Candidates File Petitions

6 VILLAGERS SEEK SEATS ON COUNCIL

To Hold Public Forum Tonight; Politicians Can Name Platform

A public forum will be held at 8 p. m. Friday, March 11, in the Methodist church house, where the candidates for village offices will be given a chance to state their platform and make known their stand on controversial issues.

Petitions were filed Thursday, March 10, by 12 office seekers who are vying for votes in the village election Monday, March 14. Commissioners Elmer Perrin and Justice of the Peace Arthur S. Nichols remain in the mayor field alone. Seeking reelection to their council seats are George A. Hicks and Carl B. Scholtz.

Four persons want to be elected to the council chair made vacant by Mr. Perrin; they are: Chub J. Smith, who favors letting the people decide the liquor question and who looks upon beer gardens as cesspools of filth; John Norton, who is of the opinion that Northville is large enough for more beer gardens and liquor-by-the-glass licensees; Orlow G. Owen, who is active in the Scout and Civic association enterprises, and Fred Stubbs, who is a retired Detroit Edison man.

Both mayor candidates are former students of the Northville school. Mr. Perrin is a graduate of a Detroit business college and has been express agent here since 1910. He has two children, Kathryn Ann of the home, and Elmer, who teaches in the Sandusky high school. For the past four years, Mr. Perrin has been a member of the village council. During this time he has been outspoken in a fight to maintain Dr. W. H. Johnston as health officer and has opposed certain former practices of the police department. When the paving issue came before the council Saturday, Feb. 26, Mr. Perrin, not wanting to vote on the matter, took over the mayor's chair, while Dr. H. H. Burkhardt cast a vote in the special meeting.

Mr. Nichols, for four years Northville township's justice of the peace, is a graduate of the Cleary Business college and of the Michigan State Normal college, both of Ypsilanti, and of the Detroit College of Law. He was principal of the Detroit public schools for 15 years and superintendent of the River Rouge schools for four years.

Floyd R. Lanning and Bert O. Stark have both filed petitions seeking election to the assessor's post. Treasurer Harold Bloom and Clerk Mary Alexander are unopposed for their offices.

SET MARCH DATE FOR PUBLIC BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE

A Boy Scout Jamboree has been announced by Orlow G. Owen, Scout executive, for 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 24, in the high school gymnasium.

Parents and Scout backers are invited to witness the Jamboree, asserted Mr. Owen, as he went on to explain that the Scout troop has grown to such an extent that two troops will have to be formed if the Scouting program is to be carried on as it should be.

"There are six patrols," the members of groups will vie for points at the Jamboree, with the patrols placing first, third and fifth, automatically forming one troop, and second, fourth and sixth place patrols, making up the second troop," Mr. Owen continued.

It is understood that Richard Loomis, Scoutmaster, will continue to supervise both troops, with Robert Power taking over the Scoutmaster's duties of one of the troops. Mr. Loomis will be assisted at the Jamboree by Mr. Power and Harold White.

Knot tying, individual signaling, patrol signaling and first aid demonstrations will be point-determining factors in the division of the troop.

BRING IT OUT INTO THE OPEN

The discussion in Northville regarding village candidates is for the best interests of the community. When discussion is brought out into the open sunshine, certainly the best interests of the town cannot suffer.

In fact, it is our frank observation of politics that a fair-minded candidate who is willing to stand on both feet, gets farther in the long run than one who is trying to side-step issues. If a man wants to become a public servant he should certainly be courageous enough to tell the people where he stands and why.

Governing Northville is a job of governing big business. It is a job that continues for two years in various offices. You would hardly hire a man to run your private business for two years without checking pretty carefully all of his qualifications. Why shouldn't the same good sense be used in community affairs?

And remember this: Don't believe everything you hear. In fact you would be smart to believe very little of what you hear unless you check it. Nobody knows better than a newspaper man that a lot of things that are quoted are simply not so.

You are a shareholder in Northville. Exercise your rights to do your part in picking the men who are going to guide your affairs.

NEWS HARDSHIPS CITED BY WHITE

The modern newspaper man approaches his responsibilities most seriously — he begins the day with a prayer, for guidance; and ends it with a prayer of forgiveness — essential because of the difficulties he encounters," asserted Lee A. White, of The Detroit News, as he spoke Friday evening, March 4, in the Presbyterian church house before members of the Woman's club and their guests.

Mr. White balanced the much-quoted phrase, "You can't believe that," it's only a newspaper story," with one which is spoken almost as frequently, "I know it's so, I saw it in the paper."

This just brings to light the truth that people will believe what they want to believe, he pointed out, at the same time stating that newspapers are not accurate — "in the fullest sense of the word — not in the way they'd like to be. Some of the errors are inexcusable," he said, naming the hoax, deliberate lying, brassiness, indifference, carelessness and haste in this category.

"Then there are errors which occur because of ignorance — often made by very learned persons, particularly in the physical as well as social sciences," he continued. "The speed with which a newspaper man must work and the confusion that surrounds him are responsible for many of the inaccuracies. Obstacles, sometimes from elements of nature — have to be faced by the reporter, making it necessary for him to balance what information he gets and take that which seems to be true," he explained.

"Many of the inaccuracies must be laid at the feet of the public," there are persons who frame the newspaper in his own defense because he might have been indiscreet in his statements, wanting after they were printed, to shore the blame on the newspaper man, rather than take it himself. The original source is not always correct, he said, citing questionnaires which The News sends out to persons of prominence. A man filled out three blanks through the years for The News and the information each time was different, he pointed out. Speaking of letters to the editor as a means of reflecting the seriousness with which the paper is held by the general public, Mr. White discredited them. In his opinion, the medium of such measurement can best be taken from the question and answer department, where readers seek information and want service. "However, we like letters to the editor; they are good reading," he affirmed.

RETURN FROM FLORIDA — Mr. and Mrs. George Hicks have returned to Northville from a vacation of several weeks in Florida.

Bessie Johnston, Wilkett of Detroit wishes to announce that there are only a few vacant periods left in her piano and vocal class and students desiring to be in June recital should enroll soon at Studio, 521 West Main, Mondays.

3 PLYMOUTH YOUTHS CAUGHT IN HOLDUPS

Three youths who had looted the Plymouth high school and a Plymouth gas station early Sunday morning were trapped by police at 5 a. m. the same day as they started to leave the Northwestern high school, Grand River and West Grand River boulevard.

The youths, Robert O'Hara, 19 years old, Lloyd Wade, 17, and John Murie, 17, all of Detroit, confessed to 35 breaking and entering offenses, since November. Upon questioning the police found that the boys' meeting place was a poolroom and that they had been on the money on pool games and movies. Their highest single loot was $14.

After the Plymouth holdup, a policeman trailed them. They threw away their guns and hid the stolen articles, returning later to get their guns and loot. A saxophone and clarinet, taken from the Plymouth high school, were found in a parked car near where the police made the arrest. Nickles, $18 worth, taken from telephone booths were also recovered.

The boys were taken after Patrolmen Joseph King and Arthur Balmor saw the trio go into Northwestern high school. Police squads circled the building and the boys were captured as they left the school.

3 Churches Observe World Prayer Day

In unison with women in all Christian nations of the whole world, a representative gathering of Northville women observed the annual World Day of Prayer in the Baptist church Friday afternoon. Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists all joined heartily in the song "One Lord One Faith One Baptism" as their attention was extended beyond the homeland to the nations beyond the sea.

"Let us forget our small differences in creed," urged Mrs. Thomas W. Smith, wife of the pastor of the Presbyterian church, as she led an impressive devotion service in opening the meeting. "Let us concern ourselves with our own community and then extend our interest to foreign lands."

Mrs. Harry J. Lord, wife of the Methodist pastor, presided at the afternoon's program, leading in the responsive readings in which all participated.

Home missions was realistically brought to the attention of hearers by Mrs. E. S. Beard, who presided.

TO VISIT WWJ — Members of the Northville Woman's club will visit WWJ Wednesday, March 16. Mrs. H. S. Willis, president, announces that all club members are expected to be at the station by 1 p. m. if they intend to be in the group. Tickets will be at the club meeting Friday afternoon, March 11. Persons wanting transportation are asked to inform Mrs. E. M. Flaherty.

ORATION WINNER

A prize-winning oration, "The Wheel of Fortune Spins," was given Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church before a union meeting of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches, by T. R. Carrington, Jr., a junior at the Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti. Young Carrington recently placed fourth in the State oratorical contest held in East Lansing.

Miss Betty Jane Malley, also a student at Ypsilanti, gave her oration at the same service. She received second honors in the State contest with her treatise on the eye, "As of Divorce, 'Charity's Child'."

Board of Education To Adopt Teachers Scale for Salaries

A salary schedule submitted to the board of education by the Northville teachers was adopted in principle Tuesday evening when the board met in regular session.

Designed to bring salaries to a higher level, decreasing the percentage of teacher turn-over from year to year, the scale will be put into practice in part this year but will take according to R. H. Amerman, school superintendent, approximately three years to get it working to its full extent.

The scale Mr. Amerman believes will encourage good teachers to continue their study. Based on experience, in this school system and elsewhere, and the number of hours and degrees a teacher holds, a definite salary rate may be expected by each teacher from year to year.

Mr. Amerman reports that it will be at least ten days before any definite figures can be released on the schedule.

NOWELS LUMBER COMPANY COMPLETES FIRST LOAN

The first remodeling loan reported in Northville, under the newly amended Federal Housing Act, was made, for a client of the Nowels Lumber and Coal company, according to Harold Church, manager.

Mr. Church states that much interest has been shown in modernization and new construction. The new FHA terms make it possible for property owners to repair or remodel buildings with a minimum cash payment of 50 per cent of the total cost, under certain conditions.

DISPLAY MODEL LOCOMOTIVE

Neil Hansford will display for two weeks, beginning Saturday, March 12, the locomotive in the picture. It was built by Richard and Herbert Scheffner, 17174 Omira avenue, Detroit, requiring some 3,500 hours of labor for its completion. Designed after its sister locomotive, No. 8200, 4-6-4 Hudson type, the New York Central line, the engine is capable of pulling six persons under 125 pounds of steam pressure.

DOWN WITH FUSSY-FOOTERS

A Detroit letter, sent to the Editor this week regarding the questions asked by The Record two weeks ago and which were answered last week by only two of the eight candidates seeking office March 14 in the village election.

Detroit, Mich.
March 5

Dear Editor:
As one of your subscribers and a taxpayer of Northville, I am also very much interested in the civic of the town. I was much interested in the answers you received to questions asked of candidates for council seats. Not being personally acquainted with either I think we could elect men who answer all questions as Chub Smith does (honestly, I take it). We might eventually send some better men to Lansing to make and enforce laws, and not so many "Fussy-Footers."

Signed—Interested.

Woman Mows Down 3 Gasoline Pumps at Village Station

Ronald Beasley, who runs a Fleetwing service station at 340 North Center street, felt Thursday afternoon that he had just cause to do some muttering about "women drivers" after three gasoline pumps had been neatly mowed down in one grand sweep.

Mrs. Olmstead who lives out on Nine Mile road with Mrs. Frank Durfee was having brake trouble when she turned into the station. The old weather had frozen the car brakes and she couldn't stop when she found herself steering right in line with Beasley's pumps — down went the pumps in her path — one, two and three.

One of the pumps has been patched up and has been working since Friday but two of them are beyond repair. All the damage is covered by insurance. However, the station employees and the police department are still wondering "how on earth she did it."

C. J. Smith Heads Men's Organization

Following an informal Mulligan supper in the Methodist church house Monday evening, an organization was effected which will be known as the Brotherhood of the Methodist church.

Chub J. Smith was named president. The other officers are: Russell H. Steininger, vice-president, and Floyd R. Lanning, secretary. Meetings will be held monthly and plans will be worked out for a recreational program as well as usual activities of a class of this kind.

Mr. Lanning gave a report on the skating project which was inaugurated a year ago. Due to the fine cooperative efforts of several members of the church, $250 has been paid in full for skating equipment and a player piano. At the present time the skating committee is turning one-half of its profits to the regular church treasury.

The accident occurred on Plymouth road between Stark and Farmington roads as Irene and her companion, Helen, aged 15 years, 10791 Star road, pedaled their bicycles in an early evening ride. HIGH BIDS MARK FIRST AUCTION

The first Prosperfun Auction held by Northville merchants drew an overflow crowd Wednesday night to the Penniman-Allen theatre where Harry C. Robinson, Plymouth auctioneer, officiated in the distribution of some $200 worth of prizes contributed by member merchants and purchased by customers with Prosperfun "Exchange."

Bids on the merchandise ran from $2 to $105. A sack of Bear brand rice, the low bid and a rug offered by Schrader Bros. went for the record amount. Most of the bidding had been done by secret, written bids prior to the sale, but a few items were offered for public bidding when unclaimed. Auctioneer Robinson displayed his talents well and competition for the items was keen.

With the first sale as experience, greater interest is expected for the second Prosperfun series which begins at once. The next auction has been announced for April 6. Details will be announced in The Record.

Highest bidders the items they purchased and the amount bid were: Marion Schroeder dress, $150.00; Mrs. J. A. Larson, groceries, $225.00; Helen Dixon, suede jacket, $60.25; M. WILLOUGHBY CITES HIGHLIGHTS OF OLD MEXICO CITY TRIP

With Robert Willoughby of Plymouth as their lecturer-guide, Northville Rotarians and guests at the weekly program Tuesday noon enjoyed the fascinating trip into Old Mexico.

Armed with a large number of personally-taken camera pictures, Mr. Willoughby told in detail of the recent trip he and his wife took to this colorful land. Every dollar of American money can be exchanged for 380 of Mexican currency, said the speaker and this high rate of exchange makes the journey in Mexico very reasonable in cost.

The hotels, said Mr. Willoughby, are excellent and the meals are good and fairly priced. The Plymouth visitors were surprised to find that English speaking attendants were to be found in practically all of the hotels. The roads are really wonderful.

SHOULD YOUTH BE SOCIALLY SECURE?

Dr. Samuel Grafflin of New York City, in an address at Lansing last week said that social security "is the greatest menace to the young people of today." Where there is social security, he went on to state, there is also a spirit of slackness and willingness to accept security and not take a chance in battling this world.

"God pity us if we make our youth socially secure," said Dr. Grafflin. "It will be a sad day in America when young men and women have someone tell them they must get a card from some organization or agency before they can work."

Where would we be now if such men as Franklin, Marconi, Edison and Henry Ford had been brought up in youth with the idea that they would be "socially secure?"

WHAT IS THE SOLUTION?

There is certainly something wrong with the system for selling automobile license plates when the deadline for using old plates has to be advanced beyond the lawful time. What is the basic wrong?

Well, certainly one thing is sure. The automobile is taxed to death. Does anybody dare deny that? First, when you buy your car, you have the state sales tax which may easily take a half week's pay. Then when you buy your license in the state of Michigan you hand over several days' more pay, and every time you buy gasoline you hand over four cents in tax for every gallon that has been pumped into your tank. So eager are we all to drive cars and keep in style with our neighbors that we pay all of these overwhelming taxes without much protest.

Our newest depression has, of course, made things tight and many people simply haven't the money to buy their plates before the deadline. Yet it times were prosperous there would still be thousands who would postpone buying new plates because the state would allow them. Certainly if we are going to have continued respect for law, this habit of changing license deadlines will have to stop.

AN OLD FASHIONED BUT GOOD CUSTOM

Probably in comparison with few homes in Northville, the "blessing" asked at no dinner. A recent column of the late O. O. McIntire in this column is still being published with good will which is a deviation from work ahead. Says that in New York, "not all the fine old supplicants vanish in the modern world." Then McIntire went on to tell of visiting in half a dozen homes in New York where, with heads bowed, guests and hosts alike would pray.

The traditional custom of praying over the guests goes back to the olden times when the guests were the guests of the hosts. We remember as a child that the practice was very common but as years have passed it has less and less. Due to the nature of a religious father and mother, grace is still said at the dinner table, but yet around our family table there come guests to whom we have to give some preliminary prayer at that we are about to ask the blessing. Sometimes they say they napkins all placed and the soup spoons halfway to their mouths before we can get our head bowed.

One of life's most embarrassing moments came a few years ago when we called upon a guest in our home—a good Presbyterian doctor—who said he was a Unitarian. He followed, whereupon we looked at one of the corners of one eye and said the guest said, "I am a Unitarian." We had to fill the gap on our side and then we have been always careful to get a man's credentials before we ask him to "ask the blessing."

It is in keeping with the spirit of our mad, materialistic age that what McIntire called "a fine old simplicity" is going out of date. Yet why should not every home with the coming of a new meal before it pause with gratitude not only to the Creator but to all of their fellow men for the blessings of food and drink? A hundred men, some of them removed by hundreds of miles, made your meals today possible. What finer quality of life than to pause for a moment in silence to appreciate these gifts that come from God and from our fellowmen?

IF YOU KILLED A BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Automobile Driver of Northville, you don't want to injure or kill a child who is hit by your automobile. All right, if you will read the following article by George Malcolm Smith, printed in the Travelers' Protection, you will possibly be even more careful than you have ever been before. Better still read it aloud to your family. Here it is:

I saw you barely miss a little boy on a tricycle this afternoon and heard you yell, "Get the hell out of the way! Don't you know any better than to ride in the street?" He didn't answer because he hasn't learned to talk yet. So I'm going to answer for him.

No, the little boy doesn't know any better than to ride his tricycle in the street. He has been warned, not to, but little boys don't always heed warnings. Some adults don't—especially traffic warnings; for example, the one limiting the speed of automobiles in city streets.

I'm going to tell you something about that little boy: He has a mother who endured considerable inconvenience, anxiety, and suffering to bring him into the world. He has a father who has worked hard and made many sacrifices to make him healthy and happy. The supreme purpose of their lives is to have their little boy grow up to be a useful and prosperous man.

Now stop a minute and think. I know your minutes are valuable and I know it will be hard for you to think. But try. If you should kill a child how would you feel facing its parents? What excuse could you give them for having robbed them of their dearest possession? More important: What excuse could you possibly offer him whose kingdom is made up of little children?

Children, my hasty friend, were here long before you or your automobile were ever thought of. All the automobiles on earth are not worth the life of one little boy on a tricycle. Any competent garage mechanic can put a car together, however badly it's smashed; but nobody on earth can put a child together once it's life has been crushed out. We don't know what the little boy may some day be. But we know what you are, and it's unimportant. We could get along without you, but we can't spare a single little boy on this street.

DEO

BY THEODORE WELKE

The conclusion of my study has just closed behind a young lady whom I had helped but little in a matter of importance to her and to many other young people. I hasten to write this so soon after her leaving because I should like to capture in words, before I might lose them, the impressions this splendid young woman left with me. I am convinced that she is a deep thinker, that the tumult and confusion in her mind is not peculiar to her alone, and that her problem, typical of unknown numbers of intelligent youths, is a challenge to our ablest theologians. Men of the church are aware of the conflict which follows learning into the mind of the faithful. "This girl cannot reconcile what she has learned and studied in science, history, anthropology, and contemporary life with what she was taught and believed as a child about Christ—about God."

"I want to believe in a God," she said meekly, in the course of our talk.

"All human beings do," I countered.

"Put it just can't swallow, as absolute and divine truth, the fictions and imaginings on which our Christian religion is built," she spoke on.

"It is human—evolved in human minds growing up from savagery. It's not divine. We profess it because our ancestors did, and they, more than likely chose it as the only alternative to torture and death forced on them by some conqueror or overlord. Many children are taught that the Bible contains the literal word of God and believe it as I did. Now I am convinced this is not true. The blow strikes to the foundations of everything I held dear. Lechery, deceit, selfishness, intolerance, lust for power—by these base human traits our religious teachings came to their present form and reached us. There is not one iota of reasonable proof that God has ever had anything more to do with what we call the Christian religion than with every other religious form on earth."

She paused for breath as tears welled up into her eyes. I remained silent. Before me the mind of a sweet, intelligent girl was metamorphosing into the mind of a woman. The change was taking place in mental travail. She was emerging from under the shelter of the high thinking which had been erected about her immature mind. Soon

Soil may be kept effectively free of the damping off fungus by using formaldehyde. Making a solution at the rate of 1 pound formaldehyde to 15 gallons of water. Take 1 1/2 tablespoons of this solution and 3 tablespoons of water and mix. Pour this on 1 bushel of soil in a tight container and close tightly. Leave over night.

But isn't it true—what I've just said was a warning that I've just given an answer that in her heart she had hoped might quiet her searching doubts. She wanted me to tell her that what she had said was not true. I could not.

Yes, all you have said is true, honest as you can tell you otherwise. I replied, "It's true, too, but there is no physical Santa Claus but there is in every heart the urge to give to others. Their giving makes Santa Claus real. So, from now on your church and your religion will be what you make them. Whether Communism, Taoism, Buddhism, Mohammedanism, or Christianity is not important. But it is important that you should endeavor to formulate the pattern of your lives according to the highest aspirations of your people. Your people are Christian. In their traditions and their Bible their code is prescribed. You will find lasting peace for your spirit and happiness in the days of your living if you follow that code. As you live its tenets, you bring them into being. You make them real. And so you make Christianity real. There is no no Christianity—no even such as it is—no one tried to attain it."

"Then I must carve my own god, as does the savage in Papua?"

"Yes—each carves in the light of his own intelligence or accepts as best he can, the carvings done by someone else, for him. Some among us are better sculptors than others. The mental images they create have qualities that endure, that elevate man's doing and living. Such a man is said once to have lived in Galilee."

MRS. EDITOR

ON "ASKING THE BLESSING"
Mr. Editor has just dictated to us an editorial on the "old-fashioned custom" of asking the blessing before the meal. Being of Quaker descent, we "feel moved" to add a bit of comment.

The memory of a father sitting at the head of the table with bowed head before each meal is one of the most vivid and sweetest of our childhood. As naturally as one would speak to a close friend he voiced his thanks for food and the shelter of home and even when we were little children we caught the point from him that it was just as natural to thank our Heavenly Father as to thank our friends for their gifts.

Our father liked to have every member of the family seated at the table before this brief ceremony and no small head was allowed to bob up and call out "Pass the butter!" until the final "Amen." "Mealtime is family time," said our father, and he loved to lean back in his chair at the close of supper and say, "Well, children, tell us what you learned today." As he looked around at the young folks gathered about the table he would smile with pride and quote these lines:

"We are all here,
Blest be the meeting and the spot,
For once be every care forgot,
We are all here—"

and then a sense of security and well-being would come over us all as we listened to the words whistling without—we were all here.

Too often meal times become an open house for fault finding and general criticism. Because it is the one time when all the family is together, it is the time for bold frankness. "But for our own bitter tongue," many a good meal cooked by mother is spoiled by the spirit of unhappiness in which it is served. All the more need for a "blessing" at the beginning of the meal, which, though not at all a preventative, is apt to be a reminder of the presence of the "unseen guest." Years ago we clipped and saved just such an ideal prayer for the family to repeat. It might be a good thing to have it inscribed upon the walls of the dining room for frequent reading. Here it is:

"Our Heavenly Father, bless this thy household and grant us sweet reasonableness in all our dealings with each other: make us large-hearted in helping and generous in criticizing, keep us from unkind words and unkind silences. Make us quick to understand the needs and feelings of others, and grant that living in thy brightness we may bring sunshine into cloudy places. Amen."

(Thinking of our childhood home reminds us of the big ginger cookies our mother used to make. If there ever were better cookies we never have eaten any.)

Mother's Ginger Cookies

1 egg, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup light molasses, 1 cup shortening, Stir well and add 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon soda, sift in 2 cups flour, ginger, cinnamon, cloves to taste. These will be quite stiff to mix. Roll thin.

"Substance" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 13.
The Golden Text, from Philippians 4:18, is: "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Hebrews 11:1): "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (page 468): "Substance is that which is eternal, and incapable of discord and decay. Spirit, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance."

Oh, Dippeduck! Oh Dippeduck! Here's to you, the best of luck. For a long village resident, you'll make an A-1 president. You'll win with so many votes. You'll get your rival's goats. With you we'll go to town. Unless on March 14 you let us down.

BULLETIN.
Village Hall, March 12.—Horatio G. Dippeduck revealed to-night that he was definitely out of the race for village president. Giving as his reason the newly discovered knowledge that the office paid not the $75,000 per annum he had mistakenly thought, the candidate thanked his loyal supporters and expressed his sympathy to his rivals, remaining in the race.

Congressional Comment.
Representative George A. Dendero, 7th Michigan District.

It may be within a short time that the President will have the opportunity to make at least five appointments to the Supreme Court of the United States. Lighting the two already made. This is the belief of those close to the Administration because of the advanced ages of some of the present Justices. It is known that some of these Justices are contemplating a voluntary retirement. Whether this has been indicated by causes other than advanced age is problematical and best known to the Justices themselves.

The three expected to follow Justice George Sutherland off the high tribunal are Justices Louis D. Brandeis, James Clark McReynolds and Pierce Butler. Of these Mr. McReynolds and Butler are the last two of the so-called conservatives. Justices Sutherland and Brandeis, however, with these two having made up the right front on the bench if these rumored resignations materialize there will be only four Justices not appointed by President Roosevelt and of these four Justice

Cardozo is termed an out-and-out liberal. The remaining three Justices, Harlan, F. Stone, Owen J. Roberts and Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, have taken the middle course. Hence there is in prospect a Supreme Court bench having a majority of Roosevelt appointees.

Justice Brandeis is now past 81. He has intended for some time to retire. Though regarded as the most liberal of the members of the high bench, he was very much opposed to President Roosevelt's attempt to enlarge the court.

According to information available here, Justices Butler and McReynolds contemplated voluntary retirement back but regarded it to be their duty to remain.

There appears to be little doubt that the pressure of the proposal to increase the membership of the court had some bearing on the sustaining of certain New Deal laws. At least a great many lawyers are of that opinion.

If the above mentioned resignations are tendered it is expected that they will come in 1938, probably at the end of the present term. President Roosevelt will then have full responsibility for the Supreme Court as well as for the administrative branch of the government.

The House of Representatives has now passed a bill which puts fourth class postmasters on a salary. This move was first proposed over 50 years ago but for various reasons was never acted upon. It affects $1,636 postmasters in the United States. It places postmasters of all classes on the same footing, namely salaries based upon gross receipts of their offices and eliminates much complicated bookkeeping and many reports. It effects a saving to the government of approximately $400,000. It raises the salaries of the poorest paid postmasters and reduces the pay of the second and third class postmasters from $10 to $20 per annum. The fourth class postmasters were greatly in favor of this change. When the bill was under consideration in the House of Representatives, I expressed my position in this language: "I believe we all feel if this bill is to lower the pay of the men who run these post offices, usually in connection with some little business, we would not be in sympathy with it but if it tends to stabilize the pay and make it uniform throughout the country I believe we would be for it."

UNDER OBSERVATION

TAXES.
We have heard and with some pathos with those who complain of high taxes. The Michigan State Sales Tax is a particular irritant but when one studies taxation in other lands the local burden seems light. Consider taxes in St. Lucia of the British West Indies group from a report made by Miss Spence, a resident. For use of the streets, owners of baby cabs pay an annual tax of $100. A truck license costs $125 and gasoline costs 15c, to which a tax of 21c is added. On mail orders and gifts one must pay a tax of 15 per cent of the value except on shoes which are taxed 20 per cent. If that isn't enough consider that a renter must pay a rent tax at year's end equivalent to a month's rent.

FOOD.
Mr. Spencer's friends also reported these food prices prevailing in Medellin, Columbia:
Flour, 25 lb. bag $4.10
Salad Dressing, quart 1.40
Apples, 35c each or per pound 80
Nuts per pounds 1.20
Who said, high cost of living? Even a new Ford costs less than thirty cents a pound here.

WASHEE.
As if the Chinese weren't having enough trouble on their home grounds with the Japs out comes the Bendix organization with a washing marvel that will make laundry work a pleasure at home rather than a chore to be farmed out to any willing person. Of course you've seen the "Home Laundry" at Cliff Turnbull's Northville Electric Shop, haven't you? Its makers offer it as the first improvement in washing machine equipment since 1923 and from what little we know of the field, we're inclined to accept the claim. Anyone planning a new home or extensive remodeling of an old place should investigate the Bendix "Home Laundry." Even bachelors would consider doing their own washing if they could possess one.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.
Sadly we approach the village election next Monday. As surely as it occurs we shall lose our friend, Horatio G. Dippeduck, at least until another election pulls him out into pursuit of public office. We haven't dared consider what might occur if he should win—we know that he'd be totally insufferable. So here's for the last effort:

MARY ALEXANDER
For Village Clerk.
Election March 14, 1938

POLITICAL ADVERTISING

To the Citizens of the Village of Northville:

Having served faithfully four years as a Commissioner of your Village, with an attendance of nearly one hundred per cent at all regular and special meetings and admitting having made some mistakes (and who has not?), and feeling that I am now entitled to advancement, I again submit my name to you, this time as a candidate for the Presidency of the Village of Northville. If elected I will ever keep in mind the dignity of the office and conduct myself accordingly.

So many people have asked, "What is your platform?" Here are a few of the things I expect to do:

Pass a zoning ordinance in regard to gas stations and keep them out of residential districts.

Keep all streets in the village graded, and treated for dust during the summer.

Make a thorough study of the water situation and improve it wherever necessary, flushing all hydrants (some have not been flushed in years) and seeing that the septic tanks are properly taken care of.

Pay all village employees a fair wage and see that they make a fair return for what they have received.

Improve the efficiency of the fire department without affecting its personnel.

As for the police department, they shall be expected to live up to certain qualifications, and at all times to conduct themselves in a courteous manner. They will receive their instructions in regard to speeding, etc., and I assure you that speeding and drunk driving will not be tolerated. The village will be patrolled both day and night as an added protection against burglary and fire. There will be a police officer on duty at the school when the children are dismissed.

Now as to the village budget. It will not be raised, with a greater possibility of its being lowered.

Having sufficient time to devote to village affairs, I will make it my business to go to the village offices daily and endeavor to save the taxpayers money wherever possible.

Now, last but not least, with the cooperation of the Commissioners, I shall try to make Northville a decent place in which to live, fight for the good of all concerned at all times and with these thoughts foremost in my mind, I earnestly seek your support at the polls next Monday.

Again I thank you and also my friends for their past support and encouragement.

Gratefully,
ELMER E. PERRIN

Walled Lake News

By CHARLES HUTTON

Frandon Beach, Cozette, Fla. Rainfall thought on route to and on arrival at Florida for the first time.

Thursday—Go! Help we are, starting for Florida in the winter time. Never did take a vacation in the winter before. Wonder if it is actually as warm there as they say it is? Folks say you can buy oranges as cheap by the bushel as we can apples. I doubt it. . . . Never did see an orange tree. . . . Wonder how they wear down there. . . . Gee! I hope it doesn't cost much to live there. . . . We've got a lot of crust to go. Think how far it is! Like going to Europe or some place. . . . Never thought I'd be going to Florida till I was old and retired. . . . Am sure glad mother can go. . . . Must be a thrill for her, after so many years thinking about it—she always wanted to travel. . . . Wonder how far we'll get tonight, others say you can make it in three days. . . . That's going some, I guess. . . . Wednesday—It's warmer, even here at Lexington, Ky. . . . Don't need an overcoat here. . . . This is the blue grass state. . . . Home of the Kentucky Colonels and fine horse flesh. . . . Lawns look green. . . . Flowers are out here. . . . Beautiful stock farms. . . . Wonder how far we'll get today.

Thursday—Arrived at night in Dalton Ga., after a day of hills and small mountains. . . . Saw Norris Dam. . . . Great piece of engineering. . . . Only came 325 miles today. . . . Rather hard driving, but interesting. . . . Seems odd to be driving without coals and bats in March.

Friday—Reached Lake City, Fla. after 400 miles of easy driving. . . . Good roads. . . . Our first view of this world-famous state. . . . Ham grins for breakfast. . . . Folks have difficulty understanding these Southern draws. . . . Dogwood trees look like full blown apple trees. . . . Flower gardens blooming. . . . Mocking birds singing. . . . Robins chirping.

All, as we point towards our destination, about 200 miles away. . . . Wonder how Bob's getting along with the stoker back home. . . . Seems like a new world down here. . . . Seems as if we'd been gone for months. . . . Saw our first orange and grape fruit groves. . . . Thousands of trees. . . . Delightful fragrance. . . . No wonder they use orange blossoms for weddings. . . . Delightful fragrance. . . . Drove through Tampa. . . . Imagine! It's actually there—or here—just as the history books say. . . . Arrived at Bradenton at 1 p. m. Friday, three days and a half. . . . 35 hours actual driving time. . . . about 1325 miles. . . . cost about $20 for gas and oil. . . . four people rode in the car. . . . figure it out yourself. . . . It is actually as warm as they say and it was about 85 degrees. . . . All kinds of fruit (cheap) and flowers and vegetables and strawberries. . . . am writing this in my living room, sitting in the yard and occasionally pinching myself to see if I'm actually here, or just dreaming.

Grade Notes

Miss Ann Richards' kindergarten class have made a post office. For this post office they have made two mail bags of oil cloth and some stamps. Diana Jean Schulte has brought her sewing machine to school so holes could be made in the stamps so they could be torn apart. Tulane German brought a post man's hat.

Last Tuesday, the afternoon people visited the post office and last Friday, the morning people visited it. The children have learned two songs about the post office, "The Postman" and "I'm Going to Write to Papa."

Miss Cassidy's fourth and fifth graders also gave two plays, "George Washington's Visit to Betsy Ross" and "February's Children." The fourth grade has just finished a project on the desert. The pupils have collected pictures of the desert and have different kinds of foods which are eaten there.

The fifth grade is studying cotton. They have assembled cotton seeds, raw cotton and many different kinds of cotton. Pauline Williams is growing a cotton plant.

Miss Estelle Griffith's third grade, from a recent puppet play, has brought the book, "The Story of Ferdinand," by Munro Leaf. Nancy Washburne, Eileen Vogelin, Elsie May Keppner, Corleen Clark, Patricia Johnson, Marjane Larson and Greta Chappell took part in the play.

In the grade building hall is an exhibit of transportation. The boats that are shown were made by Paul Foline, Delores Glasier, Patricia Frid, The boats are Viking, Columbus boat, Indian canoe and Clipper. Marian Larson and Mildred Fritz made a stage coach and covered wagon. Phyllis Kreeger made a Holland milk cart. The third grade had a candy sale last Friday. They made 55 which they'll use for workbooks and new library books.

Miss Margaret Carpenter's third graders have made many good scrap books in connection with health work. Irene Bedore, Burton Truax, Ruth Nagel, Jack Kahrl, Ruth Guder, Derwin Lawrence, Roy Moore, Verna Larkins, Bob Masters, Bill Weeks, Jean Shoenberg, Elizabeth Lester and Walter Boyd have received stars for the week.

Ruth Nagel and Marilyn Keliher are on the dental honor roll. Mrs. K. H. Babbitt's fourth graders are studying lettering in art. They have made many patriotic posters. They are also studying Switzerland. "There have been an unusual number of absences," says Mrs. Babbitt.

Editor's Note

The first day that even vaguely resembles spring brings forth that dread plague "spring fever." This is a disease which seems to force students out of school by brute force. The victim gets a very peculiar look on the face, looks sleepily out of the nearest window, and dreams dreams only for himself. The only cure for this person is either to let him skip school and get all muddled, or let him sleep, or let him sleep.

Today must be the first really spring like day so far this winter, because the glasses seem to be awfully bare. These ardent seekers of freedom will probably catch pneumonia and even if they don't they'll have hard work to make up a lot of a lecture to face the next day. Teachers don't seem to sympathize with "skippers" any more than I do, even if you tell them you had to take the dog for a walk because your mother has the gout, they won't believe you and will say awful things to try and hurt your feelings. Teachers are unfeeling creatures. All in all, may I say that "spring fever" is nothing more than a false impression.

The survey conducted in regard to whether or not we should print a "Piffle" column on this page, has ended with the votes 28 in favor and 4 against the column.

The majority of our readers seemed to think as we do that a certain amount of good, clean fun is a necessary addition to every high school newspaper. Those few who were against the continuance of the column offered as the only argument the fact that we "could do better things" with the space allotted to "Piffle About Piffle."

So the editors are pleased to announce that, in view of the enjoyment derived from this column by most of the Orange and Black readers, we will henceforth and forward print a column titled "Piffle About Piffle."

N. H. S. DEFEATED AT TOURNAMENT

Cagers Win First Game of Tourney, 35-9; But Lose Second, 18-17

N. H. S. defeated Ypsilanti-Roosevelt high school 35-9, last Thursday in her first contest of this season's tournament at Ypsilanti.

Duguid started the scoring in the first quarter and his team makes kept it up to end the quarter 7-2, for Northville. A new team went in in the next quarter and allowed Roosevelt to score three points. The starting lineup went back in at the beginning of the third quarter and at once N. H. S. began scoring, finishing this period 19-7 in the home team's favor.

In the fourth quarter, after bringing the score up to 27-9, the first team gave way to the second team which ended the game 35-9. High point man for the evening was Nindler, with 9 points.

The home boys were defeated Friday night by Lincoln Consolidated in the second tournament game by the score of 18-17.

The boys just couldn't seem to get going in this game. They played a good defensive game, but when they got the ball they couldn't do a thing with it. Everybody shot at the basket but couldn't seem to put the ball through the hoop.

The game went fast all the way through, even though the playing on the part of the home team wasn't up to its usual standard.

Did You Notice?

Margaret Nagy sitting in all the desks in assembly? No she hasn't been over-studying. She just wanted to say she has been in every seat in the assembly hall.

Kenny Wolfe all dressed up? He's setting a good example for the rest of you fellows!

That Jeanne A. hasn't learned not to bet with Cecil Giles, yet? You might know he'd only bet on sure things, Jeanne.

Helen Winter singing the blues last Monday? It couldn't be a Krog or clerk could it, Helen?

Harold Cunt what was that note you were reading in economics? It couldn't be a senior and you've been willing to or could it?

J. W. Cram going around with a dreamy look in his eye? It's just the senior pay that has gotten into him.

Sue talking with Walter after school? But it wasn't Walter Garchow.

That Harry Rattenbury's another Robert Taylor? Well, that's a teacher's opinion, anyway.

Leona White is one of our quiet seniors so she says? We wouldn't know.

Cooley high has lost another one of its students to N. H. S.? Welcome, Julian.

PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY SENIOR CLASS

The senior class has chosen "The Importance of Being Earnest" for its annual dramatic production to be given the latter part of the month.

B. C. Mollema and Miss Estelle Griffiths are directing the play and have selected the cast. Miss Griffiths explained that the reason that there was only a minimum cast of characters chosen was the fact that there is a shorter time to prepare for the play than usual.

The cast is as follows, Gwendoline, Barbara Wood, Jack Wothring, Edward Reid, Cecil, Virginia Washburne, Algenon, J. W. Erwin, Lady Bracknell, Jean Anderson and Betsy Schoultz. Lane, either John L. Schoultz or Walter Garchow, Merrick, Kline, Bollo, Miss Pison, Margaret Nagy and Hazel Livingston, Rev. Charles, Harry Rattenbury.

COUNCIL TO SPONSOR BASEBALL AND TRACK

The Student Council will support both track and baseball this year. Mayor Keene Bolton announced after the last meeting that B. Smith will coach the two sports with William H. French assisting him.

The prospects for a track team look much better this season than last and the boys hope to make a good showing in their several contests.

Baseball will include most of the fellows that played last spring with the exception of those who have graduated and many more.

Piffle About Piffle

Here we are again, so if you're a weak heart, you'd better stick to news stories. We're weeks behind on all of Dan Cupid's doings, but here are a few hasty tidbits. Dorothy Heaton and Helen Harper, both have that look in their eyes of late. You'll have to see them for further information. Eber Lester has a brand new girl again. Look at his waist for her picture. If you haven't heard of her, she's a blonde, blonde and blonde. Bar, why don't you stick on someone your own size?

Walter Myers and Arlene Blake seem to enjoy an empty assembly more than an inhabited one. After school, for instance, Arthur Brundmeyer seems to focus his attention on Barbara Simmons and as she doesn't seem to object, why should we? Enough of that.

Jane (Snow Queen) Van Atta is a junior and her hair is a glorious golden color. Her eyes are awfully mysterious about decorations for the Hop. We're dying to hear all about them. Tell us, will you, fair one?

It seems that Cooley high has lost another student to N. H. S. Well, that makes us even. They took two of our boys at the beginning of this year. The latest addition to Northville is Julian Thorne and he's a junior. Welcome, my lad, may we all be friends.

Well, Alb Roelens and Chuck Bishop seem to be footloose and fancy free yet. At their advanced age, too. You can't say the girls haven't tried, though, can you? Haven't a gang of the students got dates for the J-hop already? You should take heed, fair feathered ones, and date in a hurry. And with that bit of timely advice, we take leave of you, one and all. Don't hold your breath till we get back!

The Observer

"A form more fair, a face more sweet,

Ne'er hath it been my lot to meet." When we looked at the person to be observed this week, that little bit of poetry came to mind. She is a junior and her hair is a glorious golden color. Her eyes are awfully mysterious about decorations for the Hop. We're dying to hear all about them. Tell us, will you, fair one?

It seems that Cooley high has lost another student to N. H. S. Well, that makes us even. They took two of our boys at the beginning of this year. The latest addition to Northville is Julian Thorne and he's a DETROIT Edison service to farms began more than thirty years ago, when lines were being built from Detroit to serve people in outlying towns who wanted our service. Farmers living along these lines were our first rural customers. By 1927, there were 1,338 miles of rural lines carrying service to upwards of 5,000 farm families.

To speed rural electrification, The Detroit Edison Company undertook in 1928 an intensive program to bring electric service within reach of practically every family in our rural area. The part of the line cost which farmers were asked to contribute was greatly reduced. Rates to farmers were the same as to city residences. Men from our Farml Service Division, with the cooperation of County Agricultural Agents and Michigan State College, went out among farm families, demonstrated the uses of electric power on the farm and in the home, and helped farmers plan for the service.

erful so that touring is a pleasure. Some intimate glances at the agricultural life of Mexico were given by the speaker. Three crops of corn can be raised during the year and the way the natives farm on the mountain sides is quite thrilling. All kinds of fruit are found and the speaker told of seeing oranges as large as ordinary grapefruit. In certain sections, cactus is planted in rows like corn to be used for a variety of purposes, one of them being for the production of a native brand of liquor.

There is very little industry in Mexico, contrasted the Plymouth traveler, and practically everything is made by hand. Mr. Willoughby told of very interesting visits made to the glass and pottery plants in Mexico City. The cathedrals and churches are surpassingly beautiful, many of these being distinguished by amazing hand carving which was started in 1900 and not completed until two years ago. The floating gardens form a fascinating sight for the tourist. Not the least thrilling of the visitors' experiences in Mexico was the attendance at a bull fight.

Mr. Willoughby's intimate touches of life, both in the cities and in the country were greatly enjoyed by the company.

Fred Foreman back from a two-months' trip to Florida, made his bow to the Rotarians. Guests were the Rev. Walter Nichol and William Wood of Plymouth, E. S. German of
