COUNCIL ACTS ON GREGORY'S RESIGNATION

Perrin Recommends Regular Cleaning of Streets in Business District

Commissioner William T. Gregory's resignation, tendered May 5, was accepted Monday evening at the Village Hall, where members of the council were in session.

No action was taken by the commissioners to appoint anyone to complete Mr. Gregory's unexpired term.

Although a solution to the problem was not found, a matter of vital importance to the village at large was considered at this meeting by councilmen: Commissioner Elmer Perrin came forward with the suggestion that a man be hired to clean the streets in the business district several times each week. It is his opinion that the work should be done early in the morning when the streets are free of parked cars.

The commissioners tabled the proposal for future consideration.

Chief of Police Loyle M. German reported to the council that his arrests for the month of May included six traffic violators, all of whom were found guilty and fined three dollars and the return of two run-downs from the Washtenaw County Training school.

NORTHVILLE'S NINE GRAB CLASS 'C' TITLE IN BASEBALL LEAGUE

Courtesy Orange and Black Northville won another triumph in the 11th annual baseball league. The team, coached by Coach C. J. Hart, defeated the Blue Sox 5-1 in the final game of the season.

In the eighth inning, Westphal hit to first base and scored. Westphal hit to first base and scored. Westphal hit to first base and scored.

Nothing else happened until the top of the ninth when Northville scored one run. The Blue Sox hit in the ninth, but were out when the fourth run was scored. Westphal hit to first base and scored. Westphal hit to first base and scored.

Westphal, first up in the eighth, singled and on a wild pitch went to second. He stole third and when Turnbull hit to first base he scored to win the game 5-4.

The starting lineup was: D. Hardesty, 1st base; Campbell 2nd base; Hochkins, short-stop; Turnbull, 3rd base; Garchow, left field; Way, center field; Getro, right field; Wolfe, catcher; Westphal, pitcher; C. Hardesty and Smith, subs.

This game is the last for players Dean Hardesty, James Hochkins, Bruce Turnbull, Lawrence Way, Kenneth Wilber, Clifford Smith, Edward Bauman and Billy Hanson. They finished the season with 11 victories and one defeat.

E. S. BEARD REPRESENTS DETROITERS BUILDING PLAN IN SUBDIVISION

E. S. Beard is the local representative for James Holden, Detroit, who is backing a building program centered in one of the village's most attractive districts, the late T. G. Richardson's farm, North Center street.

It is expected some building will be under way within the next ten days, some 45 acres having been placed under contract and will be sold in small lots.

According to Mr. Beard, workable plans for building and payments have been worked out for prospective home owners.

The fishermen who spent several days last week at L. C. Stewart's cottage at Burt Lake near Cheboygan, returned Sunday. In the group were W. F. Forney, Mr. Stewart, E. L. Mills, Floyd Northrop, H. R. Richardson, Darion Bunn and Elmer Smith.

Clark Heads Rural Hill Cemetery Association

During the past few weeks there has been considerable discussion regarding the future management and direction of Rural Hill cemetery, and a number of meetings of lot owners have been held, with the result that a new board of directors and a president and secretary and treasurer have been chosen. Those who have consented to serve on the board and as officers for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Harry B. Clark; secretary and treasurer, John Lisenberger; directors, W. A. E. P. A. Northrop, E. C. Bryan, Earl Montgomery, E. A. Chapman, H. B. Clark, Dr. Marz Gardner, H. R. Richardson and Charles Thornton.

During the past few weeks considerable work has been done in connection with improving the general appearance of the cemetery and this work will be continued during the summer as funds will permit. Lot owners who desire to care for their own lots may do so, and those who desire to purchase burial lots may confer with John Lisenberger, who has consented to act as secretary and treasurer in an effort to straighten out the association's affairs.

But few communities have a more attractive burial ground than Rural Hill and with cooperation on the part of the lot owners and the new officers an effort will be made to add to its natural attractiveness.

The original association board, established Oct. 1, 1908, was composed of L. W. Sumner, F. H. Langham, C. M. Thoulon, Frank N. Clark, Mrs. J. M. Swift, George Clark, J. A. Dumas, T. G. Richardson, A. D. Brooks and E. M. Brennan.

SUGAR INDUSTRY IS EXCHANGE TOPIC

By C. V. DOLPH

Exchange has been an interesting topic in the total of Michigan's sugar industry. The Michigan Sugar Exchange, which is the only one of its kind in the state, was the speaker. He said that the average person would be surprised to learn that the Michigan Sugar Exchange is not a sugar company, but a non-profit organization which is organized to protect the interests of the sugar producer and consumer alike.

Past President C. R. Ely, Dr. H. I. Spaulding and President Paul P. Tromper will attend the State convention of Exchange clubs in Battle Creek this week Friday and Saturday.

SIMMONS AIMS PLAN TO KEEP FRUIT PRESTIGE

Other States Hoisting Crops Inferior in Quality; Organize Orchardists

Apple growers of this immediate section are starting a wake-up and live movement to stop the growers of other states from taking Michigan's markets away from them.

It seems to be a defense proceeding, and it was set in motion by Zed Bowling of Orchard Hill, East Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills. George R. Simmons, Northville, is one of the committeemen for the project.

A meeting of eastern Michigan apple-growers was held recently at Orchard Hill. Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Meadowbrook Farm, Rochester, who is a member of the State board of agriculture, presided.

Plans are being considered for the building of a central storage and packing plant to serve the counties of Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Lapeer, Genesee and Oakland counties. Other counties later may be brought into the storage and packing territory.

A general committee was appointed to work on this plan and present it to a later general meeting. Howard McCracken, appraiser of the Pontiac Prediction Credit association connected with the Farm Credit administration, was elected chairman. Others of the committee are: Ross Burton of Farmington, Henry Ross, Rochester; W. K. Bristol, Almont; Russell Pickering, Franklin; Roger S. Hubbell, Milford; and Zed Bowling, Bloomfield Hills. Officers who have worked with the committee are Gage Hylton, Russell and Jay Bolton, Louis N. Spier, and Harry McCracken of Farmington; also George R. Simmons, Northville; Clayton C. Grant, Rochester; and Karl D. Bailey, Oxford, agricultural agent, Pontiac.

WALLED LAKE FACES SCHOOL HOUSING NEED

Eagle District Annexation Is Up for Consideration; Vote Thursday

By C. E. HUTTON, Walled Lake

A special meeting of school district number 1, fractional of Commerce township was to be called for Thursday night of this week at the Walled Lake Consolidated school for the purpose of voting on the question of Shall district 1 of Walled Lake township be annexed to school district 1 fractional of Commerce township?

The meeting is the result of an unusually difficult enrollment situation which has faced the Eagle district for the past several years. Much pro and con discussion has occurred over the logical move to remedy the problem, some of the Eagle residents preferring not to annex the Walled Lake district while others favored the idea.

A recent meeting in the Farmington school building was held to discuss the proposed annexation. This meeting was attended by Walled Lake representatives.

Village's Beloved 'Aunt Ida' Is Detroit Poet's Subject

When readers of the Detroit own country for Aunt Ida Henry's News picked up their paper June 7 they were happily surprised to find a poem, "Aunt Ida" written by Anne Campbell. This Navy poetess visited our village recently to address the mothers and daughters and at this time was introduced to "Aunt Ida" by the poetess. The conversation insured the following lines:

"AUNT IDA"
By Anne Campbell

She is "Aunt Ida" to everyone in town
One time a stranger asked for her name
The townsman whispered his best
And then "Aunt Ida" finally came
To his perplexed mind, and with a great pride
He said: "Oh, I know her! You mean Aunt Ida!"

She knows each child in the village street
And every man and woman she
She has a smile for everyone she meets
The town is glorified by her presence
There is no heart so cold but confers
With her kind words and gentle ways

JACK AND JILL SHOP DISPLAYS SUMMERTIME WEAR FOR CHILDREN

The show window of the Jack and Jill shop is attracting favorable attention this week with its original display which suggests that a summer and swimming time are here. Palm trees, originally constructed of a series of cork for trunks and leaves cut from green paper, overhang an array of gay colored swimwear and sun suits for kiddies.

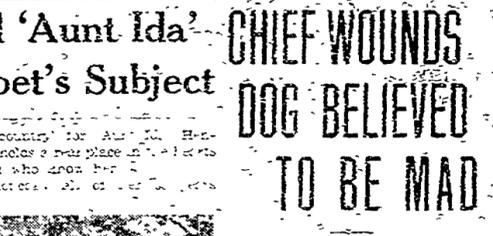

V. M. Pilgrim designed the palm trees for Mrs. Pilgrim, the proprietor of the shop.

The residence of Judge and Mrs. Arthur S. Nichols is being improved by a fresh coat of paint.

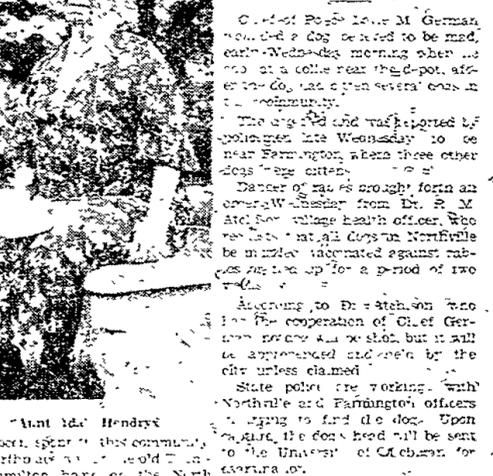

RATHBURN SPONSORS OPEN HOUSE, JUNE 15

The American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor an open house on Tuesday, June 15, at the Rathburn Chevrolet Sales. The sale will be held from 10 o'clock to 6 o'clock.

The American Legion Auxiliary has taken over the responsibility of finding chairs for the Boy Scout building. So far, the boys have had to sit on their thumbs, according to Scout Master Harold G. White. Almost everyone has an old kitchen chair or bench tucked away in the cellar or attic which they can spare for this good cause. If those who have old chairs to contribute will call Mrs. W. H. Johnson, 157, or Mrs. J. H. Bolton, 127, they will be picked up. The public is urged to help out in this practical way.

THE NORTHVILLE HOUSING SITUATION

Northville has a shortage of houses and apartments to rent.

Just why do we need houses and how many more do we need are pertinent questions to ask.

The obvious answer to the first query is that industry both in Northville and in nearby communities is attracting an increasing number of workers to this area. A second reason is that the picturesque location of Northville—the only hilly section in otherwise table-like Wayne county, is luring many people who are not only tired of the noise and congestion and confusion of the city, but are at the same time seeking a beautiful site such as is to be found here. Some people call this need for homes desperate. For example there call at the Record office almost daily for people who tell us that they can find no place to go. "What can we do?" is the usual plea they make.

Just for a moment look at one industrial reason for more homes in Northville. The new Broughs plant now going up on the Plymouth road. It is said, in the not distant future employ 1,500 men. Not all these men who are going to work at this plant will want to live close to it. Well informed people tell us that the hills and dales of Northville will attract many of these new comers. At the present time there would be no place to put any such would-be residents.

Excessive rents in Detroit is another reason that is driving people out into the suburban section. Many of these people do not care to live in the small cottages and two or three room houses that are being built by the hundred in the northwest section of Detroit. They want schools, churches and a modern business section for the convenience in which they bring up their children. This simply means that they will drive past many of the so-called "small houses" between here and Detroit and seek a home in Northville. Many such people have come here in recent years and possess a real affection for their newly adopted community. Up at the grade school the other day we met a mother of four children who said their family came from Detroit ten or fifteen years ago and they would feel very glad to be in Northville. "We first left Northville and it is now to be sold."

With this specter of over crowding to be avoided in Northville, what can be done about it? First, how many people do we wish here? There are some very descriptive, peering local residents who think it would be a mistake to attempt to bring in a host of new people. They think Northville cannot assimilate large numbers of outsiders. Northville is a ten-able attractive home community with some of the beauty of landscape. "Why spoil it by making it a city of too many homes and apartments?" and these critics are not the "inactive" type who resent the entrance to town of any newcomer, no matter how good. If these critics had their way they would make Northville's population increase gradually and normally (if there is such a word here).

On the other hand, there are plenty of folks who would like to see the home town "boom." They would welcome scores and even hundreds of newcomers. They say, "It would help business and make a more progressive little city."

Regardless of whether one wishes to have "Detroit's most picturesque suburb" stay pretty much as it is—a cameo of beauty—or have it get to booming, the fact remains that folks are wanting to come here to live—more folks than our present homes and apartments will accommodate.

What can be done about it? Inasmuch as we have no organized Chamber of Commerce, as has our neighbor, Plymouth, it seems to us that our action will have to be personal. Already there are signs that individuals are seeking to provide homes for more people.

Recent Record issues have carried two ads telling how homes can be built on an easy financing plan.

Then we hear that a whole row of lots in the village has been recently sold—that surely means more homes. We also hear that a certain party—or parties—is likely looking to Northville as a place to build homes for investment.

So after all, something is being done about it. Northville is altogether too choice a spot to be left without the right number of homes for the right kind of people.

WHO HAS THE RIGHT TO WORK?

The unfairness of the continued sit-down strikes must be apparent to an impartial observer. How will the public tolerate this unfairness?

In Detroit last week a sit-down started at Chrysler's when "two union men" refused to work alongside two non-union men! When the sit-down had run its course nearly 10,000 men were out of work. What a price to pay for such unbrotherly action! What of all this talk of the unions believing in tolerance and fair play?

As a matter of fact, should any man anywhere have to pay for the right to work? In this particular Chrysler case, didn't the non-union men have just as much right to support their wives and children as the non-union men?

GET READY FOR MORE TAXES

More and better and bigger state taxes are coming your way!

It's not a pleasant prospect but facts have to be faced sooner or later.

We have just read two editorials that rather jar us. One is from one of the greatest daily newspapers in the country, the other is from one of the most influential county seat papers of the state, published by a veteran member of the lower house.

Read this from the Detroit News of June 4:

With its work on major legislation otherwise not creditable, the Legislature is headed full tilt for assuming the largest burdens of taxes and expenditures in the State's history. And this is coupled with peaks of Federal spending and taxation unexampled in times of peace!

Then to be sure The News isn't biased think over this from the type-writer of Vernon J. Brown of the Ingham County News (Mason):

The inevitable is about to happen. Despite what the governor has said about no new taxes this session, there will be new taxes. Notwithstanding the democrats in caucus have repeatedly warned their fellows against the dangers of the Murphy administration allowing new taxes, new taxes are in the offing. The administration finds it cannot promise everything to everyone and keep its promise without having more money without which it cannot be done.

Difficulties are things that show what men are. Epictetus.

If you seek a delightful peninsula, look about you. Motto of Michigan.

SPEND FIVE CENTS AND READ IT

Some of The Record readers undoubtedly have read "I Want to See the Editor" in the May 29 issue of The Saturday Evening Post. If you haven't done so, spend a nickel and get a better understanding of some of the problems of the publisher of the home newspaper. With all its grief, we prefer it to the other fellow's worry.

FORD "60" OWNERS REPORT 22-27 MILES PER GALLON

The 60-horsepower Ford V-8 is writing remarkable mileage records on American roads. Private owners and fleet operators alike report averages of from 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. You can fill the tank of your Ford "60" and drive all day—300 to 400 miles—without stopping again for fuel. Besides costing less to run than any Ford car ever built, it sells at the lowest Ford price in years. That's double economy!

The "60" delivers V-8 smoothness and quiet at speeds up to 70 miles an hour. It is built into the same roomy body as the famous "85"—with the same modern features of comfort and dependability that make the 1937 Ford V-8 unquestionably the quality car in the low-price field.

MRS. EDITOR

SHE GRADUATES

With the same surprised wonder and pride that all mothers feel when their sons and daughters finish school with honor, we watched our "little girl" graduate the other day.

These with mingled joy and anxiety we waited in our place in the front seat of the gallery. A hush fell over the great audience. "They're coming!" folks whispered and leaned forward as the organ pealed out the processional.

First came the dignitaries with their hoods of varied colors indicating their degrees, then came the trustees, men of means and influence, following them the self-conscious seniors two by two moving up the aisle.

For one particular person we watched in this procession of and-gown-clad figures, one dark, curly-head wearing that strange "mortar board." And then some way the scene became blurred and we saw instead a graceful little figure in white dress and bonnet leading ahead of us while we followed closely with arms outstretched to catch her if she should fall. "Be still, beating heart!" we sternly resolved. "This is a time for gladness. Put away that silly handkerchief!" Yet all the while life and experience whispered "She is crossing the threshold of girlhood."

And the glad wild ways of her school girl days are things of the long ago? "Didn't we know—for down that same aisle we had marched with care-free lightness 30 years before?"

A long, serious address and other ceremonies gave an excellent chance for "ere" and "time to get our bearings before that procession of seniors filed across the platform to receive their diploma from the curly-haired teacher, the last remaining member of the faculty of our day. Each mother present craned her neck to look admiringly at her own son or daughter. There were no others who looked so fine!

Out on the campus in the sunshine of a late afternoon of a perfect June day small groups strolled about over the green saying farewell and taking snapshots—pictures that that would be cherished throughout many years as relics of happy days. The sun was sinking. Time to get on home. This chapter was closed. Behind the dormitory cars were parked while patient parents waited for that closing ceremony of packing up that strange collection of treasures accumulated by a girl for four years. Not an easy thing to do; to uproot the memories. "One last remembering, one minute more. One glance around my room—then break the spell. And pack away my books. No use to dwell. On winged hours passing—other girls before. Have said goodbye and softly closed the door.

Bravely go. Along the empty halls, nor turn to stare. At ghosts of days, dear days, be hind me here."

In that room many a lesson had been learned, many a battle fought, many a decision made, many a friendship formed. These have been important years. At their beginning a hero-writer wrote this note: "If at the end of four years they can say of my niece 'She has held to her ideals, she has not followed the crowd, I shall be satisfied.' Who knows how much that letter under the glass top of the study table helped her to finish the course, to keep the faith!"

At last we are all crowded into the packed car and, sighing with deep satisfaction, we join the procession of proud parents moving homeward with a daughter by their side.

passage (I Cor. 10:13): "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 293): "Rise in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man."

Salem Federated Church On Sunday morning, June 13, the usual worship and Bible School hours will be given over to the observance of Children's Day. We hope to have with us the babies who are on our Cradle Roll and our other little folks of pre-school age. Mrs. Will Crawford, superintendent of the Cradle Roll department, has been asked to introduce the mothers and babies.

We shall be happy to meet our friends at the party birthday supper Friday evening, June 11. There will be tempting food in a variety to suit all tastes.

Presbyterian Church Notes Children's Day Service 10:30 a. m. This service will be held in the church. The program includes songs, recitations, craft roll, a special children's sermon and a dramatization, "Color Blind," played by members of our Sunday School and Church. The place of Christian Science periodicals in carrying on healing ministry, disseminating information for humanity that it may find relief from its burden of sickness and sin featured the report of The Christian Science Publishing Society, presented by Richard R. Harrison, Manager. Mrs. Eddy's statement on page 271 of Miscellaneous Writings was quoted that students of Christian Science should not be afraid to read for a work for the world. This applies to the purpose of the periodical.

Could Have Been Much Worse
 A man was stammering disconcertingly in the office of an Ottawa village. On being asked by the station agent why he looked so forlorn he replied, "Why, I've just missed that train of only half a man."
 "On is that all?" said the agent. "Why, to look at it, a bog'd think you'd missed it by at least half a man."

 to school, "Beach Northrop," a school-mate, said "Let Ida Hamilton read. She's the best reader in school." All through the years since she has kept her love of reading and many a program has been brightened by her contributions. Aunt Ida is not afraid to be numerous and loves to give folks a hearty laugh.
 For many years her untiring devotion to her brother James occupied her time. For a long time Mrs. Hendryx was the village seamstress, in the years when skirts were wide and intricate, with many faring gorges, lined and interlined till they rattled, and finished around the bottom with "brush binding" that swept the floor. Many a girl graduate stepped upon the platform wearing a white dress that was a ripple of ruffles made by the patient hands of "Aunt Ida."
 Now that home dressmaking has become a past art Aunt Ida still plays her busy needle piecing quilts or garments for the needy in her zeal for the work of the King's Daughters.
