GREGORY CALLS COURT ACTION "BIG FARCE"

"Village Police Can't Take Prisoner Out of City," Says Perrin

Northville's two armed policemen, scouring around the village for one of the four township constables to take a prisoner to the House of Correction last Monday morning, was a scene which Commissioner Wm. T. Gregory, termed "A small town farce."

Robert Neal, appearing before Justice of the Peace Harold White, Monday morning was sentenced to 90 days at the House of Correction on a disorderly conduct charge.

Neal, who was brought to the village jail Sunday night by county authorities, pleaded guilty to a charge of having threatened a woman in the village. He was arrested by a county officer outside the village limits. Neither the arresting officer nor any of the constables was present at the trial.

Immediately after the sentence was imposed, Mr. White left for Farmington, leaving Neal in the custody of Northville's policemen. According to action taken several months ago by the council, village police officers have no authority to deliver a prisoner to serve a sentence outside the village limits. They also placed a ban on letting the police car go out of the village.

Relating the story of the confusion which followed the court proceeding to members of the village council, sitting in regular session Monday evening, Commissioner Gregory said that the whole thing seemed ridiculous. "There were our two uniformed, armed men of the police force, hunting around to find just one of the township constables. These constables, I understand, are not equipped with guns, and handcuffs to take a prisoner to serve a sentence. The trial was not held in the presence of the arresting officer or any of the township constables," he affirmed.

"If it's unlawful for the village police force to take a hind in such matters, then I've spoken out of turn. And in that case, it's my opinion that our men should be made constables or deputy sheriffs so that such cases can be handled orderly," he concluded.

It was pointed out by Commissioner Elmer Perrin that a stop was made to letting the police force deliver prisoners because it meant that the village was left unprotected and the village car was constantly going out of the village. "Furthermore," he said, "they were accepting fees for this service which should be going to the constables. It goes to the point where no one had the ambition to be a constable because the fees were being pocketed by the village police force," he said.

NORTH IS ORDAINED BEFORE MINISTERS AT WAYNE SERVICE

Last Friday night, the Rev. E. S. North, pastor of the Baptist church, was publicly ordained to the ministry of the Baptist church in the presence of the Baptist Ministerial Board of the Wayne Association and 150 delegates of this district.

With Dr. Howard Chapman of Ann Arbor, student university pastor, as Moderator, the Rev. W. R. Shaw of Ypsilanti gave the ordination sermon and the Rev. Dr. R. M. Traver of Sylvan Lake, gave the charge to the minister.

In a highly impressive ceremony, the Rev. Ralph Carney of Howell, gave the ordination prayer, with the ministerial board participating by the laying on of hands.

The Rev. Dr. Bowser of Ovid gave the charge to the church and the Rev. Lora Sutherland of Plymouth welcomed Mr. North into Wayne Baptist association.

In being ordained to the Baptist ministry, Mr. North now has the right to perform all the sacraments and rites of the Baptist denomination at anytime he might be called. Previously he could only administer to the local church in which he was called.

An interesting feature of the ordination service was the fact that the ministers taking part have been Mr. North, either since he was a boy or since his ministry began 10 years ago.

In Detroit

"Every generation has worried about the next but each one comes out alright in spite of the worry," said Principal Owen Emmons, Cookey high school of Detroit, to a group of parents and teachers of Northville Friday evening. The subject of this discussion was "The Social Life of the High School Student."

With a calm optimism that related to be attained at the pace of modern youth, Mr. Emmons spoke with the authority of years of experience in governing 4000 students in school and four children at home. His talk was frank and generous, sympathetic with boys and girls.

"I do not pretend to be able to solve all the problems," said he, "but I believe that it is your struggle for independence that makes the conflict between parent and child. I do not agree with the distrust of young folks. Boys and girls are not bad and do not generally do the things attributed to them. They are really fine in their principles and should be trusted."

Mr. Emmons maintained that he has taken pains to investigate the manner in which his students spend their leisure time and has concluded that although they sometimes go to undesirable places they are smart enough to understand the dangers and soon have their curiosity satisfied.

Modesty refusing to settle problems arbitrarily, Mr. Emmons urged (Continued in Supplement)

BOARD WANTS BIDS

Members of the board of education met with the Detroit architects, Lyndon and Smith Monday evening and plans were made for the quality of material to be used in the proposed new grade school building. Bids are being published at once in an effort to dispose of the present board of education office. Work must be underway by June 1, R. H. Amerman reports.

Sale of Red Poppies by Legion and Auxiliary Is First of Series of Events to Be Held Memorial Week

Saturday the men and women of Lloyd H. Green Post and Unit of the American Legion will be on the streets with baskets of memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the World War dead. They will work throughout the day, distributing the little red flowers and gathering contributions for the welfare of the disabled war veterans and the families left in need by the death or disability of a veteran. Their unselfish efforts will give every individual in the city an opportunity to pay personal tribute to the men who gave their lives for the country, and to extend a helping hand to those who sacrificed health, strength and happiness on the altar of patriotism.

The Auxiliary women are the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of men who served in the war. They will do the hard, unaccompanied work of Poppy Day without any recompense except the knowledge that they are helping keep bright the memory of the war dead and helping keep hope in the hearts of those who are bearing the war's burden of suffering and privation.

serve the thanks and applause of the entire city.

When these men and women are on the streets Saturday, it is the duty of villagers to show an understanding of the work they are doing. They should be met with a smile of appreciation and their poppies worn, glad for the opportunity they are bringing the community to honor the nation's heroic dead and aid those still within reach of help.

E. E. BROWN IS INJURED
AS GOLF CLUB HITS CREEK

E. E. Brown, who has been handling the advertising for The Record for the past two months, suffered three fractures in his left cheek bone last Friday. The accident occurred when his daughter, Miss Avis, not realizing her father was standing so close to her, hit him as she was demonstrating a golf stroke in the yard of their Ann Arbor home. Mr. Brown was rushed immediately to the University hospital. He was able to return to his home Wednesday, and expects to be back at his work by Friday.

CHECK-UP ON FAST DRIVING IS MADE HERE

Motorists Ignore Stop Signs
At Dangerous Crossing on Main and Rogers

Arrested by two tragic car accidents, which occurred recently in surrounding communities—accidents resulting from fast, reckless driving and costing the lives of five persons with a sixth near death, Editor R. T. Baldwin requested that an investigation be made this week of motorist habits of drivers in the village.

It was learned that monthly county and state reports from Northville have not carried any accident accounts from within the village limits. Serious crashes have occurred on the Northville-Plymouth and Seven Mile roads, but there have been no wrecks on the streets of Northville.

In keeping with last week's instruction by the village council, the day officer, Chief W. H. Safford, has been patrolling the residential district. He reports that warnings have been given to a number of speeders who have promised to watch their motoring speed in the future. "If they don't keep their word, then I'll have to give them tickets. I can only be in one place at a time. Speeders immediately slow down when they see the police car approaching. I blame the fast driving on the cars which are built for speed these days," he said.

A check-up on the stop corner on Rogers and Main streets, reported that within one hour, five cars came to a complete stop going south on Rogers; 10 cars slowed down; four cars raced through at a speed between 45 and 60 miles an hour. This is one of the most hazardous corners in the village.

Working with the village council, the police force and the newly organized school patrol, The Record is waging a fight to place a curb on fast, reckless driving before the community is subjected by loss of young life, such as happened at the end of a school trip at Caran City, May 8.

Returning from Junior Farmer Week at East Lansing, were two auto-loads of boys, seven in each, on their way home from a day trip to the lake. Just before reaching the bridge on M-21, a car driven by Don Haines of Farmington, attempted to pass a car driven by Morris Sloan. The bumpers or wheels of the two machines locked momentarily, causing the Sloan car to swerve and (Continued on Page 8)

Doris Shinn Wins Spelling Bee; Former Novi Girl Best of Sixty; Wins Trip to National Capital

Doris Shinn, the 1935 runnerup from Novi, spelled her way to victory last Friday afternoon in the Detroit News Spelling Bee.

Doris, age 11, is the youngest daughter of T. H. Shinn who works on the midnight shift at the Ford Motor company plant in the village. The Shinn family moved from Novi to Plymouth a few months ago. She was the youngest of the 60 contestants, who were lined up at the Consummation in the State Fair Grounds for the thirteenth annual finals. She spelled down boys and girls who were, in some cases, four years older than she.

Victory came to her after two hours of spelling. The word which carried her to the title was "virulent." The same calmness which characterized her conduct during the 1935 Bee, made her as popular with the crowd this year as she was when "realtor" tripped her and classified her as the runnerup. Because she didn't cry and go to pieces, the crowd showed a sincere love for the baby of the bee and cheered her pluck and good sportsmanship.

She accepted her victory this year in the same calm way. She told reporters that she had dreamed of winning three times since the district meet and that she wasn't surprised when she was declared the spelling warrior of 1936.

This is the second important victory for Doris. Born without a socket in her right hip, she was placed in a plaster cast at the age of two years. Not until Doris was four, was the cast removed. Although the partial deformity has left her small and pale, the handicapped way for last Friday's success. When Doris was two she kept all the letters in the alphabet and at four she could read.

Michigan will be represented in the National Spelling Bee finals at Washington next Tuesday by Doris. A share in the cash prizes, amounting to $1,500, is almost certain to be hers. Should she win the national championship, she will receive $500. Doris will make the trip with a chaperon from the Detroit News and will have a week to "see the sights" to the capital.

NEW PARKING LOT READY FOR CARS

Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery announced this week that the parking lot on the corner of Center and Main streets was ready for public use.

Immediately after the double parking law became effective May 2, Phil H. Gremian was contacted. He gave permission to use his property for parking privileges until a time when he is ready to use it himself for a building project. This gives ample room for the cars while the double parking ordinance is in effect.

Thirty-three cars can be accommodated there. The ground has been leveled, gravel, parking stalls built and a new drive approach made. Mr. Montgomery reported that 29 cars were parked there at one time last Saturday night.

Minute interviews given by the officers during the week indicated a trend of the public in regard to the use of the parking lot and of the double parking law.

A few of the comments which have been given are quoted:

Wm. Mairs, Novi Township Highway Commissioner: "Every Councilman should be patting on the back for prohibiting double parking in Northville. It's the finest thing they ever did." The police should be congratulated for the way it has been enforced.

Mrs. E. A. Kohler: "I'm glad the council did something about the double parking here. It has been terrible."

Otlow G. Owen: "I think it is splendid the way it is, if business men and their employees will use the parking lot. I object to their leaving their cars in the street all day—especially when there's a good parking lot on the corner."

Harry Walker: "I'm kinda in favor of the double parking law."

Mr. C. Gussell: "It was easier for customers to shop when they could double park. We must make it easy for shoppers to get to the stores."

Floyd E. Lanning: "I've always been opposed to double parking. If you're caught in the middle line, you have to wait until the other fellow comes before you can get out. Our streets are too narrow. The driving public will have to be taught to use the parking lot."

Regular and reserve patrols have been named as follows:

Post 1—Kindergarten—Philip Baldwin, John Grahdy.

Post 2—High School, Main and West—Dick Davis, Harold Schoultz.

Post 3—Grade, Cady and West—Louis Horrick, Louis Habbitt.

The captain is expected to detail certain patrols to certain stations. Parents are asked to have their children cross intersections where the patrols are stationed.

EVANS HEADS NOTED SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Northville friends of Ford C. Evans of Waterbury, Conn., former village boy, will be glad to know of the outstanding success he has achieved with his orchestra, composed of students from three high schools. Following the seventeenth annual symphony concert given May 5, the Waterbury papers carried appreciative stories of what the boys and girls did. The articles appeared with pictures of the entire organization of 90 pupils.

The work of Mr. Evans is known throughout New England, his orchestra having taken three or four first prizes at the Eastern States Exposition, an annual event held at Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Evans' son, Robert, graduates from high school this year. He plays a French horn, while Miss Betty Evans, a daughter, plays the principal violin in the orchestra.

HARRY KELLEY TO SPEAK HERE MEMORIAL DAY

Mr. Kelley, a noted speaker, was in April, 1935, appointed director of the Liquor Control commission for Wayne, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw, Lapeer, Lenawee, Oakland and St. Clair counties. It can be said that he is the director of a $20,000,000 business, with approximately 300 men under his direction and supervision.

After being graduated from Notre Dame University, Mr. Kelley left school to join in the overseas service where he was wounded in action.

Returning to Michigan to practice law, Mr. Kelley was one of the first four men appointed by Harry S. Toy (Attorney General of Michigan) at that time, prosecuting attorney in charge of the Buckley Grand Jury which he conducted for a year. Following this, he was given the appointment to go what could be done towards changing the jury system of Wayne county. This investigation brought forth facts that resulted in the ousting of the members of the old jury system. During the four years that Mr. Toy was in office, Mr. Kelley, who tried the Hamtramck conspiracy case and other important cases in Hamtramck, was considered one of Mr. Toy's leading trial men.

King's Daughters Observe Fiftieth Anniversary—History of Founding Is Recalled by Local Organizers

Northville King's Daughters, that most active, cosmopolitan and most active organization of our village, are remembering with interest that the international order has reached its fiftieth anniversary.

It was only a half-century ago that the idea of founding such an order was born in the heart of Margaret Bottoms. While traveling on an ocean liner she observed a young lad who was very ill and kept calling for his mother. "I wish I were wearing a badge of some kind that would indicate that I might be called to help him," she thought.

This desire to help lies at the heart of the King's Daughters who wear as their emblem the silver cross of service and whose motto is "Be His Name."

Five broad-spirited women who were touched by the neglect of the horde of children met at the New York home of Margaret Bottoms in 1886 and framed the code of the order. Others added to this number comprised the "Original Ten" and others spread rapidly in the following years.

ward Everett Hale encouraged the movement and Edward Bok, editor of the Ladies Home Journal gave Mrs. Bottoms a page in his magazine to edit. Jacob Rius, the great philanthropist, was so interested that he became the first man member. No mere "woman's notion" this. The name became the "King's Daughters and Sons."

A matter of local interest is that one of our Northville women then living in Oklahoma, through reading of the ideals of the order in Margaret Bottoms' page became a "member at large," there being no circle in her town. Later on coming to this village, Mrs. I. W. Lanning, who had been wearing the silver cross for 43 years, became for the first time an active member.

It was Mrs. Chas. Johnson, sister-in-law of Mrs. H. D. Deane, who came from New York and proposed the organization here in 1895. It has been named the "Mispah" circle. The zeal of these women has been responsible for the relief of much local suffering.

COUNCILMEN VOTE TO BUY SET OF FORMS

To Replace Present Obsolete
Bookkeeping Method
With New System

By a vote of the council Monday evening, Northville's obsolete bookkeeping system is to be replaced with a new set of forms which will necessitate a change in the method used in keeping the village accounts.

The council acted upon the recommendation of Dr. H. H. Burkart, president of the village, who said that he believed one reason the refunding of the bonds had been held up was because of the out-of-date bookkeeping system used here.

Before a vote was taken to change the book system, Mrs. Mary Alexander, clerk, was asked to give her opinion concerning the present set. "They are a mess," she affirmed. She further stated that the new forms being considered would be a great improvement.

With the presentation of a $765 bill from H. B. Culbertson, reservoir contractor, councilmen debated on the authority they had to pay the bill before FWA money had been received from Washington. It was a question as to the effect future action by the Supreme Court might have, should the project be declared unconstitutional.

Attorney P. J. Cochran said that he had no authority for his opinion but it seemed to him that if such a court action occurred it would make the village contract with Culbertson paid as void as the contract between the village and the U. S. government.

Mr. Cochran reported that he had been assured in the Detroit office that the money would come through within a short time. There's no reason why it can't be pushed through in a hurry after the amendment has been published and posted Friday according to law," he stated.

Because of this a strange plan Mr. Cochran in Detroit, Commissioner Elmer Perrin and John W. Perrin, who had voted earlier in the evening against paying Culbertson's bill, FWA money had been received in an old village vote. Commissioner Floyd G. Stauffer, who also voted against paying the contractor, stated that he couldn't change his vote.

Petitions are now being circulated in this community for George A. Dondero for a third term in the House of Representatives of the United States.

He has served the 17th Congressional District of Michigan in the 73rd and 74th Congresses in an able and conscientious manner during one of the most difficult periods of recent times.

In the 69 years of his active Congressional career, Dondero has been at the post of duty and deeply absorbed in the welfare of his district. As the only member from Michigan on the important Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House of Representatives, he has been out in the field in behalf of Michigan's river, harbor and commerce of which he is the expert of navigation and commerce.

He has also paid close attention to all matters of public education in the United States, serving as a member of the Committee on Education of the House as well as to the care for the Federal child, incident to the welfare of the district and the state.

AGED COMMUNITY RESIDENT DIES AFTER ILLNESS

After long weeks of failing strength, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hazen, the oldest resident of this community, passed away Monday morning, May 18, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. T. Thornton on the Mile Mile road. Mrs. Hazen had reached her ninety-second birthday two weeks ago, May 3.

Elizabeth A. Young, the daughter of Christopher and Mary Young, was born May 3, 1844, in Ohio and came to Michigan with her parents who were pioneers to this new territory. Both parents died when Elizabeth was a small child and her girlhood was spent in various temporary homes.

In 1865, she was married to Edwin Hazen and the new home was established near Farmington. Later the family moved to Novi where Mrs. Hazen took an active interest in the founding of the Methodist church and became a charter member. Her church was always dear to her heart and to it she gave of her strength, time and money to help it grow.

Her hospitable home was always open to the pastors of her church. At her death she was the last surviving church member. In her later years she became a member of the Northville Methodist church and was its oldest member.

Two daughters, Mae and Florence, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hazen. In their childhood these daughters were left fatherless by the death of Mr. Hazen in 1884. With fortitude Mrs. Hazen carried on with the raising of her family and trained them with unusual devotion.

The companionship between Mrs. Hazen and her daughter, Mrs. Florence Thornton, continued unbroken until the death of Mrs. Hazen in 1936.

BUILD SUCCESS ON COURTESY
We have often been amazed at the failure of business people—and most of us are in business in one way or another—to use just plain, ordinary courtesy as one of the ways to be a success.
And by failure of courtesy we don't necessarily mean discourtesy but just the lack of a lot of little things that are kindly and good natured.
The other day we sat with a group of 15 men who are leaders in their business and the point of courtesy came up. They were unanimous in saying that courtesy is a marvelous thing but even more important, lack of it is the biggest millstone that a business man can hang around his neck.

COMSTOCK WILL BATTLE THEM
William A. Comstock, former governor of Michigan, is out with a challenge to Mr. James A. Farley, big national democratic boss, that he can't come into this state and tell the democrats whom they are to run for office.
For years Mr. Comstock was the kindly angel of the democratic party and gave of his wealth to keep the party going in the days when it always tasted defeat. Then, when success came, he was treated shabbily and a lot of the plums of success were given to men who had turned democratic over night.
Thousands of Michigan people have great respect for Mr. Comstock and will give him plenty of aid in his fight against Mr. Farley. The former Tammany leader will get all the fight he wants and maybe more.

GO AND SEE THE FORD ROTUNDA
Less than 25 miles from Northville is one of the finest miracles of the modern industrial world. The Ford Rotunda. It was opened to the public last Saturday and can be seen daily.
All Northville people should plan to see this great sight. Located on the Schaefer road one can drive our village limits and be at the Rotunda in 15 minutes and make only one or two turns at home. Situated in a park of 13 1/2 acres this 110 feet high structure will thrill you. The limestone and steel structure is an amazing spectacle. The interior is little short of a veritable fairyland.
Mature men and women and children alike will drink in inspiration when they view the great murals, the revolving dioramas and the "Court of the World." The inspiring story of the making of the Ford car will take on new meaning after one sees this great building and its features which lie so close to our very doors.
After seeing the Rotunda you will appreciate more than ever the very significant fact that Northville has the distinction of being one of the units in the great Ford organization, which has as one of its major goals the linking of industry and the land which gives us all sustenance.
Before you are many more days or months older, go and see a truly great wonder—The Ford Rotunda.

BRUCKER HAS A GOOD CHANCE
Wilbur M. Brucker, former governor, is now being conceded a good chance to defeat Senator James Couzens for the republican nomination for United States senator at the primaries in September. Recent political developments are all in Mr. Brucker's favor.
The best "break" for the former governor comes in the fact that the democrats have decided not to back Senator Couzens. Mr. Farley, boss for the administration, found out that the Michigan democrats could see no good reason for backing a republican. And with the fine material they have, why should they support Couzens?
In his last primary campaign Couzens is reputed to have had the help of many democrats who asked for republican ballots. With no fight in their own party they could easily do this. This year it will be a different story. The democrats will be voting for their own candidate for senator and further they also will—according to present indications—have a pretty fight to choose a candidate for governor. If George Welch, former republican, who has become a quick democrat convert, sticks to his plans to run for the governorship on the Roosevelt ticket; and if Frank Murphy comes back from the Philippines to be the Farley candidate, then surely there will be few democrats asking for republican ballots, with which to help Senator Couzens. Republicans will be voting for republicans and democrats for democrats. That will all be in Mr. Brucker's favor.
The recent state convention showed that the rank and file of state republicans are for Brucker for U. S. senator. In his public appearances he is being received very cordially. He is a fighting campaigner who is going to take his cause direct to the people. And for the first time in a long while, that is something Senator Couzens will have to do if he wants to stay in Washington.
The primary is going to be no tea party.

A SUGGESTION TO THE VILLAGE COMMISSION
The action of the village council last week in "inviting" The Northville Record to use the records of the village clerk for its news write-ups, instead of having its reporters attend the public meetings and then fairly interpret what happened, was of course ridiculous. Not only was it silly but it was a childish blow at the freedom of the press about which we have been hearing so much lately.
The action of Commissioner W. T. Gregory in refusing to vote on the question, because of its evident absurdity, is commendable. Commissioner Elmer Perrin backed Commissioner Gregory in the matter and then went on record as voting against the motion. No one ever puts to a vote the question of whether we shall ask the sun to stop shining.
The Northville Record all through the years has been eminently fair in honestly giving to the public the happenings of our public officials. We challenge anyone to deny this. In fact we asked a very public spirited and fair-minded citizen the other day if we had been fair in our write-ups. "You have been too fair," he answered quickly.

Of course this newspaper will continue to have its representatives attend the public meetings and then give our readers—who, after all, elect our village officials and who want to know what they are doing—honest and fair write-ups. It would be a sad day for this community if public affairs were not open to the clear sunshine of frank discussion.
We commend to our village officials a statement made by Raymond Moley, unofficial spokesman for the democratic party, in an address at Princeton university. This is what he said in response to the critics who thought the press should be muzzled:
"I should rather see a free criticism of the administration than almost anything else in that line. The administration cannot succeed unless there is such a free criticism, and unless it is of a type that may sometimes make the administration pretty mad."

STEPPING ON THE STARTER puts over 100 metal parts inside your motor into immediate action. This means serious wear—unless your oil flows instantly!

SPEED requires a "TOUGH" oil for high heat. Either "tough" or fast-flowing oils are easy to make. The problem is to combine both qualities in the same oil.

3 Miles a Minute can cause Less wear than starting your engine just once!

Here's a new fast-flowing oil that reduces engine repair bills up to 50%...

TERRIFIC motor heat at 180 miles an hour... is hard enough on an engine!

But starting your engine just once can be a lot more damaging.

When you step on your starter, over 100 moving parts are rubbing together.

That calls for plenty of oil on every part. If it isn't fast-flowing, some parts are oiled for a few moments. No wonder 3/4ths of engine wear is caused by starting!

To cut this excessive wear, Shell, at a cost of $3,000,000, has perfected a new type of oil.

Golden Shell is FAST-FLOWING and yet TOUGH. Engineers and oil technicians call the process behind it the biggest advance in oil refining in the last 25 years.

Drive into this station today and learn how Golden Shell can cut your engine repair costs in half.

MRS. EDITOR

"Go forth under the open sky." May is here—the month of apple blossoms and singing robins, of making gardens and folding away winter woollens.

In school days we sang:
"It is the merry month, the merry month of May,
That drives our wintery cares away."

A long, long winter is past and many of us have come through it a bit the worse for wear. It is not easy to shake off anxieties while cooped up in a house but who can nuzzle a green sprout in the garden among flowers?

We had a dear neighbor once who spent many hours with her growing things in her garden. "My garden is my sanctuary," she said. "A hoe and a trowel are my best nerve tonics."

Life does bring its irritations. No family can escape them. When they get too thick we shut the door on that basket of frying and that floor that should be scrubbed and speed to the back yard with haste. "Click, click" goes the old hoe while our head aches. "Jenny, Jenny," chatters away cheerily and an elfin, a robin and a mockingbird join the chorus. Apple blossom petals, come floating lazily down. How sweet and "earthy" the soil smells; as we get down on our knees to transplant petunias! Guess we'd better move these marigolds over here and put these hollyhocks along the fence. What fun to build a garden!

And then first thing we know we are singing "Oh, that we two were maying!" and back to school days we are carried with our brown-eyed sister Mary joining in the dust. Carefree girlhood that knows no problems.

A very different woman goes to the house to prepare lunch for the returning family. If the day is warm the small table is brought out under the apple tree and the restful background works wonders in preserving domestic equilibrium. The talk is of the birds and flowers about us and of plans to make changes and improvements in the garden. There is time to note the row of gay tulips and sniff the fragrance from the lilacs and new-mown grass.

A plain laugh becomes a feast out here and the family leans back to breathe deeply the beauty of outdoor life.

Many years ago we learned Bryant's "Thanatopsis" as we seventh graders recited it from the blackboard where the teacher had written the lines:
"Go forth under the open sky
And list to Nature's teachings—
It was only a jangle of words to us then but stored away in memory it has sunk in with the coming of years and experience so that when thoughts become too serious and sober and we can't "see over the top" we remember to "Go forth under the open sky."

Two little poems are appropriate to this season (and occasional poetry sweetens life). May is building her house. With apple blossoms

San Francisco Chronicle: It is Bernard Shaw's belief that we have a great President, and a bad Constitution. Men have been made

She is roofing over the glimmering rooms;

Of the oak and the beech bath she built the beams,
And, spanning all day at her secret looms,
With arras of leaves each wind-strayed wall.
She pictured over, and peopled it all—
With echoes and dreams, and singing of streams.

MY GARDEN
A garden is a lovesome thing,
God wot!

Rose plot,
Fragrant pool,
Fertile grove—
The veriest school
Of peace; and yet the fool
Contents that God is not.
Not God in gardens when the eve is cool?

Nay, but I have a sign:
Oh, very sure God walks in mine.

Baked Rhubarb.
Baking gives to most foods a taste, all its own, which boiling can never approach. This is true of rhubarb. Wash it and cut it into inch lengths without peeling it. Add one cup sugar to three of rhubarb, and cook it covered, in a moderate oven until tender, about forty minutes.

To make a rhubarb Betty, cover with a cup of bread crumbs which have been mixed with melted butter. Cinnamon or nutmeg may be added to the rhubarb if desired. The Betty is covered for the first half of the baking, then the cover is removed while it browns.

PENINSULA FARMERS FIGHT APPLE SCAB

Local farmers are taking precautions against the spread of apple scab, most prevalent apple disease in this part of the country. Donald Cation, research assistant in plant pathology, Michigan State College East Lansing, says that late fall rains and heavy water gases were exceptionally favorable for the overwintering stages of the fungus which has an early start this spring.

"The spores which are found on the old dead leaves on the ground are ripe and will be ready to discharge by the time the apple buds are in the 'pink stage,'" he says. "Spore decay is over, only during rains and mist, it can only take place when the foliage is wet."

Three preventive sprays to be made from the week to 10 days apart are recommended. For the first spray which should be applied now, two and one-half gallons of lime sulphur in 100 gallons of water is effective. The strength can be weakened for after-blossom sprays. Mildew sulphur fungicides are often used after bloom. For complete control of the apple scab in severe scab years, five sprays applied thoroughly during the early developing period of foliage and fruit are usually sufficient.

Troy Record: Americans are now seems to be divided in two great classes—the "indigent" and the "indignant."

FAMOUS FORD ROTUNDA IS NOW OPEN TO PUBLIC AT DEARBORN

The Ford Rotunda is built of steel and Indiana limestone. It is located on a 13 1/2-acre lot directly across the Schaefer Road, Dearborn, from the Ford Administration Building. The building itself consists of a flat, shaped central section, rising to 110 feet in height, with setbacks at 80, 60 and 100 feet, and south and north wings.

Opposite the main entrance to the Rotunda is an open public lounge, a half-circle wing off the concourse. Its walls are paneled horizontally in five shades of blue by narrow gold leaf moldings.

There are attractive tiled rest rooms for men and for women.

The central Court of the World is not roofed. The Ford World, a 20-foot revolving globe showing the location of the Ford industries in the various countries of the earth, is located here. Within this court the flag of 32 nations appear on the wall. The floor here is a light-colored mosaic. Inside the building the flooring chiefly used is linoleum.

The most impressive feature of the concourse around the interior of the central section are the 32 immense photographic murals, and the two glorias rising from the floor, one with 12 typical scenes from the life of the Pacific Ocean, the other with a similar number of scenes from the production of the automobile of Ford.

A large number of other exhibits, including Ford murals, plaques, and a large map of Ford's 1936 Lincoln-Zephyr and Lincoln-V8 automobiles are in view.

One of the features of the Rotunda is the exhibition room, a half-circle, built of light-colored limestone, with a high ceiling. The room is divided into two sections, one for the Lincoln-Zephyr and one for the Lincoln-V8. The Lincoln-Zephyr section is a half-circle, built of light-colored limestone, with a high ceiling. The Lincoln-V8 section is a half-circle, built of light-colored limestone, with a high ceiling.

Michigan Fishermen Express Their Disfavor With Early Fishing Season

While maintaining a neutral stand on the opening date of trout fishing season, Conservation authorities here are surprised at the increasing disfavor with which the deep and early opening date is being regarded by Michigan fishermen.

"So long as the best interests of the sportmen and Conservation are served, we don't care particularly when the trout-fishing season opens in Michigan," said Fred A. Westerman, chief of fisheries operations, "but we think it noteworthy that the reaction of the great majority of fishermen from whom we have had correspondence is against the earlier opening."

Westerman stated that of all the fishermen who have expressed their opinions to him, none has favored the new date. "If the earlier opening meets with the approval of many sportmen, those sportmen have not made it known," he said.

The cold, weather, ice, snow and other unfavorable circumstances may have influenced the attitude of many individuals against the earlier opening date, it is believed. Some fishermen have expressed the opinion that trout season should come later than the last Saturday in April. Some have contended that it should be extended a little in September.

"While we are not particularly concerned with the matter of the opening date, we do stand firmly against extending the season," Westerman stated. "As is generally known, the brook and brown trout spawn in the fall and become more voracious in September as their spawning season approaches. It seems reasonable to assure that more of them would be taken, the females double predominance, were the season extended beyond Labor Day when under present law is the closing date of trout season in Michigan."

N. H. S. STUDENTS TO ELECT COUNCIL MEMBERS TODAY

Westphal, Hochkins and Haystead up for Mayor of Student Council

With the passing of the school year, there is also the passing of the administration of a very important body, the student council. It has again come time for the students of Northville high school to nominate and put into office their officers, to see that their interests are duly regarded. The student council governs the student body, makes laws, provides entertainment, pays athletic bills, and in general plays a very important part in the welfare of our institution.

Those nominated are:

Mayor—George Westphal, James Hochkins and Betty Haystead.

Secretary—Doris Labitt, Nancy McLoughlin and Lois Chapman.

Treasurer—Marvin Schoultz, Marjorie Chase and Gwendolyn Jones.

With these officers elected, there is a representative from each class and, along with R. H. Amerman and P. B. Thompson as advisors, the student council performs its various functions.

This election promises to be a very interesting one and Northville high school student body will be assured of an efficient administration.

TRIG PUPILS POSSESS UNUSUAL KNOWLEDGE

If you want to know the height of a chimney, ask the "trig" class. If you want to know the levels of the playground, ask the "trig" class. Or if you are interested in the diagonals of building, hunt up the same source. For there are fourteen students in our midst that have a wealth of unusual technical and practical information. With a nucleus of two girls surrounded by 12 boys, it isn't often that one finds such an ability to apply knowledge. Nevertheless, Miss Corbin for one is most proud of this advanced mathematics class.

After the class had spent three months conquering a great quantity of technical material, the instructor grew worried. The entire school was noticing this small group of students who were very snug about their vast intelligence. This was the instructor's cause of worry. Surely, surely it would never do for fourteen of Northville's most promising to become unbalanced geniuses. Therefore, the practical was introduced, in other words, a taste of surveying. (A few members were already talented in certain types of surveying.) Triangles cost $300 but that was no obstacle. One would be made. And the satisfaction of a student from this instrument is in inverse proportion to the cost. Lois and Doris (the feminine element, you know) have divided circles until 1/360 part of that circle is the only worry they have. Just imagine ending two weeks of labor to find only 359. Chuck Strautz and Lawrence Parmenter were construction engineers, and one could ask for no better. Essey Nierder was chief architect and blue-printer. Alvin Bauman was finance manager, and buyer, incorporated. Edward Reid with that immaculate accuracy, divided a rod into feet, tenths and hundredths so perfectly as to put all commercial $15 rods to shame. The metal work was capably supervised by Paul Beard and Sam Witt and often David Hay could be induced to hold a hammer. Miss Corbin is still wondering (by her own admission) who learned the most in those days spent in the shop. Now, however, the instruments are complete and one day a real trig class betakes themselves to the field. Consequently if you see a gruffened seniors quinking at chimneys and jocular juniors waving frantically in the air, don't chart a bus to Pontiac, just remember these students have the inside track on a purely professional field.

COUNTY CAMP QUOTA WILL BE INCREASED

The house and senate conference on the Army Appropriation Bill for the coming fiscal year have agreed upon an increase to 30,000 trainees for the 1936 Citizens' Military Training camps, and this amendment will undoubtedly be accepted by both houses. This will mean an approximate increase of 13 per cent for all county quotas.

It is practically certain that some counties will not be able to fill their respective quotas, and in that event, quotas for other counties will be increased correspondingly.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Northville is again to be favored with a Northville high school musical presentation in the auditorium of the high school. The presentation is the famous opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," directed by Leslie G. Lee. The performances will be given Thursday evening, Friday afternoon and Friday evening, May 21 and May 22. Admission will be 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, with 15 cents for the Friday afternoon matinee.

Mr. Lee believes he has a very good cast chosen and expects to have a very successful show. Extensive scenery was painted by Robert Reed and will add greatly to the effect. The scenes take place on board the ship, H. M. S. Pinafore, and will make interesting sets.

New gowns have been made for the chorus, and the leads will wear their costumes from a Detroit theatrical company.

The cast is to be accompanied by the Little Symphony Orchestra from Ann Arbor and Mr. Lee expects this to add greatly to the beautiful drama.

With the loyal support of our Northville music lovers and pleasure seekers, with their new sets and costumes, with the famous opera, Northville will again listen to an outstanding musical success.

THIRTY-TWO SENIOR GIRLS SEWING ON GRADUATION DRESSES

Thirty-two senior girls, under the instruction of Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, are busily engaged sewing on their graduation dresses, which must be completed by June 15.

The dress materials vary, some being of cotton lace and some of plain, shadowed or printed organdy. All dresses are white. Many of the girls are making short-skirted dresses, others are making the princess line. The dresses are in-step length.

Seven dollars is the limit for the cost of the dresses. They vary from three to six dollars.

The dresses will be entered in the contest held by the local Women's Club. The women will judge the dresses June 15. On class night, June 16, the dresses will be on exhibition in the high school gymnasium.

R. H. AMERMAN GIVES SENIOR CASH REPORT

Seven hundred eighty-five dollars and eighty-three cents is the senior class treasury to pay for a round trip to Washington for approximately 45 seniors, Sept. R. H. Amerman reported at the senior class meeting.

There have been 4,286 hours turned in by the entire class. These hours divided into the cash on hand, are now worth about $13.13.

Mr. Amerman reported he has received word from the railroad company the seniors are dealing with, that the railroad fares will be raised $2 per person beginning June 1.

This extra traveling charge is due to a bill passed by the Interstate Commerce commission. Since it is impossible for the class to take the trip in May, it will have to pay this additional charge.

Thomas Gregory, Paul Beard and Jack Junod are collecting newspapers and magazines for the senior class. They will collect papers tomorrow, and next Saturday if there are any yet.

BUT TRY TO KEEP THEM OFF

NORTHVILLE DEFEATS FARMINGTON TEAM

The first bout of the present season was staged by Northville against a team that broke even with their last year. This was the fourth consecutive win of the present season and it was a great benefit to the team spirit.

Although neither nine scored in the first frame, Northville broke into the scoring column in the second with a three run rally. Farmington rolled "rod the" in their half but Northville laced out three hits, a base on balls, and the Farmington short stop kicked in with an error so that three more runs scored, making it six to nothing at the end of the third—Northville leading.

The fifth inning opened with a bang as N. H. S. scored seven runs on five hits, a hit batsman and an error. Farmington error. And in the P. H. S. half of the inning they went out—two, two, three. So at the end of the fifth, Farmington trailed 13-0.

Northville again jumped on the much bedraggled Farmington hurriers for three more tallies.

Then the miracle of miracles happened. Farmington nearly stamped Northville by scoring three runs in their turn at bat. After the stroke of the inning's battle had cleared away, Northville's hope for a shut out was erased and in place of a zero stood a large three for Farmington.

Northville scored once more in the seventh and in their half Farmington scored twice and the game was over.

Way pitched for Northville and he did a very good job, although he weakened in the sixth and seventh frames.

Hartley, the N. H. S. first baseman, is the leading batter for the season so far, getting five hits out of nine times at bat, for a percentage of 556.

The whole team had its eyes on the ball and knocked it around for a good many hits and also did a fine piece of work in the field. And the final score:

Northville, 17 runs 17 hits 17 errors.

Farmington, 30 runs, 7 hits 2 errors.

Seniors Who's Who

CHARLES STRAUTZ

Charlie is one of the more famous athletes of the school. We hear that he has won so many letters that you can't see the walls of his room where he has put them up.

At any rate, the all around star was born in Grand Rapids, April 25, 1918. He was only a year old when he came here and are we glad!

Chuck was class president as a sophomore and is senior alderman to the student council.

He's been on the basketball team one year, was manager one year, a football champ four years, and the Lord High King of shot put for four years. He's got a reputation as a one-man track team and his casual habit of breaking shot put records amazes every one.

But, Chuck doesn't stop at being a sports hero.

He was in the junior play last year and was the hero in "Little Miss Fanny". He sings as Chuck could never sing and has the part of the bad, bold captain in "H. M. S. Pinafore."

And what does Chuck like? Sports, of course, and horse back riding.

He wants to be an engineer and will be a student of Michigan State.

RITA SPRENGER

Rita is our prize reader and writer. You probably all know of the trip to Alaska she won on the strength of an essay she entered in a contest. What you probably don't know is that she was born on a farm near Romulus and went to school there through the third grade and then came here.

She's been in the junior girls' glee club and was in the junior play. She had the part of the Irish maid, and every time she would use that brogue the audience would perish in delight. She rehearsed for the senior play and then a week before it was put on, she became ill and was forced to withdraw from the cast.

Rita likes all sports, loves to read and loves to write.

BIOLOGY CLASSES MAKING PLANS FOR ANNUAL FIELD TRIP

The three sections of Miss Ludwig's biology classes are making plans for their annual field trip.

The first hour class intends to take its trip in the morning and have a picnic breakfast.

The sixth hour class is having its picnic and field trip this afternoon. And last but not least, the ninth hour class is having its picnic supper and field trip in the evening.

SENIOR CLASS NIGHT JUNE 16 AT SCHOOL

Class night for the seniors will be held on the night of June 16, in the high school gymnasium if an amplifying system can be secured. Other use it will be in the high school auditorium as in previous years.

Paul Beard, class night chairman, reported that the stage will be decorated as a music shop and the program will be presented in coordination with it.

The teachers in charge of class night are: Miss Dorcas Corbin and Miss Geraldine Huff, co-chairman; Ted Watts and Miss Gladys Ludwig.

The program is as follows: Master of ceremony, Robert Angove; president's address, Roland Morris; historian, Frances Alexander; producer, Irene Modos; glee, Jack Subenroll and Frances McLoughlin; will, Ida Altmann; superlatives, Paul Beard; songs, Charles Strautz.

Members of the class will be dressed informally for this event.

DID YOU NOTICE

A group of senior girls went swimming Friday and really proved their ability as snake killers. They heartily murdered a water snake and then returned to the Alma Mater feeling of their "Don't Run When You See a Snake" motto.

Hattie B. and Alvin B. are wanting about a bet? Could he be released another arrow.

Our faithful Thelma J. Humphrey, about Tuesday's "Three Sates" were filled with making machine oil.

The center of the window's faces when this day's system was given out. The original day was once more observed.

The concerned look upon Jack Juppel's face Friday when the "com on class" were that the pythia and its symptoms? Jack cautiously touched his teeth after class to see if they were there.

The bronze tint to Ted Gregory's and Paul Beard's faces Friday? They staged an attack upon the fish in Harold River.

How a certain group of senior girls adore lollipops? Especially when you eat them in a theatre.

WORLD HISTORY CLASS MAKING NOTE BOOKS

The world history classes, under the direction of Mrs. Hawley C. Cobb, have been making notebooks illustrating the travel and customs of the eighteenth century.

Very neat and interesting books were turned in by Jean Anderson, Margaret Garden, Helen Van Sickle, Margaret Nagy, Kathleen Sprenger, Irene Kaluzny and Gwendolyn Jones.

Attractive posters advertising eighteenth century books were made by Claude Hinckman, Sam Alcea, Lillian Pytt, Margaret Nagy and Marjorie O'Neil.

N. H. S. TRIUMPH OVER TRENTON

Northville Baseball Team Wins Third Game by Score of 3-2

With two victories and no losses under their belts, our Wattsmen took the field to defeat the strong Trenton team which they conquered last year by the same score of 3-2.

The game was, as the score indicates, a hard fought pitchers' battle, with Hochkins of Northville beating Blaney of Trenton.

In the fourth inning, Trenton bunched three hits for one run. In the fifth, Northville bunched right field and had a run, but it was for them by three consecutive errors.

These errors remained tied at one-all at the end of the regulation seven innings. The fracas continued into an extra inning.

In the eighth, Trenton, on an error, a hit and a base on balls, pushed another counter across. And that was the darkest hour before dawn. For should Northville fail to score in their half of the inning, the game would go to Trenton.

Then came the dawn and the Northville nine hit at the Trenton pitcher upper for two runs and a case of balls to score two runs and the game was over.

The hit that drove in the tying and winning runs was delivered by Skip Hochkins, who pitched a snarl ball game. His supporting cast of Westphal (spelled with two "l's"), Hardisty, Way, Hanson, Turnbull, Trotter, Hines and Giles must not be left out either for they all certainly played a great game.

Final summary:

Northville—3 runs, 4 hits and 3 errors.

Trenton—2 runs, 8 hits and 5 errors.

OLD FAITHFUL

Comes Indoors

Old Faithful, the geyser that has built up quite a reputation out West for dependability, moves indoors with the introduction of a new hot water service now provided electrically for the home. This new service surpasses anything ever before achieved in a constant supply of hot water. At any minute of the night or day, you need only turn a faucet, and you have hot water always on tap. Summer and winter, year in and year out, hot water is provided AUTOMATICALLY without attention.

Most people do not realize to what extent the liberal use of hot water can add to the efficiency of home-making. Here are a few hints on how to make your housework easier and pleasanter:

Rinsing dishes with very hot water, and then letting them stand until dry, actually leaves them cleaner than wiping them with an ordinary dish towel. ★ ★ Certain fresh fruit stains can be effectively removed from table linen by stretching it in embroidery hoops and holding it under the running faucet. ★ ★ Stains from coffee, tea, and various fruits yield readily to hot water. ★ ★ When you wash windows, mirrors or glassware, add a little starch to the hot water. Starch helps to remove the dirt, and gives the glass a brighter polish.

Stop in at any Detroit Edison office and let us give you complete information—without obligation—on electric water heating.
