

REV. ROSSOW ACCEPTS LOCAL CHURCH CALL

Installation Service Is Held
Sunday in Capacity-Filled
St. Paul's Church

No matter how well versed your pastor may be upon questions of the day, he is not to discuss them from this pulpit," asserted the Rev. C. J. Krahnke of Detroit, who gave the sermon at the installation service held Sunday afternoon for the Rev. Edwin E. Rossow, new minister for St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Your pastor is to be a minister of the word of God, not a social worker, sociologist, financier, industry, literature and education, but rather on the needs of the soul," continued Mr. Krahnke, as he outlined the duties of the incoming pastor as well as specifying the relation of the congregation to him.

Don't Expect Miracles
"You," he told the congregation which filled to capacity the small church, "have no right to expect a miracle, a so-called up-to-date minister, a man about town or a pulpit orator."

"You do have the right to expect a man who will preach the word of God; one who is sincere and faithful in discharging his duties," affirmed Mr. Krahnke.

The pastor is the highest executive of this church and it is his duty to run the congregation, not according to his own wishes and desires, but in accordance with the principles set forth in the scriptures," he said.

He further admonished the church members not to resent the severity of the preaching of the law as will be necessary from time to time.

Officers' Duties
Turning to the officers of the church, he cautioned them about their duties, first to the pastor, rather than to the congregation. "Your job is to assist your pastor in his work. Never are you to work over and against your pastor. Don't turn against him when he makes (Continued on page 8)

ACCEPTS CHARGE

REV. E. E. ROSSOW

The Rev. Edwin E. Rossow formally accepted the pastorate of the St. Paul's Lutheran church Sunday afternoon in an installation service held in the local church which was filled to capacity by villagers and visiting ministers. Mr. Rossow preaches his first sermon in Northville Sunday morning, Feb. 14.

MRS. T. W. MCCARDLE DIES IN DETROIT

Mass at 10 a. m., Feb. 13
from Our Lady of Victory Church

The community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Thomas W. McCardle who passed away at Harper hospital Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. McCardle had undergone a surgical operation four weeks ago and had been apparently making good recovery with the prospect of returning soon to her home on West 44th street. Death came suddenly following the formation of a blood clot.

Lydia Jane Fanning was born Sept. 3, 1878 on a farm near Northville and spent most of her life in this vicinity with the exception of a few years in Canada following her marriage to Thomas W. McCardle in January, 1908.

Four children were born to this union, Robert, Thomas Joseph, Harold, who died three years ago, and Winifred, now a student in Michigan State Normal college.

Mrs. McCardle was a member of Our Lady of Victory church and an active member of the Ladies' Sodality of that church. Nearest to her heart lay love for her church and her family. She was a kind, loving woman of gentle disposition, meeting life with reserved dignity. Many friends and neighbors bear testimony to the kindly consideration of her life.

Mrs. McCardle is survived by her husband, two sons and one daughter, her mother, Mrs. Roseetta Lanning, four brothers, Roy Lanning of Redford, Orin Lanning of Pontiac, Harvey Lanning of Detroit, and Floyd R. Lanning of Northville.

The funeral mass will be sung at Our Lady of Victory church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 13, with interment in Rural Hill cemetery.

Ralph Foreman suggests that pear and apple orchardists write to Donald Corbin, Division of Botany and Plant Pathology, Agricultural Experiment station, Michigan State college, East Lansing, for the zinc-chloride treatment for fireblight.

PWA WORKMEN COMPLETE NEW GRADE SCHOOL

Only Minor Adjustments to be Made Before Week
Ends; Modern Design

Substantial completion of the new Northville grade school building on Feb. 6 has been announced by PWA Engineer Inspector C. J. Sullivan.

The remaining work consists of minor items and adjustments which should be finished this week. Work on the project has been under way since July 21, 1936.

The new building is designed by well-known Detroit architects. The design of the building is of the modern functional type in which wide use is made of straight lines and plane surfaces. This style of architecture which has reached its highest development in Europe, particularly in the Scandinavian countries and which has only recently come to the fore in America, is noteworthy in its attempt to fit the essential components of the building into an interesting pattern, rather than relying for adornment upon traditional and often irrelevant architectural ornamentation.

Structure Is Fireproof
The building is of fireproof construction throughout, with brick exterior walls, concrete floors and roof, gypsum tile partitions and steel scaffolding used where opaque glass would ordinarily be found.

Six grade rooms and toilets are contained on the first floor, six grade rooms, superintendent's office and board meeting room on the second floor, while the basement houses the boiler and fan rooms, storage room and a large playroom. Interior decoration has been accomplished by the use of a unique color scheme featuring sharply contrasted shades. Floors in the toilets and corridors are of terrazzo, with covering of linoleum in the classrooms. One hundred ninety-five lockers are provided in the corridors.

Use Bright Colors
A feature is the kindergarten vividly decorated in coral, with its miniature furniture painted to match. Play spaces are marked off by brightly colored strips of linoleum.

Heating of the building is accomplished by filtered and humidified air blown over heating coils located in the air ducts leading to classroom and corridor outlets. All water and steam piping is of copper. Lighting of classrooms is semi-indirect with hanging fixtures of modern design. There are of the flush type. A large electrical transformer is in disconnection on the front of building over the north entrance will hasten the tardy scholar. The application of the most recent in electrical appliances is reflected in the use of photo-electric cells which automatically (Continued on page 8)

NORTHVILLE ELECTRIC SHOP ADDS NEW LINE

Another shipment of merchandise for the store includes electric washers, together with new house and car radios. The cost for these articles begins at an attractive low price.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, THE LEADER

School Reporter Writes Characterization

By MARGARET WALKER, Assistant Orange and Black Editor

Abraham Lincoln—the name that brings cheers and tears from those who knew and those who read of him.

The tall, modest, ungainly, awkward figure that dominated the stage of American life during one of the most crucial, sorrowful and dramatic periods in our history.

Everyone knows the story of the poor cabin boy born into a life of poverty and ignorance. He conquered the ignorance with books, and won a victory over poverty by hard fighting and long years of toil. The story of his life is pathetic to some—dramatic to others. It rouses hope in the impoverished, and excites admiration from the wealthy. "Honest Abe" he was called, and justly so.

Even as a boy he was always called upon to settle disputes; for the other boys knew he would always do what was right. His ready wit and quick humor made him a favorite with all the boys. He was a leader in the fields, behind plows, on river flat boats, clerks in a general store, and never lost that rare solidity of reason, accuracy, and beauty of diction that made him the peer of the great men who later in life as the sixteenth president of our United States.

This is Abraham Lincoln, the man of the people, who commanded such love and respect from everyone he met that an hour after his death Washington was shrouded with signs of mourning and a great sorrow fell upon the whole land.

GRADES RESUME FULL TIME SCHEDULE HERE

Only one class, that of the clerkship, is only in session for a few days.

With the arrival of furniture the foremost of the week for all of the grades except the sixth. It was possible to resume the all-day sessions Wednesday.

As yet the board of education officials, the school nurse and Miss Edna Kreger's sixth graders are not housed in the new building. The move will be made as soon as the rest of the furniture order is received here.

The painters left the job yesterday. All that remains to be done is the completion of the installation of lockers.

Plans are still held up for the dedication ceremony which will be conducted by the Parent Teachers Association.

One of the largest gifts received from outside organizations for the school is the one from the Woman's Relief corps which is supplying each room with an American flag. The board of education has bought poles for the flags and Paul B. Thompson's manual training classes have made bases for them.

The flags have been ordered and it is believed that they will be in time for the dedication which will be held here late this month or early in March.

RECORD READERS GET COFFEE, DOUGHNUTS

Friday and Saturday are doughnut and coffee days in the Northville Record office.

While serving this treat to Record readers who come to the office for a friendly call, the staff will accept one dollar for a year's subscription, past or future.

That the response on this mid-winter bargain day is going to be great has been evidenced by the calls which have been received at the desk for the past two weeks, asking for further information and wanting to know "if a dollar right now will pay up for a year?"

As a convenience to the patrons who may not get into town until Saturday evening, the Record office will continue its two-day dollar offer until 9 p. m.

SWIMMING POOL IS URGENT NEED IN NORTHVILLE

"Why can't Northville have a swimming pool?" asks a "dilettante" of the village. "The site of the old Ambler's pond would make an ideal location for such a pool," this friend continued.

"With very little excavating the whole body could be enclosed with cement and would furnish one of the crying needs of the community, a safe place for our young folks to swim."

BEGIN CLASSES IN RELIGIOUS TRAINING HERE

Three Protestant Churches to Promote 12-Week Course
in Grade School

For several years a credit course in Bible literature has been given in the high school and taught by the local ministers. This class is to be resumed here the week of Feb. 22, when a new venture is to be initiated in week-day religious instruction in the grade school.

The local Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, working in cooperation with Superintendent R. H. Amerman, have worked out a plan to provide for this instruction in one class a week for a 12-week period this spring for the pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Parents Write Consent
The classes will be held in the new school building, and only pupils who bring a signed request from their parents will be admitted. The instruction given will be non-sectarian in character and any child will be welcome who has his parents' permission.

The feeling need for such training arose out of the fact that of the 700 children in Northville of public school age, not more than 250 are in religious training.

Form Christian Board
A few weeks ago the ministers of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches arranged to meet with Mr. Amerman to discuss the situation and to see what arrangements could be made for a week-day effort. As a result of this meeting a Board of Christian Education was organized, made up of the pastors, the Rev. K. S. North, the Rev. Harry J. Lord and the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith, and Mrs. Earl Montgomery of the Baptist church, Mrs. William L. Hubert of the Methodist church, and Mrs. T. M. Eaton of the Presbyterian church, representing their respective churches.

Mr. Lord is the director of the instruction and Miss Lettie Livingston of the Baptist church, Detroit, is the instructor.

Village Preachers Approve
The clergy of the other churches have been seen and the plan explained. The movement has their approval. This plan was also heartily approved by the board of education at its last meeting.

It is the hope of the Board of Christian Education that the parents will see the value of this effort of religious instruction that is more definitely related to every day studies and actual every day experiences. It also affords more regular weekly training than the average child receives.

ALL Methodism Observes Dinner Hour

Next Wednesday—Thousands Will Hear
Dr. E. Stanley Jones Talk on Radio

As earth turns into evening, Wednesday, Feb. 17, a dinner gathering of Methodists will be held from Maine to California and from New York to Buenos Aires and Bombay—even as in Northville.

This will be an unique and unprecedented event in the ecclesiastical history of the world—all Methodists sitting down to dinner at the same time.

In Northville, the Rev. Harry J. Lord announces that the dinner will be served in the church house at 6:30 p. m., followed by an informal program from 7:30 to 8:30, with the devotional service beginning at 8:30.

Arrangements have been made with C. B. Turnbull for a radio hookup in the church auditorium over which the world-wide broadcast by Dr. E. Stanley Jones will be heard at 9:30.

MASONS SPONSOR CARD PARTY FOR BOYS CAMP FUND

Two Lodges Plan Series of Entertainments Here
This Season

Two Masonic groups—the F. and A. M. 188, and the R. A. M. Union Chapter 55—are joining hands this season to sponsor a series of parties which will be the means of sending underprivileged village boys to Camp Rademaker, near Manistee on Bear Lake during the summer months.

Their first such event will be a card party to which the general public is invited, Feb. 26, in the Masonic hall. In selecting this source for raising funds that will give a group of boys a healthful vacation, the Masons are combining a party which will provide entertainment for the patrons with a benevolent purpose.

Last year the two groups sent four boys to the camp which is owned by the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. Two years ago, three boys went from here. In previous years funds for this project were made by donation and solicitation, a method which is being abandoned this time.

In addition to a regular staff of camp instructors and supervisors, a practicing physician, as well as nurses, are kept on duty throughout the camp period at Rademaker.

The F. and A. M. committee, which is at work on arrangements for the party, includes E. M. Bogart, Ralph Foreman, Willard A. Ely and John Losenberger, William Duguid, Dr. Charles R. Smith, Floyd Lanning and Otto Tewksbury representing the churches.

VILLAGERS JOIN HANDS IN PEACE CONFERENCE

Civic Leaders Plan Program to Unite Against War
Preparations

Pulling together for peace, the community of Northville will unite in one large mass meeting to be held early in March. Very definitely Northville is identifying herself with the nation-wide "Emergency Peace Campaign," which hopes to keep out country out of war.

Details for this "mass" meeting are planned at a gathering of representative citizens in the drawing room of the Nurses' Home at the Maybury sanatorium Monday evening, Feb. 2. Led by Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, a member of the Michigan board of the "International League for Peace," this group of persons concerned with the serious problem of ending wars, outlined a local campaign for our own community. Every denomination and organization is affiliated in the movement with old and young participating.

Arrange Preliminary Meetings
The entire list of organizations of the villages was reviewed and a member of each was appointed to arrange for a preliminary peace meeting previous to the large mass meeting.

The two service clubs, the Rotary and Exchange clubs will each devote a program to this cause and the public schools will hold a general assembly with a peace program. Women's clubs and young folks' societies will all carry out the same plan. Even bridge may for the time be substituted by this issue.

Dinner and Program
It was decided at the Monday evening meeting that a spirit of greater grace and sociability would be brought about by dining together previous to the program. A dinner, therefore, will be served at the Presbyterian church house for the price of 50 cents a plate to which everyone interested is invited.

A routing program of songs will be followed by two speeches by prominent persons well informed on national issues. The talks will be "snappy" and of great interest. The names of the speakers will be announced later.

Keep Country from War
The seriousness of international relations is well known but the public is advised to become better acquainted with real conditions. An authority reminds us that "this country can be kept from going to war, when the next world war breaks out only by the most strenuous efforts of its peace-loving citizens."

The state of this public mass meeting has not been set as yet but will be announced soon.

Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Willis will act as hosts at the mass meeting dinner, Dr. Willis being master of ceremonies. Mrs. George H. Stalker and Mrs. Robert P. Coolman will have charge of the dinner arrangements. Mrs. Arthur H. Steen is acting as secretary of the committee, known as the "citizens' committee," and Mrs. Richard T. Baldwin is publicity chairman.

Among the large number who have manifested an interest in becoming members of this organization are: Dr. and Mrs. Willis, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce H. Douglas, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Beggs, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Todd, Superintendent and Mrs. R. H. (Continued on page 8)

SECOND TRUCK LOAD OF SUPPLIES LEAVES FOR FLOOD REGION

A second truck load of supplies for the Ohio and Mississippi flood region left the village Thursday morning, reports Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, chairman of the local Red Cross organization.

In addition, $350 over the amount sent in last week has been collected by the Rotary Club, the Red Cross and contributed through the volunteers which have been placed in the business district. "Our quota has been reached," said Mrs. Lester. "If we receive further instructions from headquarters, I may have to make another plea," she affirmed.

"I'd like to express my appreciation and gratitude for the splendid way the villagers came to the support of the Red Cross. Their heartiest interest is appreciated," Mrs. Lester said.

INSTALL NEW FILM SCREEN IN VILLAGE THEATRE THIS WEEK

The Penniman-Allen theatre this week has taken another step to bring further enjoyment to its patrons.

Monday morning a new and large Silver Sheet, Daliac screen was installed, together with two Breaker Intensity lamp houses and two Cinephor lenses. A few weeks ago two Breaker standard intensity reflector lamps were added to the equipment.

This equipment now makes the screen illumination on the par with any other theatre in the State.

M. G. Brunk, manager, points out that theatre fans who attend the show here this week will be looking at a screen which is one foot taller and two and a half feet wider than the old one. "This," he continues, "will give a more life-like picture—one that is softer, clearer and easier on the eyes."

MISS PERKINS' SORRY PLIGHT

Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor in the Roosevelt cabinet, emerged from her attempt at settling the "sit-down" strike with little glory. In fact she lost prestige in her mediation attempts.

This is all in spite of the fact that Miss Perkins is a most capable, conscientious and highly trained woman, who has spent a life time in social and welfare work. Why did she fail in her efforts to bring labor and capital together? Roger Babson, the noted economist and statistician, gives this explanation which you can take for what it is worth. He states that Miss Perkins failed because she is "cold-blooded," that she lacks emotion. And then Babson goes on to say that all labor troubles, sooner or later, are settled, not by means of facts and figures, but by emotion. He adds: "Men are reached only through their hearts and not through their heads." As a heart warmer, Miss Perkins was a failure.

Some of the Washington correspondents have been saying for weeks that Miss Perkins is "on the way out" of her cabinet place. There is a pretty strong feeling that the position of labor head should not go to a woman, no matter how intelligent. Certainly in her last attempt at conciliation she lost the respect of both the General Motors heads and of John L. Lewis. When that happened her usefulness was at an end, even though President Roosevelt was back of her—and is reported to have been angry when her efforts were ridiculed by both factions. It will be interesting to see how much longer Miss Perkins stays in the cabinet.

THE PRESIDENT REBUKES THREE

According to newspaper headlines, President Roosevelt went heavily into the "rebuking" business the past couple of weeks. Even presidents are human when it comes to personal relationships.

First, the president slapped the wrist of John L. Lewis, big labor head, for asking presidential aid in the strike, on the theory that he had it "coming to him" for the big contributions that the Lewis unions gave to the New Deal campaign funds. Naturally the chief executive had to show some resentment at such an implied bargain.

Then the administration much more firmly and perhaps with a touch of anger—according to Washington writers—rebuked Mr. Sloan, head of General Motors, for refusing to come to Washington at the invitation of Secretary of Labor Perkins. Of course, had the president done the inviting and not let it be done by a cabinet member, to save presidential embarrassment as being "on the spot," Mr. Sloan might have come to the capital and thus have left no ground for a rebuke.

Dr. Stanley High, former minister, and one of the writers of campaign speeches for the New Deal, took the third rebuke. He wrote an article for the Saturday Evening Post and the president apparently didn't like it for it presumed to speak for the White House. So a curt Roosevelt statement put Dr. High (and Dry) in his place. No one is going to speak for the White House hereafter except Mr. Roosevelt himself. Fair enough.

Well, this rebuking technique works both ways. Since the president has given out his plan to have the Supreme Court enlarged to 15 members, plenty of rebukes have been coming the presidential way. Both democrats and republicans have been throwing brickbats. And the battle may get hotter.

WHO WORKS THE HARDEST?

It has been interesting to read some of the letters from strikers to their wives in the "Vox Populi" columns of the Detroit newspapers. Some of the writers complain bitterly against the terrific pressure of the work on the "automobile line" while others find no fault but say they are well paid, have been able to build houses, save money and enjoy life.

"We don't know enough about the work in the automobile plants to say how hard it is. We do know that if the average home is to have an automobile, a radio, an electric refrigerator, a vacuum cleaner, and ironer, there will have to be a lot of mass production. And if mass production is to give the average home all these things at a reasonable price, there will have to be plenty of hard work 'on the line.' We think that in some cases, the line should be slowed down but if it is slowed down too much, prices will skyrocket and then it will be difficult for every home to have all the modern luxuries it craves. What then?"

As a matter of fact, there is no easy way to get out of work—and hard work. "In the sweat of thy brow, shalt thou earn thy bread" is just as true now as it was when David tended the sheep on the hills of Palestine—although many moderns would like to discard this eternal principle. And as another matter of fact, "if you don't get your happiness out of your work, you will never know what happiness is."

Grant that many of the automobile employees work too hard. Grant that when night comes they can hardly walk home. There are many others who work until ready to drop. One of them is the farmer. Another is the housewife in many homes. Another is the waiter in the restaurant who works long hours for small wages—no 30 hours a week for them.

Grant that physical work is hard. Let us also remember that mental work is not easy. "The hardest work in the world is thinking," Emerson said. Meeting a payroll is often the most nerve wracking work in the world. Then too, keeping an organization of men working together harmoniously and effectively is a task to challenge the keenest mind and most vivid imagination.

Who works the hardest? No one knows unless he has done all the work that the other fellows have done. Few have done or can do that—although the head of every great Detroit automotive plant, from Henry Ford down the line, started at the bench.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

The sun is riding higher in the heavens. Old Man Winter has been kind—what will March do? Hardly enough zero nights to kill the parasites in the fields and orchards. Nor enough snow to cover the wheat fields. Not much chance for Florida to pity the frozen North this time. And this is the winter we pity California where the worst weather in years has destroyed a large part of the citrus fruit. Still pretty hard to beat Michigan—summer or winter.

As we hear men discuss the strike, we ask ourselves the question: "Is each of us as tolerant as he thinks he is?"

Was there ever a winter when Northville was building as many houses as it has this season?

Times do change—Northville township has its first primary election Monday, March 1.

Times don't change—there is no substitute for a fireplace fire on a cold winter or autumn night.

What percentage of Northville people ever "go walking?"

"Into every life some rain must fall."

It developed that the men had several hundred dollars worth of stolen loot with them.

Just as we go to press, the sad news reaches us of the sudden death of LeRoy Chappell, 32 son of Mrs. Julia Chappell and a former well known Northville boy, which occurred at Harper hospital, Detroit, Thursday morning, after an illness of about 24 hours of pneumonia.

W. E. Ambler completed the filling of his ice house Saturday night and has about 1,000 tons stored away for use next summer.

Northville is getting to be quite a horse market as Rafterbury and Starkweather's sales are well attended and buying seems brisk. They have disposed of some fine matched teams for as high as $450.

Another Long Distance Rate Reduction

ON JANUARY 15, 1937

Eight reductions in about ten years have substantially cut the cost of Long Distance telephone service.

Further reductions in Long Distance rates became effective January 15th.

Many rates, for calls to points outside of Michigan more than 42 miles distant, are reduced.

All day rates for such calls are reduced. Many night and all-day Sunday rates for such calls also are reduced.

The reductions for the first three minutes range from 5 cents to $1, depending on distance.

It costs less now to do business in distant cities—quickly, personally. It's easier for far-apart friends to keep in close touch.

Sample rates listed in the table below definitely indicate the downward trend during the last decade.

HOW LONG DISTANCE RATES HAVE BEEN CUT AS THE RESULT OF 8 REDUCTIONS IN THE LAST 10 YEARS:
RATES FOR 3-MINUTE DAYTIME CALLS FROM	STATION-TO-STATION Jan. 15, 1926	STATION-TO-STATION Jan. 15, 1937	PERSON-TO-PERSON Jan. 15, 1926	PERSON-TO-PERSON Jan. 15, 1937

Homemaker's Corner

FOR LIFE GOES ON.

Very often has the old song hummed in our ears:
"For life goes on with measured tread."

And time has no retreat—
as over the worn old counter of the newspaper office have been poured the heart stories of a cross section of varied humanity. (Is there any place where so much of life is seen as in a country newspaper office?)

Old folks who have returned to the home town to find it very changed and lonely with familiar faces gone; young folks come blushing to ask for wedding invitations. Newcomers drop in hunting for houses to rent; high school youngsters about their victories; little children whose heads do not reach the top of the counter; pipe up: "Have you got any scrap paper?"

Some come in who have lost all their property and are beginning all over again with courage. Some have lost more than property—and it can never be made up. The other day one came who had been betrayed in love that left a stinging bitterness.

Some drop in just because they are lonely and this is a comfortable place for a chat. But those who grip our hearts most of all are those who have been bereaved and come in to tell their newspaper. We marvel that they can hold up their heads bowed by grief and walk out again upon the village streets and greet their friends. And yet they do. Some time later we meet them cheerfully carrying on—for "life goes on."

Fortunately, life must be lived, work must be done. Three times a day meals must be cooked and dishes washed. Floors must be swept and children cared for.

Winter passes, spring comes on with singing birds and flowers—then summer and again winter until time, with its healing, soothes the sting and life can be lived as it goes on "with measured tread."

The pastor of the Federated church in Salem offered a fine edition of the Bible to the young person who would prepare and deliver the best address on "The Life and Secret of Success of D. L. Moody" on the evening of Feb. 7 in the gospel human service.

The messages were judged on the quality of informative material used, interest, method of delivery, including voice, posture, and application made, and the judges were Mr. Waterman and Mrs. Kneebone of the First Methodist church in Ann Arbor and E. W. Quakemish of the Dextero Methodist church.

The young men and women spoke so clearly and with such a sincere interest in their subject and with every evidence of speaking ability that the judges found it hard to declare the winner, but a final check on points gave the title to Miss Beulah Nathe.

SALE OF FORD PARTS REVEALS INCREASE

Volume sales of Ford parts in 1936 disclosed an increase of 245 per cent over 1935, while sales of Ford accessories increased 344 per cent over the same period, the Ford Motor company announced today.

These figures mark 1936 as the best sales year in the past six years. Where sales in December declined in the previous four years, December of 1936 proved the second best month of the year in volume.

The increase in the sale of parts supplied by the Ford Motor company is the result of more complete coverage of the market. In previous years Ford owners frequently made replacements with parts not supplied by the Ford company. They discovered that parts manufactured to Ford standards of quality and engineered by Ford's precision methods were the best replacement parts for the Ford car. They discovered these qualities only in genuine Ford parts.

Thus, in 1936, the Ford Motor company opened a number of new parts distributorships to better serve this increasing market.

Widespread acceptance of Ford accessories is also reflected in that sales increase. Ford accessories such as radios, heaters, clocks, spotlights, seat covers and other are engineered for Ford cars and trucks and offer several interesting developments.

The Ford radio, for example, has an antenna unlike any other on the market. It controls by a knob from the interior of the car and can be raised or lowered depending on the distance of the station desired.

Reality

Too bad, dear, that romance is over so soon—

Through it does not exactly concern us.

It is touching to think lovely brides of last June

Are now shoveling coal in the furnace.

—Sue Spencer, Newark, Ohio Advocate.

But sadder, by far, though it's a part of our doom.

That turn of the wheel, cruel malice.

That has him who led her to the altar in June

Now accepting and washing the dishes.

Child Discipline Problem Is Theme of Address Given Before Woman's Club Friday By Mildred Thurow Tate

Speaking on the problem of discipline, Mildred Thurow Tate of the Merrill Palmer school addressed the members of the Northville Woman's club Friday afternoon in a talk on "The Child in the World of Tomorrow."

"Why do parents want their children to behave right?" asked the speaker. "Do they want them to do right to please critical neighbors or because it is right?"

Parents should analyze their reasons for discipline. Spanking, the easiest way, is poor discipline if the child becomes dependent upon the parent for his decision between right and wrong, maintained Mrs. Tate. "The best kind of discipline prepares him to become responsible for his own behavior by having learned from past experience. The parent's duty is to produce a happy individual who is adjusted to life."

Several very apt illustrations taken from her wide experience with children in her teaching added interest to Mrs. Tate's talk. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Arthur H. Steele, a member of the program committee.

Mrs. George C. Harper presented an up-to-the-minute picture of the strike situation.

This evening (Friday) will occur the annual "Men's Night" when the husbands of members or their guests will join with them in a dinner at the Presbyterian church house. Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones of the Woodward avenue Congregational church of Detroit, will be the speaker.

Some distant relatives wouldn't be so bad if they kept their distance.

Rotarians Entertain Wives At Valentine Dinner

Valentines with red hearts and tender sentiments warmed the hearts of "Rotary" wives Tuesday evening when their husbands presented them with tokens of the season at a dinner party at the Presbyterian church house. Floyd Northrop, chairman of the program of the evening, presided over the mysterious box from which came the valentines. These were read aloud with interest.

A delicious chicken dinner was served at long tables decorated with tall tapers and valentines. Community singing between courses, led by Leslie G. Lee, with Miss Doris Tewsbury at the piano, was enjoyed.

Little Joan Lisenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lisenberger, pleased the audience with tap dancing. Mrs. M. J. Koldyke sang "La Golconda" and "An Indian Love Song," accompanied by Mrs. Edward H. Lapham.

An informal talk, "The Ladies," by Dr. Thomas W. Smith, was full of ready wit.

The final treat of the evening was the series of moving pictures shown by E. L. Mullis. Military life in Camp Custer was shown and camp maneuvers at the Officers Reserve Camp near Allegan where Major Mullis was one of the officers last summer. Other pictures showed four local hunters in action in the north woods. Dayton B. Dunn, L. C. Stewart, E. R. Eaton and Mr. Mullis. Some of these pictures were in color and were very realistic.

The audience held its breath at thrilling demonstrations of cavalry

TINY BROWN-EYED RECORD CUSTOMER BRINGS A SMILE

"I don't know what the note says, but I suppose it's for me to get a record," said a brown-eyed little girl as she handed a small, folded slip of paper over the desk at the Record office early Friday morning.

This little Miss is a regular Friday morning paper customer in the office and as her five pennies passed into our hands we felt the urge to blot from her face the story about dollar-subscription day.

Should her mother take advantage of the special bargain offer this week, we'll lose one of Friday morning's bright spots. She comes in snugly dressed in a snow suit, carrying a small purse and with her invariably are from one to three young friends—tiny they are—and as they make their way down North Center street, we pause to observe them as they stop to look in store windows and slide in the snow.

She's a customer, that always has a smile for us and we have a sincere one for her and her playmates—or are they her sisters?

Rev. and Mrs. Rossow Honored Sunday at Church Supper—

Following the installation service Sunday at the St. Paul's Lutheran church, a supper was held in the church hall for the new pastor and his family, the Rev. and Mrs. Elynn E. Rossow, Lella, Esther, Catherine, Edwin, Carl and Lois. Covers were laid for 100 guests, several of whom were from out of town.

All informal reception will be held this evening in the church house for Mr. and Mrs. Rossow. The program is in charge of Mrs. Charles Hamilton and Mrs. Arthur S. Schutte.

Mrs. Baker, Plymouth, Will Entertain D. A. R. Chapter—

Mrs. Henry Baker, 1373 Sheridan avenue, Plymouth, will be hostess at 2:30 p. m., Feb. 23 to the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D. A. R.

At that time, Mrs. Charles W. Horr, Jr., senior president of the organization will introduce the daughter society, G. Carr of the American Revolution.

Articles of interest regarding George Washington will share a place on the program with a book review.

Mrs. VanValkenburg Opens Home to Garden Club—

The Garden club met with Mrs. VanValkenburg on Monday, Feb. 8, when plans were made for a banquet bridge, the proceeds of which are to be turned over to the Red Cross.

LIBRARY INCLUDES BOOKS ON LINCOLN

If these biographies of Lincoln are not in your library, they may be borrowed from another branch of the Wayne County Library.

Lincoln: Free the Slaves, by Stephen B. Leacock. The non-American's view of Lincoln is unusually interesting. Sometimes it is characterized by real insight. Stephen Leacock's is unusually so. Long fascinated by the career of the great emancipator, he has brought both the enthusiasm and the perspective of the outsider to his task. The book is stimulating and suggestive. The point of view is not orthodox, but it is convincing.

Great Captain, by Honore Morrow. One-volume edition of Mrs. Morrow's three biographical and historical novels dealing with Lincoln. Forever Free With Malice Toward None, and The Last Full Measure.

Set My People Free, by William E. Lilly. A biography of Abraham Lincoln, written by a Negro lawyer. The period covered is from Lincoln's birth to his inauguration, at which point the author claims Lincoln's story became the history of the nation.

Life of Lincoln, by W. H. Herndon. The text followed here is that of the original edition of the personal recollections of Lincoln written by his law partner, Herndon, assisted by Jesse W. Weik, and first published in 1889.

Abraham Lincoln, the prairie years, by Carl Sandburg. Probably the finest re-creation of Lincoln and undoubtedly the most sympathetic and profoundly beautiful.

Walled Lake News

BY CHARLES E. HUTTON

Events over the past few days and a days to come seem to have slipped into a rather theatrical groove in this summer resort village which is supposed to be quite prosaic during the winter season. The latter three night of the past week have been occupied with home talent show doings, at home and abroad, the weekly performances of our youthful athletes, professional appearances of varied histrionic talent and the continuous but unheeded skits that go to make up our lives from day to day.

The WLS community talent barn dance program, sponsored by the student organizations of the school, was presented to audiences on three nights, and revealed nearly a 100 talented ladies and gents, boys and girls to the remaining folks who made up the gatherings of cash customers, so necessary, it seems, to the ultimate success of affairs such as this. The performances were greatly enjoyed by everyone who attended or took part, and spoke well for the efforts of Waldo Proctor and others who cooperated with the Chicago director in staging them.

The coming birthday of Abraham Lincoln was impressively commemorated Tuesday afternoon at the high school assembly when Mr. and Mrs. John L. Parsons, prominent actor and actress of long experience, enacted episodes from the life of the great emancipator. Mr. Parsons gave a realistic and sincere impersonation of Lincoln in depicting several historic scenes, and Mrs. Parsons lent able assistance. The student association is to be commended for making possible this program, which was enjoyed not only by the school students, but many townspeople as well.

Continuing along in the entertainment eye, the senior class was to sponsor on Wednesday of this week, the great Armistice, a magician who is purported to be able to mystify even the most calloused and staid of us, with his "surprising and stupendous" "astounding and different" tricks. We shall see, what we shall see, or shall we?

The school seems to be the origin of most of the public activities that occur here. And why not? Any respectable agency in a community which is capable of maintaining the public's interest from week to week deserves the spotlight. The people here are intensely interested in the school athletic program, and for good reason. It has held a championship in at least one major sport for the past six years. The varsity basketball team lost in a hard fought game at Milford, Friday night, 24 to 25. This again places them in a tie for first place in the Southwest Oakland county league. The second team had an easy time of it, winning 18 to 12, and the girls were likewise victorious, 14 to 7.

During the absence of our illustrious Methodist minister, the Rev. Evans, we are to have several guest preachers. Last Sunday, Dr. Robert M. Atkins, superintendent of the Flint district, delivered a most interesting sermon, his first here this year. Feb. 14 brings the Rev. Bertam Eide of Silline and formerly of Walled Lake.

Robert Heiver, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heiver of Detroit, and summer residents here, was seriously injured last Tuesday while at work at a Ford plant at Dearborn. His left hand was caught in the machine he was operating, necessitating the amputation of the index finger. The fourth and fifth fingers were badly mangled. He is known among his many friends here as a former star on the high school and village basketball teams.

Floyd Vickery, student at the local school, suffered a broken arm Thursday afternoon when he was cranking his car.

Henry Aiyra, who has been ill for several months, is said to be resting more comfortably. He is able to walk about the house occasionally.

Mrs. Alice Johns is recovering from a recent illness.

Mrs. Arthur Wimmer has been called to Indianapolis because of the critical illness of her mother.

Charlotte Wixom, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wixom, has been ill with influenza for several days. Her condition is improved.

Russell Regan has recovered from an influenza attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carnes attended a lumber dealers' convention at Grand Rapids last week.

Mrs. Jean Bentley and Mrs. Jessie Powers have arrived safely at St. Petersburg, Fla., after a pleasant three-day trip via Washington, D. C. They will remain there until about April 1.

Mrs. Howard Mesnard and Mrs. Glen Buffmeyer represented last Friday the Civic Welfare club at a meeting of the Oakland County Federated Women's clubs at Birmingham.

Miss Doris Lare returned Monday to her studies at Pontiac Business Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Voorheis entertained guests at their home Thursday night.

Miss Helen Smith of Detroit was the guest of Miss Darlene Beckman at the Carnes residence over the week end. Both are attending Michigan State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vreeland entertained a number of guests at a union supper Saturday night. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Baggett, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wixom of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hursh and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wixom.

Mrs. E. V. Mercer, Mrs. Marley Frieboer and Mrs. Glenn Buffmeyer attended Ladies' Day of the Farmers' Work program at Michigan State college, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Regan spent several days last week with her parents on their farm near Wixom.

The Civic Welfare club held a luncheon and business meeting at the Oakland County Infirmary last Wednesday. Dr. H. W. Williams, in charge of the institution, acted as host. Following the business meeting, he conducted the women on a tour of the buildings and spoke briefly concerning the work there. This visit of the club was to conform with a plan of the county federation, to better acquaint themselves with various county institutions. Mrs. Howard Mesnard, president of the Walled Lake group, was in charge of arrangements.

The Walled Lake choir held its regular supper and business meeting at the church, Tuesday night. Plans were discussed regarding a concert to be given in the Marble Memorial church at Milan Feb. 28.

High school varsity team was to play at Clawson, Tuesday of this week, and entertain the Brighton opposition here his Friday night.

Report cards which have just been sent out for all the grades of the Walled Lake Consolidated School indicate the following pupils on the Honor Roll or having no marks below B for the closing period of the first semester:

MELVINDALE WINS OVER HOME TEAM

Large Score Run Up By Wattimere, Tied for First Place

BY JACK STUBENVOLL
Melvindale knocked out our cup hopes early Friday night on our own floor, 28-14.

Northville played about as bad a game of basketball as anyone has seen them play this year. Their passing was bad, defense poor and in other words they tried too hard and couldn't get going. But while Northville was having a nightmare, Melvindale was playing some real basketball making 14 points the first half and 12 the last. Melvindale has an excellent ball club and if I don't miss my guess they have the cup in the bag.

The game was rough from start to finish. It seemed that all the boys on our team were gunning for Melvindale's star, Kamiskis, but with no luck. Kamiskis made 14 of Melvindale's 26 points.

Melvindale made her introduction with 5 baskets in the first quarter, while Northville's efforts only netted one foul shot by Hochkins. The next three quarters were equally as bad for Northville, getting only 13 points. Melvindale played with ease and kept well out of the reach of Northville to win the ball game.

The second team game provided the thrill of the evening, playing to a 18-18 tie. Melvindale won the game on points however.

Durschzyk R.F. Bishop

Subs: Melvindale — Gots, Bohr, Machnik and Demerspal; Northville — Boelens and Duguld.

NORTHVILLE MEETS VAN DYKE THERE

Northville's basketball team will meet Van Dyke tonight, there, at 7 o'clock. Although the local team is out of the running for the league championship, it has every chance to place second.

Luck is on the home team's side since every player is eligible. Coach Elliott Barr refused to make a statement, but it is believed that Northville will be the victor. Van Dyke received defeat at the hands of Northville earlier this season by a large score.

Coach Barr was unable to give the definite lineup, but hopes to start the same group that played Melvindale on Friday. Those who will probably play are: Turnbull, Bishop, Westphall, Hochkins and Scott.

SOPHOMORE CLASS SPONSORS SECOND INFORMAL DANCE

Music By Five Piece Band On St. Valentine's Eve In School Gym

BY PAT McLOUGHLIN

Come to the Sophomore Swing! All well known people will be swinging Saturday night to the music of Art Schmutz and his five piece orchestra. All will be festive on this St. Valentine's eve so bring your Valentine and prepare yourself for an evening of fun and frolic.

This is the second informal dance sponsored by the sophomores this season and promises to be as successful as the last. The decorations will be done in red and white befitting the time of the year.

There'll be no thought of studies on this night of the week, so even the chemistry students can come and enjoy themselves to the fullest extent possible. Dancing will be continuous from 8 to 12. It will be 50 cents a couple and tags are 35 cents.

Well as the old saying goes, "I'll see you at the 'Sophomore Swing'."

Can You Imagine?

Dorothy Witnet missing school? Edgar J. leaving Betty S. behind? Dick J. not trying to be a policeman?

The assembly without paper on the floor? Don H. not acting like what he thinks is cute?

Dick J. not laughing second hour? Helen K. with rheumatism? Wayne R. not teasing Helen V. by cleaning his fingernails in biology class?

Feasting All Outdoors

"Do you believe in the open-door policy?"

"Not at present fuel prices."

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Whoopie! at last, the school is showing a little activity—no, really not the school, but the sophomore class.

Finally dear old N. H. S. has dragged one foot out of the grave and has decided to whooper her up. Can you believe it? Now, of course, we don't say there hasn't been anything in the way of offering the public a chance to trip the light fantastic—come to think of it there have been three school dances this year, but that's hardly enough.

The sophomores, who promise to become one of the most energetic classes in school history, are going to hold what they call the "Sophomore Swing" this next Saturday. From what we've heard, this promises to be quite some dance. So you boys rush to the phone and make your dates, while the girls get their hair curled.

Meanwhile, this column is going to pray fondly that several other classes take the tenth graders hint and "swing" it! Maybe you hadn't heard but our dear old pals, Plymouth, have a dance about once a week. Where's your enthusiasm? Let's make this semester a gay one.

Mention of Plymouth above brings us around to the news that our basketball team meets them on Tuesday. The game, of course, starts at 7 p. m.—so everyone of you be there—(at Plymouth)—to lend a cheering hand. Present news has it that all of the squad is eligible—maybe that will mean a victory.

We just can't keep our minds off the new grade school building—it's utterly too perfect. All bright blue and glass, brick and modern design. Although we snuggled up that immortal piano in the kindergarten for the orchid last week, this time we can't resist awarding the precious flower to the whole building.

BAND TO HOLD CONCERT IN MARCH

The Northville high school band, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, will hold its second band concert of the season on Tuesday, March 9.

This young group of musicians is now made up of 35 members, all of them junior and senior high school students.

There will be among the several features of the concert: a clarinet quartet, made up of Louis Eaton, Bobby Jordan, Harold and Kenneth Martin; and a brass quartet, composed of Dick Ambler, Robert Clusky, Doris Tewksbury and Myrtle Dress. Besides appearing in the quartet, Doris will offer a trombone solo.

Mr. Lee has not made out the definite program but among the numbers will be: American Patrol, Princess of India, a collection of Irish airs, Finlandia and Indian Trail.

HOME TEAM TO PLAY PLYMOUTH TUESDAY

On Tuesday, Feb. 16, Northville boys' basketball team will meet Plymouth for the second time in Plymouth's gym at 7 p. m. The first game, played earlier in the year, brought defeat to the local team.

Although Northville has had only a fairly good season, it has an excellent chance to place second in the league. Coach Elliott Barr's men have won 7 and lost 4 games.

At present every team member is eligible, although the starting lineup is not yet definite. It is believed that if the entire first team is able to start on Tuesday, a victory will be almost certain.

Coach Barr refused to issue a statement, but seemed to be confident.

Can dance for twenty miles!
—Christian Science Monitor.

Have you noticed Cy Westphall's queer way of greeting the girls? "Hi ya sister," and "hello there kiddo," seem to be his favorites.

If you noticed a rather peculiar squeaking noise in eighth hour assembly the other day and didn't know what it was, I'll tell you. Ray Groopner has a new pair of shoes, and he was breaking 'em in.

Wai, wai, if these old eyes don't deceive me, Fred Johnson is once more wandering about the halls of dear old N. H. S.

What "business" detains Dorothy Niles so long that she's late to economics class every day?

Did y'know that the juniors have measured the gym? In case you

P. T. A. TO DEDICATE NEW GRADE SCHOOL

The Parent Teachers association, under the leadership of Mrs. E. Ward Lester, will sponsor the dedication of the new grade school building.

The date for this function was set for Feb. 11, but owing to the fact that all the finishing touches to the building have not been completed the dedication will be held on some future date which is not definitely known.

Mrs. E. L. Mills, chairman of the program committee, has engaged Dr. E. B. Elliott to be the main speaker. Other speakers for the occasion will be I. D. Brent, state director of the P. W. A.; and Superintendent of County Schools, F. C. Fisher. A tour of inspection will be held during the course of the evening when the Boy Scouts will serve as ushers.

After the tour of inspection everyone will go to the high school gymnasium where the program will be given and later refreshments will be served. All of the townspeople and anyone else are invited to be present whether you have children in school or not.

The school board wishes to thank the P. T. A. for sponsoring this dedication of the new grade school building.

INSTRUMENT FUND NEARS FINAL GOAL

Funds for the band's new instruments have been coming in so fast that Superintendent R. H. Amerman states, "We have not far to go before the goal which we have set will be reached."

The total amount of funds which have been taken in by Mr. Amerman amount to $328.45. The goal for which the school has been working is to take in the total of $455.00 to purchase new instruments—$126.55 stands between the school and the goal they seek.

One of the new instruments, a flute, will be played by Pat McLoughlin. The school board wishes to thank all the organizations and individuals who have contributed toward this fund.

wanted to know, it's 72 feet by 45 feet. Our industrious classmen are really working in earnest on plans for the Hop.

Did y'know—It's getting to be quite a fad—signing the bandage on Harry Rattenbury's leg. What's the high school coming to?

What's this, we hear about Skip Hochkins transferring his attentions to a brunette? We thought it was a blonde, but it seems the aforementioned gentleman has dated the brunette for the sophomore dance next Saturday.

Did you see Alfie Parmenter wandering around last week? He had two weeks off for exams so he decided to see if the place still looked the same as it used to.

Did y'know that the juniors have measured the gym? In case you

DEBATE TEAM WINS OVER CHELSEA HERE

Friday's Debate First of Elimination Series; Fifth Victory

The Northville debate team defeated Chelsea high school in a contest held last Friday in the high school auditorium.

The Northville team had the negative side of the question: Resolved, That all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated.

The debate was the first of those which are held to eliminate teams for the state championship. With the victory over Chelsea, Northville is one step closer to the final elimination.

Last Friday's debate was judged by Dr. P. W. Scott, head of the speech department at Wayne university, who awarded the decision to Northville on the points of public speaking, case analysis and rebuttal.

The team from Chelsea was made up of Stewart Dingle, Harry Becker and Elsen Adams. Northville was represented by Margaret Van Hellemondt, Scott Cole and Nan McLoughlin. The Chelsea victory marks the fourth for the local team this year.

SENIORS DECIDE ON DRESS MATERIALS

At a meeting where mothers, senior girls and sewing advisor, Miss Doris Reber, were present the materials and styles for the graduation dresses were decided on.

The majority of those present selected for the materials, a sheer organdy, crisp dotted swiss, white lace and organdy with large shadowed flowers. All the dresses will be floor length and with long, flaring, graceful lines. Some dresses will be adorned with buttons, small bows, and either small plain sleeves or large puffed ones. The girls are now deciding individually what style and material they desire.

The highest price for these dresses is $7.50. Three prizes will be awarded by the Woman's club. One will be given for the good workmanship, one for style and appropriateness, one for the dress that costs the least. Within the next three weeks the girls will study their spring wardrobes. When they are finished they will begin their dresses.

PIANO IN NEW GRADE SCHOOL PAINTED PINK

Many Modern Conveniences Found in Completed Building

BY ALICE EATON
We've heard of pink elephants, but pink pianos? That's too much!

Searing is believing, though, and we've actually seen this marvel of the twentieth century. It is in the kindergarten room of the ultra-modern, recently-completed grade building.

The kindergarten not only has a pink piano, but pink chairs and tables and other furnishings. It is not a baby pink, but a really lovely shade of dusty pink, that goes beautifully with the brown walls. The room is so charming it made us almost wish we were back in the kindergarten—we have been told that's where we belong, anyhow!

The kindergarten has a porch and play-ground all their own, and dozens, lots of windows, and an in-laid circle in the linoleum floor for playing circle games. The place is just full of all sorts of ingenious gadgets and conveniences.

But a pink piano! What is this younger generation coming to?

Did You Notice?

Sam L. dropped biology? Can't take it, eh?

All the new students?

B. A. Baldwin: she's very happy about a certain Plymouth fellow?

Fred B. studying? (or was he just looking at the pictures in that big book?)

Don H. trying to get back on the best side of Helen W.? Any detours, Don?

Dorothy Witnet back in school? Fred V. trying to sleep third hour? Did she keep you out late Fred?

How interested Don Green is when Miss Huff is talking?

Helen K. trying to study third hour?

The girls crying for their heroes at the basketball game?

The romance between Wayne R. and Theda A. during ninth hour?

S. Cole as a silent member of the speech class?

Senior Who's Who

MARGARET JUNE LATTI
This wide-eyed young 17-year-old was born in Detroit, Jan. 21, 1920.

Now that the statistics are over we'll get right down to her places of habitat.

When at the age of ten, June came to Northville but only stayed a short time. Her next move was Novi where she has gone to school up to her junior year when she started here.

June likes roller skating as a favorite pastime. She also enjoys dancing a lot. When out of school she hopes to become a nurse.

MARGARET BEEDNE PRATT

Chicago, Michigan (way up north) is the place of this blond senior's birth. The date is Sept. 12, 1918 which makes her first eighteen years old. When Margaret was five years old she went to Novi and attended school there up to her seventh year when she went to the Walled Lake high school.

There's no doubt about sewing being the thing she likes to do best. She and June both enjoyed playing basketball at Novi.

Margaret is undecided as to what she will do when graduated.

Society

That mysterious S. D. C. club held a potluck supper at club member Betty Greer's home last Thursday evening.

Nan McLoughlin saw "Dead End" at the Cass theatre Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Altman.

Charles Altman and E. K. Starkweather attended a movie in Detroit Saturday afternoon.

Arthur Mitchell spent Sunday in Canada.

Constance Burgess entertained Sam and Tom Johnson and Bessie Kamberg from Detroit at dinner Sunday.

Constance also attended a movie in Detroit Saturday.

Margaret Garden spent Saturday visiting relatives in Detroit.

Betty Haystead went to a movie with Bill Holdsworth of Plymouth Friday evening.

Doris Labbitt and her sister, Virginia, were in Northville Friday and witnessed the basketball game that evening.

June Dunne spent the week end in Bay City with her parents.

Pat McLoughlin spent the week end in Pittsburg visiting her sister, Tom who is attending Seton Hill college. Saturday was Tom's birthday and the society column wishes to extend many happy returns of the day.

Girl Scout News

At their meeting Feb. 3, the Girl Scouts had a pancake court, in which Nella Hauer was accused of hooliganing.

The judge was Helen Dixon and the attorneys were Barbara Spier and Yvonne Taylor. Everyone who wasn't a witness sat on the jury.

Miss Harper brought the new troop flag to the meeting. It is dark blue and white, with a green and gold Girl Scout emblem and the words, Troop 1, Northville. It was decided to buy a pole for it, as no one knew of any old flag pole the girls could use. A number of merit badges will be sent for at the same time.

A lunch-hike was planned for Feb. 20, and arrangements made for transportation to the Redford high swimming pool on Girl Scout night.
