

DUNDEE TAKES TOURNEY FROM VILLAGE TEAM

Superintendent and Coach
Make Commendations on League Rating

By JACK STUBENVOLL

Northville's basketball team was tops in the regional tournament last week at Ypsilanti until the long shooters from Dundee came along, beating them 21-18.

Thursday and Friday night, Northville played real basketball, winning over Flat Rock 24-14, and St. Leo 27-11.

The Dundee game was a hard one to lose, not only for the players, but the fans as well. It is a sad disappointment to lose a game like that after you lead for three quarters.

The fourth quarter downfall was about the wildest eight minutes Northville has played this year.

The Flat Rock and St. Leo games were hard games, but Northville came through them with plenty to spare. Northville's boys played spectacular basketball in every department of the game—passing, shooting and team work.

The latter was great for three quarters in the Dundee game, but when they lost the team work, they lost their heads and the game.

This year's team went exactly as far as last year's team, winning the district championship and the two games in the regional competition.

Statements concerning the outcome of the basketball season for Northville were given this week to Nan McLaughlin, Orange and Black color, and are as follows:

Supt. R. H. Anderson: "I'm very happy and proud over the way the team has played good, clean ball."

Sessions Hospital Wins 'A' Title

This building is the home of the Sessions hospital which has recently become a Class A institution after inspection by the Board of Directors of the American Medical Association.

With accommodations for 20 patients, in addition to an operating room, a delivery room and a modern, attractive nursery, this hospital is a symbol of medical science and a protection to the citizens of the village.

BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE MARCH 26

Three Protestant Churches
Unité for Good Friday
Observance

All Northville's business houses will close from 1 to 3 p. m. March 26, when the Annual Protestant Good Friday services are held in the Baptist church.

Assisting in this service will be the Rev. Harry J. Lord of the Methodist church, the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith of the Presbyterian church, and the Rev. A. K. MacLean of the Baptist church.

The Good Friday services will climax the Lenten observance for Holy week, with the Protestants.

IVAN R. SPEERS, 39, DIES HERE SATURDAY

The death of Ivan Speers, 39, came as a great shock to the community Saturday, March 13, in Sessions hospital following two operations on March 5 and March 12.

Ivan Russell Speers was born in New Lowell, Ontario, May 23, 1893. Coming to the United States in 1924, he settled in Salem. Three years later he was united in marriage to Miss Yelma Kohler, with whom he exchanged their vows in the Congregational church of that place. For five years they made their home in Salem.

CENTRAL MEAT MARKET OPENS HERE SATURDAY

On Saturday a new market to be known as the Central Meat Market will be opened in the building at 144 North Center street by Kenneth Mosher and Elmer Mumaw who will carry a full assortment of meats.

These men were formerly employed at the Purity Market in Plymouth and they have numerous acquaintances in this community because of that association. They extend a cordial invitation to Northville people to attend the opening. To their customers they will present shopping bags. Favors will be presented to the kiddies.

PONSFORD'S STORE READY FOR SEASONABLE TRADE

For its spring opening last Saturday the Ponsford's store presented a greatly changed appearance, the counters and show cases being rearranged and filled with new seasonal merchandise. The new arrangement of tables, counters and show cases gives the store the appearance of being much larger than formerly.

This week the store is offering special closing out prices on boys' and children's shoes.

21 ENROLL THIS WEEK IN FALL KINDERGARTEN

Visiting Day Program Will Begin Following Easter
Recess

Twenty-one five-year-olds, eligible to enter kindergarten next fall, responded Monday and Tuesday of this week to the pre-registration enrollment period which was conducted by the teacher of the class, Mrs. Ann Richards.

Immediately following the Easter recess, Mrs. Richards will begin her visiting day program and practice and pre-enrollment by invitation only will be given an opportunity to visit school once a week for four or five consecutive times.

Miss Richards plans to display a large chart in the kindergarten room bearing the names of all visiting pupils. Upon visiting, each pupil will be allowed to pin an animal picture beside his name to indicate the frequency of his visits.

BY C. F. HUTTON,
Walled Lake

That story in last week's Record about the boy who slid down hill backwards on his sled, reminded the correspondent of a similar incident that happened many years ago, involving a couple of flowers of another "saucer generation" of Northville, maybe I should say wild flowers.

The episode might also be recalled by other poster of that vintage, if they scratch around in the archives of their memories a bit, such fellows as Ben Taft, Bouncer Lanning, Dece Stark, Pete Perkins, Scott Montgomery, Windy Miller, King Volight, Gus Edwards, Chuck Reed, Red Masters, Ed Johnson, Wed Ryder, Pete Ely, Fat White and

BILLY FOREMAN FIGHTS BRAVELY FOR HIS LIFE

As the paper goes to press Thursday noon, nine-year-old Billy Foreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Foreman, 234 West Seven Mile road, is in the University hospital, Ann Arbor, fighting for his life.

The report reaches the editor's desk that Billy has just one chance in a thousand to recover from a crushed skull injury resulting from a crash with a truck late Wednesday afternoon as he crossed across the Seven Mile Road near Berk Road.

Billy started to cross the road, saw the car driven by Henry Franklin of the village and in an effort to avoid being hit by Franklin, he dodged back across the road on his bicycle, only to be struck by the truck driven by Fred Heidt, Jr., South Lyon.

Mr. Heidt rushed Billy to Sessions hospital, but because of the severe head injury, he was sent to Ann Arbor. Heidt then reported to the Village Hall and to Police Chief Loyd M. German. Although a statement had to be made before the sheriff of Wayne county, it is understood that Heidt is absolved from the responsibility of the accident.

A University hospital brain specialist operated early Wednesday evening and the report comes from there that Billy is resting as well as can be expected.

FEATURE 2 PLAYS TONIGHT AT SCOUT BENEFIT PROJECT

Curtain Rises at 7:30 in High School; Show Has Three Vaudeville Acts

The one-act play, "The Musical Comedy," will be the first of the two plays to be presented at the benefit project of the Northville Scout Council, which will be held at the high school auditorium.

The public agents for the council are the high school boys and girls, who will be in charge of the collection of money for the benefit project.

The second play of the evening, "The Musical Comedy," will be presented by the high school boys and girls.

Mr. Britton and Mr. Oren also appear in a short comedy exit set.

2 GRADE TEACHERS RESIGN POSITIONS

Two Northville-grade teachers this week sent their resignations to the board of education, requesting that their release be given at the close of the present school year.

Mrs. James A. Congo, who has taught here for the past seven years, and Mrs. O. P. Reng, a member of the grade faculty for the past 9 years have tendered their letters of resignation.

LACK OF FOOD OUTWEIGHS ALL STRIKE MERITS

Jurors Abandon Sit-Down
Plan; Reach Verdict in False Teeth Case

While four lawyers, together with the plaintiff and defendant in a civil case, waited Tuesday evening for six jurors to come from behind closed doors in the Village Hall and announce their verdict, a sit-down strike was uppermost in the minds of the jurors.

Feeling that the dollar compensation allowed them for their services was inadequate, the jurors spent some time considering striking for more pay and food—coffee and doughnuts, to be specific.

But the jury room was cold, there was no food within easy reach and little chance of "Frankenstein" banging them anything, and so the plan to sit-down until Mrs. Governor came to their assistance was abandoned and a local dentist

NEW RESERVOIR READY IN TWO WEEKS--HAMILL

Construction Withstands
7-Day Water Test Under
Inspection of Engineers

With only minor readjusting adjustments to be made on the ironing job by the Western Waterproofing company and the backfilling by the H. B. Culbertson company, Northville's $20,000 water reservoir is nearly completed.

It is possible that the village may have the use of the reservoir within the next two weeks, affirmed Herald P. Hamill, civil engineer, who is inspecting the construction for the village.

When completed, the reservoir, a BWA project, will have a capacity of 40,000 gallons and will clear Northville's muddy water supply, a condition which has existed here for a number of years.

In a recent test, there was practically no loss of water over a week's period of time, stated Mr. Hamill.

Mr. Culbertson, the general contractor, still has approximately $2,000 coming to him on his contract. It is understood, will be paid by the village council when the job has been accepted.

HOLD EMPLOYMENT REGISTRATION HERE

Federal Men to Give Service in This Locality at Village Hall

Northville and Flat Rock were added to the list of Wayne County communities under the supervision of the National Employment Service, which will begin the registration of unemployed persons in this locality at the village hall.

The NRS is a division of the United States Employment Service, which is operated under the U. S. Department of Labor. Anyone over 16 years of age may register with the service and be considered for jobs with private employers. There is no charge.

A total of five communities will be visited. Major Stewart announced.

MRS. STEWART, 58, IS KILLED IN CRASH

Funeral services for Mrs. Andrew Stewart, wife of Dr. A. W. Stewart, a dentist of Walled Lake, were held at the Wolverine Lake residence Thursday afternoon, following her tragic death, Sunday, resulting from an automobile accident, in which Dr. Stewart was critically injured.

They were en route home from Florida, where they had been since Dec. 15, and had neared Somerset, Ky., where a truck, driven by an allegedly drunken driver, crashed into them, causing injuries from which Mrs. Stewart died twenty minutes later in College Hospital, Berea, Ky.

Dr. Stewart suffered a broken hip and pelvic fractures and although in critical condition, physicians stated he had a fair chance for recovery.

The truck driver is held at Berea under $500 bond.

Mrs. Stewart was 58 years old and was born at Richmond, Va. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Laura Walz of Cincinnati, and the immediate members of her family, which include two sons, John of Walled Lake, and Howard of Mr. Conners. There are five grandchildren.

Burial was in the Walled Lake cemetery.

DR. BRINES ILLUSTRATES CANCER CONTROL LECTURE

Dr. Osborne A. Brines, Detroit, will speak at 2:30 this afternoon at the library before members of the Woman's club on the control of cancer.

His lecture will be illustrated and through the courtesy of the club members, this meeting is open to the general public.

PAYS ON MORTGAGE

Elmer L. Smith

In continuing upon his recent $2,000 payment on the Schrader mortgage on the Northville Wayne County Fair association's buildings by the fair board, President Elmer L. Smith said that the amount was the most that the board had ever been able to pay in any one year.

FAIR BOARD MEETS HEAVY PAYMENT ON SCHRADER MORTGAGE

1937 Season Under Way
With $1,500; Best Report
Since Depression Started

With the payment this week of $2,000 and interest on the Schrader mortgage on the buildings at the fair grounds, the Northville-Wayne County Fair board, headed by Elmer L. Smith, president, has reduced the amount of the mortgage to $5,000.

Even after the mortgage payment, the fair board still has $1,500 in the bank to begin the 1937 fair season, according to figures given out today by the treasurer, Fred Lyke.

Not since before depression days have we had such a surplus for the new year, affirmed Mr. Lyke.

When asked whether he expected an increase in the number of exhibits and gate receipts, Mr. Lyke said: "There's no reason to say why each fair shouldn't be bigger than the one the previous year."

Although there are still several bookings to be made for the entertainment attractions, L. C. Stewart, who has charge of this department, already has a number of outstanding acts contracted.

WIXOM CELEBRATION HONORS BOGART, 97

The most important event in Wixom this week was the celebration of Marvin Bogart's ninety-seventh birthday.

Twice on honor to the 30 grade pupils of the Wixom school, who called at the home of Mrs. Richard McGuire where the anniversary observance was held. The group sang a song for the honoree. Three small girls, dressed in red, white and blue, sang a song telling the meaning of the flag's colors. This demonstration greatly pleased Mr. Bogart, who is the only surviving Civil War veteran in this locality.

Another highlight in the day was a beautiful floral presentation from the Lloyd H. Green Post of the American Legion made by Floyd Lanning and Claude Ely.

Mr. Bogart maintains the distinction of being the oldest voter in Northville and his interest in public affairs is evidenced in the fact that he reads newspapers daily.

Wednesday noon, Mr. Bogart took time out from his own celebration to join in the birthday activities at the home of Ben Clark, 32.

In the evening a family dinner party was held with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bogart of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bogart of Wixom present at the McGuire home.

During the afternoon and evening some 27 friends from Northville, Birmingham, Pontiac and Wixom called on Mr. Bogart.

Union Chapter, R. A. M., observed past high priest night on Wednesday evening with a dinner at 6:30. Following the dinner the P. M. and E. M. E. degrees were conferred on three candidates.

TAXPAYERS ON DUNLAP STREET BEGIN LAWSUIT

Reject Petition from Signers
Monday by Commissioners;
Fight Tax Levy

Nineteen claims from taxpayers on Dunlap street for refund of property taxes asserted to be unlawfully levied in 1927, were denied Monday evening by members of the village council.

The council's action resulted in the filing of a bill with the Circuit Court of Wayne county for a hearing.

Similar action has taken place within the past few months at Plymouth where two or three hearings have already been made on the motion to dismiss the bill. The case there is ready for its final hearing and if the court decides in favor of the taxpayers, the City of Plymouth will be forced to pay the refund to taxpayers of signers on two additional streets as well as to the signers for the street now before the court.

Should the Circuit Court pass judgment in favor of the Dunlap petitioners, the same procedure of that of presenting claims to the council and later stating the case in Circuit Court will have to be taken in the interest of petitioners of other streets in the village.

The tax case for the persons on Dunlap street is the outgrowth of the tax levy of 1927, when the levy as placed at 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of property, including the improvement on it. According to the State law, such a levy can only be a per cent thus making the assessment conflict with both the State law and the village charter.

As each street in the village is a separate assessment district, the taxpayers of each street have to make a private suit against the board of the village.

MAKE APPOINTMENT

Richard Loomis, former Wayne County Training school night watchman, received Monday evening official appointment by members of the village commissioners to the village police force. He succeeds Gordon Allen as night watchman. Mr. Loomis has been serving Northville in this capacity since March 4.

ROTARY CONTINUES PLANS FOR APRIL MINSTREL SHOW

The tables for the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day, with their streamers of green and numerous lighted green tapers.

The meeting was given over largely to discussion of club affairs, no speaker being arranged for.

Plans for the minstrel show to be sponsored by the club are progressing nicely and the success of the affair is assured with rehearsals several nights each week. It is expected that the performance will be given early in April and the public can anticipate a night of real merriment.

Several members of the club attended the district institute held at the Masonic temple in Detroit on Wednesday, which was addressed forenoon, afternoon and evening by Will R. Manier, Jr., president of Rotary International.

It is expected that Northville will be well represented at the district convention to be held at Ypsilanti on April 25 and 26.

Rotary Ann night will be observed on Wednesday night, March 30, at which time members of the high school band will be guests of the club and will render an interesting program.

A nominating committee consisting of John Litzenberger, P. A. Northrup, The Rev. F. J. G. Schuler and Russell Amerman was appointed to select candidates for the various officers of the club for next year.

ANARCHY IN DETROIT, MICHIGAN

Alarming conditions of mob rule in Detroit the past ten days have been serious enough to arouse the fear of every thinking person.

It is a sane and true statement that we have been having literal conditions of anarchy in this state the past few weeks. Since "sit-down" strikers took over automobile plants in Flint and other cities, the reign of lawlessness has increased. No person who knows anything at all of the true strike situation can deny that.

The climax of lawlessness came to a head last week when strikers literally "took over"—according to Detroit daily papers—parts of the city of Highland Park. Strikers were not content to take possession of the property of the automobile manufacturers. That, to begin with, is a crime and it won't be long before all good citizens will agree that the "sit-down" principle is vicious and illegal.

These lawless strikers and those radicals who have been inciting men to violence, actually took control of the streets. They ran traffic and acted like despots. If you had read that kind of news from Russia you would have said: "Well I wouldn't live in a terrible country like that." It didn't happen in Moscow! It occurred in Detroit and according to the Detroit dailies, the police and forces of law and order were helpless.

Within 25 miles of this peaceful community of Northville were enacted scenes of actual anarchy. How does that appeal to you, Mr. or Mrs. Home Owner? How would you like someone to steal your home temporarily and compel you to go to live with relatives in another community. How would you like to have some one come in and tear out your kitchen range, wreck your automobile and smash every window in the house? Would it appeal to you to have your children grabbed from the Northville schools and compelled to drive or walk to the schools of Novi or Walled Lake?

It was a sad day for this state when the "sit-down" strike principle was allowed to be recognized. We "sowed the seed" when our officials, who are given the responsibility of protecting life and property, compromised with these forces of disorder and lawlessness. Is it any wonder that we are "reaping the whirlwind"? Lawful strikes bring enough woe and sorrow but lawful strikes are at least fair. But these "sit-down" strikes in which reason and right are thrown to the four winds are a menace to our national safety—and let no kind-hearted person "kid" himself to the contrary.

The day of scorn and contempt for our courts and our laws must pass—or we shall face conditions that will be vicious and terrible. Let no one be deceived. The situation is serious and will have to be met square-on before long. Lawlessness must go. Mob rule must cease.

We look to the President of our country, to the Governor of our own state and to other officials of law and order to end this anarchy. If they fail to meet the challenge that is now on their front door steps, no one can prophecy what will happen.

"I WANT WHAT I WANT WHEN I WANT IT"

A newspaper cartoon often tells the story better than six columns of cold type.

It was even so in a recent issue of The Detroit News, one of the nation's greatest newspapers.

The cartoon showed a big picture of the White House at Washington, with President Roosevelt, standing as high as the building itself and reaching in and grabbing with his hands for the control of the Supreme Court members. The caption of the cartoon was: "I want what I want when I want it."

The significance of such a liberal and independent daily newspaper's action, in running this telling cartoon, means a lot. It means that it is a pretty serious thing that our president wants the power that no other president every had—control of EVERY part of our federal government.

Will a "Rubber Stamp" Congress let the President have his domineering way to change the course of American institutions?

It will, unless the people—who are the government—protest and protest mightily.

Have you written your Senators and your Congressmen?

TRY THIS FOR A TONIC

"I wanted to get away from a lot of worry and grief, so I took the wife and went to the Flower Show at Detroit," said a Northville man. He is a busy and aggressive citizen, too. We were a little surprised that he would be interested in a flower exhibit. You can never tell what is under men's skins.

Detroit's magnificent flower show is a tonic. "If I had two loaves of bread," said the ancient philosopher, "I should sell one and buy a white hyacinth for my soul."

You still have two days left to give your soul a wash by seeing what the flowers and shrubs can do to you at the Convention Hall.

THE INCONSISTENT MR. ROOSEVELT

No less an authority than the nationally known Democrat and newspaper correspondent, Walter Lippmann points out the amazing inconsistency of President Roosevelt in his appeals to "pack" the Supreme Court.

Last fall, according to Lippmann, Roosevelt made his appeal for re-election on the grounds that the New Deal, under his guidance had brought the country back to booming times and happiness for the great mass of the people. You remember the radio talks.

Now, points out the noted Liberal (for Lippmann is just that), the President, in his appeals, bases his argument in his demand for changing the Supreme Court, on the grounds that the country is in a bad shape.

When was Roosevelt right, last fall when everything was "lovely" or now when things are "going to the dogs?"

No wonder that the best leaders of his own party have refused to follow him. No wonder that bantering Yale university students have planned a coronation for "Franklin, the First." No wonder that people from coast to coast are aroused over the plan for one man to "have personal control at the top."

FROM MICHIGAN TO FLORIDA

Three-fifths of the Record editorial family left this week for a short stay in Florida. Our only regret in going is that we cannot form a caravan of all Northville and vicinity and start an invasion of a whole country of the sunny Southland.

We leave The Record in very capable and loyal hands—if we hadn't told you, you wouldn't know from the looks of the paper that we were even out of town. We also leave behind very fine and loyal friends of the home newspaper—hundreds of them. Our big hope is that when we come back, we shall be able to serve you in a better way. We thank you all for what you have done and will do.

If we can find places on which to rest the family typewriter, we hope to send back some of our impressions as we travel along or rest by the highway or in the hot sunshine. We are going pretty much without a plan of travel—we can do that now since the northward trek has started from Miami and St. Petersburg and "points between."

Probably we shall hit the east side first and then swing back by the west coast, where we spent a few weeks last year. Good-bye and good luck until April first.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

The republican caucus which was held at the high school gym last Saturday afternoon was called to order.

After defeating Annunciation and Lady of Our Lord both of Detroit, early in the regional tournament at Ypsilanti last week, the local quintet went into the final game Saturday night to battle for the championship title. Northville's hopes for a State victory were halted rather abruptly when the strong Roosevelt quintet took the local boys into camp by a score of 26-20.

The people of this community were greatly shocked early Monday morning when the news of the death of Bruno Freydl became known.

Approval was received in the village this week from the PWA national office for the construction of the $300,000 water reservoir. The awarding of the H. B. Culbertson Engineering company of Detroit has met with official requirements and the figures for building have been accepted.

5 YEARS AGO

Within a few months of his eightieth birthday, Barton A. Wheeler, one of Northville's oldest and most highly respected citizens, died at his home on East Main street Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Referendum on Northville's water situation, as indicated at the polls Monday, proved to be overwhelmingly in favor of continuing the improvements on the present sources of supply rather than for the plan of sinking wells. The total vote was 26 in favor of changing the supply as opposed to 515 who were in favor of continuing the present improvements.

With only $300 on hand toward the necessary $1500 to take them on their coveted trip to Washington, D. C., the high school seniors voted to abandon this helpless task at a meeting of the class on Wednesday afternoon. Making the best of their disappointment, these undaunted seniors hope to take a less expensive trip.

15 YEARS AGO

Following are the winners in Monday's election: President, Charles A. Dolph, 288; Justice, Fred E. Van Atta, 350; John McCully 271; Fred P. Simmons, 358; James N. VanDyne, 269; Charles L. Blackburn, 346; George A. Newman, 278; clerk, Thomas E. Munk, 428; treasurer, Ernest E. Miller, 428; assessor, Charles A. Sessions, 414.

After suffering for more than five years with poor health, Frank Shaffer died at his home in this village Monday, age 56 years.

Northville's girls and boys basketball teams were badly beaten in their games at Farmington last Friday night. The Farmington girls won to the score of 24 to 11 and the Farmington boys piled up a 32-22 score.

Mrs. John E. VanStickle died at her home in Salem village last week, Tuesday, aged 66 years.

20 YEARS AGO

Another exciting village election was pulled off Monday, 448 votes being cast. The entire Workingmen's ticket was elected, Charles Filkins, president, being elected by a majority of four. The following is the vote in full: President, Filkins 226; Golden 222; trustees, McLean 191, Baldwin 250, Cranston 197, Stanley 244, Simmons 224, Montgomery 223; clerk, Murdoch 267; treasurer, Blackburn 192; Taft 243; assessor, Ambler 157; Sessions 282.

Northville's new school building representing an outlay of $45,000 and one of the most beautiful and complete of its kind in the State, was the scene of busy activities Monday, when scores of enthusiastic young people whose privilege it is to be its occupants moved in.

An even more than ordinarily sad event of its always sorrowful kind was the death of Frank Hedge on Friday, March 10, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hedge in Bealton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Beard are the parents of a son who arrived in their home March 5.

30 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Mary Dolph, wife of Frank Dolph, station agent at Northville, died March 14, aged 32 years. Her death came as a great shock to the village as she was only ill but a few hours.

Relatives and friends to the number of about 100 gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson Wednesday evening to witness the marriage of their daughter, Angeline, to Clarence Whipple. The houses in town are well placarded with meale signs.

Joseph Montgomery's little son narrowly escaped being run over by the 7:30 D. U. R. car Saturday night. He came out of Murdoch's drug store attempting to cross the street in front of the car, was struck and fell to the ground. He only received a few bruises.

West Point Park

By MRS. WILLIAM ZWAHLN

VIRGINIA VANCE

Miss Virginia Vance, thirteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Vance of Arlington road, died in Ann Arbor hospital, Monday afternoon, March 8. Besides her parents, she was survived by two sisters and two brothers, June, Alice, Glenn and Donald. She was a pupil in the seventh grade of Pierson school and will be greatly missed by teachers and schoolmates, as well as neighbors and friends. Since January 16, when she underwent a mastoid operation, she had been in a serious condition and her death was directly due to spinal meningitis, which set in ten days prior to her death. Funeral services were held in the Heene Funeral home of Farmington, Thursday afternoon, and was largely attended. The Rev. Roy J. Miller of Saline, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church of West Point Park, officiated. Miss Irene Baldwin, a friend of the deceased, sang a sweetly rendered solo, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." A trio of girls, Mildred Boyard, Dorothy Baldwin and Cleo Longenecker, sang softly, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Paul Bearers were also girls, Marie and Lucile Carter, Dorothy Baldwin and Blanch Miller. Interment was in Grandview cemetery.

The March meeting of the P. T. A. was held Thursday evening, George Gullen, Detroit lawyer and Congressional minister, was scheduled to give an address, but due to a previous engagement, canceled his appearance. In its place stereoscopic slides on the growth and care of the teeth were presented to the audience. These were the same that had been used in the various school rooms and gave parents a fair idea of the way health education is carried on in the public schools. During the business session two letters were ordered written, one to the school board, asking them to consider the advisability of a ten month school term for next year, and a second to Dr. Fisher of the State educational force, asking for information regarding the number of directors legally considered necessary for a school ranking as does Pierson school. A nominating committee was also appointed to prepare a list of candidates to be voted on as officers for the next year's P. T. A. It was decided to make the April P. T. A. meeting a week earlier than customary in order to suit the convenience of those expected to appear on the program.

The girls' Vesper club met at the home of Miss Doris Gilbert, Sunday evening. It was in the nature of a memorial service for Miss Virginia Vance. Her death took place early this past week, and she had done much to inspire the founding of the Vesper club last fall. Favorite hymns were sung and a story taken from the address of the Rev. Miller, who conducted the forenoon service for Virginia, was told.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hillebrich, Jr. returned Wednesday from Florida where they were spending the winter.

J. W. Hess, daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Tale of Pontiac, were guests Sunday afternoon of Mr. Hess' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hacker.

Mrs. Viola Grace was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Groth of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Owen and John Rowe, were guests Sunday afternoon of Mr. Rowe's sister, Mrs. Lucille Woods of Detroit.

Mrs. Lucian Gilbert and son, Howard, spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pankow of Detroit.

Kenneth and William Owen attended a birthday party Sunday evening in honor of Miss Mildred Mattson of Detroit.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold McVicar a 5½ pound boy, Harold Joseph, Saturday afternoon. Both mother and son are doing nicely.

Miss Virginia Vance, accompanied Miss Jean Addis to Detroit Friday to visit Miss Addis' grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Freer.

Mrs. Max Bergin and daughter, Sharon of Howell, were the guests Monday and Tuesday of her mother, Mrs. Martin Addis.

Mrs. Ralph Voorheis, who has been quite ill the last few weeks, is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson were summoned to Lansing Thursday evening to visit the bedside of Miss Edna Johnson, the former's sister, who is seriously ill. They left Miss Johnson slightly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weigle were in northern Michigan Wednesday attending the funeral of a nephew.

The Rev. Roy Miller of Saline was a caller at the home of Russell Ault, Thursday evening.

Miss Elizabeth Mercer has been on the sick list the last few days.

Little Bill Orr was quite ill last week.

The Rev. and Mrs. Google, Detroit, were visitors at the home of Russell Ault, Friday evening.

It has been announced that Pierson school will close for Good Friday observance but there will be no Easter vacation, as the school year is expected to be completed May 21.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Zwaehlen and daughter, Janet Mae of Detroit, were guests Wednesday of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Zwaehlen.

BRAND NEW A YEAR AGO... TODAY

Endorsed by Thousands

One year ago, Larro Chick Builder was a brand new feed. Today, thousands of enthusiastic poultrymen are telling about the more profitable pellets it produces. They are planning to use this combined starter and growing mash this year, too, because of its many advantages. Here are a few: lower feed costs—better growth—higher livability—less labor for you. Plan to raise your chicks the Larro way this year. Order a supply of Larro Chick Builder today.

Removing an . . . Unneeded Restraint

Congress is debating the Pettengill bill which, in substance, would permit the railroads to compete with intercoastal steamships.

The clause of the Interstate Commerce law which the bill would repeal was perhaps once beneficial, but has become restrictive.

No like prohibition governs the railroads' land, air and water competitors, and none is contemplated for them. It applies to the rails alone, with the original need for it non-existent—imposing a handicap on them while it confers advantages on their competitors.

Repeal of this clause will hurt no one; will make lower rail rates eventually not improbable; will create an additional 100,000 railroad jobs.

Nor will it reduce the ICC's powers; or enable the rails to charge rates that are unreasonable or unduly low so as to eliminate competition, or to raise rates if competition did disappear.

The bill is favored by great bodies of shippers, by trade organizations, by the railroads and railroad labor. It is opposed by steamship interests and coastal industries who would retain unfair advantages over inland competitors.

America's railroads face the most unprecedented competition in their history. Unneeded restraints, like this obsolete clause, should be removed that the lines may better be able reasonably, and legally, to compete.

Michigan, and its railroads, will benefit from the repeal. Support for the Pettengill bill should be asked of the State's delegation in Congress.

QUESTIONNAIRE FOR PARENTS

And while we are on this questionnaire business, here's one for us parents. If ever there was a job of greater uncertainty as to the right way to do it, it is this job of parenthood. The old saying applies most appropriately to this, "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

These questions are not our own. They are worth considering.

If your child fails in school do not blame him. It is not his fault. But before deciding where the responsibility should lie you might ask yourself the following questions:

1. Do I set up an adult standard for him to achieve?
2. Do I nag my child about his school progress?
3. Do I discuss his problems and shortcomings with others in his presence?
4. Do I pick at him to find out about his progress?
5. Have I set up a standard of a bright brother, sister or neighbor's child for him to follow?

WOMAN'S CLUB RECIPES

Salad Dressing

(Mrs. C. C. Hinkley)

2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon mustard, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 egg beaten, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup milk.

Novi News

By MRS. WILLIAM MAIRS

The Rebekah club is planning to serve an Easter supper to the public at 6:30 p. m., Friday, March 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Regentuk and three children completed moving this week from their farm home to a farm on Territorial road near Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Willworth and family moved from Detroit this week into the house on East Grand River recently vacated by the Ed. Baker family and owned by Art Trotter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klesner have purchased some acreage on Walled Lake road of Frank Hamilton and will build a house there.

Mrs. Art Trotter and Mrs. Charles Trickey were in Detroit Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hicks, and Floyd Hicks visited Mr. Hicks' uncle, Sidney Court, at Royal Oak last Sunday. Mr. Court is in very poor health.

Miss Camilla Risner has returned to the home of Burton Munro much improved in health after eight weeks of hospital treatment.

Mike Maros, the village blacksmith, moved his shop and trailer home this week to a plot on East Grand River, part of the Grant Putnam farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Seurynek and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dewsbury, Detroit, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Deysbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stillwell were hosts to eight couples of the "Get-together" club at a hard time party Saturday evening. The entertainment of the evening was Pedro. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seely received first prize and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark low score prize. By vote of the party, Fred Durfee and James Erwin received prizes for the best hard time costumes while Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seely were dressed too low, which was the poorest for the occasion. A luncheon, served by the hostess, completed an evening of pleasure.

The Novi Baptist Mission Band will sponsor a family night at the church Friday evening. There will be a cooperative supper served at 7 p. m. The proceeds of the evening will be sent to a young person, a son or daughter of the home church, who is ill and far away from home.

A meeting of garage owners and mechanics was held at the Novi Auto Parts owned and operated by Walter Tuck, March 11 for the purpose of demonstrating some new machinery just installed, one being a Koetherizing machine manufactured by the American Hammered Piston Ring company.

With this machine it is possible to permanently reize pistons that have become worn in an automobile.

The other machine shown was the Perfection Crotch rebuilding machine, used to rebuild clutch pressure plates and make accurate adjustments within .001 of an inch.

A moving picture was shown on American Hammered Piston Rings. Behen Service, Engineer of the American Hammered Ring company.

After the machines were demonstrated refreshments were served to about 65 mechanics from the various garages.

SAXTON COMMENTS ON FEED VITAMINS

"When it comes to vitamins in poultry feeds," says Dean Saxton, proprietor of Northville Feed store, "enough is as good as a bagful."

Mr. Saxton backs up his statement with the results of an experiment recently completed at Larro Research Farm, Northwestern highway at 104 Mile road.

In this test, the effect of adding an extra supply of vitamin concentrates to Larro Chick builder was studied. Nine pens, containing 50 chicks each, were used in the experiment. The birds in one pen were used as a control, and received a ration of straight Larro Chick builder. In the other pens, the chicks received Larro Chick builder plus an extra supply of various vitamin concentrates. In each case where supplementary vitamin concentrates were used, a sufficient quantity of concentrate was added to double the amount of that particular vitamin already present in Larro Chick builder.

The results of the test showed that adding an extra supply of vitamins to Larro Chick builder had no effect whatever on the growth and health of the chicks. At 12 weeks, when the experiment was completed, it was found that the birds had made practically equal weight gains in all pens. The variation between pens was so small as to be insignificant.

"The test is important to the poultryman," says Mr. Saxton, "because it proves that a complete, high quality chick mash, fed the way recommended by the manufacturer, contains a sufficient amount of each of the recognized vitamins to meet the requirements of the growing birds. No one vitamin can be given credit for the job of growing a husky, profitable pullet. It takes the proper combination of all the vitamins to give best results."

The entire education of children should be such as to form habits of obedience to the moral and spiritual law, with which the child can meet and master the belief in so-called physical laws, a belief which breeds disease.—Mary Baker Eddy.

"3 Smart Girls" Is Refreshing Film Attraction Sunday and Monday; Deanna Durbin, New Voice Find, Is Featured

"LOVE LETTERS OF A STAR"

The script of "Love Letters of a Star" is the Universal picture which opens at the Penniman-Allyn theatre on Friday and Saturday, was written with the intention of preserving the mystery, suspense and excitement that Rufus King wrote into his original novel, "Case of the Constant God." The story ran first in the Cosmopolitan magazine and then was published in book form by the Crime Club.

"Love Letters of a Star" relates what happens to a family threatened by a blackmailer, when the second son is killed under strange circumstances that throw suspicion on many of the victims. A brilliant detective is called into the case and he solves the puzzle in an interesting fashion, which does not reveal the culprit until the final scene.

Among the suspects is the husband of a girl who was driven to suicide by the blackmailer's threats. The husband is dramatized by Henry Hunter, radio and dramatic star who was heard on national networks for three years before he appeared in the screen in "Postal Inspector," "Yellowstone," "Parole" and "Sutter's Gold."

The detective who runs down the criminal is brought to the screen by C. Henry Gordon, formerly a stage player who scored in such films as "Professional Soldier," "Under Two Flags," "The Crusades" and "Charge of the Light Brigade."

"CONFLICT"

Starring brawny, handsome John Wayne, "Conflict," Universal's drama of the bitter feud between two iron-fisted giants, opens at the Penniman-Allyn theatre Friday and Saturday.

Lovely Jean Rogers appears opposite Wayne in "Conflict," which is based on Jack London's famed story, "The Abysmal Brute," recognized as one of the finest action stories written by the late author.

Photographed entirely in the rugged grandeur of the Sierra Nevada Mountains of California, 900 miles from Hollywood, "Conflict" tells its virile, fast moving story against a background of nature's own magnificent beauty. The picture combines drama, suspense, high excitement and romance into a spirited action story.

Wayne scored a hit in his first Universal picture, "The Sea Spoiler," and in "Conflict" he carries on the good work.

In addition to Wayne and Jean Rogers, the cast of "Conflict" includes such fine performers as Tommy Bupp, Ward Bond, Margaret Mann and Bryant Washburn. David Howard directed from the screen play by Walter Weems and Charles Logue. Trem Carr produced the offering.

"3 SMART GIRLS"

Sixteen elaborate sets, ranging from an expansive night club to a half-mile sweep of modern homes representing Swiss lake country, as well as a modernistic penthouse, form the backgrounds for the filming of Universal's "Three Smart Girls," featuring little Deanna Durbin at the Penniman-Allyn theatre Sunday and Monday.

The interior of a night club called "The Jungle" offers a setting for one of the key situations in "Three Smart Girls." Here Barbara Read introduces Ray Milland to Bunnie Barnes, portraying the blonde temptress who hopes to snare the girl's millionaire father. Milland is given the assignment of luring the fortune hunter away from her prey.

"The Jungle" might be symbolic of a modern Diana running down her quarry. Steel-tipped spears gleam from the walls, beneath a row of hunters' shields bearing barbaric designs of jungle tribes. As the players go through their lines, the drums begin to sound; pounding, echoing, challenging. There it comes, the chant of the jungle, stressed by the beating drums. A tantalizing rhythm that stirs the cultured races, as well as the savage, to whirl in a mad dance.

At that point Ray Milland begins to effect the plan which the "Three Smart Girls" have developed. He dances with the international beauty who is forever seeking romantic conquests. The picture enrolls a modern comedy highlighted by brilliant dialogue.

Deanna Durbin is the youngest of the three sisters, whose father is portrayed by Charles Winninger. Alice Brady and Mischa Auer, who scored so heavily in "My Man Godfrey," are prominently cast.

Leaving "The Jungle" set the comedy went on location for the Swiss sequence. Nature caused an arm of Lake Arrowhead to appear strikingly like some quiet lake in the mountains of Switzerland. A group of buildings at the edge of the lake followed the architectural style characteristic of the Swiss country. The effect provided the necessary background for the filming of several outdoor Swiss sequences which mark the opening of "Three Smart Girls."

AID CRIPPLED CHILDREN

The Civic Welfare club met for dinner and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Riley, Wednesday. The group voted to donate $10 to the Michigan Crippled Children's fund. Several members were to attend the convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs, at Flint, this week. The next meeting of the club will be held March 24, in the Wimmer recreation room. There will be a talk and round table discussion pertaining to the Supreme Court. The club plans to visit the crippled children's home near Farmington, April 7.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL MEETS

The Oakland County Council of Women held a meeting Tuesday at the Hotel Hiddenbraud, Pontiac. Speakers on the program were Kenneth McVittie, Oakland county probate court deputy, and Ross P. Tenny, superintendent of the Juvenile home. Both reported on a meeting of the delinquency prevention committee held in Detroit last week. They also discussed "Problem Child Legislation." A business meeting followed the program, conducted by Mrs. Glen Buffmeyer of Walled Lake, president of the council. The day's session was concluded with a luncheon.

SENIORS SPONSOR DANCE

Many people attended the dance at the high school Friday night, sponsored by the parents of the seniors in the interests of the annual graduation trip class fund. Young folks and their eldres alike seemed to enjoy themselves, no end, as they engaged in new and old time steps, to the music provided by Mrs. and Clyde Hazen and a three-piece orchestra. Guy Nichols certainly "went to town" in calling the traditional formations, and had even the young ones gasping for breath. But they always came back for more. A complimentary luncheon was served at midnight. Yours truly got there early, and nearly missed out on the pickles, at that.

FRIEDENBURG DIES

Word has been received here of the death Friday morning of John A. Friedenbure, 70 years old, and a resident here for nearly 25 years. Mr. Friedenbure had been ill for the past year, and was convalescing in a Detroit hospital at the time of his death. He is survived by three daughters, Edna and Mrs. Gertrude Brown of Detroit, and Mrs. Fern Doble of Dayton, O. Burial was held Monday at Butley O.

WALLED LAKE LOSES

The Walled Lake high school basketball ability team took it on the chin, standing up, Thursday night when it lost a tough one in the regional tournament's opening battle against St. Marys, at Lake Orion. The score, well, it doesn't matter. There was only one point between winner and loser when the final horn sounded, thus eliminating Walled Lake from this year's State competition in the C class. The fact remains, however, that Walled Lake finished the game as good a team as their prep school competitor. The teams were never more than five points apart, throughout the four periods. Which speaks much in favor of our lads and their coach, Harold Hursh, who were able to hold a team which scored rightfully in playing in the junior college class, and certainly not in competition with class C schools.

WIFE'S FAREWELL

A special farewell community service will be held at the Walled Lake Baptist church, Sunday night, honoring the Rev. Victor O. Wik, who will conduct his final services at Walled Lake on Easter Sunday, the week following. People of this community and friends of surrounding towns are invited to attend. Mr. Wik will preach the sermon, and there will be a program of music by the juniors and senior choirs, together with solo numbers, both vocal and instrumental. Refreshments will be served during the social hour which will follow the service. Mr. Wik will leave March 29 for Mitchell, S. D., where he has accepted a pastorate in the Baptist church of that city.

ILLNESS IN COMMUNITY

A number of local people have suffered illness during the past two weeks. Mrs. E. V. Mercer is recovering from an attack of influenza. William Glover has also been confined to his home for the past week with the flu. Mrs. James Smith has been ill for several days, as has Mrs. J. L. Taylor, who is able to be about again, after an illness of several weeks. Jean Parks, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Parks, is sick with a severe cold. Ruth and Dorothy Moss, children of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Moss are confined to their home. Ruth having the mumps and Dorothy suffering from tonsillitis. Mrs. Joseph Whitte has been the victim of tonsillitis for a week. Mrs. M. G. Post returned home Saturday night from Grace hospital, Detroit, where she underwent an operation. She is making excellent recovery.

LADIES AID MEETS

The regular meeting of the M. E. Ladies Aid society was held Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Earl Parris. Potluck dinner was enjoyed by those present, followed by a business and social program. Darlene Beckman, Bill Mercer, Arthur Harris and Harry Russell of Michigan State college were home over the week end.

Mrs. Doris Rice, New Hudson, was the Sunday dinner guest of Ira Carnes. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dewey have moved to the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Coe. Mr. and Mrs. Coe are now living in the George Campbell place on West Main street, recently purchased by Mr. Coe. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McKnight visited last week at the home of Mrs. McKnight's sister, Mrs. A. Stanbrow of Salem.

NON-PARTISAN COMMITTEE ORGANIZED BY LAWYERS

A Fed and North Non-Partisan committee has been organized by Detroit and Wayne county attorneys and by members of both major political parties. It will work for the reelection of Chief Justice Louis H. Ford and Justice Walter H. North to the State Supreme Court of Michigan in the election Monday, April 5, 1937.

Justices Ford and North were re-nominated by the republican state convention last month. The Non-Partisan committee will campaign in their behalf on their records in both the Circuit courts and the Supreme Court of the state.

Rochester—Mrs. Laura Bratsch, wife of W. H. Bratsch of Burningham, has been awarded a verdict of $250 by a jury in Circuit Court, Pontiac, last Friday afternoon, for rough treatment she claims she received during the two days she was a patient in "The Haven," a private sanitarium west of here.—The Rochester Clarion.

Dearborn—The best trained, the most beloved, and, comparatively speaking, the oldest officer of the Dearborn police force, is none other than "Prince," a horse.

Prince is causing considerable official debate. Some say 17 years of trotting police beats is the limit. Others think Prince is good for several years more.

A prominent Dearborn woman wants to buy him and $100 is her price but right now Prince seems to be worth a lot more to the force.

"Believe it or not," said Sergeant Jeff Dean, head of the Dearborn mounteds, "Prince will do anything you tell him. He can be gentle as a lamb, side a heavy crowd easily and then he can be rough and tough pushing a surging line into place."—The Dearborn Press.

Hastings—One of the two buses which convey pupils from the southeastern part of the county to our city schools was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon about five o'clock when about three miles north of Lacey on its return trip. Fortunately none of the three pupils in the bus at the time was harmed.

The bus driver used the fire extinguisher diligently, but for some reason the chemicals failed to do a good job of extinguishing. The flames soon devoured the frame of the bus, and left it a wreck.—The Hastings Banner.

Ann Arbor—A judgment for $437 granted the township of Salem against Glenn C. Burnham, former township treasurer, in September, 1935, was set aside Friday by a decision handed down by Circuit Judge George W. Sample.

The judgment in favor of the township was granted by Circuit Court, Commissioner Joseph C. Hooper, to whom the case was referred by consent of both parties. Judge Sample ruled, however, that Mr. Hooper's disposition of the case was "premature and invalid."

Inasmuch as Mr. Hooper was in fact acting as referee, exceptions should have been settled before him for certification to circuit court. Judge Sample held. Arguments on the motion to set aside the judgment were heard by Judge Sample on Feb. 16.

The amount claimed by Salem township represented funds allegedly misappropriated by Burnham.—Ann Arbor Daily News.

Novi—For chasing Novi school children around the playground by driving their cars on the grounds, two Novi youths are on 90-day probation following their conviction Friday in the municipal court of Judge John J. Schulte on charges of disorderly conduct. The charges were brought by William Mairs, secretary of the Novi board of education.—The Farmington Enterprise.

Farmington—Property owners in Farmington city wishing to build sewer connections from their property lines to the trunk line sewers will have such construction done for them by the city in the future. In order to secure the connecting link, the cost of $40 will be borne by the property owner.—The Farmington Enterprise.

Flint—Every effort should be made by Legionnaires generally throughout the department to attend the big Americanism meeting to be held in the I. M. A. Auditorium, Flint, Monday evening, March 22, at which the National Americanism Director Homer L. Cibailloux will be the principal speaker. Get in touch with Russ Soles, Veterans Building, Flint, General Chairman, to obtain tickets for both the banquet and the public meeting to follow. All delegations are urged to bring their colors with them for massing.—Legion News.

75 SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED

Scholarships Given for Outstanding Work in Journalism, Debate

Seventy-five full tuition scholarships will be awarded to outstanding high school students in Journalism, Debate and Dramatics by the National Institute for high school students at Northwestern University this summer.

The Institute which is open to high school juniors and seniors will be held in two sections. The Journalism division will be held June 13 to July 10, and the debate and dramatics division will be held July 13 to August 14.

The Institute, attended in the past six years by students from 44 states, is held under the joint direction of the School of Speech and the Media School of Journalism at Northwestern University. Classes are taught by members of the faculty of the two schools.

Theory and practice will be combined in all the courses. Journalism students will work on the summer edition of the Daily Northwestern, in addition to their classes in copywriting, reporting and feature writing.

Debate and dramatics will take part in a number of plays and debates and build and design stage sets and scenery along with their studies in play production, stagecraft, diction, acting and make-up. Several days during the semester will also be devoted to trips to publishing plants, theatres, broadcasting stations and museums in Chicago.

Students will live in the men's and women's dormitories at the university under the supervision of instructors. At the close of the session, three scholarships to Northwestern University, valued at $150 apiece, will be awarded to students whose work has been meritorious during the summer.

Information concerning scholarship and other details of the Institute may be secured by writing to the Director of the National Institute for high school students, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Have you noticed Carl Arnold's shadow? In case you haven't, she's a pretty, dark-haired sophomore.

We've heard of marriage by proxy. You know they used to do it in the middle ages. If a king was too busy to get married, he'd send a messenger to marry the girl in the king's name. Well, according to rumors, a certain senior has started something rather amazing. We've named it "dates by proxy." Here's how it works—said senior gives a friend of his a nice green, crinkly dollar bill, and asks him to spend $1.00 for a certain dark-haired junior to a basketball game and treat afterwards. The friend proceeds to do so, and on the way home, informing the girl what's been going on. Nice system.

Now your columnist is going to Florida or maybe Alaska. We'll need to be "way far away" when certain parties read this.

Have you noticed the fancy posters the juniors have put up for the J-hop? They're good reminders. The boys are beginning to race around dating up their favorites for this annual fling.

Rumors have it that "Number 4" is two-timing a certain young lady. Not mentioning any names—but if you've seen June Ault running around with a mysterious smile on her face, you'll know it's because she received a very interesting letter from a certain "someone" last week.

Did you notice Leonard Young's camera the other morning? He was snapping cute little pictures of all the couples seated together in the assembly.

Senior Who's Who

EVELYN RAYMOND

Evelyn has been forever faithful to her home town, Northville, this being the place of her birth 17 years ago to be exact. She was born August 23, 1919.

When I asked her what she liked to do most, swimming and dancing was her prompt reply. Most of her time outside of school is spent doing one or the other.

Evelyn is also quite domestic, doing all the housework there is to be done. In her junior year she took part in the class play.

She plans to attend a business school when she graduates and become a stenographer.

Speech Class Elects Ira Davis Head of Skating Party at M. E. Church

By OSCAR ZILCH

After much arguing and disagreeing the majority of members of the sixth hour Brain Trusters Speech class agreed upon the rental of the M. E. church for a skating party that was held last Tuesday.

After holding the problem of who was to be chairman of this so-called social event in many angles of light, Ira Davis was finally elected chairman, but to the speech class this means the main chief cook and bottle washer. In other words, members of good old N. H. S., this means that Mr. Davis has lost about three inches of his waist line in planning their fling.

Another item that was discussed and cussed that might be of interest to us, the natives of Northville, was that of a speech banquet to be held in the near future at the Hotel Mayflower in Plymouth. We understand that each member is allowed to ask one guest. We also learned that Dick Ambler is to be master of ceremonies. And so, my friends, if you want a good laugh try to get a bid for the speech banquet. Yeah! just try!

EIGHTH GRADE HAS TEA DANCE TODAY

The eighth grade will hold a tea dance this afternoon from 4 until 7 in the high school gymnasium. Music will be provided by an orchestra which at this time refuses to divulge its identity.

The dance is for the eighth graders alone and no one else will be admitted.

One group which does not dance will be entertained by games and later in the evening refreshments will be served to both groups.

This is the first time that such a venture has been tried by the junior high school and if it proves successful, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, the principal, hopes to hold several more. Parents are invited.

SPEECH CONTEST SET FOR MARCH 19

Either on or before March 19, a local contest for champions of debate will be held in oratory, declamation and extemporaneous speaking. The speakers for the various orations follow: For oratory, Jean Cole; declamation, Marion Coleman; Dick Ambler, Alfred Cousins, Betty Carlson, Margaret Van Hellmont and Doris Hogan; for extemporaneous speaking, Scott Cole, Harry Richardson and Alfred Cousins.

Now We Understand Little girl, watching her father working in the garden: "Daddy, I know why the flowers grow. It's because they want to get out of the dirt." —Christian Science Monitor.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

It seems to us (as we sit here racking our brains) that high school students just aren't all they're supposed to be. Some time, way back in our grade days, the idea was that when you got up to the ninth grade, you just naturally grew up, used a little more initiative and even accomplished more.

Unfortunately, that idea has done some pretty bad back-sliding in the last year. School life in the upper halls of the high school building has been very uneventful. Meanwhile, downstairs in the junior assembly the students have been really getting somewhere.

Under Mrs. Ida B. Cooke's tutelage, they have planned a tea dance to be held today. If they're doing that now, we hate to think what they'll be doing when they reach the exalted state of high school juniors and seniors. Think how they'll show the present classes up!

Take a hint—especially you freshmen. If you don't work in your first year in high school, you most certainly will be sad and failures later on. Remember the old saying, "A stitch in time saves nine."

We, for one, are going to try and crash that eighth grade tea dance. We think it calls for headlines:

You ought to see the senior girls making their graduation dresses—they all look sad and say, "What a life."

Congratulations to the boys' basketball team. You're not only good players, but good sports. We only wish that those of you who played your last school game on Saturday were coming back. Since you aren't, we can only say, "May you give the school you're attending next year the same glory you have given N. H. S."

SPORT FLASHES

By ALBERT BOELENS

Northville, for the second straight year went all the way to the finals of the regional tournament to lose to a poorer team.

The team lost a hard battle and a close one, but had the local lads been playing up to their par no team like the Dundee team could have beaten them.

The Dundee team won this game on foul shots, making eight points coming in the last three minutes.

Name	Points During Season	Tournament	Total
1. Westphal	90	44	134
2. Trumbull	52	25	77
3. Deguid	55	15	71

11. Whitbur	0	0	0
12. Van	0	0	0
13. Myers	2	1	3
Total	358	144	402

Now this doesn't mean that certain players are better than anyone else because it takes a whole team for any team to score—as for an example, take Chuck Bishop. Those of you who saw his play in the tournament were all forced to admit that you never saw any player of Chuck's size play the perfect ball that he did—he was all over, breaking up passes and then passing to team mates who

Well, so much for the tournament. We lost and that settles it. And the ending of this tournament meant the ending of one of Northville's successful years.

The team won 13 and lost six. A pretty good average and while we are speaking of games won and lost, we might as well give you the final standings of the players with reference to points scored.

The record is as follows:

Name	Points During Season	Tournament	Total
1. Westphal	90	44	134
2. Trumbull	52	25	77
3. Deguid	55	15	71

got credit for the score. So when you get the idea when you read the scoring record that certain players are better than others because he got more points you are wrong. It takes five men to make a team.

Now that basketball is over we can set our minds toward a championship baseball, golf and track team.

SCHOOL SPELL DOWN TO BE ON MARCH 24

Ten Spellers from Four Grades to Compete in Match

The spell down for the school championship will be held on Wednesday, March 24. Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, junior high school principal announced today.

The ten spellers from each of the four competing grades will meet and the winner will be school champion. The seventh grade team is made up of Beatrice Reed, Robert McCluskie, Yvonne Taylor, Irene Mortenson, Laura Jean Litsenberger, Julia Pohltz, Dorothy Drews, Sidney Lovier, Dick Simmons, Janice Covell and Edith Amerman.

The eighth grade will be represented by Mary Ellen Burgess, who is champion of the grade, Mary Ann Murray, Ruth Parmenier, Betty Hollis, Loretta Nagel, Frank Eaton, Ruth Mary Mills, Joan Keim, Jane Ely and Jane Behan.

TEACHERS CLUB MEETS MARCH 9

Northville Teachers Club held a meeting March 9 in the high school building at 4 p. m. At the business meeting, the teachers' retirement bill was discussed.

John Turnoull from Michigan State Normal of Ypsilanti was speaker for the occasion. Mr. Turnoull talked on the "Effects of Alcohol." Slides were used to illustrate his talk.

Can You Imagine?

Valeria Z. trying to keep everything quiet in typing? Well she did (try)

Betty Jane G. being very talkative in seventh hour assembly?

Boys darned socks?

R. P. not laughing?

The girls not pounding their fingers in manual training?

Kathryn M. being a ballet dancer?

H. R. a blonde?

M. V. liking licorice?

Wilford W. not writing notes to L. B.?

F. B. not talking to a certain girl?

R. L. not having anything to do?

C. H. and V. W. not having their daily chat in American Literature?

Wayne R. entertaining a certain group of girls in seventh hour assembly?

Phil C. not talking to L. D. during second hour English?

M. C. leaving her hat in different cars?

Well, we can't, either!

SPRING VACATION IS FOUR DAYS

Spring vacation is only four days this year. It will begin at 3:30 Wednesday, March 24, and school will begin again on Monday, March 29. The school board decided on this shorter vacation since it will allow school to close one week before the usual time.

Grade Notes

Mrs. O. F. Reng's students are studying the Dutch. They are making Dutch posters and are learning a poem and reading Dutch stories.

Burton Truxar from Detroit is a new pupil in the third grade.

Ruth McDonald gave the acceptance speech in Miss Nora Wilson's second grade when the flags were presented last week to the grade school.

Mrs. Willis B. McCarthy's pupils have hung their picture. Mary and Her Lamb, they received from the art exhibit last year.

Constantine Talanges is a new pupil in the second grade.

Paul Palmer made a radio to add to the exhibit in his room which carries messages from one person to another.

Keith Simmons is visiting in Mrs. James Congos' third grade.

Did You Notice?

G. W.'s new way of making dates? Ever suddenly blossoming out into a mar-about-town? Good heavens, what's happened?

V. W.'s new boy friend? I'll bet you can't guess who.

Albert B. being so shy around D. H.? (Albert's got a girl!)

How B. J. G. suddenly knows her geometry? Now Alfred!

N. M. disgusted about party dresses? She'd much rather wear riding pants.

M. W. wondering if E. L. really has water on the knee—or whether he's trying to get out of going to the Hop?

V. G. taking her shoes off in assembly the other day? What's the matter, do your shoes ache?

The girls worrying about the sit-down-strikes? How are they going to get their new dresses for the hop?

All the money Scott Cole has saved? Why not loan it to Jane and Buck with ten per cent interest? Hop.

The Observer

This charming young lady is a junior. She has black hair and very pretty eyes. Please note her hair and eyes, because they are exceptionally pretty. This lassie is the quiet and sophisticated type. Her drawl is of a very becoming Irish tone—but don't let her hear about this. She is also seen quite often with a certain blond junior. By the way, the last letter in her first name is an "e" instead of a "y."

ORCHARD MEN TO MEET
Arrangements have been made to have the orchardmen meet for a 6:30 p. m. dinner and round-table discussion or orchard problems at the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth, March 23.

Don Hoffman, extension specialist in horticulture will bring out new developments in orcharding and will lead the discussion.

The meal will be served for a nominal price and all who are interested in orchard problems are invited to attend.

IRRIGATION NEEDS EXPLAINED
George Amundson, extension specialist in agricultural engineering, pointed out in the meeting at Plymouth, March 12, that even in years of apparently good rainfall supplemental irrigation paid good dividends.

He stated that one inch of water a week was the least that one should plan on supplying during June, July and August. In 1935, a year considered to have had a good rainfall, there was less than one inch of rain a week during the months of June, July and August. It is during these three months that the crops make great demands on the water supply.

Porous hose, overhead and ditch irrigation were discussed. The available water supply is often the limiting factor in planning for an irrigation system.

Extension Bulletin No. 133, Porous Hose Irrigation, is available from the county agent's office or the Bulletin Department, Michigan State college, East Lansing.

ORCHID IN EVERY HOME
An orchid in every home, home grown in fact, is not such an impossible dream. It may take a few years, says C. E. Wilton, horticulturist at Michigan State college. Price has made it impossible for home gardeners to keep orchids and even at present the bulbs are valued at 12 to 15 dollars. In Wil-

NEIGHBORING CORRESPONDENT KNOWS THE INSIDE STORY OF THE VILLAGE DAYS WHEN SLEDDING WAS A REAL ACCOMPLISHMENT

A lot of others like them, who did their share of coasting down Buckner's Hill. Yes, and I'll bet North Green, John Walker, Charlie Monday and Ed Hinkley can remember something about it, too. They were a little older than the passers, I mentioned before them, but they seemed to know about most everything we did.

Buckner's Hill was a mighty popular spot in those days, before they turned the old red brick house on the top, into a sanatorium and put up fences and signs, and such.

Not many of this gang were around at the time to which I refer, but I'm pretty sure they soon heard about it and remember Muck Alexander going around for a couple of weeks with his head all bandaged up. As it happened, one Saturday morning, I stomped Muck to slide down the hill backwards.

I've since put that down on a long list being compiled for the benefit of posterity, entitled: "I Wouldn't Do It Again If I Had To." You probably know Buckner's Hill. At the top, you dropped at about a mild 90 degree angle for about 30 rods, then you really started down, practically perpendicular, past the German church, on down into "death valley," zipped across a bridge that seemed about 75 feet wide at the most, (going 70 miles an hour) up a short grade and across Raleigh street and straight on to Main, where if you were lucky, you turned left and kept on going to Center, and then south to the fair grounds—that is, if you stayed right side up and came down the way you oughta. It was slightly different with Muck.

(Of course, Muck wouldn't be stumped, so we compromised. We faced frontwards, but turned our 12 foot "bobs" around, with Muck hying down in front, trying to steer the back sled, and I, sitting up in back in an effort to keep the front sled from jumping the lead track.

With a few hollow shouts of encouragement and final farewell from the rest of our coasting friends, we started off. Everything went well through till we reached the German church, when we jumped the track. I remember seeing Muck shoot off the front end of the sled and disappear, as I rose in the air and sailed, without the traces, but like the man on it, or down the hill.

After landing and completing several backward somersaults, I found I wasn't hurt, and looked around for Muck. I then covered him on his back by a deep snow drift, cautiously wading through it, before venturing to get up. We later discovered his right ear didn't look so good being torn quite badly. I managed to get him down to the Ken Henry's, who certainly made a terrific looking figure out of Muck, with so much damage he couldn't keep his cap on.

I guess Earl went over pretty bad that experience, and I know I won't.

IOWA HAS WORLD'S SMALLEST CHURCH

Nestled in the limestone bluffs of the "Switzerland of Iowa" is the world's smallest church. It was built in the early seventeenth century by the pioneers of that section. It is of limestone construction, the material being gathered from the hillsides.

This church has an interior of only ten feet by eight feet. It has only four pews, each seating two people. About four people can find room to stand in this unusual building.

In the register at the doorway one can find names of people from every state in the union, and sometimes from foreign countries.

About ten miles from this spot is another point of interest. "The Fort of Fort Atchison" has the reputation of being the only fort in the world, built for peace. Its original purpose was to blockade the fighting of two rival tribes of warlike Indians.

A lot of others like them, who did their share of coasting down Buckner's Hill. Yes, and I'll bet North Green, John Walker, Charlie Monday and Ed Hinkley can remember something about it, too. They were a little older than the passers, I mentioned before them, but they seemed to know about most everything we did.

Buckner's Hill was a mighty popular spot in those days, before they turned the old red brick house on the top, into a sanatorium and put up fences and signs, and such.

Buckner's Hill was a mighty popular spot in those days, before they turned the old red brick house on the top, into a sanatorium and put up fences and signs, and such.

Not many of this gang were around at the time to which I refer, but I'm pretty sure they soon heard about it and remember Muck Alexander going around for a couple of weeks with his head all bandaged up. As it happened, one Saturday morning, I stomped Muck to slide down the hill backwards.

I've since put that down on a long list being compiled for the benefit of posterity, entitled: "I Wouldn't Do It Again If I Had To." You probably know Buckner's Hill. At the top, you dropped at about a mild 90 degree angle for about 30 rods, then you really started down, practically perpendicular, past the German church, on down into "death valley," zipped across a bridge that seemed about 75 feet wide at the most, (going 70 miles an hour) up a short grade and across Raleigh street and straight on to Main, where if you were lucky, you turned left and kept on going to Center, and then south to the fair grounds—that is, if you stayed right side up and came down the way you oughta. It was slightly different with Muck.

(Of course, Muck wouldn't be stumped, so we compromised. We faced frontwards, but turned our 12 foot "bobs" around, with Muck hying down in front, trying to steer the back sled, and I, sitting up in back in an effort to keep the front sled from jumping the lead track.

With a few hollow shouts of encouragement and final farewell from the rest of our coasting friends, we started off. Everything went well through till we reached the German church, when we jumped the track. I remember seeing Muck shoot off the front end of the sled and disappear, as I rose in the air and sailed, without the traces, but like the man on it, or down the hill.

After landing and completing several backward somersaults, I found I wasn't hurt, and looked around for Muck. I then covered him on his back by a deep snow drift, cautiously wading through it, before venturing to get up. We later discovered his right ear didn't look so good being torn quite badly. I managed to get him down to the Ken Henry's, who certainly made a terrific looking figure out of Muck, with so much damage he couldn't keep his cap on.

I guess Earl went over pretty bad that experience, and I know I won't.
