A TEST OF YOUR TOLERANCE

If you want to find out how tolerant you really are—not how much so you think you are—get into a political argument with some one who will give as good as you send. Then if you keep your temper and can smile through it and give the other fellow the right to think the way he wants to, you are really fair-minded and tolerant. Not everyone can pass the test.

BOTH CANDIDATES ARE ENDORSED

Both Candidates Roosevelt and Landon have come to Michigan and left their impressions. The president had the great crowds and the mass enthusiasms. Governor Landon was well received and perhaps got the bigger "break" when he carried away the endorsement of Henry Ford, whose influence is very wide-spread. Very likely not many people had their mind changed by either candidate. We take our politics seriously and have had plenty of time since June to get off the political fence. "It won't be long now."

A GOOD NEIGHBOR RUNS FOR HIGH OFFICE

It will be a pleasure for many hundreds of voters of this Northville area to help elect Howard M. Warner, our neighbor of Farmington, to the position of state treasurer on the republican ticket.

The son of a former Michigan governor, the late Fred M. Warner, the republican candidate will bring outstanding ability and character to his aid in conducting the affairs of the state treasury. The worth of Howard M. Warner is recognized by the many people of Wayne and Oakland counties who know him personally or by reputation. The affairs of government are safe when in the hands of such outstanding men as Mr. Warner. This section of Michigan will certainly "go to bat" for him at the polls on November 3. It would be a glorious thing for capable and honest government if all public officials were of the high rank of our Farmington neighbor.

SAVE THE SCHOOLS—DEFEAT THE AMENDMENTS

It needs to be repeated over and over before November 3 that the constitutional amendments, Nos. 3 and 4, are damnable. This column spoke of the danger recently and Supt. of Schools Amerman had the same thing to say in the news columns of The Record last week.

"The passage of amendment four would practically close the schools unless some other source of revenue could be found," says Mr. Amerman.

Isn't that an alarming statement? All friends of our schools—and that should be all of us—should do their utmost to defeat these amendments.

Who initiated these vicious amendments? They were not started in the legislature. Some group somewhere has some selfish motive for wanting them passed. One thing seems to be sure: Real estate interests that subdivided farms around the cities, especially Detroit, wanted the property tax removed. They have been "caught" with their subdivisions that went "sour" and naturally, they would like to have someone else pay their just taxes. If the real estate tax is taken off, we shall have to have some other tax take its place. No way has yet been found to provide the public services we get without someone paying for them.

A vote "No" on Amendments Nos. 3 and 4, is a vote to protect yourself, your children and your community.

VANDENBERG GAVE US BANK INSURANCE

President Roosevelt certainly was not a bit bashful in his speech at Chicago last week, in claiming great and glorious things for the New Deal. Of course the speech was for the consumption of a great throng of people, more or less inflamed by political ballyhooing, and just as obviously was discounted by the people who know all the facts and who are not moved by class prejudice or by political oratory.

However, it does seem very unfair for the New Deal to claim credit for the passing of legislation which provided insurance for bank deposits. The one outstanding figure to whom credit for insured bank deposits should go is NOT President Roosevelt but Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, republican senator. It is reported to the best of authority that Roosevelt at first opposed the principle of insurance for bank deposits. It was Senator Vandenberg, with his remarkable leadership, even in a democratic senate, who started and kept up the successful fight for this legislation and in all fairness he should and is being given by impartial authorities—the credit for the present insurance which guarantees, up to $2,500 your money in the bank.

It is honorable to give credit where credit is due. We give bank insurance, not to the New Deal, but to Senator Vandenberg, republican senator from our own Michigan. Let's keep the record straight.

LAWRENCE CHALLENGES NEW DEAL

David Lawrence, nationally known correspondent whose writings appear daily, except Sunday, in The Detroit News, makes some damning charges against the New Deal. Those who wonder whether there is any political corruption going on under the New Dealers need only to read Lawrence's column for a few days to get plenty of evidence. He has piled up so much proof of vote buying and vote coercion that only the most stupid or the most perverse could fail to be convinced.

After his recent visit to Tennessee, Lawrence exposed some amazing conditions of political corruption in that state. He charged that in one county, the one in which the city of Memphis is located, that one political boss absolutely controls practically every vote of the county. The vote of this county, charged the correspondent, is held back until the democratic boss knows just how many votes are needed to swing the election. In a recent primary there, the rest of the state was voting about two to one for the New Dealers. But the returns from the county mentioned were held back until early morning and then it was announced that this county had gone 60 to 1 for the New Dealers. Of course it was nothing but wholesale stealing of votes.

This situation so aroused Lawrence that he challenged President Roosevelt to investigate the conditions in Tennessee before accepting the 11 electoral votes from that state. To date the New Dealers have ignored the challenge and in spite of their professed ideals, they will probably continue to ignore the challenge.

Then, on October 15, in The Detroit News, Lawrence laid bare some of the New Deal corruption in Indiana, one of the six states that will settle the election. What he found and what he writes about is most alarming. Here is what he says in his dispatch:

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 15.—I have seen some raw things in American politics; but nothing to compare with the political immorality that prevails in the state of Indiana.

Openly, brazenly, with contempt for public criticism, the democrats have organized what is called the "2 per cent club," whereby every state employee is supposed to contribute 2 per cent of his or her salary every month to defray political campaign expenses.

This exploitation has gone so far that, in one township, even the school teachers are asked to contribute. In other places even guards and attendants in the state prisons and hospitals have been asked to supply money for the campaign.

Is it any wonder that thinking people are wondering what will happen to a government that is so dominated by corrupt politicians?

Is it any wonder that many sincere people, who know what is going on, regard this election as a crusade to save our constitutional rights?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

Northville will have one of the five walking paths to be constructed in Wayne county park, with funds provided by the Works Progress Administration and the Wayne county road commission, sponsor of the project.

Miss Inez Palm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palm and Clarence G. Harshman were united in marriage at a quiet ceremony Saturday at the Metropolitan Methodist church, Detroit.

The wedding of Miss Louise Steinhebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steinhebel and Austin Waterman was solemnized Saturday by the Rev. William Richards at the Belleville Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gotts are the parents of a son, Harry Fred, born Oct. 22.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barron Wednesday, Oct. 15.

A party of Ford officials headed by Henry Ford visited the factory here again Tuesday. Elmer Ford, Charles E. Sorenson, P. E. Martin and a party of nine or ten other executives were included in the group that went to the rounds of the present building and inspected the construction activities.

5 YEARS AGO

Tonight with pennants flying and the full power of the brilliant electric lights turned on, the Northville Penniman-Allen theatre will reopen its doors.

Announcement was made last Friday by the Wayne county circuit court of the appointment of Sidney Liddell, formerly of Milford and Detroit, as permanent receiver in charge of the affairs of the Northville State Savings bank.

If the Northville high school football team beats its traditional rival, Plymouth high school next Thursday, Charles Conklin, local barber, states that he will give each member of the team participating in the game a free hair cut.

The second raid within two months on A. E. Fuller's prize chickens was reported by Mr. Fuller to have occurred last Saturday night when a thief stole two Silver Seabright hens and a White Plymouth Rock from his hen house on the Fishery road.

Among the pleasant events honoring Mrs. E. J. Frost of Boston, was the dinner given by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp and Mrs. Ross E. Dissenbury at the former's home Wednesday evening.

on the third Wednesday of each month.

15 YEARS AGO

The twenty-third annual convention of the Michigan branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons opened Wednesday in this village with a large attendance of delegates.

Last Friday afternoon about 75 members of Union Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, of this village journeyed to Ypsilanti for the purpose of paying a fraternal visit to the chapter of that city and to confer the Royal Arch degree upon a class of candidates, one of the candidates being William Murdock and who is well known to many of the people of this section.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Huston of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth E., to Austin Whipple, son of Mrs. W. Whipple of this place.

A foundation is being laid in the vacant lot at the rear of the Park hotel upon which the old building now occupied by Dr. Turner's office will be placed to make room for the new business block to be erected by Frank and Edwin Perrin.

While the night clerk at the Hotel Wilson stepped into the kitchen for just a moment Sunday night someone slipped in and "lifted" $40 from the cash register.

20 YEARS AGO

A spelling contest in the seventh grade involving the two best spellers of the past week—as captains—resulted in a victory for Leona Parmelee and Carroll Ambler. The captains, Edgar Freydl and John Birch, were chosen because of vast ability.

On account of the war, baths have gone up ten cents.

J. B. Watts has purchased the Blackburn house on Dunlap street and will move his family there at once.

There is much complaint of the unsanitary conditions of the temporary school building for the lower grades. Recently a number of parents offered to furnish free of cost, the churches and other public buildings which they considered more suitable for housing their children during school hours, until the completion of the new building. No action has yet been taken.

The seventh grade entertained the high school and eighth grade Monday morning with a reading by Lyle Kretzel, a piano duet by Mildred Ely and Doris Stark and a song by Grace Barber, Bernice Henry and Muearet Murdock.

30 YEARS AGO

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCowan of Novi at six o'clock, Sunday evening, Oct. 21, 1906, when their daughter, T. Belle was united in marriage to Claude H. Walter of Northville.

The special school meeting held Tuesday night resulted in the question of bonding the district for funds for a new school building, carrying by a vote of 34-7. The proposition to raise $3,000 by tax was carried unanimously.

After a long illness, Miss Ethel West, 17, daughter of Mrs. Cora West of Northville, died Wednesday. Mesdames Ida Joslin, Minnie Carpenter, Flora Babbitt, Kithie Harmon, Berthelyn Beeler and the Miss Ruth Gillis attended the Oakland county association, O. E. Homemaker's Corner

By Mrs. Editor

Few people have slipped into an old settled community like Northville, making so many friends in such a quiet, unassuming way as our fellow-citizen, Mrs. W. W. Linton, who is a comparative newcomer in this village. Little by little the secret has slipped out that she has for years written widely for leading magazines but she would not let the fact be known for fear "folks would think I was showing off."

Finally, however, she has consented to our using some of her "Half Columns" which are contributions previously published in various magazines and papers, now compiled in a little book which is a treasured gift to us because we were fortunate in being the first to greet her. Our women readers will recognize in them a warm heart that has learned to "look up, and laugh, and love, and live."

LIFE'S HURDLES

By LULU LINTON

Do you remember the old-time minister who always referred to life as a race? I was brought up on the idea that the course was long before me, that the race must be run, and that it was up to me to run it well. But I've found out that life is more than a plain race—it's a hurdle race! Almost anyone can run over a plain, smooth, easy course, or maybe I'd better say anyone can get over the ground somehow. Some folks just waddle along, some limp, and some never get out of a walk, and seem satisfied just so they cover the ground in their allotted time. I hate doing things in a slovenly, half-way style, so I couldn't object because life is not a smooth, easy course. It isn't even so easy as the regulation hurdle race, for isn't that you know just when to expect the hurdles. While on life's track they are not placed at equal distances, but just thrown in almost any place, and you have to be prepared to clear them almost any time I'd hesitate about saying that a track meet gave me better ideas than the old-time sermons ever gave. —but at least the watching of a hurdle race gave me ideas that fitted in better with present conditions.

The picture of this race is much clearer in my mind than the sermons. I can see the tense, waiting forms, crouched ready to take advantage of a good start. (That's where were often handicapped in life's race.) I can see the look on their faces as they come down the track—interested—alert—alive—every muscle and every nerve used to the best advantage. It wasn't a question of ancestors, or wealth, or social standing—it all depended on the man. Of course, the enthusiasm cheering helped in the race. It helps on life's track—the knowing that someone cares and believes surely that we shall win. Of course, I wanted the home man to run well and come out ahead—that is, if he than the old-time sermons ever gave. —but at least the watching of a hurdle race gave me ideas that fitted in better with present conditions.

being this advantage, the runner made one final spurt, clearing the lowered hurdle just a bit ahead of our man. Of course, it wasn't fair! All the home town folks agreed on this, approving and muttering while the other side cheered. But the man who had lost by so close a margin never said a word. He just gathered his blanket about him, and stalked off with his head held high. He know that he hadn't failed in the race. He knew that he had jumped every hurdle as he came to it, clearly, fairly, honestly, and he knew that the crowd knew it. If he had paused to explain or complain, that picture would have been spoiled for me, and I do not want it changed, for since I saw the hurdle race, life's race has looked different, and I've wanted, with an intense longing never felt before, to run it honestly and well. I know just about what life's track contains—unexpected, burdens, disappointments, griefs and difficulties—life's hurdles! We have to get by them somehow, and everyone that we leave behind with a clean, fair leap strengthens us to meet the next hurdle. Sometimes when we grow very tired, we may wish that some of the hurdles were a trifle lower, but we don't want to cheat, so we'll make up our minds just to take them as they come. If we meet them all fairly and squarely, we shan't need to make any excuses, complaints, or explanations, but just gather our robes about us and march triumphantly off the track. Maybe the crowd won't cheer—but there'll be a reward!

She: "You deceived me before our marriage. You told me you were well off."

He: "I was, but I didn't know it."

Pierce-Hacking and Gardner-Joslin
Marriage Vows Are Pledged at Pretty Wedding Ceremonies During Week

Pierce-Hacking Vows Spoken at Pretty Home Wedding
Miss Hazel Hacking, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson, 519 Fairbrook avenue, became the bride of Francis Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pierce of Detroit, at a pretty formal wedding at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 15, at the Thompson home.

Twenty-five friends and relatives from Pennsylvania, Detroit and Wayne heard the marriage vows spoken before the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield, Presbyterian minister with wedding music played by Miss Jean Ellen Hoppel of Detroit.

The bride was dressed in a floor-length gown of royal blue velvet and wore an orchid corsage. Attending her was her twin sister, Mrs. Elmer Palmeter of Wayne, who wore a dress of brown velvet and gold lame. Her corsage was made of roses.

Elmer Palmeter was Mr. Pierce's best man.

A wedding supper was served to the guests immediately following the ceremony. Dessert and autumn flowers were served throughout the evening and made an attractive setting for the wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce are making a two-week motor trip through California. Upon their return to Michigan, they will be at home in Detroit where Mr. Pierce is connected with the Pere Marquette office.

Villager Takes Milford Bride Saturday—Make Home Here
Miss Myra Gladys Joslin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Joslin of South Lyon and George Dewey Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gardner of the village, exchanged their marriage vows at high noon in Milford, Saturday, Oct. 17, before the Rev. J. S. Gantzel, pastor of the Milford Baptist church.

The bride was lovely in a gown of pink crepe, fitted at the waist with a full skirt. Several rows of shirring caught at the shoulders with rhinestone clips, ornamented the neckline. Bishop sleeves of point d'esprit were made tight at the wrists.

Mrs. Clarence W. Carroll was her sister's attendant and wore a gown of blue crepe.

Frank Gardner was his brother's best man.

Following the marriage ceremony, a wedding dinner for the bridal party and the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents. A large box of autumn flowers formed the centerpiece for the table. Pink and white appointments were used at the table as well as on the bride's cake.

Upon their return from a short motor trip through northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner will make their home in Northville.

Service League Meets at Zimmerman Home
Mrs. J. E. F. Boyd and Mrs. Dana Boyd were co-hostesses Tuesday evening at the Zimmerman home, 622 West Main street, to members of the Service League.

Don't let the rainy day drive you away. Let the Service League drive you. The Service League is a most unique way, the priceless value of friendship. Because of its association with an international organization that has 4,000 clubs in 70 countries, every member of today should be a better father, a better neighbor, and a better builder of his town, he concluded.

President W. E. Forney was in charge of the meeting and Secretary E. L. Mills, who had brought Mr. Cairns out from Detroit, introduced the distinguished speaker. Guests were: A. L. Nichols of Owasco, Frank R. McLoughlin of Wayne, M. A. Kopka superintendent of Hamtramck schools, E. J. Verduyn of Novi, Rev. Walter Nichols and Roy G. Brown of Plymouth.

STUDY DRESS STYLES TODAY
Local Home Extension Club Meets With Miss Cramer at Dearborn Library

How to achieve good style in dress is the problem which will be studied during the coming year by Wayne county women enrolled in the clothing project offered through the home economics department of the Michigan State college.

Local members of the extension group will meet at 10 a. m. today at the Dearborn Library with Miss Eleanor Cramer, extension specialist in clothing.

During the year there will be five lesson series in the clothing study, including the year's clothing problems, choosing dress accessories, color and line, foundation garments and posture and up-to-date construction processes.

In today's lesson, Miss Cramer will give special emphasis to fall style trends and their appropriate use. What is new in fashion; how to distinguish between general trends and passing fads; and how each woman can make the best choices for her own special needs, are some of the questions to be discussed.

Suggestions for reviving last year's clothes will be given. Fashions of the season will be studied for ideas especially adapted to remodeling and bringing the wardrobe up-to-date.

CAIRNS SAYS SICK MEN ARE READY FOR SPIRITUAL THINGS
simple, it asks no pledge; it has no ritual. Its very simplicity should make all its members more thoughtful and more kindly. Because of the things for which Rotary stands, the townspeople expect more of Rotarians than they do of others. It is the business of Rotarians to take part in community life and to help put business on a high ethical plane.

The church is a great uplifting power in any community, yet the standards of the business men of a town are the standards for the whole town. Every time that night comes, a town is a better or worse because of the business men carried on their shoulders," he continued.

Rotary would be worth while if it did nothing more than develop friendships among men, asserted the Canadian business leader. "Rotary has brought business and professional men together and they have opened their hearts to each other. Rotary has taught in a most unique way, the priceless value of friendship. Because of its association with an international organization that has 4,000 clubs in 70 countries, every member of today should be a better father, a better neighbor, and a better builder of his town," he concluded.

President W. E. Forney was in charge of the meeting and Secretary E. L. Mills, who had brought Mr. Cairns out from Detroit, introduced the distinguished speaker. Guests were: A. L. CLARK SOLD FURNITURE
By C. A. DOLPH

The name of Frank E. Clark of Geneva, N. Y., was well known in all parts of his own state, eastern Pennsylvania, and most of New England as a result of his long experience selling church furniture throughout that district for a period of 50 odd years.

In conjunction with the late Frank S. Harrison, who travelled out of Pittsburgh and Baltimore, the late H. R. Converse of Jordan, N. Y., and the late Carol W. Clark of Boston, they gave the Michigan School Furniture company and the Globe Furniture company the larger volume of business which was captured during the years of 1883 and 1889, and made the nation know about Northville as the home of good church and school furniture.

Mr. Clark continued with the late Globe Furniture company until 1931. He was an instructor in the Orchard Lake Military academy in 1876 and later on was in charge of the Northville school.

Mr. Clark was a quiet, efficient individual and handled his work in a steady going fashion. As a salesman he won the respect of church committees and had turned in more than 1,200 furniture contracts during his career. As churches have some sort of remodeling or overhauling every 25 years, Mr. Clark had dealt with many churches twice in his sales experience.

Mr. Clark was a man worth knowing and his goodness was impressive and lasting. Those who dealt with him and knew how solid and substantial he was, can estimate him accordingly.

The nation needs a lot of men of the type of Frank E. Clark.

When You Exchange Lamps please bring your electric bill

It is easy to exchange your burned out lamps for new ones at any Detroit Edison office. There is no charge for lamp renewal service. (The cost of lamp renewals is included in your electric rate). If your BURNED OUT lamps are not the sizes you wish, we will gladly exchange them for other sizes. The only requirement is this: When you exchange lamps, bring with you your most recent electric bill for identification.

This rule requiring identification through your electric bill is partly for your protection, since it keeps others who are not Detroit Edison customers from getting lamps which you pay for in your electric rate. Also, this practice discourages wasteful lamp renewals and provides the Company with the necessary records on lamps passed out.

The Detroit Edison Company will gladly advise you on the correct sizes of lamps for your needs. Keeping your sockets filled with lamps will mean greater comfort and convenience in your home, and will insure adequate light for safe seeing.

CHINESE PLAY SCHEDULED IN CITY, OCT. 25

'Lady Precious Stream' Open
at Cass Theatre for Fall
Engagement

It is theatre news of first importance as well as of interest, that Detroit is one of the few cities that Morris Gest, famed producer of musical and exotic works, is including in his tour of the much-discussed Chinese classic which entranced New York most of last season, and which even now, with 800 performances already to its record in London, is approaching its third year there with no end in sight.

Never before has a Chinese play been done in English, and according to the traditional Chinese manner. No one ever thought of it until Dr. Shih I. Hsueh, young Chinese poet, playwright and theatrical producer, transcribed it in fluid and sensitive English to give the Westerner an enchanting glimpse of his country's manners, civilization and culture. And this young genius, who has translated into Chinese the plays of Shakespeare, Galsworthy and Shaw-yes, and has produced them too—selected a play that is 200 years old (or younger)—one that has plot, situations and characterization in rich abundance—to carry his idea to other lands. This is 'Lady Precious Stream,' a story of love and adventure so beautifully and effectively told that it was among the seven plays selected by Bernard Shaw and Sir Barry Jackson for the recent Malvern Festival in England.

Small wonder, then, that when Morris Gest saw it in London he decided to add it to his living gallery of his Theatre International. It was to be remembered, who brought to America the Ballet Russe and the Moscow Art Theatre from Russia. Eleonora Duse from Italy. The Stratford Company from the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre in England. And, 'The Miracle' from Central Europe. And now, from China 'Lady Precious Stream.'

TEAM SCORES ONCE IN GAME AT HOME

Season's First Touchdown Made in Trenton Game; Northville Is Loser

Northville played its first home game and scored its first touchdown last Friday. Although defeated by Trenton by the score 27-6, they showed the town-folks what they had and what they could do.

The game opened with Trenton kicking to Northville to the 5-yard line. Northville's first play was a fumble back of their goal line. It was recovered by a Northville man but it gave Trenton two points in less than a minute of play. Northville was given the ball on the 20-yard line from where she kicked off. About five minutes later Trenton completed two passes for a touchdown. The try for the extra point failed.

Carl Arnold playing fullback for Northville intercepted a pass near the end of the first quarter and raced 60 yards for Northville's only tally.

This put new life in our team but in vain. Trenton dug in and scored two touchdowns in the second quarter and one more in the fourth to make the final score. Trenton 27; Northville 6.

The only score made in the first quarter really put spirit into our men. It showed they were out there playing with all their might to win a game for Northville.

A short saying, but a good one. "They may be light but they got fight."

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Don't get the idea that your editor is going soft on you, but those red capes and that stirring music our band poured forth the other day in assembly kinda got me. The only part I didn't think so much of was the whole idea of the meeting. It doesn't say much for Northville high when we have to call a special assembly to sell season tickets for our own football games.

The student council is having a rather difficult time making ends meet and they and our football team deserve some support from the students of N. H. S. Come on now! Let's pitch in and help, and show everyone that Northville has a student body which is proud of its football team, and let's give three good, healthy cheers for the student council and all they've done and are trying to do!

Your editor got lazy the other day, so Margaret Walker, one of the reporters, wrote Around the School this week.

We want to give the weekly orchid to Miss Linden, because she drives all the way from the Irish Hills each morning in order to teach typing and commercial subjects.

I'll see you next week.

VANDYKE BALL GAME TO BE PLAYED TODAY

Coach Barr Expects to Win in Passing Battle Between Evenly Matched Teams

Northville plays its sixth game with Van Dyke on their field Friday, Oct. 23.

Van Dyke is believed to have approximately the same strong points and the same weaknesses as the Northville team. It is stated on good authority that Van Dyke's passing attack is good and their line is fair. Northville will probably use a passing attack and a number of spinner plays for offense.

Coach Barr stated, "I feel quite confident our team will win this game." Both our coach and his boys have fought hard in previous games and will certainly continue to do so. A good game will be fought, so let's back our team up.

The ineligible list is greatly decreased and the team is fairly strong this week. The probably starting lineup will be:

Richardson	L.E.
Lester	L.T.
Young	L.G.
Bray	C.
Casterline	R.G.
Ault	R.T.
Hardesty	R.E.
Parmenter	Q.B.
Arnold	P.B.
Way	R.H.
Van Valkenburg	L.H.

SOCIETY

Did you know that Dick Ambler is a cook? He certainly made good cocoa for his party and those that were there seem healthy enough this week. His guests were entertained with monopoly before he tried his hand at cooking. Jane Van Atta, Geraldine Johnston, Virginia Washburne, Kathryn Marburger, Dale Bray, Keene Bolton and Albert Boileys were there. This was Friday night.

June Denne, Lucille Simmons, Betty Raystead and Mary Jane Gregory had a lot of fun Friday too—they were over in Plymouth.

Mary Jane Gregory's birthday was Sunday and did the Tip Tops surprise her! The Tip Tops is the club made up of Lucille Simmons, Helene Johnson, June Denne, Betty Raystead, Ruth Campbell and of course Mary Jane.

Dorothy Niles and Rose Knight celebrated Dorothy's birthday in Tecumseh and the Irish Hills.

Last but not least, Leona White has been down in Florida. We haven't all the particulars but we'll tell you next week.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Oct. 14 was the date of the Girl Scout hike to the fields and woods back of the Fish Hatchery. They had a beautiful day for it, and did quite a bit of roasting around, after roasting hot dogs and such over a small fire at the top of the steep hill overlooking the fish ponds. The Fawn patrol was supposed to lay the trail to the hiking destination which the Pheasant patrol was to follow, but there was a mix-up in the trail signs and the Pheasants caught up with the others.

The girls held their rummage sale Oct. 17 in the old Elliot Bakery, and took in quite a sum of money. The only trouble was that the girls were all too eager to sell and periodically three or four would have to be ejected, peacefully or otherwise. Maxine Perkins was the star sales girl and Marilyn Cavell the cashier. The girls worked on two-hour shifts during the day.

ANNA JEAN FLAHERTY APPEARS IN TAP DANCE

Through an oversight, Anna Jean Flaherty was not mentioned as appearing on the program Oct. 2. Dressed in a red and silver soldier suit, and accompanied by Geraldine Ferguson on the piano, she did a tap dance. So insistent was the applause that she was forced to dance another number.

DISMISS SCHOOL FOR TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

There was no school held today at the high school. The Teachers' Institute meets in Detroit, and since most of Northville's teachers are members, school was dismissed.

THE LAUGH OF A CHILD (By Robert Ingersoll)

The laugh of a child will make the holiest day more sacred still. Strike with hand of fire, O weird musician, the harp strung with Apollo's golden hair; fill the vast cathedral aisles with symphonies sweet and dim, deft toucher of the organ keys; blow bugler, blow, until thy silver notes do touch and kiss the moonlit waves, and chain the lovers wandering 'mid the vine-clad hills. But know, your sweetest strains are discord all, compared with childhood's happy laugh—the laugh that fills the eyes with light and every heart with joy. O rippling river of laughter, thou art the blessed boundary line between the beast and man; and every wayward wave of thine doth drown some frowny fiend of care. O laughter, rose-lipped daughter of Joy, there are dimples enough in thy cheek to catch and hold and glorify all the tears of grief.

Bridge That Goes Nowhere

When President Roosevelt in 1935 announced a $200,000,000 grade crossing construction program to help solve the unemployment problem, the New Deal brain trust forgot to tell him about rights of way, surveys and land problems. Although much of the taxpayers' money has been poured out, employment has been negligible and after a year, half-finished monuments now dot the highway. Above is one not far from Sioux Falls, S. D. A little-used dirt road passes over a railroad line over which two trains pass per day. The overhead crossing and approach shown cost $77,000 up to the point pictured. Then work stopped because of complications. Note the bridge-end up in the air, at right. Similar spending has run the national debt up to highest level in history and taxes to back-breaking proportions.

MICHIGAN PAYS AND PAYS (W. H. Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant)

Just how would you feel if the government compelled you through taxation to help set your neighbor up in the farming business or any other business so that that neighbor could be in a position to compete with you and possibly take your business away from you? You wouldn't like that, and still that is exactly what is being done to the people of Michigan by the federal government at Washington.

Here is the picture: Michigan pays 4.12 per cent of all the internal revenue collections of the government, and out of the vast sums paid into the federal treasury by Michigan, the sum of $20,229,200 has gone to help pay for the projects now completed or planned by the Tennessee Valley Authority in the Tennessee Valley area. The state of Tennessee itself paid less than one-sixth as much as Michigan, although Tennessee benefits enormously by these projects. Every man, woman and child in Michigan was taxed an average of over four dollars to build all these projects in Tennessee.

Michigan is largely an industrial state, but after President Roosevelt has completed this vast Tennessee Valley power proposition and the government places on the market electric energy made cheap by your donations, you may most certainly see Tennessee attracting your Michigan factories to the land of cheap power. In other words, you help build the power plant down south and then it takes your industries away from you.

wise curious. They need only to be good neighbors. Besides people, there are the general topics of rural interest. Mrs. Elsie never talks about people, but does relate small details of her home life, the crop yield, neighbors' gardens, farm operation and the experimental ideas. It is to encourage a fresh viewpoint and style that the national award is made to the best correspondent.

The following is the concluding paragraph from one of Mrs. Elsie's daily columns on the subject of "Thrashers": "How quiet it seems after the thrashing machine vanishes behind the bend in the road. The place seems empty, like after a funeral. You wish they would come back, the thrashing crew, with their swearing and laughter and quarrelling. How sober the children, even, and what long faces! Somewhere down the road other women are beginning to do what you have just finished doing. Behind the barn looms up a gleaming yellow stack of straw—unfamiliar and alarming in appearance—but it is a monument to a husband's toil and sweat, and suddenly it grips you most profoundly. Life becomes intensely precious."

NOVI NEWS

The Methodist Aid society held family night at the church, Wednesday evening. A sermon by the pastor, the Rev. H. J. Lord was enjoyed, followed by a social hour with refreshments. Contributions were brought for the old people's home at Chelsea.

Mrs. Lena Atkinson and daughter, Marjorie and Carol, moved to Fort Huron last Friday. Mrs. Atkinson's address will be 719 Union street, and she will have charge of a rooming house there. The M. E. Ladies Aid presented them with a casserole set and a glass plate as parting gifts.

THE BIG ISSUE NOVEMBER 3

(P. O. Gildart in Utica Sentinel) What is the real issue in this presidential campaign? Don't let anybody fool you. It is not whether Roosevelt has been a great or good man or even a good president. It is not even whether he has kept his platform pledges—it is not whether the New Deal is really a democratic concept. It is whether we shall retain our constitutional government. For it is conceivable that vacancies in the next four years in the Supreme Court will give the president his avowed opportunity to appoint men to that high body who will endorse instead of condemn the means by which he has transcended that document in grasping for extraordinary power.
