Print Details of Contract
Bidding For Village,
School Projects

Advertising for bond bids for the PWA school project, and for both the contract bids for the school project and for the village reservoir project has been started.

The notice to all contractors published in this week's issue of The Record, sets the final date for bids on the $27,272 school addition to be built under the Public Works Administration for Dec. 7. On that day the deadline for acceptance of bids from contractors has been set for 1:30 p. m. with a public meeting set at 2 p. m. at which time members of the school board will open the bids.

The advertising for bond bids on the same Northville and Novi School District No. 2 fractional bonds for the general obligation bonds to the sum of $15,000.00 will be received up to 5 p. m. Dec. 2, to be opened by the school board at their meeting at 8 p. m. that same evening.

The bonds will yield an interest rate not to exceed four per cent per annum payable semi-annually.

For the construction of the concrete reservoir and filter and extensions to the waterworks distribution system of the village, contract bids advertising was begun last week, and bids will be received until 7:30 p. m. Dec. 2, at the village hall. Plans and specifications may be received from Harold Hamill, consulting engineer, Mayflower hotel, Plymouth.

These bids will be opened at a village council meeting set for the second.

ROTARIANS ARE FINGERPRINTED BY R. E. MOORE

Members of the Rotary club and their friends were fingerprinted Tuesday at the luncheon meeting in the Presbyterian church house, Edward H. Williams, Wayne county auditor and Robert E. Moore, chief of the Wayne county fingerprint division spoke regarding the advantages of universal fingerprinting.

"Fingerprinting is not only valuable as a means of identifying criminals," asserted Mr. Williams, "but is now used by the coast guard, the army, the marines, and the United States postal service." Mr. Williams stated that all honest, peace-loving citizens should be fingerprinted, as a protection to themselves.

Mr. Moore, who has been in the fingerprinting business for many years stated that fingerprints are a great aid in the probing of wills and the only positive identification. Fingerprinting has been endorsed locally by the Lutheran church of Michigan and the American Legion convention in St. Louis also endorsed it.

Mr. Moore reported that when word was sent to Elsie that all inmates were to be fingerprinted, 800 of them left the institution, Argentina, says Mr. Moore, has 17,000,000 fingerprints on record, Mexico has 15,000,000 and Brazil 10,000,000. Records prove, he said, that in 2 years Argentina has had out one kidnapping and the kidnapper was apprehended in 48 hours.

Mr. Moore uses the Henry system of fingerprinting. This system was evolved in 1888 and was first used as a method of keeping track of cattle labor in China. All fingerprints taken in Wayne county are filed in two places, one in Wayne county and the other in the bureau of identification in Washington.

Donald P. Yerkes was in charge of the program for the day. Guests included Walter H. Barnes of Plymouth, John A. Boyce, John Lisenberger and William H. Safford.

CLUB SPEAKER

Anne Campbell, well-known Detroit News writer, who spoke to members of the Plymouth, Northville Woman's club and the Wayne Area club at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth yesterday afternoon.

LOCAL BARBERS AGREE ON PRICES

Northville Group Decides
To Adopt Uniform
Regulations

Northville barbers, following in the steps of Plymouth, Wayne, and Detroit, organized for uniform prices and uniform hours of work last week.

L. B. Shipley, sponsor of the idea, said that the Plymouth organizer, William Garrett, had contacted several of the barbers here in order to persuade them to join Plymouth in its restrictions.

The restrictions, as agreed upon by the two towns, call for a straight 35 cents charge; week-day hours from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and Saturday from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.

A Detroit union agreed upon the same price restrictions with an hour later closing hour on week-days, and a 9 p. m. Saturday closing hour.

Northville shop owners who have signed the agreement include: Marshall Herrick, Alfred Heatley, Charles Conklin, Jack Grey, and Mr. Shipley.

TOWN WELCOMES "PRODIGAL" SUN

Northville welcomed the sun back Wednesday in spite of the fact that its appearance spoiled the chances for a new "sunless" record. The 11-day disappearance "which" was staged by Old Sol rivalled and threatened to break the record set in December, 1929, when a series of the same number of cloudy days descended upon Detroit and vicinity.

WOMEN'S GYM CLASS

The Women's Gym class under the direction of Miss Dorothy Atkinson, announces a continuance of the Tuesday evening classes. The class meets at 7:30 p. m. and is open to all except school children. There is an admittance charge of 20 cents a meeting.

Villagers Want To Hear Repeat Performance of 'Messiah' By Community Chorus Organization

"Let's hear the 'Messiah' again this year," were the words of a music-lover of the village who stated that she had heard the two performances given at Christmas time in previous years.

Leslie G. Lee, music instructor for the schools and "Messiah" director, was asked by the Record/Reporter if the concert would be repeated this year. He stated that the committee was waiting to find out if the community favored another presentation. He approved the suggestion that a number of citizens be questioned to determine the sentiment of the public. A verbal questionnaire brought forth comments which revealed that many thought the concert should become annual Yuletide programs.

"The Christmas season seems enriched if I can hear Handel's immortal oratorio sung by well-trained voices," remarked a local woman.

"More than 70 voices sang in the Northville-Plymouth chorus last year when the Christmas portion of the 'Messiah' was presented in the Presbyterian church."

SEWAGE LINE NOT TO GO TO YERKES POND

Council Votes To Cooperate
With Plans To Improve
Factory Grounds

Council members Monday voted to divert the sewage lines which are at present leading into the pond near the Ford plant known as "Yerkes pond," in an attempt to aid the Ford Motor company in its efforts to beautify the plant and the grounds surrounding it.

Councilman William T. Gregory, in presenting the case before the other councilmen, said that the work done by Ford's would make the village more attractive and so would be worthy of the village cooperation. Engineers working on the project said that no work can be accomplished until some provision had been made for the sewage which flows from several village points to it.

Other village sewage problems were discussed at the meeting and action taken.

Regulation business of the meeting included setting the date for the opening of the reservoir contract bids ahead to Dec. 2, the original date having been set for Nov. 25.

Dr. Wilbur Johnston, village health officer, asked that the council appropriate a sum for a new drinking fountain, one that will prevent the dogs drinking out of it.

The doctor also reported one case of scarlet fever which will be out of quarantine Saturday. Dr. Johnston saw no danger of an epidemic in town, the danger being lessened by the fact that the child was not in school.

POST GRAVEL PIT AS BIRD SANCTUARY

Ninety acres owned by Manning and Lockin Co., were named among the three wild life sanctuaries set aside by the Department of Conservation at its November meeting. The acreage covers the area occupied by the new gravel pit in back of Silver Springs.

The pit is already posted for no hunting. Mr. Manning said, and the company had applied some time ago so that the birds "might be given a chance."

Under the department's restrictions, the three new sanctuaries will be closed for five years to hunting and fishing. The other two named at the meeting are: Perry Bogert, 120 acres Adrian township, Lenawee county; and Von Platen, Fox company and the Fisheries Division Department of Conservation, joint dedication on 580 acres, Stambaugh township, Iron county.

CHILDREN'S HOUR THIS SATURDAY

Another of the series of Children's Story Hours will be held for children in the first three grades at 10 a. m. this Saturday. Mrs. V. J. Lumley will conduct the class as usual.

MRS. MINNIE SCHOOF DIES AT HOME HERE WEDNESDAY EVENING

Mrs. Minnie Schoof, for over 25 years a resident of Northville, died at her home at 117 East Base lane road Wednesday evening after a serious illness of several months duration.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday from her home, and burial will be in the Greenview cemetery. The Rev. H. J. Lord will conduct the services.

Mrs. Schoof was born in Germany, June 17, 1869, but moved to the United States when she was three years old. She has lived in this vicinity all her life, and moved to Northville proper approximately 25 years ago.

She was married to Melvin Hunt, who died March 8, 1905. Later, in 1910, she married Gus Schoof, of Northville.

The children whom she leaves are: Mrs. E. M. Bogart, Carl Hunt, and Mrs. Mary Schoof, all of Northville, Harry Hunt, of Toledo and Howard Hunt of Plymouth.

A-HUNTING THEY DID GO

—and This is the Success Story of the Experts—

Local hunters not only "go hunting" but they return with proof that they know how to hunt. Five deer, and a moose have been the prize game bags brought in by sportsmen this week.

An enthusiastic sportsman of the village has a buck to show for a few days of hunting in the northern part of the state. This information comes from Mrs. L. I. Condit who is vacationing at her cabin in Vanderbilt.

The "big shoot" record of the season is held by Dr. A. A. Holcomb who returned Sunday from a three weeks' trip in northern Canada with Fred Stubenvoll and Butch Baldwin. They report that the weather there was quite warm with no snow.

Dr. Holcomb shot a moose and a deer.

Word has been received from C. B. Washburne who is hunting this week with Lansing friends in the Upper Peninsula near Namah, where he shot a buck.

After spending the week-end at a camp near Melvor, Gordon Moffet has a deer to verify his sport activities.

A seven-point buck was brought in by Marvin Guntzler last week from Montmorency county, south of Atlanta. According to Mr. Guntzler, both deer and hunters are plentiful in that region.

No reports have been received here from Fred Hicks, Earl Stanbro, Herman Teshka, and Donald Hamilton who are expected to return Sunday from their hunt near Covington.

OWNERS NAME PRICE ON PROPOSED SITE FOR HOSPITAL UNIT

Village Officials Believe
Northville Is Still In Running

With word on the final decision of the committee still pending, composite price estimates were submitted this week in a final form to the veterans' hospital committee on the plot of land which Northville hopes to see accepted for the proposed building.

The Richardson farm on Center street which has been submitted for approval is under an undivided ownership by the bank and a real estate company in Detroit. Although the bank's liberal price for its part of the 90 acres was set some time ago, the Detroit firm's estimate was not secured until later.

Village officials waited before taking further action for an answer to the telegram sent to the superintendent of construction asking for more time in which to submit a price. Answer came to Dr. H. H. Burkart, president of the village.

Notwithstanding the request Wednesday.

The site for the 350-bed veterans' hospital, it was understood last week, will be selected from one of four possibilities: Detroit, Pontiac, Mt. Clemens and Northville. The final four were selected from among 62 towns considered.

SCHOOL AWAITS WORD ON AVIATION CLASS

Several more than the necessary 15 names have been secured for the ground class in aeronautics, and application has been sent to the State Board of Aeronautics, according to a recent school announcement.

Fifteen persons had to enroll in the project before an application for teachers could be made to the state. Over 20 signed the application. The course, which has been sponsored by the school primarily, would be given during the evening so that it could be attended by adults. No word as yet has reached the school in answer to its petition.

Notice will be sent to the signers as soon as anything is heard from the state.

According to present indications the instructor will probably teach a course in model airplanes. He will be required by the state to spend a total of 120 hours a month on the position, 24 hours a month on the ground class, and the remainder of the time on the model activities.

The ground classes, which are open to both men and women, will consist of two three-hour classes a week.

The next meeting of the American Legion auxiliary will be held Tuesday, Nov. 26. Officers desire a good attendance to hear the membership report.

NEW FLYING SERVICE
AT COUNTY AIRPORT

To fill the need of private and student flyers, The Wayne County Flying Service announces the purchase of a new enclosed radial airplane Taylor Cub airplane.

Wayne county airport, located on Goddard and Middle Belt roads, is one of the finest airports in the country.

WOMEN START VILLAGE-WIDE SOLICITATION

Red Cross Workers Canvass
Town In Membership
Campaign

Northville's Red Cross door-to-door drive began Thursday and will continue through Dec. 1, according to Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, general chairman of this district.

With local welfare agencies gone, there will be an increased necessity for Red Cross funds this year, Mrs. Lester said.

Reports from other districts, however, indicate that the improved financial status of many citizens will be reflected in the money taken in by the roll call committee.

The price one dollar, is small for membership in this great organization, so aptly called, "The Mother of the World." Other donations will be welcomed. Mrs. Lester asks the housewife to grant a courteous reception to the solicitors who are so cheerfully giving their time to the good work.

During the past year, the Red Cross has added to its usual work by supplying medical assistance and glasses to many, and giving considerable assistance to those persons who, while not on the welfare, have barely enough to "get along."

The committee named includes: Mrs. William Lebeture, Mrs. Adelle Brock, Mrs. H. H. Burkart, Mrs. Herman Berend, Mrs. C. M. Chase, Mrs. E. J. Cobb, Mrs. H. H. Hamilton, Mrs. F. I. Mill, Mrs. E. T. Nelson, Mrs. A. H. Henule, Mrs. William Safford, Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Mrs. L. C. Stewart, Mrs. Leroy Stewart, Mrs. Clifford Campbell, Mrs. C. B. Washburne, Mrs. Harry Wengert, and Mrs. Sherrill Ambler.

Naturally, she said "with this percentage, it is impossible to make the project self-sustaining but generous donations by townspeople help out, and the deficit which remains is made up by the Parent-Teachers' group."

Although the lunchroom is not open the entire school year, it is started at the beginning of the cold season each year, in the belief that if the children are given one hot dish and a substantial noon-time meal during the cold weather, their chances for poor health will be considerably lessened.

Last year, Mrs. Zimmerman said, the township donated the milk which was served with the free lunches, and already this year there have been one or two donations made with which to start operations. The cooperation of the township's is solicited.

CATHOLIC CHRISTMAS PARTY COMMITTEES EXPECT BIG CROWDS

Plans are being completed for the third annual public Christmas gift party to be given by the Our Lady of Victory church Tuesday evening, Dec. 3. During the two years in which the affair has been given, it has become so popular that larger quarters than the church offered had to be sought.

The party will be conducted by way of games with each game having three prizes as an attraction. Committee members contend that these prizes will solve a part of the Christmas shopping worries.

The advertised prize-drawing contest will take place after all the above games are over. The games themselves will start at 8 p. m.

The women of the congregation, according to the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schuler, have been working on the prizes for a long time and have secured very desirable products. Under the leadership of the Ushers' club, the men of the church will handle the games of the evening.

Book-cover House and Fictitious Characters Are Being Featured This Week By Local Librarians

Three generations of books and a tiny part of a series, called "Peter Parley's Annual, for 1882."

The young people didn't envy the grade students of many years ago when they saw the primer which didn't contain a single picture, but they did enjoy the old pop-up book of "The Little Snowman's Series."

Pop-up books in which the child opens the books and the pictures stand up have been revived and are on the market now in several styles, but this old story-book is testimony that the idea isn't at all new.

A 1703 geography, donated by Mrs. W. W. Thayer, and another published in 1768 was donated by Mrs. E. K. Starkweather and contains a lot of interesting maps, one showing Michigan as they thought it was in those times. This book, written by J. Carter Esquire, carries the title of "Travels Through the Interior Parts of North America, 1768, 69 and 70."

Another history of the United States written by Noah Webster, and an old scrap book containing conversational exercises.

EARLY DEADLINE SET FOR COPY

In order that the Thanksgiving issue can be on the streets on Wednesday so that the advertisers will receive full benefit of their insertions, next week's edition of The Record will appear on Tuesday instead of Thursday evening.

To make this possible, we will need the cooperation of all those people who have "copy" coming in. Start to-day or tomorrow to bring in either news or advertising copy. We will greatly appreciate it.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM DEFEATED FRIDAY

Plymouth Football Squad
Takes Season's Final Game Here

Northville high school wound up one of the poorest seasons in several years with an overwhelming defeat by Plymouth high school in the final game of the season last Friday. With a score of 45 to 0, Plymouth, coming through the season with only one defeat, gave the Northville team, which has won only one game, the worst trouncing that has ever been witnessed between the two schools.

The slump this season, according to Coach Ted Watts, can be attributed to the number of new men used on the team. With 11 men graduating however, the situation will not be much improved next year, he said, unless some new material comes in.

Last year, Plymouth won the traditional game between the two rivals giving Northville a tie-position in the league championship. The year before the Northville team was more successful, defeating the neighboring town before an unprecedented crowd from both towns.

EXCHANGE MEMBERS SEE SAFETY PICTURE AT REGULAR MEETING

A safety picture entitled "Saying Seconds" was shown before members of the Exchange Club at their regular luncheon meeting Wednesday noon.

This picture, which was brought to the Exchange meeting by Paul E. Thompson, assistant principal of the school, was furnished by a life insurance company and was previously shown before a high school audience here as part of the Michigan Safety campaign.

Included on the day's program, was the report of the district meeting of the Exchange club held in Detroit, which was given by Charles Deigh.

NURSE AND CHIMIST HURT IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Two members of the Maybury sanatorium staff, Miss Anna Greene, nurse supervisor, and Dr. George Meeker, chemist, suffered minor injuries in an automobile accident which occurred Saturday night on the Plymouth road near Wayne. Dr. Meeker, who was driving with Miss Greene, crashed into a car which had skidded and come to a stop squarely across the road as the driver attempted to make a sharp turn to avoid hitting another car directly in front of him.

Miss Greene's right knee and ankle were injured and Dr. Meeker sustained slight bruise and cuts.

POLLOCK TALKS TO LOCAL CLUB HERE TONIGHT

European Political Affairs
To Be Discussed By Noted Professor

Prof. James K. Pollock, of the University of Michigan department of political science, will speak to members of the Woman's Club and their guests on "Political Conditions in Europe" at 8 p. m. tonight in the library.

Guests of the club for the occasion will be the teachers of the Northville high school, and husbands of the members.

Dr. Pollock's thorough study of European political conditions qualifies him to speak. He has the distinction of being the only American representative elected to serve in the Saar plebiscite last spring.

In addition to having held teaching positions in Geneva college, Harvard University, Ohio State University, and the University of Michigan, he has also gained prominence for his book, "Money and Politics Abroad," and has been the author of numerous political articles appearing in the American Political Science Review, the Political Science Quarterly, the Encyclopedia of Social Sciences, the National Municipal Review, and Political and Social Science Quarterly.

BUILD BEAUTY INTO FORD FACTORY SITE

Henry Ford is again demonstrating his determination to build beauty into his building operations by draining the old Yerkes mill pond and digging it out so that the lake will have a solid earth bottom.

The activity at the pond would indicate that they have a full-sized lake on their hands and it was suggested that the job would last for several months.

The project calls for removing all of the vegetation and digging the duck and dirt out to a depth necessary to provide a solid gravel bottom. A steam shovel and many dump trucks are busy moving the dirt from the pond bottom and dumping it in a gulley just west of the pond. It is understood that the north abutment of the dam is to be the beginning of a retaining wall to extend west to Hutton avenue, the fill to be north of this retaining wall.

With the announced determination of the city to divert sewage to other outlets past Lake water supplied by the spring-fed brook from the north will be assured. An outlet from the lake will provide water for the water wheel to be installed at the east end of the new Ford factory. This clean and much larger lake with the stream flowing to the new plant will add beauty to Northville that will be greatly appreciated by the residents; particularly so because it is a part of the new plant building that would seem unnecessary except as Mr. Ford desires to have a beautiful setting for his plant and wishes also to add beauty to the village.

Large quantities of structural steel are now being moved to the building site of the new Ford plant and it is contemplated that the steel will be put in place rapidly so that bricklaying may be completed before the severe weather begins.

This week's guest editorials were written by Clifford C. Ward, editor of the River Rouge Herald. Mr. Ward has gained unusual prominence by successful publication of newspapers in Hillsdale and Charlotte.

It is a distinct honor to be invited to be one of the contributors to the editorial department of such a splendid paper as The Northville Record, and, owing to the paper's long and valued friendship with Dick Baldwin, I am very glad to accept the invitation.

I feel the more like acceding to the request for I feel at home in Northville, where I lived for a few months, having owned The Northville Record for a short time prior to its purchase by Mr. Baldwin, and in that brief sojourn in that beautiful city made a number of friends and acquaintances.

I read with interest the splendid and deserved tribute paid to your regular editor by Ray Corliss, who contributed the first of this series of articles to this column. I was requested not to continue that precedent. I will refrain and merely say that I heartily echo those sentiments and express the wish that Dick will be back with his old health and strength, vim, vigor and enthusiasm.

OUR DOORYARD DIAMONDS

In my line-o-thought this week, I wish to bring home to the people of Michigan the fact that we should appreciate what a wonderful state we have. Green fields look so far away. I sold a newspaper at Hillsdale one day, thinking that I could find a much better town somewhere else and spent months traveling as far as the Northwestern states looking for a location, finally settling in Charlotte, Michigan, just about as near to the lake as I could get. Then attacked by the western bug, I sold in Charlotte but got sidetracked in Detroit and later in Northville.

Still afflicted with the western bug, I sold the Northville paper and went through the south and west looking for a desirable location. I supposed that cities of from six thousand people in other states were much like Northville. I found that in California they were perhaps half negro, Mexican or Japanese, and the other half cowboys and miners. Northville is almost one hundred per cent American and there is no comparison between cities of like size here and in the west. I finally found in the newspaper business in Hollywood and remained there two years; when the opening at River Rouge presented itself and back I came to Michigan. I am glad to have the experience in California and got it out of my system. It is a fine place to play and hereafter, instead of selling my business to get a vacation, I will keep the business and go to Florida or California for a play spell. Business opportunities are much better in Michigan. I have heard people tell so many times what fools we were to live in such a climate as this, when we could live in California. I came to believe them and became dissatisfied. Now Michigan looks pretty good.

The climate of California is wonderful and the mountains are beautiful. But I saw dust clouds rolling from their river beds and if you get away from the ocean breezes, it is unbearably hot. Stay away from desert towns.

Perhaps fortunately returned to Michigan in October and California never had any more beautiful sight than our maple trees with their vivid colors. If Michigan had California's climate, there would be no comparison. They can enjoy their outdoor summer sports the year around but we have our beautiful lakes, our trees and hills and our winter sports. In a drive to Washington, D. C. one time, I remarked that I saw only one lake on the entire trip, until I struck Michigan.

Michigan doesn't have the cut-throat competition that there is in California and while I dreaded coming back to Michigan, for the Californians told me that my blood had become thin and I couldn't or wouldn't stand the climate here, I want to say that I haven't regretted my return here for one minute, greatly to my own surprise. It reminds me of the old saying, "The more I see of my people, the more I think of my dog."

We may have snowstorms but we don't have (many) earthquakes nor floods and but few windstorms. If California had our lakes and rivers and a few of the charming islands in the Detroit river down near Lake Erie androsseville, where I now have my home, they wouldn't be so fond of Michigan. We don't make enough noise about our wonderful state. Could anything be lovelier than the ride through the St. Clair flats, and on up to Pontiac and through the other lakes?

My message is, be satisfied with and boost your state and let us realize more our blessings. Forget the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow and remember there are "Acres of Diamonds" in our own state.

ture she should see for historical reasons. Perhaps it was. It was a splendid spectacle but one which I would hardly have taken a girl of tender years to see, if I had seen it first. The gladiatorial fights, the turning of thumbs down on a vanquished foe, the slaughter of the Christians, the throwing of prisoners to the lions, seemed a terrible barbaric picture.

And yet, the next picture showed the perils of the news-reel cameraman and there followed Japanese-Chinese war scenes; Ethiopian-Italian battles; strikes and riots in various parts of our own country, with clubbing of men and women on the streets; aeroplane stunts with resultant crashes, the victims consumed in a funeral pyre of blazing gasoline; Mexican bull fights; and finally that refined method of killing, the automobile races, with overturning and crashing cars, bodies hurled onto the tracks and under the wheels of onrushing juggernauts. Such a carnage of death and violence that I remarked as we left the theatre, "I don't know as the world has progressed so far after all." With all our boasted civilization, the people who throng the automobile race tracks would go away disappointed if there was not at least one spill and thrill. It would be a tame race if the cars ran monotonously around the track without an accident.

Who are we to criticize the ancient Roman?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

Members of the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion furnished the program and were guests of the Exchange club at its regular meeting Wednesday noon.

Novi is planning on having its own community recreation hall. Dr. A. A. Holcomb is proudly showing his curious friends the fine deer, bear and moose, which he brought down.

There is an excellent possibility that the four-mile stretch of highway between Northville and Novi will be improved and possibly made into a cement one.

Tuesday morning, Mrs. S. Montgomery and her son, Scott, left for the south with Dayton's Beach, Fla. as their destination.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schnute were Saturday visitors over the weekend at the home of Mrs. Schnute's parents.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

A NEW BRAND OF "LIBERTY"

(Wascola County Advertiser)

Two minstrels, who drew from their guitars music about "the downfall of the Soviet Union" and "the end of the world" as they wandered among collective farms in the Kiev district were sentenced to death in the Kiev Regional Court as counter-revolutionaries. Twenty-two others received prison terms of three to ten years.

And this is what liberty and freedom amount to in Russia!

God save this country from the agitation and propaganda that would destroy our own Constitution, limit freedom of speech and press and establish a brand of "liberty" where life, death and property are subject to the whims of a political dictatorship.

BEWARE OF PROMOTERS

(Ingham County News)

Since the announcement of the proposed extension of rural power lines the highways and byways have been full of salesmen, promoters and organizers. In certain sections of the county attempts have been made to organize the farmers for the benefit of promoters. Membership fees of $2.00 per person have been asked of persons seeking information regarding the construction of farm power lines.

The state public utilities commission, the Consumers Power company, the rural electrification associations and farmers' organizations join in warning farmers to go easy on paying membership fees in new organizations until a full investigation is made of the promised benefits. There appears to be no necessity for paying dues to any organization to secure power line extensions.

"Beware of rackets. Hang onto your cash," are warnings that should be heeded.

THE WORLD GROWS SMALLER

(Washington Post Tribune)

The world has been steadily getting smaller as new inventions of transportation and communication have brought lands, only 100 years ago far away, closer together. Slowly but surely the barriers which have made our interests seem antithetical, our cultures incompatible, are dissolving with each step toward the conquering of space.

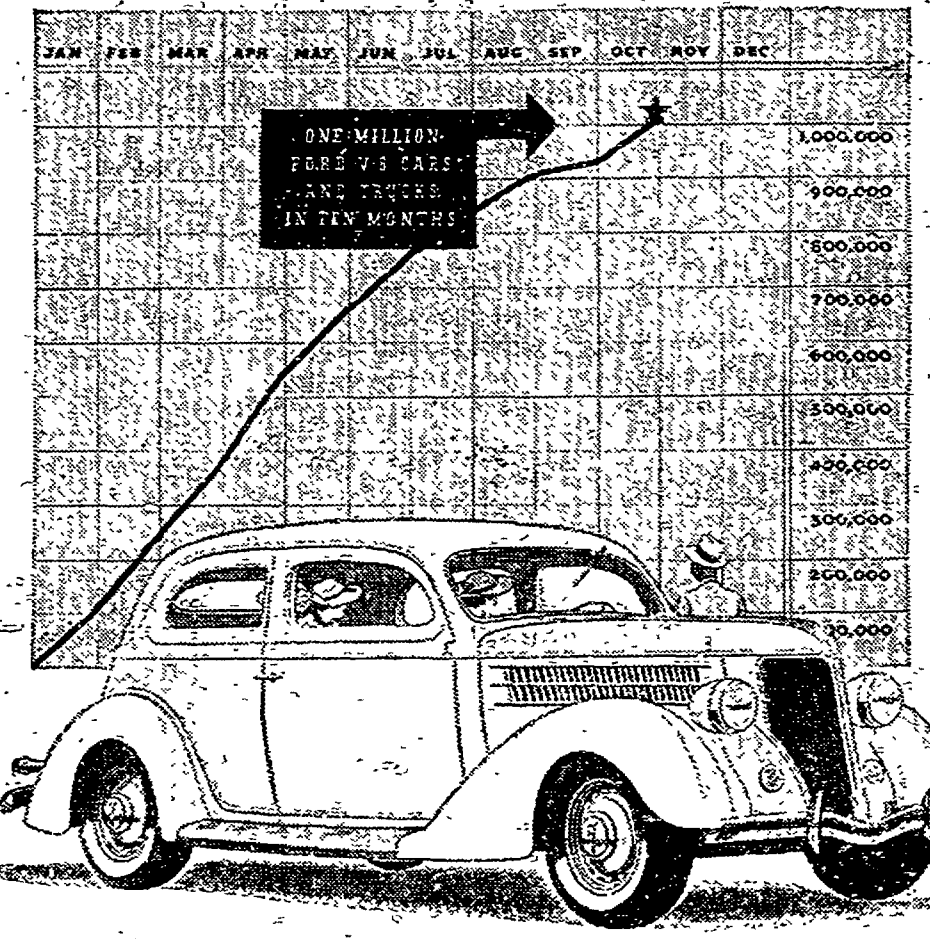

In the last week the world has again been contracted. This time from another dimension. Two men ascended to a height of practically 15 miles, looked down upon the earth to see its curvatures. No living person has seen so much of the world at one time as have these two men.

Within so short a distance, the environment is completely changed. The light rays of the sun are of different hue. The sky above is dark instead of blue. There are no winds, no clouds. The temperature is in the frigid zone.

Each year our airmen resolve to push back the explored space a few more miles. Piccard challenged our imagination in 1932, when he rose in his balloon to 53,000 feet. In the following year, Settle and Fordyce ascended 61,000 feet. Last year, three Russian balloonists, who were killed on their return trip, rose to 72,000 feet. Last Monday, Captains Anderson and Sterns made 74,000 feet. Now comes Piccard announcing he will begin constructing a balloon that will rise to 90,000 feet.

Valuable data are hidden in the precious instruments brought down from the stratosphere this week and now being carefully studied by scientists in Washington. Records of the cosmic ray, samples of the air, records of temperatures all along the way supplement the personal observations of the balloonists. The data collected will make future expeditions of the sort safer, and the unknowns, thought to be only a few decades ago, unknowns, will be added to the sum total of human knowledge. What benefits are in store for mankind from this information cannot be predicted, but there have been few explorations of this type in human history that have not added "man greatly."

V-8 LEADERSHIP

ON OCTOBER 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year.

One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm.

These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE IS LOADED WITH ADVENTURE

We try to make a subscription to "The American Boy," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor, "a round-trip ticket to a world-wide adventure cruise."

Most boys cannot afford the luxury of travel but they can afford to settle down under a reading lamp and take an imaginative trip to foreign lands in American Boy stories.

American Boy stories, during the coming year, will take readers to the atolls of the South Seas in a trading schooner, to the polar wastes behind a dog team, into the Canadian wilderness with the Mounted Police, through the Caribbean with the U. S. Navy, even to the far-away planet of Mars in a space ship!

There'll be true adventures among the lions and chimpanzees of Africa with Captain Carl von Hoffman, famous explorer and ethnologist. In addition there'll be stories about the favorite characters of a million boys—Bonehead Jim Tierney, Detective Square Jaw Davis, engineer, Hide-rack, the red-and-gold collier, Connie Morgan, and Douglas Renfrew.

There'll be vocational stories that will help the reader select his life work, advice on hobbies, sports tips from famous coaches and players, money-earning suggestions, vacation hints, and worthwhile contests.

The American Boy costs only $1 a year, or $2 for three years, foreign subscriptions 50 cents a year extra. Send your name, address, and remittance to The American Boy, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Service will start with the issue you specify. On newsstands, 10c a copy.

Mayflies that wash ashore in putrid masses during early summer months are said to be a food of black bears.

SIMPLIFY THANKSGIVING

It's just an old American custom, this Thanksgiving ritual, but it's one to be proud of. So long may it endure! And don't let any modern dietitian talk you into substituting baked fish for stuffed turkey, or fruit souffles for pumpkin pie. Serve a one-hundred-percent Thanksgiving dinner, but select foods which can be used also for a later buffet supper.

For no matter how adequate the dinner, there's going to be a supper. You know that. You know that along late in the evening, memories of that savory turkey and that mellow, spicy pumpkin pie are going to lead thoughtful folks toward the refrigerator—for just a bite more.

Ways and Means. If you have simplified your menu so that one cooking will serve both meals—the dinner and the buffet, supper—then instead of being the harried hostess you can be your own guest for supper. You can linger by the flickering candlelight over good food and good talk, linking up memories of other happy Thanksgivings with those fleeting ones, and you can be truly thankful.

Let's get down to ways and means. There'll be turkey of course. Then order a turkey that is sufficiently large so that you will have two cups of diced cold turkey left over to make a delicious turkey and rice casserole as the main dish for your buffet supper.

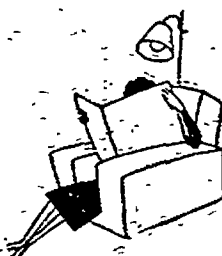

There will be celery also to add to the turkey dressing. Reserve the celery hearts to use as one of the appetizers for the evening buffet.

There are many salads that can be made long before the arrival of the Thanksgiving dinner, but perhaps you would like to make a gelatin salad a whole day before.

Fast. "Well, Johnny," said the uncle, who hadn't seen him for some time, "you are getting to be quite a big boy now, aren't you?"

"Yep," replied the kid, "pop says I'm growing like the public debt." Montreal Star.

THE RECORD SHOPPER

By ELEANOR BLUM

Do you feel the urge to lounge coming on? Do you want to curl up in a chair to read and be comfortable—and yet look your best? One of the local stores has provided for your needs in their new winter stock.

Picked for warmth and style, the new models for corduroy, lounging pajamas—done in attractive new winter color tones, and are so good-looking that they have to be comfortable.

Rust and brown, reminding you of frosty scenes, is the color choice for one good-looking pair of one-piece pajamas. The wide turn-back collar, the tie belt, the frog fastenings, all in brown, set off the soft rust background. Another one-piece in yellow and brown is effectively finished with braid trim and tassels.

Shirring was the primary attraction for us in the clever two-piece sets that this same store is showing. Modeled in gray, a gummatel gray which the fashion experts have conceived as both attractive and practical, with red trim, this set is probably the gayest of the lot.

Everywhere little touches of the more vivid shade brighten the outfit, a narrow red band on the smartly shirred pockets. Another on the sleeves with matching gatherings, the gay crimson clove buttons straight down the front will all contribute to make your lounging hours cheerful ones. Similar two-piece "p.j.s." come in rust and brown.

And while we're on the subject of comfortable lounging hours, here's just a suggestion—that if you've never surrendered your feet to a pair of soft leather, heeled bedroom slippers then you've done them an injustice. A standard product for many years, there are still many women, who not having found the absolute comfort they afford, have not yet given up the old heel-less, arch breaking "house slipper."

And now a store in town carries these slippers in the standard soft black leather that is so simply and greatly designed that you don't have to be ashamed to be "caught" in a bedroom slipper. Loosely enough fit that they relieve the most tired feet, and yet well enough constructed to "stay put" and look well at all times, these are slippers that are practical and comforting at countless intervals during the day.

NEW-MARKET FOUND FOR MICHIGAN BEANS

Ten carloads of Michigan beans are moving to San Francisco, canners, via Baltimore and the Panama canal. This is the first quantity sale ever made of Michigan beans to this company. The purchasing agent of the canner told the Michigan sales agency that Michigan beans were exactly what this company wanted.

The sale is very encouraging as California grown beans have been one of the chief competitors with the Michigan product. Assurance was given by the buyers that larger quantities would be bought if the present shipment meets expectations.

BROWN TROUT EGGS HARVESTED AT PARIS

Five million brown-trout eggs, it is estimated, will be harvested for Michigan's 1936 fish-planting program at the Paris state fish hatchery this month.

This is a normal yield for the state's brood stock of browns, nearly all of which is kept at the Paris station for propagation purposes.

The eggs will remain at Paris until they develop to the "eye" stage, after which most of them will be distributed to other hatcheries for hatching and rearing. When the young fish are from four to eight months of age they will be consigned to the various trout streams to grow to "keeper" size for the fly and bass fishermen.

Like the brook trout, the brown spawns in the fall months. The rainbow trout spawns in the spring. Visitors at the Paris hatchery may see the eggs from each of the

THIS WEEK By H. H. WHITE

Two friends got on a Grand River car the other day and since there were only a few passengers everyone it seemed noticed them.

One was an old man and apparently a musician for he had a roll of music with him. One noticed his fine, tapering hands—blue-veined and delicate and gentle. He had a sensitive mouth and beautiful blue eyes. His dress was plain and meager but immaculate.

These friends spoke no word on their long ride out Grand River, but the man ever so often would give his friend an affectionate pat and caress. The other friend looked old, too, but he returned the affection with his eyes and placing his nose in the hands of the other—for he was a dog. Just dog—shabby and friendly without benefit of pedigree or pretense.

One could not help wondering if they had not known loneliness and privation. Anyhow it was certain their friendship was genuine.

They came to their stop and the dog took the roll in his mouth, wagging his tail as he left the car while the old gentleman followed, holding onto a chain. The dog seemed to lead the way, and it was then the conductor told us the man was partially blind.

Invariably "Aren't people funny?" "Yes, if you tell it man that there are 270,678,934 stars in the universe he'll believe you—but if a sign says 'Fresh Paint' that same man has to make a personal investigation." Pathfinder

"How'dja make it do that, Charlie?"

Charlie Chase and Joyce Compton, stars of Charlie Chase Comedies, had good reason to be surprised when his faithful Model T started like a jackrabbit. It had never happened before—so it's a safe bet that they had Standard's new double-quick-starting gasoline in the tank.

Don't think for a minute that this new gasoline is so fast that your car is liable to take off before you're ready. It's not that lively. But it is remarkably fast—mean a gasoline that simply gives a check when you try to drive away. We mean a gasoline that, even in bitter winter weather, responds to the first once, and gives you full steam ahead in regular mid-summer form.

That's promising a lot. But this gasoline has fully 35% greater warm-up speed, in zero temperatures. So get some of this new Standard Red Crown... and SEE WHAT HAPPENS next time you step on the starter!

Dr. Henry, who has had considerable experience in the educational field, worked for some time with Dr. Paul F. Voelker. In his speech, he developed the theme of "The School and Democracy," and emphasized the fact that the school would have to show democracy as appealing as any other form of government. It was his opinion that if the form of government could be imbedded in the minds of children in other countries, that democracy could be just as successfully emphasized in the United States.

At the business meeting, the association decided to donate money for a book to the two rooms with the best record for attendance this year. Previously it was the custom to give a first and second prize to the winning groups. The classes will be allowed to pick their own books.

A social hour followed the meeting and refreshments were served.

FRITZ KREISLER TO APPEAR DEC. 3

Two important concerts will be given by the University Musical society in Hill auditorium, Ann Arbor, during the month of December.

Fritz Kreisler, the eminent violinist, will be heard for the fifth time in a choral union series on Dec. 3; and the Boston Symphony orchestra led by Serge Koussevitzky, will make its eleventh Ann Arbor appearance on Dec. 11.

Both concerts promise to attract many out-of-town and out-of-state visitors, as well as local concertgoers. The advance demand for tickets has been unusually large, indicating that these attractions, with the passage of years, grow in attractiveness.

Kreisler was first heard in Ann Arbor in 1900, and has been called back repeatedly during the past thirty-five years.

The Boston Symphony orchestra first played in Ann Arbor in 1890, and then made annual visits for four years. From then on until 1931, it appeared at intermittent intervals; but since 1931 it has been engaged regularly. With one exception, these appearances have constituted the only engagements of this organization in the state of Michigan. Great conductors who have presided on these occasions have been: Arthur Niksch four times; Karl Muck twice; and Koussevitzky on five occasions.

Following the holiday season, the second half of the choral union series will include performances by the St. Louis Symphony orchestra under Vladimir Golschmann; the Detroit Symphony orchestra with Bernard Molinari as guest conductor; the Kolsh Siring Quartet; and recitals by John Charles Thomas, baritone; and Myra Hess, pianist.

CHRISTMAS SEALS GO ON SALE SOON

Forces of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association were being rallied throughout the state this week preparatory to the launching of the twenty-ninth annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals on Thanksgiving day. Twelve million Christmas seals will be put in the mails by the state association early next week and the total will be swelled to more than fifty-nine millions by affiliated organizations throughout the state.

Theodore J. Verle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, announced that preparations were being completed in the Lansing offices. Thousands of sheets of seals have been folded and stuffed in envelopes, and supplies are being shipped to those who will add in the direction of the sale in all parts of Michigan.

Officials of the association were convinced this week that the total sale during the twenty-ninth annual campaign would surpass the 1934 mark. Dr. Verle said that the 1934 campaign was the most successful in the history of the association.

THE GREAT WALTZ LARGEST MUSICAL TO APPEAR SOON

The week at the Masonic Temple auditorium which begins on Monday evening, Nov. 25, will be the third engagement. Max Gordon's mammoth musical production has played since it left the Center theatre in Radio City, New York.

The tour began at the Boston Opera House in Boston, the Metropolitan Opera House in Philadelphia followed and the company comes here from Washington. Because of the hugeness of the production few theatres have stage room enough to house the huge scenic equipment. The Masonic Temple auditorium is fortunate in having one of the largest stages in the country.

"The Great Waltz" is without doubt, the largest musical play ever to be sent on tour. There are a hundred and forty people with the company and seven baggage cars are required to transport the scenery and effects.

The company here, as in New York will be headed by Guy Robertson, who appears as Johann Strauss, Jr., Lee Whitney, as Reel his sweetheart, and Charles Romano, Vivian Fay, Sally Ward and Sam Mann. Max Gordon presents "The Great Waltz." The production was conceived and directed by Hassard Short. The music is from the works of Johann Strauss, Sr. and Jr. Moss Hart wrote the book and Albeniz Rasch staged the dances. The scenery was designed by Albert Johnston and Doris Zukelson, created the costumes. The music play was first produced in Vienna after which it was seen as "Waltzes From Vienna" in London where it ran for over two years. Mr. Gordon made the present production especially for Radio City and it was seen at the Center theatre there for two seasons.

This will be the only engagement in this territory of "The Great Waltz" as it can not play anywhere except in large auditoriums. There will be a matinee on Wednesday and Saturday.

INTRODUCING . . .

BY THE WAY . . .

• just what reaction do you as Mr. or Mrs. John Public have toward advertising? Do you feel that it is a necessary evil that you must endure because it helps pay the way of the newspaper? Or do you find advertising interesting and valuable as a buyer's guide?

• a few days ago a subscriber said that he felt that advertising should be interesting or be kept out of the paper. We were interested in knowing just what this person considered interesting in advertising. It seems that he reads those ads which are carefully prepared and that seem to have some purpose (not necessarily clever but to the point with something to say that is worth saying).

• this person does not agree that price appeal is the only thing necessary to get attention. "Advertising is nothing more than selling with type and ink. If a merchant is a poor salesman in his store, he is not likely to be a good salesman in printed selling. What gets my attention in an advertisement is an illustration or a salutation in type that really stops me—a command to my attention. Next if I follow through the selling must be smooth and forceful. I must be convinced that the merchant really believes down deep in his heart that here are items that are competitively priced and that are such that they will satisfy me in quality. Honestly I would rather trade in Northville than elsewhere and make every effort to do so but I still have to count pennies and I want what I want and if the Northville merchant doesn't have what I need I am compelled to go elsewhere."

• as a reader would you say that you believed that Record advertisements are giving serious consideration to their printed 'selling'? Would you say that what we need in the Record is more advertising, better advertising or both?

• the question that an advertiser always asks is "do enough people read the ads and if they do read them do they do anything about it?" In a selling organization that is very successful in house-to-house selling this statement is an important part of their training program. "To sell them you must tell them—the more tell them the more sell them."

SEE BETTER PRICE FOR STATE APPLES

Michigan orchard owners will be interested by the outlook for cherries and apples published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics after a survey of statistics from all fruit producing states.

The economists say that prospects for better prices for apples during the next 5-year period are good; but that the supply of cherries in the country is apt to be as large as that for the past few years, when prices have been low.

Moderate increases in replacement and plantings of apples will be necessary if the average production of the last few years is to be maintained 10 to 15 years hence. This is especially true of late apples. Increased competition from foreign apples is expected in export markets as tree plantings have increased in other countries. The imposition of trade restrictions against U. S. shipments is apt to be another unfavorable factor in the export fruit trade.

In spite of some tree losses, the number of sour cherry trees now in orchards is sufficient to produce greater quantities of fruit in favorable years than the normal market demands. Prospects for sweet cherries are not much more favorable.

State To Acquire Land

The state is acquiring nearly 1,000 acres of additional land for deer refuge purposes.

At the November meeting of the Conservation commission, purchase of 800 acres to be added to the Escanaba River tract was approved. This land is being purchased from H. J. Rushton, Escanaba, and is covered principally with cedar and spruce second growth and some alder. Funds for purchase are to be taken from the special fund diverted from deer license money for purchase of refuge land.

MORE HOGS GROWING ON NATION'S FARMS

Increased supplies of pork are in sight from the larger crops of spring pigs this year, according to the annual outlook published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The outlook also states that the crop of fall pigs is decidedly larger than last year's. Hog prices are expected to average higher than in the marketing season of 1934 and 1935 but are expected to be lower than for the summer months in 1935.

Continued increases in numbers of hogs produced during 1935 and 1937 are expected. The increase next year is predicted at between 20 and 30 per cent, and the 1937 production is apt to be still higher.

Slaughter of hogs was very light in the first quarter of 1935, but the slaughter for the last quarter is expected to represent more than a normal proportion of the year's total. The number of hogs slaughtered under federal inspection in the marketing year 1934-35 was the smallest in a quarter of a century, but this year's slaughter is expected to be even smaller.

A better demand from domestic consumers for pork appears probable but no improvement in export demand is in sight. Germany has fewer hogs than one year ago but imposed tariff barriers protect normal foreign trade.

MILK PRODUCTION DOWN

Milk production of the 13,220 members of the Michigan Milk Producers association producing milk for the Detroit market, during the month of October, dropped 8.9 per cent compared with September. Compared with production a year ago among the same producers, production is one-eighth of one per cent lower.

The interesting thing, however, is that sales during the month increased 1.5 per cent over those of September. This small increase doesn't show up very much in the farmer's milk check, but it is a move in the right direction.

IDLE LANDS PUT TO USE

Nearly 9,000 additional acres of idle northern Michigan land are now beginning to grow new pine forests.

State forestry men, with cooperation of C. C. C. workers, have just completed planting 8,500 acres of land to white, Norway, and jack-pine, two-year-old seedlings.

The plantings have been made in eight state forests as follows: Mackinac, Presque Isle, Ausable, Houghton Lake, Higgins Lake, Fife Lake, Ogemaw and Hardwood.

Porcupines often help feed deer during pinch periods of the winter months. While in the branches of a hemlock tree they nip off small twigs which drop to the snow and are used by deer as food.

N.H.S. DROPS FINAL GAME TO PLYMOUTH

Strong Rival Team Defeats
Northville By Record
Score, 45-0

By WILLIAM OWEN

Falling before one of the strongest teams Plymouth has ever had, Northville was defeated by a score greater than ever before tallied between the two rivals, 45 to 0.

Receiving the kick-off on his own 25-yard line, Quarterback Kinsey of Plymouth ran the ball back to his 42-yard marker.

Failing to gain a first down in three plays, Kinsey kicked to Northville's 25-yard line where Dave Hay, Northville fullback, punted after unsuccessful line plunges. On the next play, Plymouth responded with a lateral to Wagenschutz who galloped over the goal line for Plymouth's first touchdown. Kinsey attempted a drop kick which flew wide of the goal posts.

On the kick-off Carl Arnold, half-back for Northville, carried the ball 10 yards to the 31-yard line. Lape bucks availed nothing and Hay was forced to kick but the play was called back for an offensive penalty on Plymouth. On the next play, Junod fumbled with Plymouth recovering.

Kinsey caught a pass from Wagenschutz for a gain of 45 yards followed with a first down and then an end sweep with Wagenschutz carrying the ball for another touchdown. Kinsey again failed to center his drop kick and the point was no good.

On the third kick-off in the first period, Hanson, of Northville, returned the ball to the 26-yard line where Schille, Plymouth right half, intercepted a short pass to place the pigskin on the 23-yard line in Plymouth's possession. Coffin, Plymouth left end, then sprinted deep into Northville territory where he received a pass from Kinsey for their third touchdown. This time Kinsey called a line plunge for the extra point and was successful.

Second Quarter
In the second quarter on the first play, Kinsey received a pass from Wagenschutz to score the fourth touchdown. Right guard Gates was brought back for a place kick but it went wild.

Himes, Northville substitute, received the kick-off and downed it on the 30-yard line. After a series of plays, Plymouth was penalized 15 yards for roughing the kicker. Carl Arnold crashed off right tackle for 9 yards. Kinsey intercepted a pass on the 25-yard line where he finally kicked to Hanson on the 23-yard line.

Hanson was hurt on the play but continued to continue playing. Jack Junod made a ten-yard sprint through a tackle for a first down. Hay threw an incomplete pass and was thrown for a loss on the next play forcing him to kick.

Plymouth, after completing a well-executed lateral, was thrown for a 9-yard loss. Kinsey booted a poor spiral to Junod who was set down on his 30-yard marker. Following an incomplete pass intended for Junod, Hay crashed center for six yards. Failing to gain a first down, Northville kicked to Kinsey who returned the pigskin to the 40-yard marker.

Crashing through on the first play, Capt. Nider of Northville, threw Plymouth for a fifteen-yard loss. Northville failed to capitalize on this because the half ended as Plymouth swung into position again.

Fast Motion
Starting the half off with a bang, Plymouth carried the kick-off behind splendid interference to a touchdown and also an extra point. Northville carried the kick-off to the 45-yard line by a series of successful line plunges. Plymouth was penalized five yards for being off-side. Hay lost one yard and kicked to Plymouth's 20-yard line. Kinsey punted through with a first down in three plays and then after an incomplete pass, sent Wagenschutz around end for nine yards.

Hanson intercepted a pass but Northville lost the ball on downs. A 45-yard run by Rudick, Plymouth substitute, was followed by a pass to the right end, McNulty, for a touchdown. The point was not converted.

The fourth quarter started slowly with Northville kicking. Plymouth advanced up the field and surprised Northville with a quick kick that carried all the way to Northville's 40-yard line. Arnold stepped back of the goal line and kicked to Kinsey who returned the ball to the 26-yard line.

After two incomplete passes and a loss through tackle, Kinsey slanted end off for 15 yards to bring the ball to the 11-yard line. Another incomplete pass and a fumble recovered by Plymouth brought the ball upon the imaginary two-foot mark. With a pass and a lateral, Kinsey scored Plymouth's last touchdown and converted the extra point.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Hello creampuffs. Instead of saying Northville high has spirit you should say it had school spirit. What's wrong, turning silly on us? Funeral services ought to be held for the dead school spirit. It looks like N. H. S. is turning into an old man's and ladies' home where the least bit of noise gives them the heebie-jeebies. Course there is a time and place for everything. The time to exercise your lungs is at pep meetings and most important thing is to go to the games.

Will the upcoming basketball team be created like our football men? Will they have to go through the same long living-death because you students think you're too supreme to back a team? If you don't quit acting like a bunch of sour grapes they probably will have to go through the same thing.

Northville had a good football team this year, and just because they didn't get the 50-called breaks and lost a few games you turned them down. Fair weather friends, that's all you are. When a team is winning you're all for it, but the minute they lose you turn softie and don't show up at the games, and if you do happen to get enough ambition to ankle down to the field you seem simply annoyed by all the publicity. If you knew how discouraged the football men were because of the school spirit you wouldn't feel like going out and winning a game either.

The trouble is you're depended upon on the last year's seniors to see that the spirit was kept up and now you haven't the guts to keep it up. Are you going to be shown up like this?

The only way you have left to redeem yourself is to give the basketball team the support it needs. Here's hoping you snap out of it soon.

The senior classmen have planned and worked hard to make the prom a social and financial success. They have done their part. Will you do yours by buying a ticket? It's going to be a great party, something that's really worth going to, so we hope you'll be there putting on your top hat.

Our orchid goes to everyone who sees at the prom.

SENIOR GIRLS SEW FOR GOOD FELLOWS

Mrs. Thad Knapp Furnishes
Material, Patterns
For Contestants

The senior girls in their sewing classes, under the direction of Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, have entered the Free Press Goodfellow dress-making contest in Detroit. The prizes offered are: first, $50; second, $30; third, $20, and five prizes of $10 each. If the class should win one of these prizes, the money will go into their treasury toward the Washington trip. However, if they do not win, the girls feel as though they are entering a worthwhile project, because the dresses are not to be returned, but will be given over to the Goodfellow for them to distribute to some unfortunate children.

These dresses can be made from any material and any pattern in sizes five or six. Mrs. T. J. Knapp has supplied the classes with pattern and cloth for four dresses. The class greatly appreciates this.

The dresses are to be judged on simplicity, attractiveness, and workmanship in the order named. They must be sent in by Friday, Nov. 29.

BASKET BALL SQUAD STARTS HARD PRACTICE

Early Morning Practices Are Planned For Team
Try-outs

By WILLIAM OWEN

According to Coach Fred Watts, Northville will look forward to a fairly successful season in basketball. Many of the highly expectant stars to be in this popular sport have shown a great deal of adaptation on the court.

The pre-season practice period will be very short, at least in organized practice, although the more enthusiastic participants have been getting in shape at any free time they may have had. The first game, when it will be held on Dec. 3. This hurried-up schedule does not allow any lengthened practice so the boys are making up for the lack of training by arriving in the gym at 6:30 in the morning, playing in gym periods, and then again after school.

The members of the squad predict a bright future for the team despite the loss of the more experienced fellows who are now only able to root for the team. Many of the graduates, after watching some of the prospective players, have declared that the team will have a very good year. George Westphal, Esme Ninder, James Hochkins, and Bob Lyke are the only letter men from last year's suburban league champions.

Comprising the 30 young "hopefuls" that appeared in the high school gym Monday evening for the first practice were: Richard Amos, Robert Bray, Dale Bray, Charles Bishop, Edward Blake, Albert Bozans, Fred Casterline, Penny Draguid, Buck Hinchman, Frances Hall, Maurice Hagman, Bill Hanes, James Hochkins, Ester Lester, Jack McGrath, Cecil Ninder, Ray Farmer, Lawrence Farmer, Harry Richardson, Charles Strautz, Jack Seberry, Marvin Schoutz, Bill Schoutz, Gerald Trotter, Lee Thompson, Herman Toussaint, Bruce Turnbull, Fred Van Valkenburg, George Westphal, Lawrence Way and Carl Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Chapman attended a dinner at the home of Mr. Chapman's parents, P. J. Chapman, and later attended the Byrd lecture in Ann Arbor.

ROY J. SNELL GIVES TALK TO STUDENTS

Speaker Presents Two Of
His Books to School
Library Here

Roy J. Snell of the Detroit News, author, lecturer and explorer, speaking about his adventures in Alaska, entertained the entire student body in the high school auditorium last Wednesday.

Mr. Snell spent about one year in Alaska, living the life of the Eskimo. During this time he took many moving pictures and a number of them he showed the students. Before the lecture began he displayed a reindeer skin parka which he had worn while in Alaska, and he also showed a harpoon used by the natives to spear fish.

The movies consisted of various scenes, the place in which he lived, Eskimos and what they do, and many beautiful views of that country.

Mr. Snell related the way in which the Eskimos fished how they lived, described their homes and some pictures were shown of the dogs teams.

My writing career," said Mr. Snell before the lecture while talking to a group of students, "was begun about 30 years ago and now I am completing my sixth book."

Before leaving Mr. Snell gave to the school library two of his autobiographical books, "The Galloping Giver" a book for boys and "Gypsy" for girls.

Mr. Snell related the way in which the Eskimos fished how they lived, described their homes and some pictures were shown of the dogs teams.

PROM TROTTING

Hi people! We did our very best to get the word down on all these prom dates, but here they are for your approval. We tried to get the "gals" and boys, theme songs in the best we could. Hope you'll like it.

First on the list is the president of the senior class, Roland Morris. "Rolly" asked his one and only "June in January" to lead the prom with him.

"The Words Were in His Heart," but Keene Bolton finally got them out and asked Lois Chapman to the prom.

Paul Beard will be "Tearing up his white tie" to be taking more other than Tom Mc.

Frances and Esme will be dancing "Check to Check" to the strains of Alice & Carter's Collegians, and Betty S. and Bob Angove will also "Go into their Dance."

Bob Bray is taking the "Object of his affections" that changes his complexion from white to rosy red—you're right on the first guess—Ida.

Carl Arnold and Evelyn Ambler will be there dancing "Sweet and Slow," and also Isabel Tibble and Scott Cole will be "Tiddlin' Along Together."

Harry Richardson and June Denne will be "Kicking the gong around" Wednesday night, and Jack Junod is taking a college "gal" (the old sucker), her name is Ruth Lawrence. Jack's hoping the orchestra will play his theme song "Smile Gals in Your Eyes."

"About a Quarter to Nine" the stars are going to trunk and shine for Thomas Gregory and Doris Labitt.

Flora Mae is coming to the prom with a boy from Ann Arbor—Harry Rogers. Harry will be humming "It's so nice seeing you again."

Dick Junod asked Hattie Johnson and "Pop went her heart."

You'll also see Barbara Phillips and Bob Lyke. They'll be faithful forever and ever more.

Last but not least Jane G. is going with "Chuck Strautz," and "Chuck" will sing "Stay as Sweet as You Are" and Jane will answer "I Love to Take Orders From You."

And now you all 15's time, as I offered because their name wasn't mentioned, we didn't get around.

The prices range from $5.50 to $10.45 for one dozen pictures, a colored picture and a composite that is a large picture including all the members of the class. $8.50 is the most popular price.

Any person wishing to have his picture only on the composite may do so for $1.50. Two small pictures may be had for one dollar.

The reason these pictures are being taken now is because many seniors wish to get them for Christmas, but the students may order them any time.

Seniors Who's Who

Ralph Bogart

Ralph was born right here in Northville, Sept. 30, 1918, in the home where he is now living. However, he didn't stay long, for when he was three years old, the family moved to Grand Rapids. He entered school there and completed four grades. It seems Ralph has seen quite a lot of better Michigan, because he went from Grand Rapids to spend two years in Muskegon Heights and then to East Lansing, finally coming to Northville to enter the eighth grade. Here he has continued through high school. He likes music and his chief hobby is building model airplanes.

Kenneth Russell Calkins

Dec. 5, 1916, Kenneth Russell Calkins arrived in Wixom, Mich., like a "Don't-open-till-Christmas" package. When he was still very young the family moved to Pontiac, where they stayed a short time. Then they came to Northville in time for Kenneth to enter the kindergarten. He announces that he has made no plans as yet for the future.

THE OBSERVER

At this time it gives me great pleasure to present a girl of the senior class who is of medium height, dark brown hair, hazel eyes and is just nice and plump. Her favorite hobby is collecting pictures of penicillins. She is also an ardent fan of the football and basketball teams. This business-like person is the right-hand man of one of the teachers and is the treasurer of her class. If you should see the president of the senior class around you will know that this young lady is in that vicinity.

Ray Tuberculosis Christmas Seal

The whole school so there are 144 of other students going. We will see you at the prom, until then good-bye. My name—just call me Mrs. X. Expect me back some time soon.

HOOKY PARTY ENJOYED BY FOOTBALL MEN

24 Football Players Skip
School, Reception Party
Greets Them

By WILLIAM OWEN

Working together does not always obtain the result that is desired. It seems that the old tradition that "if every one joins in on a skip day it is all right," has been knocked higher than a kite.

Twenty-one football men decided that a real celebration could only be brought about by having a "hooky" party. Enjoying themselves thoroughly in Detroit, they arrived in school the next day only to find a reception committee, namely: R. H. Ammerman, superintendent, and P. B. Thompson, the high school principal awaiting an audience with them.

The final verdict of Mr. Thompson to the hapless youths was that, unless they, the players individually, could produce proof that an act like the one in which they indulged would never happen again, they could not participate in sports throughout their remaining high school years. This would be quite a blow to the basketball team because all of the football players had planned to enter into competition for positions on the squad.

The only alternative for the offenders is to show that a demonstration of this sort could never happen again as long as they are in high school. The whole affair rests in the palm of Mr. Thompson's hand and his opinion will be the final verdict. As Mr. Thompson points out, the school's standing for character and entrance privileges depends upon the school's discipline as a great deal. If the students were to become so unruly as to prevent the teachers controlling them, the school's prestige would be lowered to the extent that it would be taken off the list for non-entrance examinations to colleges.

Yesterday--- WE HAD A DISSATISFIED CUSTOMER But He Wasn't Ours!

HERE'S HIS STORY---

"Mr. Owen, I'm sore! A few weeks ago I bought a suit of clothes from a man who was peddling house to house, gave him a deposit, and then had to get it from the post office, C. O. D. Well, that didn't set too well with me, but when I got home, and put it on, all wrinkled from being wrapped up—found out that they hadn't even thought of me when they made it—I was really hot! I called the agent, who lives in a town near here, and asked him what could be done. You know the answer—NOTHING! 'I've learned my lesson—from now on I'm buying from some one who can stand behind their merchandise.'"

Well, there's the story—and we'll add this much to it. We won't say we don't make mistakes—but when we DO make them—we are right here to square them up!!!!

Someone else's dissatisfied customer will soon be a satisfied customer of ours—he ordered a smart-looking window check grey worsted, to be made up in a long, soft roll, double-breasted—the season's best model.

NEW YORK SMILES AGAIN

(Birmingham Eclectic)

If the feelings of New Yorkers are barometer of business hopefulness and faith in the immediate future, then this country is well on its way toward another era of prosperity.

A friend of ours, Hal Ressler, of the McManus, John & Adams Advertising Agency, of Detroit, told us the other day that New Yorkers no longer go around with sad, glum countenances.

"At the Automobile Show there recently it was quite plain to visitors that New York's business leaders have put aside their sackcloth and ashes garments, and are looking forward to increased commercial activity," said Mr. Ressler. "The automotive industry certainly has one its part to lead the nation back into the green fields of business confidence. New Yorkers appeared to be happier than I have seen them since 1929."

Yes! Michigan may have been the inadvertent cause of the bank closings in 1933, but it now proves itself the dynamic force behind today's business recovery. And, isn't that surpris!

OAKLAND COUNTY TAXPAYERS WILL ACCEPT OR REJECT OFFICE BUILDING PROJECT

The plans pictured above of the proposed Oakland County office building, which is in building call for the housing in the new building of all departments now provided with quarters outside as much vault space as the county now possesses and gives the county treasurer and register of deeds offices which will take care of them for years to come. It also brings out of the basement in the courthouse the third circuit court room. The proposed basement and two-story block with foundations adequate to build four additional stories, will be built on land the county now owns on West Huron street at the rear of the courthouse in Pontiac.

'Little Big Shot' Stars Robert Montgomery Friday, Saturday; 'The Affair of Susan,' Wednesday

Robert Montgomery who has the leading masculine role in the Warner Bros. film, "Little Big Shot," now showing at the Penniman-Allen theatre, declares that some strange twists of fate decided that he was to be an actor, for it was no decision of his own.

In his high school days he was the star baseball player of his school, and he decided to follow the sport professionally. Then, during his term at college, he was offered the chance, but refused, for by this time he had decided to become a lawyer.

Bob and some college chums organized a vaudeville act to earn some extra money during one summer vacation, and the act was so well received they continued it into the school term. But then, after school had started and it was too late for the boys to re-enter, public enthusiasm for the act subsided.

Bob's uncle was the late Paul Armstrong, producer and playwright.

Bob procured a job in his uncle's office, helping him direct and produce, and it was through this daily contact with the theatre, that he at last began to consider the stage as a career.

He is now playing in "Little Big Shot," which is a powerful drama, spiced with hilarious comedy, pathos and romance.

"THE AFFAIR OF SUSAN"

Hilarious laughter together with a certain undertone of sympathy was expressed by the first audience to see "The Affair of Susan," the Universal comedy depicting the funny yet tragic adventures of Zasu Pitts and Hugh O'Connell, opening at the Penniman-Allen theatre Wednesday.

In the production, Miss Pitts and O'Connell are a couple of people who are absolutely alone in New York City but who finally meet and then get separated at Coney Island during a holiday after falling in love.

Miss Pitts plays the shy person who puts tails on candy Scotty dogs, while O'Connell is the man who boasts of his prowess with certain mythical belles but who really puts tail lights on automobiles in an assembly plant. Both decide to go to the famous resort, and it is here that they meet.

An accident separates them, and Hugh, hitherto a mild-mannered man, suddenly breaks loose as a veritable tiger, trying to find her after she has been taken away in an ambulance. Walter Catlett, cast as a drunk, furnishes the laughter to a certain extent as he staggers through the love affair of Miss Pitts and O'Connell, always interrupting the affair. Others in the production include Inez Courtney, William Pawley, Thomas Dugan, James Burke, Mac Busch, Buster Phelps and Phil Tead, to say nothing of other noted stage and screen players.

The production has a minimum of dialogue, the musical score substituting moods and interpretive movements in place of the words of the players. It was directed by Kurt Neumann from a story by Mary Page Arthur, Caesar, Andrew Ben-El-Mechaie, H. M. Walker and Clarence Marks.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Novi, Michigan, November 18, 1935.

Editor,
Northville Record,
Northville, Mich.
Dear Sir:

In regard to the Oakland county proposed new office building, I was appointed a member of the building committee and have been able to secure some first hand information.

I believe that the savings possible by placing all of the county offices in one group combined with the $10,400 we must pay in the present locations for rent would retire the bond without any additional cost to the taxpayer. The U. S. government is offering at this time a free grant of $106,691.00.

The bond which is to be voted upon Nov. 25, will not be burdensome to Novi taxpayers (the largest yearly installment of principal and interest is $12,480.00)—the state tax commission in October set Novi township's share of county tax at 98% of one per cent of any money raised for county purposes, which would be a little less than $123.00 (our highest annual portion of bond issue) to be spread over a present valuation of $3,179,246.00 or slightly less than four cents on a $1,000.00 valuation and that at the end of fifteen years we will own a modern office building free and clear.

I believe it good business for every Novi township taxpayer together with his husband or wife to come out next Monday and vote "yes" on the bond issue.

Yours truly,
Frank P. Clark,
(Oakland County Supervisor)

Reunion in Michigan

ON THE last Thursday of this month the people of Michigan, like millions of their countrymen, will observe Thanksgiving Day. In doing so they will be following a thoroughly American custom, a custom which originated more than three centuries ago when the Pilgrim Fathers, immediately after their first harvest in the New World, set aside a day of Thanksgiving for the year's blessings.

The custom, antedating our Republic, survives as our oldest native holiday. Despite the interval of three centuries, despite the momentous changes they brought into American life, the annual festival continues to draw countless American families into yearly reunion at Thanksgiving; and among the modern forces that foster this ancient custom, the telephone occupies an important place.

The telephone helps to combat the distance created by the extension of our frontiers. It fills a modern need. It contributes its share in making the arrangements for any celebration—ordering supplies, extending and accepting invitations, arranging meetings, changing plans at the last minute, sending regards, regrets or congratulations.

Efficient, unobtrusive, often taken as a matter of course, the modern telephone thus plays its part in our daily lives, serving us all as readily and faithfully on holidays as during the working week.
