CULBERTSON CAN'T REACH DEADLINE

Board of Education Refuses to Grant Time Extension to Detroit Contractor

REPAIR HEATING PLANT
SPEND $3,000 TO RECIRCULATE
AIR, ADD NEW CONTROLS,
FIRE PROOF SYSTEM

Because of the delay in obtaining the wood from the mills necessary for the steaming and heating of doors, the Christmas recess is not moving time for the grade school teachers who planned earlier in the year to move into the $35,000 building which is nearly ready for occupancy and which is to replace the one destroyed by fire Jan. 13, 1936.

H. R. Culbertson of Detroit, general contractor for the WPA project, who asked for a 10-day extension of time when he found that the Dec. 15 deadline would not be reached, was refused an additional time by members of the board of education. Culbertson is paying the required $10 a day penalty.

This week the high school heating plant is being overhauled; made fire proof; new controls have been added; and the air has been recirculated. Double shifts of men are working on the job in an effort to have the system in use Jan. 3, when school re-opens. Approximately $3,000 is to be spent in this manner in an effort to make the plant safe and efficient.

Workmen are pushing ahead this week with the job of painting and laying floors in the corridors. The plumbing is completed and the wiring has all been done," said Superintendent R. H. Amerman. Light fixtures will not be attached until all the painting has been finished, he added.

KING'S DAUGHTERS SOLICIT EVERGREEN TREES FOR DANCE

Under the able management of the committee in charge, Mrs. E. H. Cavell and Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell, plans for the coming King's Daughters' Hunter's Ball are moving smoothly. The date is set for Jan. 15 and the place is the high school gym which will be transformed into a veritable forest with evergreen trees.

It was the return of the many hunters in this locality that suggested the idea of a hunters' ball several years ago and the affair became so popular that it has become an annual institution.

Don Patterson's orchestra has been obtained to provide music and will play both the old-time dances for those who like the more stately steps, and modern music for those who want a swifter tempo.

Those whose dancing days are over may sit in the gallery and look on by paying the general admission fee of 50 cents. A door prize and refreshments will be included in this charge.

In charge of the decorations will be Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richardson. They will appreciate it if those having Christmas trees will place them in their front yards for collection by a truck Jan. 14.

The committee providing the luncheon is yet to be appointed.

Mrs. William E. Firmy and Mrs. Floyd Shafer have the sale of tickets.

SHOPPER VOICES OPINION ABOUT UNCLEAN STREETS

Admires Attractive Holiday Decorations; Says Village Slow in Removing Trash

Editor Record: I was very proud of the Northville business district with its Christmas decorations. I bragged about it to my friends and visitors.

But where oh where was the curb committee the next few days after Christmas?

I walked down town early in the week and I have seldom seen so much litter and trash next to the curbs and streets.

The streets are terrible.

VILLAGE BOYS AND GIRLS MADE HAPPY AT LEGION PARTY

Chairman Floyd R. Lanning
Aids Commander Johnston
With Festivities

It was just about the finest Christmas party that the members of the Lloyd H. Green Post, American Legion, ever gave for Northville boys and girls. That's saying a lot.

And the big boy forgot their solemn ways and looks and had as big a time as a "kid." One of the best times I've had in months," said a business man who helped raise the $100 fund for the "domes."

Told by Dr. W. H. Johnston, commander, and Floyd R. Lanning, chairman of the festivities, the bazaar was opened Wednesday evening, Dec. 23, at 6:30 at the mega school gymnasium. The women of the Legion Auxiliary had a "grand" menu for the children and the fathers and sons who had some ravenous appetites. Assisting the Auxiliary committee and the commander and chairman of the Legion were J. Harry Bottom, Merrill S. Sweet and Claude N. Eby.

Everyone was especially good humor for the benefit dinner and it took some carol singing by the children with Mrs. W. H. Johnston as the leader, to calm the company down sufficiently afterward to hear a short Christmas talk by the Rev. Harry J. Lord.

Then came the merriment and distribution of gifts. A fine climate they were to the happy evening. Clarence Davis, Cambridge Drive, kindly loaned the films. These ran heavily to comedies such as "Pop Eye" and "The Wizard of Oz."

Mr. Blake came to Northville from Detroit some 14 years ago to receive treatment at the Eastman Sanatorium where he made a brave effort to fight tuberculosis, the disease which finally caused his death.

Previously he had come here to help for the benefit dinner and it took some carol singing by the children with Mrs. W. H. Johnston as the leader, to calm the company down sufficiently afterward to hear a short Christmas talk by the Rev. Harry J. Lord.

Mr. Blake came to Northville from Detroit some 14 years ago to receive treatment at the Eastman Sanatorium where he made a brave effort to fight tuberculosis, the disease which finally caused his death.

While living in the village, Mr. Blake centered his interest on the welfare program of the Lloyd H. Green Post of the American Legion of which he was commander in 1935-36. In this phase of Legoland work he took the baby out, doing what he could to lessen the hardships of the unfortunate and of his fellow ex-service men. He gave generously to friends and associates through his humane deeds and material benefits.

This is the first time death has taken a member of the Lloyd H. Green Post.

Horses were his hobby. At one time he owned 11 fine specimens of horse flesh. His ability for training race horses was recognized throughout this section of the State.

The last ride Thursday morning will be conducted by the Rev. Harry J. Lord of the Methodist church. Burial will be made at Penn.

Surviving him are his wife, Ethel Dudley Blake, whom he married in 1924; a son, Edward; a daughter, Edith; two brothers, John Colton of London, Ont., Can., and Robert Blake of Detroit. A sister preceded him in death several years ago.

In appreciation for the many courtesies extended them by the Rev. Kendal S. North, Baptist minister, patients at the Maybury sanatorium gave him a bill fold and a $5 bill at the conclusion of the Christmas service last Friday morning.

Another Year Leaves Its Footprints On The Village Streets

1936 LOOKS BACK ON HOMES SADDENED BY DEATH, TRAGIC ACCIDENTS, LOSS OF SCHOOL BUILDING, WIDENED PAVEMENT—NEW SCHOOL BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION DATE

Jan. 1.—One of the landmarks of the Northville of years ago was destroyed as the wrecking was underway of the Exchange hotel. This building was one of the last of the testimonials of the past, most of the old buildings having been destroyed or rebuilt.

Starting off the New Year right were Arthur Sessions and Florence Whipple, both Northville, young people. They were married today.

Mrs. Nelle Pardee died at the age of 68.

Jan. 2.—The Northville Board of Education in special meeting awarded contracts for the construction of the four-room grade school addition which was voted on by the tax payers of the district Nov. 7.

Jan. 3.—The Northville high school, made Sunray, raised their league rating to two wins and one loss by defeating the Berkley team which fought by the imperative margin of 27-15.

Jan. 4.—The restoration of the Rev. Kendal S. North, which was publicly given at the megaphone sermon at the Baptist church Dec. 29, was rejected tonight in a meeting of the church.

Jan. 5.—In a night to finish basketball game, Northville triumphed over its toughest opponent of the year, Plymouth, by a narrow lead, 24-20.

Jan. 6.—A fire of unknown origin destroyed the 50-year-old brick veneer house occupied by the E. M. Flaherty family, owned by the Ford Motor company. The only fatality in the fire was the family dog who was overcome by smoke.

Jan. 7.—A festive atmosphere created by evergreen tree decorations, smart dance music and general hospitality greeted the villagers tonight who attended the "Hunters Ball" sponsored by the King's Daughters in the school gymnasium. Mrs. E. B. Cavell headed the committees.

Jan. 8.—Grade classes continue despite the fact that fire has eaten the school building. Housed in the American Legion Hall, the Lepham State bank and the Richardson building, eight classes began work this morning under circumstances briefly described by the pupils as "dark."

Jan. 9.—Death came today to James N. VanDyne, 57, a long-time village resident who had been prominent in Masonry and civic life for more than 25 years. He died following an emergency appendectomy.

"LUCK AND LOVE"

A good editorial friend—one of the best in the business—closes his letters to us, and many others, of course, with these three words:

"Luck and love!"

So that is just what we wish for our good friends of The Northville Record. Get love and luck and the world is yours, with a fence around it.

May 1937 be the best year of your life.

ONE NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

Some years in our editorial columns—we have had them in several cities and towns—we have summarized some New Year's resolutions that seemed to us sensible and worth-while. You have probably kept some of them so this January 1st we will recommend only one:

This will be a resolution that we heard the late Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, the noted radio minister, give. We went to Detroit with some friends—one of them is now deceased—to hear Dr. Cadman, one of the most noted men of his time. We remember only one thing he said that "Sunday morning to a great congregation. It was enough; here it is:

"Keep on good terms with your own conscience."

Do this and your health in 1937 will be beyond counting.

WHY NOT A HOBBY FOR 1937?

There is one relief in our personal life—we haven't taken time for a busy, hustling life around a newspaper office to have a hobby. And surely we are the losers.

One of our good Northville friends dropped in at the office Christmas morning just for a brief visit and he got to telling us of his hobby, his earliest in business. This was the raising of fancy chickens. We greatly enjoyed hearing word of his experience with his "birds." One young boy, for example, had what he thought was an exceptionally fine chicken, although some so-called chicken experts didn't think much of this particular chicken. This boy, you know, knew it was a prize winner and when a good friend made some exhibits to Chicago for a national show, our friend sent along this bird of his. He was right. The boy's beauty came back with the blue ribbon at a national show. Glory enough for a man riding a hobby!

Well, that is one kind of a hobby. Another friend, in another city, has a collection of hundreds of canes which he has collected all around the world. He has gotten a big thrill out of collecting them.

One of the hobbies of our high school and college days was taking cameras pictures—we admit we got some good ones. As we got more busy and worried with business cares, the camera was laid away and has collected more dust than pictures, although we probably have hundreds of prints around the house. If we had enough sense, we would start taking pictures again. There have been improvements in silent and movie picture taking, so whoever takes pictures now gets a big reward.

You could do a lot worse things in 1937 than having a hobby. Get outside yourself—the business will be here long after you are gone.

VICTORY AHEAD IN 1937

Like a distant mountain top, the year 1937 looms ahead of us. Twelve fine months before us—just like twelve miles to the foothills of those mountains.

Bring on 1937! It will be a "big year" if we all pull together and do the things that good men should do.

There is a smile on the face of the world as we start this New Year. Depression is behind us; times are starting to boom; people are optimistic—the dreary days of the bad times are back of us. We should be ready "to go to town." With the exceptions of those homes where bereavement and ill health have come—and few of our homes escape some of these griefs as the years come and go—most of us can look ahead to one of the finest years in our history. There is everything to live for. The coming twelve months should be filled with every good thing if we will do our part.

"Victory ahead in 1937!" We mean it. During the new year you can get most everything that is worth while. Not much money, but enough money to buy what you really need for your comfort and happiness! Friends—not many friends but enough to have in the days when you need someone to stand by and understand. Health—you can get it most of the time if you obey the plain laws of health. A home—that is about all we have left; when we get down to the "boiling down" point of our assets. (One of the biggest joys of the Christmas season to the writer was planning for weeks on getting our red-headed twelve-year-old, set of worth while tools which cost us some hard-earned money. Our grandfather on one side of the house was a ship carpenter in England and he left to our own father a set of tools, in a big chest, and this was around the home of our youth for years.)

Get friends, health and home and you will also be given many other fine assets—a place of honor and respect in your own community; your own satisfaction; the love and affection of those nearest and dearest to you; peace of mind—"which passeth all understanding"—man, oh man, what more in life could you want?

Come on, 1937! We are going to have a great and glorious ride together.

WHERE SHALL WE PUT THE DRUNKEN DRIVER?

There was no World War battle in Detroit over Christmas. Yet death stalked on the beautiful streets of our own metropolis just as vividly as though it had been a battle field of France. How long, how long are we civilized people going to let drunken and reckless automobile drivers kill off people as though human life were worth nothing?

Don't take our preaching for it. You would catch too if some of your dear ones were killed by a drunken driver. This is from the Detroit Free Press of Saturday morning, Dec. 26. Read it and get mad:

Detroit motorists left a holiday trail of death Friday in a wave of drunk and reckless driving against which the police were helpless. A total of 12 fatalities was reported, of which two resulted from pre-holiday mishaps.

"There is nothing we can do without the cooperation of the public," Police Commissioner Heinrich A. Pickett said.

"Just before the holidays we sent out 430,000 appeals for safe driving, and this is the result. Apparently all the neighbors went out to kill each other off instead of wishing each other a Merry Christmas."

"Frankly, I am discouraged. You shouldn't blame the police. Some day the people themselves will rebel against such a situation and may take individual action against drunk and reckless drivers. I don't know what we would do in a situation like that."

A man or woman who drinks liquor and then goes on a crowded street or highway with his or her automobile is nothing less than a potential killer. Now would you like to be haunted by the memory of having killed or injured some fellow man, woman or child, just because you lacked the brains not to mix liquor and gasoline?

Like Detroit, Northville has had—and will have—its deaths. How long are we going to be indifferent to this menace that might tomorrow strike any home in this community? Should the crepe go on your door, you would know what liquor drinking and drunken drivers have done to thousands of homes in this nation.

What do you say to this devastation of death?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS*1 YEAR AGO

A snow blizzard here during one of the cold winter days of the season did N. Northville Christmas day services for Pluto R. Clark, 19-year-old Northville公子, who died Saturday, were held Tuesday from the Schrader funeral home.

Ponsford's store was awarded the Exchange club's first prize for the best all-round, holiday window decorations this week.

Sixty-five Northville youngsters and fifty-one ex-service men at the Veterans' Sanatorium were given a "Merry Christmas" last week by the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion and its auxiliary unit.

No Northville family failed to have a Merry Christmas because the Young's Daughters provided 20 boxes of Christmas cheer Tuesday.

Three honored men employed in the local Ford factory were laid off yesterday until Jan. 2, officials announced. The lay-off affects only those in the productive department, according to officials.

5 YEARS AGO

The River Rouge park system, that-to-mile boulevard having its terminus in Northville, will be completed this fall if plans do not go awry, according to information received by the Record.

Frosty winter has brought some queer stories of butterflies in January. Ideas blowing in December, and similar sort of season occurrences to newspapers. John Boyd, manager of the Yerkes farm, reports that plowing has been the order of the day right up to Jan. 6 and if the warm weather keeps up, plowing will continue as "unusual."

There is an excellent chance of getting within the next 30 days a workable plan for a new Northville bank, utilizing the assets of both the Lapham and the Northville State Savings banks.

The funeral services of Beech A. Northrop were held Saturday afternoon at the home of his son, Floyd.

10 YEARS AGO

All Northville Records up to July 1, 1927, were destroyed in the fire at the Record office in Dec. 1930.

15 YEARS AGO

During the past few weeks there has been considerable discussion regarding the advisability of organizing Principal Bryson A. McCloy of the Northville schools.

T. G. Richardson has sold his fine fruit and dairy farm at the north end of Center street to the Northville Real Estate company.

30 YEARS AGO

Fish Culture A. T. Stewart of the Northville U. S. Fish station made a remarkable record this year in the securing of 57,000,000 million of nice trout eggs at the Beavers Islands.

The following data was brought to this office by Wilbur Harrington of this place: During the year 1936 there have been 20 births, 16 marriages and 14 deaths.

Mrs. J. H. Whipple, 72, entertained her children and grandchildren New Year's day. She gave an excellent dinner which she prepared herself and which was greatly enjoyed by all. It was also the fifty-third anniversary of her marriage.

Mrs. James Fletcher of Novi was the originator of a very pleasant surprise on her husband Friday evening, Dec. 26, it being his birthday and also the twentieth anniversary of their marriage.

A New Year's reunion is the event of the season of the J. Madison Warren family, which occurred this week at the home of Martin L. Smith in the township of Northville.

Governor Warner is ill in bed at his home in Farmington with a bad attack of bronchitis bordering in bronchial pneumonia.

SPONSOR CONTEST TO SPREAD STATE'S VACATION FAME

The help of Michigan's schools was sought today in a campaign to spread further the State's fame.

The Detroit and Michigan Exposition approved $200 would be awarded for essays on "What Michigan Means to Me." The contest will be open to students in four grades—sixth, eighth, tenth and twelfth—in each class, $25 for first, $10 second, $5 third, and five awards of $2 and 25 season tickets to the Detroit and Michigan Exposition, April 2-11.

Entries must not exceed 500 words in length and must be in the exposition office before March 1. It is recommended.

It is to be hoped that Michigan is at the top as a vacation aid to tourists" and J. Lee Barrett executive vice-president of the Detroit Convention and Tourist Bureau, which is sponsoring the exposition. "We do not all know, however, why visitors choose to spend $25,000,000 here in the last year. All Michigan people should know the State and should tell of their pride and re-affirm their loyalty.

This contest has the approval and support of Dr. Eugene B. Elliott State superintendent of public instruction.

The following rules have been specified:

1. Write not to exceed 500 words on "What Michigan Means to Me." Your essay may be on resources, history, scenery, on whatever reason, or things makes you proud of our state.

2. The contest is divided into four classes: (a) First class to include grades 4, 5, and 6; (b) second class to include grades 7, 8 and 9; (c) third class to include grades 10, 11, and 12; (d) fourth class to include students at colleges and universities.

3. Entries should be addressed to: Essay Committee, Detroit and Michigan Exposition, 501 Stroh Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bogart are the parents of a boy born Thursday, Dec. 29.

The marriage of Miss Ruth J. Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Christensen of this place, to Waldo F. Johnson of Chicago, Ill., was solemnized on Saturday, Dec. 31.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Simmons in this section will extend sincere sympathy in the bereavement which came to them during the holiday season in the death of their eight-month-old daughter, Marian.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bogart are the parents of a boy born Thursday, Dec. 29.

The marriage of Miss Adelaide Boyle and Floyd C. Evans was solemnized at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Blackman in Louisville, Ky. After a short visit in Cincinnati, the young couple came to Northville and will leave for their home in Buhl, Minn., today.

Mrs. Lydia Elliott of this place and William Higgins of Rochester, N. Y., were quietly married in Detroit last week.

Northville's first serious coasting accident for several years occurred last Friday when a load of youngsters lost control of their steering gear on the "Buchner Hill" and crashed between a tree and a telephone pole at the turn in the road. Frank Freydi and Lawrence Honig each suffered a broken leg and Edgar Freydi's ankle was sprained.

A marriage of much interest to Northville people occurred Dec. 27 at Alma, where Miss Rhea Wallis of Dimond, a graduate of the High School of the University of Michigan, and Detroit, Michigan.

Entries must be in the office before noon of March 1, 1937.

4. In preparing your manuscript, use ink or typewriter and write on only one side of the paper. At the top of the first page write your name, age, grade, school and address as: (sample)—Philbert Euytor, 16, 11th grade, Franklin High School, Franklin, Michigan.

5. Awards of similar amounts will be made in each of the four classes. First award, $25; second, $10; third, $5; five awards of $2 each, and twenty-five pairs of season tickets to the Detroit and Michigan Exposition, April 2-11. Awards will be made on originality, subject matter, neatness and form. All entries become the property of the Detroit and Michigan Exposition.

Homemaker's Corner

By MRS. EDITOR

LIVING WITH OURSELVES

"I just can't bear to be alone," we heard a woman say. "I like to have something doing all the time. I get so bored!"

We feel sorry for that woman. She is bound to have some miserable hours.

Some time of solitude is absolutely necessary to the growth of the soul. Most of us are in crowds too much. We never take time to "commune with thine own soul and be still."

No woman is her real self with others. There are dreams and thoughts too sacred, too intimate to share with even those nearest and dearest. They might not understand. Only with herself alone is she absolutely honest. She can fool herself. Before her in all their unattractive blackness stalk her faults, her pretenses and before their cold truth she bows her head and admits them—but only to herself.

On the other hand, her best habits are shown only to herself. Let the world criticize; if it will what matters if before the bar of her own conscience she can hold her head erect and know that she is doing her best?

Happy is the woman who can now and then draw the curtain and shut out the whole world, and be content with pleasant memories, thoughts of fine things she has read, strains of songs she has heard, scenes she has enjoyed, folks she has known, and—best of all a wholesome record she has made. Such a woman is never lonely.

Every time a woman comes back from a "visit" with herself it is evident that she carries with her—herself. She has been thoroughly honest.

Once years ago, we sat in the pew of the old Quaker meeting house with our father in Richmond, Ind., where years before he had sat with his Grandmother, Bethia Hancock in her dear shawl and bonnet.

No pre-reading, no thinking. These quiet folks just sat—and sat until the spirit moved them to speak.

As a child it seemed very strange and dull but now we wonder if that habit of quiet did not account for the great sweetness and peaceful poise of those Quakers. Perhaps that is why great grandmother Hancock lived to be 13 days of 100 years old. Perhaps "the world is too much with us."

APPLE PUDDING

Mrs. John H. Wheeler, Arcadia, Cal.

Cover the bottom of a shallow pan with seasoned apple sauce. Pour over it the following batter:

Beat yolks of two eggs well, add 6 tablespoons sugar, a little lemon rind, pinch salt, and 4 graham crackers crushed to crumbs. Fold in fluffy beaten whites of 2 eggs. Bake in moderate oven 30 minutes. Serve with dab of whipped cream. Very good.

may be the cause of poor appetite, indigestion, constipation, some forms of colitis and shattered nerves.

On the other hand, vitamin B through its power to make food more appetizing may be the way to good health for many.

Among the important sources of this health-giving vitamin are such foods as wheat germ, bran (prepared), whole wheat bread, spinach (cooked), sweet potato, cabbage (raw), lettuce, carrots, orange juice, bananas and egg yolk.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

THIS week brings the end of the holiday season with New Year dinner holding the center of interest for the housewife. Kitchens indulge in a good deal of attitude at this point, the result being that there is a great variety of menus. In one home, for instance, the menu was: Roast Turkey, cranberry sauce, ham or lamb, green beans, mashed potatoes, gravy, cranberry sauce, fruit cocktail, cake, coffee.

The choice of fruits and vegetables is little varied from last week. Fruits are practically out while vegetables gain recognition in good variety.

Here are three menus for New Year dinner:

Low Cost Dinner
Baked French Onion Souffle
Brown Potatoes
Yellow Turnips Apple Sauce
Beef and Butter
Gelatin Plum Pudding
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Celery Olives
Roast Beef Yorkshire Pudding
Mashed Potatoes Green Beans
Perfection Salad
Hire Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Tomato Juice Cocktail Canapes
Crown Roast of Lamb Mashed Potatoes
Green Peas Mint Sauce
Grapefruit and Tangerine Salad
Flaming Plum Pudding Hard Sauce
Coffee

MRS. KEYES, AUTHOR, WILL LECTURE NEXT WEEK AT TOWN HALL

Frances Parkinson Keyes will be the first speaker after the holiday interlude at the Wednesday Town Hall at the Fisher theatre, at 11 a.m. Jan. 6. She brings to Detroit a wealth of information gained through years of extensive traveling and residence in Washington.

Mrs. Keyes is perhaps best known internationally as an associate editor of Good Housekeeping magazine. She is a regular contributor to this publication and has encircled the globe as its representative, interviewing world-renowned celebrities. She also has toured South America, Europe and Persia under Good Housekeeping auspices as the wife of Senator Wilder Keyes, who is known in the United States not only as a prolific writer but as the first lady of New Hampshire during her husband's regime as governor of that State, and now as wife of United States Senator Keyes residing in Washington. The Keyes' family home is Pine Grove Farm situated in North Haverhill, N.H. Where Senator and Mrs. Keyes reside with their three children, when Congress is not in session.

Born a southern woman and educated in Boston, Switzerland and Berlin, Frances Keyes began her career as an author well equipped with broad vision and varied experiences. Later, preceding as Senator Keyes' wife, she widened her knowledge of interesting political situations, many of which she incorporated in her novels, "Letters from a Senator's Wife" and "Senator Marlowe's Daughter."

Perhaps one of Mrs. Keyes' most popular books is "Queen Anne's Lace," a best seller of several years.

Plan Greater Great Lakes Expo

THE 1937 GREAT LAKES EXPOSITION is well under way, and judging by the smiles of its executives, seen here, it should be a big year for everyone on the shores of Lake Erie. Studying plans of the new and greatly expanded Exposition are (left to right) W. T. Holliday, president of Standard Oil Company of Ohio and newly-elected president of the Exposition; Dudley S. Blossom, Cleveland's leading citizen, again general chairman; A. C. Ernst, managing partner of Ernst & Ernst, vice-president; and Lincoln G. Dickey, with the latter two.

The Exposition opens May 29 to run 101 days through September 6, 1937.

Nation's Five Baby Sweethearts Head New Year's Big Attraction, 'Reunion,' At Local Theatre Friday and Saturday

Surprise follows dramatic surprise. Toronto Hospital who refuses to release names set straight when the Country Doctors' 3,000 "grown-ups" come back to share their joys and tears with the man who brought them into the world in "Reunions," Twentieth Century Fox's latest screen triumph coming Friday and Saturday to the Penniman-Alten theatre.

The picture which stars the giddy fonzies Dionne Quints and features Jean Hersholt, Boochie Hudson, Helen Vinson, Slim Summerville, Robert Kent, John Qualen, Deputy Peterson and many other players boasts "the year's most important cast in the season's most unusual drama."

The Quints' Dr. Luke played by Jean Hersholt, on the verge of retirement from the burdens he has carried for a generation, decides to call back from all over the globe the thousands of men and women whom he assisted into the world from all over the country and from many foreign lands they come to renew and the poor, the high-minded and the lowly, to take part in the reunion.

A young life partner is attractive young Dr. Tony Luke, the doctor's nephew, whom he has called back to the little Canadian town from his post in Toronto to carry on with him (Dr. Luke's) duties. Tony, though deeply in love with Mary, Dr. Luke's nurse, is followed by the wife of his superior in the auxiliary society Tuesday Jan. 14, for a fine potluck dinner at 12 o'clock with a meeting in the afternoon. All are cordially invited.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

OUR CHANGING TIMES

(E. O. Gildart in "Utica Sentinel")
The other evening a group of young people stood around a piano in Northville and sang songs. No fooling. A by-stander could have gotten a real thrill out of it, since the radio has taken over the singing in most homes. Twenty years ago such scenes were common. Nowadays we take our singing like our sports—from the sidewalk. Certainly we're the losers.—Northville Record.

Fritz Kreisler, the famous violinist says that radio broadcasting has played havoc with music as profession. He says it has cheapened it. What the public gets, he says, is not the artist's conception, but the radio operator's conception. It has wiped out the rancid and fat of music, he declares. So if this keeps up, we may expect the day of the last Minstrel with a vengeance.

Biery-Richardson Marriage Vows Are Spoken Christmas Afternoon at Home Wedding Before The Rev. K. S. North

Evergreen trees trimmed with silver formed the background Friday afternoon, Dec. 25, in the H. R. Richardson home, 369 West Main street, for a pretty wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Arline Richardson and Elden Biery, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Biery. They pledged their vows before the Rev. Kendall S. North of the Baptist church. A white fur rug was the floor covering upon which the wedding party stood.

For her wedding gown, the bride selected ivory velvet designed along empire lines, fashioned with a jacket and long tight sleeves, trimmed to the elbow with Randell-Nichols Marriage Pledge tiny self-covered buttons. Exchanged before Bride's Father, With this she wore a strand of pearls, ivory satin slippers and carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations, with a matching satin ribbon.

Her only attendant, Miss Virginia Lyon of Ferndale, wore a dress of deep rose moire taffeta and carried a bouquet of talisman roses. Kenneth Martin was Mr. Biery's best man.

The bride's mother, Mrs. H. R. Richardson, wore a dress of royal blue sheer crepe. Her corsage was of pink verbena and rose buds.

A dress of raspberry crepe, accented with shiny sequins, was worn by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Biery. Yellow daisies and rosebuds of the same color made up her corsage.

Attending the wedding were 500 relatives and friends from Detroit, Dearborn, Romulus, Belleville, Plymouth, Ferndale and Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. Biery will be at home after Jan. 15, at 2218 Orme Avenue, Dearborn.

Previous to her marriage, Mrs. Biery was feted with a variety show by Miss Irene Ruthrauff in Detroit; a kitchen shover by Miss Lyon at the Alpha Gamma Delta in East Lansing; Mrs. Biery's sorority at the Detroit Edison office employees' day. The day will be spent at the Hotel Mayflower, Park Ridge, Ann Arbor. Donald is a junior in the dental school of the University of Michigan.

The other sons are Richard, a student in the Detroit College of Optometry, Epiphany, who will complete his course in chemical treatment of the eyes at the end of the year; Mrs. R. T. Bolton, and Kenneth of Northville.

It is noted that Mrs. Alfred P. Way of Detroit will be the first Mrs. Way in the month of January, as her daughter will wed in the year of young love.

Evening Home is Scene of Biery Party Monday Evening

Several Yuletide appointments at different times made a pretty background for a dinner party Dec. 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chapman, 3133 Lathrup Street, where the couple had invited Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Northrop, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mabs, Mr. N. G. Seeger, Mr. J. Mrs. E. E. Cawel, Mr. and Mrs. Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stewart and Mrs. C. Chapman.

Maloy-Lanning Marriage Takes Place at Bowing Green

Mr. and Mrs. Lois Lanning, 307 North Center street announced the marriage of their daughter, Loretta, to Walter Maloy.

The wedding occurred Dec. 24, at Bowing Green. The couple, along with Mrs. Maloy's son, Dave Booth, left for Elco, Pa., to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. John Maloy.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maloy and son will make their home in Detroit.

Get-Together Club Holds Christmas Party in Plymouth Home

Forty members of the Get-Together club were guests Tuesday evening, Dec. 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyd Smith, Penniman Avenue, Plymouth, for a Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged. Club members' children were remembered with presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kilnessmith, Plymouth avenue, will be hosts to the group Thursday evening, Jan. 7.

After receiving his Master's degree from Michigan State college, Charles Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Noble, formerly of this village, has taken a position as chemist in the Dow Chemical Works in Midland.

Mrs. Elsa Leonard is visiting relatives in Detroit. During her absence Mrs. Grace Morse caroled for Mrs. Ada Johnson until illness compelled her to leave. Mrs. Adak M. Lewis is staying at the home of Mrs. Johnson temporarily.

Mrs. Dora Howe and Lloyd Fairbanks of Lansing spent the weekend in Northville at the home of Miss Howe's sister, Mrs. Rosetta Lanning, 234 Church street. Sunday they visited at the Harrel Lanning home in Detroit.

Christmas day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloom were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bloom, Carl R. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ely, Mrs. John Melow and Mrs. Teshiba, all of Northville and Mrs. Bloom's grandmother, Mrs. Adelaide Ely, of Farmington.

Mrs. Joseph Deaton, accompanied by Mrs. John Cleaver, Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Day, visited the Maybury sanatorium, Tuesday, Dec. 22, and presented the British men patients a box of food and other articles, including a real English plum pudding, Christmas cake and pork pie. The boxes were Christmas gifts from members of the British Legion Auxiliary.

At the Jan. 8 meeting of the Norge Civic association, Detroit, Dr. B. Edelmar Larson, will address the group on the subject "Medical Service in Sweden." Dr. Larson members say, is eminently qualified to discuss this subject as he has made several trips to Sweden and has studied the medical system in vogue there. He is a member of the staff of Harper hospital and is also Commanding Officer of General Hospital No. 3 of the United States Army Reserves.

In recognition of the increasing volume of winter traffic the Winter Edition of the Official Michigan Highway map was distributed this week through the State. Many miles of highways shown as under construction on the Sept. 15 edition have since been completed and are now open to traffic. New features of the map include a special designation for Michigan superhighways of three lanes and over and a large scale detailed map of Detroit and vicinity to serve traffic in southeastern Michigan.

Happy New Year!

Mrs. Ida B. Cooke left last week for a motor trip to the western coast of Florida.

The very finest business I have had in years," says one Northville merchant, speaking of the holiday trade.

Edward Lockman, chief engineer at the Maybury sanatorium who had both legs broken in an accident a month ago, is convalescing nicely.

The Rotary club did not meet Tuesday noon. The members will attend New Year's breakfast at the Harry B. Clark home, Eight Mile road.

Miss Winifred McCordle, a student at the State Normal college, Ypsilanti, is vacationing here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCordle.

Edwin Weinberg, instructor of music at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., is spending the holidays with Mrs. Charles Fulton and Guy Fulton in Detroit. Mr. Weinberg was a guest Christmas Day at the Charles Dolph home in the village.

The true story of Northville's mild December: Robert E. Geraghty, Grade avenue, first observing earlier on rural route No. one, reports seeing a farmer drawing in alfalfa from the field Saturday, Dec. 26. This was not from the stack but from individual piles. Farmers were working on the Seven Mile road the first of this week.

Bustmaster and Mrs. P. E. Van Atta had the pleasure of having their entire family around their table for Christmas dinner. Their son, Foster, who has been stationed as engineer in the government camp at Paducah, Ky., for over a year was able to be at home. Another son, Ward, a student at Michigan State college and a friend Charles Noble, were also present.

It was a "green Christmas."

Holiday guests at the D. W. Hayes home, 348 West Main street, were Mr. and Mrs. George S. Hayes of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Robertson of Albion, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hart and Mrs. Sister of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Griswold welcomed a family party at their home Christmas day when Mr. and Mrs. Howard Church and son, Bobby, of Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barron and daughter, Jane, Detroit, were their guests.

Here to spend the college recess in the village are students from the University of Michigan including Paul Beard, Neil Currie, Harold Farbante, Augustus Miller, Alfred Parmentier, Frank Spragg, McLean and Wilfred Sterner.

Edwin Weinberg, instructor of music at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., is spending the holidays with Mrs. Charles Fulton and Guy Fulton in Detroit. Mr. Weinberg was a guest Christmas Day at the Charles Dolph home in the village.

News of Northville's Neighbors

Human Interest Briefs From Exchange Columns

Belleview — The Belleview high school debate team clinched the winter and nearly everything else, too. The Outer Metropolitan Debate League youngster needs for a good start in championship Thursday night, Dec. 21. Clinton County Republicans, when it defeated the Berkley News.

Lake Orion — At 1:15 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 31, Superintendent A. J. Huggett of the Lake Orion public school will broadcast an address over Station CKLW, Windsor, on "The New Education in Respect to Alcohol and Narcotics".

This address is in connection with a series of talks sponsored by the Michigan State W. C. T. U. Letters sent to the broadcasting station by way of comment on this educational work will be greatly appreciated.

Farmington — Ten weeks without a single accident of any kind on the Farmington cut-off which formerly had been Michigan's most dangerous stretch of highway, where 50 people had been killed, and scores seriously injured, this is the outcome of personal attention devoted to the situation by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Vanwagoner, who last fall, after careful study, based the work of his department upon the solution which has worked "like magic" to transform the former "suicide stretch" into a section of more than average safety. — The Farmington Enterprise.

Dearborn — A little dog scampered across the road. A driver, returning from a Christmas shopping tour with his wife and two youths, started to avoid striking the dog. There was a dead-on, crash and seconds afterwards two people were dead and four badly injured. To record one of the worst accidents in the history of Dearborn township, it occurred on Fort road just west of Gothic road shortly after 3 p.m. Friday, Dec. 12.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Fred and Vicent Bluge, 15, and Jack recommended and approved for Rebenthal, also 15, both of Wayne policemen by the Mayor and council, but later it was found one was under age and another was over bilingual. In total, six were over the Dearborn Press.

Milford — Very financially spent was the day which marked the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Hall occurring Sunday, Dec. 20. After a gathering of about 40 relatives, neighbors, and old friends came to the home of the Millford Press.

St. Johns — On or soon after Jan. 1, a baby will be born somewhere in Clinton county. Again this year the first baby of the New Year will find a cluster of fine gifts awaiting him or her. There will be food, blankets, pillows, cash books, clothing, something for the tumors;

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Werner and son, Frank of Redford, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Stroman of Detroit were guests Wednesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nacker and son, Russel, and Mrs. George Grace were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Nacker of Clintonville.

Helen Aut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Aut also has been ill, has recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Trapp and daughter, Dorothy, were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trapp, Jr., Redford.

The next meeting of the Community Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Marvin Addis on Wednesday afternoon Jan. 6. At this time the annual election of officers will be held.

Redford — While a piercing wind swept out of the north and snow flakes fell from a sombre sky, a small group of about 30 persons gathered Sunday, Dec. 20, at a 10-cent Person avenue to take part in sod-turning ceremonies for the $115,000 home for the aged to be constructed by the Detroit chapter of King's Daughters and Sons. — The Redford Record.

The good cheer club, composed of a number of the younger boys and girls of Folker Subdivision held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Lucian Gilbert on Tuesday evening. A careful study of the Christmas tree was made between Kummel and his stepson,

John Sheets, in the kitchen of the Kummel home near South Lake Sept. 24.

"One thing about this case has impressed me," said Judge George W. Sample, "and that is that not one single solitary neighbor has come into court to testify as to the defendant's good character. It is evident then that he has not lived in a manner that would inspire confidence in his neighbors."
