DISTRIBUTION OF SECURITY FORMS BEGINS

Postmaster Says Less Than Eight Employers Won't
Exempt Employer

STARTS IN JANUARY
LOCAL POST OFFICE WILL SEND CARDS TO ALL WORKERS IN VILLAGE, NOV. 24

"The social security plan will affect all employers, regardless of whether they employ one or a 100 workers," affirmed Postmaster Fred E. Van Atta, this week as he distributed forms to local business men.

Forms which employers must fill out and return to the post office by Nov. 21, ask that seven questions be answered: The business name; description of the nature of the business; address; approximate number of persons employed; principal products of the manufacturing firms; whether the establishment is a branch or subsidiary concern; and the name and address of headquarters.

Exemptions Specified.

These questionnaires are being sent through post offices throughout the nation to any employment outside the following classifications: Self-employment; employees of the railroad industry who are subject to the 1935 Carriers Tasting Act; agricultural labor; domestic service in a private home; casual labor; not in the course of the employer's trade or business; service performed as an officer or member of the crew of a vessel documented under the laws of the United States or of any foreign country; service performed in the employ of the United States government; service performed in the employ of a state or a political subdivision; service performed in the employ of a corporation, community, church, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inure to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

Starting at one cent on each dollar of workers' earnings up to $3,000 a year, and one cent for every dollar of the employer's payroll, the plan is rapidly approaching its date of effectiveness, Jan. 1, 1937.

Definite Scale Increases

Increasing gradually according to a definite scale, the taxes will reach three per cent on a dollar by 1945 on both wages and payrolls and will finance pensions ranging from $10 to $35 a month, to which the workers will be entitled on reaching age 65.

In setting up the social security accounts for 26,000,000 workers, the post offices will be drafted again Nov. 24 to deliver to employers, in most instances through employers, the applications for account number forms. These forms question the employee as to his name and address, name and address of employer, date and place of birth, and father's and mother's name.

According to Mr. Van Atta, employers need not hand their forms to their employers when they have been properly filled out, but they may bring them or mail them, without charge, directly to the local post office.

Set Up Accounts

With the filing of the information a social security account will be set up for each person eligible and he will be given a card, similar to an insurance identification card, certifying that an account has been set up, bearing the number of the employee's social security account so as to make it easy for the worker to find out at any time just how his account stands.

PLYMOUTH CHESSMEN SEEK COMPETITIVE GAMES IN VILLAGE

The announcement has been made that Plymouth Chessmen have organized for competitive games. Seeking inter-suburban matches, M. G. O'Neill, was a village caller this week, making an effort to contact Northville chess players.

Weekly meetings are held in Plymouth and according to Mr. O'Neill, any village players are welcome to attend the Friday evening sessions. Mr. O'Neill can be reached at 1890 Williams, Plymouth, for information as to where the meetings will be held from week to week.

DR. FRANK SLADEN, FORD HOSPITAL HEAD, TALKS HERE SUNDAY

"Some Ways of Knowing Christ Better" will be the topic which Dr. Frank Sladen, physician-in-chief of the Henry Ford hospital, will bring to the Methodist congregation when he speaks at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the local Methodist church.

According to the Rev. Harry J. Lord, pastor of the Methodist church, Dr. Sladen's message will deal with personal religion as he has seen it work. "His talk will be different, but vital to any who are seeking reality in every day religion," commented Mr. Lord.

"He believes that the religion of many people fails because it stops with belief. His rich experience at the head of a great hospital should be of interest to this community for he is interested in spiritual clinical work along with his work as a medical adviser. He often definitely relates the two in his practice," concluded Mr. Lord.

65 VOICES SING FOR LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

Leslie G. Lee's a cappella choir members were the guest entertainers Tuesday noon at the Rotary club.

The choir, which is to make its first public appearance of the season tonight when it presents the annual fall concert in the school gymnasium, is made up of 65 voices, 33 of which are new in the organization, this year.

Four numbers were sung for the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon meeting. Before the selections were given, Director Lee explained to the group the eight parts of music which are sung by the choir.

Seven business men of the village were guests Tuesday at the meeting, including R. J. Casteline, J. R. Lyons, James C. Jester, Fred E. VanAtta, John A. Boyce, J. L. Revitzer, Orlow G. Owen, M. J. Murphy, S. Putnam Smith and H. D. Anderson of Plymouth.

Next Wednesday the Rotarians are joining the Exchangeites to hear Harold H. Reinecke, agent in charge of Williams, Plymouth, for information as to where the meetings will be held from week to week.

SLOT MACHINES MUST GO SAY COUNCILMEN

Chief W. H. Safford Sent Out
During Council Meeting to Search Beer Garden

With the report made to fellow councilmen Monday evening by Commissioner William T. Gregory that a nickel slot machine was being operated at Norton's Inn, Chief of Police William H. Safford was sent out during the session to take the machine. Mrs. Norton having informed the chief that the owner had taken the machine Sunday night.

"That machine was being played Saturday night, all day Sunday and for the past ten days," asserted Mr. Gregory when Safford told the council that Mrs. Norton said the machine had been used a little while Saturday night "just for fun."

Brigade the matter to the attention of the council, Mr. Gregory pointed out, "Not long ago we told Safford to notify the beer garden proprietors to tell the slot machine owners to come immediately to claim their property and to keep the machines out of the village. We were fair about it. Evidently our means of notification weren't appreciated because a slot machine is being operated here again."

"My first thought on the matter was to have the police take the machine and revoke the beer garden's license for a week. However, I think the lesson will be sufficient if we send the police out now for the machine and have it turned into Wayne county office with a warning that if the situation occurs again, the license will be revoked," continued Mr. Gregory. "It's time the beer garden know we mean business," he concluded.

"I haven't seen any machines in use here since our warning a few weeks ago, but if any are in operation, we'll have to stop them," affirmed Dr. H. H. Burkart, village mayor.

In answer to questions put forth by the councilmen, Safford said that there were no slot machines in operation in any of the beer gardens at the present time.

D. A. R. MEMBERS SEE ELLIS ISLAND ITEMS

Mrs. Charles Mooney, national vice-chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution Ellis Island work, spoke here Monday afternoon to a group of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, D. A. R., meeting at the home of Mrs. Pearl E. Balch and Miss Ruth Gillis, 132 West Dunlap street.

Showing a number of articles which were made by foreigners as they awaited extradition at Ellis Island, Mrs. Mooney told of the wide-spread work of this national organization among these persons who come to America, looking upon it as the land of opportunity.

Fouring at the attractive tea table late in the afternoon, were Mrs. Sidney Strong, regent, and Mrs. Charles Bennett, vice-regent, both of Plymouth.

The Sherwin A. Hill home, 3812 East Eight Mile road, will be the scene of the annual evening affair to which the men are invited, Dec. 7.

Mrs. P. J. Cochran, who received injuries two weeks ago in an automobile accident, continues to make satisfactory improvement at the Sessions hospital. It is expected that she will be released within a few days.

ANSWER RED CROSS CALL

"Villagers who have not answered the Red Cross call for membership are asked to join immediately."

"The business district is responding splendidly, but there are many persons in Northville who have not been educated to the work of the organization. Those who join once, will join again," commented Mrs. E. L. Mills, membership committee woman, as she solicited here during the week.

WHAT PRICE LEAGUE TITLE

Walled Lake Pays With Crown in Forfeit Ruckus

BY C. E. HUTTON

With the high school football season drawing to a close, difficulties in the matter of deciding the championship of the Southwestern Oakland County League are being experienced by officials of the league and C. E. Forsythe, state director of interstate athletics.

Walled Lake Consolidated may find itself in the peculiar position of co-holder of the championship of the league with Farmington, considering games won or tied, assuming that Farmington defeats Brighton this week, which is a probability. Technically, however, Walled Lake may be forced into second or third place because of a decision involved against them by St. Mary's of Orchard Lake, as made by State Director Forsythe, as a result of a basketball game between the two schools last spring.

This decision directed Walled Lake to forfeit all games for a period of two weeks, which actually meant games with Brighton and Keego Harbor. It was tentatively arranged, however, to postpone these games in order not to affect the league standing of the local teams. However, either Brighton or Keego Harbor would, by refusing to play their game force Walled Lake to forfeit. Keego Harbor played their game, but Brighton decided against playing the postponement.

At a meeting of league officials held at the Walled Lake school Tuesday night, Coach Harold Hurd stated he felt it only fair to Keego Harbor to forfeit to them the Walled Lake title.

PERRIN WANTS SEVEN MILE ROAD LIGHTED

Mayor Tells Public Utilities and Finance Committees to Work on Proposal

That the approach to Northville on the Seven Mile road may be lighted to assure safety and to improve the appearance of the drive, Commissioner Elmer Perrin placed the matter of additional lights before members of the council Monday evening.

"A few lights out on Seven Mile road would certainly make an attractive entrance to the village and with the low Edison rates in effect, it seems that now is the time to light up," said Commissioner Perrin.

"Dr. H. H. Burkart, village mayor, asked that the public utilities and finance committees work together on the cost of the extra lights and report at the next council meeting, Dec. 7.

According to figures submitted by Mrs. Mary Alexander, village clerk, the last Edison rate cut meant a monthly saving to the village of approximately $80.

Mr. Perrin is of the opinion that six extra lights along the Seven Mile road would solve the problem for the village.

Following the instructions of the council, Mrs. Alexander has written to the Wayne County Road Commission to ask if a walk can be constructed on Plymouth avenue where the old stone bridge was before its removal by the county late in the summer. The bridge was taken out after the village, in response to a letter of inquiry from the county, cleared the title, Dr. H. H. Burkart, had stated that instead of removing the bridge, a load limit should be enforced restricting its use.

TO HOLD LAST LINTON RITES HERE FRIDAY

Writer Dies Wednesday Afternoon; Prominent in Village Club Affairs

Mrs. I. W. Linton, a writer of note, who has been a resident of Northville for the past three years, passed away at her home on South Center street early Wednesday evening, Nov. 18. Mrs. Linton had been failing in health for a number of years and submitted last April to a major operation from which she never fully recovered. Bravely she kept up and greeted her friends until the past ten days when she was confined to her bed.

Lulu Garshwiler, the daughter of John R. and Elizabeth Garshwiler, was born on a farm near Franklin, Ind., April 13, 1870. Here she spent her girlhood, and later attended Franklin college. Early feeling the urge to write she tried her hand at a story at the age of eight years, beginning a career which lasted on throughout her life.

On August 13, 1890 she was married to I. W. Linton who taught school in Franklin for a number of years. One daughter, Doris, was born to them who later became the wife of C. D. Branigan, now counselor of the Bedford high school.

It was during their life in Indiana that Mrs. Linton began writing for publication. Besides contributing to magazines she wrote half-column articles and "Little Stories of Daily Life" for the Indianapolis News. She was honored by being made a member of the Woman's Press Club of Indiana and won with pride a little gold quilt, the emblem of this organization.

In May, 1918 the Lintons left their Indiana home for frontier life in Oklahoma and it was here among the sand and high winds of that raw country that Mrs. Linton enlarged her fund of human interest stories, before long she was writing regularly for the "Oklahoma" a serial called "Letters from a Blue Sky Rancher."

During these 12 years while her husband kept the village postoffice at Jones, Mrs. Linton, as his assistant, valued the life stories of the community pass through the office and reared the "lives and loves and sorrows of her people." Stories were lived before her eyes, and she wrote them. To her the editor of the Youth's Companion wrote when she had sent a story: "Up from the Sticks" to that magazine, "You have surely caught the atmosphere of your big new state."

During her literary career Mrs. Linton has had published more than 300 stories in leading magazines, among them The Ladies' Home Journal, Woman's Companion and Youth's Companion. She had sold stories to 46 editors and to some of them many times.

Recognition of her ability was shown in her membership in the Indiana Press Women's club, the Oklahoma Authors' League, the Oklahoma Writers and Scribblers and the National League of American Pen Women. Of her stories one critic said, "she presents her characters so vividly that they seem to be in the same room."

But not as an author was Mrs. Linton known in Northville during her three years of residence here. She was a friend to many and took a

F. H. FOSDICK TALKS TO LOCAL TEACHERS

Superintendent F. H. Fosdick, Wyandotte, addressed the Northville teachers at their club meeting Nov. 10. His topic was "Appreciation."

As he developed his theme he reminded the teachers that one of the goals of education is to assure an abundant social and individual life and an appreciation for the worth while things.

"Appreciation deals with the emotional side of life—a side to which we have given the least amount of attention in our schools," said the speaker.

"Experience teaches us to appreciate what we have known. Thus in art or music, there is no answering note unless we constantly attempt to learn to appreciate," Mr. Fosdick continued.

He pointed out that appreciation varies according to the time and place in which it occurred. "Extract a bit of beauty from its habitat and it loses much of the beautiful," affirmed Mr. Fosdick.

To teach appreciation of music, art and other cultural subjects, we must begin at the child's level. The experience must be a long and repeated one so as to become a part of his life. An inspired teacher with high technique is necessary, but he paints pictures even as artists with a brush, and the results are men and women who are greater than ever before," he concluded.

The Fellowship class of the Methodist church held a potluck supper Thursday evening in the church house. The Rev. Harry J. Lord is the teacher of this class.

HAMILL GIVES DRY TEST TO NEW RESERVOIR

Good Materials Are Used by Contractors; Make Rigid
Water Test Soon

ADVISE W. P. A. PROJECT
COUNCILMEN TABLE PROPOSAL FOR GOVERNMENT PETITION
UNTIL JOB IS FINISHED

The reservoir contractors have completed the walls, deck and floor, in fact everything except the construction of forms for the superstructure. They'll be pouring the superstructure the latter part of this week," affirmed Harold P. Hamill, civil engineer, inspector of the village reservoir project, Monday evening when he reported the progress of the work to the council.

Most Heat Structure

Queried by Dr. H. H. Burkart, village mayor, as to whether or not the contractors, H. B. Culbertson and company, Detroit, had heated any of the materials before pouring, Mr. Hamill said that the cold weather had made it necessary to keep the structure heated but that the materials themselves. "The weather has not been freezing during the time the contractors have been pouring," Hamill explained.

Further questioning Hamill, Commissioner William T. Gregory asked for the engineer's opinion on the quality of the reservoir concrete job. "Some of the work is poor because of inadequate puddling and for that reason several hundred dollars worth of repairs have had to be done on the forms to make them meet the tests. They have been repaired satisfactorily. Good materials are being used and they are being properly mixed. The structure has yet to pass the rigid water test. We'll pour in water and let it stand for two days before approval is given by the job," said Hamill. "If or eight men had been puddling instead of only two, much of the contractors' expenses for repairs would have been avoided," he continued.

Connect Dead Lines

Hamill's suggestion that a second WPA project application be filed for connecting the reservoir to dead end main running down to Base Line road to the railroad was tabled for the time being by councilmen.

It was Hamill's opinion that a $6,000 or $6,500 project could be approved by the government which would only cost the village $1,500. "There are a number of dead end mains here that will have to be connected sometime," commented Hamill.

According to Dr. Burkart, the connection would eliminate the trouble at the Eastland sanatorium. "It would be a convenience to take care of the sanatorium adequately without bringing the water to town and then pushing it up the hill to the sanatorium," he said.

"Wait," says Gregory.

Voicing his opinion on the matter, Commissioner Gregory said that he would rather wait to see how the reservoir was going to turn out before any other project was put through. "If the reservoir proves satisfactory, then let's go ahead," he concluded.

"Let's finish the job we've started before we do anything else," asserted Commissioner Floyd G. Shafer.

Perrin Favors Plan

Commissioner Elmer Perrin favored having the petition for the project underway. "If it isn't cost the village anything to get the application for the project approved, we might be saving time to go ahead. We could decide later whether or not we wanted it," he remarked.

"I believe we'd just better take Mr. Hamill's suggestion under advisement and not do anything about it for the time being," commented Commissioner J. W. Perkins.

SOME OBSERVATIONS ON GETTING SHOT.

This week's editorials just have to be very personal, rather "mixed-up" and jerky, but we hope they will have some interest to all of you. Certainly they are timely.

This column is usually written on Friday, due to the fact that the work of getting out The Record has to be scattered pretty carefully over six work days. As most of you have heard, the writer was accidentally shot under the right shoulder, while emerging from the office basement on the evening of Armistice Day—didn't we pick an appropriate day to be shot?

So here it is Monday and we sit writing in our home after four interesting days and nights spent in a local hospital.

Later—At this point in his narrative the editor was interrupted by the appearance of a grave-looking doctor who said, "What's this! Writing, when I told you not to do a thing—not even think!"

So "Mrs. Editor" takes up the "dropped torch," which happens to be a typewriter in this case, and goes on with the story. None too easy with a quake in her heart for what might have been but for a very narrow rib.

Since the accident we have been kept busy answering all kinds of questions. Most frequently we are asked: "And how did he feel when he was shot?" The answer is that all he can remember is of a sudden feeling as of a great rubber band "smacking" him in the shoulder with a burning sensation. Walking from the rear of the building to the front office he sat down on the bench and said, dazedly, "Well, I guess I've been shot!" He supposed he had been merely a "short stop" for a spent bullet.

Thanks to the altness of the young lady at the desk, a doctor and an ambulance were on the scene in short notice and a real front-page story was whizzing over the wires to the city papers.

Not that it's such an unusual thing for an editor to be shot. It hasn't been so long since editors had to be as afraid of shooters with a gun as with a pen in upholding their principles. For after all, an editor has to stand alone.

Two editors were overheard visiting the other day.

"I feel like a bit wolf," said one. "So many folks feel a personal dislike to one if he disagrees with them—not to mention a spineless editor."

"I feel the same way," replied the other. "I'm often very lonely too."

Lonely? Not any more, when from the depths of kindly interest have sprung up expressions of sympathy from all directions—from folks he never supposed "cared a cent." So now the editor leans back comfortably among his pillows with flowers and messages of good will coming in and he sighs, "Well, after all, it's almost worth being shot to find out that folks care—but I'm glad I'm here to know it."

The only disappointment to the patient is that he can't assemble a little group in a corner some day and compare notes on how they got shot—as you can after an operation.

Well, anyway, it isn't as much of a disgrace for a publisher to get shot in the back as it is for a soldier.

Of all the Michigan editors there is probably no one who is more alert in sending out words of good cheer to those who need them than Muriel H. DeFoe of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune. Along comes this word sent by wire from Chicago, "Why not join the army and draw a pension? Love, Muriel."

A telegram from Editor Ray Corliss of the Parma News, a letter from Editor Joe Haas of Holly and calls from Editor A. D. Gallery of Caro, and Editor Larry Love of Jonesville all were like brotherly hands stretched out.

After stepping carefully in and out of the bath tub for over 50 years, to have this happen!" Authorities say that the most dangerous thing a person can do is to take a bath. It is estimated that when you step into your bath you run a thousand times more risk than when you board a railroad train and two hundred times more risk of accident than when you climb into a licensed airplane. Electrical appliances close to bath tubs and water pipes charged with electricity are responsible for many accidents. Yet folks will keep on taking baths!

There's no such thing as being safe. We read the story of a young man whose best girl was so glad that she hugged him so hard that she broke three ribs. While another swam, while dancing with a woman, a third was in the car drum by a protruding hairpin. Yet he will go on hugging and dancing!

The strangest of accidents was reported when a man was killed by a falling good.

Velfaire wrote, "It is the danger that is the least expected that comes soonest to us."

LET HIM THAT THINKETH HE STANDETH TAKE HEED LEST HE FALL

Most of us wait until some sudden jolt reminds us that life is not going to stretch on indefinitely before we realize that if we are ever going to live we had better begin at once.

Oh, yes, sometime we are going to take time to do the nice things we have planned to do. Sometime after this hurdle and that hurdle are leaped. When these are passed we will stop and play a while, we'll cultivate those fine friendships, send those little gifts, read those books long waiting, travel, yes, and build that home of our dreams. Some day. Right now we must hurry along as if paying our debts and rearing our children were the end and aim of life.

Then suddenly, without warning, some unforeseen event calls "Halt!" and we are faced with the serious thought that perhaps this is the end of the road and we have not paused along the way to enjoy its beauty.

The sad thing that we have observed is that when most folks have reached the time of life when financial ease and freedom from family cares would give them every chance for realizing their dreams, along comes some wise old doctor who puts a warning finger on their pulse and slows them down. Too often it happens that just as the strain of making a living is over, one or the other is left to travel on the path of unaccustomed leisure all alone.

Yes, it often takes an accident to make one realize that "the worst thing about waiting for the future is that the future never comes until you have stopped waiting for it."

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

Mrs. Claude M. Zimmerman, committee chairman in the Parent Teachers' association, announced Dec. 2 as the date for the opening of the school luncheon this year.

Mrs. Muriel Schoof, for over 25 years a resident of Northville, died at her home at 117 East Base Line road Wednesday evening after a serious illness of several months' duration.

Northville welcomed the sun back Wednesday in spite of the fact that its appearance spoiled the chance for a new "sunless" record. The 11-day disappearance which was staged by Old Sol rivalled and threatened to break the record set in December, 1929, when a series of the same number of cloudy days descended upon Detroit and vicinity.

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Johnson was celebrated in gala fashion last Sunday afternoon and evening. Approximately 100 guests were present. The Johnson girls, with their brother, Alex, sang several numbers.

Hill, Mrs. Sumner G. Power, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. B. G. Finkbe, Mrs. W. H. Yerkes, Mrs. E. C. Hinkley and Mrs. Archie Morris.

The marriage of Mrs. Grace Bassler, Lansing, and Sumner Fuston of this place occurred in Lansing on Sunday, Nov. 15.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bassett of Novi was the scene of a very attractive dinner party on Saturday evening, Nov. 14, at which the engagement of their daughter, Donna, to Chester Wallace of Eaton Rapids was announced.

10 YEARS AGO

Northville's new Ahrens-Fox fire truck arrived in the village Tuesday forenoon direct from the factory in Ohio.

An event of great interest was the uniting in marriage of Miss Ruth Atchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Atchison, late residents of Northville and well known in this community, and Charles Hanert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanert of Detroit. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Tuesday, Nov. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Johnson and four children expect to leave within a short time for Sweden, where they will spend the winter at the old home.

15 YEARS AGO

As an expression of the appreciation and kindly interest of the people of this village the council presented to Lloyd H. Green Post, American Legion, last Friday night a silken banner suitably inscribed and a beautiful silk American flag.

Last Wednesday, Nov. 9, Mrs. Leona Whipple of this township and Frank E. Whipple of Detroit, were united in marriage and after a delightful wedding journey returned to the Whipple farm home where they will reside.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kreeger a daughter, Helen Marie, Friday, Nov. 11.

20 YEARS AGO

An inquiry at the leading Northville factories finds a decided boom to business and in every case there seems to be a scarcity of the right kind of help, while orders are piling in faster than the goods can be shipped out.

Ed Fuller of the United States Fish commission has returned from his egg hunt near Beaver Island. Ed says the weather was simply awful a part of the time and that no land-hunter wants to tackle that kind of a job for recreation.

Born Nov. 7, to Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Cole, a boy.

30 YEARS AGO

One of the worst fires in the history of Novi village took place early Wednesday morning, when the post office and store building, the McCowan-Walter residence and the building formerly used as a blacksmith shop burned to the ground, with practically all their contents.

A new social "stunt" is the giving of "slumber parties." After much puzzlement we have discovered that the guests arrive the night before and stay to breakfast. The music probably consists of lullabies and the costumes are changed during the evening.

SO LONG as harvests heap their bounty on the table, another but how strikingly different is the modern housewife, who is serving a dinner at one o'clock, can be so long as turkey stuffs Thanksgiving morning! Were the housewife of two generations ago, there will always be a Thanksgiving feast. There will be the traditional roast fowl with stuffing, savory amaranth, doubling there was to sauce, harvest fruits in delicious combination, and puddings and pies festively rich far beyond the aspirations of puddings and pies for any other dinner of the year.

The table remains much the same from one Thanksgiving to the next.

Tested Recipes
Hot Pimento Canapés: Prepare as many toast circles as there are guests. Spread with butter and then a layer of mayonnaise. Cut circles of canned pimento the same size as the toast circles and place one on each. Sprinkle generously with grated cheese and a few grains of salt, and press a whole stuffed olive in the center of each. Place under the broiler flame until the cheese melts and browns slightly. Serve at once with parsley garnish.
Consomme Julienne: Cut one-half cup of raw carrot and one-fourth cup of celery in match-like strips, and cut one-fourth cup of canned stringless beans in lengthwise thirds about an inch and a half long. Melt one tablespoon of butter in a pan, add the vegetables and cook slowly until the vegetables are slightly brown. Add the contents of four No. 1 cans of consomme, and simmer until the vegetables are tender. Season to taste. Serve in bouillon-cups with a few vegetables in each.

three-fourths cup of crushed pine-apple until the mixture is light and fluffy. Cut four oranges in halves, remove the pulp carefully (reserving it for salad, fruit cups or breakfast) and pile the potato mixture lightly in the orange shells. Sprinkle one-third cup of chopped salted peanuts on top and brown in hot oven.

Squash Pie With Honey and Whipped Cream: To one-half of a No. 3 can of squash (or two cups) add one and one-half cups of thin cream or milk, three-fourths cup of sugar which has been mixed with three-fourths teaspoon ginger, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and one teaspoon salt. Then add three eggs which have been beaten hot too light. Pour into the crust and bake like a custard pie, having the oven hot at first, and then reduce (450 degrees for ten minutes, 325 degrees for thirty minutes, or until the filling is set and a knife comes out clean). Cool. Spread a layer of honey over the top, cover with unsweetened whipped cream, and serve.

Orchard Lake—National interest was drawn to the trailer colony in Orchard Lake, when it became the first in the country to be doomed by court decision. Justice of the Peace Arthur R. Green held that the trailers owned by Edward Gundersell, who had an ordinance prohibiting construction of dwellings with less than 500 cubic feet of space per occupant. Six other families facing similar suits will be allowed to move without being brought to trial. In Orchard Lake this new mode of living thus was banned completely. Since another ordinance levies a prohibitive license fee of $100 and more on persons renting property for use as trailer camps.—The Pontiac Daily Press.

Birmingham—Ernest W. Seaborn, local resident, is the owner of the 16-month-old pointer, "Rap of Oak Point," which went Best in Show in the annual all-breed dog show held in demonstration hall, Michigan State college campus, East Lansing, two weeks ago. Over 500 dogs were entered in competition.—Birmingham Eclectic.

Plymouth—Two lives crushed out, suffering so intense that death would provide almost a welcome relief, sorrow and injuries that will forever leave their marks are but a few.

Redford—The complete destruction of a large farmhouse in Southfield township last week sharply re-emphasizes the constant and acute danger to homes in that area due to lack of water facilities.

A loss estimated by officials at $4,000 resulted when the big farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons, located on Farmington drive, near Beech road, was completely destroyed by fire last Thursday, Nov. 5 at 9 a. m.

The cause of the blaze, which swept rapidly through the old structure, was given as an over-heated kitchen stove. Redford township's fire department was called and fought the fire desperately for over three hours but were unable to check the blaze due to the shortage of water. All available water from tanks was quickly used up with a negligible effect.—The Redford Record.

Ann Arbor—An Encyclopedia of the University of Michigan, to celebrate the completion of one century of progress in Ann Arbor and to envisage the accomplishments of another, will be compiled this year in conjunction with the University's celebration of its establishment in Ann Arbor next June.—The Michigan Daily.

New Hudson—The shooting and the tumult is dead. We no longer have to be afraid to go that block to the grocery, lest some booby man grab us, and with pointing finger tell us that the country will never survive unless everyone wakes up before Nov. 3. As a fitting climax to the excitement of election Mrs. Ruth Foster (a staunch supporter of the G. O. P., and active in Republican Women's Federation of Oakland county) buried the Elephant, at a really "impressive" ceremony at the Washburn Service station, in above town, at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.—The South Lyon Herald.

A committee, representing girls of the intermediate group of the community, called on Miss Lora Ault Sunday afternoon, and made tentative plans for the organization of what is to be known as a Vesper club, with Miss Ault as director. Girls of this age group are invited to meet with Miss Ault at 4 p. m. next Sunday when complete organization is expected to be made. No intention is made of interfering with the attendance or work of any Sunday school or church, but an effort is to be made to introduce activities which will aid in the development of fine Christian character in young womanhood.

At the regular monthly meeting of the P. T. A., held last Thursday evening, Mrs. Ethel Middlewood, first president of the local P. T. A., was formally presented with a beautiful past president's pin. During her speech of acceptance, Mrs. Middlewood referred to the many changes which had taken place in the community since the P. T. A. was first organized here 15 or 16 years ago. She declared that the population of the district was large enough that at least 200 persons should be members of Pierson P. T. A.

IN MEMORIAM

(Contributed by Oliver Goldsmith in memory of our very dear friend and fellow townsman, Edward C. Langfield.)

Thy sun hath set to us,
But shines elsewhere
In heavenly light.

The enigmatic gloom is gone,
And all is fair
In heavenly light,
Thy home it reaches,
Thou dost
Not ask to see the distant west,
For it is near to thee.

And thou art "ever thus,"
No need to pray
In heavenly light
The day of sorrow and of doubt is done,
Thy love remembered and thy haven won,
And now thy faith is sight,
And thou dost know
That God is Light,
And over moor and torren we must go,
Through the dark night,
Till—in the glorious morning light
we see
The "Angel faces" of the blest and thee.

PIE SALE HELD BY JUNIOR CLASS

Committee Selects Pins and Rings—Local Jeweler Places Orders

The first money-making enterprise of the junior class for this year was launched Nov. 14—a pie sale. The committee which had charge of the sale included Gwendolyn Jones, chairman, Edgar Jolly, Nancy McLoughlin, Keene Bolton and Barbara Phillips.

Each member of the class was asked to have two pies and get two orders, or else contribute 50 cents. On the morning of Nov. 14, members of the committee called for the pies and delivered them to those who had ordered. It is expected that the class fund for the trip to Washington, D. C. will be swelled by about $20 from this sale.

The juniors have also chosen their class ring and pin after looking over many styles and varieties. The ring committee was Gwendolyn Jones, chairman, Cecil Giles, Doris Tewksbury, Edgar Jolly, Nancy McLoughlin and Betty Schrader. The ring chosen comes in gold and silver with a dull gray setting carved with the head of a Greek warrior. In the gold it is $8.50 and $9.75 (boys), and in the silver, $4.50 and $4.75. The gold pin is $4.50 and the silver, $2.50. They were chosen from the stock of Bastian Brothers, who also furnished the rings for the class of '37. The rings and pins may be ordered from Lucius Blake.

Inquiring Reporter

What do you dislike most about the high school boys?

Kathryn Marburger—They could forget the cave man stuff and shave once in a while.

Mary Geraghty—Some high school boys think they know everything and act so smart that they are positively silly.

Dorothy Heaton—Since I read that the boys disapprove of make-up, I haven't noticed any breaking up of pairs.

Jane Van Atta—For goodness sake, boys, act your age. You may think it's smart to show off, but it looks awfully silly to me.

Betty Schrader—Not keeping their hands and nails well groomed and trying to make them look better after they come to school.

Louise Alexander—I really think the fellows should stop throwing things, taking things that don't belong to them, try to tone their voices down to a loud roar and just get wise to themselves in general. P. S. And not wear gym shoes in school.

Glady's Hammond—Red heads and fresh men, spelled without a hyphen.

Betty Elk—The boys in this high school aren't so bad. I haven't any kick coming. Their main fault is that they are frightfully conceited and expect the girls to run around after them and ask for dates. Dumb people!

Grade Notes

Mrs. O. P. Reng's afternoon class has earned its safety club certificates. The class is now learning a safety song. Her morning class has finished its phonetic charts.

Miss Selma Jarvis' fairy class has finished its reading charts and has started work in the readers—the big event of the year. The first graders are also learning a safety pledge so they may become safety club members.

Miss Nora Wilson's first graders have made fruit baskets which are attractive.

Miss Ann Richards' kindergarten has a treat on Friday if they have kept their teeth and fingernails clean each day. They keep their records on a health chart. For the past week the kindergarten has been working with clay. Norma—Jean Calkins is the only kindergarten who has been neither absent nor tardy since school started.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

The football season is all over, my friends, and soon our basketball heroes will be tripping down the court, lightly making baskets. (Don't mind the words, please, it's just that all the love birds in the school make me think spring has come.) As I was saying, the basketball season is practically upon us, strange as it may seem.

The student council never has to worry about a good attendance for that sport. I guess the students figure that they can't get their gunboats (feet to you) frozen off.

At any rate, your editor thinks that the so-called school spirit was pretty darn good, especially for the Plymouth game. Maybe we were defeated, but at least we went down fighting.

There's one thing the girls of the high school want made clear. Will you dead students please, please, attend their games? After all, they do have a team—and how they suffer for it.

Pat McLoughlin trips about with a bump on her eye—from basketball practice.

This you see is all a plea for the girls—to see them play!

The weekly orchid goes to Mr. Barr and Captain Bray and the whole football team, because they are good sportsmen and swell fellows.

The senior committees are still working like dogs to make the prom a success. You boys had better get dashed!

P. S. You boys had better take a look at the Inquiring Reporter and see what the girls think of you!

NORTHVILLE LOSES TO PLYMOUTH, 18-0

Barrmen Play Best Game of Season—Northville Leads in Rushing

BY JACK STUBENVOLL
Northville was again beaten by the old rival, Plymouth, 18-0 last Friday. They met defeat, but in doing so Northville played its best game of the year. The Orange and Black from start to finish showed Plymouth they weren't playing with only soft soap. In rushing, Northville led the field, but in passing, Plymouth took the cake and also the game.

Northville kicked to Plymouth and started off for two first downs in a row. Northville buckled down and forced Plymouth to kick. Arnold, standing on his 10-yard line, kicked but it was blocked. This looked bad for Northville. She stopped Plymouth, however, and on two plays took Plymouth back 29 yards. All this surprised Plymouth as result no score in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Plymouth took to the air. Five attempts netted ground up to the two-yard line where Plymouth put it over for the first touchdown of the game. The extra point failed. Score at the end of the half was 6-0.

In the early minutes of the third quarter, Plymouth passed her way to a touchdown. The extra try was good. This made the score Plymouth 12, Northville 0. The rest of the quarter became a kicking duel with Northville getting the margin.

The fourth opened with Plymouth scoring her third and last touchdown. Plymouth kicked to Parmenter in the end zone from where he ran it to the 17. Northville from here started a drive which made about 60 yards. Plymouth saw to it, however, that no touchdown was made and stopped Northville cold on about the 23-yard line. Coach Barr put in subs for the remainder of the game. The final score was: Plymouth 18—Northville 0. Another win for Plymouth to add to her list over Northville.

In closing, I might say that my hat is off to Coach Barr and Captain Bray. They tried.

The lineup:
Plymouth: L. E. Richardson, Krumm, L. T. Smith, Delaurier, L. O. Young, Cackett, G. Bray, Olson, R. G. Eastline, Evans, R. E. Ault, Trinka, R. E. Hardesty, Trombly, Q. Parmenter, Martin, L. H. Van, Rudick, R. H. Way, Egloff, P. C. Arnold.

DEBATE TEAM FACES BELLEVILLE TUESDAY

Northville's undefeated debate team faces Belleville Tuesday night.

The question is the one used over the state this year: Resolved, That all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated.

Northville will take the negative for the last time in debates within the Outer Metropolitan Debating League. In following debates E. L. Johnson's team will have the affirmative.

The speakers for Tuesday will be chosen from the following members of the debate team: Nan McLoughlin, Scott Cole, Ira Davis, Alfred Cousins and Margaret Van Hellenmont. Each speaker is allowed to speak for eight minutes each with four-minute rebuttal.

PRACTICE STARTED FOR GIRLS' FIRST BASKETBALL GAME

Girls' basketball practice started Monday, Nov. 9, with about 20 girls reporting. Miss Gladys Ludwig, coach, told of rules, displayed passing and the correct way of shooting. Practice was held at 3.30 p. m. It now alternates with boys' practice—3.30 one night and 6.30 the next.

According to Miss Ludwig, there is quite a group of girls out and they should make a winning team.

Three out for basketball are: Margaret Van Hellenmont, Leona Mae White, Irene Weeks, Helen Van Sickle, Rose Braunwsky, Helen Kimmell, Mary Frances Bait, Madeleine Brauner, Mary Hester Gow, Kathryn Marburger, Louise Alexander, Pat McLoughlin, Vivian Grosvenor, Jeanne Atchison, Mary Jane Gregory, Betty Haystead, June Denne, Agnes Brown, Virginia Washburne, Gwendolyn Hecht, Theda Arnold and Wanda Bender.

As usual, the fourth dance will be followed by the grand march, which will be led by President Bruce Turnbull and Doris Labbitt, formerly of Northville.

DORIS REBER, NEW HOME ECONOMICS TEACHER, TALKS

That charming young lady with the brown hair and blue eyes we see around here is the new home economics teacher—Miss Doris Reber—not a new pupil.

It wasn't very long ago, though, that she was a student. Only last year she was graduated from Michigan State college, and so, of course, this is her very first class.

Her home town is Petoskey, but she says she likes Northville.

THE OBSERVER

Two reasons impel me to describe this senior, first, because he is a senior and all seniors are worth describing.

A second reason, because he is a notable senior, holding a high class office and has such an influential personality.

Nicknames such as "Red" or "Brick" would fit him appropriately for he has red hair, eyes of blue and a few freckles sprinkled over his face.

SOCIETY

Helen Winters was sweet-16 last Saturday and she's never been, oops—better ask her about that! Anyhow she gave a big and glorious party that night with oodles of kids there. If I began to name them I'd be sure to leave someone out so I won't even try.

Pat McLoughlin had a birthday last week too, and did the girls surprise her? Here she thought she was going to an ordinary luncheon at Louise Alexander's and all the girls knew she wasn't because they were all bringing her presents in the form of handkerchiefs. They had a lovely luncheon and they all went to the matinee in Plymouth. The girls were Kathryn Marburger, Vivian Grosvenor, Dorothy Heaton, Jane Van Atta, Lucille Lapham, Janet Stewart, Gwen Jones and Jeanne Atchison.

Mary Jane Gregory had a bunch of kids in after the Plymouth show Friday night and would you believe it, Fred Scott made 6800, but we won't say how. Helene Johnson and Fred Scott, Mary Jane Gregory and Harley Balke, Betty Haystead and Lawrence Way, June Denne and Carl Arnold, Lucille Simmons and Bruce Turnbull were all there to witness the miracle.

Performance, Beauty and Safety Mark Chevrolet's Completely New Cars

Chevrolet's 1937 engine is completely new, but adheres closely to time-proven Chevrolet engineering principles. It is of six-cylinder valve-in-head type, smoother, more powerful, more economical, and lighter.

A representative model from Chevrolet's new line, typifying its beauty and grace—the Master De Luxe Sport Sedan with trunk. Note the distinctive "speed line" extending back from the side of the hood.

Unitized construction joins the floor, cowl assembly, panels, and turret top of Chevrolet's all-alloy, all-steel body, to form one integral structure, welded in all joints, and reinforced and braced for permanent silence and safety.

Beauty and utility mark the new Chevrolet instrument panel. The windshield is of greater area, with narrow corner posts, affording better vision.

New power, economy, durability, safety and comfort, coupled with striking new beauty, characterize Chevrolet's new models for 1937. They are offered in two series, Master and Master De Luxe, virtually identical in appearance.

Chevrolet's fully-enclosed Knee-Action is furnished at no extra cost on the Master De Luxe models; and new Synchro-Mesh transmission, and safety plate glass all around at no extra cost, feature all models of both series.

LAST LINTON RITES HELD HERE FRIDAY

genuine interest in the affairs of the community. Years before coming to Northville she had read of the work of the National order of King's Daughters and became a "member at large" never attending a meeting until she joined here. A member of the Christian church, she was a regular attendant of the Presbyterian church, a member of the Woman's Union, the D. A. R. and the Northville Woman's club.

The love of humanity which prompted Linton to write made her the kind of friend who was understanding. She liked folks and saw them with a rare sense of tolerance sprinkled with kindly humor. She wrote because she loved to write and in her last illness she expressed to a friend regret that her health had slowed her down, adding "You won't think me sacrilegious if I tell you that I've always thought maybe in Heaven there would be a quiet corner with reams of snowy paper and hand-fills of well-sharpened pencils—and time to just write and write."

The funeral service will be held this afternoon at the Presbyterian church, the Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating. Interment will be made in Grand Lawn cemetery.

Surviving Mrs. Linton are her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Brantigan, one sister and two grandsons, Charles and Paul Brantigan. A poem written by Mrs. Linton, copied in many papers, and used as a reading by "Cherrie" over the radio for a number of years, follows:

When you wake up in the morning of a chill and cheerless day, And feel inclined to grumble, pout or frown. Just glance into the mirror and you will quickly see It's just because the corners of your mouth turn down. Then take this simple rhyme Remember it in time: It's always dreary weather, in countryside or town. When you wake up and find the corners of your mouth turned down. If you wake up in the morning full of bright and happy thoughts And begin to count the blessings in your cup. Then glance into the mirror and you will quickly see It's all because the corners of your mouth turn up. Then take this little rhyme, Remember all the time: There's joy-a-jenty in this world to fill life's silver cup. If you'll keep the corners of your mouth turned up.

The funeral service will be held this afternoon at the Presbyterian church, the Rev. H. G. Whitfield officiating. Interment will be made in Grand Lawn cemetery.
