THIS WEEK'S EDITORIALS

We once asked a very interesting editorial writer where he found the inspiration for his editorials. "I get most of my ideas from reading The Chicago Tribune," he replied.

The Tribune, as some of you may know, calls itself "The World's Greatest Newspaper" in fact The Tribune's radio station gets its call letters, WGN, from its slogan. The writer of this column once had a talk with him which he delivered a number of times, which he called "The World's Greatest Newspaper." In it he paid tribute to the modest country villages such as there are in Plymouth, Farmington and Northville.

Sitting out to me this week's editorial column, we decided to stick to what we have been reading during the past few days. Doing the task no road save carefully in our daily newspapers, glances over 50 county weekly old fashioned news bits from books and magazines.

MONITOR PRAISES WESLEY'S FAITH

For solid, reliable reading we enjoy nothing more than the Christian Science Monitor which comes daily to the record office. A Methodist can learn quite a lot from this valuable publication. Its issue of May 26 had an editorial entitled "John Wesley's Faith."

This year is the two hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Methodist Episcopal church by Wesley, a distinguished scholar and former member of the Church of England. The Monitor says that Wesley had a "great understanding of the omnipotence of good," and cites as illustration the following:

"On one occasion, as related in his journal, Wesley's horse went lame while on a journey and could scarcely set foot to the ground. "By riding that seven miles," Wesley wrote, "I was that night tired, and my head ached more than it had done for some months. I then thought, 'Cannot God heal either man or beast, by any means? Or without any?' Immediately my weariness and headache ceased, and my horse's lameness in the same instant. Nor did he halt any more either that day or the next."

Certainly many of our ills are more mental than physical and even the medical doctors are beginning to see this more and more. It would be a good thing for us all if we knew a little more about "the omnipotence of good." Certainly the old world needs it.

HIGHER AUTOMOBILE PRICES COMING

Even though we have not bought anything in a Detroit store for probably a year, we daily get a lot of satisfaction out of reading the advertisements in the Detroit daily papers. On May 25 we were impressed by a big ad which had the following headings at its top:

FORECAST:

Probably never again will America's finest motor car be offered at this year's low prices. The advertising was signed by the manufacturer of one of Detroit's best known cars.

Any thinking person who has followed events for the past few months will hardly dare deny that this prophecy is truly correct. With millions of dollars gone in sit-down strikes and labor agitations, the loss will have to be made up somewhere. Obviously, profits do not come off the trees and money has to be made before it can be paid out. Due to all the happenings during the past few months, automobiles are costing more to make and therefore will be costing more to buy in the next half-year or so. Higher prices are coming not only for automobiles but for a good many other things.

DON'T KICK OVER THE BEEHIVE

The above heading is the caption in one of the chapters in the book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People" which we have been reading the past few days (seven-day book from the Northville library).

This chapter mentioned makes one big point, viz., that "Criticism is futile." Nobody, says the author, wants to be criticized. Instead, everybody likes to be praised and given a pat on the back. This quotation from the book probably applies to most of us.

Any fool can criticize, condemn and complain, and most fools do.

But it takes character and self control to be understanding and forgiving.

"A great man shows his greatness," said Carlyle, "by the way he treats little men."

Dr. Johnson himself, said, "God, Himself, sir, does not propose to judge man until the end of his days."

Why should you and I?

THERE MUST BE A PROFIT
The Detroit News had an editorial regarding the closing of the factory of the Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company in that city following months of labor disturbance. The News says that a group of the former 400 employees of the firm asked Governor Murphy to intercede with the company that the plant may be reopened. The editorial goes on to suggest further that this can hardly be done unless the union lessens its demands.

Then says the editorial: "Union leaders and all workers must understand that wages are one of the largest cost factors in business." In other words no firm can go on doing business unless there is a profit. Profits come only when the cost of doing business is less than the income of goods sold.

This further comment of the News is also of interest:

There was a time at the beginning when the Ford Motor Co. was small and was making few sales and small profits. If at that time its workers had demanded the scale of wages that since have been paid, there would now be no Ford Motor Co. employing thousands of workers.

WHERE IS HAPPINESS?

What is the greatest objective of life?

As quoted last week in The Jonesville Independent, a Hillsdale minister stated in an address at the Lions clubs that true happiness is found not in wealth, or travel, marriage or social achievement, but in learning to "have peace in one's heart."

The preacher is right. "The kingdom of Heaven is within you."

NORTHLVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

Much attention is given to eliminate squalor in our towns as possible, and in a recent "Moral Survey" conducted by the South Center Club, the town of the state from the center of M to the side.

Plans have been made for the Federal government work on the PWA under receiver of the Selective Draft has been holding regular a lot of a vote taken Monday evening by members of the village, 100 in 100.

At a large meeting took place of the members of the Rev. John Adams, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Mason, Mich., from the First Congregational Church of West Point, Park became the pastor of Edward Johnson, Saturday evening, May 20.

Forty-third evening Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary by entertaining 35 guests and friends at their home on Fairbrook Avenue.

5 YEARS AGO

Along with debuting boners spelling boners and similar laud, the Northville High School is holding one, Ernest Haas to Camp Interlaken where the finest juvenile musical talent in the country is gathered each summer to receive special instruction.

Northville school teachers did not receive their customary pay checks Wednesday, June 1, for the first time within the history of the educational system here.

Seventy thousand dollars for a proposed public building in Northville for a post office is one of the items in a bill which Speaker Garner pushed vigorously at Washington this week.

In a dramatic game, full of thrills until the last moment, Northville lost the Suburban League championship to Farmington there Tuesday by a score of 9-3.

Cards have reached Northville to the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Koldyke of Detroit announcing the arrival of a son in their home, weighing 8½ pounds.

15 YEARS AGO

Born Sunday, May 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Franklin, a son, Robert Edwin.

While excavating for the sewer on West street near Dunlap, an old well was uncovered. The well for many years has been the source of water supply for the people of that section of the village and was in the center of the street, with grass plot on all sides.

At a meeting of the signers of the Chautauqua contract Friday, the following officers were chosen: President, E. E. Brown; vice-president, B. A. Wheeler and Mrs. Eugene Rock; secretary, T. R. Carrington; treasurer, C. A. Dolph; tickets, Ray of the present building and equipment due to a broadening curriculum, many outstanding accomplishments have been made by the student departments which could be multiplied and enlarged under more favorable conditions.

The athletic program in itself is an example. In major sports, such as football, basketball and baseball, the local school, under the direction of Harold Hursh, has made an enviable record, unmatched by any school of its size and type, anywhere.

This week, despite the fact that Walled Lake school is unequipped for track and field sports, and therefore cannot hold league meets here, or any competitive event of this nature, the local boys, coached by Walde Proctor, won second place in the annual track and field meet held at Milford Friday. Milford again finished on top of the league with 38½ points, as against 25½ for Walled Lake. Phil Stimpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stimpson, was largely responsible for Walled Lake's second position. Phil, who has a father and uncle, before him, is an all around athlete, won the 100 and 220 yard dash events, and brought Walled Lake into second position in the 880 yard relay. G. Hazen and A. Patterson were third and fourth respectively in the pole vault; R. Green was second in the mile run and DeGroot finished third in the 440 dash. B. Campion ran the 880 yard dash and R. See finished fourth. Stimpson's time in the 100 yard and 220 yard events were 10.3 and 23.4. The latter time is a new league record. The former is a tie with the present record. Carrigan set a new 880 yard record with 21.7.

CHORUS GIVES CONCERT

An awakened situation confronts a report must be made of the week's most important public event, which is largely responsible for even more responsibility for said to be made herein. It should be noted, reported by long time, someone is apt to conclude

I'm stuck up, or something

now having a Jesus to help me out.

I have to proceed with all of the discretion, prudence, circumspection, heed or care which I can muster and take my chances.

The fact remains that the spring clerk festival as presented in the Walled Lake high school gymnasium

(Thursday night) by the inter-community singing groups including the

Walled Lake Methodist Episcopal church, the Clarkson Choral club, and the Northville-Plymouth Male chorus was all that it was cracked up to be and then some. Bushels of words had been printed by a dozen weekly and daily papers, in advance of the "round robin" event, in an effort to conglutinate the attention of people throughout as wide an area as possible. Walled Lake's bid for a share of that attention resulted in an audience of about 150, gathered in the attractive, decorated auditorium.

Advance tickets indicated a possible attendance of twice as many. The absenteers were evidently

"charity" buyers, who may have preferred "mountain" music.

Those who came, numbering several from Birmingham, Pontiac, Detroit, Commerce, Milford, Novi and Westacres were unanimous in proclaiming the concert to be one of the finest of its kind they had ever heard. Those who came to patronize left with only the most generous words of praise for the 60 amateur singers who were banded together to produce a program purely for the love of it. The audience heard the greatest composers of numbers. They sing with the highest musical standard, interpreted with intelligence and ren-dew with professional excellence.

Those in attendance were made aware of the fact that chorus singing is not limited to groups composed of specially gifted singers with good technical skill. They learned that the principal requisites to success

are the singing of three of the fun-test songs in the field of sacred music.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ruddell Watson,

Clarification accompanist, gave faultless support to her group, as did

Mrs. Dorothy L. McElroy, for the

Walled Lake choir. Mrs. McElroy was also the accompanist for the Northville concert on Wednesday.

chorus sing six numbers

cal field as directed by Leslie G.

"Here's something, maybe you'd prefer than we judge we should, like to print," and a kindly reader, "We should love each other better if handed us the following poem, if we only understood which preaches its own sermon. We are glad indeed for contributions! Could we judge all deeds by motives for Mrs. Editor's ideas often go See the good and within."

If We Only Understood

Could we but draw back the curtains that surround each other's lives? See the naked heart and spirit, know what spur the action gives. Often we would find it better.

Often we would love the sinner All the while we loathe the sin; Could we know the powers working To overthrow integrity—

We should judge each other's errors With more patient charity.

If we knew the cares and trials,

Knew the efforts all in vain, And the bitter disappointment, Understand the loss and gain— Would the grim, eternal roughness Seen, I wonder, just the same?

Should we pity where we blame?

Should we pity where we blame?

As we judge each other harshly Knowing not life's hidden force; Knowing not the fount of action Is less turbid at its source;

Seeing not amid the evil All the golden grain of good,

And we'd love each other better, If we only understood.

STANDARD OIL
MAKES SURVEY

Surveys that the automobile driver is the best judge of what motor oil should be offered the public by the gasoline dealer, the Standard Oil Company of Indiana has launched a campaign of inquiry, called a "service survey," among car operators in 13 central Western states.

In a series of advertisements in some 1,500 daily and weekly newspapers, the company is asking the motorists' opinion of the numerous services now given by Standard Oil dealers for his safety, comfort and convenience and for suggestions which may augment or improve these aids.

To more than 120 motorists who in the opinion of three judges submit the most valuable suggestions before the close of the survey on June 15, the company will pay a total of $5,000. Standard Oil dealers who assist the car drivers who receive cash awards will be paid a like sum, making a total of $10,000 to be distributed.

The judges are Prof. Lloyd D. Herold of Northwestern University, George W. Barton, safety director of the Chicago Motor club, and Roger B. Stafford, editor of "Super Service Station" magazine.

J. CATON TO SPEAK AT COMMENCEMENT

Head of Chrysler Education Department to Talk to Graduates

Dr. John Caton will be the speaker at the commencement exercise on June 17.

Dr. Caton is the head of the department of education of the Chrysler Motor company in Detroit. His topic will be "Whether the High School Graduate?"

The educational department of Chrysler is a recognized school and over 200 students graduate from there yearly. Graduation exercises were held there last night and both P. B. Thompson, assistant principal, and R. H. Amerman, superintendent, were invited to attend.

This school is conducted for the employees of the Chrysler Motor company and every year students graduate with doctor's degrees in engineering.

Dr. Caton spoke before the entire student body two years ago on the importance of English in industry and professions. At that time Dr. Caton said that many of Chrysler's employees were unable to express themselves well in correct English and therefore it was necessary to teach them.

CHINA SHOP IS GIVEN FOR SECOND TIME TONIGHT

The operetta, "The China Shop," which will be presented at the school auditorium for the second time tonight at 8 o'clock under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, includes 30 members of the high school choir and the glee club.

Robert Reed, a local artist, has created fitting scenery for the two entirely different scenes. The costumes have been rented from Detroit, making the characters as realistic as possible.

Mr. Lee expects this to be a great success as it is unique, tuneful and gay. It is a story of a handsome young Chinaman who is the son of a wealthy merchant, Pat Sing, played by Carl Stevens. And who is thought by all to soon become the heir of his father's riches. This male lead is capably taken by James Hochkins; Wanita Miller and Jean Cole are playing the heroine. As the popular opinion is that Sing Fong is a wealthy, young bachelor, he is openly pursued by the women of Ping Pong. Especially is he sought after by the three little Chinese maids, Ting-a-Ling, Ding Dong, and Ping Ping, whose chaperon, Hoy Tee Toy, is obviously trying to marry them off. There are many complications before Sing Fong finally marries Lotus Bloom, the object of his affections.

The price will be 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

The cast is as follows: Pat Sing, Carl Stevens; Sing Fong, James Hochkins; Wun Tun, Leonard Young; Mush Lush, Walter Garchow; Chunky Robert Rembowski; Tanny, Arthur Mitchell; Mr. Jucot Karfair, Cecil Giles; Lotus Blossom, Jean Cole and Wanita Miller; Ting-a-Ling, Constance Burgess and Virgil Green; Ding Dong, Laura Marie Lord and Louise Alexander; Ping Ping, Jeanne Atchison and Pat McLoughlin; Hoy Tee Toy, Helen Harper and Dorothy Heaton.

ROUND THE SCHOOL

This school year is practically finished—one more week before we'll be out for the summer. Things are happening as the whole school plans for next year's offices in school.

The student council election is over—and that's just what this editorial is going to touch on. A few years ago the council was an organization that did more than back substances—it ruled the whole school. It policed the halls and attended to the things that concerned students. But late that body has concerned itself only with the various teams of the schools—and such weighty questions as whether to sell season tickets or not.

It seems to us that somewhere we've seen the N. H. S. baseball team to vaguely heard the rumor that to get congratulations!

BASEBALL NEARS JUNIORS PLAN TO END OF SEASON PURCHASE PICTURES

Tuesday night the Northville junior class began a special meeting after school last Thursday night. As this page goes to press on Tuesday, we can't give you the name of this game, but here's the info provided: It wasn't changed. We b., Wolfe, c.; Hardisty, 1st base; Campbell, 2nd base; Chancis, c.; Westphal, ss; Hochkins, G.; Thorpe, and Wilson, fielders.

Thursday the home team played Melvindale, which was the last league game of the season. This was the lineup: Hochkins, p.; Wolfe, c.; Hardisty, 1st base; Campbell, 2nd base; Turnbull, ss; Westphal, of; Westphal, and Moore, in the field.

Next Tuesday, June 8, they play Plymouth at Cass Benton Park. This game is the last of the season.

SCHOOL GROUPS HAVE PICTURES TAKEN

The Camp Publishing company sent representatives to Northville Wednesday afternoon to take pictures of the groups who wished to have them taken.

These pictures are taken entirely without cost to the school personnel. After the pictures are taken, proofs of these are sent back to the school where individuals wishing to have a picture or pictures of a group may purchase them through the company at 30 cents apiece.

The Observer

This "magistra" could be called nothing but a person with the most swashbuckling disposition you'd ever want any teacher to have. She is so very busy helping her "discipuli" with their translation that you very seldom see her around. And when you do, she has that pleasantly pleasant smile ready for you. Every one knows her so well that description of her appearance is hardly necessary. One thing you very often comment on, is her most elegant taste for clothes. They are all charming—and so very flattering.

For a special pastime she likes dancing but is also very fond of sports. A great deal of her time outside of school is spent reading or just riding around.

Rose May plans to attend Cleary Business college within the next two or three years.

SPORT FLASHES

By ALBERT BOELNS

The Northville track team met Trenton again to enter in a track meet with four other schools, namely: Plymouth, Berkley, Van Dyke and Trenton. This will be the last track meet of the year.

The total showed Trenton with 53 points—and N. H. S. with 32. Art Mitchell starred as high scorer, placing first in the 100, second in the broad jump and third in the high jump, for a total of nine points. He brought this total up to 11½ when he ran anchor man on the winning relay team.

The other boys who competed were Keene Belton, Walter Garchow, Carl Arnold, Lawrence Way, Ben Duguid and Bruce Turnbull.

These same boys will go over to

MUSIC DEPARTMENT GIVES 'CHINA SHOP'

Unique Operetta Given Two Nights; Hochkins, Cole, Miller in Leads

We'll, boys and girls, your Rambling Reporter has blisters on her hands this week from "rambling" so far, trying hard to get some news for you to read. The first thing which caught your attention were these sentences:

"To begin with the S. J. held the last meeting of their club last night Wednesday. Before hand the students they could celebrate a little by taking some boys to their meetings. What would a last club meeting be without boys? I'm asking you!"

The celebration took place at the home of Laura Bolton and after the business meeting the hostess for the evening served refreshments and games were played later.

Another club which had held its spooner this year is the S. D. C.

not cursing the first act characters club. This club has been organized when they pull in 20 minutes late! for the second when they gave them of the year. He's really too tired for words! What we'd like to know is, the girls' parents as chaperons. Boys I'm sure you who saw him last night friends and brothers were also asked, making up a group of about 26 people. By the looks on some of the girls' faces, they had a good time.

Mr. James Hochkins, who is our teacher of a perfect lover (outside of practice) blossomed out last evening in very good voice and I advise you all to see him tonight. We concerned some old N. H. S. graduates at a steak feast Wednesday evening. The graduates present were

Janet Elington, Irene Modos and Margie Helmchen. There were other old ones also.

A really good soprano is always welcome. Miss Dorothy Mae Heaton is not croaking. She played the concerted old chaperone for the three belles with considerable ability no offense.

The three belles playing tonight,

of the matter, the matrons, are Pat

McLoughlin, Cirio Gross

and a certain Mrs. Schaeffer, who doesn't even rate a singing at least in my opinion. Vivian and Pat are excellent and if you wish to propose a spot on which to sit should be better run and set there before the adoption of the aforementioned arrive. Art Mitchell a chunk (until now) is very dictatorial that looks like last year's (year)

and Walter Garrison is very convincing

as a woman-hater. Leonard Young as Win Tut plays his part to perfection and plenty of congratulations to Robert Rembowski—all the kids have worked hard, let's back them up. See you tonight at the China Shop!

W. H. do you think that the freshness that was held over last year?

Do you think that it is good?

Constance Burgess—Yes, I do.

I am given an opportunity to those who are interested in learning how to do it. It would promote a more friendly feeling between student and teacher at present.

Dorothy Breitwieser—I think it is a good idea. There seems to be a lot of interest in the school even if most of us don't know about it.

Irene Modos—I thought it was a good idea, but how can a thing be done with people who won't cooperate?

Lillian Fritz—I think it is a special idea. Then they do what they want.

Then they decided what could be done with the vocalists. Here is the result of it. It is Wintner's efforts any capable music of Utica yields good results.

Next they tried their luck at the conventions. After many minutes of nerve-wracking effort, this is what they got. Pats, cats, dogs fight grandly; honorably, just kaisers like manifest nobility. Please question radium smugglers. Take vacations

willingly; x-ray your zeal.

Willingly X-ray your zeal.
