

CHRISTENSEN DIES AT HOME HERE FRIDAY

Masonic Members Honor Past Worshipful Master At Funeral Service

Charles Christensen, 57 years old, died at his home on Novi road, of heart trouble Friday evening, Nov. 22.

With the Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating, funeral services were held Monday from his home. He was buried in Rural Hill cemetery with Masonic services. Mr. Christensen was very prominent in Masonic affairs, having served the 47th degree lodge in Detroit as Worshipful Master.

Born on March 17, 1878, he married Mary Boehm in February of 1903. In 1923 he moved to the large home on Novi road, although most of his business contacts were in Detroit. Until a year ago, Mr. Christensen was active as an auto dealer in Ferndale. He is mourned by many friends of both Northville and Detroit.

He leaves his wife; his mother, Mrs. Mary Christensen; three brothers, Alex and John Christensen of Northville, and Fred Christensen of Gillette, Wyo.; and two sisters, Mrs. B. G. Wellard of Walled Lake, and Mrs. Waldo Johnson, of Northville.

VAN ATTA ATTENDS RECOVERY MEETING

Cite Progress of Approved WPA Road Projects for Michigan

Postmaster Fred E. Van Atta attended the state-wide co-ordination meeting of federal agents held last Friday at Hotel Statler in Detroit. Five hundred heads of government agencies operating in Michigan were in attendance at the conference which was designed, through a series of brief reports, to show the picture of Michigan's progress toward recovery.

Mr. Van Atta reports that at the present time Michigan is getting 25 per cent of all the road-building done under the sponsorship of the WPA. This is because the state's petitions were received and approved at an early date. Other states in the Union will have the same amount of highway improvement proportionately, as Michigan.

He was also interested in the data given at the meeting which revealed that in 1933, 100,000 acres were developed in the conservation program by the CCC, while in 1934, the acreage totaled 150,000.

Information has been released concerning six Northville projects which have passed the approval of the administration. Five of these are for the Northville training school and include the painting of buildings, the completion of the hot house, the addition to dairy barns, the enlargement of tunnels and repairs to the roof of the swimming pool. A 12-inch C. I. water main on Schoolcraft road has also been approved.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETS

The Rev. Harry J. Lord will attend the annual mid-year Epworth League institute Friday and Saturday at South Lyon. This gathering of young people includes all the Methodist church groups in the Ann Arbor area. Rev. Lord serves on the institute staff as dean.

Faculty members of the session this year are: the Rev. R. D. Hopkins, Birmingham; the Rev. W. H. Perkins, Detroit; the Rev. F. G. Poole, Detroit; and the Rev. Ben Holm, Monroe.

CIVIC GROUP MEETS

The Northville Civic association is calling the December meeting of the association in the Marshall Hurick barber shop at 8 p. m. Thursday, December 5. Important business is scheduled.

BAZAAR ARTICLES MADE READY FOR BAPTIST DISPLAY

Quilts, Aprons, Towels Are Among Items Offered
For Sale

A wide variety of bazaar articles will be offered for sale at the second of the annual Baptist bazaar to be held Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6 and 7, in the Elliott building on Main street.

Held for the first time last year, the bazaar was so successful that the committee voted to increase the number of saleable articles and offer the function to the public again this year.

As chairman of the industrial committee, Mrs. Addie Miles has been working with a group of women for several weeks making, specially, of quilts which will be offered for sale along with aprons, towels, pillow slips, and various other useful articles. Mrs. George Starr will have charge of the third department where used clothing and household items will be for sale at bargain prices.

The doll clothes which were so popular last year will be on sale again this year under the charge of Mrs. Earl Montgomery who has prepared the latest creations in doll clothes and quilts.

Mrs. Jessie Malmberg will have charge of the canned fruits, pickles, preserves and jellies, and Mrs. Roy Matheson will have several potato pies and a large assortment of home-baked goods for sale.

Any donations will be appreciated, according to the committee. For information, call 238-J, 7139-F, or 455.

HERBERT WHIPPLE ESCAPES INJURY IN CAR COLLISION

Herbert F. Whipple of 201 Fairbrook had what seemed to eye-witnesses a miraculous escape from death when his auto was turned over five times in a collision at Six Mile and Sheldon road at 5:45 p. m. Saturday. Mr. Whipple was on his way to the Detroit House of Correction to bring his father from work when he was borne down upon at the intersection by a car driven by A. D. DeGarmo of Milford. The impact of the two cars wrecked both of them.

Mr. Whipple was but slightly hurt and the occupants of the other car seemed to escape without a scratch. It is understood that DeGarmo had just recently purchased the car to take him to and from work and had not yet had insurance placed upon it. Chester J. Whipple, father of Herbert, says that this accident again draws attention forcibly to the fact that a stop light or at least a flasher is badly needed at this intersection.

MRS. WENDT INJURED IN FALL FROM CAR

Attempting to close the door while her car was in motion, caused Mrs. Fred Wendt to suffer several broken bones and bad bruises Monday morning. The wind caught the door hurling the driver to the road.

Mrs. Wendt was on her way to work driving along the Seven Mile road near Beck toward the Maybury sanatorium where she is employed when the accident occurred. A passerby took her to Sessions hospital where she has been treated for severe bruises and a broken leg.

The car that Mrs. Wendt was driving was badly wrecked, having careened into a tree when the driver was thrown from behind the wheel.

CHILDREN'S HOUR STORIES IN KEEPING WITH SEASON

Approximately 50 children in the first, second and third grades were present for the story hour Sunday morning at the library. Mrs. V. J. Lumley, who is in charge of the programs, read two Thanksgiving stories and several other children's tales. The next children's gathering will probably be before Christmas according to Mrs. Berge Larson, librarian.

MAYBURY NURSES GET NEW EIGHT HOUR SHIFT

Nurses at the William H. Maybury sanatorium are benefiting now from an eight-hour shift inaugurated recently by Miss Sarah Kaiser, superintendent of nurses.

Before the change brought about by Miss Kaiser, the nurses were required to be on duty for twelve hours. The new schedule was put into effect for the nurses through the institution on Nov. 22.

Thanksgiving

By the Rev. H. G. Whitfield.

It is quite important to realize that the words "thankfulness" and "thankfulness" come from the same root. Basic to all gratitude is thought and superficial thinking invariably begets a corresponding type of praise. Because of the fact that gratitude is a quality to be desired (it is a good thing to give thanks), intelligent men and women should endeavor to acquire that spirit.

On this day of National Thanksgiving, it might seem that the world in which we live at this moment gives little reason for any special spirit of gratitude. Disturbed and difficult as it is, and threatened with greater ills and dangers than any we have yet known, it requires some penetration of thought and spirit before we can say, "Thank You," for life as it meets us today or as we contemplate its future prospects.

God save us from a defeating pessimism or an unfounded and insipid optimism. We must be realistic, and facing the situation in all its seriousness, discover what are our assets upon which we can bank—what resources have been uncovered or developed. Admitting that the dizzy old world is topsy-turvy and possibly will be worse before it is better, this surely can be said, that there never was a time when as many people were as intelligently and intensely concerned about its welfare and willing to give of their best to the great task of making it better. Whatever may be the motive for their interest, (there is plenty of reason for suspecting that a great deal of it is selfish) intelligent people are grappling with a tremendous situation.

This, then, is a day of challenge and opportunity and as such it is a day for which we ought to be very glad and grateful. This nation and all its people can reasonably and joyfully thank God for an awakening, which, if properly conceived and heroically embraced can be, under God, the beginning of a new day in our national life. LET US GIVE THANKS!

EDWARD CURL DIES IN HOME SUNDAY

Garage Mechanic's Death From Heart Attack Is Sudden

Edward George Curl, 36, died suddenly from a heart attack in his home at 324 Plymouth, Sunday evening, Mr. Curl had been a resident of Northville for the past eight years, coming here from Albion in 1927 to be a mechanic in the Al Zimmer garage.

Funeral services were held at 11 a. m. Wednesday, Nov. 27, from the Schrader funeral parlors. The Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiated. Burial was made Wednesday afternoon at Albion.

Mr. Curl was born in Beaverton in 1899. He moved with his parents to Albion when a small boy. There he attended school and made his home until his marriage to Grace Ruby Cheller, which took place in Albion in 1923.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Ruby Curl; three children, Tom; 8; Kathleen, 6; Denison, 12 months; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Curl, Albion; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Dowding, Eaton Rapids; Mrs. Theodore Nyotte, Cincinnati; and Mrs. Ellen Henke.

CHURCH CELEBRATES 166TH ANNIVERSARY

Northville's oldest church, the Presbyterian, will celebrate its one hundred and sixtieth anniversary this Sunday. The church will also commemorate the beginning of its seventh year under the same pastorate, the Rev. H. G. Whitfield, having been the minister also at the time the new church was built. Fitting services have been planned.

MORE LUCKY HUNTERS

Further success for the Northville deer hunters has been reported. W. E. Forney brought back an eight-point buck, and N. G. Schrader a six-point.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS GIVES ANNUAL FROM

Northville high school seniors under the chairmanship of the senior class president, Roland Morris, will present the annual senior prom from 9:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. Wednesday, Nov. 27, in the high school gymnasium.

Committee chairman for the event are: Orchestra committee, Jack Junod; decorations, Robert Angove; invitations, June King; programs, Ida Altman; chaplains, Norene Blake; refreshments, Evelyn Ambler; and tickets, Leslie Pierpont.

The dancing to Moe & Carter's Collegians will be $1.25 a couple, or twenty-five cents apiece for spectators.

Chaperons for the evening are: Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Amerman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lyke, Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Srautz.

CHRISTMAS SEALS SENT OUT IN STATE

Swelled by last-minute orders for an additional 4,500,000 tuberculosis Christmas seals, a grand total of 62,000,000 seals went out in the mails this week to homes all over Michigan. The twenty-ninth annual seal sale, opening Thanksgiving Day and continuing through Christmas, will provide funds for Michigan's fight against the White Plague during 1936.

Officials of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and affiliated organizations throughout the state were optimistic as to the outcome of this year's sale. Requests for the added supplies of Christmas seals, they believed, were under way for a substantial increase over 1935.

In Lansing this week, 1,000,000 of the total number of Christmas seals were mailed direct from the offices of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. After weeks of preparing the seals for the mail, the association's staff of workers was standing by until Friday, when the seals were to be mailed.

POLK DIRECTORIES DISTRIBUTED HERE AMONG MERCHANTS

Give Resume of Northville In Statistics, Names

The new Northville-Plymouth city directory issued by the Polk directory company was distributed to Northville's people Friday.

Very few differences are noticed for Northville in the division entitled "statistical facts" since the last publication of the directory in 1933. Although no census has been taken since 1930, the estimated increase in population is 241; 1930 figures place the number at 2,566, and the estimated number at 2,800. Telephones in use have increased in number from 713 to 733, and in the educational line, the school and village library have, together, increased their book volume by 600.

Six major departments make up the directory as usual. The miscellaneous department presents lists of city, county, and township officials, post office and public school directors, statistical review, historical sketch, and manufacturing, trade and civic surveys.

The buyers' guide, printed on United paper, contains the advertisements of leading business and professional interests indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented.

Residents and business and professional concerns are then listed alphabetically, showing the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult person in Plymouth and Northville. The directory of households includes street and avenue guide follows, with the names of the streets listed in alphabetical order, and the names of intersecting streets of their respective crossings.

The two divisions are the running directory and the classified directory. They will be the customary distribution of the latest Plymouth-Northville city directory to free-to-for three or four years. I still think work of the directory. Libraries in other the Red Cross can use my small do-

THANKSGIVING OBSERVANCE HERE VARIES

Three Congregations Meet Together for Service Wednesday

All local churches have included in the religious calendar of the week a commemoration fitting for the Thanksgiving season.

Following the custom of many years standing the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian congregations will worship together in a united Thanksgiving service in the Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The Rev. Walter Niebol, Presbyterian minister of Plymouth, will bring the Thanksgiving message. Mr. Michael O'Connor, organist of the host church, will direct the choir in the anthem, "Prayer of Thanksgiving," by Cremer. The inspirational "Pilgrim Fathers," by Hemans, will also be sung.

In the church of Our Lady of Victory, a worship service of gratitude, High Mass, will be conducted by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schuler at 9 a. m. on the day of Thanksgiving.

The reason of Thanksgiving was appropriately observed, in the Lutheran church at the worship hour last Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. Leo C. Elrstaedt, delivered a message using a theme of gratitude and praise. Thanksgiving music was played by the organist, Miss Adeline Krueger.

OVERRUN GAS TANK CAUSES AUTO FIRE

An overrun gasoline tank, and possibly a short circuit started the fire which burned to the frame the 1929 Ford roadster owned by Orrin Swab Friday. The fire department was called to Wagner's Service station at 231 South Boers street at approximately 3:30 p. m.

When the truck arrived, the attendant and several onlookers had pushed the car away from the gasoline tanks. Mr. Swab, who is employed at the Independent Furnace and Foundry company, had owned the car for only a short time and valued it at approximately $75. It was completely demolished.

SCHOOL CLOSED

As in previous years, the Northville schools will be closed on both Thanksgiving day and Friday, giving the children a chance to have the entire latter part of the week for Thanksgiving vacation.

ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Several Northville members of the Legion auxiliary attended the meeting of the seventeenth district Friday at Ferndale. They were: Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Johnson, Mrs. Florence Alexander, Chas. Smith, Lyle Alexander, and Mrs. Charles Murphy.

Citizens Interviewed on Street Corner Endorse Activities of National Red Cross Organization

Knowing only vaguely about the exact way the money was expended, but he did think that the organization was worthy of support.

"I read about the aid given by the Red Cross last spring to those who lost property in the flood district," remarked a woman who is contributing to the fund this year.

"More people are working now but when a storm disaster comes, emergency funds are necessary," commented another woman interviewed in an itemized expenditure of the year's funds.

CHRISTMAS PARTY PLANS COMPLETED BY CHURCH GROUP

Games and Prize-Drawing
Contests are Featured Events

Members of the Altar society and the Ushers' club of the Our Lady of Victory church have completed arrangements for the annual Christmas party given by the church, to be held this year at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 3, in the high school gymnasium.

The officers of the two societies in charge of the party are: for the altar society, Miss Lena Kohler, Mrs. Charles Cyr, and Dr. Victoria Lovewell; for the Ushers' club, Charles Leteyre, John E. Nelson, and Charles Wilson. The entire parish membership is cooperating with them.

After the regular games are over, the prize-drawing contest will be held. The prizes will be displayed in the windows of the A & P store during the week. Donors of the prizes are: Mr. and Mrs. M. Vogler, Mr. and Mrs. P. Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. John Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffman, the Misses Lena and Fernella Kohler, E. M. B. Food Market, Salem Coal and Feed Yard, W. E. Forney Coal Co., Carl Ely & Sons, and the Redford Lumber Co.

Among the prizes for the games, according to the committee, are many articles which may be valuable as Christmas gifts.

WAYNE COUNTY WPA WAGES INCREASED

At the beginning of their next work period, common laborers on the Works Progress Administration payroll in 51 Michigan counties will receive wage increases ranging from $1 to $3 a month.

The new pay schedule was authorized by State Administrator Harry I. Pierson, who said it had been designed to enable workers in the basic wage group to meet their family budgets during the winter.

Effecting a vast majority of the 101,000 men and women whom the WPA has hired or expects to hire before Dec. 1, the wage boost will add approximately $250,000 a month to their purchasing power.

The revised wage rates have been based on a careful study of living costs and welfare allowances in all parts of the state. Administrator Pierson said "In many places we found that the amount of money being earned by common laborers compared with the budgets provided for necessities under the FEPC."

The new schedule was worked out strictly as a substance measure with the administration giving particular consideration to the increases in family expenses entailed by purchases of fuel and heavy clothing during the cold weather.

Administrator Pierson ordered a $5 a month raise in basic wages in eight counties and part of another. In the industrial areas comprised of Wayne, Oakland, Genesee and Kent counties and the lower half of Macomb county unskilled workers will receive $30 a month instead of $55.

AGED SOUTH LYON CITIZEN DIES HERE

Burial Made in Home Town After Services in Northville

Michael Murphy, father of Charles Murphy of Northville, died after a long illness in the Seasons hospital Sunday evening, Nov. 24. Mr. Murphy, who was 82 years old at the time of his death, had been in the hospital since April.

He was buried in the cemetery of his home town, South Lyon. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning, Nov. 26, the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schuler in charge. Prayers were read at 9 a. m. in the Schrader Brothers chapel in Northville, after which services were held at the Catholic church in South Lyon.

The Rev. Fr. Dolan said the mass at St. Joseph's church, and Father Schuler gave the funeral sermon. Six members of the Lloyd B. Green post of the American Legion acted as pallbearers.

Mr. Murphy had been a resident of South Lyon for 43 years, having come to Northville three years ago. He leaves only his two sons, Charles P. Murphy of Northville, and Claude A. Murphy, who is now in the veteran's hospital in Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Thompson and daughter, Alene, and Mrs. Ardella Brooks will be guests at the Thanksgiving dinner at the C. C. Temple home Thursday.

LEAGUE POLICY DISCUSSED BY J.K. POLLOCK

University Professor Advises United States Cooperation With Foreign Powers

"Great Britain is the most influential power in European affairs today. We could be, but we aren't," commented Prof. James K. Pollock, of the University of Michigan department of political sciences in a speech on European affairs made before the Woman's Club here Friday evening. He also drew attention to the fact that Great Britain is more of a democracy than is the United States. "She is more responsive to public opinion than is our nation," he continued.

Professor Pollock was the only American representative, elected to serve in the Saar plebiscite last spring. While in that region he had an opportunity to observe the European political web which began several months ago to weave itself into an intricate pattern of unrest.

In speaking of the work of the League of Nations, Dr. Pollock credited this body of statesmen, with having accomplished more in the Italian-Ethiopian affair than in any other one problem which has come before it since its origin. He further stated that the League's sole purpose was to preserve peace. It was his opinion that Americans are unfair in their criticism of the organization and that we as a nation have no right to sneer at its efforts.

He gave a picture of the European situation, showing the different governments, and said that the present picture was unlike the crisis of 1914. He pointed out that in 1914, the League of Nations was not in existence, and a similar crisis could arise.

Last year Dr. Pollock had an opportunity to visit the Saar and the developments between Germany and Poland. He pointed out the diplomatic situation, a "compromising marriage." He did not ask for a permanent alliance between these two as the Poles are suspicious of

The editorials this week were written by Muriel H. DeFoe, editor of the Charlotte Republican. Mr. DeFoe is probably the most read and most widely quoted editor in Michigan.

We bring no sorrows to thy throne;
We come to thee with no complaint.
In providence thy will is done,
And that is sacred to the saint.
On this blest Thanksgiving night,
We raise to thee our grateful voice;
What thou dost, Lord, is right,
And, thus believing, we rejoice. — J. G. Holland.

Is President Roosevelt on his way out—politically? The desertion of Hearst and Father Coughlin would seem to indicate that the president's stock has reached an all-time low and yet speculators are willing to wager on the election of Mr. Roosevelt. There is always a big advantage in being in and this psychology applies to every election. Father Coughlin has on occasion spoken with White House authority which credential he no longer possesses. In fact, this distinction, he must take on a new and much more public rating. Many people, in the past, had come to regard the radio priest as a common scold. This classification from now on will become more general.

A new political and economic crusader, whose star apparently in the ascendancy, has come out of the west and is much more threatening, politically, than either Hearst or Father Coughlin. We refer to Dr. Townsend of California. While not colorful, the elderly California doctor has a convincing sympathy. At recent meetings in the largest auditoriums in Battle Creek and Kalamazoo, he had to be called to handle the crowds. In a special congressional election the Townsend candidate, Attorney Verner W. Main (R), of Battle Creek, defeating petitions were only filed at Lansing a few minutes before the dead line, swept the district, gaining a majority over his four and all better known republican opponents. Cities and rural areas supported the Townsend candidate with a fervor that bordered on a spiritual fervor. Both national committees of the major parties had in case of jitter when news of Main's sweep reached their respective Washington camps.

The unopposed democrat is Howard W. Cavanaugh, of Battle Creek lawyer, who is opposed to the Townsend economic theory. Fortunately for the district Cavanaugh is above the cross section average of candidates. His lines will be hopelessly broken down in the election which comes December 17, the date of the special election. Incidentally it may be well perhaps to add that this election was made necessary by the death of Henry C. Kimball (R), the fifth third district member of congress to die in office since 1923. The district survived the Roosevelt landslide, in fact, only one democrat, (A. M. Todd) peppermint king of Kalamazoo) has carried the district since the Civil War and that was in the big swing Bryan in the famous '96 campaign. Todd only served one term. His son, Paul H. Todd, and democratic candidate for congress in 1934 is the present mayor of Kalamazoo.

The issue is really beyond mere personalities. The issue of the immediate situation is, must the party accept as policy the platform of the individual? In other words can a candidate regardless of the soundness of his views oppose the party to follow him? One of the opponents of Mr. Main in a radio address given on the eve of the primary election, fairly well reflected the views of most orthodox republicans. Following is a typical statement: "The republican party may as well file a petition for political bankruptcy if it adopts the Townsend plan. We can no longer criticize the wild abandon of Mr. Roosevelt's public spending if we accept this scheme as a party policy. The Roosevelt waste is orderly, sound and beneficial compared to this theory, which calls for twenty million dollars in added taxes every year. Why worry about the present national debt if the Townsend Plan becomes law? We all know how federal job holders have sprung up all around us but it is beyond the ken of human comprehension to visualize the number of added job holders once the fantastic proposal is adopted. The horde of new holders necessary to administer this act would resemble the Chinese army in size and energy. A government machine would become standard equipment in the land, not to mention the necessary courses in the devious ways of federal money. Who pays this Townsend money? Every merchant, every clerk, and factory worker, in fact every blooming soul that Kalamazoo has always been taxation and not a benefit. The Townsend plan is a William Pitt not a George Washington."

thing the party should seek to avoid in a presidential campaign year."

Mr. Main signed a legal affidavit to support any and all federal legislation proposed by the Townsend Clubs making him, if elected, a rubber stamp congressman in the most offensive sense. Mr. Main is a respectable gentleman with the background of a term in the House at Lansing.

In many ways this contest transcends party politics and promises to be the most important by-election in the country. Both major parties are facing the same problem: are the Townsend Plan advocates going to take over the party machinery and run the show to suit themselves or will the question bring about an eventual coalition of the old parties, at least in certain sectors, as one way, and possibly the only way of keeping things political in familiar hands. Then there is the recent and oft repeated gossip about a third party headed by Townsend and Coughlin with Borah as their candidate? Frank Kent, well-known Washington commentator wrote in a recent letter that the Townsend Plan is the "front" for the old Anti-Saloon League which group will take over the reins in time to figure in the 1936 election. Strangely enough, the Eaton county president of the W. C. T. U. is the most active Townsend worker in the county. Michigan voters can afford to watch this election as the other districts must face the identical issues in the regular primaries—now just around the corner.

An interesting comparison may be drawn between the results in the recent special primary election in the third district and the outcome of the special election in the eighth district in 1930, when a representative was chosen to succeed the late Bird J. Vincent.

Both Michigan districts are classed as rock-ribbed republican strongholds in every sense of the word; yet the eighth district by electing a democrat two years ahead of "the deluge," was an unmistakable straw-in-the-wind. Does the selection of a republican nominee in the third last Tuesday, solely on the ground of an out-and-out pledge to vote for the Townsend Plan forecast, with equal surety, the result in next year's campaign? In other words, may this not truly be, for both the congressional and presidential battles. Another clear instance where Michigan has shown the nation that "Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before?"

Going back, for the nonce, to the political pulse of the nation as regards the president, we ran across this comment by Edson Blair in Barron's, the financial weekly violently opposed to most of the New Deal policies. This correspondent, who was reviewing the reaction of the recent elections had this to say:

"Point of it all is that the states where the 1936 battle will be decided did not go near the polls. The votes that count will be cast out where the tall corn grows."

Election of a Republican Mayor of Cleveland denotes an anti-New Deal swing in Ohio, of course, but Ohio is one of the states the GOP absolutely must take to have even a chance to lick FDR.

With the South and most of the West (for the moment, at least) still solid for Roosevelt, the Republican Party must go into the farm belt with not less than 230 of the 266 electoral votes necessary to win.

To get these 230 votes, it will have to do more than carry New England and "rain" in New York.

It will have to sweep the entire section and add Pennsylvania, Michigan, Delaware, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

Indiana farmers downstate plunked for FDR in the recent AAA elections and Mayor Kelly's machine grips Chicago.

Indiana voters have been handed a particularly large portion of New Deal gravy. . . . If he were running today, the odds would be on Roosevelt in Indiana. . . . Even if they do go to town there (Middle tier of states) they still must tangle with the AAA benefit checks in the farm states, which is quite a tangle for anyone, thank you.

Out in Iowa, they can pay their taxes out of the benefit checks, and still have plenty left. What the Republicans need today is not a good, five-cent cigar, nor even more votes in Massachusetts. They need more votes in Iowa! And surrounding precincts.

Under the sponsorship of the Northville Woman's club, Mrs. H. H. Burkart, chairman, will push the sale of tuberculosis seals. Standing in the heart of the village, the Presbyterian church, the oldest church in Northville, will celebrate its one hundredth and fifth anniversary Sunday, Dec. 2.

There are only two other Northvilles in the United States, one in New York and the other in North Dakota.

Northville's outlook for 1935 is very promising all indications show. Those who saw "Sun-Up" at its second performance Friday evening felt well repaid.

THANKSGIVING

(The Plymouth Mail)

In no other nation of the earth is there a holiday—or holy day, as it should properly be written—corresponding to the American Thanksgiving. And in no other nation does there exist the same bountiful reason why this nation should set aside a special day for humble thanks and grateful appreciation for the blessings bestowed upon it and its people by Almighty God, the Creator and Giver of all things.

Steadily, since the first Thanksgiving Day, more than 300 years ago, when the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock, has the greatness of America's material and moral advancement until she stands today foremost of all nations in securement of happiness, peace, and prosperity to her citizenry.

Even when material things are lacking, when the business by which man earns his daily bread is sorely beset, Americans should be thankful that their lot is brighter than that of many other peoples.

It is fitting then, that all should join in the spirit of this day, which includes among the reverent and the thoughtful a prayer that God in His infinite goodness and mercy will grant a larger share of His bounty to His less fortunate children wherever they may be situated until the fulfillment of the prophecy of peace, good-will, and brotherhood rests upon all the earth.

FALL TRAFFIC

(The Redford Record)

"Do you know what is the most dangerous driving period of the year? The statistical truth is that we are now in that part of the year which is most fraught with peril to the motorist and the pedestrian."

October is usually the worst of the twelve months, the National Bureau of Casuality and Surely Underwriters remind us, and November comes next. The last three months of the year are the most dangerous quarter season.

The reasons for this intensification of danger are to be found in the combination of a false sense of security and the increased hazards of natural conditions.

The days grow shorter. Nightfall, notorious for its accident possibilities, gradually produces yearly peaks between 5 and 9 p. m. The weather is often crisp, bracing, ideal for driving, and the roads are crowded—always an important element in accident frequency. A number of subtle, unobtrusive causes contribute: The skidding menace of wet leaves, roads slippery with frost in the early morning, car windows shut in chilly weather with a consequent failure to use hand signals, longer working hours causing greater fatigue when driving after dark, week-end concentration of traffic in particular areas augmented by the great crowds driving to football games.

This last calls for special attention. Every Saturday there converge in stadiums throughout the country multitudes of spectators, sometimes 100,000 in one place. Most of them drive, approaching their destination on the same time. Such conditions breed accidents, and if the accident peril is imminent before the game it is doubly so afterward. Then the thousands of automobiles choke every radiating highway, all in a hurry to get away and get home. The reaction setting in after the excitement of the game reduces driving alertness. Add to all this the likelihood that many drivers are under the influence of alcohol and the situation is distinctly menacing.

These are occasions for great care in driving. Usually the roads leading from the stadiums are lined with police, stationed to get you there and away as quickly and safely as possible. Cooperate with them, test what starts as fun end in tragedy.

COSTLY SECONDS

(The Hastings Banner)

How valuable is your time? It has been estimated by those who have given the subject thorough study that if a motorist violated all the rules of safety in traffic he might save on an average of five seconds to the mile. Each violation increases the probability of serious accident enormously. Isn't good health and a sound body worth five seconds per mile of anyone's time—even though his thrice ranks along with that of a Henry Ford?

THE RECORD SHOPPER

By ELEANOR BLUM

We went shopping (in our mind's eye) the other day for numerous Christmas gifts, and we found a score of attractive ones which will probably be snatched up before our shopping can go any farther than the mind.

We saw, first of all, a gift for that newly-married friend, or, for that matter, for anyone with a home or potentialities for one. A lovely "muscheon" set in the softest of handkerchief linen, brightened by applique in red and black, or in yellow and brown.

For the sister away at school, have you seen that very new desk set that includes not only two wells, and a penholder, but an attractive little lamp, daintily shaded? And the whole thing is not bigger than eight inches in width and height. The beauty of this gift is that it will fulfill the usefulness clause and at the same time will be entirely different from the desk sets which have been shown during the past couple of years. The price is correspondingly low, too.

And if you have another sister or friend to give to, a pocket perfume flask would be welcome. Especially if it were one contained in a chrome case, easily snapped open by a little side-catch. When the bottle inside is empty, these cases can be filled with any other kind of perfume in a standard small bottle. Then there are also the less expensive kind that come in the long rounded flasks in various bright colors.

Or have you thought of one of those lovely cleverly cut and gayly sparkling dresser bottles for perfume? In soft, jewel shades, these vials "give a lovely light."

But for mother—what about the luxury of the beautiful coffee table set probably have been admiring in one of the local store windows? A mirror top, outlined in black, a walnut, box-like base, and ornamental curved handles make it strikingly new, and yet easily adaptable to almost any home.

Father and brother—well, they're next on the list.

Motor Highways Not Clinics For Nerve-Shocked Drivers

THE roads of Ontario are not going to be used as nerve clinics for upset drivers, according to Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways, in promulgating regulations suspending for 30 days driving license of any motorist involved in a fatal highway accident in the province. Severe new tests will be given by department inspectors before the license is renewed. The minister applies whether or not court action results from the accident. Where there is court action, the suspension will remain in effect until a court decision has been handed down. "I believe," Mr. McQuesten said, "that the nervous shock suffered by such a driver renders him unfit to drive for some time. Ontario's roads are not to be nerve clinics for upset drivers. It may be a good cure for the driver, but it is dangerous to the public." The photographs show a typical motor highway in Ontario and, inset, Hon. T. B. McQuesten.

gaze will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the Southern or Congress Street entrance to the County Building in the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, at or before said sale, necessary to protect her interest in the premises including taxes and assessments. Which said premises are described as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the City of Detroit, in the County of Wayne and State of Michigan and described as follows: to-wit:

Lot numbered Thirty-Nine (39), Block Four (4), Thomas & Wagner Subdivision of the Northern 40 feet of Quarter Section 18, of Township 37, and the southerly 65 feet of lots 16 to 25, inclusive, and the east half of lot 15 of Motte's Subdivision of part of the South 40 Acres of Quarter Section 31, Ten Thousand Acre Tract, according to the plat of said Subdivision recorded in Liber 11, of Plats, Wayne County Records, on page 80, said property being on the South side of Levee Street, between Brush Street and Oakland Avenue.

"Page Miss Glory" Starring Marion Davies Friday, Saturday; "Dressed To Thrill" Scheduled For Wednesday

Supporting Miss Davies is a remarkable all-star cast of famous "name players," including Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien, Mary Astor, Frank McHugh, Lyle Talbot, Patsy Kelly, Barton MacLane, Allen Jenkins, Hobart Cavanaugh and a score of others.
"Page Miss Glory" was a big hit on the Broadway stage.
Merrill LeRoy, one of Warner Bros.' top directors, fresh from his triumph with "Oil for the Lamps of China," directed the film version which was written by Delmar Davies and Robert Lord from the original of Joseph Schrank and Philip Dunham.
A new song, also bearing the title "Page Miss Glory" written by Hollywood's leading team of hit writers, Warren and Dubin, is sung as a duet by Miss Davies and Dick Powell.
The story of "Page Miss Glory" is as funny as it is unique. Miss Davies, in the role of a country girl, neither pretty nor bright, gets a job as chambermaid in a swanky New York hotel in which reside a promoter, purveyor of Pat O'Brien, who has become a fortune, and Frank McHugh, a famous newspaper photographer.
McHugh, learning that an advertiser is offering a big cash reward for a photograph of America's prettiest girl, makes a composite picture, blending the features of famous stage and screen beauties and submits it under the name of "Dawn Glory."
The prize and trouble "Dawn Glory" craves sweetly. And even Miss Davies then works up to find that the two Properly attired and "made-up," she becomes the reincarnation of Dawn Glory, but all she wants to be is the sweetheart of Dick Powell. The action is fast and furious.

Miss Davies, one of the screen's most beautiful women, wears some gorgeous gowns especially designed for her by Orry-Kelly.
"Page Miss Glory," with its unusual cast, magnificent settings and fascinating plot, is said to be the greatest of Miss Davies' score of film hits.

"DRESSED TO THRILL"

Journalist, author, musician, soldier and actor—the five most romantic callings of modern civilization. Most men yearn all their life to enter one of these five, yet Dave Brooks who is featured with Tenta Boiff in "Dressed to Thrill," at the Penniman-Allyn theatre Wednesday, has been at all some three of his life.

Brooks started in newspaper work in London, shortly after graduating from Dulwich College, in England. During this period he made his debut as an author with a number of short stories.

Later Brooks was attracted by magic and devoted himself to the study of the occult but the war interfered and he went to the front as a private in a machine gun corps. The close of the war brought him back to London as a major.

It was then that he made his debut as a professional actor, narrating experienced. The lure of the stage as an amateur.

"Dressed to Thrill" calls upon Brooks to play a light comedy role in sharp contrast to his usual dramatic portrayals. Directed by Harry Lachman, this is the interesting love story of a man who thought he was the center of a love triangle.

BY THE WAY...

Thanksgiving time is here again and we are reminded that we are to count our blessings and be thankful. Our forefathers were pioneers and endured hardships the nature of which we know today, but little if anything. Most of us go serenely on working and earning, trying to balance our budgets and keep reasonably happy.

Most of us may think hard to discover just what we should give thanks for. We feel that we have put up a good fight and have in most instances "whipped the difficulties." But I am wondering whether we have taken account of the many little things of which our real happiness is made. Men and women have been called upon in the last four or five years to exert almost super-human strength and fortitude to keep on keeping on. Those who have come through with smiling faces and chins up have conquered the little things in life.

I am wondering if any one who reads this has been complaining and whining about their lot in life—have they thought that the world had particularly mistreated them? Have you known of persons who seem to have been bumped and kicked even beyond belief during these hard years who are right out in the front fighting back to a normal position for themselves and their families (smiling and working earning and saving).

What are some of the things that we can be thankful for? First of all most of us can be grateful for health, either we have or are regaining it. We have known those who continually enjoy poor health but they are a small part of the total. If we are mentally healthy and happy it is said, our bodies respond in due manner.

Secondly, most of us have family life. The father, mother, brothers or sisters or perhaps a little family of our own and this is the reason for Thanksgiving. You say I don't enjoy my family, but whose fault is that yours or theirs?

Friends are a reason for thankfulness and who is there that has none? A young person once asked a man who had lived richly and long, "How do you make friends?" "First of all, my boy, you must be worthy of friendship." If it hadn't been for friends in the last few years many of us would have really suffered.

The ability and opportunity to work is a reason for thankfulness. Some have felt that they would be happy if they never had to work but is that true? Many haven't had the opportunity of work in several of the past years but those days seem to be passing and that is something to be thankful for.

The passion to do something worthwhile is a reason for thanksgiving. Not many can do things that get headlines but all of us can do the little things that evidence the "spark of human kindness." One of the greatest organizations of mankind in the world has evidenced the fact that it cares and that it has a heart when it sent a beautiful cake to an employee who had been in its service for eleven years—far away from his men and women but close enough to remember that a local boy came with them as a high school graduate and stood by and climbed.

Courage to carry on against all odds, hope that "springs eternal" to help us attain those goals that we set up in our thinking, love that makes us worthy of our family and our friends—these methods are reasons for Thanksgiving.

Someone has said that one of the necessities for a happy, successful life is a sense of gratitude and we really do not need a Thanksgiving proclamation to bring this happiness and success to us.

MAYBURY NEWS

Pat Dennis, radio editor for the Detroit Times, brought out a grand entertainment Wednesday, Nov. 20. Russ Lyon's orchestra which is now playing at the Northwood Inn, played a number of popular pieces. Vernon Richard, who is master of ceremonies at the Northwood Inn, acted as master of ceremonies and also sang a number of delightful songs. Then the sensational dance team, Woods and Bray, danced three specialty dances. Miss Woods is entirely deaf and dumb, and has been since birth, at the age of ten she took up dancing. She feels the vibrations of the music in her bone structure. Miss Woods is a beautiful petite blonde, and one would never guess unless told of her disability. Mr. Hearst featured her in the Sunday supplement in New York some time ago.

Mr. Dennis, some time ago, was made honorary president of the Goodfellows club because he has brought out so many entertainments. Including Ben Bernie and Phil Harris, while they were playing at the Westwood Inn.

The benefit party given at the Unit Friday, Nov. 22, was a grand success. So many Northville friends being among those present. Prizes were awarded to the highest scores for contract bridge, auction bridge, and "500."

Miss Lucadia Stachowski attended a surprise birthday party for her friend, Miss Celia Padowski, of Detroit.

COUNTRY'S FINEST STOCK ON WAY TO CHICAGO SHOW

Thousands of America's finest farm animals will soon be enroute to Chicago to be exhibited at the International Live Stock Exposition, which will be held Nov. 30 to Dec. 7 in the new amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards.

Soon after arrival they will be subjected to the particular beauty treatments that custom requires for each type and kind. Some breeds of cattle are shown to advantage with curled coats, accomplished by applying special combs to the dampened hair. Horns and hoofs are scraped, sand-papered, and polished. Horses' manes and tails are braided and trimmed with rosettes. Pigs are washed and oiled, and sheep must be sheared by experts to bring out the blocky forms that shepherds view as ideal.

DR. POLLOCK-TALKS TO WOMAN'S CLUB

the Germans, while the Germans have a tendency to look down on the Poles. He stated that these two countries had early formed an agreement to make propaganda for each other.

It is the opinion of Dr. Pollock that if the League's policy of economic sanctions is successful it will be effective in bringing Italy to a peaceful withdrawal within three or four months. The recent American neutrality stand made in our vague response to the League, stating that we refused to become entangled in foreign affairs in no way aided in settling the problem and in fact only added to Italy's satisfaction," asserted Dr. Pollock.

In bringing his discussion to a conclusion, Dr. Pollock advised that the United States cooperate with the 50 other countries in the matter of economic sanctions. He said that it would be much wiser to prevent a war than to wait until after war started before establishing a definite attitude. According to Dr. Pollock, our present policy is more dangerous and more likely to get us involved in conflict than if we favored at once the methods of the League to bring about peace.

Wayne is held) of the premises described in said mortgage or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay
the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, and any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned at or before said sale, for taxes and/or insurance on said property, and all other sums paid by the undersigned pursuant to law
and to the terms of said mortgage,
with interest thereon at seven per cent per annum, and all legal costs incurred by the undersigned in including the attorney fees allowed by law, which said premises are described as follows, to-wit: In the

MORTGAGE SALE

Default has been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by JANE HEALY, of Detroit, Michigan, to the PEOPLES WAYNE COUNTY BANK, of Detroit, Michigan, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Michigan, Mortgage, in and to the County of Wayne, Michigan, in and to the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Wayne, Michigan, on the fourth day of December, 1932, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Wayne, Michigan, on December 15th, 1932, in Liber
244 of Assignments, on Page 180,
On to wit the eighth day of December, 1932, the aforementioned assignor changed its name to FIRST NATIONAL BANK, DETROIT, a corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America, of Detroit, Michigan, and assigned the mortgage to said FIRST NATIONAL BANK, DETROIT.
There is claimed to be due and unpaid on said mortgage at the date of this notice, for principal, interest, insurance, taxes, and certain other costs, the sum of TWO THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED EIGHTY DOLLARS
AND 25/100 ($2,488.25). No suit or proceeding at law or in equity has been had or instituted to recover the amount due on said mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on WEDNES-DAY, the ELEVENTH day of DECEM-BER, 1935, at eleven o'clock of the forenoon, Eastern Standard time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at the southerly or Congress Street entrance to the County Building in the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held) of the premises described in said mortgage or so much
thereof as may be necessary to pay
the amount due, as aforesaid, on
said mortgage, and any sum or sums
which may be paid by the undersigned at or before said sale, for
taxes and/or insurance on said property, and all other sums paid by
the undersigned pursuant to law
and to the terms of said mortgage,
with interest thereon at seven per cent per annum, and all legal costs
incurred by the undersigned in
including the attorney fees allowed
by law, which said premises are
described as follows, to-wit: In the City of Detroit, County of Wayne,
State of Michigan, described as:

ANNUAL EVENT SENIOR PROM HELD TONIGHT

Decorations Denote Season
Moe & Carter
To Play

All of Northville and vicinity, is anxiously awaiting that gala occasion, the dance of dances and the prominent social event of the season, the senior prom, to be held this evening, Nov. 27, in the high school gym from 9:30 p. m. to 1 a. m.

The merry dancers will dance to the melodious strains of Moe & Carter's Collections with that lovely trio of girls, the Debutantes, supplying the vocals and inspiration. The trio, of which Gertrude Deal of Northville is a member, will be an added attraction. Moe & Carter's Collections are famous and are well known in Ann Arbor and Detroit, and will afford the people of Northville the opportunity to enjoy the best music available.

The elaborate decorations, which promote the Thanksgiving season, but the committee on decorations does not wish to further discuss their extensive preparations as they wish to give the people attending the party the advantage of a surprise.

The chairman of the committee for the senior prom are as follows: Roland Morris, general chairman; Jack Jumbo, orchestra; Robert L. Angove, decoration; June King, invitations; Ida Altman, programs; Norree Blake, chaperons; Evelyn Ambler, refreshments; Leslie Pierpont, tickets.

These people should be commended on their excellent work in making the senior prom a success.

This brilliant event of the social season promises to bring from the shops the latest creations in style and dress. Dress is formal or semi-formal. How proud the fellows are to acquire to this outstanding event the lovely ladies in their fashions!

The climax of the evening, with dancing afterwards, is the grand march, which will be led by Roland Morris, president of the senior class, and his partner, June King. These two popular young people promise to have an effective grand march worked out for our entertainment.

The senior prom will be chaperoned by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Amerman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lyke, Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Struik.

In the past the formal parties were nice, but this year the seniors are determined to raise the standards of the formal parties of the season by bringing to the people of Northville and vicinity, the best music in this section of the state, with the trio of lovely girls as an added attraction—for the same price—$2.25 per couple. Although other formal parties charge more for admission, the senior class is retaining the old price, to benefit the people.

With these in mind, the seniors wish to be repaid for their efforts by a large attendance making their party a success.

Can You Imagine?

Warren B. without his mouth organ? Billy S. getting his English up on time?

M. T. as the living skeleton? Helen W. not being teased by the boys about her red face?

Betty A. not talking to a certain person (boy) sitting in back of her? Wilbert W. having straight hair?

Scott Cole with his "pin" on the outside? How does it feel to be without your hardware, Scott?

Bruce T. without his "phooey"? Betty H. a blonde?

EXCELLENT PROGRESS SHOWN IN TYPING

The typing I students have been doing excellent work in speed and accuracy ability, says their instructor, Mrs. Jack Taylor. At the end of the first semester, 25 words, with no more than five errors, is necessary for an average mark, which is O. Thirty-five words and no more than five errors will give a student an A.

Up to date, the following excellent progress in typing has been attained on 10-minute tests:

Lucille Simmons, 39 words, four errors; Mary Jane Gregory, 33 words, three errors; Jack Seberry, 35 words, three errors; Tom McLoughlin, 30 words, five errors; Ida Altman, 30 words, five errors.

The following pupils have done excellent work on their 15-minute tests: Gilberta Osborn, 37 words, four errors; Lillian Fritz, 28 words, three errors; Dorothy Kent, 28 words, five errors; Marjorie Chase, 26 words, three errors; Evelyn Ambler, 23 words, one error; Jack Seberry, 23 words, two errors.

Other good records on 15-minute accuracy tests were made by:

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Hi ho, to the freshmen. You know a. m. If you see a lot of people that are awfully sorry you freshmen have been taking the wrong way, don't let it worry you—they're just we were told by a ninth grader the other day that it seemed like they got "panned" the most in our paper and otherwise. If any other of you have the same complaint, we're sorry. Everything said is in fun and we really don't intend to be mean, but it's always been sort of a tradition to tease the freshmen for the some unknown reason, and don't think we didn't have to go through the same thing. You really have an exceptionally good class this year, and it seems to be getting along fine. Hereafter don't let the upper class men get you down—they just do it to tease. You know your freshman year is the time you have to learn how to take what the elders dish out—so take it on the chin.

Evidently N. H. S. is beginning to believe in the old saying, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." The basketball men have to be in the gym at 6:30 a. m. and of course, learn how to take it on the chin.

So Paul, in his very smooth way, told the policeman to give him the ticket "cause he knew he was in the wrong. Believe it or not, the policeman said that Paul was such a gentleman that he'd skip the ticket this time, and even told Paul his son was coming to the senior prom. Paul said if this was ever printed, he'd bump us off and hand us the pineapple—so if 'Round the School isn't in next week, X will mark the spot.

CONCERT GIVEN BY A CAPELLA CHOIR

Director Praises Choir As Finest High School
Has Had

A capella choir, a Glee club of 60 voices, will present their first concert of the season at 8 p. m. on Friday, Dec. 6.

According to Leslie G. Lee, music director, this is not only the largest, but one of the finest choirs Northville high school has ever had. A special note of interest lies in the fact that the entire program will be sung unaccompanied. The Girls' Glee club will sing two groups of numbers. Isabel Tewksbury, one of the choir members, will play two baritone solos, accompanied by her sister, Doris, who is also a member of the choir.

The compositions of the great masters, Palestrina, Mozart, Schubert, Mendelssohn and several others will be featured.

No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken up to help purchase new music for this distinguished singing group.

PUBLIC SPEAKING TEACHER STRESSES POISE, CONFIDENCE

Public speaking, the class under the direction of Ted Watts, has entered into the business of making speeches placing special emphasis on poise. The biggest trouble, said Mr. Watts, is getting the students to overcome their self-consciousness. Gradually they are overcoming these hindrances.

When they are told to prepare a speech the students are taught to first gather the introductory material, then material for the body of the speech and finally present it in an orderly manner without reading or memorizing it. Elocution is an important factor in speech-making and Mr. Watts stresses this point especially. In order to improve their elocution the students have been reading and memorizing poetry correctly.

SENIOR SQUIBBES

Essie just delights in printing tickets, posters, etc. on the printing press down in the manual training room. So we say to other classes, if you have any printing to be done take it to Essie.

And Elaine isn't going to the prom? B. I. from a very reliable source, she's coming along with an ex-girlfriend of last year—if that puzzles you, your younger brother is in the 6th grade.

Frances has taken up crocheting and likes it much better than knitting. It's faster, too.

Herman turning Romeo? Two of the Sun's team to be the main attraction.

Bob Path is still seeing Isabel Tewksbury, and often too.

SEVENTH, EIGHTH GRADES ARE ACTIVE

The seventh and eighth graders had a candy sale Friday, Nov. 15, in the grade school building. They intended to have it in the high school, but the junks beat them to it.

Last week, appetizing odors ascended from the cooking room. The eighth grade cooking girls were divided into four groups. Each group cooked and ate a full breakfast.

The masquerade that was given for the seventh grade by the eighth grade was a grand success. Amelia Sutton, disguised as an angel, flitted gayly among the rest of the people present.

The eighth graders have started in their new word study books, and are progressing rapidly.

A new student from Dearborn has entered the eighth grade. Her name is Esther Abraham.

The eighth grade class wanted money in their treasury, so all eighth graders have to pay ten cents a semester for dues. All the money for the first semester must be in by Dec. 1.

SUPERINTENDENT WARNS STUDENTS AGAINST "GYPS"

Superintendent R. H. Amerman stated that several attempts by alleged representatives of correspondence schools to fleece students have been brought to the attention of the Department of Public Instruction recently.

In one case Mr. Amerman said it is known that a suspected agent is under arrest, and in another case the home office of the school is making adjustments satisfactory to local school officials.

According to the superintendent, students are urged not to sign any kind of contract or make any down payment until they have investigated the reliability of the company. This holds true especially for commercial students.

The State department has available information as to approved schools, and will answer all inquiries from students or school officials.

BASKETBALL MANAGERS SELECTED BY COUNCIL

Names submitted as possible candidates for managers of both the girls' and boys' basketball were voted upon by the student council at a special meeting held on Thursday, Nov. 21.

The following were the results: Boys' team, Paul Beard and Jack Stubenvoll. For girls' team, Gwendolyn Jones and Virginia Washburne.

These people were selected because out of the names turned in the council felt them to be the most capable.

The state safety council today issued the following warning: Dress of men in bright-colored outer garments in winter for their own safety. Says the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, bright colors are more visible in the dark.

Have you noticed the decorated look on the football boys? That makes 'em work. Get 'em to work. Get 'em to work.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL PRACTICE BEGINS

Twenty-four Girls Attempt To Make School's Ball Team

Twenty-four girls have been enthusiastically practicing to make the basketball team this year, Miss Gladys Ludwig, coach of the team, reports that she is very well pleased with the attitude and spirit the girls have shown during practice. If this good work is carried on, and if the following simple health rules will be observed, Miss Ludwig says she is sure the school will have a good girls' basketball team. These are the health rules: Eat three well-balanced meals a day; do not eat between meals, especially candy; have eight hours of rest.

The girls practice four hours a week. The managers, elected by the student council, are Virginia Washburne and Gwendolyn Jones.

The girls whom the team has lost by graduation last year are: Marion Turnbull, Margaret Norton, Donna Ferguson, Winifred McCordie and Leila Haystead.

No definite plans for the league games have been decided upon as yet. The first game will probably be played some time in December.

THE OBSERVER

The storm was intense and in a flash of lightning I saw a figure standing a few feet away from me. The light revealed to be a junior girl of medium height, with dark brown hair and gray eyes. She is an ardent football and basketball fan and played on the girls' basketball team last year. She has a unique laugh and is an excellent swimmer. She is one of Mrs. Taylor's best first year typists and can be found in the typing room almost any night after school. She is being initiated into a club this week and she refuses to be kidded about her appearance.

He is a junior boy—has a shock of blond hair, and is universally known as a pest. He walks hand-in-hand with the Webster Dictionary, and keeps a crossword puzzle pinned within his pocket. In a certain class at a certain time of day, his gentle voice is heard above everyone else. In the opinion of a majority of the students, he is considered as having a genius for appearing at the wrong time, and for talking out of turn. Some say, however, that he is always talking, whether in order or not.

THE DOPE COLUMN

The writer of the "Keyhole" has let us down again this week. She claims she is getting "squeezed" from peeping through so many keyholes, and people have been plugging up their keyholes when they know she is around. It's a sad life, this snooping I mean. I gave you a week's warning that I was coming back, so prepare and beware.

Fellow mates, hear ye—guess what? T. G. seems to be gazing in the direction of a certain blonde girl commonly known as "Torchie." Oh he'll never say never again, again because— I was told to keep everything out of this paper about Thomas but he won't mind just this once. Or will you, tall, dark and handsome?

Do you know what? Irene Modos almost bashes our head in every time her name is in the paper. Gosh, that isn't fair. Here Irene puts everybody else's name in regardless. Anyways, I've got something on her. Am I laughing—sneer, sneer, sneer. Irene has a boy friend in Detroit. She is also wearing a pin of some kind.

Evelyn Ambler, you know that blonde senior girl—the one Carl A. admires from the bottom of his heart? Well, she has the habit of breaking into the queerest kind of dances at the queerest times. In the typing room for instance.

Tom McLoughlin thinks that Irene Modos has a very crude idea of humor. Especially when it comes to accusing her of having a superior complex. Too bad she found out that Irene was only kidding. I gave her something to worry about. Tom really looks devastating with a crease on that lovely, ivory brow.

We hear that a certain prominent West Point girl is worrying a little about what a certain fellow very prominent alumnus of good old Northville is doing. Why haven't we heard about this before? Just a hint your guys—he was once captain of the N. H. S. football squad, 1934 to be exact. Adios to Marjorie.

Have you noticed the decorated look on the football boys? That makes 'em work. Get 'em to work. Get 'em to work.

Have you noticed the decorated look on the football boys? That makes 'em work. Get 'em to work. Get 'em to work.

SOCIETY

Since Thanksgiving interrupts next week and knocks our journalism schedule all to smash, I will have to tell you what people intend to do over the week-end.

The big Michigan-Ohio State game will draw a lot of Northville folk. Those who would admit they might go were Tom McLoughlin, Helen Johnson, Paul Beard, Skippy Higgins, Billy Schoultz, Harry Richardson, Jack Stubenvoll, Esie Nilder, Keene Bolton, and of course Mr. Watts. We overheard that Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will be there too. If all those boys root for dear old U. of M. I pity somebody's poor ears.

The "Tip-Tops," that fun-loving bunch of gals, had a meeting at June Denney's house Tuesday. It sort of inaugurated their initiation. Perhaps you have seen the big-balls, riding clothes and so forth. Bunco and truth and consequences were played. We sure wish we'd eavesdropped.

The teachers all heard Dr. Pollock speak on "European Conditions" Friday at the Woman's club.

Another noteworthy thing the Tip-Tops are doing is in the form of a progressive breakfast Saturday. What if it doesn't progress? Then they won't be able to go to the show in Plymouth Saturday afternoon as planned.

SENIORS DISCUSS FINAL DANCE PLANS

At the last senior class meeting, which was held and called to order by President Roland Morris on Wednesday, Nov. 20, remaining and final business concerning the prom was discussed.

The decoration committee, whose chairman is Robert Angove, asked for volunteers to help decorate for the prom and to help take down the decorations afterwards. Hours toward the class trip will be given to seniors spending time on this project.

The publicity committee, with Esie Nilder as chairman, has sent letters to cities and towns surrounding Northville, advertising the prom.

The programs for the prom will be weaving and black velvet, reported Ida Altman, head of the program committee.

"Treasure" June King reported $417.70 in the treasury. The candy sales have yielded $41.16, as reported by Elaine Winter, chairman of candy sale committee.

School? And I, along with many other members, seem to be one of the students, and after reading this column I had the list. Blame it on our youth, professor.

Just this summer Chuck Strautz told me he was off girls for life and wasn't even going to attend the prom. Gee he changed his mind fast. Good for you, Jane. We ought to laud him. "Change of Heart."

Don't you think? And we always thought it was women's privilege to change their minds.

I really must leave, you know. I've said enough to be Public Enemy One, Two, Three and Four. You may hear from me again sometime, even if you dread it.

BASKET BALL BOYS ARE EARLY RISERS

Enthusiastic Boys Waken at 6:30 A. M. To Practice For Teams

By WILLIAM OWEN

Boys will be boys but when they manage to hop briskly from their comfortable beds at 6:30 in the morning, even if it is to enjoy their favorite sport, then they have advanced beyond the limitations of boys and have earned the distinction, "Super-men."

The main objective of the early morning session is not, as some claim, to work up an appetite for breakfast, but is the laudable determination of the squad to become well-versed in the fundamentals of basketball.

Anyone, after the rigorous exercise the fellows get in the morning, would develop a somewhat healthy appetite but the boys, when eating display their epicurean talents with such abandon as to clinch their right to be called "super-men." The citizens, in an informal breakfast, look on the scene of great merriment as the vast quantities of food vanish with astonishing speed. The lads found that toast, cocoa, cereal, milk and cookies, if there is enough of it, will provide a substantial foundation for a mutually active day in school.

Of course, they must receive credit for their will-power, and worthwhile objective because with such practice and determination they should turn out a team that will really deserve the students' appreciation and the school's support.

PRIVATE REFLECTORS BANNED ON HIGHWAYS

The state's drive to rid trunkline highways of private reflector signs is under way.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced the results of a survey showing there are approximately 250 of these signs in the state that must be removed. Their removal is required under a new act of the legislature prohibiting such signs within 200 feet of the center line of a trunkline highway.

Nearly half of the signs recorded in the survey are "Champion Spark Plug" reflectors. The Tivoli Broom Company has forty of these signs including nine erected within the past few weeks. Thirty-two of the signs are owned by Sears, Roebuck & Company. The remainder are scattered among advertisements for hotels, beer and restaurant establishments, filling stations, and so forth.

The signs are scattered in thirty-nine counties of the state with none recorded in the Upper Peninsula.

The private reflector signs, which flash with the oncoming lights of an approaching automobile, were outlawed by the last legislature for safety reasons. The state highway department uses the reflector signs as a warning on curves, bridges, intersections, and for other traffic hazards. Adoption of this type of sign by private interests for advertising purposes led to a tendency by motorists to ignore all reflector signs.

Senior Who's Who

Juanita Irene Elkington

Just in case you hear someone shouting something that sounds suspiciously like baby-talk down our halls, don't think the kindergarten is usurping the upper classrooms. It's just Irene Modos and Juanita Elkington calling to one another. Juanita is "I-ene." Well, what we started out to say, was something else indeed. Juanita, or "I-ene," whichever you prefer, was born on August 31, 1918, and right here in Northville, too. She has attended school here all her life. Her favorite subjects are the commercial ones, which seem right up her alley, as she wants to be a court reporter.

This senior is Mr. Lee's right-hand girl and a very efficient one at that.

Dorothy Ann Frank

Now for the life (so far) of one of the many demure senior girls. Dorothy Frank, take it from us, is not so demure as she may seem. We've seen her go right up and take candy away from a certain junior boy with no more than the wink of an eyelash. Take that anyway you like, maybe the eyelash did the trick. She says it is her way of looking so "underpowered."

She was born on the delightful 25th of June, in 1918, to be exact. (If we must). First she attended the Nazareth Lutheran school, during her grade years, in Detroit. Then she moved to West Point in 1932, and attended the Pierson school. Since here eleventh year, however, she has been a faithful student of Northville high.

Her nicknames are "Dot" and "Johnny," but she is not of "Frankie and Johnny" believe it or not! Mathematics and art are her favorite subjects, and she also likes to read and sew. She is fond of all summer sports, and has not yet outgrown playing jacks. Her ambition is to become a designer.

E. E. PERRIN PROMINENT AT MICHIGAN STATE

Elmer E. Perrin, alumnus of Northville high school and a student in the Liberal Arts division at Michigan State college, has been elected president of the International Relations Club for the current year.

The organization presents speakers on various world situations, and next spring will sponsor the model assembly of the League of Nations to which many colleges in this area will send representatives.

TICKET SALE CONTEST HELD BY COUNCIL

Season Passes Will Be Given To Students Selling Eight Tickets

According to Esie Nilder, mayor of the student council, this body have contrived a means whereby they hope to advance the sale of season tickets for basketball.

The plan is this: Every high and junior high school student has been given the number of tickets he desires and thinks he can sell. He is held responsible for them as long as they are in his possession, but if he does not sell them all he must turn the remainder back to some member of the student council. The members are: Esie Nilder, Charles Struik, Tom McLoughlin, George Westphal, Fred Hicks, Cecil Nilder, Keene Bolton, and Frances Alexander.

If a person manages to sell eight tickets—three of which must be adult, he will, himself, be presented with a season ticket free of charge. The tickets, which were made by the council on the printing press bought for this purpose, were distributed by the president of each class and the total number taken by each individual has been recorded.

The contest will close on Dec. 9—the day before the first basketball game, which will be with Farmington—here.
