MAYOR-ELECT STUDIES NEW SEWER PROJECT

Meeting in Lansing Draws Northville, Plymouth Officials

Justice Arthur S. Nichols, mayor-elect of the Village of Northville, has announced that he will attend a special sewage meeting Friday, March 18, in Lansing.

The conference has been called by Edward D. Rich, director of the bureau of engineering for Michigan, and is designed to draw the municipal officials of Northville and Plymouth together in a session with the representative of the Wayne County Board of Road and Park Commissioners to consider the sewage problems of both communities.

In view of the increased public use of the Rouge River and Parkway since your sewage treatment plant was built, it seems clear to the undersigned that a revised individual or consolidated plan of sewage disposal must be adopted presently in the upper Rouge valley," states Mr. Rich.

"It is in the interest of the entire village that I am making plans to go," asserted Justice Nichols, who said that Earl Montgomery, George Hicks, Floyd Shaffer, Orlow G. Owen and Carl B. Schoultz would go with him to Lansing.

HARRY B. CLARK HEADS ROTARY'S URBAN MEETING

With Harry B. Clark as master of ceremonies, a number of Northville's nearby neighbors joined with the Rotary club Tuesday evening in enjoyment of rural-urban night. After the guests had "mowed away" one of the Presbyterian ladies' delicious dinners at the church house, President Russell H. Amerman turned loose Ed Keeney, as Sergeant-at-Arms, the position he held in his former days as an active Rotarian.

Ed spared no one and soon had the dimes rolling in merrily—all for the crippled children's fund.

Leslie G. Ewe led the group in community singing with Miss Loris Tewksbury at the piano.

Following the presentation of guests, Clarence Davis was introduced as entertainment head for the evening. Sidestepping any attempt at a speech, Mr. Davis got out his moving picture machine and for an hour regaled the company with talkies, climaxed by some fine reels of deep sea fishing.

A rousing welcome was given to three former Rotarians just returned from warmer climes. The two were Fred Foreman, Floyd Northrup and D. H. Van Hove. Oranges brought from Florida by Mr. Northrup were found at the plate of each diner.

Following were the guests: Clarence Elliott of the Wayne County Training School, Mr. Davis, Thomas Blackett, of the Northville Riding Club, Dr. Waldo Johnson of the Novi road; Walter L. Couss, Detroit business man, living on East Cady street; W. J. Dowling, Assistant State Racing Commissioner, East Base Line road.

Alvin J. Kuhn, of the Farm Creek, Mr. Keeney, M. J. Kolcaker of the Twin Pines Dairy, I. D. Peat who recently built a new home on South Center street; Dr. E. E. Muller of the Wayne County Training school; Prince, G. V. Harrison of the Northville high school, William E. Walker of the East Base Line road; and Walter E. Zells, East Base Line road.

ANGOVE REHEARSES ROTARIAN MEMBERS FOR MINSTREL SHOW

Percy Angove has the Rotarians in rehearsal once a week for the annual minstrel show which will be given at the high school auditorium early this spring.

The entire Rotary membership will be cast in the production. In addition, some vocal talent from the Maybury sanatorium staff and from the high school music department will help with the production, which will be given in costume and black face.

TRAVEL IN SOUTH
Mr. and Mrs. Elton R. Eaton and Mrs. Sterling Eaton are on a motor trip through the south.

Youth of Village Band Together for Mass Meeting

The youth of Northville have banded together in an association under the sponsorship of Principal G. V. Harrison. Russell H. Steinhilber and G. C. Winter will hold their first public mass meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 29, in the Presbyterian church house.

Designed to promote the moral status of the young people of the community and to outline a program of activity and wholesome entertainment, the group announces that its first mass meeting will have Mr. Steinhilber as the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Harrison will be master of ceremonies with Mr. Winter directing the song service.

An invitation has been extended, says Mr. Winter, to all the young people. Girls are asked to bring sandwiches and the boys are asked to bring five cents for the refreshments which will be served at the end of the program.

Cub Scout Troop Receives Backing

The Cub troop of the Boy Scouts, which was organized only last October, finds itself growing in numbers under the sponsorship of M. C. Gansell, Charles A. Schoultz, Luther Lapham and Ned Hannaford, with Arthur C. Carlson as cubmaster.

The Cubs, an outgrowth of the Yanks and Tigers baseball teams which held weekly games during the summer on the school diamond, were taken under the wing of the Rotary club in the fall. The club saw to it that Mr. Carlson was assisted in his cubmaster duties by Howard McKean and Roland W. Morris, both of whom have given a great deal of time toward the development of the young organization. Den chiefs of the small boys are members of the Boy Scout troop: Frank Eaton, Kenneth Willis, Bob, Frank and George Hunter.

Plans are under way for the baseball season when the boys will take to the diamond again. The groups' interest in athletics was heightened a few weeks ago when Dr. L. W. Snow took the Cubs to Detroit to see the Golden Gloves contest at the Olympia. Other courtesies from sponsors have been a party given by Mr. Gansell and one by Mrs. Fred Wick on her son's birthday anniversary.

The Cub toll includes: Howard Walling, Linwood Show, Thomas Carl, Robert Elv, Thomas Hancock, Ted Baldwin, David Amerman, Theron Herrick, Blaine Couss, Fred Wick, Richard Ritchie, Alfred Healey, Robert McKean, Billy Johnston, Lewis Brett, Leslie Nagy, Douglas Slessor, Davis Willis.

"I greatly appreciate the wonderful cooperation we've had from the sponsors. It is certainly gratifying to see so many of the boys come out for each meeting. It is hoped that more of the boys will show up for the meetings in the future," asserts Mr. Carlson.

"Fair and Square" Club Is Organized

Ralph Walling, Dunlap street, is sponsor for a newly organized boys' club, the "Fair and Square," which is limited to boys between the ages of 10 and 16 years.

The members meet once a week in the Boy Scout building to promote fellowship. At the present, a drive is being made to increase the membership roll.

SCHOOL GETS RECOGNITION

The kindergarten entrance to Northville's grade school building will be included in the exhibits selected by the Detroit committee and jury of architects for display at the fifty-second annual exhibition of the Architectural League of New York. The school was designed by Lyndon and Smith, Detroit architects. T. Glenn Phillips is a member of the jury committee.

SAM PICKARD RECOVERS
Sam Pickard, who was ill four days last week, is able to be back in his meat market again.

Arthur S. Nichols Is President

HEADS PROGRAM

Jack Van Coevering

Leading the Wildlife program which will be held next week in Plymouth, is Jack Van Coevering of the nature department of the Detroit Free Press.

TWO COMMUNITIES BACK WILDLIFE PLANS

Tickets went on sale in Plymouth and Northville this week for the wildlife banquet to be held at the Hotel Mayflower, Wednesday evening, March 23.

Lise Alexander, chairman of the arrangements committee, announced that tickets may be obtained at the right, Plymouth United Savings bank, First National bank of Plymouth, Wild and company store, the Plymouth Hardware, and at the Northville Hardware.

Jack Van Coevering, editor of the Detroit Free Press' outdoor page and president of the Outdoor Writers Association of America, has accepted the invitation to be the speaker at Plymouth's banquet in celebration of National Conservation Week. Van Coevering is known throughout the country as an authority on conservation matters.

The committee expects to have a large turn out at the banquet. If sentiment indicates, a local conservation club will be formed. Every sportsman in the Plymouth and Northville area is invited to attend.

Hannaford Heads New Camera Club

Neil Hannaford was named president of the newly organized camera club which met Thursday March 10.

Bob Wingard of Plymouth is vice-president of the "stills" and Steve Armstrong is vice-president of the "movies." Russell Clarke is secretary-treasurer.

Meetings, Mr. Hannaford announces, will be held the second Monday and fourth Thursday of each month.

At the meeting, scheduled for Thursday, March 24, in room 8 of the high school, the bylaws and constitution, which is in the making, will be read and adopted.

MISS MARION TURNBULL RECEIVES NEW HONOR

Miss Marion Turnbull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Turnbull, a student at Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, has received a well-earned honor in the physical education department. She has received the highest possible award, having passed successfully a Red Cross examination for life saving.

She is thereby qualified to examine applicants for life saving. This is a requirement for a position as director of camps or swimming pools.

Miss Marion was outstanding in her athletic record while a member of the Northville high school.

Reelect Schoultz, Hicks to Council; Owen Takes Elmer E. Perrin's Place

Bert C. Stark Defeats Floyd R. Lanning for Assessor's Post; Election Draws Heavy Vote for First Time in Years

An election turn out which surpassed any for the village in a good many years, found 1,011 villagers voting Monday in the two precincts, giving the heated president's contest to Justice Arthur S. Nichols, who defeated former Commissioner Elmer E. Perrin by a 236-vote margin.

Although the race for the president's chair was the most discussed in the village for the past five weeks, the competition for the commission was responsible, it is believed, for the large number of votes cast. Carl B. Schoultz has been sent back to his council chair by a vote of 599. In like manner, George A. Hicks begins his third term on the council with 554 votes. Orlow G. Owen, with 495 votes, is the new man on the commission, replacing Mr. Perrin whose term expired.

Fred Stubenvoll, Chub J. Smith and John Norton, all seeking seats on the council, lost.

Although Mr. Nichols said that he could not make a statement of what he plans to do during his administration until he had looked the situation over and taken office, he did say that he intended to recommend Louis M. German's return to his post as Northville's chief of police. "I don't know whether he'll take it, but that's going to be one of my first recommendations," said Mr. Nichols.

Among the first wires that Mr. Nichols received following the election was one from Lillie H. Williams, Wayne County auditor. "Congratulations, and best wishes. I knew you'd be the people's choice," his message read.

On the council, lost Mr. Stubenvoll and Mr. Smith ran a close second and third to Mr. Owen. Bert C. Stark, a lifelong resident of Northville, defeated Floyd R. Lanning for the assessorship by 481 votes.

Unopposed, Harold Bloom, polled 847 votes for the treasurer's post; and Mrs. P. R. (Mary) Alexander returns to her clerkship with 883 votes.

In the first precinct, with voting in the Village Hall, 593 ballots were cast. At the Boy Scout building, (Continued on page 17)

SMITH COMMENTS ON WAR POLICIES

By C. A. DOLPH
St. Patrick, patron saint of the Irish, was properly remembered by the Exchange club Wednesday noon.

The club was favored with a fine meal and the table decorations of green by the March committee of ladies. The entertainment committee is preparing for a ladies' night without a couple of weeks Dr. D. A. Brief, chairman of the day, introduced Rev. T. W. Smith, as the speaker. St. Patrick was presented to the meeting in all the varied phases of his great character. In concluding his remarks, about the historic character, Dr. Smith alluded to the divided Ireland of St. Patrick's day and the divided Europe of our day. From this point of departure he voiced his convictions as to war, a big navy and the utter ineffectiveness of strife as a settlement of national differences.

Dr. Smith referred to his own part in the World War and how natural inclinations were to wipe out the enemy by every method possible. The other nature revolted against such a policy and bemoaned the methods of maniacs.

Dr. Smith was roundly applauded for his vigorous sentiments.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Monday, March 14, was an eventful day for two men having the same first name and middle initial, who lived in East Tawas twenty years ago and today are business men in their respective communities. Last Monday Orlow G. Owen, Northville, and Orlow G. Roberts, Belleville, won places on their village councils in local elections.

The two Orlovs met for the first time last fall in Ypsilanti after parting paths as school friends at East Tawas in 1918. Roberts is now a furniture dealer at Belleville and the Northville Orlovs are haberdashers.

Dr. Wickham Shows Talkie Screen Film of South America

Before an audience of 200 persons Dr. A. B. Wickham presented a talking motion picture of a trip to South America, shown in the Baptist church Thursday evening, March 10.

The film was one which has recently been released by the Grace Land S. S. company. In addition to three pictures, Dr. Wickham also showed some colored slides which illustrated a talk on the ruins of an ancient city built of huge blocks of stone, some of which measured 18 by 18 by 4 feet and which were placed together without the use of cement or plaster, fitting so closely that one cannot put a knife blade between the crevices.

Included in the group the night the pictures were shown were: Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith of Wayne; Miss Evelyn Norris of Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Connors, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Paulson and Mr. Lorenz of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Winter; Mrs. Roy Matheson and Mrs. Arthur S. Nichols of Northville.

MERCHANTS SPONSOR POST CARD CONTEST

A post card contest was announced this week by the Prosperum merchants and is creating quite a stir. A prize will be awarded at the next auction to the person who can write the word "Prosperum" the greatest number of times on a post card or card of the same dimensions. The winning must be legible.

Saturday, April 2 each Prosperum merchant will be prepared to give to each person who fills out a registration slip at their store a $1 bill in Prosperum "Exchange" also for each mile traveled to register that day.

Another feature for the next auction day April 2, is that a door prize will be awarded to the person attending the first show who holds bid stub corresponding with certain number to be called.

Among them are: $75 deposit on new 1938 Ford tudor, model 60, Edmondson; solid black walnut, personal table, value $165.00, Schrader; 10 credit on order of new suit, Owen; $19 credit on living room, bed room or dining room suite, Schrader; all wool double blanket value $7, Freydl's; ladies' fitted 18 overnight case, value $6.95, Gansell; Pyrex double boiler, value $5.45, Northville Hardware; cut glass crystal water set, value $5, Blake; indirect lighting table lamp, value $5, Northville Electric; electric clock, value $4, Northville Hardware. Local produce markets are awarded. (Continued on page 8)

TO GIVE LECTURE

William H. Hobbs

"Polar Explorers I Have Known" will be William H. Hobbs' topic Monday, March 21, when he speaks at the Northville high school auditorium at the lecture series sponsored by the Teachers' club.

He has won the Tennessee Open and was the Michigan P. G. champion in 1925. He has played in seven National Open and two National P. G. championships, going to the third round of the latter in 1925 before losing to Gene Sarazen.

HOBBS, GEOLOGIST, SPEAKS HERE MONDAY

William H. Hobbs, professor emeritus of geology of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, will be the fifth speaker to appear on the lecture series at 8 p. m. Monday, March 21, in the high school auditorium. His topic will be, "Polar Explorers I Have Known." He is a member of the New York Explorers' club and is an author of note, his works including "Characteristics of Extinct Glaciers," "1911's Earth Features and Their Meaning," "The World War and Its Consequences," with introduction by Theodore Roosevelt, "Soldier and Citizen, 1920," "Crusades Along the Waves of the Pacific 1927," and "Exploring about the North Pole of the Winds, 1930."

Mr. Hobbs, received his B. S. degree at the Worcester Polytechnic institute, held a fellowship in geology at Johns Hopkins and was a student at the University of Heidelberg in 1888-89.

Assessors-Seek Building Inventory

Supervisor W. A. Ely wishes to assure village residents that the 20 men now engaged in measuring and listing buildings in the community are not "bogey men."

Several persons have called the supervisor demanding an explanation of the men's presence and work. Others have queried the men as they work about the village.

As told by Albert E. Champney, director of the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation, and Mr. Ely in the Record office, the present survey is part of a campaign to standardize and modernize assessment methods used by the 29 assessing agencies in Wayne county. The result will be equitable assessments of similar building property over the entire county. Under the present system, valuations may vary widely on nearly identical structures resulting in unfair taxation so the assessors explained.

The building inventory now being compiled will be completed in time for the spring assessment rolls, and will be incorporated with legal correct descriptions of every parcel of land in the township. The completed records will be open for inspection by any interested property owner so he can see for himself that his assessment is not unjust by comparison to like property units. The officials declared.

The survey has been completed, said Wayne townships and work is under way now in Plymouth, Livonia and Northville townships.

RECEIVE DRIVERS BOOKS

Chief of Police Earl Montgomery announces that he has received a supply of books from the State. "What Every Driver Should Know" may be obtained at the Village Hall. "It would be wise for drivers' license applicants to study the books carefully before taking the driving tests which will be given here beginning April 1," Chief Montgomery stated.

TURNER RETURNS TO SHOP

Ray E. Turner, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, has recovered from his recent operation and is back in his barber shop on Center street.

Sprogel Resigns Meadowbrook Post To Go to Kent Club

Meadowbrook Country club has lost its manager, Frank Sprogel, through his resignation Saturday. Mr. Sprogel leaves Meadowbrook, where he came two years ago, to accept the position of general manager of the Kent Country club at Grand Rapids where he was manager and pro for several years before coming here. His resignation will become effective between April 1 and 15.

He succeeds at Kent, the late Raymond W. (Doc) Treacy, who died last month after a brief illness. At the present time, Mr. Sprogel is a vice-president of the Professional Golfers Association of America and its publicity chairman. He is also secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Professional Golfers association.

Sprogel learned his golf as a caddy, later becoming a professional at the Philmont Country club in his birth state, Philadelphia. He stayed at that club until 1917, when he went South to hold posts at Birmingham, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn. He came to Saginaw in 1923 for four years during the time he laid out courses at Cwosco, Midland, Port Austin and Bay City.

He has won the Tennessee Open and was the Michigan P. G. champion in 1925. He has played in seven National Open and two National P. G. championships, going to the third round of the latter in 1925 before losing to Gene Sarazen.

'Tis Maple Sugar Making Time Here

The sap is running and the kettles are boiling, all of which means according to Robert Lang, editor of The Stethoscope that maple syrup is in the making at the Eastlawn salaratorium.

"It would be hard to find another 20 acre tract so close to a large metropolis where it is possible to tap about 150 maple trees and make maple syrup and maple near on the site," comments Mr. Lang.

To date, over 35 gallons of syrup, made to mention sugar have been made. It is expected that at least 15 more gallons will be made before the end of the week. It takes one 35 or 45 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup.

Miss Deliah Millers, second grade teacher at the "sugar" trees, said that at the W. B. Chas. Co. store, the trees were barked, tapped.

At the Chas. Co. store, a sap bucket was hung on the tap of the tree, which has gone on for 58 consecutive years. This is the largest section of the country. Arthur and Victor Miller are in charge of the work.

PNEUMONIA FATAL TO DR. C. G. BURGESS

Dr. Claude G. Burgess for a number of years a practicing physician in Northville, and son of Dr. J. M. Burgess, died Monday, March 14, at Harper hospital a victim of pneumonia.

His death was sudden. He had returned only two weeks ago to his home in Detroit from Arizona. Last Wednesday he visited his father and his sister, Miss Maude Burgess in Northville. Mrs. Burgess, who was Miss Sarah Penniman of Plymouth, born in Northville July 5, 1877, was graduated from the Northville high school, continues his study in the Ann Arbor high school, preparatory to entering the University of Michigan where he attended for two years. He completed his medical course in the Detroit College of Medicine in 1902. After living in Northville for a few years, he came to Detroit where he was at 543 West Dunlap in the home now owned by Mrs. E. G. Filkins. Dr. Burgess moved to Detroit where he was active in the medical profession for 31 years.

He was a member of the Wayne County and Michigan State Medical societies and of the American Medical association (the Detroit Golf Club and the Detroit Boat Club). Through these associations and through his profession he made many friends.

In addition to his wife, Sarah Penniman Burgess, his father and sister of Northville, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Stockwell of Detroit, and two grandchildren.

Last rites were held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, March 16, from the home, 72 Edison avenue. Burial was made at Plymouth.

ASK REV. LORD'S RETURN FOR THIRD CONFERENCE YEAR

Methodist of Northville, meeting in their fourth quarterly conference in the church house Monday evening unanimously requested the return of their pastor, the Rev. Harold J. Lord, for his third year of his service here. Dr. William E. Harrison, district superintendent was in charge of the meeting which followed a potluck supper that was attended by 30 official members.

EIGHT MILE ROAD SURVEY IS UNDER WAY

County-Federal Aid Project May Be Pushed Through

Surveying, which is expected to be completed within a week, is going forward on the Eight Mile road at the present time.

The survey is preparatory to a proposal which will be submitted by the Wayne County Road commission to the County Federal aid, with the possibility that a project will materialize, involving the paving of West Eight Mile road.

"It is possible should the project go through, that Eight Mile will be rerouted," commented Paul Holland of the commission this week. "Until the survey is completed and the proposal accepted or rejected, we won't know much about the situation," said Mr. Holland.

There is a possibility that Eight Mile will be rerouted so that Randolph street will not be a part of the road.

ASK REV. LORD'S RETURN FOR THIRD CONFERENCE YEAR

Methodist of Northville, meeting in their fourth quarterly conference in the church house Monday evening unanimously requested the return of their pastor, the Rev. Harold J. Lord, for his third year of his service here. Dr. William E. Harrison, district superintendent was in charge of the meeting which followed a potluck supper that was attended by 30 official members.

Reports were given by heads of the various societies and committees of the church. The Ladies Aid group reported a total of over one thousand dollars during the past year. Reporting for the Service League, Mrs. E. M. Bogart stated that this group gave $1000 each month to the church, as well as assisting community charity.

Chub J. Smith, church treasurer, reported that the present "recession" had slowed down the finances after a splendid start at the first half of the conference year.

W. F. Clark, Sunday School superintendent, reported an increase in attendance during the past months while Mrs. Lesie G. Lee, benevolent treasurer reported an increase in missionary giving. Mrs. E. J. Cobb reported the achievements of the Women's Home Missionary society of which she is the president.

Officials and committees were named for the conference year begins June 1, as follows: Trustees: Ralph Foreman, Charles Dolph, Charles Rogers, Richard T. Baldwin, E. M. HOW MUCH IS YOUR CAR WORTH?

With thousands of people packing Belle Isle one evening last week to watch the destruction by fire of an immense pile of automobiles, now is a good time to talk a bit about used cars. For, on the sale of used cars in the next few months depends somewhat Northville's prosperity. Get the picture. The used cars which you see packing the lots in Detroit are just a part of the nearly one million of used cars that are jamming store rooms throughout the country.

If this jam of used cars can be broken up in the same manner that the jam of logs is broken up in the lumber regions, the open water of prosperity will be ahead of us.

This focusing of attention on used cars has started thousands of people to asking the question: "How much is my used car worth?" Well, here is an authoritative answer. The American Petroleum Association says that the average worth of a used car throughout the country is $238. That is an increase of $26 per car in the past three years due, of course, to the improvement in new models. The association figures also show that only one car in six on the highways has a market value of $500. On the other hand, the association estimates that 10 million families are driving automobiles that have an average value of only $50. Is it any wonder that big bonfires are being planned throughout the country to get many of these obsolete cars off the road?

It would probably be a wise person who would go into the used-car market now, in case his present car is getting near the scuffling point. Certainly, a man having a $50 car would be smart to junk it if he realized he was paying out in time taxes 100% and often as high as 150% of its value in taxes.

Now is a good time to focus your attention on your used car problem. If you do buy a used car now you may help break the jam that has been holding up the whole country. Both you and your friends will profit if you junk the old jalopy now.

HOW TACOMA DID IT

Here is some cheerful news from Tacoma, Wash., that tells what people can do when they get together and cooperate.

After the annual appeal choir of the Lincoln high school of Tacoma won first place in the state contest, some daring soul raised the proposal, "What if the matter with sending the choir to the National School Choral Festival in St. Louis?"

But the cost was prohibitive.

Sure enough, when the cost was found to be $3,600, to send the 60 young people, the proposal seemed doomed to failure. Then someone with courage and vision said: "By gosh, we can do it!"

The young Business Men's club got back on the plan and now it is certain that the choir is going on the trip. Over 300 clubs and societies have enrolled and half of the money is raised.

And when these Tacoma singers land in St. Louis they will have with them 30,000 daffodils from the Tacoma area to distribute.

Why do we dignify this item in this editorial column? Well, we will tell you. We are sick and tired of reading the doleful news in every daily paper—stories of depression, strikes, bickerings of Congress and all the long array of discouraging news which has been filling the papers for months. Reading about this proposed trip of the Tacoma choir reminds us of the cheer and suggestiveness of hopeful springtime when the 30,000 gay daffodils will carry with them as these singers visit the distant city. It did seem good to read something cheerful and inspiring.

Suppose we send the Northville high school band somewhere!

REPRISAL MEASURE DEFEATED

It is good news for Northville that Congress revolted last week and side-tracked the New Deal-backed proposal for a penalty tax on family-owned and closely held corporations. It seemed to be well understood by reading the daily papers that this so-called "third basket" clause in the tax revision bill now before Congress was aimed at the Ford Motor company.

It certainly is a serious condition of affairs when reprisal measures are started against a concern that has accomplished the vast amount of good that Henry Ford has done for the country. To attempt to punish Ford because he defied the N. R. A. and refused to deal with the C. I. O. union is the pettiest kind of politics and luckily was repudiated by both Democrats and Republicans. In fact, it was an Ohio Democrat who was most scathing in his denunciation of this reprisal measure.

Representative Lamneck, member of the Ways and Means committee, summarizes the feelings of both fair-minded Republicans and Democrats alike when he said: "There is no question in the world this tax is aimed at somebody. Who is it? Is it the newspapers which are critical of the Administration? Most of them are closely held. Is it big corporations like Henry Ford? If so this tax would murder a lot of other people to get at them."

WOLVES IN A BIG CITY

This incident might have happened in Detroit as well as in Chicago. Yes, on a smaller scale, it might even have happened in Northville.

An Indian named Chief Ohivest lives in Chicago. Recently his brother came to visit him from his home on some western reservation. The Chief took his brother down town in the "joop" where he mingled with the thousands of hurrying pedestrians. Everywhere the visiting Indian saw people and more people—all hurrying as though their lives depended upon it. These endless thousands of anxious-faced, hurrying white men, constantly passing each other without saying a word, stirred the phlegmatic heart of the red man. Turning to his brother Chief, he said, "What are these men fleeing from? Are there wolves behind them?"

Grunted back the Chief: "Ugh, no wolves, but in front of them is a heap big dollar."

Anyone standing on a busy street in Detroit and watching the countless thousands go by, must be stirred by the same thought which moved the Indian from the far west. These ever-hurrying thousands, many with worried looks upon their faces, do seem to be pursued by wolves—wolves of anxiety and care. As someone has said: "Man yet runs on where fear leads."

In this hurrying, worrying age, we would all live longer and perhaps more happily if we lived more calmly like the Indians.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

With only minor readjusting adjustments to be made on the iron job by the Western Waterproofing company and the backfilling by the H. B. Culbertson company, Northville's $20,000 water reservoir is nearing completion.

Mrs. Aant's Sarah Stenro, for 73 years organist of the Salem Baptist and Federated church was complimented on her eighty-ninth birthday when more than a hundred friends and relatives gave a dinner in her honor Thursday evening, March 11, in the Federated church. Nineteen claims from taxpayers on Dunlap street for refund of paying taxes, attested to be unlawfully levied in 1927, were denied Monday evening by members of the village council.

The increase of interest and attendance at both church and Sunday School is very encouraging. Our Sunday School has set as a practical goal, 20 new scholars between now and June 15.

The sermon subject Sunday morning will be, "The Gospel Without Exception," with the text, "The Epworth League topic for Sunday evening will be: 'What Does

It Mean to be a Christian?'"
The evening service will be in the Baptist church with Professor Edward Waugh in charge. The two-church male quartet will sing.

Mexican government statistics of 1937 show that only 48 per cent of the Mexican children of school age are enrolled in schools. Lack of buildings and teachers is the cause. What is true of the State today was true of the Church in the past. She was not able to supply educational facilities for all and this coupled with the fact that this mixed-blood race is "so hard to educate," even today under government compulsion only 69 per cent of the 43 per cent attend regularly. Would it be fair to conclude that the Mexican government fosters illiteracy?

A LOT OF CAR for a VERY LOW PRICE
The Ford effort to make your dollars buy a constantly better car is well illustrated in the Standard Ford V-8.
It has all the basic Ford advantages. It is built on the same chassis as the De Luxe Ford V-8. It gives you a choice of smooth 85-horsepower or 60-horsepower V-8 engines. But it sells at low prices, and includes bumpers, spare tire, cigar lighter, twin horns and other equipment that make it a still bigger bargain.
With the thrifty 60-horsepower engine, the Standard Ford V-8 is priced especially low and gives the greatest gas mileage in Ford history. Hundreds of owners report averages of 22 to 27 miles a gallon—or even more.
Your pocketbook will approve of the Standard Ford in every way. And so will you when you drive it!

WARNER FAMILY RETURNS FROM CALIFORNIA TRIP.

"After all there is no place that looks so good as Michigan," say Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Warner and their son, Roy, after having spent three months in California. The Warners visited relatives in Upland and were there when the great torrents swept down the foothills making the streets like rivers. Fortunately Upland and its sister city, Ontario, were on high land and escaped serious trouble. Marooned as on an island the people of these cities were shut off from all around them for days.

During their stay in California, the Warners made many side trips to places of interest in the west, stopping at the Grand Canyon en route. Roy, who has become a camera enthusiast, has a number of remarkable moving picture reels in color to show his friends.

Beaumont Beach Life First Impressions of the first visit to Florida but before lights out on the last night's stay in this beautiful island shore settlement.

First impressions from the viewpoint of a first-time visitor, and from the viewpoint of a resident who has lived in this beautiful island shore settlement.

From a resident life of Beaumont, it is not surprising to find that the first impressions of the first visit to Florida but before lights out on the last night's stay in this beautiful island shore settlement.

ate relaxes you to a state of almost complete inertia. The ceaseless wash of an outgoing tide or the crashing of breakers as the tide comes in relays the tempo of your thoughts. With soothing, lulling effect. Six months of this and you would become completely a part of this life, and apart from that which was once your own.

No wild, artificial, unnatural vacation activity here. Early awakened by the same watery monotone which puts you to sleep at an hour you hadn't before thought of as bed time.

An occasional salt-tanged gulf breeze causing the evergreens to murmur an added enchantment. A visit to nearby friendly cities. You find them unusually clean, refreshing. None of the north's hustle and strain.

None of the dust and smoke we know. Flowers and foliage of our June. Fruits and vegetables of our harvest. Little of the high pressure of dollars in the making.

Folks here seem to take time to live. No "right life" as we know it. More home life as we used to know it.

No place I know of thus far in my life has a more just claim for recognition of its natural assets than this gulf section of Florida. No place I know of has so little real cause for any complaint on such a basis.

It is said, that if once you get the sand of Florida in your shoes, you'll always return. I hope it's true. Both of mine have been quite well filled.

STUDENT COUNCILS MEET AT COOLEY

Harrison, Bolton, Walker, Represent Northville at Conference

Principal G. V. Harrison, Keeble Bolton and Peg Walker, representing the N. H. S. Student Council, attended a conference of the various high school Student Councils in Detroit and Wayne county last Friday at the Cooley high school.

Owen A. Simmons, principal of the Cooley high school, was chairman and the object of the meeting was to determine whether or not Region 1, which is Detroit and Wayne county, was up favor of a State-wide organization of high school student associations.

It was decided by the committee chosen at the National convention last summer that if such a State organization were formed, no school would be required to join, but membership would be entirely optional. There will be a meeting of representatives from each of the eight districts into which Michigan has been divided, at Lansing, March 25, to frame a constitution for such an organization.

Mr. Simmons explained at the meeting that the organization would be formed to promote the ideas and ideals of student government. Robert Rogers of Redford high, and Ben Johnson of Jefferson intermediate, were elected as Region 1 delegates to the meeting in Lansing.

There were representatives from Hamtramck, Northville, Southeastern, Southwestern, McKean, Redford, Cooley, Eastern, River Rouge, Pershing and from several intermediate high schools.

Piffle About Pipples

We wonder if our illustrious trackmen really had as much fun as they said they did at first practice, Monday. By the expression on some of their faces as they tried to hobble around Tuesday, we rather doubt it.

What two freshmen dashed madly out of a certain house on Linden street last Sunday night when they discovered they'd almost missed the eleven o'clock bus to West Point?

We're not blaming anyone special, but why was it Louise had to go into Detroit to get something on deadline day? And right after Peg had put her in charge of the Orange and Black for a few weeks, too? We'd say the laugh was on you color change shes not getting out of as much work as she thought she was!

It strikes us that Harry Rattenbury is a bit of a hypocrite. For all of the punning he gives, Barbara, Harry still seems to get a lot of enjoyment out of her company.

We walked into a certain drug store tother night just in time to hear some good natured ribbing on the part of Don Armstrong and Bill Schoultz, to the detriment (ahem) of one Harry Porter. Don't let it throw you, Harry! Yvonne's pretty nice.

Marilyn Cavell seems to be much interested in one of the Parmenter clan. Now, Mac, control yourself, you know we're your friends.

Question of the week: Why do Don, Bill and Harry insist upon heckling Peg on Saturday nights? Answer: You tell us! I think they're crazy!

"WOULDN'T WE CHUCKLE IF" Doris were a Raspberry instead of a Tewksbury?

Helen were a Summer instead of a Winter?

Harry were a Cook instead of a Porter?

Margaret were a Mechanic instead of a Gardner?

Kenny were a Church instead of a Chapel?

Jean were a Boat instead of an Orr?

Allan were a Mountain instead of a Peak?

Yvonne were a Salesman instead of a Taylor?

Ken were a Dog instead of a Wolfe?

Julian were a Book instead of a Thelme?

Rhea were a Flooding instead of a Walling?

Bill were a Violet instead of a Rose?

John were a Demon instead of an Angel?

Chuck were a Preacher instead of a Bishop?

Harold were a Wise-man instead of a Shepherd?

Mary Frances were a Ball instead of a Batt?

Harold were a Letter instead of a Card?

Jean were an Ocean instead of a Lake?

Editor's Note

Just where were all of you high school students the night of the alumni dance? We certainly didn't see you there. Of course the sophomore class is giving a dance tonight in the gym and if the alumni didn't come, there would be some very sad sops. But really, there wasn't a sophomore or many juniors or seniors at the dance. Now just how can you expect the alumni and other outside people to come to your dances when you don't patronize theirs? The juniors will soon be giving their J-hop and unless the people outside the school buy tickets, the hop would be a sad failure. So come on and let's all attend the next alumni dance—which is to be held in the gym next Friday!

What is the matter with the seniors? The card parties just aren't going over. Could it be that there hasn't been any extensive advertising other than just sticking a few posters up? We have heard that advertising (by word or mouth and other means put together) gives satisfactory results. Or maybe the seniors just haven't any friends or relatives to sell tickets to. Not trying to be pessimistic or anything, but the trip to Washington seems far, far away.

Your editor got lazy on deadline day and decided to give her assistant a chance to write this column. Nice going, Gwen!

TRACK PROSPECTS MEET MONDAY NIGHT

Mitchell and Bolton Are Team Co-Captains; Smith Is Coach

By EBER-WARD LESTER
As spring rolls around the track veterans are getting a little jumpy so they decided to get the names of the fellows that are going out for track and what position they are out for. The veterans are Art Mitchell, who has been on the track team three years, and Keeble Bolton, who has been on the track team three years. These two veterans are co-captains of the track team, with H. B. Smith as coach.

There are several new-comers on the team this year and they are Bishop, who will run the 100-220 and relay; Lester will try the high jump, broad jump and shot put; Jim Beall will run the half mile; Julian Thelme will run the 440 and 880; H. Fritz the pole vault; Albert Boelens and Ben Duguid will heave the shot put; and Walter Garchow will run the 100-126 and relay.

Interest the people of Northville in just such a cause except that I sought an oral discussion instead of a printed one.

Friday evening at the Methodist church house, this subject was presented to a few of the ladies and gentlemen of Northville for their consideration. It is evident that an organization, to be known as the People's Forum, was quite favorably received, for many have said, "They could see nothing wrong with it, and many have said "It would be a good thing."

There was enough said Friday to demonstrate that such an organization would be a great benefit to the village.

There are many problems, differences, misunderstandings, and hard feelings among the people, that is uncalled for if they would get together and talk things over.

At the meeting, a few questions were asked and I asked one. At first thought, my question would seem a little out of harmony with one paragraph in my outline of the Public Forum. "The privileges here in granted are, not and shall not permit an attack on one's character, or to indulge in personal abuse."

My question was "Do we want men in office who have certain kinds of bad habits? Are these men good examples for our children to follow? Do we want our children to follow their footsteps?"

I did not attack anyone's character, but rather, I mentioned certain bad habits and acts and then asked, if a man, with such habits and committing such acts was a fit subject to hold public office.

The object of this Forum, is not to attack or to discuss one's character, but is for the purpose of helping men, women, boys and girls to develop self-improvement, so that he or she will have habits and character fit for the office of a public servant.

When I started out to get the use of the church house and make the meeting possible, I was asked, have you an ax to grind? Have you some hobby you want to put across?

I will answer both of those questions.

First, my hobby is found in the second great commandment, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

Second, the ax I have to grind is to help all people.

Today we have lodges, organizations, and show what this Public Forum is good for.

There will be three meetings to start with, Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19, at 7:30 p. m. Then

Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. All are welcome regardless of religion, politics, color, race, class or clothes, or education. The meeting will close in time for those who want to, to attend the second show.

Friday evening we will have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. M. J. Koldyke sing. —GEORGE BIERY.

The sophomore class will give its first dance of the year tonight in the Northville high school gym. There will be dancing from 8:30 p. m. until 12 p. m., with the music of the Merry Melody Makers of Detroit.

Betty Armstrong, general chairman, reports there will be door prizes and that the decorations will be appropriate for St. Patrick's day. Admission prices for the dance are: Stags 35 cents, couples 50 cents, and spectators, 15 cents.

H. F. DRURY TALKS BEFORE CLASSES

H. F. Drury of the Detroit Edison company gave a demonstration and talk about physics of light before the physics and chemistry classes last Tuesday.

Mr. Drury had much interesting scientific apparatus which is used for the purpose of demonstrating light. He also explained how electric light bulbs are made and the principle of the neon signs. Photographs were also shown and the principle with which they work explained.

Mr. Drury advised all students to use adequate light at all times.

SPORTS

By SPECK

Flash! N. H. S. will have a larger track team this year with veterans Mitchell and Bolton to lead 'em. A hot one right off the griddle! The Student Council will also sponsor golf this year, so get out your clubs, you putters and long distance hitters.

Just a little reminder of basketball. Al Bodels led the squad in points scored with 111, Ed Lester was second with 90 points, Chuck Bishop ended up third with 82, Cec Nifider fourth with 58 and Ben Duguid fifth with 40. By heavy concentration (Ha! Didn't think I could do it did you?) we found that Northville scored at average of 27 points per game while holding her opponents to 18 points per game.

All the fellows have been getting ready for baseball by playing catch in back of the red brick building at noon and after school. Looks like some good prospects for this season.

How many of you fellows were disappointed at the outcome of the Dundee-St. Thomas game Saturday night? Some of our ardent golfers (don't D. W. Myers, Dick Larkin, A. J. Borkman, Len Fritz and Cobby Meyer) to be specific must have witnessed Jo-Jo White in one of his out-moments on the green. They've been playing just like him.

That's all this week. Don't run away though I'll be back 1-g-uh!

Did You Notice?

The Modos' page-boy hair do?

Harry Rattenbury's new golf fraze? Barbara you're wonderful.

This columnist making a terrific mistake. It seems that Barbara Simmons is not Harold Shepard's girl friend.

Ed Baughman very interested in Juanita Stanford? And we thought it was Elvira!

Mickey Zviti, an old grad of N. H. S., visiting the scenes of his struggle with education?

That Natalie Whipple has a new name? It's "Butch"!

That Don Armstrong is still that way about Betty and from all appearance, Betty seems to think that Don is pretty nice too!

Willford Wil on attempting to escape Allan Goff's lady fair? And with apparent success?

Fred Walker and Betty Smith getting very emotional about each other?

J. W. looking very romantic in the auditor play? Somehow we just can't see it.

Senior Who's Who

MARVIN SCHOUITZ

Marvin was born in Northville May 3, 1920. He began his school days here and has been a member of Northville's student body ever since.

He seemed quite vague about hobbies and pretimes, but we learned that he likes all outdoor sports, dancing and believe it or not, chemistry and physics. Music, too, has held the interest of this young senior and he has taken part in "H. M. S. Pinafore" and will appear later this spring "In Old Vienna."

He has taken a very active part in class activities and was treasurer of the Student Council last year.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

March 23—Dr. Hickey, speaker.

March 30—Senior class program.

April 20—Mr. Bailey, speaker.

May 4—French class, 11.

May 18—Movie.

June 1—Junior high program.

To the Editor

There has been several questions, of vital importance, discussed in the columns of the Northville Record.

The people of Northville should be very grateful for an opportunity to express their sentiments in so liberal a paper as we enjoy, especially when we consider the people of Russia, Italy and Germany.

For some time I have sought to

THE GOOD EARTH... (The Harvest)

EACH year since 1930 the utilities of Michigan have led the entire nation in the number of farms electrified. In the last eight years, the number of farms served by THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY has tripled. Here is the record:

Year	Old Territory	New Thumb Territory
1929	8,759
1930	9,796
1931	10,305
1932	12,137
1933	14,408
1934	16,167
1935	17,178	1,750
1936	18,760	3,370
1937	20,339	6,818

Note that the number of farms served in the Thumb increased by 5,156 or 310 per cent in the twenty-six months since The Detroit Edison Company began to serve it. To bring electricity to these 5,156 customers, the Company built 1,497 miles of farm line.

To farm families, electricity is even more important than to city dwellers, for on the farm electricity shoulders many burdens that city people never carry. Electricity performs over 100 tasks for the farm and the farm home. It eliminates much drudgery from farm life. For 10 or 15 cents a day, electricity performs such tasks as pumping and carrying water, the back-breaking labor of washday, cooking, grinding cattle feed, milking cows, and a score of other chores. The electric rates the farmer pays to us are exactly the same as the city residence pays—resulting in an average of 3.47c per kilowatt-hour for farms—and this rate includes without charge lamp renewals and many fussy little repairs to appliances.

The farmer tilling the land, who sows the seed and reaps the harvest, is a vital part of the economic system. And any group of farmers in the Detroit Edison service area who want electricity have always been able to get our service by a fair contribution to the cost of building the necessary line. In Michigan farm electrification has been a reality for ten years.
