

PERRIN WANTS SECTION FOR TRUCK LOADING

Gregory Says Unnecessary;
Enforce 2-Hour Parking
Law, He Advises

Whether or not Northville is to have a restricted area for the loading and unloading of trucks was left Monday night to the discretion of Chief of Police L. M. Gorman after members of the council listened to the proposal made by Commissioner Elmer Perrin.

Commissioner Perrin's suggestion would leave the east side of South Center street from the alley to Main street free of parked cars so that trucks could drive in and out with their merchandise for the stores in the business district. A restricted parking zone for that block from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. would give adequate space for the trucks, pointed out Mr. Perrin.

He stressed the fact the trucking situation was acute because business men continue to park their cars during the day in the shopping district, refusing to make use of the two parking lots on Main street.

Commissioner William T. Gregory is in favor of enforcing the two-hour parking ordinance in the business district, which would make a restricted trucking area unnecessary.

Chief Gorman stated Tuesday afternoon that he had not as yet had time to study the problem to find the solution which would benefit the largest number of persons.

Commissioner Gregory Resigns From Council

LACK OF COOPERATION PROMPTS ACTION; WAS COUNCILMAN FIVE YEARS

At the conclusion of the commissioners' meeting Monday evening, May 3, William T. Gregory, for five years a member of the village council, placed his resignation in the hands of the governing body.

Mr. Gregory's resignation will not be acted upon until May 17, when the council meets in regular session.

"My work here (Ford Motor company) is demanding more of my time, because of this, and a disagreement with other members of the council over which ordinances should be enforced, I find that resigning is the only way out of the problem," said Mr. Gregory.

Wednesday morning when he stated the reasons which prompted his action.

Although Mr. Gregory did not give any specific circumstances, it is understood that the resignation is an outgrowth of Chief of Police L. M. Gorman's wanting council action before carrying out a request made by Gregory Saturday evening in Norton's Inn. Unconfirmed rumor from a reliable source has it that Gregory wanted a gambling device taken from the Inn and asked the Chief to instigate the move.

Mr. Gregory feels that as long as he doesn't have the support of fellow commissioners in this matter, he is of no service to the council and his place "had better be filled by one who can work more in harmony."

During the time that Mr. Gregory has been a member of the council, he has consistently taken a stand against slot machines and gambling devices in Northville's beer gardens. He was supported by the council last September when he made a motion to place a ban on all such machines.

Likewise he was the instigator of the proposal to allow angle parking on at least one side of Main street. It was not until October that he gained the support of fellow council members in this matter.

In December, 1935, when the PWA water reservoir project was up for vote at the council table, Gregory opposed the plan and submitted a counter proposal to repair the old reservoir at a cost of $10,000. "A new reservoir would do no more than rebuilding the present one; yet it would cost more," he said at the time.

C. L. DUBUAR SITS ON LOCAL SCHOOL BOARD 32 YEARS

Charles L. Dubuar, present at the grade school dedication April 22, was the first ex-board member to be asked to stand for public recognition by Dr. A. B. Wickham, chairman of the evening's program.

In paying tribute to Mr. Dubuar, Dr. Wickham told of the 32 years of consecutive service Mr. Dubuar had given the village of Northville when through the years he sat on the board of education, representing the interests of the townspeople and keeping the welfare of Northville's youth ever in mind.

BASEBALL NINE TAKES GAME FROM TRENTON

Orange and Black Staff

The Northville high nine conquered the Trenton high nine with a 5-3 score Tuesday afternoon at Trenton.

Although there was an occasional sprinkle of rain that threatened to become a downpour, the game went the full seven innings. Westphall on the mound turned in a fine game, striking out 10 batters and allowing only two scratch hits.

The team was handicapped by a rough infield with which they were not familiar and made eight errors, which seemed at times to threaten the outcome.

All of Trenton's runs came in the second when the first batter-up hit safely. The second and third batters flew out to right and third base, respectively. The next batter hit a double scoring the lead-off man. The center fielder muffed the next long fly allowing another score.

The short muffed the next drive and in came the third run. Westphall timing of his support finished the inning with a strike out.

Northville finally took the lead again in the fifth when with two on, Hardesty lifted one to the fence, barely missing a home run, but scoring the two ahead of him, bringing the score to 4-3. Hansor came home on a wild pitch in the seventh to make the score 5-3.

Trenton is probably the hardest team to beat on Northville's schedule. Although this is the first league game, the boys have thus far won all of the three games they have played. Redford Union faced Northville at 3:30 p. m. Thursday in Cass Berton park for Northville's second league game.

ROTARIANS WELCOME L. B. LAPHAM TO CLUB

It was a varied program at the Northville Rotary club at the Presbyterian church house Tuesday afternoon. President W. E. Furney was in charge and Leslie G. Lee led the singing with Miss Doris Tewksbury at the piano.

The club welcomed into its membership Luther B. ("Judy") Lapham, enjoyed pictures of the Olympic games at Berlin, put on by Paul B. Thompson of the high school faculty, and listened to brief reports from local Rotarians who attended last week's district convention at Ypsilanti.

Those who reported on the Ypsilanti meeting were E. M. Bogart who told about the various club publications; M. C. Gansell who described the meetings put on by and for the benefit of the Junior Rotarians; Superintendent R. B. Amerman who gave details of the club service session; Neil Hammaford who related incidents of the big banquet at which 610 were served in one room and another 200 in an overflow gathering on another floor. Secretary E. L. Mills climaxed the (Continued on page 6)

FLOYD ROSS FINDS 9-YEAR-OLD DETROIT BOY IN FARMINGTON

Floyd Ross of this village found nine-year-old Donald Gamache of Detroit, Saturday night after the lad had experienced a few troublesome hours with a stranger.

A strange man had offered him 15 cents to help fix a tire, a transaction which led to Donald's being forced to take a ride with the man.

At Farmington, Donald was let out of the car, unhurt and unharmed after a two-hour ride from his home, 2855 Alloy avenue.

A boy of the neighborhood gave the first information about Donald's disappearance when he reported that a shady man took Donald to his car and taking with him.

"WHY NOT CLEAN STREETS SUNDAY?" ASKS BUSINESS MAN

Northville's Business District Needs Thorough Cleanup to Improve Appearance

One of Northville's prominent business men and property owners wrote the following comment on the business district which he says makes an unsightly appearance each Sunday when the streets are filled with discarded papers and rubbish.

Record Editor:

This is cleanup week in Northville when citizens are urged to clean their premises of all unsightly rubbish and their alleys of the winter's accumulation of ashes and old cans. It is a fine idea and all should cooperate to the fullest extent.

The merchants along the street are asking if there is any section of the village that needs cleaning more than does the business district. The litter that is permitted to remain until the county's street cleaning crew arrives is a menace to business and is very unsightly. Why cannot this litter be cleaned early Sunday mornings so that the crowds of visitors who pass through town over the week end will have a favorable impression of the appearance of our business section? The village council would be rendering a praiseworthy service if this matter could be given immediate attention.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC WARRANTS ISOLATION SAYS DR. ATCHISON

Health Officer's Report
Contains Village
Dump Warning

Members of the commission were informed Monday evening through Health Officer Dr. R. M. Atchison's monthly report, that there were 45 cases of German measles reported here during April, in addition to two cases of mumps and three of whooping cough.

The number of measles victims here this spring has bordered on the epidemic line, prompting the health officer to isolate all such cases as a general protection to school and preschool children.

Stating his reason for isolation, which is not required by the State law, but which is left to the discretion of the health officer, Dr. Atchison informed the commission:

"It was thought necessary to isolate all cases of German measles and to keep all exposed children in large families at home during the period of disease. This is not required by State law but in order to protect the health of our community it was deemed advisable to do so and very good cooperation has been given by Mrs. Starr Bray, the school nurse, by all school officials and by all families."

"Consequently, I am pleased to report that no serious complications have occurred with this epidemic, and as far as I know there have been no coincident cases of bronchial pneumonia or ear complications."

Dr. Atchison also told the council that unless more spirited public cooperation is obtained in the proper use of the village dump, Linden and Randolph streets, the project will have to be abandoned.

REPORTS ARRESTS

Chief of Police L. M. Gorman's report to the council for the month of April included the arrest of 11 persons for traffic violations, nine of whom made the guilty plea, and two were found guilty and fined. One stolen car and one bicycle were recovered.

It was thought necessary to isolate all cases of German measles and to keep all exposed children in large families at home during the period of disease. This is not required by State law but in order to protect the health of our community it was deemed advisable to do so and very good cooperation has been given by Mrs. Starr Bray, the school nurse, by all school officials and by all families."

"Consequently, I am pleased to report that no serious complications have occurred with this epidemic, and as far as I know there have been no coincident cases of bronchial pneumonia or ear complications."

Dr. Atchison also told the council that unless more spirited public cooperation is obtained in the proper use of the village dump, Linden and Randolph streets, the project will have to be abandoned.

BREAK IN DRAIN VALVE STOPS RESERVOIR TEST

Hamill Hopes Project Can Be Put in Use Here -
Sunday

A break in the drain valve casting at the PWA reservoir Saturday necessitated the draining of water from the half-filled reservoir before the leakage test could be completed.

Activity is at a standstill, waiting the arrival of a new valve which has been ordered by Contractor H. B. Culbertson from Massachusetts.

Hamill, engineer, Thursday morning that the new part should be here Friday of this week.

"When the reservoir is filled again, the water will go through an initial chlorinating process," said Mr. Hamill when he expressed his hope that the project can be filled Sunday for public use.

"It will take about 300 days to fill the reservoir," Hamill said. "If there are further leaks detected, they'll be repaired from the outside," he continued.

3 CHOIRS REHEARSE FOR MAY FESTIVAL

The second choral festival rehearsal participated in by the Northville-Plymouth Male chorus, the Clarkston Chorus club and the Walled Lake Methodist Episcopal choir was held at the Walled Lake Methodist church Monday night.

Leslie G. Lee of the Northville-Plymouth group, directed the practice. Much progress has been made in the past month by each group, and it is believed that a highly satisfactory program will be presented by the combined groups during the last week in May. Plans call for the festival to be given at the Plymouth high school, May 25, the Northville high school, May 26, the Walled Lake high school, May 27, and the Clarkston high school, May 28. The starting time for each program will be 8 p. m.

Both directors, Mr. Lee and Charles E. Burton of the Walled Lake and Clarkston groups, have been working steadily in the preparation of the program, and are greatly enthused over the results thus far attained. In commenting on the musical event, Mr. Lee stated that he was pleased with the interest displayed by the singers. "Such an attitude is always a reliable indication of the degree of success to be attained in such an undertaking. The chorus members all seem to be anticipating this unique experience with the utmost pleasure."

Mr. Hutton was equally impressed with the work of the combined choruses to date. "The spring choral festival to be given by the combined group of nearly 60 voices is an event which should prove of utmost interest throughout this section of the State. Such a program entails considerable preparation and effort on the part of each person affected, with regular rehearsals by each group, and periodic combined rehearsals, requiring the travel of many persons to reach the point of rehearsal. Each chorus member is required to memorize the compositions to be sung. Choral festivals such as this are not often held, and usually attract the attention of people over a wide area. Many well known musicians throughout the State are expected to attend the presentation during the festival week," he said.

GERALD WOODWORTH ATTENDS BALL GAME WITH D & C MANAGERS

Managers of the D. & C. Stores, Inc., held a meeting at Plymouth on Tuesday. Dinner was enjoyed at the Hotel Mayflower and a short business session was held. The afternoon was spent at Detroit where the entire party attended the New York Detroit ball game as the guests of the proprietors of the system. Gerald Woodworth was in attendance at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blackburn motored over to Plymouth to meet their son John, who is manager of the D. & C. store in Grand Rapids.

Plymouth Bank Robbers Take $6,658 Wednesday

HOLDUP METHODS LEAD
CHIEF SMITH TO LINK
CRIME WITH ONE
AT NORTHVILLE

When Jack E. Taylor, cashier of the Plymouth First National bank, entered the bank building at 8:05 a. m. Wednesday he was confronted by two armed bandits who forced him to open the vault where a loot of $6,658 was taken.

After leaving four bank employees and one customer gagged in the basement, the two men made their way away through the back door of the bank and left in a stolen car driven by an accomplice. The hold-up car was later abandoned at Middleboro and Schoolcraft roads and the light from the police continued, it is believed, in another car stolen at that point from Charles Woolfson, who lives near Plymouth, and who had left his car at Middleboro and Schoolcraft roads to do some trading in a store.

Royd Kehrl, bank president, entered the building when Mr. Taylor, at the point of a gun, was opening the vault. The time lock had been set for 8 o'clock. Mr. Kehrl was forced to sit in a back room while the men took the money, covered by insurance, from the safe.

Kehrl and Taylor were both taken to the basement where they were bound and where Kehrl's mouth was taped.

One of the bandits, wearing a half mask covered the lobby of the bank sending to the basement Miss Margaret Dunning and Mrs. Ruth Hamberger, other employees, and Paul Last, a customer. They were all forced to lie on the floor near the furnace where they were bound. Last's mouth was also taped.

Before 8:30 one of the bandits believed that there had been a slip of the kind that delayed his driver, and Kehrl for his car keys. At that Kehrl told the man that he did not know where his keys were, but after threats from the gunman, finally told the man that his keys were in his car parked outside.

It was then that a signal was given from the man on guard in the lobby and the men made their escape.

The men were well dressed and would not have been looked upon as suspicious characters on the streets.

Old Mr. Kehrl "They used good English. One was referred to as 'Al Brady' several times. He was very polite and had a southern accent. He walked with a slight limp and had a scar below his left eye," continued Mr. Kehrl. This man was about 27 years of age, weighed (Continued on page 10)

KING'S DAUGHTERS SPONSOR DINNER

To earn funds for their new project, the furnishing of a room in the new King's Daughters' and Sons' Home in Detroit, the Mizpah circle will give a dinner on the evening of May 27 at the Presbyterian church house. The price will be 50 cents a plate and the patronage of the public will be appreciated for this good work.

Plans were discussed at the meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Perry Angove and the following chairmen of committees were appointed by the leader, Miss Ruth Gillis: ticket sale, Mrs. W. E. Forney; kitchen, Mrs. E. B. Cavel; dining room, Mrs. S. A. Lovell; advertising, Mrs. Ida Hendry; soliciting, Mrs. W. F. Chapman.

A delicious menu is being planned by these women who are excellent cooks and the public as assured of a good dinner as well as a chance to help raise the $150 necessary to furnish a room as a home for some elderly person.

The next regular meeting will be held on the evening of Tuesday, May 18, at the home of Mrs. Chapman on West DuPont street.

BUDGET ALLOWS WAGE INCREASE FOR OFFICIALS

Give Nightwatch's Salary
Boost of $400; Spread
$48,000 on Tax-Roll

With the passing of the Northville 1937-38 budget Monday evening by members of the commission at a public hearing in the Village Hall, all village officials' with the exception of the attorney, received salary increases ranging from $30 to $400.

The biggest salary increase was given to Richard Loomis, nightwatch, who is to receive for the year $1,600, a total of $400 above that paid Gordon Allen last year.

Likewise, the salaries of Chief of Police L. M. Gorman and Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery were increased from $1,584 to $1,750; and from $1,650 to $1,800. Fred Hicks, hall attendant, is to receive $1,320, an increase of $120 over the amount paid the late R. F. Kliten.

Slight increases were given to the treasurer, Harold Bloom; clerk, Mrs. Mary Alexander, and health officer, Dr. R. M. Atchison.

The budget allows $200 less for the fire department's expenditures.

Following is a comparative table of the 1936-37 and 1937-38 budgets:

RITES HELD MONDAY FOR MRS. SHIPLEY

After a long illness since Nov. 15, Mrs. Charles Shipley died Friday evening at Searson's hospital at the age of 75 years. Several weeks had been spent in the University hospital previous to her return home.

Mrs. Shipley (Louise Rungardner) was born in Switzerland and came to this country with her parents when a child of seven years of age. Most of her life had been passed in this vicinity. She was married twice previous to her union on March 7, 1912, to Mr. Shipley who survives her. Her first marriage was to Gus Baker and the second to David Toll; both of whom preceded her in death.

Four children survive, Bert Baker of Detroit, David and Lewis Toll and Mrs. John Norton, all of Northville. There are seven surviving grandchildren.

Mrs. Shipley had been a faithful attendant of the Baptist church of which she had been a member for many years. She was especially devoted to her little home and loved her garden and flowers.

The funeral service was held in the Baptist church Monday afternoon with the pastor, the Rev. Kengal S. Norton, officiating. The burial was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY FOR MRS. C.T. DOELKER

Last rites will be held at 2 p. m. today from the Schrader chapel for Mrs. Charles T. Doelker, 63, who died Tuesday morning at the home of a son, Clarence in Detroit, following an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Doelker, for the past 20 years a resident of Northville, had centered her interests around her family and home, taking more than ordinary pride in the attractive garden which surrounds the home on Orchard drive.

Surviving Mrs. Doelker are her husband; two sons, Clarence and Harold of Detroit; a daughter, Mrs. A. W. Farmer of Northville; and a sister, Mrs. Clara Netting of Detroit.

The Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith of the Presbyterian church will conduct the funeral service. Burial is to be made in Rural Hill cemetery.

LET'S ALL BE GOOD DEMOCRATS

One of our good New Deal friends was frankly protesting that this column has too many political editorials. Maybe the brother is right. If so, we are sorry. So we told him there would be nothing political this week at all. However, we should like to make the plea that we all be good Democrats. This is the kind of Democrat we mean: a person who deals kindly, sympathetically and fairly with everybody, high and low, rich and poor, learned and ignorant. That kind of Democrat is the one that we should vote for every time.

Let us illustrate. Not long ago a very fine honor came to a good friend of ours. It came to him not because he is rich, for he is very far from it; it came to him not because he drives a very fine car because he drives a very ordinary one; it came to him not because he lives in the best house in town because he doesn't. We'll tell you why it came to him. This splendid distinction was his because throughout all the years he has always been friendly to all whom he chances to meet, no matter what their standing happens to be—high or low. The big honor came to him because he likes all kinds of people and "high hats" no one. No wonder his fellowmen honored him!

Yes, sir, let's all be good and democratic. We'll all get a lot more out of life and certainly the folks around us will find the going much smoother.

PUBLIC ENEMY NUMBER FOUR

We nominate for Public Enemy Number Four, our good old companion for the past two weeks, Mr. Common Cold. He is a plain low-down fellow, but is said to have the same qualities that the devil has, namely, persistence and shrewdness. When a common cold gets you down you are in for a real battle. This enemy plays no favorites but enjoys making the rich man blow his nose as much as the poor man knows no compromise and usually wins most of his bouts if you give him even a toe hold. After having lost numerous battles to him, we are sure that the only way to lick him is to give him a knock-out blow the first minute he sneezes up on you. About the only way to do this is to go to bed and stay there 24 or 48 hours. Then you have a chance to win.

GET READY FOR HIGH PRICES

Blame it where you will, prices are on the "up and up." Rents are advancing in Northville; food costs are higher; gasoline is up; seed potatoes are going to be high; and if strikes keep on about the country, there will not be a single thing that anybody buys that will not be higher.

Not only are prices higher but talk of inflation continues. If that comes we shall all need a cyclone cellar for a refuge. High prices will help some people and bring plenty of grief to people on a fixed income. Now may be a good time to look to your budget. And a good time to be glad you don't live in the big city.

REAL ESTATE BOOM ARRIVES

Months ago this column predicted a real estate boom. We advised people to buy or build while the buying and building were good.

The prediction has come true. The boom has landed in Northville's lap "kerplunk." Witness: Last week one Northville real estate dealer advertised in The Northville Record, not for houses that he wanted to sell, but for houses that he wanted to list to sell. Witness again: We heard of at least two real estate deals that were made one day this week and others were hanging fire. Not only are our own people buying these houses, but people are coming from Detroit in very definite numbers to buy property in this splendid community.

A home-owning community is the best kind of a town. Every time a citizen buys a home he becomes a better resident and his family throw back their shoulders a little bit farther. People without their own homes are facing a real problem in the months and years ahead.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE IN A TENT?

If you couldn't get a place to rent, how would you like to live in a tent?

Hundreds of people in the Detroit area actually face the possibility in the near future of having to make a tent their home. In Oakland county in the past few weeks two or three hundred families have been evicted from their homes and some have actually set up housekeeping under canvases.

One simply has to feel sorry for the people who try to rent homes in Detroit. Pathetic communications to the "Public Letter Box" tell how people with children search day after day for some place to live but are turned away by landlords who want no children as tenants. These people, according to their letters, these seekers for shelter, simply get desperate. They cry out, "What can we do? No one wants us!"

Happy are those parents and fortunate those children who have their homes and the added blessing of green grass and flowers!

MAY TIME THOUGHTS

"God save the King."

What would happen if the farmers went on a strike?

The landscaping around the Ford plant will be a thing of beauty within a few weeks.

When you buy in Northville you help Northville. Isn't it fun to help your own home town?

One prominent citizen who read our church editorial last week has a definite idea. This is what he says: "Let the Protestant churches have two morning services, one at 8:30 and another at 10:30 and see if you don't double your crowds." And this particular brother is not known as a golf addict either!

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

A wire received this week from the F.W.A. office at Washington authorized the members of the school board to proceed with plans for the proposed new grade school building. Although the wire has not been formally affirmed, it approved a government grant of $42,984 and a loan of $27,000 on a bond issue.

In order to clear the streets of congestion and lessen the danger of serious accidents, members of the village council passed a traffic regulation Monday evening, making it a violation to double park in the village. The regulation becomes effective Saturday, May 9.

Jerk and Nancy McLoughlin realized the dream of years Saturday when they saw the Kentucky derby in Louisville. Both are known for their skill in horsemanship, having taken many blue ribbons in the Northville Wayne county fair.

Dr. Wilbur H. Johnston was appointed his officer for the township of Northville at a regular monthly meeting of the board which was held Tuesday.

5 YEARS AGO

Instructing the village treasurer to sign the supplemental depositors' agreement which makes it necessary for Northville banks to obtain, under a new law, signatures representing only 45 per cent of the total bank deposits in order to reopen, the Northville village council threw its whole-hearted support in favor of the movement.

Approximately 160 men are now working in the ideal Ford factory and prospects are for the continued taking on of men who formerly worked there, reports from the company state.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gerald of Randolph street are the proud parents of a daughter born April 30.

The high school and community band with its 53 members under the direction of Edwin Heid and with the very fine assistance of Pierre Kenyon and Ben Stewart at local soloists, gave a concert last Friday night in the Presbyterian church which will not be forgotten for a long time by those who attended.

15 YEARS AGO

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery Friday morning, April 28.

Misses Inez Fathurst and Estella Wrook of Detroit, were over Sunday guests of Mrs. Ray Richardson. Miss Wrook sang a solo in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. She is a pupil of Setti, director of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sutton, who have been spending the winter in Florida, are the parents of a daughter born April 19.

Mrs. Orin Casterline was struck by a passing automobile while walking beside the road on Seven Mile road Sunday afternoon and quite seriously.

BY MRS. WILLIAM MAIRS

Mr. George D. Colden was surprised on his seventeenth birthday here Thursday, April 22. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Coleman and son, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wells, Mrs. Florence Bellar and daughter, Jessie, and her friend, also Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson of Detroit and Mrs. Dora Sharp from Alma were present. A potluck dinner with refreshments was served and Mr. Coleman received many fine gifts.

A very pleasant evening was spent by those present at the party at the I. O. O. F. hall last Friday evening April 30. Ten games were played at nine tables. Mrs. Charles Kreeger and Henry Stilwell captured first prizes and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hicks low score prizes. Mrs. William Mairs was given the door prize. After the games a very nice luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Laika, in company with Mr. and Mrs. John Dowell of Farmington, attended the ball game between the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers Tuesday at Detroit.

The Novi high school ball team defeated the Walled Lake freshman team by a score of 2 to 1, at a game at Novi Tuesday afternoon. Billy Garrett was pitcher for the home team, and pitched a hit game.

Tuesday evening was the occasion for a red letter social event when the mothers and daughters of Novi and community gathered at the school building for a cooperative banquet. The committee in charge was Mrs. J. D. Mitchell, Mrs. J. O. Munro, Mrs. Charles Trickey and Mrs. Martin Lake, ably assisted by several others. Mrs. Sayrs Harger of Farmington presided as toastmaster in a very able and gracious manner, and the following program was rendered:

Piano solo by Miss Emily Smith, South Lyon; "America The Beautiful" and exercise by fifth and sixth grades of Novi; "John's History Lesson" by Berwin Thomas; music by the Farmington Little German Lohd. personnel; F. G. Wellington, Erie Iron, Bud Norton, Schucks Danfield and Bob Pietenberg; recitation by Betty Bingham; tap dancing in fancy costume Cherry Richards Farmington; recitation by Carolyn Giffney; solo by Mrs. J. B. Smith, South Lyon; tap dance by Margaret Ann Hill; an oration on the human mind, a parody by Sayrs Harger and Norman Barrons, Farmington; piano solo by Carol Harger; reading by Mrs. Ellen Rice; reading by Mrs. Martin Lake; closing music by the band.

The committee wishes to thank all who assisted to make the affair a success with special mention of Mr. and Mrs. Mitt Scott, and the Banks dairy who supplied milk and cream.

STANDARD SERVICE

IS SAFETY SERVICE

...to guard against costly lubrication failures

More than 25,000 Standard Oil Dealers are on the job a quarter of a million working hours every day to check your motor oil... to help prevent burned out bearings, scored cylinders and other costly engine troubles caused by lack of lubrication. It's easy to say, "My oil's okay," but it takes less than sixty seconds to be sure... to let your Standard Oil Dealer show you the "oil line" on the gauge. This check-up on your oil is only one of the many motorizing aids your Standard Oil Dealer offers, to make driving not only safer, but also pleasanter and more economical for you.

$10,000 IN CASH PRIZES FOR HUGE "SERVICE SURVEY"

CHICAGO—Automobile drivers of the Middle-West are invited by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to take part in a huge survey of the services now being rendered at gasoline stations.

To take part in the survey it is necessary only to drive to a Standard Oil Dealer's station and secure an entry card.

Your Standard Oil Dealer will give you full details of the "Survey," will validate your entry card and demonstrate "Standard Service" with at least three typical examples. Upon request he will assist you in preparation of your entry.

A committee of three members composed of Prof. Lloyd D. Herpold, card now.

Northwestern University; George W. Barton, Safety Director, Chicago Motor Club; and Roger B. Stafford, Managing Editor, "Super Service Station," Chicago, will act as judges in the selection of the most valuable reports.

Motorists who submit the winning reports will receive cash awards amounting to $5,000, while Standard Oil Dealers who assist the winners will be awarded a like sum, making a grand total of $10,000 in prizes.

All reports must be mailed before midnight of June 15, to be considered for the cash awards. Don't delay in getting your entry card now.

MOTHERHOOD—BY PROXY

My dear Children, for such you have always seemed to me. So runs the letter from "Mother Phillips" who lived last door to our first little bungalow back in the days "when life was young."

There was much to learn in those years. Life had so far touched us but lightly so that when real problems came they found us surprised and unprepared. It was then that we seized a shawl and slipped next door for a little talk with "Mother Phillips" who had faced widowhood, motherhood and finally widowhood and had won out in each experience with gentle courage and serenity.

Six children had called her "Mother," three of them triplets, and now that they were grown and she was living alone in her cozy cottage she still had room in her heart to mother others who needed it.

Our picture of this motherly little woman is of her seated in her low rocker wearing a soft gray dress with a touch of daintiness about it and always wearing a smile. She was never too busy to stop for a chat and never too "pious" to be lacking in understanding.

It was to "Mother Phillips" that we showed those first little baby garments we were sewing and it was to her that we had to carry the baby to show her that first tooth. It was "Mother Phillips" who calmed our fears of croup and colic as we hovered over the bassinet.

What do young, inexperienced mothers do without an older mother to share each changing experience and to assure them that "everything will be all right?"

Some wise person said, "Once a child has beaten its way to life under the heart of a mother, she is mother to all." It must have been so with this big-hearted woman. Motherhood is not a mere physical relation. Some who have children never have a real mother-heart. No mother is worthy of the name who cannot stretch her affection beyond the circle of her own little brood.

Small wonder then that "Mother Phillips" picture has held its place on our dresser for years as a gentle reminder that seems to say, "I have lived serenely these many years and you may too."

Apple Cake
One-half lb. butter, 1 package Philadelphia cream cheese, 2 cups flour, 1 cup granulated sugar, Apples, powdered sugar.

Cream Butter with cheese. Add flour. Put on ice for 1 hour. Roll 1/4 inch thick on well-floured board. Put in well-greased pans and cover with apple slices laid in a pattern, close together. (Slices cut between 1/4 and 1/2 inch thick.) Sprinkle with granulated sugar and scatter pieces of butter over top. Bake in moderate oven 30-40 minutes.

Cut in pieces as soon as baked and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

UNITED STATES LEADS IN USE OF TELEPHONE

Figures are now available as to telephone usage in every country in the world at the beginning of 1936. A report just released by the chief statistician of the American Telephone and Telegraph company shows a total of 35,028,682 telephones in the world as of Jan. 1, 1936. This number is within one per cent of the peak reached in the beginning of 1931, and on the basis of partial data of growth since the beginning of 1935, it is estimated that there are at least two million more telephones in service throughout the world at the present time.

The United States, with only six per cent of the world's aggregate population of slightly over two billions, had one-half of the world's telephones, or 17,423,871, on Jan. 1, 1936. Europe, with over 573 million people, had 12,757,283 telephones, or 38.42 per cent of the world's total. Next to the United States, Germany had the largest number of telephones, 3,269,932, followed by Great Britain with 2,531,117 telephones, France with 1,441,273, Canada with 1,208,515 and Japan with 1,131,748.

These five countries, together with the United States, account for 77.65 per cent of all telephones in the world.

Sixty-one per cent of all the world's telephones are owned by private companies, operating chiefly in countries having the largest number of telephones in relation to population. For example, the United States, which has never known other than private operation of its communication facilities, outranks all other countries with 13.69 telephones to each 100 of its population. Next in rank comes Canada, with 10.99 telephones per 100 population and 84 per cent of its telephones operated by private companies. Third in point of telephone density is Denmark, with 10.64 telephones per 100 population and 96 per cent under private ownership. Among countries where the telephone service is operated as a government monopoly are Great Britain, Germany and France, where the telephone density is 4.44, 3.87 and 3.38, respectively, only a fraction of that prevailing in the United States.

Telephone, City and Country. Approximately one-half of the earth's population is found in the three countries of China, British India and Russia, but taken together they had only three-fourths the number of telephones serving the city of New York alone where, on Jan. 1, 1936, 1,503,712 telephone instruments were in service. There were more telephones in the largest 12 cities in the United States than in all of the British Empire, which includes one-fourth of the earth's population. The world's leading cities in point of telephone development are Washington, D. C., and San Francisco, Calif., where there were more than one telephone for every three people. With the single exception of Stockholm, Sweden, where telephones were equivalent to 33.38 per cent of the population, the larger cities in Europe had much lower telephone development than cities of comparable size and importance in this country. Many foreign metropolitan centers, as a matter of fact, have less extensive telephone facilities than exist in the smaller towns and rural areas in the United States. Greater London, for example, had 960,700 telephones, which corresponds to a little over ten telephones per 100 population. This is almost precisely the average telephone development of all communities in the United States with less than 50,000 inhabitants. Berlin, similarly, had 513,610 telephones, but this figure corresponds to only 12.16 per cent of its population. In Paris, only 14.53 per cent of the inhabitants have a telephone, although that city contains nearly 29 per cent of all the telephones in France. In the smaller fraction of the inhabitants are big communities abroad, those with less than 50,000 population, only a small vied with telephone service, e. g., 3.67 per cent in Great Britain, 3.27 per cent in Germany and 1.39 per cent in France.

Telephone Calls.
Twenty-five billion local and long distance telephone calls were completed in the United States during 1935. This figure is equivalent to nearly 800 conversations each, second during the day and night; it also is equivalent to 197 calls for every man, woman and child in this country. Elsewhere in the world, the annual calling rate average per capita is estimated at 12.5, or less than six and one-half per cent of the frequency with which the telephone is used by the American people.

LIBRARY HAS 7 NEW BOOKS FOR READERS

Seven outstanding biographies have been placed on the shelves of the Northville library and include:

Flight of an Empress by Wu Christina of Sweden by Goldsmith, Josephine, Wife of Napoleon by Rheinhardt.

And Gladly Teach by Perry, Daughter of the Samurai by Sugimoto.

Memories of a Small-Town Surgeon by Wheeler.

Jane Addams by Linn.

These are biographies which may have been missed, and which illustrate the quotation "There is no past so long as books shall live."

School life for January, 1937, has an article from which this paragraph is taken "With a well-filled shelf of books, the reader of today is enabled to know the past perhaps even better than the people who lived in it. Outstanding events, like mountains, need to be viewed from a distance in order that their true proportions may appear. Biographies, when well and carefully written, often render their subjects more approachable than they were in real life. Great men are frequently surrounded by a veil of mystery, and are remote from the majority of their contemporaries. But through books they may become intimates in many a household."

Fear of punishment never made man truly honest. Moral courage is requisite to meet the wrong and to proclaim the right.—Mary Baker Eddy.

MAIN STREET

FOOD MARKET Advice-

THE most pleasing news of the week is that green BEANS and PEAS are back to normal prices for the season. Iceberg LETTUCE, too, should soon be lower in price. Continued cool weather slows the growth of ASPARAGUS and keeps that early spring vegetable rather expensive. BROCCOLI is cheap, and CAULIFLOWER, very reasonable. Hot-house TOMATOES are again in market.

Meat Pies in Order

Forequarter cuts of BEEF, VEAL, PORK and LAMB are much more reasonable than the gala-cooking more tender hind cuts. Many families that shied at steaks welcome meat pies for which steaming meat is suitable. There are individual pies and small pies and a variety of meats including plain pastry and rich egg yolk pastry in various shapes and sizes, glazed and unglazed. Then there are mashed potato crust, Dutch potato crust, blatt crust plain or with cheese in blatt crust, ring or solid form and, of course, dumplings. Stews by other names such as goulash, chili con carne, chop suey, stroganoff, casseroles, braised meat, pot roast, a la mode birds and rolls are usually very popular.

Poultry Still Very Reasonable

Broilers, frying and roasting chickens are still very reasonable. Feels is relatively less cheap but reasonable compared to last year. TURKIES up to twelve pounds are more expensive, though the large birds are still reasonable.

EGG prices are slightly higher at retail BUTTER prices are somewhat lower but still well over last year's level.

Strawberries More Plentiful

With continued good weather, STRAWBERRIES should be more plentiful and cheaper. Prices are beginning to reflect the shortage of California ORANGES in higher prices for both Florida and California. South American GUAVAS are fairly plentiful and reasonable.

Here is a menu using foods which are generally available at moderate cost:

Meat or Chicken Pie with New Potatoes, Onions, Carrots, Peas, Broccoli Salad, Bread and Butter, Vanilla Ice Cream with Strawberries, Wafers, Coffee.

The menu tested and tasted in A&P Kitchen.

ture settings and characters. There, in 1914, Chico spends his days working in the huge, subterranean Paris sewer.

Unfortunately for Chico's belief in God, neither of his requests to Heaven has been granted. He has not been made a street-washer, so that he could breathe the clear air of the streets above, and he has not been sent an intelligent, fine wife.

Chico saves Diane from being beaten to death by the owner of the notorious "Hole in the Sock" cafe, who has reared her from childhood. When the girl comes to, she finds Diane for throwing wine in the face of a customer who annoyed her. Chico saves her by posing as her husband. The girl takes his name and address, promising to check up on their life from time to time.

Chico finds himself stuck with his story, and is forced to live it out, taking Diane with him to the little garret from which he watches the beauties of the heavens at night, to forget the dark sewer in which he toils all day. When the war comes, and Chico is called to the army, he realizes that he is in love with Diane, and pledges to return to her in spirit at eleven o'clock every day. Diane keeps the trust, even after the government publishes the news that Chico has been killed.

Few scenes in motion pictures are more moving than that in which Chico returns to Diane, bringing a surprising conclusion to what is justly known as the tenderest love story of our time.

"SEVENTH HEAVEN"
The tenderest romance of our time lives again on the screen when "Seventh Heaven," the Twentieth Century-Fox production of Austin Strong's immortal love story, opens Sunday at the Penniman-Allyn theatre, with Suzanne Simon and James Stewart in the starring roles.

Adapted from the stage play produced and directed by John Golden, "Seventh Heaven" re-creates for screen audiences that star-crossed pair of Montmartre, Diane and Chico, two lovers who lift your heart to the stars.

As the little street waif, Diane, Suzanne Simon surpasses all hopes expressed for this sensational French screen find, touching the deepest places of your heart and emerging gloriously as the screen's newest and greatest star. Opposite her is James Stewart—tall, laughing, gay, easy—Chico of the valiant spirit and the shy, yearning love.

Montmartre, most colorful and exciting of all sections of Paris, serves as the background of "Seventh Heaven," a background rich in pic-

"TIME OUT FOR ROMANCE"
There isn't much chance of comedies going high-hat or getting exaggerated opinions of themselves, according to Joan Davis, the limber-legged girl who appears with Claire Trevor and Michael Whalen in "Time Out for Romance," the Twentieth Century-Fox hit opening Wednesday at the Penniman-Allyn theatre, in which Douglas Fowley and Bernice Bartlett are also featured.

It just isn't in the cards," Miss Davis points out. "How are you going to get that big-shot feeling when you're making a living stopping tomatoes with your face, as I did in the Jane Withers picture, 'The Hoyt'?"

How could I upstage folks who will be remembering—that is, I hope they'll remember—scenes in which I had on my own initiative, or meet some equally absurd fate?"

Human Interest Briefs From Exchange Columns

Novi—Paul Hines, employee at the Michigan Seamless Tube company, was returning to his home at Novi at 12:10 Tuesday, April 27, when he experienced an automobile accident that sent him to a hospital in Northville for four stitches in his head and a possible slight concussion.

Hines had taken the Kent road to Grand River, believing that road in better condition than any other he might travel. He drove out on Grand River before he was aware that he had reached it. As he applied his brakes, the car skidded sideways across the road into the fence, breaking it down and rolling over several times to a distance of possibly 40 feet the other side of the fence.—The South Lyon Herald.

Trenton—Fire of unknown origin did a half million dollars damage to pleasure-craft in winter storage at the A. G. Liggett and Son company boat works at the foot of Sibley road early Thursday morning, April 25.

Discovered by a watchman at 5:10 a. m. in the fire demolished six yachts and cruisers and damaged several others.—The Trenton Times.

Milford—Ford engineers this week visited the site of the proposed Milford factory and have the location of the building staked out. This is good news here, and further strengthens and brightens the outlook for an early beginning in construction. It is believed by Milford men in touch with the situation that steam shovels will be on the job within a week or 10 days. The building will be on the site of the old Auto Dash factory.—The Milford Times.

Novi—Philip Kline, Novi blacksmith, granted a probationary sentence for the theft of a truck belonging to David Cairns of Farmington township, and confining Mr. Cairns' eight-month-old son, Richard, is being held in the Oakland county jail at Pontiac on a new charge, deserting the United States Army.

Kline's record in the army was revealed upon the arrival of reports from Washington, showing he had enlisted for a period of 13 years prior to his alleged deserting in 1924. The record also shows he had served time in the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and received from the State show Kline has spent some time in the Eloise State hospital.—The Farmington Enterprise.

Farmington—Madisonbrook Country club is the site selected for the Farmington High school senior prom to be held Friday evening, May 14.—The Farmington Enterprise.

Holly—For the purpose of protection of school children and for the purpose of protection of school property the Holly school board is anticipating the installation of a five foot fence around the grounds of both local schools. During the past few years, damage to playground equipment on the high school grounds after school hours, has cost the district a large sum of money.—The Holly Herald.

G. BREVOORT SUPPORTS RURAL REHABILITATION

Rural Rehabilitation clients of the Reclamation Administration in Wayne county are being urged to participate in the 1937 soil-conservation program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, according to Gordon Brevoort, rural rehabilitation supervisor.

It was pointed out that the rural rehabilitation clients in the same way as other farmers in Wayne county, can contact either the members of the county agricultural conservation committee or the agricultural extension committee or the agricultural extension agent, whose offices are located in the Calvin building, Dearborn. Applications for soil-conservation agreements are now being accepted so that co-operators may make their plans before spring seeding.

Inspiration
The uninitiated imagine that one must await inspiration in order to create. This is a mistake. I am far from saying that there is no such thing as inspiration, quite the opposite. It is found as a driving force in any kind of human activity, and is likewise peculiar to artists. But that force is only brought into action by effort, and that effort is work.—Olin Downs.

Detroit News: Rugged individualism may be fading out, but we can't be sure. A photo showing John L. Lewis, Frank Murphy and Walter Chrysler needs no cut line.

Should Be Arrested
"Hello," called a feminine voice over the telephone. "Is this the Humane Society?"

"Yes," replied the official in charge. "Well there is a book agent sitting out here in a tree teasing my dog."

An honest man's the noblest work of God.—Pope.

There Is Still Need For Coal
Warmer days are on the way, but you still have need for fuel to make the house or office comfortable.

PLYMOUTH WOMAN MAY INHERIT LARGE MARKHAM ESTATE

If a document filed in a Los Angeles court Wednesday is upheld, the $2,000,000 estate of William F. Markham, former air rifle manufacturer of Plymouth, may go to his sister, Miss Louise Markham, who lives at this time in Plymouth.

Mr. Markham, died in 1930 in Glendale, Calif. His will provided that most of his estate go eventually to four children of a friend, Harlan Palmer of Hollywood, $250 a month to go to Markham's daughter, Mrs. Maud L. O'Brien of Detroit, and a son, Leigh Markham. Mrs. Blanche Markham, the widow, was the executor.

Mrs. O'Brien's attorney, William Neblett, Wednesday filed a document in which Mrs. O'Brien and Leigh Markham agree to accept $4,000 each from the widow, and waive rights to contest the will. The document was dated 16 days after Mr. Markham's death.

Mr. Neblett points out the paper violated a forfeiture clause of the will, which states that if any legatee acquiesces in a contest or settles or compromises with any such contestants, I hereby give the whole of my estate to my next heirs at law.

A third of the estate is sought by Mrs. O'Brien.

Investment

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, at a dinner in London, related a bantering conversation which he once had with a $10-a-week actor who was in the cast of one of his plays. The young chap laughingly suggested that the two agree to divide their incomes with each other for the rest of their lives.

Naturally, Sir Arthur refused such a ridiculous offer. He admitted later that he regretted having made the refusal. The $10-a-week youngster was Charlie Chaplin.

Christian Science Churches
"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 9.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa. 2:22): "Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils for wherein is he to be accounted of?"

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 525): "Man reflects God; mankind represents the Adamic race, and is a human, not a divine creation."

Church of Our Lady of Victory
The League of Catholic Women meets at 5 p. m. Friday, May 7, at the home of Mrs. E. L. Mills. Members are requested to make their report on the clock campaign.

First Communion Sunday will be observed on May 23. All members of the class are to set aside the afternoon hours of the entire week previous, May 15 to May 22. Special instruction will be given then.

On every Saturday morning during the school year classes are held in religion at the church. The first eight grades meet at 9:30 o'clock. The others and the first communion class meet at 11 o'clock.

The house-to-house visitation by the pastor will start next Monday, May 10. The village of Northville will be visited first. The four objectives will be acquaintance, discussion of our problems, distribution of the new weekly church support envelopes and financial cooperation in our debt reducing campaign.

Salem Federated Church
"The Law of Thy Mother" is the theme at 10:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. Where will you be on Mother's Day? Where does mother want you to be?

Bible school is at 11:45 a. m. "Abraham, a Man of Prayer," Genesis 18:17-32. Memory verse, "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." James 5:16.

Sunday evening hymn-sing is at 7:30 o'clock.

We welcome mothers and daughters to attend our banquet on the evening of Friday, May 14.

Walled Lake News

BY CHARLES E. HUTTON

PLEASURE SEASON OPENS

Traffic around the lake reached a volume resembling that of mid-season Sunday, due to favorable weather. With the opening of South shore amusements and beer gardens the attendance in that vicinity probably established a record for so early in the season. The speed boats were kept busy until late at night, providing seven-minute rides, for their thrill-seeking passengers. It proved early for business at the public bathing beaches however, although it has been reported that several girls initiated their 1937 model, streamlined bathing suits hereabouts, a couple of weeks ago.

FRED LEE STARS

The junior class played "The Family Upstairs," as entitled last Friday night before a large and highly receptive audience proved to be an unusually clever play, exceedingly well done. The director, C. A. Ridley, is to be congratulated on his wisdom in selecting the cast, and for his fine direction. Each cast member could rightfully be called a star performer. Fred Lee, taking the part of "father Heiler," actually displayed a genuine, most outstanding talent for acting, and indicated definite future possibilities in the art. It will be interesting to watch his development.

MIEN SERVE BANQUET

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet is scheduled for the evening of May 13. The dinner will be served by the men of the community with Waldo Proctor in charge. C. B. Guilford, chairman of the dining room committee. The social committee is headed by Mrs. G. B. Thompson and Mrs. Charles Hutton in charge of publicity. Miss Maxine Curtis is chairman of the ticket committee, which includes Mrs. C. A. Thorsburg, Mrs. Harry Scott, Mrs.

ganizing his Church School class of boys into a club. Miss Livingston's class in religion for the fourth and fifth graders in the public school has been doing finely. The Presbyterian boys and girls have attended well.

Novi Baptist Church

Mother's Day will be observed at the Novi Baptist church, Sunday morning. Appropriate program has been arranged. A potted plant will be given to the oldest and youngest mother present.

Sunday is Mother's Day. Our service will make recognition of that fact. There will be a Mother's Day sermon and special music. The sacrament of baptism will be administered at the church hour.

Any of the older mothers of the congregation who wish conveyance Sunday morning please call the parsonage, as this has been provided. The Fellowship class has planned to decorate the church and the oldest mother will be given recognition.

The primary department has planned a special program for a part of the Church School hour.

The Epworth League will continue the study of "Congo Crosses."

Novi Methodist Church

Lauritz Melchior, tenor, will be the featured soloist in "The Seasons" on May 13, at the Ann Arbor May Festival.

The Heart of a Queen
The first act of Victoria, when she became Queen, was to write a tender and affectionate letter of condolence to Queen Adelaide. Impulsively she addressed the massive to "Her Majesty the Queen," whereupon some privileged member of the court explained to her that she should have written "Her Majesty, the Queen Dowager."

"I am quite aware of Her Majesty's altered character," Victoria exclaimed, "but I will not be the first person to remind her of it."

Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary Members Are Hostesses Tuesday Evening to Service Leaguers in Presbyterian Church House

One of the pleasantest women's gatherings in the Presbyterian church house where members of the Service League of the Methodist church were guests of the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary.

The occasion was a dinner served at tables attractively appointed with spring flowers and green candles. This was followed by a program which featured an illustrated talk on "Cathedrals" by Mrs. E. A. Chapman.

A play, with a cast of Mrs. Robert F. Coolman, Mrs. Howard L. Atwood, Mrs. E. H. Wood, Mrs. Claude E. Wood, Mrs. Levi M. Eaton, Mrs. Frank VanValkenburg and Mrs. E. H. Wood was another highlight of the evening.

Music by Mrs. C. C. Witte and Mrs. Joseph McCuskie, accompanied by Mrs. Darrell Nollar, together with words of greeting by Mrs. VanValkenburg and the response by Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, completed the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Harold Bloom was general chairman of the evening.

Meadowbrook's May Calendar Includes Floral Dance

The May calendar of events at the Meadowbrook Country club focuses attention on the formal opening dance to be held Saturday evening, May 22. This occasion will honor the past and present directors of the club and will be known as Directors' Day.

Beginning May 17, each Thursday and Sunday evening will be observed as family night, when buffet suppers and dinners will be served.

The informal dinner dance of the month will be held May 23, when the dance trio will play until 1 o'clock.

An entertainment committee for these affairs includes Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Daye W. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Theo W. Colman, Mr. and Mrs. Larry A. House, Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Mitchell.

Another feature of the club this season is a series of bridge parties.

On May 12, a guest bridge party will be an event. Breakfast will be served at 12 o'clock for the club members and their guests. A luncheon-bridge will be held May 28, for members only.

The bridge party committee is composed of Mrs. E. M. Smith, Mrs. G. W. Hatfield, Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill and Mrs. Frank H. Diamond.

Mrs. Safford Honored By Daughters On Her Birthday

Mrs. William H. Safford was honored on her birthday Wednesday, May 5, at a surprise luncheon given by her daughters, Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. A. W. Long at the latter's home on Dubuque street.

Bright nasturtiums decorated the table where covers were laid for nine. A birthday cake made by Mrs. Moore was the final course.

Present with the two hostesses and guest of honor were Mrs. Gladys Wyss, Mrs. Gertrude Shannon, Mrs. Evelyn O'Brien, Mrs. Beas McKee, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Ivan Gray of this village.

Mrs. Safford was remembered with gifts, flowers and greetings from many friends.

Dinner Party Honors Miss Spagnuolo On Birthday Anniversary

Miss Mary Ann Spagnuolo's birthday anniversary was celebrated Monday, May 3, with a dinner party. Covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Wagners, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gensell, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scholtz, Mr. and Mrs. Orlov G. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Zimmer, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Forney, Miss Margarita Kolody, Edmond Downing, Mrs. A. A. Holcomb, Mrs. Harold McElroy, Esther Permenter, Tony Zerlak, Loyce German, Miss Florence Johnson and the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tstsis Share Easter Custom

Greek Easter was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. John Tstsis who extended hospitality throughout the afternoon, and evening to a large group of friends and neighbors at their home on West Main street, Sunday, May 2.

Refreshments were served during the social occasion with barbecued lamb and Easter eggs as typical features.

Among those present were: Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Snow, Dr. H. H. Burkart, Mr. and Mrs. Orlov G. Owen, Attorney and Mrs. A. S. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Casterline, Miss M. Brock, Mrs. F. S. Harmon, Miss Ruth Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Carmel Benton, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Boyce, Chief of Police Loyce German and Mrs. German, Nightwatchman Richard Loomis and Mrs. Loomis, Earl Montgomery, Lester Ellis, Miss Clara Stillwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Heist, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. C. Burgess and Miss Constance Burgess, Steven Kaskas, Tony Rustika, John Rustika, J. Bakus, all from Northville and a number of others from Detroit and vicinity.

Easter celebrations began early Sunday morning for foreigners of the Orthodox faith. The rites ended according to the Julian calendar, after noon.

Churches holding Easter observance at this time were the Armenian, Greek, Serbian, Syrian, Rumanian, Macedonian, Bulgarian, Albanian and Russian Orthodox and some Catholic churches of the Eastern Rites.

A service which began at midnight Saturday climaxed Easter week for these faiths. Large processions marched around their churches and following the service in the church Easter eggs, flower bread and other foods were blessed by the priests for the Easter breakfast.

Later in the morning, another service was held when high mass was sung.

Idabel Wilkinson Invites Guests To Celebrate Birthday

Idabel Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Diamond, 1333 Oakwood avenue, invited in sixteen young friends to make merry on the eve of her sixteenth birthday, Saturday May 1.

Supper of the May time the table was decorated with pink and green and refreshments were served after an evening of games and singing. Guests were present from Grand Rapids and Northville.

Idabel had occasion for a special celebration because she was able to celebrate her sixteenth birthday on the day of the first time her school five years ago.

Guest from Scotland Is Luncheon Honoree of Mrs. Miller

Complimenting a friend, Miss Edith Gibson of Perth, Scotland, Mrs. E. E. Miller, 113 West street, was hostess Tuesday at a luncheon bridge.

Mrs. Miller made her table and appointments attractive with the use of bouquets of spring flowers. Covers were laid for the honoree, Mrs. J. D. LaRue, Mrs. George Winslow, Mrs. Wescott and Miss Eva Robbins, all of Ypsilanti, Mrs. B. G. Filkins and Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell of the village.

Woman's Union to Entertain Detroit Guests

Members of the Immanuel Presbyterian church, Detroit, are to be the guests at a 12:30 luncheon, May 12, in the Presbyterian church house.

Representing the Woman's Union of Northville, Mrs. B. C. Stark will be hostess on this occasion.

The Detroit guests will present a program during the afternoon.

LIBRARIES RELEASE BOOK RECORDS FOR ALL BLIND PERSONS

Blind people who have not learned to read Braille may have a talking book machine now. The U. S. government, through the help of WPA workers, has distributed 5,000 talking book machines to the various states. The allotment in Wayne county is 195.

The machines are similar to phonographs and the book records to play on them may be borrowed from the Wayne County Library. These book titles are packed in special cartons which go free through the mails. Any blind person who would like a talking book machine, may write to Mrs. Grace Lacey, Wayne County Library headquarters, Grand River and Trumbull, Detroit or ask for more information from any of the Wayne County Branch libraries.

Phone Season Opens in Park - Detroiters Play Here

The phone season has opened in the park adjoining Northville Sunday was a capital May day and tallied with a large number from the city to enjoy the great out-of-doors. Families were seen sitting in groups about picnic tables, young folks were playing ball and little children were throwing stones into the river which is golden with the unusually heavy spring rain. Men in flip-flops were wading the streams with fishing poles.

Traffic was heavier than for a long time along the parkway as the stream of cars sought the courtside.

Royal Oak House Guest Honoree Saturday at Dinner Party

Honoring her house guest, Mrs. Marjorie Gowatch of Royal Oak, Miss Betty VanHove was hostess Saturday evening at a dinner party.

She entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. VanHove, 1225 South Beck road.

Covers were laid for the honoree and hostess together with the Misses Betty Schrader and Pat McCullough, Phil Smitson of Walled Lake, Dayton Deal and Herman Toussaint.

Robert Angove joined the group after the dinner for a theatre party.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson Celebrate Anniversary May 5

Seventeen years of wedded life do not dull romance according to Francis R. Wilkinson who took his wife to Detroit on the occasion of their wedding anniversary, Wednesday, May 5, to enjoy a holiday. The highlight of the day was dining out.

On their return home Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson found a dinner prepared by their daughter, Idabel, with a beautiful wedding cake elaborately decorated.

THE VISITING REPORTER

The W. F. Clark home on Grace avenue is all crissed up in a new coat of paint.

Mrs. Gordon Anderson opened the door Friday morning to the reporter and told us that she and Mr. Anderson had given up their plans to move to a farm on West Seven Mile road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Grays are comfortably located at 720 Grace avenue where they recently moved from Wing street.

With a freshly baked pie in her hand, Mrs. William Duguid stopped long enough Friday morning to tell us that her Sunday dinner guests would be Mr. and Mrs. M. Murdoch of Detroit. There may be some other guests, too, and she promised to let us know about them later.

When we stopped at the M. J. Koldyke home, Mrs. Koldyke was waiting for Mrs. L. S. Egea to go horseback riding with her. She asked for a minute about the plotting lessons Mr. Koldyke has taken recently at the Pontiac airport. He and Dr. D. A. Brief share their enthusiasm for planes. Dr. Brief has only a few more, solo hours to go before he'll have a license when will let him take other persons in the air with him and of course the first one to have the honor will be Mrs. Brief who did her soloing a little over a year ago.

Nancy McCullough, Orange and Black editor, told Saturday that, life was worth living after all. She gloated a little over the fact that the Visiting Reporter had Donald Ware completing his bungalow on Denslap street for Mrs. Smith rather than Mr. Ware. If the Record doesn't become involved in a libel suit over the affair, young Nan is going to try that justice doesn't pre-empt the village. She's the type to champion in the matter just for the sheer joy of it.

Mrs. B. G. Stark, 119 West Cady street, spent Thursday at the bedside of a niece, Miss Vera McCully, who was taken Sunday to the St. Joseph's hospital, following an automobile accident which caused skull and arm fractures. Miss McCully, a registered nurse, was returning to Ann Arbor from Jackson at the time of the crash. Her condition is considered critical.

To date, A. B. McCullough holds the record for being the subscriber over the longest period of years whom we've had occasion to meet on visiting days. He's been taking The Record for 47 years.

Robert Stage, who is making his home with his grandmother, Mrs. G. W. Biery, was all smiles Friday afternoon. That morning the "Warning" sign had been taken from the door by the doctor and he was no longer marked with measles, a condition which had caused his withdrawal from neighborhood activities for several days.

Friday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ely, 113 East Cady street, were making plans to celebrate their fourth wedding anniversary with friends at a dinner party in Detroit.

Young Pat Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Austin, was nothing less than a sensation Wednesday noon in Gensell's Drug store, where he took up a dishing-washing post beside Miss Leona Moffitt. "I wish I had one of these things to push," he sighed as he manipulated the automatic, drinking glass, washer behind the counter.

Ideas for further modernizing the Doghouse Tea parties where Pat's mother presides each afternoon, were brought to a standstill when Attorney Edmond Yerkes came in to take the young man safely across the street.

President Forney read an invitation from the Windsor Club to the local group to attend a Coronation luncheon to be held at the Prince Edward hotel on Monday noon, May 10. The invitation was enthusiastically received and indications are that a good representation of Northville Rotarians will attend to get in touch with the coronation spirit in that Canadian city.

Honoring the birthday of Father Joseph G. Schuler, Charles A. Schultze presented him with a beautiful bouquet, with appropriate greetings from the club. Harry B. Clark brought encouraging reports of the condition of Charles E. Rogers who has been a patient in the Ford hospital, Detroit.

The high lights of the coming two weeks for the club are: Talk on "The State of Michigan" by Fred Forney on May 11 and Ladies' Night, May 18.

Guests of the day were: Samuel P. Wenger of Lowell, Louis Egea, John A. Boyce and I. W. Linton.

Richardson-Drews Marriage Vows Pledged at Belleville

The announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Myrtle Drews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Drews of Plymouth, and Northville, to T. George Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Richardson, 415 North Center street, which occurred Saturday morning, May 1, in Belleville with the Rev. William Richards of the Methodist church reading the ceremony.

Following a brief wedding trip to Northern Michigan Mr. and Mrs. Richardson returned to Northville to make their home on East street.

Miss Van Atta Entertains Friends at Dancing Party

A group of the high school younger set were guests Saturday evening when Miss Jane Van Atta entertained at a dancing party.

The guest list included: Dorothy Heaton and Ray Pyrmontier, Kathryn Marburger and Jack McCrumb, Janet Stewart and Cecil Nindler, Lucille Harper and Don Armstrong, Lucille Lapham and E. K. Stack, weather Jeanne Atchison and Dick Ambler, Geraldine Johnson and Dale Bray.

CONTRIBUTORS' CORNER

This poem is to a friend's husband at the Maybury saloon. She is well and home and hope her husband will soon be home too.

I'll sign my name as The Busy Bee.

I'll write a few lines if I can to my cheery neighbors man. He is spending his time getting well. Of all great things in the future I'll tell.

There will be a bungalow built for two.

The papers and slippers will be waiting for you.

And at the kitchen door you sniff at the good eats in store. Soon the telephone will ring. We're going out tonight your wife will happily sing.

We won't get out the car for it is springtime and it isn't far. You talk, visit and talk some more about the pretty garden next door. You gather around your seed box; You plan what you want in your favorite nook.

The plants you can actually see from the little wee seed to the big tree.

There'll be iris, lilac and roses and all sorts of old fashioned posies. There will be cucumbers, tomatoes for the pair.

Enough of everything to can. No tin cans on our kitchen table as long as I am able. To grow what we need from every kind of seed. No longer of sorrow will you think. Only of the good times around the sink.

When she washed the dishes and you wiped them too. In that little bungalow built for two.

The Busy Bee suggests a way for a club to earn a little pin money. She says, "Have everyone who has any surplus plants put them out in front and have a truck pick them up, same as clean up week, but call it planting week. Then the following Friday and Saturday have a sale of flowers and bulbs, a per cent of the profit to go to the best improved grounds to be judged in the fall. As one who has traded and improved her own home, I think it would be well worth the effort." To the ladies of Northville I would like to say: Let's make our home town the prettiest in every way. There's a bed of lilacs nearby. But I haven't the money, I sigh. So a bunch of poonies to her I'll take and will trade for the old home town's sake. In each little yard there's a surplus you see. So let's all trade with each other for a more beautiful city.

Eugene Ormandy will conduct the Philadelphia orchestra during the Ann Arbor Music Festival, May 12-15.

Too Much

A gentleman had completed his purchases, and the clerk, in filling out the sales slip, asked:

"What is the name, please?"

"Jepson," replied our hero.

"Chipson?"

"No, Jepson. Sixteen twenty-one West."

"Your first initial, please."

"Oh, K."

"O. K. Jepson."

"Excuse me, it isn't O. K. You didn't understand me; I said 'Ch.'"

"O. Jepson."

"No. Rub out the O, and let the K stand."

The clerk began to look haggard.

"Will you please give me your initials again?"

"I said K."

"Pardon, you said O. K."

"I said 'Oh'."

"Just now you said K."

"Allow me to finish, I said 'Oh' because I didn't understand what you were asking me. I didn't mean it was my initial. My name is Kirby Jensen."

"Oh."

"No. Not O, but K. Here, give me the pencil and I'll write it myself. There I guess it's O. K. now."

Young Cornet, Trumpet or Trombone Musicians May Enter Goldman Music Festival Contest in Masonic Temple

Two contests have been arranged in connection with the Goldman Music Festival in the Masonic Temple, Detroit. One for cornet or trumpet and one for trombone.

This contest is open for anyone living in the Greater Detroit area, under 16 years of age.

The preliminary contest will be held prior to May 21. The finals will be held in the Masonic Temple, 500 Temple street, at this Music Festival when Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman will be the judge. Applicants will be advised on May 10, where and when the preliminary contests will be held.

The judges will be: Murdoch J. McDonald, Ernest Lindemeyer of the police band, Frank Van Amburgh, business manager of the Detroit Symphony orchestra.

Applicants must fill out enclosed entry blank and mail to Alfred Lamb, chairman of arrangements, Goldman Festival committee, 2380 Wyandotte street, Hamtramck.

All applications must be received by Friday, May 7.

Contestants may play a piece of their own choice; three and one-half minutes being allowed for each contestant. This does not mean that the solo selected usually taking more time than is allowed, cannot be used, but only this time will be permitted for each contestant.

Express Your Personality in Color
Says Benay Venuta, Singing Star

By NANCY FRAZER

Color harmony is the most important feature of home decoration and the color sequence must be one that makes you feel alive, responds to your moods and gives you a personality background. Miracles can be effected through color's sympathetic usage and women who neglect its possibilities are depriving themselves of life's most necessary theme of gracious living.

That the stimulation to be found in decorating one's home colorfully is essential and that it can be done inexpensively is borne out by Miss Benay Venuta, the stage and radio singing star who scored such success in "Anything Goes."

In her apartment on New York's fashionable Park Avenue, she has achieved a symphonious blending of green, coral and gray which is a perfect match for her blonde beauty and effervescent personality and she has done it all inexpensively through careful selection and great attention to color harmony.

Concurring with a recently published booklet written by Mae Martin, color consultant for Diamond Tint and Dyes, titled "Modern Color Magic," Miss Venuta's experience in home decoration is a living proof of the booklet's statements that charm and grace in both costume and home decoration can be achieved by every woman if she employs color's magic. Replete with illustrations and suggestions for color in dress and specific examples of the moods which colors bring in home decoration, this booklet was written especially for women who have moderate incomes but who wish to surround themselves with beauty and graciousness. The booklet is given free to all who wish to avail themselves of this service by writing to Miss Martin at Burlington, Vermont.

Green is Miss Venuta's favorite color and she has surrounded herself with its varying shades. She wears a great deal of it too although because she is an actress and continually on display she must perforce gown herself in black to attain the allure which it brings to all smartly dressed women. Green makes her feel alive and vivacious, cheers her when she feels depressed.

James O'Neill, Detroit, was arrested and fined here Sunday night on a drunken charge. He paid a $15 fine.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Muls, 404 West Dunlap street, is being beautified by a fresh coat of paint.

The Rev. E. E. Rossow, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, plans to attend a pastoral conference of the Southern Michigan District next Tuesday and Wednesday at Walz.

Guests over the week end at the Frank D. Hart home were Miss Helen Potter and Karl Hammerbacker of Webster, S. D. Mr. Hammerbacker will make an extended stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schmale and daughter, Donna Jean, were Sunday guests in Monroe at the home of Mr. Schmale's parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmale.

The Orange and Black page was edited this week by Margaret Walker, associate editor, who took charge in the absence of Editor Nancy McCoughlin, who was ill the forepart of the week.

Dr. G. A. Ferguson of Cedar Springs called on Lucas Blais Wednesday forenoon while on his way to Detroit. Mr. Ferguson was formerly grand master of the Grand Lodge, P. & A. M., of Michigan, and marriage of the Masonic home at Alma.

The Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith will meet at 9:30 a. m. Saturdays with his catechism class in the chapel. There is no age limit for attendance at these sessions where the pastor will use the intermediate catechism and blackboard charts to illustrate the fundamentals of the evangelical faith.

W. R. C. PLANS BUSINESS AND SOCIAL MEETING

The regular meeting of the Allen M. Harmon Relief corps will be held Wednesday evening, May 12, in the Legion hall.

Members are asked to come early. After the meeting, a short time will be spent playing keno. Each member may invite friends to the game. Proceeds from the project will be used to buy kitchen utensils for the Legion hall.

Festival Attraction

Kirsten Praegstad, soprano, will appear in the opening performance, Monday, May 10, at the Ann Arbor May Festival.

MISS BENAY VENUTA

and generally responds to her moods.

Modern in theme, except for one corner where she has a Napoleonic collection, her living room is a soft blending of soft greens, from aqua into the bluish tones, and light woods in modern design. Her bedroom is of gray painted wood, modern in design with painted green decoration. The curtains are inexpensive materials dyed green which she herself fastened over the windows to produce a sweeping luxuriance. As a vivid contrast, she has coral leather ottomans before the vanity table and as slipper chairs.

All of this has been created with a great deal of thought, a deep belief in the magnificent necessity of color and with not a great deal of money. "My home is me," Miss Venuta explains, "and I must have it express me. I think that if all women would adopt that policy, the world would be a much happier and gay place in which to live."

Neal Fears 9 Old Men Were Intimidated By President; Opposes Plan to Increase Supreme Court; Explains the Wagner Act

By FRED WARNER NEAL

The Wagner Act provides in brief that no employee of a business engaged in interstate commerce shall be coerced into joining a union; that no employee shall be dismissed or demoted for union activity; that the employer must bargain collectively with a majority of the employees, resulting agreement to apply to all employees; that the employer must do nothing to work against the majority union (such as fostering a company union); and that a National Labor Relations Board be set up to hear complaints of employees and settle disputes resulting from difficulties in labor relations. Its intent, it says, is to prevent obstruction to a "free flow of commerce." The board may issue "cease and desist" orders, but it is dependent on the courts for enforcement, i. e. contempt of court.

These cases arising under it involve employees dismissed, it is charged, because of union activities. In three of the cases, employers, depending on the old interpretation of interstate commerce, did not counter the charges, but withdrew from the board's hearings. One of them, the Friedman case, involved a relatively small tailoring shop in Virginia.

Congress, by article one, section eight, paragraph three of the Constitution of the United States, is empowered to regulate commerce among the several states. "This power is complete and plenary. But the question early arose as to exactly what constitutes commerce. In a long series of cases, of which Carter & Carter Coal company and United States versus E. C. Knight, the Supreme Court evolved this definition:

That commerce is transportation and transportation alone and that, therefore, interstate commerce means only transportation across state lines. That extraction of a substance from the earth, mining, even though the product is destined to be shipped to another state, is not interstate commerce. That manufacturing even though the raw materials be shipped in from another state and the finished product will be shipped out to another state, is not interstate commerce. And that the sale of a commodity, no matter how many states it has come through, to reach the retailer or wholesaler in its finished form, is not interstate commerce.

Thus, the Supreme Court has held until the Wagner Act opinions, while the federal government may regulate even intrastate interstate commerce (interstate rail transportation), mining and agriculture and manufacturing and selling, in all their forms, are immune from federal regulation. Because, the court argued, these things take place within a particular state and do not constitute a continuous motion, as is the case for transportation.

Particularly has the Court rejected most recently in the unanimous Schechter case (outlawing the NRA) and in the five to four Hoosac Mills case (outlawing the AAA)—the theory of a "stream" or a "flow" of commerce. The AAA opinion was delivered by Justice Roberts and concurred in by Chief Justice Hughes.

Then Chief Justice Hughes, delivered the opinion in three of the five Wagner Cases, and Justice Roberts, concurring with him in these, delivered the opinions in the other two cases. These first three especially—the National Labor Relations Board versus Jones and Laughlin steel company, versus Freuhauf Trailer company and versus Friedman; Marks clothing company—held that because buying and selling and shipping in and shipping out from several states to several other states constituted a stream or flow of commerce, the interstate commerce power of the federal government entitled an agent of congress to regulate the labor relations of manufacturing concerns so engaged.

The minority opinion in these three cases, delivered by Associate Justice James Clark McReynolds, closely resembled, except for its biting sarcasm, the majority opinions of the Carter, Knight, Schechter and Hoosac Mills cases, and these majority opinions are cited therein.

Not once, on the other hand, did the chief justice refer to any of the cases commonly thought to govern, although twice he does mention the Schechter (NRA) case and emphasize that the two situations are not analogous.

In the Wagner case, Hughes points out, the unconstitutional delegation of power of the NRA opinion is not involved, and, he insists, the scope of the Schechter chicken corporation case so limited that it would not affect interstate commerce, and regulation of it would interfere with the

NOWELS EXTENDS NEW SERVICE TO VILLAGERS

A crew of men to explain to the residents of Northville how easy it is to obtain financing for remodeling, repairing, re-roofing, or building has been engaged by The Nowels Lumber and Coal company to make house-to-house "Courtesy and Explanation Cans." This crew will be here for a week in an effort to simplify the matter of home financing and will make "personal" calls on as many property owners as possible in that length of time.

Mr. Church of the lumber company said today, "If people only knew how easy it is to secure cheap money for improvements or construction, I'm sure that a great deal of this type of work would be under way right now. The terms of repayment as established under the Federal Housing Administration for new home construction are reasonable and the matter of obtaining the loans is simple. We are prepared to work closely with the crew and to render all possible assistance in estimating costs. Our service will include complete modernization of attics and basements, re-roofing with the famous Mite-Hide products, additions such as porches, new moth-proof clothes closets and general repair and improvement work as well as new buildings."

"It certainly will pay anyone to cooperate with this crew in order to see for themselves just how simple and inexpensive the whole program is," Mr. Church went on to say, "and the Nowels Lumber and Coal company is glad to be able to supply this outstanding service to the city. If for any reason your home is not included in the list of calls, please notify us and we will see that the men make one of their explanation calls on you. The information 'squadron' will cheerfully explain the low terms of new home construction as well as on improvements."

The powers of the state, granted by the 10th amendment

To back up his opinion, Mr. Hughes does have some citations, but these deal altogether with carrier cases, dealing with the old concept of interstate commerce transportation.

The unanimous decision of the Supreme Court came in Court case versus National Labor Relations Board. This was admittedly transportation, and a line justice agreed that the board had the right to exert its authority therein and continued in finding that the board had acted justly.

The reasoning case, the Associated Press versus the board, was involved, the justice splitting the same way they did on the manufacturing cases. The interstate character of the Associated Press was not disputed however by Associate Justice George Sutherland delivering the minority opinion but rather, it was contended that interference of the board would infringe the freedom of the press, granted in the first amendment. Justice Roberts, in his majority opinion, held that it would not and that Morris Watson, the dismissed editorial employee ordered back to work, could be fired next day for any other reason than his union activities.

With these Supreme Court decisions in back of it, it is easy to see of the Michigan power the National Labor Relations Board will use in the use of union activity and industrial state. Its jurisdiction extends to almost any company which, if a strike in it occurred would affect interstate commerce.

The Wagner Act is imperfect, it is charged, in the policy it sets forth. It is some content one-sided favoring labor i. e. employees over capital i. e. employers. However that may be, it is technically imperfect as a piece of legislation. Many parts of it are not clear. Just where the board may step in without being called, is far from evident. Just what may happen when a court rules out its findings, is not indicated. What it is to do when one group of employees want it and another group don't, and neither has a clear-cut majority, is not told. More litigation involving the Wagner Act, to clear up some of these questions, is almost a certainty.

WALLED LAKE WOMAN IS SUED BY FORMER DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

Charging defamation of character because of an alleged false arrest, Margaret Freeman of Detroit, began $10,000 damage suits in Circuit Court Tuesday against her former mother-in-law, Mrs. Winifred Snell, Walled Lake, and Elmer F. McQuerin, Oakland county deputy sheriff.

Miss Freeman, who filed suit under her maiden name, is the divorced wife of Mrs. Snell's son, Ted. Miss Freeman charges that McQuerin arrested her without a warrant and that her former mother-in-law made false accusations about her before Municipal Judge P. Cooney.

The plaintiff declared that she was held in the Oakland county jail for about 24 hours before being released on $50 bond. On April 1, the bills say, Miss Freeman was acquitted of an assault-and-battery charge, preferred in a warrant served by Mr. Snell after the arrest. According to Miss Freeman's attorney, she was visiting at the Walled Lake home of her former husband and his second wife when Mrs. Snell called the officer. The attorney said that Miss Freeman went with the deputy because she thought that "he was going to take her to Pontiac" where she could catch a bus for Detroit. Instead, she went to jail.—The Detroit Free Press.

Pitcher, Westphal Star of Game; Home Team Scores Eight Runs

By ALBERT BOELEN

Northville high's baseball team made it two in a row, when they defeated our old rival, Plymouth, on their field, by the tune of 8 to 1.

George Westphal seems in position for the honor of being the most brilliant player of the game. He pitched all but the first two outs of the first inning and only allowed two hits.

Hochkins was the starting pitcher and struck out the first man who faced him, but then proceeded to walk the next two batters. The next batter forced the runner at third, then with two out, Hochkins again walked a man filling the bases. So here it was that Westphal relieved Hochkins.

Plymouth was held scoreless till the sixth when the first man singled, the next batter was safe when one of the outfielders dropped his fly. This meant there were men on first and second. They were both advanced on the pitcher's balk, one runner scoring on the next play which was a liner to Hanson who fumbled the ball long enough to let the runner score.

While the Plymouth bats were fairly silent Northville proceeded to get 10 hits. Hochkins is at present the leading batter with the high percentage of .707. Westphal and Hanson are tied at .666.

Northville had its biggest inning in the seventh when they scored four runs on the same number of hits.

The team's batting average is .373 which is very good.

Now with the Plymouth game over it looks as if Northville will have easy going, for Plymouth was estimated as the strongest team in H. S. could meet.

It seems there's some objection to the male inhabitants of N. H. S. We've heard that they "beat around the bush too much." Instead of gathering up all their courage for the final plunge, stalling up to the object of their affections for the moment and asking point-blank for a date, they hedge about and put down their thoughts on paper, which paper is slipped hurriedly into the waiting hands of their heart-throb.

Doesn't Betty Schrader's fan make you jealous? It does us.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

Now that spring has been officially announced by that grand sunshine we had all week end, most of our fellow sufferers are finding it a bit difficult to stay in classes. Of course, those more brave students amongst us don't stay, and E. L. Johnson has an effective remedy for that. A 500 word theme, if you please, for every time you skip his classes.

More signs of spring are hundreds of pairs of white shoes, more or less dashing around madly pursuing knowledge or something—any way, pursuing. And believe it or not there are enough hooks and to spare for wraps in the hall. You can actually hang your coat on something more definite than mid-air. You've probably noticed that the method of attempting to hang your coat on top of 25 others, again more or less, usually ends in disaster, not only for yours, but the other 25. Now that it is all over, what's the use in discussing it. I don't see any particular sense in all this anyway, so I guess I'll ring off.

The precious bunch of petals, known as the orchid, goes this week to our ducky little editor who always manages to get an ailment on deadline day; nice going, Nan!

CHOIR TO GIVE SECOND CONCERT

The choir concert, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, will be held on May 7. The program will begin at eight o'clock sharp in the high school gymnasium.

The program will consist of four groups of songs sung by the choir. In each group there will be three numbers. In addition to this, there will be two French horn solos played by Billy Orr. They are "Romance" by Rubenstein and "Old Refrain" by Kretschmer.

Everlyn Ambler, a former member of the choir, now attending the Ypsilanti State Normal, will sing a group of solos.

The choir members will wear their new gowns at this performance. No admission will be charged. However, a collection will be taken up, and the money will be used for new music and other things for the music department.

The first group of songs include: Bless the Lord, O My Soul; Impolito-Ivanoff; Woodland Symphony; Beethoven; Celestial Light; Tchaikovsky.

The second group will consist of: Out of the Silence; Jenkins; On the Morrow; Gains; You Stole My Love; MacFreen.

The last two groups will be: Joshua Fit de The Battle of Jericho; Gaul; The Brook; Arkangel; The Echo; Lasse; Annie Laurie; Lasse; Who's that a Callin'; An Old Southern Melody; Vesper Hymn; Beethoven.

N. H. S. BAND PLAYS AT TRAINING SCHOOL

The Northville band, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, played Tuesday at the Wayne County Training school.

It was a 15-minute program played for the Wayne County band Music Festival. The festival is given for the bands of all the grade schools and the Northville high school band was especially requested to appear.

This was a big occasion for the band members, and they have been practicing for the event all season.

Things sacred should not only be untouched with the hands, but unviolated in thought—Cicero.

SPORT FLASHES

By ALBERT BOELEN

Today I will attempt to continue my predictions which I started last week. The basketball team of 1937-38 in my estimation is going places—the team will be composed of mostly experienced men—this due to the fact that only three players are graduating this year.

Barring unforeseen accidents and ineptitudes, the team should take the league championship without much trouble for as you probably already know, Trenton and Melvindale will no longer be in our league next year.

The chief weakness of next year's team will be lack of height, but the new ruling discarding the center jump has helped this along considerably. So again I say, the team is going places.

It looks very likely that N. H. S. will have another championship.

FRESHMAN DANCE PROVES A SUCCESS

Mummmmm, you should have been there! At the freshman-sunset dance, I mean. Just to listen to their six-piece orchestra, which consisted of Miss Doris Reber, Lela Haystead, LeRoy Vanatta, Dick Ambler, Dick Larsons and Benny Duguid, made one feel like swinging it.

Most of those present seemed to be enjoying themselves very much. Boy, can those junior high students swing it!

Tea Arnold was general chairman. They didn't forget one of our whims, for along with the soothing music, there were refreshments.

You know how hungry you get after school, well, doesn't pop and candy sound good?

On the refreshment committee were Doris Hubbard, Bob Parmenter, Bob Orr and Charnelle Hardesty. Selling tickets were Jean Matburger, Henry Porter and Wellington Orr.

The dance proved successful so an evening dance is planned for the future by the freshman class.

So keep your eyes open. The dance was sponsored by Miss Gladys Ludwig and Miss Florence Harper.

JUNE DATE SET FOR OPERETTA

Music Department to Give "The China Shop" for Annual Production

This year's production "The China Shop," given by the music department, will be presented June 3 and 4. This date is not definite, but it probably will be given then.

The story is about a rich Chinese merchant who leaves all his money to an orphan asylum and this dispossesses his son. While all the women of the vicinity are attempting to marry the son for the money, they think he has, he gets time to figure out a way to recover the lost fortune. The comedy element is furnished by an American reformer who finally gives up in disgust because the Chinese are too hard to reform.

The characters are as follows: Fat Sing, the merchant—Carl Stephens; Sing Fong, his son—James Hochkins; Walter Garchow; Wun Tui, a politician—Leonard Young; Mush Lush, a woman hater—James Hochkins; Walter Garchow; Chink, a secretary—Arthur Mitchell; Tannhu, a fisherman—Robert Rembowski; Jusot Karfar, a reformer—Cecil Giles; Lotus Blossom, the heroine—Jean Cole; Wanita Miller; Ping a Ling, Ding Dong, Ping Ping, the three little belles—Vivian Grosvenor, Connie Burgess, Louise Alexander, Laura Marie Lord, Pat McLoughlin, Jeanne Atchison; Hedy Tee Toy, their chaperon—Dorothy Heaton, Helen Harper.

The chorus will be made up of shoppers and garden party guests. The music department has worked very diligently on this operetta and hope to give a good performance.

The Observer

As I was trying to think of someone to observe the saying, "Napoleon was small but a great man," I flashed through my mind. Of course that made me think of the small junior who did such a good job of handling the J-hop advertising. Although he lives on a farm, he always finds time to increase his knowledge by reading the better books in literature. Junior class meetings just wouldn't be class meetings if it weren't for him, for he is always piping up with his brilliant ideas. He is small as I said once before and has brown eyes which show his sense of humor. If you haven't already guessed who he is, I might add he escorted his sister to the J-hop.

Jean Anderson had the meeting of the SDC club at her home Wednesday afternoon and after the business meeting a potluck dinner was served.

Senior Who's Who

CARL STEVENS

This blond senior first saw the light of day in Charlevoix in 1919. His birthday, May 25, will soon be here, making him just 18 and a man. Carl is another one of those people who have gone to school here their whole life, first coming to Northville at the tender age of four. Being gifted with an excellent bass voice, he takes voice lessons in Plymouth. He has been in the choir two years and sang in the opera last year. "H. M. S. Pinafore." Incidentally, he has a nice part in the coming operetta, "The China Shop."

Carl expects to continue with school when graduated, but doesn't know exactly where.

HEAR ILLUSTRATED TALK

The French classes heard a talk from Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman on buildings in France last Monday. The talk was illustrated by slides. Mrs. Chapman told of the various types of architecture that are seen in the cathedrals in France, and placed emphasis on the Gothic and Romanesque schools.

The sense of honour is of so fine and delicate a nature, that it is only to be met with in minds which are naturally noble, or in such as have been cultivated by good examples, or a refined education. —Addison.

COST OF OPERATING AN ELECTRIC RANGE

Family of 5 $2.20 per month

This figure is a 4-month's average (October, November, December and January) of actual cooking costs in families of five persons, at the rate of 2 1/2 cents (net) per kWh. Special record meters were installed on these customers' ranges to determine actual cooking costs, and the figure above—about 1/2-cent a meal a person—is the result. This is the AVERAGE of the cost figures obtained: Some of the actual costs were higher, some were lower. The cost of operating your range will vary with the amount of cooking done, and with the use of retained heat and the waterless cooking method.

Electric Cooking is not expensive!

*These latest figures on the cost of operating an electric range show an average of about ONE-HALF A CENT a meal a person. Actual meter tests were made in homes using electric ranges. The cost figure is obtained under everyday working conditions in ordinary kitchens... the ranges are used by women cooking meals daily for families of three, four and five people, or larger. In the survey, 5 well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were included. These tests prove conclusively that electric cooking is not expensive. 10,000 of your neighbors chose electric cooking during the year 1936. PLYMOUTH BANK ROBBERS TAKE $6,658 WEDNESDAY (Continued from page 1) around 175 pounds and had brown eyes. The other man was approximately the same age, five feet, nine inches tall, weighed 165 pounds and wore a mask.

The stickup men entered the bank early in the morning through a ventilator window and knocked over an electric fan as they climbed through the opening.

Details of the robbery according to V. R. Smith, chief of the Plymouth police, compare with the holding at the Depositors State Savings bank here April 30, leading him to believe that a link between the two is plausible.

Chief Loye M. German, who has contacted both State and Federal men assigned to the Northville job, reports that there have been no new developments within the past week.

Mardi Gras There is a famous garden near Mobile visited by travelers from all over the world. The least of its attractions are the stately live-oak trees festooned with the ghost-like Spanish moss.

Recently, two women from the Midwest were inspecting the garden. One gazed up at the moss hanging from the limbs of the live-oaks and asked her companion:

"What is that stuff?" The other woman looked long at the moss, then ventured a guess:

"Maybe it is the grass that Mardi Gras you read about so much here."—Montreal Herald.

EDITOR P. C. ANGOVE BOOSTS ROTARIANS

Northville's recent Rotary meeting is given the following write-up in the April issue of the Michigan's Crippled Children publication, edited by Percy C. Angove:

"Recently a regular meeting of the Northville Rotary club was given over to a crippled children program."

"John Tenney, principal of the Harvey H. Lowrey school, Dearborn, and secretary of the Wayne County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, addressed the group and showed moving pictures of crippled children's work as conducted in his school."

"The crippled children committee of the Rotary club has been concerned with the case of Donald. On this day they had the joyous experience of seeing Donald, apparently healthy and with smiling face, walk, run and verbally express his appreciation. It was a thrilling experience to the local members."

"Donald's case has been an outstanding project. After years of neglect, through the efforts of the society he was taken to the University hospital when walking on his toes. Now his heels are on the ground. Donald has had two operations and there is a possibility of at least one more."

"Edward L. Mills, secretary of the Northville Rotary club and treasurer of the Wayne county Chapter, has served as his brother to Donald. It was he who took him to Ann Arbor for the examination and has carried out the wishes of the society and hospital authorities with reference to transportation, hospitalization and necessary follow-up."

FOOD COMPANY MOVES TO PLYMOUTH PLANT

Plymouth is the new home for the Food Company, Inc., which moved its offices and staff of 15 men last week from Detroit to the plant formerly occupied by the Plymouth Cooper-age company. This company, of which Charles E. Rogers of this village is president, makes a chocolate syrup, Socola Health Food, which is sold to dairies.

Russell Rogers, a son of Mr. Rogers, is vice-president of the organization. The factory superintendent, G. Britton Moody, has bought a home at 1260 West Ann Arbor road.

FORMER SCHOOL HEAD, BLISS, VISITS VILLAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Don Carroll Bliss of Calais, Vt., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dolph from Friday noon until Monday morning.

Mr. Bliss was superintendent of the Northville schools from 1892 to 1898 and Mrs. Bliss was the preceptor during a part of Mr. Bliss' stay in Northville. They were married while here and their first child, Don Carroll, Jr., was born here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bliss have retired from school work and spend six months in Vermont and the rest of the year at their winter home in Biloxi, Miss.

After Mr. Bliss left Northville, he was in charge of the schools in Kearney, N. J.; Brockton, Mass.; Elmira, N. Y.; Montclair, N. J.; and the teachers college at Trenton, N. J., remaining long periods in the three cities of New Jersey.

Mrs. Bliss had never been
