PEACE BANQUET TICKETS ARE IN DEMAND HERE

Dr. Onderdonk to Show
Picture Illustrating True
Horrors of War

Judging by the rapid sale of the tickets for the Peace Mass meeting, the affair is going to be one of the important events of the season. Not merely a social event for the community, this gathering is for the purpose of promoting a strong feeling against future war in America.

Following a dinner together when it is expected more than 150 will sit down together like one large family, a strong program will be presented. Dr. Francis S. Onderdonk, Ann Arbor, will show talking-movies of "Dealers in Death" illustrating the futile horrors of war. This is a four-reel picture which is highly recommended as very authentic.

This film will be followed by a shorter one, "Toward Unity." A short discussion, led by Dr. Onderdonk, will conclude this part of the program.

It is a matter of interest that Dr. Onderdonk, a descendant of Huguenot stock, is an architect by profession and during the World War was employed as a draftsman and witnessed some of the most dramatic scenes of the war. Those who have heard him say that he is a most fascinating speaker.

Further interest will be added to the program by a talk by Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston, commander of the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion, who will speak briefly on "The American Legion's Plans for Peace."

One of the meetings of representative citizens of the community was held at the parlors of the Nurses' Home at the Maybury sanatorium Monday evening, March 8, when a larger number than usual was present to listen to an exceptionally fine talk by Mrs. J. C. Saffran, Detroit, former executive secretary of Peace action society for Michigan.

Mrs. C. E. Woodruff gives the following report of this talk on "Effective Means of Keeping Out of War."

"Mrs. Saffran stressed the idea that the only truly effective means of keeping out of war is to keep war out of the world. While working toward this goal, said Mrs. Saffran, there are certain measures which will aid in retarding our entry into another world conflict. Such a measure, she feels, is the Pittman neutrality act which has recently passed the United States senate. Though there are many imperfections in the present bill, it is at least a step forward."

"Mrs. Saffran applied the Biblical phrase 'visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children' into the third and fourth generation to the problems of world peace. Those who still hold bitterness in their hearts from the last war, however much that bitterness may be justified, may pass that hatred on to their children."

"Such hatred of Germans for the allies, and of the French, British, (Continued on page 6)

PEACE SPEAKER

DR. FRANCIS S. ONDERDONK

Dr. Onderdonk, Ann Arbor, who has traveled seven times to Europe and has spent 20 years abroad, is to be the speaker at the Peace Mass banquet to be held March 18 in the Presbyterian church. He is an architect and the author of "The Ferro-Concrete Style" as well as 26 articles in architectural periodicals and other essays.

REV. WIK RESIGNS BAPTIST PASTORATE

The Rev. Victor O. Wik, pastor of the Walled Lake Baptist church for the past four years, will leave for Mitchell, S. D., March 29, where he has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church of that city.

His resignation was announced at a special meeting at his local church members March 3. Efforts were made by the board of deacons to persuade him to reconsider his decision before accepting his resignation. Mr. Wik told his congregation that he felt the need of a new location, because of the recent death of Mrs. Wik, who had been actively associated with him in the work at the Walled Lake church.

During his association there he has inaugurated many outstanding features in the program of the church, chief among them being the institution of a board of Christian education which plans and directs all educational activities of the church. The membership has materially increased during his administration. His final Sunday will be Easter, at which time a class of 15 new members will be taken into the church.

"RED" PROPAGANDA NOT EVIDENT IN SCHOOL

After Mrs. "Aunt" Ida Hendryx, who with Mrs. Charles Murphy, representing the Woman's Relief Corps and the Legion Auxiliary made the rounds of the grade school rooms Friday afternoon to present gift American flags to each room, she spoke favorably of the reception received at the school.

Mrs. Hendryx writes, "We were favorably impressed by the way the children greeted the flag and felt sure our teachers are being loyal to it and no 'Red' propaganda is taught here."

Accompanying Mrs. Hendryx were two Boy Scouts, Philip Baldwin and Gilbert Forshee, who led the students in each of the rooms visited in the salute to the flag. Working in cooperation with the project, the teachers and pupils responded to the presentation with a brief program. Mrs. Hendryx and Mrs. Murphy were assisted by Mrs. Nellie Freydl, Mrs. W. A. Parmenter, Mrs. H. M. Farmer, Mrs. W. H. Johnston, Mrs. P. D. Bley, Mrs. Alice Curtis and Miss Grace Tremper.

The junior high school grades were also given flags on this occasion and are now displayed in the class rooms. In stands made by Principal Paul B. Thompson's manual training class.

It is understood that the high school rooms are to receive flags from the same two organizations at a later date this semester.

HONOR CHARLES H. BLOOM

Charles H. Bloom was the guest of honor Thursday evening, March 11, at a banquet in Detroit given as a recognition of his 50 years of service with the Michigan Fire and Marine Insurance company. In the presence of seven other guests, Mr. Bloom was given an engraved gold watch.

BOARD GIVES CLASS A TITLE TO SESSIONS

Credit Goes to Supt. Fennell for Enlarging, Equipping
Local Hospital

Sessions hospital has become a Class A institution. By action of the Board of Directors of the Ann Arbor Medical association this hospital was unanimously accepted and word was received by Superintendent Irene Fennell the first of the week.

Northville is to be congratulated on having so well-equipped an institution for the care of its sick. The enterprising superintendent, Miss Fennell, who has been associated with the hospital for a number of years and who has been at its head for the past three years, deserves great credit for her courageous foresight in the steps she has taken to enlarge and equip the hospital for any emergency that may arise.

During her superintendency Miss Fennell has enlarged the basement, making room for a new kitchen, dining room and laundry. The first floor has been entirely remodelled, making room for more patients. On the second floor have been built a number of new rooms including an operating room, a delivery room and nursery, all up-to-date in their equipment. The hospital now accommodates 26 patients with a corps of five trained nurses on regular duty and other nurses for special cases.

Miss Fennell purchased the hospital from Mrs. Ed Sessions who started it 16 years ago on a small scale in her home, taking in patients for care until the number grew beyond her strength. Mrs. Sessions still keeps her interest in the hospital which bears her name and is frequently called in on special duty.

BATH TUB DEATHS OCCUR FREQUENTLY

"Carelessness Causes Most Injuries," Says Exchange
Club Speaker

BY CHARLES A. DOLPH

"Home, traffic and industrial occupations cause the greatest number of accidents," according to J. A. Purdy, director of engineering of the Michigan Mutual Liability company of Detroit, when he spoke to the members of the Exchange club Wednesday noon.

"The country's death list last year was 39,000 from home accidents; 38,000 in traffic; and 18,000 in industrial plants," Mr. Purdy affirmed.

"The basic trouble in most accidents is mental lapses of some sort, inattention and personal carelessness. In the traffic field accidents are caused 'either by the driver or a pedestrian and rarely by mechanical faults. In the home the greatest number of deaths are found in the bath tub. People slip in getting in or out of the tub or by grasping an electric light bulb or wire while in the water."

"Tripping on the stairs with high-heeled shoes or slipping on rugs are the cause of many deaths," he said.

Mr. Purdy's most telling illustration was that of a brinsly walking pedestrian who travels about six feet a second and an automobile going 60 feet a second when traveling 60 miles an hour. His question was "What chance does the pedestrian have with the machine in such a case?"

Next week's meeting comes on St. Patrick's day and will be suitably remembered.

RED CROSS SPONSORS CLINIC ON WEDNESDAY

The monthly Baby Clinic will be held as usual in the upper rooms of the Village Hall, Wednesday, March 17, from 10 a. m. to noon. Dr. Brady, a child specialist of Detroit, will be in charge to examine any children of pre-school age.

This courtesy is extended to the public by the Red Cross, and all mothers are cordially urged to bring their children for a check-up.

Northville's Basketball Team Takes 'C' Trophy In District Tournament

Melvindale's Wattsmen, Winners in the League, Lose to Lincoln Park; Local Boys Enter Regional Meet

BARRIEN DEFEAT THREE TEAMS; PLAY FLAT ROCK THURSDAY

As a result of Northville's win in the Class C district tournament, held March 4-5 in Ypsilanti, the local basketball team is playing again this week in the regional meet at Ypsilanti. Thursday evening, March 11, the team played Flat Rock. If this game is another win for Northville, St. Leo's basket shooters will be played tonight.

At the end of the season, Northville was tied with Trenton for second place in the league. Melvindale's team, which was defeated by Lincoln Park in the first round of the tournament, March 4, is the league winner.

BY JACK STUBENVOLL

After three nights of hard basketball, Northville brought home her second district championship trophy, defeating University High, Ann Arbor, 20-18. Ypsilanti Roosevelt, 29-27 and St. Thomas, 20-11, in the tournament held March 4-5 in Ypsilanti.

University high and Roosevelt were difficult, Northville winning by only two points in both games. St. Thomas, however, was much easier, making the game with a nine-point lead for the cup.

Northville played spectacular ball the first game, Hochkins combining the net in the last 20 seconds of play to win by a two point margin.

The second game was especially exciting, the home team winning this one also in the fading seconds, the first quarter. St. Thomas gave Northville's match until the fourth quarter, but our team slowly speeded to a great ball club.

Northville's basketball this year at Ypsilanti has provided the crowds something to yell about. Did you ever watch the crowd, it's Ah! and Oh! when Northville showed her fast break or some swell passing combination with Turnbull and Bishop leading the attack.

Maybe you saw Westphal make a long side shot or Scott and Hochkins swish some long ones. I can't leave Boleens or Duguid out for they have been playing basketball equally as well as the five regulars. These seven boys give Northville its power and speed.

SCHOOL DAYS FOR 5-YEAR-OLDS Miss Richards Adopts Kindergarten Visiting Plan

Kindergarten visiting days, which have been worked out successfully at Grosse Pointe by Miss Ethel Tucker and Miss Katherine Fitzpatrick, are to become a part of this spring's program in Northville.

"This is merely an experiment," said Miss Ann Richards, kindergarten teacher, when she announced plans for pre-enrollment registration, preparatory to issuing visiting invitations to five-year-olds who will enter school for the first time next fall.

The visiting program enables children to visit the kindergarten where they will be enrolled on certain specified days during the term preceding the one in which they will enter as pupils. Miss Richards will make her schedule of visiting days as soon as the pre-enrollment registration is completed here, March 16.

Early registration for next year's kindergartners will be held at 3 p. m., March 15, and at 11 a. m., March 16, in the kindergarten room in the new grade school building.

"These pupils will be invited to visit the school this spring so that they can get acquainted with the place and the teachers," said Miss Richards.

Designed to make kindergarten days joyous ones for the small boys and girls and to take away the strangeness of the experience, the visiting idea has been found at Grosse Pointe to accomplish its purpose and at the same time solve other "first school days" problems.

It has been noted that the pupils themselves look forward to the weekly visiting days, feeling the responsibility of taking over the duties of hosts. Their pride is evident when they make their guests feel at home by finding places for their wraps and equipment, permitting them to enter their free play activities.

Miss Fitzpatrick and Miss Tucker give simplicity and reputation as the twin keystones of the project. They use certain sample songs, rhymes, games and stories, repeating them each visiting day, so that the visitors grow in self-confidence and a sense of security when, after one or two visits, they found themselves familiar with these activities and able to take part in the program.

During these days, some elementary health and safety rules will be discussed by Miss Richards, thus taking a step to bridge the gap between home and school.

LOOMIS TAKES OVER DUTIES OF NIGHT POLICE

Gordon Allen Resigns from Job; Council Has Not Made Appointment

Pending official appointment by members of the village commission, expected to be given at the regular meeting, March 15, Richard Loomis is the night officer on duty in Northville.

Mr. Loomis succeeds Gordon Allen, whose resignation was sent to the office of the village clerk Thursday, March 4. Mr. Allen has been a member of the village police department for four years.

In becoming a member of the police force, Mr. Loomis leaves the employ of the Wayne County Training school, where for the past six and a half years he has been a night watchman. During the winter of 1932-33 he conducted the physical education classes at the school.

Mr. Loomis' resignation to the school, written two weeks ago, was accepted Tuesday morning when it was learned there that he had been on police duty for the village since March 4.

Before coming to the Training school, Mr. Loomis was engaged by the Wayne County Probate court where he was active in handling cases work and juvenile delinquency cases in cooperation with the Detroit police department.

In addition to this, he has had an administrative position with a Michigan insurance company and the membership in the car leading department of a motor car corporation.

For the past 12 years Mr. Loomis has been a volunteer troop organizer and administrator for the Boy Scouts, working in Detroit and Hamtramck. He is an American Red Cross Examiner, Life Saving Instructor and an American Red Cross First Aid certificate.

He was graduated from the Cass high school in Detroit and has since taken a number of extension courses from the University of Michigan in sociology and social psychology.

In a letter to the village council, Mr. Loomis writes: "I have been driving cars for 15 years and have driven passenger cars 300,000 miles; commercial vehicles 100,000 miles; and motorcycles 75,000 miles. I have been involved in one non-injury accident which occurred in 1931 when I was driving a personal car. The accident resulted in a total of $50 damage to both vehicles."

Three of the Protestant churches, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian, are cooperating in the Holy week service for the week of March 23-25.

The Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith of the Presbyterian church will speak to the congregation of the three churches at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 23 in the Baptist church.

On the following evening at the same hour, the Rev. Harry J. Lord of the Methodist church will be the guest-pastor in the Presbyterian pulpit.

The Rev. K. S. North of the Baptist church will conclude this series of "evening meetings" Thursday, March 25, in a pre-Easter service in the Methodist church.

A union Good Friday service will be held from 1 to 3 p. m., March 26, in the Baptist church.

PROTESTANT GROUPS OBSERVE HOLY WEEK

The Northville high school band, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, presented its second concert of the season Tuesday evening in the high school gymnasium.

The band, which has grown rapidly under Mr. Lee's direction now has 35 members, and all but two of these are students in the high school.

The features of the evening were the brass quintet, which played two selections, and the clarinet quartet numbers. Doris Tewksbury offered a trombone solo.

The 16 beginners, who are just learning to play their instruments were present at the concert. Their horns were purchased by the money that various merchants and townspeople have donated. Both Mr. Lee and Superintendent R. H. Amerman, the band manager, expressed their appreciation for the interest shown in this organization, and stated that the band was available for concerts and entertainment with no charge.

Altogether the band has purchased over $43.00 worth of new instruments, and they hope to be able to go more before the end of the year.

Mr. Lee said that no new concerts were planned, but that they hoped to give a series of programs during the summer in the village park.

The band will play at the Wayne County Training School on March 20 as a part of a program planned for that day. The Rotary Club will then be in charge of the band.

NEWS REPORTER SEES BARRYVILLE TURN ON LIGHTS

Pageant for Electricity
Celebration Is Best Home
Talent Show

BY CHARLES R. BUTTON,
Walled Lake

Barryville probably isn't shown on your map of Michigan.

As a matter of fact, it isn't really a town. You may have, at one time or another, driven right through Barryville, past its century-old church with its horse and carriage sheds, and the grave yard in "the rear" past its equally old, yet spick and span little, one room school house, and past the time mellowed, friendly farm homes, placed there by some of the State's earliest settlers, to be kept by later generations who, even now are rounding out the better part of their lifetime as Barry county pioneers.

But whether or not you have passed through Barryville, on your way to Nashville, Charlotte or Lansing to the east, or Hastings and Grand Rapids to the west, makes little difference, as far as this story is concerned. It does matter, that you understand Barryville to be a reality, populated by many who were born in their present homes, built by their fathers and mothers before them, as were the red brick church and the little frame school they attended, and their children and their children's children attend today.

It was in this little plateau settlement that an event took place the evening of March 5, the like of which was enacted for most of us nearly 40 years ago. An event as momentous to the kindly, patient folk of Barryville as it could ever have been to us—the celebration of the installation of electricity.

Can you possibly imagine 70 years in this day and age, before lighting an electric lamp in the home of your birth. Can you absorb the thought of actually doing this for the first time only last week?

If so, then you can truly say that this was the most outstanding and historic happening of common interest within the memory of the oldest Barryville farmer.

The celebration held in the newly erected church was in the form of a pageant which might have been named "Light of a Century," paraphrasing the "Wings of a Century" of the Century of Progress exposition.

Each scene was enacted by the older residents, assisted by some of the younger folk, and was based on various episodes of their lives during the development of artificial light in the community. To this writer, it was the best "home talent" performance he ever saw, although it had not been previously rehearsed. No practice was necessary, for these folks to draw upon their storehouses of memories, and live them over again, together. This they did in simple, unassuming manner, so realistically that one was moved deeply by the thought that here, indeed, was a bit of history in the making. It was as though these country folk had finally seen the completion of a long and difficult task. As though they had at last opened the door which would release them from toilsome days and dreary nights, as they crossed the threshold of the new and modern world which had been about them, but apart from them for so long.

Introduced by Dr. H. S. Willis, the Detroit educator analyzed in a very comprehensive and vivid way the historic struggle now going on in the Spanish peninsula. The civil warfare is unsurpassed for frightfulness, said Dr. Ashcom, and is literally a "war of extermination" between classes. In explanation of this he told how at one time the rebels executed 5,000 people. Yet many of the stories of atrocities told by both factions should be taken with a "grain of salt," the speaker added.

The present government, whose followers are called "Loyalists," is in control of the government while the "Rebels" are the conservatives, explained the speaker. The Spaniard is a much misunderstood man, said Dr. Ashcom. Instead of being romantic, he is a realist, an individualist and is democratic.

Dr. Ashcom charged that Germany and Italy are backing the rebels while Russia is extending aid to the Loyalists. The Spanish situation is the most dangerous of any in the world right now, he said and is without doubt a "threat to world peace." At least six nations are ready for war and the whole world will be affected if war should start its bloody course.

The Rotary program was part of the peace movement that is now sweeping the country.

Preceding the address by Dr. Ashcom, Howard Whipple was welcomed as a new Rotarian. The ceremony of introduction into membership was conducted by Harry B. Clark. The meeting was in charge of President W. E. Forney. Leslie G. Lee led group singing, with Miss Tewksbury at the piano.

CLAUDE ELY RECEIVES FLASH FROM ANN ARBOR OPERATOR; No Damage Here

Slightly more severe was the tremor felt here at 12:45 a. m. Tuesday as compared with its forerunner of Tuesday, March 2.

From all sections of the village came reports of sound-sleepers who were awakened when the quake shook their beds. Even when windows rattled, doors slammed and beds actually moved, sleepy villagers are slow to credit the disturbance to an earthquake, for this part of the country has long been considered immune from such activity.

At the home of Mrs. E. W. Painter on Randolph street, Miss Betty Randall reports that a large picture was knocked from the wall onto a marble-top table below.

Claude E. Ely, on duty at the Detroit Edison sub-station at the time of the tremor had a call from the Ann Arbor operator, asking if the disturbance had been felt here. The operator reported that the quake was more active in the lower part of the State at Owosso, Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids. Mr. Ely was relieved at 7 a. m. by Operator Ray VanValkenburgh, who said that the tremor woke him.

Late Monday evening at the home of Mrs. B. G. Elyms, 543 West Dunlap street, bridge cards were arranged on tables in preparation for a party the following day. Tuesday morning, the cards on the table were disarranged showing evidence of the early morning disturbance.

Mr. Samuel Pirkard, 550 Fabon drive, who has been ill with influenza for several days, suffered sensations comparable to sea sickness for several hours after the quake registered here.

Seismograph operators at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, report that the first shock was felt at 12:44 a. m. and the last one about two minutes later. This is the third disturbance of its kind to be felt here within the year.

'SPAIN'S WAR FLAME MAY SWEEP EUROPE'

The terrible civil war now going on in Spain between loyalists and rebels "may at any moment break into flame that will sweep over Europe," Dr. B. B. Ashcom, of the Spanish department of Wayne university of Detroit, told Northville Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday.

PONSFORD'S STORE BUYS SPRING STOCK

The Ponsford store which has had a special sale for the past few weeks, will have a special spring opening on Saturday—tomorrow, when a new and enlarged stock of high-grade merchandise will be offered to the public.

During its entire existence this store has featured nationally advertised merchandise in its various lines and in the new and enlarged store these items will be greatly augmented with a very complete assortment of more medium priced goods, and in addition a bargain annex will be featured.

The stock is being re-arranged for the opening on Saturday and when the doors are opened tomorrow morning Northville citizens will be happily surprised by the great transformation which has taken place. New lines will be added as the public demands and it is the desire of the management to keep the Ponsford store in the forefront of Michigan's small city stores.

Very few towns the size of Northville can boast of a dry goods store as attractive and with the new lines which have been added, the general public will find this a popular meeting place for the season.

EASTERN STAR-MASON PARTY DRAWS DANCERS

Members of the Eastern Star and the Masonic lodges, 150 in number, danced Friday evening in the high school gymnasium at the third annual dance of the two organizations.

Responsible for engaging Fennell's orchestra were Mrs. Norman P. Dehne, Mrs. Waid Masters, Mr. and Mrs. John Litsberger, Charles Freydl, J. Harry Bolton and Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston.

A CHALLENGE TO NORTHVILLE

If Northville can do anything to stop this hideous thing called war, in the name of all that is sane and right, let's all put our shoulders to the peace wheel.

Maybe we don't all hate war but certainly we all hate the products of war. When we think of what the World War cost this little community—our hearts and minds should burn with bitterness toward war. Northville still suffers and will suffer for years to come as the results of that war of 1914-18. Not only have we buried our dead, we have nursed our living—the broken in body and mind. We will nurse them for years to come. On every hand we can still see the devastation of that World War which took 17,000,000 lives.

What is going to stop this devilish thing called war? Talking of the monstrosities and horrors of war will not stop the next one. Of course no sane person wants to see a young man killed by a shell as was Lloyd H. Green, as he slept in a mud hole overseas. No reasoning being wants another seventeen million young men sent into eternity by the murderous forces of battle. Just thinking of the millions of soldiers' graves, of the thousands and thousands in hospitals and asylums will not stop the next war. Trying to figure the cost of killing another seventeen millions at the rate of $25,000 a man—the price of killing one man in the World War—will not stop the next one.

What will stop the next war? Just one thing will bring the world to its senses and stop the next war—which raises its hideous head on the nearly horizon of the world right now.

The one thing that will prevent another war is PUBLIC OPINION. Get the people of the world aroused to what a terrible and insane thing is war and there will be no more world war. The world is right now headed toward warfare and only the united action of all the peoples of the earth will prevent a recurrence of another attack on civilization, which is still drunken from the last.

Northville is asked to do its part in arousing public opinion so that war may be outlawed.

Next Thursday evening, March 18, at the Presbyterian church will come one of our chances to arouse sentiment to help stop the oncoming war. There will be a peace mass meeting at Presbyterian church house. You can do one of two things. Come for the dinner which will cost you 60 cents or come to the program at 7 o'clock, following the meal. This will cost only ten cents. Not only will you hear a great program but you will be privileged to see the talkie-movie, "Dealers in Death." That will open your eyes.

Stopping the next war will be pretty largely a task for the United States and Great Britain to perform. Northville has its share in the work to be done in this country. You can do a little by attending next week's peace meeting. If you think war can't be stopped, bring an open mind and learn. Whether the next war is stopped is "up to the people."

TOWNSHIP PRIMARY DRAWS MANY

For the sake of the history books, let it be said that Northville township's first primary for nominating its own officers got off to a good start. The primary proved to be a better attraction than the average caucus. At the first primary, on March 1st, there were 425 votes cast, whereas there has been many a caucus when it was hard to drum up a hundred voters.

There was no extra cost for the primary this year, in view of the fact that county contests made it necessary to have the primary anyway. When citizens have all day in which to make their choice of candidates, certainly there is plenty of chance for the full expression of public opinion. That makes for good government.

THE PUBLIC WILL BACK THE "CHIEF"

Northville's new chief of police, Loyle German, will find that he will have the backing of the public as he sets out to stop the speeders. The village has plenty of them and some of these fast travelers need some training in law observance. Reckless driving is a constant menace and if a few fines or jail sentences are needed to bring the wild drivers to their senses, the fathers and mothers will approve. "More power to you, Chief."

THE CANADIAN WAY MIGHT BE RIGHT

Sit-down strikers in Canada are not hailed as heroes. Canada isn't that way. In Samia, across from Port Huron, the other day, when a small minority tried to stop the majority from working in a foundry, a number of the strike leaders were thrown in jail and some of them fined. A dozen or so also went to the hospital but the plain law of the land was upheld.

Whoever in America gloats over the success of "sit-downers" may well watch the after effects of law breaking. The lawlessness of America is one of our serious menaces. The day may not be far distant when we shall envy Canada for its respect for law. "Two wrongs never made a right."

ANN ARBOR DEAN FEARS ROOSEVELT PLAN

No one man in the United States is big enough to have the power that President Roosevelt is asking in his plan to enlarge the Supreme Court. That is the opinion of one of the finest authorities in the State of Michigan, viz., Dean Henry M. Bates, head of the law department of the University of Michigan. Here is what he says:

I have not the slightest thought that President Roosevelt wants to be a dictator of the European model, but he does want control, personal control, at the top.

No man who ever lived can handle all our problems. There never was a time when it was safe to give one man complete power for the sake of efficiency, as political thinkers since the time of Aristotle have pointed out.

If President Roosevelt, with the best of motives, succeeds in this instance, other men are bound to go much further.

If you haven't written your letter of protest yet to your Senators and Congressmen, do it now. The Roosevelt plans is dangerous and don't be fooled by talk to the contrary.

The Supreme Court is our last citadel. No one man, no matter how magnetic or persuasive, should ever control it.

OUT TO THE SUBURBS THEY ARE COMING

Detroit is booming. So is the territory near to the big city. Anyone who drives much out Grand River way out into the open country that spreads to the westward must be impressed by the large amount of building that is going on. Hundreds of homes are going up. Many of them, be it granted, are small, but any home is better than a place that belongs to some one else. We are safe as long as home owners are with us.

Northville is going to share in this outward movement from the city. Even now, homes are very difficult to find here. The new Burroughs plant at Plymouth will add its influx to the tides that are moving this way. Whoever builds here now would seem to be doing the "smart" thing. The building boom is here. No doubt of it.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

Northville high is aiming at the Class C State basketball championship. One step on the road to State honors was accomplished Friday, March 6, when Northville defeated Spiceland, 21 to 20 at Ypsilanti in the finals of the district tournament. Ted Watts is the coach.

With the passing of Willard D. Stark, Tuesday, March 10 Northville lost a citizen who was held with high esteem by his business associates and loved by his friends.

Announcement was made from the Michigan State Fair offices in Detroit this last week that A. E. Fuller of Northville has again accepted the general superintendency of the poultry, pigeon, cavy and tropical fish department.

Defeating his opponent, John Lisenberger, by a margin of 99 votes in the village election Monday for the office of treasurer, Harold Bloom was the villagers' choice at the polls. This is the second time that Bloom has won votes from Lisenberger. The vacant seats on the council are to be filled by Floyd Shafer who received 280 ballots and J. W. Perkins who was reelected with 274 votes cast in his favor.

Death came unexpectedly to a village resident, James B. Cook, Saturday morning.

Friday at 8 p. m., March 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conklin of North Center street, their daughter, Flora Mae, was united in marriage to Harry Rogers of Ann Arbor.

5 YEARS AGO

A son, Ian Russell, was born on Thursday, March 3 at Sessions hospital to Mr. and Mrs. McKillip whose home is one, the corner of Dunlap and Wing streets.

For the first time this winter Northville is shivering with near-zero temperature.

For several years the State department of health has advised and requested our various councils to take action on our village water supply which upon examination had been found to be potentially dangerous, writes Dr. H. H. Burkart. Most of the present council believe that the present system can be made pure and adequate, without the village assuming an indebtedness of approximately $30,000, but realizing fully the importance of the matter have decided not to assume the entire responsibility of solving this vital question and hence on Monday the electors will be called upon to vote "Yes" or "No" on a questionnaire regarding the advisability of sinking deep wells for the supply of the village of Northville.

15 YEARS AGO

Charging that his wife, Jennie J. Upham, died as a result of internal injuries suffered when she slipped on grease on the floor of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company store in Northville, Lawrence M. Upham Tuesday brought suit against the company for $10,000 damages. The accident occurred Dec. 4, 1920, he charges.

The election of the 29 directors for the Wayne County Fair association resulted in the following: Two years, J. A. Huff, E. M. Stark.

weather, T. E. Murdock, H. B. Clark, M. N. Johnson, Stewart Montgomery, A. C. Balden, N. C. Schrader, F. S. Neal and M. H. Sloan; one year, M. R. Seely, G. E. Richardson, C. A. Pomeroy, F. A. Northrop, C. A. Altman, H. R. Richardson, F. W. Lyke, T. G. Richardson, E. E. Brown and Albert Eberole.

20 YEARS AGO

The death of Mrs. Frances J. Darnum occurred Saturday, March 3, in Harper hospital, Detroit, where she had undergone a serious operation ten days before.

A farewell reception is to be held next Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church for the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Webster.

Mrs. Nettie James announces the marriage in Detroit, Feb. 20, 1917, by Rev. Goodrich of that city, of her daughter, Miss Vera James of Northville to Frank Schaefer of Plymouth.

Ralph VanSickle and Miss Margaret E. Matheson, both of this village, were united in marriage Wednesday.

A son was born Sunday, March 4, to Mr. and Mrs. Warren VanDyne of this place.

The wicked (and otherwise) have had hard work to "stand" in slippery places again this week.

30 YEARS AGO

The village election was held here Monday and 319 votes polled out of 500 which showed the large interest that was taken in village affairs. There were two good tickets in the field, the Citizens' and Workingmen's, the latter receiving the entire vote with the exception of one man. The following is the list of officers for the ensuing year: President, M. F. Stanley; trustees, B. A. Northrop, Edward Gay and C. E. Ryder; clerk, T. E. Murdock; treasurer, James A. Huff; assessor, C. A. Sessions.

Mrs. Euphemia VanSickle died at her home west of this village Sunday after a long illness, aged 71 years.

Death has again visited our village and taken from our midst George W. Stark, who passed peacefully away at his home on West Main street Wednesday morning, March 13.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kimball, Monday, March 11, a son.

Hazel Boree entertained about 20 of her young school friends Saturday evening, it being the occasion of her birthday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Northrop, a son, Wednesday, March 13.

Walled Lake News

BY CHARLES E. HUTTON

WINS TOURNEY

The Walled Lake high school basketball team won its second district tournament in three years at the Milford high school by defeating its strongest Southwestern Oakland County League opponent, Keego Harbor, Saturday night by a score of 19 to 13.

Walled Lake became the final contender for the tournament trophy by virtue of victories over Brighton and Fenton Thursday and Friday nights, by the respective scores of 49 to 12 and 33 to 10. In the three-game series Walled Lake piled up a total of 161 points against 35 for its opponents. The Walled Lake team, coached by Harold Hersh, won the 1934 tournament by defeating Brighton, Holly and Farmington.

The Lake team is co-champion of the Southwestern Oakland County League with Keego Harbor. In total games this season, coach Hersh's men has won 13 and lost three. It now holds the league trophy permanently, having won the championship in the previous two years and tied for it this year. Since the league was organized seven years ago, Walled Lake has held at least one major sports championship. During the 1935-36 season, it led in all three sports—baseball, football and basketball. The football team was undefeated in 1936. This year's cage team includes Roland Green, Harold DeGroot, Roger Berlin, forwards, Bob Philip and Debert Thorberg, guards and Bill Ellenwood, center.

Walled Lake enters the regional tournament at Lake Orion this week.

CAR CRASHES

Gaylord Vreeland, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Vreeland, narrowly escaped injury at 4:30 p. m. Saturday, when the car which he was driving north on East Lake Drive, left the road and hit a tree. The right side of the car was badly damaged. It is believed that a defective brake caused him to lose control of his car.

BARBER BUYS BUILDING

Arthur Herron, Walled Lake barber, has announced the purchase of the building now occupied by the post office, and formerly known as the People's Bank building, from Albert Richardson and Frank Dickie. Mr. Herron plans to remodel the place for his own use as barber shop. A new location for the post office has not as yet been decided upon.

ELECT OFFICERS

An election of officers, was held at the evening session of the Southwestern Oakland County Sunday School convention, at the Novi Baptist church, Thursday. New officers include Mrs. Roland Porter, Wixom, president; Miss Lucile Lidgard, South Lyon, first vice-president and superintendent of the candle roll department; Mrs. Charles Deaver, Milford, second vice-president and superintendent of the home department; and Miss Elsie Rudoff, Oakley Park, secretary and treasurer.

FIRE AT WOLFF FARM

The Walled Lake fire department was called to the Wolff farm, two miles north of Wixom, on the Milford road, at 2 o'clock, Monday morning, when the roof of the house caught fire by a spark from the chimney. The department succeeded in confining the damage to a hole burned through the roof. Damage was estimated at about $50. Some confusion often occurs when persons living in this area attempt to call the fire department. All such emergency calls from any point in Commerce township should be phoned directly to the Walled Lake telephone exchange, asking all relay telephone operators to rush the call through, advising them that it is an emergency fire call. The Walled Lake fire department answers all.

"NORTH OF NOME"

Seal hunting in the primitive Bering Sea country is depicted in Columbia's new Jack Holt picture, "North of Nome," showing Friday and Saturday at the Penniman-Allyn theatre. It is a graphic story of poachers and hijackers, and a romance that involves a wealthy girl shipwrecked with friends on an island inhabited by a poacher. Playing opposite Holt is Evelyn Venable, returning to the screen after a year's absence devoted to motherhood. In other featured roles are to be found Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, lately seen in Holt's "End of the Trail," John Miljan, Roger Imhoff, Paul Eust, Dorothy Appleby and Robert Gleckler.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY

High adventure is combined with hilarious comedy and fast action in Universal's "Ride 'Em Cowboy," which will open at the Penniman-Allyn theatre on Friday and Saturday. Buck portrays a happy-go-lucky cowboy who is forever getting himself into trouble. He escapes from a sheriff who wants him for one of his pranks, when he agrees to drive an auto in a race. Switching from his horse to a mechanical steed, Buck finds the high speed contraption back jumping, sunbathing, rolling, punching and raring into the next county. Whoa, Napoleon!

"SMARTEST GIRL IN TOWN"

Revolving about the romance of a beautiful photographic model and a masquerading wealthy playboy, "Smartest Girl in Town" brings Ann Sothorn and Gene Raymond together again next Sunday at the Penniman-Allyn theatre.

The two favorites, who scored to notably in their recent "Walking on Air," are endowed with an even faster and funnier story in "Smartest Girl in Town." They share the stellar riches, supported by a brilliant cast including Helen Broderick, Eric Blore, Erik Rhodes, Harry Jans and Frank Jerks.

valet as the head of a fictitious advertising agency, has him sign Miss Sothorn to a contract and proceeds to pose with the lady to his heart's content.

Despite her resolutions to marry for money, Miss Sothorn discovers that she is falling in love with Raymond. The resulting complications, with Miss Sothorn's practical sister endeavoring to sever the affair and spur the egg-collecting foreigner to the point of proposal, leads to the hilarious climax of the picture. Miss Sothorn and Raymond are ideally cast for their respective roles, with the comedy possibilities of the story and situations affording splendid opportunity for their clever foibles. Helen Broderick as the acid-tongued sister, Eric Blore as Raymond's timorous valet, Erik Rhodes as the foreign egg-fancier, and Harry Jans as Miss Broderick's ineffectual husband—all have noteworthy parts in the laughter-packed scenes of the film.

"THE CAPTAIN'S KID"

Sybil Jason, that brown-eyed starlet who will be seven next November, hasn't any famous ancestors. "So," she says, "I'm going to become one."

And she has made a good start. Born in Capetown, South Africa, Sybil when a few years old was taking part in charity concerts. Her imitations of famous people made a big hit. So much so that Frances Day, English star, began insisting that the clever little South African be brought to London.

Thus it happened that Sybil appeared with Frances Day in "My Kid's A Crooner," following a successful debut in "Barnacle Bill, the Sailor." This led to work with Buddy Rogers, who was then in London, in "Dance Band."

Warner Bros. executives saw Sybil in "Barnacle Bill." This led to a film test, and eventually to stardom at the age of five and a half. "Little Big Shot," "I Found Stella Parish" and "The Singing Kid" proceeded to make Sybil a famous ancestor.

Just now, Sybil is joining a couple of father old timers, Guy Kibbee and May Robson, in the making of "The Captain's Kid," the first National picture, which comes to the Penniman-Allyn theatre on Wednesday.

This starlet has two favorite games—tennis and hide-and-seek.

When she has a playmate who isn't too staid she likes to combine the two games. But the talent of which she's really proud is the piano—she's self-taught.

During the production of the film Sybil taught Mr. Kibbee to play the piano.

"I don't know much about it," she explains, "but Uncle Guy doesn't know even that much. He's a very difficult pupil, I must say, for he always wants to play games."

"And, don't you know, to learn anything you have to be serious about it. I've belted that all my life, and teaching Uncle Guy proves that I'm right."

"Sometimes," she sighed, "I think Uncle Guy dreams too much about fishing."

"Now, Aunt May—you know, all the stars I work with become my aunts and uncles—Aunt May, she concentrates. The other day, she and I sneaked out to the back lot—you know, down by the Los Angeles River bed, back of Stage 14—and I showed her the Sybil Jason Middle System."

"The important thing is to knead your mud before you put it in the mold. Well, in five minutes Aunt May was doing it as well as I—almost."

"But that Uncle Guy," she said in a pleasant trace of English accent, "he's a problem. I told him the other day, if he doesn't stop thinking all the time about fish, I'm going to give him a spanking. That didn't seem to disturb him, he said he needed a spanking."

Radio Cabinets Into Desks

What to do with an old-fashioned (if ten years can age) radio cabinet caused our family to start looking for someone to change it into a useful piece of furniture for the apartment.

In a near-by city friends told us of an elderly man who had recently worked himself off the relief rolls by working over such radio cabinets. And for $7 he made our cabinet into a clever ornamental desk, for which a furniture store would surely charge us $20.

No doubt other men similarly qualified could, with a little study, achieve similar results.—R. P. S. McMinnville, Oregon—Christian Science Monitor.

THOSE HUSBANDS

And now, what kind of a man would the women like for a husband? After the questionnaire, we wives went through last week it occurred to us to ask a number of Northville women what qualities they would demand of a husband.

"What makes marriage contented and happy?" we questioned. Strange and varied were the answers—and most surprising, for not one of them wished her hero to be "charming, strong and tall." Not one even mentioned physical attraction; not one asked that he be able to make a good living; no one expected him to be unusually brilliant.

It was companionship, understanding; that each wanted though each expressed it in a different way.

"My husband must be a good companion," said one. "He and I must be congenial in our tastes so that we will be good pals," enjoying the same things."

"Tolerance," said another wife, "is the key note of a successful marriage. Tolerance, each for the other's rights and opinions. My husband must not make mountains out of molehills."

"It has been my strong opinion for years," she continued, "that each must preserve his own individuality. One's identity is his sacred castle into which neither must intrude. It is the preserving of this individual personality that holds the charm, each for the other. It is the thing that attracted them to each other as lovers—then why should they become alike after they are married? I despise a wife who becomes a feeble echo of her husband."

"I want my husband to be absolutely clean," said another.

"My husband must be a man I can trust, faithful to the core as he expects me to be."

"I must be able to look up to my husband. He is my protector, my hero—the leader in affairs, and always kind."

"No, I do not want my husband 'domestic,' laughed another wife. I do not mind his taking a hand at the dish towel, now and then for companionship but as a rule I manage the home as he manages his business. I don't like a man putting around my kitchen."

"I'm glad my husband likes children," said the mother of a small brood. "These common interests hold us together. My husband seems never fiercer to me than when he is playing with our kiddies."

Most surprising of all was the answer that came from the wife of a "man of affairs," an unusually successful business type.

"My husband's religion," she said feelingly, "is what I value most in his life. Not a single morning comes that he does not begin the day down on his knees in prayer and when he goes forth to the day's work I feel sure he is safe for he is 'founded on a rock.' It seems to me that all the other fine qualities that I like in him are dependent on this one fundamental."

We could have questioned other wives. It would have been interesting. Perhaps we will some day. At any rate this might be a good thing to read to those husbands.

Salmon Loaf

MRS. MARTIN JOHNSON LECTURES SUNDAY

Mrs. Martin Johnson, whose 26-year partnership with her explorer husband was broken by a tragic airplane crash, will appear in person and speak on "Into the Jungles of Borneo" with the new Martin Johnson motion pictures at Cass Tech auditorium at 3:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. on Sunday, March 14.

Mrs. Johnson appears under the auspices of the World Adventure series at the Detroit Institute of Arts, where reservations may be made.

When Mrs. Johnson was told of her husband's death she exclaimed: "I will carry on his work." True to her word, she left a Los Angeles hospital ten days ago and began the Martin Johnson lecture tour on March 1. "Many times Mrs. Johnson has saved my life with her skill with the rifle," Martin Johnson once said. "I knew she was a dead shot, so I would photograph a charging rhino or a lion with no concern whatever."

The new motion pictures feature a dangerous two-day battle with a huge orang-outang with an arm spread of nearly nine feet. They show the rarest and funniest monkey in the world, the proboscis species. They picture fish that walk, snakes that fly, ostriches that grow on trees. They show the Martin Johnson stockaded village with its 50 natives, jungle animals and jungle savages.

ture; C. V. Ballard, county agent leader; and E. B. Hill, head of the farm management department, attended the conference. Tenants said they wanted to own farms if credit was easier and security more apparent. Landlords and tenants agreed that instead of tenants moving to new farms each year, more financial benefit could be obtained by renter and owner and greater protection given farm fertility if longer term arrangements were effected. About 47 per cent of Michigan's farm tenants move each year to a new farm, according to a survey of 194,063 farms reported in the 1935 census.

It's farther between filling stations in the Ford "60".

The 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

New Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 35-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!

IRRIGATION PAYS DIVIDENDS
Even though Michigan lies within the belt of 35" average rainfall a year supplemental irrigation is a profitable investment, according to County Agent E. L. Bessemer.

In the areas of 35" average yearly rainfall there were 127 droughts in a period of 20 years ranging from ten days to 33 days each during the growing season.

Three farmers in Michigan last year were able to sell over $1000 worth of strawberries from a one-acre patch which they irrigated for a total cost of $20 or less. Other farmers secured increases of 150 to 200 bushels of potatoes by irrigating this year, at costs of $10 to $25 an acre including power, labor and depreciation. These men used either the porous hose system or some variation of low pressure equipment that has been worked out during the past several years at Michigan State college. The equipment methods these men used will be discussed at the irrigation meeting to be held at 2 p. m., March 12 in the City Hall, Plymouth.

"SAVE THE SOIL" MEETINGS
According to County Agent E. L. Bessemer, the problems of soil conservation consist of erosion control, flood control and leaching prevention.

At the meetings to discuss soil conservation the following problems will be presented: picture of county's agriculture; major soil types of county and associated problems—lime needs and fertility needs; practices, payments and rewards.

TREND TO TENANT FARMING
Better times for agriculture in Michigan may cut down the trend to more tenant farming that has occurred in the last 10 years, it was agreed in a recent conference at Michigan State college on the farm tenancy situation in the state. Forty persons including E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, Lawrence O'Neill of the state department of agriculture, and others, discussed the problem of farm tenancy. The trend to tenant farming has been noted in dairy herds in Michigan by E. C. Scheidtmann, extension chairman at Michigan State college. In the month of January herds on test indicated 38 per cent more milk production compared to the low point reached in December. The increase is seasonal and will continue into June, says Scheidtmann. Sixty-five more herds went on test: the first of the year in 33 different associations. Culling continued at a rapid rate in the face of feed costs when 367 head of cattle were taken off the boarding list and 101 head in addition were sold for dairy purposes. The average herd consists of 15.1 cows, the same number as in August, 1936.

ASK FOR FUNDS TO AID M. S. C.

Members of the Michigan Press association in their recent annual meeting at East Lansing adopted two resolutions affecting the culture, education and pocketbooks of residents throughout the State.

One requests Governor Frank Murphy and the State legislature to recognize the needs for buildings and maintenance appropriations for Michigan State college and the other seeks an appropriation of $150,000 to advertise the State. Education and the tourist-resort business were considered of vital importance by the 200 editors attending the sessions.

In the resolution concerning the college, the press association, of weekly and daily newspapers called attention to the inadequate buildings and other educational facilities of Michigan State college. In contrast to the lack of new buildings, the editors compared the enrollment growth at the college. Student numbers have been increasing at the rate of about 700 each year, more than doubling attendance in the last 10 years.

Editors voted approval of the college building program when they learned that of the more than 4,000 enrolled at the college, 87 per cent are from Michigan counties.

The pocketbook angle concerns the tourist and resort business which is second in financial importance in Michigan only to the automobile industry. Through a comparatively small increase in the appropriation for advertising the State the editors expressed their judgment that greater returns can be obtained from the business of serving this tourist-resort trade.

WINTER COAST

Out of the north, south south the cold wind blows,
Out of the north, south south the clouds are whirled,
The seas come in with darkness and their crests
Tumble confused upon the rim of the world.

South drives the spray, the sand itself goes south
A moving wrath above the frozen strand,
Out of the north, south south the cold wind blows
And drives before it sky and sea and land.

Only the birds resist, only the gulls rise, drift, and wheel. Into the wind they fly.
Only the ducks anchor upon the waves,
And face the wind that blows so coldly by.

Only the birds face into the cold north
And will not follow all that is hurrying.
Of wind and cloud and spume and drifting sand—
Only the birds await some further thing.

Farm Cash Income From Milk Makes New Five-Year High

FARMERS' cash income from the nation's milk production totaled $1,417,000,000 for 1936, an increase of $128,000,000, or 9.3 per cent over the 1935 total, according to the Milk Industry Foundation.

Farm milk income has increased nearly 50 per cent since the depression low. Cash milk income for December 1936 of $113,000,000 was $15 per cent of the 1924-29 average compared with the 78.5 per cent figure for agriculture as a whole.

Since milk production in 1936 is estimated to have increased by 2 per cent to 3 per cent over 1935, the last year's large cash payments to farmers are chiefly due to higher unit prices paid for milk increasing consumption of milk in fluid form, for which farmers receive their highest prices per quart, also helped to increase dairy farmers' milk checks.

While supply and demand are in fair adjustment for the nation as a whole, there has been an unusually high production of milk in some sections of the country.

Farmers are evidently feeding their herds well despite high feed prices. This, together with the high percentage of cows being milked, has caused a substantial increase in milk production in most markets.

To aid farm income this increase in production can best be marketed through stimulating consumption of milk in fluid form, as milk used for butter and other products brings the dairy farmer lower prices.

It's a Hard Life

When he was just over four, my dad was very much interested in a wedding that he had seen. For days afterwards he would speak of nothing else. One night he asked me: "Daddy, have you been married?" "Yes, of course—to mamma," I replied.

"Is it very hard to get married?" he continued.

"No," I replied, "we did not find it very difficult." After some cogitation he spoke again:

"Of course it was not difficult for you, because you only got married to mamma, but I must marry some strange woman."—D. P. R., in London Daily Mail.

A Hope Fulfilled

A minister once compared the Bible to a great tree, likening its books to branches, its chapter to twigs, its verses to leaves. And then he said, "My text is on the thirteenth branch, the third twig, and the seventeenth leaf. Try to find the text."

A little boy sitting near the pulpit answered, "Malachi, third chapter, seventeenth verse."

"Right, my boy," said the clergyman. "Take my place and read it."

In a clear, sweet voice the boy read, "And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels."

"Well done," pronounced the preacher. "I hope one day you will be a minister."

The man's hope was fulfilled. The boy became a great minister, beloved both in America and Great Britain. His name was Henry Drummond.—Christian Science Monitor.

Citrus fruit and apple prices are higher. For variety at moderate cost try using canned fruits. Most fresh vegetables except root types are a good deal higher than they have been.

POPULAR MAGAZINES FOUND ON LIBRARY READING SHELVES

Librarians of the Northville Branch of the Wayne County Library report that the following magazines are on file here:

Aero Digest, A. L. A. Book List, American Boy, American Girl, American Home.

Child Life, Current History, D. A. R. Magazine, Etude, Forum, Good Housekeeping, Harpers, Horn-Book, National Geographic, National Business, Nature Magazine, New Republic, Northville Record.

Popular Science Monthly, Radio News, Readers Digest, Rotarians, St. Nicholas, Scientific American, Time, Vogue, New York Times daily and Sunday.

It provides for an annual appropriation of 25 cents per capita, to be used for the extension and improvement of public library service throughout the state. Libraries are part of the educational system, especially now with the emphasis that is placed on adult education, and they need State aid for proper development.

A survey of the State shows that 24 per cent of the population of Michigan is without library service; the unshared territory includes 1,140,000 rural people and 46,000 urban residents, the latter in cities of from 5,000 to 25,000 population. The fund provided for in this bill would be used to establish libraries in parts of the State needing them, and to build up other libraries with the help of additional appropriations. The established and accepted minimum standard for efficient library service is $1 per capita. This bill is designed to supplement the present expenditures of local communities and gradually bring up the amount spent to reach this standard.

WHERE'S GRANDMA? IS SALEM SUCCESS

The large attendance and success of the play, "Where's Grandma," given Friday evening for the benefit of the Federated church of Salem, can be credited and added to the already large score of successful plays directed and given by Mrs. Dan Shirliff, upstairs teacher of Salem.

Mrs. Shirliff was assisted by Miss Katherine Pennell.

The tragedy and significance of the play centered in the character of Grandma, an old lady who had never seen her grandchildren and was determined to make them love her by making herself as young and flapperish as possible.

Action, however, takes place when she finally decides to be her age. She straightens out all of the family troubles and in the end endears herself in the hearts of all.

Mrs. Asa Whipple, played this leading role.

The entire community is appreciative of Mrs. Shirliff's trips from Ann Arbor for the purpose of helping the church to direct another successful play.—Contributed.

Children of the American Revolution society. She said that the Children of the American Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution societies and that very naturally the parents cared for, vouched for and took unflinching interest in its activities.

Miss Fitzpatrick defends the plan in the following way:

"The child's introduction to his new environment is made much more gradual than is otherwise the case.

"He takes his place at first as one of more than a half dozen others, who, like himself, are having their first school experience.

"He is enabled, as a consequence of this, to adjust himself more slowly and hence more happily to his loss of the center of the stage."

"He has a chance to observe others who have had some experience in following group direction."

Part of an old house edged with quiet grace.

Another way of life is in her face. Slender, serene.

Another way of pride and reticence. 'Net of this generation bustling by. Yet strangers pause beside her picket fence.

And wonder why.

HOW I BECAME A RADIO STAR

By PHIL LORD

I've had the spirit of adventure in me as far back as I can remember. The wanderlust started working when I was very young, and my first ambition was to sail on a four-masted bark and explore the seven seas. My aspiration never did assume much reality until I was older, but that same feeling of restlessness prompted me to try experiments in life I might never have dared.

I was born in Vermont, son of a minister, but most of my boyhood was spent in Connecticut where my father had his parish. Phillips' Andover academy beckoned to me for a chance at a secondary education, and I followed this up with four years at Bowdoin College in Maine. Then I took to school teaching and wound up as principal of a high school in Plainville, Conn.

Something occurred to me one night as I sat in a barber's chair which unquestionably catapulted me into the present career. I was listening to a radio program which was recasting the lives of folk in New England. They did a pretty poor job of it, and I detested the manner in which they dealt with Maine. So I sat down and started writing some radio scripts concerning the people of the Pine Tree State. Finally I sold one to a station in Hartford. It seemed to make a good impression on the air, and they asked me to write a weekly series. Officials of NBC heard of the idea, and soon afterwards, Seth Parker was being brought to Millis on over the facilities of a nation-wide hookup.

Then an idea came to me to dramatize the files of the Department of Justice in Washington to reveal the radio for the first time the stories behind the G-Men's activity. A few years ago, I thought of a new radio program, with which I could do little at the time. Finally, I was able to devote my attention to it, and formulated plans for presenting unusual experiences in the lives of everyday American citizens as told by the persons themselves—a real people's program. For the first time, the story of radio, a sponsor was to buy time on the air.

PHIL LORD

and turn it over to Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen to do with it as they chose. The result was the "We, The People" program heard every Sunday afternoon over the NBC-Blue network.

Each week a committee of four people—a businesswoman, a schoolgirl, an automobile mechanic and a housewife—peruse countless letters from every corner of the United States to determine who shall be summoned to relate an unusual experience. We have welcomed such men as Edward F. Younger, the man who picked the Unknown Soldier, George Spanglow, the sailor who was entombed for ten days 160 feet below the ground in Nova Scotia, and Henrietta Gironx, young Massachusetts girl who was able to walk after more than fifteen years as a hopeless cripple. It's given me more pleasure than anything I've ever done to bring these men, women and children to their fellow citizens via the radio.

BURROUGHS FACTORY UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Five big steam shovels are in operation this week on the Plymouth site where the Burroughs Adding Machine company plans to erect its first big Plymouth unit during the forthcoming spring and summer.

Some of the shovels are working 24 hours a day, with powerful searchlights to provide light for the workmen.

In addition to the vast amount of excavation necessary, some portions of the ground are being leveled and trenches dug for the massive foundation walls that will be necessary to carry the five-story brick structure.

Almost in the twinkling of an eye, a big vacant field has been turned into a regular beehive of activity.

President and General Manager Standish Backus of the Burroughs company has been careful in his statements as to what he hoped to have the plant completed and ready for the installation of machinery.

He has said that he hoped it would be by late summer or early fall, but if the rush being manifested at the site is any indication of when the 600 foot long plant will be finished, one might believe that it will be finished by early summer unless there should be some unexpected delays.

The company has been most fortunate in weather conditions. There has been practically no frozen ground, and with one or two exceptions, every day has been a good day for out-door labor. Generally at this time of the year the ground is frozen to a depth of four or five feet.

It has required a tremendous excavation for the sewage disposal plant the company plans to build. At places the excavation has been to a depth of 35 or 40 feet, most of it in solid clay.—The Plymouth Mail.

THE BRIDGES

I had to wait all night to see Two bridges grow to one. Each hanging too apart and free To know their union.

The bridge of cloud tied down the sky. The bridge of steel the ground. Both sky and earth beyond the eye Though both so tightly bound.

The line of cloud released a star. The bridge of steel a light. By which I marked them though so far Across the nether night.

The cloud blocked out a host of beams. The steel a cloud of sparks. Unseen as when a night of dreams Will leave no after-marks.

So closely they their meaning shroud I wait till dawn to feel The light that glows behind the cloud.

The fire within the steel. Edward A. Richards—Christian Science Monitor.

STATE'S BIRTH RATE SHOWS BIG INCREASE

With the highest birth rate in five years, Michigan temporarily showed into the background in 1936 the statistician's fear of a stationary population, according to figures released today by Dr. C. C. Slemmons, state health commissioner.

Provisional statistics indicate an increase of 1,054 births during the past year when the natural population growth of most other states was declining. A total of 88,437 births gave this State a rate of 17.41 births per 1,000 population, the highest since 1931. A one per cent increase was indicated over the 1935 birth rate of 17.21 when 87,403 births were reported.

This increase gave Michigan an excess of 33,680 births over deaths despite the highest death rate recorded here in seven years, according to Dr. Slemmons. Reports show that 3,726 more persons died last year than in 1935.

A total of 54,777 deaths was reported with a rate of 10.78 deaths per 1,000 population, the highest since 1929. The 1936 rate is a seven per cent increase over the 1935 rate of 10.06 when 51,051 deaths were recorded.

This increase is typical of the general six per cent mortality rise experienced throughout the nation last year.

Deaths of infants under one year of age also increased in 1936, 4,450 deaths being recorded, compared with 4,170 in 1935. The infant mortality rate of 50.76 deaths per 1,000 live births is an increase of 6.4 per cent over 1935 rates.

Birth and death rates for 1936 are estimated on the basis of a population of 5,080,000 for the State as indicated by school census figures and other available data.

FLAGS PRESENTED TO GRADE SCHOOL

Mrs. Ida Hendryx, Relief Corps Head, Presides at Presentation

The Woman's Relief Corps presented each room in the grade school with an American flag last Friday. Mrs. Ida Hendryx, accompanied by several other members of the auxiliary, went from room to room with the flags. Two Boy Scouts of the local troop, Philip Baldwin and Gilbert Folsbee, assisted Mrs. Hendryx. Dressed in their uniforms, they carried the flags, mounted them on the staffs, and led the rooms in the salutes.

Each group of grade children acknowledged the acceptance by either a speech, poem or song.

Altogether 12 flags were given in the grade school and one in the junior high assembly.

According to Mrs. Hendryx, the Corps plans to present the senior high school with flags for the rooms.

Principal Paul B. Thompson, with the cooperation of the boys in the manual training classes, has just recently completed making flag stands for the new school.

There are approximately 14 of them, one for each room. These were all made of oak wood and finished very smoothly.

Last week Mr. Thompson started making venetian blinds, which will also be used in the new school. They are to be put on the large windows which are on the west side of the building. Fifteen sets are being made. These venetian blinds are very beneficial, because it cuts the light and sun in any direction so that it will not shine in the students' eyes. Mrs. I. B. Cooke's junior assembly has been furnished with the blinds which were also made by Mr. Thompson's manual training class. About 75 picture books were also made for the new school. By the time Mr. Thompson and the boys are going the new school will be room finished with everything which will be necessary.

BOARD PLANS SITE OF PARKING LOT

The board of education has definitely decided to make a parking lot of the site of ground where the old grade school building stood.

According to present plans that section of the school grounds will be filled off and filled in with cinders so that teachers and students may park their cars.

A fence will be put up dividing the school children's playground and the proposed parking lot.

The village council has promised the loan of the road scrapers in order to level off the ground. Work will begin on the site within a few weeks.

SPORT FLASHES

BY ALBERT BOELENS

The Northville basketball team won the district championship for the second consecutive year. They beat three good teams to achieve this success. And now the team goes into the regional tournament. The team plays Flat Rock the first night (Thursday). This team has lost but one game thus far in the season. If the boys are clicking and with any luck at all this game should be a victory. If they win this they play St. Leo's who will be one of the toughest teams in the tournament. Then if they win this game, they go to the finals with probably St. Cassimers of Detroit.

In the last tournament the boys played good basketball. They beat the best teams the first two nights when they won by only 7 points each night. In the last game they won by 8 points.

Professional Frank Spregel of Meadowbrook golf course gave his first of the series of lessons he is offering to the high school students, last Tuesday. These lessons are free and are sponsored by the State. We were glad to see the interest shown in these lessons.

The following is the baseball schedule for 1937 season:

May 4—Trenton There

20—Redford There
25—Van Dyke Here
27—Melvindale There
June 1—Open

The open dates will be filled in with games with Plymouth, Farmington and Berley.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

We've just discovered how we've been hoodwinked. Ever since we began school the idea has been: keep the boys masculine and the girls feminine and now what happens? Romeo has turned Juliet, and the school's fairest damsels are now industrious students of Principal Paul B. Thompson's manual training class.

And believe it or not, the erstwhile football heroes who once fought so gallantly on the gridiron for N. H. S. are now fighting valiantly for their lives over the stove of the cooking room.

And your editor is inclined to believe that not a better thing ever happened in our beloved Alma Mater. At last the he-men will appreciate how hard it is to bake a cake or make stew appetizing.

And the girls—the girls are realizing what playing around with blocks of wood means.

Meanwhile, both classes are sincerely hoping that the other finds out that the opposite sex's life is not as easy as it sounds.

Adding it all up, it seems that the orchid should go to the two people who thought the idea, up—Miss Doris Reber, and Mr. Thompson.

Hooraay for our side! The basketball team has added another leaf to Northville's wreath of laurel—they are district champions. Good going—and congratulations.

L. G. LEE PLANS APRIL OPERETTA

The music department, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, has selected an operetta for presentation on April 30.

It's name is "The China Shop" and was written by Arthur A. Penn, who is the author of several other successful operettas.

Rehearsals started on Monday and Mr. Lee plans to familiarize the singers with both the music and story before selecting cast members. The cast of characters is composed of seven males and five females. Mr. Lee hopes to have a double group singing the roles.

Try outs will be held in a few weeks. Each person will be allowed to sing the part he wishes to play and Mr. Lee and the students will select the cast by vote.

Can You Imagine?

Everybody knowing who "Mac" is?

Quite mysterious?

Dick Ambler sitting in one position for at least an minute?

Helene J. not borrowing objects? Impossible!

Don A. glad to see his name on this sheet?

Helene Kimmel with black hair?

Mr. Wolfe not talking with girls?

D. Breffney without her "walk"?

Conit N. not grinning? It's the gypsy in him!

Any of the debate team ever sleeping during school? We can, cause we law.

Fred not reciting in geography class?

Keith A. not talking to Rose B. third hour?

Carl A. getting at least one good night's sleep?

A certain girl two-timing "number four"?

Betty Clark racing thru the halls?

Some people without their water guns? Children grow up!

The first-hour assembly without people sleeping?

We can't, can you?

SENIORS HOLD FIRST CARD PARTY OF YEAR

The first senior card party of this year will be held in the Northville high school gym at 8 p. m. March 18.

Refreshments will be served and prizes, including a door prize, will be awarded to those totaling the highest scores.

Reservations for your table may be had by purchasing your ticket from any senior, the price of which will be 25 cents. If you wish to reserve a table for the entire three card parties which will come March 18, April 5 and April 19 you may do so by getting in touch with any one from the senior class.

Bridge, five-hundred, cribbage, Pedro and other card games will be the order of the evening and everyone is asked to attend in order to make this tournament a success.

The Observer

As the president of the sophomore class the observed one does very well. Dark brown hair and eyes with a rather dark complexion make up his fairly good looking features.

A very nice dresser is he and an exceptionally good dancer. This gent is one of the premiering basketball players and is a really good catch for any girl should she possess the correct technique. So, if you can guess who it is, brush up and go to work.

N. H. S. GRADUATE IS IN MADRICAL CLUB

Evelyn Ambler, a graduate of last year, has been elected to the Madrigal choir at the Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti.

The choir, which is made up of a selected group of teachers and students, is the goal of the voice students, who attend Ypsilanti. Evelyn is one of the very few freshmen to receive this honor.

For some reason or other it seems there's some objection that certain people raise when their name appears in this column. We think it's a distinction.

Our basketball boys have done right well for themselves, haven't they? Those Ypsi games were really sumptuous!

We can just hear all those guys' gas snickering as this column goes to press this week. Oh yeah! Well, if you think it's so easy, why don't YOU try writing it sometime?

We were really quite alarmed the other day when we heard Ed Blake call a certain young lady a liar. We found out it was all in fun, though. It seems Mr. Blake is practicing for debate and he and the aforementioned young lady are on opposite teams.

We'd been wondering for the longest time what was wrong with this column this week when suddenly it dawned on us: Myrtle Drews kept mentioned: The girl must be slipping.

Have you heard E. L. Johnson's latest name for Albert Boelens? It's Omar Kyan. In case you don't know, that worthy gentleman was a philosopher and Albert is using his tricks. His latest philosophical remark is "Tomorrow never comes." Well! Strange maybe, but it always comes for us.

We've been asked to inquire of Vivian Grosvenor if she has any auto accessories for sale. It seems she hasn't use for the other front seat and certain parties want to know if she's going to sell it?

Did you notice the cold shoulders two of our boys were receiving the first part of last week? The first real snow in goodness found the school has had in a long time. It even got to the point where Cy nearly froze when Gwen walked into council meeting Wednesday night. We don't know for sure which side won—we think it was a draw. Anyway the trouble's all ironed out now and everybody's happy once more.

We've often been told that miracles do happen, but we never believed it until a certain teacher ar-

The cry now is "New Members," so any of you that are interested in dramatics and are a sophomore please see Virginia Forshee.

Society

The new sophomore club, the S. J. J., held its second meeting at Helen Kreeger's home. After the business meeting she served dinner to the eight club girls.

Nan McLoughlin, Gwen Jones and Margaret Walker journeyed into Detroit Saturday afternoon and saw "Reflected Glory" starring Talullah Bankhead at the Cass theatre.

The S. D. C. club held its meeting at the home of Alice Eaton Thursday. The hostess served refreshments after the meeting. Every time we hear of these girls they are eating at some one's home. We pity the hostess.

Jane VanAtta gave a party Saturday night after the basketball game at Ypsi. It was quite an event. Those present were: Jane VanAtta, Ed Blake, Helen Harper, Don Armstrong, Betty Jane Gillespie, Alfred Cousins, Janet Stewart, Don Heichman, Dorothy Heaton, Kenzie Switzer, Kathryn Marburger, Jack McCrumb, Jeanne Atchison, Ray Parmenter, Vivian Grosvenor, Zenie Wilber, Geraldine Johnson, Dick Ambler, Pat McLoughlin, Billy Schultze, Louise Alexander, Bennie Dugid.

Leslie G. Lee attended a concert given by the Madrigal club in Ypsilanti Wednesday evening. Evelyn Ambler, a graduate of N. H. S. was one of the few freshmen in the concert.

Grade Notes

Miss Anna Richard's kindergarten found a cocoon outside their room last Tuesday morning. They are watching it with interest.

The afternoon class of the kindergarten with their teacher visited Mr. Bogart's grocery store last week.

Violet Moore of Miss Richard's kindergarten celebrated her birthday March 2.

Miss Nora Wilson's second graders are building a house out of orange crates. The boys are making the house and the girls the rugs, curtains, etc. They will soon start building their furniture for it.

Dorothy Briggs and Bruce Bert, both of Miss Wilson's room have returned after being absent a month with illness.

The second graders of Mrs. W. E. McCarthy's room are working on a project on how messages are sent from one part of the world to another part.

The second graders of Mrs. McCarthy's room are working on a drama on how messages were sent before the modern times. The drama will consist of a native beating on a "tom-tom," pony express, smoke signaling and picture language on the trees used by the Indians.

Those who haven't been absent or tardy last month in Mrs. O. F. McCarthy's room are Velma Dayton, Charles Graham, Geraldine Kars, Nick Jack Karhl, Wanda Wagner, Frances Wootin, Mary Wootin, Daphne Shobridge, Mildred Fritz, Myrtle Laney, Frederick Lemon and Ruth Negel.

Mrs. James Congo's third grade is studying the cow. They have an exhibit of products that come directly from the cow.

Mrs. Congo's room has a very attractive Easter poster in the room. It was made by the pupils.

Katherine White of Mrs. Congo's room brought a bowl of tulips made out of Easter eggs for her room.

Miss Beulah Miller's combination room of third and fourth grades have organized a club. It is called the Good Citizens club. The following are officers of the club: President, Jimmie Trabue, secretary, treasurer, Gloria Lawrence.

There are 21 members at present. Meetings will be held twice a month. Miss Miller's room enjoyed a Washington's birthday party on Feb. 22.

David Willis of Mrs. Congo's room brought exhibits on minerals and rocks.

Mrs. K. H. Babbitt's room has a new attraction in the room this week. It is a fish bowl in statue form and goldfish.

Twenty-seven children of Mrs. Babbitt's room are taking religious instructions.

THE BOYS IN MY CLASS

The boys in my class are as dippy as they can be.

When the end of the period rings they all yell whoopee!

They squeeze and push as they flock from the door.

And one time a girl was pushed to the floor!

During class they laugh and they giggle.

And like angleworms they always wiggle.

When teacher tells them to be more quiet.

They answer back by making a bigger riot.

When one of the boys is called upon he gets out of his seat as though his body weighed a ton.

They wink at the girls and call them "honey."

Then throw out their chest thinking themselves funny.

They walk around as if they owned the school.

Breaking every principal's rule. Those are the boys in my class. I pity the teachers, for the boys sure can sass!

Boy Scout News

This is a note from Sidney Strong of Plymouth district, commissioner. He wants it put in this column: The Boy Scouts of Troop N 1 will be 20 years old soon. We hope to have a big celebration when we dedicate our new building. This will probably be in two months or so.

To the Boy Scouts of Northville

The District Commissioner wishes to call the attention of the citizens of Northville to a very interesting fact. On the first of April the Northville Boy Scout Troop will be twenty years old. For part of this period the activity has been, perhaps less first we could have wished, but yet there has been a continuous registration for this Troop for the last twenty of the twenty-eight years of Scouting in this country. This makes Troop N 1 the oldest Troop in the Plymouth district.

It is hoped that the citizens of Northville are enough interested in this group of boys that they will enjoy taking part in the celebration of this anniversary. Scouts' mothers, fathers, naturally, know something of this boy program, but even they often do not realize the importance of the Scout work.

Mr. Owen and Mr. White will welcome any questions about the life of the Troop, and both the men and the boys of the Troop would be very much pleased if they could receive the active interest and cooperation of the entire community.

Congratulations to N-1 from the Plymouth district.

Mr. Johnson, the Norwegian poet, was once asked to tell when he had derived the greatest pleasure from his fame as a poet.

He replied that he had enjoyed his supreme triumph when a celebration of political opponents had stormed his dwelling and broken his windows, singing all the while the patriotic air, "Yet, We Love This Land of Ours."

Asked to explain why this occurrence had given him pleasure, he answered with deep satisfaction, "Because they were singing my song." —Christian Science Monitor.

TWO SIT-DOWNERS LOSE THEIR JOBS

Two women employees in the North Equipment company had a sit-down strike Tuesday.
None of the other 60 employees would take up their torch and the two lone strikers found themselves without a job Wednesday.
According to information released late Wednesday afternoon from the Equipment office, the workers' jobs have been given to new applicants.

SIMPLE EXAMS FOR DRIVERS' LICENSE

The standards drivers' license law as recommended by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, the National Safety Council and other national groups, requires new drivers to pass simple, practical examinations demonstrating their knowledge of traffic laws and their ability to handle a car.
People who have driven for a year or more with a reasonable safety record are not required to take these tests when the law goes into effect. Applicants who fail the first time are told to study, practice and come back later for a second examination.

When applicants are given a second chance they are at once impressed with the necessity for knowing traffic laws and how to drive. The standard law is not intended to cut drastically the number of people driving cars but it does aim to make better drivers. Only a small percentage ultimately fail to pass the license test.
In states which have had ten to fifteen years experience with a law having an examination system, this is regarded as one of the most essential and valuable features. The young driver, who knows he must pass an examination takes pains to study the traffic laws and to practice under the tutelage of an experienced driver. Without an examination requirement, boys and girls often start driving without any knowledge whatever of the laws and regulations and with little or no ability to handle a car in difficult situations.

The examination is simple and brief, a quiz on the law and a practical driving test, generally taking about 20 minutes. In that length of time, with the right questioning and the right demonstration, one's competency can be determined fully.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

EVEN though severe cold weather in California has been responsible for increasing prices for some of our fruits and vegetables, there are still a lot of good values to be had at low prices. Look for good values in onions, Boston lettuce, spinach, cabbage, turnips, Florida oranges, grapefruit and strawberries. Canned fruits and vegetables are fine standbys in winter weather.
Lamb will be chosen by many for Sunday dinner, for it is reasonable. Pork is a little lower and forequarter cuts of beef are moderate. Broilers, fryers and ducks are all good values.
Egg prices are lower due to heavy production wherever the weather is mild. Higher prices are not expected in butter.
Using this summary of the market, I have prepared three menus which I hope will help you to plan your Sunday dinner.

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Fresh Pork, Salt
Browned Potatoes Creamed Cabbage
Bread
Spiced Apple Sauce
Blanc Manger with Canned Oranges
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner

Braised Cabbage
Stewed Tomatoes with Potatoes
Lettuce Salad
Bread
Orange Rice Custard
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner
