

BARGAIN RATES for Christmas Greetings

by LONG DISTANCE

Reduced Long Distance rates are in effect to most points every night of the year (7 P.M. to 4:30 A.M.) and all day, Sunday. They save you as much as 40% of the usual daytime rate. This year, these same low rates will go into effect at 7 P.M. the day before Christmas . . . continue through Christmas Eve . . . all Christmas Day and Night and all the next day, which is Sunday. A holiday greeting by Long Distance is the most personal gift you can give.

An electric range is the gift of gifts . . . something every woman wants and hopes some day to own. An electric range is more than just another stove: It combines SIX GIFTS in one.

① The gift of kitchen freedom: An electric range brings extra hours of leisure to do the things you enjoy most. You can put your whole meal in the electric oven and go out for the afternoon. A Timer Clock (available at small additional cost) turns the oven on and off at the proper time. When you come home your dinner is waiting, perfectly cooked—piping hot and ready for the table.

④ The gift of healthful cooking: The waterless cooking method is at its best on an electric range. Precious minerals and important food values are sealed-in . . . not boiled away in excess water and poured down the sink.

⑤ The gift of comfortable cooking: In hot summer weather, an electric range does not raise the temperature of the kitchen, even one degree, by actual test.

⑥ The gift of modernness: Electric cooking is the finest cooking that money can buy . . . and today, you don't need a great deal of money to buy it! Electric range prices are now so moderate that you can purchase an electric range for about the cost of an average stove of comparable size and features. This Christmas, choose the gift that will serve the entire family . . . surprise her with a new, modern, sparkling ELECTRIC RANGE! See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers and at all Detroit Edison offices.

FRIENDS BY ACCIDENT

"How I wish you were my neighbor," said one woman to another who was especially kind. "I would like to know you better. I wish our paths crossed more often for I know we would be good friends."

So often along the pathway of life we have made warm friends just because it was our good luck to have them as neighbors. Neighbors and friends by accident! Just suppose we had not lived near each other. We might never have known them—and what we would have missed all through life!

We have always had good neighbors. Never had any trouble about the line fence. But there are some neighbors who will always be remembered as standing out most clearly.

First there was that little neighbor who was a bride with us. Happy hours we spent sewing together, taking long walks and—teeny tiny suppers together—“we four.” Time with experiences in common has only mellowed this friendship and we both say “What if we had not lived across the road from each other once!”

Then there was motherly “Aunt Sarah” who lived next door later on. The very light from her window shed a sweet assurance that she was there...

And “Uncle Frank” and “Aunt Maude!” Neighbors when the children were little. It was to dear “Uncle Frank” that they ran when their wagon needed fixing or when they broke a toy. “Uncle Frank” could do anything they thought it was this kind, patient friend who showed them how to use tools and care for them and on the side taught many another lesson. “Aunt Maude’s” skill could not be far west—not the biggest attraction at her house

They kept a drawer full of playthings and laughed joyfully when the house was upset. Sitting cheerfully in their customary places by the window, they always had the warmest welcome. Is it any wonder that it was hard to bid them goodbye when the family car started on its long trek westward to a new home?

Out there the next door neighbor was pretty slow about greeting the far-from-home folks who hungered for friends. A month it took her to finally call “good morning” over the back fence and just as a delightful friendship was coming along we left the west and these new neighbors.

No one wants a too “neighborly” neighbor—the kind who has time to kill when you are busy. The ideal is the one whom you know is “right there” even if she doesn’t come in often.

While moving about this old world has its disadvantages, it is certain that one has a great variety of

Will Rogers' Famous Picture, "Handy Andy" Is Scheduled to Return Here

"BACK IN CIRCULATION"

Two women, facing each other in an underlying play of life and death, is one of the dramatic highlights in Warner Bros.' newspaper-murder-mystery drama "Back in Circulation" starring Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell, showing here Sunday and Monday, Dec. 19 and 20.

In her role as a reporter, Miss Blondell has been instrumental in the conviction of Margaret Lindsay on a charge of murder. Convinced that the condemned woman is innocent, she contrives to break down the silence Miss Lindsay has maintained throughout the trial.

"HANDY ANDY"

Brought back by popular demand in the most rousingly hilarious of his screen comedies, "Handy Andy," Twentieth Century-Fox picture which opens Wednesday, Dec. 22, at the Penniman Allen theatre, Will Rogers heads the cast, which includes Robert Taylor and Peggy Wood in featured roles.

In a romantic portrayal, Robert Taylor makes love to Mary Carlisle with the aid of father Will, who sees to it that the young couple have ample opportunity for Bob's unquestionable talents.

Miss Wood is cast as Rogers' socially aspiring wife, who forces him to retire from the business he loves to learn how to play, selling his thirty-year-old ethical pharmacy to a modern drug-department store chain.

"DANGER, LOVE AT WORK"

Jack Haley, the "Phantom Troubadour" of "Wake Up and Live," sings again in "Danger—Love at Work," new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy, opening Friday and Saturday, Dec. 24 and 25, at the Pennini-

Allen theatre, in which he shares stellar honors with Ann Sothern, Mary Boland and Edward Everett Horton.

In this new comedy, by James Edward Grant and Ben Markson, Jack's isn't a phantom voice, however. Instead, he sings a new Garden and Revel Song, "Danger—Love At Work," a streamlined bit of melody suggested to the songwriting team while passing a section of highway construction.

"MICHAEL O'HALLORAN"

She's one child in two hundred and fifty!

That's what they are saying about six-year-old Charlene Wratt, who won the coveted role of "Lady" in "Valiant Is The Word For Carne" after two hundred and fifty others had been eliminated. She did herself proud in that important role, and as a result Republic has featured her in "Michael O'Halloran" which comes to the Penniman-Allen theatre for a two-day run starting Sunday, Dec. 26.

She's a real heart-breaker, this tiny mite with the dark curly hair and the emerald brown eyes. She possesses that type of witchery which makes hard-boiled men smile, and tough studio electricians look yearningly in toy-shop windows.

In "Michael O'Halloran" she takes the role of a crippled waif who brings happiness to a bitterly estranged family. Jackie Moran is her brother, the "Mickey" O'Halloran of the piece, and Wynne Gibson and Sidney Blackmer portray her foster parents.

The film is full of child players, and has an authentic Mickey Mouse sequence that provides a quaint original twist to the plot.

for himself whether he will or no. He builds it in the lives, the deeds, the memories that live after him.

A chain is more important than its links, though no stronger.

So is our immortal chain of future generations above all else. Yet that chain can be so stronger than we today and each day of our living. For, in our own spirit and blood, reward for wholesome honest living may soon stop in coming, but come it does, even to those of our flesh and blood who lie still beyond the rim of time.

DR. DOUGLAS, FORMER MAYBURY HEAD, TELLS TUBERCULOSIS STORY

Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Society, and former superintendent of the Maybury sanatorium, has written the story of a white plague tragedy which comes to the Penniman-Allen theatre for a two-day run starting Sunday, Dec. 26.

He took the precious little bundle to tears rolled in the eyes of the full grown man. He was that happy. And Mother Molly—well, it's still another.

"We are very glad to be able to help this cause as much as we can," accompanied another check. "Wish I could add more," was the message of still another. The Association is glad, indeed, to receive these and many other comments," Mr. Werle stated.

"Swinging in the balance, however, is the final outcome of the seal sale," he said. "Those who have yet to purchase seals will be an important factor in Michigan's Tuberculosis Association's anti-tuberculosis program in 1938." Mr. Werle pointed out "A vigorous campaign is as urgent as ever before."

Second Graders Dash Off "Thank You" and "Gimme" Notes to Santa Claus

Miss Beulah Miller's second graders dashed off notes to Santa Claus this week. They ask the chimney man not to forget their sisters' mothers and families. A "thank you" for Christmas gifts of last year was a line in any number of the letters. The spelling may puzzle some.

of The Record readers for a short time, but Santa has had a great deal of experience through the years, and he'll be able to read them right off to his helpers.

Dear Santa:

How are you? I am fine. Christmas time is here again. Thank you for the things you gave me last Christmas. I am glad Christmas is here, are you?

I hope you come to my house on Christmas evening.

I would love you to bring my sister a jumping Jack, and I would love you to bring me a dolly doll and a bicycle and a drum and my mother would like a new dress.

your friend Jean Stevens.

Dear Santa:

How are you? Christmas time is here again. Thank you for the things you brought me last year.

Would you bring me a play store? If you have one I would like it. I want a red sled too.

My sister wants a new dress and she wants a toy doll.

How is Mrs. Claus and the baby Claus? Are they all fine?

your friend Forest Sanislow.

would like to have a Jane Withers doll for Christmas. I would like you to bring me a purse and a set of dishes and a house keeping set and a baking set. I wish you could bring me a pair of fur boots. I wish you could bring me a sled. Would you please come and see me some time? That's all I would like for this Christmas. I will see you next Christmas.

Eddie Mae.

Dear Santa:

How are you? I am fine. Christmas is here again. Thank you for the things you gave me last year. How is Mrs. Claus? I like her. I wish you could bring me a doll house and three little dolls. My mother would like a singing book. My father would like a tie.

good-by Eddie Lanning.

NORTHVILLE WINS OVER REDFORD UNION IN OPENING GAME

Capt. Charles Bishop Leads Inspired Team to Win; 23-18

Northville's cagers played and won their first game of the 1937-38 season at Redford Union Friday. The final score was 23-18 in favor of N. H. S.

The game was fast and well played all the way through. The teams were quite evenly matched, but Northville's superior guarding and shooting were noticeable. Boelens made the first baskets of the game. The home team trailed at the end of the first half by the score of 11-8, but they came through easily to win by a score of 23-18.

Special mention should be made of the excellent playing of Charles Bishop, the newly elected captain of the team, and also Albert Boelens, who was high point man for the game. Eber Lester, who is new to the team, played very well, and Ben Duguid and Marvin Schoultz turned in their usual good performances as guards.

The lineup for the first team game was as follows: Bishop and Boelens, forwards; Lester, center; Duguid and Schoultz, guards; Niider substituted for Lester.

The second team game was easily won by N. H. S., the final score being 30-10. There is lots of excellent material on this team, but special mention should be made of the excellent playing of Leonard Fritz, a sophomore member of this team. A tribute, Dick (Frank) Holcomb, also deserves a lot of praise for his performance.

PRINCIPAL HARRISON ATTENDS CONVENTION

Principals G. V. Harrison attended Saturday and Friday in Indianapolis at a meeting of the high school principals of the state.

Mr. Hart, in his speech, enjoyed the meeting very much. The delegations were 100 strong and talk abouting.

The day of the meeting was "Clean Up Day" in which each delegation had to turn in the results of its good day high school students. The principal pointed out that although the fact that 90 percent of the students in the state attend public schools, the school districts have a certain responsibility for the students' conduct.

Dr. J. C. Reed, former faculty professor at the University of Texas, has been hired by the State Department to carry on a 20-year term as a supervisor of state high school curriculum.

Professor Paul Hanna, Ireland Stanford University, spoke on the topic, "Youth's Contribution to the Community." His ideas were very good, but would need much financial support," said Mr. Harrison.

"Mental Hygiene" was the subject of a talk by Professor J. Murray Lee of the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Lee spoke about the importance of a pupil's adjusting himself to live a happy life. He said it is up to the high school to help the students get started in this way.

Grade Notes

Miss Ann Richards' kindergartners are busy learning Christmas songs. Tuesday, Dec. 7, they had their eyes tested.

Miss Selma Jarris' class has drawn names for a Christmas party which will be held Tuesday. They have been making decorations for the windows and they are also painting pine cones silver.

Miss Margaret Carpenter's third graders are making Christmas gifts for parents and cards for their relatives. Part of the class is making decorations for the wall, while the rest are making fur trees for the blackboard.

Mrs. K. H. Babbitt's pupils won the health statue for selling the most tuberculosis seals. They sold $28 worth of seals. David Willis, who was their star seller, sold $12 worth of these seals.

Miss Alice M. Balen's visual piano classes gave a piano recital Monday, Dec. 13, in the music room.

Editor's Note

SPORTSMANSHIP

By Louise Alexander

Sportsmanship? Can you define it? It's more of a frame of mind than anything tangible, but you can always notice it or, in some cases, a lack of it. It's the way students act when the referee does something against their team or it's their attitude toward an injured opponent.

True sportsmanship covers a large territory. It does not stop at being a good sport among athletes.

Class meetings are a splendid place to exhibit your character.

Angry and annoying people only hinder the advancement of your class and lower you in the minds of your fellows.

But the most important place to practise being a good sport is in your own private life.

If you can discover people's faults and overlook them, that's being a sport.

If you can hear lies told about you by people you considered "friends" and refrain from retaliating with causticness. More power to you! So many, many things try out your patience and temper in school and home life that your ability to play fair and be a good sport is continually tested.

But of all the persons in the world who are more respected and liked than the ones who know all the rules of sportsmanship and pattern their lives after them?

It's good to be a good sport.

It's good to be a good person.

It's good to be a good citizen.

It's good to be a good student.

It's good to be a good person.
