MAYOR BREAKS TIE TO GRANT DANCE PERMIT

Norton Attends Council to Ask for License Renewal; Hicks Maintains Stand

The vote of Dr. H. H. Burkart, village mayor, was the deciding factor at Monday evening's council meeting where the dance permit for Norton's Inn, 438 Plymouth avenue, was granted.

The absence of Commissioner W. T. Gregory, placed the affirmative votes of Floyd Shafter and J. W. Perkins at a draw against the negative expressions from George Hicks and Elmer Perrin.

Last year Commissioner Hicks was supported by Commissioner Perkins in opposing the license to allow dancing in a place where beer and wines are sold.

"I haven't changed my attitude of a year ago. Complaints have been made to me lately of the noise and disturbance in that neighborhood," Mr. Hicks asserted.

"I've heard complaints, too. I object to the dancing there after midnight. If the council has any right to regulate the hours, then I'd favor the license," stated Commissioner Perrin.

According to Dr. Burkart, the council has no authority to regulate hours for dancing.

Mr. Shafter upheld that it would be impossible to suit all the people in a matter which involved selling beer.

"Dr. Burkart's vote to allow John Norton a dance permit, was in accordance with Mr. Norton's request that the council grant him the license if they so pleased. I have to pay $100 for the permit; the town benefits 85 per cent," said Mr. Norton as he asked the councilmen for approval.

COUNCIL CONCEDES AUTHORITY TO GIVE SELLING PERMITS

Speaking in behalf of the young villagers who like to make pin money by selling paper drinking cups at the Springs, Cyril N. Fryd asked members of the council Monday evening "to give the boys a break. If they don't keep their promise to see that the well is free of all papers and rubbish, then ask them to stop."

Commissioners, upon being informed by Elmer Perrin that the Pere Marquette railroad would close the Springs if cup and popcorn vendors were given permission to sell there, agreed that as long as the site in question, was the property of the railroad, they had no authority to grant selling permits.

NORTHVILLE BEGINS BASEBALL SEASON WITH WINNING SCORE

By ALBERT BOELENS

Northville started out what looks like a very successful baseball season by defeating their first opponent, Farmington 11 to 4. The Farmington boys proved to be very weak in most all departments, and by all means were no match for the strong N. H. S. team.

Northville showed much power at bat when they got 11 runs off the same number of hits. It is true the Farmington team didn't have any pitchers of any ability. Maybe this accounts for the team's batting average of .406 compared to Farmington's .285. Hochkins, Hansor and Wolfe all batted 1.000 for the day. Hochkins, Westfall and Hansor all hit triples.

The winning pitcher was Hochkins who allowed 6 hits and 4 runs in the 5-2-3 innings he pitched. He pitched good ball until the sixth.

Quick Alarm Aids Police; Net Closing In On Suspects; Discredit Kidnap Link

Northville's report of the bank robbery, flashed over the teletype a few minutes after the $7,500 holdup here Tuesday noon, was the quickest alarm ever received by the State police, according to word given by Sergeant O. B. Jackson in commendation of Chief of Police Loyie M. German's fast action.

"It usually takes some 30 minutes for the persons to get their wits about them to even let us know of the crime. In this case, the entire teletype circuit was notified of the robbery by 12:35 p. m.," he commented.

According to Chief German, the net is closing in on the men suspected of the crime. Identification of pictures Wednesday afternoon in Detroit by Merle Fraser aided greatly in giving the officers a confirmation of their opinions as to the men involved. Fraser drew pictures of the men who left the bank following the holdup.

All leads are being carefully investigated, but according to Chief German, little stock is being placed in the rumored connection between the robbery and the kidnaping of 19-year-old Irving Emery of Roseville. Irving was forced into an automobile by four men as he was returning from church at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday. After asking the way to Utica, two men jumped out of the car and threw him into the back seat.

After driving along Utica road almost to Van Dyke road, the men

THURSTON DEDICATES SCHOOL BUILDING

The dedication of Northville's $99,000 grade school building which was an event of last night was sponsored by the P. T. A.

Dr. Lee Thurston, deputy State superintendent of public instruction, was the principal speaker of the evening. Sharing places with him on the program were the Rev. Fr. Joseph O. Schuler who offered the invocation; Mrs. E. W. Lester who welcomed the guests; Mrs. M. J. Koldyke who sang; Lawrence Bailey who gave an address on accomplishments; Maynard Lyndon who explained the modern features of the building; P. G. Fischer who gave an address; Dr. T. W. Smith who prayed the benediction.

A member of the finance examining board of the PWA also spoke on the PWA and its relation to education.

Eastlawn's 'Cures' Attend Original Program At Baptist Church; Patients Appear In Play

As proof that they have not forgotten the institution which gave them back their health, a large number of ex-patients and "friends" of Eastlawn sanatorium filled the Baptist church Tuesday evening. Some of these came from a distance to greet former "fellow sufferers" and to prove that they were well and able to carry on normal activities. A program of music and plays was enjoyed heartily.

Introduced by Superintendent A. B. Wickham, these visiting ex-patients rose in turn and made their bows. With fatherly pride Dr. Wickham praised their progress and referred to the months or years of courageous struggle for recovery they had once made in the sanatorium.

Speaking of the remarkable advancement made in the treatment of tuberculosis Dr. Wickham said it was "just fun trying to get folks well."

A. L. Anderson, an ex-patient and editor of the Eastlawn Stethoscope for the past seven or eight years, made a strong plea for an auditorium to be built upon the hill where patients may gather for entertainment. The need for this is great, maintained Mr. Anderson, as a means of keeping up the spirits of those who must have a long convalescence. Contrary to the idea that the period spent in the sanatorium is time wasted, the speaker said that many of the patients "produced more during their years in the sanatorium than in the same number of years outside."

From his own experience Mr. Anderson referred to the time of getting back to work as the "thrill of a lifetime."

Two plays, one written by Mr. Anderson, "Back to Work," and another by Mrs. Lena Marie Carnes, "The Inquiring Reporter," called forth applause and furnished much enjoyment for the audience. Both plays were directed by Robert A. Lang, assisted by Mrs. Carnes. The parts were taken by patients who are able to be up. Those participating were: Elwood Sicklesteel, Virgie Harris, Robert Lang, A. L. Anderson, Jean Scholtz, James Brandon, Al Brewer, Adaline Straughan, Catherine Enoch, Jean Urban, Mrs. Carnes, Lucelle Seger and Lee Prunty.

The setting of both plays was a broadcasting studio with an actual microphone installed so that the bed patients up on the hill were able to enjoy the wit and humor that reached them.

Through the courtesy of Leslie G. Lee a clarinet quartet from the school comprised of Robert Boyden, Harold Martin, Robert Ross and Louis Eaton, played three numbers.

"A further musical treat was given by Miss Margaret Barthel, of Detroit, a talented pianist fifteen years of age, who responded to hearty applause with an encore.

Among the ex-patients who came from Detroit and other outlying towns were: Mrs. Konarska, Mrs. Clish, Mrs. Condash, Mrs. Rusnowski, Mrs. Anderson, Miss Leuler, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Winters, Miss Ross, Miss Evans, Arthur Meyer, Ernest Montroy, A. L. Anderson, Paul Paulson, Otto Strauss, Don Watson, Eddie Fourrier, Harry Brown, Edgar Connor, Charles Dietrich.

A number of Northville friends of Eastlawn were also present in the audience. At the close of the program E. H. Wood took a picture of the entire gathering.

VILLAGERS TELL HOW THEY FOIL 2 STICKUP MEN

Lapham Exits While Bandits Take Cash; Lanning Stays on Jury—Misses 'Fun'

From all corners of the village came sideights on Tuesday's spectacular holdup which took place at the Depositors State bank shortly after 12 o'clock.

While E. H. Lapham joined fellow Rotarians at their weekly luncheon and Mrs. Lapham went about her household tasks, Albert Lapham at Elkhardt, Ind., heard a mid-day broadcast giving details of the robbery here. He called Mrs. Lapham to confirm the story, and was much surprised to be the first one to tell her the news.

And while Northville's Main street was filled for nearly an hour by curious spectators, Mr. Lapham, vice-president of the bank, listened attentively to an address by his pastor Dr. T. W. Smith, at the Rotary luncheon table in the Presbyterian church house. By way of word from Postman Harry German passed to R. T. Baldwin as he made his early exit from the Rotary meeting just as a sheriff's car raced out East Main street after the bandits.

Mr. Lapham was informed of the robbery by Secretary E. L. Mills. Mr. Mills was called from the table by Mr. Baldwin, asking that he tell Mr. Lapham of the holdup.

LUTHERANS PLAN ANNUAL BANQUET

Mrs. Arthur Schulte has announced the date for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet which this year will be held May 12, in the St. Paul's Lutheran church hall.

Committees for the event are making plans this week for the menu and program. Mrs. Lawrence LeFevre and Mrs. James Copeland read the program out, while Mrs. Charles Meissner has charge of the kitchen activities. Mrs. Charles Hamilton and Mrs. George Schuchard will supervise the dining room.

Serving will begin at 6:30 p. m. and tickets are on sale for 50 cents, with a special price of 25 cents for children under 12 years of age.

Leave in Stolen Car

Two armed bandits walked quietly into the Depositors State bank shortly after 12 noon Tuesday and in less than ten minutes, walked out again with a $7,500 loot under their arms, making their get away in a stolen Plymouth car which they had parked in front of the bank.

The car, stolen April 9, from Russell Lashbrook, 3703 Fourth street, Detroit, was abandoned within 30 minutes on Six Mile, between Middle Belt and Telegraph roads. According to a report from a woman living near there, the pair were seen to enter another car where a third man, believed to be an accomplice, waited.

At the time of the robbery A. Russell Clarke was at the cashier's window waiting on Miss Frances Cousins who intended to make a deposit for the Michigan Bell Telephone company. One of the bandits informed Clarke that it was a stickup and took Miss Cousins' deposit.

"This is just a little stickup. Buddy. We don't want anyone to get hurt," Clarke was told when he was asked to open the door leading to the cages. Clarke and Miss Cousins were told to lie face down on the floor.

It was not until the bandit was beside his desk that W. H. Schroeder, bank examiner knew there was a holdup. He was forced to lie on the floor while one of the bandits took his time going through the money drawers and the second bandit kept guard in the lobby.

John A. Boyce entered the outer office from his private office unaware of any trouble, to find himself

DAUGHTERS' ESSAYS WILL REVEAL IDEALS

English Classes Write Papers for Banquet—Read Best 3; Ann Campbell Is Guest

A program of unusual interest is being planned for the annual Mother and Daughter banquet which is to be held in the Methodist church house on the evening of May 6.

In addition to the attraction of having Mrs. Campbell, the Detroit News poetess, as guest speaker other features of special interest to the occasion will be presented.

Instead of the customary lauding of mother on this day, the program committee is requesting the idea this year and giving mothers a chance to "see themselves as others see them." An essay contest will be open to all daughters on the subject.

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK BY DR. T. W. SMITH

Encouraged by the success of their annual minstrel show, the members of the Northville Rotary club held a sort of jubilee meeting Tuesday and were generous in their praise to all who contributed in any way to the splendid program presented. Reports of receipts and expenses were not available to present to determine just what the financial gains were, but the students' loan fund will be considerably enriched as a result of the undertaking.

Guests of the day were Oliver Goldsmith of Plymouth and E. Van Blarcom of Ann Arbor. Fred Castleline took his place as junior Rotarian which was vacated by Keene Bolton, who expressed his appreciation of the courteous treatment afforded him by members of the club and told of his impressions gathered while attending the weekly meetings. He said he found the members to be real pals and not the staid, dignified business men they are sometimes pictured.

DETROIT POLICEMAN'S SON STEALS JOHN C. BURKMAN'S PLYMOUTH

A Plymouth coupe was restored Monday to its owners, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burkman, after having been stolen from their yard on the corner of South Center street and Fairbrook avenue, Friday evening, April 16.

Earl Montgomery phoned into Detroit and the theft was broadcast. Glenn Ford, 16-year-old son of a Detroit policeman, was picked up in the city and was found guilty.

The car was stolen from its parking place, not five feet from the Burkman house.

Where the Five-Year-Olds Do Their Daily "Larning"

Maynard Lyndon of the Lyndon and Smith architectural firm, designers of Northville's modern $20,000 grade school building, was scheduled last night to talk on outstanding features of the new structure.

The kindergarten corner, pictured above, is the target of much of the commendation, which has been received locally as well as nationally since the five-year-olds moved into their room several weeks ago.

"Here, the entire department is built upon the child's activities—the cost hangers are just his size. He can have access to his locker without standing on tip-toe and spilling all

SECOND ROTARY MINSTREL BIG STAGE SUCCESS

Benefit Performance Helps Increase Club's Student Loan Fund

1400 G. L. G.'s cast of 55 voices started the second successful minstrel show Thursday evening, April 15, under the sponsorship of the Rotary club as a student loan benefit in the high school.

Introducer Perry C. Amos, highpoint in the show was his singing of "The Chapel in the Moonlight."

Other Rotarians and talented actors scored in the following solo numbers: Maxine Giles in "That's Why Darlings Were Born" and A. Snants in "Old Santa-Town." The Benjamin and Fred Richie in "Carnegie Back to Old Virginia," Clifford Winter in "Old Black Joe," Fred Ritchie in "I Am Got Nobody," Lyle Benjamin in "Moon, Over Miami," and "Georgia," and Cecil Giles in "In the Valley of the Moon."

The end men, William E. Forney, Dr. H. S. Willis, E. M. Bogart, Lyle Benjamin, E. L. Mills and John Lyusenberger scored with their interpretations of "Bill Bailey," and "Lazy Bones."

"Marching Along Together" and "Dark Town Strutters Ball" were the musical hits of the gentlemen of the circle, including Neil Hannaford, D. P. Veaks, F. A. Northrup, Maurice G. Les, Cecil Giles Clifford Winter, Fred Foreman L. Parport, George Lockhart, D. H. Britton, M. C. Gunsell, Leiland Card, Stanley Cooper, Peter Yost, Stanley Wolman, Leland Young, R. H. Amerman, Harold Johnson.

MRS. BERT M. ADAMS DIES IN SOUTH LYON

Mrs. Bert M. Adams, 48, South Lyon, died early Sunday morning at her home on Six Mile road following a two weeks' illness of influenza.

Mrs. Adams, who had made her home for the past 19 years at South Lyon, was born Edith B. Ziegler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ziegler of Erie Pa.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon from the home by the Rev. Wimberley of the Presbyterian church. Burial was made in South Lyon.

Surviving Mrs. Adams, whose interests centered in her home and who was well liked and respected by the residents of the community, are the husband, Bert M. Adams; two daughters, Dorothy and Marjory; a son, Harold, all of the home; her mother, Mrs. Emma Ziegler of Erie; three brothers, O. E. Ziegler and W. J. Ziegler of Detroit and Albert of Erie; five sisters, Mrs. Will Ruff, Mrs. Ovis Schuartz, Mrs. G. S. Huff, Mrs. Miss Zierence Zellger, all of Erie; and Mrs. Henry Stratton of Cleveland, O.

LOT OWNERS ASSUME CARE OF CEMETERY

Appoint M. R. Seeley, Dr. Mark Gardner to Confer for Further Plans

The meeting of the lot owners of Rural Hill cemetery, which was held at the Village Hall last Friday night was well attended and the affairs of the association were discussed informally and frankly.

Mrs. F. S. Harrison was chosen chairman of the meeting and Mrs. M. H. Blount acted as secretary. F. H. Lapham a member of the board of trustees, explained in detail just the condition in which the cemetery stands at present and briefly its past history.

The association was organized 50 years ago and its charter will expire next year. During all the years of its existence no stockholder or any member of the board of directors has received any remuneration, the time those who have directed its affairs have given to the project has truly been a "labor of love" because of their interest in the community.

In recent years there has been some criticism because the cemetery has not been given as much care as formerly, but this lack of care can easily be explained by the simple

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO JOSEPH MILLER

Augustus Miller, one-time livery stable owner, D. U. R. motor man and milk carrier in Northville, died following a heart attack April 15 at his home on Pacific avenue, Detroit, where he had made his home for the past 25 years.

Funeral services were conducted from the Schrader parlors Monday afternoon with members of the Northville Lodge, F. & A. M., 186, in attendance. A Masonic ritual was held at the grave in Rural Hill cemetery with Ray Van Valkenburg, in charge. The Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith officiated at the funeral.

Surviving Mr. Miller are his widow; two sons, Norwood of Buffalo and Jack of Detroit; two brothers, William of Novi and John of Ann Arbor; a sister, Mrs. Gusie Foltz of Plymouth.

KEHRL WILDCAT TESTS REVEAL GAS QUANTITY

Assure 15,000,000 Feet in Daily Production; Sink New Wells.

Confirmation came Thursday noon that the tests at the Kehrl well, Salem township, sec. 2, NW, NW, NE, in Trenton formation gave a 1,600 pound rock pressure, assuring a daily production of some 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The production here at present is capped and will not become a supply for commercial companies until other wells in this vicinity reveal the reserve extent.

Everything is in readiness for the sinking of another well in that locality. Activities will begin on the new site within a short time.

It became apparent that the wildcat oil well would become a gasser some five weeks ago when drillers struck a gas pocket which blew the drilling tools out of the well.

VOLUNTEER NURSE IS URGENT NEED AT BABY CLINIC

If we can't find a volunteer nurse to assist with the Red Cross Baby Clinic, we'll have to stop the clinic," stated Mrs. Elmer Ward Lester Tuesday morning when she made known her urgent need.

Mrs. Elmer Ward, school health nurse, has assisted the Detroit physician who conducts the clinic here once each month but her duties at the school are taking all of her time.

"The work required of a nurse at the clinic is not difficult. She has to fill out blank, weigh the babies and get them ready for the doctor's examination," explained Mrs. Lester.

"We've come to the place where we'll just have to discontinue the clinic if a nurse doesn't volunteer," emphasized Mrs. Lester, who asks anyone willing to give such service to contact her at once at 145 Walnut street, telephone 102.

EXCHANGE OBSERVES DATE OF FOUNDING; TRIBUTE TO DEAD

The Exchange club was 14 years old Wednesday and the anniversary was fittingly remembered by a historical account of the origin of the local club from the time Robert R. Brown presented the matter of a luncheon club to a group of business men in 1921 until the present day.

Seventy hundred meetings have been held since April 18, 1923, until the present. Thirty-one members have been elected to the presidency and all have served their club in a fine way and enjoyed the experience.

Seventeen members have passed to the other room of life.

Past President E. E. Brown took the two lists and commented on the type of business citizens and the role they played in the unfolding history of Northville. Mr. Brown said, "It is very difficult to estimate the worth of the men who have died, but of one thing we may be certain, they gave their best for the upbuilding of Northville."

President F. B. Thompson called the club to stand in silent tribute to its honored dead.

Past President Ely related outstanding results of his trip to Florida and the difference he saw in the country now and some years ago when he made his first trip to the Sunny South. He passed cigars in testimony of his wedding venture.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Kurtz March 15, at Port Huron, Captain and Mrs. Kurth were residents of Northville for a number of years.

WHAT A BOOK CAN DO TO YOU

Every intelligent person knows what an immense influence can be wielded by a book. Sometimes a big book, more often a small book.

Take the case of "Gone With The Wind." This is a book which, since its introduction in 1936, has swept like wild fire not only over Atlanta, Georgia, where it was written, but all over the United States, and even Europe. We read—or rather had read to us—the book on our recent trip to Florida. Not in years has any such influence come over our thinking. While driving the car "Mrs. Editor" would read to Philip and the writer, then we would take turns in the reading. The story gripped us with an amazing vividness as we drove through the very scenes about which Margaret Mitchell has written with such graphic descriptions.

Following the actual route taken by Sherman in his famous march "from Atlanta to the sea," while reading the book we experienced those poignant realities that made the Civil war a pitiful memory to many. To the right, as we rode along, was the red clay of Georgia, to the left was the red clay through which these battered soldiers had marched—retreated and marched and retreated again, those terrible, unforgettable years of the war. In the distance rose the gaunt chimneys that marked the site of the stately mansion on a once prosperous plantation. In every direction there were the small cabins that once surrounded a "Tara," the ancestral home that played such a unique part in this story.

Always looming in the distant background rose those dark, sinister pines, whose seedlings were forever infringing upon that cleared red soil and threatening to once again become its master.

Reading "Gone With The Wind" makes you feel a little more tolerant toward those Confederate monuments before which we stand often in the small squares of the southern cities. Before we saw this book we read with resentment the inscriptions: "To Our Confederate Heroes." "What right had these enemies to the Union to be standing as heroes in these beautiful cities?" we asked ourselves.

Now, after reading of the sacrifices of these Southern boys, of how they sickened and died in those tragic hospitals; of how all the buildings on those beautiful plantations were leveled to the ground by the demon of fire; of how whole families were broken and crushed by the horrors of war; of the collapse of the whole fabric of society itself—well, after visualizing all these things through this vivid book, you think differently about those marble monuments erected in memory of the "Boys in Gray." You say to yourself, "Had we been born on southern soil we would have done just as these southern people did," and you turn away from those once-resented southern monuments with a new feeling of mellowness toward your fellowmen.

Yes, reading a book can do a lot to a person. It can make you see the other fellow's viewpoint and make you realize that there are always at least two sides to every question.

THE ROUGH PATH UPWARD

At last it has come, as it simply had to come—President Roosevelt has ordered a halt on spending and has sounded the alarm that the national government must cut expenses to the bone and start a long-delayed economy program.

The limitless spending of the New Deal simply could not go on, provided this country wanted to keep out of bankruptcy.

Let no one be deceived. The road back to a balanced national budget is going to be a rough, mountainous one. After the summit of the mountain has been reached our president will not be as popular as he was when money was being poured out to the four winds. A simple story may illustrate something of the rough path-up which the nation is starting to climb:

Up in the mountains one beautiful summer day a hard working man was paid a lot of money. He had so much that he left his mountain home, walked quickly miles and miles down an easy grade to the town in the valley. Reaching the town, he began to spend his money wildly, for the enjoyment of himself and his new-found friends. The money had come easily; the walk down the mountain grade had been easy and now the spending of it among all these friends was indeed very easy. But came night, and the easy money was all gone.

With empty pockets, forsaken by his fair-weather friends, the mountaineer looked up to his summit house and realized that there was but one thing to do—to start climbing up the rough path to home. As the sun sank low in the west he trudged up those weary miles—footsores, exhausted and repentant. "What a fool I was," he said to himself as his swollen feet struck against the rocky road. An automobile approached and the merciful driver, seeing the weary walker, stopped his car and said: "Get in and have a ride." But the mountaineer, paying the price of sincere repentance, replied: "No, thank you, I walked down that mountain side, spent my money foolishly, and now I'm going to walk back. Thank you, but I won't ride."

Taking the walker at his word, the motorist drove on. The penniless man looked up at the steep road ahead, looked down at his tired, dusty feet and said aloud to himself: "Walk, damn you, walk! You walked down, now you can walk back, for that's the kind of a man you are. Walk, damn you, walk!"

"WE DON'T WANT BREAD MONEY"

We read two things about whiskey in the past few days. In a most interesting article, "This Is Knudsen," in the Saturday Evening Post of April 17 we learn that the big executive who settled the General Motors strike, "will take a drink of beer, gin, or champagne but won't touch whiskey." Mr. Knudsen's salary and bonus last year were $325,000. He must be a pretty smart man.

Then in the daily papers we read just about the most amazing advertisement that we have seen for many months. It was such an enlightening advertisement that we quote it below. Read it and write your own editorial.

WE DON'T WANT BREAD MONEY

Liquor is a luxury—one of the good things of life, to be bought and enjoyed only after the necessities are provided. Whoever needs bread for himself or his family, should not buy whiskey.

The persons we want for our regular customers have definite incomes and definite obligations. They do not exceed the one nor neglect the other. We make sales to such persons with a clear conscience because Seagram whiskeys are well worth all they cost to those who can afford the luxury of moderate use. We don't want to sell whiskey to anyone who buys it at a sacrifice of the necessities or decencies. We are not being idealistic. The House of Seagram counsels abstinence for some and moderation for all because such counsel is good business. Abiding prosperity for our business can be built only by the repeat orders of our wise friends. We don't want bread money!

HIGH TAXES RAISE PRICES

An increase of 17 1/2 per cent in the cost of print paper is one of the reasons why the Detroit daily papers have raised the price to 18 cents a week by carrier. Tourists in Florida this winter found that the leading papers there were all five cents per copy.

There is a very definite connection between the high taxes which every line of business is meeting these days and these increasing costs. As always, it will be the consuming public that meets these terrific tax burdens. We are just beginning to "reap what we have sowed."

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

H. B. Culbertson, Detroit construction engineer for the community resort which will cost $20,000, had 10 PWA men working on the site yesterday morning.

At their meeting Monday evening the village council granted a 25 year lease to township officials permitting them to occupy a portion of the proposed Scout building.

Northville Rotarians at their noon-day meeting Tuesday elected William E. Forney, incoming president as the club's delegate to the district conference to be held at London, Ont., May 10-12.

Dresses made by the members of the home economics extension class were modeled and judged at the final meeting of the course held Monday afternoon in the high school. At the class held for extension leaders in Dearborn, Mrs. Marshall Herrick's dress was graded between 99 and 100 per cent. Mrs. William Liebetreu's was also given a high marking with 93 per cent.

20 YEARS AGO

The senior class of N. H. S., 17 in number, accompanied by Supt. Miscnar, making with their three extra chauffeurs a party of 21, enjoyed a most delightful motor trip Wednesday, going in four autos to Lansing.

Raymond DesAutels leaves home this Friday afternoon for Columbus, O., having passed the preliminary examinations for enlistment in the signal corps of the aviation division of the United States Army.

Whacking the carpet is now in order. Save some (swats) for the flies.

Dr. Tom Henry has successfully passed the final examination for army service and will be assigned at the first opportunity to duty in the surgical department of the Red Cross association.

Ernest Lyke has been appointed trustee officer for the Northville district by the school board.

There is surely no longer any reason to urge the citizens of Northville to display the national colors. The business places, residences and automobiles that are not decorated with the red, white and blue of Old Glory are made acutely conspicuous by the absence of such ornamentation.

30 YEARS AGO

Next Friday morning the fourth grade is to have a race on the multiplication tables from one to 12, the victorious one having a half holiday. Rester Poxer has already said them in three and one-half minutes.

Mrs. Cornelia Sands has just passed her eighty-seventh birthday. Supervisor Fly is the proud possessor of a new trotting sulky.

The Carrington house on Church street has been sold to Henry Van Alken.

Fred Woodman, a former Northville boy, who has been in South America for some time in the interest of the Porth Huron Engine and Thresher company has just returned.

At the eastern extremity of Dunlap street live seven old residents of Northville, namely: Mr. and Mrs. Northrop, Mr. Slaughter, Mr. Carter, Br. Bradley, Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. Hake, whose combined ages are 575 years and although they have outlived the allotted time, they are comparatively well and seem to enjoy life as well as ever.

Mrs. C. C. Yerkes entertained a number of her lady friends yesterday afternoon in honor of her first wedding anniversary.

1937 Ford V-8

If you think that "all low-price cars cost about the same" — forget it! They don't.

Ford makes a car — a 60-horsepower economy Ford V-8 — that sells from 30 to 60 dollars under the prices asked for any other car of comparable size. The lowest Ford prices in years!

Check delivered prices in your town and see for yourself.

Of course, first cost doesn't prove "low cost" — you must consider operating cost also.

The "60" has definitely established itself as the most economical car in Ford history. Ford cars have been famous for economy for 34 years, so that means something!

Owners who have driven it thousands of miles report that the Ford "60" averages between 22 and 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

There's only one answer, of course — the 1937 Ford V-8.

Ford V-8 529 at Dealership. Prices include tax, license, title and dealer prep. This price is for the 60-horsepower V-8 equipped with front and rear bumpers, spare tire, horn, windshield wiper, sun visor, glove compartment, and ash tray.

$25 A MONTH, after small down payment, from any Ford dealer anywhere in the U. S. — through Authorized Ford Finance Plans of National Credit Co.

Christian Science Churches—"Probation after Death" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 25.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 18:32): "It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect."
 Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 290): "To be wholly spiritual, man must be sinless, and he becomes thus only when he reaches perfection."

Church of Our Lady of Victory—The fourth Sunday of every month is set aside as Holy Communion day for the ladies. It is carried out under the auspices of the Sodality. The gospel side of the church is reserved for them at the 8 o'clock Mass next Sunday.

Ascension day this year is Thursday, May 6.

Do parents wait for their children to grow old enough to decide for themselves if they will obey and respect them? Should not a child be allowed to choose his own attitude toward his parents, teachers, etc.?

If that is good enough for God parents should be ashamed to expect even as much! Is the flouting of authority a result of the ban in our schools on the teaching of religion? True religion is God's new point on just such things.

One message four per week is our emergency plan under present conditions for religious instructions. The junior class comprising the first eight grades meets each Saturday morning at 9:30. The senior class of the other grades meets at 11 a. m.

A small fire did only minor damage shortly after 9 p. m. Wednesday when flames broke out in the basement of the paint shop at the Detroit House of Correction. The origin of the fire is said to be spontaneous combustion from a pile of debris and rags which had been piled in one corner of the basement.

QUICK ALARM AIDS IN ROBBERY CASE (Continued from page 1) stopped the car and Irving raced to hide in some bushes along the road. He got away from the men who followed him. When questioned by police, Irving told them that the men spoke of having come from Port Huron. Irving's story is being further checked, but it is not considered to be the lead in the Northville robbery.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM D. PARMENTER William D. Parmenter, eldest son of the late Benjab and Annah Parmenter, was born in Northville, August 24, 1868, and died at his home in Plymouth, April 17. On Jan. 7, 1890, he was united in marriage to Alice Mae Sherwood. To this union was born one son, Paul, of Grand Rapids, who together with his wife and three children, Paul, Jr., William H. and Virginia Ruth, survive. Two brothers, Wallace A. and Clarence, and one sister, Mrs. Stella Scholtz of Northville and Mrs. Bernice Arthur of Detroit, also survive. Mr. Parmenter lived in Northville and worked for the Globe Furniture company until it was destroyed by fire in the spring of 1899. In August of the same year, he entered the employ of the Detroit, Lansing and Northern, which for many years has been the Pere Marquette railroad. Ten years later he became passenger conductor which position he held until his retirement in June, 1933. In company with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parmenter, he had taken a trip through the south, returning home when taken seriously ill and passed away four days after reaching his home. The funeral was held at his home in Plymouth, Monday, April 19 with the Rev. William Richards of Belleville, officiating. Burial was made in the Knapp cemetery which is the family burial ground.

Richard finished Northville high school in 1933. A motion picture film, educational as well as inspirational in content, was shown Thursday evening, April 15, in the St. Paul's Lutheran church. The picture, filmed in its native setting, revealed the life of Luther. The entertainment was sponsored by the Lutheran-Sunday School. Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brader returned Thursday evening from an extended vacation in Florida where Mr. Brader made splendid recovery from a serious illness during the winter. "I caught cold about the first week I was there and so I didn't gain so much as I might have otherwise. The children gained about eight pounds," reports Mr. Brader. William Felt, chairman of the Wayne county agricultural conservation association, has announced a series of community meetings in the county for the purpose of discussing farmers' relations to the 1937 agricultural conservation program. The meeting for his locality will be open from 12:30 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 27, in the Plymouth high school. Two newspapers from Alaska came to The Record desk this week. In the one published at Nome, the subscription rate was an item of notice. For $2 a month the paper will be delivered by carrier to the homes of readers. The paper from Juneau carried a column of modern etiquette in which the writer went to some length to explain that there are two things to be done while waiting for a bowl of soup to cool: "You can stir the soup with a spoon and use a little patience. Do not lift a spoonful in the air and give a miniature imitation of Niagara Falls, do not blow in it, and do not pour cool water into it. If you wish your hostess ever to extend another invitation," writes the columnist.

STUDENTS PLAN ROMAN BANQUET

Latin classes are to hold their annual dinner Tuesday, April 27, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Miller, 144 North Center.

The annual Roman banquet will be held in the gymnasium at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, April 24. As is customary, it will be supervised by the second year Latin class.

Each year the Latin students, under the direction of Miss Ione Palmer, have a typical Roman banquet in which all the Latin I and II students attend. In their care, to this year Betty Jane Gillespie, of the Latin II class is general chairman of the event.

The banquet will be carried out as near as possible as the Romans would have done it. Most of the student attending will wear a costume similar to the togas worn in ancient Rome. In order to make their costumes even more authentic, the first year class is making sandals to wear.

The students at the banquet will use neither knives or forks owing to the fact that these table implements were unknown to the Romans. The entire banquet will be exactly as it was in the time of Caesar, and should offer a unique experience to the students.

NEW GRADE SCHOOL DEDICATED THURSDAY

The new grade school was dedicated on Thursday, April 22, under the direction of Dr. A. B. Wickham. Several guest speakers appeared and the building was accepted by one of the board of education members.

A good crowd of people attended, mostly parents of grade and high school students. After the program the guests went to the grade building where a tour of inspection was made, and refreshments served.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

We got to counting books on the calendar the other day, and were in exactly seven more of school. Subtract two from that (one for review, the other for exams) and the second and even more startling conclusion is that there are really five more months to go before we're out for the summer. Being somewhat of a thinker, (at least we hope so) our editorial mind tried to remember just what we hoped to do and actually had done in this past year. And we found that the two things were startlingly different.

There probably are a good many more of you in the school, whose aims and goals haven't been reached as you hoped they would be.

BASEBALL PRACTISE BEGUN BY BARR

Baseball is well under way under the direction of Elliott Barr, and practice are held daily during noon hour. Coach Barr now has over 29 students out for regular work, and from these will be selected the Northville team for the first game against Farmington on April 29.

The schedule is as follows: April 27—Melvindale at Northville; April 28—Plymouth at Northville; May 4—Northville at Trenton; May 8—Redford Union at Northville; May 11—Van Dyke at Northville; May 18—Trenton at Northville; May 20—Northville at Redford Union; May 25—Van Dyke at Northville; May 27—Northville at Melvindale.

DISTRICT BEE HELD AT PLYMOUTH SCHOOL

The District Spelling Bee was held at Plymouth on April 16, from 2:30 until 4:30.

Betty Grassnick from the Wilcox school was winner. Mary Burgess, Northville's representative, was next to the runner up and was put down on the word "description".

Miss E. A. Welliver pronounced the words and the judges were Mrs. I. B. Cooke, R. H. Amerman, and Mrs. M. E. Bird.

Senior Who's Who

CLIFFORD ALLEN SMITH

Clifford is a farming lad whose past seems to be just changing from one school to another. He even had great difficulty in remembering all of the places and the names of the different schools at which he has been a pupil. He was born in Prescott, Michigan just nineteen years ago.

His school life runs something like this: Novi, South Lyons, a country school which goes by the name of Washak, Northville, Novi again and finally Northville again appears.

His high school days have been full of activity in spite of his changes of schools. He has played baseball three years, football two, and basketball one year.

In Novi he was assistant editor of the school paper, and secretary of the sophomore class.

Clifford wants to be chemical engineer when he is graduated from high school.

SPORT FLASHES

The baseball team started off the season in style last Tuesday—I say this because you all know that this was the same day that the Tigers opened the gates at Navin Field. We hate to criticize anyone, but think we must, the Tiger management for their poor business venture of playing the same days as Northville and expecting to make money.

The same problem seems to be facing the baseball team as did the football and basketball teams—that

SENIOR PLAY TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY

Two Spot Melodramas to Be Presented Between the Acts of Play

The senior play season has begun with the two blanking boys, Bruce Dunning and Harry Richardson, who fit perfectly into the part of Robert Downing, a bashful boy of 19, who will help you forget your troubles for the evening of April 29 and 30.

Other characters are Dorothy Niles and Jane Grosvenor as Helen Norwood, Bob's sweetheart, who is annoyed by his inability to express himself and who tries to encourage Bob, but to no avail.

June Dennis, Helene Johnson, Lillian Fritz and Betty Haystack play friends of Helen. They are typical high school girls who enjoy and handling themselves with class that results from four years of high school training.

Jim Bradley and Harry Collins played by Lawrence Way, Carl Arnold Julius Zayt and Bob Bray are Bob's companions and are very interested in Bob's personality problem. They carry their interest to extremes through Harry's ability to hypnotize people, but the result is applauded by everyone.

Mrs. Matthews, Helene's aunt, is played by June Ault and Betty Van Hove. Miss Adessa, a very stern, small town school teacher, played by Theda Fritz and Mary Jane Gregory adds mirth to the play, her old fashioned ways being contrasted with the modern types of dress and expression.

Grace Bowers as Madame Dupont is a professional hypnotist. She is a great help to Harry who is unable to bring Bob out of his spell after he has hypnotized him. Madame is French and speaks with a slight accent.

The classroom "bully," Jerry Roebuck is played by Mickey Zayt and Fred Castline. Jerry delights in concentrating his abuses on Bob. He is haughty and disdainful in his expression and dresses just as he pleases.

Ira Davis and James Munroe, acting Judson, the butler, and Mary Chesbro as Louise the maid, complete the cast.

The scene of the play is laid in the living room of Mrs. Matthews' spacious summer estate. The play is divided into three acts.

Two melodramas, "Hired and Fired" and "It Might Happen" will complete the evening's entertainment.

SENIORS SPONSOR SHAKESPEAREAN PLAYS

Today the senior class will sponsor a series of Shakespearean plays which will be given by the "Shakespearean Players," the dramatic group of Wayne University. The two plays to be given are "Macbeth" and "Taming of the Shrew." The plays will be equal in length to one three-act play. The Wayne players have given these same plays in several other high schools throughout the State.

The plays will be given this afternoon and again tonight. The students who wish to attend this afternoon's performance will begin at 8 o'clock. Ten cents admission will be charged this afternoon and 25c tonight for children and 50c for adults. Lawrence Way heads the committee which is in charge of the play with Lucille Simmons and Leonard Young assisting.

FRESHMEN MAKE MONEY AT PLAY DAY

The Play Day, which the freshmen class held on Friday, proved successful, since this was the first real money making project that the ninth graders had attempted. The class received a profit of $5.95.

Although there were not a great many people at the Play Day, nearly everyone who came participated in all of the games.

A tin cup which was awarded to the winning team in the baseball game, will be a display in the trophy case in the upper hall.

Faculty advisors for the Play Day were Miss Florence Harper and Miss Gladys Ludwig, while the general chairman of the event was Robert Orr, president of the freshman class.

AMERMAN GIVES ASSEMBLY TALK

R. H. Amerman, superintendent of schools, spoke before the high school assembly on Wednesday. His speech took the place of the program which is usually held on that day.

Mr. Amerman told the students of the plans for final examinations,

Spring certainly is here by now. Did you notice the strange (?) absence of students Monday afternoon? But then, who can blame them. It was such a lovely day for skipping, (and we don't mean ropping) that they couldn't resist.

It seems our famous student council is slowly dying on its feet. What's wrong with that mysterious body lately? They can't make up their minds whether or not they're going to sponsor baseball and track, and when they finally get around to deciding, even then it isn't definite. In fact it's so indefinite that our poor Orange and Black staff can't make a story out of anything the council tells us.

Have you noticed who is being honored this week with that flower of flowers, the orchid? Not mentioning any names, but someone is contemplating murder.

Ab! Excellent! At last!

We'd like to take a poll to find out how many of our fellow inmates were sick Friday night. There must have been quite a few to judge from the disappearance of the candy, cookies and pop at the freshman play day.

Don't tell us there's a broken romance at N. H. S. I. Or wasn't that Ferd and Louise we saw skipping seventh hour Monday? Where, oh where, was Helene?

WHO WENT WHERE AND WHEN

Spring! Beautiful spring! It's really come boys and girls. Now is the time to get out the old tennis rackets and see whether they are fit for use this summer. Speaking of tennis, if anyone comes up missing in the assembly, teacher, the place to look would be the tennis courts.

Another sign of spring is the time when baseball equipment comes out of winter storage and is made ready for a long stay of use.

By the way, the N. H. S. baseball season opened official last Tuesday. Some of the students have the idea that to be socially correct they must stay as far away as possible from the baseball games, but we assure them that if they attend the games they will receive the honor of being in the society column if that's what their little hearts desire.

The Observer

Comes now another of the sophomores. This is the tall, dark and slender girl who leaps into your first hour class and announces cheerily that Mr. Thompson wants to see you. (How anyone can imagine anything cheerful about that is a puzzle to me.) She ably managed the girls' basketball team also. She is the quiet, intelligent type, so rare around here, but when you know her she has a sense of humor which is most keen. If you can't guess yet she attended the J-hop in a red gown and was escorted by the deceptively young gent in the sophomore class. See the light now, my friends?

Can You Imagine?

Clark Altman and E. K. as poets? Clark Bishop coming to school all day every day for a whole week?

Fred Van wide awake in third hour assembly?

Warren B. being on time?

Fred G. studying?

Lydia D. not dreaming about M. G.?

J. Litzberger flirting?

J. W. E. not talking in class meeting? (Or anywhere else, for that matter.)

Mrs. Linden not looking out the window in the typing room?

Doris H. being free to go out with J. L.?

Don H. not showing off?

L. P. staying away from Plymouth?

Buck and Jape not fighting?

school closing and of next year's plans.

School closes this year on Friday, June 18, and students will report that day for final report cards.

Let's start with a seven-hundred Saturday evening. Sunday the alarm clocks rang in vain because the winter kept on.

The S. J. club held their weekly meeting Thursday evening at the home of one of the members.

Myrtle Williams and her mother, Mrs. T. Glenn Phillips, traveled to Saginaw for a visit with her aunt.

That's all for this week. Somebody do something quick.

from dozens of kitchens: Electric Cooking is not expensive!

COST OF OPERATING AN ELECTRIC RANGE

family of 4 $1.85 per month

This figure is a 4-month average (October, November, December and January) of actual cooking costs in families of four persons, at the rate of 2 1/2 cents (net) per kWh. Special record meters were installed on these customers' ranges to determine actual cooking costs, and the figure shows about 14 cents a meal a person — is the result. This is the AVERAGE of the cost figures obtained; Some of the actual costs were higher, some were lower. The cost of operating your range will vary with the amount of cooking done, and with the use of retained heat and the waterless cooking method.

It offers all the famous 1937 Studebaker advantages and innovations... a steel reinforced by steel body with a paint finish 12 coats deep... the sensational economy of the Fraco clean; and gas-saving automatic overdrive... automatic hill holder plus hydraulic brakes... steering that halves the turning effort of parking... Helen Dryden interior appointments... doors that close lightly, tightly and silently on revolutionary and exclusive rattle-proof rotary latches!

See and drive this Dictator coupe and you'll realize why Studebaker challenges all 9 other makes! Studebaker's C. I. T. Budget Plan offers low time payments.

A. M. ZIMMER

Hutton Avenue Northville

* These latest figures on the cost of operating an electric range show an average of about ONE-HALF CENT a meal a person. Actual meter tests were made in homes using electric ranges. The cost figure is obtained under everyday working conditions in ordinary kitchens... the ranges are used by women cooking meals daily for families of three, four and five people, or larger. In the survey, 5 well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were included. These tests prove conclusively that electric cooking is not expensive. 10,000 of your neighbors chose electric cooking during the year 1936.
