6 VILLAGERS ENTER RACE FOR COUNCIL

Lanning, Stark, Circulate
Petitions for Assessor in March 14 Election

With village election facing the voters of Northville, March 14, the closest contest for office is being waged between Councilman Elmer Perrin and Justice Arthur S. Nichols, both seeking the mayor's chair.

Although there is a faction at work, especially among a number of business men on Main street, to promote a campaign which will bring Councilman Carl Schultze out for mayor, Mr. Schultze announced Wednesday morning that he would likely run for the councilman's post, rather than for mayor.

A campaign rumor of "Merrill Sweet for mayor" was brought to a standstill this week by Mr. Sweet himself, who said that his travels in the southern part of Wayne county for the Edison company and his commandment duties for the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion make it impossible for him to do anything for the village.

Council terms of Mr. Perrin, George Hicks and Mr. Schultze expire this spring. Mr. Hicks and Mr. Schultze, who seek reelection, will be in the race with Chub Smith, John Norton, Fred Stubenvoll and Olney G. Owen.

Mr. Schultze will enter the competition for the first time, having received his seat in the council by appointment after the resignation of William T. Gregory. Mr. Schultze is head of the chicken department of the Wayne County Training school and came into the council last July with the backing of all the commissioners, with the exception of Elmer Perrin who was supporting Claude Dwyer for the post.

Mr. Hicks, who completes this spring his second term as councilman, has favored, during this time, the abolition of dancing permits to taverns, white bars and liquor sale.

Mr. Smith, who is an applicant for a place on the council, is seeking his first public office. At present, he is electrical engineer at the Wayne County Training school and is active in Legion and Methodist church circles in the village.

Mr. Norton, also campaigning for office for the first time, is the proprietor of an inn on Plymouth road. It was just a few weeks ago that councilmen tabled indefinitely his application to sell liquor by the glass.

Another newcomer to the political field in Northville, is Fred Stubenvoll, who until his retirement five years ago, was associated with the Detroit Edison company.

Mr. Owen, who lost in the council poll two years ago to Floyd Shafer, is in the running again. Scouting activities and the Civic association are village enterprises which have received his wholehearted support for a number of years.

There's competition this year for the assessor's post, made vacant this fall by the death of Charles T. Blackburn. Floyd Lanning is petitioning for votes against Bert C. Stark for the position.

Village Treasurer Harold Bloom and Clerk Mary Alexander have no opposition for their offices.

Nichols, will appear as alternate artist with Tito Schipa, celebrated tenor, in a recital to be given at the Orchestra Hall in Detroit the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 22. Margaret, one of the most gifted young pianists in the country, will play several of her favorite piano selections.

R. M. Atkins Cites 3 Demands of Industry Made by Churches

Since 1903 the churches have been making official pronouncements to industry, declared the Rev. Robert M. Atkins, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the Flint district, when he spoke Sunday evening at the union service held in the Methodist church.

"The church has asked for a more equitable distribution of wealth; a greater democracy in industry; and names human personality as a supreme essential in industry," asserted Mr. Atkins.

"No man has a right to receive hundreds of thousands of dollars in wages, until the working men in that same organization have a living wage," said Mr. Atkins in developing his point on wealth distribution.

In furthering the second issue of the church demands, Mr. Atkins said that it is imperative, if democracy is to endure, that democracy make its way into industry as it has in politics and government.

"Society can't last very long, when labor is considered a commodity," stressed Mr. Atkins in treating his concluding point.

Former Second Grade Teacher Makes Target of School Column

In the Editor's letter box this week is a letter written by Mrs. Donald Ware, a former second grade teacher in the Northville school system. The "Piffle about Piffle" column on the Orange and Black page is the target of her criticism.

To the Editor,
Northville Record:
The Northville Record is to be commended for giving space to so worthy a project as a school paper. It gives the rising journalist a chance to try his wings and keeps the world informed regarding Northville's educational activities. It should promote good will among the students at large and give them a medium of expression.

MUSH DINNER SWELLS LOCAL CHARITY FUND

Plymouth Shares Extra
Contributions with Northville

Northville was represented by 79 at the Western Wayne county Lincoln day charity dinner held at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth last week. According to Chairman Elmer Smith of the Northville ticket committee, there was turned over to the Plymouth committee $39.50 for tickets sold in this place.

The King's Daughters received back $62.50 from the Plymouth committee as its share of the charity fund.

There was a total of $41 contributed in Northville and by one Northville friend to the local committee.

An additional $25.50 was awarded to the Northville fund by the Plymouth committee. This amount represents one half of money that was contributed to the Plymouth committee by friends in Lansing and elsewhere.

This division was made upon the recommendation of Elton R. Eaton, who was general chairman of the affair. It was his opinion in view of the fact that because Northville had been invited to take part in the event, it should also receive the benefit of outside contributions. The entire committee membership readily agreed to this plan.

The Plymouth public school fund was benefited by a contribution of $12.15 from the committee. This money will be used entirely for the purchase of milk for needy school children. It will be expended under the direction of the Plymouth school nurse and the presidents of the two Parent-Teacher organizations in Plymouth.

"The sponsors of the fried salt pork and corn bread banquet," commented Mr. Eaton "are highly elated over the success of the event and the fact that they are able to turn such substantial amounts over to charitable uses in Northville and Plymouth, where there is so much need of help at the present time."

Neil Hannaford, Steve Armstrong, Back Camera Club

Neil Hannaford and Steve Armstrong will be fortified with enough material from headquarters by the end of this week to organize a club of movie and camera enthusiasts for villagers and persons who live near Northville.

Mr. Armstrong, who has been a member of the National club for some time, has written for information for local club organization, Mr. Hannaford has just sent in his membership card.

Persons wanting to join the club may contact either Mr. Hannaford or Mr. Armstrong. It is planned to have meetings once or twice a month as soon as a Northville group is organized.

Elmer L. Smith, who represents the non-consenting depositors of the Lapham State Savings bank, reported this week that another ten per cent dividend had been paid, making a total of 72 per cent. He expects to pay immediately, nine per cent more in the Northville State Savings bank, bringing the total to 75 per cent.

European Rambles Is Lecture Series Theme of S. Allen

Shirley W. Allen.

Shirley W. Allen, professor of forestry, school of Forestry and Conservation at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor will be the third speaker in the lecture series when he appears here Monday, Feb. 28, in the high school auditorium.

Mr. Allen teaches courses in forest fire prevention and control, conservation of national resources and construction and maintenance of forest improvement. He spends a great part of each year in preparing and placing conservation material for use in public schools in the teaching of biology, nature study and social studies.

He has spent nine years in the United States Forest service, principally in the national forests of the Pacific coast and at the Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wis.

Among his writings in this field are "Forest Products from the Farm," published in "Farm Knowledge" by E. L. D. Seymour, "History of the War Activities of the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory" and "Conservation Aspects of the History of the Oregon-California Railroad Land Grant." He is also the co-author with C. H. Teasdale of "Apparent Relation Between Rainfall and Durability of Zinc Treated Cross Ties," published by American Wood Preservers association.

ELI GOOD BEGINS NEW "AD" SERIES

Offering the pick of merchandise at prices said to be below the lowest present market for articles of similar quality, Eli Good is beginning a series of large scale advertisements with this issue of The Record. A half page advertisement appears on page 3.

"Increased public buying of necessities alone will help turn the tide toward better times, and we are marking down leading items in our store to convert them to cash. With the money realized from the present sale, we can go into the market for new stock for our store. If this is repeated in every community throughout the country, men and women will be going back to their jobs in factories, and better times will be here," Mr. Good declared.

"Our present sale will also demonstrate that stores in small communities such as Northville can compete with larger trading centers on price. We invite the people of Northville and this area to compare our prices and goods with any offered anywhere else, and we believe that the Northville store will win out in the competition," Mr. Good asserted.

An open forum will be held following Mr. Leacock's talk. Russell H. Amefman, superintendent of schools, announced when he released the program plans for the event.

'AUNT' IDA LOSES HER VOTING TITLE TO 88-YEAR-OLD

Mrs. Spencer Clark Says
She's Oldest Woman
Republican Voter

"Aunt" Ida Hendry's title of "the oldest republican woman voter in Northville township, if not Wayne county," has been challenged this week by two more staunch republicans, Mrs. Spencer Clark and Mrs. Josephine Carr.

Mrs. Clark, who is 83 years of age, says she's been voting the republican ticket ever since she was given the right to cast a vote. To date Mrs. Clark has the edge on "Aunt" Ida, as well as Mrs. Carr, who is 84 years old and who's doing her balloting for the republicans.

Mrs. Snow, long time a school patron has been particularly interested in the athletic program. He has given medical attention to the athletes and has further supported them by contributing to the Athletic association fund.

Two back in the fall of 1936, when Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald came out to Northville for the Harvest Festival that "Aunt" Ida was dubbed Northville townships' "first" voter. She had her picture taken with the Governor after she read an original poem on the meaning of the American flag.

For two years Mrs. Clark and Mr. Carr sat back and let "Aunt" Ida have her title. But "Aunt" Ida, always referred to her title in a temporary manner, saying, "As far as I know I'm the oldest woman republican voter in Northville township."

BENNETT WEAVER TELLS MINISTERS TO READ BIBLE

Identifying himself as not belonging to the group that looks to the minister to use popular subjects in the pulpit to draw in the crowds, Bennett Weaver said Wednesday evening that a minister of God needs only one book (Bible). "We have not come anywhere near exhausting that book," he affirmed as he gave the second in a lecture series at the high school.

When asked for a formula by which one may judge the contemporary writings, Mr. Weaver advised that the books alone until they have been off the press at least ten years. "There will be a whole lot of reading that won't have to be done," he asserted, after discounting a book of the month clubs and recommending the great wealth of writing that has stood through the years as good literature with its charm of simplicity, sincerity and humaneness.

Mr. Weaver, assistant professor of English in the University of Michigan, avoided his treatment of boys as he presented them with the writing in "pinks" for the lesser, lighter pieces, and "bushes" for the really great works of literature. An appreciative group of listeners kept the speaker on the platform receiving bits of request favorites long after his subject proper had been concluded.

Scouts Receive Merit Badges in Public Court of Honor

While a large number of "proud old White" who have been unstinted in their support of the Boy Scouts of America, the local council of the Boy Scouts of America, Northville, Wayne, and Washtenaw counties, held a public court of honor and merit badge ceremony at the high school gym.

It was a most interesting and inspiring occasion, with a large number of Scouts and their parents in attendance. The ceremony was presided over by the Scoutmaster, Mr. L. W. Snow.

Scouts from various packs were present, and they all received merit badges for their achievements. The ceremony was a great success and a fitting tribute to the Scouts.

The Scouts were very proud of their achievements and the recognition they received. The ceremony was a great success and a fitting tribute to the Scouts.

HEALTH NURSE MAKES DAILY SCHOOL CHECK

Children with Colds Are Sent Home; Cases Gain
in Salem

With an epidemic of measles gaining headway daily in Salem, where there is some talk of closing the school and in Plymouth where more than 50 cases have been reported within a few days, Northville's health department and public schools clamped down more rigidly this week in an attempt to prevent an outbreak here.

Already one case, that of Lillian Robinson, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Robinson, Grace avenue, has been reported to the health officer, Dr. R. M. Atkins. Another case, that of Gertrude Racz has been reported by the school.

The school health nurse Mrs. Starr Bray, is making daily checks on all students. At the first signs of a cold running nose or sore throat the children are sent home immediately for observation for possible further symptoms of the disease.

This check-up is being conducted in the high school as well as in the grade school. In Detroit the worst outbreak of measles in years, with thousands of children the victims is the problem of the health department. Unlike the mild cases of measles which confined half-school children last year the illness are severe.

The school and health department are making every effort to receive the cooperation of parents in this fight.

GENERAL CHANGES HIS MIND

You remember General Hugh S. Johnson who used to run the N. R. A. and how he tried to "crack down" on people who found fault with this regimentation of American people. Well, time makes great changes, and the General has changed his mind about affairs in Washington. This is what he said the other day:

"The Government has taken into its own hands so many arbitrary economic controls that the future is almost at the mercy and whims of a single man — and he is a fanciful man."

WHO OWES YOU A LIVING?

We have twice read the last paragraph in Theodore Werle's column in last week's Record. (Incidentally Mr. Werle's home is in Lansing where he is the secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis association.) He spoke of the "sniveling dishonor" that is found in the off-hand saying: "The world owes me a living." Of course the world owes us all the chance to make a living but the world certainly owes the lazy man nothing more.

The other day a fine Northville man, who has had to make his own way in the world, said to us: "Our government is making loafers of too many people." Both this man and Mr. Werle are right. And don't forget that the more there are who loaf, the harder the rest of us will have to work.

OLD FASHIONED FOLKS

This matter of paying your bills, of saving money, carrying life insurance, preparing for the kids' education, is after all, it seems to us, a matter of character.

A lot of people tell you that they can't save money and that the pay check is gone before they even get it. Well, here is a true story of some Northville people which shows that you can save if you really have the "stuff" to do it.

This family, about last fall, thought they saw the present "recession" headed for their house. They didn't complain about it but got ready to meet it. While the pay check was coming they began filling up the attic and cellar with supplies for the lean months which they felt were ahead. They took some money in the bank, they began cutting the corner, not buying unnecessary things, going to cheaper places. Then, sure enough, came the day when the father at the household was laid off work. He didn't go home like a whipped, "strapped" man with his head down and losses low, but instead he went to a bank which had meat, potatoes and flour. Now that he is back at work he is not having to pay for any dead horses or go around and pay off any notes at the bank.

As this column has often said, "If you can't save on a little, you can't save on a lot." Many sensible people have learned that some of the best things in life are the cheapest. And as Editor Harry Myers of Lapeer says: "And there are folks still so old fashioned they will spend money for bread and butter when there's not a drop of gas in the tank of the family car."

OUR INCREASING TAX BURDEN

A true story of a Northville business man may help bring home to us the appalling burden of our taxes.

One day recently this man sent out a check for several hundred dollars — yes, between $500 and $1,000 — in payment of social security, income or sales tax. Just what the taxes were we do not know because we did not want to intrude into his business. The point is that he was paying a stunning sum for some form or other of tax. This is only half of the story. Then he had to turn around and make out another check for an even larger amount. This shows how the tax situation hit just one man. And he was just a small business man.

The pity of this whole tax business is that the average man does not know what sum he pays out every day or every week in some form of hidden tax. For example, take a loaf of bread. We have recently read that on this humble loaf of bread, starting back with the wheat from which it is made, the startling sum of 55 taxes are paid on this loaf. Frankly, we do not know where these taxes go, but we are ready to believe this story.

Public payrolls are one cause of mounting taxation. For example, if you had kept track for the past few weeks of the number of men who have been taking ice and snow off the Northville streets, and then taken their hours of labor and totalled the pay they have received, you would doubtless be stunned by its size. We do not say at all that these men should not be working at this cleaning — obviously these workers are very worthy and if not given this work might be on welfare, but the fact remains that just ordinary street cleaning in our village during the past few months has cost an amazing sum. Just another tax!

Ever stop to think what your family pays for the support of those on the public payrolls? Suppose there are four in your family — two adults and two children, do you realize that each of you pay out not less than $40 a year for the support of those on public payrolls? Wouldn't this $160 be a neat sum for you to save during the year?

In the year 1936 according to the Civil Service Assembly, the American people paid to their public servants the staggering sum of $5,145,373,000. And of course since 1936 thousands more have been added to public payrolls. As someone has said: "There will soon be more tax-eaters than taxpayers — and don't forget that public servants are exempt from paying income taxes."

When will the American people be aroused to the point where they will stop some of this stupendous tax spending?

WHAT IS A BUSINESS MAN?

There has been a lot of loose talk about what "big, black-bears" business men are. You might think from some of the comment on the evils of them, that the business men are porch climbers, pilferers or some other sort of scoundrels.

Well, who are business men, anyway? They certainly are not, as a rule, wealthy people. Let's have a look at some of the business men here in Northville.

The first one we happen to think of is the newsboy, who carries his papers every night, not to mention Sunday morning, and spends all day Saturday making collections as well as delivering papers — sometimes going over the route two or three times to collect those small bills. If he is a good newsboy, he can possibly make $5 or $6 a week — except those weeks when some dishonest persons beats him out of a dollar or two that he has earned. If this lad isn't a business man, we don't know who is.

The next business man we think of is the storekeeper. Sometimes we get discouraged running a newspaper but when we think of all the grief the merchant has, we are quite content to stay at our own desk. As a matter of fact, who is not a business man? Directly or indirectly, every man and woman in Northville is in some sense a business person and a vast majority of them are a fine, honest, honorable people. Just try to find a millionaire business man in or around our village. It is our honest idea that for every dishonest and unscrupulous business man there are a hundred other business men of character and integrity.

Let's quit throwing rocks at the business man — we are all business people.

Northville's first community festival and bonquet which took place at the high school gym last Thursday evening was an unqualified success.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Ray Calhoun at Powers Station, Va., on Feb. 14, by the Rev. William Richards, the contracting partner being Julius M. Burger of Detroit and Miss Wilma Juhl, daughter of Mrs. Calhoun, a graduate of the Northville high school of the class of 1921.

Mrs. S. Prentice and son, who a few weeks ago disposed of their farm property at auction, have moved to Northville, expecting to make the village their future home.

Wesley Mills, who resided in this village for many years, and who moved to South Lyon a year or so ago, died at his home in that village Sunday night after a long illness, aged 73 years.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark, Monday, a son.

One of the heaviest snow storms of the season visited this section Monday afternoon and night, turning to a rain later in the evening.

20 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kreager are the parents of a son, born Monday, Feb. 11.

Mrs. George C. Huston, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Gills of this place, is one of the latest victims of Detroit automobile thieves. Her Ford sedan was stolen a few days ago from in front of the Regent theatre.

J. A. Huff left for Saginaw Tuesday to attend the four-day session of the Retail Hardware Dealers' association, held in that city.

S. E. Cranson of the Northville U. S. Fisheries station has been sent to Alpena for an indefinite period, in the interest of the Bureau of Fisheries.

30 YEARS AGO

The various village caucuses are called and it is now up to the people to make the selections both at the primaries and at the election. The very best men should be selected in every instance.

At the meeting of the Junior League of the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon, Rose Musgrove was elected secretary of the League and Harold Hornberger was elected treasurer to fill the places made vacant by the resignations of Hazel Perkins and Marian Johnston.

We are certainly getting our share of snow and ice this winter and it looks now as though the old bear would stay his six weeks all right. The little, five-week-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stark was very ill last week with the grip.

J. M. Green and Harold Turner were kept busy Saturday with a team of horses and sleigh carrying the Presbyterian ladies to and from Mrs. Ben Gilbert's home where coffee was served; fortunes told and a fish pond conducted all for the sum of 20 cents which went into the treasury of the Ladies Aid.

OBITUARY

Wesley Shaw

Death came to a long-time resident, Wesley Shaw of Wixom, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 12, following a stroke. A horse trader by occupation, he was known throughout this section of Wayne county, as well as in Walled Lake and Owosso, where he had lived at one time.

He died at the age of 86 years. Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Monday, Feb. 14, from the Schrader funeral chapel with the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith of the Presbyterian church officiating. Burial was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Mr. Shaw was a bachelor and as far as can be learned, leaves no relatives. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. V. Fox, Detroit, returned Sunday to her home after spending the week end here at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Houser, Randolph street.

Dr. A. B. Vickham, superintendent of the Eastlawn sanatorium, will address the Cold Study club in South Lyon in the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, Feb. 22. His subject will be "Things That Surprised Me Down the West Coast of South America." The public is invited. There will be no admission fee. His talk will be illustrated.

ATTENTION

To the Citizens of Northville!

Notwithstanding rumors to the contrary I am in the race for the office of President of the Village of Northville, and will be in the race until the votes are counted on the night of Monday, the 14th of March, 1938. I await your decision. "The friends I have and their adoption tried I bind them to my heart with bands of steel."

WEIGH the new cars dispassionately in the light of what they offer and the facts stand boldly forth as these:

Buick is the ONLY car on the market today offering the efficiency of valve-in-head straight-eight design—modernized with the phenomenally efficient new DYNAFLASH principle of combustion.

Buick is the only car your money can buy with the marvel-ride of TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING—springs of stout, shock-smothering coiled steel that lessen skid-risks, lengthen tire life, actually make the whole car more directable.

Buick is the only car with the safe-security of Unisteel Body by Fisher—plus, the blessed quiet and peace of Silent Zone Body Mounting.

Buick is admitted—the best looking car on the market—chosen as such by popular vote with a greater margin over its nearest competitor than any other car enjoys!

Buick's performance is easily the most outstanding on the road—for soaring, thrilling lift and power it doffs its hat to no other car even approaching it in size and comfort.

Such are the facts, and on them you can well decide, "Better buy Buick!"

But they do not end the tale. There are two points dealing with figures still needed to complete the full picture of Buick value:

— Buick is not only the lowest-priced straight-eight of its size on the market — But Buick actually lists at lower figures than do some-sixes!

Check the facts, check the figures. We know where you'll find yourself in the end.

HE SENT HER A VALENTINE
Edgar A. Guest, Michigan's beloved poet, sent his wife a valentine Monday. Many of us were read in the daily paper with interest. Not to say envy, the verses he penned about this frivolous bit of lacey sentiment which he purchased from a clerk who protested that he was too old for such a "flaming" show of love. To this the poet replied:

You may think your humble servant
Much too gray for verses fervent,
But that's how I feel about her,
And I'm going to tell her so.
"Silly sentiment," some men scoff,
"My wife knows that I love her,
Why bother about telling her so all the time?" But if they could read the hearts of the wives they think they know so well, they would discover many an unspoken hunger for some of the "silly sentiment" that won them years before.

Some husbands even forget the anniversaries of their betrothal and wedding days and wives are too proud to remind them of the hidden hurt they cherish.

A five-cent valentine that tells her "that's how you feel about her" will make her willing to iron your shirts and mend your socks with a song in her heart.

That's why we always put red candles and hearts on the supper table on Valentine's Day — to fan the flame of sentiment that goes a long way toward making life richer.

Date Dainties

(Mrs. Shedd, W. Grand Blvd.)

A very dainty cookie served at a Detroit luncheon recently was made as follows: 1 cup rolled oats 1 cup flour 1 teaspoon baking soda 1 1/2 shortening, rub together and pack two-thirds of it in the bottom of pan

Cut up 1 lb. dates, and cook with 1 cup water and 1 cup sugar until mushy. Cool. Spread over the above mixture. Spread the remaining third over the top and bake 1 hour in slow oven.

In the Storm's Wake
You'll have to say one thing for the elements — they show no partiality towards anything or anyone in the paths they choose to follow.

This community, among others, was chosen over the week end as the locale for the most unseasonable or unseasonable weather conditions. Temperatures rose above the 50 degree mark, and resulted first in an increasingly heavy fog. Heavy skies produced a drizzle by afternoon, Saturday, which by night developed into a pelting rain. A mild breeze from the southwest grew in volume by early evening to gale velocity, accompanied by lightning and thunder of midsummer character.

Thus February Saturday night storm reached its torrential peak here at about 9 o'clock, when a terrific flash of lightning and roar of thunder shook our houses, snapped off brittle tree limbs and focused its attack on a cottage at 1187 East Lake Drive, the residence of Edward Garlani and family.

The electrical bolt leaped and splintered its way through the cottage roof carving a half dozen holes on its way, cracking the chimney and crashing open the feed and ash doors of the furnace as it fuled the house with soot and ash dust. Splinters the size of pencils were forced down through the plaster of the living room ceiling as though placed there by hand. Light circuit fuses were burned out. Despite this damage, no fire resulted.

Mr. and Mrs. Garlani and their two children, home at the time, were uninjured. The damage, estimated at $125, was covered by insurance.

The pluvial downpour here and hereabouts left in its wake flooded flatlands from swollen streams; many cottages along East Lake drove surrounded with foot deep water, carried in across the lake by the thirty mile wind; half filled basements in heatless homes. Many roads were damaged by washouts into which several late hour auto travelers sank to the running boards of their cars.

Main highways in this part of the county were flooded at many points, creating travel hazards for Sunday traffic. Northwestern highway, among others provided an unusual spectacle at several places along its two way stretch, with mile long files of cars swishing wheel deep through the inundated thoroughfare.

A trailer camp, partially occupied with trailers and small cottages located by the Rouge river, nearly a hundred feet below the Northwestern highway level was completely flooded with water as high as the door sills and the forlorn looking occupants awaiting rescue.

Darrow Reports a Bloom

Speaking of unusual things — for February at least — we learn of the month's most opposite extreme of productivity — a full-blown strawberry blossom picked by Clyde Darrow, at his home on Lower Straits Lake. The bed is located on the eastern slope of his garden, leading to the lake.

School Buys New Bus
A new 42-passenger school bus was added Tuesday to the fleet of 11 operated by the Walled Lake Consolidated schools. The 12 buses are expected to relieve crowded transportation facilities that have existed for several months according to C. A. Hoffman, superintendent. The bus will be placed on a new route, to lighten the loads of several existing routes.

Announce Civic Club Dinner
The annual dinner for members and guests of the Civic Welfare Club will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 23, in the recreation rooms of the Wimmer cafe, beginning at 7 o'clock. Those attending are asked to bring dishes.

Plan Scout Program

A committee representing the Walled Lake Masonic Lodge has been appointed to meet with the local Boy Scout troop committee in the near future to plan a program of Scout activity in keeping with the national program as outlined during Boy Scout Week, just concluded.

The present troop committee includes: Floyd Breakey, chairman; Paul Farley, Smith Green and Joseph Wilse. The Masonic committee is headed by George N. Goodrich, assisted by E. L. McQuern and Byron Aldrich. Harold Noble of the high school faculty, is Scoutmaster.

Postpone P. T. A. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Walled Lake P. T. A. has been postponed to Feb. 24 when visiting day will be observed and in the afternoon tea will be served by Mrs. Ira A. Alvin, Mrs. Hazel Atkins and Mrs. Waldo Proctor.

The association is backing purchase of uniforms for the high school band. The committee for this project includes: Mrs. Glenn Osherton, Ray Davis and Harry Scott. The band plans to give a subscription concert Feb. 24. P. T. A. committees have been named from various parts of the district to promote interest in the program.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Bachelor

Mrs. Mary Ellen Bachelor, 73, widow of the late Frank D. Bachelor who lived with her children in Oakland county, died Sunday at heart disease in Mellus hospital at Brighton, after an illness of two months. She was a native of Pontiac and Oakland county. She was a member of the Walled Lake Methodist church and of the Gleece society.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Lulu Young of Elizabeth Lake and Mrs. Bertha Wilkins of Orchard Lake, three sons, William D. and Stanley S. Bachelor of Walled Lake, and Stuart E. Bachelor of Drayton Plains, two sisters, Mrs. Jennie McCaffy of Detroit, and Mrs. Anna Decker of West Bloomfield township; a brother, William R. Bachelor of West Bloomfield township, 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral service was held Wednesday at the Farmer funeral parlors, with Rev. Floyd Sullivan of First officiating. Burial was made in North Farmington cemetery.

Exchange Teacher from England Admits She Likes 'Noisy High School Students of America'

With the same frankness which Royal Oak high school this year, she says characterizes the American high school students, Miss Jeanette Ramage, exchange teacher from England, admitted her bewilderment at the swift moving pace of life in this country, when she spoke before the Teachers' and Women's clubs Tuesday afternoon at a tea in the grade school building.

Miss Ramage is teaching in the frank, even at times when you'd rather they wouldn't be; they are friendly and kind they try to 'admit' that English students would never dream of," accused Miss Ramage in a delightfully witty manner that was typical of her entire talk.

Miss Ramage placed some stress upon the differences in the educational systems of the two countries. England's system is much more rigid, which demands that students not capable of learning and "not wanting" education be dropped down the line, permitting only the "cream" of the nation to go through the secondary schools and universities.

Your high schools here are not on the same level with our secondary schools — your junior colleges are more like them," she explained.

Slightly flustered by the demands she has had to speak before teachers and clubs since she has been here, Miss Ramage stood before the group Tuesday, making no effort to deny the unusualness of such an experience. In England, women just don't go around making speeches. Until her arrival in this country, she had never made a public speech. It is a trial for her, but her candid comments about American customs, told with a wit that held them for the audience, made her appearance here one of the most refreshing speaking events of the winter season.

The occasion was a courtesy on the part of the Teachers' club to the members of the Women's club. Miss Estelle Griffiths, Miss Tisha Brassfield, Mrs. W. H. Johnston and Miss Kathryn Galtner were the tea hostesses together with Mrs. O. F. Rost, who introduced Miss Ramage.

Mrs. Knapp Tells Northville Women About English Gardens

"Where there is an Englishman there is a garden; where there are two Englishmen there is a park," quoted Mrs. Thad J. Knapp Friday afternoon as she told the members of the Northville Women's club about the gardens and quaint inns which she saw in her recent visit to England.

Very realistically Mrs. Knapp took her audience with her on her tour up and down the British island, stopping at old stone hostels whose great walls were built back in the days when the Romans occupied this territory.

Due to a climate that never falls below 40 degrees and to public rainfall, England has an abundance of flowers in bloom almost all the year round. Every home has its garden with a great variety of flowers. London said Mrs. Knapp, has 7,000 acres of parks besides its numerous squares.

On her travels in England the speaker was impressed by the great courtesy of the people who granted the unusual privilege of allowing tourists to visit their gardens.

The hospitable custom of four o'clock tea, the queer methods of travel and the "chilliness" of the houses, were among the impressions of England which the visitor carried back home. Peaches priced at 37 cents each and hot-house roses at 12 cents a bunch were among its strange surprises.

Mrs. Knapp, who has twice made the trip abroad, illustrated her talk with pictures which she had picked up on her journey, describing the vividness of her descriptions.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Edward H. Lapham, a member of the program committee. Questionnaires were handed out for votes for the choice of subject of study for the ensuing year.

Eastlawn Entertainer Receives Commendation

Margaret Barthel, the talented young pianist, appeared as a guest artist on the "Radio Extra" over WWJ, Feb. 4, as piano soloist.

Margaret, who has a very good radio voice, was interviewed by Mark Mathews, who elicited the fact that Margaret was 14 years of age, had played the piano since she was three years old, likes tennis and swimming and will appear as assistant artist with The Schlapa at Orchestra Hall, Feb. 22.

Margaret is well known to Eastlawners, having entertained them many times with her renditions of classical music as well as the popular songs of the day. Her last appearance at Eastlawn was at the Halloween party at which Margaret was master of ceremonies.

Saturday Tea-Compliments

Mrs. Russell M. Atchison

Mrs. Russell M. Atchison was fettered at a post-nuptial shower Saturday afternoon, Feb. 12, when Mrs. Frank D. Hart and Miss Virginia G. Anderson entertained in her honor at a tea in the Hart home, 127 East Dunlap street.

Following an informal afternoon, Mrs. Richard T. Baldwin, mother of the bride, presided at the tea table where rose and blue appointments were used.

Included in the guest list were: The Misses Florence Johnston, Ann Kolody, Wilma Rattenbury, Dorothy Richardson, Clara Draper, Grace Angell and Mrs. Monroe B. Weston. Mrs. Stewart Robinson, Mrs. Virgil R. Hassler, Mrs. Arthur Schutte, Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, Mrs. Harry J. Lord, Mrs. Floyd Lanning, Mrs. Carl H. Bryan and Mrs. R. H. Bailey.

Entirely for the convenience of the congregation do we have two services on Sunday. If Sunday is the Lord's day it surely is not mine, hence I give Him only what is already His, and surely will I consult Him as to the method of delivery. It is certainly a day of rest from my work but no from His!

MELVINDALE FIVE WHIPS NORTHVILLE LAST FRIDAY, 21-13

Defeat by Wattsmen Puts Home Team in Second Place in League

The N. H. S. quintet lost a tough game to the Wattsmen of Melvindale Friday night, 21-13. This game meant a lot to both teams as first place was at stake. It seems as though both teams were concentrating on defensive tactics, rather than on offensive drive.

In the first quarter both teams played very cautiously, watching for a break, but the quarter ended with the score, 0-0.

In the second quarter, Melvindale started the scoring by a basket. Bishop matched that one in a few seconds. In this quarter, Northville made two baskets and three free throws, while Melvindale on the other hand, made one basket and two foul shots to take the lead of 14-9, as the whistle ended that quarter.

When the fourth quarter started both teams were pressing hard to make points. Melvindale put three baskets through the hoop and made one foul shot to bring their total to 21. Northville made two baskets in this quarter to bring its total to 13, as the final quarter ended with Melvindale winning, 21-13.

Northville could not get themselves accustomed to the floor, there and were trying too hard. Right point man for Northville was C. Nifder with five points and for Melvindale, Andrews with eight points.

The second team also lost its game by the score of 37-18.

Piffle About Pippie

We wonder if that dazed look on Marv's face has anything to do with a certain place in this column list. Have you found that lucky junior yet, Marv?

We've heard that a certain Arthur Mitchell Equife, is quite well liked lately—especially by himself. Poor Bebe! She can't seem to make up her mind, and when she does, even then she has trouble. After she told Sid Janed never to darken her door again, she turned once more to Chuck Altman. Now there's a storm brewing in that quarter. These freshmen they make me dizzy trying to keep up with 'em.

Well, Tom, we guess you've learned your lesson. It seems Mr. Gillispie stood up one blond young lady some weeks ago, and then, to make it up to her, asked her again to accompany him to the movies. The lady refused. Moral: Always keep your dates.

Louise broke down and told us we could quote her as saying, "If certain people don't leave my coat where I put it, I'll make a big bonfire with them." Aren't you scared, boys?

Question of the week. Who writes this column?

Answer: If you'll promise not to tell, we'll let you in on a secret. It's done by someone different each week—and it wasn't Louise this time.

The Observer

The observed person this week is a freshman of the female sex. She has dark blonde hair and blue eyes. She is very active on the girls' basketball team. She likes animals, especially horses and cats. Swimming and horse-back riding are her favorite sports. Her favorite subject is English.

She also took part in the eighth grade play last year, "Fun on the Podunk Limited." If this girl is not known now, the freshmen call her "Mac."

Editor's Note

What do we get out of it? How many times have you heard that question of uttered in your class? It symbolizes the modern world—that one phrase, "What do we get?"

Our thoughts today are mainly concentrated on the first person aren't they? The very first thing we think about when a new idea comes up, or our help is asked for something, is "Where do I come in?" "What will this mean to me?" "Someone told me the other day that the human race doesn't change from one generation to another, fundamentally. Well, maybe it doesn't—physically. But look back to the time when these United States were first becoming settled. When our ancestors, those hardy pioneers we read so much about, were struggling to open up the West to the rest of the world. There was something basically different about those people. They were endowed with a gift most of us don't even know the meaning of. That of being able to help other people, and do things that we don't expect a return for.

Those pioneers weren't thanked for the trials and hardships they endured in order to have something to hand down to posterity. But they didn't begrudge the life they led, either. Their ideals were higher and finer than ours, and they weren't afraid to fight for them.

I'm afraid that if we were to take a personal inventory of ourselves, it wouldn't be altogether flattering. We're pretty small and selfish people now-a-days.

N. H. S. VAN DYKE GAME HERE TONIGHT

Northville will be host to the Van Dyke five Friday night when both teams will meet again this year on the hardwoods. Northville won its previous encounter 33-12. But since then, Van Dyke has been gaining steadily and was only beaten by Redford Union last Friday by three points, which is very good.

Northville should take no chances on this game and play heads up ball for the weaker team in the league can easily upset the strongest.

The boys are out for revenge and are going to take it out on Van Dyke five tonight, when both teams meet again this year on and packed, full of thrills.

If it should happen that Melvindale wins Friday night, and Northville wins Northville will be in the thick of the battle for first place.

DEBATERS ATTEND ANNUAL BANQUET

The debate team, with E. C. Mollema, coach, attended a debate banquet last week.

The debaters were Albert Boelens, Elwood Reid, Margaret VanHollen, Alfred Cousins, Philip Chase and Bill Washburne.

The debate coaches, with their teams were Dr. X. Y. Rice of Melvindale, Mr. Avery of Berkley, Mr. Stephenson of Belleville, Mr. Knut of Trenton, Mr. Winslow of Lincoln Park, and Mr. Mollema.

The major topic of the evening was "Streamlined Train" and each school took part in the entertainment. Representing Northville was Albert Boelens, who was conductor of the train. "The object of the whole thing was to show that speech is a progressive thing," Mr. Mollema said.

Senior Who's Who

Hazel Livingstone
Hazel, who is one of the younger seniors of the class, was born in Fraserburgh, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. The first years of her education were obtained in Scotland at the Infant school, Central school and Fraserburgh academy. She came to the United States at the unlucky age of 13, when she entered as a freshman Hazel's favorite pastimes are roller skating, ice skating and swimming. Collecting photographs is her hobby. After graduating, Hazel would like to attend a business school.

Margaret Nagy
"I enjoy all of my subjects," explained Margaret Nagy when asked if she would tell something of her life. Margaret is a pioneer of Northville, having been born here May 23, 1920, and attended school here all her life. She likes wit, dramatics, reading, writing letters and addresses small children. One of her favorite pastimes is making scrapbooks of small children for their enjoyment. Acting in the junior play is one of her treasured memories. As yet Margaret hasn't decided exact-

N. H. S. GIRLS MEET REDFORD UNION IN NEXT TO LAST GAME

League Leaders Check Off Second Game on the Opponent's Floor

The league-leading Northville girls played off another game in the race for the basketball championship yesterday, when they met Redford Union on the opponent's floor.

N. H. S. beat the Redford Union girls on the home court earlier in the season by the score, 6-2.

The local squad will be strengthened this week by the return of Helen Van Sickle, who plays guard. She has been out for three weeks with an injured ankle which was received in the Farmington game on their court.

The first team has only lost one game so far this season and are leading the league by a small margin. As the game was played after the paper went to press, scores were unobtainable. The starting lineup will be chosen from the following: Forwards, Brujansky, Kimmel, Al-

The N. H. S. second team has also been defeated only once. This defeat was by Melvindale. The remarkable part about this record is that with the exception of Helen Brammer, Mary Geraghty and Marion Coleman, the entire team is made up of freshmen.

Coach Gladys Ludwig states that she is confident that the girls will win and that she is proud of both teams' records.

The Northville girls' basketball team met Farmington in a practice game last Thursday in the Training school gym. The N. H. S. girls scored another victory by defeating Farmington by the score, 22-11. The second team was also victors, winning by a 19-13 score.

The first team lineup was as follows: Forward, Batt, Kimmel, Brujansky, guards, Bolton, Alchison, Marburger, subs, Alexander and Hamamster.

Grade Notes

The pupils have noticed the arrival of spring. Their toads, snails and frogs have awakened. They are hopping around already.

Miss Ann Richards' kindergarten class has been learning new songs. One is about a post man and the other a Valentine song. The pupils drew names Friday for their Valentine party. Including these Valentines for their school mates, they made some for their mothers and also some dillies for the party that was held on Monday.

Miss Selma Jarvis' class has made a Valentine box in which they put their Valentines. Their party was held Monday. Joyce Campbell, a girl from Novi, is a new student in this room. The pupils are finishing their milk project. Last of all, they will visit a creamery.

The second grade, in Mrs. O. F. Ren's room, are working on an Eskimo project. The Eskimo village consists of stand-up men, polar bears, seals, igloos and dogs. Snow was represented by cotton batting. Free-hand drawings were drawn about pictures of Eskimo life and poems were made. Songs and stories of Eskimo life were also sung and read. Bob Barley is a new pupil in this room. He attended his last school in Big Beaver. Reading stories, making Valentines and drawing names were the plans for the Valentine party held Monday.

Mrs. Beniah Miller's second grade pupils have been experimenting with two thermometers. They are keeping a chart of the weather and of weather stories about it. The class made several trips to town to help them with their study about "How People Help Us." They have visited the fire hall, post office, record office and now they are planning to visit a bank to watch the money of keep.

Mrs. Mary Lee's children, third grade pupils, have made the Valentines. If C. explaining a certain fresh-fide box for their party held many affections? We never thought they had it in soul Harold.

Art and Leming playing bid and ask with each others' cents?

W. B.'s longsome game during the past week? Don't take it too badly, Wenda Catherine'll be back soon.

Harold Shepherd's new girl friend? If you want to know who, just run down to the lower hall after school and stand in front of the second door to the left of the room, right off Miss Ione Palmer's room.

The worried looks on the senior girls' faces? It seems that all 20 had perfect spelling and Virginia Deshler, Joyce Martino and Florence McCluskie had only one mistake let's during this length of time. Aileen Toussaint has returned to school for half day periods after an absence of four months.

Mrs. Ruth Stage's fifth graders also made a Valentine box for their party Monday. At the present time, they are taking imaginary trips throughout the United States. They have reached Detroit and the docks in their geography books. During their citizenship meeting, held each Friday afternoon, the students, under the direction of Mrs. Stage, discussed stories about Lincoln's boyhood.

Marjorie Gibson and Eleanor Markham made the Valentine box that was used Monday for the party.

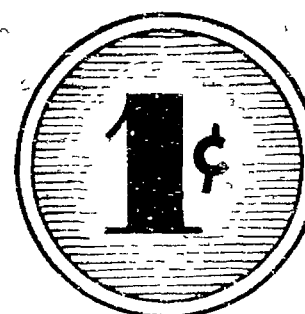

For their history assignment Miss Estelle Griffiths' third grade pupils are working on a transportation project.

Perhaps you let the thought worry you the entire time you were away... and needlessly. The cost of operating that lamp for four-and-a-half hours is only ONE CENT—hardly worth spoiling your evening's pleasure! Light is one of the cheapest things you buy.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

TELEPHONE ENEMY NO. 1

Rain, wind, a freezing temperature. Together, they produce the telephone's arch-enemy—a sleet storm.

At the first warning of this enemy's approach, your telephone company starts preparing for defense. Every department is notified. All stand ready. And soon crews of men in repair trucks are rushing to the point of attack.

Such emergencies as this dramatize the value of our association in the Bell System. For we can call upon all the System's resources... in man-power and equipment and experience... to restore and protect the service.

Emergencies, however, represent only one phase of the many-sided program that safeguards your telephone. Rigid inspection, indoors and out, goes on day after day. Thorough tests and check-ups are made constantly. Millions of dollars are spent every year for new and better, sturdier equipment.

To keep your telephone always ready for use... at any hour of the night or day... neither pains nor expense can be spared in combating the enemies of the service.
