FORD PLANT NOT TO HAVE SHUT-DOWN

Few Men Get Temporary Layoff; Retain Their Company Badges

The Northville Ford factory, so far as can be learned here, is not shutting down for more than just the regular Christmas holiday.

Officials in the Ford plant refused to give any exact data on the holiday or lay-off situation in the village. It is known, however, that the few men who were laid off here retained their badges, assuring them that they will return to the plant within a short time.

It has been estimated, unofficially, that only 40 men from each of the big shifts were given short layoffs, and a much smaller number were taken from the midnight shift.

GRADS DROP GAME TO SCHOOL SQUAD IN ANNUAL CLASH

By TOM MARTINO
Northville high school defeated the alumni in a thrilling basketball game Tuesday, Dec. 21, by the score of 32-20.

The game was fast and both teams set a furious pace. The first basket of the game was made by Bruce Turnbull, of the alumni. Captain Chuck Bishop then tied it up at two-all. Albert Boelens then sent one through the hoop and Benny Duguid made a foul shot, being fouled by Paul Baldwin, making the score 5-3 in the high school's favor. At the half, N. H. S. was leading 14-11. The second half started out very fast with both teams passing the ball around. N. H. S. started to drop baskets in to make the score 21-14 at the end of the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, the high school was held to one basket as the alumni started near the end with Turnbull putting in two baskets and James Hochkins one to make it 23-20, where the game ended two minutes later.

High scorers for the high school were Bishop and Boelens, with nine points each. Turnbull led the alumni with seven points.

In the alumni lineup were: James Hochkins, George Westphal, Bruce Turnbull, Clyde Myers, Henry Hoffman, Dayton Deal, Paul Baldwin, Eddie Bender, Ervin Marburger and Bill Duguid.

The high school players were: Charles Bishop, Albert Boelens, Eber Lester, Benny Duguid, Marvin Schoultz, Cecil Nirider and Walter Myers.

For the alumni there were: Gertrude Deal, Gilberta Osborne, Betty Haystead, Marion Turnbull, Isabelle Tewksbury and Beverly Ritchie.

INDIAN BORROWS RAZOR FROM VILLAGE MINISTER

All kinds of cases come to homes of ministers for help but the most unusual one that has come to the attention of the Rev. H. J. Lord was an Indian who needed a shave. Walking all the way from his home in Muskegon to visit relatives in Northville, this Indian wanted to arrive in respectable style.

Knowing that ministers usually have tender hearts, the red man knocked at the door of the Methodist parsonage Monday and asked for a razor blade. He was invited in kindly and an interesting conversation followed the shedding of the whiskers.

70 Musicians Sing "Messiah" In Fifth Annual Presentation

Leslie G. Lee directed 70 voices, members of the Northville Community chorus, in the fifth presentation of Handel's "Messiah" at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the Presbyterian church, which was filled to capacity.

Solo roles were taken this year by four young musicians, only one of whom has had any extensive training. Miss Evelyn Ambler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler, who is now a voice student at the Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, was the soprano soloist. Music offices, who commended her highly last year on the development of her voice when she appeared as guest artist in the spring with the high school choir concert, applauded her glowing Sunday performance, commenting upon her poise and vocal range.

Miss Johnson Sings
Miss Florence Johnson, daughter of Mrs. A. H. Johnson, who has been singing with the Methodist choir and who has just been studying voice a short time, found favor with music lovers by singing the contralto solos. Although she sang only four songs, her renditions of "Then Shall the Eyes of the Blind be Open" and "Hallelujah Chorus" were particularly well received.

"Comfort Ye My People," "Every Valley Shall be Exalted," were two tenor solos sung by Maurice Giles at the opening of the production. The bass parts were taken by Cecil Giles, in the songs "Thus Saith the Lord" and "For Behold, Darkness Shall Cover the Earth."

The Giles brothers, both of whom have been heard with school and church choirs the past few years, gave refreshing interpretations to the sacred music which villagers look forward to each year at this season.

Mrs. G. V. Harrison was the organ accompanist and Miss Doris Tewksbury played the piano.

Villagers Appear in Chorus
The chorus was made up almost entirely of village talent.

Soprano: Betty Yorkes, Betty Carlson, Miss Ambler, Leona Macfouled by Paul Baldwin, making the score 5-3 in the high school's favor. At the half, N. H. S. was leading 14-11. The second half started out very fast with both teams passing the ball around. N. H. S. started to drop baskets in to make the score 21-14 at the end of the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, the high school was held to one basket as the alumni started near the end with Turnbull putting in two baskets and James Hochkins one to make it 23-20, where the game ended two minutes later.

High scorers for the high school were Bishop and Boelens, with nine points each. Turnbull led the alumni with seven points.

In the alumni lineup were: James Hochkins, George Westphal, Bruce Turnbull, Clyde Myers, Henry Hoffman, Dayton Deal, Paul Baldwin, Eddie Bender, Ervin Marburger and Bill Duguid.

The high school players were: Charles Bishop, Albert Boelens, Eber Lester, Benny Duguid, Marvin Schoultz, Cecil Nirider and Walter Myers.

For the alumni there were: Gertrude Deal, Gilberta Osborne, Betty Haystead, Marion Turnbull, Isabelle Tewksbury and Beverly Ritchie.

F. D. RUMFORD, NOVI WORKER, IS KILLED

Frederick Don Rumford, Detroit, died at 8:30 a. m. Friday, Dec. 17, in University hospital, Ann Arbor, from injuries suffered at 10 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 16, when the car he was driving skidded on the icy pavement and rammed into a telephone pole on Novi road between Light and Nine Mile roads.

Rumford was rushed to Sessions hospital in Northville, but his critical condition caused by a crushed skull made it necessary to take him on to Ann Arbor.

Riding with Rumford at the time of the accident was the owner of the car, Frank Isaacs, also of Detroit. He sustained injuries, but is able to be in his own home. Rumford, along with Isaacs, was an employee at the Novi Equipment company at Novi. He was married and the father of three children.

DAVID COOK, LONG TIME RESIDENT, DIES

David Cook, long time resident of Northville, died Sunday morning, Dec. 19, at his home in Plymouth at the age of 87 years.

Mr. Cook was born Dec. 8, 1850, in Canada. Six years later he moved to Sanilac county with his parents, the late Samuel and Eve Cook, early pioneers of that county.

After his marriage to Rachel Tool, he settled in Washtenaw county, coming in 1884 to Northville, where he was employed by the old Globe Furniture factory until 1932.

Following his wife's death in 1931, he made his home with his son, Ward A., of Duluth, Minn. In 1936, he married Mrs. Elizabeth Welch, making his home in Plymouth.

Surviving him are his wife, Elizabeth, of Plymouth; and one son, Ward A., of Duluth, Minn., three grandchildren, ten great grandchildren, and two great great grandchildren.

Funeral rites were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 22, from the Casteline funeral home. Burial was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

DANCING BAILEYS PLAN NOVEL NEW YEAR'S PARTY

A novel New Year's party is to be sponsored Friday, Dec. 31, by the Bailey Dancing school in the Northville high school gymnasium. This is the second annual dance to be given here.

Pupils of the Bailey school are invited for the evening which will be highlighted by dancing contests.

JANE VAN ATTA WILL REIGN AT ICE CARNIVAL

Schedule Skating Contest To Begin on Pond at 2 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 1

Miss Jane Van Atta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Van Atta, is to be Snow Queen Jan. 1, at Northville's first ice carnival which will be held on Ford's pond.

Jane, a junior, received the honor by popular vote of the high school assembly Tuesday morning.

The ice carnival is a project of the Northville Civic association. It is understood that the festivity will become an annual event. Contests for children between the ages of eight and eighteen will begin at 2 p. m. There will be feature events for the business men of the village. It is expected that the fat man race will be a comic attraction of the day.

Judge John D. Watts, president of the Michigan Ice Skating association, will be in Northville with some of the most skilled amateur skaters of the State who will give an exhibition during the afternoon.

To Give Awards
Merchants, civic leaders and the Depositors State bank will give awards in the competitive contests.

The local committee is headed by Dr. H. H. Burkart, mayor; Dr. F. W. Snow, president of the Northville Civic association; Orlow G. Owen, vice-president of the Civic association. Officers of the committee include: Chief of Police Earl Montgomery, V. R. Hassler, V. M. Pilgrim, Neil Hannaford, Nelson C. Schrader, M. C. Gurnell, A. M. Zimmerman and D. Harper Britton.

Guy Lyman of Dearborn, former New York Athletic club ice speed skater, is chairman. Benjamin Bagdale, Captain Ross, Richard Loughlin of the Michigan Skating association are to be responsible for the running races.

ITCHISON, LORD MAKE REPORTS WEDNESDAY

By C. A. DOLPH
Reports and recommendations were received Wednesday noon at the Exchange club from the accounting committee of which Dr. R. M. Atchison is the chairman.

The foreign affairs committee which the Rev. Harry J. Lord heads, brought out some of the meanings in connection with the death of the late General Ludendorff and its bearing on religion in Germany.

Next week the club will hold its semi-annual election of officers and hear further reports.

TO LEAVE FOR FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richardson, North Center street, plan to leave Sunday morning for Clermont, Fla., where they will spend the winter. They are driving through and plan to take four or five days for the trip.

Eastlawn Shelters 'Quints'; 5 Smart Girls Pose for Picture

The Eastlawn "quints" who are really just five patients at the sanatorium dressed for a Halloween party like the famous five girls of Canada. These five girls found their picture looking up at them in the Dec. 20 issue of Life.

Stethoscope Editor Robert Lang sent the picture of Eastlawn's quints to the Life magazine, just in case it had enough news value to be given a place in that publication.

Life liked the picture and paid Editor Lang $5 for it. The editor asked Lang to tell him what kind of camera and film were used to take the snapshot of Nellie Zakalata, Josephine Bobrowski, Dorothy Gehrke, Cassie Ostapoyk and Bernice Jankowski.

Lang laughs about it, saying that the camera cost him something like $150 and the film cost all of 20 cents.

Eastlawn's "Quints" thing like $150 and the film cost all of 20 cents.

Dec. 21, 1937

To The Record:
I'm a pacifist, too.

For that reason I can't make C. E. Woodruff's letter of last week on the Chinese-Japanese situation add up just right.

Just how could this country give aid to the Chinese to the extent of sending them airplanes without ourselves becoming involved with Japan? Japan has already shown that she has no fear of us by destroying our ships.

As I look at it, such proposed aid to China would be more than the cost of the airplanes, and their transportation to the scene. The cost would include the lives of hundreds and hundreds of American doughboys before the final count was written on the war score board.

And that's not my idea of "small cost."

Clothes, Toys, Food Go To Needy Homes

Twenty baskets, each with a turkey, will be delivered this afternoon to the King's Daughters to homes that need food provisions to assure the families a plentiful Christmas dinner.

According to Mrs. William Safford, president of the organization, there has not been so great a need of such baskets this year as there was last December when 40 were distributed. "I don't think the need will be greater in a month or two than it is now," she affirmed.

Assisting Mrs. Safford on the basket committee were Mrs. W. E. Forney, Mrs. L. L. Vandenburgh, Mrs. H. E. Blowers and a junior member of the organization, Doris Hubbard.

As has been the custom of other years, the Legion men gathered together some 75 boys and girls in the high school gymnasium, Wednesday night to give them a Christmas party—a dinner with all the trimmings and brand new clothing—shoes, overshoes and other garments.

Floyd Lanning, headed the committee for the "big brother" enterprise sponsored by the Lloyd H. Green post. He had the backing of the merchants, Rotary and Exchange clubs.

M. J. MURPHY IS ILL

M. J. Murphy has been confined to his bed for several days because of an illness. He hopes to be able to eat Christmas dinner with the rest of the family Saturday in the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth.

MRS. HARMON IS ILL

The many Northville friends of Mrs. Della Harmon, Detroit, will be sorry to learn that she is confined to St. Mary's hospital, Detroit, following a serious fall. Mrs. Harmon, who is over 80 years of age, has been unusually active all her life. For a number of years she was composer in the Northville Record office when she made a wide acquaintance here.

Funeral rites will be held at 2 p. m. Friday, Dec. 24, in the Valley-Bell chapel in Birmingham.

Schrader Is First Ambulance Driver to Reach Train Wreck

When a call for ambulances was teletyped shortly after 9 a. m. Friday, Dec. 17, following a train wreck near Ecorse, between Beech and Hixson roads, Nelson Schrader responded, arriving before any other ambulance driver appeared at the scene.

He took to Redford Receiving hospital, Henry, Wisconsin 48, New York City, who had traveled 2,500 miles by air and was en route to Saginaw. He suffered chest and head injuries, but was able to tell Nelson that Mrs. Wolfson, worried so about weeks when he traveled by plane.

Fireman Is Hurt

Twenty-three persons were hurt in the wreck which was caused by the spread of a rail. A fireman, David Prameau, 38, Saginaw, was seriously hurt when his right arm struck against a window. It was necessary to amputate it at Redford Receiving hospital. Later he was transferred to Grace hospital as was Russell J. Downey, 50, a brakeman of Bay City, who suffered severe wrist cuts.

Three passengers and two baggage cars jumped the tracks, scattering packages in a disorderly fashion. Elmer Perrin went to the scene of the train wreck to salvage Northville's first class mail which was to have been left at the Pere Marquette depot. The packages didn't reach here for distribution until Saturday.

Christmas Tree Is Saved

Although passengers suffered severe cuts and fractures back in the baggage car an evergreen tree, which was to be the center of Christmas activities in a home, was none the worse for wear after the upset. A conductor handed the owner her Christmas tree, all in good condition, when she left the passenger car and made inquiry about her holiday greens.

Others who were hurt included Matt Buder of Flint, George H. Cahill of Saginaw, Martin A. Barger of Detroit, Lewis Naylor of East Orange, N. J., Mrs. Margaret Evans and daughter, Gwendolyn of Saginaw, Harry M. Lorbach of Park Beach, Fla., Mrs. Anthony Magli, one of Detroit, Joseph W. Mueller of Detroit, Mrs. G. D. Briggs and her daughter, Bet G. Flint, A. B. Callahan of Flint, Harry Shoemaker of Detroit, Gardner Cook of Flint, Mrs. Augusta Kull of Hemlock, Mrs. Minnie Dibble of Carlton, Mrs. Catherine M. Worriol of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Ella Collops of Willard, O.

DEATH CLAIMS ANTHONY SICKENBERGER OF CLAWSON

Word has been received here of the death of Anthony three and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sickenberg of Clawson. He died Wednesday morning, Dec. 22, in Ford hospital. Mrs. Sickenberg (nee Ethel Hodgson) is known in Northville where she was graduated from high school a few years ago.

Funeral rites will be held at 2 p. m. Friday, Dec. 24, in the Valley-Bell chapel in Birmingham.

GREGORY, DUNN JOIN NEW ATHLETIC CLUB

Tom Gregory and Dominic Dunn became members Tuesday evening of the newly organized Athletic club.

According to the president, Roland Morris, the club will have its organization and by-laws completed within three weeks. "After that young men of the village who want to join may hand their applications to any one of the officers," said Roland. Jack Moffitt is vice-president, Martin Sommers is secretary, and Essie Ninder is the treasurer.

An activity committee has plans in the making, President Morris reports, for a dinner early in the year.

The 14 members of the club play basketball every Monday evening in the high school gymnasium.

"One of the purposes of the club," said Roland after the organization was under way, "is to keep young fellows out of the pool halls and beer gardens. The entire community should profit by the projects the club plans to undertake."

SING CAROLS

Mrs. W. H. Johnston took a group of sixth graders, caroling Tuesday evening of this week. Among other places, the pupils sang at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Krueger who celebrated their forty-eighth wedding anniversary at that time.

EDITOR G. WATERS AND STAFF PUBLISH 40-PAGE MAGAZINE

Village Scene Is Theme of Fluoroscope Cover
Design

A 40-page Fluoroscope, which is a magazine published monthly by the Maybury Sanatorium and Herman Kiefer hospital and ordinarily boasts 20 pages, made its way into circulation last week, sending Editor George Waters to bed for a few days to regain the strength and vitality which the edition caused him to lose.

Not since its first edition six years ago, has there been such a large Fluoroscope. It was a Christmas present to the patients in both hospitals from the magazine staff. Art Editor William L. Gilley spent days developing the idea for the blue and silver cover design—a snow-covered village with the white smoke of a chimney writing "Merry Christmas" across the night blue sky.

Editor Pays for Itself

Advertising is paying for the blanket circulation as well as for the cost of printing. Ads from practically every village merchant, as well as greetings from business firms, doctors, nurses, organizations and hospital wards were solicited by the advertising manager, Arthur P. Karlander, a newcomer to the staff, who gave his best efforts to make the book a financial success.

Robert W. Ferguson, who does a great deal of heavy reading while he's waiting for his "okay," is Editor Waters' assistant. He helped edit the volume of copy and dummy the pages for attractive makeup. To Ferguson goes the credit for the feature, "The Northville Shopper," which really gives the inside story on shopping for the patients.

Douglas Writes Story

One of the outstanding articles appearing in the publication is a feature, "A Christmas Seal Is It," by Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, former Maybury head. A timely article, "Who Is He?" was penned for the magazine by Chaplain Charles W. Jones.

Bertha Flach, feature editor, Rhea Gray, circulation manager, and Edward J. Fitzgerald, accountant, have all given long hours of work to send the big edition to press. The staff associates did their share, too, including John Mindak, Dorothy Schrier, George Montie, Chester Carper, William Chown, Virginia Valle, Barbara Weiler, Stella Hildreth, Nick Derwich, and shoppers Melville, Hudd, Anthony Latarski, and Joe Stanley. Also helping were members of the reporting staff: Bill Garrison, Olga Kopek, Annie Mae Atkins, Gus Taylor, Paul Taos, Harry Kuipers, Lou Eites, Loretta Fredette, Clara McNeil, Ann Lichy, Margaret Ciesliska, Edna Morandy, Helen Dudek, Bill Wieland, Mae Boike, Lido Turin, Mary Farkas, Duke Cichelli and Juha Scheurich.

SCHOOL PUPILS POOL PENNIES FOR PATROL CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

Pennies tied securely in handkerchief corners or tucked carefully away in small coin purses were turned over this week by grade school pupils to their teachers to buy "something nice" for the five patrol boys, their substitutes and captain.

And the sometimes nice, according to Mrs. Selma Jarvis, grade school principal, are sacks filled with nuts, oranges, a chocolate Santa and pocket knives for each of the "regulars" and handkerchiefs for the "subs."

"It doesn't make any difference to the patrol boys about sunny days or rainy days (of course it's more pleasant when the sun's shining) because they are on duty every day. They come early to watch the children cross the streets, to direct traffic and to see that their school mates reach the building door safely."

It's more or less of an honor to be a patrol boy, Miss Jarvis points out. Each boy has to learn traffic regulations, commit a pledge and agree never to direct traffic in the streets. They do all their work from the curbs. The boys are all sixth graders and are selected by Mrs. James A. Huff, teacher of that room. Douglas Bolton, who was captain last year, has retained his post again this year, even though he is in junior high school.

Kenneth Bartrum is the patrol on Rogers and Main streets. Assisting him is Harold Dayton; James Ritchie stands on Linden and Main streets with Robert Kraft; Donald Stevens and Robert Streng are posted at West and Main streets; Alex. Funke and Bruce Simmons are on Cady and West streets; Jack Maloney has the help of Alfred Heatley at Cady and Rogers streets.

The grade school has a patrol system within its walls, too. Here girls are posted to see that pupils keep the lines moving when classes are dismissed. Girls stationed at vantage points in the building are to have Christmas presents, too, in recognition for their service. These girls are: Mary Louise Behen, Catherine Rossow, Dorothy Boyd, Patty McClintock and Lorraine Lapham.

THE MAGIC OF CHRISTMAS.
Merry Christmas to you all!
This Yuletide message goes to Record readers from coast to coast and from Canadian border to the warm Gulf stream.

With half the world torn by war, with literally millions suffering poverty and deprivation, the message of "Peace on Earth" may seem out of place and the marvelous message of Christmas may seem a baffling mockery. Yet what kind of a world would it be if we should erase this beautiful Christmas season from civilization? Were there no "Peace on Earth to men of good will," then surely war lust and the spirit of greed and oppression would complete their conquests and make us all prisoners of selfishness and hate.

No, thank God, the Christmas season rules again in millions of hearts all around the world! No musical symphonies can equal the great oratorio of the "Messiah," which is heard this week in countless places around the world—villages, cities and countryside. Nothing on earth can take the place of the laughing children who gather around the Christmas trees in every corner and nook of the world. The spirit of unselfishness has been exemplified this season in countless ways by people of all faiths. Even though it be for but a brief season, many have laid aside for the time, the spirit of selfishness, greed and unkindness and have given way to the compulsion of good will and the feeling of love, peace and joy. So mighty is the spirit of Christmas, so compelling are the good wishes of the season, that none can measure the influence of the Christ child. Even war, with all its horrors, under the spell of Christmas becomes a less hideous and destroying force.

So to all we say, "A Merry Christmas," and to quote Tiny Tim, as we do every year, "God bless every one of us." There is enough of the world's abundance, enough food and clothing for every last man, woman and child. The spirit of Christmas would leave none unclothed, unfed, lonely or sad. Some day we hope the sway of the Christ child will touch us all and there will be no room on earth for sorrow and sadness. Until that glad day comes, we listen to the words of the Christ: "Come unto Me all ye that are heavy laden and I will give you rest." Despite the troubles that have overtaken many of us, we sincerely wish that for every Record reader it may be the best Christmas you have ever had.

A COMMUNITY UPLIFT
No keen observer of Northville conditions can possibly miss the significance of the splendid music that has been given here during the Christmas season. The rendition of the immortal "Messiah" by community singers left an impress that literally cannot be measured. The influence of this Christmas music upon young people is marvelous. Continued through the years, this influence will certainly be a vital factor in building a finer and better community. So, to all who have given us this opportunity to hear the best in music, Northville is extremely grateful.

Few villages of this size would have the courage to attempt such difficult productions as the "Messiah" and the Christmas music rendered by the high school chorus recently, yet Leslie G. Lee used the talent at hand and trained it so well that the results were praised by music critics.

"Let me write the nation's songs and I care not who writes its laws," said a wise man. If a song is so powerful an influence upon the lives of youth then Northville takes off its hat to the man who pours the best music into the hearts of its people.

IF THERE WERE NO CHRISTMAS
(Winifred Kirkland in "Star in the East" in the December Atlantic Monthly.)

 Try for a moment to erase from human history, from art, from our own childhood memories and our own adult associations, all references to Christmas. For a moment look steadfastly at life on this planet with Christmas altogether blotted out from the past, the present and the future. Our first reaction to this effort at obliteration is a curious chilliness, a sense of dull fog; rising clouds seem to climb the blue night sky and gradually dim and then destroy a mounting star.

At the thought of no Christmas ever, anywhere, we shiver a little and then brace ourselves to meet once more a blackening world. Gaze into the past 2,000 years as if they formed a looming chasm in which century beyond century towers dark, and perceive it illumined by a tiny prick of light, a glinting star there in the East, called Christmas. But what if Christmas had never been?

ONE WAY TO GET BUSINESS
A hustling young chap, dressed in working clothes, with grime on his face, sat down at the editor's desk to give us a little business. He was such a courteous and friendly young man that we got to talking about the need of friendliness and courtesy in business. Then he gave us a little tip that might well be observed by every business man—and who is not, in one way or another, a business man?

"Do you know," he went on to say, "I go into some business places dressed about as I am now and, strange as it may seem, I am not treated as politely as I would be if I had on my good clothes. Funny the kind of clothes a man wears makes a big difference in the minds of some cheap clerks. Well, Mr. Editor, do you know what I do as a rule? I finish the business I am never go back to that store. There are enough places where a man can be treated courteously no matter what kind of clothes he may happen to be wearing."

Mr. Business-Man, write your own editorial.

LIQUOR AND THE WELFARE
We heard a Northville man bitterly protesting the idea that a man on the welfare be allowed to spend any money which the public furnishes him, to buy liquor. When you stop to think of it, isn't that a fair and reasonable proposition? There are many taxpayers here in Northville who do not drink liquor themselves and certainly it is gross injustice for them to have to pay part of the expense for liquor for a man on welfare.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

but you must remember the U. A. W. has grown in membership from 35,000 to over 300,000 in one year. I have never read in your columns any censorship of employers who pay poor wages when financially they are able to pay better, or work their employees in factories that are unsanitary and unhealthy.

As to Martin's statement re meat prices you have printed only part of his statements, which were to the effect that his boycott was against excessive middleman's profit, not the farmers.

I have always considered the metropolitan press to be owned and controlled by big business but have hoped that our weekly papers would continue to be independent and fair.

Why not be fair and give the readers at least a part of both sides of the picture, or is it the case Big Business can do no wrong?

Yours truly,
Novi Worker.

To the Editor of The Northville Record:
Let there be some misunderstanding, I am asking the privilege of writing this perhaps superfluous note.

I understand some persons correctly surmised that I wrote the letter appearing in The Record on Dec. 3. I did not sign my name to it for two reasons. First, I wrote the letter on request; and, while the views contained therein are wholly my own, I am personally not as acquainted over any possible moral breakdown in Northville as the letter may have indicated. Second, I had, and still have, a desire to keep all personalities, especially my own, out of any discussions that may develop on the subject.

Also, I should like to point out that my first letter should, under no circumstances, be construed as personal criticism of any individual member of any church—clergy or laity—in Northville.

Now, one word as to the letter last week. It does not answer the objections to the status quo in Northville voiced by Dr. Smith or those voiced in my letter of Dec. 3. All the criticism in the world of the U. of M. graduates will not bring any lamps to the fold of make immoral persons moral. I think the bible recounts no example of the founder of our religion criticizing the members of his flock for their waywardness. In fact, it is written that he went after them, not negotiating to separate, when it was necessary, upon new pathways, unexplored and often hazardous territory.

Where the "U. of M. graduate" fails to do his part, let us hope others will not fail.

—Fred Warner Neal.

Fatal Enemies of Democracy
Ignorance and prejudice are the two fatal enemies of democracy.

NATURE'S SILVER

Through an avenue of brightness, Glistening on every side, In the early morning hours, We were privileged to glide.

In the long hours of a night, Snow has fallen softly down, Decked each bough and branch about us.

With a white and glorious crown, Just fluffy small flakes, Settled comfortably on a bough, Each tiny particle sent a shimmering.

By the sun, I see it now, As the sun in early morning Raised itself up from its bed And sent its rays abroad the land, Bright yellow, blue and red.

As they touched the laden branches How the wealth of snow becomes, Sparkling jewels of wondrous splendor.

Leaves us speechless, one by one, Every bush and tree and ragweed Glistened in the morning sun; Looking like a snowwhite maiden Clothed in holiness as a nun.

When the winter winds blow, round you, And you shiver with the cold, Waiting in her vast storehouse, Are beauties you may behold.

Wait and watch for their appearance, And some day you will see All these splendors I have witnessed Touching every weed and tree.

EXCHANGITES BACK LEGION ENTERPRISE

By C. A. DOLPH

The Dec. 15 meeting of the Exchange club, because of slippery roads, was turned into an open meeting for discussion of committee work and the approaching holiday season.

Floyd Lanning of the American Legion presented a plan of cooperation for the special dinner for the youngsters on their 1st Dec. 22.

This was granted and the club took its quota of tickets quickly.
Dr. R. M. Atchison of the accident committee, requested action on two items of public interest upon which he is working. It was granted and he was empowered to act.
Exchangers Harold Bloom and Harold Church, together with Mrs. Bloom and Mrs. Church, attended the special dinner and entertainment given for Exchange club No. 1, by the U. S. Rubber company. They report a splendid outing.

An electric range is the gift of gifts... something every woman wants and hopes some day to own. An electric range is more than just another stove. It combines SIX GIFTS in one.

- 1 The gift of kitchen freedom. An electric range brings extra hours of leisure to do the things you enjoy most. You can put your whole meal in the electric oven and go out for the afternoon. A Timer Clock (available at small additional cost) turns the oven on and off at the proper time. When you come home your dinner is waiting, perfectly cooked—piping hot and ready for the table.
- 2 The gift of cleanliness. An electric range cooks with pure heat from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. You will enjoy the ease with which you can keep your kitchen bright and sparkling, with less frequent redecorating expense and practically no scouring of utensils.
- 3 The gift of better meals. Electric cooking has a delicious natural flavor. There is nothing else like it. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices. You'll be amazed at the difference electric cooking makes in all your recipes.
- 4 The gift of healthful cooking. The waterless cooking method is at its best on an electric range. Precious minerals and important food values are sealed in... not boiled away in excess water and poured down the sink.
- 5 The gift of comfortable cooking. In hot summer weather, an electric range does not raise the temperature of the kitchen, even one degree, by actual test.
- 6 The gift of modernness. Electric stoves installed ten years ago still look as good as the day they were installed. An electric range will often beautify the entire kitchen.

Electric cooking is the finest cooking that money can buy... and today, you don't need a great deal of money to buy it! Electric range prices are now so moderate that you can purchase an electric range for about the cost of an average stove of comparable size and features. This Christmas, choose the gift that will serve the entire family... surprise her with a new, modern, sparkling ELECTRIC RANGE! See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers and at all Detroit Edison office.

Christmas Day To Find Family Dinner Parties Center of Activities

It's that time of year again when households give over to family affairs, letting Christmas day climax a week of gay shopping, tree decorating, cake-eating and no-day calls.

A small, but important dinner occasion Saturday will be at the M. C. Gussell home on Hill drive. The Gussells just moved here last week and this is to be first holiday celebrated in their own home. Mrs. Gussell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Cummings of Caro are coming to Northville to the event.

As has been the custom for years, the M. J. Murphy's the C. A. Dolphs and Mrs. Charles Filkins, Guy Filkins and Mrs. B. G. Filkins will have Christmas dinner together. This year they are to dine at Hotel Mayflower, with an informal supper party following Saturday evening at the Murphy home on Linden avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Eberle Smith and son, Frederick, will get to Northville from Detroit in time for the evening fur. Mrs. Thomas Conway, Detroit, will also be present. Edwin Wierberg, of St. Louis, Mo., may come, too.

Mrs. W. T. Jones and daughters, Gwendolyn and Phyllis Jean, will spend Christmas day at the University hospital, Ann Arbor, where Mr. Jones is receiving treatment for an illness which likely can only be remedied by an operation. Late reports of Mr. Jones' condition are encouraging enough to make the family Christmas celebration a happy one, despite the shadow of ill health.

When Christmas dinner is served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chapman, places will be laid for Mrs. C. C. Chapman, Miss Lois and two house guests the Messes May and Edith Thomas of Buffalo, N. Y. And around the Christmas tree at Happy Acres, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walker, Jr., will be guests from Detroit, including Mr. and Mrs. Lee Walker and daughter Judy. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Cunningham and Miss Elaine Casterton.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee on Christmas will be Mr. and Mrs. Phil Morgan and son, Bobby, of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. C. George Lee of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Link of Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Richardson, 840 West Main street, will open their home Christmas for a large party.

which will include Mrs. Maude Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perkins and Maxine, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Elden Biery of Dearborn.

A Christmas party will be held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloom, 629 West Main street. At dinner there will be covers for Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Z. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ely and Mrs. Bloom's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Ely of Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Jr., will be the dinner guests Christmas of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burkman. At the home of Mrs. N. C. Schrader, a family party will include Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schrader, Edwin and Evelyn Schrader of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. B. Prescott of Dixie, Ill., and Charles Crandall of New York.

Christmas will be celebrated twice this year by the A. E. Fuller family in order to be with all their children. On Sunday Christmas, Russell of Lincoln Park and Howard of Detroit, with their wives and children, came out to the parental home on the Fishery road.

With "Grandfather" Fuller carrying the big turkey, there were present around the long family table, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Josephine Carr, mother of Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fuller and daughter Ruth, Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fuller and daughter Gwendolyn and son Gordon.

After dinner Santa Claus distributed gifts from the Christmas tree. It is interesting to note that in this gathering there were present four generations Mrs. Wade who is 84 years of age, Mrs. Fuller Howard Fuller and his son Gordon, nine years old.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will leave for Saratoga, N. Y. where they will spend the week with their daughter, Mrs. M. P. Meeker and her family. On their return they will stop in London, Ont., to visit in and out of a sister of Mr. Fuller's, home in 7 Mrs. 181. Edith Lee will, messen will join the week and with her mother, Mrs. Wade here.

Children Dance at Club Christmas Party

Ann Jean Flakty and Patricia Harding of Plymouth, who danced in the happy Friday afternoon were the Women's Club held its annual children's Christmas party.

Holly wreaths and a lighted evergreen tree made the room attractive for the stories told by Mrs. Sterling Eaton, of Plymouth, former teacher in the Northville grade school.

Preceding the party, Mrs. J. C. Burkman entertained Mrs. Eaton's honor at a luncheon. Other guests on this occasion were Mrs. W. L. Couse, Mrs. M. J. Lapham, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. Alfred Strassen, Mrs. Ward Masters, Mrs. R. F. Goodman, Mrs. D. W. Hahn, Mrs. Joseph Young, Mrs. Harry F. Wagenschultz and Mrs. C. Harold Bloom.

Kai-Keos are Dinner Guests Friday at Monroe Home

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe entertained the Kai-Keos at a Christmas party Friday evening at their home on Leg Cabin avenue Detroit.

A six-o'clock dinner was served before the Christmas gifts around the tree were distributed.

Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bran, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Congo, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yerkes Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Toby and Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Hoogen of Detroit.

REV. WALTER NICHOL IS ROTARY'S GUEST

It was Christmas time at the Rotary gathering Tuesday evening when the Rotary Anns of the members were their guests in the Presbyterian church house.

Small Christmas trees and decorations in the holiday colors lent a festive getting to long tables where the three course dinner was served.

The singing of carols at intervals during the dinner was led by Leola G. Lee. The high school, a cappella choir, sang at the close of the dinner and rendered a part of the Christmas program which was greatly enjoyed.

Another feature of the evening was the narration of Henry Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man" by the Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian church.

Santa Claus surprised the company by bringing in gifts causing much amusement. These gifts were passed on to needy children. Guests of the members were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell, the Rev. and Mrs. Nichol, Junior Rotarian, Walter Garchow, and Miss Sue Schuster.

Trailer Is Scene of Bridge Party Thursday—

Something novel in the way of bridge parties was hosted last Thursday, Dec. 16, by Miss Irene Fenell. She entertained at a bridge and late supper in her trailer.

Her guests were, Mrs. O. F. Reng, Mrs. James A. Congo, Mrs. Frank W. Hewitt, Mrs. W. E. McCarthy, Mrs. A. Russell Clarke, Mrs. K. E. Babbitt and Mrs. Charles Wilson.

Miss Wilson is Complimented Thursday by Teachers—

Miss Nora Wilson's birthday anniversary was the occasion for a tea Thursday Dec. 16 in the grade school.

Her associate teachers of that building were the hostesses.

Service Leagueurs Hold Party Tuesday in Parsonage—

Mrs. Frank Miner of Wallend Lake formerly of this place told the story of the Service League who met Tuesday evening, Dec. 21 at the 145 Lord, Mrs. R. W. Covell and Mrs. Donald Miel of Wallend Lake.

The Christmas theme centered late in the evening around a lighted Christmas tree which held a gift from the group to Mrs. Lord.

A large plant was also a gift to Mrs. Lord from Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Lord, both members of the Service League.

Miss M. J. Upham conducted the devotion period using the Christmas theme.

CHARLES BISHOP ELECTED CAPTAIN

Basketball Team Votes Honor to Veteran Cager

By TOM MARTINO

Charles Bishop is the newly elected captain of the 1937-38 basketball squad. If anyone ever earned this honor it's Chuck, who is one of the best cagers turned out by Northville in years. Here's a little low down on this high up.

In his freshman year Charles managed the football team and played second team basketball. The basketball team went through the season undefeated. Spring came and basketball drew his attention. He played in the games as shortstop for two years.

Chuck's sophomore year, found him playing first team regular on the basketball team. This was the year that NBS won the Suburban League and District trophy. He played his second year of baseball in 1936.

As a junior our friend specialized in basketball alone. This year the team won the District trophy.

This being his senior year, Chuck decided to branch out a bit. He went out for football in the fall of 1937 and was a real triple threat man. Basketball has again claimed his attention at the present time. His teammates have recognized his worth and elected him captain. The squad has played one league game and won it quite easily. Chuck is looking forward to spring already when he intends to go out for his third year of baseball.

TO BE SINCERE IS MOST IMPORTANT

Are you a mope? "Flash in the pan?" Does your popularity burst out and then die down again? Or are you one of those rare friendly persons who always wear well?

If you're not one of the latter, why not look yourself over and make a few changes? After all it can't always be the fault of the other fellow. Are you always friendly to people?

You can't lose ever a person one time and ignore him completely the next. If you do, you're going to find people doing the same thing to you. Do you really mean the things you say and do? When you say and do them? A "fake" is always seen through by the ones that really count. Do you travel in your own little clique, or do you really like everyone? A boy or girl who won't allow himself to associate with every single worthwhile person he meets is a one-sided individual all his life. Pretending to like someone when there's something to be gained doesn't fool anyone, unless maybe it's yourself.

Bursts of sudden popularity are not to be sought after just as much as having friends who think you are a genuinely sincere person and having them really mean it.

Did You Notice?

The new bell in E. C. Mollema's room? Keep it what?

Johnny Angel flirting with Jean M. in geography? Is that the thing to do, Johnny?

Janet S seems to be quite taken up with Dale Bray in the ninth hour assembly?

How Kenny makes himself at home during the fourth hour? Maybe he thinks he is someone of importance with his feet perched on the desk across the aisle.

Bean shooting is back in style? If you want to learn the art of shooting, ask Maurice Wolf, he'll teach you.

How sweet and innocent the freshman class is of late? They still believe in Santa Claus.

Fred Johnson sitting with Alice Eaton during lunch hour? "Nice work if you can get it."

Ed Baughman's latest romance is still budding? Nice work Ed, keep it up.

Miss Estelle Griffith's pupils have trimmed a Christmas tree and have made some chains for decorating. This class has created a new idea of a more interesting method of reading. They have called it "Chinese Reading Class." The class is divided into groups of five, and each

Editor's Note

The Christmas season brings to mind many things. Not only material things such as gifts, but also these intangible goodnesses, the value of which can't be measured in dollars and cents. It almost seems that we've lost sight of the real meaning of Christmas, in our efforts to "outdo" the other fellow with expensive gifts. We've commercialized this once-sacred holiday. "Good will towards all" is a favorite expression during this season. But to how many of us does that phrase mean anything more than just a few words that sound well together? How many of us really feel in our hearts: "Good will towards all?"

On that first Christmas, so many hundreds of years ago, the wise men brought costly gifts and jewelry to the baby king. But it wasn't these presents and their cost that counted. It was the feeling in the hearts of those men who came to worship this newborn babe, that meant something. He was their king, and the love they felt for him was worth far more than the precious gifts they threw at his feet.

Remember this then, at Christmas-time. It isn't the material worth of a gift that counts. It's the feeling in the giver's heart. How much more do we treasure the love in the heart of a friend than the cost or size of his Christmas gift!

WOULDN'T YOU HAVE COMMITTEES PICKED DONE THE SAME? BY PALLADIUM STAFF

When he was walking down Woodward when I first saw him. All alone and with an expression of such helplessness on his thin, peaked face, that I just couldn't pass him by. I paused and as he approached, stopped him with a friendly "Hello."

It wasn't much, but I didn't know of anything that would have served better. He stopped, gazing up into my face before he replied, with a shadow of a smile, "Hello."

He seemed as if about to go on, but I, feeling a strange surge of pity rush through me at sight of the hunger and loneliness so evident in his wide eyes, said, because I felt I had to hold him there somehow, and I couldn't think of anything else to say, "How old are you, little boy?"

He looked at me strangely as if he couldn't quite understand. Then, "about ten," he replied. I had been tracking my poor brain for a way to keep this feeble conversation going. "Are you hungry?" I asked, as a sudden inspiration came to me. He nodded, so I said something about my being in the same condition and taking him, small hand in mine led the way to a fashionable restaurant nearby.

The dinner inside looked at us queerly as we entered. It probably did seem strange to see an odd combination, as we were being escorted to one of the more favorable tables. The boy was small for his age, and looked at it if a decent meal couldn't hurt him. He wore an old cap several sizes too large for him, a pair of baggy trousers with holes in both knees, a ragged shirt, dirty socks and old shoes. He ate ravenously when our order was placed before us, while I found so much more pleasure in watching the little fellow enjoy his food, that I hardly touched mine. He grumped widely at me over the rim of a huge glass of milk, and I unconsciously smiled back at him. When he had eaten as much as he possibly could, including a heaping dish of strawberry ice cream, we emerged from the dimly lighted cafe and into the glaring sunlight of the street. Here my little friend and I parted, and as I watched him slowly disappear in the throngs of late Christmas shoppers on the busy avenue, I felt a warm glow creep into my heart for my small part in making one little soul happy on Christmas Eve.

COUNCIL SPONSORS MINSTREL SHOW

Junior High Benefits Girls' Basketball with Profits

By LEONA WHITE

If you had entered the senior assembly Monday afternoon, Dec. 20, around 3 p. m. you would have witnessed a large crowd consisting of students, faculty members and parents. It was the occasion of the junior-high minstrel show.

The show was in two acts with Bob Hunter the deacon for the occasion. Loyde Babbitt and Dick Davis showed their ability to act by giving a short skit as well as Bob Voglin and Harold Scholtz. George Hunter did his best to make the show a success and he succeeded. I can assure you. Sidney Laney, the model, rendered a number on his guitar. A quartet consisting of Douglas McCuskie, Harold Martens, Louis Eaton and Bob Boyden supplied the music for the afternoon.

On "yes," I almost forgot Harold Scholtz's talk on love which brought laughter from some of our senior boys in the back of the room. You're welcome to try it, boys, if you can do equally as well.

The complete cast was composed of Harold Scholtz, James La Rue, Sidney Laney, Bob Hunter, Bob Voglin, Eugene Hogan, Louie Babbitt, Dick Davis, Dick Simmons, Bob McCuskie, Robert Stremich and George Hunter.

The show was for the benefit of the girls' basketball team, sponsored by the junior student council. George Hunter reported a net profit of $22.14.

Much thanks should be given to Mrs. B. Cooke and Mrs. Gladys Ludwig, who assisted the students in making this occasion a success.

WALTER MYERS TO PILOT '38 GRIDDERS

By TOM MARTINO

Walter Myers, newly elected captain of the 1938 football team, has been active in sports all through his high school career. Walter is a junior, and next year, as a senior, he hopes to pilot the team to victory. He played second team basketball in his freshman and sophomore years, and football in the latter.

Walt joined the golf team and admits that this is one thing he'd like to play all day long. He played baseball too helping NBS to win the Suburban League championship. This year our new captain made the football team and played left end under the able leadership of Captain Eber Lester.

Walter is playing basketball again this year.

Piffle About Pipples

We noticed Don Armstrong and Betty Gillispie in the office Monday. The moral of that/children, is "Don't Skip School."

Martin Breitmeyer keeps talking about taking shots for hydrophobia. What's the matter, Martin? Did you get bitten by something? (Or someone?)

Imagine William Hensch trying to get the physics class to do a problem with nineteen zeros in it! After wearing them all-out with that AWFUL test last Friday, too!

We hear Janet has reformed. Rumors say that she was a nice little girl and stayed home all last week end. Janet, this is almost too much!

This column thinks that the electors certainly picked out one of the best looking girls in school for Ice Queen, when they chose Jane Van Atta. Congratulations, Jane!

What are Jeanne Atchison and Kathryn a feudin' about these days? Rumor has it that it's a little matter of Jeanne reading a note sent to Kate by one of the better known Sophomore Romeos. Some stuff!

Question of the week: Why do all the great big athletic boys of the school insist upon throwing Dick Ambler around?

Answer: Ask someone who knows. We don't!

group reads orally and is first criticized by a chairman, then by the pupils themselves.

Mrs. James A. Huff's room has received 15 new books to add to its library. Sixth grade pupils took part in the grade assembly by giving two plays. They were: "Oh, You Boots" and "Confusion in Santa Claus Land." They are making Christmas cards for their mothers. Some of the girls have joined a sewing class that sews gifts for their parents.

Mrs. O. F. Reng's second grade made pin trays for their mothers and calendars for their fathers that were decorated with designs.

On the back wall is hung a scene of silhouettes consisting of shepherds and wisemen following the star. Candles were pasted on the windows and Christmas bells hang from the blackboard.

Miss Eulalia Miller's second grade has made a collection of toys that were sold at a bazaar on Monday. The money was used to buy new readers.

Three lovely Christmas trees were decorated by the children. They made Christmas folders and calendars with kodak pictures of their class on them for mothers.

MY HEAD-ACHE'S GONE! MY HEAD IS CLEAR! MUST BE YOUR ALKA-SELTZER DEAR.

There is a modern pleasant way to get relief from Headache, Gas on Stomach, Colds, Heartburn, "Morning After" and Muscular Pains. Just drop one or two ALKA-SELTZER tablets into a glass of water. Watch it bubble—listen to it fizz. As soon as tablet is dissolved, drink the tangy solution.

Alka-Seltzer
(Analgesic Alkalinizing Effervescent Tablets)

You will really enjoy the taste—more like spring water than like medicine. ALKA-SELTZER when dissolved in water, contains an analgesic (Sodium Acetyl-Salicylate) which relieves pain, while its alkalinizing agent helps to correct everyday ailments associated with hyperacidity. Your druggist has ALKA-SELTZER. Get a 16 or 50c package on our "satisfaction-or-money-back" guarantee.

Homemaker's Corner

By MRS. EDITOR

CHRISTMAS GOOD WILL

She was wrapping gifts — this friend of ours — when we dropped in the other day. The table and floor were strewn with the customary litter of tissue paper and gay ribbons.

"Almost through," we asked.

"Almost," she sighed, "and I've been wondering after all I have the real Christmas spirit. What do all these little gifts and fancy wrappings amount to if down deep in my heart I hold resentment toward someone I could hold a deep grudge against, certain persons but as I have been sitting here wrapping gifts and listening to the carols over the radio I have decided that the keynote is 'Peace on earth, good will toward men.' No matter how much I give I am not really ready for Christmas until I can replace a wronged feeling with good will. Every-green trees, holly wreaths, greetings and merry making do not make Christmas if it isn't in the heart.

Her words made us think. Did we feel ready for the season of good will?

These lines of Robert Burns came to us:

"If happiness has not her seat
And centre in the breast,
We may be wise, or rich, or great,
But never can be blest."

"Nae treasures, nor pleasures
Could make us happy lang;
The heart's aye the part ay
That makes us right or wrang."

GIFTS

A holly wreath, a Christmas tree, and these are gifts enough for me. My little daughters' shining eyes, their cries of joy and glad surprise. A book, a chair, the firelight glow, Christmas bells rung over the snow.

Altar candles gleam so bright,
While chorus sings "O Holy Night!"
I kneel and pray, give thanks to Him,
Born tonight in Bethlehem.
For children round my Christmas tree—
es, these are gifts enough for me.

7:30 p. m.—On account of the Christmas holiday there will be no evening service this week.

The Sunday morning sermon theme will be "Still Glorifying and Praising" the last of the series of Christmas sermons. Special music, celebrating the advent of Christ will be given.

There will be no evening service this Sunday, Dec. 26, but the first Sunday evening in January, there will be a candle light communion service.

Novi Methodist Church.

Harry J. Lord, Minister

Church services will be held at 4 p. m. with a sermon by the pastor.

Our Lady of Victory Church.

Christmas Schedule: Confessions, Friday Dec. 24 from 3-5 and from 7-9 to 9 p. m. Masses there will be celebrated three Masses, at 12 midnight, and at 9 and 10 a. m. The public is invited, especially to the Midnight Mass. They are welcome at the other two also. The 9 o'clock Mass is dedicated to the children. If they have copies of the hymns, "Holy Night," and "Come, All Ye Faithful," they should bring them along to the church.

The Sunday Masses are at the regular hours of 8 and 10 a. m.

On New Year's day the two Masses will be held one hour later than on Sunday. They will be at 9 and 11 a. m.

St. Williams Chapel, Walled Lake.

Christmas Schedule: Confessions on Friday, Dec. 24, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. Three Masses will be held on Christmas day at midnight, and 9 and 10 a. m. The public is invited.

Sunday, Dec. 26, one Mass at 11 a. m.

New Year's day there will be one Mass at 11 a. m.

Christian Science Churches.

"God" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Jan. 2.

The Golden Text, from Psalm 77:13, is "Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?"

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 45:22): "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 275): "The starting point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor mind, that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle."

First Presbyterian Church.

Thomas W. Smith, D. D., Minister

Sunday Services:

At 10 a. m. Church School. The attendance last Sunday was 125. Our aim for the New Year is an actual attendance of 150.

Worship at 11:05 a. m. The pastor will preach upon a Christmas theme, "The Way of Peace."

The choir will give special Christmas music. The anthem,

"Sing Ye Noel" by Gaul, M. S. K. R. will give the solo from the "Messiah," "Come Unto Him."

The Senior C. B. will have a Christmas theme for their meeting at 7 p. m. Dr. Olin McK. Jones of New York city, gave a fine talk to the meeting last Sunday evening.

"The Whole Christ for My Savior," "The Whole Bible for My Staff," "The Whole Church for My Fellowship" and "The Whole Church for My Parish."

There will be no Church Night on Thursday, Dec. 30.

We congratulate Mr. Lee and the Northville choir on the rendering of the "Messiah" last Sunday evening. The audience packed the church. It was a real credit to this community.

The Session has received ten new members recently into our membership. They were welcomed last Sunday morning.

With what singing in two homophones and all Europe preparing apparently for Armageddon "this Christmas seems incredible" as one magazine calls it. "Peace on earth, good will to men. Yet we must remember, 'Though the wrong seems out so strong, God in the Ruler yet.' Let us speak forth valiantly for peace among all governments and for the reign of reason and conciliation."

Salem Congregational Church.

Lucia M. Stroh, Minister

The Christmas program and sacred pageant will be given Christmas eve at 8 p. m. All our friends and neighbors in the community are cordially invited to attend.

There will be a Christmas tree, candy and nuts for all.

Prayer meeting is Wednesday evening in the parsonage.

Divine Worship next Sunday is at 10:30 a. m. Sunday School is at 11:45 a. m. The pastor wishes all in the community good Christmas cheer and the blessing of the Christ of God upon each home and family.

Walled Lake News

By CHARLES HUTTON

This week's Walled Lake news gist may go on record as being the sparsest contribution of weekly correspondence The Record has known this year, or maybe any other year.

In the first place, I've got a cold, and don't feel like writing. In the second place, this is the wintery part of the year's busiest season for post offices, musicians and feature writers. Just to show you: Last week, Ye Old Time Walled Lake Towne Crier started out by donating what are commonly known, for some reason as morning trousers (on Sunday afternoon) combined with spats and a grey coat and vest built by Orlo (he also constructed the pants to match) and warbling the bass solos of the "Messiah" at Detroit. He then hurried back to be in time to lend moral support at the People's Forum, here in the evening.

Next day, after wrestling as a sort of postal Santa Claus, with the patrons' bulky mail orders, he dashed off some daily and weekly correspondence, raced to Northville, returned for supper, and hurried to cover some news happening.

Tuesday, same day's routine: trip to Northville; home for supper; choir rehearsal; more news writing.

Wednesday, more and more of it, coupled with snow, sleet and icy roads. A dozen long distance phone calls to try to change a Birmingham rehearsal from Thursday to Wednesday, because of an unexpected concert review assignment on Thursday night. Last minute changes, meaning no rehearsal, Wednesday night, because of ice. (Just a bunch of panics, these choir people.)

Thursday, two dozen phone calls, also long distance, to try to fix up some sort of rehearsal for night. No soap. No practice. These are some of the causes of the above mentioned "Towne Crier's" graying hair.

Thursday night, the covers Pontiac concert. Home at 11 p. m. Bites his nails through the review he has to write of said concert, by 1 a. m.

Friday, jumps in the trusty Chevy, slips and slides back to Pontiac with said review, stops for a bowl of soup and gets back home at 2:30 a. m. Bed at 3 a. m.

Friday, more and more grind. Final arrangements for Sunday choir concert. Conferences with assisting artist, accompanist, minister, etc.

Sunday morning, church. Afternoon, the concert. Incidentally, the choir did right well for itself, in spite of the fact that several were out because of colds, or other reasons. And, after the concert, several ladies of the church graciously gave the choir a receptionary appreciation of their efforts, which was a kind and generous thing to do. The ladies were Mrs. Miley, Mrs. Tuck, Mrs. Carter and Miss Bradley.

Tomorrow night, Dec. 20, at 11 p. m. Ye Town Crier is to be heard in his solo capacity via WWJ, singing the "Messiah" again. (If all the
