LOCAL STRAW VOTERS SWING TO ROOSEVELT

National Poll Gives G. O. P.
Candidate Lead—Send Ballots to Record

Northville's straw vote poll this week Roosevelt jumped to the lead with eight ballots, Landon polled four; Lemke and Brooder, one each.

The stretch run in the 1936 presidential race is now under way.

Five weeks from next Tuesday, Nov. 3, the race will end. The respective candidates will pass the judges' stand and the official decision will then be handed down.

In the running of this national election derby, once every four years, the government minded citizens have been enabled to learn of the progress of their favorite candidates as the race grew not through the medium of the straw vote.

Various straw vote reports may differ at points but each can do no more, and always almost does, fairly accurately indicate the trend of political sentiment in the field from which it is taken.

In the small towns and country America, Governor Alf Landon, republican candidate, continues to lead the field in the presidential straw vote poll being conducted by some 3,000 weekly newspapers which are located in states throughout the country.

More than a half million ballots have been cast in the poll, from 41

COACH KAMMERER DOESN'T EXPECT SQUAD TO SCORE

Coach Harold Kammerer of Farmington doesn't expect his football team to make much of a showing against the Barracks when they meet in a non-league clash on the Farmington field this afternoon.

"I don't expect the team to make a strong showing early in the season. The boys are very inexperienced and light in weight, a non-league game will furnish the chance to try out the new men," said Mr.
Kammerer to Farmington Enterprise staff members last week.

Coach Kammerer has 35 players out for practice each evening.

L. H. MILLER DIES; FUNERAL TOMORROW

He fought Napoleon III as a Member of Uhlans
in German Army

Funeral services for Ludwig H.
Miller, 84-year-old former member of the original corps of German Imperial Uhlans who fought in the Franco-Prussian War, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow from the home on North High street. Mr.
Miller died Wednesday after a two weeks' illness with pneumonia.

Following the funeral in the home, services at 2 p.m. will be conducted across the road in the Lutheran church that Mr. Miller helped found here. The Rev. W. A. Kutsch, pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran church of Detroit, will officiate.
Burial will be made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Born in Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Germany, Jan. 24, 1852, Mr. Miller enlisted in the German army in 1846, just as Emperor Wilhelm I organized

W. E. HARRISON GIVES BIRTHDAY ADDRESS HERE

Light Anniversary Candles at Impressive Evening Friendship Service

Developing the theme, "The Church of the Warm Heart," which the Rev. William E. Harrison, Ann Arbor district superintendent, appropriately selected for the golden anniversary sermon Sunday morning at the Methodist church, the congregation was told that such a church had two paramount missions—teaching and fellowship.

"A warm heart is essential to the church. Without it, there is not much to work upon. Such an organization will have as its basic experiences of spiritual and religious growth; it will be a church of great courage. The church lacking the characteristics of a warm heart will dwindle to sheer nothingness," stressed Mr. Harrison.

Set Anniversary Goal

Setting the raising of $500 by Jan.
1, as goal for accomplishment during the year's golden anniversary observance, the Rev. Harry J. Ford urged the church to support the project to preserve the present sanctuary for the generation to come, just as it was built 50 years ago and preserved through the years for members who now are left with the responsibility of carrying forward the church's program.

Gifts totaling $150 have already been received and will be spent to redecorate and repair the church

Long Time Members Present

Present at all three birthday services held Sunday and Monday was Miss Annie Wilkinson, who holds the record for continuous membership. Other long time members attending the two-day program were:
Mrs. Charles Finkins, Mrs. Melvin

Mrs. Charles E. Rogers.

PURCHASING POWER IN NORTHLVILLE

It is not surprising that two new stores have opened in Northville. There is plenty of good business if merchants go after it. In fact we rather look for more expansion in our retail section. There is large purchasing power here.

In what other town of a population of 2,500 or 3,000 could you equal the amount of money paid out here by: The Ford plant, Detroit Edison, the three local institutions, our new furniture factory, the foundries, and the other local institutions in this area?

There is unusual purchasing power in Northville and there is every reason for wise merchants to get their share of it.

THE ELECTION IN MAINE

You can get most any kind of an interpretation that you wish from the election results in Maine. Republicans are jubilant while Democrats point to the narrow victory of Senator White over Gov. Brann for the senatorial election. It probably is not necessarily true this year that "as Maine goes, so goes the nation." There are too many cross currents. There are elements that never before entered into a Maine election or a national election. Never before has the use of government funds been such a vital factor. Our own guess is that the election will be so close that one may have to sit up all night long to get the radio results and then perhaps not know. One thing is sure: The Republicans have new hope all through the country and are fighting mad. Another thing is just as certain: The Democrats have every man's stake and believe that Mr. Farley's claim of taking most of the state is just "apple pie," and that instead the election is going to be "horse race." Five or six states such as Ohio and Illinois may decide the election. In Michigan the Republicans easily outvoted the Democrats at the primaries but again, that may not mean a much as it seems.

The early returns in this literary Digest polls show a heavier turnout than was expected but the voting is not yet heavy enough to show definite trends. And again, the Digest may not give a sufficient account of the leaning of Government workers on WPA and other agencies. Some other poll shows that fully 80% of such workers are for the New Deal and its jobs, for them Senator Vandenberg has charged that "bread is being exchanged for votes." It would indeed be unfortunate if a national election had to be decided by those on the welfare.

WILBER M. BRUCKER'S FINE VICTORY

The smashing victory of former Governor Wilber M. Brucker over Senator James Couzens in the race for the position of U. S. senator if the primaries is most cheering. It means two things: The elimination of the arrogant Couzens from the political picture; and the continuation of a splendid political career by the capable and courageous Brucker.

Most of the editorial comment on the crushing defeat of Couzens is to the effect that "he got what was coming to him." He thought that he was bigger than the party which put and kept him in power and he showed a contempt for party organization. Without government by parties we should indeed have a very chaotic condition. The final act of his ingratitude to his party was his acceptance of the Republican support, and then his sudden announcement that he would support President Roosevelt for re-election. Not even the best friends he had in the Republican party have had one word of defense for this act of ingratitude. The overwhelming defeat of Couzens simply goes to show that he probably saw defeat coming and "couldn't take it." This was hardly good political sportsmanship and is quite in contrast with the action of Brucker after he was defeated for the governorship. Of course, the political career of Couzens is at an inglorious end.

Brucker will bring honor to Michigan in the United States Senate. He will not help tie the hands of a president. Couzens did when Herbert Hoover was in office. He will bring unusual character and high ability to the office. In the prime of manhood, he should have before him a long and honored career. Such a liberal newspaper as the Detroit News speaks very highly of his possibilities at Washington.

LOOK OUT FOR THE "SMEARERS"

One of the vicious developments of the political campaign this year is the effort being made to "smear" candidates of honor and character. Probably there will be more of it as the campaign progresses.

Former Governor Wilber M. Brucker was the target of "smearing" that resulted in a desperate flop. There was wild talk of millions being spent for his campaign and even when the so-called investigators from Washington came to Michigan, the best they could find was that the Brucker committee had received about $20,000. When Brucker met Mr. James Farley's henchmen with courage and dared them to find any more than the $20,000 the

"smearers" left in a hurry and at public expense, presumably, hustled up to Maine to go into the mud-throwing business there—and with about the same success that they had in Michigan.

If the so-called investigation in Michigan had been honest, why was not some effort made to find out who financed the sending into Michigan of two million copies of a four-page newspaper to boost Couzens. The writer saw a copy of this and it was one of the most "dirty" campaign sheets he ever saw. Who paid for it? It was sent out to inflame the minds of the working people but, judging by the great victory of Brucker, intelligence still controls the vote of a great host of people.

This "smearing business" started when smart writers took Herbert Hoover for a ride. Probably no man in public life, except Lincoln, had to endure such a campaign of prejudice and hatred. Unfortunately this campaign had a terrible effect and Hoover was discredited and persecuted. We have often wondered how the men who took part in this gigantic smearing that went on for months and years will feel when history will write the true story of Herbert Hoover. No one can envy the man who tears down viciously.

FARMING IN NORTH DAKOTA

David Lawrence, the noted correspondent, answered for us the other day the question that many have been turning over in their minds, viz., what is the reason that North Dakota has been receiving such tremendous farm benefits from the federal government?

The plain, undeniable fact, according to Lawrence, is that there is little chance for successful farming in North Dakota—any more than there is in certain parts of northern Michigan. Here is what Lawrence, who has been touring the drought area, said in his dispatch last week:

For 57 years or more, the rainfall average per year has been less than 15 inches, which is just about half of what it is in a normally good farming state. About $329,000,000 of federal money has come in here in three years, out of which about $170,000,000 has been used to finance farm mortgages.

Here, then, is a population of about 800,000 persons who don't like to be told that they made a mistake in settling in a semi-arid state or that they should not have ploughed up what was an excellent summer pasture.

Federal aid is an essential policy here for a while, no matter who is elected next autumn, and when the campaign camouflage is all over, something of a permanent nature will have to be done to improve the lot of the people of North Dakota unless the farm folks are to continue to drift aimlessly, waiting for favor from the weather man while the taxpayers in other states to it the bill.

A scientific study of the proper use of the land will have to be made and a national policy adopted by Congress for these situations affected by prolonged drought.

SIX DEGREES OF LIGHT

A single lamp bulb furnishes three different degrees of light—100, 200, and 300 watts. Together with the three shades (available on many styles of this lamp), this makes six possible levels of light. You can choose the exact degree of light you want.

DIFFUSING BOWL under the shade throws part of the light upward to the ceiling. It is reflected back and spread over a large area, eliminating harsh shadows and providing room-side light that is soft and restful, without glare.

BEAUTY has been combined with its practical features: With the magic of light and color, it transforms the plainest surroundings and lends distinction to any decorative plan. Stop in at your nearest store today and see the new 3-light lamps on display. A wide selection of attractive styles and colors are available, reasonably priced.

MRS. EDITOR

ON OWNING A HOME

It may be "cheaper" and lots less trouble, to rent a house than to own a home but "breathes there a woman with soul so dead" who never to herself hath said: "Oh, I do want a home of my own!"

There's a difference in the very feeling toward a place if there is a sense of ownership, of permanence. One may carry out her individual tastes in the decoration of the house and in the laying out of the grounds. How much more enthusiastically one thrusts the spade into the soil when she feels "This is my own soil! I can plant here just as I please, I can watch shrubs, vines and trees grow to maturity and can later enjoy the fruits of my labor. It isn't selfish. It's natural."

Owning a home gives a sense of security to the growing family. This is the place where they belong, their rooms, their health, their trees. Our picture of "Home" is a blurred, composite memory.

We pity the roaming child who moves often—for that is the memory of our youth. We were in the literary.

The story is told of a man who was sea sick on the ocean. Someone came to him and said, kindly: "Is there anything you want, my friend?" and the sick man replied: "Oh, yes. I want a tree, a tree?" I never to herself hath said: "Oh, I do want a home of my own!"

We will venture that this little verse will meet hearty response in many a woman's heart:

A Prayer for a Little Home
God, give us a little home
To come back to when we roam.

Low walls and fluted tiles—
Wide windows, a view for miles.

Red firelight and deep chairs,
Small white beds up stairs.

Great talk in little nooks.
Dim colors, rows of books.

One picture on each wall,
Not many things at all.

God, send us a little ground,
Tall trees standing round.

Homely flowers in brown sod, Overhead, they stars, O God!

NOW THAT PEACHES ARE RIPE

Peach Meringue: Cut stale sponge cake in rounds with the cookie-cutter. Slightly moisten each round with juice from a maraschino cherries. Put half a canned peach, cut side up, on each piece of cake and fill the cavities with halves of maraschino cherries. Make a meringue, using three tablespoons confectioner's sugar to each egg white, and put thickly over the peaches. Bake in a very slow oven until the meringue is done. It will take about fifteen minutes in a 300 degree oven.

Peach Fluff: Beat together two egg whites and one-third cup of cream until fluffy. Add four tablespoons confectioner's sugar and a few drops of vanilla. Add one cup of well-drained canned peaches which have been sliced, and two tablespoons of chopped nuts. Pile in glass dishes and chill.

For Basting Pork Roast
The syrup from pickled peaches or other fruit is good to use for basting baked ham or pork roast.

This church rejoices in the uplift received from its golden anniversary services. We appreciated the presence at our services of out-of-town guests and those outside of our community who are residents here.

In order that the inspiration of this week may not fade out, the official board has approved some very definite goals to be carried out during the anniversary year, in the fulfillment of which every member will be asked to participate.

Oct. 4, will be the Rally Day in the church and the Sunday School.

Mrs. Wm. Mairs and mother, Mrs. Frances Danson and Mrs. Charles Holmes were guests at a dinner party Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Morgan at Detroit in honor of Mrs. Hattie Richardson of Vicksburg. Other guests were Mrs. George Boxer and small daughter, Myrine of Plymouth.

Frank D'Fee is confined to his home because of illness.

The Rebekah club gave a pedro party at the lodge hall last Wednesday evening. Seven tables were at play. Prizes were won by the following: Mrs. Ed. Putnam, Farmington; Mrs. Liza Nichols and Mrs. Steve Hicks, both of Novi; Sam Armitage, Detroit; Arthur Hicks and low score, Bert Hicks, Novi.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid served dinner at the church last Thursday. Mrs. Fred Wenker will entertain at a tea at her home on West Grand River next Thursday afternoon, October 1.

Miss Genevieve Durfee and her friend, Miss Anna Gamble of Pontiac, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Durfee.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downing and two children are living at the Fred Durfee farm on West Grand River.

The open air community moving pictures were closed for the season Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bogart, and Mr. and Mrs. Orlow G. Owen?

At the completion of the dinner course, each hostess cut a large candle-lighted birthday cake and served it to the guests at her table.

Charles E. Rogers welcomed the guests of the evening and was master of ceremony during the program. Mrs. Charles Finkins, a member of the local church since 1888, spoke of the day when the young people of the church held Saturday night ice cream socials to raise funds for the new church building.

As she spoke of other incidents in the life of the church building, guests at each table who remembered too, nodded their heads as her story developed.

Mr. Dodge read letters of greeting from the Rev. James C. Jackson of Detroit, who was pastor here from 1877-89, the only master ever to serve here in the old church building. The following names of others who presented letters of greeting were received by the church: Mr. William M. Ward, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Willis when they attended the service in their honor Tuesday; Mr. G. Stephens of Toledo, Can., author of the Wiles home on Bay St.; the Rev. R. G. Class of 1935 Holds First Reunion in School House

The class of 1935 held its first class reunion in the cafeteria at 7 p.m. Thursday in the school building.

Following a potluck supper, Stanley Taylor, committee man, called a special meeting for the election of the following officers for next year's reunion: Stanley Taylor, president; Dorothy Richardson, secretary-treasurer.

During the social hour, experiences since the time of graduation were related by the members present. Dorothy Richardson told of her work at the University of Michigan; Ronald Keeling, Stanley Taylor and Marguerite Norton spoke of their classes in Ypsilanti.

Plans were made for a dancing party to be held during the Christmas holidays Dec. 29. The guest list will be limited to members of the '35 class and their invited friends.

Home Economics Extension Groups Begin Year's Program

Junior Baseball League Guests at Legion Banquet

Two hundred women belonging to the Wayne County Home Economics Extension groups began their year's work with a rally day held Wednesday at the Wayne County Training School.

A feature of the program was a review given by Mrs. Howard Atwood who outlined the highlights of the Farm Women's Institute which she attended at Michigan State college last July.

The morning sessions were given over to the making of plans by the officers and instructors were given the leaders by Miss Emma DuBord, county agent. Following the luncheon served in the gymnasium, the afternoon was devoted to the reading of reports by the members who attended the international meetings of the clubs this summer in Washington, D. C.

During the month of September, the New Deal program of unprecedented spending is destined to saddle our children and our grandchildren with an inheritance of debt," Coach Yost said.

"Few people realize that the mountainous debt at Washington must be paid by them, that it is a definite liability upon their families, that it is a personal obligation. People talk about what they get from Washington as if it were a gift from heaven and nobody has to pay for it."

"The second great issue in this campaign, Coach Yost said, is the question of personal liberty under the Constitution. Under the present Administration we have headed back towards serfdom," he said. "That is regimentation, the destruction of the freedom of the individual."

Human Interest Briefs From Exchange Columns

Redford—The federal government has advised the Wayne County Road Commission that it has made a PWA grant for the reconstruction and widening of Morang road from Seven Mile road to Mt. Clemens.

Birmingham—John, sturdy, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Porter, 1035 Pearce Street, was invited to spend Labor Day weekend with his friend, Jack Horwath at the latter's cottage on Scam Lake near Battle Creek. The two youths ventured out on the lake in a row boat and it wasn't long before John dove overboard and started to swim alongside the craft while John worked the oars.

Redford—An economy move which reduces the number of city welfare offices from ten to five has resulted in the closing of the Redford branch of the city welfare department. In addition to being an economy move, the cutting of the number of welfare offices has been to bust up the walls of a place with his fists. That's what the proprietor of a beer garden at Walked Lake thought at about 1 a.m. Monday, Sept. 14, when he sent for Deputy Sheriff E. J. McKinley of New Hudson. The officer found the fellow referred to as "a big Swede" (6 feet, 3 inches) and weighing in the neighborhood of 200 pounds—in a rather destructive mood, having sent his fist right through a stall. This act, coupled with a series of crying and profanity proved a grievance to the place to which the management objects. The officer took the fellow in custody on a charge of being disorderly. —South Lyon Herald.

Worden—Gilbert H. Thompson, aged 74, died Tuesday night, Sept. 15, at his home one mile east of Salem. Mr. Thompson was born in Salem township on a farm taken up from the government by his grandfather. —South Lyon Herald.

Farmington—One hundred and fifty children living at the Sarah Fisher home, a Catholic home for orphans at 27400 Twelve Mile road were removed from cottages to places of safety at noon Friday, Sept. 18, when fire broke out at the power plant of the institution and destroyed a frame and stucco building used as a store house and garage.

"It didn't hurt much. I thought I had been bitten by something. Naturally, I was sort of frightened and I didn't waste much time crawling back into the boat. It was then that Jack noticed a double-jointed artificial pike minnow sticking to my back; one of the hooks firmly embedded! This bass had been hooked by some fisherman and then broken away carrying the minnow in his mouth."

"Later, I found out from several old fishermen residing at the lake that when a member of the family tribe breaks away with a hook in his mouth he usually goes to the bottom for several days, remaining still and allowing the hooks to loosen up. He then comes to the surface and attempts to snap some object with the barb and pull it out of mouth." —Birmingham Eccentric.

Dearborn—In spite of a shower of rain, a good sized crowd gathered before Dearborn's new post office building last Saturday afternoon to witness the dedication ceremonies of Dearborn's new $100,000 post office building. —Dearborn Independent.

Dearborn—Major John L. Carey, Commissioner Jimmie Johnson, E. G. Miller and Clarence Doyle, participated at the conclusion that something must be done to relieve the housing shortage in this city.

They are becoming more and more numerous, and in an effort to find some means to remedy this situation, it is a fact that many citizens wish to build new homes, but because of the restrictions placed upon certain subdivisions in the lack of recognition on the part of the FHA, it is impossible to obtain a loan in most cases. —Dearborn Independent.

Dearborn—Major John L. Carey, Commissioner Jimmie Johnson, E. G. Miller and Clarence Doyle, participated at the conclusion that something must be done to relieve the housing shortage in this city.

No further houses appearing motion was made by Gregory suggested by Perrin that a committee be formed to look into the matter. —Dearborn Independent.

Walled Lake—Almost anything is apt to happen when a guy begins to play golf upon certain subdivisions in the lack of recognition on the part of the FHA, it is impossible to obtain a loan in most cases. —Dearborn Independent.

Dearborn—I don't expect the team to make a star, showing early in the season," states Howard Kuhn, of Dearborn High school football coach. "We have a very inexperienced and light team so far, but we are making progress. Our game against Northville Friday, Sept. 25, a non-league game, will furnish the chance to try out the new team.—Dearborn Independent.

A WPA worker on a road in Ogdensburg, N.Y., was sentenced to prison for punching his foreman in the face. The just-asked "Why did you hit the foreman?"

I wanted to quit work at 3 and 4 so the regular time," answered the prisoner.

"Why did you want to quit at 3? Because I had to run into Chicago and get my relief money before the office closed."

You mean to say you're getting a salary from the government and collecting relief too?"

"Yes."

"Have you a family?"

"Only a 25-year-old son."

"What does he do?"

"He's a relief investigator."

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

SOME LOAFING IS NECESSARY

(Hazen J. Smith in South Lyon Herald)

There are times when minds should stop trying to run a mile a minute and when the most valuable thing they can do is just to strol and meditate. A Hindu sage tells us that the tree we plant grows while we are sleeping—the same is true of an idea planted in a real thinker's mind.

Stimulate your mind by thinking hard about your problem—then loaf and forget it. Play golf, fish, lie in the sun. And when you least expect it, the solution to your problem may pop into your mind. We think with minds not with desks. It is a good idea to get away from our work and let our sub-conscious minds work on our problems now and then. The best thinkers do a certain amount of creative loafing.
