FAIR PRESIDENT

Elmer L. Smith

Heading the Northville Wayne County Fair which opened its gates Wednesday for the twenty-first time is Elmer L. Smith, who is serving his second year as president of the association.

CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT

Amerman, Harrison Make Class Alignments for Teaching Personnel

With the census showing an increase of some 50 pupils over those of school age here last year, Superintendent R. H. Amerman predicts the largest enrollment in the history of Northville when registration begins here Sept. 1 and 2.

"The increase will likely be in the grades," asserted Mr. Amerman, who says that there will be no pre-employment of pupils of kindergarten and grade school age.

Mr. Amerman, together with Principal G. V. Harrison, this week completed the assignments for the teaching personnel in both buildings.

Coach Elliott Barr is scheduled to teach physical, gymnasium and history.

Miss Tisha Brassfield will instruct classes in algebra, United States history and geometry.

Mathematics and English will be taught in the eighth grade by the junior high school principal, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke. Elroy Ellison, another junior high school teacher, will have the manual training and mechanical drawing classes.

Miss Kathryn Gilmer's schedule is limited entirely to the commercial department. A class in mathematics and algebra will be taught by Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Frank Hawkins will lead the high school English department and Mr. Marshall Herrick will teach junior high English, along with civics and social science.

Miss Geraldine Huff will teach industrial geography, general science and chemistry.

Leslie G. Lee will conduct the choir, glee club, band and music for junior high school students.

Miss Gladys Lantry in addition to the girls' physical education program, will teach social science and biology. Edward McLeira will instruct classes in speech, American government, debate and history.

Supplementing her work in French and Latin, Miss Jose Palmer will have a class in ninth grade English.

Miss Doris Reber has charge of the home economics department and the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith will be the religious education instructor for the first semester.

The tentative schedule for the grades makes the following assignments:

Miss Nora Wilson	2
Mrs. O. F. Reng	3
Miss Beulah Miller	4
Miss Estelle Griffiths	5
Miss Margaret Carpenter	6

PAUL B. THOMPSON IS ROTARY GUEST

An abbreviated session of Rotary was held Tuesday noon due to the fact that part of the membership was "covered up" with Fair activities.

Paul B. Thompson was present and gave a short talk on his recent vacation trip in the north. The present season has been very favorable to deer and they are often seen in pairs in the more remote section of the country rather than the usual one. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are now nicely located at East Lansing where he will begin work in the fall for his Master's degree.

ESCAPE ATTEMPT ENDS IN DEATH

Training School Girl, 16, Receives Fatal Cuts From Door Glass

In an attempt to save her 16-year-old roommate, Darphida Chicks of 2815 Baughman street, Detroit, from jumping through a window from a room in their cottage at the Wayne County Training school, Aug. 16, Viola Brammery, also 16, 567 1/2 Twenty-third street Detroit, gave her life.

Viola's death, according to Dr. A. M. Atkinson, who performed a post-mortem, was due to an acute heart dilatation caused by anesthetic shock.

The girls, with 25 others, lived together in one of the school's cottages. It is reported that Darphida threw a flower pot through a glass door of the cottage and attempted to jump through.

When Viola tried to stop her, she was pushed, sustaining a severe cut on her right hand. She died while an anesthetic was being administered.

E. H. Williams, county auditor and chairman of the institution, has asked that an investigation be made by the prosecutor's office. John A. Rocca, assistant prosecutor, has been assigned.

MUNRO BUYS ROLL OF CAR TICKETS

After writing a check to pay for a bill of lumber, J. O. Munro, Novi farm owner, asked Harold Church, manager of the local branch of the News Lumber and Coal company, how many free car tickets were in one of the large rolls provided merchants by the Northville Fair association.

Mr. Church found out by checking the serial numbers on the first and last tickets in a new roll. The number was 2,009, so Mr. Munro wrote another check large enough to run his purchase to $500.00 and received the entire roll of tickets. Mr. Munro is building a new barn to replace one destroyed by fire recently.

"The only drawback to having so many tickets is that my crops may suffer while I'm signing my name 2,000 times," Mr. Munro was heard to say as he left the News office.

SCHOOL BOOK EXCHANGE

Used books will be exchanged next Wednesday and Thursday, says Leslie G. Lee, who has charge of the library at the school. If those who are interested will attend to this matter now, it will save confusion at the opening of school.

COUNTY MEN COMPLETE NEW BRIDGE HERE

Route Traffic Over River Rouge Friday; Structure Cost $5,000

For the first time since July 5, traffic was routed Friday, Aug. 20, through local avenue over the middle branch of the River Rouge where a new cement bridge has been constructed by Wayne county.

Northville, one of the first communities to profit by the road improvement program which is being pushed by the county, may now host a $500 structure near the Detroit Edison sub-station. A convenience to traffic, the bridge is further regarded as a motoring safety project.

When construction was started in July, engineers in charge of the bridge anticipated that the structure would be ready for use by the middle of August. Despite heavy rains which caused delays in the work, the bridge was completed, practically on the deadline.

PRESIDENTIAL PARENTS ARE EMBARRASSED

The wine-throwing incident at Cannes, France, in which John Roosevelt, son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, is said to have gaily thrown a glass of champagne in the face of the Mayor of the French city, brings more embarrassment to the collegian's parents than it does to himself. Every parent who has seen their supposedly well-trained children do "fool things" will sympathize with the father and mother in Washington. They will probably also agree with The Detroit News that the next time the young man goes abroad he should have a chaperone. This matter of young people bringing embarrassment and discredit to their parents is found on every side. If even the presidential home is not immune, what shall we say of the millions of other homes where the training and opportunities are far less than in the homes of the "higher ups". Good heritage and fine bringing up no longer seem to be a guarantee that young people will behave like ladies and gentlemen. Give the modern young person free use of the automobile day and night, some spending money and a chance to drink liquor and he will proceed to make a fool of himself in short order.

All the fine home training, higher education and unusual opportunities often seem to make these young people exceptionally foolish. Embarrassing parents and friends is the least of the worries of some of our smart young people. Even the President's son doesn't seem to worry about making his "Smart Alec" actions a topic for international discussion.

VANDALS HIT UNION LABOR

The ordinary reasonable person is glad to see organized labor get a fair deal. Most of us believe in collective bargaining and reasonable working hours and good industrial conditions. The tragedy of recent months has been that racketeers, exploiters of labor, yes, and Communists and radicals of all hues have been making "suckers" of the working people. Examples of coercion, persecution, malicious physical injury and all manner of inquisition could be given by the thousands if the facts were all exposed to the daylight.

A recent example of this was seen at Cleveland, Ohio, where 30 home owners, to save money and keep within their budget, banded together and painted their own homes. These home owners painted their houses without union labor, some of the men doing the work themselves. Shouldn't one be able to do that in free America?

What happened? During the night vandals, with some form of spray outfit, covered these newly painted houses with great blotches of red paint. Such a vicious action is simply typical of many things that have been going on in the name of union labor in the past few months. Is it any wonder that public sympathy that started out to be for the workers has swung completely to the other extreme? If the cause of Labor cannot be placed and kept in the hands of decent, law-abiding leaders the whole cause of Labor will be set back many years. How could it be otherwise?

YES, YOU'LL HELP PAY IT

The Congress that has just adjourned has appropriated over nine billions of dollars. Even Carter Glass, Virginia Democrat, who certainly knows his figures, says that this would be $1,290,089,000 more than last year. Nine billions of dollars is so much money that not one man, woman or child in Northville could begin to know what it means. Where is all this money coming from? Well, in a succinct word Walter S. Kennedy, editor of the Albion Daily Recorder, says: "It is coming right out of the hides of us who can least afford it."

Anyone who foolishly thinks that he will not help pay these enormous taxes that are piling up is just "kidding" himself. "Those who dance must pay the fiddler." How do you like the prospect?

WELCOME TO THE NORTHVILLE FAIR!

It is no trite saying that Northville welcomes everybody to its fair. Our latch string is literally out and if we don't always and everywhere show kindness and courtesy to our visitors, it is just because we are tired out and busy with a thousand details. Northville does appreciate this annual festival and all the co-operation and support that are given to this remarkable community event. The fair yearly adds a great deal to our Northville life, keeps us on our toes for many months of preparation and in general puts our town on the map in a very fine way. Without the inspiration of these August holidays there would be a temptation to let down and the whole community with its fine homes and streets would not look as inviting and attractive as they do now. The fair is thus a whole community stimulus.

No one persons, in fact no ten persons, are to be thanked for the success of the Northville Wayne County Fair. Co-operation on the part of literally hundreds of people is what puts over this great enterprise. Of course, this has all been said a hundred times before, but it does us no harm to pause and consider how truly harmoniously our people work together for our August festival. When it comes to being thanked for this 21st annual event a host of people can "take a bow."

PRESIDENT GETS HIS MAN

President Roosevelt's selection of Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama indicates precisely the way in which he would have "packed" the Supreme Court had not our Congress stopped this outrageous plan. If there ever was a "Yes man" on New Deal matters, it is the fighting senator from Alabama. The senator's only previous judicial experience had been on a police court. Quite a jump from that to the highest court in the world. Our own Senator Vandenberg voted against Black's confirmation. He says this of Senator Black: "He is a very able man in his field, but his field is that of a prosecutor rather than that of a judge." A criticism well worth pondering. Maybe the President has overplayed his hand.

WANDERING THOUGHTS

See you at the fair today and tomorrow.

Northville schools open September 7 and are we proud of our schools!

When the Millis family go to Howell to the new Edison job the community will lose some of the finest boosters it ever had.

Pretty nice of the Penniman-Allen theatre to close up for four evenings to help boost our fair! This is the kind of co-operation mentioned elsewhere in this column.

"Brother" North and his window cleaning crew are getting quite a reputation on Main and Center streets. Everyone respects a hard working preacher.

Just where are we going to put that new $75,000 postoffice? We understand that the government insists on a lot 100 feet wide. The new federal building will be something fine by which to remember our friendly postmaster, Fred E. Van Atta.

Sitting beside Sam Wilkinson at Exchange club the other day, this beloved man said that when he was a boy his father told him two things he had never forgotten. They were: "Water never runs up hill," and "You don't get something for nothing." Still true, although a very, very limited number get something for nothing at our community events.

HUSBAND By Theodore Werle

Every normal girl wants to marry. Most girls do marry. Yet many very splendid, otherwise normal, young women never attain marriage, and many marriages fail for reasons largely within control of the women. Recently Dr. Paul Popenoe of the Los Angeles Institute of Family Relations gave voice to his ideas on the subject. His discussion is sound, and young girls above 15 and their mothers ought to read him. Girls should train for marriage. Girls who are smart know that their greatest happiness in life will come in marriage, and they plan their future from high school on, with that hope in view. Thoughtful girls also will not run counter to the advice of their parents. Parents know that a happy marriage is built on more lasting stuff than the emotional spree of young lovers. To an emotionally roused young girl her lover appears flawless. Her parents, however, see him without the favorable distortion produced by love's trick mirror. And they see more, they see his background. They can evaluate the environment of his growing years, his family, his friends. These all will tell with surprising accuracy what the man is and probably will be.

A girl should be given opportunity to meet eligible men, especially men who are some few years older than she. Church groups are not enough. Often these groups develop into narrow cliques and so defeat the girl's high purpose. While never being aggressive in pursuit of men, a girl should be careful not to fall into the habit of associating too much with members of her own sex. The technique of winning and holding her man is today, as it ever has been, a sure. The male loves the feminine girl. She can catch him with her feminine loveliness, her sweet mystery, her happy dependence. What woman does not know this. Yet knowing it, many women fail to continue to nurture their husbands on this heavenly spiritual pectar. They grow careless of their appearance. They lose interest in the competition for loveliness and soon—disappointment. A husband may be able to adjust himself to some, not to staggering, disillusionment about the girl who becomes his wife. But he is likely then to expect that she should prove to be competent in running her part of their joint affairs. For that purpose—vigorous, thorough training for household and marriage in girlhood. The girl so fortified can grow into the matron, knowing she has the confidence of her husband, that his household is in good hands.

That confidence is the essence of his peace of mind and happiness. So, once again, girls, let marriage be your career. Go out after it cautiously, but purposefully. And when you get him—be prepared to do your share of the job ably and happily. That's what he'll like. Husbands are that way.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO With cool weather, giving added zest to the activity taking place in the buildings and on the grounds used on South Center street for the twentieth Northville Wayne County Fair, crowds gathered in the village all day Wednesday, completing exhibit registrations and staying over for the first of the free act attractions. Miss Peggy Anne Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Blake, became the bride of Alec P. Milne, son of George Milne, at a ceremony read Saturday morning, Aug. 22, in Angola, Ind. Before members of the immediate families, Mrs. Rose Shafer and James E. Orton were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the Orton residence of Horton avenue. Mrs. Josephine Carr, who recently reached her eighty-third birthday, had the misfortune to fall while going up the steps of the porch at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Fuller, tearing and bruising her left hand severely.

20 YEARS AGO The following is the list of Northville boys who, so far, have been accepted as soldiers in the U. S. Army: Harvey G. Hinchman, Chester A. Cram, Charles Alonzo Schoultz, Fred Hicks, George R. Simmons, Donald R. Safford, William Kroeger, Ralph A. Ryder, Guy E. Martin, Earl H. Montgomery, Walter S. Thompson, L. D. Stage, Harry M. Armstrong, Clayton Jordan. New cement road into town is nearly finished. Mrs. Hazel Killest Stewart is the new operator at the local telephone exchange. William D. McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCullough of this village and Miss Bessie B. Rathbun, daughter of Mrs. Ella Rath-

30 YEARS AGO An association is being formed and money is being subscribed for the purpose of purchasing the Yerkes flats and laying out the same into an athletic park and half mile race course. On Wednesday of this week Leonard Charter celebrated his eighty-first birthday. He was a member of Co. G, 14th Mich. Vol. Inf., and marched with "Sherman to the Sea." At the bride's home at Godrich, Cal., on Wednesday of this week occurred the marriage of Frank Stephens, only son of Rev. W. G. Stephens of the Northville Methodist church, to Miss Harriett Lillian Harris. Owing to the new school house not being quite completed, school will not begin until Monday, Sept. 9. The new building is one of the finest ever seen in a place the size of Northville. While crossing the street in front of the Park House Friday evening, Mrs. Charles Elliott was knocked down by Perrin's express horse, and although she was considerably bruised, she was taken home in the bus and is getting along nicely.

5 YEARS AGO The fighting Irish are capably represented in the political race for congressman from the seventeenth district by that well known democrat from Northville—M. J. Murphy. Out at the Fruit Ridge farm of Fred P. Simmons and son, George, on the Ten Mile road, about two and one-half miles northwest of Northville, picking has started on the biggest apple and pear crops that this noted farm has ever known in all the years of its history. After a grind of two years the steam shovels is nearing the end of its work on the new part-way system down at Center street just beyond the fair grounds. This project has gone on steadily under direction of the county park commission. Their plan originally was to continue it to the United States fishery but, due to limited tax funds, it has been decided to call this the fish for the present.

15 YEARS AGO The picnic of the Stone school was held Friday, Aug. 11, 1922, at the home of Elmer Jones and wife. It was estimated that between 150 and 200 former teachers and pupils of the school were present. The first of a series of ball games between the business men of Plymouth and Northville took place on the home grounds Wednesday afternoon, and the honors of the day were won by Northville. After an illness of several weeks, of Plymouth, were married Saturday, Aug. 18, at the home of the bride's mother.

HIS TRUE RELIGION Religious tenets ruled the conduct of the great warehouse of Samuel Budgett of England. One room was set aside for a chapel, and there twice daily "master and men" met for prayers, and there imbibed an exalted influence that demanded thoughtfulness, diligence, and fidelity. A man who had worked for Budgett for more than 20 years was once asked, "What use is all of this?" "The use?" the workman exclaimed. "See for yourself. There is no other such establishment for labor, harmony, and success in England." Another workman, asked to explain Budgett's success, replied, "His true religion."—Christian Science Monitor.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME

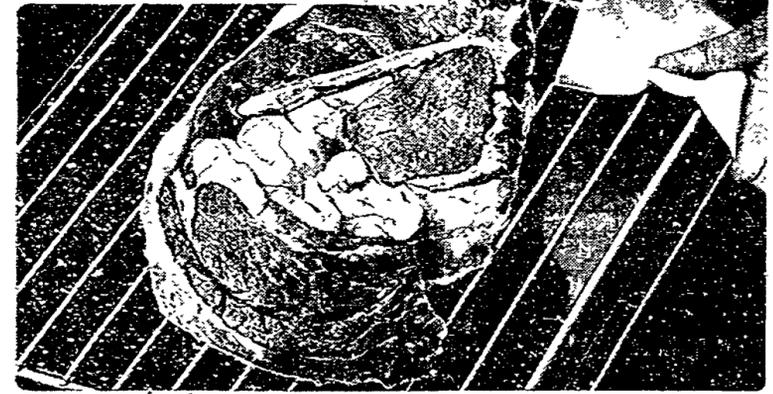

4 miles in every 5 are Stop and Go
You're going to do a lot of driving this summer, and so is every body else.
And that means more stops than ever in your daily driving in the city, country—wherever you are.
To cut down the high cost of stop and go, Shell engineers have developed a way to balance gasoline. This "balancing" process, by rearranging its chemical structure, makes Super-Shell "digestible" for your motor, just as cooking makes food digestible for you.
Your motor at all times gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content... you get the savings!

"My kitchen walls stay so much cleaner!"

AN ELECTRIC RANGE USER SAYS:
"Before we bought our electric range, we had to decorate the kitchen every two years. I bought my electric range six years ago and have not decorated the walls since. I have 34 plants in the house, all growing beautifully. I wouldn't be without my electric stove!"

THE ELECTRIC OVEN
Many women who use electric ranges comment on the ease and certainty of oven-cooking. Whether you are broiling a steak or baking a cake, you will be pleased with the results achieved in your electric oven. One housewife says: "It is almost impossible to point out any one feature that I like better than the others—unless it is the oven. My electric range is such a source of enjoyment to me!" * * * (See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers and all Detroit Edison offices.)

VACATIONING

By Florence Biddick Boyd
All the same thing, and no change makes Jack a dull boy. Everybody needs—at times—to get away from his regular routine and to do something else. The routine will find a tonic in a city vacation where he will see many new and wonderful sights. The city dweller will get the kinks out of his necks by running away from city noises, crowds and the smell of automobile gas, back to "Mother Nature" where he can smell the violets and listen to the birds sing and the brook's babble.

The deck-walker should swim and hike, stretch his muscles and lie in the sun. The manual laborer should indulge in physical rest. So we should all come back to our jobs with renewed zest, after trying the exact opposite for awhile.

HURON RIVER DEVELOPMENT ANTICIPATES FINE PARKS

Dr. Henry E. Riggs, Dr. Henry S. Curtis Outline Aims of Committee
As work of the Huron Valley Improvement Committee progresses, there are evidences of increasing interest in the project.

Prof. Henry E. Riggs, chairman of the committee, in summarizing the work makes the following observations:
The major problem is created by the location of the metropolitan area of Detroit, with some two million population, surrounded by hundreds of beautiful lakes and two river valleys. A circle with a radius of 30 miles, with the city hall as a center, includes the Clinton River valley, the lake area southwest of Pontiac, and about half of the Huron Valley. Within a circle of 50 mile radius there are infinite possibilities for developing public fishing grounds on the ample scale that is essential for such a population. The need for the protection of good residential areas along the river, and of lakes with many private cottages, from uncontrolled camping and picnicking is becoming greater every day, and the only sure protection is to be found in ample acreage devoted to public use.

The problem has not reached the stage of emergency, but present conditions indicate the need for thoughtful planning, the early acquisition of large tracts of land not now largely occupied by private cottages, or along rivers at points where present or potential residential areas are not interfered with, and the selection of a general route for a future double parkway which will give access to the whole area. Land for ample public park and picnic grounds need not be immediately along the parkway or rivers but on lakes two or four miles from it which can be reached by side roads.

The chief function of such an organization as this one should be the coordinating of efforts of all existing agencies. This improvement, which is bound to come in time, is distinctly one that belongs to the area, therefore no thought should be wasted on the possibility of securing federal help. The state stream control commission and state board of health on sanitary matters, the state conservation commission, on matters of game and fish planting and protection, and the state highway department are among the state agencies that should be vitally interested and should welcome cooperative effort. County park and highway boards, and county officials in the five counties, and various local organizations interested in fish, game and wild life, or in public improvements should willingly cooperate.

The importance of organization of such buildings in the country belonging to churches, settlements, Boy Scouts, etc.
On the Huron there are four buildings or camps and three or four others in the valley for the Boy Scouts, two industrial clubs of the Edison company: the Recreation Club for women just below the Geddes Dam and the Athletic Club for families at Belleisle Point, and a hunting and fishing club house a short distance above where Highway 23 crosses the river and the new boat club on Barton pond.
There is rather obvious need for club buildings for two other groups in the valley, one for the college groups at the University and Normal, for whom it may well be an essential part in the socializing process, and one for all the people.
During the last week end I have had the opportunity to notice the development of a series of club buildings of the second type along the Maumee River just below the Michigan line in Ohio. This work began eight years ago and has been going on ever since. A part of the buildings has been built by the state of Ohio and a part through the cooperation of the city of Toledo and Lucas county. All the work has been done by CWA and OCC labor.
The buildings are all of one story. They have no rooms for guests, but there are abundant tables and chairs and an excellent floor. There are

Mrs. Minnie M. Hutton is spending the week with friends at Nashville, Michigan. (The friends being my wife's folks.)

RETURN FROM TRIP Robert Dikeman, Raymond Harris, Ernest Campion and Francis Gilliam returned Tuesday about 2 a. m. from a 15-day tour of the Eastern states and part of Canada. (They had their feet at Avon Park, Rochester, last they didn't write home often enough. Larry Gilliam (dad of Francis) was about to send out a radio broadcast for them, if they hadn't showed up when they did.)

INVESTIGATES ACCIDENT Deputy E. L. McQuern was called at 5 a. m. Saturday to investigate an auto accident on Grand River road, near Witom road, where a car driven by Sargeant Smith, 30-years-old, whose address is the Dearborn Hotel, Dearborn, collided with a car driven by Laren Connolly, 18, of 2016 Crawley, Messexton. Both drivers received minor injuries, and their cars were badly damaged.

Double Features Attract Theatre Goers Sunday and Monday—'Let's Get Married' Heads Week's Booking In Northville

'LET'S GET MARRIED' They've talked about the weather and they've sung about the weather, but for the first time they've made a movie about the weather. It's called "Let's Get Married," and will be showing Sunday at the Penniman-Allyn theatre.

More precisely, it's a story about the weather-man, an official government weather forecaster played by Ralph Bellamy. Like a Penny from Heaven, his new invention, a balloon-type "meteorograph," falls on the pretty red head of Ida Lupino while she's attending a garden party in honor of her impending engagement—to Congressman-candidate Reginald Denny. Slightly irritated at thus being publicly assaulted, Miss Lupino is not quite cordial when Bellamy calls for his invention. Love, however, has a way of overcoming such petty obstacles, and romance runs riot and riotously, too.

The weather manages to get tied neatly into the plot when it is learned that rain would keep upstate voters away from the polls and thus assure Denny's election. Secondly, Miss Lupino had made a strange pact with Denny. Should rain interfere with a possible skiing honeymoon—then the wedding is off.

All sorts of complications arise when Bellamy, as tight as a boiled owl, releases a false prediction of rain to prevent the Lupino-Denny nuptials. From this point the story moves merrily to an extremely funny and perfectly proper ending.

'REPORTED MISSING' Combining the speed and thrills of aviation with a modern mystery plot, Universal's exciting flying story, "Reported Missing," opens Sunday at the Penniman-Allyn theatre with William Gargan and Jean Rogers in the leading roles.

The picture deals with the adventures of a young inventor who perfects a navigating device for a major transport plane of a major beyond the twelve-mile limit. Just before the final race, he is arrested as an accomplice, but things adjust themselves in vigorous fashion by the time the picture ends.

It promises to be just the sort of film that appeals to fans who like their action fast and their drama tense. Allen Brook gained quite a reputation as an amateur driver of speedboats and racing cars before entering the movies, and was thus able to do his own piloting realistically in the picture.

SIX-MAN FOOTBALL IS INTRODUCED IN "THE AMERICAN BOY"

In the early fall issues of "The American Boy" there'll be presented the story of a new game—six-man football—fast as professional football, wide open as basketball, thrilling as hockey!

The game came to life through the need of small schools for some substitute for 11-man football which was too expensive. Stephen Epler, a Nebraska graduate student in athletics, developed the game of six-man football to meet this need. In six-man football anybody can score, the possibility of injury from mass plays is minimized, and the game is open enough for spectators to follow every exciting development.

The new game is a hit. New schools are taking it up every day. In the coming issues "The American Boy" tells the world about this practical new game. In addition, it presents The American Boy Official Handbook which can be obtained from the magazine at 25 cents a copy or 15 cents when bought in bulk.

Note: Subscription prices of "The American Boy" will be raised in the near future. Send your subscription order at once to take advantage of the bargain rates now in effect: one year at $1 or three years at $2. Foreign subscriptions 50 cents a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to "The American Boy," 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. On remittance the price is 15 cents a copy.

FIGURES CAN'T LIE? "Figures can't lie," said the professor earnestly. "For instance, if one man can build a house in 12 days, 12 men could build it in one day." "Yes?" interrupted a student. "Then 288 will build it in one hour, 17,280 in one minute and 1,036,800 in one second. And I don't believe they could lay one brick in that time!" While the professor was still gasping, the smart "ready reckoner" went on: "And again, if one ship can cross the Atlantic in six days, six ships can't cross in one day. I don't believe that either; so where's the truth in arithmetic?" Then he sat down.—Whitewright Sun, Vernon, Texas.

LIMITED TO EVERYBODY "You say the new club you want me to join is very exclusive?" "Oh, definitely! Why, within a year we expect to have hundreds of members from every section of the city!"—Whitewright Sun, Vernon, Texas.

One whole quart of carbon-forming, sludge-forming impurities—material which causes high oil consumption—is carefully removed by Standard Oil's patented Propane and Chlorox processes, and is "not for sale!" This house is badly wrecked as can be seen by this picture, and in a peculiar manner. The house belongs to A. Claude Wilson, Wheatland township, Hillsdale county, and the cyclone which struck there June 20, 1937 did this damage. This wreck was caused by flying boards and timbers from a house across and about 20 rods down the road, belonging to a neighbor, and which was totally destroyed by this windstorm. Mr. Wilson's barn was also completely destroyed besides considerable other damage was done. This company promptly paid the loss as follows, $1000 on house, $1200 on barn, $138.33 on s/o, $75 on windmill, $25 on furniture, $80 on livestock, $124 on farm tools, $65 on hay and grain, and $189 other damage. It paid this policy holder to have windstorm insurance with this old company.

GIVE WAR VETERANS JOB PREFERENCES

War veterans in Michigan stand a better chance of getting jobs than the average citizen, even though the majority of veterans are now over 40 years of age.

This was the hopeful message addressed to post and district employment chairmen of the American Legion attending the Department of Michigan convention in Detroit by Major Howard Starret, State Director of the National Reemployment Service.

"Employers are finding that the veteran is a careful worker and a better insurance risk than younger men because he is imbued with a sense of obedience and responsibility," Major Starret declared.

According to orders issued in Washington war veterans are to be given preference, where training, experience and ability to perform the work are equal to that of other applicants on all new PWA projects, provided the veterans are certified to the PWA. This applies to veterans previously certified to the PWA who have been laid off.

In Michigan, the NRS has concentrated chiefly on the task of finding jobs for veterans with private employers and private contractors," Major Starret said. "So successful have we been that Michigan ranked third among all states over a two-year period in total placements of vets by NRS according to a recent Department of Labor booklet, 'Filling 9 Million Jobs.'"

UNDER OBSERVATION
 By V. K. H.

DARBY

He looked into the office, and seeing only the Observer within, ventured across the threshold of the editorial sanctum. Throwing down a crumpled sheet of paper and releasing a single ten cent piece that had rested in the same hand with the paper, he said, "Mother girl! man gave me a dime to buy supper with."

Before unfolding the paper, your correspondent turned his gaze on the bearer, an old Negro, about six feet tall, clothed in unspeakably dirty shirt and creaseless trousers that hung suspended from his gaunt frame by a single gaiter, returned the gaze with a friendly smile that disclosed very bad teeth. Old coat in hand he stood there waiting as we read his note.

OUTCAST

At the head of the page was this brief information: "DISCHARGED FROM U. S. VETERANS HOSPITAL DAYTON OHIO 3-7-37. Signed - Dr. Mellis, Dr. Johnson. Several meaningless scrawled figures occupied the bottom part of the page.

After bidding him to occupy a chair the Observer elicited this information about the visitor: Discharged from the veterans hospital because of drinking (second offense). Had enjoyed a $25 government check every month until his discharge. Couldn't hope for reinstatement until a full year after his discharge. Had been on the "bum" since March. Found "good people in Flint/Elphree", in fact, "good people in Michigan." In Northville because train crew kicked him off P. M. freight, and now on way to Flint. Wife dead, no children. Had a good word for all mankind. 51 years old. Complained of "lung trouble".

DISEASED

After giving him a coin, we observed too that his eyes behaved strangely, that he had a nervous condition similar to palsy and that his memory seemed to slip gears occasionally. The bad teeth seemed to fit a picture of disease given in college hygiene, so the Observer ventured: "You have syphilis, don't you?"

A hand went up and he said, "You guessed it boss. Ah has. Since six years ago."

DERELICT

After listening politely to a little lecture on the kind of life he must lead if he is ever given a chance again to enter a government hospital, the wanderer went his lonesome way.

When he had gone, we couldn't help but think how much like a derelict of the sea this darky is. Ravaged by this insidious disease, without a tie to any place, he goes on his way, likely at anytime to bring disaster to anyone who crosses his path.

Even without regard for his rights as a veteran, this poor outcast should be taken up and put where he can spend his remaining days away from the possibility of contaminating others with his foul disease. But on he goes to his own—and to others'—eventual disaster.

LEGIONS

As we considered the case of this Negro, we remembered a statement that one out of every ten persons in this country has syphilis. Thus the old darky has more company in the legion of the damned than he has in his status as war veteran or as beggar. The fact is that one will meet in the course of a day more syphilitics than veterans or beggars.

RELIEF

The concerted action begun just recently to combat syphilis through education, discovery and treatment of victims is a great need of the times. Just as tuberculosis has been brought under control by heroic medical and social action so will the "great pretender" in time, and as with tuberculosis, ignorance is the greatest obstacle to overcome.

Walled Lake Finds 400-Capacity School Building Inadequate—Faces Need of Constructing 4-Room Addition This Fall

Fifteen years ago, in 1922, the doors of the new Walled Lake Consolidated school were opened for public inspection. With 22-rooms, including a gymnasium, cafeteria and shop, and with a normal capacity of 400 students, it was thought the structure would adequately serve the community for a quarter of a century, at least.

Recently, at a special meeting of the electors of the newly enlarged Walled Lake school district, it was voted to transfer $16,000 from the general school fund to the building fund, which, coupled with $5,000 similarly voted, recently, will assure the immediate construction of a four room addition to the present building. Another question favorably voted on will place 1.49 mills of collected general tax in the building fund.

This is the first step in a building program to include further additions as warranted, and was made necessary by the annexation of three school districts, including the large Eagle area (W. Bloomfield 1); the larger Union district (Commerce 5 1/2) and Bentley school, (Novi 10), which has been accepted.

The building plan, as adopted by the Walled Lake Board of Education is thought will make it possible to care for the total cost of construction of the first and future additions without a bond issue. With the combined resources, the board of education of this enlarged area is expected to be able to easily provide buildings for all portions of the district. Future plans call for unit buildings at various points throughout the area.

The valuation of the annexed districts is $500,000 for Eagle; $150,000 for Union and $150,000 for Bentley. Walled Lake's valuation is $2,119,225. Thus, the new district's total valuations is close to $5,000,000.

The approximate student enrollment at the beginning of the fall semester will be over 900, and although there will be two active smaller units, including Eagle and Union, Walled Lake's capacity will be taxed with over 600 students. Emergency arrangements will be made to care for the attendance, pending completion of the new addition, Jan. 1.

Warren S. Holmes and company of Lansing, have been retained as architects for the building program. They have specialized in school construction for the past 23 years. The four room addition will be two stories high, designed to conform with the present building. Of reinforced concrete construction, it will be faced with brick and stone, and will embody the latest ideas in building. The rooms will be 22 x 30-feet in size. Floors will be finished in linoleum, and will be sound proof. Heating will be by adaption of unit heaters to existing boilers. Rooms will be equipped with latest educational features, and modern, artificial lighting will be installed. Corridors will have terrazo floors and be equipped with a locker robe system. The addition will join the south side of the present building, without excavation. The total cost will be about $20,000. The Board of Education will advertise for construction bids immediately.

In commenting on the expansion program C. A. Hoffman, school superintendent, said: "This part of Oakland county is a very favorable place to work out plans of consolidation of schools as provided for in the school legislation of the past few years, known as the Thatcher-Saur act of 1935.

"It is because the school is serving considerable area beyond its borders; that this expansion program was thought of. This, together with the growing density of population and high valuation of several districts further defined the idea. Contacting Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, State Superintendent of the Department of Education and his staff, we were reassured to know of their great interest and pleasure with progress already made. The merging of districts conforms with the policy of Dr. Elliott and the department, who has felt that greater efficiency in education can be attained in this manner.

"The new addition will benefit our academic and vocational curriculum, with an elaboration in each of these courses, such as home economics, agriculture, commercial art and music."
