picture shows a house badly in need of repair, porches tumbling down, the house weather-beaten and the yard any-

GRAVEL PIT TO BE OPENED EAST OF TOWN

Manning & Locklin Plan to Have New Plant Going by Next Fall

The Manning & Locklin gravel company will begin to excavate a new gravel pit next fall on the land recently purchased on East Base Line road.

Several cranes and a crew of men began this week the work of building a road to the location where the pit will be situated on the 30 acres of land.

Officials of the company expect that all machinery for the new model home and also porches will be installed in the next few months and that when it begins to operate it will be capable of producing 1,000 yards or 3,000,000 pounds of sand and gravel a day.

During the summer the surplus of sand and gravel at the old pit on the Seven Mile road will be used.

This pit is exhausted, however, and now all that remains is the artificial lake created by springs that filled it up. This week the water is being pumped out of the pit to make certain that no more gravel can be taken out.

In the last two years the building tracks have been very slack.

H. Richardson, foreman of the plant said, but now there is a great demand, and the tracks are business day shipping orders.

It will be necessary to purchase additional men for the new plant;

since it will be much larger than the present one.

The old plant at Pontiac has not been used for the past three years, and the machinery there will also be utilized for the new plant.

The land was purchased May 15, from several separate owners. The idea of a gravel pit there has been under consideration for a long time, however, Mr. Richardson said. Tests were made last fall.

The Manning & Locklin company has its main offices in Detroit. During the past year, the gravel pit on the Seven Mile road has given employment to a number of local men in addition to Mr. Richardson.

TWIN PINES DAIRY OPENS NEW STORE HERE THIS WEEK

As modern and attractive as any other store in town is what people are remarking this week about the new Twin Pines Dairy shop in the Pennington-Alien theatre building, which opened Monday, offering a full line of dairy products.

An attractive Neon tube sign in the window attracts attention to the interior where a large showcase, finished in white enamel and stainless steel with a large window, holds the cream, cheese, butter and buttermilk, chocolate milk and several kinds of sweet milk on sale there. These include regular, pasteurized, homogenized and vitamin "D" milks.

The shop was "given" this year. Mrs. Knapp, donor, declared yesterday, "The enthusiasm and unanimity of the Fair board are any indication of success the 1935 Northville Fair should exceed the ones of all previous years.

Nelson C. Schrader, president of the board, states that it is actively building its program and has signed contracts that guarantee the finest attractions and the best premium list in many years.

The Fair board is not only buying the best entertainment that can be purchased but the members are going to tell the wide world about the Northville Wayne County Fair and horse show have a reputation of being of the very best in this part of the country. Mr. Schrader says, and the board feels that it has been negligent in telling neighboring communities about the Fair.

An automobile is to be given away Thursday, Friday and Saturday, day of the fair and every ticket holder will have a chance to win a car. The committee is going to make it possible for every one to get a ticket on the cars. Just what cars will be given away has not yet been determined but it has been decided that the drawings will be at 5 p.m. each of the drawing days.

The entertainment secured for the fair, Elmer L. Smith, states, is the best that they have been able to find anywhere—entertainment that has succeeded in drawing capacity crowds in every fair. This entertainment, Mr. Smith states, is competitive with the best entertainment to be found in Detroit at any time and there will be a change of entertainment each day as well as an entire change of program at the end of the first two days. Mr. Schrader states that he will keep the Record informed of all the developments for the Fair just as rapidly as they are definite.

PRIDE IN OUR NORTHLVILLE HOMES

The Northville citizen who wrote the article for last week's Record, criticizing folks who are careless about the appearance of their lawns and yards, "said something."

"There is no good reason why one home in a block should be ill-kept and run-down, for lack of care, when the neighbors all keep up their homes. That is hardly fair, yet we can take you around town and show you just that condition."

A town that keeps up its homes and that has beautiful lawns and fine gardens is a town that has good citizens. And we can sincerely say that Northville, with few exceptions, is a village where people take pride in their homes. The beauty of our community is not confined to one street or to a few streets. In fact, if a stranger asked us where the "poorer part" of town is, we should have to stop and think where that section might be. The high average of home owners we have here is one of the best reasons in the world for making this an ideal place in which to live.

What can we do, then, about the folks who pull down the average of town beauty by letting their homes get "run down"? What shall we do with the folks who won't cut their lawns; even though the neighbors have theirs in fine condition? How shall we make ashamed of themselves, the people who never plant a flower or a tree and who let the screen doors hang full of holes all summer?

Sometimes the power of good example will do the work of inspiring others to make their places beautiful. What shall we do when this fails? Maybe public sentiment could be organized to make it a little more uncomfortable for the folks who will drink in all the benefits of a good town but will not do their part for the benefit of others.

In the meantime, however, let us be grateful for the "ninety and nine" who love their homes, who beautify them and who have made Northville talked of everywhere as Detroit's most picturesque suburb." Maybe the one per cent will fall in line and make the picture perfect.

HOW TO DRINK WHISKY

What is the best way to get along with whisky? Leave it alone—is a lot of us still do; take it in moderation, as a few do; or drink it to excess, as some do?

If the writer, who is a "dry" and not ashamed of it, started out to tell people how to drink whisky, he wouldn't get much of a hearing. In fact, we sometimes think we are given credit for being harsher in our liquor views than we are. We are ready to grant that there are a few people who can use liquor in moderation. Yet the reason we don't like liquor is that a life-time of observation has taught us that most of the men who feel with alcohol "take a licking" sooner or later. Call the roll of the drinking men in Northville and community for the past 25 years and you will bring to light many pitiful tragedies of lives gone wrong.

But to come back to the question of how to get along with whisky. Below is an answer that appeared the other day as a newspaper advertisement in one of the metropolitan dailies. It stunned us to read it and to find that it was run by one of the largest whisky distillers in the United States. It is one of the finest temperance sermons we ever heard or read. As an intelligent person, read this from the big distiller's ad in the daily paper and then wonder just how far you dare go along with John Barleycorn:

Liquor has no place in the front seat of an automobile. Alcohol and gasoline do not mix. These statements may seem to work directly against our self-interest. But actually they do not. It is very much to our self-interest to see that the privilege of drinking is not abused. It is to our interest to see that liquor is consumed as it should be consumed. Whisky is a luxury and should be treated as such. It should be taken in moderation—and only in the proper place.

WHO IS A FRIEND?

It is Saturday morning in the office and the money to meet the pay roll is short thirty or forty dollars. Everyone who engineers the "ghost walk" knows the sensations of that hour. Sometimes rather uncomfortable.

So we sit for a minute and think what to do. There is one place where a good sized check will be forthcoming in just a few days. But we need it today. "Well he is a good friend," we say to the man at the next desk and forthwith pick up the telephone and say rather bluntly: "How's the chance for that check? Sorry to bother you but we just need it."

We made no mistake. Comes the quick answer: "Sure thing; I'll bring it right down." And before noon he does as he promised.

So we pay tribute to a friend. For a friend, according to our experience, is one who helps you and suddenly when needed helps. A friend is one who does something for you without expecting pay. Every once in a while a friend comes along with the highest standing in his profession, drops us a brief line and closes the note with these words: "With love." Well, why not? He is our friend and we hope we merit his love. We all have many acquaintances but the real friends can be counted perhaps on the fingers of both hands.

THE GRAND RIVER AVENUE MAELSTROM

Who is going to solve the problem of automobile traffic on Grand River avenue in Detroit? For the past four years and more, we have been driving into the heart of the city through this maelstrom of traffic and it seems to us that each month the jam and roar of it all get worse. The amount of the automobile traffic on Grand River is literally appalling. Some day not far distant, Detroit will have to tackle this problem in earnest and find other ways for people to get out of the city to the Northwest. If that isn't done, business centers may grow up this side of the present downtown Detroit. Who knows?

WANDERING THOUGHTS

Northville appreciates the Penniman-Alen theatre.

"A merry heart doeth good like medicine."—Proverbs 16:22.

Good luck graduates! But you will have to help make it.

What do you think of the new issue of States Rights versus Nationalism?

Times are better. The whole editorial family got an invitation out to breakfast the other day.

Northville's juniper trees are going strong, thank you. And the plan of having them ranged out along the curb seems to be gaining in favor.

"Thank you for running that story about the architect being named for the new Ford plant," said a Record reader to us soon after the paper came out. "That was the best news in many a day."

We thank any one who sees a mistake in the Record if he or she will come in and tell us about it. There just might be a chance that we won't repeat it. Speaking about mistakes in newspapers, do you notice those every day or so in the Detroit papers?

At the age of 11 years, Babe Ruth is done as a ball player. Because he was refused permission to go see the big steamship Normandie dock, he acted like a spoiled child and gained a contract for $35,000 a year. The "Babe" is just that, a great big boy who at one time drew $80,000 a year for his marvelous hitting power—the like of which comes only once in a generation. Aside from his physical prowess, he is hardly the ideal for young men of today who must depend upon something besides brains for success in life.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

In what direction will Northville make its greatest growth?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

Announcement of the Thad J. Knapp scholarship was made last week and it will go into effect for the class of 1933, and will probably be a permanent affair, donated by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp.

Peggy Ann Blake and Nelson C. Schrader were elected the most popular students in Northville High school this year.

Five bids for the construction of the new main building of the Northville Wayne County fair have been received by the fair board.

Reminiscent of the pioneer days when ax-and-timber were dragged from the native woods was the barn raising Saturday afternoon at the farm of Albert Weston on the Houghtaling highway. A big crowd was present.

With the victory of Jack McLaughlin in a golf tournament held in Grand Rapids June 2, Northville has earned its second state championship this season. The other winner was Henry Hoffman, who brought home the pole vaulting honors on May 26.

Mrs. Thad J. Knapp will sail July 4 on the Holland-American's S.S. Volendam for a two months' cruise that will take her to ports of nearly every sea board country in Europe, and many in Africa.

5 YEARS AGO

A total of 22 students will graduate from Northville high school Thursday evening in the high school auditorium. Dr. John L. Scantlin, president of Albion college, will be the speaker.

Petru Kiyosaga, editor of the Chuo-Koren, Tokyo newspaper, was a Northville visitor recently. He spent some time inspecting the Ford plant here with Harry Marburger, foreman.

Miss Rose Ella Bassett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bassett, and Edwin Arthur Mitchell of Oxford, Michigan, were married Saturday afternoon, June 7, with about 150 friends and relatives coming to the wedding. Miss Kathryn Heaney, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Heaney, was maid of honor. The Rev. H. Grimwood of Northville was the speaker Wednesday evening at the 8th annual meeting of the Wayne Baptist association, which was held at Pontiac, about 100 miles away.

Clark of Northville. The couple will be home to their friends here after June 20.

The concrete work on North Center street was completed last week, and as soon as it dries, the street will be opened to traffic. This makes a splendid addition to Northville's street system.

The Parent-Teachers' association is planning a subscription campaign to raise funds for new equipment for the high school gymnasium and the playground.

A five-day Chautauqua will be held in Northville in July. Miss Susie Tolbo, a representative of it, arrived this week to make arrangements for it.

20 YEARS AGO

The reunion meeting of the West Novi Debating club Saturday evening was successful in every way, those who attended say. The capacity of the old school building there was taxed to its limit. N. A. Clapp of Northville was re-elected president. The wedding of Mr. Dell Herrick of Northville to Miss Helen C. Latimer at the home of the bride's parents in Detroit on Monday, June 7, was said to be one of the most beautiful affairs of the early summer. They will reside at 55 Dunlap street.

In Theodore W. Wood, Northville probably has the oldest steeples in this part of the country. He is 72 years old; he was called to place the pulleys on the village flag pole on Memorial day, so that the stars and stripes could be raised.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Carrington on Thursday, June 10.

30 YEARS AGO

Judge Alfred J. Murphy was the Memorial day speaker here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Verkes at Milford are the parents of a daughter, born on Memorial day.

Northville got off easily in the big storm Monday that swept through the state, bringing rain that has not been equalled but twice in 34 years.

Mrs. Maria Peck Lapham died Saturday night after a short illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. VanAtta have a new son, born May 26.

A pernicious cold wave took the temperature down to 34 degrees above zero here yesterday but has been equaled but twice in 34 years.

The improvements on the Haddock store are nearly completed; the enlarged building will give the occupants commodious and handsome salerooms.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James VanDyne on Thursday, June 8.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THE LOYALTY OF NEWSPAPER FOLKS

(By Cortess in The Parma News)

I have always been most fortunate in having loyal help. There have been about two instances of men who got on the staff concerned only with their pay-check. But there have been a dozen who were devoted to getting out a good-looking and newsy paper, and who were loyal to the writer. When they left we parted good friends and most of them still take an active interest in The Parma News. Bjorne Holmlund, who came here as a Norwegian immigrant, was devoted to us. He came to Parma without money and in ragged clothes, looking for a job and speaking in broken English. He had worked in a print shop in Norway. We didn't need help but took him in anyway. Within a few months he was our only printer and had picked up the use of the linotype. He was here two and a half years. Now he is preaching in a Chicago Baptist church having worked his way through college and a Baptist seminary. He frequently writes to me.

The Northville baseball team is winning its games this year, defeating Detroit Pistons Ring Co. here Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff W. H. Safford and his wife were called to Hartland Tuesday because of the death of their nephew, Roy S. Toncray.

Dr. F. W. Bramick, who has purchased the residence of E. E. Brown on Main street opposite the school building, is now located and prepared to meet his patients there.

The heat has been excessive this week, reaching over 100 degrees on Saturday.

James Henry, brother of Lawrence Henry, who lived at Toronto, Canada, is dead there.

"SILVER STREAK" MOVIE HAS SPEED AND THRILLS

The hair raising thrills of the Pearl White and Helen Holmes era pale into insignificance when compared to the modern thriller of the rails, "The Silver Streak," now showing at the Penniman-Alen theatre.

It shows a train going at an incredible speed with the engineer at death grips in the cab. Around curves it goes, and through switches that open just in time, missing freight trains by an eyelash; over drawbridges that close in the nick of time.

The relief from the thrills, aside from a strong love interest between Sally Blane and Charles Starrett as the romantic leads is the comedy provided by an able team of funny men, Edgar Kennedy, Arthur Lake and Glenn "Big Boy" Williams.

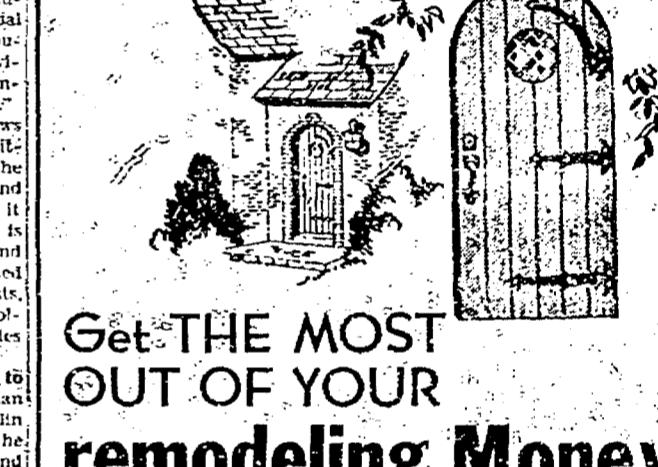

The picture features the new streamline train of the Burlington Railroad which, together with Eads Dam, comes to the screen for the first time in "The Silver Streak".

COMMENCEMENT THOUGHTS

And Now What?

Well, another senior class has been graduated out into the world. It all made us step back, as we watched the commencement exercises Thursday evening of last week, just as graduating meant to each one of those 50 students. To some it was a grand release.

It's a natural product, made from the juice of luscious oranges sun-dried where the fruit grows, without the use of preservatives — and shipped to us for bottling. A delicious, wholesome drink. It keeps for days in your refrigerator without ever developing the bitter after-taste that children dislike. They never tire of its delicious flavor. Order from your milkman.

With the passing of spring, every one begins to think about vacation; and as you plan yours, you demand at least two features: It must be spent amid the kind of surroundings you like best. Its cost must not exceed the amount you have fixed as a maximum.

No matter what sort of vacation you prefer, the ideal site for it lies right in the State of Michigan. You need not go farther — and your money will!

If your favorite sport is fishing, you have in Michigan's famed streams and myriad sparkling inland lakes the perfect angler's paradise. If you prefer golf, you can choose among hundreds of fine links throughout the State. If it is touring by automobile that appeals most to you, Michigan offers you alluring motor trails lined by an interesting variety of natural scenic beauties.

And if you are a lover of water sports, you will find your native State bountifully equipped to provide you with exactly the kind of vacation site you prefer. Here you can pick and choose among five thousand lakes, bodies of water ranging in size from a pond to a vast inland sea.

Spend your own vacation in Michigan. Call its unsurpassed facilities to the attention of your friends in neighboring states. By doing so, you will assure them of a pleasanter vacation. In addition, you will help to promote the popularity and prosperity of your native State.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

from drudgery. They will not be compelled to do any more home-work except the kind they want to do, and that idea sounds great to them.

To others "the world is just a bowl of cherries," and all they will have to do is just go out and eat it up, it will be so easy now that they have that high school diploma. Those unfortunate are in for a shock.

"Others" we could see will go places. They will be seen at colleges and universities next year, furthering their education for the serious tasks ahead. Several years from now they will get their start into the world, better equipped for the tough competition of today — it's getting tougher all the time.

Congratulations!

Did you see that expression of joy on Mary Louise Boyer's face when it was announced that she had been awarded the Thad J. Knape scholarship? There was a decision that we applauded — she deserved it. Any one who can get through high school with only one mark lower than "A" should be honored.

That was sort of tricky when someone hoisted that last "ail of success" without coming on the stage to tell us about it. But regardless of any possible hitches that may have happened, the play was well acted, and everyone enjoyed it.

Another thing that impressed us about commencement night was the fact that the girls in Northville high must be getting excellent instruction in the gentle art of dress-making, for all of the senior girls we saw during the evening were beautifully gowned.

O. & B. Black & Blue, Etc.

The fact that the school year is finished reminds us that the Orange and Black page is all finished until the first week of September. The Record office has seemed strangely quiet this week without Stanley Taylor and Altha Hagenauer dash-ing in and out every day, pounding typewriters, writing heads, and wondering what that other "Number One Story" will be.

We will miss Stan and his O & B.

crew, we know. They tell us here at the office, however, that if we think Stan has been a noisy and somewhat nerve-wracking youth, that we should have been here when "Editor Warner Neal" was tearing things loose, and making other people tear their hair. They say some funny things about him, but even at that we do not think he is such a bad egg as Stanley Taylor either, for that matter. All we know is what we read in the paper!

Chas. A. Sessions Finds Market for Valuable Antiques

"Never knew I had so many valuable old things in my home till I put them up for sale," says Chas. A. Sessions, who has lived many years in the same home where antiques have accumulated since the days of his father.

You should have seen the women grab onto some article that I thought was just an old thing not worth a dime. The older and more dilapidated it looked the more grasping they were."

Most of the buyers were women, says Mr. Sessions, and they came from Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Ypsilanti, Detroit, and even as far as Chicago. "And still we have a houseful, it seems," he laughed.

Homemaker's Corner

By MRS. EDITOR

And Now What?

School is out. The household program which has run for months by the school bell is disrupted.

And now what? Still vacation be a time of running wild with gypsy-like freedom—getting up late, no set time for meals, work never done!

We are strong for a schedule—not a rigid one that can never be changed, but the kind of smooth rhythm that makes a household more harmonious. Everyone is happier and healthier.

A vacation that is all play soon becomes boring to a child. He soon paws "What'll I do now, Mother?"

This is our picture of an ideal vacation for the boys and girls: A home with a big yard, lots of room for games, friendly trees that stretch their arms invitingly to climb and that wear a nest of robins in their hair; a garden "project" for each child, let him plant cabbages next to pansies if he wants to. Let it be his own garden and let him learn to plant the seed and watch them grow. Learning that fighting weeds and garden pests by honest toil is just the best way to enjoy the reward afterward.

Happy that child if he has a parent hooting near to remind him to listen to the mocking bird in the trees overhead or to pause to see the colors in the sunset.

A period of working some each morning before play begins, not constant interruption from the mists of play to "run and bring in some wood" or "go and pick the peas". We know a Northville mother who makes out a list of each child's duties for the day, varying the duties frequently to pass them round.

Summer is the time for reading books, all the better if read together out under an apple tree.

Summer is the time for simple meals in the open, bread and butter with strawberries; and a glass of milk may be a feast if enjoyed in the back yard. (And no more trouble, and no crumbs to sweep.)

With the social season quieted down summer is a good time for families to get closer together.

It used to be the custom to send the children off to the country to "old Aunt Mary's" where they could enjoy bare-footed freedom for a few weeks. (Nice for the kids, but pretty hard on Aunt Mary.) Any kind of a change, city children to the country and country children to the city, a period at camp away from mother's care, is good for both mother and child and makes the homecoming all the more appreciated.

"Do I have to practice?"—It's vacation, they complain, but 15 minutes utes each day of playing over old lessons, or trying new songs will amount to a great deal in progress at the end of the summer.

"Let me learn to cook this summer" says a young girl to her mother; and if that mother is wise she will let the girl plan and serve certain meals during the summer even if she does waste some things.

Instead of three months of just idling, summer vacation should end with a good coat of tan or freckles, more skill in swimming and other sports, several good books read, better health, more love for the outdoors—something accomplished, something done."

Rhubarb-Strawberry Jam

A Northville mother "invented" this jam which makes the strawberries go farther—and its delicious.

Cook equal parts of rhubarb and strawberries until soft. Add equal parts of sugar and some commercial pectin according to directions.

Prepare as for meat loaf, ground real pork and beef, and shape it into individual rolls. About each roll, wrap a slice of bacon and fasten it with a toothpick. Brown in hot fat in a fry pan, rolling over until all sides are browned, then cover and simmer gently for an hour.

Atchison-Worthington Wedding
Is Colorful Event

A wedding in one of Salem's old families is always a social event, and that of Forno Atchison of Salem and Miss Leonora Worthington of Wyandotte on Saturday evening June 8, was an unusually happy occasion.

The marriage was solemnized in the home of the bridegroom's parents Mr. and Mrs. Myron Atchison on the Six Mile road, west of Salem.

A bank of cut flowers and decorative plants with white and green foliage was the setting for the bridal scene. Miss Worthington made a very lovely bride in her floor-length gown of white organza. She wore a three-quarter veil made with a rolled edge cap, fitting closely over her blonde hair. An exquisite arm bouquet of calla lilies, white carnations and gypsophila completed the charming costume.

Miss Suzanne Worthington was her sisters' bridesmaid, and was attractively gowned in shell pink organza. She wore a small white hat and carried white flowers, stocks, carnations and gypsophila.

Mr. Atchison was attended by his cousin Rex Perkins of Lake Odessa.

The service was read by Rev. Cora Pennington of the Salem Federated church. Miss Dorothy Krieger of Wyandotte played the wedding march.

Immediately following the service supper was served to nearly 100 guests. In the center of the table was a 40-pound fruit cake, baked and decorated in a Wyandotte bakery. On each side of the cake were white tapers and graceful arrangements of white stocks accented with a few sprays of orchid stocks. The catering was done by the North Circle of the Federated church, and the menu planned by the ladies carried out the general color scheme of green and white.

The old "homestead," which has been in the family for several generations, made a romantic setting for the marriage festivities and brought back happy memories to many of the guests.

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends present were Dr. and Mrs. K. E. Atchison and family of Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Worthington and daughter, of Wyandotte; Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Robertson, Battle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Merton Robertson of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Perkins and son Roy of Lake Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kison of Toledo, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dearing, Mr. and Mrs. William Haertel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haertel, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haertel, all of Detroit, and Miss Dorothy Krieger of Wyandotte.

Sixty strong, the eighth grade of the Northville school, together with their beloved teacher, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, and several of the mothers, had a very happy day Tuesday at Grand's Beach, Whitmore lake.

In spite of chilly weather, the youngsters all splashed in the water merrily and came out with hearty appetites for the sumptuous picnic dinner which the mothers spread on long tables.

Accompanying the children were Mrs. H. S. Willis, Mrs. S. W. Ambler, Mrs. Fred Van Atta, Mrs. Clyde Schultz, Mrs. Luther Lapham, Mrs. Heaton, Mrs. Sunmer Gow.

Miss Evelyn Ambler and a guest, Miss Fern Zink of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, also enjoyed the picnic with the younger children.

59 SENIORS OF '35 CLASS GRADUATED

Helen Christensen Wins 1st
Prize for Making Best
Graduation Dress

The high school careers of 59 Northville high school seniors—the largest class ever to be graduated here—were brought to a close on Thursday evening June 6, at the Penniman Allen theater as R. H. American, superintendent of schools, gave out the diplomas.

The presentation of diplomas came as the climax of the evening after the play, "Salts of Success," with each senior taking part had been finished.

The play was well enacted and although almost no costumes or make-up were used, the effect was not lost upon the audience. The play painted a vivid picture of how the schools of today are giving young people the right kind of education, and that youth, equipped with the seven cardinal principles of education, will meet the needs of the world, and conquer the problems.

Each of these principles was represented as a sail on the ship, which was at one corner of the stage. As the principles or sails of success were depicted in the play they were "hoisted" on the ship.

One of the highlights of the evening came just after the play was concluded when Supt. American announced that Miss Mary Louise Boyden had been selected as the recipient of the Thad J. Knapp scholarship. Mary Louise is the valedictorian of the 1935 senior class, getting only one mark during her four years in high school below an "A." The scholarship entitles her to a full year with all expenses paid to any of a selected group of colleges.

Prizes for the best senior girls' dresses which the Woman's club gives on commencement night each year, were distributed by Mrs. J. N. McLaughlin, president of the club. The first prize was awarded to Miss Helen Christensen, second to Miss Margaret McCordie, and third to Miss Harriet Gibson. The prizes were cash: $5, $3, and $2.

Mrs. McLaughlin, before giving out the prizes, told of the difficult task with which the committee of judges had been faced to select the most beautiful dresses. All the girls had made their dresses in school, and they all were outstanding and represented much work, she said. Mary Elizabeth Elkington and Vera Lewis were both given honorable mention.

At last came the presentation of diplomas, with Supt. American in charge. This ceremony was impressive and went off with machine-like precision, each senior crossing the full width of the stage to receive his diploma.

Following the benediction by Rev. Harold G. Whithfield, the graduates marched to the lobby of the theater in the rear where they were met and congratulated by the many friends and relatives who were present. It had been previously planned to have the reception in the high school gymnasium, but this idea was abandoned because of the heavy rain. The theater was filled to capacity for the exercises.

Those graduating with honors were Mary Louise Boyden, Edward Argote, Thomas R. Carrington, Jr., Charles Ach, Ronald Keeping, Lenna Beattie, Coes, Harriet Louise Gibson, Mary Elizabeth Elkington, Dorothy B. Richardson, and Spencer Vanburgh.

The other graduates were: Eddie Bender, Kelvin Kilken, Elmer Barth, Vicki Lovell, Adelma Boyd, Irvin Marburger, Donald Bray, David Martens, Isabelle Brzina, Cloce Myers, Lewis Bulman, William Owen, Henry Clark, Aris Perry, Vera Coleman, Kenneth Porter, Frances Cousins, Bayne Pratt, Edith Davis, Betty Randall, Dayton Deal, Nick Reckio, William Duguid, Sallee Richardson, Donora Ferguson, Marlene Schroeder, Phyllis Flanery, Rex Smith, Maurice Gies, Merlin Stomski, Alice Hagerstrand, Sam Franklin, Leda Haystead, Ada Wheaton, Henry Hoffman, Francis Woodley, Violette Johnson, Benny Zaytli, Catherine Bengtorni, Edward Breitmeyer, Helen Christensen, Margaret McCordie, Marguerite Norton, Dorothy Schweizer, Carolyn Wissack.</p

As we sat but nine players with us that day and no other catcher, our manager, Doc Snod, thought he was up against it, but I was that disgusted with my receiver quitting that I told Doc I would pitch and do my own catching. He got permission from the other team so we could finish the game with eight men and started the seventh inning.

"Back in those days I admit I could run faster than a deer and could push that ball over like a cannon. All I had to do after I started my delivery was to get back on the plate, put on the mask and receive the ball. I used no chest protector, fearing it would prevent my speed from the box to the plate. I got along very nicely and held the game still to 10 nearing the end of the ninth. We had one out and they had the tying run on second and the winning run or first base. Frankly I admit, at this stage of the game after running back and forth from the pitcher's box to the home plate that my truly was getting a little weary. I had but two more batters to retire and had two strikes on the man up. For the third strike I decided to use my speedy fast ball, so cut it loose. Well, I got back behind the plate straight to receive it but did not have time to get my mask on. The batter swung and missed. The ball hit me in the forehead, bounded forward, hit the batter on the back of the head and careened off toward me as I was going down for the count. I saw plenty of stars and baseballs but grabbed for a white object as the world circled around. When the boys brought me to I was still clutching the white object which proved to be the ball as Umpire Harry Robinson of Plymouth called the strikeout and two men gone. I admit it was rather a clever play.

"To retire one more man would mean winning of the game with two men left on bases. I was really nearly all in but was getting a thrill of showing up 'Bobber' Brown who had refused to catch.

"From the pitcher's box I faced what I had hoped to be the last batsman. After the rap on the forehead, I admit that my confidence was shaken as far as catching was

Harry German, Sr., Goes Fishermen One Better With Story of Game He Pitched, Caught as One-Man Battery

The "Lars" contest is opening this year.

Here is the entry of Harry S. German, Sr., former mayor of Northville, who has also earned a great reputation as a baseball pitcher, hurling many a game for Northville. In this exclusive story he tells of the game that he got the most kick out of, or the game which he pitched and caught at the same time.

This story, he feels, will rather silence the tales the members of the fishing party have been spreading about town since their return two weeks ago. Mr. German, by the way, is a member of the Liars' Club of Burlington, Wisconsin. Now go on with the story.

"Yes, sir, when you ask me what game of baseball I got the most kick out of in my 47 years of pitching, it is easy for me to recall quickly the game that I pitched and caught as a one-man battery.

"It happened in a semi-pro game in 1904 at Northville, Michigan, and Bobbie Brown was catching me at the start. He persisted on calling for nearly all curved balls, as we had our opponents beaten 10 to 0 at the end of the sixth inning. I must admit that I had an outburst which I never could touch and also a terrific fast one that catchers did not like to stand in front of."

"Well, Brown called for so many curved balls that afternoon as they were slower that it peed me, so I crossed him up with a fast one that tore part of his finger nail off. He threw down his mitt, vowed he would never catch me again and would not even finish the game in any position."

"As we sat but nine players with us that day and no other catcher, our manager, Doc Snod, thought he was up against it, but I was that disgusted with my receiver quitting that I told Doc I would pitch and do my own catching. He got permission from the other team so we could finish the game with eight men and started the seventh inning.

KOHLERS ARE BACK FROM CALIFORNIA

Tanned by California sunshine and looking Hale and hearty, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kohler surprised their Northville friends by rolling into town Wednesday afternoon.

For the past seven months the Kohlers have lived in Palms, California, near their two sons, Albert and Leo. The latter has been studying in the aeronautical department of Los Angeles Junior college. He will return to Northville for a vacation with his parents who will be spending the summer at their cottage at Wolverine lake.

Their trip home was made through a great variety of temperatures ranging from the heat of the Mojave Desert at 115 degrees to the experience of laboring over mountains when snow banks towered above the car.

While Mrs. Kohler, like Leo's wife of old, looks back with wistful eye at the lure of the "land of sunshine," Mr. Kohler announces that "Michigan is good enough for me."

RUSSELL ATCHISON BECOMES INTERNE

Northville looks with pride at the success of one of her sons, Russell M. Atchison, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Atchison, who has been honored by being one of the chosen few of the class of 1935 of the Medical school of the University of Michigan to become an intern in the University hospital.

Mr. Atchison will receive his M.D. degree Monday, June 17, after completing four years of study in the medical school with high scholarship.

In 1931 he received his A.B. degree having finished the four-year course in three years. During his high school course in Northville Mr. Atchison made an enviable record in scholarship and debating.

THE "RED MENACE"

I wish that my readers might have witnessed the demonstration in the lower house of the Michigan state legislature made by opponents of the "anti red" bills.

Judging from the appearance of the crowd, which filled the gallery fairly full, many of them were aliens. The personal tidiness and the aroma which was wafted through the air didn't indicate that the demonstrators were of the better class; add their vociferous applause at any statement supporting anti-American ideas and ideals stamped them as portions of "the enemy within our gates."

Following his graduation, Donald will accompany a college chum to Minneapolis, Minn., where a position awaits them both in the Atkinson Milling Co., the largest independent milling company in the United States, of which the chum's father is proprietor.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Rogers of Rosedale Park will go to Dartmouth to winter the extraneous. Donald will stop here for a brief visit with his grandparents before going west.

JOE HAYMES' BAND PROVIDES CONCERT AT MAYBURY SAN

Another nationally known dance orchestra, Joe Haymes and his band, entertained an enthusiastic audience of patients in the auditorium of the Maybury sanatorium Thursday afternoon, June 6.

This orchestra, as other leading aggregations brought to the San in the last few years, came through the courtesy of Pat Dennis, radio editor of the Detroit Times, who was on hand to act as a genial master of ceremonies. Shirley Brown, pretty singer, who is an integral part of the orchestra, was also present, and pleased the audience with her fine offerings. About an hour of entertainment was furnished.

Why Not Improve Your Home?

Look at your home! What have you done in the past ten years to modernize it? You have bought at least one new car in that time and you have surely dressed in the newest styles rather than the coarse, old behind the times, or hopelessly old fashioned, or perhaps penurious (a $20 word for stinginess). But have you kept your home, the real standard by which your neighbors judge your ability to keep up with the times, as modern and beautiful as you might have? Probably not. Some of you have painted the house in which you live at regular intervals, you have installed furnaces and electricity. Perhaps you have covered the roof with new shingles of a different variety. But these are only surface changes. Since giving a 1915 car a new coat of paint, balloon tires, a "classy" sounding horn, and believing you have an automobile, as efficient as good looking, and as modern as the latest streamlined, delicate model?

What did you pay for your last car? About five hundred dollars? If you are earning over $1,000 to $1,500 a year in one year, you probably paid at least three-quarters of the cost of the car. When that car has served you for two or three years, maybe less, you will see you can afford another one, this time one costing slightly more. Have you ever considered what you could do to modernize your home with the money you and your wife will be worth when you sell it?

It is very well to drive a good car if you can afford it and to buy a few nice whatever you feel the need. It is the modern tendency to do this which keeps the automobile industry one of the greatest in the world. In buying a car you are giving work to several persons, thus reducing unemployment. But did you know that the building trades contribute most families to the welfare rolls, than any other group of trades? The cost of producing a car is greatly materialistic, while the improved labor-eliminating machinery labor costs are small. A few men and many machines turn out thousands of cars every day. The cost of building and construction is almost entirely labor costs. The money spent on home improvements goes where it should go—directly to local dealers in materials and furnishings and to local labor, thus relieving the employment situation and bettering conditions in your own community.

ALUMNI BANQUET IS SUCCESS, SOCIALLY AND FINANCIALLY

(Continued from page one) R. H. Amenter concluded the program with a story illustrating the fact that people should not give up difficult tasks the first time they attempt them.

Miss Peggy Blake, 1934 graduate, was toastmaster of the evening.

Dan Patterson and his orchestra provided the music for the dance which followed, and all remained to trip the light fantastic. Summer formal clothes predominated, many organic gowns of light colors being seen on the girls, and the men wearing dark coats, white flannel trousers and white shoes.
