UNION CLAIMS 185 MEMBERS AT MAYBURY

NEW MANAGER

C. I. O. Affiliates to Meet
Monday in German Church to Hear Report

According to information released this week by Michael Kamm, Ann Arbor field representative of the State County Municipal Workers of America, a C. I. O. affiliate, there are 185 employees at the Maybury sanatorium who are members of this union, recently organized here.

"Although the union doesn't bar nurses from membership, as yet none of the nurses at Maybury are members," asserted Mr. Kamm, who announced that a meeting of the organization would be held at 8 p. m., Monday, Nov. 27, in the German church, Napier and Seven Mile roads.

At the Monday evening meeting, it is understood, a report will be made to the general membership on the preliminary steps which have been taken to date by the grievance committee.

This body is completed, a committee from the union will meet with the hospital administration to present requests from its members. It is the opinion of Mr. Kamm that such matters as seniority, hours, working conditions and wages will be brought to the attention of the administration.

Already, it is reported by Mr. Kamm, the grievance committee has brought up the problem of sick leave. The union is asking for a grant of a two-week sick leave a year for each employee. Heretofore, the sick leave has been distributed throughout the 12-month period, allowing an employee one day a month.

The union at Maybury is headed by Obie Butler, an ambulance driver, president; Ward Schultz, a cook, financial secretary, and Gren Nelson, a steward, treasurer.

RUSSELL STEININGER REVEALS NEW SLANT ON CHINA SITUATION

A view of life in China was given at the meeting of the Northville Rotary Club Tuesday noon by Russell Steininger, local manager of the Detroit Edison company. For seven years, from 1929 to 1937, Mr. Steininger was connected with the Methodist Episcopal Missionary Board as an engineer-missionary. Most of his time was spent in the province of Fukien in the central part of China.

Mr. Steininger had his audience somewhat flabbergasted as he began his address all in the Chinese language. After a few minutes he translated this for his hearers. The first two years of his stay in China were spent in getting a mastery of the language. There are one hundred dialects in the province in which he was located and often people living in towns ten miles apart were unable to understand each other, so great is the difference in language.

Explaining the Chinese language, Mr. Steininger said that it is extremely complicated. Seven tones are used in speaking the language and often each tone has a separate meaning. This makes it "tough" for the foreigners, said the speaker.

Touching on the present war situation, the Edison manager said that as in the case of Ethiopia, its invasion by Italy, the forces of China appear hopelessly beaten and Japan can apparently have her own way. The speaker was emphatic in criticizing the American policy of selling supplies to the Japanese. "We in America have been 'selling our birthright for a mess of potage,'" he said. "The least we can do is to help neither side. In the recent conflict China has been pitifully helpless since they have no battle ships worthy of the name. And all goods sent from this country have to enter China by the way of Japan."

Although Japan has apparently won the present war, the speaker pointed out that there were still two choices for China: Russian intervention and collapse of the Japanese government. The speaker went on to explain that the trade balance is very bad against Japan at the present time. He stated that

TABLE NORTON'S APPLICATION FOR LICENSE

Councilmen Are Not Ready to Grant More Rights to Sell Liquor

Nelson Norton's written application for a license to sell liquor by the glass was tabled indefinitely for a meeting of members of the commission meeting in the Village Hall.

Norton accompanied his written request to the council table, where he made a personal plea to councilmen to grant him the right to sell liquor. With his request, he placed before the members a petition carrying some 200 signatures seeking Norton's right.

Nelson Schrader, son of Mrs. Nelson G. Schrader and the late Mr. Schrader, brought an end to his school work at the Michigan State College, East Lansing, Wednesday in order to take over the management of his mother's business establishment, the Schrader Bros. Furniture Store and Funeral Chapel.

"I want to continue the same policy of service to the community that my father used in the 30 years he was in business here," said Mr.

Schrader as he spoke of his new responsibility. For several years before his father's death, Nelson worked with his father, learning the business and under his direction began his apprenticeship. He is now a registered apostate.

"I have been successful in my business, but I want to continue that way. The fact that there is a public voted for it and I think it should have a home. My business represents a $12,000 investment and the beer business isn't good as it used to be," pleaded Norton.

"This body isn't interested in whether a man makes a success or not what he starts out to do. Our duty is to see what's advisable and good for the community at large," stated Dr. H. M. Burkhardt, village mayor.

"This question is entirely up to the local council. My petition contains the names of 'good citizens' who want liquor by the glass. The public voted for it and I think it should have a home. My business represents a $12,000 investment and the beer business isn't good as it used to be," pleaded Norton.

The pastor committee will meet immediately following the morning service.

The board of trustees will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. R. H. Amerman, 212 West Street. Important business matters are to be discussed.

The Parent-Teacher Information evening, which was scheduled for Nov. 17, has been postponed until Tuesday evening Nov. 20, on account of our Village Wednesday Evening Appreciation hour. Parents will receive individual invitations in the near future.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 12:23): "And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on." The life is more than meat and the body is more than raiment."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 228): "If we follow the command of our Master, 'Take no thought for your life, we shall never depend on bodily conditions, structure or economy, but we shall be masters of the body, dictate its terms, and form and control it with Truth.'

T. W. Smith, Minister

Church Night will be omitted this week owing to Thanksgiving Day.

Dec. 2, at 7:45 p. m. the pastor will lecture upon "How the Bible Grew and was Completed." He will use a chart covering the centuries.

Union Thanksgiving service will be held Sunday at 7:45 p. m. in the Methodist church.

Last Sunday our Church School reached the high water mark of 125 for this year. The boys outnumbered the girls.

The speaker this morning is Otis Stanchfield, who for years was in India in connection with the work of the International Y.M.C.A. He is much after as a speaker at Rotary and Y. meetings. His subject will be "The Regeneration of India." This service is the annual praise service of the Woman's Union.

Dec. 19 will be observed our Christmas Communion Service, when new members will be welcomed into the church. Have you decided that this is your church, while you have your membership elsewhere? Then act promptly and send for your church letter or ask the pastor to send for it.

The Christmas Festival is set for Thursday evening, Dec. 23. A fine program is being prepared to entertain young and old.

The Pastor's Training Class at 5 p. m. today, we use the Intermediate Catechism, prepared by our General Assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Verker are entertaining the members of our session and their wives this Friday evening. This is a choice occasion for the officers of the church.

Social Highlight in Village
During Thanksgiving Vacation
Will Be Traditional Senior Prom

The traditional Senior Prom will be held at the social activities in Northville, Wednesday, Nov. 24, in the high school gymnasium where villagers, including the younger set, will dance.

Miss Doris Newbury, a member of the class, heads the decoration committee. Her assistants are Marvin Schultz, Harry Rattenbury, Miss Peggy Walker, Miss Margaret Garden, with Miss Leah Mae White, Ed Reed and Charles Bush.

Engaged the orchestra which has been heard a number of times at campus functions in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. Advertising for the event has been done by Miss Irene Kaluzny, with the help of Miss Mary George, Ralph Lawrence and Eber Lester. Miss Betty Greer has charge of refreshments. Assisting her are J. W. Erwin, Miss Alice Eaton and John Eisenberger.

Miss Jean Cole's task has been to see that invitations were issued; she had the help of Claude Hatchman, Maurice J. Lapham, Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, Mrs. Dana Briggs and Mrs. O. F. Reng sat in the order of their terms of office. Next to them are the sponsors, the "big sisters" of the League: Mrs. F. S. Neal, Mrs. Charles T. Thornton, Mrs. Charles E. Rogers, Mrs. Herman Berendt, Mrs. H. J. Lord, Mrs. R. E. Achtermann, Mrs. S. S. Stalter, Mrs. E. J. Cook and Mrs. F. Baldwin. The name of Mrs. F. N. Miner, the organizer of the Service League, was mentioned with honor.

At the close of the dinner a beautifully decorated birthday cake, made by Mrs. Gerald Woodward, was cut by the president, Mrs. Reng, who greeted the party and in an inspiration for verse read these original lines:

The
Farmers' Corner
By E. L. BESEMER,
County Agent

Sweet Corn Banking two dollars to harbor one rat for Wayne county ranks fifth in a year, whether he's hiding in a acreage of sweet corn having grain bin, fruit and vegetable stores 2,299 acres, in 1934 according to the age of just foraging, are reasons and down numbers of the pests.

The county committee of the Agricultural Conservation Association for simulating the ridding of rats from farms in Wayne county.

C. H. Jefferson instructor in agricultural engineering at Michigan State college, says it's rather late to be rat-proofing buildings, grainaries and corn cribs. The time to learn the details of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation program have come that was when they were empty. It isn't too late, however,

NEW SEEDINGS to kill off the rats, plug up holes and make it difficult for the rodents to gain access to feed. Seeds of legumes in Wayne county last year according to a report, were sent up on posts can be protected easily. Shields of tin, slanted downward, keep rats from climbing up into the grain. Fine mesh wire netting can be used to protect houses in cold weather. Watch young stock for licking and rubbing. Repeat treatment in fourteen days.

Rat Is Costly Estimates that it costs at least $1.00 to rid off the rats, plug up holes and make it difficult for the rodents to gain access to feed.

There were 3,550 acres of new seedings in Wayne county last year according to a report.

For cattle use pyderium or tannic acid powders in cold weather. Watch young stock for licking and rubbing. Repeat treatment in fourteen days.

One of the best methods to cut down rat population is to kill them off. In addition to feed consumed and property damaged, they are a menace to health.

Use of red squirrel usually is recommended. It seems to be harmless to pets, humans, livestock or poultry. How to bat can be learned from the county agricultural agent's office. Other methods are trapping, gassing. Some cats are good rat traps; and a good rat dog often can keep down numbers of the pests.

MELVINDALE WINS OVER N.H.S. 50-0

Last Game of Season Ends in Defeat for Local Team

By ALBERT BOELIENS

Northville dropped the final game of the season to Melvindale by the score of 58-0.

The team was both outweighed and outplayed. Melvindale got its first score in the first two minutes of play.

On a pass from Transzel to Druse, their 210-pound end, Melvindale then kicked off and Northville returned it to the 30-yard line. Where on the first play, Bishop passed to Boelens for a 35-yard gain, putting the ball on Melvindale's 30-yard line where Northville was forced to punt on the fourth down. Bishop kicked out on Melvindale's 5-yard line and on the next play, Bishop was hurt when one of Melvindale's men clipped him. He was taken from the game, Jusco replacing him. From that point on, it was all Melvindale. It seemed that every time they got the ball, they scored.

There was only one other time in the game that Northville showed any life. This was in the third quarter, when N. H. S. held Melvindale for four downs inside their own 10-yard line and, then, proceeded to carry the ball all the way down the field to first down on Melvindale's four-yard line, where they were stopped.

Arthur Mitchell deserves as much credit as anyone for his splendid play against such a tough team as Melvindale. Dale Bray also played a good game in the line.

This was the last game for seven of our lads. They are: E. Lester, A. Mitchell, C. Bishop, A. Boelens, C. Hinckman, S. Aidea and H. Card.

The lineup for N. H. S. was: L. Myers, L. T. Taster, I. G. Baumgartner, R. G. Bray, R. G. Beal, R. T. Aidea; R. D. Donald; Q. B. Boelens, H. B. Hinckman, H. B. Bishop; F. B. Mitchell.

THANKSGIVING COMES, WHEN DO WE EAT?

With the festive holiday Thanksgiving soon to be celebrated, a person cannot help but notice the gay looks on certain individual's happy faces. G. V. Harrison, our general principal, when questioned what his plans were for the day, stated that he intended to eat lots of turkey while he and his wife were entertaining their parents.

Another member of the faculty and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, will be celebrating the day by having a dinner for Mr. Lee's parents and his sister from Pontiac. The press can say off-hand that a grand time will be had by all.

Dick Amber, our school's tot, is to be the guest of his aunt and he intends to eat a variety of fowl.

Albert Boelens, our school's Romeo, warned us, but here goes: He intends to sleep till noon and then have some delicious food served to him perhaps on Nine Mile. Now Albert please don't get your dadader up.

The Lions and the Bears will have one ardent football fan cheering for them. Nobdy but our own manager, Jack Holcomb. Another fan at this game will be Betty Jane Gilispie.

LIBRARY ADDS NEW BOOKS TO SHELVES

The high school library has recently added some interesting new books. We want here a short report of six of them.

Including the Constellations by Robert H. Baker. This book informs the readers to view the starry procession across the evening sky through the changing seasons.

Portraits of the Iron Horse by Robert S. Henry and Ora S. Kuhler. A vivid history of the locomotives progress from the time it made its first appearance to the present day.

Jasmine by Anne Ratzberger. A spirited story of a Persian girl of today which pictures not only contemporary Persian life, but those changes which are reshaking the life of the girls and women there.

China Quest by Elizabeth Foreman Lewis. The colorful story of an American and a Chinese boy delightfully told against a rich background of unsettled China.

Treasure Trails in Art by Anna Curtis Chandler. An art book in which are presented 20 colorful prints of famous paintings together with stories about the artists who made them.

The Earth Changes by Jammette Lucas and Helene Carter. This book gives a vivid account of the changes in the physical aspect of the earth through the ages.

The Observer

The person we're describing this week is a senior. He weighs about 155 pounds, has blue eyes, brown hair and came to Northville in his junior year. He is from out of town and some of the senior girls really go for him. He wears a gray suit and overcoat and if you still don't know who he is, he helped Keena Bolton put up the boarding over the assembly windows on Armistice Day. Remember?
