COUNTY GIVES HINES' NAME TO PARKWAY

Commissioner Serves Board for 30 Years to Improve Highways

Wayne County Road Commissioners have adopted a resolution to call the county parkway the "Edward N. Hines Drive," thus honoring Mr. Hines, who has given 30 years of continuous service as a member of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

This board was formed 30 years ago with Henry Ford and Cass Benson sitting with Mr. Hines. During Mr. Hines' tenure of office every mile of highway in Wayne county has been improved.

Responsible for Superhighways With other Mr. Hines worked to establish and develop the master plan of superhighways which characterizes Michigan's highway system. He has to his credit a number of outstanding improvements in highway design, such as the resurfacing and widening of existing concrete pavements, the white line marking of pavement centerline and traffic lanes and the best finish for concrete roads.

His innovations in highway development have taken into consideration safety features and public convenience which have become a reality through established practices of snow removal, night lighting, road direction and warning signs, pedestrian sidewalks and the construction of highway and railroad grade separations.

Mr. Hines was one of the pioneers in roadside beautification which included the planting of trees and shrubs, there being now more than 90,000 shade trees planted along the highways, and the removal of advertising signs and the limiting of entire removal of electric wires along the highways.

It is chiefly through Mr. Hines' efforts that approximately 1,200 acres of land have been acquired and developed for parks and parkways and 19 comfort stations have been constructed in various parts of the country.

Mr. Hines was one of the pioneers in roadside beautification which included the planting of trees and shrubs, there being now more than 90,000 shade trees planted along the highways, and the removal of advertising signs and the limiting of entire removal of electric wires along the highways.

In view of Mr. Hines' contribution to Wayne county's highways, the commissioners have favored the following resolution: "Be it resolved that in commemoration of the commission's 30th anniversary..."

56 DEATHS OCCUR IN VILLAGE IN YEAR; 6 DIE IN AUTO WRECKS

Twice a birth for a death and a death for a birth in 1936, according to the registrations in Northville's Village Hall, where 56 new babies' names were filed and 56 deaths were reported.

This number, however, does not include one of Northville's most prominent business and civic leaders, N. C. Schrader, 58, whose death occurred Feb. 5 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and John Cleaver, 67, who died July 3 in the University hospital, Ann Arbor, where he was taken after crashing into a car driven by Fred Turk of Pontiac on West Eight Mile road.

Six of the deaths were results of auto accidents: Mrs. Fred Wendt, 29, Jan. 21; Hilda Rose, Sharpe, of Howell, 16, May 11; Esther McNamara of Detroit, 56, June 3; Alex H. Johnson, 45, July 16; John Mandl of Plymouth, 21, Oct. 11; and Mr. Cleaver.

Other former Northville residents who died here during the past year include: Nellie Mae Pardee, 68, Jan. 1; James H. Sarag, 84, Jan. 2; James N. VanDyne, 57, Jan. 15; (Continued on page 8)

Old-Timers Differ on Weather Stories "Open Winter" Is Point For Debate

BY C. A. HUTTON, Walled Lake

Over at Art's the other night, the boys got to talking about open winters. There is some difference of opinion, it seems, as to what constitutes an open winter. Charley, who claims to have seen a good many open and shut winters in his time, proclaimed that an open winter is one during which bare ground may be seen continuously from December 21 to March 21.

Joe declared that he'd lived as long as Charley and never remembered any winter such as that, and still figured he knew an open winter when he saw one. To be open, said Joe, a winter shouldn't force the thermometer below 20 degrees above zero, and whatever snow did fall soon melted away with frequent thaws.

The whole conversation was started by someone asking if anybody had ever known the lake ice to break up in January, like it was now. Jim recollected the time, a few years ago, in November, when the lake froze over and broke up three different times. "That was the year," he said, "of the best skating and ice hockey I ever saw. Letters of congratulatory nature came from all over the world."

Frank remembered the time about 20 years ago, when he and his father and a couple of others went fishing in a row boat in February. He also recalled what he considered a rather open spell, about 35 years ago, when he did some plowing between Christmas and New Year's day. It was about that time, too, that someone he knew figured spring had actually arrived, and went to work in his shirt sleeves. A few days later the fellow died of pneumonia. Frank said his father told him that the day he died, Frank was born, the dust was blowing like it did in August.

Everybody was conceding that so far, this season could be rated as fairly open, when Ed shivered in through the door, saying the thermometer outside had just slipped just 18 degrees on its way down, and that the sky looked like it might snow. John remarked that his corns had been talking up to him for the past day or so, a sure sign of a change in the weather, usually a storm. He observed that winter wasn't over yet, and proposed that it would make up for lost time when it did come.

Everybody else thought so, too, and ordered another round of hamburgers and coffee.

MISS MILLER FILLS SCHOOL POSITION

TWO FRIENDS CHAT ON STREET UNTIL RECORD IS BROKEN

Friday's Champion Talkers Are F. A. Brown and Bina Hayes, Royal Oak

Frank A. Brown, 620 North Center street, and Bina Hayes, Royal Oak, formerly of Northville, broke a record of sorts here last Friday afternoon.

Sometime before 2:35 o'clock the two friends met in front of Schrader's furniture store. Here, it is surmised, they exchanged greetings, spoke of old friends, commented upon the unusual weather, remarked about the changing times and concluded that things had come to a "pretty pass."

And while all this chatter was taking place, business men passed them on the way to the post office, by car, or on their way from school and shoppers crossed their paths as they came to the village for late afternoon errands.

It was not until 5:13 p. m. by the town clock that the two men parted to go their separate ways, not knowing that they had broken a street-talking endurance record in Northville, at least for Friday, Jan. 8.

PLYMOUTH BASKET AGES TAKE GAME

Duguid Is Northville's High Score Man; 3-Year Victory Record Is Broken

BY JACK SCUDENVOLL

Northville lost a rough, hard scrap to Plymouth, played Tuesday night on the local floor, 27-25. It was the first time Northville has been defeated by Plymouth in three years.

Northville made the first basket of the game and three more while Plymouth was making two baskets and a foul shot to make it 8 to 5 at the end of the first quarter. The second quarter Plymouth put in four new men to pile up a nine-point lead at the half, to leave Northville in the hole with 11, while Plymouth had 20.

Plymouth started the same lineup as at the beginning of the game and Northville promptly began to score again coming up to one point behind, 22-23 at the quarter ended. Plymouth changed its lineup again and stopped Northville's scoring while making six more baskets to make the final score, 27-25.

Edge of Plymouth played a brilliant game, making 13 points. Duguid made 16 points for Northville.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

Bringing refreshing new thoughts from college life, a team of four students from the University of Michigan were guest speakers at the Baptist church at three services Sunday. Miss Catherine Stitt, Miss Helen Churchill, Ardee Causey and Walter Van Hoek comprised the team.

"Life at Its Best" was presented in a practical talk in the morning service by Miss Stitt who emphasized the importance of keeping body and mind and spirit right to maintain a happy life. Ardee Causey, a southerner with a characteristic accent, spoke on the subject, "What the Church Should Mean to a Young Christian."

In a conference with the young folks of the church in the evening "Practical Christian Living" was discussed by Mr. Causey, Miss Churchill leading the meeting.

"My Own Worst Enemy" was the theme of Miss Churchill in the evening service. The speaker is an instructor in the biology department of William Jewell college, Liberty, Mo., and is about to receive her doctor's degree from the University of Michigan. Her talk was followed by an equally thoughtful discussion, "I Believe in Prayer" by Mr. Van Hoek.

Mrs. K. S. North sang a solo in the morning and also "joined in a diet with her husband, the pastor of the church."

So successful was the conference with the visitors from the university that the Baptist church is planning to invite another group in the spring.

RELEASE OESTERLE IN ARSON CHARGE

Former Maybury Sanatorium Employee Tells 'Burd' of Insured House

A Grand Jury has found William Oesterle, a former Maybury sanatorium employee, not guilty on an arson charge in connection with the burning of his home in Akron.

Following his arrest at St. Louis, Mo., a week after the fire which broke out in his home at Akron the night of July 28, 1936, after dinner had called officers to the scene where they found evidence that the fire had been set. Oesterle maintained his innocence of the crime and demanded examination when arraigned on the two counts brought against him by prosecuting Attorney Bates Mills.

At the time of his arrest, Oesterle was employed at Maybury and denied any knowledge of the crime. According to testimony given at his trial last week, Oesterle left Northville and went to St. Louis after being questioned by the officers working on the case. En route he wrote a letter to Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Erb saying that he had not told him all the particulars of the events which might be connected with the fire. He further wrote that he had told a "bum" in a Northville beer garden, after buying him several beers and food, that he owned a house in Akron which was insured for $500.

He had told this man, who was going to take a trip through the Thumb, that he could stay in the house.

Fremmen testified that the fire did little damage to the property and that the fire chief called officers after examination disclosed that gasoline had been spread around the furniture. The prosecution introduced a mattress as evidence tending to show the fire had been set.

Prosecutors also attempted to show that the house was not worth the $500 insurance carried by Oesterle on the personal and real property which has been purchased for a small sum. It was brought out by the defense that Oesterle had made a number of improvements.

COUNCILMEN VOTE 3-2 FOR IRONIZED RESERVOIR WALLS

Submit 9-Point Contract to H. B. Culbertson Company

The content of the contract agreed to by councilmen with a 3-2 vote in the special meeting Thursday evening, Jan. 7, has been submitted for acceptance to H. B. Culbertson, contractor for the village water-reservoir PWA project which has not passed the waterproofing test. The following "ironized" process will, if done satisfactorily, be accepted by the commissioners:

- 1. Thoroughly clean the surface to be waterproofed.
2. Remove scale and all foreign matter to a necessary and reasonable depth of 1/2 inch.
3. Apply a coat of ironized concrete to the surface of the wall.
4. When ready, the mortar properly prepared, apply a four-inch ironized concrete coat over all the ironized surface. This coat to be left, smooth and uniform.
5. Cut out and fill concrete-trench joints in walls.
6. Cut, break and fill concrete joints in floor slab.
7. Thoroughly clean the floor and then apply ironite and heavy slush coat over the entire surface.
8. Apply one-inch ironite plaster over west, south and east walls to the floor of the reservoir.
9. To furnish good and satisfactory bonds by said H. B. Culbertson company and also the Western Waterproofing company, guarantee the work herein set forth for a period of not less than five years. It is understood and hereby acknowledged by said H. B. Culbertson company and the Western Waterproofing company that this work shall be done to the entire satisfaction of an inspector selected by the commissioners of the Village of Northville.

COUNCILMEN ACCEPT PLAN FOR REPAIRS

Gregory Investigates Method Used in Ironizing Process, "Best Known," He Says - STOP PAY CHECKS

VILLAGE HAS RIGHT TO TAKE OVER PROJECT AT END OF TEN DAYS' TIME

At a meeting of Northville's water-reservoir PWA project has been accepted by the council. H. B. Culbertson's acceptance or rejection of the contract which was adopted with a 3-2 vote in a regular meeting Thursday evening, Jan. 7.

Thursday morning, Jan. 11 Mr. Culbertson had failed to accept the proposition approved by the commissioners, which originated with him when the reservoir form were laid down and it was learned that the walls leaked.

Culbertson Makes First Step In an effort to keep from opening new wells, Culbertson suggested that a bonded process be used to waterproof the structure. His suggestion with several specific demands was agreed to by the councilmen.

When the contract was accepted Thursday evening by the council, Culbertson objected to the councilmen's request that a one-inch ironite plaster coat be applied to the west, south and east walls and the floor after the same area had been covered with several coatings of genuine ironite.

Contractor Objects to Plaster Culbertson said that the additional inch coating was not necessary to make the structure satisfactorily waterproof. On the other hand, commissioners refused to consider the ironized process without demanding the extra iron plastering. This specification was made upon Engineer Hernal P. Hamill's recommendation.

It was Hamill who inspected the walls and found them to be unsatisfactory. Subsequently payment checks for the work have been withheld from Culbertson and will not be released until work is started on the ironizing process, which is to be done by the Western Waterproofing company.

Village Can Take Over Project It is understood that unless Culbertson resumes work on the reservoir by Jan. 23, the village has the right to take over the project. Commissioners Elmer Perrin and Floyd C. Sauer were opposed to the action. (Continued on page 8)

PNEUMONIA FATAL TO MISS EVA BOVEE, 85

Last rites were held at 4 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 12, from the Schrader Brothers chapel for Miss Eva Bovee, 85, who died Saturday evening, Jan. 9, following a two-day illness of pneumonia at Elmer hospital.

Miss Bovee, who was born the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bovee who were among the pioneer families of the village, was for more than 35 years proprietor of a millinery and general merchandise store in Northville. She opened a store on a lot on Main street, later moving into a building where the Schrader funeral chapel now stands. Miss Bovee retired from active business life some 23 years ago.

She was a charter member of the Orient chapter of the Eastern Star and had the distinction of being its first worthy matron.

Even though ill health made it impossible for her to attend meetings in recent years, she kept in touch with the Past Matrons.

Her only immediate relatives are three nephews of Chicago. One brother, Stillman, preceded her in death several years ago.

Burial was made in the Oakland cemetery in the family lot. The Rev. Harry J. Lord of the Methodist church conducted the funeral and grave service.

NEGRO DEATHS FROM TB ARE SIX TIMES THAT OF WHITES... WILLIS

The question of what to do with the twelve million Negroes who live in the United States is one of the gravest issues before the people, Dr. H. S. Willis, superintendent of the Maybury sanatorium, told Northville Rotaryans and guests at their weekly luncheon Tuesday noon.

Speaking informally, Dr. Willis pointed out that the assimilation into national life of this very large and growing group is a most difficult matter. From the standpoint of health, social relations and of economic adjustment, the Negro race faces many obstacles. Dr. Willis, an authority on tuberculosis, stated that in some sections of the country sanitary conditions are so inadequate that the death rate from "TB" is six times that of the rate among the whites. In industry the colored people face great handicaps—they

LEST WE FORGET

According to Washington dispatches, the public debt of the United States—your government—on January 1 reached a new all-time peak of $34,407,864,000. The bright spot in the national financial outlook is that the deficit for the first half of this fiscal year is only $1,386,013,000—about five hundred millions less than for the same period last year.

WHERE IS HE NOW?

Speaking of the late King Edward—which no one has been doing for some days back—where is David Windsor now and what is he doing? His name is gone from the front pages of our daily paper. We have been reading about strikes, about Congress and the European situation, but little about Mr. Windsor or "Wally."

How soon the public forgets. How fickle we are! How easily we are led to some new sensation and made to forget the old. Well, April will soon be here and we shall be hearing of the wedding of the late monarch and Mrs. Simpson, who certainly "had a way with her."

IS THE BUILDING BOOM HERE?

It is rather a strange sight, right here in the winter season—by the calendar anyway—to go down East Main street and see a new house going up and then to journey the other way and see the same sight on our western outskirts.

Can it be that the building boom is here at last? Economists and statisticians have been telling us for weeks that the whole country would soon see an expansion of building of homes and that all sections would feel the effects of the boom. We are now said to be in the upward cycle that will go on for six or seven years before the "down swing" comes again.

Northville is surely in need of some new homes and whoever builds now will reap a fine satisfaction for himself and family. Costs are said to be higher than a few months ago but those who know best say that they will be higher a few months from now.

There is probably no better time to build than now. Join the home owners and find a new joy in living.

WHO ARE THE UNEMPLOYED?

With all that we read of unemployment, the fact remains that right in this Detroit area, there is difficulty in getting men to work at certain kinds of work. Ask the average farmer what luck he has had in getting help the past few months and if you hear what you have heard, you will be surprised at what you learn.

Here is a sample of how hard it is to get men. Just a few Sunday ago, in a large Royal Oak church, the pastor made an urgent appeal for some men to work. He asked the congregation to get in touch with him. The amazing thing is that he received not a single request. The fact is that many who are getting help from the government are satisfied with their weekly wage and cannot be induced to do more work than their hours call for.

One thing is sure: The American people will not always consent to keep on the dole those who have a chance to work elsewhere than their regular job. The cost of relief is too staggering a cost for the country to stand for such imposition. The government does not owe a living to anyone who can earn it for himself. And the tax payers will not continue to pay out huge sums to those who refuse to help themselves to their full and honest ability. There is a limit to paternalism in our government.

THE ORIGIN OF THE "SIT-DOWN" STRIKE

The "sit-down" strike which started the "big shut-down" of automotive plants all over the country is not an American institution. Americans supposedly have been taught to observe property rights.

According to information that is now going the rounds of the press, the "sit-down" strike which has been costing the country a million dollars and more every day, came from France. It is said to have been brought here as the result of a visit made to France by John L. Lewis, the head of the C. I. O. group. If this is the case, it would seem that Mr. Lewis has plenty for which to answer. The "sit-down" strike has so much menace to it that if it continues there will surely result some great tragedy; organized labor can never hope to win public favor with that kind of a weapon. There can be no defense for illegally taking over the property of others.

As a matter of fact, we can thank foreign influence for much of our labor troubles. Radicals from overseas seem to have high seats of power in labor circles and it is surprising that Americans who know the growth and progress of this nation will so meekly submit to domination by these foreign leaders.

Mr. Lewis is now being battled by the American Federation of Labor, as well as the great industrial plants. His position is a sorry one. The tragedy is that the strike has cost such vast sums of money and that so many innocents have had to suffer.

"CHAFF BEFORE THE WIND"

In writing editorially of the sudden death of two very estimable people, Editor Muri H. DeFoe says that we are as "chaff before the wind." How eternally true. "As a flower of the field he flouriseth and then is cut down."

Then in one of his editorials The Charlotte Editor adds: "Some person now reading this comment will be in next week's death list. Just as an after-thought, when did you last see your will? Remember what happened to the property of Mrs. Azora Shepherd whose estate was literally scattered to the four winds."

DON'T LET INFLATION "GET YOU"

The experts are telling us that the national administration is "putting the brakes on recovery." In financial ways that are hard for the average man to understand, Washington is trying to slow down the spirit of too rapid business advance. Ways are being found to check too easy credit. The banks are full of loanable funds, but of course, Washington realizes that too much spending and above all, too much easy credit, might bring about another such time as we had prior to the "bust" in 1929. All are afraid of inflation.

As another boom may be on the way—if strikes don't ruin it and also ruin reasonable recovery—it may be well for each one of us to remember that there is personal danger in going into debt too much and to remember that if we mortgage the future too much, there is grave danger of another collapse of our own assets. Some folks are said to have started buying stocks again in the hope of quick and big gains. Whoever has the temptation to buy too many stocks should put this sign over his front door: "You never will go bankrupt if you don't owe anyone." To a large degree, each of us controls his financial future. Look well to reasonable safeguards.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

Five completely destroyed the eight room brick veneer grade school building here early Monday morning, Jan. 15. It is believed that sparks from the chimney caught in the cupola on the roof and caused the conflagration which could not be controlled in the high wind. Flames from the building were discovered at 5 a. m. by Miss Constance Lee, a nurse at Sessions hospital, who immediately notified the fire department.

Mr. S. W. Wilkinson died here in his room Saturday evening at the age of 63. When death came to James N. Vandine age 57, late Tuesday night Jan. 14, in the Sessions hospital Northville lost a long-time village resident who had been prominent in Masonry and civic life for more than 25 years.

For the second time the contract for the PWA water reservoir has been granted by a unanimous vote of the members of the village council to the H. B. Culbertson company in Detroit. The agreement, upon pending the approval of the national PWA department, specified that the structure is to be made of concrete and be equipped with a chlorinator, the cost in accordance with the original contract not to exceed $18,166.68.

A teletype machine was installed in the Village Hall Thursday by H. L. Wood of the Plymouth Telephone company. Installation was authorized by Wayne county and is the twenty-third machine in use in the county police circuit.

Northville was invaded last Friday, Jan. 8, by a "horde" of fast, snappy basketball players from Walled Lake. The conflict was fiercely fought, but decisive. The final score was 22-13 in favor of Walled Lake.

Northville turned out en masse to aid welfare and to enjoy the

The first week has offered rare sport for Northville baseball fans. Last Friday night our teams met their old rivals, the boys and girls teams from Plymouth and it may be truly said that the girls' contest was one of the snappiest and most exciting games ever played on the local court. When the final whistle blew the score board revealed a tie. Our girls returned to the floor and played their school to victory. Later in the Northville boys team trounced the Plymouth team by a 28 to 19 score.

The following officers have been elected by the King's Daughters for the year: President, Mrs. G. W. Hills; vice-president, Mrs. Ed. Sessions; secretary, Mrs. W. H. Safford; assistant secretary, Mrs. Lefroy Stewart; treasurer, Mrs. May Noble.

Last Saturday night, teams representing the high schools of Farmington and Northville debated the question, "Resolved: That the principle of the closed shop should receive the approval of the American people." Northville, the winner, was represented by Cleon Dey, Della Brooks and Elizabeth VanValkenburgh.

American Legion officers for the year are: Commander, L. D. Stage, Jr.; senior vice-commander, James Dickerson; adjutant, A. V. Barber; sergeant-at-arms, Norton Green; post historian, Louis Ransom; publicist, Lyle Alexander.

Married at the Northville Baptist parsonage Monday, Jan. 15, 1917, by the Rev. Francis A. Brass, Clyde Eckles and Miss Vera Perkins of Plymouth.

The subject for debate at the meeting of the society last Monday night was, "Resolved: That the President of the United States should be elected by popular vote." Aletha Yerkes, Coacola Mueller and Charles Wilcox were on the affirmative side; Dorothy Dubuar, Flora Miller and Wendell Miller were on the negative. The decision was in favor of the negative side.

The most reckless man in Northville, when it comes to leaving valuables lying around, is "Bill" Ambler, as witness, the big black diamond out in front of his office. It is a temptation to somebody to commit grand larceny.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Deal and baby moved to Ypsilanti where the former is employed with the Schrader Motor company.

This Friday evening will see a good bowling match between the Farmington and Northville No. 3 teams at the Hinkley bowling alley. Farmington is one game ahead of Northville and, notwithstanding the fact that one of the best local bowlers, C. A. Sessions, is on the sick list, the town team aims to even things up.

"I'd like to buy a telephone call"

WHEN you call a telephone number on the other side of town you are making an important purchase. You say in effect:

"Give me the use of miles of wire, of cables under the street, a section of switchboard and all the other equipment needed in the central office. I shall need one kind of current to carry my voice and another to ring the bells that signal the other party. I may need the services of an operator or two. I want all your equipment to be in perfect working order so that my call is clear and goes through without interruption. I would like this all arranged to connect me with my party instantly—and at a cost of a few cents."

Telephone people are asked to do this millions of times a day and find nothing unusual in the request. But to do it at the price you pay for telephone service—in fact, to do it at all—has taken many years of the most skillful and unremitting research, engineering and organization.

Telephone service in the United States is the most efficient, dependable and economical in the entire world.

NOT BIG ENOUGH TO BE A MOTHER

She was the mother of seven children. Six daughters and one son had grown to maturity and had left the home shelter going out into the world carrying the ideals of wise parents.

Overcome suddenly by the weight of responsibility of caring for these young lives the young mother exclaimed to her own mother who was standing near, "Oh, I'm not big enough to be a mother! To care for their bodies, feed and clothe them, fight through the years, to come, train them wisely and prepare them for whatever is to come, I'm just not big enough!"

Very tenderly the older mother put her arms around her daughter and said, "Of course you're not, my child. No one is big enough to be a mother. But listen to this: Child of my love, lean hard, I know thy burden, I shipped it—made no provision in it's weight to thine unaided strength. For even as I laid it on I said 'I shall be near'—And while she leans on me—The burden shall be mine, not hers. Yet closer come, I would know all thy care: Child of my love, lean hard."

Period before the children came.

We were like ships without a port then. Even the anxieties have been "growing pains" and one is "bigger" for being a mother.

ABANDON HIT-MISS METHOD OF FINDING ENGINE TROUBLE

The "hit-and-miss" age of diagnosing engine or electrical system performance in an automobile is disappearing. In this day the aim is to anticipate and prevent troubles before they occur, greatly cutting down costly repair bills, according to Tom Edmondson, local Ford dealer. "Widespread use of a laboratory test set developed by the Ford Motor company has resulted in important advances in automobile service," Mr. Edmondson said. By means of the test set, guess work in diagnosing an engine's faulty performance is largely eliminated. Time and labor spent in repairing engine and electrical systems is cut to a minimum. Since this equipment was first put in service, 7,500 of these laboratory test sets have been placed in the hands of dealers in the United States and foreign countries. Mechanics in Ford dealerships throughout the nation have been trained in the use of these sets. Since the test sets have been placed in the hands of dealers in the United States and foreign countries, they have received this training. Some of the mechanics have proved themselves so well adapted to the diagnostic work that they have been granted certificates of efficiency. A total of 5,719 certificates have been issued and more are being awarded daily. During 1936 more than 5,000 Ford mechanics received specialized training on the science of wheel alignment, steering control and tire life.

East Lansing—Michigan State College is confronted with another crisis. Like a bar that has outgrown its coffee, the college has outgrown its facilities.

Two years ago the enrollment was 2,750 and now today 4,000 are present for work on the campus. An increase of 1,250.

In 1926 there were 725 women enrolled in the college with dormitory accommodations for 140. Now there are 1,400 girls on the campus, but the women's building has increased from 100,000 sq. ft. to 2,000,000 sq. ft. and the dormitory program has been expanded to include the Union, the Campus Hotel has been taken over to make room altogether for 582 women students. If there are 1,455 women students on the campus, leaving 873 who must find rooms off the campus. More women announced they were enrolling in 1937—Michigan State College Record.

Milford—Milford will again entertain the annual high school basketball tournament. It has been announced after word had been received from the State director of athletics and the committee on tournament locations that they had selected Milford as the logical point for the 1937 series. Dates are March 4, 5 and 6.

An added feature of this year's tournament which will considerably heighten the interest is the announcement that Class B schools will participate. In all former years play has been limited to Class C and D schools only.—The Milford Times.

Holly—In a dispatch from Grand Rapids appearing in the Detroit News recently, it was announced that by a compromise settlement reached in Circuit Court, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Hadley, Holly, will receive stocks, bonds, jewelry and other properties worth $91,912.50 in 1935 from the estate of Mrs. Nellie R. Warren.

The Hadleys had brought suit against the Michigan Trust company as executor of the estate, and intervening defendants, all distant relatives of Mrs. Warren, on the ground that, to induce them to live with her, she had promised them the bulk of her estate.

She died in 1935 without having changed her will to include them, but had told several persons about the arrangement.—The Holly Advertiser.

Milford—An 8-months old White Leghorn pullet from the flock of H. A. Seuhr, who lives on the former Will Webb place, mistook her mission in life and decided she belonged to the ostrich family. At least that was the way it looked to Mr. Seuhr for recently he found the pullet's daily contribution to be a six-ounce single yolked egg, which measured 7 1/4 inches around and 8 1/4 inches around lengthwise. The average large hen's egg weighs less than 2 ounces.—The Milford Times.

Birmingham—A four-year-old charge that she removed $400 worth of furniture from the home of her mother in Defiance, O. after the latter's death, resulted in Mrs. Vanebe Adams, wife of Merrill C. Adams, being arrested for grand larceny and taken to the Wayne county jail Monday evening. She was released to her attorney a short time later.

The warrant issued at her arrest charges Mrs. Adams specifically with taking a davenport, two chairs, struction soon at Grand River and Greenfield road, according to plans of Montgomery Ward as announced late last week through George Haggerty, Detroit attorney.—The Redford Record.

Farmington—Efforts are being made to clear-up a tax controversy of eight years' standing on the largest single piece of property in the City of Farmington, with the prospect held out that this will result in an extensive subdivision development on which a number of homes may be erected in the near future.

The City is being asked to cancel its portion of the 1923 taxes amounting to about $6,000 on the Ely farm lying between Shawasse and Ten Mile roads, and between Power avenue and Orchard Lake road. The inducement offered the City for canceling the levy is that thereby it will be possible to put this land on the market again, and through the sale of lots, pay up taxes on the property beginning with 1930 down to date. The property involved consists of 129 acres, and it is proposed to subdivide this into parcels of one acre and up.

Already there have been two lawsuits over assessments on the property, with one victory for the owners and the other for the City. There is outstanding $27,000 in taxes, municipal, county and State, against the property. More than half of the total is in the 1928 levy, of which about $5,000 was for city taxes and $10,000 for the county and State.—The Farmington Enterprise.

Dearborn—Jan 9 marked the eighth birthday of Greater Dearborn. The consolidated city made up of the cities of Fordson and Dearborn and the intervening territory began to function officially Jan. 9, 1929 when the new charter was accepted.—The Dearborn Independent.

Trenton—Trenton's new elementary school building will be formally dedicated at ceremonies to be held in the school auditorium Wednesday, Jan. 20.—The Trenton Times.

Wayne—Darric Brothers of Detroit, well known oil operators in the State, has informed the Detroit of their intentions to commence a well on the west end of town. The well has been financed by a group of Wayne, Wyandotte and Detroit business men, and the drilling contract has been awarded to the Hartzel Drilling Company, Detroit.

Location of the well will be on the Louis Truitt farm, on the north side of Michigan avenue. The well-drilling rig and equipment has been hauled by truck to the site. The spudding will be done Jan. 15.—The West End Dispatch.

Belleville—Mrs. William Richards took charge of the pulpits at New Boston and Belleville the past two Sundays because of the illness of the Rev. Richards.—The Belleville Enterprise.

GIRLS TO PLAY BELLEVILLE TEAM

Undefeated Team to Meet Belleville Six Next Week Here

The NBS girls' basketball team was to meet the Belleville six in the Northville gym at 7 p. m. Jan. 14.

The Northville teams have won the two games they have played—Berkley and Redford by a high margin.

The Belleville team has lost all the games it has played, these being with Berkley, Redford Union and Melvindale.

Coach Gladys Ludwig stated that the girls had a very good chance to win the game and that the starting lineup would most likely be as follows:

Forwards—Pat McLoughlin, Madeline Bramer and Betty Haystead; guards—Mary Jane Gregory, Kathryn Marburger and Helen Van Sickle.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD MEETING ON JAN. 6

Jan. 6 was the date of the regular meeting of the Girl Scouts in the Scott building. The treasurer, Yvonne Taylor, reported that the troop had over $19 in the treasury. It was decided to take out five dollars for the charter due in March, 1937, and three dollars for the troop flag.

The captain, Miss Florence Harper, suggested that the girls make scrapbooks of paper, fabric and paste in pictures and old Christmas cards, and send them to the sponsors for the children. This suggestion will be acted on at the next meeting.

Allie Eaton was delegated to ask Miss Doris Pober if she would instruct them in Inlocum block printing.

A candy sale was arranged for Jan. 11 in the lower hall. Before the business meeting the girls worked on signaling and trail signs.

Society

Everybody seemed to do unusual things last week end and for the majority or plurality or something, it was staying home.

Dorothy Niles and Marian Beauchamp explored Greenfield Village, Saturday and also took in the Michigan theatre.

Jean Safey was extremely lucky, we think. She saw a radio broadcast at WWJ, Wednesday.

Nan McLoughlin and her brother, Jack, saw a polo game, Friday night.

Eat McLoughlin and Sumner Gow watched the Midget auto races, Friday at the Coliseum.

Virginia Washburne danced with a Plymouth group.

The party Helen Harper had to postpone, because vacation week was too crowded, was given last Saturday, Jane Vanatta, Dorothy Heaton, Jeanne Atchison, Kathryn Marburger, Lucille Lapham, Geraldine Johnson and Marjorie Chase were all there.

Doris Tewksbury had a small waffle party. Not small waffles, but a small number of guests. Helen Winters, Skip Hochkane and Bruce Turnbull were over—after the jitney dance, Friday.

The S. D. C. club had a potluck affair Thursday at Jean Anderson's. You know the club's members!

Madeline Bramer spent the week end in Farmington.

A threesome instead of the usual twosome, Vivian Grosbenor, Myrtle Dress and Ken Wilbur were in Detroit and Plymouth, Saturday.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

In just another week the mid-year exams will be upon us, and soon a new semester will be beginning. It would be a fine thing if all of you students could look back and honestly say, "Since school started I have really accomplished something." Unfortunately, we can't all do that. But next semester we can try, so that when June rolls around we will know that the school year has brought us something.

During the coming semester every class from the seniors down should try to make this an epoch year. Perhaps the freshmen or the sophomores, or juniors aren't planning to spend the money they make on a Washington trip, after they graduate. If they aren't definite as to what they will do with their class money, they ought to think seriously about what use it can be put to. There are dozens of ways that class money could be used for the good of the school. Naturally, the choice must be put up to the class itself.

But whether your class plans a Washington trip or some other use for their money, let's all dig in and make 1937 a banner year in school history.

SHADOWS DRAMATIC CLUB PLANS PLAYS

The Shadows, the dramatic and speech club of the sophomore class, held a Christmas party in the home economics room on Monday, Dec. 21. Presents were exchanged and refreshments served. The cocoa was laced with sugar in so no complaints were heard.

The club will soon give three plays, with the cast being members of the group. The rehearsals will begin at the end of the second semester. The names of the plays are "Three Dozen Pink Roses," "Winning Ways" and "Murder at Large." These plays are first to be presented for the club members.

These plays are for the purpose of teaching them to speak well and to be prepared to speak in public. This club has been organized for both girls and boys of the tenth grade.

HOLD DEBATE FOR P. T. A. MEETING

Thursday a practice debate was held at West Point Park for the P. T. A. There at the time this was written (Tuesday) Mr. Johnson said he was going to try to have a two-man team, Alfred Cousins and Nan McLoughlin to face either Farmington or Redford Union.

Northville has won four out of five debates, which very probably entitles a team to enter the next state eliminations. Our team will have four more practice debates before then.

The Observer

This Observer is getting to be rather common around here, but the subject this week is anything but that. To begin with she is a sophomore girl (there are plenty of those). She is of medium height and has gorgeous complexion, dark eyes and hair which is naturally both lovely and curly. She has a very charming manner and is a super person, except for a slight touch of temper.

Can You Imagine?

I hope you can, for I can't!

BOYS' TEAM DEFEATS VAN DYKE FIVE

Basketball Team Wins By Large Margin in Game Held Last Friday

BY JACK STUBENVOLL
After a week's layoff, Northville started the New Year right by beating Van Dyke Friday night, 25-13. Although the game was rather sluggish and rough, Northville showed flashes of good basketball. Owing to a late start in the first half, Northville only ran up a three-point margin, 8-11. The last half Northville made 5 field goals and one foul shot while Van Dyke made only one basket and three fouls to give Northville a nine-point lead at the end of the game.

Northville committed nine fouls, Van Dyke only five. For the roughness of the game this is very small. Van Dyke most always has the wildest mob in the league—they play ball like a bunch of demons—just cut loose.

The second team kept its state clean by winning 28-20. Wilbur scored almost half of Northville's points with six baskets.

Hochkins, Scott, and Westphal all scored three baskets in the first team game. Westphal had one more foul shot than either Scott or Hochkins to be high scorer for the night.

NORTHVILLE FIVE TO MEET BERKLEY THERE

The boys' basketball team will play the Berkley five at 7 p. m. Friday, Jan. 15, in Berkley's gym. Northville's team has met defeat only once this year, when Melvindale beat them with a very close score.

Coach Elliott Barr plans to start the best lineup possible in tonight's games. Several players, Bruce Turnbull among them, are ineligible, and this may lower Northville's chance of winning. Coach Barr, however, expressed every confidence in the team.

Mr. Barr was not able to give the exact starting lineup but it is believed that the same boys will start as have in the previous games.

Did You Notice?

Dick A. walking into seventh hour assembly for the past few days? Getting to be a habit.
The way E. J. and B. S. pass notes?

All the rumpus at girls' basketball practice last Tuesday?
Skipper H. tazing quite a notice of Helen V. and vice versa?

How grand the ice was for skating last Wednesday. Well bet Mr. Barr noticed it.
The way K. W. and V. G. get together between classes?

The way kids follow Mr. Barr's "one at a time in the library" rule.
The romance between Betty Jane Gillespie and Don Armstrong. It's quite the latest thing.

The way Doris T. repays her enemies? Most disgusting!
Jean Safey's absence the other morning? She was tired and went home to bed.

The way Mr. Johnson greets his late pupils.
Janet S.'s way with a certain red-head.
How very much Mrs. Hawkins appreciates books on etiquette.
How Julia M. worries over Stubbs's wince-abouts?

Miss Ludwig sladdng around corners?
How quiet it was in school on Monday? L. A. forgot her six boots.
Marie A. and K. W. making eyes in the library ninth hour?

AUNT MARTHA'S CHARACTER COLUMN

MR. BARR
Here is a teacher worthy writing about.
The reason is—I can't figure him out.
When he smiles he looks charming. But when he frowns, he's alarming.

He's "tall and dark" but I wouldn't say "handsome."
He looks strong enough to clean up on "Sampson."
In discipline, he's very severe. He frowns about 'till we shake with fear.

He's here and coach of our football squad.
It isn't his fault that we don't win. It's the student body that's committing a sin.

GIRLS DEFEAT REDFORD UNION

The Northville girls' basketball team played Redford Union last Thursday, Jan. 7, on their court at 7 p. m. The team was victorious by one basket, 14 to 13, made in the last quarter to break a tie.

At the end of the first quarter the local squad was behind by a score of 4-3 but by the half it came through to take the lead of four points.

The game was well matched and proved fast and exciting from start to finish. Redford Union, the "Champ" of last year's league, had its unbeaten record beaten largely due to the numerous fouls called on the team.

The starting lineup was as follows: Forwards, Betty Haystead, Pat McLoughlin and Madeline Bramer; guards, Helen Van Sickle, Mary Jane Gregory and Kathryn Marburger. There were no substitutions.

Inquiring Reporter

If you were to spend one month on a desert, what three books would you take along with you, and why?
Edwin L. Johnson: "I'd take 'The Anthology of World Press,' 'The Oxford Book of English and American Poetry,' and 'Of Human Bondage' just to 'kill time.'"

George Westphal: "I'd choose 'Gone With the Wind,' a telephone directory, and a book on 'How to Cook.' These I have selected because of their appeal to nature."

Carl Arnold and Harry Richardson: "We'd choose the 'World Almanac,' 'Webster's Dictionary' and a '1937 Who's Who' because we're 'nuts' about reading."

James Harper: "I'd take these books so I wouldn't be losing any education while in exile: 'Innocents Abroad,' 'Invitation to Philosophy,' and 'Biography of an Illustrator.'"

Cecil Giles: "I'd take an encyclopedia, a 'Hootie Magazine' and a book on etiquette so I'd always have enough reading material."

Don Heichman: "I'd probably take different books on Mother Goose-Nursery rhymes because I can read them without the use of a dictionary. I'd take a book on etiquette, too—not that I'd need it!"

Mickey Zartl: "I'd take 'Robinson Crusoe,' 'Treasure Island' and 'The Ship Without a Crew,' because they're my favorites."

Scott Cole: "First—a good book on food because after all one must at least read about nourishments. Second—a book about Alaska or how to keep cool and third—last but not least, something good along the line of horses just for amusement."

Geraldine Johnson: "I want to read 'Anthony Adverse' for the size and my interest, one of Jack London's Alaska books to keep me cool, and 'The Bent Twig' for English class."

ZIEGLER ANNOUNCES DESIRE FOR STATE HIGHWAY GOP POST

Charles M. Ziegler, Lansing, former deputy highway commissioner under Grover C. Dillman, announced his candidacy today for the republican nomination as State highway commissioner. "If nominated I will make an active campaign for election," Mr. Ziegler said.

The republican state convention meets in Detroit, Feb. 5, to nominate a highway commissioner, two justices of the State Supreme court, two members of the board of regents and State board of agriculture, one member of the State board of education and superintendent of public instruction.

Mr. Ziegler was graduated from the Engineering School of the University of Michigan in 1913, with a degree in civil engineering. He immediately entered the employ of the Ann Arbor railroad in the division engineer's department. Later he became affiliated with the city engineer's office at Saginaw, in charge of construction and maintenance of pavements. In 1918 Mr. Ziegler joined the aviation division of the federal government at Dayton, O., as engineer of tests and materials.

Following the war, Mr. Ziegler joined the State highway department under Commissioner Frank F. Rogers, serving as division engineer in Cadillac, Kalamazoo, Detroit, Lansing and Saginaw. Later he became construction engineer and early in 1931 was promoted to deputy commissioner, serving under Mr. Dillman until the end of his term, June 30, 1933.
