ROTARY CLUBS TOUR LOCAL FORD PLANT

Marburger Sends Guide with Plant Inspectors; See 28 Operations

Thrilled, yet almost awed—were the members of the Plymouth and Northville, Rotary clubs Tuesday afternoon, as they inspected the marvelous new Ford plant at Northville. The triumph in this latest factory building and in the modern machinery that fills the large structure made a great impression upon the visitors.

Entering the new plant at the foot of Main street, on the middle branch of the River Rouge, the Rotarians found no trace of the old factory which was torn down this spring. Instead they saw workmen fitting the former site for landscaping to surround the new building—just a part of the Ford philosophy of having beauty make an integral part of industrial life.

Make 72,000 Valves Daily
With guides furnished by Superintendent Harry G. Marburger, and Assistant Superintendent Edwin Flaherty, the Plymouth and Northville men were shown every operation in the making of the 72,000 valves that go out of the Northville plant every work day. Down the long lines of machines—there are 125 of these various units on the big floor—went the guests in groups of ten. Amazed and almost spell-bound were the visitors as they watched the Ford workmen feed the valves into these mechanical units that worked with such startling precision and accuracy.

Including testing, the Rotarians walked past rows of these scientific marvels where 28 various operations are carried out before the final OK is put on the finished valve. Incidentally, these valves are made for not only the Ford V-8 but also for the Lincoln Zephyr. At one machine down came a long line of red hot valves, which were in turn grabbed by some human-like arm.

JUNIOR ROTARIAN DEMONSTRATES PLANE

With members of the Plymouth Rotary club as guests, the Northville Junior Rotarians enjoyed their usual Tuesday noon luncheon at the Presbyterian church house. Afterward the company inspected Northville industrial plants going to the new Ford factory, the Northville Laboratories, The D'Nette Furniture (in the old Globe Furniture plant), and the Independent Foundry company.

President William E. Forney was in charge of the brief meeting with Leslie G. Lee leading some spirited singing. President Fred Sabom of Plymouth occupied the seat of honor beside "President Bill."

Before leaving for the jaunt around Northville's industrial plants, Fred Casterline, winner of second place in the recent model airplane contest, demonstrated the plane with which he won second honors in Toledo. He started the miniature motor and its powerful roar astonished the visitors. Fred gave a brief description of the plane. His demonstration was greatly enjoyed by the whole company. The local club is proud to have Fred as one of its Junior Rotarians.

The Northville Rotarians welcomed to their midst again Charles E. Rogers who has been spending the winter in California.

NORMAN BAKER HURT IN FRIDAY CAR CRASH

Norman Baker, Jr., 17-year-old son of Norman Baker of Oakley Park, Walled Lake, suffered a leg and head injuries at 11:30 p. m. Friday, as he was driving north on East Lake drive, when his car struck several large stones which were scattered on the highway. An oncoming car nudged young Baker with its lights, so that he failed to see the stones until too late to avoid hitting them. He lost control of his car, which struck a tree, badly damaging the machine, and throwing him against the windshield. A passing motorist, who saw the accident, brought Baker to the hospital for medical attention.

Spring Festival Includes Singers From 4 Villages

On Wednesday evening a large audience in the high school gymnasium heard the first performance of three choruses—the Clarkson Choral Club, the Northville-Plymouth Male chorus and the Walled Lake Methodist, Episcopal choir—in a spring choral festival under the direction of Leslie G. Lee of the school music department.

This is the first of a series of four concerts to be given this season by the group. Mr. Lee will again present the singers June 2 in Plymouth, Charles E. Hutton, Walled Lake, directed the choruses at Walled Lake last night and will present them again tonight at Clarkson.

Composed for the most part of technically untrained singers, the program, containing a number of difficult selections, was well received by Northville's music lovers. The soloists were Charlotte Hutton and Cecil Gilles. Last night at Walled Lake, Roberta Tripp and Charles Robinson sang the solo parts. Tonight the soloists will be Charlotte Hutton and Charles Robinson, at the Plymouth concert, Roberta Tripp and Cecil Gilles will sing.

Among the 70 voices singing in the festival here Wednesday evening were:

First sopranos: Phyllis Robinson, Mildred Butters, Zora Roehm, Ada

Second sopranos: Dorothy Hutton

ELTON R. EATON HITS WELFARE SYSTEM

Forty members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce chartered a bus Wednesday afternoon and motored to Lansing to honor Representative Elton R. Eaton at a dinner in the Hotel Olds. The business men from Eaton's home town presented him with a gold watch, the occasion complimenting him on his recent election to the State Legislature.

Representative Elton R. Eaton, Plymouth mail editor and former editor of the Northville Record, has proposed a plan in the Legislature which, if adopted, will place the churches in charge of Michigan welfare.

His idea is to place the control of the State Welfare Administration in the hands of a five-man commission, to be composed of a Protestant clergyman, a Roman Catholic Priest, a Salvation Army officer of the rank of captain or above, a bank president endorsed by the directors of the Michigan Bankers association and the president of the State Board of Education.

Mr. Eaton made this proposal to give the authority to "elderly people who are honest, and qualified." His plan would eliminate from a welfare administration, professional social workers who "have diverted millions to salaries and expenses that should have gone to relief" and "whose administration has been cold-hearted that it has been nothing less than brutal."

If Mr. Eaton's proposal is accepted, the make-up of the State board would be duplicated in the county commissions, except that churchmen, bankers and educators to be eligible would not have to be of high rank in their respective organizations. Eaton's amendment also provides that there must be complete publicity of all welfare expenditures, except for the names of dependent children and able-bodied persons who accept welfare relief must sign promissory notes to repay money they receive.

Eaton in an interview from the Lansing News bureau gives the following explanation for his proposal:

"Church leadership is fundamentally honest. It has a sympathetic interest for those in distress. Most people when faced by calamity generally go to the church both for aid and advice. The church leadership of Michigan knows much about economy and will not waste or dissipate taxpayers' dollars.

"These proposals will entirely eliminate the professional welfare worker, who during the last three or four years has proved to be anything but the right type to deal with a problem that is so vital to the State and Nation.

"They have covered millions to salaries and expenses that should have gone to relief."

Mrs. Charles F. Murphy, chairman for the Poppy Day sale, announced Thursday morning that Friday's store would be the headquarters for the Saturday project. All workers are asked to report there Saturday morning.

CONNECT BRADY IN DEPOSITORS BANK HOLDUP

Believe Notorious Gang Is Responsible for Indiana and Michigan Crimes

Three witnesses of the Northville bank robbery have definitely identified the notorious gang leader, Al Brady, as one of the two men who held up the Depositors State bank here April 20.

Brady's gang has also been linked with the shooting of two officers and the robbery a Tuesday of the State bank at Goodland, Ind. Sheriff's officers and members of the police force plan to show pictures of the gangster, to witnesses of the First National bank of Plymouth holdup, May 5, in an attempt to connect the gang with taking from there a loot of $6,600.

Two friends of Brady's, James Dalvero and Clarence Lee Shaffer, Jr. are sought in connection with the Indiana robbery as well as the epidemic of Michigan bank holdups.

Police men, believing that one of the gunmen in the Goodland robbery was wounded in the battle at Goodland with Officers Mineman and Craig, have established a general watch at physicians' offices over the State. In the meantime the State laboratory is testing a rusty-colored substance found on a bush near where the gunmen opened fire on the two officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nothrop have sold their home on West Main street to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Lapham.

HUTTON LOOKS AROUND; FINDS NO TROUBLES

Friends on All Sides Have Grief That Is Grief; He Gets Breaks

By C. E. HUTTON, Walled Lake
I thought I had troubles, what was worrying about that I'm supposed to deliver which may not even have been sent; trying to stay within the monthly budget in the face of unexpected obligations; conducting weekly chorus rehearsals despite the habitual tardiness or absence of those who are supposed to be rehearsed; meeting newspaper deadlines with nothing much more than a vacant stare, and trying to keep on an otherwise even keel, regardless of countless other causes of worry, old spots of insomnia.

I thought I had troubles until I heard about a fellow villager's emotional financial loss in business over a period of three years, about another chap's back taxes and over-bank loans amounting to more than he can ever scrape together in a year, about the wife of another man who must go to a hospital for treatments which may last a year, about some friends' uninsured loss which was burned to the ground, about a two-thirds paid mortgage of a friend which was foreclosed about a 69-year-old man who put on a $1,000 "plaster" on his home to help his son out of an embarrassing situation.

I thought I had troubles until I heard about the trials of a good friend who, through no fault of his own found himself without the aid of three of his most dependable powers in less than a week, and with prospects to be kept going as usual, about a school superintendent who faces the task of providing educational facilities next year for twice as great an enrollment as the normal capacity of his institution, about a church which faces abandonment because of the rapidly growing indifference of the people of its community.

Gregory's Resignation Creates Speculation

Commissioner William T. Gregory's Resignation, Tabled by Council Which Will Be Brought Up Again Monday, June 7, Has Speculation Running High in Different Sections of the Village as to Who Will Be Appointed to Complete Gregory's Un- expired Term, in the event that his request for release is accepted.

Reaction from one side of Northville and general opinion from LeRoy men, approve the naming of Claude Ely, operator for the Detroit Edison company and past commander of the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion.

Two other groups of villagers have raised the question of the possible appointment of either E. J. Bosar or Orlov G. Owen who opposed Commissioner J. W. Perkins and Fred S. Steiner in the March 1936 election.

Mr. Bosar is a prominent business man and is active in Rotary and Masonic circles. Mr. Owen has promoted the Boy Scout movement here for several years as well as having been one of the boosters for the organization of the Northville Civic association.

Another man who is being treated by the village at large for the council vacancy to be filled by the vote of the commissioners, is Dr. D. A. Bond, past president of the Exchange club and aviation enthusiast.

When Mrs. P. R. Alexander, village clerk, submitted Mr. Gregory's resignation at the May 17 meeting, Dr. H. H. Burkart, mayor, commented on the letter, saying "It is regrettable that Mr. Gregory has seen fit to resign. I know that he would have in his resignation unless he had in mind the village will lose a good public servant. I would want it accepted if I knew he does, I considered it for a long time."

BEGIN REPAIR OF 12 LEAKS AT RESERVOIR

Hamill Inspects PWA Pro- ject; Mend Damage from Outside Structure

Upon inspection of the PWA reservoir, where defective construction was noted last week, Engineer Herald F. Hamill stated Thursday morning that the leaks, 12 of them, were of such a nature that they could be repaired from the outside.

Men have been at work on the repairs one day this week, and according to Mr. Hamill, two more days at this job will complete the task.

The water put up the reservoir for the final test several days ago is still a reserve and if the repair work, when completed withstands a test, the water will be sent through the pipes for public use.

This project, started in April, 1936, was first declared for the following September, but the completion date was later extended to December, 1936, when delayed government grants warranted the council's stopping activities. Repairs necessary to meet the requirements of the original contract which called for first class workmanship, have further delayed the work. It was found advisable to apply an ironite coat to make the structure waterproof. This process which is still defective, has added several weeks to the time needed to make the reservoir acceptable.

Mrs. Charles F. Murphy

Mrs. Charles F. Murphy has completed her organization for the annual Poppy Day sale which will be held Saturday, May 29, in Northville.

AUXILIARY TO SELL POPPIES TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be Poppy Day in Northville and in thousands of other cities and towns throughout the United States. Millions of bright red poppies will be worn by America's annual tribute to the World War dead.

Women of the Lloyd H. Green Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets early tomorrow morning with baskets of the memorial flowers, offering them in exchange for contributions to aid the war's living victims, the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead. They will continue working through out the day, giving everyone an opportunity to honor the dead and aid the living by wearing a poppy.

Preparations for the observance of Poppy Day have been completed by the Auxiliary under the leadership of Mrs. Charles F. Murphy, general chairman. Poppies will be distributed by many women and girls, all working as unpaid volunteers. Money received for the flowers will be used to help maintain the welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary among disabled veterans and families who are during the coming year.

The little red poppy worn above the heart tomorrow is the truest symbol of our remembrance for those who gave their lives in the struggle of the World War. It is the symbol of our remembrance for those who gave their lives in the struggle of the World War. It is the symbol of our remembrance for those who gave their lives in the struggle of the World War.

Dr. Johnston also released the names of his committees in charge of Memorial activities in Northville. Heading the flags and graves committee are Claude Ely and Barry Bolton. Lisle Alexander and Harold White, together with Dr. Johnston, are members of the general committee. Merrill Street is the Legion committee man in charge of the Poppy day sale which inaugurates Memorial events Saturday, May 29.

Sunday afternoon the graves of veterans will be decorated. A union service follows at 7:30 p. m. in the Presbyterian church. The three-day observance is climaxed Monday morning with the address by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Aulenbach of the Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills in the Penman-Alan theatre.

One enterprising woman of Northville has helped out in the housing problem here. Some months ago Mrs. Adele Brock, West Main street, hit upon the novel idea of building two one-room cabins in the rear of her lot. These, she planned, to be used for transients only, but when the roof of the first one was on order she came to a change of mind.

Some cabins have been better contemplated by a lot of citizens and the express of both buyers has been offered or even by the name.

As the need for a big and comfortable place to stay in the city has been growing, the need for a big and comfortable place to stay in the city has been growing, the need for a big and comfortable place to stay in the city has been growing.

The cabins will be built by Leslie G. Lee who has been working these plans for months for this performance which promises to be one of the brilliant spectacles of the city's business.

LOCAL STORES CLOSE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

With the exception of the drug store, one of the local markets, which are closed today, the stores in Northville, Michigan will be closed today in observance of Memorial Day. The Penman-Alan Theatre program, The Krier A&P and Sartin stores will close all day.

Comptroller Harry L. Colton will be here Monday morning to parade with fellow members of the Redford Medical Unit of the Michigan National Guard, according to an announcement made Wednesday afternoon by Dr. W. H. Johnston, commander of the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion.

Dr. Johnston also released the names of his committees in charge of Memorial activities in Northville. Heading the flags and graves committee are Claude Ely and Barry Bolton. ENROLL UNEMPLOYED HERE TUESDAY, JUNE 1

Mrs. P. R. Alexander village clerk, announced Wednesday morning that her office had been received from Mayor Howard Stratton, State representative director of the MRS a division of the State State employment bureau that registration would be made at 9 a. m. June 1, in the Village Hall of all unemployed Northville voters who want work.

This service which is operated under the United States Department of Labor, is open without charge to anyone over 16 years of age. Such registration makes persons eligible for consideration for jobs with priority enrollment.

4 YOUNG VILLAGERS DANCE IN RECITAL

Marilyn Gursell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gursell, Joan Litsinger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Litsinger, Beverly and Barbara, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wood, were presented Monday evening by Miss Louise Dickman in a dance recital in the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Mason Temple, Detroit.

Beverly and Barbara appeared in two tap dancing numbers. School Days and Crazy Cappers. Marilyn, who also tap dances, was in a group number of more advanced steps.

Attending the recital from here were Mr. and Mrs. Gursell, Marilyn Carol, Shirley MacLean, Miss Leona Moffatt, Mr. and Mrs. Wood, Miss Derna Lunden, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. White, Miss Selma Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. John Litsinger, Mary Lou Litsinger, Mrs. Joseph Litsinger, Mrs. Berni Bach, Mrs. Ruth Gable, G. E. Bach and H. B. Bach.

STEPHENSON LEASES DEN FOR RESTAURANT

F. R. Stephenson, who was engaged at the Michigan National Guard for a long time, has leased the building formerly occupied by The Den and is planning a restaurant to be open June 1.

The building is being thoroughly renovated for the opening. The furniture and fixtures will be replaced and some new equipment will be added.

A professional chef will be engaged and it is the desire of Mr. Stephenson to give Northville an attraction.

THE PUBLIC MAY RISE UP

Public utility strikers in Saginaw last week upset the routine of 500,000 people, cut off traffic lights, stopped police and fire signals and most criminal of all, endangered the lives of people in the hospitals as the result of the power being shut off.

The high handed manner in which the strike was carried on aroused intense indignation, not only in the Saginaw area but in the entire state as well. Governor Murphy, quite often credited with being very friendly to organized labor, was himself aroused enough to make the following statement: "The state cannot and will not tolerate any more strikes of this kind."

The public is getting fed up on the arrogant actions of some of these strike leaders and unless all signs fail, union labor is very apt to suffer in the reaction of the people. No one faction of American life is going to be allowed to dominate the rest of the people by coercion.

Years ago, Calvin Coolidge, then governor of Massachusetts, settled the Boston police strike without the slightest suggestion of compromise and with lightning speed. What he said then applies to the situation just as truly now: "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, any time."

"More mortgages than usual going through today," said Claude S. Knowles as he pointed to a fleet of loaded motor transport trucks headed west on M-78.—Charlotte Republican Tribune.

ONE REASON FOR HIGHER PRICES

There are many complaints about the rising prices on every side. One has only to read the daily newspapers in even a cursory style to know one of the reasons for this price advance.

For the past few months we have had a literal epidemic of sit-down strikes. Settlement of many of these strikes brought higher wages to the workmen. Naturally these higher wages have to be passed on to somebody—the somebody always being the customer. Costs are spiraling and the end is not yet.

Few men can make a living on 40 hours a week and live a worthwhile life. If a man or woman is employed only 40 hours another 10 or 15 hours can be profitably spent in gardening, special hobbies or study. If the extra time off is not improved then the extra leisure is a curse and a man is poorer for it because he will have just that much more time to spend his money.—Nelson Brown in the Ingham County News.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE RAIN

City people don't seem to have much sympathy when it keeps on raining as it has for the last two or three weeks. A lot of these folks should have been born on the farm, and they would not be so irritated by the recent umbrella weather. As a matter of fact a good rainy May might be a good thing for everybody. Certainly we won't have dust storms if it keeps on raining.

"A cold, wet May makes a barnful of hay" was the old saying. Nature has to keep a bank account just as well as people. In our Michigan farming, water is the deposit that is made. A lot of soaking rain in May means a better crop of alfalfa, a better outlook for fruit, more grain and more abundant gardens. Not only that but the great underground basins are being filled with water to protect us against the long dry period of summer. Let'er rain!

THE ECONOMIC VALUE OF CHURCH PEOPLE

"Would you rather employ a member of a church or a non-member?" we asked a Detroit man who employs two or three hundred people.

"The answer to that, sir," he replied, "is we try to get church members whenever possible. We find them more dependable and loyal; in fact in one of our very best departments, most of the employees are members of some church."

HOW'S YOUR INSURANCE?

If the law of averages holds good in Northville, if 100 men stood in a row, 50 of them would have insurance on their lives. Most of these men would say: "I don't want some one passing the hat for my family after I am gone."

The growth of life insurance is amazing. In 1900 only one in every eight had protected his family by life insurance.

In the year 1937 every other American carries some life insurance. These 64 millions have in force on their lives a tremendous total of $104,500,000,000. Yes, that is the tremendous total.

DELAYED PRAISE FOR HERBERT HOOVER

Here is news: The Detroit News, formerly a caustic critic of Herbert Hoover—as we remember their editorials—in its issue of May 22 praised our former president as "The Great Humanitarian."

Mr. Hoover was in Detroit to boost the progress of the Boys' club. A thousand of the city's most influential leaders came to hear Hoover and a thousand other "big" Detroiters could not get reservations.

In spite of the unfair ridicule heaped upon him when he was in the White House, Herbert Hoover will some day be given his just place in the Hall of Fame. He was a Great Engineer; he was great in war relief in Belgium; he is now called "The Great Humanitarian"—some day when the clouds of prejudice have been cleared away, he might even be called a Great and Good President.

"It is harder to edit a community small-town newspaper than it is to direct the editorial and news policy of a metropolitan newspaper. That community newspaper must be clean, it must be happily welcomed by women and children. It should be purged of dirt and breathe more than crime and disaster. This newspaper cannot afford to have any circulation firmovers. If someone stops the paper, we must investigate and find out why, and if the reason is valid and based on good sense, the errors must be corrected. These subscribers must find in the small-town newspaper a place to speak their piece. It must be the true voice of the people. It must have a sympathy and a helpfulness for all."—S. A. Bolles, editor of the Janesville (Wis.) Gazette.

THE HIGH COST OF STRIKES

If you were told that the recent strikes in Michigan cost a total of $447,000,000 you would quite naturally be shocked.

Yet this figure of nearly half a billion is exactly what the Boston Post gives as the price that was paid for our sit-down strikes. The well-known eastern paper enumerates the costs as follows:

For automobiles scheduled for construction, $267,000,000.

Lost in wages, $45,000,000.

Lost to other industries, supplying glass and other equipment, $137,000,000.

Cost to the state of Michigan and various other communities for relief, national guard maintenance and lost sales taxes, $1,529,000.

Lost to merchants and store keepers, $18,100,000.

Some people may have benefitted by the sit-down strikes but, in view of these staggering figures, it would be hard to say who they are.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

A Northville Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association was organized Monday afternoon at a charter meeting held in the home of Mrs. Joseph Hoehl, Randolph street.

Dick Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis of Cambridge Drive, invited 20 boys to help him make merry on his twelfth birthday, Tuesday, May 26.

Friends of Foster Van Atta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Atta, will be interested to know what he has been promoted to the position of assistant "boss" of the men who are working on the dam project at Paducah, Ky.

Farmers in this vicinity say that unless a much needed rainfall occurs within a few days, they will suffer serious losses. To be defeated for the first time this season and by an old rival is a rather sour dose to swallow. Plymouth took Friday's game 7-3.

5 YEARS AGO

Looking forward to next winter when it may again be necessary to extend welfare aid to worthy people, the Northville community fund, whose activities were started last fall, will offer 20 acres of land for raising vegetables and potatoes. The land to be used for this purpose is the former Dean Griswold property, just on the eastern outskirts of the village, a short distance from the P. M. viaduct.

Over 1,400 people gathered at the Northville Wayne County Fair grounds on Thursday, May 19, to witness the Nighthawk celebration featuring a night ball game under powerful arc-lights, boxing contests, quoits tournament and horse racing.

In honor of Mrs. "Bob" Lee, who left Northville Thursday morning for New York where she sailed this morning on the S. S. Olympic for a three months' visit at her home in England, a Bon Voyage shower was held at the home of Mrs. Garrett Barry on Rogers street Tuesday evening.

Cecil Witte of Detroit has moved his family to the Richardson home on West street. Mr. Witte is the new pharmacist in the Northville Drug company.

15 YEARS AGO

After an illness extending over a period of six months, Mrs. Harry Sedon died last Thursday morning at her home in this village.

20 YEARS AGO

Another Northville boy who is in active service for his country, is Frank Brown, Jr., who is a gunner on board one of the big war ships.

The largest of the hallstones that pelted this section of the country during Saturday afternoon's electric storm, varied in size from the dimensions of a good big hickory nut to those of a ditto black walnut—according to the location, imagination, veracity or "puttiness" of the observer.

20 YEARS AGO

Miss Jessie V. Butler of Northville, Floyd E. Evans, eighth grade pupil, has written the following about Mr. Filkins' hens:

Mr. Benjamin G. Filkins has ten most lovely hens: Nine eggs a day is the record of this flock of Uncle Ben's.

One of his hens is bossy. Upon some eggs she's setting; Every time you go near the nest The hen commences fretting.

She's been setting on these eggs. The time I do not know; After a while the hens will peep And the roosters begin to crow.

His hens are taught to keep in their lines. Tho' no rules they are given; All the rule in his henery—Is a high fence, most to heaven.

After a while his hens will stop—Laying so many nice "aigs." For all of them will want to set, And will have to be shut in a cage.

These hens are very patient—I think To live in such a crowded quarter, But every day they have their grain And Benny takes them water.

30 YEARS AGO

Mrs. J. W. Rogers died at her home on Dunlap street about nine o'clock last night of heart failure.

Dr. E. B. Cavel, veterinary surgeon, and Miss Letta Cook, both well known and highly respected young people of this place, were quietly married by the Rev. Hicks of the Methodist parsonage at Windsor Saturday morning.

Her Age
A census taker, on asking a woman how old she was, received the following answer:
"Do you know how old the Hill girls are next door?"
"Sure," he replied.
"Well, I'm as old as they are."
The census taker wrote down, "As old as the hills."—Whitewright (Texas) Sun.

Miss Jessie V. Butler of Northville, Floyd E. Evans, eighth grade pupil, has written the following about Mr. Filkins' hens:

Mr. Benjamin G. Filkins has ten most lovely hens: Nine eggs a day is the record of this flock of Uncle Ben's.

One of his hens is bossy. Upon some eggs she's setting; Every time you go near the nest The hen commences fretting.

She's been setting on these eggs. The time I do not know; After a while the hens will peep And the roosters begin to crow.

His hens are taught to keep in their lines. Tho' no rules they are given; All the rule in his henery—Is a high fence, most to heaven.

After a while his hens will stop—Laying so many nice "aigs." For all of them will want to set, And will have to be shut in a cage.

These hens are very patient—I think To live in such a crowded quarter, But every day they have their grain And Benny takes them water.

STOP AND GO DRIVING IS COSTLY

Every time you start up from a normal traffic stop, you can waste enough gasoline to drive a third of a mile!

To cut down the high cost of today's stop-and-go driving in village, town, and city, Shell engineers developed a way to "balance" gasoline.

This balancing process rearranges the entire chemical structure of gasoline—makes it "digestible" for your engine—just as cooking makes food digestible for you.

Your motor gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content.

Super-Shell—the "MOTOR-DIGESTIBLE" gasoline is sold from coast to coast.

BUILD LODGE.
Several young men of the village are constructing a camping lodge on some newly acquired property located at a lake near Grayling. Mark Ellenwood, Clifford Gilliam, and Roland Tuttle of the camp membership, left Friday to continue work on the building.

BOARD OF REVIEW MEETS.
The Board of Review of Commerce township will meet at the home of Ray Wiley, Walled Lake, June 8 and 14, and the home of James Gardner, supervisor, at Commerce Village, June 15, for the purpose of reviewing 1937 assessment rolls, and for the transaction of any other business which may come before the board.

LADIES AID ELECTS OFFICERS.
The annual election of officers of the Walled Lake Methodist Ladies Aid society resulted in the return to office of Miss Ruth Bradley as president; Mrs. Minnie M. Hurton as vice-president; Mrs. George Wilford as secretary; and Mrs. E. V. Mercer as treasurer.

REMODEL TAVERN.
The remodeled and enlarged East Lake Tavern, owned by William and Manley Bachelor, was opened to the public Friday night. A new policy calls for the service of regular dinners, besides the usual sandwich and beer business. The building now provides a space for dancing.

PONTIAC BUS.
Walled Lake has a new bus line running between the lake and Pontiac. Two buses each way a day are provided in the present schedule, leaving Pontiac at 9 a. m. and 3:30 p. m., and Walled Lake at 11 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. The Walled Lake loading station is at the corner of Main Street and Pontiac Road.

and buy for their children before they think of themselves. That is all right if they don't do too much. The sons and daughters ought to act just as nice and loving as the mother does although the most of them don't to my way of thinking. That might be the mother's fault too because she probably talked them when they were little. The mother ought to see through all their mistakes and correct them. You should have a mother that is confident and that you can tell all your secrets to. So if the mother has all these points I think she would be my ideal mother.

Another great quality that I would like to have appear in my ideal mother would be deep understanding. An understanding so deep that she would not hang on to old-fashioned ideas if she knew that they were at fault. But would be young enough to stand so as to enter into the spirit of this day, and age. A mother with enough understanding that if one of her daughters or sons should get into trouble she would go to them unashamed of what they had done take them back and start anew. With that understanding she would not hold what they had done over their heads but help them to regain themselves to the full extent of their being. One who would not be selfish in her thoughts or doings. By that I do not mean that she should be so unselfish that she makes me self-centered but one who would give what she has learned by experience to me to help me to have a better understanding of the world in general. If the mother be as good looking and young for her years and the daughter homely she should be unselfish enough to help her gain beauty in her heart and mind. I would want my ideal mother to like my young friends and to help me get acquainted with more. One who would like them in her home, reminding of the noise and a little kicked-up dust. A mother who would enter into the spirit of the young people and make them feel welcome. I have my ideal mother in my own home. She has understanding, patience, unselfishness, a grand personality, a sense of humor and she is young enough to like young people and to do the things I like to do. I can see no need for a change in my mother, and I hold a place in my heart for people who have not their mothers when they were young and had to grow up without them.

The Ideal Mother (Jeanne Atchison)
This is a rather hard subject to write on for you might be talking about your own mother or criticizing her. To me the ideal mother is like a companion, loving and patient. In some cases I suppose she has to be severe but if she is gentle I think that would work the best. I think the most of the mothers I know are unselfish. They do things

COLT CROP CHANCES.
One of the crops that Michigan farmers might find more profitable is the annual crop of colts. High feed prices now prevailing should not deter farmers from breeding mares and raising colts.

To enable more farmers in Michigan to produce this crop with profit R. S. Hudson of the farm and horse department at Michigan State college suggests use of efficient pastures and possible limited grain rations during high feed prices.

Limiting rations of grain and alfalfa hay and providing free access to straw does not stunt draft colts but does retard development, says Hudson. He draws this conclusion from experiments conducted at the college with 24 weanling colts.

In two years of feeding trials it was found that the total feed cost for the average colt was $21.86. The colts were originally purchased for an average of $60. In an auction after completion of the tests the animals brought an average of $18.41 or a profit over original cost and feed costs of $3.55 per colt.

Outdoor feeding in winter and continuous use of pasture in summer may be means of making the colts thrive and stay healthy. Where good pasture land is available and if hay and grain are high the experiments indicated it would be more profitable to limit the feeding of colts in the winter time and take more time for their development. This would cut down weights but does not seem to affect development of bones and skeleton.

West Point Park

Graduation exercises of the Pierson school were held in the Community Hall Wednesday night with a fair proportion of relatives and friends in attendance. Members of the class had decorated the hall most tastefully with crepe paper streamers of pink and blue, the class colors, potted plants and colored balloons. Exercises were under the direction of Mrs. Zaida Wolfe, higher grade teacher in the school. Graduates were: Harold Shepard, class president; Dean Coolman, vice president; Dorothy Baldwin, secretary; Eugene Reaves, treasurer; John Attama, Virginia Ault, Mildred Bolivar, Arthur Brittmeyer, John Costello, and Dorothy Smith. Greetings to the audience were extended by John Costello, class history by Dean Coolman, a piano solo by Virginia Ault, an oration by Dorothy Smith, whose average ranked highest in the class, and a reading was given by Dorothy Baldwin. A class prophecy in the form of a playlet by Mildred Bolivar, Eugene Reaves and John Attama. Arthur Brittmeyer made the class will and Harold Shepard the gittatory. Special music was rendered by the girls chorus and by Elvera Trofast, violinist. Diplomas were presented by Mrs. Wolfe.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ault gave a dinner party in honor of the former's mother, Mrs. J. W. Ault, Mrs. Albert Martin and Miss June Ault, Sunday. Miss Ault will leave to join her parents in Mississippi in a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shoultz, two sons, Thomas and Eugene of Bay City, were guests all day Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Gilbert. Miss Olive Grunwald of Farmington and Miss Shirley Zwanlen, were guests Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Duncanson of Rosedale Park.

The annual Pierson school picnic was held at Riverside Park Thursday and was well attended. Mr. Breitmeier, with his truck, made transportation possible for a large number of the girls and boys. Quite a few West Point Park families were in attendance with well-filled cars. A schedule of games and races had been prepared by Mr. Yargec, which resulted in a great many prizes being won and taken home. At 5:30 dinner was eaten, plenty of well-filled baskets having been prepared. Ice cream cones for all were furnished at the expense of the local P. T. A.

Mrs. James Eastman was taken to the Pontiac hospital last Wednesday and at the last report was improving favorably.

Miss Gloria Hochman is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beardsley of So. District, this week.

We cannot resist giving our readers a few more of the good essays which the Northville girls wrote about their mothers in the recent contest. Here are three more. There are so many good ones—these were selected at random.

MOTHER (Pat McLaughlin)
This is a subject which to me is a joy to write about. I have always had fixed in my mind a picture of an ideal mother, a woman who understands every situation of her children. This mother is not hard to find. Unlike the ordinary individual, she is kind, considerate and tries to understand the very different ideas of the younger generation. Mothers seem to be in a class away from the selfish world. They have the patience and love that no other person possess. Why is it that every mother, whether near or far, rich or poor, old or young has the virtues so like those I have always strived for? Why is it that they possess those desirable qualities of patience, understanding and unselfishness which I hope so to attain?

This is just a short description of a mother as I see her—my ideal mother—but like all others throughout the world. The kind of a Mother I Should Like to Have (Gwendolyn Jones)
My idea of an ideal mother is a mother who has a great deal of patience. One who can use that patience to the greatest advantage

Here is Mr. Dunn's own story of his experience with Chevrolet motor cars:
"Buying another Chevrolet has become an unbreakable habit with my family and me—so much so, that we are now driving our twenty-first consecutive car of that make. Another part of the 'habit' is that we always buy from Joe Mills, owner of the Mills Chevrolet Company, our Chevrolet dealer in Colorado, Texas. As the big spaces of Texas test both cars and friendships, I think our long-time loyalty says much for the dependability of both the Chevrolet car and our local Chevrolet dealer. Mothers and Daughters Spend Evening Together—
When mothers and daughters of the Our Lady of Victory church met together Thursday, May 20, for their annual social evening together, they found the program included a welcoming address by Dr. Victoria Lovewell, group singing with Pat McLaughlin at the piano, the reading of one of Edgar Guest's poems by Kathleen Sprenger, accordion and guitar music by Joseph and Dorothy Schulz of Plymouth and a tap dancing duet by Patricia Sullivan and a friend from Detroit.

The highlight of the evening was Miss Nera Lovewell's informal talk, directed particularly to the daughters of the group. Weaving stories from life as she has seen it into a central pattern of the virtues which make strong character, she brought a new meaning to mother-daughter relationship. Following the program, the guests were seated for refreshments at attractively appointed tables where bouquets of violets marked each place.

Third Week of Ann Arbor Drama Festival Presents "The Laughing Woman"; "Tonight at 8:30" Follows

Records are being broken this season at the charming Lydia Mendelssohn theatre in Ann Arbor, where, at each performance of the 1937 Ann Arbor Dramatic Season under the direction of Robert Henderson, capacity audiences have greeted the varied productions and stars who foregather this season in Ann Arbor from New York and Hollywood. The Ann Arbor Festival passes the half-way mark this week and enters its third week with the last two performances Monday matinee and night, May 31, of Gordon Daviot's stirring love story, "The Laughing Woman". This play, after a pronounced success in London, has been brought to Ann Arbor with the star of its New York production, Tonio Selwart, in his original role of the young sculptor, Henri Gaudier. Co-starring with him is Beatrice Neergaard, a cousin of Eva LeGallienne.

After the poignant romance of "The Laughing Woman" the Ann Arbor Dramatic Festival turns again to Noel Coward's cycle of short plays, "Tonight at 8:30", comprising all new plays and new stars from the first group which opened the season this year. In this second group of "Tonight at 8:30", which opens Tuesday night, June 1, and runs for eight performances through Saturday night, June 5, with matinees on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 3:15 the charming New York star, Jesse Royce Landis, together with Charles Romano will appear in the leading roles.

The three plays of this second Noel Coward series of "Tonight at 8:30" differ radically from the first group, and comprise Noel Coward's two musical comedies "Family Album" and "Shadow Play", with his brilliant ironic comedy of the bickering Gows, "Fumed Oak", between the two "Family Album" and "Shadow Play" include Noel Coward's latest song and dance hits.

The Ann Arbor Festival will be climaxed in its last week, from June 7 through June 12, with New York's biggest current hit, "Tovarich".

Mr. and Mrs. Starr Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary, Monday—
A surprise party Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Starr, 119 West Cady, commemorated the Starr's golden wedding anniversary.

An informal gathering attended by members of the family and a few friends who have known Mr. and Mrs. Starr since they moved here in 1920, was the climax of the observance. Large bouquets of yellow flowers made the rooms attractive. Included among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Corbin, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Jennie Vandenburg, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Starr of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Ann Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Starr, Mrs. Elizabeth Arndt, Mrs. Maude Hollis and Frank Whipple.

Mr. Whipple was the only guest present who attended the pledging of the vows 50 years ago in Kingsley by Mr. and Mrs. Starr. He was then a small boy.

Mr. Starr, who has worked for the railroad since he was a young man, is still employed in the general office of the Union depot in Detroit.

W.M.S. Holiday Session of Officers Tuesday Afternoon—
Twenty six members were present at the holiday session of the W.M.S. officers Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. E. H. Power.

They will all be guests at the Hotel Olds.

Mrs. Power is Dessert-Bridge Hostess Tuesday Afternoon—
Mrs. S. G. Power, 16065 East Eight Mile road, was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a dessert party to the members of her contract club.

Her guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. William Yerkes, Mrs. T. Glenn Phillips, Mrs. B. G. Filkins, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell, Mrs. E. C. Hinkley and Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lidgard Honored On Anniversary—

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lidgard were happily surprised Friday evening when three sons and one daughter with their families came to remind them that it was their thirty-ninth wedding anniversary. A cooperative dinner was enjoyed together with the father and mother seated in the places of honor.

With Mr. and Mrs. Lidgard were a daughter, Mrs. Keith Hughes, and her daughter, Donna Joy, of Pontiac, three sons, Clarence and his wife and daughter of Flat Rock, Robert and his wife and daughter of Plymouth, and Wayne of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Lidgard were married in Chicago where Mr. Lidgard was conductor on a street car for many years. Later they lived in Indiana before coming to Northville to make their home.

Mr. Starr, who has worked for the railroad since he was a young man, is still employed in the general office of the Union depot in Detroit.

W.M.S. Holiday Session of Officers Tuesday Afternoon—
Twenty six members were present at the holiday session of the W.M.S. officers Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. E. H. Power.

Northville Horse Show Committee Members Attend Lansing Event—
Members of the Northville Horse Show committee have reserved a box this week end at the Lansing Horse Show. Following Friday night's performance the group will attend a buffet supper to be given at the Hotel Olds in honor of the visitors, some of whom are owners of the horses which will be entered in the events.

Sitting in the Northville box will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Johnson of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nichols of Detroit, Mrs. William Bartle Brown and her guests, Mrs. James Donahue of Redford and Mrs. Grace DeRatt of Detroit. They will all be guests at the Hotel Olds.

Mrs. Power is Dessert-Bridge Hostess Tuesday Afternoon—
Mrs. S. G. Power, 16065 East Eight Mile road, was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a dessert party to the members of her contract club.

Her guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. William Yerkes, Mrs. T. Glenn Phillips, Mrs. B. G. Filkins, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell, Mrs. E. C. Hinkley and Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill.

Mrs. Gerald Taft Is Mother's Club Hostess—

The home of Mrs. Gerald Taft, 718 West Eight Mile road, was the scene Tuesday evening of the Mother's club meeting. Assisting hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Alton P. Peters and Mrs. Maxwell Austin.

Mrs. John Litsenberger prepared and read a paper on "Recreational Interests and Hobbies for Children." Mrs. Theodore N. Kampf, Jr. will be hostess to the group at her home, 1237 Novi road, on June 7.

Since The Record editor wrote his editorial last week telling the villagers not to worry about the rains, this vicinity has had several heavy rain storms which have been more than enough to help the farmers along. In fact, the rains have been excessive to the point of keeping the soil tillers from planting corn, garden and plowing fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Lidgard were married in Chicago where Mr. Lidgard was conductor on a street car for many years. Later they lived in Indiana before coming to Northville to make their home.

With a view to aiding gardeners and lovers of flowers who like to make floral arrangements in their homes, the Northville Branch of the Wayne County Library has selected a number of books which give detailed lessons and suggestions in this line.

Among the books are: "Flower and Vase—Anne Lamplugh." This gives flower arrangements for every type of room and for all sorts of backgrounds, with excellent illustrations. At the end of each chapter there is a table showing the gardener what flowers are available that month in the green house, garden or country lane and that should be planted. A listing is made for the non-gardener of seasonal flowers in the shop. Unusual features of this work are the miniature table-gardens and recipes for sweet-jar, rose jam and the like.

Arrangement of Flowers—Annabel W. Hine. This book is intended primarily for those who want flowers in the house and wish to know enough about their arrangement to have them show to advantage, but have neither the time nor the inclination to go deeply into the subject.

Arranging Flowers Throughout the Year—Katherine Thomas Cary. The author explains the three types of flower arrangement, the Japanese, the mixed and the line arrangements, advises one about the use of distinctive flower forms and of color, writes of design and composition, proportion and building receptacles, and other matters and warns against certain mistakes.

How to Arrange Flowers—Dorothy Deane. This book gives simple rules for the arrangement of both garden and house flowers. It contains a number of suggestions. There are other more attractive books but this is simple and practical, straight to the point.

GRADUATING PRESENTS
At no other time in the life of a boy or young woman is a substantial gift so appropriate and no occasion merits a token of approval and encouragement more.
The proud day of graduation for a boy offers a suitable time for the gift of a Watch or an Electric Razor or Ring or Collar and Tie Holders.
For the young woman, a Watch or Diamond is the most appreciated, but whatever the amount you can afford to invest, some selection from our jewelry stock will please best and carry the most enduring remembrance.
It is a pleasure to us, and will be a pleasure to you to look.

CHURCH NEWS

Christian Science Churches
Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 30.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Isa. 44:24-17): "The Lord of hosts has sworn saying, Surely as I have thought so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, I shall it stand: For the Lord of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?"

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 305): "The power of the human will should be exercised only in subordination to Truth; else it will misguide the judgment and free the lower propensities."

Church of Our Lady of Victory
Please do not forget the change in the time of the first Mass next Sunday. The first Mass will be at 7:30 a. m., one-half hour earlier than before. The second Mass will be held at the previous time at 10 a. m. The chapel at Walled Lake will open the summer season next Sunday with one Mass at 9 o'clock.

The possibility of gaining a "plea of indulgence" is available for all Catholics who receive Holy Communion for the intention of the Holy Father's birthday. This privilege is obtainable on any day from Sunday, May 30, to Monday, June 7.

Every high school student attending this church is expected to attend the final assembly next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Civilization will soon face a choice between Christianity and Communism (fascism and Nazism are merely lesser shades of Communism.) Too many Americans know little of Christianity but too much of Communism. "It is already happening HERE" with unscrupulous industrialists and gangster labor leaders, together with suspected or ignorant philosophers, professors and designers rapidly sowing the seed of Communist propaganda.

THE GUFFEY-VINSON COAL ACT IS NOW A FACT
Under the provisions of the bill a commission will determine the wages to be paid, the freight rates to be charged and the hours at which the mines can be operated. In fact, the coal industry will soon be under government regulation, and just what that will mean no one can tell.

ONE THING is certain, however, that coal prices in the future will be considerably increased. We do not know what the future prices of coal will be.

Our advice to our customers is to place their ORDERS now for immediate delivery. We are not booking orders for future delivery.

WHAT YOU SAY GOES— if you say BUICK!

THIS year, good things come in eights—get into this bellwether Buick and the other fellow will know who's lead-off man in your neck of the woods!

You're boss of the bunch when you ease in gas to the great valve-in-head straight eight, ablest engine of its size anywhere in the world. It's soft of voice but it packs authority—there isn't any fooling when it has work to do!

You're the envy of all eyes, garbed in Buick's princely style—handling these ready controls is the softest job in the whole wide world.

You stream down the straightaway—soar over the tallest hills—you sweep around the corners and curves erect as a dowager making her entrance—why even the back seat's chatterproof, so sweetly, smoothly, serenely does this road-wise car conduct itself!

You can't hurt it—it's built rugged and stout as Buick always has been—but still we say, handle with care! For so instant-quick is its lift to your toe-touch, so quietly easy will it outwing the birds, that you never have to force it to make your distance safely with time to spare.

This year say Buick—and whatever you say on the open road will go with the whole parade. Its purchase is as easily unmade as its feather-light controls—for today Buick is priced at the lowest figure in history.

Your cue now is to see us. Do that without delay and you'll hold the center of the stage all summer long!

MITCHELL PLACES FIRST IN MEET

Northville Boy Wins First Place in 100-Yard Dash at East Lansing

Arthur Mitchell won first place in the 100-yard dash Saturday at the State Track Meet, East Lansing. Arthur's victory marks Northville's first capture of the 100-yard title. Keene Bolton, the other Northville delegate, also entered the 100-yard dash and was running in second place when he fell.

Last year's State meet was held May 23 in Grand Rapids. Charles Strautz as Northville's entry, won third place in the shot-put.

Baseball Baffles

By Minnie Zich
To a mere spectator, baseball is a very queer proposition. A lot of boys run around the field before the game making cute remarks, which send the team into convulsions making them so weak that they can't play properly. For about an hour they dash around catching flies, (doesn't that seem a silly thing for grown boys to be doing?) and then they start batting practice. This phase of the game seems to consist of each boy walking up to the plate, making some darling little crack about being batty and then hitting the ball thitherward into hence (at least a few of them hit the ball).

When the game starts, it only gets more confusing. Immediately the crowd (if any) begins to show its true nature. They make awfully mean remarks about the opposing pitcher and aren't at all polite. I really should think all pitchers would have an inferiority complex, but I guess they don't pay any attention because it certainly doesn't affect our pitchers in any such manner.

When their own pitcher is showing his prowess, the crowd gets terrible. They tell him to hit the opposing batter in the head, to wop the "apple" around his neck and all sorts of other dire things. I can't figure out why they call the ball an "apple" unless maybe they need some food to put on the "plate." Another puzzling thing is that the players wear hats with adorable little visors on them to keep the sun out of their eyes and then when a "fly" comes along they gaily throw their hats on the ground and squinting into the sun, attempt to catch it.

After much screaming on the part of some people and much question asking on the part of others, the

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

This week the student council nominating committee named those students who will run for next year's jobs in the school's governing body. Important jobs, being heads of the school's athletic activities. All of you students are entitled to vote for those people that you want, and we strongly advise you to register. In a sense, this election is as important to the school as the recent presidential election was to the country. Once you get someone in as head man—he's there until next June.

All too many people don't realize what the council does. They have the idea that you're elected and sit around with all glory and no work. As a matter of fact, it's the other way around—no glory and all work. You get all the wrath that players and coach can store up come tumbling down on your head. Look at poor George Westphal. He swears that he's lost ten pounds managing the governing body of the school. There's going to be a lot of campaigning in the next few days—but don't be led to vote for a person just because you like him. Find out what he's done—and then vote. Don't be surprised if campaigning managers jump down on you in the halls and make you swear to cast your ballot for their man. Remember—once you got 'em—you got 'em for a year.

That bothersome orchid is about again. This time it just has to go to Cy Westphal for his work on the council this year. After he gets through explaining just what his job was to the incoming mayor that person will probably disappear for good.

N. H. S. TAKES GAME FROM TRENTON NINE

Northville defeated Trenton Monday at Cass Benton Park, 4-3.

George Westphal added another victory to his record by his pitching in the second game, won from the Trenton nine.

The score up to the seventh inning was 3-0 in favor of Trenton. In the seventh, the Northville team tied the score 3-3. The game continued at this score till the tenth inning, when, with three men on base, Skip Hochkins hit a single, driving in the winning run.

Lineup:

- 1st base—Hardesty
- 2nd base—Campbell
- 3. B.—Hanson
- 3rd base—Turnbull
- R. F.—Smith, Way
- C. F.—Garchow
- L. F.—Hochkins
- C.—Wolfe
- P.—Westphal.

The Observer

This handsome young gent happens to be a sophomore and a mighty good one at that. He has plenty of rhythm, and my such personality. And—oh yes—don't let me disappoint you—he is a very close rival to Frederic March in looks. His hair is dark and his teeth sparkle when he smiles—which is most of the time. Of course he's witty—the English class couldn't get along without him. He manages to entertain the history class, too. He was on the basketball team, and was really a great help. Got it?

Game ends. By the way, why do people have to be so supercilious when they answer an innocent little question? After all, I can't understand baseball.

SPORT FLASHES

By ALBERT BOELENS

In two weeks another school year will join the pages of history. We have all said at least once that we would be glad to see this day come, but will we?

When the school year closes the high school athletic careers of about 20 boys will do likewise.

Not one of those boys will be glad and of us who will be back next year, there isn't one who can say truthfully that we won't miss them next year. So it is for this reason, I say that it will be a day of mourning, instead of glee, June 13.

It is hard to say which one boy of the senior class we will miss most but I think that you can put them in a group of four and most likely have that one—the four I think we will miss most are: D. Hardesten, S. Hochkins, B. Turnbull and G. Westphal. Now the way they are named means nothing for they are in alphabetic order.

Now these boys will be missed most—but there are others, some of these are: Arnold, Hanson, Van, Casterline, Way, Parmenter, Wilber, Smith, Young, Bray and others—so it is that I, in behalf of the rest of the student body, pay tribute to these—for what part they have done to bring honors to N. H. S.

The golf team met the State champs from Redford Union and as expected, got beat. Boelens was low with 96 but it was Duguid who shot a 97 that starred for he shot a sizzling 44 on the last nine. Myers and Richardson both shot 114. The match was played at Meadowbrook. Next week the team meets the Plymouth team at the Plymouth Country club.

The baseball team won a thriller from Trenton last Monday, 4-3, in 10 innings. The team was scored for the first six innings but scored three in the seventh to tie and scored one in the tenth to win. Westphal pitched for N. H. S.

Arthur Mitchell won the 100-yard State championship for Class C competition—his time was 10.3, which is very good and we congratulate Arthur. Keene Bolton, who also ran the hundred was within five yards of the tape and would have taken second place only that he fell—this was a bad break and we sympathize with Keene for his misfortune.

There will be a triangular track meet among Northville, Melvindale and Trenton schools at Trenton this Friday. Mr. Barr is looking forward to winning.

STUDENT COUNCIL TO HOLD ELECTION

Keene Bolton, Gwen Jones, Nominated for Next Year's Mayor

With the passing of the school year, there is also the passing of the administration of a very important body, the student council. It has again come time for the students of the Northville high school to nominate and put into office their officers to see that their interests are duly regarded.

The student council governs the student body, makes laws, provides entertainment, pays athletic bills, and in general, plays a very important part in the welfare of our institution.

Those who were nominated are: Mayor, Gwen Jones and Keene Bolton; secretary, Margaret Walker, Doris Tewksbury, Pat McLoughlin and Margaret Van Helmont; treasurer, Edward Reid, Martin Breitmeyer and Louise Alexander.

With these officers elected, there is a representative from each class and along with R. H. Amerman and G. V. Harrison, the new principal of the Northville high school, as advisors, the student council performs its various functions.

This election promises to be a very interesting one and the Northville high school will be assured of an efficient administration.

Well, another week has gone. Just two more, my friends, and we can kiss dear old N. H. S. goodbye for a few months. Too few months, did I hear someone say?

Spring really gets 'em, boys 'n' girls, it really does! Who'd a thought that Dean the Silent Hardesty would have succumbed to that tiny insect—the Love Bug?

A group of our more respectable citizens had quite a time a week ago tonight, as hear, celebrating Gwen's birthday. Congratulations! How does it feel to be "just seventeen"? Gwen?

Spring comes in in more ways than one—did you see Mary Schoultz's flowers 'tother morning?

Some of our sleeper girls are beginning to wake up. We were accosted the other morning with the exclamation "Benny Duguid has the nicest smile!"

That attack of measles our sports editor had last week seem to have done him good. Did you hear his bright remarks in second hour assembly Tuesday?

Rambling Reporter

Another week has passed and your Rambling Reporter doesn't seem to have rambled very far, but here goes nothing.

To start with, your Rambling Reporter is now seventeen. Could you believe it. And some very good friends gave a party for her Friday evening at the McLoughlin home. A grand surprise, if ever there was one. Don't you just love surprises? They are loads of fun and those who indulged were: Peg Walker and Nan McLoughlin, who thought the party was out of their own gear little heads, and Hal Horton, George Westphal, Ida Walker, Scott Cole, Betty Schrader, Keene Bolton, Mary Schoultz and the McLoughlin sisters.

Mary Jane and Albert Boelens are back in school after a week at home with only the measles to keep them company. That didn't seem to hurt them any because they are still able to talk as long and loud as ever.

Louise Alexander Ed Argove, Pat McLoughlin and Bruce Turnbull attended the dance Saturday evening at Walled Lake. We hear they went for a roller coaster ride during the evening.

Nan McLoughlin held a house party Tuesday evening. Those present were: the hostess, Nan, Peg Walker, Gwen Jones, Betty Schrader and Barbara Phillips.

Nan McLoughlin attended the "Merchant of Venice" Monday evening in the Lydia Mendessobin theatre, Ann Arbor.

Grade Notes

In Mrs. W. E. McCarthy's second grade room, Bobby Todd has returned from his trip to Washington D. C. and Virginia. He kept a diary of his trip which he read to the class and showed some pictures he had taken. All these furnished great enjoyment. They are enjoying the ball also, that had been given to them by R. H. Amerman.

Mrs. O. F. Benz's second grade class won the dollar prize which was awarded the room that had most parents present at the P. T. A. Mrs. Nora Wilson's children are giving the finishing touches in their play house. They also received 12 new books from the library.

Miss Selma Jarvis' pupils have already earned four dollars by giving candy sales. When more money is earned they intend to buy pictures for their room. The pupils visited the Fish Hatchery Monday. They have just concluded their study of the Dutch Twins. Illustrations for this country, were scenes of Dutch houses, tulips and windmills.

In Mrs. James Congo's third grade classes, a new pupil has entered. She is Barbara Kerr of Detroit. They are now having review in geography. The last multiplication table to learn this year is the 5's, and they are now doing so.

Mrs. K. H. Babbitt's room has two new pupils. They are Donna Hillaker from New Hudson and Estella Parcells from Clifton. Betty Tyler is very unfortunate in having a sprained ankle.
Mrs. A. Russell Clarke's fifth graders have finished their memorandum achievement tests. This class has three new pupils—Virginia Hillaker, Paul Farrell and George Roberts. The Bible class of this grade held its last meeting by celebrating with a party. This great event occurred on May 19. Harold Todd is going to speak to this grade about his trip to Washington, D. C. A citizenship meeting was held last Friday in Miss Edna Kreeger's room. These sixth graders are editing a paper called "Sixth Grade Cyclone." Robert Housebeck is editor and Editor Nagel and Jerry Nelson are reporters. Three pupils gave a safety play in this room. They are: Esther Rossow, Lois Church and Eloise Barnhart. The political map of Africa on salt and flour has been concluded.

"OUR NEW NASH IS SO MUCH BIGGER AND IT COST ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MORE THAN THOSE SMALLER CARS"

We'd like to thank Mr. Eugene Hovel of Chicago for the following expression—read what he says!
"Lots of people take their automobiles for granted. But not me. I want to know what's under the hood. In my opinion the Nash LaFayette '400' is one of the best engines ever made. It's a real beauty. I'm proud of my new Nash... 'sweetheart.' Take it's a grand automobile!"
LARGER hydraulic brakes will save me many a deuced fender. That big steering arm you can buy, really is a joy! I'm proud of my new Nash... "sweetheart." Take it's a grand automobile!"
