FOUR GIRLS ARE INJURED IN CAR CRASH

Plymouth Driver Will Be Charged With Reckless Or Drunken Driving

Tragedy stalked into Northville in which five young persons were injured, two critically, when an automobile in which they were riding left the road and crashed into a tree in a race with another car on Grand River road, a mile and a half east of New Hudson.

Evelyn Raymond is believed to be suffering from the most severe wounds. A scalp wound, a deep cut on her left arm, with a possibility of a fractured skull and internal injuries, make her condition critical.

Reported a nurse from the Sessions hospital where she and three of her friends were taken after the wreck.

Evelyn is a junior in the Northville high school and the 16-year-old daughter of John Raymond, 542 Rouge street.

Betty Melow has several fractured ribs and probable internal injuries. Her condition is also reported grave; she is confined at the Sessions hospital. Betty, age 15, is a freshman in the local school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Melow, 616 Oakland Drive.

Two other girls in the accident were Margaret Williams, 16, 616 Oakland Drive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Williams; and Serlyn Preston, 16, 535 Orchard Drive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Preston. Both of these girls received treatment for minor cuts and bruises at the hospital and then were released. Neither of these girls are enrolled in school here at the present time.

Fred Thompson, 20, driver of the car, 945 North Mill street, Plymouth, was treated here for first aid and then sent to his home.

The young people riding with Thompson were returning from the Plymouth high school picnic held Wednesday at Island Lake. According to the Oakland county sheriff's deputies, Thompson was racing with Gordon Hartford, 18, 622 North Harvard street, Plymouth.

Hartford has been taken to the Oakland county jail at Pontiac, charged with reckless driving. Deputies say that Thompson is to be charged with either reckless or drunk driving. It is reported that several empty beer bottles were found in Thompson's car.

NEAL WATCHES G.O.P. WHEELS IN ACTION

By FRED WARNER NEAL

The real contention that nominated Alfred M. Landon and Frank Knox as the republican party's standard bearers for 1936 was not held in Public Auditorium, Cleveland. It was held in the hotels Statler, Cleveland, and Hopelands.

For the average delegate, the convention, with the exception of the wild, hilarious demonstrations following the Hoover speech and the nomination speech of John Hamilton, Landon's campaign manager, must have been a rather drab affair. He did not know what was taking place most of the time, and he had no say in any of the proceedings. It was all done for him behind closed hotel doors, in the Statler, where Vandenberg had his headquarters, in the Hollenden where Landon headquarters were and in the Cleveland, where Borah, Hoover and Knox stayed.

From the platform down through the nomination for president to the nomination for vice president, the whole show was worked out by the powers that be—a tribute to Hamilton, whom Arthur Krook, New York Times political expert, terms the "coming politician of the age."

The clash in the polishing committee was between three factions: At one end, the Old Guard—David Reed of Pennsylvania, Hiram Burroughs of Connecticut, Rep. Bertrand Snell of New York, permanent chairman of the convention; George Moses of New Hampshire, Charles Hilles of New York, and others; at the other end, the Landon men—Hamilton of Kansas, Herman Longworth of Missouri, chairman of the resolutions committee; William Allen White of Kansas, and others.

RE-REGISTRATION REQUIRED BEFORE NEXT ELECTION

The revised election laws of Michigan provide that beginning with the year 1932 a general re-registration of all qualified voters must take place every four years. That means that all voters of the state must re-register to be entitled to vote at the approaching primary and general election this fall. All persons desiring to be registered must apply in person to the clerk of their township and applications can be made at any time during June, July and August.

This is a very important matter, coming as it does, in the year of a general state and national election, and every voter should see to it that he is properly registered. Should he fail to do so he cannot vote.

LOCAL YOUTHS GET MICHIGAN STATE DEGREES

Citizens Witness Conferring Of Honorary Title Upon Henry Ford

Two Northville boys, Elmer Gene Perrin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perrin, and Herbert Berendt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Berendt, were among the graduates who received degrees at the exercises held Monday at the Michigan State College in East Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Berendt, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parment and daughter, Miss Esther, Mr. and Mrs. Al Berendt of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Perrin and daughter, Kathryn Ann, and Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell attended the commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hewitt were also present for the graduation Monday, when their grandson, Joe Hewitt of Kalamazoo received his diploma from the department of engineering. It was given his commission as second lieutenant of the R. G. T. C. Joe will attend Carpenstrand during the next two weeks.

A highlight of the commencement exercises this year was the conferring of an honorary degree of doctor of engineering upon Henry Ford. President Robert S. Shaw presided at this ceremony. In his citation in connection with the conferring of the degree Dr. Shaw paid a fine tribute to the eminent manufacturer. Addressing Mr. Ford he said:

"Mr. Ford, your achievements in engineering, industry and finance are so well known throughout all civilized countries of the world that there is no need to recount them

FORMER VILLAGE RESIDENT DIES IN DAUGHTER'S HOME

Mrs. Ida Joslin, a former resident of Northville, died June 12 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. R. Ball in Redondo Beach, Calif., after a year's illness.

In answer to a question on what she thought of Landon as a presidential candidate, Snow replied: "I feel this way, although Landon is not well known, his record in public office has been outstanding. Kansas is the only state where officials are selected on the merit system; he has balanced the budget; he renews the necessity for a sound money system. He's undoubtedly the man for now. A man that's such a staunch follower of Abraham Lincoln, must have the makings for a strong leader—one who can't be bought."

Dr. Snow said that the outstanding planks on the party's platform were the attempts to collect foreign debt; going back to the gold standard; the foreign policy of neutrality; and keeping the government out of business. "This business of paying a farmer not to grow wheat and not to raise pigs is a farce and is certainly not creating a sound basis upon which to realize prosperity," he affirmed.

Contrary to what is generally expected at such gatherings, Dr. Snow didn't feel that the whole program was cut and dried before it was presented.

In deference to their kinswoman the members of the family here in Northville held a service at the Presbyterian church at the hour of the funeral in the distant state. The Rev. H. G. Whitfield, pastor of the Presbyterian church of which Mrs. Joslin was a member, conducted the service.

SET LOW TAX ASSESSMENT FOR VILLAGE

Raise Valuation on Brewery Property After Complaint Is Filed

The lower rate for several years for the village tax assessment was approved Monday evening by members of the council, when Charles L. Blackburn, assessor, recommended that the figure be set at $18.82. Last year, the rate was reduced from $19.70 to $19.47.

A complaint filed by Attorney F. Cochran at the request of E. D. Girardot, acting for the owners of the property held in Harry Graham's name, was adjusted by councilmen. The petition stated that the property, which is to be used for a new ale brewery, was undervalued when the tax assessment was made. Commissioners found it advisable to increase Blackburn's valuation from $15,400 to $50,000. This increase will not affect the tax rate throughout the village.

In presenting the matter before the commissioners, Mr. Cochran stated that Mr. Girardot had informed him that there was only one other place in the United States where water had been found with qualities for ale blending that compared with the spring water on the local brewery site. The property was bought because of the water on the land. According to Mr. Cochran, the owners have placed the property value at $78,000.

Girardot has assured me that a $60,000 building is to go up on the former factory site. They will have a yearly payroll of $60,000 which will go to Northville men and be spent in Northville stores. They're more interested in paying taxes into the village on property accurately valued, than into the federal government," affirmed Mr. Cochran.

He further explained that Girardot had made it clear that Pennsylvania was the only place in America that could compete with the place that will come here. Even imported ale is not so good as that made in Pennsylvania or that which will be manufactured in Northville.

L. W. SNOW APPROVES LANDON-KNOX TICKET AS WISE PARTY MOVE

The one big factor, the keynote of the whole republican convention, was harmony," said Dr. L. W. Snow this week as he reviewed for the press some of the highlights of the activities which took place last week at Clark's Island.

Speaking twice, a packed house, Mr. Whitfield built his baccalaureate sermon around three major divisions: In developing his second point, he asked the members of the class to realize that within another ten years or so they would be the people upon whom the burdens of responsibility would rest. "You're building now for leadership-build well. Don't dodge life," he continued.

Stressing the importance of religion, in an individual life, he asked each senior to work out a philosophy of life that is satisfactory—one that is big enough to waste in that capacity."

Expressing himself on the Landon-Knox combination, Snow said that the ticket including these two men was good for the party. "Knox will take all the Great Lakes States—he'll control this whole section and Landon will, of course, control the west," he said.

In answer to a question on what he thought of Landon as a presidential candidate, Snow replied: "I feel this way, although Landon is not well known, his record in public office has been outstanding. Kansas is the only state where officials are selected on the merit system; he has balanced the budget; he renews the necessity for a sound money system. He's undoubtedly the man for now. Contrary to what is generally expected at such gatherings, Dr. Snow didn't feel that the whole program was cut and dried before it was presented.

The storm accompanied with a high wind and heavy rain the night of Hoover's speech, sent the boat in which Dr. and Mrs. Snow made the trip to Cleveland, out into Lake Erie. According to Dr. Snow, it took about an hour and a half to get to the boat. Since that early day, 24,000 cars and trucks made from wood are known throughout the

BONDS BRING STIMULATION TO BUSINESS

Documents Are Delivered Through Post Office On Arrival Here

With more than 100 veterans in possession of their adjusted bonus bonds, business houses in the village felt the power of increased purchasing ability here this week.

Postmaster Fred E. Vanatta reports that bonds are coming in daily and anticipates that before the end of the week, all the veterans in the Northville vicinity will have their bonds. By the middle of the week 78 veterans had taken their bonds to the Village Hall to be certified by Mr. Vanatta and the Assistant Postmaster D. J. Stark.

The first bond to be received in the village arrived Monday morning addressed to Edward Michael Behar, Jr. Later in the day 40 other bonds reached the local office. Commander of the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, Ray A. Althiberg, was the first veteran to sign for his bond.

A check-up on the pulse of business activity revealed that purchases were going forward rapidly on the strength of the bonds. Cash from this source is already in circulation in this territory.

"We've sold three or four cars to bond holders this week although we've made no effort to play up to the idea," said a leading car dealer of Northville.

Two merchant's selling men clothing have had a number of requests to "lay away" garments until the bonds have been cashed. This is also true of one of the hardware stores. The dealer says that many of his customers have bought coats and other articles, now that the money will be coming through.

Another hardware merchant says that there is a plenty of business here. "I've had orders for paint and other supplies for construction," he commented.

"Paint is valued at several hundred dollars and has been bought from the store by veterans," reported in the office of the board of education room No. 3, in the high school building.

Board members have advertised it is my opinion," said M. Stone, for estimates on the four proposals (Continued on page 68)

Set Deadline for June 29—Want Estimates on Four Proposals

Bids on four proposals will be accepted until June 29, by the Board of Education for the building of the new grade school at a cost not exceeding $10,000.

The deadline for receiving bids has been set at 7:30 p.m. June 29. At 8 p.m. of the same date they will be publicly opened and read in the offices of the board of education room No. 3, in the high school building.

Board members have advertised it is my opinion," said M. Stone, for estimates on the four proposals (Continued on page 68)

As this is a PWA project, the bids must be based on paying not less than the wage scale specified by the government. No bidder may withdraw his bid within 30 days after the date set for the opening, without the consent of the owner.

Bidders may obtain plans and specifications which have been made available by the architects. Lyndon and Smith of Detroit, by depicting $150,000 worth of work to be done, this amount will be refunded, less memories of what happened in that proposal is made. If this is not done and the plans and specifications are not returned within three days, a charge of $10 will be deducted from the deposit.

THE NEED FOR A SENSE OF HUMOR

More and more we are impressed that we all need a sense of humor. In the stress and battle of life it will help a lot to "see the funny side." Amidst the indignations that arise within us (and we all have them) sidetrack once in a while for a smile. We have just laughed out loud at a mistake we read in a city paper—well, you have our permission to laugh at a mistake or two you see in The Northville Record. It will make you feel better and we won't care. We are about to enter a bitter political campaign. Let's not get too bitter. Postmaster Fred Van Atta and "Mike" Murphy and the writer can disagree very deeply about politics and yet smile about it. We all have to live together and life is too short to make our political differences personal. Instead, smile about them.

NORTHVILLE'S "WIDER" WOODWARD

If Northville is going to continue to be a progressive town, sooner or later it will have to widen its Main street. What we like to call "Northville's Wider Woodward Avenue" was all right for the time it was laid out, over a century ago, but it is insufficient for this automobile era, un-dreamed of when the cow path became the business street of the village.

If Detroit can spend its millions and millions to widen its streets, Northville could afford for the sake of its present and future to spend one hundred thousand dollars or so to widen out Main street. If it looks like an impossible thing, just count the number of store fronts in the block and decide whether the plan would be visionary.

With a wider Main street, what would be the limit to Northville's business future?

HATS OFF TO NORTHVILLE HOME OWNERS

"Why don't you say something nice in your editorial column about the great improvements that have been made in Northville homes lately," says a Record reader.

These words of approval should and will be said right now. The writer travels about through other towns quite often and we can say sincerely that we know of no other community, big or little, that can exceed Northville in pride of home ownership. We know of no city or village where well-kept homes are more uniformly found down every street. Many places have their so-called "quiet streets" and then the streets, off at the side or in another part of the town, where you find the "ne'er do well" residences about which the citizens have to apologize. Northville has no slum section. Well kept lawns, newly painted homes and neat gardens and flower beds are found in every part of Northville—just take a walk for a mile or two and confirm this to your satisfaction.

The only flaw in our home picture is that Northville needs more homes. If 25 new residences could be built they would be snapped up in a jiffy. People want to live here because it is a good community in which to live. Your location is just about ideal," said an out-of-town visitor to us just the other day. "Add to this asset the undoubted benefit that comes from having a fine body of home-owning people, and you make Northville the splendid village that it is—Detroit's most picturesque suburb.

You are going to see a lot of decentralization of the big cities in the coming decade and more and more, people are going to come out from these congested places to just such places as Northville. Life here is going to become more and more attractive.

"Forward with Northville." So say we all.

NOW FOR THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Roosevelt or Landon?

That will be the question that millions of American voters will settle next November. How the question will be answered may mean a great deal to everyone of us. During the over four months that are ahead before the election, we shall all have ample opportunity to study every angle of the political arguments that will be put before us.

The campaign will not be fought between republicans and democrats as we formerly knew them. Party labels have been destroyed. President Roosevelt has been deserted by some of the finest minds of the democrat party; some of the most bitter criticism of the president comes from the leaders of the party on whose platform he was elected. No fair minded person will deny that the policies that Roosevelt has put into effect and tried to put into effect, have little or no connection with the platform which he promised to support. As for his promises made during the campaign, they have been broken like shattered glass. Even such national magazines as The Saturday Evening Post point out how shamefully broken these promises have been. A lot is going to be said about these broken promises in the campaign.

The election will be decided by that group of liberal and independent voters whose number runs into the millions. The fall of Mr. Farley that the election is "in the bag" is silly. True, it was thought a few months ago that Roosevelt due to the immense amount of federal funds being doled out would be re-elected. Today it is a different story. The election of Landon is certainly a possibility. A survey published in The Detroit News recently showed that a switch of only 350,000 voters in 15 states would swing the election to the republicans. The refusal of Gov. Lehman to run for re-election as governor of New York means that that great state is a doubtful one and that if Roosevelt loses it, he is very apt to lose the election.

The Old Guard lost control at Cleveland and a new brand of progressive and forward looking republicans is in the saddle. Landon is a progressive and his simple way may be the key that will unlock the White House to him. He may be laughed at for being "home spun" and as a man who eats in the kitchen, but millions of people who still believe in the simple virtues and in the need for hard rock character, and who may possibly eat in the kitchen will be voting this fall and it is their votes that will decide the election. Abraham Lincoln was home-spun and ate in the kitchen.

The issues are not yet clarified but certainly one of them will be what to do about the terrific waste of the taxpayers' money that has been carried on recklessly under the New Deal. And just as surely, says Frank R. Kent, a democrat writer, another issue will be the way that federal funds have been used to "buy the people."

The men and women who think for themselves are going to have a lot to say whether it will be Roosevelt or Landon.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

The largest airplane made by any boy in Northville has attracted much attention in the windows of the Schaefer Furniture store. Fred Casterline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Casterline, is the young 15-year-old genius who has patiently worked for weeks cutting and fitting the intricate pieces of balsa wood together to form the frame work and then covering it with paper.

Jack Watson, Northville's ardent motorcyclist, will enter the races at Kalamazoo, Saturday, riding on his new "bike," which he says "will really go."

The 1935 tax roll, which reduces the tax rate from $19.79 to $19.48 per thousand, was unanimously accepted by the village council at its meeting Monday night.

Harold Bloom, whose resignation as clerk and teller in the Depositors State Bank became effective Saturday, will go into the insurance business here, he said Wednesday night.

5 YEARS AGO

Members of the Northville Exchange Club at their luncheon Wednesday noon picked Clifford B. Turnbull as their president for the next six months and paid an unusual tribute to Rev. Wm. Richards by continuing him in the office of secretary, which place he has held for the last eight years. Other officers chosen to serve for the next half year are: First vice president, Orion G. Owen; second vice president, Dr. A. H. Stein; third vice president, Dr. T. P. Brennan; treasurer, Harold Bloom; members of the board of control at large, Dr. H. J. Spurlock and Roy Crowe, representative to Detroit councilor Samuel W. Wilkinson; marshal, D. B. Burns; song leader, Nelson C. Schneider.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lampham quietly celebrated their thirty-first wedding anniversary last Friday, June 12.

Edgar Langford, active Northville Rotarian and president of the Northville Laboratories, will be one of approximately 400 members of the Detroit Board of Commerce who will leave June 18 on the board's annual cruise for Toronto and Kingston.

10 YEARS AGO

A petition was circulated among the business men of the village last Friday asking the village council not to enforce the plan for hour parking.

20 YEARS AGO

Postal cards have been sent out announcing the third annual picnic of the Detroit-Northville association which is to be held in Palmer Park, Detroit, Saturday, June 24. Dr. J. V. Burgess is the president of the society and Mrs. Nellie Wadd-Woodman is its secretary.

The first annual banquet of the newly organized association will be held next week—Friday. Prof. T. J. Knapp of Highland Park has charge of the program.

Village President Filkins very appropriately suggests that "While our soldiers are preparing for protection of the American people in the unpleasant Mexican situation, our citizens know their loyalty to our country by displaying the American flag from their homes, factories and business places."

The new bungalow on the Richardson farm west of town is progressing nicely with contractor Will Lemming at the helm.

Mrs. Amelie Beyer, mother of William Beyer, died at the latter's home on Mill street Friday morning, after a brief illness. Mrs. Beyer was 85 years of age and had made her hours here with her son for the past ten years.

30 YEARS AGO

Tuesday's vote at the primaries was a small one. Only 144 votes in all were cast, of which 128 were republicans. Warner and Kelley each received 127 while the 14 democratic ones cast Ferris took them all and Kinnerle had 3 for lieutenant governor. For delegates to the county conventions the republicans elected Dr. Henry, F. S. Neal and S. J. Lawrence. The democrats elected C. A. Sessions, B. A. Northrop and for the third man there is a tie among Will Thelham, Tom Murdoch and L. A. Abbott.

One of the worst storms that ever visited Northville descended upon this village and vicinity late last Friday afternoon and although no one was killed or injured—except financially—a whole lot of people were scared nearly to death.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ward Sunday, June 10, a son.

AUTOMATIC— but not as automatic as electric hot water

Set the automatic timer clock on your electric range, and it will turn the oven on and off automatically, cooking your dinner while you are out for the afternoon. But as time-saving as this convenience is, it is not as automatic as a new electric service for the home: ELECTRIC HOT WATER. Here is the last word in hot water convenience, and it is completely automatic—it requires no attention whatever. Summer and winter, day and night, year in and year out, you need only turn a faucet... and there is your hot water on tap.

This carefree service frees you forever from such bothersome details as running up and down stairs to light a manually operated heater, the annoyance of waiting for water to get hot, the inconvenience and delay caused by having only lukewarm water in the pipes. You will find an unlimited supply of hot water a great comfort in your home... for bath and shower, for shaving and washing, for cooking, cleaning, laundering, dishwashing and countless other daily tasks. Stop in at any Detroit Edison office and let us give you complete information—without obligation—on electric water heating.

MORE THAN 800,000 NEW 1936 CHEVROLETS have been sold

America is giving overwhelming preference to Chevrolet because it's
The only complete low-priced car

More than 300,000 new 1936 Chevrolets have been built and sold—more than four-fifths of a million since announcement day—the largest volume of business that Chevrolet has enjoyed in any comparable period in its entire history.

Record-breaking sales always indicate record-breaking value, and that is why we are printing these figures. They are important, not because they establish a record, but because they carry the following message to all people who have yet to buy their 1936 cars:

America is choosing Chevrolet because America is convinced that Chevrolet represents the most motor car for the least money.

"The most motor car," because it's the only low-priced car with such vitally important

Already this RED CROWNS saved me more than I paid for it—and I've still got it

Mr. Barnacle, known throughout the state for his prominence in Tall Stories Club circles, was glad to tell us he's solved the problem of gasoline costs... We pass it on for what it's worth, which doesn't seem to be much.

I USE car up all day, and my son, Kirby B. Jr., uses it all night. That used to take a lot of gas... until we switched to Red Crown, yesterday.

Seems like right then our forces looked up. Why, only fifteen minutes after I'd bought the first tankful I stopped in the bank and found I had $5 cents more in my account. That's above five gallons saved.

And this morning, after Junior had driven his girl 50 miles over to Lexington and 50 miles back to a dental lecture on Crop Rotation, there was still ten gallons left in the tank!

Course so far would say Jim's right just as parked down the road a piece and never gone to Lexington... but anyhow, I'll be buying Red Crown if I ever have to buy gas again.

Mr. Barnacle's imagination runs away with him at times, it seems. Certainly it did THIS time!

Of course no motorist really has any such exaggerated belief as this about gasoline mileage. But many do have inaccurate impressions. That's why Standard is conducting the most extensive road test ever attempted, this summer. Rather than make claims, Standard prefers to make it easy for motorists to find out the facts about gasoline mileage for themselves.

Village Flower Lovers Are Guests In Beautiful Landscaped Gardens At Meeting in Bloomfield Hills

More enthusiastic than ever to handle the trowel and plant more flowers, a group of Northville members of the Woman's National Farm and Garden club returned home Tuesday from the annual meeting held in Cranbrook. This was Northville's first affiliation with the national organization, the club here having been only recently started.

Mrs. T. R. Carrington and Mrs. Paul Wiedman, the latter of Plymouth, were delegates from the local club, and spent Monday and Tuesday at the sessions. Mrs. Carrington was called upon to report for the Northville club and told the story how the idea of a garden club originated in the minds of Mrs. Jos. Hoehl of this village and Mrs. H. A. Spicer of Plymouth when they ran across the Garden magazine in the Hartland library. No sooner was the idea suggested here than it was welcomed with enthusiasm and the membership started with 28 and then grew to 35. This is the sixteenth club organized in the state.

Because of her enthusiastic leadership, Mrs. Carrington was chosen president. Besides the two delegates other members from Northville attended a part of the sessions and were privileged to visit a number of the elaborately landscaped gardens around Bloomfield Hills. They were greatly impressed with the beauty of the gardens of Mrs. W. G. Leicher, Mrs. Fred

Mrs. Howard Schumaker, Miss Elizabeth Lauder, Mrs. J. Johnson of Detroit, Mrs. Fielder Schaeffer, Miss Isolene McKinney of Rosedale Gardens, Mrs. Arthur Snyder and Miss Lydia Symbal of Dearborn.

High honors were received by Mrs. Schaeffer and Mrs. Lauder.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess.

Decorations were pink and white with a miniature bridal party assembled in the center of the table and individual small vases with rose buds completed the table appointments. Refreshments were served to 50 relatives and friends.

Service Leaguers Hold Final Meeting in Detroit

is a member of the Nellie Verkes group of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Anna Briggs, president of the club during the current year, made a brief talk when she turned over the duties of her office to Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, the new president.

Mrs. Gertie Jackson of St. Peters-

ROTARIANS HONOR FR. JOSEPH SCHULER

Highlight of an informal meeting of the Northville Rotarians at their Tuesday noon luncheon was a spontaneous tribute to Father Joe G. Schuler on the twentieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

President E. H. Lapham voiced the unanimous thought of the members when in spite of the great service that Father Schuler has given to the community and to the Rotary club, of which he is a past president. Over 13 years of his ministry have been given here in Northville and before that, for a year and three months, he served the Northville parish while living at Plymouth. Father Schuler made a feeling response and said that the fine cooperation of the community had been the greatest factor in the growth of the church here.

Another item of interest at the meeting was a report by President-elect Wm. E. Forney of a meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club at Plymouth attended by himself and M. C. Gingell. The entire session, said Mr. Forney, was conducted by high school boys who had, during the year, attended the sessions in the capacity of junior Rotarians.

Fifteen members of the club, led by Presidents Lapham and Forney and Secretary E. L. Mills, attended charter installation at Brighton Wednesday evening. The new club was sponsored by the Howell Rotarians.

CARROLL C. DUBUAR VISITS WITH PARENTS IN VILLAGE

Carroll C. Dubuar Albany, N. Y., has been visiting for a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dubuar. He has been attending a four-day convention at St. Paul, Minn., of insurance commissioners of the United States and Canada and stopped at his home here before returning to New York.

The party of commissioners, of which Mr. Dubuar was a member, were entertained enroute at Detroit and Madison, Wis., by the local insurance fraternity. In Madison, Governor LaFollette welcomed them. The convention membership received marked attention at St. Paul. A fishing trip to one of the large lakes of Minnesota, where some 150 pounds of pike were caught by 30 commissioners, was one of the red letter events.

Mr. Dubuar is actuary of the Department of Insurance in the state of New York at Albany.

THE PRICE OF MORE LEISURE (W. S. Kennedy in Albion Evening Record)

In summing up his comment on the President's Baltimore speech, Walter Lippman says in his syndicated column:

"The President of the United States should not lead his people to think that they can get something for nothing. He should tell them the simple truth that the price of leisure is more work for somebody or a lower standard of life for everybody."

"He should tell them that the price of more education is the production of more wealth. To promise them leisure, a higher standard of life and vastly greater educational opportunities, all of these things as a result of less work, is not only to defy common sense, but to delude the people."

Village Flower Lovers Are Guests In Beautiful Landscaped Gardens At Meeting in Bloomfield Hills

More enthusiastic than ever to handle the trowel and plant more flowers, a group of Northville members of the Woman's National Farm and Garden club returned home Tuesday from the annual meeting held in Cranbrook. This was Northville's first affiliation with the national organization, the club here having been only recently started.

Mrs. T. R. Carrington and Mrs. Paul Friedman, the latter of Plymouth, were delegates from the local club, and spent Monday and Tuesday at the sessions. Mrs. Carrington was called upon to report for the Northville club and told the story how the idea of a garden club originated in the minds of Mrs. Jos. Hoehl of this village and Mrs. H. A. Spicer of Plymouth when they ran across the Garden magazine in the Hartland library. No sooner was the idea suggested here than it was welcomed with enthusiasm and the membership started with 20 and then grew to 35. This is the sixteenth club organized in the state.

Because of her enthusiastic leadership, Mrs. Carrington was chosen president. Besides the two delegates, other members from Northville attended a part of the sessions and were privileged to visit a number of the elaborate landscaped gardens around Bloomfield Hills. They were greatly impressed with the beauty of the gardens of Mrs. W. G. Lercher, Mrs. Fred

Mrs. Howard Schmacher, Miss Elizabeth Lauder, Mrs. J. Johnson of Detroit, Mrs. Fielder Schaeffer, Miss Isolde McKinley of Rosedale Gardens, Mrs. Arthur Snyder and Miss Lydia Symbol of Dearborn.

High honors were received by Mrs. Schaeffer and Miss Lauder.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess.

NAME TEACHERS FOR CHURCH DAY SCHOOL

Plans are quite complete for the Community Vacation Church School, which is being sponsored by the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Northville. A splendid staff of teachers has been provided. Rev Harold C. Whitfield will have charge of the intermediate department. All children who were in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades this year are eligible to attend. The course will be built on a study of the customs and manners of Palestine, and will be given in the Baptist church.

Mrs. Earl Montgomery will supervise the work of the primary department and have charge of the worship period. Miss Margaret Nagy, Mrs. A. H. Voelkel and Miss Esther Pariseau are the other workers in this department. The course will be given in the Presbyterian church.

Miss Mabel Chamberlain will superintend the work with the Juniors, which will include all children who were in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades in the public school this year. The Rev. K. B. North will conduct the worship period. Mrs. G. F. Reng and Mrs. John Litsenberger will also work in this department.

An interesting study will be made of the land where Jesus lived, illustrated by stereopticon pictures, and the making of a Palestinian village and a modern village. The department will meet in the Methodist church.

The beginners' department will consist of children who were below the first grade this year. Mrs. H. M. Wick will superintend the department, which will meet in the Presbyterian church, and will be assisted by Miss Marjory Chase, Miss Alice Eaton and Mrs. C. E. Woodruff.

The school will begin Monday, June 22, and run two weeks, beginning at 9 a. m. each school day with forenoon sessions only. The Rev. H. J. Lord is dean of the school.

IRVING BAENHART BELONGS TO UNIVERSITY CLASS OF 1875

Irving W. Barnhart, formerly superintendent of schools in the village, one of 14 living graduates of the class of 1875 from the University of Michigan. In this class were nine young women, three are still living, and 94 men, 11 are living.

Mr. Barnhart, at the time he entered college, was living in Flint. When he enrolled at Ann Arbor, three other friends from Flint entered too. Besides Mr. Barnhart, there are two others from this Flint group who are alive, Angie Clara Chapin of Ann Arbor and Eno D. Person, who still makes his home in Flint. Irving Brotherton, the fourth Flint graduate of the class of '75, died several years ago. His sister, Miss Alta taught school for a number of years in Flint with Mr. Barnhart. Mr. Brotherton and Mr. Barnhart were born in the same school district in Clayton township. Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart have been visiting in the village this week, having just returned from a winter's stay at Deland, Fla. Their home is in Grand Rapids. They will attend the class reunion Saturday in Ann Arbor.

SENIORS PERFORM IN MUSIC SHOP

history texts. This would be a good idea if Francis were interested in history books.

Privacy

Irene Modos reviewed the book "Private Lives in 1960." When she sat down the Music Shop was literally filled with family stevevens.

For instance, the big social event of the year when June King and Roland Morris were married by Preacher Eddie Norder, Elsie Winter and Tom Gregory were the attendants. Then there was the exposure of the Two-Cent Review with Director Herman Jeusant and his chorus beauties, Hattie Brummet, Edith Barkly, Rita Hartley, LuLu Lake and Saveria Leonie. The girls from the Wild West, Norine Blake and Alice Banks Rivers of the Ranch or what you will, are pictures which will live on, no matter what happens to the book.

Talented Kathleen

Kathleen Rinex thrilled the audience and her fellow classmen when she soloed at the piano. She changed our taste in high brass and were ready to strike most anything that she and her piano will do.

She already has a characteristic of the great she won't come back for encore.

Revenge is sweet thinks Paul Bedra. He was really quite satisfied with the dig he gave out when no one could talk back. He got away with it in a legal manner by calling the gags superlatives.

Evelyn Andrus may be the baby of the class, but her youth doesn't interfere with the way she can sing. She's gracious about her talent, too. The nation at large may hear from her all in due time.

From Frances and Jack

The two that had the most fun in the Music Shop Tuesday evening were Frances McGough and Jack Stubenboll. Frances went natural in dress and naughty-ful in manner. It was a chance of a life time. No wonder her eyes sparkled when she called out the names of classmates who must in turn march forth and accept the gifts which had been selected for them. Jack's a big strong man, but he and Frances should both be accompanied with body guards, for a few days until the wrath calms.

Somebody should tell them that there are gifts and gifts and ways and ways of giving. It might help them not to deliberately walk into trouble. And of course life won't be such fun anymore.

To You From the Seniors

Ida Altman was all dressed up in a green frock and just for sappiness, she tied a green ribbon around her hair. There she stood and read the class "Will You Take Me?" taken some one who has gone through the dark path of an editor to be brave enough to get mixed up in legal affairs.

This thought by some few people that the wealth of the class was distributed equally, without scorning undue favoritism.

The perfect weather called the company to the large screened porch overlooking the view of the river and hills. To drive dull care away the ladies joined merrily in various games arranged by Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell and Mrs. John Litsenberger. In an old fashioned spelling bee Miss Adele Roe won out.

"Aunt Ida" Hendryx pleased her hearers with one of her characteristic readings. The rest of the afternoon was spent with Keno when Mrs. Elizabeth Grennan, Mrs. Hendryx, Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Mrs. C. M. Ford and Mrs. John Rickenback of Novi.

Miss Goldie Jackson of St. Petersburg, Fla., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Turnbull.

Miss E. M. Starkweather was a lucky winner of the prize, a box of the berries right from Seeley's garden.

A GREAT SUBSCRIPTION OFFER!

A Chance for Our Subscribers to SAVE*On Their Accounts--An Opportunity*That Will Be Mutually Helpful.

Some weeks ago The Record announced a Special Subscription Offer to its subscribers who were in arrears in their accounts, in which it was agreed that we would accept ONE DOLLAR for each DOLLAR AND A HALF DUE on account.

This very generous offer was accepted by many of our subscribers, but at that particular time there were many others who did not have the ready funds to take advantage of the saving offered. In view of that fact we have decided to repeat the offer for a period of TWO WEEKS beginning

July 6 and Continuing Until July 18

This means that we are discounting all our subscription accounts ONE-THIRD in order to assist those who have been unable to pay their accounts during the past few years. To our subscribers this will mean a great saving and will afford all an opportunity to bring their accounts up-to-date.

During the past few years we have said but little about past due subscription accounts because we have felt that everybody was carrying about all the financial burdens they could master. Now that money is "easier" in the market places, we feel justified in making this offer and in asking the subscribers we have accommodated and upon whom we have waited to make a very special effort to pay their accounts.

One or a dozen accounts do not amount to a great sum. But when there are several hundred who are in arrears, the aggregate of their indebtedness makes a very large sum and in all candor, we NEED THE MONEY. This is a plain statement, but it is A FACT.

Those who take advantage of this special offer will not only be helping themselves, but they will also help the publisher. So, why not make the two weeks' period a gala event and bring your account from the RED to the BLACK?

July is a month for celebrating and with the assistance of our subscribers who are in arrears we can make the month a most happy one for all.

Remember the Time! July 6 to July 18!
PAY $1.00---GET A RECEIPT FOR $1.50

We will oil our old cash register and be ready for the rush on Monday morning, July 6. We are giving you this advance notice so that ALL knowing themselves to be in arrears for their subscription can make their plans to pay their accounts and save ONE-THIRD of the AMOUNT DUE.

and Vandenberg, with Landon sonator, and Orr Roberts, editor of the Kansas City Star; and in the middle, the Borah representatives. The main fight came over the singers in ever-increasing numbers money blank. Borah was scarcely opposed to asking a return to the Gold Standard. "The Old Guard East wanted just that. It was then found that the idea of the Landon telegram, apparently sent to the convention by the Kansas governor, was concealed. The Landon men made peace like this: Let's give Borah his way and leave gold out of the platform, they said, but to placate the East, we will have Landon send to the convention a telegram, expounding his views on various plans and particularly declaring in favor of gold.

This idea the group of 16 reported to the big resolutions committee. Too big committee thought the Hamilton idea of the telegram from Landon a good idea, but it said, can't we compromise with the East some other way than having Landon antagonize Borah with the gold declaration. Let's re-word the money plank, emphasizing a stabilized currency and a balanced budget and allow the Old Guard to write their own tariff plank. The conservative Easterners saw the common sense in this and agreed.

But the one $10 in the otherwise perfectly managed convention came when Hamilton, prefacing his nomination speech with the telegram he said was from Landon, nevertheless read into it the declaration in favor of return to the gold standard, along with the statements favoring a constitutional amendment and civil service. That was a surprise to all those on the inside and it needlessly antagonized Senator Borah, who indicated to me before he left for Washington Thursday afternoon that he was disappointed in the candidate and in the platform.

From the day the convention started Tuesday, there were only two men in the running for the presidential nomination: Landon and Taft of Ohio. Edge of New Jersey. Borah had already withdrawn and left Cleveland. It was the climax to one of the greatest phenomena in the history of American politics, equalled only by the time Garfield came to Chicago to nominate General Sherman and came away with the nomination himself.

The vice presidential nomination was the one thing in the convention that there was any question about. Landon and his benchmen wanted Vandenberg even before the presidential nomination was finally decided. After the great Landon demonstration Thursday night, they and the entire group running the convention really applied the pressure to the Michigan junior senator. Landon talked with him twice over the telephone Thursday night. William Allen White talked with him several times, and was expected to visit him in his Hotel Shriver headquarters, but he did not.

Finally Hamilton him self went to him and told him he must accept Vandenberg was in a dilemma, probably the highest of his career. He had previously announced that he did not want the job. But after it was not to be shared at all, Landon had convinced him that he would be a great help to the ticket.

When Hamilton asked him if he would accept if he, Hamilton personally nominated him, he is reported to have replied, "I don't say." Apparently Hamilton thought that implied acceptance, because on Friday morning, the day of the Vice presidential nomination, he went away arranging for a Vandenberg nomination by acclamation. But the senator still did not know what to do. At 9:30 a.m., Friday, he is reported to have called a noted Washington correspondent and asked: "What shall I do?" The journalist told him that he could not advise him and that Vandenberg would have to make up his own mind.

When the convention, called for 10 a.m., finally convened shortly after 11 o'clock, Chairman Snell declared vice presidential nominations to be in order. Hamilton asked for the floor. He announced that Kansas would pass until the end of the roll call of the state delegations. The clerk began to call the roll, and the states proposed their favorite sons: Arizona, yielding to New Hampshire, which nominated Knox. Others followed. When he came to Michigan, Governor Fitzgerald, apparently not knowing himself what Vandenberg was going to do, announced that "Michigan will cast her 38 votes for Arthur H. Vandenberg." He did not say nominate. At that moment, a messenger brought to the rostrum a telegram from Vandenberg. Snell read it and it announced conclusively that the senator would not be a candidate under any conditions and that if his name were presented he wanted it withdrawn.

That was a genuine surprise to the press gallery, to the convention itself, and it must have surprised Hamilton. It was Knox from then on, as it would have been, from the start if Vandenberg had but said the word. The Michigan senator had it within his power to dictate the vice presidential nomination of the republican party. If he had but nodded his head yes, there is no doubt but that he could have had it. If he had but nodded his head no, Knox would have gone it another way.

There were a thousand interesting sidelights on the convention, many of them previously unreported. For instance, the West Virginia and Wisconsin vote, of 19, for Borah in the presidential roll call, when every other single vote went for Landon, came as rather a surprise, despite Wisconsin's traditional nature.

of going the wrong way. The face of Chairman Snell, who looks very much like Mrs. Cinders, Ella's mother, was a study. He didn't quite know what to do, so he picked up his gavel and banged it down on the speaker's stand. He stammered and stuttered, and then he declared he would recognize a motion to make the roll call nominations unanimous. None was forthcoming, and his discomfiture at the situation at this crooked fall in an otherwise perfect piece of workmanship grew. Finally, to his relief, one of the Wisconsin men did make the motion and it was adopted. Mr. McKay, purposed to be a power behind, Governor Fitzgerald and who by virtue of his success in electing Mrs. Jacob Steketee of Grand Rapids national committee, woman over Mrs. Frederick Alger of Detroit more or less controlled the Michigan delegation, asked Vandenberg to withdraw his candidacy for president. Vandenberg refused. He apparently thought that Hoover would put some anti-Landon dynamite in his speech. The speech, of course, was sound, as far as having any effect on the convention goes.

The minute the speech was over, the nomination was over. Vandenberg and Hamilton went into a conference and came out late that night announcing that the Michigan senator had hopping aboard the bandwagon and would give the chief seconding speech for Landon.

That ended it. Knox, who really never figured anyway, joined in as the third speaker. The roll call must be five states asking for a roll call. Five states not asking for roll call, I hereby declare the majority report adopted." There probably would not have been a majority of delegates in five states going against the convention steam roller, but even if there had been, they would never have had a chance.

There were two interesting sidelights on the Hoover speech. The first came at the start when the four speaker system would not work. The man in charge of it rushed up to the speaker's platform, readjusted the microphone and pushed Hoover up closer. The former president did not like it. He shook the speaker off and attempted to proceed. But it was no use. His voice did not carry out to the audience and amid cries of "Leader, louder," turned to Snell with a gesture of impatience. All through his speech the loud speaker system was not working properly, and despite the Cleveland Plain Dealer's jammed the press with copies of the speech, several of the newspapermen left the press gallery and went off onto the floor to hear it.

After Hoover finished, Chairman Snell returned to the主席台 calling out, "Morning for Hoover's return that the former president had left Cleveland. That was not so Hoover stayed in his room in the Hotel Cleveland until after 1 a.m."

TWO LOCAL YOUTHS GET COLLEGE DEGREES

(Continued from first page) on this occasion. Your successes have been the marvel of all peoples; you have astounded the world by developing and maintaining its largest individual industrial enterprise, unique in many respects among corporate forms of organization.

Lord Bacon has said: "Three things make a nation great and prosperous: First, a fertile soil; second, busy workshops; and third, easy conveyance of men and commodities from place to place. Your industrial successes have resulted in vast developments of busy workshops, in which labor has been generously rewarded in order to make possible your ideals of higher standards of living among the working classes."

"Your innate genius and the products of your industries have been prime factors in first relieving rural life of its dread isolation and then in providing facilities for the improvement of the economic and sociological conditions of rural people by making available abundant supplies of power and transportation facilities at reasonable cost."

"You have always recognized the interrelationship and interdependence of engineering, industry and agriculture, which are basic functions of land-grant colleges to which Michigan State College belongs. You have not only advanced the interests of industrial education, but have initiated and stimulated research directed at the solution of agricultural problems as well. Your continued personal participation in the details of your business, your inexhaustible energy, will power, philosophy of life, and belief in the simple life all warrant emulation."
