Northville's Ice Carnival Draws Keen Competition

PERRIN, SHAFFER TO HEAD LIGHT INVESTIGATION

Interest in Skating Is at Peak; Winter Sport Club Possibility

A survey, headed by Commissioners Elmer Perrin and Floyd A. Shaffer is under way to find out the cost of lighting the Ford pond at night during the skating season.

Dr. H. H. Burkart, mayor, made his committee appointment Monday evening, requesting Commissioners Perrin and Shaffer to contact Detroit Edison men on the matter of expense.

Provide Entertainment

"By having the pond lighted we'll be providing a source of entertainment for young and old alike while the ice is in condition for skating." Dr. Burkart told members of the commission. "Older persons need some form of recreation and this wholesome activity may serve to keep the young folks out of trouble," he continued, pointing out that since Sunday's carnival interest in skating has reached a peak in this community.

It is the plan of the council, according to Dr. Burkart, to back the lighting project if the cost is within budget limitations.

Organize Sport Club

With councilmen seeking a way to turn the flood lights over the skating area, a group of apartment house owners at Novi, copies a note of encouragement in the labor situation. The substantial Christmas gift announced shutdown is slightly longer than that ordinarily taken for New Year and the usual monthly period.

From the Universal Manufacturing plant at Novi, copies a note of encouragement in the labor situation.

These substantial Christmas gifts will also give living exhibits of their ability to safely transport the extent of proposing a winter sports club for Northville.

A series of night sport events will be sponsored by the club upon completion of its organization, probably in April.

A SAFETY SLOGAN FOR 1938

Want a safety slogan for 1938, you automobile driver?

It would be fine, wouldn't it, to finish the year without an accident in which you were to blame? Adoption of the following motto might help you to reach that objective:

"As ye would that others should drive toward you, Drive ye even so toward them."

COURTESY IN NORTHVILLE BUSINESS

Who is the most important person in any Northville business that depends upon the public for its patronage? Is it the storekeeper, the "boss," or the treasurer of the particular concern? No, it is none of these "big shots."

Who is it then that has the most importance? We have just read in The Rotary magazine that it is the person who answers the telephone or who greets the customer personally. Two minutes have made life-long enemies for some concern by the person who made the first contact. The article continues, "Courtesy not only gets business, it holds business. Ten years of sound business dealings have been spoiled by ten seconds of discourtesy."

If every Northville business place would specialize in courtesy on the part of every employee and insist on this courtesy throughout the year, it might result in business gains of from 10 to 25 per cent. Anyway, it's worth trying to "take the cut out of courtesy."

HOW MANY DOES THE AUTO INDUSTRY HELP?

When you drive by the Northville Ford plant, or go by one of the big auto concerns in Detroit, do you realize how far-reaching is the automobile industry? Here in the automobile center of the world, we may not quite sense just how all important is this industry. The facts are that one out of every seven "gainful workers" in the United States derives his or her pay directly or indirectly from the automobile industry.

Hence, when people stop buying cars, as they have during the past few months, it becomes very evident why times become depressed. When people start buying used cars again, conditions will pick up, the demand for new cars will start and the wheels will begin to turn again. Incidentally, this seems to be a "cracker jack" time for those who want to buy a used car to be out looking for one right now. Used car lots are full of fine bargains.

WHAT IS "BUSINESS?"

(From an advertisement published by Nation's Business)
The plain truth is that "Business" is human-flesh and blood.

All over this land there are solid, substantial businesses and businessmen. They're putting their hearts into the job of getting this nation back into its old-time stride. Thousands and thousands of them, in every town and city, from Albany to Austin, from Tampa to Tacoma.

Think straight. Think for yourself. Every time you applaud an unwarranted attack upon business and businessmen, you get more laws, more regulations, more officials, more taxes, less free play of economic forces which has made of us a great business nation.

As we yield more and more of our freedom to do things for ourselves, we change the character of America. We discard the proved principle that progress comes from the people, from the bottom up. We adopt instead a strange theory—strange for us, at least—that business progress will come from political Washington, from the top down.

Think it over for yourself! Join the increasing number of intelligent citizens who are saying: "What hurts business hurts me," and "what helps business helps me."

WHAT WILL TAKE THE PLACE OF "CALLING?"

Several times within the past year newcomers to Northville—some of whom have been here two or three years—have more or less bitterly complained to us that nobody "has called on us." "Why, not even two people have been to see me since I came to Northville," said one woman.

Our present mode of fast living has put the old-time neighborly custom of calling and visiting with your neighbors, on the brush pile of oblivion. Calling on people, in the extent to which it was once done, has completely gone out of fashion. Of course, just because people do not call upon one another does not mean that we have become non-social beings. As a matter of fact, we go more than we ever did, but we go distractedly and hurriedly. Of public meetings, like "the making of many books, there is no end."

Yet we think we have all lost in the passing of that old custom where friends took time to sit down in each other's home and did nothing but just talk. When we gave up this practice something intangible and fine went out of our lives. So it was refreshing at this New Year's season to find Northville that several homes had more or less informal "open houses" at which neighbors got together in a genuine friendly way. If more of this could be done, we would have a better welded community.

AN EARLY GOVERNORSHIP CAMPAIGN

The battle as to who shall be the 1938 candidates for governor of Michigan has already started. Though the primaries are not until next September, forces are already lining up for and against Governor Murphy in the Democratic ranks while Frank D. Fitzgerald has already announced his candidacy as a Republican.

The Murphy candidacy, without doubt, will be full of fireworks and fighting. Not only will the Governor face the Republican competition, but there are plenty of strong Democratic leaders who would just as soon never let a candidate but they dare not antagonize him. The fighting governor in his one year in office has a spotted record—some praised as good, and some denounced as utterly wrong. On the Republican side, so far, Fitzgerald is the only announced candidate, though former Judge Harry S. Toy may be in the running later.

What of the Murphy candidacy? The governor has, by his attitude on the sit-down strikes and by his action since, made a strong bid for the labor vote. At the same time, however, he has bitterly antagonized many elements that are not pro-labor. Just what the effect will be at the ballot box it is hard to estimate. The tremendous loss caused the state by the sit-down strikes will undoubtedly be one of the strong talking points against Murphy in the coming campaign. The recent attempt by Lieutenant-Governor Nowicki to collect pay for 72 days while he served as governor during Murphy's absence, will undoubtedly be a factor in the campaign. It has made more or less of a rift in the Democratic organization—and let us not think that the upstanding former Hamtramck resident, now serving as Lieutenant-Governor, will play a molly-coddle part in the campaign battle. On the favorable side of the Murphy campaign will be stressed the many fine appointments made by the red-headed Governor.

Carrying out the theory that Murphy will openly bid for the labor vote, is his action in the appointment of Richard T. Frankensteen, a vice-president of the U. A. W., as a member of the State Welfare board. Nothing that Murphy has done, has created the wide condemnation that has met the appointment of the labor leader who had such a large part in the sit-down strikes during the past year.

All of this campaign talk about Murphy, of course, is based on the assumption that he will remain in state politics. It had been thought for some time that President Roosevelt would call him to Washington in some capacity or other, but this has not happened and the best political observers believe that the Governor plans to stay in Michigan and run for his present office again. Conditions, however, are so involved that anything may happen with in the next few months.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS*10 YEARS AGO

James T. Dubois, well known former Northville resident, is given special mention in a recent issue of the St. Louis N. Y. Post-Standard Building at the State Ranger School at New York. He is the director of the school.

Excellent progress is being made on the improvements, down at the Silver Springs company plant. The building will probably be entirely finished and ready for use in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lovewell were given a very pleasant surprise by a number of their friends New Year's eve.

Noel Wein, piloting a Sunbeam Detroit plane, hopped off from Nome for Fairbanks with two passengers and Christmas mail to the States. The temperature was 22 degrees below zero. Wein planned to stop over night at Ruby, 350 miles from Nome, and was due in Fairbanks that evening, according to the Philatelic Gossip.

City officials have installed a number of stop signs at some of the paving intersections about town.

15 YEARS AGO

The corporate existence of the Globe Furniture Company expired late in December and a new company has been organized to take over the assets and good will of the old corporation. The new company will be called the Globe Furniture and Manufacturing Company and will be capitalized at $75,000.

Work on Northville's new sewer system has been discontinued until next spring. The severe cold weather in December made construction work most disagreeable and expensive, and it was decided to stop work of all kinds.

The Modern Woodman elected the following officers Thursday: Pres. consil. E. R. Bogart; consil. B. Schultz, worthy advisor; Louis Lanning: banker; T. E. Murook; clerk; R. M. Pickel; escort; Roy VanVeenburgh; watchman; W. O'Donnell; sentry; Harry Jackson; physician Dr. D. B. Henry; managers R. L. Lanning, J. D. Miller and John Schoutz.

Members of the village council are becoming very much interested in the matter of suitable fire apparatus for Northville and it is believed that the needs of the village will be adequately met next summer.

MY WISH

By THEODORE WERLE

For 1938 I can think of nothing the American people could find more helpful than peace of mind.

This I wish with all my heart for them.

Agitation from whatever source when carried on for money or for personal power at the expense of our well-being is dangerous.

Do not misunderstand me, I am not opposed to wholesome change and progress. These are a part of life necessary to our well-being. Dis-satisfaction accompanied by a desire to improve is the essence of advancement in personal circumstances in business, invention, manufacture. It is a great stimulant. It is a driving force of tremendous power when applied constructively. It is destruction when mixed with cut-throat indifference. Impatience dissatisfaction is the poison which the agitator spreads.

With the close of 1937 we had entered upon an era of almost unprecedented labor agitation. The promise from labor unions seems to be that we are soon not to be disturbed.

1938 will apparently bring still more labor trouble. There will be the battle between labor leaders for control of power and the rich harvest of workingmen's money which flows into union coffers.

The emancipation of labor from work may be a great cause. There can be no doubt that it is a highly profitable one. If it were not so profitable to a relatively small group of men, the whole of it would probably not smell so badly in our nostrils. While this selfish struggle within labor groups tends to disrupt our national peace of mind, I am not so sure that in the long run it will not be a good thing for the country.

Set two arrogant bullies at one another's throats and the neighborhood will be sound with the noises of combat; but in the end, when the bullies have destroyed each other orderly life in the neighborhood may again be possible.

There can be little peace of mind for Americans in the year ahead when they contemplate their federal government. Debt mounting upon debt! Experiment after wacky experiment! Violation of moral, traditional, and legal principles which we have cherished as sound and upstanding principles which we have taught our children no honorable person breaks. Colossal inconsistency in principles fundamental to the successful ruling of a great nation has bred uncertainty, distrust, business timidity. The mad effort in behalf of a mythical number of unclad and unshod, unhouse gods wildly on. Our house is beginning to totter with the violence of the effort. Our own living being reduced to bare necessities because federal bureaus do not have enough money to scratches.

To give away what we earn might have pigs, potatoes, cotton, rice, corn — nature might wish to be lavish to a deserving people, but we refuse to accept the gift. We destroy it. Natural laws must be interfered with. The relation of cause and effect is defied. Whoops!

We know everything in Washington. We're having a great time while it lasts!

No thinking man in this nation is going to enjoy peace of mind, that precious key to happiness, for a long time to come. And that makes my wish all the more sincere.

The Story of the DESERTED CORNER

THIS is an actual experience of a small neighborhood store. A merchant was faced with the problem of drawing attention to the display counters in the back of the store. He found that customers would come in, look at merchandise and show cases in the front half of his store, and rarely walk back to the rear. Consequently, a considerable part of his floor space was a dead area—wasted as far as sales were concerned.

He decided to try and pull traffic to this "deserted corner" with the aid of light. He raised the illumination in this particular section to a level higher than that in the rest of the store, focusing the light on his counter displays. Results were immediate. Over 60 per cent of the customers were drawn to the hitherto neglected area.

To pull traffic to inactive sections of your selling space, use LIGHT. To attract attention to special displays and step up the sales of specific items, use LIGHT. To make potential customers notice your show windows, use LIGHT. It is more than a coincidence that the four New York City stores which have the best lighting are the stores which show the greatest net profit. Good lighting can be equally effective for the small store in the neighborhood-community.

For competent advice on any phase of your store lighting, consult a Detroit Edison lighting engineer. He can frequently make helpful recommendations on improving your lighting to increase sales. This service is entirely without charge or obligation. Call your Detroit Edison office.

THE SINGING MOTHER

Happy that child who has had a "singing mother." We wonder if any legacy can be so lasting as the songs my mother taught me." Like a sweet echo from the past comes the memory of these songs long after the voice that sang them is stilled.

Memories of other singing mothers were revived in the hearts of the thoughtful group of women who were privileged to listen to Mrs. Clarence Hubbell, Milford, at the home of Mrs. H. S. Willis Tuesday afternoon. In quaint gown, lace with hoop skirts and softly draped at the neck, with a lace fichu caught with a cameo brooch, Mrs. Hubbell turned back the pages of time to her girlhood and brought a vivid picture of her mother who went singing about the house as happy as a bird at peace with all the world.

We know the secret of mother's serenity. We caught the note of gaiety with woe, all of them hope in the songs she sang, as she was on her way home and in spite of all the trials in life, heaven lay before her," concluded the speaker.

Like Mrs. Hubbell, we too were blessed with a "singing mother," a second mother whose voice like a clear bell was heard as she went about her work. We know now in mature years that many of the songs she sang were to keep up her courage. Songs that we have never seen in print still live in our heart and we hope we have handed on to our children. Lessons forgotten may be forgotten but songs planted in the young hearts live on always. Personally, we dread the time when the toused red head at our house will be old and turn sleepily on his pillow at bed time and say, "Mom, rub my back and sing to me!"

The Japanese are "educationized," continued the Milwaukee scholar, for example 98 per cent of the people can read newspapers. The country is literally dotted with colleges and high schools since education is compulsory.

Japan itself is a very beautiful country said Dr. Felsche. Because of its many mountains and the nearness of so much water it has been called the second most beautiful country in the world. In keeping with the beauty the people themselves dress in the most picturesque and fascinating manner.

One should be very slow to judge the Japanese mind. Japan's efforts to colonize are better understood when it is known that the area is only about as large as Montana and 65,000,000 have to find room to live on the island. Felsche's dialogue was one of the finest that the Rotary club has enjoyed for many years.

GIRLS PLAY OPENER ON HOME FLOOR

N. H. S. Girls Play First Game of Season with Melvindale

By GWEN JONES
The Northville girls' basketball team opened its basketball season this year with Melvindale last night on the home floor. As this paper goes to press before the game was played it is impossible to print the score.

Last year Melvindale won the girls' championship when they defeated the Northville girls in the last few minutes of play by a three point score. Each team had, at the time of the game, been defeated only once. Melvindale suffered its defeat from Redford Union and Northville received defeat earlier in the season from Melvindale in a close game on Melvindale's floor.

There were only a few changes in the Melvindale line-up this year as most of the players returned. The local team also started with only the loss of two of last year's players. This little change in players and a long period of practice will give the girls a strong bid for this year's championship.

During the past few years the girls have had only one regular team and only occasionally have they played with two teams. But this year all league games will be played with a first and second team.

Farmington has been added to the list of opponents this year taking the place of Bellville who has dropped from the league making four teams in the Northville league.

The line-up for last night's game for Northville was 1st team: "forwards, R. Dravansky, L. Alexander, M. F. Batt; guards, K. Marburger, H. Van Sickle, L. Bolton; subs, J. Atchison, H. Kummel.

Second team: forwards, Stamer, J. Elv. J. Walker; guards, M. Clegg, P. Hageman, V. Kern; subs, R. Parmenter, M. Colenay, H. Dix, M. Geraughty.

The next game will be played Jan. 13 with Redford Union in the Northville gym.

O. J. CLEARY TALKS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

A special assembly was called Monday, Jan. 3, by Principal G. V. Harrison.

Dr. O. J. Cleary, dean of administration at Cleary College, Ypsilanti, was the guest speaker. Present at the assembly program was the senior high school and the faculty.

Dr. Cleary's subject for the occasion was Americanism. He explained he was working on an American Legion committee to promote Americanism which was his reason for coming here. Comparing foreign countries with the United States, he tried to show that our country, as it is governed now, is ideal in comparison to other countries.

He pointed out three things: self-reliance, honesty and educational opportunity as being the things we must develop for ourselves to be good citizens of America.

Piffle About Pipple

Isn't Jeanne Atchison wonderful? With three people in a race, she sped around and managed to take third place. May we be the last to congratulate you, Jeanne!

We said something about Albert loving and leaving people. May we say that he's loved and is now having an awful time leaving. What a man Boelens!

Katie Marburger seems to be playing around with the younger set again. We saw her skating both Saturday and Sunday with Freshman Harold Shepard. Want a rat-tie too, Kathryn?

We hate to mention New Year's eve again, but Art Mitchell seemed to be having a super-cocktail elegant time (And he wouldn't give us any either!)

We hear Ben Duguid and Chuck Bishop got in just in time for breakfast New Year's day. What did you have for (or before) breakfast, fellows?

Helen Winters and Cecil Giles seem to prefer the assembly after school to the assembly during classes. Yes, it is less populated then, isn't it?

Question of the week: What's in the world did Janet Stewart do on New Year's eve and why does she want it kept a secret? May we draw our own conclusion, say Fran?

If you hear E. C. Mollema muttering to himself and acting queer

Editor's Note

By MARY GEORGE

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever," wrote one of the well known English poets some time ago. That poet must have had a marvelous philosophy of life, throughout a clear gaze, no blessing could be greater.

Think of all the wonderful things that most people never see. Day dawning in the early morning; the sun setting; twilight gently falling; the amazing patience of that little black and gold caterpillar crawling along in the dust.

The caterpillar is passed by in disgust. No one stops to see how hard he is trying to crawl over that large stone that is obstructing his way. What if the sun is setting? It always has gone down in a blaze of color and probably always will.

DEBATORS TO MEET BERKLEY, JAN. 19

PLYMOUTH GAME TO BE PLAYED TUESDAY

By TOM MARTINO

Northville's basketball team will meet its old rival Tuesday night in the Plymouth quintet. This will be the negative case.

Coach E. C. Mollema has his debaters forming a new case for the negative in the hope that this will be irrefutable.

Five students are working with the thought of a position on the team to be pitted against Berkley.

The team is looking forward to this debate for it has prospects of being the best debate held thus year by the Northville team.

The decision of the Lincoln Park-Northville debate held Dec. 22 was given to Lincoln Park who defended the negative side of the case.

Did You Notice?

All the sleepy-heads in school Monday? Of course, it couldn't be the celebrating on New Year's eve! Or could it?

How interested everyone was at the assembly program Monday morning! It was rather like a surprise for most of youse pupils, huh?

Don Atchison's heart throbbed late school at 10 a.m. the other morning? Did the alarm go off, Betty?

Jack McTumbs tired too? Where did you celebrate, Jack?

All the new clothes? Santa must have been very good to the inmates of N. H. S.

The latest romance? It's said that charming sophomore, Norma Goto, and the equally charming freshman, Harold Shepard, are that way about each other!

How many guests Principal Harrison has in his office the first hour every day?

How Joyce is still one girl that has yet to be conquered by Chuck's personality, but we hear Charles is still trying.

How little time it took Funkie to get a stripe on a sweater? Let me think, was he manager?

That some of our most upright male students are still suffering the effects of New Year's eve.

Did you notice the swell work "Speck" has been doing for the paper? Nice going.

Jane Van Atta's picture in the paper? I guess you got to be a Snow Queen.

Santa Claus didn't forget any of our dear students — except "Flash" Helcomb, who wanted Marilyn Clegg hanging on his tree.

Doris T. was a little peeved at Art New Year's eve — and we believe so was justified.

These days, it's only because the junior play members are slowly driving him insane. Warren Bogart will be the John Barrymore of his generation, if he gets much better. (That was sarcasm.)

N. H. S. GAGERS TO MEET MELVINDALE

Teams To Clash Tonight in Home Gymnasium at 7 O'clock

By TOM MARTINO

The Northville basketball team will meet Melvindale tonight in the local gym. Neither team has lost any league games this year. The local lads are out for revenge this year for the two defeats suffered at the hands of Melvindale last season.

Melvindale has a very speedy offense and a fine passing attack also. Melvindale has lost its star basketball player in Kaminski. This game will be a knock down and drag out affair with two full-strength teams. The league leadership is at stake in this game. All of our boys are going to be out there trying for there will be four seniors making their final appearance against a Melvindale team here. We are hoping every student in the high school building, both senior and junior high, will come to the remaining games on the schedule here and away if you possibly can.

The lineup: L. F. Bishop, R. F. Boelens, C. Lester, L. G. Duguid, R. G. Schoultz.

ROTARIANS PEN YEAR'S WISHES FOR MEMBERS

Northville Rotarians took time to pen New Year's greetings to each other for the Dec. 31 issue of The Rotary News.

Their wishes are:

President Russ Amerman: "I wish for every Rotarian and his family a merry Christmas and a most happy New Year. You are a grand bunch of Rotarians, and we like you all!" (Chorus) "And the same is mutual!"

Percy Angove: "We have much to be thankful for, and as Rotarians, I believe we have come through the Christmas season with a charitableness of mind and conduct that will make it one of the pleasant memories of the years to come. As we look over the past year we can count many blessings that have come to us through service. These blessings which have so enriched the passing year are particularly present and go with you through 1938. May we together, in thought and deed take a fresh start in 1938 and bring about even more worth-while resolves. May our efforts result in golden gifts of happiness in fellowship and joy through service. Happy New Year. God bless us every one!"

Richard Baldwin: "Too much sunshine makes the desert."

E. M. Bogart: "With all the turmoil and strife in many parts of the world, the phrase, a merry Christmas and a happy New Year seems rather far-fetched, but here in this good old U. S. (even though things are not just what everyone could wish for) that old phrase can be used again and again — and I use it."

Harry Clark: "We will see you New Year's morning. Be sure and bring your appetite. Season's greetings!"

Herbert Dean: "Not very long a member, but have enjoyed it very much."

Fred Foreman: "Let us be grateful for past blessings, and have faith in the future."

W. E. Forney: "Sometimes it is difficult to get to a New Year's breakfast, but never give them up.

After being graduated from N. H. S., she plans to enter Cleary College, Ypsilanti, to take a commercial course.

Betty Greer: "It seems that Betty has always been a farmer gal, as she was born on a farm on the Nine Mile road, March 6, 1921.

She received eight years of her education in the Chapman country school. In the ninth grade she came to Northville high to further her learning.

Betty enjoys tobogganing and roller skating, particularly when there is no one to watch her take the spills. She claims that although there is no romance to northland it remains her favorite subject.

After being graduated from N. H. S., she plans to enter Cleary College, Ypsilanti, to take a commercial course.

Judy Lapham: "Hoping all have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Ed. Lapham: "Be a better Rotarian and husband than last year."

Leslie Lee: "Every good wish for your happiness throughout the new year."

John Litsenberger: "Greetings to the club. May we have a prosperous New Year."

C. E. Rogers: "Merry Christmas and New Year. May you enjoy many more."

Chas. Schoultz: "The same old Christmas wish to the members of the Northville Rotary Club!"

J. G. Schuler: "God's wish and ours — service to Him and fellowman."

J. E. Selody: "Peace on earth!"

Jim Spagnoli: "O come, let us sing unto the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation."

Russell Steininger: "A year full of happiness is the thing I wish you and nobody could wish you more."

Howard Whipple: "Season's greetings and a whole lot more of them."

And Don Yerkes, Floyd Northfield, Con Langfield, Van, Neil Hannaford, Ed. Lockman, Dr. Willis used to bunch together all the thoughts expressed above and give them out at their own very sincere wishes and greetings for 1938!
