FROZEN SOIL DELAYS WORK ON PLAY FIELD

WPA Training School Jobs Include Construction of Eight Basements

Without exception, the Wayne County Training school is the point in this vicinity where WPA activities are concentrated.

Here, where more than 700 children are housed, some 15 projects, large and small, are in various stages of construction, all designed to provide further protection, give added play equipment and care for the children and patrons in a convenient way. The work was begun a year and a half ago, said Dr. R. H. Haskell, medical superintendent of the school.

Build Basements

One of the biggest undertakings on the school site is the building of basements under eight of the cottages for the purpose of providing closet space for clothes and playground equipment, as well as to give space for in-door play activity.

Another project is nearing completion, that of the athletic field which has a running track, a series of courts for games, a small grand stand and back stop. Final grading of the field has been delayed because of the freezing weather.

Rebuild Tunnels

All of the underground tunnels in which steam and service lines are laid are being rebuilt. When they are complete, they will supply the circuit from the powerplants throughout the system of buildings at the school.

A tunnel has been built under Sheldon road to permit the children to go without danger from the area on the east side of the road to the athletic field.

Other projects include:

1. A small warehouse for storing inflammable supplies.
2. An incinerator for the burning of rubbish.
3. An approach and new entrance to the auditorium—removing a dangerous panic hazard.
4. An addition to the green house.
5. Two wings to the dairy barn, one a maternity pen for cows, the other a pen for calves.
6. A root cellar for the storing of potatoes.
7. Additions to barns.
8. Landscaping work.
9. Considerable painting.
10. Construction of two wading pools, 125 feet in diameter, one for boys and one for girls.
11. Small repairs throughout the buildings.

ADVANCE TICKET SALE IS BACKED HERE FOR BALL

Committees Are Ready for Benefit Social Event Saturday Evening

According to the general chairman, Harold Bloom, everything is all set for the President's Birthday ball which will be held here from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Saturday, Jan. 30, in the high school gymnasium.

"The committees are all functioning splendidly," reported Mr. Bloom. Postmaster Fred E. Vanatta and Leland Smith, who head the ticket sale committee say that the response from the public has been favorable. The advance sale of tickets is slightly larger than it was last year. "I expect a larger attendance than we had at the third President's ball last January," said Mr. Vanatta, who remarked that a large ticket sale at the door will supplement the early demand for tickets.

Assisting the ticket committee are Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Albert Sheppard, Harold Bloom, Mrs. Clara Sharpe, Bart Connors, Mrs. S. L. Halsey and Mrs. Harry P. Blake. Darrell Nollar, chairman of the decoration committee, reports that patriotic colors, lights and balloons will be used to give the gymnasium a festive appearance. Assisting Mr. Nollar with the decorations are Tom Edmondson, Ivan Ely and C. B. Turnbull.

DOLL HOUSE WINS FIRST RIBBON IN DETROIT CONTEST

Working Boys at Training School Spend Leisure Time Making Gift

A six-room doll house, which started out to be a Christmas present found itself wearing a blue ribbon award this week, for first place in a contest sponsored by the Boys' Work Council of Detroit where projects were submitted by all agencies interested in social work among boys.

The prize-winner represents hours of work by a group of boys, 15 to 18 years of age, in one of the cottages at the Wayne County Training school. This project was started long before Christmas and was a gift to the little girls of the school. As the activity developed and grew beyond original plans, the teachers of the girls' classes became interested and the girls themselves cooperated to make curtains, rugs, bed-spreads, towels, wall pictures, furniture, pillows and other decorative items.

Complete, and wired for lighting, the house stands well over six feet high, has two floors and an attic. The attic space itself brings a smile to the inspector, for in it can be found discarded articles of furniture along with old trunks that might be expected to hold the secrets of yesterday—as is the case of all trunks found in attics.

Careful attention was given to minute details of the project. The doors that open into the different rooms are finished with knobs and latches; miniature wall brackets of metal are replicas of items sold in smart antique shops; the kitchen is modernly equipped. Even the bathroom fixtures, molded of clay, are exacting in their polished white finish.

All articles of furniture, as well as the house itself, are sturdy constructed and are examples of exceptional workmanship.

The boys and girls who made the house gave up their leisure Saturday afternoon and evening time to work on it.

RECORD ANNOUNCES SUBSCRIPTION DAYS

Serve Coffee and Doughnuts To Readers on Dollar Days, Feb. 12, 13

The Northville Record is sponsoring two subscription bargain days, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 12 and 13.

On these days, one dollar will renew a subscription or buy a new one. At the same time, coffee and doughnuts will be served to all customers who call at the office, to take advantage of the bargain days. Each time a check is made of the subscription list, it is found that many of the readers are in arrears. It is the purpose of the dollar-day rate to make it easy to bring overdue accounts to date and to pay ahead.

It has been several years since the newspaper staff combined the paying of subscriptions with a social gathering. All Record readers are invited to meet their neighbors in the office and swap stories over coffee cups.

HOLD RITES THURSDAY FOR MRS. ALICE JONES

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Thursday from the Schrader chapel for Mrs. Hamilton Jones, 85, long-time resident of Novi, who died Tuesday morning, Jan. 26, following an illness of three weeks duration.

The Rev. A. K. MacRae of the Novi Baptist church, together with the members of the Origin chapter, No. 77 of the O. E. S., had charge of the service.

Mrs. Jones who had lived in the Novi community for 43 years, was a member of the local Eastern Star chapter. Mrs. Jones was born Alice Perry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Perry of New York. Her husband preceded her in death in 1918. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Fred Durfee, 449 East Grand River; and a son, Budd of Portland, Ore. Burial was made in the Novi cemetery.

Rotarians Solicit Cash Donations

DIRECTORS SET FAIR'S DATES FOR AUG. 25-29

Board Returns from State Association Meeting with Loving Cup

The Northville Wayne County Fair for 1937 will be held Aug. 25-29, according to information released this week by the association secretary, Floyd A. Northrop.

Eighteen members of the board of directors attended a meeting of the Michigan association of fairs Thursday, Jan. 21, Detroit. This group returned to the village with the silver loving cup, which is awarded each year to the board having the largest attendance at the meeting. Only two members of the Northville board were absent.

This annual gathering of fair directors in Detroit is a clearing house for the problems of the members. Here an open forum is conducted and free acts for the coming year are booked.

Northville's horse show, which attracts specimens of fine horse flesh from other states, as well as Michigan, was the object of commendation by the president of the Michigan association, Fred Chapman. "Your horse show event," he told Mr. Northrop, "was one of the prettiest things I've seen in any fair in Michigan."

Mr. Chapman's comment came in response to Mr. Northrop's question: "Do you consider Northville's horse show an asset or a liability to the fair?"

Plans are underway to better the all-time high attendance and display records of 1936. New exhibit attractions are to be considered, among them a display of automobile trailers.

Following the custom of years, the school and educational exhibits will be under the supervision of Superintendent George Smith, Plymouth, who takes over the work every other year, alternating with Northville's superintendent of schools.

CHANGE DATE Because of illness in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin E. Rossow, Detroit, pastor-elect of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, installation services for Mr. Rossow have been changed from Jan. 31 to Feb. 7.

LIST DR. DOUGLAS WITH TB. FIGHTERS

Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, for 11 years head of the William H. Maybury sanatorium who left in 1933 to become the tuberculosis controller of Detroit, is among the fighters of the White Plague pictured in the February issue of the Country Gentleman.

His photo is used in connection with an article by Paul de Kruif, "It Costs Us Money to Die," in which the story is told of Detroit's campaign to wipe out the disease.

William J. Scripps, publisher of The Detroit News, opened his front page and allotted time or radio station WWJ to tell the facts about tuberculosis. Assisting in publicity, which has been carried in columns after columns during the past months, were Mel Wissman, radio dramatist of WWJ; Wynne Wright, program director of WWJ; A. M. Smith, ace of The Detroit News staff; Dr. Henry P. Vaughn, commissioner of health in Detroit; Dr. Thomas J. Parran, Jr., surgeon general, United States public health service; Dr. E. J. O'Brien, chief of staff, Herman Kleber hospital, Detroit.

Dr. George E. Carothers, secretary of the University committee on relations with secondary schools was here last week from Ann Arbor to visit a number of the high school classes.

King's Daughters, School Children, Workers, Legion and Auxiliary Help Cause

Money Is Immediate Need in Stricken Area—Medicine Is Essential

PLACE TRUCKS IN USE DESIGNATE SERVICE CENTERS IN VILLAGE; CLOTHING AND FOOD PLACED IN BOXES

Northville, where suffering from raging flood waters and devastating tornadoes, is not experienced, joined hands in hand this week to aid the victims along the path of the surging Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

Three trucks stand ready to go to the flood region with clothing, bedding and staple supplies as soon as Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, local Red Cross chairman, receives word from headquarters, telling her where to have the goods unloaded.

W. E. Fournier, together with James Spagnuolo, representing the Rotary club; W. A. Parmenter; and a truck from the Legion, are the owners of the cars that have been volunteered for the mercy trip.

Mrs. Lester was notified Wednesday evening that all the supplies would be shipped in special trains from Detroit. These trains will carry special signs permitting them to enter the flood districts and go through the guarded passages. If the trucks are sent down, the supplies will have to be unloaded at the guard entrances, delaying their arrival at the sources of need.

Trucks for local solicitation have been put in use and have been donated by W. A. Parmenter, Tom Edmondson and Dr. H. H. Burkart who placed the village truck in action.

Mrs. Lester opened the drive in the village Sunday morning through announcements read from the pulpits of the local churches. Later in

GIVE CLOTHING Although the most urgent need for the flood victims at the present time is money to use to buy medicine, clothing, bedding and canned foods are wanted. Villagers who can make any such donations are asked to place them in boxes, labelled as to contents, and notify a Red Cross solicitor or take them to the Village Hall or to one of the four resident concentration stations: Claude M. Ely 502 Gardner avenue; J. H. Bolton, 335 East drive; W. A. Parmenter, 708 East Eight Mile road; and H. L. Sheppard, 216 Fairbrook avenue.

ELMER, PERRIN'S BASKET SHOOTERS TAKE TOP HONOR

Elmer Gene Perrin, son of E. E. Perrin of Northville, proudly sends home news that his basketball team holds the championship in Benzie county. A tilt with the Frankfort team Friday night resulted in a score of 20-7 and the boys of the defeated team admitted that they were fairly beaten by a better team.

Elmer is teaching in high school in Elberta, a small town on Lake Michigan, adjoining its neighbor, Frankfort. While Elmer starred on the track team of Northville high school, from which he was graduated in 1931, he did not play basketball to any extent.

As a reward for their success, Elmer took his team to East Lansing Saturday where they were guests of the Athletic department of Michigan State college, of which he is an alumnus. The boys were given a royal reception.

POOR COMMISSIONER

Charles W. Hamilton, former Novi supervisor and State food inspector, was elected by a large majority vote over Charles Godfrey, Ferndale, by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at their fall session to serve as one of the Oakland County Poor Commissioners for the next two years.

DR. J. K. EASTLAND INJURED IN WRECK

Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Eastland, 430 East Main street, and Miss Dorothy Richardson, 745 Springer avenue, sustained severe injuries Wednesday evening in a car accident at Plymouth and Telegraph roads, where the car driven by Dr. Eastland was crowded off the road and into a telephone pole.

Dr. Eastland is known to have a broken leg, fractured between the hip and knee. Mrs. Eastland has a broken collar bone, fractured ribs and a possible skull fracture.

Miss Richardson's left arm was injured. X-rays were taken Thursday afternoon at Redford Receiving hospital, where the three were taken following the wreck to determine whether any are internally injured. The car is badly damaged.

Dr. Eastland has a dental office in the Lapham State bank building and is the dentist for the Maybury sanatorium. He moved to Northville last spring from Detroit where he was in his brother's office on Grand River. Miss Richardson is his office assistant.

WALKER ENDS SHOE SALE HERE SATURDAY

Harry E. Walker announces today that there are only two more days left for shoppers to buy quality shoes at his price-slashing sale which ends Saturday evening, Jan. 30.

Although his stock of footwear has decreased rapidly since his sale started two weeks ago, he still has exceptional values which he will sell this week at below cost prices. One lot of women's arch support models, novelty styles, pumps, ties and straps, carries a price range of $1.50 to $2.98. The models were bought to sell from $4 to $6.

Growing girls' shoes have been marked down from $3.50 and $5 to $1.50 and $2.19. Likewise, boys' oxfords which were to sell from $3 and $4 are now priced at $1.49 and $2.19.

BEGIN REPAIR JOB ON LEAKY WALL PROJECT

Engineer To Inspect Village Reservoir When Points in Contract Are Completed

Herald P. Hamill, civil engineer of Plymouth, who is the inspector of Northville's water reservoir project, reports that the contractor, H. B. Culbertson, has two men at work this week on a piping job at the site.

Since work was resumed last week, Culbertson's men have put on all extensions to the valve stems.

The contractor began work Thursday to repair the leaky walls of the structure.

"Culbertson still hasn't accepted the nine-point contract submitted by the council," said Hamill. "He is going to do the first seven processes, specified in the contract. I'll inspect it then and if I still believe that the one-inch plaster coating of ironite is necessary, I will reject the structure until that is done," he continued.

"With the exception of the repair work the reservoir is practically complete," affirmed Mr. Hamill.

Since Culbertson has gone forward with the reservoir project, a check amounting to $1,000 has been released to the contractor, making a total of some $10,000 which he has received since the construction began last fall. It is understood that the final payment will be held up by the council and engineers until the reservoir passes a rigid inspection.

Culbertson is undertaking the following steps to correct the unsatisfactory condition of the reservoir walls:

1. Thoroughly clean the surfaces to be waterproofed.
2. Remove concrete and all foreign matter and necessary cutting and patching of honeycombed section.
3. Apply successive coats of genuine ironite to the entire surface of the walls.
4. When ironite has become properly oxidized, apply a heavy ironite cement coat over all the ironite surfaces. This coat to be left smooth and uniform.
5. Cut, caulk and fill construction joints in walls.
6. Cut, caulk and fill construction joints in floor slab.
7. Thoroughly clean the floor and then apply ironite and heavy slush coating over the entire surface.

RUN TWO SHIFTS

Friday night saw the end of the regular midnight shift at the local Ford factory. The new plant, which affords increased working space and more machinery, has made it possible to absorb practically all of the third shift by dividing the workmen into two shifts. No employees have been laid off.

HUSTON TELLS HOW SECURITY ACT WORKS

Business Men Fire Questions At Speaker from Internal Revenue Office

BY CHARLES A. DOLPH
The Exchange club was honored by the presence of Corwin Huston and Archie Miles of the Internal Revenue office of Detroit at their meeting Wednesday noon.

The subject which Mr. Huston took was phases of the Social Security act and Unemployment Insurance.

After making a comprehensive outline of the subjects and explaining the difference between the two acts, Mr. Huston answered questions which were fired at him.

The whole setup as to who are included and what they are to do is so complicated that it required many explanations to clear the way for action. Mr. Huston was very patient in his explanations and the

SCOUT EXECUTIVE SAYS BOYS WANT TO AID VICTIMS

Church Traces Scout History Tuesday Noon for Local Rotarians

W. F. Church, Boy Scout field executive of the Detroit area, told local Rotarians Tuesday noon that the Scouts in the city had been working since early Sunday to aid the flood victims.

"The boys and their leaders began calling me to ask what they could do to help long before I had received instructions from the Red Cross. I frowned upon any activity in the matter until I knew just what way our service could best be used."

"It was not long until we were asked to distribute posters seeking contributions for a relief fund. Our next assignment sent the Scouts as jumpers on trucks that were taking boxes to be packed with supplies to the big industries in the city," said Mr. Church.

Mr. Church strung from the flood topic into a brief outline of the history of Scouting in America. The movement was brought to this country in 1909 by E. D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher, who had travelled in London in the fall of that year and had an opportunity to see the Scouts at work in England.

Boyce, standing on a London street corner one foggy night, and not knowing just where he was to go for his business appointment, was somewhat surprised when a clean, ragged boy stepped up to him, saluted, and asked if he could be of service. Several minutes later Boyce stood in front of the office where he was to meet a business associate with the small boy. He offered a coin to the lad who had directed him. "No, thanks. This is my good turn for the day. I'm a Scout. I don't take money for doing kind deeds."

And so through the lad, Mr. Boyce first became acquainted with the Scout movement and it was his who introduced the idea in America.

On Feb. 8, 1910, the Boy Scouts of America were incorporated in Washington by a group of business men.

Here the movement grew rapidly and before long a real good sprang up. Both organizations ended up in court to see which would survive. The Scouts' rivals, didn't come through the courts and today the government has given them a patent on the Scout insignia and charter.

The local council in the Detroit area is composed of 10,000 Scouts and between 2,500 and 2,600 registered leaders. It embraces all of Wayne county and four townships in Oakland county. Some sections of Macomb county will be added to the council before long.

Today there are over a million Boy Scouts and a quarter of a million men are associated with the Scouts in the capacity of Scout masters, committeemen and leaders.

There are two essentials for successful Scouting: Items for equipment for camp and the treasury fund, and manpower.

Mr. Church was the guest of M. C. Gussell, who had charge of Tuesday's program. Other guests were Carmel Beaton and Harold White. E. M. Bogart's birthday anniversary was commemorated by the flower presentation made by Charles Schoulz.

KENNETH PORTER DESIGNS POSTERS FOR SCHOOL BALL

Kenneth Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Porter, is one of nine Western State Teachers college students, who made posters announcing the President's Birthday ball given there Jan. 30, for the benefit of the Warm Springs foundation. The posters were exceptionally interesting, made on bright colored poster-board and lettered with brush rather than the usual lettering pen. Mr. Porter who is in the lettering and poster class is enrolled as a freshman in the unclassified group.

men went away with better ideas of what was required of them. Several members of the Rotary club and other town visitors were present to hear the talk and ask questions.

OPEN GRADE SCHOOL DOORS NEXT MONDAY

Three Classes from Legion Building; Kindergarten Move Saturday

Saturday morning will be moving day for at least three elementary grades and the kindergarten. They will move from their temporary quarters of the past year into the new $85,000 grade school building which replaces the one destroyed by fire Jan. 13, 1936.

Move Four Classes

"We can't move all the grades in next week because some of the class rooms won't be complete. Mrs. James A. Corgo's third graders, Mrs. A. H. Babbitt's fourth graders from the Legion building will be the first classes to go in, together with Mrs. Ann Richards' kindergarten group from the Boy Scout building," affirmed Superintendent R. H. Aherman.

Mr. Aherman pointed out that because of the delay in receiving the shipment of furniture, it will be necessary to maintain the half-day schedule for a few days.

In addition to the regular classroom space, the new building provides for housing the board of education offices, the superintendent's, nurse's and grade principal's offices, as well as a grade school library and a large store room.

The recreation room in the basement is an attractive feature of the new building. It provides space and facilities for basketball and other court games; it will be used for supervised recesses in bad weather, and children will eat their lunches there. At a later date it is planned to build a stage at one end of the room where class plays and activities can be performed.

MINSTREL PRACTICE BEGINS WEDNESDAY ANNOUNCES L. G. LEE

May Take 2 Months to Whip Production into Shape for Public Presentation

The Rotary minstrel show is to have everything in the way of entertainment, say the chorus director, Leslie G. Lee, and the general chairman, Dr. H. S. Willis.

Songs, dances, magic, comedy, skits and drama are to be included in the entertainment to be given within the next few weeks by the sponsoring organization to increase the student loan fund.

"It's going to be a big show," said rather take two months to put the performance through rehearsal than to rush it for an early presentation," said Mr. Lee Wednesday evening, when he announced that cast practices would begin next Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, in the high school gymnasium.

With the exception of E. L. Mills who has the interior's role, no assignments have been made. The cast parts will be selected and the committees released next week.

Members of the high school glee club and chorus, together with talent from Maybury will assist in the production.

WILLIAM H. SAFFORD

The quick passing from life of William H. Safford stunned us all.

Northville will not seem quite the same to many people without "Chief," Safford directing traffic on our village streets. Standing faithfully by that light on the corner of Main and Center streets—day in and day out, winter and summer, rain or shine, the chief had made many friends, both of our own folks and of those who were just going through our town. He was an efficient and faithful public servant. No wonder that one of the school children said to her teacher: "Aren't they going to close schools because Mr. Safford is dead? They would close if the president died, wouldn't they?"

Our community had no more faithful supporter than Chief Safford. To him Northville was home and the ideal place in which to live. For Northville he was ready to give the last ounce of energy and faithfulness. One of our older residents was recalling to us the days when "Bill" Safford was the leader of the band. To that band he gave enthusiastic and capable support that made it known far beyond Northville. He had occupied positions of responsibility in other places in his own state, in the East and at the national capital, but he was happy to come home to spend his last days in his home town which he loved with all the ardor of a true patriot.

The sudden death of this staunch citizen, which came as a great personal shock to hundreds of friends, emphasizes again the brevity of this human life. By what a slim thread the strongest life hangs! Chief Safford looked to be the most rugged of men. We had visited with him hundreds of times and often he had spoken of the fine health he had enjoyed all through life. He had told us that during his whole life he had rarely seen a doctor and as far as hospitals, he had been a complete stranger to them until the last few days of his energetic life. The heart ailment that struck him down almost like a thunderbolt almost literally made him to die "with his boots on." If he could have planned his passing from the home town he loved long and well, we think that is the way William H. Safford would have liked to say "Farewell" to Northville. Our community has lost one of its best and most loyal friends.

MR. LEWIS' ERROR

(Detroit News, Jan. 26)

It is the hope and purpose of John L. Lewis to organize all of the hitherto unorganized mass production industries in vertical unions centering in his Committee for Industrial Organization. That is a very large enterprise, compared with anything that has gone before in the American organized labor movement. It would amount to a social upheaval, and it is pertinent to note that events on this scale seldom have come to pass in history unless grounded on a solid basis of public approval and sympathy.

Either Mr. Lewis does not realize this fully, or else he has an erroneous idea of how the average member of the American public feels about the law and about property rights. For all his flippancy on the subject, the average American harbors deep down within him a hearty respect for both.

That being so, it is possible Mr. Lewis made the mistake of his career when he allowed the occupancy of General Motors plants by sit-down strikers to become the central sticking point of negotiations to end the strike.

Up until the time he overturned the Lansing agreement, it seemed likely the strike might be settled without bringing the sit-down question to a head. But the effect of his action in adopting the sit-downs as his "weapons" was to focus national attention on the General Motors position, which is simply that it will not negotiate as long as strikers are in "illegal possession" of its plants.

That is a position which the average American finds appealing, no matter what wrongs may be charged by the other side. A walkout, stopping production in a plant, is one thing, but taking forcible possession is something new and entirely different. In Flint, sit-down strikers have gone so far as to eject company guards and watchmen. General Motors has no control over its property whatever, though its fire insurance policies require watchmen and probably would be void in case of fire.

These are things which the average American understands and can not look upon without misgivings. If workers can seize property and possess it, depriving the owners of all control, what next?

The mass production industries never have been unionized to any extent. The workers are not habituated to thinking in terms of centralized labor organization, and neither are the communities where these industries are located. It is essential to Mr. Lewis' enterprise that the public, including the workers, in these communities should be led to view the new union leadership, which he typifies, as sober, responsible, law-abiding leadership.

But he has not seemed to realize it.

LABORING AND LOAFING

R. G. Jefferies in The Lowell Ledger

How many hours a day should people work in shops, factories, and stores? President Roosevelt recently indicated that excessive hours of labor should be eliminated. His message to congress suggests that he will probably advocate some statute taking the place of the NRA.

The older people can recall when the ordinary workshop drilled its men and women for 10 hours a day. They will say people were well and happy in those times. Yet it was too long a day, and it tended to wear the worker out before his time. Some cautious people thought all industry would be upset when the eight hour day became the usual rule.

While some men don't know how to use leisure to their own advantage or that of the public, on the whole the shorter hours promote the general welfare. Now the 40 hour week has become common, though in many occupations people work considerably more. Many think a 30 hour week would solve the unemployment problem. In former days people said the way to work out of a depression was for everybody to work harder. To-day they say the way to make good times, is to work less. Somehow the idea doesn't seem to fit.

It is claimed machinery has so speeded up production that the country can turn out all the products it needs in 30 hours per week. One fears the cost of production would be so increased if people worked only 30 hours, that prices would rise, and the people's ability to buy would be curtailed. There is still much work to be done, if all the vast range of modern wants is to be supplied. War was made primarily to labor, rather than to loaf.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

George Rattenbury, 69, died of pneumonia Friday evening, Jan. 24. He had been in ill health for the past year.

When Monday dawned, cold and gray, villagers awoke to find that a new low weather record had been reached for Jan. 21. The official thermometer dropped to 6 degrees below zero at 2 a. m. and remained there until 7 a. m.

With the passing of Dr. Mary E. Lapham last Sunday at her winter home in St. Augustine, Fla., the medical profession lost a doctor who had made herself known throughout the world for her work in the fight against tuberculosis. Dr. Lapham, the daughter of Jared O. and Martha Gregory Lapham was born in Northville 75 years ago.

With the death of Mrs. Edgar A. Shafer, Saturday, Jan. 25 Northville lost a talented, intellectual woman who never ceased to improve her mind through the study of writings from pens of the famous in the fields of religion, politics and economics.

The site where the old Park hotel, originally called the Ambler hotel, which burned to the ground, Dec. 9, 1929, was purchased this week by Phil Greban from E. A. Shafer, who has owned the property for the past 49 years.

E. J. Cochran, Tuesday moved his law office from the second floor at 107 East Main to the back house ### at 202 West Main.

In addition to moving, Mr. Cochran announces the addition of two new members of his staff. John L. Crandell, who has practiced law in Detroit since 1914, is the new partner. Thomas J. Lyndon, who was graduated from the law school of the University of Michigan last year, will have charge of the collection department of the firm.

After an illness of several months, Joseph D. Miller, 73, died Sunday, Jan. 26, at St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor.

5 YEARS AGO

A boxing show, the proceeds of which will be donated to local welfare work, will be held over the A. M. Zimmer garage at the foot of Main street on Tuesday.

Kenneth Rathburn, former automobile dealer at Wayne, will formally open his new saleroom at 123 West Main street, in the Recreation building, tomorrow where there will be displayed on the floor new models of the 1937 Chevrolet.

"Skipping school does not pay," declared the lunch of local high school students who have been taking time off at their pleasure to attend shows in Detroit. Called upon the "target" they were given a plan of counsel and are obliged to make up every hour of lost time. Instead of feeling rebellious against the judgment administered one boy admits that "American is a square shooter and we had it coming to us."

A three year old colt was killed on the Seven Mile road just opposite the School farm Monday night as a result of a collision with an automobile driven by John Brooks of Northville.

Northville high school debaters are making a name for themselves by winning three out of four debates of a series. The unsung heroes who have upheld the honor of their school are Catherine Stalter, Wilma Rattenbury and Robert Cousins.

15 YEARS AGO

The library has just received Victor Duruy's magnificent History of Rome in 16 volumes with 3,000 illustrations and 160 maps. The Library Association is deeply indebted for this gift to the liberality of its friend and patron, William Scott.

Bids for the construction of Northville's new sewer system and sewage treatment plant will be received up to 8 p. m., Feb. 6.

W. D. Stark, who has charge of the Crystal Springs water distribution, presented the editor with a bottle of the sparkling beverage last week. Large quantities of the water are being shipped to Detroit daily. Joseph Heintz, who has been working the Boyle Brothers' farm near Salem, recently had her herd of dairy cattle tubercular tested and 12 head were condemned. 11 of the animals being milked cows. For four of the cows Mr. Heintz paid $125 apiece and four other also cost him a tidy sum.

20 YEARS AGO

Cheer up, January is almost gone and in two months more Spring with a capital S—will be due (whether she arrives strictly on schedule or not).

Mrs. William Donelson, mother of Mrs. Edwin Lockwood of this village, died last Saturday at her home in Commerce. She had resided there for 80 of her 83 years of life.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ballard are rejoicing over the arrival of an eight pound son at their home in Berwyn, Ill., on Friday, Jan. 19. Mrs. Ballard was formerly Miss Alene Smith of this place and both Mr. and Mrs. Ballard are well known here.

The proposed reduction of letter postage to one cent will no doubt go into effect while we still have with us a few people who remember when it cost "two shillings" to send a letter back to York state.

Mrs. Georgia Timbham, who has owned and conducted the millinery store on Center street for a number of years, has sold the business to Miss Zoe Little who has been associated with her.

"FOR BIRDS MUST FLY"

"If human parents were as wise as animals it would be better for their young," the father of several youngsters was heard to say the other day. "The trouble is that we parents are too protective. We shield our children from hard things. They feel so sure that we will always be back of them that they grow up irresponsible and selfish.

"Notice how the eagle does," he continued. "When she knows her eaglets should fly from the nest, she takes them upon her back to a high cliff and then, swoops out from under them so that they must spread their wings and use them or be dashed to pieces on the rocks below. They never know they can fly until they find themselves alone in space."

"It is sometimes necessary to crowd young folks out of the home nest. Parents should consider what is best for the child, not what is easiest and most gratifying to themselves."

The mother sat and mused. She could see a little fellow in blue rompers struggling up the stairs shaking off her assistance saying, "I can go by my own self"—yet she followed closely behind lest he should fall. (That was years ago but when is any boy not his mother's "little boy"? That's the strange thing about motherhood. That's why boys need fathers too.)

"But how do I know he won't stumble," she questioned. "There are so many temptations and dangers out in the world."

"You can't be sure," he answered, "but he is no safer for your watch."

fulness. He must learn life first hand."

"Another mother sitting by lifted her head with pride as she said, "My boy will be 21 next month. I am going East to celebrate his birthday with his college friends. I shall say to John: 'You are now a man and I am going to trust you to go out and face life alone. From now on you must make your own decisions.' All your life I have taught you and trained you. If now you choose to follow the ideals of some of your companions rather than those of your mother, that's your choice. You are a man now. But I believe in you, my son. Go, and God bless you!"

"He may trip but he will not fall far, I'm sure," she said with confidence. Once a mocking critic sneered at a white-haired preacher whose son was grinning him. "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

"Yes," said the minister with tears in his eyes, "but he isn't old yet."

"There are so many more chances for youth to stumble into pitfalls than when we were young, yet human nature is the same—and after all—

"Birds must fly Or they wouldn't have wings."

the place, going to jail. Katherine, just arrived, pays his fine and he goes back to the shanty-boat colony to marry her.

What happens at the wedding ceremony provides one of the most dramatic and, at the same time, hilarious climaxes ever brought to the screen.

"CAN THIS BE DIXIE?"

A long sleep car traveling through the San Fernando Valley comes to a sudden stop as the man at the wheel rubs his eyes in wonder. Before him stretches a big field of cotton. In drawing Texas dialect he addresses an ostensible overseer.

"Pardon me, sah, but how can you grow cotton in California this time o' year? I'm a Texas cotton grower."

"Don't know anything about cotton," is the reply. "All I know is that I was given three weeks to produce a field of cotton—and here it is."

The "overseer" is Rudolph Byck, landscape art director for Twentieth Century-Fox studios, and he explains that the field was needed for Jane Withers' latest picture, "Can This Be Dixie?" which opens at the Penniman Allen Theatre on Wednesday, Feb. 2.

In the middle of his explanation Director George Marshall and "Ginger" Jane drive up and comment on the fact that less than a month ago this flourishing cotton field was unplowed ground covered with weeds.

The picture called for a cotton field in full bloom, said Byck. "It just couldn't be had so we plowed and harrowed his field, put 30 people to work and 'planted' 26,000 plants, each bearing 10 tufts of cotton. These were made at the studio. The crew here dug the holes into which these plants were stuck. Right now we are putting on the finishing touches and Mr. Marshall and Jane Withers are here to start shooting. Really a simple matter, after all."

As the Texan slid his car into gear and drove away he was muttering wildly to himself, but it might have been the best.

Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Funds Will Pay for Extensive Check of White Plague Disease Through Tuberculin Tests, X-Ray

Armed with life-saving information willingly contributed by several hundred tuberculous sick in Michigan sanatoriums and with data painstakingly gleaned from its files, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association this week made preparations to begin one of its major projects of 1937—the examination through tuberculin test and X-ray of as many as possible of those yet unchecked who have been in close contact with a case of active tuberculosis.

The check-up will be carried on insofar as funds allow, in all Michigan counties except those having clinic facilities of their own, officials of the association announced.

Compile Names Gathered since mid-summer of 1936, the names and addresses of hundreds of tuberculous contacts have been secured from a number of sources. Six hundred and fifteen patients in three approved tuberculosis institutions in Michigan that are either county or city-owned—the State sanatorium, the Tuberculosis Division of University hospital and the American Legion hospital—were interviewed by a member of the staff of the association and names of more than 3,200 contacts were obtained. ## PAPERS ALLOTTED 3-4 ADVERTISING OF STANDARD OIL

Chicago—More than 75 per cent of the consumer advertising campaign of Standard Oil company of Indiana this winter is allotted to newspapers, Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager, announced today.

Space in the Northville Record and 150 other daily and weekly newspapers with combined circulation of 12,794,000 promotes the products of more than 23,000 Standard Oil dealers in 13 midwestern states.

"Because of their complete coverage and flexibility, newspapers prove especially valuable for our advertising," Nunn said. Standard in its winter advertising campaign also uses farm papers, trade publications and outdoor advertising.

The newspaper campaign advertising "one-second starting" and high mileage of the new Standard winter gasoline has a striking feature in the cartoons of George Henty.

Daggered comic situations are depicted by Henty as resulting from the use of the new fast-starting gasoline. For example, a pullmotor car answer an emergency call before the starter even falls through the ice, a husband drives home from work before his wife even starts preparing the supper, a furniture van pulls up to unload before the newlyweds' new home is even half built and a boxing champion arrives by auto in time to climb into the ring before the preliminary bouts even start.

Other newspaper ads advise that the right grade of motor oil for winter is as important as the right kind of clothes. They are illustrated with a "shiver" series of pictures, including one of a pretty girl in her tennis shorts shivering in the snow.

Miss Webster A little girl recently took dinner with her grandparents, and had her first introduction to horse-radish. Asked how she liked it, she replied: "Well it tastes to me like sawdust soaked in ammonia!"—Christian Science Monitor.

"What do you think of this new mechanical cotton picker?"

"Well I wouldn't stand too close to it in that suit."—Christian Science Monitor.

Society Notes

Mrs. Babbitt and Mrs. Dean Entertain Merry-Go-Round

Once again the members of the Merry-Go-Round had a good old fashioned get together Wednesday, Jan. 27, at the home of Mrs. Flora Babbitt, where she and Mrs. May Dean were hostesses serving a most delicious four course luncheon and giving these old friends another jolly afternoon.

Yes, there were 13 there but there was no mention of this unlucky number, in fact, all felt thankful to be able to attend and many were the words of regret at the absence of the other six members. Nice letters and words of regret were received from Mesdames Louise Chadwick and Lucy Elkins in Detroit and Elaine Rogers in far away California. So nice to be remembered in our good Northville Record will carry to all our sick and absent members a wish for good luck and a speedy return to the fold.

Our next meeting will be the fourth Wednesday or Feb. 25, when Mrs. T. J. Knapp will be a lone hostess in her own home. Mrs. N. G. Hewitt, reporter.

Extension Group Studies Costume Accessories

Mrs. William A. Liebetreu opened her home to the Northville Wayne county extension group on Monday, Jan. 25.

The lesson, "Selecting Dress Accessories," was given by the leaders, Mrs. L. Lang, assisted by Mrs. Harold Atwood.

The summary of the lesson, the keynote to wise accessory selection, are: Fashion, common interest, suitability of color, line and texture to personality; simplicity of each accessory in order to contribute to the simplicity in the costume; use, in that each accessory chosen does something for the individual and the costume.

Fellowship Members Try Skating Risk After Social Hour

Thursday evening, Jan. 21, a group of members of the Fellowship class of the Methodist church attended a potluck supper in the church house.

Horace Boyden, chairman of the class, presided at the business session.

One member commented on the gathering in the following way: "There were not many present, but all enjoyed the 'magic' displayed by a gifted few."

A number remained after the session to demonstrate their skill on the roller skates, which it is reported, they kept under control surprisingly well. In fact, all resolved to try again soon.

Local Red Cross Chairman Instructed to Send Supplies With Detroit's Special Trains to Scene of Tragedy

Articles are stored in a central place for distribution as they are needed. But when an emergency drive is made, everything gathered is sent directly to the scene of the tragedy," she affirmed.

Members of the local Rotary club offered both money and service to the Red Cross, following an open discussion of the situation and needs Tuesday noon at the club luncheon. A committee headed by Floyd A. Northrop, pledged itself to solicit clubs, lodges, business and professional persons for money. Included in the group working with Mr. Northrop are Mr. Forney, E. L. Mullis, John Litsenberger, Charles Schmitz, Don P. Yerkes and Harry B. Clark.

This group, supplemented by Paul B. Thompson, Russell H. American, E. H. Lapham and R. T. Baldwin, made the rounds of the institutions, business district and factories Wednesday and Thursday, and saw the fund climb into the hundreds of dollars.

Entering the Ford plant Wednesday morning, two men set out to ask the workers at the lunch hour to pledge sums of money to be paid at a later date, and the response was liberal and spontaneous. Something over $50 dollars was given by the workers on each of the two shifts.

School children brought pennies and nickels Wednesday to place beside the larger contributions of their teachers when the story of the flood devastation was told them.

Red Cross solicitors of the November drive in Northville gathered Tuesday afternoon in the Village Hall to receive assignments to carry on the door-to-door canvass this week. This group included Mrs. W. H. Johnston who pledged the services of the American Legion Auxiliary members, Mrs. A. H. Vogtin, Mrs. Joseph Litsenberger, Mrs. E. L. Mullis, Mrs. Joan Givan, Mrs. W. A. Panpenter, Mrs. Howard L. Atwood and Mrs. H. A. Boyden were present to accept assignments for the campaign.

Office duty in the Village Hall was assigned to Mrs. Joseph Litsenberger, Mrs. Boyden and Mrs. Givan. Solicitation assignments were made in the following way:

Mrs. J. H. Bolton—Orchard Heights to Rogers except Orchard drive and Clement road.

Mrs. Givan—Orchard drive and Clement road.

Mrs. C. N. Ely and Mrs. Archie Kerr—Bentley, east from Main to Church street.

Mrs. Joseph Litsenberger—Main street.

Mrs. Ralph L. Hay—Dabiar, Linden and West street.

Church Street, South Center Street

Mrs. A. H. Vogtin—Rogers street.

Before organized solicitation was underway, enterprising women in several sections started to gather clothing from their neighbors. Among this group were Mrs. J. H. Bolton, Mrs. Archie Kerr, Mrs. C. N. Ely, Mrs. Fred Reiger and Mrs. M. J. Koldyke.

Cooperating with Mrs. Lester are representatives of the Legion Auxiliary, with Mrs. Charles Murphy, chairman; the King's Daughters with Miss Ruth Gillis, chairman; and the Red Cross with Mrs. E. L. Mullis, chairman.

Pictures taken in the flood district will be shown at the Penniman-Allyn theatre Saturday evening.

If the children were taken care of?
If your husband didn't mind?
If you had no company?
If there was no place else to go?
If you weren't too tired?
That maybe you'd come up and see us sometime?

W. H. M. S. President's Birthday Honored at Meeting

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emma Dolph, 402 Randolph street.

A feature of the cooperative dinner served at noon was a beautifully decorated birthday cake which was presented to the president, Mrs. R. J. Cobb, whose birthday occurred Monday. This same group also generously remembered the pastor, family with gifts.

Mrs. Roy W. Coell presented the chapter in the study book dealing with social conditions among the negroes in the United States.

A memorial service in remembrance of the three departed members, during 1936, Mrs. Edna Shaw, Mrs. Esther Elliott and Mrs. Melina Carpenter, was conducted by Mrs. Harry J. Lord. Those assisting in the service were Miss Grace Kemper, Mrs. Herman Bennett, Mrs. A. E. Piller, Mrs. Ethel Evelyn and Mrs. E. M. Bozart.

Mrs. Reng and Miss Jarvis Honor Miss Leonardson at Shower

Miss Selma Jarvis and Mrs. C. P. Reng were co-hostesses Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Thelma Leonardson, 114 Thayer boulevard, honoring Miss Helen Leonardson, bride-elect with a linen shower.

Clever card games were played during the evening with prizes going to Mrs. H. R. Babbitt, Miss Babbitt, Miss Helen Leonardson, Mrs. Frank W. Hawkins, Miss Nora Wilson and Mrs. Virginia Anderson.

Humorous songs were used to tell the ladies where her gifts were to be found. The hostesses served a fine luncheon at quarter tables decorated with miniature brides and bridesmaids.

Others included in the guest list were: Mrs. James Gorge, Miss Ann Richards, Miss Edna Kiewer, Mrs. A. R. Clarke, Mrs. George H. Stahler, Mrs. William H. Johnston and Mrs. Lilian Anderson of Walled Lake.

State Officials Attend Officers' Installation Here

At the last meeting of the Daughters of America, Old Glory County, No. 25, an installation of officers was held with guests from Flat Rock present together with State Council Margaret Gibson, District Secretary Beatrice Cook, State Vice-Councilor Stella Webb, State Secretary Lilian Reynolds, State Judiciary Virginia Sauer and the Junior State officers, Earl Verona, State warden and State Treasurer William Daugherty.

The next meeting of the group will be held Feb. 5, at the Grange Hall, Plymouth.

Human Interest Briefs From Exchange Columns

Ann Arbor—Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity was put on social probation yesterday until March 20 by the executive committee of the interfraternity council for violating initiation rules, according to John Mann, 37, secretary.

The action was provoked by the initiation of six men in November, none of whom had eligibility slips from the university and four of whom were pledged this semester and could not possibly have been initiated until next semester, Mann said.—The Michigan Daily.

Birmingham—Dr. Thomas Lambie, 29 years a medical missionary in Africa and one-time personal physician to the deceased ruler, Haile Selassie, is an interview with a representative of The Eclectic Monday at the home of his brother, Dr. John S. Lambie, 516 Madison avenue, expressed the opinion that the natives of Ethiopia, with the exception of the former ruling class, will greatly benefit under their Italian conquerors.—The Birmingham Eclectic.

The Redford Record—Thugs staged two hold-ups Saturday, Jan. 16, and escaped with approximately $1,500 in loot. Placed were the Edging Creamery branch, 14130 Greenfield and a gas station at 14,000 Schoolcraft.

Late Saturday afternoon, a lone white man entered the Edging Creamery branch and pushed a brown paper bag through the window to the cashier, William D. Moffet, who lives at 2512 Glynn Court.

On the bag were scribbled the words, "Put all the money in the drawer into the bag." Into the bag Cashier Moffet pushed $1,350 in bills and silver. Escaping out the front door, the thug jumped into a car, in which a second man was waiting at the driver's wheel, and the two drove north towards Grand River.

Later in the day, about 9 p. m., Carol Williams, 240 East Woodland avenue, an attendant at the Bouvier Fuel company gas station was held up by two white men. The thugs purchased six gallons of gasoline, asking Williams to cash a $20 bill. When Williams went into the station to change the bill, one of the men followed him in and ordered him to turn over the contents of the cash drawer.—The Redford Record.

Wayne—Drilling on the deep oil well on the Louis Truesdell farm, three miles west of Wayne has been held up on account of the weather. The soft ground has made it impossible for the heavy trucks to get in with the tools, engine and other necessary equipment. The spudding in was originally scheduled for Jan. 15. Officials hope to be able to spud in by the end of this week or the first of next week. The derrick is up and the engine house built and as soon as the other equipment can be brought in from the central oil fields, work will be started.—The Wayne Dispatch.

Dearborn—Councilman Jamie L. Johnson and Clark Greene, superintendent of Public Works returned to Dearborn from Washington, D. C. Sunday, quite confident that Congress will soon adopt $432,000 to finance four projects in this city, which include drainage and other improvements at Ford Field, $21,240.18; construction and improvements at the new 12-acre Chippert Park, $11,436.39; repaving and resurfacing of streets, $252,613.96, and grading and repaving of alleys, $137,391.15.—The Dearborn Independent.

Lake Orion—William H. Horner, 63, 674 East East street, asked an examination Tuesday in Municipal court on a charge of keeping a place where liquor was sold. Judge Milton P. Conney set the bond at $750 for examination on Jan. 27.

Mr. Horner was arrested Monday by Deputy Edward Thomas, who charged he wound Horner in possession of 24 pints of alleged white milk and other liquors.—Orion Weekly Review.

FIREMEN SPONSOR BALL AT WILMIDR CAFE

The first annual ball as sponsored by the Walled Lake fire department for the purpose of raising funds for new fire truck equipment was held Thursday night in the basement of the Wilmidr cafe. The equipment to be purchased with the proceeds was on display, and included a fog machine, bell and tarpaulin. Their purchases and managers of the cafe were explained by A. G. Wimmer, chief of the local fire department.

Members of the Walled Lake department who staged the event are Mr. Wimmer, president; Carl Saaha, secretary; H. G. Roach, treasurer; Julius Nelson, assistant chief; Byron Aldrich, captain; Carson Coe and Fred Boyer. Cooperating with the men were Mrs. Byron Aldrich in charge of ticket sales, Mrs. Wimmer and other members of the Civic Welfare club.

Special guests of the department were Fire Chief Baker of Highland Park, who gave a brief talk concerning the difference between city and country fire fighting; and Chief Frank W. Ekin of Pontiac, who spoke regarding experiences during his 30 years as a fireman. There were also several fire chiefs present, from nearby towns.

DR. STEPHENSON SPEAKS BEFORE SCHOOL PATRONS

A fair attendance at the January meeting of the Parent Teachers' association held last Thursday evening, enjoyed a potluck supper and an interesting address given by Dr. O. W. Stephenson of the University of Michigan. He spoke on the subject of character building. It was reported that the project for the past month to provide new desks and silver for the school had been successfully completed at a cost of $20.

STIMPSON-WALLACE VOWS ARE PLEDGED

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Jean Wallace, sixth grade teacher of the Walled Lake school, to Kermit Stimpson of Caro. The wedding took place at the Walled Lake residence in Lapeer, Jan. 11. Mrs. Stimpson has been a member of the local faculty for the past six years. She will continue in her position for the balance of the present school term.

FIREMEN'S HOME BURNS FRIDAY AT CRYSTAL BEACH

A cottage owned by Clifford C. Richardson, Detroit fireman, located at Crystal Beach, Middle Straits Lake, burned to the ground Friday afternoon. Edison linemen, working in the vicinity discovered the blaze and called the Walled Lake and Kewego Harbor fire departments who arrived too late to save the house valued at about $3,000. It was partly covered by insurance. The cottage was unoccupied at the time, and the cause of the fire was undetermined.

BASKETBALL SQUADS DEFEAT CLARKSTON

Walled Lake school basketball squads continued their steady march toward another championship Friday night by defeating Cazen Cove Waters Clarkson users here in three games. The local second team had an easy time in taking their game, 40 to 22. Third string men were used much of the time. The varsity game proved even less difficult for the Walled Lake boys, who left the visitors gasping at the little end of a 34 to 5 score. Walled Lake girls beat the going more strenuous, but came through with a 13 to 10 victory. Detroit Tiger shortstop Bill Rogell served as one of the officials, and seemed to get as much "kick" out of things as did the fans.

FEATURE VETERAN ACTOR AT LINCOLN ASSEMBLY

People of the community are invited to attend the Lincoln assembly, to be held the afternoon of Tuesday, Feb. 2. A special program has been arranged, which will feature John L. Parsons, veteran actor and impersonator, assisted by Mrs. Parsons, who is also an actress of long experience. They will give an hour's program in which they will present three episodes from the life of Lincoln. Mr. Parsons has been acclaimed as one of the greatest impersonators of Lincoln. He had leading roles in several well known stage plays, including "The Irish Rose." He served as dramatic teacher of Marilyn Miller and tutor of Buster Keaton. He received his training under Joseph Jefferson and Walker Whiteside.

The program is sponsored by the school students and is made possible by their entertainment fund.

Out of Season
A farmer ordered a bathtub from Chicago. It was promptly shipped but went astray. On its arrival the farmer refused to accept it. "I ordered that bathtub three months ago," he wrote, "and now winter is coming on and the bathing season is practically over. You can exchange it for a wood stove or keep it. I have not use for it."—Whitely Imprint.

Mr. and Mrs. Bassett will be at home at 319 East Grand River, Novi.

Pherbia Thomas Shows Pictures of Japan, China

Pherbia Thomas, globe-trotter and sister of the famed radio commentator Lowell Thomas, will speak with motion pictures in sound on "Japan—Her Splendor, Her Beauty, Her Destiny" at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 31.

The lecture, which is presented by the World Adventure series, also includes motion pictures of Korea, Manchukuo, Mongolia and China. Miss Thomas makes use of a new and dramatic technique. She speaks from the stage and from the screen come the voices and exotic sounds of the Orient. Among colorful highlights: Night life in Tokyo; Japan's greatest steamships, peasants and a dramatic rice festival; cornucopia of fishery by torchlight; the first passenger airplane flight over sacred Mt. Fuji; the Fire Mountains and Suicide Volcano; thousands of Japanese at worship in Nikko and Kyoto; girls' baseball teams; jiu jitsu and soccer matches; curious sound pictures of Japanese wrestling; Emperor Hirohito and his army; Admiral Toigo and the navy; sham battles and air raids.

The second part of her lecture is given over to visits in Korea, Manchukuo, Mongolia and China. By camel caravan, airplane, river steamer, train and canal boat the audience is taken not only to great age-old Asiatic cities, but into remote villages and the countryside.

BOYS TO PLAY TRENTON TONIGHT

Northville Meets Trenton in Local Gym; Will Try for Second Victory

Northville's basketball team will meet Trenton tonight at 7 o'clock in this gym. This will be the first game played by this team since the Northville team defeated Trenton when they first played them. The score was 24-17.

Coach Elliott Barr is especially anxious to defeat Trenton in order to be more prepared for the Melvindale game, which is played here next Friday. At the time this article was written every member of the team was eligible, and this fact should, more than anything else, help to bring about a victory.

Coach Barr was unable to give the starting lineup, but expressed his confidence in a victory for Northville.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Girl Scouts on Jan. 20, Virginia Taylor and Florence Goetz took charge of a special program because of the fact that on this day President Roosevelt was inaugurated into office. The girls first saluted the American flag, sang the Star-Spangled Banner, and then discussed what Girl Scouts can do to help the government.

At the business meeting, it was decided to start the scrap-books for the sanatorium children at the next meeting, although some of the girls had completed theirs at home. The meeting after that the girls will start lineoleum block-printing under the instruction of Miss Doris Reber. Marilyn Cavell resigned from her position as scribe and Barbara Spicer was elected to the vacant post.

Inquiring Reporter

Do you prefer using your class money for a Washington trip, or would you suggest using it another way? If so, what, and give your reasons.

Mary Jane Gregory: "I prefer to use the money to go to Washington because it will be the last time our class will be together. It will give us experience, will be fun and something to remember."

Julie Modes: "To Washington—or bust! and here's hoping we don't bust."

E. L. Johnson: "For other purposes because, to paraphrase Julie, I am afraid that to most of the class it will be a bust."

Jane Ault: "I prefer using the class money for the trip to Washington because it will be an experience, and will give some of the pupils a chance which they may never have again."

Madeline Bramer: "I think it should be left up to the whole class as to whether they want to go to Washington or not. If they would prefer to use the money in some other way they should vote on it and have the consent of the school board. By all means consider the class—not a few."

Lucile Simmons: "I prefer using the class money for a trip to Washington. It is the last time all members of the class will be together, and after working to earn the money they should use it for something of this kind."

Jean Cole: "The trip to Washington would be a grand experience if everyone in the class would cooperate toward the goal."

Pat McLoughlin and Louise Alexander: "I think going to the National capitol would be a grand experience if the trip was taken in a serious mood instead of in the spirit of having a hilariously good time."

Mrs. F. W. Hawkins: "A trip to Washington would be a fine thing, but something could be done by each graduating class to build up a fund which would assist exceptional students to continue their education."

Bette Findlay: "Washington, if the whole class can go, but by the looks of things now, that will be impossible."

The Observer

This diminutive picture of pulchritude is the long-suffering coach of the basketball team. She is dark, darling, has a fine sense of humor and is thoroughly charming. She has to control the largest assembly in school and does a very good job of disciplining the whole bunch. She sometimes dashes through the halls in a most lovely rose-colored sweater. We all love it. If you can't guess, just ask any of the basketball girls and they'll tell you.

Now that the juniors have definitely decided upon the decorations for the J-hop, and are going around in exclusive circles, whispering very mysteriously, we have to turn elsewhere for news. ## DEBATE TEAM ATTENDS BANQUET

League Dinner to Be Held at Berkley Feb. 4, for Teams

The Northville debate squad has been invited to the banquet given at Berkley on Thursday, Feb. 4.

At this "all student affair" there will be an after dinner entertainment given by the debate students of each school present. A menu will also be planned and served by the high schools there.

The annual cup will be awarded to Belleville for being champion of the Outer Metropolitan League. Those who are going from here are Margaret Van-Hellmont, Nan McLoughlin, Scott Cole, Ira Davis, Alfred Cousins and E. L. Johnson, the coach of the Northville debate team.

The program which is held by each school will consist of frivolous, formal and banquet style speeches. This banquet will be entertaining, attractive, instructive and as snappy as possible.

LITTLE CHEER LEADERS HAVE BIG VOICES

BY BETTY FINLEY

Of course you've seen our three new cheer leaders, Louis Babbitt, Gilbert Forshee and Jack Holcomb. We might even go so far as to say you've heard them—in fact they're a lot easier to hear than they are to see.

It all started one day when Mrs. Ida B. Cooke asked her junior high pupils if there was anyone that would like to become a cheer leader. These three young cheerers arose as one roar and their careers were begun.

At first they just yelled for their own amusement, until one day Marvin Schults recognized talent in them "rah, rah, rahs" and sent them up to the senior high assembly. It was during one of those, ah, pep-meetings that we have every once-in-a while and everyone was getting rather sleepy. But when Louis, Jack and Gilbert marched out, one by one and gave us cheers that were, eh—say, half of us didn't even hear the bell ring. And the next hour was lunch, too.

Well, to make a short story long, the three boys have kept right on yelling for our pep-meetings and are also doing it during our basketball games. We honestly don't know what we ever did without them.

They're swell now, but just stop and think of what we'll have when their voices change. It's almost terrifying.

Society

At last there's snow and did the kids take advantage of it.

Margaret Walker had a bunch-out Sunday—Gwen Jones, Nan McLoughlin, Mary Jane Boelens, Keene Bolton, Marvin Schults, Albert Boelens and Cy Westphal—for tobogganing and skiing. After they had gotten all snow and everything they had sandwiches and cocoa in the house and then danced. Margaret's sister, Ida, and Phyllis Jean Jones were also present.

Jane Grosvenor and Carole Hinchman, Vivian Grosvenor and Ken Wilber, Barbara Phillips and Bob Lyke had an exciting time bobbing last week end.

Louise had a group in Wednesday night. She had planned it for after the girls' game, but since there wasn't a game she had it anyway. Kathryn Marburger, Dick Ambler, Pat McLoughlin, Bruce Turnbull, Vivian Grosvenor, Ken Wilber and Skip Hochkins were there.

Connie Burgess saw "Rainbow on the River" Sunday. Of course in Detroit.

Kathryn Marburger spent the week end in sleighs and such in Greenfield village. She was supposed to be staying with a friend in Dearborn, but somehow they always end up in the aforementioned place.

Dorothy Heaton and Marjorie Chase saw "Three Smart Girls" at the Fox, Saturday.

NORTHVILLE LOSES TO REDFORD UNION

BY JACK STUBENYOLL

Northville lost a hard fought basketball game to Redford Union last Friday night in their shoe box, 23-24.

The only way anyone knew it was supposed to be a basketball game was by the rules. Even by that it was hard to tell. Now, I'll come to the referee. Most close games people think are lost by the referee on close calling of fouls on their team. This wasn't the case at Redford Union. I'm not blaming the referee for loss of the game but also this dirty sportsmanship displayed by the Redford Union players.

It's all right to play a hard, clean game, that's what the school likes to see, but when their players take swings at our men and the referee doesn't call them, well, that's the last straw. I'm not making any excuses for our boys—they can give it as well as take it. They had to get their heads knocked off. If anything happens again like that here when we play them, I'll vote for the team and Coach Elliott Barr they won't get away with it.

The seconds lost the same sort of game too, 22-20. It was their first loss this year.

GIRLS' TEAM WINS OVER BELLEVILLE

BY JACK STUBENYOLL

The Northville girls' basketball team defeated Belleville last Friday, Jan. 22, with a score of 17-11.

Belleville received and lost the ball. On the out of bounds pass to McLoughlin to Alexander, the latter made the basket for two points. Then on Northville's receive, Heystead, made another basket. On a jump ball, Haystead passed to Alexander, who made two more points. Belleville called time out. Marburger fouled Smith, but she failed to make it. Then Smith made a one handed shot from the corner and the quarter ended, 6-2.

In the second quarter Smith fouled Haystead and she made it. Smith made another shot from the corner for two more points. Cullen fouled Haystead and she missed. A pass from Alexander to Haystead resulted in two more points. Sayre fouled Haystead; she made it. Elliot fouled McLoughlin and she made it. At the end of half Northville led 10-5.

Haystead opened the second half with a long shot which netted two more points. Kimmel came in for McLoughlin. Marburger fouled Smith and she made it. Then Kimmel made a field basket. Sayre fouled Haystead and she failed to make it. Brunansky substituted for Van Sicke. Then Cullen of Belleville made a beautiful shot which fairly burnt the net. The next basket was made by Kimmel, after which Grosvenor came in for Alexander, Sayre fouled Haystead and she made it. Atchison for Brunansky. Poul on Marburger and Smith sank it. Cullen made another long shot and the game ended.

The starting lineup was:

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Would you believe it? Some of the students in this year school don't approve of seeing their names, a-la-Winchell, in the paper. Not even when they get the orchid—they probably resent the implication that they don't deserve one every week.

At any rate, ye olde editor has had some threats in the past few days that would scare even Mrs. Simpson. We're seriously thinking of hiring a bodyguard—cause if we don't, there will be just a grease spot as a lasting memorial of one school editor who just lived to see students' names in the paper.

Don Armstrong and Alfred Cousins, who are usually polite young gentlemen (!!) glare and emit strange noises every time their names appear. Alfred has even threatened to do a bad job of debating next time we are teamed up with him for a contest. Hot hum!—now we know how Walter Winchell feels.

Don't ever go tobaggoning backwards down a hill—we tried it and it just doesn't pay. As it so happened, the darn sled turned completely around just when it got to a particularly nice bump—and as a result we now move with very great care.

There wasn't any doubt in the editorial mind (?) this week when it came to awarding the weekly orchid. It goes to Mr. Barr—our long-suffering coach. If you only knew what the poor man goes through—during second hour. How he ever keeps calm amidst answering questions, quelling the assembly, and figuring out basketball plays, will always remain to us the eighth wonder of the world.

If we don't see some of you students at the next girls' basketball game—there is going to be fire works. Why not be consistent? If you support the boys, give the girls, who are doing just as well, an even break.

Did You Notice?

All the N. H. S. sweaters?

How good it is to have Wanda back in school?

Mary P.'s new permanent? (You took like Anne Shirley, Mary!)

How nice Theda A. looks with ribbons in her hair?

All the faces Sam Leone can make?

George White betting with Miss Edna Kreeger on the basketball games? (Who wins the most candy bars, George?)

Rose B.? She's heart-broken over a certain Plymouth boy. It seems Wanda B. broke up the romance?

Girls' basketball is getting tougher than ever, especially on Helen K. and Louise Alexander.

Sam Leone reciting in English class?

How close examinations are? You had better study hard for the next few days.

The look in Walter D.'s eyes when he handed Lillian P. her rail file which she had dropped between third and fourth hour?

OBITUARIES

BENJAMIN ATCHISON

Benjamin Atchison, one of Salem township's oldest residents, was called from this life on Friday, Jan. 22.

He was born July 13, 1859, on the farm now known as the carbok farm. When 18 years of age he gave his heart to the Lord Jesus, was baptized, and lived in the faith throughout his years. He was known as a staunch Baptist and especially for his unswerving stand against the liquor evil.

Benjamin Atchison married Etta Bennett who became the mother of his three sons. In 1892 he was united in marriage to Etta Danty of Plymouth who today, with the sons, Earl and Harry, and the seven grandchildren mourns the loss of a loved one who was a kind husband and diligent father and grandfather.

Memorial services were held in the home on the Angle road on Monday afternoon, Jan. 25, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Fred Burnitz, pastor of the Baptist church in Holly and a life-long friend of Mr. Atchison brought a comforting and fitting message, speaking often of the careful builder who has gone away. The Rev. C. M. Pennell of the Federated church offered prayer and Mrs. Sarah Stranbro sang two beautiful hymns. The body was laid to rest in the South Lyon cemetery.

HARRY MUSOLFF

Harry Musolf was born in Lyons township Oct. 8, 1900. He attended school in the Stone district until the age of eight years. Then he attended the Lutheran parochial school at Northville.

He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith in the St. Paul's Lutheran church of this place at the age of 22. He was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Ward of South Lyon. To this union two sons were born. He leaves to mourn two sons, Robert, 13, Richard, 9, his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Musolf; two brothers, Fred of Bad Axe, Edward of this place; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Baughman and Mrs. Emma Stevens of this place, together with a host of other relatives and friends.

FARM-TO-MARKET

ROADS TO RECEIVE

IMMEDIATE CARE

Indications point to an expenditure of more than $1,500,000 on secondary roads in Michigan this year upon the initiative of the Federal government.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, has been notified of the approval by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads of a Federal allocation of $778,706 for this purpose in Michigan. The money must be matched, dollar for dollar, before it is made available.

Commissioner Van Wagoner is awaiting regulations covering this farm-to-market road program before drafting individual dual projects.

"It is not unknown how this money is to be matched," the commissioner said. "It has not been decided whether the State highway department will match the funds of the counties or both."

"It is also unknown whether the funds will apply to secondary State trunklines exclusively or also include roads that are off the trunkline system. It would appear logical that if both types of improvements are undertaken, the State should match the funds to be expended on the trunklines and the counties the money that is to be used to improve county roads."

The program is a part of a nationwide program for the construction of farm-to-market roads.

WOMAN CONFESSES

MIX-UP IN CHILD'S

FERRY TRIP FARE

The State highway department had its first conscience fund this week.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, State highway commissioner, received a letter from a Cheboygan woman in closing 50 cents worth of stamps to pay for "my child's" trip on one of the state-operated ferries at the Straits of Mackinac. She said there had been a "misunderstanding" about the child's age.

"As I am a Christian, I felt that I had to confess," the woman wrote Commissioner Van Wagoner. "Please excuse and forgive me."

The commissioner, judging the child had made a round trip at no charge, turned the stamps over to his finance division, and wrote the woman thinking her fee for trouble and honesty in the matter.

"I wish everyone in Michigan had a conscience" such as "yours," the commissioner wrote. "Would that we could all be as honest with ourselves and others."

Prepositions at End

"Never use a preposition to end a sentence," with, announced the teacher, facetiously.

"If that is the case," said Willie, "what did you bring that book to me to be read to out of for?"

"The class is dismissed," announced the teacher, in a weak voice.—Christian Science Monitor.

South America. A few years ago he conducted the annual Lenten services of the Greater New York Federation of Churches, and these addresses were broadcast across America by a great chain of stations.

He: "Fifty dollars for a hat. It's a crime!"

She: "Never mind; dear, the crime will be on 'my head.'—Christian Science Monitor.
