Ford's Huge Water Wheel Begins To Turn

The overshot wheel on the new Ford factory, operated by water piped under the landscaped lawns from the head of the backed-up water in the Yerkes pond, has turned several times recently in test operations. This wheel adds greatly to the architectural beauty of the factory which is surrounded by well-kept lawns and an artificial lake. In addition to adding quaintness and charm to the structure, the wheel is part of the power-developing equipment. It has not been decided what power source the wheel will do, but it can be connected to operate an electric generator or be used to supply the power for a line shaft.

The main address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Marbach, who last summer toured Europe, spending some time in Russia studying the religious status there.

HANDORF DISCUSSES INDUSTRY PROBLEMS

Gives Ford Motor Company
Praise for Progressive
Labor Policies

The relation between employer and employe is the biggest issue before the country today, Dr. H. Handorf told the members of the Northville Rotary club at their weekly luncheon Tuesday noon at the Presbyterian church house. He was heard in an address on "Vocational Service."

TOWNSHIP HAS LARGE SURPLUS IN TREASURY

Taxpayers May Not Have to Pay Taxes During Coming
Year; Debts Are Paid

A $20,000 surplus in the Northville township treasury may keep taxpayers from having to pay township taxes during the coming year. Dr. Handorf analyzed the motto of all Rotary clubs, "Service Above Self," and applied it in a very interesting way to present day conditions. The solution of industrial problems will not be found by scratching at the surface, said the speaker but will be reached by digging more deeply into all the factors that surround our present day life. Incidentally, he praised the Ford Motor company for its progressive labor policies.

Daisy Sit-Downers Stop Production

COMPROMISE IS MADE
SUNDAY AT FELT

ATTORNEY FINDS LITTLE ARCHIE AT LAW OFFICE

Abandoned Orphan Doesn't Get Much Nourishment in New Home

Little Archie has come to make his home at the Yerkes and Britton law office on West Main street. He arrived mysteriously Wednesday morning and was found on the doorstep at noon by Attorney Harper D. Britton. As he left the office, Archie's sensitive chocolate complexion, heightened by natural poopy corners, was protected from the February snow flakes by a white jacket and a substantial cardboard affair—air-tight for breathing purposes.

CONGRATULATIONS, DEBATER! Congratulations to Coach E. L. Johnson and his splendid high school debaters. They have been "going to town" in a big way.

THE SUCCESSFUL ONES DO IT A keen Northville observer, resident here many years, said this to us the other day: "I have noticed, this, that both here and in other places that I have watched, it is successful business men who are the ones who advertise right along. There must be something to this advertising business."

For a few weeks, the Record editor has been taking on the role of "advertising man." We are not especially "crazy" about the work but it has to be done. We like to tell the truth to business men and the truth is that advertising is not "magic." Some merchants think that they can take out some advertising space and pronto! business will come rushing in the front door. Advertising doesn't work that way.

Advertising is just a part of a good business man's set-up. Other parts of that set-up are: The confidence of customers—unless the merchant has that, whole pages of advertising are just a waste of money; good stocks, with variety at the right prices for the store's clientele; attractive displays, both in the store as well as in the windows; store salesmen who are courteous, alert and who do their part to make friends for the store; (we have known, through the years, of many a "snooty" or discourteous clerk who has driven away business that no amount of advertising would hold); and fair prices for goods that are still not out of date.

Yes, advertising does pay, but only to the merchant who has plenty besides advertising to build his business. One more point: This loyalty to the home town has broken down. In this individualistic era, people are going pretty much where they can get the most for their money. We can say this sincerely, for the Record editorial family buys very little out of town. And we give the home town the first chance. The vast majority of our citizens, in this suburban area, will do some buying on the home loyalty urge, but they will do three times as much on the urge of the best deal they can make for themselves. Therefore, the alert and wise Northville business man will take stock of his fitness to be a merchant and set out to meet the ideals that he must shoot at, if he is to survive in this keen, competitive day.

Plymouth, Redford, Detroit and Ann Arbor stores after Northville business. The Northville business man has by far the best chance at his home town business if he will be a merchant and not a "store keeper." He must save himself—home loyalty is a poor business life preserver these modern days.

HOW GOOD ARE YOU ON "LITTLE THINGS?" "It is the 'little' things that make or break the pastor," said one of the speakers at the Presbyterian installation last week. Just telling the preacher that his sermon did you good was one of the examples that the speaker gave. Then he went on to say that the same thing applies in the home. Just the little courtesies of the living room and the dining room make family happiness.

The preacher is dead right. Take telephoning. We have never yet been able to comprehend why, when some people get a mile away from you, on the telephone, that they can be so snappy and curt. It is our observation that eight out of ten people, when you get the wrong number, will be short and possibly discourteous. The ones who smile at you over the phone after you get wrong number and who say: "That's O. K." are the exceptions that prove the rule.

HAVE YOU PROTESTED YET?

The tide of opposition to President Roosevelt's thinly-veiled plan to "pack" the Supreme Court rises, higher. Party lines have broken down as the people realize how far-reaching is this attempt to break down our three-way plan of government.

The purpose of the President to make over the Court so that his laws can be passed and approved by the Court is an amazing one. It has stunned many of our best leaders, both democratic and republican. If the "packing" plan is approved by the Congress, it may be 30 or 40 years before we recover from the effects of such "legal illegality" as Walter Lippmann calls it.

Have you protested yet to Senator Prentiss M. Brown and to your Congressman? The great flood gates of the President's propaganda stream are being opened and those good citizens who love their present plan of government, with an un-shackled Supreme Court, should be heard. Don't forget that all the immense power of the New Deal machine will be used to put across the President's ruthless plan.

You have as much right to be heard as the high powered propagandists who would "pack" the highest Court of the land. After all, this country still belongs to the people.

Protest now and protest in strong English.

HAPHAZARD THOUGHTS

The snowless winter—so far. Northville is no "hick" town. Yet we have some imperfect people.

Some of the professors at the University of Michigan may be "godless" but not the president of this great university, Dr. Alexander F. Ruthven, who has plans for establishing a department of religion on the campus at Ann Arbor. Dr. Ruthven, we understand, is a member and an official of one of the churches of the university city.

Four examples that the power of the orator and speaker is not yet gone from the land: Dr. Edgar Dewitt Jones' address on Abraham Lincoln before the Northville Woman's club and guests; radio addresses by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Dr. Stanley Jones of India, the evening of Feb. 17; the three addresses at the installation of Dr. Thos. W. Smith here last week; and the "Know Northville" talks given by four local women at the Feb. 16 meeting of the Rotary club.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO Repairs to the drinking fountain at the corner of Cedar and Main streets was authorized by the Northville City Association Monday night and they were presented to the fountain has for sometime been considered unsanitary.

Chub Smith, adjutant of the Lloyd H. Green Post of the American Legion, reports that 72 ex-servicemen have made application for their bonus payments. For the second consecutive year, Northville and Melvindale high school basketball teams are fighting it out for the first honors in the suburban league. As a result of victory Friday night, against Trenton, 17-14, Northville is at the present time the undisputed possessor of the league title.

Registration for the WPA ground school aviation class was held Tuesday evening of this week and class work proper was under way last night under the instruction of Donald E. Starr who has received State certification from officials in charge. A six-room modern home with doctor's office owned by Dr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Schady, formerly known as the Joslin home at the corner of Wing and Dunlap streets, will be ready for occupancy by them at the end of the week.

5 YEARS AGO Harry S. German, president of the Village of Northville for the past two years, has definitely announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection to the office on Monday, March 14.

Once more this community will be without a theatre. Harry Lush, manager of the Penniman-Allen theatre announces that the Northville theatre will be closed until conditions are more favorable than at the present time.

Fire of mysterious origin completely destroyed two barns, two silos and a milk house on the 120-acre farm of Ferdinand Kroeger, on the Base Lane road, two miles west of the village limits on Monday evening between nine and ten o'clock. The loss is variously estimated at from $6,000 to $8,000.

Netting well over $100, the benefit show held Wednesday evening under the sponsorship of the Northville Community Fund association at the Penniman-Allen theatre was voted by approximately 700 people who attended to see a fine evening's entertainment.

A pretty home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller, 116 Randolph street, last Saturday evening when their daughter, Miss Catherine, became the bride of Edgar From, son of Timothy From of Detroit.

15 YEARS AGO The sale of the $110,000 sewer bonds which occurred at a meeting of the village council on Monday evening, brought to Northville representatives of a post many bonding houses during the past week. A total of nine bids for the bonds were received by Village Clerk Murdoch and they were presented to the council. Homebown and Weeks of Detroit were the highest bidder, their bid being for a premium of $1,200, together with the cost of preparing and putting the bonds. The interest rate was 5 per cent.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BY BUICK WE WILL BUY THEM DELLIS CRANE, working on the assembly line, has been on the Buick payroll for 20 years Speaking for myself and 16,000 other Buick workmen—we're mighty glad to be back on the job! It's been tough to stand by, knowing how eager thousands of people were to get one of these great cars. And it's a grand feeling now to see the wheels turning and the line rolling, and to watch those big, handsome babies pouring out regular as clockwork! There's power in them, and style, and comfort—and when you see them made, like I do, you know they're packed with good, honest workmanship as well as top-notch engineering. We're proud of those Buicks, and the way you've taken to them, and we're going to get yours to you as quick as we can. It's Buick again!

University of Michigan Librarian Shows Charm and Beauty in Books For Boys and Girls at Club Meeting

Book lovers had a rare treat at the woman's club Friday afternoon when they heard three librarians speak informally on their favorite books. The best in new fiction was discussed by the local librarian, Mrs. B. E. Larson, who pointed out some of the worth while books which she personally enjoyed. Among them were "Yang and Yin," a story of China by Alice Hobart, author of "Oil for the Lamps of China," "Gandhi" Indoo, "a family-life story by Helen Hull, "Rich Man, Poor Man," by Fairbanks, and "Sound of Running Feet," by Josephine Lawrence. Non-fiction, though far so popular as fiction, is being read far more than formerly, declared Mrs. Carl E. Bryan, assistant librarian, who urged her hearers to give more attention to this type of books. Among these non-fiction books are biographies, travel and various technical treatises. A few of these readable books are worth mentioning: "Sailors' Troubadours," by Kifford, "Caribbean," by Halle, and "Portrait of a People," by Orr, all three interesting books of travel, according to Mrs. Bryan. Others mentioned were: "Memoirs of a Small Town Surgeon," by Dr. John Brooks Wheeler, "An American Doctor's Odyssey," by Dr. Heiser, "Lips Alone and Laked It," by Marjorie Hales, "How to Make Friends and Influence People," by Dall, "A Short History of the Future," by Carnegie, "With a colorful array of children's books scattered all over a large table before her, Miss Eatin' Thomas, best speaker of the day, who is a member of the University of Michigan library staff and an authority on children's books, spoke intelligently of the beauty and artistry and counters make an attractive background for the Easter dresses of prints and washable silks and suits of navy serge and light colored linens.

Linder-Beetz Vows Pledged Saturday in Salem

An attractive home wedding was solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the R. W. Kehrl home at Salem where the Rev. Lucia M. Stron read the ring service for Miss Charlotte Margaret Reetz of Ann Arbor, and James K. Linder, also of Ann Arbor, formerly of Salem. They pledged their vows under an improvised archway flanked with ferns and flowers. Attending the bride and bridegroom were Miss Jean Pressman and Lawrence Walk, both of Ann Arbor. The bride was attractive in a frock of aquamarine crepe, corded at the necking with bands at the hem and sleeves, with accessories of gold. Her corsage was of roses. Miss Pressman wore a face-trimmed dress of navy tulle and a corsage of sweet peas and fellow roses. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Linder were honored at a large reception held in Ann Arbor by business associates and friends in that city. They will make their home in Ann Arbor where Mr. Linder is in the trucking business.

FORMER VILLAGERS ESCAPE FROM FIRE

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Earehart, formerly of Northville, narrowly escaped death Sunday morning, when the house in which they were living in an Ann Arbor subdivision, burned to the ground. Smoke and flames awakened Mrs. Earehart. She and Mr. Earehart escaped from the flame-filled building in their night clothes. Their household furnishings were all destroyed. A pony in a garage adjoining the house was burned, despite attempts made to save him. Even the top of the dog house was a blaze of flames and the dog had to be dragged out by force. The Earehart car, parked beside the house, was saved from the fire. It is believed that the fire originated from defective wiring. The house will be re-built. Its loss is covered by insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Earehart estimated their loss, not covered by insurance, at $500. They are well-known in Northville, having made their home here two different times. Last year they lived at 219 West Main street. Mrs. Hahn Honors House Guest, Thursday at Informal Tea. Mrs. D. W. Hahn, 548 West Main street, feted her house guest, Mrs. Willis Buckles, Birmingham, Thursday afternoon when she entertained informally at a tea. Her guests of the afternoon included: Mrs. Harold Bloom, Mrs. George B. Stalker, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. Ward Masters, Mrs. Arthur Steele, Mrs. John Burkman, Mrs. Robert F. Coolman, Mrs. Darrell Noller, Mrs. H. P. Wagen-chutz and Mrs. J. E. Taylor of Plymouth.

G. A. R. Members Introduced At Plymouth D. A. R. Meeting

Meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Baker, 1373 Sheridan avenue, Plymouth, were members of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the G. A. R. During the afternoon, Mrs. Charles Holt, Jr. told about the organization of the G. A. R. and the American Revolution and introduced the members of this group. A book review of Margaret Mitchell's "Gone with the Wind" was given by Mrs. Erwin Pierce. This was followed by an account of George Washington's funeral taken from the Ulster County Gazette. The group agreed to write their congressmen and senators urging the rejection of the proposed changes to the Supreme Court. Members who were not present, are asked to write immediately. Attending from here, together with Mrs. Chase, were Mrs. Don P. Yerkes, Mrs. John Litsenberger and Miss Ruth Gillis. Mrs. Mills Heads League of Catholic Women in Village. At the regular meeting of the League of Catholic Women held recently at the home of Mrs. C. A. McCullough, 187 East Cedar street, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. E. L. Millis; vice-president, Mrs. M. Terrell; secretary, Miss N. J. Molitor; treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Marburger. In the interesting report given by Mrs. Geraghty on "Boys," she stressed the point that good reading placed at the child's command at an early age, greatly influences his personal makeup. Comments were also made on the low tone of reading material found in most of the cheap, rental circulating libraries and in some local libraries. Further, it was noted, children are too often given books beyond their years.

5 MINISTERS INSTALL DR. SMITH AT CHURCH

humans," he continued. "The heart's loyalty to a great personality is the greatest thing in the world—this loyalty in Russia and Germany has been transferred through the years from Christ to leaders of the country."
Dr. Bechtel, in giving the congregation the charge, named three essentials for the development of a happy relationship between the group and its new pastor: "Remember and observe the anniversary of your pastor's coming; share in the constructive leadership of the church; and encourage your minister to be a prophet."
Dr. Geston, who gave the charge to the pastor, instructed him to lead his congregation; feed, teach and know them; increase their membership; recall strays; defend and love them.
The moderator for the evening was Dr. Vanbuskirk, the scripture and the invocation were given by Mr. Nichol.
Music was sung by the vested choir, directed by Carl E. Bryan, who sang solo parts in the anthem, "Great Is Thy Love." Mrs. M. J. Koelke sang "Tis the Blessed Hour of Prayer."
Following the service, a brief reception was held in the church house for Dr. and Mrs. Smith.

Daisy Factory Sit-Downers Keep All Production Activity at Standstill

that were made after the strike had been called.
"We agreed further, at a conference held last Saturday at the city hall, that the pay raise that should be decided upon after the return of Mr. Hough and Mr. Conner would be made retroactive. That is, the workers would get their regular pay during the discussion of the settlement and then they would be paid an additional amount covering the raise agreed upon from the date they returned to work, which we had fixed as last Tuesday, Feb. 23."
"I signed this agreement at the city hall and I further pledged that the conference to settle upon the amount of the wage raise, would be held not later than March 15, as I am sure that both Mr. Hough and Mr. Conner will be back before that time."
"But this offer was rejected by the Detroit bosses, brought out here to speak for our Plymouth workers in view of the rejection of the plan to meet with our own employees and settle the matter of the amount of the wage raise, I cannot see where there is anything more that the Daisy company can do. We urged our men to keep working from the first, but apparently some of them wanted to strike. Now all of the men are out of work and that is where the matter stands."
"Charles H. Bennett"

MASS PEACE BANQUET PLANS ARE COMPLETE

In accordance with an outlined course of study prepared by the National Council for the Prevention of War, two papers were reviewed. The first, "Lobbies" by Ruth Morey Orichon, was presented by Mrs. E. M. Starkweather. The second, "Propaganda and Public Opinion" by Marion H. Barbour, Mrs. Marvin H. Sisco reviewed.
Mrs. S. Putnam Smith of, Ann Arbor, a prominent figure in the Peace movement in the State, was guest speaker who discussed neutrality and various related issues. Frankly she mentioned some of the disadvantages of neutrality legislation at the present time. First of these was economic distress to our laboring class if embargoes were actually imposed, and second the chance that the "cash and carry" system would not bring neutrality.
Mrs. Smith concluded with a plea for international cooperation rather than isolation and for increased appropriation to the State department (which is our only "Peace" department) to carry on the work of easing international friction.
In the speaker's opinion an economic and disarmament conference of the great powers called by President Roosevelt at the present time would be a most important war preventative measure.
A lively discussion followed in which the 27 participants disagreed in good humor. Mrs. C. E. Woodruff presided at the meeting.
Interest in this peace campaign is reported as growing in this community as folks are becoming acquainted with conditions. A hearty response to the invitation to the mass meeting dinner is expected.

STATEMENT BY CITY OFFICIALS

"At the suggestion of many interested citizens, the city administration attempted to reconcile the employees and employers of the Daisy Manufacturing company. The mayor and city manager invited both parties to a meeting in the city hall at 8:00 p. m. last Saturday. A proposed agreement was drawn by both parties but on Sunday, at another meeting this was rejected. A counter plan was sought but refused by one of the parties.
There has been no intention on the part of the city to interfere in any way or to favor either side in the controversy. It was for the general welfare of our community that our officials were prompted to act.
Our chief function has been to let that peace and order were maintained. There has been absolutely no violence during this labor dispute and we are confident that there will be none.
Our services are offered to both parties to reach a temporary settlement. However, we have no desire to enter any conference to reconcile the terms of settlement.
Henry Horodur, Mayor
"Clarrence Elliott,
City Manager.
