WALLED LAKE VOTE FAVORS ANNEXATION

Only Few Taxpayers Held
Call to Special School District Meeting

By C. E. HUTCHIN

An annexation of the Eagle school district to the Walled Lake Consolidated school district carried by a vote of 28 to 8 at a special meeting of Commerce, No. 1, fractional district held Thursday night at the Walled Lake school.

The returns marked by a very small attendance, proved to be principally of routine nature. J. Cecil Cox, president of the Walled Lake school board, explained the purpose of the special session, which had to do only with the voting on the proposed question of annexation.

Inasmuch as the Commerce district is fractional, the township boards of each township affected, including Commerce, West Bloomfield, Farmington and Novi, must meet in joint session within 20 days of incorporation to decide formally if the Eagle district to be a part of the Commerce district.

Walled Lake had total disqualification of $9,660.00, the newly enlarged school area will enter into a more favorable financial condition which can be maintained at the time of incorporation or a slight extension of the part. There are many other benefits to be derived from incorporation of interest by the Lloyd H. Green Pub. Co. of the city of the village. In general, the records have been submitted to the various state public schools throughout the State.

Voters from the first wards voted against the merging and indicated even interest in the process. It is thought that the Walled Lake voters will take similar action in the near future. All the eastern section part of the town to be included in the new town.

Walled Lake has the first enrollment of 1,000 in its post high school education this year to be an outstanding success. It has been a leader in sports from the first start of organization at a community school and other schools of its type throughout the State.

ROYAL OAK CHAMPS DEFEATED BY LOCAL LEGION PLAYERS

Northville's Legion players defeated the Royal Oak Legion Saturday, June 12, 6-5.

It was Royal Oak's first defeat in league competition in five years. Het pitched for Northville, giving up six hits, walking four men and striking out nine men.

PWA RESERVOIR PASSES FINAL LEAKAGE TESTS

Williams Begins Backfilling
Entire Structure; Ready for Service Soon

The Northville PWA reservoir under construction since April, 1935, passed all inspection this week made by Engineer Harold F. Hamil.

H. B. Culverisen contractor and the Western Waterproofing Company have completed all repair work on the leak and according to the engineer's report, there is only a loss of one inch of water over a seven-day period.

Backfilling of the entire structure was started Wednesday by E. L. Williams of Ypsilanti. It will take at least three days to complete this job.

The reservoir which has been filled with water for the past three weeks will not be put into service as long as there are men working on the site.

Mr. Hamil said that it was felt that final estimates for the project could be ready for presentation and acceptance by the village commissioners when they met in regular session Monday, June 2.

Mr. Hamil said that it was

With a ship deck setting and jigsaws, the officers chosen by Captain Bruce-Turnbull and First Mate Jane Groves, the vice-president, Carl Arnold, secretary, members of the 1937 graduating class sailed away on their final class cruise Tuesday evening in the Northville high school auditorium.

Mary Jane Gregory, treasurer of the senior class, stepped forth to read the "Baptist Bobo," was a fine success leaving the audience well satisfied. A mock wedding was the final event of the season. Rehearsal began at 10:30 p.m. Monday, June 14, when his master of ceremonies, the minister, got married and thought he was the groom.

We now leave the school regretting that we have not more years to attend and trusting that we have been of some use and profit to the school.

GOOD LUCK TO THE GRADUATES

This week another crop of graduates leaves our high school to start at a new milestone in life. Some will go to college but a greater number will go directly into life's busy activities.

The cheapest thing in the world is advice and so the out-going seniors get plenty of it. We feel like adding a little bit ourselves.

It is our observation that education is only half of the preparation for life. The bigger other half is character. Laugh at it if you want to, but the young man or woman who goes out into the world resolved to tell the truth, work early and late, make friends by paying the cost of friendship, leave liquor alone and give a little attention to spiritual values, will in ten or twenty years from now be found a leader in some community.

GOVERNOR MURPHY ON THE DEFENSIVE

As a result of his attitude toward the sit-down strikes and the general labor disturbances of the past months, Governor Frank Murphy is very much on the defensive. In fact so much so that Lansing correspondents to the daily papers have been making a special mention of this in their writing.

The Governor has been most bitterly criticized for his failure to stop the seizure of the capital city of Lansing two weeks ago when an emboldened mob took over the streets of the city and caused wage and business losses variously estimated from $200,000 to $500,000. The situation has become so bad that many thoughtful people are saying something like this: "There is no longer any law in Michigan."

When one considers the way in which power strikers paralyzed the whole Saginaw Valley for an entire day, with only some wrist slapping on the part of Governor Murphy, the seeming prove that our state executive has far more interest in a manufacturer's right than in the general public at large. It can be seen authority of The New York Sun says, "Michigan's chief executive is more of the law."

What is the real cause of all this? Is it that Governor Murphy is so much to be blamed? No, certainly not. It is that the leaders in labor in Michigan have lost all sense of reason, justice and morality. Most of us speakers in Michigan could probably give him a list of names of men of this sort of disorder. Individuals are such that our Governor will surely have to decide between the interests of the people at large and a minority of power-drunk labor leaders.

SOWING THE WIND; REAPING THE WHIRLWIND

Faming indignation has been spreading over the entire state of Michigan the past two weeks as the result of lawless action of strikers and their sympathizers.

The taking over of the streets of Lansing for nearly a whole business day and the turning off of power in Flint were the crowning outrages of weeks and months of breaking law and defying our courts and law enforcing officials. The loss that these lawless activities has caused is running into millions and millions of dollars. This loss ultimately will hit every home in and around Northville. It is a loss that, if continued, may easily bring a slump in business that will strike at every home.

When Michigan last winter laughed at the beginnings of the sit-down strike it little knew that it was literally "sowing the wind," but now it is beginning to realize that it is "reaping the whirlwind." No thoughtful observer will deny this statement. The situation was and is serious.

As an evidence of the devastation of the sit-down strike and its lawless progeny, witness that Detroit has already lost two factories which have closed their doors. And such an impartial newspaper as the Detroit News said editorially, in its issue of June 10 that a third concern employing hundreds of Detroiters is on the point of being forced out of business by labor troubles. The owner, at any rate, just has called in public accountants to go over his books of recent months and determine in cold blood whether he can afford to remain longer in business.

No wonder the Neys goes on to say: "There really is such a thing as killing the goose that lays the golden egg and unionists, both leaders and rank and file, had best wake up their minds to it."

Perhaps the most alarming feature of this whole harvest of violence and lawlessness is the spreading of class hatreds. At a time when most men and women are hungry for peace and quiet and a chance to earn an honest living, we have the unnecessary arousing of hatreds and devastating feuds. It would seem to sane people that five or six years of terrific world break-down and bankruptcy would be sufficient to satisfy normal people. What glutons for punishment human beings are!

As the result of the latest idiosyncrasies and outrages people at large—and don't forget that they are by far the vast majority of the public—are getting to the boiling point over these labor disturbances. If union heads are as smart as they pretend to be, they will start cultivating a greater respect for law and order.

SELLING MICHIGAN TO HOME FOLKS

peninsula look around you. The above is the state motto of Michigan. It is a motto about which most of us think all together too little. The glories of the state of Michigan are really almost past description. One could spend many weeks in visiting the various beauty spots of this truly marvelous state.

All of us owe a vote of thanks to the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for the splendid task they have taken in "Selling Michigan to Michiganders." Following the plan in force for the past nine years, the telephone people are devoting their advertising space in the newspapers of the state for a few weeks to convince not the outside folks, but the own natives what a splendid place this is for a vacation. The state has appropriated thousands of dollars to bring people from other states to Michigan; the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, on the other hand, is doing a splendid job in convincing our own inhabitants that right in their own state are some of the finest spots in the world in which to enjoy a summer rest.

You will see these advertisements as alluring as a sunset at Bay View and as refreshing as a swim in any one of Michigan's thousands of lakes. If any of these ads should cause you to take a vacation not before enjoyed in Michigan, you will certainly be grateful to our enterprising telephone people. They are doing a splendid service to the state in the way of keeping business at home and developing the various resort sections of the state.

If you really want to live this summer, See Michigan first.

By MRS. EDITOR

to "make-not" to stop and retain; If relations are to be as cordial as to him the news and the amusements of the class or the visit as at the sphere of the outer world. Summer time and visiting time have come again. Our sister, Florence Puddick-Bors, writes this very kindly comment on the fine art of being a good visitor:

"My Grandmother used to say, 'I always welcome comers and goers, but not corners and stayers.' Which reminds one that the Good Book says, 'Remove thy foot from passenger rate raise, and there are no more elaborate preparations were made upon both sides. The house was on the physical comfort of our guests pleasant. Much expense and the enormous trunk was crammed with new changes of raiment for every occasion."

Equally important are the responsibilities of the guest. The hostess knows less about her own so thoughtful guest will take care to let chicken dinner with all these. She will try to fit into the household regime with as little upsetting of arrangements or schedule as may be. If the hostess does her own work, she will help and will try not to make extra work. If her hostess is popular and has a succession of visitors, the result of summer's hospitality may mean a serious drain upon her time, purse and strength.

But the spiritual meeting which a guest accomplishes may be more far-reaching than the material. The little housewife who displays prominently her guest's nest of home, her perfectly good husband and her adorable children will be rebuffed if they point out numerous ways all the aforesaid might be made very clearly.

The summer craft evokes to the country where are cool breezes, green fields and running brooks, is of all impressions the most unusable. The rural household is at this season of the year overburdened with extra and necessary work. For the city cousins to come in the rush season and expect to be kept up and forged with the activities of the farm is the height of inconsiderateness. Of course, if they come with specific reason to help that is another matter.

Lewis E. Lawes Boosts Boy Scout National Jamboree in Washington; Urges Help For Boys to Join Youth from all Parts of World

Lewis E. Lawes, Warden of Sing Sing Prison for the past 18 years believes it would be best for the National Scout Jamboree to be held at Washington, D. C. June 20 to July 9, provides an unusual opportunity for Americans to perform a constructive service in the interest of the Scout Movement for our future manhood.

The Jamboree, he says, will be one of the greatest events in the history of our country or some one's name. The boys which are gathered together more than 25,000 boys of American boyhood. It will bring into contact and in their minds represent an exchange of ideas, preparation for later life. The influence of trained social leaders in the interest of vast importance.

Today in many communities of the country, Warden Lawes said, boys are preparing to go to this great Jamboree. But, there will be countless others who though willing and desiring to attend, will not be able to do so because of economic reasons. Permit me therefore, to assure you is my own and not suggested to me by the National Boy Scout organization,

Today I propose that citizens provide the means which will enable at least on Scout from every community to afford the Jamboree.

Warden Lawes feels that in its 21 years lasting friendships can be formed between the Boy Scouts of America, and when the horizon of his life, having touched the lives of countless men, can be broadened.

More than seven and a half million boys and men. He disclosed that an important survey of the Boy Scouts in other sections of the world, showed that while one of every 240 boys had a feeling of cordial will among non-Scouts was Julian Court decided for future peace among Scout only one of every 930 boys.

HEAT NECESSITATES EARLY FRUIT SPRAY

Fruit growers in this county and in other sections of Michigan's apple and peach producing area are warned that, together, late-bought out batches of cooling rain water and surplus two-weeks' supply should be applied now.

Apples are affected by both cooling water and the excess, but the same spray can be used for protection. Three rounds of sprays of rain are recommended in case gallons of spray. Spraying should be thorough, for the eggs are laid in both leaves and small fruit. Many inquiries regarding spraying another proof that burning trees is in each section, for Calendar Extension Bulletin No. 154 the same uncertainty of dogwood only the circulate in the active pest is available from the office of the state and other undesirable species.

Demonstration of proper methods of timber stand improvement is in right places, a little while ago. The agent soon a very valuable part of the extension control program features of the work carried out by the federal government. For 100 gallons of spray will be a group of rural young people and their county agent, Gordie, in Berrien county. The soil conservation service helped a local extension agent to prevent burning or young in a row of Fort's River Rouge of the Morgan farm for test plant and attending Navin Field, the demonstration. Large trees were cut down, and the timber utilization stage sponsored by extension workers for a cut into logs and stored wood. The soil to largely furnish plants for a year through Cranbrook are worked to a good wood, and the June 8 and a week end during it. Every tree was cleared. Red oak Wendor Woods, June 11, 1932, with stumps and stumps were planted to Miss Emma DuBose, county home project director representative.

JUNIOR ENTERTAIN SENIORS

The junior class of the high school complimented the graduating class of 1937 with a farewell banquet at the school Friday night. It proved to be a very pleasant affair with about 100 persons in attendance, including the faculty members, the school board and other guests. Following the excellent supper, an informal and entertaining program was presented. Miss Lois Penn, chairman, presented the toastmaster, Bob Ship, who introduced Miss Jean Stofer, in her welcoming address to the seniors. Junior Clark senior class president, responded. LaRay Davis sang two numbers, accompanied by Miss Penn. The guitarist was in charge of Don Patterson and Fred Lee, who made clever and amusing speeches in presenting the seniors with various symbolic "minkets." The class will be given a white French chiffon, a pink choufford in final supper and white hat and veil combination, and matching accessories. Her flowers, at the residence of its director, were roses and valley lilies. Miss Charles Hutton, who with Mrs. Charles Cox concluded the program with a toast to the seniors. Unique favors were at each place at the tables, in the form of programs made to represent colors with class colors attached.

NuREXFORM Arsenate of Lead. NuREXFORM is unusually effective in controlling codling moth and many other chewing insects. It is the ideal arsenate of Lead for combining with Lime Sulphur, mixing readily without luster formation.

NuREXFORM remains in suspension. No settling in the tank of your sprayer—no sediment to be scraped off the bottom and thrown away. For a larger sack of premium fruit next fall, be sure to use NuREXFORM.

Lime Sulphur (Dry Sulphur) is fungicide and insecticide. It is used to control San Jose scale, blight, black spot, leaf curl, leaf spot on apples, peaches, pears and sour cherries.

Flotation Sulphur Paste is precipitated Sulphur of extremely fine particle size. Used to control apple scab, peach brown rot, cherry leaf spot and many other fungi diseases.

GRASSELLI Arsenate of Lead assures you a high percentage control of codling moth because it contains a high percentage of killing ingredients as is possible to incorporate in an approved quality arsenate of lead.

With oil with silicone oil, this compound may be used as an insecticide and an outside. In addition, it goes into suspension in the spray rig and works well through hose lines, thus eliminating clogs, delays due to sludge, clogged screens and nozzles, and blocked lines.

IT'S GOOD TO GET OUT OF THE ALL THREE CLASS!

"I'M SO PROUD OF OUR BIG NEW NASH . . . AND IT COST JUST A FEW DOLLARS MORE THAN THOSE SMALLER CARS!"

Let Mr. H. R. Rich of Chicago tell you why he got out of the "All Three" class!

"I'd been driving one of the 'All Three' cars for some time. It was a fine car, but it took better time getting in and out of the class again. The new 'All Three' '400' simply amazed me. Actually it cost just a few dollars more than one of the 'All Three'."

Look at that car in the picture. It's a great big 117-inch wheelbase Nash LaFayette "400". You get a 90 horsepower, six cylinder engine. You get large hydraulic brakes, stronger all steel body, extra-wide seats, more headroom, legroom.

Double Features Are Booked Here For Film Fans—Sally Eilers and James Dunn Co-Star Sunday in Hit, "We Have Our Moments"

NIGHT KEY Boris Karloff's latest starring picture, Universal's "Night Key," has been booked by the Penniman-Albright Co. to open Friday, June 24. The picture is an entirely new type of tale, Universal has taken an intensely dramatic story around the burglar alarm systems which protect thousands of banks and business houses.

Karloff, as a sympathetic human character, plays the role of an interior who defies both police and gangsters to regain a valuable invention of which he has been robbed.

The romantic leads are played by J. Warren Hull and Jean Rogers. In the supporting cast are Alan Baxter, Hobart Cavanaugh, Samuel Hinds, Doug Orlow, Ward Bond, Frank Fletcher, etc.

WE HAVE OUR MOMENTS Sally Eilers and Jimmie Dunn, one of the screen's popular combinations, have teamed together again in a sparkling comedy drama, Universal's "We Have Our Moments," which opens Sunday at the Penniman-Albright.

The story concerns a girl who becomes tired of being a school teacher in a small town. She leaves for Europe for one grand good time before she settles down to what promises to be a gay marriage. She finds herself involved in an adventure at the Methodist church.

A discussion of plans for next year was next held, which will include reorganization and the adoption of membership rules, preparation to the most intensive season of music in choir's history. Girls were presented to the director and to Mrs. Paul C. McRobbin in appreciation of their work during the past year. Mrs. Fred H. Thayer and Miss Dorothy Russel were each presented with tokens of appreciation for their work in staging the recent children's pageant sponsored by the choir. Following the meeting's adjournment the group enjoyed a visit to the amusement park on the south shore of the lake.

ATTEND HOMECOMING DINNER

The annual homecoming dinner and social meeting of the Walled it seems is though Leonard Young took his turn and has risen to that elevated position as President of the good ol' U. S. A.

While traveling in Monte Carlo, we saw our very famous detective Lawrence Way, picked up two of the world's greatest criminals, Madeline Brammer, who was sought for a jewel thief, and Michael Zayti, the card shark. He is taking them to Sing Sing now.

Guess what! Evelyn Raymond became a baroness over night and her ladyship is waiting for Rose Knight We wonder how long she will have to wait.

While in Paris I attended a theatrical performance and was much to my surprise they had on the bills outside the door Dorothy Niles "Jane Withers" only

I suppose you all wondered what happened to Harold Bellit. He is staying at Hotel Beau Rivage in England and I found out that Lord Coleman was very happily married to Mavis Shurtliff. Though he has been examined regularly by Dr. L. O. Gibson, U. of M. graduate for last 45 years in practice, Dr. Bellit is still a good doctor.
