WHERE WILL YOU BE AT SIXTY-FIVE?

As we gave the life insurance man a check the other day he told us an old yarn — so old that it is threadbare, but so true that its moral will never wear out.

If one hundred men stood together at the age of twenty-five and all lived until they were sixty-five, here is what would be true: Fifty-four would be dependent upon relations or friends; only five would still be working; four would be well-to-do while only one would be rich.

We're not in the insurance business, but do you realize that eighty-one per cent of the average man's estate comes from the life insurance money that is paid after his death? In other words, if a man has no life insurance, he leaves very, very little to his wife and children.

Better get your life insurance now while the going's good.

CHARLES L. BLACKBURN

The death of Charles L. Blackburn takes from Northville one of those quiet, likeable, worth-while citizens who make the backbone of the community.

This good citizen loved Northville and its people. This fine trait of loyalty helps make a substantial village. It is such citizens as he who gradually make history as the years go by.

OCTOBER RAMBLING THOUGHTS

Hail to October! "The finest month of the year," says a good friend of ours who knows his Michigan. Our only sister, who lives in California, once came to Michigan from that state just to see Michigan in October.

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

If you don't happen to take the Readers Digest, why not borrow a copy from a friend and read the first article in the October issue. "You Can't Take It With You."

The author asked 2997 people "What do you live for?" Believe it or not out 94% honestly answered that they were merely enduring life while waiting for some distant day to really start beginning living.

As a matter of fact, barring ill health and unusual circumstances, everyone in Northville could get a wonderful thrill out of living in this fine community.

big. "Put me down to bring spaghetti and cheese," said one of the office staff. Another echoed, "Me for the beans." The news editor said, "Let me arrange this party" and promptly gave each one his quota of things to bring.

As we write the school children go by. Dozens of laughing, enthusiastic boys and girls. Talk about living — with these children in our homes and on our streets we have the greatest happiness known to human kind.

The way to start living is to start living. If you promised the kids to take that trip to the zoo, why not do it now, before winter comes? If you haven't been into the home of that choice friend for ten months, why not go and see him this week?

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO With $11,500 in the village treasury from the government to be used for the construction of Northville's water reservoir, H. B. Culbertson, Detroit contractor, said he would begin work on the abandoned project immediately.

5 YEARS AGO Officers elected Tuesday for the Lord E. Green Post were: Commander, Martin Kalotsky; first vice-commander, Harry Bolton; second vice-commander, Ralph Altenburg; adjutant and financial officer, L. Alexander; chaplain, Alton Peters; welfare officer, Floyd Lanning; trustees, Joseph Blake and Robert G. Verkes.

15 YEARS AGO The sixth annual Northville Wayne County Fair opened Wednesday morning, with all exhibits larger than last year.

20 YEARS AGO The Superior Churn and Manufacturing company has just been organized with a capital stock of $100,000 with the following officers:

30 YEARS AGO A new race track for Northville is a go. The following officers have been elected: President, Ed Stark; weather, vice-president, Fred Penn; secretary, T. E. Murdoch; treasurer, A. C. Bailden; directors, C. C. Yerkes, George Rattenbury and T. B. Henry.

ROOSEVELT

By THEODORE WERLE

Mr. President: As usual your voice was very charming over the radio. Your voice aside, what you said on constitution evening was ill-conceived and ill-advised.

It was ill-conceived because so obviously born in the rabber and irritation of your recent defeats and scandals. It was ill-advised because you chose the 150th anniversary of our constitution — a day of exceptional historic significance.

There rings in my ears still your words and especially your intonation. I am determined these things shall be done. Pride — overweening, egotistical pride, and most unpleasant, Mr. President, your copy books told you in your boyhood as they now, so doubt, tell your grandchildren that it is such "common sense" before.

UNDER OBSERVATION By V. R. H. You called names against our supreme court. You turned smart phrases as you well do, to belittle with sarcasm the trust and respect of those men of our court.

FOOTBALL The fun you love to watch - pigskin - is coming on the scene, as nearly every habinger indicates.

It might help you much in your wish to achieve improved social well-being for us if you should remember that successful reformers are patient; that they do not resort to trick and misstatement to win their ends; that they count no reform worth having on statute books which has not first been accepted by the people.

RELIEF Hundreds who have seen the water in our just before payday know the relief that must have come over the local Kroger staff when the door of the company truck backed in and unloaded fresh groceries.

Homemaker's Corner

—AND LEAVE EM!

"Have 'em, love 'em, and leave 'em." This was the advice that an old lady used to hand out to some neighbors of ours who were fretting about their growing boys.

"My husband," said this neighbor, "often reminds me of this saying whenever I get too protective of our boys. He used to insist that I let them dress themselves when they were small in spite of my protest that it was easier for me to help them. 'Easy' for you, yes," he'd say, "but what about the boys?"

Of course we all know that the hardest thing a mother can do is to "leave 'em" after all the years of watchful care and solicitude. "I can do the dishes so much quicker myself—and without any arguing," we reason. "And their rooms! Why, they'd be a mess if I didn't pick them up." And so we go on waiting on them, forgetting that the only way they will learn is by the doing, even though it's hard.

Will the heavy load "hurt" my boy's back? An anxious mother of a paper boy asked her physician. "No, he won't lift what will hurt him. If you make him strong, I used to do it myself," he replied.

So the boy tugs his papers around even though he says "A paper route is so hard of roses," when there is a ball game he has to miss. So natural it is for a child to love something that unless he is allowed some hardships he goes on accepting care as his natural right. It takes real fortitude to watch him go out into unknown dangers. It takes faith to believe that because she has taught him to be "as wise as a serpent and harmless as a dove," if he stumbles into pitfalls that she has warned him about he will have to learn by the "bump" to walk more carefully. Any amount of protection will never teach him, nor give him moral muscle.

A rich friend once stood at his office window looking down into the alley below where some ragged little boys were playing. "Those boys will have a better chance to become successful than my boys will have," said he, "because they will have to fight for it."

Perhaps the old lady was right; perhaps it is best to "leave 'em."

(Note: Mrs. Gerald Woodworth served this delicious gingerbread with whipped cream to a company recently and several asked for the recipe.)

Gingerbread

4 cups shortening, 1 egg, 2/3 cup molasses (Baker's Rabbit), 1/2 cup with sugar, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, salt. Add 1 cup of boiling water last. Cream shortening and sugar, then add egg, molasses and other ingredients. This will be a very thin batter.

Christian Science Churches

"Unreality" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Oct. 3.
The Golden Text, from Jeremiah 2:5, is: "Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?"

Among the Bible citations in this passage (John 1:13): "In the beginning was the Word, the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 525): "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make—hence its unreality."

Salem Federated Church

"The Unpardonable Sin" will be the sermon theme for 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

NORTHVILLE'S GREATEST

Dollar Days

The fast tempo of modern living has exacted an appalling penalty from human eyes. One child out of every five in our public schools, 40 college students in a hundred, and half the people over 35 have defective vision. We make demands on our eyes that were unheard-of a century ago. Books, magazines, newspapers, cards, the movies... all lay heavy burdens on our eyesight. Today more than ever, we need to do everything in our power to protect priceless vision.

Light Conditioning helps to protect eyes young and old. The eyes of a child are immature and easily strained... they require frequent examinations and abundant light of good quality. Old eyes need more light because from middle age on, the pupil of the eye grows smaller and admits less light to the retina. The older people in your family need more light than the young people.

It is a simple matter to Light Condition your home. Without charge, one of our Home Lighting Advisers will measure your lighting with the Sight Meter, and make recommendations for improved lighting for comfort and beauty. Phone for a survey of your lighting today.

Miss Emma DuBord Outlines Year's Extension Program

The Home Economics Extension groups of Wayne county are planning to start a series of Home Furnishing topics throughout the coming year. The leaders of the local groups will meet with Miss Emma DuBord, county home demonstration agent, Thursday, Oct. 7, and Friday, Oct. 8, in the Community Room of the Wayne Library, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. for the first meeting of the year.

To recognize suitable furniture is to know quality. Quality in furniture is found in the style, workmanship, usefulness and comfort of each piece. In economizing on furniture one must know which features can be altered without destroying quality. Reupholstering old chairs by the cane or rush method makes a useful and profitable pastime. Cutting patterns on linoleum and then using oil paint to print designs on such materials as feed sacks, muslin and gingham is an interesting way of making colorful curtains, bedspreads and table covers.

Using such decorative accessories as pictures, pillows, table covers and vases to give distinction and charm to rooms is a secret of home furnishing that every homemaker can use. Arranging flowers in the best manner is another way of adding beauty to ordinary rooms.

Making and Recognizing Attractive Furnishings is the title of the series of five meetings, recognizing suitable furniture, using decorative accessories, arranging flowers, making curtains and reupholstering old chairs.

The Home Economics work schedule in Wayne county is made possible through the Extension Department of the Michigan State College at East Lansing. The county office is located at 303 Calvin theater building, Dearborn. All Extension projects are available to anyone interested.

Merry-Go-Round Has Luncheon at Legion Hall

Wednesday, Sept. 29, Mesdames W. G. Yerkes and P. P. Simmons entertained the ladies of the Merry-Go-Round at a one o'clock luncheon held in the Legion Hall.

Sixteen answered to roll call; Mrs. C. C. Chadwick and Mrs. W. Ambler, both of Detroit, were unable to attend. After luncheon we were entertained at the Yerkes home where singing and visiting was enjoyed by all. Just one shadow of sadness over the past year was caused by the "crossing of the bar" of one of our members. Thus the year ended and a new president was chosen and a new program for the coming year was arranged.

Mrs. P. P. Simmons is our new president and the following months were drawn by the members: October, Mesdames T. J. Knapp, B. W. Hewitt; November, Mesdames S. G. Power, H. S. Clark; December, Christmas, Mesdames P. P. Simmons, W. G. Yerkes; February open month; March, Mesdames A. E. Olde, A. Morris; April, Mesdames H. D. Dean, L. A. Babbitt; May, Mesdames W. Stark, M. Parker; June, Mesdames C. E. Rogers, C. C. Chadwick; July, Mesdames B. Stark, W. Ambler; August, Wayne County Fair, Northville; September, Mesdames B. G. Filkins, C. S. Filkins.

Thus ended a perfect day, a delicious luncheon, one more meeting of old friends and then good bye until we meet again on the fourth, Wednesday, Oct. 27—Mrs. B. W. Hewitt Reporter.

C. A. R. Holds First Meeting Of Fall Season

The Plymouth Corners society, Children of the American Revolution, held its first regular meeting of the year Sept. 18, at the home of Wynne Cutler, Ridge road, Plymouth.

Following a short business meeting, a program celebrating the sesqui-centennial of the signing of the constitution was presented. Jane Holden read a well-prepared paper. Each member was given an opportunity to add an item of interest concerning the signing or one of the signers. A luncheon was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 13 at the home of Joan and Mary Lou Littenberger, 251 Rayson avenue. At that time each member will be asked to respond to roll call by giving an item of interest about the flag.

Farewell Courtesies Are Extended By Mrs. Lefroy Stewart

Miss Mrs. I. B. McLaughlin, who moved recently to Detroit, Mr. F. L. Lewis and Mrs. Anne Hack, who will move this fall to Howell, Mich., Lefroy Stewart was hostess Friday, Sept. 24, at a luncheon-bridge.

She made her appointment, attractive with the use of baskets of yellow daisies and clusters of lily-of-the-valley. Her guests were seated at a round table, where covers were laid for the honorees, Mrs. J. R. Walker, Mrs. W. C. Chapman, Mrs. C. C. Canning, Mrs. Dayton B. Burr, Mrs. F. L. Smith, Mrs. N. C. The guest list included: Mrs. Scott A. Lorewell, Mrs. B. G. Filkins, Mrs. S. G. Power, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. E. C. Hinkley, Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill and Mrs. W. H. Yerkes.

Dinner Party Compliments Dr. Gertrude Mitchell

Honoring Dr. Gertrude Mitchell of the Maybury sanatorium, the members of the medical staff of that institution held a dinner party Thursday evening, Sept. 30, at the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth.

Dr. Mitchell has resigned from her staff position at Maybury to go into private practice at Mansfield, O.

PEACHES OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Tuesday, Sept. 21, was an ideal day, just such a day as would be desired for such an event as occurred at Silver Lake. A radio announcement at 7:45 in the morning proclaimed the fact that the day was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Peach.

At eight o'clock a wedding breakfast was served to the brothers and sisters and a few other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Taylor, Mrs. Isador Bishop, L. Van Allan and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith.

From one o'clock on coffee and cake were served to 136 guests who came to offer their congratulations, beautiful gifts and gorgeous flowers.

A three-tiered wedding cake, white frosted and decorated with 50 yellow candles adorned the attractively decorated table. The whole dining room carried out the idea of a golden wedding by means of streamers, flowers and dishes.

Guests came from Greenville, Ypsilanti, South Lyon, Silver Lake, Brighton, Detroit, Whitmore Lake, Ferndale, Royal Oak, Dearborn, Plymouth, Howell, Cornwala, Lansing, Orionville, Pontiac, Wayne, Clark, Northville and Island Lake.

As a perfect ending for the day, an impromptu dance was held in the town house near the lake. F. A. Holt and Mr. Travis offered their services as musicians. Calling the square dances was performed by Walter Westphal. Needless to say, it was the making of a merry time, leaving pleasant memories of reminiscences recalled and friendships renewed.—Society Lion Herald.

Hahn-Home Is Scene of Luncheon Party

Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. George Stalker and Mrs. D. W. Hahn were luncheon hostesses last Thursday to a small group of friends, former teachers in the Northville schools.

The luncheon party, held at the Hahn home, 546 West Main street, included Mrs. J. E. Taylor of Plymouth, Mrs. Leslie Weir of Ypsilanti, Mr. Harold Ball of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Birmingham.

Mrs. Thad J. Knapp Honors Mrs. Filkins at Luncheon

As a courtesy to Mrs. Charles Filkins who leaves Monday, Oct. 4, to spend the winter in Ann Arbor, Mrs. Thad J. Knapp was hostess Monday to a small group at a one o'clock luncheon.

Covers were laid for 16, including the hostess and honoree, Mrs. W. H. Stutz, Mrs. B. G. Stark, Mrs. B. G. Filkins, Mrs. H. W. Hewitt, Mrs. P. P. Simmons and Mrs. W. G. Yerkes.

TAXES ARE DUE

Hunting season opens today. Apparently the farmers don't expect reports that approximately 50 per cent of the 1937 taxes are still unpaid. Friday, Oct. 1 is the last day the taxes can be paid without penalty that went out of The Record's office last September and October.

INSECT ZOO CLOSES SEASON THIS MONTH

With less than a month of its first season remaining, the Michigan Insect Zoo in Convention Hall has displayed more than 500 different kinds of myriapods. The total may reach 700 before the Zoo closes Oct. 10.

"Unlike most zoos," explains Brayton Eddy, director, "our exhibits are constantly changing. In the ordinary zoo an animal put on display is expected to stay there for years. With our type of display he may stay in his glass cage for no more than 24 hours before his life cycle is ended.

That has meant that we have kept constantly adding, changing and removing exhibits. By far the largest number of displays have been insects—beetles, ants, caterpillars, roaches and many other families. We've had some 20 kinds of snakes, a dozen different mammals such as skunks, raccoons and bats, twelve kinds of lizards and many turtles, frogs and other creatures."

Eddy adds that the number of individual animals, if it could be tabulated—which it can't—would reach far into the thousands. Of bees, hornets, wasps, ants and beetles he's had more than 10,000.

Among insects the praying mantis, white-faced hornets, honey bees and several kinds of caterpillars that have undergone their entire life cycles in their cages have had greatest spectator interest, Eddy says. "But terrible bugs, ant lions and many other insects have had their share of attention.

Popular among mammals and larger animals have been the armadillo, raccoons, the skunk and several poisonous snakes.

RATHBURN ATTENDS SALES CONVENTION

Returning today from Lansing, where he attended the national sales convention of Oldsmobile, Kenneth Rathburn of the Rathburn Motor Sales, predicted a record breaking sales year in Northville for the new 1938 Oldsmobile Sixes and Eights which he saw on display for the first time at the Oldsmobile factory.

"After looking at the models Oldsmobile is presenting for the coming year I am convinced that there will be a greater swing to Oldsmobile in 1938 than ever before," Mr. Rathburn said.

The local representative among representatives of Oldsmobile's Detroit Zone who were in Lansing at the same time. Altogether more than 8500 Oldsmobile dealers, sales managers, and salesmen traveled from all parts of the country to take part in the series of meetings which extend over a period of two weeks.

NEW CAR MAKES TWO QUICK OCEAN TRIPS

One Detroit-made automobile which traveled probably farther in spots than it did under its own power, for the first year of its life, was recently turned up in the records of the Department of State at Lansing.

Late in 1933 a new 1937 model rolled off the assembly lines of a Detroit factory, to be shipped to Germany. There it was purchased, and shortly thereafter, brought by its owner back to Detroit, his home.

BARNUM TO SERVE 10 MONTHS IN PRISON
Stanley Barnum, 34, and Mrs. Florence Robinson, 23, former Maybury sanatorium employees, were sentenced last week in Detroit. Barnum has been given ten months in one of the State prisons, and Miss Robinson has been sentenced to three months. They pled guilty this month in Circuit Court to love nest charges brought against them by Barnum's wife, Marie, after a raid in July on a home in Plymouth where she found them living together. The hearing was held in August in the Village Hall before Justice Arthur S. Nichols.

G-MAN SPEAKS TO SUPERINTENDENTS

Futility of Crime Is Theme of W. H. D. Lester's Address

Superintendent R. H. Amerman attended a conference of the department of city school superintendents of Michigan last week in Battle Creek.

Inspector W. H. D. Lester, assistant to J. Edgar Hoover, Washington, D. C., was one of the important speakers at the meeting. Mr. Lester spoke on "How Can the Schools Help to Prevent Crime?" He presented many practical suggestions as to how schools could help mold public opinion about crime and criminals.

The schools should instill in the citizens the idea that they shouldn't harbor criminals and shouldn't sympathize "too readily" with them but should let them get their just deserts. Schools should denounce the idea that the life of crime is "glamorous and not put much store in the over-dramatized stories in the movies and on the radio. Inspector Lester said that the rank and file of the Federal Bureau of Investigation cases are never heard of in the newspapers, and that there are only occasionally one or two cases of the sensational type such as Dillinger or Baby-Face Nelson.

Mr. Lester said that the young people of today know more about the technical side of crime than their parents. They think more intelligently about such topics, he said.

After talking for some time on fingerprinting and its value, both for criminal and civil purposes, Inspector Lester summed up his speech by saying that the matter of crime detection and prevention is made up of a triangle: the Federal department of justice, the local enforcement officers and public opinion. It is this last that the schools of today can help.

Mr. Amerman said that his trip to Battle Creek proved most profitable and worthwhile. The speakers were extremely interesting and very practical.

That many of N. H. S.'s (teenage) charms may be found at Wilson's hamburger place? We wonder, Dick, could you be the attraction?

How Northville high continues to prosper? Barbara Wood is her latest addition.

How quickly E. L.'s affection are capable of changing? Make up our mind, Eber.

Elliott Barr and that lovely camera of his at work on the play? The perfect "ladies and gentlemen" at the first assembly program?

That K. C. makes quite a cheerleader? The school ought to have a lot of school spirit with Kenny and Wanda on the job.

How much J. M. would like to break into print? And she of the staff, too. Should be very simple, Julie.

B. J. G.'s sudden color blindness in shorthand class? Ah, "Betty, caught you at it."

Our active seniors at the harvest festival? Looks like Washington for them.

The slow tap-tap-tap in the typing room? Miss Kathryn Galtner, is there any hope?

I. T. is so much handsomer without his bandage? Why the disguise, who were you hiding from, Lee?

Coach Harry Smith's wary hair, girls? Not to mention his moustache?

How popular C. N.'s desk is at noon? (Even when Cecil isn't in it?)

A. B.'s face, when he lost his girl Wednesday night? It seems Louise was dancing with an old N. H. S. graduate.

The new girls around here are certainly being rushed? Looks like the old ones will have to try morning away.

What a delightful sense of humor C. B. and C. H. have in eighth hour study?

The sudden dislike R. A. has for American Lit?

Editor's Note

Our pet peeve is motorists who have something against dumb animals. If you don't believe there are any, just take a ride out one of our local highways sometime. Chickens, squirrels, rabbits and dogs—poor, defenseless animals—wantonly obstructed for some human's pleasure.

Though what possible pleasure they get out of it is beyond me. A while ago we saw a public enemy deliberately turn out on the road to hit a dog. The canine was minding its own business, but the driver, we suppose, just wanted to see how he could make the animal suffer. Needless to say, he succeeded quite well.

It doesn't cost anything to slow up a bit and let the animal get out of your way, and invariably a dog will get off the road if you give it half a chance.

Just try to remember next time that no matter how many a car is, he's some little kid's dog.

YEAR'S ACTIVITIES BEGUN BY CLASS

Another school year has rolled around and has started the classes thinking about sponsors, money-making projects, school dances and many other activities.

The senior president, Martin Breidinger, has called several class meetings to discuss class affairs. The date for the Senior Prom has been set for Nov. 26. Arthur Mitchell was appointed to take charge of the candy sales in the hall.

Principal G. V. Harrison talked to the class about selling Christmas cards, but nothing yet has been decided definitely. Mr. Harrison and Mrs. Ida B. Cooke are class sponsors.

Don Armstrong, president of the junior class, reported plans for a pie sale. The class sponsors are Miss Kathryn and Edward C. Mollema, both new to the faculty staff.

The sophomore and freshman classes haven't called class meetings, but plan to do so soon. Their presidents are Bob Orr and Frank Eaton.

This year the class meetings will be held during school hours, alternating every other week with assembly programs.

BIOLOGY CLASS SEES ZOOLOGICAL EXHIBIT

The biology class chaperoned by Miss Gladys Ludwig and Miss Ione Palmer were visitors at Convention Hall, Friday, Sept. 17, where they saw, personally conducted through a zoological exhibition by Mr. Eddy Posay, the specimens of animals of admiration from the group.

Posay it seems was Mr. Eddy's personal pet. A bee colony that carried on its regular work for its purpose was quite outstanding and cockroaches as large as plums were some of the outstanding things. Also there were frogs, big ones and little ones; a whole array of spiders, including the tarantula and black widow; an opossum and its family; turtles and snakes; lizards and raccoons were all seen by this ambitious biology class.

Have you noticed how Don Armstrong has changed this year? He wasn't exactly shy last year, but this year we've seen him around with several fair damsels and there seems to be one in particular. Right, Marian?

It seems that one genuine romance is still blooming despite the cold weather. If you don't agree, just ask either Betty or Alfred! I'm quite sure they'll agree with the question.

Our weekly contributor gives to the head young man who joined up in journalism class with one of his brilliant remarks in art class. The journalism class was divided into two groups. The first group was headed by the one who was wearing the sad expression. (Not slapping at you girls? We can remember the time when...)

The young ladies of Dean O. Northville are getting quite a bit of competition this fall. With all the horses coming to town to Northville to school. And they're truly good looking girls. Now the girls are the ones who are wearing the sad expressions. (Not slapping at you girls? We can remember the time when...)

Eber is now serenading Barbara! (It's all we can do to keep up with him!) Last week we were positive Joyce was the one and only object of his affections. But it seems that Eber disagreed! Note: Watch this column for further information.

The girls' new heart-throb doesn't seem to be the least bit excited over his popularity. And what's more,

"Did You See Them?"

THE GIRL

Did you see her? You couldn't in BUT "see her!" She's nearly knocked out over in her haste that the simple reason that she is a single-ed-to-be by a office girl, explains her missing around. This capable, tough, and mischievous person is at the helm of her school career. It so happens that she is a member of the present senior class. She is probably in eighth and wears suits every day. And by the way, we CAN'T help that she owns one of these strange animals called a tomcat!

THE BOY

When we saw him he was wearing a hat and a group of really big boys of him particularly because of the fashioning capitation; you know, particularly. He's out of the hall? Boys about school and you can see him sauntering around the hall of N. H. S. almost any time of the day. He has a shock of sandy hair that is exquisite because of its unbusiness. He's captain of the football team this year, besides being a senior. If you can't guess by now who we're talking about, ask Joyce the name of that fellow who's always nanging' around.

NORTHVILLE LOSES FIRST GAME 24-7

Farmington Team Victorious Ben Duguid Scores for Home Team

Northville opened her football season last Friday at Cass Benton Park when she was defeated by Farmington, 24-7.

Farmington has been a rival of long standing and last year they won by a score of 3-0.

Coach Eber Barr stated that the home boys were weak on tackling and blocking, but now that Coach Harry Smith is here "the squad will be given closer attention than has been theirs in the past."

The lineup follows: Duguid, RE; Aida, RT; Beal, RG; Bray, C; Beschman, LG; Lester, LT; Myers, LE; Boelens, G; Mitchell, F; Hinchman, RH; Bishop, LH. In the last quarter Coach Barr put in the whole squad team to try their hand at raising the score. They were: Farmer, S. Lester, Defino, Dixon, Willis, Spagnuolo, Card, Piz, and Bogart, Puzge.

The interest of the girls seems to be dying down. In fact, we heard one very popular young Miss of Northville high say (with lifted eyebrows) that Dick was very conceited! My! Who'd a thought it?

To go Oide Question Box it looks as though Miss Wood's ravishing smiles have another captiver. And it's none other than Martin Breidinger, Jr. Esquire, etc. (Now, take it easy, Martin!)

By the way, Jack McCrumb is quite a popular young man these days! We can't blame the girls very much 'cause that smile of Jack's is really something. To say nothing of his sense of humor.

Have you noticed Fred Johnson's disarming way with the father sex? He's quite the Romeo these days. Ah, well, I suppose Freddie must have his fun seeing as this is his P. G. course. (Getting older, Freddie!)

Can You Imagine?

Inquiring Reporter

Question—What do you think of Northville's football team this year?
Answers—
G. V. Harrison—"I think that they will be a good team by the next game. All they need is more confidence. They are a bit too excited and tense but I'm not discouraged about them at all."
Virginia Washburne, senior—"I think in time it will be a good team and will win a few games. All they need is a little practice."
Mrs. F. W. Hawkins—"I enjoyed the game very much. I think the boys played splendidly and I enjoyed the passes very much."
Eber Lester, senior—"Pretty good."
Coach Elliott Barr—"After the game with Farmington I think we can take the game with Redford Union. The boys did a very good job of passing and attacking."
Ruth Leavenworth, junior—"It's O. K."
Teacher at F. H. S.—"Pretty good team but needs polish."
Ed Spaller, Farmington sophomore—"All right."
Chuck Oldenburg, Farmington sophomore—"Good sports."

AGED RESIDENT DIES WEDNESDAY AT HOME

After an illness of four months, Mrs. Henry Eckell died Wednesday, Sept. 22, at her home 227 West street.

Born Elizabeth Wale, Sept. 27, 1847, at Trafalgar, Ont., she was united in marriage Feb. 8, 1864, to Henry Eckell at Leamington, Ont. Eight children were born to them, six of whom are living.

She had resided many years in Northville and was well and favorably known by the older residents of this vicinity. Endowed with a strong physique inherited from the pioneers of Canada, she worked hard to help rear her family at a time when wages were low and there were few mechanical and electrical devices to lighten the labor of the housewife. A housewife she was at all times, foregoing most of the pleasures of the time to devote her efforts to the serious business of caring for a home and children. She knew hardship in her youth. One day she traveled miles through Ontario woods at times when timber wolves had not entirely disappeared from the semi-wilderness in which her parents lived.

With her passing the community loses a character whose honesty and homely virtues made her beloved by her family and friends.

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Friday, Sept. 24, from her home where beautiful floral offerings were evidence of the esteem in which she was held. The Rev. William Richards, Belleisle Methodist minister, conducted the service. Burial was made at Grand Lawn cemetery.

Surviving her are six children: Lewis and Phylean Eckell of Leamington, Ont.; Mrs. G. E. Thurlie of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. W. M. Higgins Robert and Ada Eckell of this place, two brothers, Robert and Alfred of Leamington, Ont.; several grandchildren and great grandchildren.
