RAMBLING AROUND FLORIDA

St. Petersburg

Wednesday, March 24, 1937

Here we are, enjoying the heat of St. Petersburg. Yes sir, real Michigan heat like we have in July or August.

We landed here Saturday afternoon and ever since the mercury has been crowding the 90 degree mark. Even the "natives" here admit that it's plenty hot.

Our trip down totalled 1,323 miles. We made it in a little over four days from Northville, which is jogging along. It was as nice a jaunt as one could wish. Almost perfect roads, and after our first day, the best of weather. Only two of three detours on the whole trip, which is quite a contrast to the old days of travel.

Good places at which to stay over night and courtesy all along the way. Tourists are no longer curiosities and most folks are eager to please you. Gas station attendants are especially accommodating.

Getting submerged in this sub-tropical heat after going through snowbanks for a couple of days is a strange experience. One doesn't fool with his heat. Phil found out to his sorrow when he went fishing from the pier Monday that only a few hours under the apparently mild sun gives you a severe sunburn. Today you can hardly touch him and he has gone to a slow to get away from the bright sunlight. A local doctor said to him this morning: "Boy, don't you get in that heat too much!" Then he explained to us that people with certain complexions have to be very careful in this heat. He said he himself can "take it" until June first but then he has to go North.

Tourist registration here this winter has broken all records: At the Chamber of Commerce, where only about a third of the people register, the "enrollment" has reached 61,000.

The papers claim that over 200,000 will be the season's total. The day we came in 390 other folks rolled into "St. Pete." This morning, just for fun, we counted the cars in on black parked near Williams park and there were licenses from eleven different states.

Why do all these thousands come to St. Petersburg year after year? Well, if you want to learn the individual appeal of the various Florida cities, read the two articles, "This Is Florida" by Garret Garrett in the last two issues of the Saturday Evening Post. For example, Miami lures by its glamour and night life, on the other hand St. Petersburg believes that the simple pleasures are the most enduring and bases its appeal on them. Shuffleboard might seem silly in Miami but one St. Petersburg club has 5,600 members. Dayton Dunn tells us: "Then of course you have heard of St. Petersburg's green benches. It may seem foolish to you to stick thousands of these upholstered park benches all over the sidewalks in front of business places. Yet they find it pays."

These green benches, according to Mr. Garrett, serve two purposes. There are many people who are lonely because they are shy. Put them on these benches and before they know it they are talking to someone and their shyness is gone. So, St. Petersburg has become the most famous city in the world for shy people. In the second place, says the Post writer, tourists are really lazy and don't enjoy activity, like some claim, but what the tourists really loves, says Garrett, "is to sit down." So popular are these green benches that it is often hard to find a place on one, especially after you come out from one of the cafeterias after eating one of their nine-cent breakfasts. Yes sir, the sit-down appeal is a strong one, but only St. Petersburg capitalizes it in a big way.

Last year we saw the beach side of life on the Gulf of Mexico in our stay in Clearwater Island. "Mrs. Editor," however, got a little nervous over the strong winds that roared off the gulf and this year we thought we would try the more "cittified" life in this city of 50,000. Well, to be frank about it, we miss the beach, and are already getting a little tired of eating out, even though the prices are very reasonable. Late yesterday afternoon we drove out eight or nine miles to one of the gulf beaches and had a very restful time watching the sun go down in a halo of glory. We even tried the strange experience of taking a picture against the setting sun.

St. Petersburg is said to be "the old Peoples home," yet it seems to us that there are fewer of the "ancient" old folks than there were last season. The great majority, we would say, run between the ages of 60 and 75. You must say for them all that they are a well-dressed, well-behaved and "contentable" appearing people, who look as if they are enjoying a well-earned rest. We notice, however, that they do not hand out very heavy sized tips to the waiters.

These tourists here go to church in an amazing way. We went Sunday morning to the First Avenue Methodist church where they actually have to hold four services to accommodate the crowds. We were there early for the 10:45 service and were packed into one side of the gallery. Incidentally, we were impressed by this sign before the entrance of the Congregational church, "Is not the way of the Cross the way of life and peace?"

How St. Petersburg feeds these thousands who come to its borders every winter is an interesting phenomenon. When we tried to get an apartment with a kitchenette one landlady said: "Meals are so reasonable here that you cannot afford to cook them yourself." And even though she was trying to rent a room without a kitchenette, she was right. The nine-cent breakfast that we mention includes: one Florida egg, two strips of bacon, wheat grits and pan gravy. If you add to this toast and coffee you are getting a breakfast for less than 20 cents.

Just for fun we three have made a game of spending our eating money. Each of us gets a dollar in the morning and spends it as he chooses. If anything is saved, so much the better. Some days Phil saves 30 or 40 cents.

Of course, not all the tourists eat at these moderate priced places. There are several "swanky" hotels and numerous luxurious tea rooms. Yet, on the whole, eating is remarkably cheap and for 50 cents you can get a dinner that would cost you 75 cents or a dollar in northern cities.

Thursday, March 25

Well, friends, it is actually getting so hot here we are going to head homeward in a few days. Yet, in spite of the heat, we met a New Haven, Conn., man this morning who wanted to argue that St. Petersburg was the finest place on earth, really his idea of heaven. He got quite peeved at us because we didn't agree with him.

The study of human nature around here is surely interesting. There are great talkers in the parks and on the benches. Nearly laughed out loud this morning when we went by a park bench and heard a man say: "They say it never gets above 96 degrees there but they don't say it stays 95 degrees for 30 days at a stretch."

In a few minutes a lady from New York City was telling me what an awful mess King Edward made in letting Mrs. Simpson "vamp" him out of a kingdom. So it goes—if you like folks you can certainly get a big "kick" out of St. Petersburg. They are all here.

Good-by until next week.

CHARLES M. ZIEGLER COMPLETES CAMPAIGN

Wayne county is deserving of better cooperation from the State highway department in regard to its road problems. Charles M. Ziegler, republican candidate for state highway commissioner declared here as he completed his campaigning which has taken him to every county of the State.

"The State has not been in a cooperative mood for some time and I believe it has worked to the detriment of Wayne county," Ziegler declared. "Wayne county has one of the best road commissions in the State, with extensive highways to be built and maintained. The State should show a better spirit of cooperation."

Ziegler's platform calls for all State trunk line maintenance work to be done by county road commissions.

And they will represent
Your thoughts, care and teaching.
They cost you not a cent.
But manners and good teaching.
With lack in proper dress.

Kirsten Flagstad, Elisabeth Rethberg, Marion Telva, Lauritz Melchior, Carron, Morelli and Ezio Pinza Sing in Festival

The forty-fourth annual May Festival at the University of Michigan has been planned this year on a fairly large scale as a musical prelude to the University's celebration in June of its establishment in its present form in Ann Arbor, according to Dr. Charles A. Sunk, President of the School of Music.

Seven of the greatest singers of the Metropolitan Opera association have been signed for the festival. They are Kirsten Flagstad and Elisabeth Rethberg, sopranos, widely known by their radio appearances; Marion Telva, contralto; Lauritz Melchior, "greatest Wagnerian tenor;" Arthur Carron, who received 15 curtain calls on his first Metropolitan appearance; Carlo Morelli, favorite baritone; and Ezio Pinza, widely regarded as the finest bass in opera. The singers will appear both on solo and choral works.

Purifying the orchestral music and accompaniments for the festival will be the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra, which is expected to repeat the "hit" it made last year. Two outstanding conductors will lead the orchestra, Eugene Ormandy, its regular head, and Jose Turbi, distinguished guest conductor and pianist. The instrumental soloists this year will be two Americans, Joseph Knitzer, brilliant violinist, and Eugene List, a young pianist who has series of critically praised recitals in the East.

Smartly Dressed Kay Francis Stars Again Sunday in "Stolen Holiday, a Picture That Was 'Made for Her'; Crime Theme Follows

"SHE'S DANGEROUS"

When an actress makes hard-boiled studio folk shed tears, she has proved her dramatic ability. During the filming of Universal's "She's Dangerous," which opens at the Penniman-Allyn theatre on Friday, Tala Burrell got under the skins of her fellow players and of the technicians, according to Hollywood "scouts." She was playing the climax scene in which she bids farewell to the man she loves, a short time before she is supposed to walk the "last mile."

Tender, tragic, still glowing with life and love, Tala Burrell takes Walter Pidgeon into her arms for a last goodbye. Vibrant with emotion, she keeps that moment splendidly afloat, like the lamp that holds the Eternal Flame.

The director forgot to call "Cut!" The cameras kept running. Every player watching the sequence was crying. One of the technicians said he had been in Hollywood 14 years and this was the third time a scene had made him weep. The other times were during the filming of Irene Dunne's "Back Street" and John Stahl's "Seed."

He grinned a bit sheepishly. "Say, that surprise twist at the finish that saves her from dying is sort of made the feel good when they did that."

"STOLEN HOLIDAY"

In the role of a French mannequin who rises to the heights of fashion dictator of the world, Kay Francis, beautiful brunette dramatic actress, who wears clothes so magnificently, is starred in "Stolen Holiday," first National production which will be the feature attraction at the Penniman-Allyn theatre beginning Sunday.

The story was literally "made to order" for Miss Francis. The original story by Warren Duff and Virginia Kellogg, was tailored for Kay and no one else, and so was the screen play by Casey Robinson.

In "Stolen Holiday," Miss Francis rises from the ranks of the mannequins begins when she meets Claude Rains. He comes to the modiste shop where she is working, and tells the manager that he has been delegated to select a model and some gowns to exhibit in Paris society. Kay is his selection, but when they are alone he reveals to her that what he really wants is a dinner companion with whom he can impress a rich banker.

If he succeeds in borrowing money from the banker he promises to back her in a modiste shop of her own. This begins a partnership that endures until eight years pass, and Kay has risen to the top of her chosen profession, unaware that her partner is involved in nefarious financial deals. To her, Rains is a cherished and an honorable friend.

When, inevitably, the swindler in which he is involved begins to come to light, she does all she can to help him prove his innocence. She even consents to marry him, although she has already fallen in love with a young English diplomat portrayed by Ian Hunter. It is to Hunter she turns when death removes Rains from the situation.

Kay's ultra-modern salon is the scene of a fashion show that is said to surpass anything of its kind ever seen on the screen. The 1937 gowns, designed by Orry Kelly and worn by eight models, are expected to bring gasps of delight from the female portion of the audience.

Reels on the streets of Paris, closely paralleling those that really took place not so long ago and political and financial plots based rather closely on fact give the picture a topical significance.

"WANTED: JANE TURNER"

The eternal vigil of the United States Postal Department against crime is pictorially unveiled for the first time in a thrilling story of adventure and love staged behind the post-office window grill in "Wanted: Jane Turner," to open Wednesday at the Penniman-Allyn theatre.

The unheralded exploits of postal inspectors, who have established a glorious tradition in government service which parallels that of the G-Men of the Department of Justice, are excitingly and graphically portrayed in the person of a lightning-tongued inspector, enacted by Lee Tracy, who brushes elbows with crime and danger at every move for the public service.

Aroused by a sensational mail robbery and murder, the department assigns Tracy and a secretary, portrayed by the alluring Gloria Stuart, to corral the mob and, especially, capture its leader.

Through this plot highlight, the public is introduced to some of the hitherto secret and intimate machinery of the postal department. Dictaphones are rigged up in the culprits' rooms, a letter is intercepted, and Crowley's hide-out is uncovered.

Then follows a transcontinental plane chase, a gun battle to the killer's bungalow, and intricate detective work involving telephone tapping and cryptic "personal" advertisements. The story is enlivened by a thrilling encounter between Miss Stuart and Crowley, played by Paul Guilfoyle, in an apartment where he has been lured.

Walled Lake News BY CHARLES E. HUTTON

CLUBS MEET IN PONTIAC

The Oakland County Federation of Women's clubs held an all day meeting today at the Pontiac Board of Commerce building. Sessions began at 10:30 a. m. with a business meeting presided over by Mrs. George Kimball, Jr., president. This was followed with an address by Mrs. Elsie Patten of Pontiac, chairman of the legislative department. She spoke concerning pending State legislation.

At 1:30, following a luncheon, the principal speaker of the day, I. O. Gregg, landscape specialist of the Michigan State college extension department, was presented by Mrs. Glen Buffmeyer of Walled Lake, chairman of the American Home department of the federation. Mr. Gregg gave an illustrated lecture on "Landscaping the Home Grounds." He is well known for his extensive work in Oakland county. His work as one of the Michigan State college services, is free, and includes lectures and plan making throughout the State. He personally conducts planting demonstrations wherever they are furnished by a sufficient and varied amount of landscaping to be completed. The illustrated slides included in his talk showed views of several projects he has completed in Oakland county and throughout the State.

Following the talk by Mr. Gregg, Mrs. Muriel Jettens Hurd of Royal Oak, chairman of the poetry division of the fine arts department, read several of her own poems and discussed the subject of poetry. A talk concerning phases of drama by Mrs. A. L. Horton, chairman of the drama department, concluded the program.

BEGIN BASEBALL SEASON

Coach Harold Hursh will soon be looking over his 1937 high school baseball candidates with an eye to those who will be most likely to stage an aggressive campaign for another league championship to ship under his belt at the conclusion of the school term. In looking over the material at hand prospects are quite a few from being chosen. It isn't known of course as this writing, but who will step up for the "call to arms," but we have a bunch that men like Philip Green, Ellenwood, McGreg, Elmer, Truesburg, Derbin, Welch and many others of their caliber could do the job no great harm.

Eight games are included in the season, scheduled opening April 23 with Novi and on here, April 30 Walled Lake at Keego Harbor; May 7 Brighton at Walled Lake; May 14 Walled Lake at Farmington; May 14 Brighton here; May 16 South Lyon here; May 21 Walled Lake at Novi; May 28 Farmington and Field; May 30 Lake Orion here.

EASTER SUNDAY

Favorable weather for Easter Sunday brought capacity crowds to the Walled Lake Methodist and Baptist morning church services. Each service was featured by special music and the baptism of six members. The Rev. David E. had as his sermon subject "Sight or Insight," while Rev. Victor Wik spoke on the subject "Our Victories in Christ."

Automobile traffic on all main highways through the village was unusually heavy throughout the day. Many residents entertained guests for Easter dinners, while others spent the day with friends at distant out-of-town points.

She led a round table discussion of the subject at the conclusion of her talk.

Mrs. C. A. Hoffman, who recently returned from a week's stay at New Orleans, gave an interesting report on her trip, with highlights on the Mardi Gras. Tea was served.

Do you "fly all to pieces" when the children are noisy, or when the vegetables burn, or when the jelly won't "jell"? Some mothers are just naturally cranky. Some mothers are cross and impatient because they are nervous.

If you are a natural crank, DR. MILES NERVINE won't do much for you. If you are irritable because your nerves are overtaxed, DR. MILES NERVINE will do a lot for you. Do you suffer from Sleeplessness, Restlessness, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Headache, or Nervous Indigestion? Do you worry over trifles, start at sudden noises? Overtaxed nerves will cause all these troubles, and DR. MILES NERVINE will help you to relax those overtaxed nerves.

Why don't you give it a trial on your guarantee of satisfaction of your money back? Your druggist can tell you about DR. MILES NERVINE. He has been selling it ever since he started clerking in a drug store. Dr. Miles NERVINE comes in two forms—Liquid and Effervescent Tablets. Both equally effective in quieting overtaxed nerves. Both sell for 25¢ and $1.00, depending on the size of the package.

SENIORS DECIDE ON ANNUAL PLAY

Double Cast Chosen for Characters; Plan Skits for Vaudeville

The senior class has decided upon "Bashful Bobby," a comedy in three acts, for the annual play.

Two casts have been selected. The characters are: Robert Downing, Harry Richardson; Jim Bradley, Lawrence Way, Carl Arnold; Harry Collins, Julius Zayti, Bob Bray; Jerry Roebuck, Fred Castellan; Mickey Zayti, Helen Norwood, Jane, Grosvenor, Dorothy Niles; Joan Landon, June Dennis, Helene Johnson; Anne Hawkins, Betty Hystead, Lillian Fritz, Mrs. Matilda Matthews, June Ault, Betty VanHove; Miss Odess Henworthy, Theda Fritz, Mary Jane Gregory; Madam DuPont, Grace Bowers; Judson, Ira Davis; James Monroe; Louise, Mary Chesbro, Evelyn Raymond.

Between the acts of the play there will be two short vaudeville skits, "It Might Happen," a flirtation skit, and "Hired and Fired," a Negro farce.

Miss Florence Harper and Mrs. Ida B. Cooke will work with the casts two nights a week on their lines. E. L. Johnson will direct the play. The date for the play hasn't been decided upon as yet.

Have you noticed Keene's happy smiles these days? Lois is home, you know.

Did you miss Nan, Monday? That tea she held Sunday must've been too much for her. We know age does creep up on one, Nan, but we didn't think you'd admit it.

Honestly, N. H. J. is just blossoming with genius. Here's the latest: Girl—boy Car—joy Home—late Swell—date

Our sympathy this week is with those poor, worried, over-worked juniors. They're literally tearing their hair—and all over such a trifle as the J-hop. There's one pessimist in that ubiquitous class, too. Notwithstanding the decorations are lousy, the class is in the hole about $500. Well, please don't believe her if she comes muttering around your way. It's just something she ate. Because, and your correspondent is on the inside—you'll never forgive yourself if you're not hopping with the mob tonight.

Do you know what the latest fad is? It's that brain-puzzling game of trying to discover who the genius is that writes this column. If you won't tell anyone, we'll let you in on a secret—our first name is Anonymous.

Flash! Tonight we'll know! What? Why, who Cy's taking to the hop, of course.

This column is taking contributions for flowers for Scott Cole. Poor boy! He's so over-worked. He's been chosen for the senior play, y'know, and he says he'll take part if he dies on the attempt.

Where was Mickey Zayti Sunday night? Wherever he was, it must have been too much for him. We hear he fell asleep in debate class Monday.

Grade Notes

Miss Ann Richards' kindergarten pupils have been making "Easter projects." The colorful projects consist of Easter eggs and baskets. They have been, also, drawing spring pictures in the past week. Jean Frey, a member of the class, celebrated her birthday with a lovely wonder cake. Little Jean selected six young pupils to make wishes and blow out her candles. They have learned a new dance called the scarf dance.

Mrs. W. E. McCarthy's ambitious pupils have been making very attractive Easter greeting cards. When these were finished, they were sent to their parents. Sally Ann Newton celebrated her birthday in school. She brought a cake to school Wednesday. Her birthday, unfortunately, comes during summer vacation so she chose to have her cake in school with the other children at this time.

Miss Selma Jarvis' pupils have been very mannerable by sending Mr. Kozyke a letter, thanking him for the visit he gave permission for Mr. Kozyke allowed them to go through his Twin Pines Dairy factory. This was greatly enjoyed. This class has started spelling this week for the first time. They are progressing rapidly. They are studying their number combinations too. So far, this spring, these children have seen 11 different kinds of birds.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

Well, it's finally here. The night of the J-hop, we mean, for the benefit of those who were afraid it would never come.

Don't be alarmed if you've seen the girls wandering around the halls with their fingers crossed and muttering to themselves. They're just hoping that the weather man won't do a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde and bring rain, or worse yet, snow, along tonight. They'd look pretty in flimsy, flouncy, dimity gowns with two feet of snow on the ground, wouldn't they?

We've been told there's a surprise in store for us tonight. Cy won't tell.

—but it must be funny. He bursts out in peals of laughter at the slightest provocation.

Our editor finally got around to having that nervous breakdown she's been promising us. At least, she was among the missing on deadline day. Did you see Scott's worried frown? Suppose she couldn't come to the hop tonight?

This week we've grown our own special orchid. A great, big one for the class of '38. Just wait till you see the decorations!

Well, bye now, see you tonight.

MARY ELLEN BURGESS WINS SPELLING BEE

Mary Ellen Burgess, eighth grader, won the school spelling championship for the third consecutive year. Mary Ellen won on the word "dependence." Loretta Nagel, also an eighth grader, was runner-up. Esther Rossow won in the contest between the fifth and sixth grades.

The eighth grade participants were: Mary Burgess, Loretta Nagel, Jane Behn, Betty Lou Hollis, Ruth Parminter, Ruth Mary Mullis, Frank Epton, Bebe Johnson, Mary Ann Murray and Joan Hein. From the seventh grade were Dick Simmons, Dorothy Drews, Janice Covell, Julia Politz, Yvonne Taylor, Sidney Laney, Irene, Martini, Robert McCuskie and Laura Jean Latsenberger.

The district spelling bee will be held on April 16.

Did You Notice?

L. A. V. seems to have a big way with D. N. these days. H. K. and D. H. put on some good amusements in the assembly the seventh hour.

Oh what eyes S. C. can make at B. Van.

D. J. seems to be getting along very nicely with B. F.

L. P. looks very lonesome since F. Ault left.

Teacher: "Yes, Johnny, Lapland is rather thinly populated."

Johnny: "How many laps to the mid, teacher?"—Modern Times.

SPORT FLASHES

By ALBERT BOELEN

At this time of the year, one finds it very hard to find material on which to write. I could tell you that the baseball team had its first meeting last Monday—but you all know this—so that wouldn't do. I have it, I'll give you a test on your knowledge of the spring sports. Get your pencil and paper out—the first test will be on baseball. The questions are as follows:

1. When can a man score in a baseball game after his team has made 3 outs for the inning?
2. How much did Dizzy Dean first hold out for this year?
3. What baseball player has played in 6,734 consecutive games to set a record?
4. What player did Detroit pay $75,000 for and who will start the season on the bench?
5. Where is the Tigers' training camp?
6. How old is Goose Goslin? Is he the oldest active player on the Tiger team? If not, who is?
7. Who was Detroit's leading batter last year, what was his percentage?
8. How many players can a team carry during a pennant race?
9. How many years has Babe Ruth been retired?
10. Name the teams in the American League, and their managers.

The next questions will be on my favorite sport, golf. They are:

1. Who won the National Open last year?
2. What record did he make in doing so?
3. Where will the 1937 Open be held?
4. Who is considered the longest hitter in golf?
5. Who, in the course of tournament play, has won more money for himself than any other pro?

6. Who was the leading amateur in the National Open?

7. There is a new rule which is being tried to be put into effect which governs the number of clubs a player can carry around with him, what is the number allotted?

8. What club is used more than any other when you play the course?

9. Who won the British Open this year?

10. Who won the Women's National Open this year?

Next we will ask you a few questions on the sport of track:

1. What is Jesse Owen's time for the hundred? (fastest)
2. What race did Glen Cunningham just win that again brought him national fame as the world's fastest miler?
3. Who now holds the world record in the pole-vault?
4. What girl swimmer was kicked off the Olympic team?
5. What 3 world records does Owens hold?
6. What is meant at a track meet when they say "the runner jumped the gun?"
7. What scandal was just connected with the holder of the world record in the shot put?
8. How far does a marathon runner run?
9. Who is considered man's fastest man?
10. What is the world record in the high jump? Who holds this record?

Well, you probably all will receive 100% on this test—but if you didn't, you better play a little closer attention to the sport page from now on. I might put in the correct answers next week so don't throw away this test.

SPEECH CONTEST AT BELLEVILLE

Sub-District Meet April 7 Between Six Schools in Three Speech Subjects

The sub-district speech contest will be held April 7 at Belleville. The schools participating will be Trenton, Grosse Ile, Lincoln Park, Melvindale, Belleville and Northville. Representatives for Northville are: Marion Coleman in declamation, Jean Cole in oratory and either Doris Hogan or Scott Cole in extemporaneous speaking.

The district contest will be held May 9 at Ypsilanti Central High school.

The speech contest is judged by either one of three judges. The six contestants are rated from one to six by the judges and the one receiving the lowest number of points is the winner.

There, Pat McLoughlin and none other than Mr. Turnbull will be dragged along. Jack and Buck will be there or, at least they had better or this article won't go down in history. You know Mark Anthony and Cleo, careful Buck, you know what Cleo did to Mark Anthony. We hear and know, in fact, that Kenny Wilber is going to break away from his bull fighting long enough to swing with Vivian. Can't you just see Ken neatly step aside as the gentleman cow comes capering across the arena?

Remember Lois Chapman? Well, Lois is having a flock of citizens at her place for dinner before the hop and Nan McLoughlin is more or less ending the swirl with a supper at her place afterwards.

Well, cellmates, I hear the NRA is going back into effect again so I might just as well start practicing now so I'll knock off. If everyone keeps their eyes open perhaps they will see Betty VanHove come parading in with her 90 odd men as escorts, who knows?

VOTE MONDAY TO

Retain JUSTICES LOUIS H. FEAD AND WALTER H. NORTH in the STATE SUPREME COURT. Justice NORTH has had 31-years' experience on the bench—Justice Fead, 24 years. Both have outstanding records on Circuit and Supreme Courts in their combined 55 years of service.

Because the State has no provision, like that of Detroit, for non-partisan election of judges, names of all candidates must appear Monday on the State Ballot on party tickets. Justices Fead and North are named in the Republican column.

In Wayne County, many Democrats and Republicans have united in a Non-partisan Campaign to re-elect Justices Fead and North on their records. Your support is urged in Monday's election.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO THE TAXPAYERS OF NOVI TOWNSHIP, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN

To the Taxpayers of Novi Township:
The following resolutions will be presented at the Annual Township Business Meeting at two o'clock, E. S. T., Monday, April 5, 1937.

This is your money and your business. The Township Board asks you to be present at this meeting and to determine by your vote whether or not either or both of these resolutions shall be put into effect.

FRANK D. CLARK, Supervisor
EARL BANKS, Township Clerk

WHEREAS, During the recent depression considerable money in the custody of the Novi Township Treasurer belonging to the several school districts was impounded in closed banks and, WHEREAS, Because of the money being deposited in several banks and their closing at various times and paying various percentages of deposits and also, due to the fact that considerable amount of cash was kept in safety deposit boxes and was saved intact, it becomes very difficult to determine the exact loss that should be charged to each district.

ALSO, Inasmuch as the Township of Novi now has in the Contingent or General Fund sufficient money to absorb this loss without dangerously depleting the balance or necessitating the spread of any special tax for same, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the resident tax payers of Novi Township hereby instruct the Township Board to credit the several school districts with the full amount of school monies that were in the Township Treasurer's custody, and that any and all loss to said fund that was caused by the closing or failure of banks be charged to the Contingent Fund.

TOWNSHIP ROADS
WHEREAS, Oakland County has taken over all the roads and streets in Novi Township, and, WHEREAS, There is now a balance in the Highway Fund of said Township, which will be added to from time to time as delinquent taxes become paid, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the Novi Township Board is hereby authorized to transfer to the Contingent Fund of said Township, any or all monies in Highway Fund at any time and in such manner as they may see fit.

*These latest figures on the cost of operating an electric range show an average of about ONE-HALF A CENT a meal a person. Actual meter tests were made in homes using electric ranges. The cost figure is obtained under everyday, working conditions in ordinary kitchens... the ranges are used by women cooking meals daily for families of three, four and five people, or larger. In the survey, 5 well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were included. ## STUDEBAKER DICTATOR

America's greatest
6-cylinder car!

FEW CENTS
A DAY MORE
PRICED CAR!

THE big, beautifully styled 1937 Studebaker Dictator six is taking them all on . . . every last one of the nine other 6-cylinder cars . . . even going above its price class . . . and showing them all up.

Down close to the lowest in price, its Fram oil cleaner and gas-saving automatic overdrive enable it to equal and often beat lowest priced cars in operating economy.

It's the world's first six to offer the automatic hill holder plus feather-touch hydraulic brakes . . . the world's only six with doors that close lightly, tightly and silently. But see it . . . drive it today. Studebaker's G. L. T. Budget Plan offers low time payments.
