Superintendent of the exhibition

sands of persons from this and surrounding counties during the week of Aug. 25-28, report that early registrations have exceeded those made by this date of previous years.

Heading the draft horse department
this year is E. M. Starkey, then assisted by a representative of the Wadsworth Stock Farm, Ray Housler and Urie Hobbits.

Mrs. Parlie M. Brown will again
be superintendent of the junior
horse show, and Harry E. Clark
heads the senior horse show.

Roy Schepel is superintendent of
the cattle exhibits, while Carnal
Section is responsible for the calves
and sheep exhibits.

G. E. Richardson is general superintendent of the poultry and pet
stock departments, while A. E. Fuller is the member in charge.

E. L. Besemer, Wayne county agent is the superintendent for the agriculture displays. Ralph Torn-man heads the horticulture booth
with the assistance of Lure Begart
and Henry Hill.

Mrs. F. S. Harmon is again at the

L. C. Stewart, H. H. Hamilton is the speed champion, aided by Mr.
Starvaether, William Ralstonbury
and Lou Bullen.

George Smith, superintendent of schools at Plymouth, heads the educational booth where entries will be acceptable from all schools of Wayne county and any school within ten miles of Northville in Washtenaw and Oakland counties.

Exhibits in this section will be limited to manual arts, domestic art, art, engineering, trade school
and Smith Hughes project.

Heads Seal Sale

Mr. Mills for several years has headed the local Easter Seal sale by means of his office of treasurer of
the Wayne county chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children.

Mark Seely has the task of seeing that the fair grounds are policed during that week. D. J. Stark is superintendent of the man bullen's bullets in this section.

BULLET WOUND FATAL TO BOY SHOT SUNDAY
AT WALLED LAKE PARK

Joseph Weinman, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weinman, 2235 Hazelwood, Detroit, was fatally wounded by bullet at 5:30 p.m.
Sunday, as he stood near a shooting
gallery at the Walled Lake Amusement Park, 13 Mile and Novi roads.
He was rushed to the Pontiac General hospital.

According to Oakland county deptates, the bullet entered the boy's right side, severing an artery.

The bullet was fired from a .22 caliber revolver. Mrs. Stanley Hull, wife of one of the shooting-gallery attendants, told Oakland county officials that she witnessed the entire scene. In a statement made by her to sheriff John C. McHenry, she said Joseph and another boy about seven or eight years of age were standing in front of the gallery.
The boy reached up, took the gun and fired at Joseph, who staggered back several steps before he fell to the ground.

Mrs. Hull further asserts that a girl about 18 ran up to the boy who had fired the revolver and said,
"Jackie, get your daddy." The boy ran away. This story told by Mrs. Hull bears out a statement made by the Weinman boy when he regained consciousness at 11 p.m.
Sunday an hour and 20 minutes before he died. He told doctors he had been shot by a little boy.

Further investigation by officials disclosed that William Stewart, an attendant at the gallery, arrived at the scene a few minutes after the boy had fallen to the ground. He picked up the revolver and removed the shells. He admitted his act to Assistant Prosecutor W. F. Dohanehy.
No charges have been made

E. L. Millis Gets Livingston County Edison District Agency

With the reorganization of the Edison Edison company districts along county lines, E. L. Millis, for the past 12 years manager of the Northville and Howell offices, has been appointed agent for the Livingston
district with headquarters at Hor-
well.

Pending the necessary changes in the district of the new Livingston
district, Millis was unable to say early this week
just when he would move to the Howell office. "I expect to get into the new office the first of the month," he said.

E. J. German Comes Here

Succeeding Mr. Millis will be E. J.
German of Wayne, who will operate

the Wayne and Northville offices having been assigned the agency of the Wayne district, which now includes Northville, Plymouth, Belleville, all of the county, exclusive of the Detroit metropolitan area.

Mrs. Parlie M. Brown will again
be superintendent of the junior
horse show, and Harry E. Clark
heads the senior horse show.

Roy Schepel is superintendent of
the cattle exhibits, while Carnal
Section is responsible for the calves
and sheep exhibits.

G. E. Richardson is general superintendent of the poultry and pet
stock departments, while A. E. Fuller is the member in charge.

Home Owners Stay

If it is possible, persons who own houses here will not be asked to move. The same holds true of the Eastowne Sanatorium, a women in the office. We'll try to take care
of those who do not live at home with
their parents and aid in their support
of the home, he assured.

"There will be no lay-offs, the chance will be made with as little discomfort as possible. I anticipate the turn out before the first of the month," Mr. Mills explained.

At the present time, there are 36
employees at the local Detroit Edison
office, exclusive of the service men who may shoot trouble" the lumber men and the substation employes.

When Mr. Mills, together with Mrs. Mills and daughter, Ruth Mary, leave the village, a number of organizations and enterprises are looking to suffer the loss of outstanding leadership.

Mr. Mills for several years has headed the local Easter Seal sale by
means of his office of treasurer of
the Wayne county chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children.

Likewise, the Rotarians will have to make a number of adjustments
in the business of recording the affairs of the club. Mr. Mills, after years, has been named secretary of the Rotary club, a post he has carried on in the same business like manner which the Detroit Edison company has valued through the years. Until this year Mr. Mills combined the work of treasurer
along with his secretary's job.

Mr. Mills has been active in the Our Lady of Victory church and prominent in leadership in the League of Catholic Women. In addition, she has entered into the social life of the community. The paper on Northville's factories which

BOOKLET HOLDS STORY OF EARLY NORTHVILLE DAYS

Way Back in '92 Villagers
Complained of Gouges

Among the cherished souvenirs of the Misses Lena and Permelia Kon-zak, two books, "Northville, the ideal Suburban Village," published in the year 1882.

This book was loaned to The Northville Record and proved a most interesting glimpse into the residents of our village when folks had but scarce time of their location which

because of its rolling hills has earned for it the name "The Swiss-land of Wayne County." With pride this book points out the advantages of this place as compared with the crowded city. The abundance of the pure water supply is named as one of the great attractions.

Full of quaint illustrations, this booklet shows scenes of the factories of other days "in full blast." Main street is shown with hitches posting its unpaved streets where the horses of tradesmen are tied. Down the road rolls the impressive village

"pack" and the fringed top "sur-re," of some dignitary. No traffic problem here. On the sidewalks older mothers in bustles with their children rolling hoops beside the trees.

From Buckner's Inn (now the Eastowne Sanatorium) a women in
the office. We'll try to take care
of those who do not live at home with
their parents and aid in their support
of the home, he assured.

Gone with the years are the Globe
Furniture company to Elly Doar Manufacturing company, the Mettler Opera House, the Perrin Wagon
Shop, the Indiana Manufacturing Company, Grandine Iron of the older residents now and new names of the district. H. Hayes, child welfare instructor number 1, C. C. Cross were the invading officers.

Also present on this occasion were
the following last commander of
this post: Charles Murphy, A. V.
Barber, Mr. White, Mr. Bellon, Mr.
Alexander, Martin Kotek, C. M.
Elk, Walburg, Elmer, Charles, Solon
and Mr. Kehler.

The Varnell Gold Corp put Northville on the map for years when it cured alcoholics of the habit for $50 for three weeks' treatment.

On the vacant lot, where cars are now parked on the corner of Main and Center streets, stood the village hostelry, the "Park House," where according to the description "the needs of the weary and thirsty traveler are adequately provided for at per day."

The old grade school building which was destroyed by fire two years ago, is pointed to as "Northville Union school, a most symmetrical and imposing structure where eight teachers are employed."

All together the booklet gives the reader a most enlightening background of the village and deeper appreciation for those who helped found its institutions. Only one sentence has a familiar, present day ring: "40 families are seeking houses here and there are no houses to rent."

CLINIC TO GIVE PRE-SCHOOL AID HERE WEDNESDAY

Mothers who have children entering school in the fall, whether they're first graders or not, have been urged by leaders of the sponsoring organization to take advantage of the Red Cross Baby Clinic, which will be conducted Wednesday, Aug. 14, in the Village Hall.

This will be the last opportunity mothers will have to take their children for a physical check-up at the clinic before school starts here Sept. 1, stressed Mrs. Eben Ward Lester, chairman of the local Red Cross Baby Clinic.

"If transportation is wanted, a
call must be placed with Mrs.
Lester before 9 o'clock on the day
of the clinic.

ROYAL OAK MEN AID IN LEGION SERVICE

Merrill Sweet Is Commander
of Lloyd H. Green Post;

Monday evening when the Lloyd H.
Green post held its annual installation service.

Sitting in the office of commander for the year is Merrill Sweet, working with him are Arthur Carlson, first vice-commander; Harold Church, second vice-commander;
Lyle Alexander, adjutant; and Fay Milner, chaplain.

Also present on this occasion were
the following last commander of
this post: Charles Murphy, A. V.
Barber, Mr. White, Mr. Bellon, Mr.
Alexander, Martin Kotek, C. M.
Elk, Walburg, Elmer, Charles, Solon
and Mr. Kehler.

The local post is endorsing Mr.
Alexander for election to the office of state commander of the department convention which will be held July 24.

T. P. Biddle will load his bus to the annual Townsends announcement to be held at Brush's Plymouth and taking a draver car
bearing approximately $10 in cash

arrested July 31 at the Ford Motor company, stated Mr. Roberts, detective of the Detroit police. He says he "got off easy" from the fair off, paid a sum of $250 each. He stated that he got off because he formerly worked on the Ford motor plant.

Two other boys were charged with intent to steal $100 in cash in the men's room at Brush's Plymouth and taking a draver car

Another account of the rob-

the past two years, was picked up here Monday on Plymouth avenue
by Chief of Police Loye M. German.

The youth had been working as a farm hand in Davison for the past few weeks and had escaped the arm of the law at the time the other eight arrests were made. He has been employed by two Northville
farm dealers.

Arrestment was held yesterday

FARMER "TAKES IT ON CHIN"

If this statement taken from last week's Huron county (Bad Axe) Tribune is correct it is a startling bit of information:

Verne Vaniman, American Farm Bureau Federation organization director, pointed out that labor receives 70 per cent of the national income while farmers, constituting 25 per cent of the nation's population, get less than 10 percent of the national income. The present situation of agriculture economically—that the most important group of workers, representing 25 per cent of the nation's population, get less than 10 per cent of the national income—is grossly unfair.

WHAT IS THE "CLOSED SHOP?"

(At D. Gallery in Tuscola County Advertiser)

In these days of one strike after another, the words "closed shop" is a means by which employees are compelled to know just what the term "closed shop" implies. But a brief news item from Pennsylvania tells the whole story.

In a hosiery mill a group of girls of the Mennonite sect worked. Their religion forbade them to join any organization such as a labor union. But their plant became a closed shop under which those not belonging to the union could not work there. It meant that the employer would be compelled to discharge these girls and they would lose their livelihood.

The union, however, had the answer to that. Its officials agreed that if the girls would pay the regular union dues they would not have to join. And that is the story.

In the final howl town the union did not care whether they belonged to the union. It wanted the dues. The "closed shop" is a means by which employers are compelled to pay over a tax upon each pay envelope or quit work.

A FRIENDLY RELATIONSHIP

(W. S. Kennedy in Albion Evening Recorder)

One incident in the recent strike settlement most significantly points out the difference in labor relations between employees of the small communities like Albin and those in the Detroit metropolitan districts. Following the settlement of the Strikeable strike a considerable group of McDaniel employees gathered in front of the home of President R. D. Brown and Vice-president Raymond H. Gardner. It was a happy crowd of friendly relations. They didn't yell for "Brown" or "Gardner." They wanted "them" and "Ray."

Such a demonstration is, of course, impossible in the big industrial centers. There are too many involved and the heads of the factories are remote personalities as far as the average workman is concerned. They can't know many of their employees by sight or name. Quite different from the situation here where many of the factory men grew up with the heads and call each other by their first names.

With this background of relationship and the fair tactics of the A. F. of L. leaders in contrast with the C. I. O., we have a right to expect future disagreements over wages and conditions in local factories to be settled around the conference table before, not after, a strike.

WHAT'S WRONG AT HOME?

(Farmington Enterprise)

After hearing a lot about the waywardness of children of the present, it occurred to Rev. Clinton D. Cox of Chicago to get the viewpoint of the youngsters themselves, which he did through asking 175 boys to write freely their ideas on "What's Wrong With the Home."

Among the answers given by these boys, who ranged from 14 to 16 years of age, were the following:

"A boy wants a mother who can keep a secret and not tell the neighbors everything about him."

"The girl's word is always taken and the boy's word is always doubted."

"Home is a court room and every member in the family tries to take a hand in raising the boy."

"Parents never admit it when they are wrong."

"People who led the wildest life before they were married are the strictest parents."

"Mothers try to hold other boys up as models too much."

These are only a few of the answers, but they indicate that the children believe there are a good many faults on the parents' side of the case, and doubtless that is true.

Young persons will usually acknowledge their shortcomings and accept reproof without resentment if they feel that the parent is right and fair. But it is often difficult for parent and child to see things from the same angle.

To deal with children firmly when necessary, yet without apparent harshness, is not always easy.

DRUNKEN REVELERS—INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION

These two editorials came from the pen of M. H. DeFoe, editor of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

The other morning about 2 o'clock a crowd of drunken revelers were brought to the hospital and, at once nurses and doctors were hastily called to take care of the blood smeared patients. In their drunken stupor they were positively insulting to the professional people who had been summarily called to the hospital. None of the party had enough money to pay for the services rendered to a single victim, let alone the group. It is distressing at times to wait upon sober people in the middle of the night but to have one's rest broken and then be followed by insults from drunken customers is undeserved penalty. Why not legislate some of this financial loss on the people who make any profit out of these wrecks—the saloon-keepers of which pyramid group the state takes the biggest cut.

Another industrial depression like the one that began during the first year of Mr. Hoover's administration will destroy America's economic system. Another World war like the one that began in 1914 will destroy civilization and carry the world back to the days of barbarism and savagery.

It is time for labor leaders who are loyal to American institutions, and for capitalists who are loyal to them, to bear in mind that this is no time for foolish words and foolish action. "There is," said Rant, "only one thing that is good, and that is the good will." This world of ours, and this America, which is our part of it, is calling today for men of good will, as it has not called for them for centuries. There are such men in the ranks of both labor and capital, and there are men in both ranks of another stripe.

The men of good will should get together without delay and take the men of bad will by the throat. What America's destiny is to be will be settled in the next few years—it may be in the next few months.

Bette Davis Heads Theatre Booking
This Week End - Newspaper Reporter
Is Ann Sothern's Role Here Sunday

"MARKED WOMAN"
 Bette Davis, who won last year's Academy award as the screen's greatest actress, makes her 1937 bid for renewed honors in a gripping story taken from headlines that have flashed across the front pages of America's newspapers for many months.

This picture, directed by Miss Davis to give her the most powerful role she has ever portrayed, is "Marked Woman," the first National production booked for the Peacock-Alan theatre beginning Friday.

The film is said to take audiences behind the scenes of certain metropolitan night clubs, long suspected of being owned or affiliated with nationally notorious gangsters of the mob power, coming from racket investigations. It is the story of those beautiful girls who serve as hostesses in these joints, and whose lives are forfeit if they discover the orders of their ruthless exploiters.

The chief racketeer in this picture is played by that super-matching villain, Edward G. Robinson, who gained such fame in both stage and screen persons of "Winterset."

was a football hero, also plays one of the featured roles.

Other well known players are Bradley Page, Maria Shultz, William Corson, Maxine Jennings, Chester Clute, Harry Worth and Roy James.

This is the fourth movie in which Raymond and Miss Sothern have appeared opposite each other. They play the roles of rival reporters who are in love with each other.

1000 MANY WIVES

"Love at first sight," as exemplified in the dizzy romance of a wealthy society girl and a resourceful young man who creates jobs for himself. On the spur of the moment, makes the basis of RKO Radio's "Too Many Wives," a highly entertaining piece of light-headed film fare which opens Wednesday at the Peacock-Alan theatre.

In addition to its mirth-provoking qualities, the picture is notable for its presentation of Ann Shirley, not as a pig-tailed hoyden, but as an elegant heiress—a startling transformation which the flame-haired little actress accomplishes with ease and aplomb.

"THERE GOES MY GIRL"

A splendid cast supports Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern in their newspaper romance-drama, "There Goes My Girl," showing at the Peacock-Alan theatre Sunday.

Playing one of the featured roles is lovely Joan Woodbury, one of Hollywood's most versatile and accomplished actresses. Miss Woodbury does a difficult Spanish dance in a light-dub setting, as one of the highlights of the picture.

Richard Lane, popular Broadway actor, who recently made his motion picture debut, plays the role of a hard-boiled city editor, and his portrayal is said to be outstanding.

Frank Jenks, who scored a hit in the last "Lily" Pons picture, "That Girl from Paris," is seen in the role of a newspaper reporter, a part which gives full sway to his talents as a comedian.

A newcomer to film circles, John Morley, plays opposite Miss Shirley and aquits himself excellently. Gene Lockhart, always to be relied upon for laughs, is perfectly cast as Miss Shirley's millionaire father, and prominent in supporting roles are well played by Dudley Clermont, the publisher, Barbara Pepper as a secretary, and Frank Nelson as Shirley's society rival.

BIG BUSINESS

With Dad Johnson's high-pressure rock salesman-and America's future folk dream of sudden wealth from a mineral oil well boom, there is no better gift for Father for Jones Family fans everywhere in the TV night Contour-Pix picture, "Big Business," in the stars is set to open Saturday, Aug. 13, at the Peacock-Alan theatre.

In the face of the family's get-together dream the big keep on dreaming of love and romance and in the end it is the big who save the family from trouble when the big boy is exposed.

Dad is by Frank R. Strayer, with Max Goldie as a shrewd producer. The score is by Robert Fiske and Harry Fagan, present, and always deeply interested in which Dad does. It is the character of Alton, played by George Brent, that has him most in the company to keep a watchful eye on. Special effects include roller, spiral, double "Shirley" Dean, barrel, Greece, Kentucky, Hawaii, George Street, June Collier, Florence Roberts and Billy Mahan succeed with varying degrees of confidence in the salesmanship of promoter Jane. Grandma Jones, however, is suspicious, and she delegates the two Jones boys to Russell Gleason, whose romance with Shirley Drane is threatened by Jane, to get the truth about the well.

A climax involving a thrilling auto ride which gets the boys to the family just in time to prevent the loss of its reputation and money brings one of the most rousing conclusions ever to nightfall of the series.

In the meantime you can be chopping 1 cupful of celery to mix with the Beans along with  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoonful salt and 2 tablespoonsful India Relish. Moisten with Mayonnaise and set aside in the refrigerator to chill. When ready to serve, fill 6 tomato cups with this Bean mixture and garnish with slips of watercress tucked under the tomato lids. Nestled in a crisp lettuce cup, this makes a salad of noble proportions.

QUICK COOLER
 GOOD WAY TO STAVE OFF A HEAT wave in a menu is to tick a crisp cool salad in between hot courses. This cubed tomato salad now is guaranteed to take down the temperature of any summer supper. Start with 6 medium sized ripe tomatoes, skin them, and cut each tomato into sections from top to within  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch of the bottom, spacing the cuts about  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch apart. Then turn the tomato  $\frac{1}{2}$  way around and make the same number of cuts in that direction so the whole top of the tomato will be cubed. Place each tomato in a lettuce cup, separate the sections and set aside the seeds. Then finish off with a topping made by merging 1 cupful shredded cabbage, 3 French vegetable cutlets, 1 cupful diced cucumber, 1 small onion, diced, 1 tea-spoonful sugar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  tea-spoonful salt, and 3 tea-spoonfuls Sandwich Spread.

STYLISH DAINTY
 Another recipe that will make most eaters salad-conscious is a mixed fruit salad served in a canape shelf. To begin with, take a whole cantaloupe, cut it in half and scoop out the seeds. Then scoop out the pulp in little balls.

Cover these melon balls with  $\frac{1}{2}$  cupfuls of pineapple, wedges and  $\frac{1}{2}$  cupfuls of pitted Bing cherries, and  $\frac{1}{2}$  cupfuls of whipped cream and fruit salad dressing.

As a perky salad garnish,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cupful of mint leaves dusted evenly in powdered sugar.

For the Fruit Salad Dressing, end together 4 tea-spoonfuls sugar, 1 tea-spoonful salt,  $\frac{1}{2}$  tea-spoonful flour, 1 egg,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cupful grape juice,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cupful orange juice and 4 tea-spoonfuls Pure Olive Oil.

Stir thoroughly after the addition of each ingredient. It's easy done so! Take a medium sized can of Oven-Baked Red Kidney Beans, put the Beans in a roaster and pour boiling water over them. Then drain and cool.

For any kind of fruit salad, mix all, and set aside to cool. Great.

MEN-FOLK FARE
 Here's a sizable salad that will please the men-folk of your family. Please the men-folk of your family.

Tomatoes stuffed with Kidney Beans. Try it sometime for the main course of a cool summer luncheon. It's easy done so! Take a medium sized can of Oven-Baked Red Kidney Beans, put the Beans in a roaster and pour boiling water over them. Then drain and cool.

BOY SCOUT NEWS By Philip Baldwin

Each week. Everybody got to work and put up the tent and settled the camp. We stuffed our ticks with raw and each fellow had his bed.

The camp is located on the shores of Lake Huron. The land belongs to the Boy Scout Master, Orlow G. Owen.

Twenty-one boys, led into the Charles Schools were the camp truck with our boys packed with our clothes and supplies. The bunks also were up every morning from a sound sleep.

We ran down to the beach and started our outfitting up there.

We got there about 11:30 just as the Am. Camp "Chuck" Arrived. All the boys are good swimmers. The ones on duty went up ahead to get breakfast and did the dishes after.

We then took a plunge into the cold lake.

After a swim we got back into camp and Mr. Owen said, "How about going to the show tonight?" So we all got dressed up about six.

Then we lined up to town and saw "Hobson's Choice". It was about quarantine when we got the theatre and got back into camp. That made about twenty miles of biking in one day.

Now we hope to have a new tent.

It's time to begin the

Henry Freese Writes Of Fine Horses, Pretty Girls, Poverty

STARRET CAN PLACE HIGH-SALARIED MEN

According to Mr. Freese, "The poor man never gets money enough ahead to do anything with. He is a sort of slave over here. There is no such a thing known in this country as a working man accumulating enough money to buy a Ford automobile." They are 100 years behind the good old U. S. A. We should be thankful and appreciate all that Henry Ford has done to give our poor men and women work and good pay, so everyone can enjoy life, anybody else."

The letter continues: "When we left for Scotland in the spring, I promised I would write you. We have had a lot of cold, wet weather, only a few good days since we arrived here."

I know you will be as interested as I am to see the way the people in this country farm it. There is one thing sure, they have good horses, good looking girls and good whisky. You never saw any better horses than they have here. Crops look good over here. But farm machinery is a lot different than ours."

The railroads, the engines and cars look like ours. Hired help is very cheap. The men work like slaves, from daylight to dark. There are miles of stone fences, all covered with green moss. Some buildings about here were built over 300 years ago and are good yet.

"Good farm land near Aberdeen and other places around here are all owned by the Lords. There are 5,000 to 15,000 acres in each estate, all laid out in 80 or 120-acre plots. These are rented and all tenant farms are leased from seven to 21 years, a break every seven years. The tenant pays the rent and the taxes and the poor man never has anything."

"It was down to Aberdeen's fish market. Hundreds of tons of fish come in every day. I bought 30 pounds of codfish for 75 cents. Large smoked fish sell for one cent each."

"I could write you much more, but when I get home to see my good Plymouth and Northville friends I will tell you all the rest of it," concludes Mr. Freese.

"LAYING OUT" Amos Lawrence, millionaire merchant of Boston, founded his fortune not upon money but upon the exercise of energy, economy, and industry and the cultivation of a noble Christian character.

Generously benevolent at all times, he quoted in a letter to a friend the text by which he lived:

"The good there is in riches lies altogether in their use, like a woman's box of ointments, if it be not broken and the contents poured out for the refreshment of Christ they lose their worth. He is not rich who lays up much, but he who lays out much. I will therefore be richer by laying out, while the worldling will be poorer by his covetous hoarding up."—Christian Science Monitor.

PLENTY OF MEN

A Southern Irish soldier in France during the war received a letter from his wife saying there wasn't an able-bodied man left, and she was going to dig the garden herself.

Pat wrote at the beginning of his next letter: "At age, for goodness' sake don't dig the garden; that's a sad admission."

The letter was duly tensored and in a short time a box load of men in khaki arrived at Pat's house and proceeded to dig the garden from end to end.

Bridge won't be Pat saving that he doesn't know what to do as the soldiers had got the garden all dug up every bit of it.

Pat's reply was short and to the point: "Pat in the Spuds."—Edmund D. Dapatch.

What's that bid over your wife's?

Pat? That's her bid!"

INSECT CURIOSITIES ARE ZOO FEATURES

Zoological curiosities from New Mexico, Arkansas and Ontario have swelled the collection of the Michigan Insect Zoo in Convention Hall, Detroit, during the last week.

Bugs that appear to be a three-way cross between scorpions, crayfish and beetles are the two-inch vinegar roams from New Mexico. These curious insects have a pair of forelegs that look—and are indeed—much like those of a crab, crayfish or lobster. Their big bodies look like that of the Prionus beetle, and they sport long tail pieces reminiscent of the scorpion. They are voracious, often attacking each other in their cage. But they are death on smaller insects, and so come under the "beneficial" heading.

From Arkansas come a pair of cottonmouth water moccasons, poison snakes of the swamps and lowlands. Never found in the northern half of the United States, water moccasons pack deadly venom in their snowy jaws. They strike without warning, and are highly feared in their native haunts. They live on many varieties of land and water insects, rodents and fish.

The Canadian curiosity is a blushing katydid—a biological "spectre" that closely resembles the common green katydid in everything but color. But this insect's coloring is a violent rose-pink from the tips of its long antennae to the end of its tail.

Some 15 varieties of more common caterpillars, beetles and other insects, including many now feasting on Michigan gardens and fields, have also been put on display. The Insect Zoo is open daily from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The second musical production scheduled here during Fair week on Aug. 27-28 is "Cavalcade of Stars." A dancing ensemble of 16 gorgeously costumed girls appears in the show.

Walled Lake News BY CHARLES E. HUTTON

WIXOM VOTES ANNEXATION

Wixom school electors Thursday night decided against annexation to the Walled Lake district, by a vote of 32 to 27. The question had been raised at the annual school meeting in June, but no action was taken at that time. The result of Thursday's vote came after considerable discussion of such a move.

H. E. Neiman, director of finance of the State department of education was present to address the meeting, and conducted a discussion of the principal question raised in connection with the annexation issue concerning a possible guarantee of a continuation of a six grade elementary school at Wixom.

C. A. Hoffman, Walled Lake school superintendent, stated there was no question of abandonment by them in the past few weeks,

as far as the maintenance of the school would be concerned, which is not the case. The school in question would be maintained as long as the people of that area wanted it to be.

The valuation of the Wixom district is $25,000, as compared to Walled Lake's valuation of about $5,000,000.

Proponents of annexation asserted that if the Wixom area joined the larger school district, the total cost to the Wixom area in the coming year would be about $3,000, which would include transportation and maintenance of the present Wixom school unit. It is believed independent operation of the Wixom district, as at present, will be considerably higher.

The opportunity for adjacent districts to take advantage of the educational and economical benefits to be derived from affiliation with this district is being offered at the most opportune time, while people are disposed to receive them," said Mr. Hoffman. "We are preparing our plans, not for the future. After they are established and working, annexation of other districts may not be so easily accomplished."

HUNTS PROWLER

Deputy S. J. McQuern was called at 12 p.m. Thursday to investigate a report by Clyde Neighbors that a prowler was seen about his home on Bass Lake road. Neighbors reported that he saw a man was flashing a light through a rear window of the house. This is the third occurrence of similar nature experienced by
