

8 MILE ROAD PROJECT GETS PARTIAL OKAY

Rerouting Through Village Is Under Consideration in County Office

With the part of the Base Line road continuation from Taft road west, already receiving approval from the Federal County aid board, the entire project involving west Eight Mile road is practically assured, according to Paul Holland of the Wayne County road commission.

Mr. Holland expects the project in its entirety to be formally approved within the next month, the cost of the enterprise to be paid from a fund set up by the State highway department, with the assistance of the county.

The changes which will be necessary in the village in rerouting west Eight Mile road are the cause at the present time of the approval delay. It is understood that the plan now under consideration would bring the road down to Griswold, cutting across in an undecided manner to a point directly opposite the corner of Center and Randolph streets, continuing up Randolph and on out the highway.

21 MERCHANTS BAND TOGETHER IN CREDIT RATING ASSOCIATION

Twenty-one Northville merchants have banded together to protect their businesses by becoming members of the National Rating Association of South Bend, Ind.

When dealers let their accounts slide at any of the stores of the association, their names are sent to headquarters, where they are published in a "red book."

The plan gives the debtor plenty of opportunity to adjust his differences with the merchants with the result that if he fails to do so, he finally is given a rating in the so-called "red book," showing the amount he owes and the status of the account. This book is distributed to all merchants cooperating in the plan and gives them a check-up on the credit standing of potential customers. The credit book is published every six months, but no debtor is listed in the book until he has had at least six months' time to adjust the account with the merchants who originally reported to him.

H. E. McLean, a representative of the National Rating Association, has signed the following Northville merchants: E. M. Bogart, Orlow G. Owen, T. W. McCordle, Northville, Plymouth Feed store, Lucius Blake, W. E. Forney, Carl R. Ely, E. L. Smith, W. H. Weber, Clifford Turnbull, D. C. Maclean, G. E. Hills, R. H. Bailey, Northville Dairy, Charles R. Schoultz, Lloyd Morse, Frank Sumner, Ross Bush, D. W. Richmond, R. B. Duffy and William White.

CHURCH SCHOOL PUPILS DECORATE EASTER CROSS

A new Easter observance held Sunday in the Presbyterian church, found such favor with the Church School because of its beauty and significance that it will become an annual part of the service in that church.

Originating with Mrs. L. M. Eaton, the service included a procession of Church School pupils, headed by a vested choir under the direction of Mrs. G. V. Harrison. Each pupil carried a flower which was placed in one of the series of holes in a large cross which was constructed by the members of Clarence Davis' Sunday School class.

Later the flowers found their way to Maybury sanatorium where they were presented by Mrs. Arthur Carlson to the members of the newly organized Christian Endeavor society.

Four Easter baskets were filled with gifts from the junior Christian Endeavor group and were given to four small colored children at the sanatorium.

Third Annual Minstrel Show Ready for Wednesday Audience; Ticket Sale To Swell Rotary Loan Fund

To Give Awards to Bird House Winners, Monday

The Rotary club's third annual Minstrel show will be whipped into shape and ready for its scheduled performance at 8 p. m. Wednesday, April 27, in the high school auditorium.

In rehearsal for the solo specialty numbers are Lyle Benjamin, C. C. Wilfong, Fred Ritchie, Fred Foreman, R. H. Steininger and Orlow G. Owen. Among the featured buildup songs will be "He's the Funniest Man in the Show," "Me and My Big Shiny Razor," "All About for Cotton Town," "Alexander's Rag Time Band," "I Ain't Got Time to Hang Around" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

There's been a promise of some fancy dancing, according to information released by Percy C. Angove, director, at Tuesday's rehearsal.

Interlocutor H. S. Willis will banter wise cracks around with Edmen E. M. Bogart, Ritchie, Owen, John Litsberger, W. E. Forney and Benjamin.

A chorus of Rotary high voices will be aided by musical talent from the high school and from the Maybury sanatorium. An orchestra, which includes Mrs. Bart Connors, Mrs. Harry Blake and Otis Tewksbury, will play the accompaniment.

The production is sponsored for the purpose of selling the Rotary Student Loan fund, which has grown from a small sum to $1,000. During the past three years, 12 young villagers have been able to continue study in colleges and universities through loans from this source.

NEIL HANNAFORD SHOWS "MOVIES"

Rotarians See 'Takes' of Winter Ice Carnival on Ford, Pond

Neil Hannaford, president of the newly-organized camera club, gave a program of interesting movies before the local Rotary club Tuesday noon.

Demonstrating that the club members are actually going "into high gear" in their own movie productions Mr. Hannaford showed some of his own reels taken with very little experience. One of these gave some high spots at the skating carnival held here this past winter and others showed some vivid scenes of ice boating on Lake St. Clair. He closed the program with some professional films of "Shooting" the Colorado river. These rapid scenes among the most dangerous in the world and few men have even ventured in boats on the Colorado's wild waters. The pictures were intensely interesting.

President Russell H. Amerman was in charge of the meeting. Russell Daines of the Plymouth club, brought a personal invitation to the Northville Rotarians to hear Roy Plumb of Detroit, at the neighboring club today.

There will be no meeting of the club next Tuesday since a number of the members plan to attend the district conference in Detroit.

PRESBYTERIANS NAME TRUSTEES FOR YEAR

Three members were elected to the Board of Trustees and two members of the Church Session were re-elected at the annual meeting of the Northville Presbyterian church, held at the church house Wednesday, April 20. The three chosen as trustees were: Joseph Hoehl, Howard McKague and Levi M. Eaton who was re-elected. Succeeding themselves as members of the Session were G. Ray Van Valkenburg and Edmund S. Beard.

Officers of the church whose terms expired were: Robert C. Coolman, who had been chairman of the Trustees, and John McCully. Acting on a suggestion from the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith, the congregation extended Mr. Coolman a vote of appreciation for the efficient and superior way in which he directed the financial matters of the Presbyterian church. "There are few young persons who would have taken hold of the task and carried it through so expertly and completely as did 'Bob' Coolman," said Mr. Smith.

The report of the Sunday School showed a gain in enrollment of 91 pupils, rising from 75 members to 166. Sunday School activities have been under the leadership of Mrs. L. M. Eaton.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Board of Trustees decided to

MAIN STREET TAX REFUNDS ARE IN LINE

John Crandell Asks That Taxpayers Give Him Correct Figures

With something like $3,105.70 refund tax money in the hands of Dunlap street taxpayers, as payment for the excessive paving street taxes levied in 1928-'29, Attorney John Crandell said Wednesday afternoon that there is a possibility that all of the streets might be taken care of this month.

"I'm ready to start on Main street at once," he affirmed, at the same time urging the taxpayers to cooperate with him in giving him the correct figures. Since the original Dunlap street petition was turned over, additional figures have been uncovered which will give an added amount to certain taxpayers who had not included the interest on the first paving payments. All of these adjustments have slowed up the handling of other streets throughout Northville.

Mr. Crandell is of the opinion that Main, West and High streets can be completed in rapid succession. He is almost through with the preparatory work on Linden street, also.

Begin Renovation of Schrader Block

Remodeling to the extent of making a four-room apartment with dining, alcove, and bath and a complete new arrangement of the chapter rooms is going forward in the Schrader block on North Center street.

"We have our plans outlined in such a way that only one project is taking place at a time. In this manner, we are in no way inconvenienced in taking care of the funerals during the interim," explained Nelson Schrader, manager, as he pointed to blue prints which he was making the undertaking rooms sound proof and air conditioned — both cold and warm.

The chapel is to be enlarged, with facilities to give added privacy to the family room. An organ will be installed in the music room.

"We don't plan a public opening upon the completion of the work, but we will be hosts to any persons who may care to inspect the room," affirmed Mr. Schrader.

The apartment which is being built above the chapel will be used by the Darrell C. Nollan family. Mr. Nollan, the Eckenstein embalmer, will be in the building at all times to answer calls and take care of persons who want to be in the chapel at all hours. An entrance to the apartment will be made to open on Center street. Window changes and stone work renovations will characterize the front of the building.

HOLD TAX CLINIC AT WALLED LAKE

The Oakland County treasurer, Charles A. Sparks, will bring the tax rolls of Commerce and Novi townships to the Walled Lake high school at 7.30 p. m. Tuesday, April 26, for inspection by taxpayers who wish to clear up any questions affecting their property, according to information received by Frank Clark, supervisor of Novi township.

The May tax sale has listed property on which taxes have been paid or adjusted, and it will be the purpose of the Oakland treasurer to adjust any differences or answer any questions proposed by individual taxpayers of the two townships. Officials suggest that taxpayers and officials get their records pertaining to the tax problem brought to the meeting for help in settling any difference in records.

An official advertisement of the meeting appears on page 6 of this issue of The Record.

POLICE SEARCH FOR ESCAPED PRISONERS

The telephone bulletins sent Northville's policemen out on unusual assignments this week.

Shortly after 9 p. m. Monday, two inmates of the House of Correction left the grounds following an indoor ball game. They were Theodore Miller and DeWitt Cummings and were at large until early Tuesday evening when they were picked up by seventh precinct officers in Detroit.

Late Tuesday morning, Northville police were on the look out for a Milford man who was reported missing. He was Laverne Buno, 59 years of age, and reported to be suffering from extreme despondency. His body was found a few hours later in a parked car outside Milford. Death had come by inhaling gas fumes from the exhaust.

Lightning Strikes Mt. Clemens Barn; Dowling Horses Die

The insignificant matter of saving cars, clothing, radios and other personal belongings at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday when a bolt of lightning set fire to a large private Mt. Clemens stable housing valuable horses, all under the training of W. J. Dowling, were forgotten by loyal exercise boys and grooms as they raced from their sleeping quarters to save their horses.

Without taking time to dress, they worked untrusting among the flames and frightened horses. Helplessly the boys stood by to see the horses they'd rescued, bolt back to their stalls in the burning building where they had known safety for so long. Such happened to a particularly valuable horse, indefinite, owned by Clayton Wilkinson of Detroit. A few of the horses ran from the scene and were not found until late Wednesday.

Twelve killed 18 horses; severely burned 14; and injured two so badly that they had to be destroyed. Mr. Dowling lost all four of his horses, together with $500 worth of equipment. Ten horses were saved.

Lyle Dowling was burned about the arms, shoulder and chest. The fire took his car, radio, clothing and $75 in cash which was in the quarters. Others who were hurt were: Alfred Conner, Lionel Thibault, Bob Scott, James Buchanan, G. W. Bell and Buck Harper.

Horses known to have burned include: Paradox, Girl, Easy, Ann, Lady, Co. Ideal, Homer L. Edward C. Dunspride, Big Clifton and Celtic Lady. These horses, all ready for the track, gave promises of being in the money this season.

The stables and track made up the property formerly used by the Mt. Clemens Racing association, but leased in recent years by Mr. Dowling for private use.

8-MONTH ILLNESS FATAL TO BARLEY

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Saturday, April 16, in the Schrader chapel for Gordon G. Barley, who died April 14 at Eastlawn sanatorium after an illness of eight months.

Mr. Barley came to Northville in 1911, where he was employed as a telegrapher for the Pere Marquette railroad. In 1917, he was transferred to the overhaule department of the Pere Marquette in Detroit, where he worked until the time of his illness.

He was born at Chatham, Quebec, Can. 46 years ago and came with his parents to Freehold at the age of seven years and attended school there until he was graduated from high school. He then studied at the Ferris Institute at Big Rapids.

Surviving are his wife, Mattie, three daughters, Edith, Louise and Ruth; a son, Robert; his mother, Mrs. Annie Barley; and one sister, Mrs. Ida B. Cooke of this place.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Harry J. Lord of the Methodist church. Burial was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Eugene Brown, a fellow employee of the late Mr. Barley, writes the following tribute:

"He was laid to rest on the brow of a quiet hill in the town of Northville, almost within sight of the railroad he served so well.

"As the words 'Dust to Dust' were uttered, a Pere Marquette train, passing, wailed four mournful blasts as if to say, 'Farewell, railroad man, farewell, to one who had given his lifetime to the service of the railroad.'"

Dr. Eva To Speak Sunday Morning in Methodist Church

When the general exchange of pulpits is observed in the Methodist churches in the Ann Arbor district Sunday morning, the Rev. Dr. Sidney D. Eva area secretary to Bishop Edgar Blake, will preach at the 11 a. m. service in Northville.

The Rev. Harry J. Lord will preach that day in the Manchester and Napoleon churches.

Dr. Sidney, who Sunday afternoon will participate in the gymnasium dedication at the Children's Village on Six Mile road, near Telegraph road, was at one time district superintendent in the Port Huron district.

For years he was actively interested in the promotion of the Children's Village, which had its beginnings in Farmington. His topic here Sunday will be "Christian Education."

Her advice was to have the townspeople invest a few hundred dollars in a Northville booklet to be distributed carefully where it would do the most good.

Mrs. Fletcher also advised a write-up to be placed in the forthcoming issue of the book which her organization is to put out in May.

Mrs. Fletcher and Mr. Kelly were (Continued on page 5.)

Drinking Fountain Is Not Infection Source of Four Trench Mouth Victims Here

ENDS MINISTRY

The source of infection for the four Northville persons who have trench mouth cannot be traced to any public eating or drinking place or to the village water fountain, Dr. R. M. Atchison affirmed Monday of this week, bringing a stop to the rumors which had circulated through the community that the fountain at Center and Main streets was causing the affliction.

"Three of the victims have not eaten down town, neither have they taken drinks from the public fountain in months," asserts Dr. Atchison.

In order that persons may feel safe in drinking from the fountain the health department has ordered that it be disinfected three times a week.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND PLANS MAY CONCERT

Musicians Acknowledge Summer Engagement Request

Loch Lombard, the piece that has caused such storm in musical circles these last few weeks, will be one of the featured numbers in the first spring band concert which will be presented at 8 p. m. May 5, in the high school gymnasium.

Leslie G. Lee, director of the musical organization, states that Loch Lombard will not be "swung." Other numbers, beloved by lovers of music, to share presentation on the program are the "National Emblem March and the Blue Danube. Miss Doris Tewksbury will play a trombone solo and the elginal quartet, Harold Martens, Louis Eaton, Robert Jordan and Robert Ross, will give two solo selections.

The program will not be presented by a uniformed band, because the organization just doesn't have uniforms at this time. The concert is one of the final enterprises organized for the purpose of raising money to buy outfits for the banding of whom there are some 10 members.

If persons are generous with the free will contributions at the concert it will be possible for us to appear in uniform on June 4 in our last concert of the school year," affirms Mr. Lee.

A series of band programs is planned for the summer months in the village park.

In talking over the band situation, Mr. Lee says that it has become necessary to find new ways of obtaining uniforms, since the increase in membership of that organization at present there are 40 members, with four more to be promoted into the band and ten others are striving for a position, he explains.

"There were only 34 old uniforms available. Last fall the merchants donated $175 to purchase new uniforms. The band at Fostonia has bought the old suits and the sale, together with the money paid by the village for concerts in the park, leaves a balance of $200 which is still needed to outfit the band members with new hats and capes," comments Mr. Lee.

Members of the Northville commission received a letter of appreciation Monday evening from Superintendent E. H. Amerman and Mr. Lee, which they thanked the council for "engaging the band for a series of concerts in the park this summer. For these appearances, the village has given the organization $100. The letter carried the signatures of the players, including: Doris Tewksbury, Richard Ambler, Ray Parmenter, Kenneth Martens, Dick Larkin, Helen Winter, Cecil Giles, Robert Sears, Warren Bogart, Lucile Lapham, Harold Martens, Douglas McClosue, Bob Jordan, Alan Gotro, Robert Ross, Maman Heatley, Norma Gotro, Allen Peak, David Amerman, Sue Shinkster, Spague Lester, Barbara Spicer, Douglas Slessor, Robert McClosue, Jack Taggart, Nancy Defino, Florence Bongiovanni, Marilyn Gunnell, Robert Vogtin, Louie A. Babbitt, Louis Eaton, Mary Ann Murray and Ruth Parmenter.

PLANT 15,000 GLADIOLI BULBS
Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Van Hove, who came out from Detroit five years ago to make their home on South Beck road, will this season have an acre and a half of their 27-acre property devoted to flowers. They have planted 15,000 gladioli bulbs. The Van Hoves raise these flowers for their own and their friends' pleasure.

MRS. BEARD ATTENDS CANCER CONFERENCE

Meeting with the Detroit area committee of the Women's Field Army for the prevention of cancer, Mrs. E. S. Beard, local chairman, represented Northville at a recent meeting in Detroit. There were present women from surrounding towns. Plans were discussed for the spread of information about early recognition of cancer and each of the chairman present brought back ideas to promote the work.

Northville's "brought to committee" is actively engaged in promoting education by posters and other publicity. The natural drive continues through April. Memberships at the cost of one dollar are requested from all who are willing to help in the worthwhile project.

WILL CLEANUP VILLAGE FIRST WEEK IN MAY

Pickup of Rubbish in Residential Section Begins May 3

Headed by Mayor Arthur S. Nichols, Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery and Dr. R. M. Atchison, health officer, a village-wide cleanup campaign has been scheduled for the first week in May.

Mr. Montgomery will have the pickup truck touring the streets throughout Northville beginning Tuesday, May 3. "There will be no rerouting over any of the streets," warns Mr. Montgomery. "Villagers will just have to get busy and have their cans and rubbish placed in containers at the curbs and ready to be carried away on the first hauling day. It's impossible for me to make a schedule for the pickups," he explained.

In announcing the plans for cleanup week at the council meeting Monday evening, Mayor Nichols

Four Villagers Attend Spring Term at Cleary

Mary Elizabeth Harper, Robert Lyke, Dorothy Niles and Charles Strautz, all of Northville, have registered for the spring term at Cleary college, Ypsilanti.

This spring, 408 pupils are in attendance. From July 1, 1937, to April 7, 1938, there were 54 more pupils enrolled than during the entire fiscal year from July 1, 1936, to July, 1937. It is expected that the increase in enrollment over last year will be even greater when student enroll for the first summer term in June.

Many opportunities, both school and social, are offered the new students. They may enroll in one-year, two-year or four-year courses. The shorter courses are so planned that they become units in the longer. Therefore a student may complete a one-year course which prepares him for the annual position and later return to school and complete a two or four-year course without losing any credit or duplicating studies.

Among the social activities of the school are the Sweater Swirls, one-hour dances, which are sponsored by the school organizations, once a week. The C-U-Hop, highlight of the social season, will be held in the newly-completed recreation room of the building on April 22.

All the students are invited to participate in the activities of the Women's League, the Men's Union and the student publication staff.

The students enrolled in the commercial teachers' course have club. This year a new organization, the Athenian club, has been formed by the boys. Its purpose is to sponsor military instruction and athletic activities. Students with musical ability may participate in the activities of the men's and women's ensembles and the college orchestra.

WHAT'S THE TROUBLE WITH THE COUNTRY?

Every once in a while we ask callers at the Record office what they think is the cause of the present tough times. In talking with dozens of local people during the past few weeks we have been impressed by this one thing: Nearly all of them think that the Detroit labor troubles and sit-down strikes in other cities have had a real part in bringing on the depression. These local people are practically unanimous in condemning the C. I. O. for its high handed actions. Yet at the same time nearly all are in favor of collective bargaining and favor unions if they have the right leadership.

WHAT THE "SHOW-OFF" AUTOMOBILE DRIVER IS

Perhaps many times as you have driven around Northville, you have wondered what was the matter with the "show-off" auto driver who drove crazily by you. Well, here is the answer: A well known scientist recently declared that the "show-off driver" is suffering from an inferiority complex, in other words, he has to get behind the wheel of an automobile and act like a crazy man to get attention.

Just to test this theory, make out a list of ten Northville men whom you regard as our finest and most substantial citizens and then watch and see if they are "show-off" drivers. Can you imagine them driving around the streets like some of these "young squirts" do?

DR. FISHER IMPRESSED TWO CONTINENTS

That "Death loves a shining mark" was again strikingly demonstrated in Detroit last week in the sudden passing of Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, formerly Methodist bishop. Dr. Fisher, a man of magnificent mind, was known to two continents. Taken at the age of 56, his death shows again that the length of years does not measure one's usefulness.

Dr. Fisher's vision, breadth of mind and intellectual courage made him a world figure while he was missionary bishop of India. His religious tolerance was shown in his amazing friendship with Mahatma Gandhi, India's famed mystic. The only Methodist bishop who ever renounced this high office, he was yet able to attain greatness in the fields of a pastorate which he loved best. Michigan has known few who have been his equal in intellectual and oratorical equipment and the impress of his mind and great heart will be long remembered.

It was given to Northville people to hear Dr. Fisher a few years ago and many other local people who have followed the career of this remarkable man are grieved at his untimely death.

SMALL TOWN EDITOR "MAKES" THE POST

On page 23 of that magazine is shown in a three-column cut a group of men in the recent Washington conference of "little business men." Right in the foreground of the picture stands Editor Rae S. Corliss of the Parma News, Parma, Mich., a town of about 500, a few miles west of Jackson. The picture shows a half dozen men on their feet waving their arms, apparently trying to get the chairman's attention. Although he has a keen mind and a sympathetic outlook on life, Rae is not much given to jumping around and waving his hands. We thought it was he in the picture and were doubly sure when we observed that he sat with folded arms watching the frenzied men around him. Just to make sure it was Corliss, on our way to Albion the other day we dropped off at Parma and visited with the local editor while he was making up the paper. He grinned the sheepish grin that we knew a dozen years ago and said, "Yes, Dick, you guessed right. You know I've had scores of people calling me up and writing me about that picture. And since I got back from Washington I have had hundreds of letters from all kinds of people. It really was quite a remarkable experience attending the conference."

This conference of a thousand small business men attracted nation-wide attention and, though it got out of hand, convinced President Roosevelt and the rest of the country that the "little business folks" have some real grievances, know what it is all about and will have to be heard from before our country's problems are settled right. Incidentally, Editor Corliss' editorials are widely read and often quoted in other papers.

THE PRESIDENT'S RECOVERY PLAN

Thinking people are of course all hoping that President Roosevelt's latest recovery plan will rout the depression. Yet, in talking to folks, we find that this hope is mixed with much scepticism.

One thing which many have commended is that the President showed a more conciliatory attitude than he has recently. In fact, it seems to us that above everything else, the one tremendous need at this critical time is tolerance and good will on the part of the administration. With thirteen or fourteen million men still out of work, what we need is recovery and not reform. Practically everyone to whom we talked, is agreed that what the nation needs is more confidence and faith in each other, especially in business relations.

Lack of confidence is undoubtedly helping keep business stagnant. We give you three examples from our own experience. Talking recently with an up-state publisher, he said: "I would like to put in a new press but I certainly don't dare do it in these times." Talking to a second friend he said: "I would like to build a new house but in view of the present unsettled times I just don't dare do it."

A third man told us that he was all set to buy a new car, "But I guess I'll wait a while until the pay check's a bit more regular," he added.

Multiply these typical incidents by a few million times throughout the United States and you have the answer as to what is the matter with the country.

Roosevelt's new recovery plan looks promising. If he would do one thing more, viz., announce to the country that he is going to drop his antagonisms to and resentments against business, it would not be long until prosperity and happiness would again dawn for us all.

APRIL WANDERING THOUGHTS

W. J. Cameron's talk during the Ford Sunday evening hour is heard and commented on by many Northville people. He went straight to the heart of some of our present troubles Sunday evening when he said: "A conviction is arising on every hand that to find again the way we have lost there must be a new recourse to religious principle."

A good sign of the times: More people are buying homes here.

"Cancer will be eradicated within another ten years." —Dr. W. S. Sadler.

Only four more months until the Northville Fair.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

1 YEAR AGO

George Henry is the new manager of the Atlantic and Pacific store here. Mr. Dayton, the former manager and his family have moved to Detroit.

Miss Gertrude Brown, who recently underwent a surgical operation for throat trouble has been obliged thing needs to be skillfully done, however, and good books are available to parents on this subject. When properly used, there is no shame before the child to please curiosity. There is, instead, an honest, wholesome unfolding of a great natural truth and mystery. Mother, father and child are honest with one another; and frankness and confidence in that field may mean much another day.

A recent issue of the picture magazine, Life, gives modern parents the first generally published material with which to test their theories farther. This number will go down in history as the "Birth" issue, and it marks the beginning of the end of prudery about babies, or the beginning of worse. Already the magazine has been barred from sale or distribution in some cities on the grounds of indecency. That is the recoil to be expected from what has been the usual private and public sophistry about the birth of a child.

The great medical film, from which the pictures in Life are taken, has been barred from showings in some communities — also not surprising considering the midnight daze of most adults of this generation on the subject.

The committee responsible for the filming of "The Birth of a Child," and the editors of Life, have bravely undertaken the first steps in a difficult, though much needed job of education. The modern mother whose child looks out of honest, unshrinking eyes into her face when the subject of babies is discussed, has one genuine fear for her child. That fear is that some learning young subject for him, by their evasions, with something of the "naughty but interesting" aura, will smear the frankness of her child with his sophistication. Even so, the informed one is better prepared to meet that kind, knowing the truth, and every mother might well know that sooner or later that meeting will come, until the veil has been lifted for all. See the film "The Birth of a Baby" prepared by the American Committee on Maternal Health.

OBITUARY

MRS. W. J. LORENZ

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Scholander chapel for Mrs. W. J. (Janie M.) Lorenz, who died Friday in University hospital, Ann Arbor, at the age of 42 years.

For the past five years, Mrs. Lorenz had been a nurse on the staff of the Maybury sanatorium.

Mrs. Lorenz made her home in Detroit, her birthplace, until five years ago, when she joined the Maybury staff.

Surviving are her husband, William J., and a sister, Mrs. Harry Pierson of Detroit.

Also surviving Mrs. Lorenz is a cousin, Dr. D. H. Soley. Burial was made in Grandlawn cemetery with the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith of the Presbyterian church conducting the service at the chapel as well as at the grave.

R. FINDLEY GRANDY

Services for R. Findley Grandy were held at 2 p. m. Monday, April 18, in the home, 2030 Poplar street, where he died Saturday. Burial was made in Grand Lawn cemetery.

He was born in Canada 64 years ago. Mr. Grandy had lived in Detroit for the past 40 years and was well known in Northville.

Surviving him are his wife, Cora; a sister, Mrs. Mary Teeple, and three brothers, Robert, John and William Grandy.

UNDER OBSERVATION

By V. R. R.

• EASTER. The spirit of Easter seems more apparent at six o'clock in the morning than at any other time of this meaningful day. If one is eager to be up and greet the new day with understanding of its import, all else seems unimportant. Some observers report that the church attendance Sunday was larger than in many seasons.

• SPRING. All nature has seemed competitively eager to appear its freshest this year, and we are still trying to complete the inventory of "firsts" — such as the first daffodil, the first tree in blossom and the first Robin to be out, without any success. Among other things we have observed that Roy Van Atta is landscaping the yard about his new home, filling in and constructing a driveway; that the A. M. Dickie farm home on West Eight Mile road is surrounded by a fine yard and well-kept buildings; that Ray Casterline has made many changes on his lawns, with more trimmed, and that nothing is wrong with the country when people would rather buy hoes, rakes and spades than beer or bridge decks.

• BEALTOWN. Little reckoned we when we relayed Pete Ely's jesting remarks about the threatened secession of Bealtown from the village that it would provoke two such letters as it did from Norton Greene, but we enjoyed the letters and hope that others will be encouraged to write reminiscently of the "days when."

• PICTURES. The more observing Mrs. and the Observer sat through portions of two features billed at a Detroit movie house this week and pined for the good old days when one movie was enough for the most fervid fan. To cap the injury, the same program carried a newsreel and a short. This was our first movie in six months, and it is likely that we won't go again for six months unless programs are streamlined. The "G" public, we understand from P. A. manager Don Lightfoot, demands double features, and get 'em, so help 'em.

• GARDEN. In addition to being a New Deal Democrat, to the very apparent bewilderment of many who have thought him otherwise all right, the Observer likes victuals beyond the knowledge of most hereabouts. Tender, succulent mustard greens surpass any other forms of fodder including spinach, and he likes fresh blackeye peas, okra. It is difficult to get seed of these at some stores, so devotees of these choice garden items must gather and watch notes. Maurice J. Giles is one who plants an extensive southern garden down in Bealtown.

MRS. EDITOR

TO WORRY OR NOT TO WORRY

Who has not had a battle with Old Worry? Hasn't he haunted our sleepless nights more than once so we were less fit to meet the problem next morning? We want things to happen — and happen right off!

Not long ago we ran across a paragraph that "hit us in the eye." It read: "Be like an old stump. You will by doing nothing. Patience is a great business virtue too. If, instead of trying to force the issue we would quietly wait, many problems would solve themselves. Often the best way to unloose hard knots and tangled questions is to do nothing about them. The whole picture may look different a week from now. When things look dark, learn to wait quietly. Be like an old stump with your life rooted in faith, hope and courage. Give old Father Time a chance and he will often work miracles in your life and affairs. Learn to labor and to wait."

Over the kitchen sink we pinned this clipping and pondered over it as we worked. "No, we would not worry. Let Time work things out." Then along comes this: "You Should Worry!" In bold black letters the heading had to be read — and so we read the following statement which upset all of the former good resolutions not to worry.

I'm convinced that in every organization someone has to do a certain amount of worrying. When factory wheels are not turning we must worry about how to get more business. When business is coming too fast we must worry about making delivery dates. Worry drives us to do something, to find the answer so we can stop worrying.

When Newton was asked how he discovered the law of gravitation he replied: "By always thinking about it." Without a doubt he worried and pondered the problem until he arrived at a solution. When a man tells me that he never worries I'm convinced that someone else is solving the big problems.

You should worry about your problems, take them seriously, dig into them, conquer them. I'm not even sure that you should not worry about the proverbial spilled milk. Worrying about how the milk was spilled and what caused you to spill it may eliminate making the same mistake twice.

We are told that we should "never cross a bridge" until we come to it, but the successful men always "cross bridges" in their imaginations far ahead of the crowd.

Berton Bralley, in his poem, "Worry," is very emphatic about the importance of worrying.

"Show me a man who doesn't worry — I'll show you a man whose brain is furry.

The fellows whose deeds are worth recall, Were worriers, worriers, worriers all!

"Worry," my son, in deed and speech, Over the stars that you hope to reach."

To worry, or not to worry, that is the question.

CHURCH NEWS

First Methodist Church
Harry J. Lord, Minister
10 a. m.—Church School.
11 a. m.—Worship.
6:30 p. m.—Epworth League.
7:30 p. m.—Union Service.

Classes for all ages are provided in the church school including two adult classes.

A growing interest is being shown from year to year in the early Easter service. This year 224 people attended the service at 6:30 a. m.

The reception of the Easter membership class brings the total new members received so far this conference year to 27. In addition a class was received in preparatory membership which will be received in full connection Children's Day. This class will meet each week with the pastor for instruction. Any child of the Sunday School 11 years of age or older may enroll.

Dr. Sidney D. E. area secretary to Bishop Edgar Blake, will be the guest speaker in the Methodist church Sunday at the 11 a. m. service. Music will be furnished by the senior choir.

6:30 p. m.—Senior C. E. with the topic "Will the Teachings of Jesus Work Today?"

11 a. m.—Worship. The pastor will preach upon "Were the Former Times Better than These?" The choir will give special numbers.

There will be a special Mother's Day service, May 8.

The church night lecture will be given by the pastor, April 28 with the topic "The Four Things that Men Fear Most."

The Woman's Union is finishing the painting and painting of two of the rooms of the museum that was not finished last year.

Christian Science Churches
"Probation after death" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches in the world on Sunday, April 24.

The Golden Text (I John 5:25) is "Verily, verily, I say unto you, the hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I Cor 15:19-20): "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that sleep."

Correlative passages to be read from "The Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (page 427): "If man is never to overcome death, why do the scriptures say 'The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death?' The tenor of the Word shows that we shall obtain the victory over death in proportion as we overcome sin."

Salem Federated Church
Mrs. C. M. Pennell, Pastor
The Rev. Charles E. Eble of Ypsilanti, will speak in our church on Sunday morning, April 24, in the service beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

Bible School is at 11:45 a. m. The lesson for the adult classes, "Receiving Vision for Service," will be found in Mark 9:2-10. Memory verse, "This is my beloved Son, hear Him," Mark 9:7.

In the evening at 7:30 there will be a union service of the Salem congregations in the Federated church with the Rev. Eble in the pulpit. The young peoples' hymn-singing orchestra will lead in the song service, and every member of the orchestra is urged to be present.

Our Father and Son Banquet will be held in the church dining room at 8 p. m. Friday, April 22. The speaker is to be Rep. Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, and your neighbors and other friends will want to hear Mr. Eaton, so tell them about this opportunity.

Salem Congregational Church
Lucia M. Stroh, Minister
Next Sunday the Sunday School session begins at 10 a. m. Lesson: "Receiving Vision for Service," Mark 9:2-10. Golden text: "This is my beloved Son, hear Him," Mark 9:7. Divine worship 11 a. m. This is our summer schedule. The pastor was happy to receive 16 people into the fellowship of the church, Easter Sunday. Ten adults were baptized and Robert Lee Lockwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lockwood, Jr., choir practice Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Velma Speed.

Prayer meeting is Thursday evening in the home of Miss Jessie and Mills Blackwood of South Lyon on the Ten Mile road. All our friends are cordially invited to all services.

Saturday at 10 a. m. the ladies will have baked goods on sale at the John Herrick store in Salem.

Use of Coat of Arms
In England a person's inextinguishable right to use his coat of arms cannot be taken from him like a medal, emblem of rank or any other honor. Yet the College of Arms in London sometimes refuses to grant them to qualified individuals to whom it deems a coat of arms "is not a necessity."—Collier's Weekly.

Walled Lake News

By CHARLES HUTTON

Would that I might cast a spell, With great and wondrous news to tell.

But sad to say, naught doth impel Enough material to tell.

—Hutton.

May I hurry to explain that I'm not trying to swipe my friend, the Bealton correspondent's stuff, but that his of creative writing indicates in a poetic nutshell that which I'm up against, yet, still, or again, Things just don't seem to happen around here any more.

But let the dash off at least a little something of — shall we say — interest while we are yet submerged, or, at least immersed in this newsless interim.

FIREMEN NIP BLAZE
You might like to know that our valiant firemen, ever on the alert, responded to two calls Monday, and saved the day in both instances.

The fires, while of minor nature were similar in origin, if not in locale. Overheated heaters were the common causes. The first, in the basement of the Warren Wixom home, centered about the hot water heater, which blazed up and threatened the basement ceiling. Quick work by the firemen nipped the blaze in the bud. The second call came from the home of J. A. Brader on Welch road, where a brooder stove in a chicken house burned the side of the coop, causing about $25 damage, which was covered by insurance.

A little advance information, on the "Q. T." discloses that we are to have a new drug store in town, and from what I can gather from the sign in the window of the location in the Roach building, it is due to open around May 1. You may expect a more complete and detailed announcement at the opportune time. The same applies to the dining car lunch which now graces the Main street next to the garage. Latest flashes may be issued at any moment, how. Someone is getting the Hunt and Coe store building fixed up, top, down on the corner of 14 Mile road and East Lake Drive. I understand it is going to be a hamburger stand, with possibly ice cream and soft drinks.

Well, the town has needed things like this. Here's to bigger and better hamburger stands and more drug stores. Such business "originality" is to be encouraged. If someone would only start another beer garden and three more garages.

Another thing we lack is a grocery store. There are only two cream stores and two independents in the same block.

SCHOOLS ARE CROWDED
Our school superintendent tells me that the latest enrollment figures have climbed to about 1000 pupils. Since the beginning of the spring term in the three buildings, about 1000.

The principal problem is the lack of room. Or rather, not. You find out what is the problem. Only two rooms in the school have less than 50 pupils. The average is well over 40 for the majority of the rooms. A continuing problem is the lack of teacher. When you ever a school teacher with from 30 to 75 young Americans under your wing who light out each school day, you are ever on of the young American trying to concentrate on your numbers or history lesson, with a room full of others packed around you? If so, you'll better understand the two major problems of the local school system, and why the talk of immediate expansion isn't simply idle chatter.

However, we learn that the high school band is flourishing like everything. They have their new uniforms, which are, I'm told, quite swell. They are navy blue, trimmed in gold. Military type coat, with a gold leather belt. Shoulder insignia, and caps of blue and gold, with letters WLES on them.

Our Mr. Bach, the director, has entered the 36-piece band in the band festival at Ann Arbor, to be held April 29 and 30. There are three local instrumental soloists entered in one of the contests at that time. They are William Ford, who plays the trombone, Robert Seelye with his trumpet and Dolly Booth playing the clarinet. After the festival is over the band plans to give a concert about May 1, at the school, open to the public. Tickets will be sold for the occasion. You'd better be there.

HOMING VACATIONERS
Most everybody knows by this time that nearly all the local Florida sojourners are back home. Of course, you know the Huttons are back — or did I tell you? And Mrs. Jean Bentley and daughter Alice, and the Ra. Carnes and Mrs. Jessie Powers (she lives at North Farmington) and Drs. Andrew and Howard Stuart and the Travises and Joe Urton and the J. L. Taylors and that's all I can think of off hand. Bill and Betty Mercer are back from their honeymoon, too, and temporarily staying at Bill's folks house until their own place is ready.

It seemed strange and wonderful to behold — the congregation at church, Sunday. They packed 'em in the aisles and other available spaces. I'm always thankful especially, for Easter, for the grand turnout, among other reasons.

The thought occurred to me, Sunday morning, as to what sort of an effect it would have on a town if every Sunday morning service were as well attended. After all, it is true that many folks are fairly familiar with only the resurrection phase of religious teaching. They have seldom, if ever, heard about anything else in their church experience. It is nice, of course, to be assured that Christ was resurrected, but wouldn't it be rather interesting to know what happened after that? And before that? You don't just read the last chapter of a current novel and feel satisfied to let it go at that. Or do you?

Well, anyway, if everybody continued to go to church each Sunday for a year, I believe the tone of their town would be definitely more pleasing — to say the least.

MRS. FARMALÉE DIES
Mrs. Almira Farmalee, 73 years old, died Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Williams of Detroit. Mrs. Farmalee had been ill since last October.

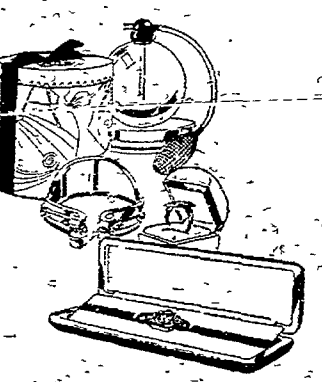

A native of Oakland county, she was born in West Bloomfield township, near Walled Lake, where she lived during her childhood. She was married in 1882 to the late Edw. Farmalee who died in 1914. She had lived at the Walled Lake residence for the past 30 years. To her marriage were born three daughters and three sons, all of whom survive her. They are: Mrs. Bertha Williams, Mrs. Ira Williams, Floyd and Harold Farmalee of Plymouth, and Mrs. Frances Hoyt of Walled Lake. She also leaves eight grandchildren and one great grandchild, two brothers and five sisters, who are: Mrs. Albert Dean of Deckersville; Mrs. James Wells of Orchard Lake; Mrs. Clara Browning of Pontiac; Albert Orr of Clarkston; and Louis Orr, Mrs. Leva Mae Coe and Mrs. Anna Dickerson of Walled Lake.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoyt, and at the Walled Lake cemetery. The Rev. Frank N. Miller of the Walled Lake Methodist church officiated.

Reception and Program Sunday in Baptist Church Will Honor Dr. and Mrs. Rufus M. Traver

A reception in the Baptist church on Sunday evening will climax a welcome service planned for Dr. Rufus M. Traver, new pastor of the Baptist church, and Mrs. Traver.

During the program, which will begin at 7:30 o'clock, addresses of welcome will be given by the Rev. Harry J. Ford, Methodist minister, and by the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith, Presbyterian pastor, who will speak in behalf of their church congregations.

A welcome from the community at large will be given by Mayor Arthur S. Nichols. Greetings from the church he is to serve will come from Clifford Turnbull, a member of the board of deacons and a friend of many years of Dr. and Mrs. Traver.

Superintendent R. H. Armerman will preside, introducing a solo by Miss Helen Winter and a quartet composed of Harold Martens, Louis Eaton, Robert Borden and Robert Ross. The Methodist and Baptist church quartet, including Mrs. Armerman, C. C. Winter, Russell H. Steininger and Merle Fraser, will sing "Mr. Armerman has extended an invitation to the entire village to attend the program and reception."

Dr. Traver will be expected to make a response to the welcome addresses. Mr. Traver, formerly a minister in Pontiac, was given an opportunity to accept a call to the First Baptist church of Detroit this week. He rejected the offer in order to serve the Northville Baptist congregation.

appoint Robert Coffman to the office of church treasurer. In this manner, they argued, they would be able to have the advice of an able former member, who couldn't be re-elected due to a rule requiring a member of the Board of Trustees to be off one year before he can again serve.

POETRY GETS MIXED UP WITH HOUSECLEANING

It's that time of year again when housewives are giving the house the annual spring cleaning. It's a time always of broken routines and hurried meals. Clubs and other social activities get pushed aside until the "order" is over.

On every grocery, drug, hardware and furniture store counter in the village there are signs for cleaning which guarantee a minimum amount of pain in the back. Someone was peddling a cleaner up in Orchard Heights Monday of this week and the following is the aftermath, penned by one who writes features from time to time for these columns.

Delirium of Spring

"This can of cleaner, I'll tell you, 'Will make your walls as good as new."

"This easy wiping motion's all 'You need to clean a dirty wall."

The lady showed in demonstration With what ease the preparation Would clean the house, spic and span,

And so, of course, I bought a can. A dollar bought that can of magic. But, alas, here is the tragic Part. I, the silly dulle!

Bought a job! Aye, there's the rub!

—Alec F. Milne.

Mrs. Herrick Observes Ninety-Third Birthday

Mrs. Carrie Herrick, South Lyon, celebrated her ninety-third birthday anniversary Monday, April 18.

A dinner honoring her was served at 6 o'clock by her daughter and granddaughter. Mrs. Herrick was born in Livingston county, west of Brighton, April 18, 1845, and spent the early part of her life there. Seventy years ago she was united in marriage to George Herrick. They made their home in Salem township until 29 years ago, when they moved to South Lyon, buying the home on West Lake street where she makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Powers, and granddaughter, Marion. Her husband died several years ago.

Mrs. Herrick is one of South Lyon's oldest residents and is a woman greatly interested in her community and of the events of the day. In her nineteenth year, she enjoyed an automobile trip to Florida. She has been confined to her bed the greater part of the time since January, because of injuries received in a fall. She has two sons and a daughter, Edward of Plymouth, John of Salem; and Mrs. Powers of South Lyon.

CANADIAN SPEAKS TO HIGH SCHOOL

W. D. Bailey Talks on War, Peace, Idealism and Effects of Alcohol

W. D. Bailey of Canada, spoke to the high school assembly Tuesday morning, April 19. Mr. Bailey began his talk on war, its preventatives and the ultimate objective—peace.

He pointed out that Canada and the United States have peacefully settled all disputes for more than a century and how ideal it would be if the rest of the world could do likewise. Mr. Bailey said that the way to prevent war is not to prepare for it. The speaker said that the secret of peace lay in mentality, represented by intelligence and idealism.

Mr. Bailey then began to speak of alcohol and its effect upon the human brain. He showed by illustration the difference between man's brain and a monkey's and that alcohol paralyzes the upper part of one's brain—that is consciousness and reason—and leaves the human with no more brain power than a monkey.

Mr. Bailey also told of the moral danger one might be in under the influence of strong liquor and how one might even die from too large a dose of alcohol.

Common Chatter

By GWEN

Now that school has started again, this time until summer, every one is rushing around, telling of the things they had seen or done during vacation.

On Friday Louise Alexander and Yours Truly attended several physical education classes at the Michigan State Normal college in Ypsilanti as guests of Miss Gertrude Eppler, who is on the teaching staff there. Louise also spent the week end in Lansing visiting relatives.

Peg and Ida Walker, with their parents journeyed to Pennsylvania to visit the Grier school in Birmingham, where Peg expects to go next fall.

Jean Salew was in Chicago and from there she went to Mr. Carroll, Ill., where she visited the Francis Shimer school.

Betty Schrader spent the week end at Nancy McLoughlin's home in Detroit. The girls attended the play, "Brother Rat," Saturday at the Cass theatre.

Dot Heaton, Jeanne Atchison and Kate Marburger were in Detroit last Thursday shopping and they later attended the theatre.

Barbara Wellwood of Detroit, was Jeanne Atchison's guest Monday in school.

One of the things that Leslie G. Lee did during the vacation was to visit the Cranbrook school.

The seniors who will be standing on the platform Monday waiting for the train to carry them to Washington are: Arthur Mitchell, Peg Walker, Gwen Jones, Barbara Wood, Ed Reid, Marvin Scholtz, Harry Rattenbury, John Litsenberger, Cecil Gies, J. W. Erwin, Claude Hinchman, Keene Bolton, Martin Breitmeyer, Virginia Washburne, Leona White, Connie Burgess, Mary Boelens, Margaret Hem, Margaret Gardon, Doris Tewksbury, Louise Barley, Betty Schrader, Alice Eaton and Lois Diem.

Very little studying has been done this week by these industrious seniors as they are too excited to study. Or so they say. But we'll bet it's just an excuse. So until I see you again!

Grade Notes

Greta Chappell, Charles Freyd, Patricia Frid, Mildred Fritz, Charles Graham, Myrtle Laney, Sally Nutting, Dene Poltz and Daphne Shoebidge have been neither absent nor tardy the past month.

Good position in penmanship has been recognized in the following pupils by Miss Griffiths: Delores Gesser, Frances Smith, Phyllis Kreeger, Marjorie Hancock, Charles Freyd, Hugh Lockhard, Dene Politz, Mildred Fritz, Dorothy Stevens.

Editor's Note

Now that we of the Senior class are finally just about on our way to Washington, the rest of the school can settle down to a little peace and quiet for a change. For awhile there we were a bit anxious. Every day there was a different report — hours are worth 17 cents — no, they're only worth 15 cents — now it's up to 16 cents — Oh, heck! They're down to 14 cents — good! They're back up to 15 cents, maybe they'll go higher (we hope)! But they didn't, they slid back down to 14. By that time several of our illustrious highest classmen were sporting gray hairs. We did a lot of groaning before we went home and approached Dad, but it turned out okay and the next day we all trotted over to

Mrs. Yerkes with our monetary contribution to our trip. Then — with our biggest worry off our chests, we put some "color back" on those tell-tale gray hairs and prepared to have the time of our young lives next week — here's hoping it doesn't rain.

Mayor Bolton and his ardent followers are in again. It's baseball this time. They're selling season tickets for the six-scheduled home games for 40 cents. Individual game tickets to be purchased at the gate are 10 cents. Keene has been explaining all week that by buying a season ticket, you'll be getting two — think of it — two — baseball games free!

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT PLAY

The newly organized N. H. S. Dramatic club has chosen "Here Comes the Prince," a three act comedy by Anne C. Martens, to be presented Thursday and Friday, May 28 and 29.

Marvin Scholtz, president of the club, has appointed Mary George to head the committee on scenery, and Albert Boelens has charge of advertising.

The cast was chosen last week and is as follows: Terry Donovan, an optimistic young man, Marvin Scholtz and Eber Lester; Fred Holliday, a self-made man, Sam Adams; Carol, his daughter, Betty Findlay; Joan, his niece, Peg Walker; Granny Holliday, an eccentric old lady, Mary Jane Boelens and Gwen Jones; Professor Chipper, a hard enthusiast, Albert Boelens; Mrs. Lovejoy, a social climber, Doris Tewksbury; Wanda, her daughter, Gwen Jones and Mary J. Boelens; Winks, the butler, Arthur Mitchell; Prince Rudolph of Zenobia, Claude Hinchman.

Senior Who's Who

Margaret Vanfellemont, Manitoba Can., May 31, 1921.

When only a year and a half old, her family and she moved to Detroit. She attended Detroit schools through the sixth grade. Feeling the "call of the wild" she moved to a farm on the Seven Mile road, where she attended the West Point school in the tenth grade she came to Northville to complete her high school education. Margaret's favorite pastime is swimming and riding horseback.

Upon graduation, she hopes to continue secretarial work by either attending night school or a business institute.

The Observer

It strikes us that the male element around school is observed too much, so this week we're turning to one of the fairer sex. She is about five feet, three inches tall and wears her dark brown hair in a becoming roll. Her eyes are hazel and they blend nicely with her creamy complexion. She is about four and ten years old and likes to draw — especially wood burning. Her favorite animals are dogs. If this fair lady's identity is still unknown, she is a freshman, lives four miles out of Northville has been in N. H. S. only one year and originally came from Redford. Do you know her?

MARGARET BARTHEL PLAYS FOR CHOIR

By LOUISE ALEXANDER

Some of the students of Northville high school had the unusual privilege Monday, April 18, of hearing an up and coming young pianist from Detroit, in the person of Margaret Barthel. She is a 15-year-old eleventh grade student at East-Ed high school.

In February, Miss Barthel played a joint recital with the famous Italian tenor, Tito Schipa. Following this recital, she received several attractive offers in regard to her talent, all of which she rejected for the present.

Miss Barthel played a selection from Mendelssohn and also her own version of Strauss' "Blue Danube." Then she played a Spanish number dedicated to her by Mr. Schipa's accompanist.

Miss Betty Jean Yerkes was responsible for the pleasure derived by the students, as Miss Barthel was her guest.

Did You Notice?

The starry gaze-on Buck's face? Guess the love-bug's around N. H. S. again, or just MW's presence? The ring H.C.'s wearing? One of last year's grads, so don't be so mysterious. Helen, we know.

All the bike riders and roller skaters? Yes, for the hundredth time, spring is here.

How pleased the "professor" was to appear in front of his public — out fellow students? Yes, Gee gets that way.

Certain names not in this column this week? Well, honorable mention, Don.

That Rose B's mind just can't be made up about her-romance? And little does she realize that she has us in circles keeping up with her M Zayit's hidden affections concerning a certain junior? We'll tell everyone it's Johnnie Angell — and by the way, Maggie, you got something there.

U. B. stabbing at Julian T? We hear he has Jean so booked up — so try next time, Kay.

That Lucille L. and E. K. are just "that way" about each other? Dote's loud tone of voice? Come on, Dote, we know all about it, so calm down.

How surprised Sid will be when he returns to school? Chuck has been Beebe's pastime for the past month and we're afraid it's become a habit.

French Ascension in 1783 Joseph and Stephen Montgolfier gave France its first public balloon ascension in 1783.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT TO GIVE OPERETTA

Date Set for Late May by Leslie G. Lee, Director

By LEONA M. WHITE
The operetta "In Old Vienna" will be presented in the latter part of May. Leslie G. Lee is directing it, with the high school choir taking part.

James Harper, a former N. H. S. graduate is working on the scenery to be used. A back drop will be used, which is being built in the manual training department and the home making department is responsible for the sewing of the material. Two special sets will be used for the operetta.

Several types of costumes are needed for the operetta, they'll include: the Gypsy, Viennese and American tourists' styles. Constance Burgess is chairman of the costume committee.

Solo dances will be one of the features of the operetta this year. It is as yet undecided who will do them. The principal characters are working on their parts at all available times.

LATIN CLASSES TO HOLD BANQUET

By IDA MARIE WALKER

The first and second year Latin classes will have a Roman banquet from 7 to 9 p. m. April 27. They will attempt to keep the meals as the Roman meals were. No food will be eaten that was not eaten by the Romans. No forks or knives will be used.

The students will wear clothes such as the Romans wore. The servants are chosen from the losing side in the speldowns held during the year. They will pass around bowls of water so the guests may wash their hands after each course. After the main part of the dinner, an invocation to the gods and the

VISIT MUSEUM

The second year class is planning a trip to the Classical Museum in Ann Arbor. They will see the archeological remains, which have been dug up in Northern Africa by a university expedition.

Offering of food to Lares, household gods, will be celebrated.

If the gods are propitious the banquet will continue with the second mensa, dessert. After the meal is finished, the master of ceremonies will be chosen by lot, he

HIGHWAY LIGHTING SYSTEM IS BOON TO NIGHT DRIVERS

Motorists using Grand River avenue, officially designated as US-16, between Lansing and Detroit, at night now have the aid of a unique lighting system. Inaugurated last week, the standards supporting the powerful reflectors are strung along both sides of the highway at Novi, and Northville drivers have found the system a boon to night driving.

The new reflectors, ten times as powerful and twice as large as ones in more general use, outline the highway for a mile ahead, relieve eye strain of drivers, and otherwise bring approximate daylight driving conditions to darkened rural highways. About the width of a car off from the road, the string of reflectors stretching ahead give the driver a guiding line in rain and fog.

Innocuous in appearance on their eight standards of angle iron about four feet high, the reflectors in daylight appear like miniature signals. They are placed about 40 feet apart. This reflectorized lighting project on US-16, first of its kind in the world, bears the stamp of approval of the nation's highway, safety, and automotive leaders including Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. He characterized the "lights" as "a distinct contribution to the cause of public safety upon the highways."

Other leaders from New Jersey to Kansas, guests of State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wageningen at a "premiere" showing of the "lights," joined MacDonald in praising the project. They included such men as J. H. Hunt, vice-president of General Motors corporation; J. G. Vincent, chief engineer, Packard Motor Car company; C. L. McCuen, president of the Olds Motor works.

a penny provides 1 1/3 hours of good light FOR READING A NEWSPAPER

NOTHING contributes more to your enjoyment of the evening paper than comfortable relaxation in your favorite easy chair and good light with which to see. Your eyes require a better quality of light for reading fine print in a newspaper than they do for the larger type of a well-printed book, or the clean white pages of a magazine. Yet reading a newspaper is such a commonplace, everyday occurrence that we are likely to forget it is really a difficult, seeing task. We are liable to have poor light which is inadequate for the job.

Good lighting is a comfort that costs little money. Your newspaper costs three cents... but a penny will purchase the excellent illumination of a 200-WATT LAMP for 1 1/3 hours, and add immeasurably to your enjoyment of your newspaper. When light is so cheap, why stint on it? You can afford to give your eyes good lighting for every seeing task!

CONSTRUCT M. S. C. PROJECTS

Two construction jobs under way on the campus of Michigan State college at East Lansing, are helping out the campus and provide better facilities.
 At top is the new band shell near the banks of the famed Red Cedar river. Funds from recent senior classes and from student activities are providing money for the all concrete shell. At the bottom is the new $500,000 Stevens T. Mason dormitory for men, financed from a bond issue which is to be retired at no cost to either college budget or State funds.

Army Riders To Visit Detroit

King III, with Capt. Royce A. Drake up, clears the bars in preparation for the tour and exhibition to be held April 23, 30 and May 1 at the State Fair in Detroit, by the United States Army Equestrian Olympic Team.
 Capt. Drake is newest member of the famous six-man team now in training for the 1938 Olympic Games. Both matinee and evening performance by the team during the three-day Detroit exhibition. King's house was last seen in Michigan at the 1937 National I.

In Remembrance of Henry Van Sickle who died three years ago, April 21, 1935.
 Peace be thy rest, dear father
 Its sweet to breathe thy name
 In life we loved you dearly
 In death we do the same
 His loving children
CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to thank all our friends for their kind remembrances and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement, especially do we thank Bart Connors, the nurses, employees, and patients of the William H. Maybury sanatorium and Mrs. Brock. We also wish to thank Nelson Schrader, Mr. Nollan, Dr. T. W. Smith, Mrs. Nollan and Mr. and Mrs. Vanyalkenburg.

LOCAL NEWS
 The Legion Auxiliary will hold an initiation meeting Tuesday evening, April 26, in the Legion Hall.
 Dr. B. Ballard and children, Marlene and Aileen of Windsor, were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Spagnuolo.
 Mrs. Carl Schultze, who recently returned from a Detroit hospital where she received medical treatment, is making satisfactory recovery at her home.
 Commendation was given Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery Monday evening by Mayor Arthur S. Nichols and Commissioner Floyd Shafer. They approved his policy of dividing work among persons, particularly the unemployed, who need it to pay their water bills.

"When one starts poor, as most do in the race of life, free society is such that he knows he can better his condition, he knows there is no fixed condition of labor for his whole life."
 —A Lincoln.

In this country of free enterprise big business was in the beginning little business, hence it is not surprising that little business and big business may see eye to eye on many problems affecting our national economy. Both have now spoken. With respect to wages and hours the representatives of big business recommended a fresh study of the subject; little business went farther by expressing opposition to all forms of wage-hour regulation and legislation.

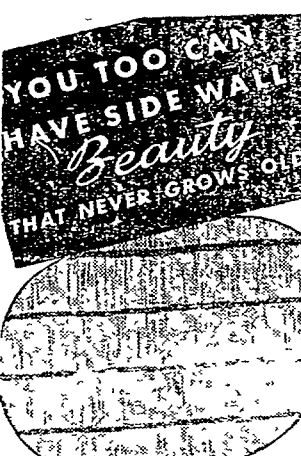

Both the Conference of Little Business and the Department of Commerce's Business Advisory Council spoke in corresponding terms with regard to housing. Both groups went on record favoring the revision of our anti-trust laws.

In the matter of labor relations the little business conference advocated putting equal responsibility on employers and employees and restricting unions from "harassing and intimidating" business. The Business Advisory Council used different language to express the same conclusion, declaring that "privilege must be attended by responsibility."

Both groups recommended substantial amendment of various provisions of the Social Security Act. Both groups asked that the undistributed profits tax be repealed or radically modified. Both groups urged that the government balance its budget and that there be no further "pump-priming" operations.

If the average person earning $1,800 a year were to pay the same proportionate tax as a person earning $100,000 or more a year, they would have $800 or less left after the payment of the tax on his income. The New York Sun recently published a list of the earnings of the highest-paid persons in industry, in finance, and in motion pictures. The gross salaries ranged from $50,000 to $500,000 for an aggregate of $4,600,000; the aggregate taxes were $20,400,000 with the Federal government getting the lion's share, $10,600,000, the aggregate net salaries were thus reduced to $29,200,000. The highest-paid executive in the United States has but one-third of his income left after the payment of his taxes.

Recently a Senate committee, in considering the nomination of an assistant secretary, learned that the Secretary of the Interior, charged with the expenditure of three or four billions for public works, had in 1933 bought two new automobiles. It was said that the purchases were due to the "emergency" and hence paid for out of emergency appropriations. Senator Shaver asked what was meant by the "emergency." The reply was: "Well, the Secretary wanted the cars, and that was the emergency." A most comfortable emergency.
