MILLER SAYS JAPANESE WAR IS CERTAINLY

Rotarian Speaker Strongly
Stresses Need for Army
And Navy Armaments

It is the belief of Col. H. W. Miller of the University of Michigan college of engineering who spoke to members of the Rotary club Tuesday noon, that a conflict with Japan is inevitable and that the desperation of the Japanese people will force it. The army and navy are convinced of it and so are the best informed statement.

Throughout Mr. Miller's talk, he stressed the need of armament for national defense. In developing his point, he stated that one disconcerting and truly dangerous quality of an astonishing number of Americans is their credulity. "We love to believe in miracles—the pot of gold at the root of the rainbow and we are willing to gamble so much on its being there. We say with naive confidence we will find a substitute for coal and oil. We will derive a substitute for iron. We consider this disease. A moment's thought will likely convince you that this is a very common trait; achievements in the field of physics, chemistry and medicine have come so rapidly in the past 20 years as to breed this confidence in miracles, a certainty that prosperity must be around the corner, that no matter what the predicament, someone will find a solution. Two of the professions are called upon for most of these miracles. The two professions are engineering and medicine. The scientific branches of each are the miracle performers. In each case, we work and deal with the laws, of nature, forces and creatures of

DORIS SHINN HAS EXCITING CAPITAL TOUR

Ace Speller From Michigan
Is Fourth Contestant
Down in Bee

Doris Shinn, Michigan's 11-year-old entry in the twelfth annual National Spelling Bee, held Tuesday morning, was the fourth to go down. After her defeat, she was still able to smile; she admitted that she had never heard of "deteriorate," the word which tripped her.

The winner, Jean Trowbridge, 13, an eighth grader in the Stewart, Indiana, public school was awarded $500. Bruce Ackerman, 14, of Morton, Ill., was the runner-up and was given $300. Catherine Davis, 12, of Jeffersonville, Ind., placed third and won $100. The other 14 contestants, including Doris, were each given $50.

Doris has had an exciting week in the capital. Monday morning she visited the floor of the House of Representatives, following the adjournment, she sat in the chair of Speaker Joseph W. Byrns. The spelling bee from Plymouth, with her mother, Mrs. Thaddeus H. Shinn, were guests of Representative George A. Dondero who invited them to the House during noon where they were introduced to political leaders.

The officials and judges for the national contest included Dean George B. Woods, American University, chairman; Dr. H. E. Worrell, Hinsdale Junior High School, and Prof. H. P. Harding, George Washington University, pronouncers; Miss Eva G. Punkin, national education association; Rev. James S. Montgomery, chaplain of the House, and T. D. Martin, national education association, judges.

Death stalked into the Clinton Memorial Hospital, St. Johns, May 16, to claim a fifth victim, Forrest Sparks, 12, who was critically injured in the crash that killed four of his Carson City schoolmates, May 13, as they were returning from Junior Farmers Week at East Lansing.

Following is the interview given by G. E. Sparks, father of Forrest, immediately after the accident. He told the story to S. L. Marshall, editor of the Clinton County Republican News:

"I wish every boy and girl who drives recklessly could suffer as Forrest is suffering; for JUST ONE HOUR."

Forrest still suffers for days, weeks and months. If he lives he will be crippled for life.

"No, I am not bitter at young folks. I don't want you to think I'm cruel—but, if they could suffer as the torture Forrest is going through for JUST ONE HOUR, never again would they endanger their own lives and the lives of others."

For almost three years his mother and I have looked after him, mother for him—did everything we could to help him prepare himself for manhood.

"Now look. There he lies, with both legs broken and splintered. One ankle is literally crushed. There's a great cut on his head. The nurse says he is dead in one ear—probably due to concussion."

"We stopped to room No. 312. The

PREPARE FOR PAYMENT OF BONDS HERE

Registered Letters to Be Delivered by Carriers
June 16, 17

Postmaster Fred E. Vanatta announced this week that the Adjusted Service Bonds will be mailed from Chicago, June 15, and will be ready for delivery in Northville, June 16 and 17.

The postmaster stated that regardless of the fact that registered letters containing the bonds may be addressed in care of a person in an institution, delivery shall be made to the addressee only. "There are about 100 patients at Maybury sanatorium who will have to sign personally for their bonds upon delivery," he said.

Mr. Vanatta is making arrangements to obtain an office or store space outside the post office, in which to have the bonds certified for payment.

Adjustable service bonds may be redeemed as soon as received by the veterans, although it is expected that a large number of the veterans will hold their bonds some time because of the fact that they pay three per cent interest.

Veterans who wish to cash their bonds must sign the request for payment on the back of the bonds in the presence of a certifying officer. Postmasters, assistants and inspectors in charge of post offices in the United States, including Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Samoa and the Virgin Islands are authorized to act as certifying officers. Certifying officers will be held responsible for positive identification of the person requesting payment at the one whose name appears on the face of the bond. If the veteran is personally known to the postmaster or designated employee, witnesses are not necessary.

Following the sale of poppies Saturday by the legion and auxiliary, the first Memorial week service was conducted Sunday evening in the Our Lady of Victory church. Members of the Lloyd H. Green post and auxiliary, members of the British parliament and prominent English road builder, after completion of a 14-mile tour of the county's roads with a party of prominent English road builders, engineers and manufacturers Monday, May 25.

Edward N. Fines, Wayne County commissioner, was host to the party which included H. M. F. Riddish, cement and theatre magnate; Mr. R. A. B. Smith, road builder; Harold Anderson, head of a construction company, and former member of the legislature; Mr. C. C. Goss, former state senator; Mr. N. C. Dobson, and A. V. Clegg, former team racing champion, and now prominent in the cement industry.

The far-sighted American has been a leader in the road system. He closed "The roads of War" and they are not only finer but they are better built for the future. Even your more modest efforts ahead for improved roads and bridges will be appreciated.

Reporting for duty this week are Harper Brink, Ray W. Leibert, L. C. Gissel, Frank Enroy, Ray Scott, Barry Bolton, U.S.A. Three coats of paint before the cutting and rolling machines.

The business was dissolved by John Simons, Charles Murphy, Louis Sherman, Charles Murphy, Charles Schulz, Russell Anderson, Darrel Nolar and Orville G. Oster.

The men will work again Tuesday evening.

THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE
This is station GOLF speaking. Do not present the children with gol- ing outfit for playthings. I have known a good many people who are sure would have enjoyed taking a swing at me, but were kind enough not to do so, but when a member of your own family decides to make a "cleaning" you are at a great disadvantage—you just can not fight back. A week in the hospital will be a great debt of gratitude.

Dead do they say? That cannot be. When the earth is cooled in all its loneliness in lead and garnet, they are enjoying the fullness of life in the garden of the flowers.

It is with profound sadness that Northville people approach another Memorial Day. During the past year the Great Reaper has gathered a rich harvest among our people and during recent years the hand of death has touched many of our outstanding citizens. Their passing has left a void in our community life that time can only heal.

So, as a community, Northville joins in the proper observance of this hallowed day. It is a time when memories are awakened, when love is quickened, and when we all turn to the Giver of all life for consolation and inspiration. Upon this occasion we may well assemble in memory of the men and women who by faithful service in our community have earned a place in our hearts.

Most stores in the village will close all day Saturday for the observance of Memorial Day. Several grocery stores will be open for business until 10 p.m. Friday to accommodate customers. They will not close until Saturday noon. The post office, bank and record office will be closed all day Saturday.

CIVIL SERVICE FOR MICHIGAN

A bill will probably come before the next session of the Michigan legislature, providing for a civil service system for state employees. We are for it. The law, if it is made such, will not be perfect but it certainly will be better than the present spoils system which has been in use at Lansing.

WHO IS TO BLAME FOR THIS?

One of the really alarming signs of the times is the way that men of shady repute are able to win their way in the political field.

At the democratic state convention at Grand Rapids last week, one of the delegates elected to the national convention at Cleveland was State Senator Anthony J. Wilkowsky, who was convicted recently on the charge of helping to steal an election at Detroit. Unless he wins his appeal to a higher court he will go to jail, as well as to the big convention in June.

Who is to blame for this type of man being given this high honor? Is it any wonder that people despair of our political situation when men like Wilkowsky can sneer at the law and be honored at the same time.

Can it be that this man is thus honored because he controls a large racial bloc of votes in Hamtramck?

RE-ELECT THEM ON THEIR RECORD

We are in for a "red hot" campaign in both Michigan and the nation next fall. Why not make a high resolve right now, while you are not in the throes of election excitement that you will try to elect men on their records—if any?

On the national ticket, it looks right now like Roosevelt vs. Landon. The labels democrat and republican should not mean a great deal in November for there are many people, including a host of democrats, who say that President Roosevelt is not a democrat but more of a socialist. Both our president and the Kansas governor have records—plenty of them even if Jim Farley did start at Kansas for being "a typical prairie stat." Both have done certain things to indicate their ideas of how to run your government. As Al Smith says: "Let's look at the record." Are we for the New Deal or for the Kansas economy (in case Mr. Landon wins the nomination)?

This is going to be the greatest election year in history to think for yourself.

WHOM ARE WE TO DISLIKE?

The world's work is done by imperfect people. The work here in Northville and its environs is done by imperfect folks. Yet in our criticism of people we sometimes forget this. We expect too much of men and women who are just like ourselves—pretty weak clay.

A group of people can hardly get together anywhere—here in Northville or elsewhere—without some one coming in for criticism, harsh or semi-harsh. And at times it is perfectly all right to criticize. But the finest way to enjoy life is to recognize our own weakness and that of the other person and then go ahead in a spirit of good will that will overlook some of the weak spots of our friends and neighbors. A good teacher does not see a lot of things in the school room and a good citizen should learn to overlook his friend's weakness.

WHO WERE THE FOUR DRIVERS?

Are five out of every 19 drivers in Northville potential killers?

Last week's Northville Record told of a check that was made of motorists at the corner of Main and Rogers streets. During just one hour that people were watched at the stop signs (there are two of them on this corner) five drivers observed the law by stopping completely; ten partly observed it by slowing down; and four defied the law and endangered human lives. These four, says the article in the Record: "Raced through at a speed between 45 and 60 miles an hour."

Those figures should stagger you. They startled the writer for he remembers how, last summer, he might easily have met death at this very corner where the check was made. It was a Sunday morning and we approached the corner on Main street, from downtown. We were about to make the turn south on Rogers, at a speed of probably 15 or 20 miles an hour, when a green car, driven by a young man, literally thundered by from the north at a speed of certainly not less than 50 miles an hour. Had we not slammed on the brakes with all the power in our physical frame, no power on earth could have prevented our car being terribly smashed and its driver killed or badly hurt. Had this happened, what would have been the life long remorse of the young man who drove by a sign at an awful speed?

Go out some day for an hour and make your own check to see for yourself what terrible chances some of our automobile drivers are taking. At a speed of 45 miles an hour, it takes only 10 seconds to cover a distance of just over one mile. At 60 miles an hour, it takes only 8 seconds to cover the same distance. At 70 miles an hour, it takes only 6 seconds to cover the same distance. At 80 miles an hour, it takes only 5 seconds to cover the same distance. WILL PARKING METERS COME TO TOWN?

Two years ago, if anyone had told you that you would have to pay five cents to park your car on the streets in certain sections of certain cities, you would have thought that it was a "nut" idea.

Yet the "parking meter" is now with us and being adopted by quite a number of cities. Here is how it works: You drop in your nickel—or whatever charge is set—and you are allowed to stay an hour—or whatever time is allowed—in your own parking section which is marked off so that no one can crowd in on you. The meter works like a clock and indicates just how much time is left on the parking period for which you have paid. At the end of the period a hand flashes up and the officer happening along knows that your time is up. If you wish to stay another hour, fork over another nickel.

It can be seen that this meter plan will forbid parking of cars in choice spots for any great length of time.

Northville has a real parking problem. Cars are on our business streets in considerable numbers almost any time of the day and early evening. Through the generosity of Phil H. Grennan and the progressive action of our village council, a public parking lot has been provided on the southwest corner of Main and Center streets. This will help greatly. Yet at times this lot will be full and our business sections will still be crowded. It might be that a section could be allotted to folks who are willing to pay five cents for parking. Who would dare say that the parking meter would not come to Northville within the next five years?

In the meantime, help yourself to the parking lot. It is very conveniently located and there is no charge. Drive in from either Main or Center street.

The FAMILY ROMANCE

By MRS. L. E. WARNER

Sexual Consultant

Dear Mrs. Warner: Mine is a business problem. My husband used to work in a factory but a short time after we were married we decided he would be better off in business. I put my salary into the home in order to help him start. After eight years he was able to save a small sum and then he decided he was working too hard and insisted upon selling his business with nothing else in view. This was during the depression. For two years he did nothing, lost most of his money in an investment and lived up the rest of it. I used all my savings to keep the home together. I struggled along and finally started another business. Now that he is doing fairly well he insists upon selling out again with nothing else in view. I don't want to begin again. I want a little security. I show him a budget but he won't listen. If I try to talk things over with him he has a tantrum. Our marriage was mostly a business proposition. And now no matter what time of day it is business takes up the conversation. He won't even listen to small talk. What can we do if he sells now with conditions as they are, E. S.

Novel Sandwich Suggestions

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Editor, THE FOOD MART

BUSY HOMEMAKERS are always on the lookout for brand new sandwich suggestions. They well know how convenient and practical sandwiches are for the innumerable occasions when good food is the order of the day. Because sandwiches can be prepared so quickly and easily with such variety in form and filling, they hold an increasingly important place in our national bill of fare. The sandwich has grown in popularity until it pervades almost every sort of menu: lunches, suppers, after school picnics, midnight snacks, picnics, parties and teas. With so many uses the demand for variety is high, hence every homemaker will welcome these grand new recipes to add to her collection of old favorites:

Bean and Dried Beef Sandwiches—Use 1 medium can Oven-Baked Beans, Vegetarian Style and 1 lb. Chipped beef. Mash Beans with a fork. Brown slices of dried beef in butter. Cover slices of white or whole wheat bread with beef then spread with Beans. Top layers of Beans with beef, cover with second slices of bread. Cut in halves and serve with Cross Cut Sweet Pickles.

Meat Chicken Salad Sandwiches—Mix 1 cup coarsely ground cooked pork or veal, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped raw carrot, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped celery, 2 tablespoons India Relish.

Scrambled Egg and Beef Sandwiches—Melt 2 tablespoons butter, add 4 tablespoons flour and blend thoroughly. Add 1 medium can Cream of Tomato Soup and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 cup grated American cheese (sharp cheese) and continue heating until cheese is melted. Serve over sandwiches prepared as follows:

Place scrambled eggs between 2 slices of buttered toast. Top with dried beef and a third slice of buttered toast. Garnish with Preserved Sweet Pickles and Spanish Queen Olives placed on a little mound of watercress.

Apple Butter Cream Cheese and Nut Sandwiches—Combine 1 package cream cheese with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped walnuts or pecans and spread this on bread with this filling.

Cover with slices of bread spread with Apple Butter. Shape attractively and serve with fruit salads and spread half of the filling with tea.

so far as your family life is concerned and try to rearrange your marriage upon a less material basis. Perhaps your husband would be more contented in his ventures if you dropped out of the affairs altogether and let him run them himself. There is in your life a suggestion of domination but there, which no husband likes? Since you want to work, wish it easier for you to continue as an employed woman than to do all your time and energy to the home, try to get something to do which will take you entirely out of his line of interest.

Finally I should like to say, attempting to devolve in the man a desire to play a little as he goes along. If he were not held so closely to his business duties, if he did not eat, sleep, and walk with them the chances are that he would not become so tired of his work that he would sell out. It seems that his chief concern is to get away from the care and the anxiety which his affairs involve, to escape from everything that causes him strain and worry, to free himself at almost any cost from the everyday duties which have sprung up about him. It is as if he were running away from responsibility.

If this selling out is a final escape from business cares it might perhaps be averted by proving for the man an occasional temporary escape as the days go by. Men and women differ somewhat in their ability to carry a prolonged anxiety. Women keep at their work sometimes deliberately sometimes feverishly without relief but men either escape or break under this sort of strain.

Better make over your home, make of the house a place to live. You don't know it but you need to play a little, too. Go to a show once a week, go to an occasional dance, have friends in for a little dinner party now and then. Otherwise let your husband go back to carefree days when he punched the clock and called it a day when he checked out at night.

Ladies accompanied with self-addressed, stamped envelope answered personally.

Christian Science Churches

Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alas, McAvoy and Hypnotism, Document, will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world Sunday, May 31.

Among the 1936 citations is this (Isaac, I&R-12) "And when they shall say unto you, 'Sick unto death,' have no fear for it, for they are not dead, but sleep. And when they shall say unto you, 'Sleep until the time have come,' and that mother should say, 'A people sleep in me,' then say, 'They are not dead, but sleep.'"

Curiously, it pertains to be read in the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 422): "The gifts of immortal mind, which man and they annihilate the fictions of mortal mind, where there is no room for pretensions, like split wood, sow their own wings and fall into dust."

BOY MEETS GIRL

PLAYING AT CASS

"Boy Meets Girl," the mighty stage comedy which is on the lips of nearly everybody in the English-speaking world, will come to the Cass theatre, Detroit, for a limited engagement, beginning Sunday, May 31, with matines Wednesday and Saturday. This rip-roaring play has enjoyed extraordinary success concurrently in New York, Chicago and London. The cast coming to Detroit is the original Chicago company which has just completed a spectacular run of four months at the Selwyn theatre in the Lake City. Main orders are being accepted at the Cass.

"Boy Meets Girl" by Bella and Samuel Spearow, produced and staged by George Abbott, who is also the co-author and director of "Three Men on a Horse," has the distinction of being the funniest, fastest and finest laugh-maker of the past ten years. It is the only prize comedy of the season.

Three great prizes are coveted in the theatre: the Pulitzer prize, The New York Critics' Circle award, and the Dramatists Guild award, known as the Roy Cooper Memorial prize for the comedy that sends the audience home in the happiest frame of mind. These honors for the current season have been awarded, respectively, to "Idiot's Delight," "Winter's Eve" and "Boy Meets Girl." The Dramatists' Guild prize is the hardest of all to win because it comprises the thirty members of the Dramatists' Council with the chance of each member having his own baby in this Comedy.

Charles agreed that "Boy Meets Girl" takes Hollywood for its running ribbing. The play recounts at high speed and with fine satirical fan the tale of two mad playwrights in Hollywood who upstaged a cartoon star by making him play with a happy baby star.

The cast of all-star proportions are Eric Dressler and Harold Verkuyl, the two harum-scarum playwrights, illustrate just how excellent let's-able brains to work to throw new material into familiar mold. Paul Walker as the naive wife, mother of the baby star, wins the "on" of a British Earl, Noel Blake, in the man's extra.

The evening ticket are $2.75 and $2.20 at the lower door and $2 to $1.65 in the balcony. Wednesday and Saturday matinees $50 to $1.65. These prices include the tax.

Rubinoff Holds World Record for Broadcasting

Rubinoff and his wife, and Chevrolet—are a combination that few, if any, radio listeners in the United States have received in their homes via the air. The famous violinist and his Stradivarius, stars of the Chevrolet Musical Moments programs, have the distinction of going on the air from more broadcasting stations than any other program in the history of radio. Three hundred and seventy-eight stations broadcast Rubinoff three times a week, a total of 1,345 fifteen minute programs. That figures out at 255 hours, and if one week's programs were broadcast once after the other, day and night, it would require 11 days. The illustration shows Rubinoff, carrying his precious violin, posing with his car after a special appearance at Detroit.

Henry, Edsel Ford and Group of Britishers Watch 3,000,000th V-8 Ford Come off Final Assembly Line

The 3,000,000th V-8 Ford came off the famous final assembly line at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company Tuesday morning under the eyes of Henry Ford and Edsel Ford and a group of British cement manufacturers headed by Viscount Wolmer.

The car, which marks another milestone in Ford production, was immediately driven to the new Ford Rotunda after it had been inspected by the Fords and their guests. There it will remain on display for a few days after which it will be started overland to Dallas for exhibition during the summer in the Ford Exposition building at the Texas Centennial Exposition.

The 3,000,000th V-8 unit was the one-millionth Ford to be built since June 19, 1926, a year less 18 days. Its production was halted by Ford executives as further public justification of the new principles of motor car engineering introduced when the V-8 Ford was first presented to the public four years ago. It added one more unit to the more than 24,000,000 Fords which have been built since the Ford Motor Company was established June 16, 1903. The 25,000,000th Ford will be built early in 1937.

The first V-8 Ford was produced March 9, 1932. It was the first motor car below the expensive five-car field to be powered with a V-type engine. The 1,000,000th V-8 Ford was built June 19, 1934, and driven that afternoon to Chicago where it was at once placed on exhibition in the Ford Exposition building at the World's Fair.

The 2,000,000th V-8 Ford, manufactured last June was driven to San Diego where it was on display

OFFICE PRACTICING CLASS VISITS CLEARY

The office practice class consisting of fifteen girls, under the instruction of Mrs. Jack Taylor, visited Cleary College Thursday, May 28, in the afternoon.

The girls visited class rooms and attended classes while in session. They observed the methods of teaching and working applied in the college.

Mrs. Cleary gave the girls a very interesting and valuable speech on business courses and secretarial work in general. He gave the girls some excellent points on getting a position and holding one.

The students felt the trip was very instructive and feel they received some useful information.

This is the second visit of the office practice class of Northville to Cleary college. Last year ten girls went.

PALLADIUM TO BE OUT FIRST OF JUNE

The Palladium staff met with a representative of the Edwards' Lithographing Company of Ann Arbor last week to make final arrangements for the publication of its annual. Although the entire book is being made up by the students themselves, the staff agrees that it will be well worth the effort. The process used is a much cheaper one and hence will make the book available to many more people.

Mary Jane Gregory and Lucile Simmons have begun the special typing necessary for the book and the various committees are working diligently on the different departments. The book will contain the usual material regarding the senior class, pictures and write-ups about the athletic teams, the class pictures and several novel ideas. Leslie G. Lee, faculty advisor, is devoting much of his time to this book which requires much hard work.

Orders are still being taken for the Palladium and it is planned that it will be on sale about a week before the first of June.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Mr. Lee and the opera cast deserve much praise for the fine opera put on for the high school and townspeople. It must be remembered that "H. M. S. Pinafore" was a light opera that is classified as one of the most difficult to put on in a school.

Many hard and long hours were put forth in effort to make the opera a success, and it is quite evident the hours of practice put in were not in vain. Many of the music students gained experience in the line of acting besides singing that will prove invaluable to them in future years.

The members of the cast were well chosen and took their parts in a versatile manner. It is to be remembered that our high school has a social stage which is a handicap to the performers, but the actors made the best of this fact, and put on such a fine performance that this was a small factor.

Again

Mr. Lee draws the curtain on another musical program that has helped in entertaining the music loving people of Northville, and made the ones who are not interested in music and do not appreciate it, realize the true meaning of good music.

C. Westphall has a worried look upon his brow already. It seems he has explained just what the mayor's duties are, and C. has decided that he is building up to an awful let down.

Have you noticed the smug smiles on the trig students' faces? It seems they are getting pretty good and their teacher thinks so, too.

They gaze at everything from a wall to a potato chip. They claim they can measure everything, just everything.

DID YOU NOTICE

THE OBSERVER

How calm the candidates for our student council election were? They should have generously distributed candies and candy among their fellow students.

The members of the economics class with that important air about them? They're studying stocks and bonds now. Wall Street—perhaps some day.

The amazing number of seniors who volunteered to take care of the ballots seen'd hour Friday? It's always a lark to skip classes especially when there is plenty of make-up work to do.

The despondent look upon the chemistry students' faces? They are studying unknowns and to them they remain unknowns.

R. H. Monday? Being locked in a room the entire noon hour is not a picnic.

Senior girls looking worried? Only a few more weeks to get their graduation dress creations completed.

Seniors Who's Who

JACK STUBENVOIL

"Stubby" was born in Detroit, Oct. 11, 1918. He came here and has been faithfully pursuing his studies ever since.

He was on the baseball team his first year.

His record as an actor is a long one, junior, senior plays, "Pinafore," "Iolanthe" and "Sun Up." In all of these he delighted the audience. Jack likes to swim and play baseball.

He wants to be a forester and his choice for college is Michigan State.

HERMAN TOUSSAINT

The Enrico Caruso of the school was born at Rochester, Aug. 28, 1913. At the tender age of one, Herman came here.

He's been on the football and baseball teams but is better known as a Trespan. He was in both the junior and senior plays, was in "Iolanthe" and this last week sang the role of Ralph in "H. M. S. Pinafore."

Herman likes to hunt (little things) to dance with, and well—just everything.

He wants to go to college, and will be a chemical engineer.

Can You Imagine?

"H. M. S. PINAFORE"

DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

To be defeated for the first time this season and by an old rival is a rather sour dose to swallow, but fellow followers of the Northville nine, don't chew off all your finger nails or pull out all your hair for it wasn't a tongue game and we're still undefeated in the league race.

Rather than win this game, Coach Watts, that sly and wily pilot of N. H. S. decided to attempt to win the league game the next day instead. So Way was selected for round duty, partly because Pitcher Skipper Hochkins needed rest and partly because he's a pretty good heaven. He demonstrated his ability to pitch by striking out ten Plymouth batters, which is so bad all in itself.

Plymouth got away to a 1-0 lead in the first but was unable to keep very long as P. H. S. pushed three men around the paths in the third.

Although in the last half of the same frame Northville countered again, making the score at the end of the inning 3-2, Plymouth leading.

No more scoring was done until the seventh. For after both pitchers got away to poor starts they tightened as the game progressed.

In the seventh, Plymouth practically put the game on ice as they swung their shillelaghs to produce four more runs.

Northville came up for their turn in the seventh facing a five-run deficit and could produce but one marker and so the contest went to Plymout.

Trunks, the P. H. S. hurler has the Indian sign on the local badge as he allowed them only three hits while Way allowed six.

The final score:

Plymouth—7 runs, 6 hits and 2 errors

Northville—3 runs, 3 hits and 4 errors

THE LINEUPS

Northville: Bishop, Himes, Turnbull, Westphall, Hailey, Way, Trotter.
Plymouth: SS, 2B, 3B, CP, C, 1B, LF, RP, Substitutions: Northville, L. G. Lee.

Giles, Martin, Zierig, Hinden, Bleasby, Krumm, Trutta, Gordon, Blomquist, Northville, L. G. Lee for Trotter.

Plymouth: Schafe for Blomquist, and Wilke for Hudson.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT IS POSSIBILITY HERE

By NANCY MCLOUGHLIN And IRENE MODOS

We bring before the student body a new and interesting proposition and hope to set results favoring it.

With the six run lead which his team mates provided for him, Pitcher Skipper Hochkins went out to pitch the last half of the seventh inning with renewed confidence. He got rid of the Union's before they could get a runner around the paths, and so the game ended.

The final score:

Northville—3 runs, 8 hits and no errors.

N. H. S. DEFEATS REDFORD UNION

Hochkins Pitches Winning Game With Score of 8 to 2

In one of the most exciting contests thus far in the current baseball season, Northville, with a last inning spurt in which seven counters were pushed across, conquered Redford Union on their home diamond by a score of 8 to 2.

After getting away with a one run lead in the first inning, which was later nullified by Redford in the second, as they pushed a runner around the circuit, making the score at the end of inning number two, tied at once and once.

The Northville pitcher, Skipper Hochkins, tightened his supporting cast rallied and the opposition failed to score, at least for a while. But at the same time the Redford hurler and his helpers seemed to get together with the same idea and Northville could get nowhere at bat.

In the fifth the Redford Unionites came to bat with blood in their eyes. But as they whaled out two and scored a run, the blood, you might say, drained out as they scored no more during the fracas.

The Northville bats were still muted in the sixth as they placed runners on but failed in the attempt to "poach" them around. However, after the Union had been disposed of in the sixth, the N. H. S. attack functioned with great precision, producing along with remarkable results, seven runs. A pretty fair

CHARLES STRAUTZ PLACES THIRD IN STATE TRACK MEET

Charles Strautz competed in the State track meet at Grand Rapids, Saturday, May 23, taking third place by throwing the shot put 43 feet.

According to Coach Ted Watts, Charles should have placed first but he was handicapped. Charles was in the opera last night, and had to leave for Grand Rapids, Friday night after the opera, this did not allow him the proper rest needed.

Charles threw the shot put 46 feet twice, but failed both times and shot 43 feet to win third place.

In the regional track meet "Chuck" out shot the winner of the State meet by three feet.

Redford Union—2 runs, 11 hits and 3 errors.

LINELUPS

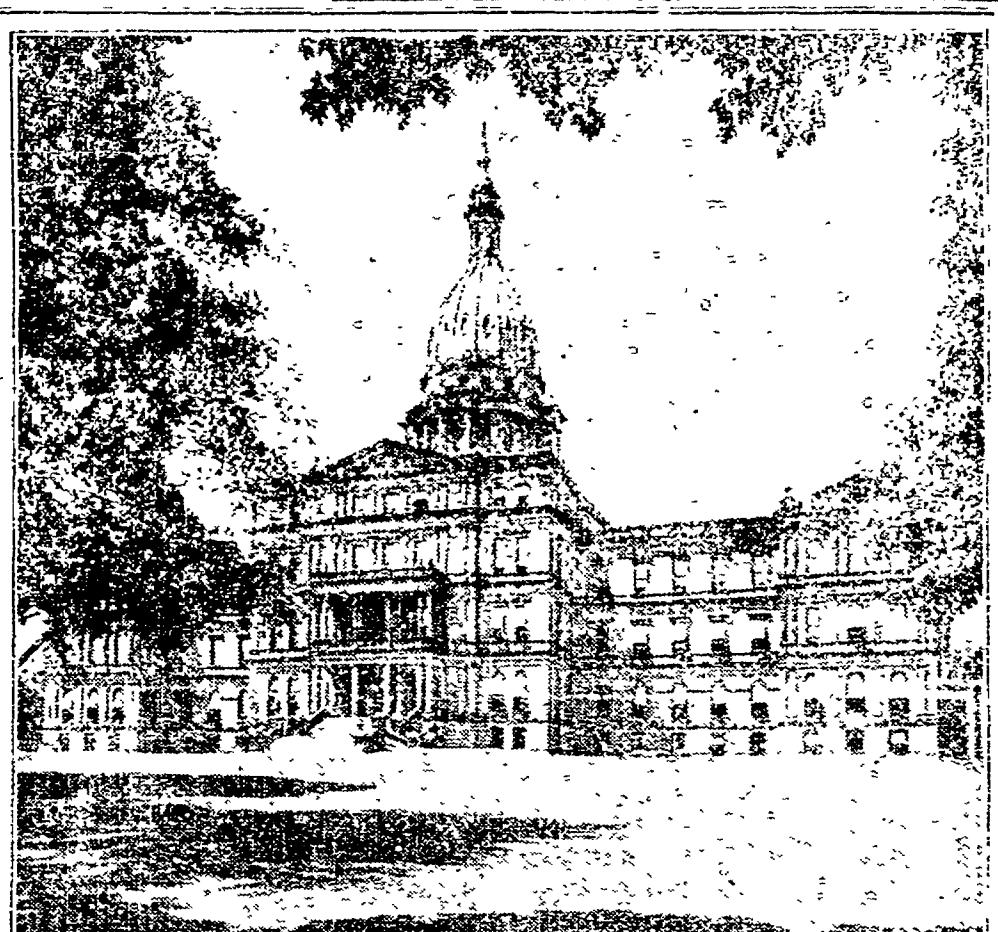

Northville: Bishop, Himes, Turnbull, Westphall, Hailey, Way, Trotter.
Redford Union: Fox, Morgan, Riffenberg, Lindberg, Clemens, Fitzgerald, House, Deleva.

Substitution: Redford—Harrison for Riffenberg.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE SIGHTS

IN Michigan?

To many people, the ideal vacation is one devoted to sightseeing. In order to enjoy themselves fully, such vacationists require three things: sights worth seeing; something to travel in; and good roads to get there.

Very few parts of the Union offer as much in these respects as the State of Michigan. Here are many spots well worth visiting—historic buildings and grounds, interesting cities, and open country of unsurpassed scenic beauty.

The journey itself becomes a separate pleasure, a real addition to the joys of vacation. Splendid highways, fine lake liners, trains, buses, planes—all these means of transportation, comfortable and economical, stand at the service of those who are planning to see the sights.

Have you considered Michigan for your own sightseeing? Have you told your out-of-State friends of the exceptional advantages here? If so, you have done them a favor—and promoted good will for the Wolverine State.

As our part in such promotion, this series of advertisements is being published throughout the State of Michigan by an organization that can prosper only as the other citizens
