REV. WHITFIELD REVIEWS WORK IN NORTHVILLE

Gives Final Sermon Sunday; Asks Loyal Support for
Dr. Thomas W. Smith

As the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield stood before the Presbyterian congregation for the last time Sunday morning, he reviewed the highlights of his seven-year pastorate in Northville.

"Within a year after I came to this charge, we started the new church house. When plans were underway for this project, I submitted blue prints to a prominent citizen, the late T. G. Richardson, who after studying them said: 'Go ahead, young man,'" affirmed Mr. Whitfield as he publicly acknowledged the $1,000 gift left the church in the Richardson will.

"It was not until the church house was under construction that the people of the community realized the scope of the depression. Those were hectic years, yet we've come through them enriched mentally and spiritually," said Mr. Whitfield.

"We have come to the parting of the ways. I hope to stand in this pulpit again as a visitor. This church has become very dear to me," he affirmed.

Speaking of the contacts he had made in the village outside his parish, Mr. Whitfield told of the friends he had made among the boys and girls. He commended the fine spirit of harmony which exists among the pastors of the local churches. "This I have enjoyed," he said.

G. R. AVERILL VISITS ROTARY CLUB, TUESDAY

District Governor Says Organization Founded on Golden Rule

The world-wide organization of Rotary clubs is founded on an adaptation of the Golden Rule, said District Governor George R. Averill of Birmingham, Tuesday noon as he made his official address to the local group. There are 61 clubs in the 23rd district and Northville had the honor of having the year's first and final visit from the high executive.

Mr. Averill was introduced by the local president, William E. Forney. Rotary's philosophy, which is based on idealistic and cultural values, does not take the place of religion in the lives of its members, said the district governor. Yet, he continued, the slogan of "International Rotary, Service Above Self," serves as a constant challenge to the betterment of human relationships.

"It is the particular job of Rotarians to recognize that this motto is a statement of truth and that, if carried out, it will bring success. There are laws that govern all the relations of men and if these laws are violated, there is disaster. Rotary's slogan gives the chance to apply idealism in every phase of community life," he added.

Mr. Averill traced the 31 years of Rotary's history.

Motorists Escape at Death Curve

ACCIDENT TRAP ON EIGHT MILE HALTS DRIVERS

Ditch Harbors 4 Cars in One Week at Scene of Mandl
Fatality

ASK FOR COOPERATION

Four cars have gone over the embankment within a week at the Novi and Eight Mile road corner at the scene where John Mandl, 21-year-old Plymouth youth, met death early Sunday morning, Oct. 11, when his car skidded on wet gravel and rammed into a fence.

Roy Wood, Packard Dealer from Pontiac, rammed his car into the ditch late Friday evening on the Novi-Eight Mile road. Accident repeats itself Saturday evening on death curve where four young persons are sent skidding in the same hole. Frequent crashes indicate that the guide signs are inadequate; blinker is needed to assure motoring safety; and curve hinders drivers.

By Rev. Kendal S. North, Minister, First Baptist Church

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ, the Lord."

Jesus Christ came that the world might have salvation, peace, joy, abundant life, service, fellowship and life everlasting. That is the true meaning of His birth but few have realized it and accepted Him.

For centuries God had patiently dealt with mankind and forgiven them their many mistakes. For over four thousand years He had told them that their Messiah and King was to come. And at the appointed time God gave the signal, the heavenly chariot stepped upon the stage of the glorious heavens, and in matchless splendor proclaimed the wonderful message that the Savior was born. And immediately, in the words of Henry Alfred Porter: "A little town becomes the capital of the world, a babe becomes linked to the mysterious power that holds the stars, the child of manger birth becomes the King of the world, one before whom the knee of the world bows as Lord and whom the tongues of the world confess as Savior."

Man is called upon to accept this wonderful gift of a divine Savior. A few do. Thousands know Him not at all. So has it always been. On that first Christmas night the shepherds and the wise men rejoiced, but to the masses nothing wonderfully new had happened. The innkeeper slept, Herod dissipated, and the aristocracy marched proudly on. There was no room for the Christ in the inn. There was no room for Him in the palace. There was no room for Him in the homes of the aristocracy. On that night of His birth the villagers dreamed while the angels sang.

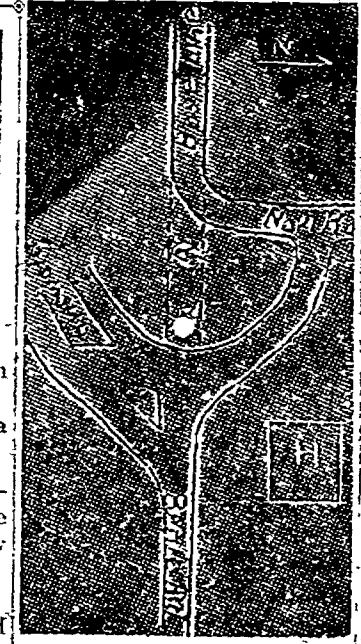

On His thirty-first birthday there was no room in Nazareth, but he found a welcome in the home of Peter, and brought healing to that home. On His thirty-second birthday there was no room for Him in the synagogue at Nazareth, but in the lives of a few of the sick there was room for the blessed healing which He brought to them. On His thirty-third birthday there was no room for Him in Jerusalem, but in the Bethany home of Lazarus, Mary and Martha, He finds rest and hospitality. And on this, His one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-sixth birthday, many have no room in their hearts for Him. Only a few humble souls rejoice with his presence and find home a heaven on earth because He is an ever present and welcome guest.

If you would know the true meaning of Christmas and experience the most joyous year in your life, accept him as your Lord and Master today. He is God's gift to you.

ROTARY ENTERTAINS FARMERS

With Harry B. Clark as chairman, the Northville Rotary club will entertain a number of nearby farmers and orchardists at its regular meeting at noon, next Tuesday, Dec. 22. This will be the occasion of the annual rural-urban meeting. Among the guests are expected to be County Agricultural Agent E. I. Besemer and Howard Rafter from Michigan State college.

Through the generosity of Mrs. B. Simons of Wayne, 45 children of one of the cottages at the Wayne County Training school will be presented with gifts of candy after the Christmas program Sunday. Mrs. Simons does this because of her friendship for Margie Resler who lives in this particular cottage.

An investigation of the corner of Novi and Eight Mile roads, indicates that the way to assure motoring safety to the public, is to bring the Novi road over to meet the Eight Mile, note dotted line, eliminating the cutoff that swings in front of the W. B. Chase home to join the Novi road. A traffic light would further benefit drivers who find the corner as it is now, blind and dangerous.

SMITH HERE TODAY TO SERVE PRESBYTERIANS

Comes from Hibbing Where He Was Active in all Community Projects

The Rev. T. W. Smith, together with Mrs. Smith, arrives in the village today from Hibbing, Minn., to succeed the Rev. H. G. Whitfield in the pulpit of the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Smith comes to Northville after completing an 11-year pastorate in Hibbing, a town of 17,000 population. He will preach Sunday in the local church.

"Hibbing's editor of the Daily Tribune writes in the Dec. 3 issue the following in appreciation of the departing minister:

"Few pastors serving churches in Hibbing have made a more enviable record than the Rev. Thomas Smith of the First Presbyterian church who leaves shortly to accept a call near Detroit, Michigan. For eleven years Rev. Smith devoted his efforts not only to his church but to his community, and was a dominant spirit in the Ore Capital's activities.

"Fearless and outspoken, a determined worker in every righteous cause, sympathetic of his fellow men, learned and an unusual orator, both from the pulpit and from the public platform, Rev. Smith will be greatly missed in the Ore Capital congregation of his church erected one of the finest houses of worship in the State. Rev. Smith assisted in directing the financial campaign which gave to Hibbing the beautiful edifice, a monument indeed to his tireless efforts.

"Both the Rev. Smith and his wife will be missed, not only in church circles where they were so active, but in many other activities of civic life.

"Friends express to them their best wishes, and Godspeed and the sincere hope they will find on different occasions to visit Hibbing and renew many cherished friendships and associations."

TWO CLUB WOMEN DRESS QUANTITLY FOR CLEVER SKIT

"Aunt Ida" Hendry and Mrs. Dubuar Present
Early Days' Story

The pages of Northville history were turned back to its very early days at the meeting of the Women's club Friday afternoon when two "daughters of Redford pioneers" gave an intimate insight into the lives of their forefathers. Dressed in picturesque and quaint costumes, "Aunt Ida" Hendry and Mrs. Charles L. Dubuar carried out a unique dialogue as they rocked and chatted over their knitting.

A wide stretch of imagination was necessary for these modern "daughters" who had driven to the club in motor cars over smooth pavements to realize how the first settlers struggled through a tangle of wilderness in crude wagons that sank hub-deep in mire.

The great virgin forest abounded in wild animals and lack of sunshine through the dense foliage caused malaria and other ills from lack of sanitation. Far from this home, folks and suffering all manner of privation, these brave folks founded this community, little dreaming that a metropolis was to spring up near it. In those days it took several days to go to Detroit and back.

The first settler was John Miller, who chose this location because of a huge stone by the River Rouge was convenient for his first mill. The site is just north of the Ford factory.

William Dunlap later came from New York and purchased from Miller his land which is now all of the village of Northville north of Main street. Dunlap operated a mill and settlers from a distance of 30 miles came with their grain. Too kind hearted to press his creditors he died a poor man with hundreds of dollars owing him by those who would have suffered want but for his generosity. Mr. Dunlap will be remembered in Northville as the father of the late Jennie White. He built the first frame house in town, now the Neal home on Center street. It was he who gave to the Baptist and Methodist churches their building sites. Dunlap street was named for this pioneer settler.

Historical records show that the first township was organized in 1826, and the taxes are reported as $65.10 for the entire township of Plymouth. Northville was given its name because it was north of Plymouth. The township was divided into Plymouth and Northville.

Another pioneer whose name is preserved by one of Northville's streets was Mr. Wing who was the first delegate to United States congress from this district. J. M. (Continued on page 12)

DEDICATE TWO MEMORIALS IN LOCAL CHURCH

Grennan Portrait to Hang in Presbyterian Church;
Guest Book is Gift

Two memorials—one to the late P. H. Grennan and the other to the late Mrs. Ida Brown—were dedicated Sunday morning by the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield as he conducted his final service in the local Presbyterian church.

Unveiling a large portrait of Mr. Grennan, Mr. Whitfield said that it was the wish of the family that the picture hang beside that of the late Mrs. Grennan in the church house, the church's left wing, for which the congregation is greatly indebted to the Grennans because of the substantial financial gifts given by them for its erection.

Mr. Grennan's last gift to the Presbyterian was a provision in his will to settle all the church's debts up to $10,000. "The death of Mr. Grennan meant the loss of a fine spirited man, one who took the interest of Northville to heart," said Mr. Whitfield as he unveiled the portrait, a splendid likeness, in behalf of the family.

In memory of Mrs. Ida Brown of the W. H. Maybury sanatorium staff, who died five months ago, an engraved leather guest book was given to the church bought with funds donated by the Maybury employees, originally designated to be used as (Continued on page 12)

SCHOOL TEACHER WINS AMATEUR CASH PRIZE

The Major Bowes Amateur program sponsored by the Methodist church School, and presented in the Walled Lake high school auditorium Wednesday night, Dec. 9, was highly successful for every standpoint.

Twenty-three varied and clever acts were presented to a capacity audience by contestants from Detroit, Pontiac, Traverse City, Milford, Northville, Commerce, Norwalk and Walled Lake.

First prize of $5 went to Miss Lucile Lochrie, a teacher at the Union Lake school, who gave a reading, LaRue Davis, a tenor soloist from Oakley Park, was awarded second prize of $2.

Frank Carrier acted as "Major Bowes," while Don Post was "Grand Cracker." The announcer. A feature of the evening was the presentation of "Nationally known guests" in the person of Bill Regal, Detroit Tiger shortstop, and George Higgins, Oakland county republican chairman and auto dealer of Ferndale. Regal was made honorary fire chief of Walled Lake. Net proceeds from the affair were well over $50.

EDMONDSON READY FOR FORMAL FORD OPENING, SATURDAY

Tom Edmondson will formally open Northville's Ford agency with a gala public celebration when festivities begin in the display room at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Hill Billy entertainers from the Detroit Ford Motor company, together with Jimmy Long, magician, will make the occasion a festive one for the guests who are invited to inspect the newly decorated show room.

Mr. Edmondson, who for the past month has operated the local agency, admitted this week that 13 for him was lucky every time. He signed his present contract with the Ford company on Friday, Nov. 13; during the first 10 days of business, he delivered 13 new cars and repeated this sale's record for the second ten-day period. "I'm so sold on this 13 business that I've applied for a dealer's license plate, No. 13," commented Mr. Edmondson.

The shadow of 13 has followed Mr. Edmondson for some time. At one time he drove from Detroit to his father's home near Nashville, Tenn., in 13 hours. "And by the way," he adds, "My father's farm is just 13 miles from Nashville."

Staunchly supporting his belief that 13 is his lucky number, Mr. Edmondson has surrounded himself with 13 employees.

Local employees of the Ford Sales Service include: Fred Tosland, Del Campbell, Ervin Neal, Harry Barnum, Frank Lewis, George Miller, Miss Kay Cargo, John Ferguson, Bill Burrows, Bill Conley, Jack Sweeney, James Lee and Larry Fleming.

SING "MESSIAH" SUNDAY

Leslie G. Lee has his chorus of 75 voices in rehearsal for the fourth annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" which will be given at 7:30 p. m., Sunday, Dec. 20, in the Presbyterian church.

Vocalists on this occasion will be Mrs. M. J. Kolday, soprano; Miss Florence Johnson, contralto; Kay Van Valkenburg, tenor; and Carl Blynn, bass. Miss Inez Curtis, Plymouth, pianist, will assist. The organ will be played by Mrs. Sherill W. Ambler.

REV. KUTCH REJECTS VILLAGE PASTORATE

The Rev. Walter E. Kutch, pastor of Holy Cross Evangelical Lutheran church, 13925 Whitcomb avenue, Detroit, declined Sunday afternoon to accept a call for the pastorate of the St. Paul's Lutheran church where the pulpit was made vacant several weeks ago with the death of the Rev. Leo Eickstaedt.

In rejecting the local invitation to serve the church in the village, Mr. Kutch told the congregation Sunday afternoon in a special meeting that he felt he could be of more use to the ministry if he continued his present pastorate than if he came at this time to Northville.

Mr. Kutch will preach at 12 o'clock noon each Sunday at St. Paul's church until the congregation has a permanent pastor. It is understood that following Sunday's service, a call will be extended to another clergyman.

OWEN CLEARY CITES NEED FOR WAR ARMS

"Past Battles Found Nation Unprepared," Business College-Head Says

BY CHARLES A. DOLPH
The members of the Brightmoor Exchange club and their hosts, the Northville club and other visitors, listened Wednesday noon to Owen J. Cleary of the Cleary Business college, Ypsilanti, as he spoke to the groups here.

Mr. Cleary's subject was "National Defense." He first called attention to the appropriation recently announced for consideration by the next Congress.

"All past wars have found the country unprepared and as a result many lives and much money were lost. Two fields of war activity must be looked after: the Army and the Navy—and all the equipment now used for practice is obsolete," he said.

To illustrate his opinion that better facilities were needed, even in peace times, the war maneuvers of last summer were cited. The contest was between the old style method of man power and the more up-to-date ways of machine power. He told of the mobilization and its speed, of the tactics, and how their best efforts were offset by the quicker and more powerful units equipped with expert facilities of the present war machine.

The address was clear, informative and helped to give the men, first hand facts as Mr. Cleary was one of the headquarter's staff and helped make plans for the Michigan forces.

HELP WANTED FOR OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

Has any reader of the Record any constructive suggestion for the helping of the boys and girls of this community to become good citizens? If so, will he kindly give such idea to this newspaper? It will be used in a place where it may do some good.

Much is being done through various community agencies to keep our young folks on the "right track." Yet if only one boy or girl "goes wrong" the damage done may be such that it will take years to repair. If you know of any neglected young person, or of any way to broaden the life of any boy or girl or any method of strengthening them in better habits, your help will be appreciated. Thank you.

FAREWELL AND WELCOME

It is with keen personal regret that many Northville people, in and out of the Presbyterian church, view the departure from our community of its pastor, the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield and Mrs. Whitfield and children. The ministry of Mr. Whitfield will be remembered for its fine spiritual and intellectual worth. He ranked high among his own members, his fellow ministers and those of the community who realize the profound need of the community for the program of the Christian church. Mr. Whitfield always brought dignity and high achievements to his pastorate. He has served well and will be followed with genuine good wishes by the community as he goes to his larger parish.

To the new pastor of the Presbyterians, the Rev. Thomas W. Smith, Northville extends a cordial welcome. The work of the Christian minister is never an easy task; but we know that he will find here many people who value in its true perspective, the work of the church and who will do their part to "hold up his hands."

"THE GREAT ROMANCE OF THE CENTURY"

What very few people thought would happen, has happened.

King Edward the Eighth of England has chosen between a kingdom of 455 million subjects and the wife of his choice—a woman whom English tradition and law would never allow to be queen. Love has won against the tremendous glories of being one of the few remaining kings of the world—for the day of kings is passing. Only a few women in the world could have shown such complete power over a human being who had all the surroundings of a mighty court.

"Long live the ex-king" will become the wish of millions who had a profound affection for the Prince of Wales who became king less than a year ago when his father, King George, died. The former king is a very human personality, although a very determined person whose strong determination brought him to the historic decision of choosing between his throne and the American woman, Mrs. Simpson.

What will happen to the British empire? What will happen to the former king, who now becomes plain "David Windsor?" These are two questions that come to the top whenever the abdication is discussed.

The future of the far-flung empire over which the former Duke of York will preside, in the opinion of most thoughtful observers, is safe. Yet there are some who will argue quite logically that the British empire is not far from disintegration. In our humble opinion that would be most unfortunate. The world needs the stabilizing power of this mighty empire—without its influence in the past 20 years civilization would be vastly worse off than it is now. We Americans have much in common with the English—we have the same language and the same background, the same laws, in many ways, and the same sense of spiritual values. Anti-English talk is dangerous talk.

The British empire will stand as it has, one of the finest forces for world security. The Britons, as some writer has just pointed out, know how to distinguish between the crown—and all for which it stands—and the personality of the king who might happen to wear it. The new king is a quieter type than his brother who abdicated and that will probably be a good thing for the country and for the world.

As for the future of the late king, none need worry about that. No king ever before in English history voluntarily gave up his throne and a man who can do that, under the terrific pressure to which he was subjected, will be able to plan out a way of life as a private citizen. There will be no worry about income—that probably has already been arranged. Further, he has been offered, so the news goes, a million dollars for his memoirs and certainly the movie people would pay him any price for a Hollywood contract. He may not think so now, but we have a feeling that he will miss the high place to which he has been accustomed all his life. He has renounced more than he realizes.

There are a thousand sidelights on the whole affair. Some are saying already that he never wanted to be king. He did not think of that last January 20 after his father's death. Did he lose his sense of balance when he thought of what he owed the empire and compared that debt with the obligation that he owed to his private wishes? Many think so. What would have happened had not Mrs. Simpson been a twice-divorced woman? Was he not honorable and dignified to abdicate when he did, rather than let the affair drift along until the whole empire took sides and made a situation that might have meant a great crisis in British affairs? All these and many other questions are being asked. A strange chapter of history has been made. More may be made.

What will be the next event that takes the front pages of the world's newspapers?

THE MODERN MIRACLE

5:15-Friday afternoon, Dec. 11, 1936

We have been alone at home the last half hour and have had a strange, almost weird experience—at least so it has just seemed to us.

As a Michigan December darkness was falling over Northville we sat and listened. Hardly a sound in the house, and outside only the occasional passing of an automobile. Then the miracle happened. We turned a little button—a light appeared in front of us and after a few seconds we heard the ringing of bells—bells that were tolling in London, England. We heard them as plainly as though they had been ringing from a Northville church steeple. It was all strange and thrilling.

Then a personality—though not a person—came stealing through the curtained windows of our home and began to speak. It was the sad voice of a man 42 years of age, who, until a few hours ago, was king of the greatest empire of the world. But just now he said that he was no longer king, but that his brother, whom he loves and respects, had taken the place which he had just renounced. The voice was tremulous at times, yet firm and resonant at others. It was his former majesty, King Edward VIII, speaking and telling his subjects, in a world-wide broadcast, the reasons for his historic renunciation. We confess that the farewell speech of a man who has given up a throne touched us deeply. Maybe it was the winter darkness hitting at our emotions; perhaps it was the fact that we were alone in the home; perhaps it was our own imagination—anyway tears came to the editorial eyes as the former king—now a plain citizen—closed his short address with these words: "If my brother or the empire ever need me I shall not fail." And then, his voice filled with emotion, spoke these telling words: "God bless you all. God save the king." Then there was silence and the strange, once kingly, personality stole out through the windows of our home—as he did out of yours this December evening.

After such a strange experience, who can say that no longer are there miracles?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

With the completion of the Christmas tuberculosis seal tabulation, Mrs. H. H. Burkart, Northville townships chairman, reports that the $174.29 income this year falls below the $131.61 school sale total of the previous year.

Milk bottles have been placed in the village stores this week and it is expected that shoppers will contribute pennies to be used in reimbursing the P. T. A. fund.

5 YEARS AGO

The kids of Northville are going to have a community Christmas tree. Following a careful survey, the village council on Thursday evening, Dec. 10, took definite action looking toward the improvement of the water supply of Northville. This will be the development of the Hill Spring which is one of the three that now supply the community with water.

10 YEARS AGO

Frank K. Clark, 75, who had been a resident of this community for many years, and a familiar figure on our streets until failing health compelled him to seek medical assistance at the University hospital, Ann Arbor, died at that institution last Saturday.

On Wednesday evening of last week, Union Chapter, R. A. M., held its annual convocation, when reports for the past year were submitted and officers chosen for the ensuing year. The following were elected: H. P. Wallace Ross, king; Roswell Tanager, scribe; B. H. Holcomb, treasurer; B. A. Wheeler, secretary; Frederick Hedge; C. of H. Leonard Eckberg; P. S. Waldo Elliott; R. A. C. Charles Wilson; M. of 3rd V. Charles Kehni; M. of 2nd V. Harry S. Wolfe; M. of 1st V. Clifford Sinden; sentinel—Dean F. Griswold.

Following a dinner, members of Northville Lodge, F. & A. M., Monday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: W. M.—A. V. Barber; S. W.—Wendell S. Miller; J. W.—Claude Ely; treasurer—B. A. Wheeler; secretary—Frederick Hedge; S. D.—Charles Johnson; J. D.—Clifford Sinden; Tyler—Dean F. Griswold; member Masonic board—C. A. Ponsford.

On Thursday night, Dec. 24, the children of Northville and surrounding country will be treated to, a Christmas tree and all will receive gifts.

Early in the new year a big building program will be inaugurated at the Detroit House of Correction firm. Plans are now being perfected and a contract will be let within a few weeks, doubtless, for the erection of the new prison, a building 700x900 feet in size to cost in the neighborhood of two million dollars.

Andrew Leadbater, highly esteemed citizen of this village, died very suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mae Lalling, Monday afternoon.

At the regular meeting of Northville Lodge, F. & A. M., held Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. M.—Elmer E. Perris; S. W.—C. B. Horton; J. W.—William Edwards; secretary—Frederick Hedge; treasurer—B. A. Wheeler; S. D.—George Groth; J. D.—Arthur Power; Tyler—Dean F. Griswold; stewards—Harold White and James Dickerson; chaplain—Rev. E. V. THAT CHRISTMAS LETTER
Christmas will be a day of happy family gatherings. Many a hoary haired father will sit at his table with contentment and gaze with affection down the long row of sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law, and grandchildren. In his heart he will say "We are all here! This is as it should be on Christmas day."

As long as father and mother are here as long as there is a home to return to, young folks should come back, no matter how far. All too soon will come the day when these family gatherings will be only a memory to be brought out each year and cherished.

Back of sharing the spirit of merriment with the youngsters will be the thought of other days. In the midst of the gaiety and laughter will come the thought:

"Where is now the merry party I remember long ago, laughing round the Christmas fire-side, brightened by its ruddy glow?"

"They have all dispersed and wandered, far away, far away." Best are those hearths where there is no vacant chair this Christmas time!

A mother looked with wistful eyes the other day and said: "Do write something that will make all children remember to send a letter home to mother for Christmas. I'm so lonely for my daughter who hasn't written me for months. Oh, I would like to hear from her at Christmas time!"

If only this daughter could know what it has meant to the writer to have hungered from earliest infancy for a mother she could remember she would sit right down and write to her own mother the longest, sweetest letter that would be sure to rejoice her heart at this season. We can't bear to think of a mother's heart lonely on Christmas day.

If we have no mother of our own to remember, there are other mothers—lonely mothers. Don't forget that Christmas letter.

Christmas—Mince Pie.
Mrs. William Maize, our Novice-correspondent, sends in the following recipe for mince pie which is very timely.

It is not necessary to make up a big batch of mincepie in order to have mince pie. If you have a cup of left-over meat, a little fruit juice and spices you can make up enough filling for a pie any time after the following recipe:

1 cup ground lean meat, 1 cup chopped apples, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup raisins chopped, 1 cup butter or suet, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon each of cloves, ginger, mace and nutmeg, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon molasses.

Moisten with three fourths cup of cider or meat stock and cook slowly for about one half hour. Before putting on top crust spread over 1 tablespoon of currant or any tart jelly. If you wish to make larger amount double the proportions.

Harry J. Lord, Minister

The time of the church service has been changed to 5 p. m. during the winter months, beginning Sunday.

Friday evening of this week a Christmas family night observance will be held in the church. The ladies of the church are sponsoring it and the church and Sunday school are cordially invited to participate.

First Presbyterian Church
Dr. Thomas W. Smith, Minister

The new minister, the Rev. Thomas W. Smith, will preach his first sermon as pastor of the local church at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, Dec. 20. A large audience is expected to greet him at this time.

At 4 p. m. the intermediate group of young people will meet in the church house. Because of the "Messiah" practice, the senior group will not meet this Sunday.

Church of Our Lady of Victory
The young people's Christmas party will be held this Saturday morning at 9:30. All the members of the religion classes and the younger church members are invited.

To give the church membership time for making proper arrangements for their spiritual Christmas obligations we herewith present the Christmas church schedule: Confessions will be heard for the children this Saturday after the Christmas party; confessions will be heard again on Thursday, Dec. 24, from 3 to 5, and from 7 to 9:30 p. m. The three Christmas Masses will be held at midnight, and at 8 and 10 o'clock.

All interested friends are invited to attend the Christmas program given by the Bible School scholars directed by Mrs. A. Whipple and Mrs. Will Clay at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, Dec. 24.

Rehearsal for the Christmas program is Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

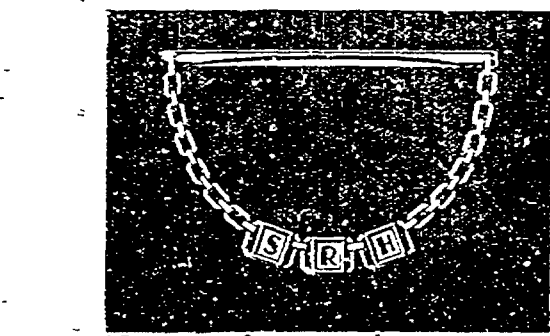

Christian Science Churches
Sunday Dec. 20, 1936

"Is the Universe, Including Man Evolved by Atomic Forces?" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Dec. 20.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Psalm 25:5) "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 505): "Spirit imparts the understanding which uplifts consciousness and leads into all truth. . . . Spiritual sense is the discernment of spiritual good. Understanding is the line of demarcation between the real and the unreal."

Christmas Shopping
When Christmas is near what sights you see Faces filled with happiness, faces filled with glee,
Walking down the avenue you can always discover,
A young day seeking a gift to buy for her lover.

There goes a mother, her arms filled with toys
For Johnny and Jummie, her dear little boys,
His freckled nose pressed against the window pane,
A small lad stands, longingly watching a choo choo train.

As we walk on we chance to see
A proud papa bringing home a tree,
A little lass of about four or five,
Looks over the things her pennies can buy.

The young man strutting round like an Earl,
Seems to be buying something for his best girl.

Thus you see folks trying in their own way
To make someone merry on Christmas Day.

Northville Woman's Club Holds Historical Program Friday

At the regular meeting of the Northville Woman's club held Friday afternoon in the library, the feature of interest was the historical background of the village as given in detail elsewhere in this issue. Mrs. Charles L. Dubuay and Mrs. Ida Hendricks were the participants.

Previous to the program, E. J. Soop of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, presented the proposed university extension courses to be given if there is sufficient demand. Two courses, one in "Modern Philosophy" and the other "International Relations" will be considered. Classes will be held in the drawing room of the Nurses' Home at the Maybury sanatorium and the charge will be $5 for the course.

Reports for the Detroit federation were given by Mrs. E. M. Bogart, Mrs. T. G. Hoge, Mrs. Arthur H. Steele and Mrs. C. M. Chase.

Cobethians Are Guests at Costume and Party, Monday Evening

Miss Ann Richards and Miss Doris Shepley were hostesses Monday evening at the E. J. Cobb home, 605 Grace avenue, to members of the Cobethian class of the Methodist church.

The occasion was a costume kid party and the guests were entertained with children's games. Refreshments in keeping with the nature of the social activity were served to the Misses Helen Strachan, Grace Angell, Florence Johnson, Marjorie Lutsenberger, Dorothy Richardson, Catherine Lutsenberger, Jean Hoffman, Edna Martens and Miss Cobb, Mrs. Harry J. Lord and Mrs. A. Russell Clarke.

Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary Enjoys Christmas Party at Beard Home

Laden with gayly wrapped gifts for distribution to the needy, the members of the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary on Tuesday evening, Dec. 15, journeyed to the home of Miss Elizabeth Beard on East Eight Mile road.

The large living room with its blazing hearth flanked on either side with beautifully decorated Christmas trees was an ideal setting for this festive occasion. Amid much hilarity, all conned, costumes, flattery and otherwise—found in such cases and attired in their unique garb, proceeded to enjoy thoroughly the competitive games arranged by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Edward Chapman. Prizes were awarded to Miss Geraldine Huff and Mrs. Charles Smith. A number of Christmas carols were then sung by the group.

Following a short business session the guests were invited to the dining room where a lighted candle on each serving of dainty refreshments effectively enhanced the seasonal appointments on the table. Mrs. J. E. Rutjan, reported.

Baptist and Methodist Ministers Honor the Whitfields

A rarefied courtesy was the occasion of a get-together Sunday evening in the Methodist parsonage, honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Harold G. Whitfield who left yesterday for Hibbing, Minn. An informal social hour was enjoyed by the honorees together with the Rev. and Mrs. Kendall S. North of the Baptist church and the Rev. and Mrs. Harry J. Lord of the Methodist church. A parting gift was given Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield.

Children's Musical and Dramatic Productions Head Week's Calendar At Wayne County Training School

At the Wayne County Training school, some 300 children are preparing for the Christmas productions which extend from Dec. 20, through Christmas week to Wednesday, Dec. 30.

The big day for these boys and girls is Sunday when the pageant, "The Sign of Peace," will be presented with a cast of nine principal characters and a chorus of 80 voices. On this same day, a cast of 53 characters and a chorus of 70 will give an operetta, "Santa's Air Line."

Tuesday evening, the younger boys and the older girls will dramatize their ideas of an entertainment program in song and skit. A second operetta, "In Quest of Santa Claus," will be given Thursday afternoon, Dec. 24. On this day "Santa's Air Line" will be repeated. The drama club will give a play, "The Silver Thread" Monday afternoon, Dec. 28. A cast from the WPA Federal theatre will perform "Cinderella," a Marionette play, and give travesty acts for the children Tuesday evening, Dec. 29.

Final stage productions in this series will be an event of Dec. 30, when the younger girls and older boys will give an amateur program. Unique announcements, carrying the calendar of the holiday events, have been sent to several hundred parents and patrons of the school. The cover design is made from a linoleum block paring. This and all the type-setting and presswork are the work of the boys of the school. All costumes, stage settings and back drops for the productions have been constructed by the children of the school so that the entire production is one large community project.

Past Matrons' Social Event Centers Around Three Lunch-on Guests

The Past Matrons' luncheon held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Scott A. Lovell, 316 South Wing street, with Miss Ruth Gillis, assisting hostess, was one of the most important social events of the year.

Guests of the day included Mrs. Ralph Hay, secretary of O. E. S. chapter, Miss Margaret Bryn, newly installed worthy Matron of O. E. S. and Mrs. Charles Freydl, outgoing worthy Matron of O. E. S. The highlight of the afternoon was a racy trial at which Mrs. Hay was found guilty of giving assistance through the years to the Past Matrons. When sentence was passed by the judge the defendant was given a gift in appreciation for her service to the group.

At the end of the afternoon, the women visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stark, who were celebrating their golden wedding anniversary at their home, 523 West Dunlap street. Mrs. Stark is a chapter member of the organization.

King's Daughters Meet with Mrs. Neal for Christmas Party

At the meeting of the King's Daughters held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bertha Neal, plans were made for the sending of Christmas baskets as has been the custom for years. Mrs. William H. Safford made a report of contributions as she had found them in her visiting. It was encouraging to learn that there is less want than in the past few years.

The annual Hunters' ball which has come to be a popular event of the winter, sponsored by the King's Daughters, also was discussed. Mrs. E. B. Cavell, general chairman of the ball, will be assisted by Mrs. Scott A. Lovell and a corps of other workers. The event will occur sometime in January, the date to be announced.

As heretofore, the public is asked to save Christmas trees for decoration of the high school gym for this event.

At the conclusion of the business session a brief Christmas program was followed by a social time over the tea cups. The president, Mrs. Herman Berendt, served tea and small cakes, assisted by Mrs. William E. Forney and Miss Ruth Gillis.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Herrick are Tuesday Evening Hostesses.

Mrs. Chub Smith, 545 Grace avenue, opened her home Tuesday evening to members of the Service League for the annual Christmas party. She was assisted during the evening by Mrs. Marshall Herrick.

Following a brief business session, ten-cent children's gifts were given at the tree exchange. At the end of the evening the gifts were re-wrapped to be used in making Christmas happy for needy children. Games, planned by Mrs. Maurice J. Lapham and Mrs. Edna Downer, were played by the guests.

At a late hour the hostesses served a luncheon and the occasion was turned into a surprise "pound social" complimenting Mrs. Harry J. Lord.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Observed at Stark Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stark celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Wednesday, Dec. 16 at their home, 523 Dunlap street. All during the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Stark were kept busy receiving their friends who called to express their hearty good wishes to this worthy couple who have made their home in this village for the past 48 years. Their two daughters, Mrs. George K. Checketts of Farmington, and Mrs. James A. Congo of Northville, had planned this "open house" as a happy surprise.

The entire Merry-Go-Round club called at one time and later the past matrons of Orient chapter, Eastern Star, came to pay their respects. Of both of these organizations Mrs. Stark is a member. Refreshments were served in the dining room where the table was centered with a large bowl of golden chrysanthemums and a pyramid wedding cake was decorated with a miniature bride and groom. A profusion of flowers in every room gave evidence of the high regard in which Mr. and Mrs. Stark are held by many friends.

On December 16, 1895 Wilbur H. Stark of Hartland was married to Miss Emma Cole of Fenton. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. C. W. Barber.

Two years later with a baby in arms they drove to Northville with a horse and buggy and established their home here. Mr. Stark had been in partnership with his brother, B. C. Stark, in the shoe business until one year ago when they retired. Their relation was one of unusual congeniality. Though quiet and unassuming, Mr. Stark holds a position of influence among his associates. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stark have been active in the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Stark is a charter member of Orient chapter, O. E. S. and a life member of the Northville Woman's club. In the evening a family dinner concluded the celebration with both daughters present together with their husbands and the two grand-children, Dorothy Jane Congo, and George Wilbur Checketts. Included in this group were Miss Inge Palmer and Mrs. Regina Winchup, of Northville, Miss Joan Wangerjorn of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. John Barber of Detroit and Miss Lou A. Cole of Royal Oak.

Engagement of Miss Waterman to Lynn Partridge Told at Party

The engagement of Miss Kathryn Madge Waterman, Waterford, to Lynn E. Partridge, Plymouth, son of Mrs. Ella Partridge, was announced Saturday, Dec. 12, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waterman entertained a number of friends in honor of their daughter at five hundred. This occasion was also the wedding anniversary of Mrs. Waterman's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magraw.

At a late hour a luncheon was served at a table made attractive with lighted candles together with white, yellow and bronze pom-poms. The guests included: Mrs. Ella Partridge and son, Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wagenschutz and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magraw, all of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. George Rutjan, Williams-son; Mrs. Mary Wald, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wald and daughter, Jean, all of Detroit; Mrs. Ida Hughes and Donald Waterman of Waterford.

Club Members Are Guests Thursday Afternoon of Mrs. Steele

Mrs. Arthur Steele was hostess yesterday to members of her club when she entertained with a desert-bridge. Her guests included Mrs. Ward Masters, Mrs. H. P. Wagenschutz, Mrs. George E. Stalker, Miss Vera Schaefer, Mrs. Robert Goodman, Mrs. Harold Bloom and Mrs. Sterling Eaton of Plymouth.

Miss Richardson, Miss Humphries Feted by Friends at Shower.

A dinner-shower held Wednesday evening in the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth, was given in honor of two brides-elect, Miss Arlene, Richardson, whose marriage to Elden Elery will be an event of Dec. 25, and Miss Marie Humphries, who will become the bride of Robert Garden some time in January.

The group of hostesses, all employees of the Edison company, gave Miss Humphries gifts of table linen, and Miss Richardson received an electric Dutch oven. Toasts for the honorees were heeded during the social hour after the dinner.

The hostesses were: the Misses Doris Shepley, Hertha Pauline, Genevieve Green, Eleanor Booth, Clarence Hamilton, Geraldine Ferguson, Marion Cousins, Margaret Bryan, Jane Lator, Thelma Pitcher, Catherine Nibolt, Jean Strong and Myrtle Gibson.

Former Village Students Sing Friday with College Choir

A group of villagers were in Plymouth Friday evening to hear the annual Christmas concert given by the State Normal choir. Four former Northville students sang with this organization, the Misses Thelma Latta, Evelyn Ambler, Marion Turnbull and Mary Louise Bowden.

Attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Turnbull, Mrs. H. Hoffman, Mrs. M. J. Allen, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, Mrs. Gus Lindquist of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Soyden and son, Bobby, Mrs. Thad J. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler, Mrs. Eber W. Lester and daughter, Miss Jane.

Yuletide Decorations and Customs Find Place in Garden Program

Novel Christmas table suggestions were given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph Hoehl at the home of Mrs. E. Nelson, Walnut avenue where members of the Garden club gathered for their last meeting this year.

Following Mrs. Hoehl's instructive talk about decorations, she told of Christmas customs in Germany. This led to impromptu contributions from the club at large about Yuletide celebrations in other foreign countries.

Mrs. Waldo Johnson, 1247 Norwood, will be hostess to the group on Jan. 11.

Louie Babbitt Celebrates Birthday With Large Party

Eighteen young friends of Louie Babbitt helped him to celebrate his twelfth birthday Monday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Babbitt.

A bountiful dinner at six o'clock was complemented by the hearty appetites of the youngsters. A large pyramid birthday cake with lighted candles was the crowning feature of the repast.

Games followed the excitement of opening of many gifts with which Louie was remembered by his schoolmates.

Mrs. Maxwell Austin Opens Home Monday to Mother's Club

One of the most delightful club meetings this week was held at the home of Mrs. Maxwell Austin, Fairbrook avenue, where the members of the Mother's club were entertained at a Christmas party.

Following the presentation of a paper by Mrs. Forest Doran on educational toys, an informal social hour was enjoyed. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. Alton Peters, served an attractively appointed luncheon.

It was reported that $28 had been added to the treasury by the gift turkey project. This money is to be used to buy school books.

THE RECORD SHOPPER

Virginia G. Anderson

Despite the fact that there are only five more shopping days before Christmas, the Shopper continues to check off names systematically on her list as she makes the rounds of village stores.

She congratulates herself and gives the local merchants a big "Thank-You" because all of her shopping can be done in small shops at home away from the city crowds, and in almost every case, she saves at least a small amount on price.

Perhaps the most novel gift noted in this week's tour was a pair of multicolored knit bedroom slippers, with soft leather soles found in an attractive, small shop. They are easy to slip your toes into the first thing in the morning and ideal for traveling as they take up so little space in the over night bag.

A display of Chase ware took care of several friends on the Shopper's list. Chromium has become a popular metal for any number of articles because it takes little effort to keep it shining. In this line, gift suggestions center on a breakfast set, a cocktail ball and a serving bell.

Linens, ever a source of fascination for the Shopper, are always welcome presents, whether they be inexpensive finger towels or costly table cloths. Without a doubt the most beautiful piece of linen in the village is a Christmas dinner set. Natural linen is the background for exquisite embroidery in rich shades which form the center and border designs. Twelve dinner napkins complete this table ensemble.

Another gift which is particularly acceptable to mothers or the bride-elect, is one of the DuPont table linens with blue goose down. A peek at the price tag revealed that it could be purchased here for some two dollars less than in the city. Brown and gold, rose and wine, and green are the three color combinations used in the quilts.

Further down the street, a shop emphasized the importance the radio is going to play in this gift-giving season. No other single item can bring so much entertainment and happiness as the radio, for (Continued on Page Seven) there are programs that appeal to each member of the family. These entertainment boxes come individually designed for the girl at college in ivory, small, neat, metal and wood ones or the business office; large and beautifully styled ones for splendid performance in the home. As hostesses are accepting this idea of cooking at the table without so much as raising an eyebrow, manufacturers are out-doing themselves to make this service attractive with accessories and essentials. A large wooden hostess tray, two serving dishes with two compartments each, four individual trays together with one of the new automatic three-slice toasters was representative of this modern trend.

HARRY SOMERS OPENS MUSIC STUDIO HERE

Harry Somers has opened the Somerset Music Institute in Northville.

Mr. Somers, who has had 20 years experience teaching and playing musical instruments, has a similar studio in the Odd Fellow building, Plymouth.

His experience in this line of work has been varied. He has played with the Navy band and orchestra, the Scranton Symphony orchestra as well as leading theatre orchestras in New York.

Mr. Somers was bandmaster on the Transport, U. S. S. von Steuben during the World War. This organization included 35 professional musicians.

His further experience with Hawaiian guitar orchestras in New York qualifies him for the class instruction he is giving in Northville.

LAST RITES HELD HERE FRIDAY FOR MRS. P. WILLIAMS

Last rites were held from the Schrader Funeral Home by the Rev. Harry J. Lord at 1 p. m. Friday for Mrs. Phoebe Williams, 79, who died Thursday morning at the William Seder home, 521 Randolph street. Her death followed her release Sunday from the Sessions hospital where she had received treatment for a broken leg suffered Wednesday night, Nov. 11. Burial was made in Duluth, Minn.

Surviving her are a daughter and a son, Mrs. Catherine Peters and Herbert Williams, both of Detroit; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Broad and Mrs. Margaret Payne, both of the village, and Mrs. Catherine Dunsford of Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Williams was born in Canada and had lived most of her life in Duluth. For the past two years she has made her home here with Mrs. Payne.

Substantial financial gifts continue to swell the high school band fund. This week's contributors include Mrs. William Fy Harry B. Clark, Mrs. Thad J. Knapp, Merrill Sweet and Harold Bloom. Besides giving money, Mr. Sweet gave the band a trombone which he played in the band several years ago. "It is an excellent condition," said Superintendent R. H. Amerman.

DOUBLE VICTORY BY NORTHVILLE TEAM

Basketball Boys Win From Farmington and Trenton With Large Scores

Northville made a twin killing Tuesday and Friday nights to beat Farmington and Trenton, 31-20 and 24-17.

Over at Farmington, Northville ran up a big score early at the end of the half. The score was 15-4. At Trenton it was a different story. The score there was 9-7 Trenton's favor at the half. But Northville's passing attacks and shooting are coming back in the last two quarters to beat Trenton out 7 points. More than half of Trenton's scores were made by foul shots, making 9 out of 10.

The basketball-football game with Farmington was a good, hard, rough game. Northville committing 11 fouls while Farmington had just about as many.

From the appearance of the boys this year, we got the "old" team and team work with Turnbull, Duguid, Westphall, Hochkins and Van Wines.

The second team has been doing some real ball playing too, beating Farmington 20-16 and whitewashing Trenton 31-9. In the Trenton game, the second only gave them one point in the last half.

Northville's line-up for the Farmington game was: L. F. Turnbull, R. F. Duguid, C. Westphall, L. G. Hochkins, R. G. Scott. Northville's line-up for the Trenton game was: L. F. Turnbull, R. F. Duguid, C. Westphall, L. G. Hochkins, R. G. Van Wines.

BASKETBALL TEAM PLAYS MELVINDALE

The Northville basketball team defeated Melvindale this Friday night. This game will be one of the most exciting of the season. It is a strong team, but because it is coached by Ted Watts, who last year was in the same capacity.

According to Coach Barr, Northville will be handicapped because of the ineligibility of Bruce Turnbull, one of the team's best players. The coach intends to start have played with each other in any of the games. "If we had our regular lineup we could probably have won."

Melvindale is considered a very strong team, having defeated Redford with a score of 30 to 15. The line-up will probably be: forwards, Duguid and Scott; center, Westphall; and guards, Scholtz and Hochkins.

COUNCIL DECIDES FOR ONE LETTER

The student council has finally come to the conclusion that to pay $70 to $80 every year for letters is more than the student body can stand. So at the last meeting the members discussed ways in which they could save money so that five new wooden sweat suits could be ordered.

Previous to this year one athlete could receive four or five letters a year. The way the council is planning to reduce this cost is to award one letter a year to each athlete, no matter how many sports he may play that year. At the end of the year he will be able to choose the sport he wants to represent. At the end of his high school career it will be possible for him to have earned four letters. If an athlete should wish to have more than one letter a year he may purchase them from the student council.

CAST REHEARSES JUNIOR PLAY

Among the participants in the Junior Varieties Show last Thursday and Friday at the high school was this group which presented the one-act play, "Sauce for the Gossips." The cast includes Constance Burgess, J. W. Erwin, Forrest Ault, Jean Anderson, Margaret Garden and Willard Wilson.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Tonight promises to be a lot of fun for both citizens and students from Melvindale and Northville. It seems that both a debate team and a basketball team will be fighting for school honors. Everyone's very much afraid that it will be disappointing for all concerned. The sharks of the debaters' defending electric utilities will mangle with the much louder and more vehement shrieks of Northville's first upholding their basketball team. Dear me—Shakespeare said—or was it Shakespeare?—life is so difficult. The girls had their first basketball game of the season last night. We only hope some of you students cheered them along—they really do play well. I guess most of you prefer big, tough (then, fish) males running around. Oh well! What's Gabe got that our "fighting fire" haven't got? This time the weekly orchid goes to Mary Hester Gow. It's amazing how she stands up under the rush of students returning books to the library seventh hour. It's not only amazing—it's marvellous. She can take in "The American" with one hand and more "Anne Alvin" books in the bookcase with the other—meanwhile keeping cards straight. She gets an orchid decorated with library cards and boxes.

SENIORS PLAN FOR SECOND DANCE

Semi-formal Is Social Event For Dec. 28; Scott Cole — Heads Commitment

A Yuletide social event which promises to be a radical departure from the traditional class dances has just been announced by the senior class, which will sponsor the party on Dec. 28.

Through the courtesy of the officials of the Wayne County Training school, it will be held in that auditorium. This change from the ordinary custom of holding dances in the high school gym was made since the school will not be heated during Christmas vacation.

The class believes that the novelty of this arrangement may attract a larger crowd.

A six-piece orchestra from the University of Detroit has been obtained through the help of Jack McLoughlin. Tickets for this dance, which is semi-formal, are 75 cents a couple. Dances sponsored by this class, including the senior prom, have been successful. Even so, a large amount of money still has to be earned for the Washington trip which the seniors are planning.

ALUMNI WILL PLAY GAME HERE TUESDAY

In what promises to be the most exciting game of the season, the alumni will meet the Northville school basketball teams at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 22 in the high school gym. Both boys' and girls' teams will play.

Coaches Gladys Ludwig and Elliott Barr of the school, promise to start their regular first team players, among them Turnbull, Hochkins and Duguid for the boys, and McLoughlin, Gregory and Haystead for the girls.

Mrs. I. B. Cooke, who is coaching the girl alumni, will give the school team competition with such good players as Gertrude Deal, Marion Turnbull, Catherine Bongiorno, Donna Ferguson, Margaret Norton and Lella Haystead back to defend the graduates.

The boys will be the same players who two years ago were league champions. Henry Hoffman, Irvin Maiburger, Dayton Deal, Don Bray, Clyde Myers, Bill Duguid being the famous bunch.

Admission will be the same as that for any league game and your season ticket will admit you.

LUNCHESES SERVED AT SCHOOL BY SENIORS

The senior class began serving lunches last week in the high school cafeteria. The purpose of this project is to raise money and it will continue up to the Christmas holidays. If the class has made a profit by that time they will start serving lunches again in January and on through the cold months.

The food is donated by the mothers of the senior class, and a different menu is planned each day. Rose Mae Bolton is chairman of the committee for this undertaking and she is assisted by Mary Cheeseboro and Theda Fritz.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Final plans for the Girl Scout Christmas party were made Dec. 9 at the regular meeting at the Scout building. The party will be Dec. 21.

AUNT MARTHA'S CHARACTERS

E. L. Johnson
He's mischievous, but very conceited; His pupils believe they are being mistreated.

He fusses and fumes and tears his red hair
When our conduct in class becomes hard to bear.

In public speaking he's our chief delight
Mr. Johnson is critical but usually right.

His pupils laugh in counterfeited glee
He possesses a sense of humor you see.

All in all he's not a bad teacher.
Although he'd make a much better preacher.

When his mind wanders, forget it.
He can't help that slight habit.

from 5 to 7 p. m. at the Scout building. Refreshments will be served and the girls will go caroling afterwards.

At the meeting names were drawn for Christmas presents not more than 25 cents in value, to be exchanged at the party. There will be no meetings during Christmas vacation.

The profits from the sale of the boxes of Christmas cards will be used for an official Girl Scout troop flag. In addition to the profits, the girls received a subscription to the American Girl, the Girl Scout magazine. After the business meeting, the girls went over to the Presbyterian church house and practiced singing Christmas carols.

Notice—All Girl Scout bulletins and notices will be put up on the bulletin board in Miss Ludwig's and Miss Harper's room. If a Girl Scout wishes to go swimming at the Redford high school pool, she must sign her name to the paper that will be there.

Senior Who's Who

DEAN HARDESTY
To begin with, Dean was born Feb. 12, 1920, making him 16 years old. The Hardestys moved from Detroit, the place of his birth to Royal Oak, Michigan. Dean went to school at St. Paul in Salem where he lived after Royal Oak. I never could quite understand, but I do know he has gone here his four high school years. Baseball is, without a doubt, his favorite sport as he has been on the team since the year it was brought to this school and he makes a hobby of collecting baseball pictures. He has also played basketball and football.

Dean does not yet know whether he will go to college when graduated.

ELENORE HILL

After much thought, Elenore finally remembered that he was born in Lehigh, Oct. 23, 1918. She really ran into difficulty when she came to remembering where she went to school. As far as she knows it went like this: 1. Groton school; 2. Aurelius; 3. Novi; 4. then right here at Northville. Although she still lives in Novi she has gone to Northville for the past two years.

Elenore like bookkeeping better than any other subject and is an "office girl." Last year she was on the J. hop punch committee. Basketball is her favorite sport.

Grade Notes

Mrs. O. F. Reng's second graders are very busy getting ready for Christmas. They are making green paper Christmas trees and pasting on colored decorations. Each of them is making a gift for his or her mother, and they are having fun singing Christmas songs and reading Christmas stories.

Miss Doris Maynard's fourth grade class has a new member, Gloria Lawrence, which makes 17 pupils in the fourth grade, two less than the members of the third grade class. The fourth grade is making a rubber product map. They are all very proud of the plans they have in the room now.

Miss Helen Leonardson's second grade afternoon class have all learned their safety pledges and have been awarded membership cards. The class has elected as its president, Dolores Glazer, and it holds meetings every Friday afternoon. The morning class has nearly finished its "Four Little Bunnies" books. This class is planning on making Christmas gifts.

SOCIETY

What most of the people who attended the junior play didn't know was the grand party the cast had after Friday night's performance. We've heard that their doings spread over nearly all the school building. Both casts were invited and all the ticket takers, program distributors and so on—quite a crowd in all. Connie Burgess, Margaret Garden, Margaret Hein, Nan McLoughlin, Green Jones, Doris Testbury, Lydia Davis, Margaret Nagy, Barbara Phillips, Virginia Washburne, Alice Eaton, Forest Ault, Harry Raitenbury, Arthur Mitchell, Willard Wilson, Keene Bolton, J. W. Erwin, Cecil Giles, Dick Junod, Walter Garchow, Ed Reid, and Bob Trofast. We don't hardly believe Bob was there, but he was invited and with all his magic he might easily have been around without our knowing.

Kathryn Marburger had one of her riding pals as her week-end guest. It wasn't Joyce Sodequist's first stay in Northville, but we imagine she was rather surprised when she heard the "boos" directed at N. H. S. in the Plymouth show, Saturday. These eight girls had luncheon at Kathryn's and then went to the afore mentioned show.

Birmingham—Spurred on by the knowledge that Santa Claus does not forget little boys at Christmas time, business and professional men, in addition to other public spirited citizens of this community, laid aside their work Saturday, Dec. 12, and participated in the ninth annual Goodfellows' paper sale, sponsored by the Exchange club—Birmingham Economic.

Milford—The family of Will Crawford has been wondering the past month about the disappearance of their former hired man, one Mike Gardner, who left their place Sunday, Nov. 8, leaving behind his few spare clothes, watch, and a small sum of wages due him. To date he has not been heard from, although Mr. Crawford has made some attempts to locate him through newspapers and his description was broadcast over the state police radio station.—The Milford Times.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF WAYNE
IN CHANCERY

GLENN W. POWERS, EXECUTOR
OF THE ESTATE OF JAMES BENJAMIN
COOK, Deceased, PLAINTIFF vs.
PETER S. HOES, or his unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, DEFENDANTS.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION: AT A SESSION OF SAID COURT, Held at the Court Room thereof in the County Building in the City of Detroit, said County and State, on the 9th day of December,
A. D. 1936.

PRESENT: The Hon. HOMER
FERGUSON, Circuit Judge.

ON READING AND FILING OF the Bill of Complaint in this cause, from which it satisfactorily appears to the Court that the title, interests, claims, liens or possible rights to the premises described in said Bill, and hereinafter described, of the above named defendants, and each of them, if they ever had any valid claim, title, interest, lien or possible rights, have been acquired by the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff is entitled to possession thereof.

AND UPON READING AND FILING
of the affidavit of Fred J. Cochran, Attorney for the plaintiff herein, that it is not known and cannot be ascertained, after diligent search and inquiry, whether their titles, interests, claims, liens or possible rights have been disposed of by will, and that it cannot be ascertained in what state or country said defendants, or any of them reside:

ON MOTION OF COCHRAN &
CRANDELL, Attorneys for plaintiff,
IT IS ORDERED That Peter S.
Hoes, or his unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, and the unknown persons who are, or may be, entitled to claim under them, or any of them, cause their several appearances to be entered herein in the manner provided by law on or before THREE (3) MONTHS from the date of this Order, and that this Order be PUBLISHED or SERVED, as required by law.

THE CHRISTMAS DINNER

Perhaps you are one of these fortunate ones whose vainly custom includes a real old-fashioned "get-together" at Christmas, with grandmothers and grandfathers, mothers and fathers and children of all ages crowded around the dinner table.

Or perhaps your celebration is smaller—in any case you'll want to serve a dinner that reflects a careful planning the spirit of the day. Here is a menu that's typically "Christmas" in spirit and certain to be enthusiastically received.

Chilled Tomato Juice
Sea-Food Cocktail
Prime Roast Beef
Yorkshire Pudding
Brown Gravy
Celery with Brussels Sprouts
Whipped Potatoes
Grapefruit and Pear Salad
Clover Leaf Rolls
Currant Jelly
Plum Pudding, Lemon Sauce
Coffee

If you are planning to have guests, during the holidays—and most of us are—you'll want to have some particularly delectable dishes lined up to serve them, either for dinner, for luncheon or evening gatherings.

Something that's a bit out of the ordinary, something that will lend a "party" air to the occasion.

Baked Ham Slices
6 slices pineapple
3 medium size sweet potatoes
3 apples, sliced
2 slices raw ham
1/2 cup pineapple juice
Brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter

Place the slices of canned pineapple in a greased pudding dish. Put the sweet potatoes lengthwise and cover the pineapple. Cover with the sliced apples and top with ham slices. Pour the pineapple juice over the top. Cook in a slow oven in a covered dish for 2 hours or until tender. Dredge the top with brown sugar, dot with bits of butter and return to hot oven or broiler for browning. Sprinkle with parsley before serving.

Pineapple Cole Slaw
To one cup finely shredded cabbage and 1/2 cup shredded pineapple.
1 stalk of celery cut very fine add
1/2 green pepper parboiled and cooled and shredded. The pineapple should be drained. Mix with dressing of whipped cream, sweet or sour, seasoned well with vinegar, salt and pepper. Or dress with a boiled dressing.

Spinach Scuffie
1 tablespoon shortening
1 tablespoon chopped onions
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
2 cups chopped cooked spinach
1 cup chopped lettuce
1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper
1 teaspoon grated Italian cheese
4 egg yolks, unbeaten
1 egg white
Mix the shortening in a saucepan

Add the chopped onions. Brown lightly. Stir in the flour. Add the milk slowly. Add the lettuce and spinach, cheese and seasoning. Heat.
Remove from the fire. Mix in the unbeaten yolks one at a time. Cool.
Fold in the stiffly beaten whites.
Pour into a greased baking dish.
Bake in a moderate oven for 50 minutes.

Celery with Brussels Sprouts
1 1/2 cups brussels sprouts.
1 1/2 cups diced celery
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups scalded milk
3 tablespoons butter
salt and pepper

Remove the wilted leaves from the sprouts and soak in cold salted water a few minutes. Drain and cook in rapidly boiling salted water until tender (about 20 minutes).
Melt the butter, add the celery and cook slowly for 5 minutes. Add the flour and milk as in making white sauce. Bring to boiling point. Add the sprouts, season with salt and pepper, beat thoroughly and serve.

Hummel Torte
1/2 cup butter
1-3 cup powdered sugar
2 egg yolks
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup flour
2 egg whites
2 teaspoons powdered sugar
1/2 cup nutsmeats

Cream butter and stir in sugar gradually, then the beaten egg yolks and grated lemon rind. Stir in flour which has been sifted with baking powder. Spread over surface of two ungreased layer cake pans.
Cover each layer with meringue made by beating egg whites until stiff and beating sugar in gradually.
Sprinkle cinnamon. Grated sugar and chopped nutsmeats over the top. Bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes. While torte is baking prepare filling.

Filling
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup nutsmeats
Mix sugar, flour and salt in a small saucepan; stir in boiling water and dates. Continue stirring until mixture thickens. Remove from stove; add lemon juice and nut-meats. Cool. Shortly before serving spread filling between layers of cooled torte. Six servings.

Tradition thins giant plum puddings blazing with brandy and decked with holly with the celebration of Christmas. And our candies tell us that there is good reason for the high place this delicious holds. In serving it you may omit the final dash of brandy but you'll certainly want to use a pudding sauce or to supplement its piquant flavor. Only one of the recipes given is for plum puddings but the other has a real Christmas flavor.

2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup beef suet finely chopped or
1/2 cup citron, sliced
1 cup butter, melted
1 cup molasses
1 cup seeded raisins, floured
1 cup milk
1/2 cup currants, floured

Sift dry ingredients twice. Add the other ingredients in order given.
Pour into buttered molds and steam
2 hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Hard Sauce
One-third cup butter creamed with 1/2 cup powdered sugar until light and creamy. Add 1/2 teaspoon flavoring and beat again. Grate nutmeg or orange peel on top.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS
BY MRS. BARNEY TUCK

In a manger, wisemen found Him, found the Christ, the New Born
King, lowly were the scenes around Him, but his greatness we can sing.
He who shared His Father's glory.

left His home and came to earth.
How wonderful the story of our loving Savior's birth. Wisemen came with costly treasures, came to seek Him from afar, sought and found Him boundless pleasures, found Him heath the guiding star, human need and mercy meeting. Hope could rise triumphant then. Angels brought the joyful greeting, peace on earth, good will to men. Thus actually took place in Heaven in 1933. God gave me a sign as I had been seeking for his loving son.
Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas.

REDUCE TELEPHONE
RATES FOR HOLIDAY

"Long distance telephone rates will be reduced for the approaching

Christmas and New Years Days, according to announcement by the Michigan Bell Telephone company.
Similar reductions will apply throughout the Bell System for the two holidays. It is stated by R. E.
Crowe, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone company.
The Christmas and New Years rates will in general be the same as the Sunday reduced rates applying on routes on which the day station-to-station charge is 40 cents or more.
The rates also will apply to calls to Canada, Central and South America, (excluding Mexico), Cuba and the islands of the Caribbean area, Hawaii, Java and the Philippines.

"On New Years Day the low rates also will apply to calls to the British Isles and most of continental Europe."

Michigan Tuberculosis Association Is Promoting Thirtieth Annual Christmas Seal Campaign—Continues Until Dec. 25

Dispatching 50,000,000 messengers of health to homes in all parts of Michigan so that funds may be provided to continue the war against tuberculosis, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association is in the midst of its thirtieth annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals. In progress from Thanksgiving Day to Christmas, the sale will determine the scope of the anti-tuberculosis program the association and its affiliated groups will carry on in the state during the next 12 months.

Hopeful of returning recruits from the 1936 sale to pre-depression levels, officials of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association urged at Lansing that residents of the state make their purchase of the thirty Christmas seals as generous as personal circumstances would allow. They asked, too, that returns be made early so that the expense of sending a follow-up letter might be spared.

Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, president of the Michigan tuberculosis association, declared this week that the need for a vigorous campaign against tuberculosis in 1937 could not be over-emphasized. Though in the last quarter century, more than two thousand deaths still occur in the state each year, Dr. Douglas reminded.

"To ease-up now in the campaign would be disastrous," Dr. Douglas declared. "Now is the time to redouble our efforts, for the half the battle that remains ahead will be much more difficult than the half that is won."

"It is true that with funds raised through the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals the Michigan Tuberculosis Association has been able to bring two of the modern weapons of medical science—the tuberculin test and the X-ray—to more than 100,000 Michigan people. It is true also, though, that other thousands are still without the benefits of these modern safeguards. And so, to hold the gains that have been made in the last thirty years, Michigan must carry on its present anti-tuberculosis campaign, with vigor undiminished. The purchase of tuberculosis Christmas seals will help to assure an aggressive program in 1937."

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN C. IRELAND

Basketball
A good game to play, and a great game to watch, but what strenuous activity it can be! Indeed, some coaches regard it as the most strenuous of our popular sports.

Disregarding that point, we do know that it is full of possibilities for strain, particularly upon the heart. Fortunately, most boys and girls playing basketball are under adult supervision or we would see far more damage than is actually the case. And fortunately too, the practice of requiring medical examinations of all team candidates is becoming quite general.

If this is not the case in your community, and you happen to be the father or mother of a growing boy or girl, I urge you to give some thought to the situation. Discuss it with your family physician and with the school principal. Let you get the wrong idea, may I emphasize that it isn't the game that is at fault nor would I have it discontinued anywhere. The points to consider are these: the child's health, strength, fitness, heart condition; the frequency of playing; the length of the game or practice period; and the size and abilities of the other players.

In other words, we should always be sure that the game is suitable to the individual child, and that it isn't overdone. We must be sure, too, that correct diet and ample sleep are accompaniments of any strenuous sport.

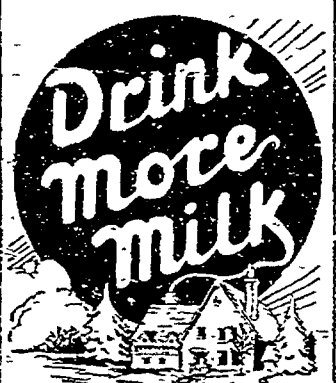

The value of fresh milk as a healthful food, and how a problem concerning it was met in one community, will be the subject of Dr. Ireland's next article.

My tent stands in a garden
Of aster and golden-rod,
Tilled by the rain and the sunshine,
And sown by the hand of God.

HUBBARD IS NEXT INSTITUTE SPEAKER

From Greenland to Dutch Guiana and from Northern Alaska to Borneo will be the scope of the winter series of Sunday afternoon illustrated lectures at the Detroit Institute of Arts which begins Jan. 10 with Father Hubbard's rapid-fire motion picture story of his "New Explorations in Alaska."

For an illustrated folder describing the complete course call at the Institute or write the World Adventure Series in care of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Headlines of the winter illustrated series are the Martin Johnson, who are just back from an expedition into the jungles of Borneo, Richard Halliburton with his new "Adventures of a Globe-Trotter" with motion pictures of his expedition among Greenland Eskimos; Alan Villiers, with his film story of a voyage completed only last month—"Across the South Seas in a Wandering Windjammer."

Phyllis Thomas, sister of Lowell Thomas, brings a new type of travel log that synchronizes the living voice of the speaker with sound motion pictures on her subject, "Japan." Other celebrities who will lecture are Howard Brenton, Mac Donald, Carl R. Raswan, Wendell Chapman, Nicol Smith.

There's a bonnie Lassie as nice as you could see
A bonnie wee Lassie who is waiting for me
My bonnie Lassie is like a rose in full bloom
Whose heart I couldn't pluck a bit to soon
For I know she loves me 'sence the day we met
Her smiling blue eyes I'll never forget.

The Best Gifts of 1936 are Electrical

$89.50 up

Electric Ranges

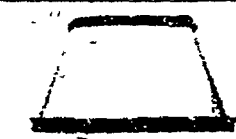

There's no better gift than the modern ELECTRIC range! At a price, to fit your purse, electric cooking has many advantages:

ECONOMY OF OPERATION: Less than a cent a meal per person is the average cost of using an electric stove. Electric cooking is NOT expensive—it is well within reach of the average family.

MORE HEALTHFUL COOKING: Foods are steamed, not boiled. The precious juices of meats and vegetables do not boil away. Nourishing elements and important food values are retained. Cooked to melting tenderness in their own juices, meats and vegetables have a delicious natural flavor.

COOKING WITH PURE REFINED HEAT: As clean as sunlight! Electric heat does not blacken pots and pans. Cooking utensils remain bright and shiny after long use. Your kitchen, too, stays sparkling and pleasant for a much longer period of time. The dirt is removed at the power house.

What to give? Something that will look gay and sparkling under a Christmas tree. . . . And yet, something substantial—eminently practical. Something so well-chosen that its usefulness will be just beginning when the Christmas wrappings are thrown away. No other gift combines all these virtues as well as an ELECTRICAL GIFT!

$3.50 up

Pin-It-Up Lamps

Plenty of light where you want it! This little lamp with its bright shade and decorative bracket is easily put up with an ordinary push-pin in the wall. Fits any decorative scheme. Adequate light, without glare (approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society) makes seeing easier and pleasanter . . . for reading, studying, sewing, etc.

$9.95 up

Dutch Oven Susan

So many advantages come with this compact electric roaster. A complete meal for six people—cooked while you are out for the afternoon—with all the recognized goodness of electric cooking, costs only 2½¢ for electricity! Dutch Oven Susan operates from an ordinary convenience outlet. It's ideal for the small apartment, summer cottage, or for preparing big dinners at home. There is at least one person on your Christmas list who will welcome this useful gift!

Electric Mixers

$19.75 up

The electric mixer means better cooking results and takes all of the drudgery out of mixing and beating. The attachments make it possible to do many other things, slicing and shredding, sharpening, polishing, meat grinding, etc., transforming your mixer into a dozen labor savers!

$5.95 up

Automatic Irons

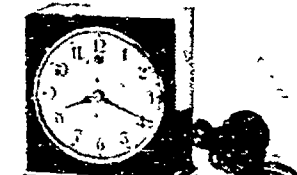

The new electric irons have many desirable features, among them exact heat control for every type of fabric. The iron doesn't overheat or cool off. Some of the new models are light as a feather, conserving energy and time.

$89.50 up

Electric Water Heater

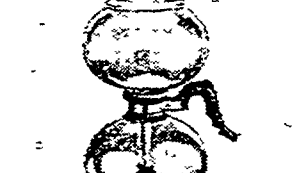

Give yourself and your family the convenience and pleasure of hot water all the time. An automatic electric heater will assure you of an ample supply the year round, summer and winter, day and night—when you need it. An electric water heater is completely automatic—it requires no attention whatever. It ends the annoyance of waiting for water to heat. Sixty gallons of steaming hot water cost 10¢ a day.

$3.95 up

Electric Clocks

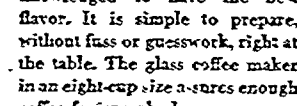

Silent, dependable, never requiring winding, an electric clock keeps time as accurately as a fine watch—and costs about 5 cents a month to operate! Every home should have at least one electric clock. The new designs include livingroom, library, bedroom and kitchen clocks, in many styles and models to harmonize with your furnishings.

$99.50 up

Electric Refrigerators

An electric refrigerator today just about pays for itself in savings! It is the only way to provide a constant temperature under 50 degrees, the safety zone needed for the preservation of food, to safeguard health. It provides an endless variety of delicious frozen desserts . . . tempting sherbets, mousses, ice cream, etc. It furnishes an abundant supply of sparkling ice cubes. And the new refrigerators give a new appearance to your entire kitchen!

$4.95 up

Glass Coffee Makers

Drip coffee made in glass is acknowledged to have the best flavor. It is simple to prepare, without fuss or guesswork, right at the table. The glass coffee maker in an eight-cup size assures enough coffee for everybody.

The I. E. S. Better Sight LAMPS

Nothing you can give for Christmas can compare with eyeglass protection. This Better Sight lamp is approved by the Better Vision Institute. A translucent bowl under the shade prevents glare from the bulb and diffuses the light. Some light goes to the ceiling and is reflected back, so that the whole room is softly illuminated. For reading, writing, sewing and similar visual tasks, you get enough light—as shown by a Sight Meter—a generous supply for safe seeing. The Detroit Edison Company does not sell these lamps.

$2.95 up

Electric Toasters

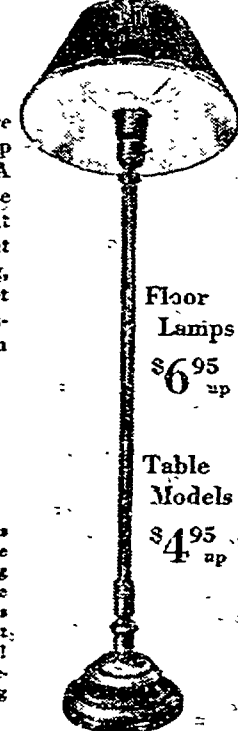

The electric toaster has been an indispensable part of breakfast-getting for years. But there are probably several persons on your Christmas list who need a new one! This year's latest improvements make toasting easier and quicker.

$19.75 up

Hospitality Tray Sets

The de luxe gift, that makes hospitality a pleasure and entertaining a delight! Lucky indeed is the person on your list who receives one of these. Includes automatic toaster, appetizer dishes, and richly grained tray in walnut or mahogany. For a very special present, a hospitality tray should rank high on your list.

DEDICATE TWO MEMORIALS HERE SUNDAY MORNING

A floral tribute from their associate at the time of her death.

So generous was the response from the employees in this way, that only a portion of the money was spent for flowers, the remainder was given to her daughter, Miss Lynn Brown of Blenheim, Ont. Can. Miss Brown sent the money this fall to Mr. Whitfield to be spent in any way he saw fit.

Upon presenting the book to the congregation, Mr. Whitfield requested that it be placed on a pedestal and kept open so that visitors might sign it as they visited the sanctuary.

It was some six years ago that the late Mrs. Brown first visited the Presbyterian church and on Easter Sunday, 1930, she, together with the late Mrs. Grannan, became a member of the church here.

"She was not well known here; she lived a quiet, yet active life; and was a staunch supporter of the church," commented Mr. Whitfield in speaking of Mrs. Brown. "She was often a visitor at the manse where Mrs. Whitfield and I enjoyed her sterling character," concluded Mr. Whitfield.

The address by Mr. Averill made a deep impression upon the Rotarians and guests. The district governor praised the work of the Northville club and said that he had reserved his visit here until the very last because there were so few ways in which to criticize the program and progress of the group here. In an hour's informal session, prior to the club's meeting the district governor met with the officials and heard reports of the year's work. Fine tributes were given to the leadership of President Forney, Vice-President E. H. Lapham, Secretary-Treasurer E. L. Mills and Editor E. M. Bogart of the club's unique publication, The Rotary News, which is issued weekly.

Spirited singing was led by Leslie G. Lee, with Miss Lena Tewksbury at the piano.

Guests were Charles T. Bennett and E. R. Eaton of Plymouth and Ira Davis, Junior Rotarian.

TWO CLUB WOMEN DRESS QUAINLY FOR CLEVER SKIT

Mead was the first postmaster, an ancestor of Mrs. William H. Yerkes.

As evidence of the value of historical public library was originally built for a Presbyterian church. The Rev. Sylvester Cochran was the preacher who lived in the home now occupied by John Timham on Randolph street. This building also housed the Presbyterian Academy and the name of the institution was painted in large letters over the doorway.

The first school house, a quaint, sturdy, stone building, stood at the east extremity of Dunlap street on the banks of the gully across from the present Boy Scout building.

As evidence of the value of historical interest in these early pioneers' lives, Henry Ford has gathered up two truck loads of heirlooms from the grandfather of Mrs. Dubuar, Charles Smith and from others in this community for his museum.

There are those in our village who can point with pride to their grandmothers' churns and spinning wheels now resting in prominence for thousands of visitors to gaze upon—churns and crude utensils used in one-room log cabins with patience by those forefathers who endured not only the hardships of the wilderness but also endured the forefathers.

Those who listened to Mrs. Hendryx and Mrs. Dubuar, Friday afternoon left the gathering with a feeling of near-reverence for those who had, secured by their high courage homes in the wilderness so that their descendants might enjoy their present comforts.

Mrs. Hendryx closed her remarks with a verse which emphasized the sharp contrast between the comforts of the early days and the present.

These Are What I Am Thankful For

What have I to be thankful for? A faithful bullock at my plow. A faithful bullock at my plow. A faithful bullock at my plow.

SMALL FRIEND TELLS SANTA OF ADDRESS CHANGE

Dear Santa Claus: I have been trying to be good for a year now. Do you suppose you can stop and see me? Now, Santa, I am going to be at Grandpa Hughes' so I'll leave the porch light on and then you will know where I am.

I would like a doll house, with electric lights, a wardrobe for Dorothy and crayons. Jerry would like a rubber ball, a jumping jack, a mouse like Ruth Ann's and an electric train.

Did you see we wave my hand at you when you drove your reindeer in the parade Thanksgiving morning? Please don't forget me Santa Claus.

WHITFIELD PREACHES FINAL SERMON HERE

Whitfield served here, he officiated at 45 weddings and at 135 funerals. The reading of the baptismal service for two infants Sunday morning, enriched this last day for Mr. Whitfield. Matthew Frederick Stanish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frazier Staman, and Bruce Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rose, were baptized. Mr. and Mrs. John Bunkin were admitted into membership of the church also at this service.

In his final words to his congregation, Mr. Whitfield made a plea for loyalty for the Rev. Thomas W. Smith, who succeeds him. "I have known greater cooperation than I have experienced here. Let me urge you to come out to support the new minister. Fill the pews; don't let him talk in an empty church," he concluded.

SESSIONS HOSPITAL

Mrs. Frank Cline, Walled Lake, is being treated for a broken leg which she suffered Monday in a car accident as she and Mr. Cline were motoring to Detroit. Mr. Cline was treated for minor bruises and released immediately.

Paul Peterson, who was injured at his home Monday when a gun was knocked to the floor and discharged, is making satisfactory recovery.

Mrs. Carl Flemming, Belleville, who underwent an appendectomy Saturday is improving.

Mrs. James Martin is recovering from a major operation performed here Monday.

A friend may well be reckoned the masterpiece of nature.—Emerson.

The kiss of the sun for pardon, The song of the birds for mirth; One is nearer God's Heart in a garden Than anywhere else on earth.

What makes a garden? Add why do gardens grow? Love lives in gardens—God and lovers know!—Caroline Giltman.

A good man is the best friend, and therefore, soonest to be chosen, longer to be retained; and indeed, never to be parted with.—Jeremy Taylor.

Give, if thou canst, an alms: if not, afford. Instead of that, a sweet and gentle word.—Robert Herrick.
