PHIL H. GRENNAN

The surprising death of Phil H. Grennan is a great loss to the Northville community. This kindly hearted and generous man made his fortune in the big city but he found some of his most real experiences of life in this quiet place. Hundreds here have come to know his geniality, his unfailing kindness and willingness to help others. To all of them his passing will bring genuine sorrow. There are too few men like Phil Grennan.

Both Mr. Grennan and the late Mrs. Grennan had a deep love for their adopted community. They made their success together and found great happiness in passing on to others some of their material success. Many have enjoyed the hospitality of the Grennan home and ranch. The substantial Presbyterian church house was made possible through the great generosity of Mrs. Grennan and our friendships. Without friends, one might well wish him her picture that hangs on the western wall of the dining room is a constant reminder of her splendid life. Mr. Grennan's fine love and loyalty for his mother, who survives, to make new ones. This is campaign year, by the way, and bitter feelings are easy to come to the top, but above all things, let no passing political feeling separate you from your friends. Politics will pass but friends live on.

The death of Mr. Grennan cuts short the plans that he had for the up-building of Northville. He had purchased the former Gordon Baking Co. plant on the Base Line road and the strategic lot on the corner of Main and Center streets, and the building across the street. There is no doubt that he was hoping to add to the community's material attractiveness but his death will pass the torch on to others.

Northville will long treasure the memory of one of the best friends it ever had.

EATON IS STRONG CANDIDATE

There is every reason to think that Northville voters will give very favorable support to its former editor, Elton R. Eaton, in his candidacy for the state legislature.

Mr. Eaton is capable to an unusual degree and few men in the district, 50 days could match his political experience and knowledge of public affairs. As former secretary to Governor Alex. Groves, he gained knowledge that will be very helpful to him at Lansing. He will become one of the real leaders at Lansing. The Plymouth-Northville area will have an outstanding leader at the state capital.

CUT THE BRUSH AND SAVE A LIFE

Some of the farmers around Northville and also village automobile drivers are telling us that some of the highway corners within a few miles of the village are dangerous due to the growth of brush and small trees.

They point out that some of these bad corners could be made much safer if this brush and undergrowth could be cut down and thus make better vision for passing drivers.

"Cut the brush and save a life," might not be a bad slogan for the people who are responsible for these dangerous corners. Automobile driving is dangerous enough when the view is clear in all directions. It becomes a real menace when the road ahead or to one side cannot be seen.

CANDIDATE WELSH "BOXES IN"

CANDIDATE MURPHY

It seems that Frank Murphy, running for the democratic nomination for governor, "started something he couldn't finish." George Welsh, also making the same run—and with very good prospects of winning—has rather put Mr. Murphy of the Philippines "on the spot."

A while back Mr. Murphy, knowing that Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald makes no claims to being an orator, challenged the governor to a debate. The executive, wisely realizing that the smooth-tongued Murphy could out-talk him, declined.

One-fourth of every dollar you earn goes for the cost of government.

Then last week Mr. Welsh got into the challenging business and asked his rival to meet him on the platform and discuss the issues of the day. Did Mr. Murphy accept the challenge? No, he did not. He realized that George Welsh is a hard-hitting gentleman who knows his way about the world and who can talk in a very effective way. So he politely declined the invitation and is probably through making any more challenges to debates.

"Well, it might be well to remember what the Detroit News said the other day, viz.: 'The man most ready with his tongue and best at rough and tumble verbal exchange is not always the best man for public office.'

HIS DEFEAT WOULD BE SERIOUS

In such an intelligent community as we have here in Northville and environs, it hardly seems necessary to exhort voters on the republican ticket to stand by Congressman George A. Dondero. Yet there are always hidden forces at work against such good men and therefore, in this area, both in Wayne and Oakland counties, he should be given a rousing vote. His defeat in the primary or election would be a serious thing for the 7th congressional district.

DON'T BELIEVE ALL YOU HEAR

A Michigan country editor, warning against all the flow of political propaganda one hears these days, well says: "Noise does not indicate importance. An empty wagon rattles."

MICHIGAN IN SEPTEMBER

Where is there any finer glory in the world than some of the September days in Michigan? Some of the editorials on this page were written under an apple tree in the back yard of the editor's home. The sky was as clear as California's, the breeze was soft, the atmosphere sparkling, and the grass green from recent rains. Yea, verily, we live in a favored land.

THE DANGERS OF HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

High school football may be all right for good husky lads whose physical condition is the best. It certainly is bad for boys whose hearts may not be the strongest and who have a weak spot somewhere. It is a wise parent who checks with his family doctor before letting his son take the risk of being injured in football. The fleeting glory of football is hardly worth the price of undermining one's body for years to come.

WHAT FORD TALKED ABOUT

The other evening we heard Congressman George A. Dondero tell of a fifteen-minute talk he had on the Northville fair grounds with Henry Ford. What did the two men talk about? Friends and friendship. Our congressman said that not a word was said of automobiles, of machinery, of factories of modern inventions, but that for one-quarter of an hour the world's greatest industrialist visited about the friends of his youth, of his early days and reminisced about the joy of living in a world where one has friends and friendships that transcend any mere material thing.

Next to one's family, the greatest riches of life come in his picture that hangs on the western wall of the dining room is a constant reminder of her splendid life. Mr. Grennan's fine love and loyalty for his mother, who survives, to make new ones. This is campaign year, by the way, and bitter feelings are easy to come to the top, but above all things, let no passing political feeling separate you from your friends. Politics will pass but friends live on.

PARENTS AND SCHOOL

By FLORENCE RIDDICK BOYS
(Copyright)

The annual progress pageant has begun, the procession of youth schoolward. There is no function of parents so important as providing for the education of their children. Upon this depends the well-being of tomorrow.

From teaching her children at her knee, the mother has turned over almost the whole responsibility to the school. Since educators are specialists in their line, it is well to give them a free hand in the management of the school; but it is well also for the parent to know the school and the teacher, to observe what is going on educationally, and should provide him with plenty of opportunity for hearty cooperation to the simple food; proper clothing; opportunity for cleanliness; adequate recreation; the attitude of the child towards sleep; enough play and recreation; the school is largely a reflection of his parents' attitude toward these, and quiet for home study; time, place and regards school life as of little value, the child will not get the most out of these advantages.

Outside the school, the environment of the child should stress the importance of school life and give him an opportunity to concentrate on it and put his best into it. School interests should have right of way.

Society life, trips, entertainment, and interfering work should be side-tracked during the school year.

The home of the school child cup water, 1/2 cup vinegar; 2 tablespoons butter.

Mix sugar and cornstarch. Add vinegar and water and boil 3 minutes. Add beets and let stand over low heat 30 minutes. Just before serving, bring to boiling point and add butter.

Summer Round Up

Parent Teacher Associations are endeavoring to get all parents to look after the children's eyes and teeth in the summer, that they may be ready to do their best in school next winter. To attend to this now will save confusion later when everybody is busy, and when the children would probably have to miss some school days to do it.

The "medical examination" saves ten times its expense and suffering and possible death which is so permanent—later. Many a wee danger signal, which would never appear to the naked eye, is discovered by the doctor, for a very small cost. This symptom, neglected, is almost sure to develop into a serious illness, cost ing cash, anxiety, loss of time, suffering—and perhaps mourning. Discovered in time, the incipient ill may be nipped in the bed and the victim may live long and happily, if not "ever-after," at least much longer than he would otherwise.

Round up the whole family at once—and call upon your doctor, your dentist, and your oculist for the periodical "once over." Then you may laugh at Fate and run along for your vacation.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When you have some new potatoes and wish to clean them to bake, try using a wire dish cleaner, which makes an excellent scraper for potatoes. It takes off every particle of dirt and leaves a clean potato skin.

When beating eggs separately, try this little stunt. Beat the whites first and then take a bit of it to start the yolks. The result will be that the yolks will not stick to your egg batter and they will get light much quicker.

A cup of apple sauce into which has been stirred a teaspoon of baking soda is good to use as a substitute for eggs and milk. This combination makes a delicious sponge cake.

The next time you are going to have company and are making a meat loaf for the occasion, bake the loaf in muffin tins, making individual servings instead of loaf form. It will be a pleasing variety.

NOVI NEWS

Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Hobcomb, in company with their daughter, Mrs. E. B. Babbitt and two children of Northville, went to Pelham Inn, in the vicinity of the old homestead last Thursday to attend the Norton family reunion.

North public schools opened Sept. 8 with an enrollment of nearly 160. The teaching staff includes Superintendent James D. Mitchell, George W. Marr, Miss Betty Clango, Mrs. Edna M. Hill and Mrs. Mary Ann Atkinson. The janitor is LaRue Lambert.

CUT LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATES

The reduction in long distance rates which, on the basis of present business is expected to save the public $7,500,000 annually, is another step in a definite program for better and cheaper long distance telephone service which we have been working on for years.

Today, nearly all long distance calls are put through without the person calling hanging up the telephone, and the cost of a telephone call on a week day from New York City to San Francisco is now $7.50, less than half what it was and is only $4.50 on Sundays and after 7 p. m. In fact, it now costs only $5 on Sundays and after 7 p. m. to make the longest distance call possible within the United States, from East Port, Mex., to Bay, Calif., 2,947 air miles. Along with these improvements and economies, there has been marked improvement in the quality of transmission, the conversation being clearer and freer from noise and interruptions.

"Many things have contributed to the success of this program of better and cheaper long distance service: research and development applied to physical equipment, improved operating technique, earnings that permitted construction of adequate facilities, and above all, the incentive for accomplishment which is the ideal of the thousands of telephone men and women who have contributed their part to this progress."

Once Again Shirley Temple Will Sing Her Way Into the Hearts of Village Fans—Mystery Film Here Next Week

Shirley Temple is Hollywood's ace song singer.

During production of "The Poor Little Rich Girl," her widely heralded new Fox hit coming Friday and Saturday at the Penobscot Theatre, Louis Silvers, head of the Twentieth Century-Fox music department, enumerated the various song hits that Shirley has introduced to the screen.

Her record to date is 18 and, according to Silvers, many of these numbers are bound to find a permanent place in the folk-songs of America.

Just as children for years to come will sing of "the big bad wolf," so will they warble "Animal Crackers in My Soup" and "On the Good Ship Lollipop," Silvers believes.

Two old classics were incorporated in 1933. She has introduced the following songs:

"Baby Take a Bow" from "Stand Up and Cheer"; "On Account I Love You" from "Baby Take a Bow"; "Laugh You Son of a Gun" from "Little Miss Marker"; "The World Owes Me a Living," written by Irving Berlin for "Now and Forever"; "On the Good Ship Lollipop" from "Bright Eyes"; "Love's Young Dream" from "The Little Colonel"; "Our Little Girl" from the picture of the same name; "Animal Crackers in My Soup" and "When I Grow Up" from "Curly Top"; "Polly Wolly Doodle" from "The Littlest Rebel"; "Early Bird"; "At the Codfish Ball" and "The Right Somebody to Love"; "Captain January"; "When I'm With You"; "But Definitely"; "Oh, My Goodness"; "Military Man"; "You Gotta Eat Your Spinach"; all from "The Poor Little Rich Girl."

"The Show Off" Cast Enters Final

Rehearsals—Alfred Parmenter Is Placed in Henry Parmenter's Role

As the date draws near for the presentation of "The Show Off," on Sept. 18, sponsored by the Service Leaguers, final rehearsals find the cast whipping the production into shape under the direction of Lester G. Lee.

A late change in the cast gives Alfred Parmenter the role that Henry Hoffman has been rehearsing. The story of the comedy written by George Kelly centers around Aubrey Piper, Heywood, Brown writes of this character: "This man is so creature-born within the wings of the theatre. We have sat back to desk with him in offices. He has bumped against us in the subway and as like as not he lives in the flat just across the hall. He has been wrenched out of life."

The Aubrey Piper whom we see at the close of "The Show Off" is precisely the same person who stalked into the first act. He has not changed. We knew him better

GALLO JAILED FOR MURDER OF PLYMOUTH MAN

Alonzo Elliott, 75, Wealthy Farmer Shot as He Listens to Radio

The arrest Wednesday night of Laulu Gallo, 47-year-old Plymouth cobbler, followed the murder of Alonzo Elliott, wealthy 75-year-old Plymouth township farmer, Tuesday night as he sat in front of his radio in his farmhouse at Joy and Haggerty roads. No motive for the crime has been found.

With Elliott at the time of the shooting were Mrs. Anna Di Bagno, 39, and her daughter and son, Norman 7, and Amelie 12. They were a step upstairs and ran out of the house when they heard the shot.

Gallo's arrest by Walter Holland, investigator for the prosecutors office, was a surprise to deputies. Gallo, a friend of Elliott, had been questioned along with relatives and other neighbors of the murdered man.

Elliott, a son who lives on Lake near by, told deputies of three instances of incidents his father had recently. One was with a hired hand whom he had fired and who left the farm threatening Elliott. Another was with a man said to have been in House of Correction guard who leased some land from Elliott and quarreled with him because he charged Elliott with taking some corn off his land. The third was man who, Elliott thought, was involved in a plot to rob him.

Elliott had recently leased the oil rights to his land and at the time of his murder, several bonds, stocks and bank deposits were found, indicating that Elliott was wealthy.

BRUCKER HITS HARD AT THE "NEW DEAL"

College courses. He was editor of the Alumnian, the college weekly paper and furnished a column of campus news to the paper.

This afternoon the exercises in connection with the homecoming will start at 3 o'clock with a parade in which a number of bands and many marchers will take part. Following the parade, there will be a public reception on the college campus for Mr. Know and the ladies will have the privilege of meeting Mrs. Know at a reception to be given in Wright Hall, the girls' dormitory on the campus. An old friend and former neighbor is chairman of the committee at the reception of Mrs. Know and Mrs. Brown and A. E. Knott attend at her special invitation.

Following the receptions, the speaking program will start and addresses will be made by ex-Governor Brucker, Governor Fitzgerald and the candidate for vice president will be introduced by Senator Arthur Vandenberg. Mr. Know's address was broadcast and perhaps many Record readers "listened in."

Avis was born in Alma and yesterday afternoon we visited the town and yard where the happy event took place. Alma has changed greatly with the passing of the years and has about tripled in population during the past quarter of a century. The great Alma sanatorium to which thousands of people were attracted each year in search of relief from rheumatism has been torn down and not a private hospital occupies the grounds where once stood this fine health-giving institution established by A. W. Wright, who died much too soon and left his college.

The Republic Truck corporation's great success here for a number of years caused a boom here and many who were associated with the concern as stockholders were made wealthy, but who through the years have lost most of their easily acquired wealth. Many of their palatial homes have passed to other owners, two of them being occupied by two fraternal organizations.

Alma has the most attractive tourist camp I have seen. It was established on a piece of ground located just off Main street which years ago was a swamp with a wonderful howling wolf. The grounds have been filled in and planted to shrubs and flowers and a beautiful carpet of green lawn covers the whole space. Many trailers are in camp there. And speaking of trailers you see them here by the dozen because the Alma Trailer company took over an option on the Republic Truck property and is turning them out

HAROLD LANGWORTHY MAKING HARD FIGHT

Harold M. Langworthy, republican candidate for state legislature from the fifth district, is a candidate for the office filled during the last eight years by Dr. Edward P. Fisher, who is not a candidate for re-election for this office this year. He is a resident of Wayne, where, since May, 1934, he has been engaged in the general insurance business, which at one time was operated under the name of E. H. Langworthy & Son.

He is considered well qualified for the office both from the standpoint of education and experience. After his graduation from Wayne high school he enrolled at Albion college, and subsequently at the University of Michigan where he majored in political science and received an A. B. degree.

His platform pledges are brief. He has expressed himself in favor of the basic principles of the Civil Service Bill. He also favors adequate educational facilities, elimination of political pressure from the present system of paroles and pardons, a welfare program which will co-ordinate all present agencies, opposition to any increase in taxes or any new form of taxes.

SAVE OLD MAGAZINES FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Northville women doing their fall house cleaning are urged to save all their old magazines for the ex-service men at the Maybury sanatorium. The collection of these periodicals is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary for the boys who are so glad to have them.

Anyone having old magazines, gather them and call 134 and they will be called for.

in great quantities. Along the line of march for this afternoon Knox pictures are to be seen in about every window democratic citizens as well as republican joining in paying tribute to the city's guest. Flags are fluttering everywhere and if the rain holds off it will be Alma's greatest day.

For further details "see your daily newspapers," says the radio announcer, and I say "so long until next week."

D. C. BLISS' FLORAL DISPLAY ATTRACTS VERMONT VISITORS

By C. A. DOLPH

Prof. Don C. Bliss, the head of Northville's schools in 1932-33, now a resident of Calais, Vt., writes about his flowers. The display interests the people of his vicinity and many drive into that section from other states. His visitors number as high as 25 each day.

The display of his flower beds consists of a 200-foot border of white glories against a cedar hedge with rows of camellia bushes in the foreground. This display can be seen a mile away in that mountainous region.

Among his flowering plants are 5,000 peonies and 300 or more varieties of plant blooms.

After leaving Northville, Mr. Bliss was superintendent of the Schools in Kearney, N. J., Brockton, Mass., Elmira, N. Y., and Montclair, N. J., besides two or three years with the Department of Education of New Jersey at the State House in Trenton.

Upon this complaint against the fire department, Dr. Burkhardt immediately cited the letter which was read earlier in the council meeting from Dr. P. H. Haskell, medical superintendent of the Wayne County Training School thanking the department for the prompt response made when fire broke out Aug. 10 at the dairy.

Gregory picked up a red hot iron when he asked why angle parking couldn't be allowed on the north side of Main street. In my estimation, this parallel parking is a failure. The street is now wide enough to let shoppers angle park on one side and at least two and a half more cars can be parked there," he said.

Councilmen, after making an agreement with the county commissioners and acting upon their recommendation to enforce parallel parking, are to meet again to discuss the matter.

Gregory's stand on the matter was left unsupported Tuesday evening.

Commissioner Floyd G. Stafer came out strongly against angle parking, saying: "We have a good looking street now; I'd hate to see us go back to the old way of parking, especially after the expense we're going to make to park along the curb."

Business men were hit hard in discussions led by Gregory and Perrin. "The merchants aren't cooperating with us at all when they bring their cars to town and leave them parked in front of their places of business all day long," agreed Perrin.

Dearborn—Final action in eliminating curb service stands which have been particularly numerous in the eastern and southeastern section of the city, was taken recently when the council passed an ordinance prohibiting this type of business in the city.

The council also passed the tobacco ordinance which provides for the payment of a $2 license fee by all vendors and makes the possession by minors of any form of tobacco unlawful. The Dearborn Press.

Ann Arbor—Six new 17-passenger buses, products of the latest developments in motorbus design, went into service on Ann Arbor streets Thursday Sept. 3, following delivery Wednesday from Muskegon. The Washaw Post-Tribune.

Dearborn—Joseph Subaik is a problem child, if there ever was one. Only 18 years of age and looking even younger, Joseph was captured by police at 3:30 a.m. Wednesday while in the act of burglarizing a service station at the corner of Miller and Ford roads. It was the second time it little more than two weeks that he had been arrested and freely admitted the same type of burglary.

Joe first broke into print in April 1930, when he was kidnapped, together with his 12-year-old sister Mary, at the intersection of Michigan and Eugene avenues. The family moved to New York soon afterward.

Six years elapsed before young Joseph returned to the old home town. He was arrested Aug. 16, in course for the theft of a bicycle from this city. He has been turned over to juvenile authorities in Detroit. —The Dearborn Independent.

Bellefonte—The Belleville School and community fair will be held Oct. 4, 1936. The date is later than usual so as to give time to make sufficient preparation after the beginning of school. The Belleville Enterprise.

Caro—Barrel Williams, 20-year-old farm laborer of Birch Run, been put away behind the bars in the Southern Michigan State at Jackson, and if he serves sentence imposed by Circuit Prisoner of Saginaw, he will again be on the loose to set farms of farmers in the Sa valley. Arraigned in the Sa county court Friday, he pleaded guilty to four arson counts, and the fourth was sentenced to imprisonment under the harsh criminal code. Tuscola County, writer.

Farmington—Of great import to the Farmington area is the announcement by Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner the widening of US 16. River avenue will be completed the west end of Farmington year and that the cut-off will closed thereafter to traffic reconstruction. Under the commissioner's plans traffic will be through the hazardous sections of the off have been rebuilt probab 1938.

Three competent judges will be selected one from Royal Oak, one from Pontiac and one from the Twenty-second Ward of Detroit. This is a proposition sponsored by a Royal Oak business man to see how the people are thinking about this congressional campaign, when there are more qualified electors than ever before and more issues than ever before.

Once Again Shirley Temple Will Sing Her Way Into the Hearts of Village Fans—Mystery Film Here Next Week

Shirley Temple is Hollywood's ace song-plugger.

During production of "The Poor Little Rich Girl," her widely heralded new Fox hit coming Friday and Saturday to the Penniman theatre, Louis Silvers, head of the Twentieth Century-Fox music department, enumerated the many songs hits that Shirley has introduced to the screen.

Her record to date is 18 and, according to Silvers, many of these numbers are bound to find a permanent place in the folk-songs of America.

Just as children for years to come will they warble "Animal Crackers in My Soup" and "When I Grow Up" from "Curly Top," "Polly Wolly Doodle" from "The Littlest Rebel," "Early Bird," "The Coiffish Ball" and "The Plain S. Robot" to "I'm Captain January."

"When I'm With You," "Dot Definitely," "Oh, My Goodness," "Military Man" and "You Gotta Eat Your Spinach," all from "The Poor Little Rich Girl," complete the total.

In addition to the two old favorites, there has been a tremendous sale of such songs as "Lollipop," "Animal Crackers," "Polly Wolly Doodle" and "When I Grow Up" over the counters of the music stores. Silvers relates that Temple made her bow in feature pictures for Fox back

Popular songs, he says, are hard to judge. Some of them find a place in the folk songs of the nation; others die overnight, killed by over-emphasis.

"The songs which have been written for Shirley, fortunately, have not been these overnight smashers which are forgotten next week."

The songs featured in "The Poor Little Rich Girl" were written by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel. Irving Cummings directed the production which, in addition to Shirley, features an exceptional supporting cast including Alice Faye, Gloria Stuart, Jack Haley and Michael Whalen.

'THE CRIME OF DR. FORBES'

A startling drama, based on a theme that made screaming headlines in the newspapers recently, comes Wednesday, to the Penniman-Alten theatre in "The Crime of Dr. Forbes," a new Fox picture. Two astounding confessions that split stunned world into angry arguing factions highlight this strange story of a physician who apparently violated his most sacred oath.

Gloria Stuart, Robert Kent, Henry Armetta, J. Edward Bromberg, Sam Haden and Alan Dinehart head the cast of this front-page drama, and their exceptional performances are said to enhance the tension and suspense that exists throughout, reaching a climax in the totally unexpected denouement.

J. Edward Bromberg, a noted physician seeking a cure for a fatal spinal disease, fears of the discovery in Arizona of prehistoric skeletons that bear unmistakable evidence of the ailment. Believing they may possibly help in his research work, he departs for the scene of the excavation leaving his laboratory—and his pretty young wife, Gloria Stuart—in charge of "Dr. Forbes" played by Robert Kent. Kent and the doctor's lovely wife find themselves mutually attracted by youth and carefree happiness and inseparably they fall in love. Suddenly word comes that Bromberg has been seriously injured in a mine cave-in.

Kent and Miss Stuart rush to the scene and find Bromberg enduring harrowing pain, made more unbearable by the realization that it cannot be cured.

Facing days of endless torture,

Bromberg can only wait for death to release him. Suddenly he dies and the swiftness of death prompts Sara Hadee to instigate an investigation which reveals that Bromberg met his death by an overdose of poison.
