BROWN HOME IS DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Firemen Fight Blaze Which Gained Headway in Roof;
Furniture Saved

For more than an hour firemen fought Tuesday morning to extinguish the roof fire which had made headway on the house occupied by Walford S. Brown, 516 Novi avenue. The alarm was turned in shortly after 9 o'clock.

Neighbors and firemen carried out most of the furniture, but the roof and walls of the house were badly damaged by the flames, and the water. No insurance was carried on the household furnishings. Insurance more than covering the damage incurred on the house is carried by the owner, Frank Farmer of Royal Oak. It is estimated that $1,500 worth of damage was done.

Mrs. Brown, the mother of a two-week-old son, said that the fire started in the chimney. "We have to have a fire every morning to keep the baby warm. I was just getting ready to give the baby his bath when I noticed smoke," she affirmed.

"We don't have any insurance on our furniture. When the men were moving my dresser out of the street to keep it from getting soaked, the large mirror was broken," she continued.

Fire had spread through the attic across the entire length of the house and had completely ruined the northeast section of the second floor before firemen arrived.

Following the fire truck to the scene were housewives and children from all sections of town who edged their way to the burning house, only to find that half the business men of the village were there before them.

FORNEY ANNOUNCES STANDING ROTARY COMMITTEE HEADS

Wm. E. Forney, Rotary president, working with the board of directors—E. H. Lapham, E. L. Mills, Russell H. Amerson and Elmer Northrop—has completed his standing committee for the year and has released the list for publication.

Heading the aims and objects committee, is Mr. Forney who is to work with Mr. Amerson, Dr. H. Harford, Alce M. Rennie, E. C. Langfield and Mr. Mills.

Sitting on the club service committee are Mr. Amerson, chairman; E. H. Lapham, E. M. Bogart, Mr. Northrop, R. T. Baldwin, Leslie G. Lee and James Spagnuolo.

Mr. Lapham and D. P. Yerkes have been named on the classification and membership committee.

Programs during the year will be planned by Mr. Bogart and the Rev. Fr. Jos. G. Schuler.

Mr. Northrop and C. E. Rogers are to have charge of fellowship attendance.

Mr. Baldwin has charge of public information; Mr. Bogart is to work on the club publication; Mr. Lee is responsible for all club music; Mr. Spagnuolo heads the sick committee; Dr. Harford is chairman of vocational service.

The community service committee is headed by Mr. Rennie. He will be assisted by M. C. Gussell, Percy Angove, H. B. Clark and Dr. H. S. Willis.

Boys' work has been placed in the hands of Mr. Gussell and Neil Harford. Mr. Angove and Mr. Mills will serve on the crippled children's committee again this year.

The rural urban committee includes Harry Clark and Chas. Schoutz.

Dr. Willis, Mr. Angove, Mr. Amerson and Mr. Mills are in charge of student loans.

Mr. Langfield is chairman of international service.

VISIT SALEM FARMS
Two of the state's leading horse breeding farms were visited Tuesday by a delegation from the state horse association.

The farm belongs to E. A. Hunter on Six Mile road, west of Salem and the Julius Furth and son farm, east of Salem.

HEADS FAIR

Elmer L. Smith, president of the Northville Wayne County Fair Board, has announced that plans are going forward for a big week, Aug. 26-29. The buildings have been repaired and are being made ready for the event.

He promises that the racing program and the horse show will be up to the standards of former years. "For many years, Mr. Smith has been a hard-working member of the board. Between 1922-23 he was secretary of the association. Later he had charge of the free acts. He headed this activity for many years."

Working with Mr. Smith and giving much of their time to the project are Floyd A. Northrop, secretary; Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, vice president; Fred W. Lyke, treasurer; C. A. Altman, A. C. Balen, Carmi Beaton, H. B. Clark, Ralph Foreman, William E. Forney, A. E. Fuller, H. H. Hamilton, Glenn Richardson, H. Ray Richardson, T. G. Richardson, Harry C. Robinson, M. R. Seelye, L. C. Stewart and E. M. Starkweather, directors.

NORTHVILLE MASONS JOIN IN PLANS FOR TWO-DAY FESTIVAL

Elmer DeKay Heads Local Committee in Charge
Of Arrangements

The greatest gathering of Masons ever assembled in any event of this kind is projected when the St. John's Day League holds its second annual festival and old-time picnic June 27-28 at Edgewater Park, Seven Mile road and Grand River avenue.

Members of the Craft and their friends from a radius of 30 miles, embracing Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and parts of several other counties, will participate in the huge celebration for the purpose of raising funds to maintain Masonic charities. All of the proceeds will be used for the maintenance of the Masonic Employment association, the Outside Relief board and the Home for the Aged at Alma.

According to G. Edward Biele, employment manager, the records show that nearly 4,000 persons have been placed on jobs during the three years the office has been operating. Besides relieving the public welfare load, this office has been able to keep many homes from breaking up, and has assured the future of children who otherwise could have been dependent on public charities for a meager existence in their battle of life.

The St. John's Day League is headed by David Kennedy, president, who is assisted by Merline Warr, first vice-president; Donald Anderson, second vice-president; Kenneth Hull, secretary-treasurer; Joseph Smith, Arthur Hartwig, John Schulte, George Eough and Robert Steenok, executive committee. Chairman Hull has named Elmer DeKay, worshipful master; E. M. Bogart, senior warden; Ralph Foreman, junior and past masters; Chub J. Smith, Robert Coleman and Clifford Sinden of Northville lodge No. 186 in charge of arrangements and the sale of tickets for this vicinity.

A program of field events has been arranged, including races and novelty contests for everyone from kindergarten age up to boys, girls and grown folks. Saturday afternoon, as well as Sunday, there will be baseball games between popular girls' softball teams of Detroit. Valuable prizes will be awarded to the winners of the contests.

An unusual feature will be dancing competitions in which the famous folk dances of various nationalities will be demonstrated. A notable feature of the festival will be the

DRESS AWARD IS GIVEN TO ELAINE WINTER

Gladys Myers and Kathleen Rinck Receive Woman's Club Sewing Gifts

From a group of 28 dresses made by the girls of the 1936 graduating class, six were selected this year for awards and honorable mention by the Woman's club committee.

All of the dresses were white, all were made of cotton material and all were kept within a cost limit of $7. A shadowy organ, made by Elaine Winter, was marked for first place by the committee made up of Mrs. Leroy Steinhilber, Mrs. T. G. Hegge and Mrs. Charles Bloom.

"The committee reports that the workmanship on this dress was almost perfect. The seams and the finishing touches were beautiful examples of fine sewing," said Mrs. J. N. McLoughlin, president of the Woman's club, as she announced the awards Thursday evening at the commencement exercises.

Another dress, one made by Gladys Myers, of white lace was given second place ranking. Kathleen Rinck's dress of shadowy organ was rated third place.

"After we had selected the three dresses which would bring for their makers the money awards, we found three other dresses which showed such excellent workmanship that we felt honorable mention should be given to them. These dresses were made by Verma Little, Doris Beasley and Edith Barley."

The dresses were judged on three points—workmanship, style and appropriateness.

The girls whose dresses received first, second or third place ratings were given cash prizes, $5, $3 and $2, respectively.

Mrs. Claude M. Zimmerman, sewing instructor, was complimented for the splendid work the girls had done in her class. Mrs. Zimmerman, together with Mrs. Jack Taylor, is a senior class sponsor.

BARNHART KNEW KNOX WHEN HE WAS ONLY A CLASSROOM STUDENT

When Irving Barnhart votes for Republican Vice Presidential Nominee Frank Knox this November, he will be voting for a former student and old acquaintance.

It was in the late 1880's that Frank Knox entered the Union high school in Grand Rapids, where Mr. Barnhart, brother-in-law of John Truham of Northville, was principal. Mr. Barnhart clearly remembers the Chicago Daily News publisher and Republican choice for vice president and has heard from him at intervals since he left school.

"Frank was an excellent student, although I don't remember that he was particularly outstanding," said Mr. Barnhart. But, declares Mr. Barnhart, who is one of the few living members of the University of Michigan class of 1875, "I'm sure he will be outstanding in this election."

Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart, who have been stopping here with Mr. Truham, left Tuesday for their home in Grand Rapids.

DOG WORRIES THREE SMALL CHILDREN WHO CAN'T BUY AD SPACE

Joan, 10 years old, Virginia, 7 and Ruth, 6, are worried.

"The source of their worry, they tell you gravely, is a dog. The dog—they call him Sport for lack of a better name—came to them last week. They don't know from where, but although they'd like to keep him, they think his nightful owner should have him back."

But, Ruth told The Record office. "We can't put anything in the paper about it because we don't have any money. So, we don't know what we're going to do." And, she added hopefully, Sport is a small dog.

The dog is a medium sized brown one, with a white and black spot on the left side of his back. He might be a collie, and again he might not. His pedigree is probably rather confused. But as Joan, who has the dog in hand, ties to an eight foot rope, points out, it doesn't matter as long as he is a dog.

Joan, whose last name is Derahm, lives with her aunt, Mrs. Celen McLoughlin, at 157 East Cady street. Ruth McDonald and Virginia Desher are both her neighbors, and they all have part of a collective owner. The dog is a small one, and is called Sport.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY

Foot Brothers Succeeded by Consumers Power

By E. E. BROWN

The Consumers Power company is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary this week. The original company of which the great Consumers company is the successor, started in business in Adrian and was established by two brothers by the name of A. W. and J. B. Foote. After some years they were induced to locate at Jackson and from a very humble beginning they gradually expanded their interests until they became the largest distributors of electric power in the middle west.

The company erected its first power plant on the Kalamazoo river about half-way between Otsego and Allegan. C. H. Frisbie was the field representative and by established headquarters at Otsego and in his quiet way began the work of acquiring land for power purposes. He dealt honorably and justly with the farmers and property owners whose acreage he acquired for the company, either paying them in cash or by making some exchanges or trades to the mutual advantage of all parties concerned.

When it was first announced that a great dam was to be thrown across the Kalamazoo river there was great excitement among the people of that section and when contracts were ready to sign some of the people whose land were needed for the project were a bit skeptical and did not believe the reports. When sufficient acreage had been signed up for the project—and it required several hundred acres because it was planned to have a large storage basin, contracts were let for the construction of the dam and its progress was watched with great interest. The dam site afforded the people of that section a place to spend some idle hours and on Sundays it was the great attraction. It was not unusual to see a hundred vehicles there at a time—it was in the horse and buggy days.

When the dam was completed the occasion of "turning on the water" was made a gala event and the whole county turned out to extend its good wishes and congratulations. A picnic dinner was spread under the trees near the dam site and a program appropriate to the occasion was presented. E. E. Brown had the honor of being chosen to give the address of welcome on the happy occasion.

The demand for power increased with the passing years and soon after another dam was constructed near Plainwell on the same river. (Continued on Page Four)

VILLAGE MEN LOAD CARS FOR OUTING

The newly elected officers of the Northville Exchange club will be installed at the next meeting to be held on Wednesday, July 1. On Thursday the members of the club provided transportation for upwards of 40 children on the occasion of the celebration at Edgewater Park.

The youngsters were given a great treat and all the Exchange clubs of the Detroit area were represented by good sized groups of children who were their special guests for the afternoon. All the entertainment provided by the park management was free as were also the "treats" consisting of about everything a boy or girl could desire. It was a great day and members of the local club who played hosts to the Northville children enjoyed the affair as much as their little guests.

B. B. Steers, assistant director of the state department of aeronautics, Lansing, and S. K. Fowler of the S. K. F. Air Service of that city were guests. Mr. Steers explained the growth and development of the air service in the state, speaking particularly with reference to airports. During recent years some 27 airports have been established throughout the state, the cost of their development being borne by the federal government. He expressed the wish that the Northville airport might be improved and put in proper condition for use.

Under present regulations, before the government will advance funds for the improvement and equipment of airports, the land required must be owned by the municipality in which the field is to be located. No more leased-land ports are being accepted, Mr. Steer said.

According to Mr. Steer, it will be necessary for this community—either the township or the village—to acquire the Postford field if we

Orange and Black Editor Writes About Washington Trip Before Giving Way to Hours of Sleep

By IDA ALMAN

We seniors decided that after working high on to four years for our trip that it was high time we took it. This late Saturday afternoon 36 seniors and three chaplains boarded the train for Washington. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad company realized the way to win our hearts and put before us a chicken dinner. Later we tried to get some sleep, but alas our attempt was in vain. This enabled us to see some of the large cities including Youngstown, Pittsburgh and Toledo. As we rode on it was a great thrill to see mountains tower far above us.

Early in the morning we arrived in the quaint, old, beautiful city, "Harpers Ferry." We ambitious seniors climbed half way up a high mountain to Harpers hotel for our breakfast. In this town we visited "Storers College" for colored people only, and John Brown's Fort.

In the afternoon we were invited with great joy the "City Beautiful" Washington. We were stunned by the majestic appearance of the Washington monument which has been

RESORT PROMOTER DIES AT PONTIAC

Death came to Louis P. Toletene, 49, Walled Lake, early Saturday afternoon at the St. Joseph hospital. He had been seriously ill for some time.

Mr. Toletene was the owner of the New Casino ballroom, cafe and bathhouse on the south shore of Walled Lake. He purchased this property in 1922 from J. D. Taylor and built the large steel frame structure which is considered one of the finest equipped and largest dance halls in Michigan. He improved and rebuilt his buildings each year, adding a modern bath house and extensive parking facilities on the lake shore.

Mr. Toletene was born Feb. 13, 1887, in Austria. He came to this country in 1903, living in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois before moving to Detroit in 1907 where he was in the grocery business. In 1918, he came to Walled Lake and began the resort development.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Leona Toletene; two brothers, Modest of Walled Lake, and Peter of Austria; a daughter, Mrs. Anthony Darnin of Detroit, and a sister Mary of Austria.

A private service was held at 8 a. m. Tuesday at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Darnin, 15116 Snowden avenue, Detroit. The body was taken to Northville for the funeral service at 10 a. m. in the Our Lady of Victory church, with the Rev. Fr. Jos. G. Schuler, officiating. Burial was made in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, Detroit.

FINE RELEASES DRIVER AFTER CAR ACCIDENT

Boys Admit Drinking, Says
Official in Oakland.
Sheriff's Office

Gordon Hartford, held for reckless driving by Oakland county officials in the jail at Pontiac following an accident June 17, which involved two Plymouth boys and four Northville girls, was released Thursday, June 18, after a $25 fine had been paid by Hartford's mother.

Fred Thompson, the driver of the car in which the Northville girls were riding, when a race ended in a crash on Grand River road, is recovering from minor injuries at his home in Plymouth. According to word received Wednesday from the sheriff's office at Pontiac, reckless driving charges are to be filed against him and served as soon as his condition improves.

Although it was reported last week that beer bottles had been found in Thompson's car, Gerald Preston, one of the girls slightly injured in the wreck, told authorities who investigated the case, that there were no beer bottles in the car at the time of the accident. From the Pontiac office it was learned that both Hartford and Thompson had admitted drinking before starting home from a Plymouth school picnic at Island Lake.

Evlyn Raymond, who suffered a fractured pelvis, a scalp wound and an arm cut, has been moved from the Sessions hospital to her home, 542 Rouge street. She will have to stay in bed for two or three weeks.

Betty Melow, who had several broken ribs, has also been sent to her home, 616 Oakland drive and is making rapid recovery.

The other two girls, Gerald Preston and Margaret Williams, received only slight bruises in the accident.

LEGION MEN GIVE AWARDS TO GRADE SCHOOL STUDENTS

Seventh graders voted two from their number as eligible for awards given this year for the first time by the Lloyd H. Green Post American Legion. The names of Ruth Mary Milledge daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mills, and Billy Wilmaler, son of Charles H. Wilmaler, were announced Friday morning at the final assembly of the school year, after the pupils' vote had been approved by Mrs. Ida B. Cooke.

Polling made by the class for the eligible representative was done on the following points: Courage, companionship, character, service and scholarship. Ruth Mary was given a brooch as well as a bronze plate with an appropriate inscription.

The points used to determine the eligible boy were based on honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service. Billy's award was a pin and a bronze plate like that given Ruth Mary.

"We are sponsoring this project to encourage Americanism and good citizenship in the school," stated Leslie H. Alexander.

The board of education officers are being torn down this week by the Central Wrecking company of Detroit. The site will be used for the new grade school building, a pending PWA project.

TO CONDUCT BABY CLINIC IF VILLAGE WANTS SERVICE

"If we have enough requests for the service, the Red Cross will conduct a free baby clinic again this year. It has been a few years since we did this—it was discontinued because there ceased to be a demand for it," said Mrs. Eber Ward Lester.

She reports that she has had a number of inquiries about the clinic and if there are other villagers interested in this project, we will bring in a doctor and offer this assistance without charge.

"Whether or not we go ahead with the clinic depends entirely on the response we get," she said.

Persons wanting clinic service are asked to notify either Mrs. Lester or Mrs. William H. Lester.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

The happiest member of the 1936 graduating class was Miss Evelyn Ambler, attractive, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler. On the evening of her graduation from high school, Superintendent R. H. Amerman announced that the Thad Johnson Knapp scholarship had been awarded to Evelyn. This award, given by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp, entitles her to one year's tuition at Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti.

Evelyn plans to enter college this fall where she will study music. She is the youngest graduate of the class (16) and has been active in school activities all during high school. Evelyn sang the leading role of Josephine in the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore" presented here this spring under Leslie G. Lee's direction. She is an eager student.

"I want Mrs. Knapp to know how truly grateful I am. I was so surprised to know that I was to have the scholarship," said the smiling Evelyn the morning after her graduation.

TRIP TO BASEBALL GAME IS HALTED AFTER CAR CRASH

Printing Plant Employees
Brought to Northville
For Treatment

Shortly after noon on Tuesday there was a triple accident at the intersection of Tift road and Grand River avenue, three cars, a Hudson and two Fords being involved. In the three cars were eleven people and fortunately but four were injured, though how any of them escaped death is a miracle.

As far as could be ascertained from a hurried interview of some of the people involved in the accident and from those who were present, the crash from a distance, a Ford car being driven by K. Kleinschmidt, who was riding with his grandfather, Frank Taylor of Northville, approached Grand River from the north and made the usual safety stop. Believing the highway clear he proceeded, but when in about the center of the highway a Hudson car came over the brow of the hill at a high rate of speed.

Seeing the Ford in the highway the driver of the Hudson applied the brakes and that caused the big car to skid on the pavement, taking up about all the space on the cement and the two cars came together at about the center of the intersection. Immediately behind the Hudson was another Ford with five young men from Grand Rapids, W. F. Hickok, Fred Wood, John and Walter Chuslock. To avoid the wreck the driver of the second Ford, Mr. Hickok, endeavored to guide his car off the pavement and in doing so his car skidded and struck a large stone beside the roadway, the impact overturning the Ford.

Some idea of the speed of the Hudson may be gathered from the fact that after the two cars collided in the intersection, the Hudson rolled for more than 100 feet down the side of the pavement. In the Hudson were Paul Miron, driver of the car, and three other men, Alfred Rogers and his two sons, Norman and Bill, who were slightly injured and who were brought to the Sessions hospital in this village in the Schrader Brothers ambulance.

It seems that Mr. Rogers is the proprietor of a printing plant in Grand Rapids and he was taking all his employees to Detroit for the ball game. In the two cars from Grand Rapids were nine persons, all escaped injury but the three Rogers, who were slightly hurt. Mr. Miron was bruised about the face, but not seriously. Mr. Taylor escaped with some slight scratches on his face while the young man with him, Chuslock, escaped with a broken arm.

SAVE ON YOUR SUBSCRIPTION
A few weeks ago The Record inaugurated a special subscription campaign in which we offered to accept one dollar for each one dollar and a half owing on subscription accounts. Many of our subscribers took advantage of the very liberal offer, but at that particular time a number of subscribers were unable to accept. In view of that fact we have decided to set apart the two weeks beginning with July 6 to July 15 as a period when we will be glad to receive payments on subscriptions upon the basis mentioned above. If you owe two years you will pay us $2.00 and thus you will save $1.00 on your account. This will make it easy for all who are in arrears to bring their account up-to-date. Remember the date—July 6 to July 15.

COUNCILMEN ACCEPT COUNTY ROAD CONTRACT

Main Street Will Be Lifted
And Widened—Village
Shares Expense

Northville's Main street is to be lifted and made wider.

Councilmen, sitting in a special session Tuesday evening, approved a contract submitted by the Board of County Road commissioners of Wayne county. Through the accepted agreement, the county will charge the grade of Main street, make a readjustment of the grade on Center street, repave the street and reconstruct the curbs from Main street south to Cady street.

The cost for this work is estimated by contractors at $8,500. According to the contract which was agreed upon, the village will reimburse the county for 50 percent of the cost of the construction. This is to be done by paying funds according to the village during the years 1938-39 from the returned state fund for street and highway purposes including all returns from the state automobile weight and gasoline taxes.

It is expected that work will begin immediately. As it will take about six weeks to complete the job, Commissioner Wm. T. Gregory asked if it were possible to have the work done before Fair week (Aug. 26-29). Dr. H. H. Burkart, president of the village said that he was sure that the work would begin as soon as the county could push it. "The village will make an attractive appearance during the week of the fair, if the job is done by that time," he said.

It is understood that the present street car tracks will be removed and the sidewalk cut back to make room for a 50 foot, four-lane traffic street. The county is asking Northville to relieve its traffic problem. The street now is too narrow to accommodate parallel parking. Angle parking interferes with through motor travel.

TOP COW IS NAMED AFTER HERD TEST IS COMPLETED HERE

The purchased herd of registered Holsteins owned by the Wayne County Training school, has completed 63 days of the current Herd Test year, with a daily average of 11 pounds of butterfat a cow. For the 63 day period is high. Pauline with 3,559.8 pounds of milk and 148.8 pounds of fat. "Tonia" also led the herd for the last reported monthly test period with 1,749.0 pounds of milk and 52.2 pounds of fat.

Eight cows in the herd have completed lactation records with records ranging from 224.9 pounds to 2,345 pounds of fat. There were two cows with records over 500 pounds of fat. Tonia Aggie, Sturtevant with 543.5 pounds of fat and 17,515 pounds of milk and Wacoos Marathon Ormby, Mead with 331.8 pounds of fat and 15,756 pounds of milk.

The Holstein-Friesian Herd Improvement Test continues to gain in popularity with breeders throughout the country and over 500 herds including 14,500 purebred Holsteins are now being tested in the United States. The Herd Test, which continues year after year, includes the entire herd and provides information for scientific selection and culling to increase production and improve the quality of the herd. Records of production are essential to a sound breeding program with the dairy herd.

Some idea of the speed of the Hudson may be gathered from the fact that after the two cars collided in the intersection, the Hudson rolled for more than 100 feet down the side of the pavement. In the Hudson were Paul Miron, driver of the car, and three other men, Alfred Rogers and his two sons, Norman and Bill, who were slightly injured and who were brought to the Sessions hospital in this village in the Schrader Brothers ambulance.

Mr. Taylor escaped with some slight scratches on his face while the young man with him, Chuslock, escaped with a broken arm.

THE BLESSED RAIN
One of the joys of living in Michigan is to hear the rain come down. People who live in California have told us: "We have looked up at the perpetual blue sky but how we have longed to hear the patter of rain on the roof!" Is there any finer music in the world than rain on the roof? It was a dry May and pretty much so far a dry June, here in Northville and in Michigan. But the rains came down and filled the dry spots and made the flowers, the trees and the growing crops laugh with joy. We do live in a beautiful world.

DYNAMITE THAT DIDN'T GO OFF
"All I know is what I read in the papers," often said the late beloved Will Rogers.
Well, the big city papers all said with a great "hullabaloo" that Mr. Joe Louis, the unbeatable prize fighter with dynamite in every blow, would knock the "living daylight" out of big Max Schmeling.
What actually happened was that the "Brown Bomber" lost his dynamite on the way to the fight and he took a smashing defeat. "The kill" that was set for Mr. Schmeling sent Joe Louis, crushed and battered, to the floor to take the count of ten. The Superman that couldn't be licked was given a devastating crushing.
Be careful what you read in the big metropolitan papers!

THE BIG BONUS MONEY
No question about it. Paying out of that two billions of soldier bonus dollars—all at one whack, even if part of it will be "salted down"—was a wonderful event of the year. No one here in Northville has the slightest conception of how much a billion dollars is—we have to go to Washington to find folks who do realize its value. Maybe never again shall we see such a fall of manna.
Some of the Northville veterans gave us the pleasure of seeing their pile of bonds—they looked great. We got a genuine thrill out of hearing one man say to us: "My bonds have gone into the safety box at the bank and will be kept there to help care for the education of my kids." To hear another man tell how his bond money was to go toward buying a home was a joyous experience for we know few folks who think more of home owning than we do.

A survey of the American Legion shows that only two and four tenths per cent of the two billions will go for "just foolishness." That is a great tribute to the sense and judgment of the veterans. Here are some figures from the Legion survey:
For paying off debts, 31.4 per cent.
For home buying or building or repairing, 24.5 per cent.
For savings, insurance and education, 12.7 per cent.
For investment, 8 per cent.
For household goods and equipment, 7.8 per cent.
For clothing, 7 per cent.
And of interest here in Northville (where we help make part of the world's automobiles), for trucks and automobiles, 6.2 per cent.
Business ought to be good for some weeks to come, thank you Uncle Sam.

THE PROPER PLACE OF MONEY
One of our pet sayings is: "Beyond a certain point, money can do little for you."
Through a coincidence, it just happened that one day last week we talked to two successful Northville men about this money angle in our lives. Both gave us a lot of comfort.
The first one said, in effect: "I've quit worrying about getting a lot of money—or even a moderate amount of money. I've found out that there are a lot of things money can't do for you so I'm not going to chase after money the way I used to. In fact, I am not going to leave my children very much insurance—just enough so they will have an incentive to shift for themselves."
The other man told of his losses during the boom. "I could hardly 'take it' for a while," he went on "as everything went out from under me—couldn't sleep nights and all that." Then he turned to the present and with a smile said something like this: "I've gotten all over the idea of making money just for money's sake. Right now I am getting more fun out of reading books and adding to my library than I ever did making money. I am 'getting a kick' out of people—doing business with a lot of folks. I am really having more of a thrill in living than I did back in those days when I was absorbed in going after money." Such views as these from men of affairs should bring comfort to those of us who may have gotten the notion that the mere possession of "things" brings real happiness. It never did and it never can. This very day our red-headed boy bounded over to the neighbor's and got a red rose for the writer to wear to the office. That red rose in the lapel brought us more of a "kick" than if he had handed us a five dollar bill—and today was one of the days that we could have used a "V" very nicely. The memory of that rose bud will live when the five dollars would have been spent and forgotten.

SENATOR COPELAND "TAKES A WALK"
Northville is interested in the news announcement from New York City that Senator Royal S. Copeland, "would walk out on the democratic national convention" and instead, go to Cleveland to attend a meeting of the medical profession of which he is a member. "I think I will have a better time and do more good there," the senator is reported to have said.
Senator Copeland formerly lived at Dexter, Michigan, and has visited in Northville. And of course his work at the University of Michigan is well known. His action of turning against the New Deal is therefore of more than usual interest here.
Such a distinguished correspondent as Jay G. Hayden of the Washington bureau of The Detroit News says: "The open defection of Copeland is a body blow to President Roosevelt's hopes in his home state." Linked with the refusal of Governor Lehman to run again, the action of Senator Copeland makes it certain that New York will be a doubtful state. The party that wins New York state will be very apt to win the national election. Small wonder that Mr. Farley is worried.
Other startling political developments of the past ten days have been:
1. Announcement of Senator Norris of Nebraska that he would support President Roosevelt.
2. Statement of former Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, Oklahoma democrat, that he would be out working for his neighbor, Governor Alf Landon.
3. Announcement that a third presidential ticket will be put in the field by the combined forces of Father Coughlin and Dr. Townsend and followers of the late Huey Long.
The campaign will be no "tea party."

"I KNEW YOUR FATHER"

It was a kindly old lady who grasped my hand when she learned that we had common friends and asked with keen-eyed interest, "Tell me about the boys. I knew their father well. He was often in our home and many an evening as we sat late by our fireside he would talk about 'my boys.' He was very proud of them and I never saw a father so eager about the future of his sons."

Tell me, are they all doing well. Are they a credit to that fine father? "Yes, they are all good boys," we were glad to answer and then we remembered that they were boys no longer. Several of them could say: "How strange it seems, with half as gray as was my sire's that winter day— Boys no longer in the eyes of other people but boys indeed when they remembered the stalwart, upright father whose rigorous discipline guided their youth and whose living influence still directed the course of their conduct.

"I never expect to be as good as my father," one was heard to say, "but he is my ideal."

Another explained his refusal to do a certain thing thus: "I could do that without harming myself but when I think of Father I don't seem to want to do it."

Six sons who have grown to manhood in various line of business and professions, each an influence in his community in varying degrees.

For nearly a score of years has the grass grown on that father's grave, yet in the life of each son his uncompromising attitude toward wrong struggles to hold its own in the face of temptation. "I knew your father," folks say to them often and each son proudly straightens his shoulders as he feels an upward pull at his heart.

"You are like your father," someone said to the most successful son. "You remind me of him in your manner," and the tall son's eyes filled as he answered "Thank you, I never had a finer compliment."

"I really can't charge much for this job," said one son who might have been richer if he had not all ways remembered that his father had lived for the service of others. "Father believed in the old Quaker saying: 'What I kept I lost, what I gave away I have.'"

Oh, no, the boys were not always "angels." We remember the years of anxiety in the "growing-up" stage. Time and the responsibility of their own parenthood have ripened their reason and deepened their respect, yes, even reverence, for their father.

Happy the man who can still feel that steady restraint when storms beat and can look clear-eyed at the friend who shakes his hand and says, "I knew your father."

The FAMILY ROMANCE

By MRS. L. E. WARNER
Social Consultant

Dear Mrs. Warner:—I have been a constant reader of your column in the Record since I found you very helpful to others. Please help me. I am in a peculiar position. I am 27 years old, an only child. When seven years old I contracted a very serious eye disease and was blind for six months. Since then I have been forced to wear extremely heavy glasses. This has made me feel "different" and "inferior." However, I acquired an education, have worked in offices and have been self-supporting. Two years ago I was married. My husband works 49 miles away from home. I see him once a week. This was all right while I was working but last spring I was laid off because of the depression and have been unable to secure another position. Just before I lost my job my husband was injured and was home for six weeks. This wiped out our savings. We were so happy. I had secured a husband whom I loved and who loved me in spite of my glasses. We were saving. We had good times together. We had lovely plans. We were to work for two or three years longer and then we were going into business by ourselves and have a real home. Now I feel frustrated and defeated. I have developed a bad case of "nerves." I fainted a few weeks ago, in public. Now when I go out I feel weak and scared. I have nothing to do at home. I can't stay home. I can't go out. Please help me. Thank you. C. M.

Is it possible that you are a bit hysterical? Do you know whether or not the blindness at seven was actually a diseased condition of the eyes or was it a functional disturbance due to a nervous condition? If you can arrange to do so try to see a psychiatrist. There are some features about your present condition which suggest an hysterical condition which may result in illness if it is not taken care of.

After you have seen a doctor pick up your belongings and rent a room in the town where your husband is employed. Very likely you can find enough work to pay for your board. Meanwhile look about for something to do which is more to your liking and for which you have been trained.

It may turn out that the loss of the position was the best thing that could have happened. It is neither natural nor healthful for a man and his wife to live 40 miles apart and be tied to two jobs neither of which will support the two of them. If the people for whom your husband is working find out that his wife is unemployed they are likely to raise his wages. Then you can begin to realize some of those dreams you have been cherishing.

If you are willing to take care of yourself you can have without tremendous expense a small home of your own where you can enjoy life as you and your husband have been planning. Fortunately one can be happy without many of the luxuries which most people felt were indispensable until the depression "taught" them better. Two rooms and a bath have housed thousands of contented couples.

The fears you are experiencing are most likely a part of your "nerves" as you call them. Because things are not proceeding to your outline you are disappointed, a bit discouraged and very anxious. The symptoms you mention, those of feeling scared and faint, are not unusual. The weakness and weariness are a part of the same mental, nervous condition. Your state of mind is not healthy. Your doctor will tell you to find something to do. Why not find a little work somewhere and make a home for yourself and husband?

Orange and Black Editor Writes About Washington Trip Before Giving Way to Hours of Sleep

Lincoln National Cemetery, where America's military men are buried. To see rows and rows of crosses marking the graves of our soldiers who died in the war seemed to leave an impression we will never forget. We went through General Robert E. Lee's home. The home was truly a beautiful example of Colonial architecture with the picturesque pillars on the veranda. In back of the home the typical slave quarters and kitchen were built. Being so near the wonderful man, we were touched by the significance of the tomb of the unknown soldier with its eternal guard ever keeping watch.

After leaving Arlington Memorial park we next cast our eyes on the magnificent cathedral that, when completed, will surpass the famous "Westminster Abbey." With a full shift of laborers and adequate financial support it would take ten years to complete. The cathedral in its Gothic simplicity was a truly inspiring picture to behold. We were guided by the Congressional Library with its 4,500,000 volumes of books that occupy over fifty miles of shelves. We also saw the original Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States in this library. Our group visited the Lincoln memorial, with the colossal figure of Lincoln inside the memorial, the Capitol and a park of 130 acres, and visible from every direction: the White House; the Pan-American building; the famous Washington monuments; and the Smithsonian Institution. We took a trip to Mount Vernon and saw Washington's home. We also went to Alexandria and Georgetown.

It was very interesting to enlighten ourselves by seeing the means of exchange money being made in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. It was an extreme pleasure to see thousands of dollars roll off the presses to the tune of ten millions a day.

With the girls gasping for breath and looking every place but their feet, they soon regained their normal temperature after sight of the uniforms had vanished. You see we visited the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Do not get the impression that our trip was entirely all sightseeing. We had many an amusing hour on the train and at the hotel. One night while we were at the hotel, a fire engine came down the street at a breath-taking pace and stopped in front of our hotel. This supplied a great deal of amusement. With Essie Nutter directing all operations from the roof terrace of the hotel, and Leslie Pierpont in his pajamas and suit, case running through the lobby and street, Bob Angove close behind yelling fire and trying every fire escape and ending amid ten fire engines, it was the best joke we had seen in a long time. You see, it turned out to be a mattress burning in the house next door. What heroes!

Our three chaperons kept us amused and helped through the trip. Between no sleep, too good meals and our chaperons' help, we had just loads of fun. Our railroad chaperon, Mr. Ernest Col, proved to be a person we all admired. One of our group called our attention to the fact that every senior member seemed so interested in everything we saw and did, and this is true. Every person was eager to learn about our National Capitol, and certainly made a great effort toward learning. Our trip went along smoothly and without any mishap whatsoever and it was a well behaved group. And so another milestone is added to our lives.

The 36 seniors making the trip included: Ida Altman, Frances McLoughlin, Evelyn Ambler, Marjorie Helchman, Isabel Tibble, Isabelle Tenksbury, Elaine Winter, June King, Gilberta Osborn, Doris Green, Alice Banks, Norrene Blake, Rita Heatley, Rita Sprenger, Marianne Nilson, Thyrza Lester,

The chaperons were Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. Claude M. Zimmerman and Leslie G. Lee.

BOTH ENGINEERS

(Fred D. Keister in Ionia Co. News) It takes years of training before a man is promoted to run a locomotive—which runs on a private right-of-way at speeds lower than the potential of the automobile—yet we permit operators with no formal training and in many states, no examination, to drive a vehicle capable of doing terrific damage. And when death and destruction follow in the wake of incompetent drivers, many of them driving cars of faulty and ancient vintage, we foolishly ask ourselves that can be done to cut down this awful toll of human life on the highways of the nation. The answer should be obvious.

"I had to rent a barn to store the Red Crown I saved"

complains Miss Joan B. String

If Miss String, secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Tall Story Club, has a fault it is that her club reports are always tinged with sadness. To wit:

"I used Standard Red Crown all the time. So, without considering the consequences, I agreed to use nothing else for a year. And just look what it got me into!"

"The very first day I saved a bowl full. That was fine—it was in the way of all. But look—in the first week I'd saved a bowl full! By the end of the year I'd saved a tank-car full!"

"My, what a lot of gasoline to keep around the house!"

"Father complained so bitterly that I had to rent a barn to store it in. And now I've got a barn full of Red Crown—and more piling up every day. I'm almost sorry I ever saved."

Perhaps we should feel sorry for Miss String. But somehow we just can't bring ourselves to believe a word of her story.

We have reason to know that Standard Red Crown is an economical gasoline—but its use hardly saves that much.

Because it does have "more live power per gallon," Standard Red Crown operates a car with less waste power per gallon. What you save in longer mileage, is well worth while over a year's time. But rather than make claims, Standard prefers to make it easy—and profitable—for motorists to find out the real facts about gasoline mileage for themselves. So, this summer Standard is conducting the most extensive road test ever attempted. You are invited to participate.

Dr. A. B. Wickham Gives Interesting Talk on Travels in South America At Twenty-First Alumni Banquet

Approximately 90 members of the Northville high school alumni association attended the twenty-first annual banquet held at the high school Friday evening, June 19.

Following the dinner Robert Litsenberger, retiring president of the association, conducted a short business meeting at which the report of the secretary and treasurer was heard.

Officers for the year were elected with Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, president; E. M. Bogart, vice president; Mrs. Willard Ely, secretary; and Mrs. Franklin Van Valkenburg, treasurer.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the program for the evening was started with Miss Marjane Dene singing two delightful numbers. Superintendent Russell H. Amerman followed with a few thoughts on his connection with the local school for such a long time that he said he felt that he was really one of the members of the alumni group. He had, stated Mr. Amerman, declined to go to his own high school banquet in order that he might be with his former students at the Northville gathering.

Three young men of the school, Ralph Bogart, Charles Strautz, and Cecil Gier, harmonized on several of the old tunes following which Cecil Gier told his famous impersonation of the Greek telling about "George Wash."

The main address of the evening was given by Dr. A. B. Wickham who gave a very interesting talk on his travels in South America. It would be impossible to cover a subject so elaborate and one which involved so much of past history and present development in the space of thirty minutes and Dr. Wickham merely told of the most impressive events that he was able to recall. Alice Milne was toastmaster.

Strauss orchestra played music for the dance which followed the speeches and the former students enjoyed the dancing until one o'clock.

Lykes Hold Family Reunion At Wolf Lake

The twenty-fifth annual Lykes family reunion was held Sunday, June 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lykes of Wolf Lake.

Guests, numbering 43, were present from Ypsilanti, Detroit, Plymouth, Manchester, Jackson, Salem, New Hudson, Northville and Elkhart, Ind. At noon they enjoyed a fried chicken dinner. After spending a pleasant afternoon together, refreshments were served and a brief business meeting was held. The following officers were elected: Russell Lykes, president; Mrs. Russell Lykes, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lyle Ruckelshaus, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The next reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Lykes of Northville.

Mrs. Miller Entertains Bridge Club

Mrs. E. L. Miller was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of her bridge club at a dessert party. The guests were served on her attractive summer porch. Mrs. Ernest Miller, Mrs. N. C. Schrader and Mrs. William Davis were the substitute guests.

Mrs. Washburne Uses Clever Appointments at Party

Mrs. C. B. Washburne used a clever scheme in her decorations at her bridge party Wednesday evening. Her novel Fourth of July appointments were unique and were enjoyed by the following guests: Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Mrs. Leroy Stewart, Mrs. L. C. Stewart, Mrs. Dayton B. Bunn, Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mrs. E. B. Cavell, Mrs. J. R. Walker, Mrs. Percy Angove, Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. George E. Hill.

Radio Artist Is Among Guests At Smith Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Eberly Smith of Detroit, were hosts Tuesday evening at a family dinner party. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dolph, Mrs. May Filkins, Edwin Weinberg of Ann Arbor, Guy Filkins, Mrs. Tracy Filkins and her Chicago house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Schmidt, Cappy and Sonny Schmidt, Mrs. Schmidt, a radio vocal artist, sang a group of songs after the dinner.

Mr. Schmidt is associated with the N. E. C. He is a singer on the popular "Contented" program which is broadcast Thursday evenings. He returned Thursday evening for the broadcast, returning Friday where he and his family will be guests at the Filkins home until Sunday. At one time he was a member of the "Blue" Hudson quartet of Detroit. Villagers have had the privilege of hearing him on a number of occasions.

Meadowbrook Country Club Is Scene of Luncheon

Wednesday, June 24, was a red letter day for the ladies of the Merry Go Round who were entertained at the Meadowbrook Country club as guests of Mesdames Hattie Rogers and Louise Chadwick.

The day was ideal and as we filled into the beautiful dining room all were impressed with the perfect setting of the long table with its shining silver, glass and white linen.

The color scheme of blue and yellow was emphasized by a huge black boat for a centerpiece filled with celphalums and California poppies. Place cards decorated with tiny blue flowers were placed on each guest.

After partaking of a four course luncheon we were taken to Mrs. Roger's home where the balance of the afternoon was spent wandering through her beautiful flower garden and visiting.

Once again all members were present except Mrs. Emma Strick and we went out to know we missed her and hope she will be well when we meet in July with Mesdames May Dean and Flora Babbitt.

We were pleased to have as our guests Mrs. Rogers' two daughters, Margaret and Florence Rogers of Detroit; Mrs. Lucy Filkins' friend, Mrs. Schmidt from Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Astelford of Detroit.

Mrs. Cooke and Miss Jarvis Give Luncheon, Wednesday

Mrs. Ida B. Cooke and Miss Selma E. Jarvis were co-hostesses last Wednesday at a luncheon. Their guests were Miss Ione Palmer, Mrs. Hawley C. Cobb, Miss Geraldine Hull and Mrs. Herbert Cobb of Montgomery.

A steak roast was enjoyed Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Sherill W. Ambler and son, Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cline of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kenyon and Mr. and Mrs. John Kenyon of Detroit, and Mrs. Ambler's 66-year-old father, Marcellus Kenyon, of Plymouth.

ISLAND LAKE OPENS BALLROOM FOR TEAS AND BRIDGE PARTIES

Several ladies' teas and bridge parties have taken advantage of the invitation of the management of the Goldkette Blue Lantern to enjoy various activities in the ballroom and on the veranda during the hot afternoon. The ballroom is open without charge to any group wishing it for afternoon teas and bridge.

A new activity scheduled to take place under the supervision of the Goldkette Blue Lantern and sponsored by the American Red Cross will be free instruction in swimming for adults and children. Plans are being formulated for instruction in the near future. Admission to swimming classes and additional information may be obtained by contacting W. W. Elliott of the advertising and publicity department. The new song hit "Lullabye of the Stars" which is introduced and played exclusively at the Goldkette Blue Lantern by the composers, Genevieve Everett and Lee Mitchell has gained such favor that the release of the number to radio stations will likely soon take place.

Dancing will continue every night except Monday and the music will be furnished by the popular Ray Williams and his orchestra.

A new feature will be added Saturday to the entertainment features of the Goldkette Blue Lantern in speed boat rides around the island, the source of the name Island Lake.

NORTHVILLE MASONS JOIN IN PLANS FOR TWO-DAY FESTIVAL

(Continued from first page) among these will be the Scotch entry. All these dances will be in native costume. It has been announced that the Scotch dances will include the Highland Fling, sword dance, sailor's hornpipe, Irish jig, and Shenn Trews. Five silver loving cups will be awarded with a sixth going to the best dressed Highlander. Music will be played by St. Andrew's Highlanders' Pipe band, led by Pipe Major John Carson. In addition, there will be a Scottish concert at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Another concert will be offered by the Ukrainian chorus and the Ukrainian orchestra. The chorus will sing a variety of native folk and comedy songs, while the orchestra will present popular and classical music of the Ukraine.

Another feature of the affair will be an old-fashioned "country store" which will be heavily stocked to do a "land office" business. Plenty of picnic tables will be available in the large grove circled by the Rouge River, while the amusement section will offer a varied entertainment. Word has been received that a number of lodges will take advantage of the event to hold their annual picnics on one or other of the days.

Sleepy Seniors Are Greeted by Villagers at Railroad Station

It was a big moment at 9:32 a. m. Wednesday when the train brought home 36 sleepy seniors, their two class sponsors, Mrs. Claude M. Zimmerman and Mrs. Jack Taylor, together with the drafted sergeant-at-arms, Leslie G. Lee, after a four-day trip to the nation's Capital city.

If there were any mishaps during the journey, they aren't talking—at least not for the press. Apparently they're resting as they left all money and roses with plenty of orchids to spare.

Mr. Lee says that he still likes the seniors and that he had a good time. Mrs. Zimmerman states that the granddaughters weren't at all hard to manage. In fact, "They were marvelous," she said.

It is possible that Mrs. Taylor might voice a different story if she could be contacted. She left the train at Plymouth.

Isabelle Tewksbury also left the train down the line at Plymouth to ride with someone who just couldn't wait any longer to see her. She was right on hand when her classmates arrived in Northville. Edging her way through the crowd, she called out, "I've got to get to the seniors and find out if they had a good time."

This graduate about town, who during her senior year, knocked out the much read "Esquire" column, made a "sure" exit from the train, wearing a can suit, horrors, we neglected to note the color of his tie and shirt—and popping it off, to our amazement, with one of these "Come Hither Lion" hats—the kind originally designed for the tropics.

A topper like that, was undoubtedly something slightly off the record in Washington. If the hat cooled a feverish brain so that the Esquire writer was of assistance to the Orange and Black editor's account of the trip, then we have nothing against the hat.

We had a good time, but got no sleep," said Esquire Bob Angove from under his big, big hat.

Frances McLaughlin gave her mother a few embarrassing moments. It's hard to believe.

CONSUMERS POWER HOLDS CELEBRATION

(Continued from first page) and when the demand for power to operate electric street railways began to grow still another dam was constructed a few miles down the river between Okemos and Allegan. To provide sufficient storage capacity for the new project many bargains were changed and some bargains were to be held in regard to the public. This ponds now afford fine hunting for bobcats and fish and the broad expanse of water presents an attractive picture.

Mrs. Foote and Filkins were held in high esteem by all the people of Allegan county with whom they had business dealings. Mr. Filkins and A. W. Foote died several years ago. The Foote hospital in Jackson was a gift he later made to his adopted home city. Thus the vision of three men—plus their energy and honesty was the "power" behind the organization which has grown and expanded until Consumers Power has become a household word in many sections of Michigan. In keeping with the policy adopted by the men who had the foundation for this great Michigan enterprise the present owners and operators of the system have selected the personnel of their staffs with care and every member of the official family has been impressed with the idea of service and courtesy to all their patrons.

In 1910 the Consumers Power company was formed and acquired the properties of the Grand Rapids, Muskegon Power company and electric properties in Jackson, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Flint, Saginaw, Pontiac, Bay City and other communities. This was a great stride in the development of the Consumers Power company.

Some idea of the immensity of the facilities used by the company to service its customers may be gleaned from the fact the company in 1935 paid almost $2,750,000 in taxes—nearly $8,000 a day.

The company has furnished the state services other than the delivery of electrical energy. In the early 1920's an intensive and extensive program for conservation of natural resources was inaugurated. In the last decade this program has included the planting of more than 15,000,000 fish in various streams, planting and cultivation of more than 2,000,000 trees and growing food for fish and wild fowl. In addition, employees of the company have been trained and equipped in the northern areas for fire patrol and fighting to reduce forest fires. This has been a part of the company's reforestation program.

LOCUSTS SWARM HOLLY VICINITY

The so-called 17-year locust has made its timely return, according to W. Fulton Patterson of Holly, who brought two specimens to the office of the Holly Advertiser last week.

He found the locusts near Grand Blanc and reports that great swarms have arrived in that locality. He says that at certain hours of the day they set up an ear-splitting racket, a noise that is made by the vibration of two drums of cartilage between their wings and only the males are capable of producing it.

The insects are toothless, they do not eat plants, but suck at them. It is said that the harm they do to crops is practically negligible.

HOLLY SCHOOL HOUSING PLANS PASSED BY VOTERS

According to the Holly Advertiser, a total of 79 votes was cast in the special school election held last week in Holly to determine the question of providing additional school quarters. The vote was favorable in a proportion of slightly over two to one.

Three propositions were submitted:

1. Purchase of the former office building of the East Michigan Conference for $3,500.
2. Transfer $2,500 from General fund to Building and Site Fund.
3. Let the Ward school property for $1,000.00.

All of the propositions were approved and the board of education will proceed at once to carry out the wishes of the electorate.

ANNOUNCE DATE FOR HALF-PRICE SALE ON AUTO LICENSES

On Wednesday, July first, automobile license plates for 1936 will go on sale at half price, Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State has announced. The plates will be available from that date on, at the Department of State and all branch offices throughout Michigan.

Cars that have been on the highways with 1935 plates have been equipped with 1936 half-year permits of "stickers." Cars placed in operation on the highways prior to July first must be equipped with half-year permits or, with 1936 plates purchased at full price it is pointed out.

Owners of cars which have been equipped with half price "stickers" have had at all times the privilege of purchasing 1936 plates upon payment of the balance of the 1935 license plate tax. But any event, all operated motor vehicles must be equipped with 1936 license plates by and not later than July 31. Atwood warns that violation of this can be granted without express action by the legislature, and a law was enacted last year.

All motorists are urged to replace their "stickers" with 1936 plates as soon as possible, as an accommodation to them, it is not physically possible to accommodate everyone in one day, or in several days. Motorists are asked to have their "stickers" replaced as early as possible when they apply for their 1936 plates.

An indication of the certain volume of applications for plates is given by the fact that on June 18, a total of 46,145 motor vehicles were equipped with stickers.

BEAUMONT IS HONORED

John P. Beaumont returned from the state command of Civil War veterans at Battle Creek last week with the office of junior vice commander of the state organization of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The commander is Ira M. Stewart of Petoskey and the senior vice commander is Theodore Burden of Holly. Mr. Beaumont carries his 52 years lightly and his appearance does not suggest either age or disability which might be expected from two years of service in camp and field when the conflict raged between North and South. He is the only surviving member of Co. A, 3rd Michigan Cavalry—Midford Times.

WAYNE COUNTY RFC LOANS TABULATED

An amount totaling $260,761.61 as of February 29, 1936, has been disbursed in loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Wayne County, according to a report released recently by the National Emergency Council. It is said that a total of $33,201,21.85 was authorized for this county.

These figures do not include loans to Federal Land Banks, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, Regional Agricultural Credit Corporations,

Our Subscription Offer Will Be Repeated

Some weeks ago we made a very special offer to our subscribers who were in arrears in their accounts, in which we agreed to accept one dollar for each one dollar and a half due. Many took advantage of the offer and of the savings the discount provided. Others found they were unable to do so because of lack of funds just at that period. In fairness to all, we have decided to make a similar offer to all who pay their accounts during the two weeks period from Monday, July 6, to Saturday, July 18.

This offer will permit those who are indebted for their subscription to make a real saving in their account, because by the terms of the agreement we will discount all past due accounts 33 1-3 per cent whereby a dollar will do the work of one dollar and fifty cents.

Remember the dates and make your plans to take advantage of this offer.

ARGENTINE ROAD RACE WAS GRUELLING GRIND

Details of the Grand Circuit automobile race, 4,500 miles in length, through Argentina and a part of Chile, are just becoming available. The race is a car-wrecker of the first order, according to all participants. When it is realized that 113 started the race and only 26 finished, some idea of the contour of the country through which the race passed, may be gathered. The fact that one of the lowest-priced American cars, a Terraplane, won the race is in itself remarkable, but then it is understood that this was the only 1936 Terraplane entered. The record is even more outstanding.

Raul Riqueni who won the race, is an old-timer and was a favorite of the public in this race from the very start. In this country we can hardly conceive of the interest that exists in South America in this road race. It is by all odds the most outstanding event of its kind in the world.

The race has been growing in importance for several years. Each year the circuit has increased in length, scope and number of participants. Last year the Andes mountains were crossed for the first time into Chile, making the race an international event. The race started in Buenos Aires and ended in the north by City of La Plata. The route covered being as follows: Via Cordoba and Mendoza, across the Andes to Santiago, Chile, South to Temuco, Chile, back to the Condor, Argentina, via Rio Negro, where it turns to enter the Atlantic Coast of Argentina, through Bahia Blanca and Mar del Plata, before reaching the finish.

Most of the course lies through heavy sand and soil roads. There is a great deal of clay, particularly in the neighborhood of Cordoba, which is very slippery when wet and very dusty when dry.

The course was covered in time stages. Details of the race have become available through Will L. Smith, South American resident agent for the Sealed Power Corporation, which provided prizes for the winners of the last four laps. Raul Riqueni in his Terraplane won this along with the race. A map of the circuit is shown herewith.

ents, teachers and friends enjoyed a picnic at Island Lake with about 200 present.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kallger entertained at a reception in honor of their son, Harry, who graduated from Northville high school Thursday evening. About 70 guests were present. They brought the honor guest many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mairs attended the alumni banquet Friday night at Northville.

Mrs. Jay Burton is visiting her sister, Mrs. Floyd Verbe, at Scottville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stilwell entertained at a picnic dinner on the lawn Sunday at a June birthday party in honor of five present, whose birthdays occurred in June. They were Clyde Putnam, Floyd Lanning, L. J. Putnam and daughter, Lepore, whose birthdays fall on the same day, and Mrs. Stilwell. The families of the honor guests and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Putnam were present, numbering about 30 in all.

A very pleasant social event, was the picnic dinner Monday of the Home Hygiene class and guests at Cass, Benton Park, with about 50 present. The meeting was the close of 12 lessons with Mrs. Anne Heox of Pontiac instructing, sponsored by the Red Cross. A little gift of appreciation was presented to Mrs. Heox by one of the members who read an original poem:

Now, one day it came to pass
That we formed a little class
In North, to study home hygiene,
To keep the sick room neat and clean.

We learned how to do many things,
Like making paper cups and stock ing rings.

We likewise learned to make a bed
On which we would be glad to lay our head.

It must be neat, it must be clean,
Or it wouldn't be fit to be seen;
There mustn't be a bump in it,
Or no one would care to jump in it.

We also learned to give a bath
To a patient sick in bed,
From the tips of her toes
To the top of her head.

We were told how to dress a baby,
Also how to feed him, maybe;
He must have vitamins four—
And, perhaps, one or two more.

The last day we had a picnic,
We hope no one went home sick,
Now, I've said my little verse—
We have a present for our nurse.

With love to Mrs. Anne Heox from one of her many flock.

WASHTENAW COUNTY WOMEN GET THEIR LICENSES AND MEN

Washtenaw county women get their licenses.

Ten per cent of all marriage licenses issued in the county during 1935 were applied for by women—that isn't the worst of it!

It seems the girls aren't content any more to regard the traditional "Leap Year privilege" of the female as a joke. The number of women applying for marriage licenses during the first five months of this year exceeds by an appreciable amount the number making application during the same period of 1935. Woe to you unwary male!

Records of County Clerk Emmett M. Gribb's office are the basis for a question that might be embarrassing to some of those who applied for marriage licenses during the past year.

The question is: "What has become of the 34 licenses that have not been used?"

True, there is no time limit on the worth of a marriage license. Parties have been known to obtain licenses two or three years before the ceremony took place. Mrs. Luella Smith, deputy county clerk, points out:

There have been licenses that never were used, however, and employees of the office conceded that some interesting stories might come to light were the "lost" licenses traced. Some, undoubtedly, were obtained by optimists of the type that derives a childish pleasure from pulling a license from his pocket at the moment the girl says, "Yes," instead of enjoying to the full an occasion that never occurs again.

Motion pictures to the contrary, there are few cases where the bride or groom is "fired at the altar," these days. Occasionally, there may be a tragic story concerned in an unused marriage license, but only the 34 couples for whom the permits were issued last year will ever know.

There were 647 licenses issued in the county last year, 78 of which went to women, and 34 of which have not been used. (State law requires that the officiating clergyman or justice return a certification of the ceremony to the county clerk's office within a designated period.)

Thus far this year there have been 237 applications made for licenses, 27 of them by women.

Hough Family Memorial at Riverside Cemetery to Be the Most Perfect Tomb

The Edward C. Hough Family Memorial, to be constructed on the Hough plot in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth, will be, according to contractors, the most perfect and most durable tomb in America. Work will begin June 15.

An article in the Clyde Enterprise, Clyde, O., where the contracting firm is located, gives the following description of the memorial:

"The superstructure of the tomb is a beautiful, massive arch of architecture. On the epistyle appears the dedication 'Edward C. Hough Family Memorial' and at the head of the bronze doorway leading to the underground tomb is a Greek Sable upon which is engraved the Biblical quotation, 'Until the Day Break and the Shadows, Flee Away.'"

"The tomb of the memorial is to be built entirely underground and can be entered only through a heavy bronze doorway located in the floor of the superstructure. The central part of the tomb below ground consists of a room in the two wings of which are contained eight catacombs. These catacombs are concealed by heavy marble doors on which are to be engraved the genealogy of the members of the Hough family.

"The engineering character by which the underground tomb is to be constructed is derived from the remarkable Egyptian sepulchre of King Tutankhamen. This Egyptian tomb upon being opened after three thousand six hundred years was found to be the most perfectly preserved tomb of antiquity in the world. The engineering department of the Hughes Granite company is of the opinion that the tomb of the Hough Memorial will be the most perfect and most durable tomb constructed in America."

Mr. Hough of Plymouth, the purchaser of the memorial, is the vice president and treasurer of the Daisy Air Rifle company.

VILLAGE PROCEEDINGS

A special meeting of the Village Commission was held at the Village Hall Tuesday evening, June 23, 1936, for the purpose of considering and approving an agreement between the Board of County Road Commissioners of Wayne County, Michigan, and the Village of Northville, Michigan, to raise the grade and repave with wider pavement MAIN STREET from the east line of Church Street to Sheldon (Center) Street, and to readjust grades and resurface approximately 100 feet of Sheldon Street.

Present: President Burkart, Commissioners Gregory, Shafer, Hicks, Perrin and Perkins.

Motion was made by Commissioner Gregory, seconded by Commissioner Perkins, that the Commission accept the offer of the Wayne County Road Commission for the widening of Main Street and readjusting and resurfacing grades on Center Street. Carried unanimously.

No further business appearing, motion was made by Perrin, seconded by Shafer, that meeting adjourn. Carried.

Signed, MARY ALEXANDER, Clerk.

"AUTOMATIC"

but not as automatic as

ELECTRIC

HOT WATER!

Your electric refrigerator does its work quietly and efficiently, without attention—save for an occasional defrosting. It is "automatic"... but not as automatic as a new electric service for the home: ELECTRIC HOT WATER. Here is the last word in carefree, trouble-free water heating—and it is completely automatic. Once it is installed, you need not even press a button to enjoy constant hot water. You can forget about water heating problems permanently, assured that you will always have hot water when you want it. An electric water heater requires no attention whatever, and ends forever the annoyance of waiting for water to get hot; the bother of running up and down stairs to light a manually operated heater, and the inconvenience and delay caused by having only lukewarm water in the pipes.

Once you have enjoyed the luxury of this automatic hot water service, you will wonder how you ever did without it. Electric water heating is one of the finest services that electricity brings to your household. Stop in at any Detroit Edison office for complete information today!

Frank Pontney Refuses to Pose For Detroit Free Press Writer— Children Enjoy His Candy Favors

A Detroit Free Press feature writer stopped in Northville not long ago to obtain information from some of the old record files in the newspaper office. He became interested in Frank Pontney while here and attempted to take the old veteran's picture for the city paper. Pontney refused to have his picture taken, but Lawrence McCracken was able to get enough information from him to write the following story which appeared in Sunday's Free Press:

"The Oxford Oath notwithstanding, Northville children strongly favor more Indian wars, or, at least, more Indian war veterans."

Frank Pontney, one of the few surviving Indian War veterans and a soldier who fought with Gen. George A. Custer, is the reason behind this demand.

Pontney takes a considerable part of his pension and invests it in candy which he always carries with him. He never meets a child without pulling out the candy bag. He also can tell Indian stories if he can be induced to talk.

"Born in Mohrre July 7, 1850, Pontney was on his second enlistment when sent to service in the Indian Wars. He was a sergeant."

"After the war Pontney came to Northville and served six years as night watchman. He now is retired."

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

Education to Carry On

Look to the school and you are seeing society's greatest effort to perpetuate itself. For whatever objectives you may establish for education, there is always one underlying purpose, the foundation stone as it were, and it is "to carry on."

You may think of reading, writing, and arithmetic as basic, but then you must return to the inevitable question "why?" They are tools of social advancement. But our hope is always that the next generations will use them to better advantage than we have. One by one, the adults of a community pass on. One by one the children of today step up to take our places.

Are they prepared? Not what do they know but are they good material for the next society? In this sense, children constitute the raw material of an ever-renewing state or society. The school is the mill we have invented for fashioning that raw material into understanding parents, good neighbors, honest citizens, and willing workers. Our job is to turn out a better product with each successive generation.

And when we come to examine the essentials, and to ask "just what is important?" more and more we realize that at the top of the list we must place health—physical, mental, social, emotional; health; fitness for work, play, and citizenship; a zest for complete, abundant living.

What about the "reducing race" among girls? Dr. Ireland will describe it in his next article.

QUALITY IN EGGS GOAL IN COOLING

Thousands of dozens of Michigan eggs will be spoiled by hot weather unless attention is paid to proper gathering and cooling.

Eggs must be kept in temperatures below 68 degrees at all stages of the marketing process from the time the egg is laid until it is eaten.

This is the advice of the poultry department at Michigan State college, East Lansing. Since Michigan stands twelfth in the nation in egg production with an annual yield of over one and a quarter million dozen eggs, the problem of keeping eggs cool is one worth attention in warm weather.

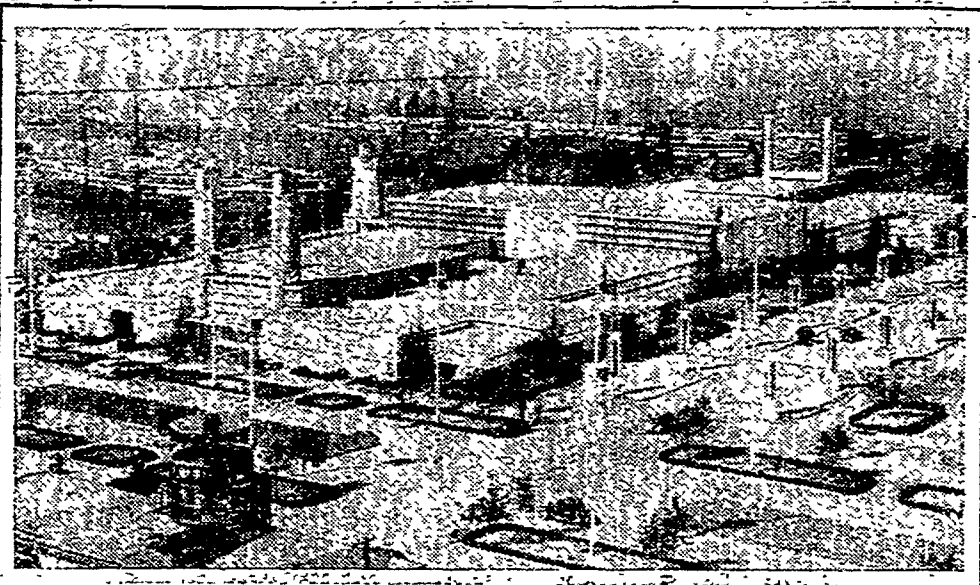

"Germ development in eggs can be prevented if eggs are kept in temperatures below 68 degrees," extension poultry workers say. "Above that temperature, germ development begins. Infertile eggs reach market more easily with higher quality."

If at any stage in the process, higher temperatures are permitted, egg quality suffers. Cities which have grading regulations are continually on the watch for eggs showing heat effects.

Frequently eggs are kept for too long periods in temperatures around 90 degrees, they say. Three days of such heat are enough to make eggs wholly inedible.

"Song and Dance Man" Heads Pictures At Local Theatre—Play Based On One Of History's Exploits Is Booked Here

There's many an interesting side-light to the careers of old time song and dance teams, but none have ever compared to the absorbing story revealed in George M. Cohan's successful stage play, "Song and Dance Man."

After embellishing this famous story with new laughs, songs and pathos, 20th Century-Fox presents the modernized screen version of this successful stage play on Friday and Saturday at the Pennman-Allyn theatre.

The story of "Song and Dance Man" revolves around a pair of youngsters. The lad is a cock-sure "roofer" confident he is "top" while all the world but himself knows he's a hopeless ham and actor. The girl, whose beauty and talent can get her places, sticks by him because of his audacity and when she is down and out.

Finally, when the girl gets an opportunity in a Broadway stage play, the boy realizes that he is held in her back. He puts on the laugh-can-lough act, splits up the partnership and gives the girl no other alternative but to accept the chaperon's offer.

A MESSAGE TO GARCIA
Wallace Berry—Barbara Stanwyck John Boles These three great stars together for the first time, cast their greatest roles in 20th Century's most gripping romance, "A Message to Garcia," the picture opening Wednesday at the Pennman-Allyn theatre.

Inspired by Elbert Hubbard's immortal essay, the picture has a plot written about one of history's most fascinating exploits.

Boles, the man who carries the message to Garcia, in the jungle interior, a message that will change the destinies of three nations. For a comrade, he takes Wallace Berry, an assassin, who is half-traitor, half hero.

When they discover that the man who was to guide them to Garcia has been killed, they take his daughter, Barbara Stanwyck, to show them the way.

Hardship, peril, adventure, faced together in the treacherous jungle, draw Boles and Miss Stanwyck to each other. But, when she is wounded Boles comes on bravely with his mission leaving her behind in the care of Berry.

The taut and nerve-rattling climax of the picture approaches when Berry reappears and leads Boles into what he mistakenly thinks is Garcia's camp, actually the stronghold of Boles' enemies.

A heroic charge led by Berry free Boles from the clutches of his captors, makes possible the rejoining of the lovers and brings the picture to a happy close.

General Re-registration Necessary

ALL QUALIFIED ELECTORS MUST RE-REGISTER TO BE ENTITLED TO VOTE AT THE COMING PRIMARY AND GENERAL ELECTIONS

THIS IS IMPORTANT!

Beginning June 1st and through July and August, all qualified electors must register in order to be entitled to vote at the subsequent elections—both Primary and General Elections.

The third Saturday preceding the next General Election will be the last day on which application for registration will be received at the Township Clerk's office.

Applications for registration must be made in person.

SHERRILL W. AMBLER,
Clerk, Northville Township.

This wreck was caused by windstorm Aug. 2, 1934. The property—100 foot barn, two-story, two head of cattle, chickens, hay and tools—was owned by Edgar Thomas, Ray township, Macomb County. This company paid $3,850.00.

RECORD OF 50 YEARS AND MORE—

COST FOR WINDSTORM INSURANCE IN THE MICHIGAN MUTUAL WINDSTORM INSURANCE COMPANY HAS BEEN LESS THAN 2¢ PER $100 A YR.

HALF-CENTURY OF EXPERIENCE PROVES THIS COMPANY AN ASSET TO MICHIGAN

This company has paid more than Four and Three-quarter Millions of Dollars in losses caused by Windstorm since it was organized over a half century ago. This experience has proven the great worth of this sound old insurance company to the property owners of the State. These losses paid represent about 90,000 separate ones, and much of this property destroyed would never have been replaced without the insurance protection which the owners carried in this company. Get a Windstorm Insurance policy with this company at once—the cost is low. See a local representative or write the home office.

Sunlight or Moonlight Now Come Into Living Room At Flick of Switch

By Jean Prentice

A fresh note of modernism is injected into this Chinese Chippendale living room through the installation of a concealed lighting unit recessed behind the curtains. The effect produced is that of warm sunlight streaming through the windows.

THERE seems to be simply no limit to the ingenuity of these lighting people nowadays. A press of a button, and they give you daylight, sunlight, or moonlight at any hour of the day or evening—right in your own living room. And it's almost laughably simple!

Lighting panels built into hidden places produce the effect. They are often used over the latest kitchen stoves, although in such cases, ordinary colored bulbs are employed. Recently this type of lighting has become quite popular in living rooms, particularly where there is a bay window.

Easily Installed

The lighting unit itself consists of a metal box, approximately thirty inches long, six inches wide, and seven inches high. It contains three 40- or 60-watt bulbs, depending upon whether you have light or dark shades. The amount and color of light desired also determines the number of bulbs. Flashed opal glass is used at the bottom of the unit to diffuse and soften the light.

There are two ways of installing such a unit, which is a regulation fixture, obtainable at many electrical stores. When built into a new house, it is recessed into a ceiling, adjacent to the window. In a house that has been already built, two polished metal reflectors containing 60-watt lamps can be mounted between the over-drapes and the glass curtains. These reflectors are also standard equipment, easily installed by your electrical contractor.

JUVENILE BOOKS GIVE PROMISE OF SUMMER PLEASURE

Literature at the local library have selected books for the juvenile reader which will assure a summer of pleasant and profitable reading. Some books on the list include: Boy On Horseback, by Lincoln Steffens.

"As a boy I would ride far, far away to some spot, give my pony a long rope to swing on, and let him feed on the grass while I sat and did nothing but muse." I read a great deal. Finding that books fed my fancies, I would take one along, and finding a quiet book, I read. And my reading always gave me something to be.

Infants' Comin', by Pearson and Bullis.

Here is a book with action, humor, and the real spirit of the American pioneer. This story of life on the Minnesota frontier 75 years ago is written from actual recollection.

Piper's Pony, by Paul Brown.

This American artist, famous for his pictures of horses, tells more about Piper and his pony, Patchwork.

Back to Treasure Island, by Harold A. Cahalan.

The author decided, from hints he discovered in "Treasure Island" that Stevenson had a sequel in mind, and here it is.

The Pony Express Goes Through, by Howard R. Briggs.

The mail had to go through regardless of unfavorable weather, hostile Indians and financial difficulties. Regular riders, pinch hitters and spectators relate the dramatic story as they experienced it.

The Cave Mystery, by Thomas R. Williamson.

This is one of the few mysteries which will interest both boys and girls in spite of the fact that there is not a girl in the book.

Trigger John's Son, by Tom Robinson.

The young Trigger combines much mischief with a good heart and every real boy will be glad to hear about him.

Mountain Girl Comes Home, by Genevieve Fox.

For boys and girls from seven to ten.

How The Moose, by Phil Song.

For boys and girls from seven to ten.

HIGHWAY MAP READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

Michigan's official 1936 highway map is just off the press and ready for general free distribution.

Persons desiring one or more maps can obtain them at the state highway department here or by writing to State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner for them.

Initial distribution of the first edition of the 1936 map started Monday, June 8. Later editions with trunkline corrections will be issued in July and September.

The two principal changes made in the 1936 map involve a vertical fold and the addition of much more country road mileage than usual. The map retains such former features as a mileage table, an index of more than 1,000 cities and villages on the trunkline system together with their population and a key to their location, on the map, individual names of principal cities and location of state parks, state and national forests, state police posts, and airports, and the state-operated ferry schedule.

The new fold will permit the motorist to open his map in vertical sections on the map instead of the reverse section reserved for Michigan plans and other data. As the new map is opened the first turn is to Detroit and the metropolitan area—the most heavily traveled section of the state. One turn of the fold brings more than half the lower peninsula highway system into view. A reverse turn of the map gives a composite view of the Upper Peninsula highway system. With the new fold, a motorist has only to turn a particular fold to refer to a particular section of the state rather than opening the entire map.

SOUTH LYON VOTES AGAINST BUILDING NEW HIGH SCHOOL

The school bond issue for a new school addition or building at South Lyon was defeated recently at the hands of the school district voters, 118-60.

It is believed that the proposed location of the building site was the reason for the defeat. It was proposed to erect the new building on the present school location. Many voters said they would rather have it on the athletic field. Several district voters were in favor of delaying enlarging the school until the city could vote on sewers—the reasoning being that if money were spent for a school building sewers would fail.

The South Lyon Herald made the following comment about the school situation:

"The school at present is disgracefully crowded—especially in the high school room. The district has an income of about $5,400 from 55 students outside the district (tuition and Thatcher-Sauer money). Forty-eight of these students are in the high school room where three students sit in two narrow seats pushed together. Conditions such as this do not prevail in Milford, Brighton, New Hudson or Northville, and if our foreign students should be sent to these other towns, the loss of five thousand dollars in revenue would have the effect of raising school taxes to very nearly three times what they were last year. A loss of only 20 students would raise taxes as much as a school building which costs $18,000.

"An honest difference of opinion as to the location of an addition, or as to the amount to be expended is to be expected. If these differences are not ironed out and the question settled so something is done, South Lyon stands to lose considerable. The question is too important to be tied to personalities or unrelated issues."

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

THE LOVE OF LOAFING

Has the depression promoted laziness and loafing? Henry Ford calls attention to this question, and in remarks recently made at Washington he said that many people had been discouraged in laziness and that people will have to work harder in future for the loafing that is now being done.

Probably the great majority of people who have been receiving relief want to work, and would do so if they had a chance. But there always has been a natural disinclination for work. In times like the present six years, when relief funds are freely distributed, it may be easier for many of them to live without working than it was in the boom days.

What makes anybody lazy? Some will hold that most people are indolent by nature. Anyway there are countless boys and girls who love to laze and dream. They imagine rainbow visions of the wonderful things they are going to do and the grand fortune that are coming to them without effort on their part. They prefer dreams to working.

If a young person is allowed to live along in that loafing way, he never forms the work habit and work becomes more and more difficult. Whenever he tries to do anything, he is so clumsy and ineffective that others get ahead of him. If he gets a job, he usually loses it because he gets poor results.

Such people become chronic loafers. They should be taught to work when young. It is a dangerous thing to allow a boy or girl to grow up with these loafing habits. Such a person is likely to become a permanent burden on his family and the community.

PREACHER DEFIES R. I.

(E. O. Gildart in Utica Sentinel)

For genuine heaven-born courage, the kind that carried Daniel through the lions' den, commend us to the Rev. Ralph C. Montague, pastor of a little Baptist church at River Junction. Invited to a Black Legion initiation, he looked on in disdain and told the hooded mob that they were "a despicable, un-American lot." They went into a huddle to decide what to do with a Christian minister who dared to talk to them like that, and finally agreed to let him go. Thousands of men who lack faith in God have quailed before lesser crimes than that, and have surrendered. This is especially true these days in business life.

PRESBYTERIANS ARE BANNED

(Wm. H. Berkey in Cassopolis Vigilant)

We like the idea of a community church, where all the people of a community may work together in one common Christian effort, but we rebel at the idea of having any community forced, by power of government edict, to have no other church than their community church. The following paragraph from the "Mississippi Visitor," a Presbyterian monthly, will probably be news to most of our readers:

"There is a place where a Presbyterian church cannot be built. That may be startling news to some of us. But it becomes more startling when we learn where the place is. We might suppose that it was in Africa, China, Russia, or Mexico. But the location is not in some far away land, but right here at our own door—in our neighboring state of Tennessee, in the town of Norris. The reason is, the Federal Government has taken religion in hand, built a 'community church house,' and has said to all denominations, you cannot build any of your churches here. And that settles it. The order sounds very much like those being issued in Russia and Germany. And all this in spite of the fact that the Federal Constitution says: That Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or preventing the free exercise thereof. But Constitution or no Constitution, you can't build a Presbyterian church in Norris, Tennessee, in the good old United States."

SPENDING RELIEF MONEY

"A steady job—that's real excitement." Enlightened employers, I believe, must soon realize that laying men off, turning them loose to shift for themselves when there is no immediate need for their services, does not relieve them entirely of their responsibility for the upkeep of these workers. For the government must take care of them, and when that happens the employer must contribute additional taxes to the government. Somebody must pay even for the burial of the pauper.

"If private enterprise is unable to furnish sufficient work, government must take up the slack. There is no alternative. Paying people for doing nothing or for performing unnecessary labor is a ruinous practice. That has been proven to our experience of the past few years. It is a policy which breeds loafers and idlers, forcing the industries to support the idler."

"Government has a right to demand as much for the money it pays out to welfare clients as private industry does for the money it pays out in wages. When it accepts less, it encourages a certain class to shirk honest labor and to lean sa-

A SMART FOURSOME

There's youth appeal and sport appeal in this powerful, modern, light convertible coupe with its power dome cylinder head motor and 124 horsepower. It's just the thing for a day at the golf links or for a cross-country trip. There's utility, too, for the top can be raised quickly and easily, transforming it into a closed car with the same smart lines that mark it as an open car. Three can ride with comfort in the front seat, for the electric hand does away with the gear shift lever and the parking brake is located conveniently at the left, under the wheel.

pinely upon the public treasury for an allowance which comes pretty close to being a dole. We need things in this state—additions to our hospitals for the insane, an office building, improvements to numerous institutions. If public funds are to be spent for relief, they should be directed into channels that will provide these improvements instead of being doled out for projects that have no lasting value. Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald in his monthly report to the citizen and taxpayers of Michigan.

THE MAN WITHOUT A PARTY

(Ray Corliss in The Paria News)

Would that there was a modern Edward Everett Hale to write the story of "The Man Without a Party." For there is such a story, and such a man and his home address is Detroit, Michigan.

Through governor's appointment, James S. Couzens went to the United States senate from Michigan to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of a Republican senator. He was selected by a Republican governor of a Republican state. And that is just about as close as Mr. Couzens ever came to Republicanism.

Yet for 14 years Michigan has had a senator, who does not represent the majority of her citizens, who boasts that he votes as he pleases regardless of how his constituents may feel regarding public questions and who seems to attend the conventions of the party which re-elected him to office when his appointed term expired.

Now the man who earned allegiance to party has in turn been twice spurned. Republicans who would have given him a chance, are tired of his indifferent appearance. Democrats, in spite of the work of administration leader, have none of the great Couzens. They have no place on their ballot for him. Republicans will not ally the nation in the primaries that they, too, have removed the Couzens name from their ticket. The Senator is a man without a party.

In contrast is the youthful Wilbur Brucker, vigorously campaigning for the senatorial nomination. A Republican soundly beaten for re-election as governor because he was his own party's man turned out to be: Mr. Brucker accepted with good graces the will of the majority.

He has never wavered in loyalty to his party. His patriotism is deep-seated and wholesome and has been demonstrated on battlefield, in private life and in public office. He has high ideals, a clean and alert mind and a robust body. Wilbur Brucker has offered himself to the service of his state and nation. And he is an offer that Michigan voters are going to accept at the polls.

NO MAN IS "BIG ENOUGH"

(V. T. Brown in The Ingham County News, Mason)

Governor Alf Landon, of Kansas, as Mr. Parker suggests, may not be "big enough to be president," but at least he has sounded a note in an address he recently delivered before a group of teachers of men's Bible classes which stamps him as a man of vision and courage. Perhaps with these he may overcome his lack of "bigness" as seen by the Tammany chief and eventually may meet his responsibilities in most respects.

Governor Landon said: "Our economic welfare may be threatened for the moment and our industrial progress may be retarded for a season without final or total disaster. Far more serious is the possible collapse of character, a possible paralysis of individual initiative, and a diminished sense of personal obligation and responsibility."

"America is suffering today because of a false sense that everyone and every generation 'is entitled' to prosperity and happiness. Its return to normal industrial and business conditions is being retarded because of injections of artificiality and doses of quackery. Character is being undermined; individual initiative is being paralyzed; personal obligation and responsibility are being regimented out of existence."

This generation is being trained to expect supermen when all that is needed is men of courage and conviction and character and vision. Nothing has been said by any public man in recent months which rings truer or points the way to a more fundamental approach to our economic and economic problems than what was said to the Bible students by the Kansas governor.

Crucifixion that a candidate is not big enough to be president is out of place. No man is big enough to be president. No man ever has been big enough to be president. There are those with convictions and character sufficiently great to permit them to lead a great nation toward the goal. That is as far as any president can go. The trouble has been that we in America have leaned upon the hope that a 'big man' can give us what we desire. The facts are that cannot be done. Individual responsibility initiative plus intrinsic character are the formula out of which accomplishments are born and out of which nations have forged their destinies.

DIVIDING THE WEALTH

(The Portland Oregonian)

If Andrew McKen's fortune—literally estimated at $10,000,000—were divided among the people of the United States, it would mean, on an average, $100 for each of us.

S. P. Morgan's wealth, if we could lay hands on it, would yield us each about forty cents; from Henry Ford if we could chop up his factories and mines, we could realize about four dollars; from Mr. Hearst the "take" would amount to something like one dollar and sixty cents; and another one dollar and sixty cents could be had from Mr. Rockefeller.

The total from this group, after deduction of the seventy-five cents secured from Mr. Mellon and already, as you will recall, spent on a necktie, would amount to seven dollars and sixty cents. With this we could each purchase a quart and a half of champagne with which to drown our disappointment over the discovery that the folk on accumulated surpluses had not made us all rich.

WILD PROMISES

(The Detroit News of June 7)

In no other particular has Gov. Alf Landon revealed his Coolidge-like caution more interestingly than in his reticence in making promises in the event of his becoming President.

Recently a newspaper interviewer approached him with a series of ten questions concerning national policies. Four of these he refused to answer, saying that he had not come to definite conclusions.

For this evasion he has been mildly criticized, even by some who admire him. But it is quite possible that he remembers four years back when President Roosevelt, touring the country, was visible in criticisms declaring what he would accomplish if elected. Some of the Roosevelt campaign speeches have a peculiar sound as they echo through the halls of experience.

In Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 30, 1932, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I assume the present (Hoover) administration of being the greatest spending Administration in peace times in all our history, one which has piled bureau upon bureau, commission upon commission and has failed to anticipate the dire needs or reduced earning power of the people. I ask you to assign to me the task of reducing the annual operating expenses of the National Government."

In his Pittsburgh speech, Oct. 29, 1932, he said:

"What I should like to do is to reduce, in so far as possible, the problem of our national finance to the terms of a family budget. Now the credit of the family depends chiefly on whether that family is living within its income. And this is so of the nation. If the nation is living within its income its credit is good. But if, like a spendthrift, it throws discretion to the winds, extends its taxing to the limit of the people's power to pay and continues to pile up deficits, it is on the road to bankruptcy."

When recently Landon was asked if he favored balancing the national budget, he replied cautiously: "We should move toward balancing the budget as rapidly as possible."

COMPANY PROTECTS AGAINST DAMAGES

Nearly every year the Holly variety is visited by a disastrous storm. It was in the late spring, but two years ago it was in the late summer. In each of these blazes there is a big property loss, and the numerous occurrences has taught our thrifty people that it is little short of foolhardy to try to get along without adequate and dependable insurance against loss from windstorms and cyclones.

The Michigan Mutual Windstorm

Insurance Co. of Hastings have paid many big claims in the Holly section, and we have yet to learn of a person who was not satisfied with the manner in which the loss was adjusted. They have a record of over 50 years of successful operation, and have nearly $400,000,000 of insurance in force in the state.

Conservative management has kept their rate among the lowest, the average for the entire life of the company being less than 70 per cent on each $100. Last year they paid out $261,000 to policy holders. This is the biggest insurance company of its kind in Michigan, and they have 800 agents, several of whom are in the Holly vicinity.

Their monthly ads in the Herald vividly portray some of the devastation wrought by the wind.

Here's A Chance to Save!

A Chance for Our Subscribers to SAVE On Their Accounts— An Opportunity That Will Be Mutually Helpful.

Some weeks ago The Record announced a Special Subscription Offer to its subscribers who were in arrears in their accounts, in which it was agreed that we would accept ONE DOLLAR for each DOLLAR AND A HALF DUE on account.

This very generous offer was accepted by many of our subscribers, but at that particular time there were many others who did not have the ready funds to take advantage of the saving offered. In view of that fact we have decided to repeat the offer for a period of TWO WEEKS beginning

July 6 and Continuing Until July 18

This means that we are discounting all our subscription accounts ONE-THIRD in order to assist those who have been unable to pay their accounts during the past few years. To our subscribers this will mean a great saving and will afford all an opportunity to bring their accounts up-to-date.

During the past few years we have said but little about past due subscription accounts because we have felt that everybody was carrying about all the financial burdens they could master. Now that money is "easier" in the market places, we feel justified in making this offer and in asking the subscribers we have accommodated and upon whom we have waited to make a very special effort to pay their accounts.

One or a dozen accounts do not amount to a great sum. But when there are several hundred who are in arrears, the aggregate of their indebtedness makes a very large sum and in all candor, we NEED THE MONEY. This is a plain statement, but it is A FACT.

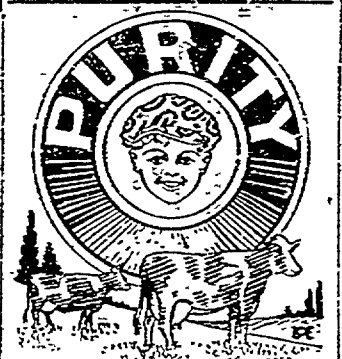

Those who take advantage of this special offer will not only be helping themselves, but they will also help the publisher. So, why not make the two weeks' period a gala event and bring your account from the RED to the BLACK?

July is a month for celebrating and with the assistance of our subscribers who are in arrears we can make the month a most happy one for all.

Remember the Time! July 6 to July 18!

RECEIVE LARGE RETURNS FROM GASOLINE TAXES According to a report just received from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it is noted that Michigan motorists used 767,987,000 gallons of gasoline on the highways. This was an increase of 9.9 percent in consumption over last year. 52p

Gasoline consumption by motor vehicles in 1935 increased 5.4 percent over the preceding year and State taxes yielded a revenue of $619,000,000 according to the statistics. Every State reported increased consumption, the largest increase being 13.4 percent in New Mexico. Increases of more than 10 percent are reported for Alabama, Arizona, California, Georgia, Idaho, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina and Utah. 52p

The average tax rate was 34 cents. Gasoline consumed on highways amounted to over 16 billion gallons. This figure includes some non-highway consumption in 13 States that do not allow refunds of the tax for non-highway use. During the year, the tax rate was increased by one cent in Connecticut, Delaware, Nebraska, New York and Pennsylvania. 52p

WHEN BANK CROOKS SHOW PREFERENCES The American Bankers Association reports that non-member banks suffer twice the percentage of burglaries and hold up robberies as compared with members. Member banks display a sign showing that they receive the protection of the association's detective agents, who cause the arrest of from 120 to 400 bank crooks every year, the organization, which is a non-profit body, says. 52p

Professional criminals often boast of having sense enough to dodge the far-reaching system of man hunting available to members, so long as there are other banks without this protection, it says. "They recognize that once on the record of the Association's Protective Department, they must pay for every crime with which they can be identified. Banker warrants have followed them from place to place so that penal servitude for one crime would not expiate other offenses." 52p

Canvasback Feast of Ducks The canvasback is perhaps the most famous of all our ducks, says the American Nature association. It is one of the fastest of flocks, and moves often in great flocks on the fresh water lakes, larger streams and less brackish bays and inlets. It rears its young from Alaska to Nebraska, and winters chiefly in the Middle Atlantic and Gulf states to Mexico. 52p

CHURCH NEWS

Salem Federated Church Sunday, June 28, is Scout Sunday in our church. All are cordially invited to this service which is to be held at 10:30 a. m. Bible School is at 11:45 a. m. Read the gospel of Luke in preparation for the lesson, "Jesus Meeting Human Needs." William Scott, scoutmaster, announces a meeting of the Scouts to be held on Friday evening, June 26, at 7:30 o'clock.

First Presbyterian Church Harold G. Whitfield, Minister Sunday, June 28 10 a. m.—Worship hour. 11:15 a. m.—Church School. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed at the morning service. An invitation is extended to all who may wish to unite with the church, either by certificate or on profession of faith. Kindly contact the minister by Friday night.

The Woman's Union will hold a picnic, Friday, June 26, at the home of Mrs. P. A. Northrop. A cooperative luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. Each member is requested to bring her own dishes, sandwiches and a passing dish. This occasion furnished an excellent opportunity for fellowship and for the summer planning of the church.

Northville Methodist Church Harry J. Lord, Minister 10 a. m.—Worship hour. 11:15 a. m.—Church School. The pastor will be in charge of the worship hour. Beginning the first Sunday of July, the summer schedule of union services with the Presbyterian church will be in effect with the Rev. Harold Whitfield, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preaching in the Methodist church.

First Baptist Church K. S. Norton, Minister "Church Night" is at 6:30 tonight. Come to the potluck supper and program. Sunday services are at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. with Sunday School at 11:15 a. m. Mid-week service will be held at 7:30 p. m., next Wednesday.

Christian Science Churches "Christian Science" is the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 28. Among the Bible citations in this passage (Psalms 107:20) "He sent His word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions." 52p

Confessive passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 146): "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sicknesses and sin." 52p

Salem Congregational Church Lucia M. Stroh, Minister Next Sunday's service will be a special Children's Day program put on by the Sunday School. All in the community are most cordially invited to this worship at 10:30 a. m. The Sunday School and church service will be united into one service next Sunday.

Prayer meeting is Wednesday evening in the parsonage. Beginning Sunday, July 5, the Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a. m., preceding the church service.

Arrangements for the Sunday School picnic will be made in the near future. Come and help us in the plans.

Gold Medallion to Admiral Byrd Commemorates His Lonely Vigil

A SUPERBLY human note was struck at a recent dinner at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City tendered by combined American industry to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd—in acknowledgment of his invaluable contributions to science and to pay tribute to those qualities of heart and spirit that make him universally admired and an inspiration to his countrymen.

During the course of the dinner at which the Admiral spoke briefly, for the first time, of the appalling experiences of his lonely vigil in the shadow of the South Pole, he was presented with a four and one-half inch gold medallion symbolizing American industry's tribute to his heroic exploit.

The face of the medallion depicts the Admiral seated at the radio in his tiny advance weather station tapping out "All's Well" to Little America, while the reverse side bears the following inscription:

DICK BYRD—GALLANT GENTLEMAN Due to a combination of unforeseen circumstances it became his duty as he saw it, to keep, alone, a six month vigil for meteorological observation at the world's southernmost outpost. Before the middle of the long Antarctic night he was stricken desperately ill from the poisonous fumes of a faulty oil stove. Survival seemed impossible. He deliberately chose to die rather than tap out an S.O.S. on his radio. In fact, he further squandered his strength and lessened his chance for survival by painfully hand-cranking his radio to keep his schedule and report "All's Well" to Little America, lest his silence cause his comrades to risk their lives coming to his rescue in the darkness. For months of the bitterest cold ever, endured he hung precariously on the edge of the abyss. Untold suffering did not compel him to alter his decision. By a miracle he was spared.

Are You COVERED? Have your policies kept pace with your growing family, property and business? Don't neglect this important question.
