Is War Coming?

Talk of war in Europe is getting stronger. There are rumors that plants in the United States are manufacturing munitions in great quantities. To a sensible person Europe would seem too close to bankruptcy to want to start another civilization-destroying war. If war does come, God pity us!

The World "Do Move"

In these marvelous days of invention we can expect to hear most anything. So we were not surprised to read last week that a man in Medford, Mass., has plans for a steel house that could be erected in two days. It would have hollow steel walls and hermetically-sealed windows and air conditioning that would be practically perfect.

William A. Pridé, who has this plan in mind, has spent 40 years in the building field so his new ideas are being carefully considered. Great steel companies are said to be considering his type of building. The fire department should never be called out to stop a blaze in a steel house.

Ask Someone Who Knows

Next week good citizens will march to the primaries to pick out candidates for the November election. To the average person, these seeking nomination are complete strangers. To know "who is who" in the conglomeration of names is a difficult task. Half of the men from Detroit who are out here seeking nomination are complete unknowns.

Fortunately there are some men in Northville who do know something of the qualifications of these candidates and thus are able to give some idea as to who are the best candidates. If you don't want to vote blindly, ask someone whom you trust who has more information on the candidates than you have.

A Day of Judgment Coming

The time is not far away when our government is going to stop giving money to men to support them. In other words, a day of reckoning is coming.

No national or State law is going to change the divine law—"In the sweat of thy face thou shalt eat bread."

Many men now receiving government aid bitterly resent conditions that make things worse. But on the other hand there are many men who are perfectly satisfied to accept government aid and do as little work as possible for it. They have the warped idea that the government owes me a living. While it is true the government owes me a living, it is only because I have been a parasite on the state. The government owes me nothing. The government owes everyone the opportunity to make a living. This philosophy has made America the greatest nation in the world. The sooner we return to this belief, the sooner we shall have prosperity.

Relief and Liquor

Most hard working and straight thinking men are convinced that a considerable part of welfare funds paid by taxation on hard working people goes for liquor.

In Detroit last week a welfare dependent drew this check for $24.50, went on a grand drunken then took a ride home in a taxi. When he got there, instead of handing his wife all the money he had left (if any) he proceeded to beat the poor woman who weighed only 95 lbs. Neighbors then called in the police and when the case was checked this was what the welfare officials said about him:

He hasn't done a lick of work since they were married early in 1936. They went on welfare almost immediately after they were married. Their one child was born 15 months ago and he hasn't paid a cent or the doctor and hospital bill.

This is of course an extreme case but any observer in any community will tell you that a considerable percentage of welfare money is going for booze. It is nothing less than an outrage that money raised by taxation should be spent for liquor. The time is not far distant when we shall stop this form of injustice.

Our Biggest Factory Opens

With the opening of school this week Northville's greatest factory starts production. The future of hundreds of our boys and girls will be made better because of the work these plants up on West Main street will do during the coming year.

We may well differ on politics, on religion and in our ideas on a thousand other things but on this we are all agreed: Northville schools are exceptionally well-manned and both teachers and pupils have an exceptionally fine spirit of cooperation and friendliness. The past school year was judged by one of the faculty members as "one of the smoothest, pleasantest and most progressive years of the school's history."

Northville is to be congratulated on the fine type of men and women who make up its teaching staff. Added to this we have the additional asset of an unusually efficient educational plant.

A splendid year to both teachers and pupils is the wish of all!

New Highway Coming

A new Dixie Highway from Florida to Mackinac City is being proposed. Among those on the Michigan committee to "put it over" is Editor George R. Averill of Birmingham.

With such a small community as Northville sending from 25 to 30 people to Florida every winter, it is easy to visualize that such a highway would in time carry a tremendous traffic.

Wandering Thoughts

Business is better.

What has happened to Al Smith?

Just one vacant business place in Northville and that is a small one.

We hear rumors that one of our best-known citizens plans to build a house.

For seven consecutive weeks industrial activity in the United States has shown a gain. When new automobile models come out in late September and October you may well expect business to boom. A Detroit man in the office last week said he expected two years at least, of "bang-up" business.

On Sept. 1, 1937, a farmer who took wheat to town got around 90 cents a bushel. On Sept. 1 of this year he got around 50 to 55 cents. A year ago this time corn was around $1.05 while this year it is just about half that. A year ago butter fat was around 34 cents a pound; today it is 24 cents. Nobody dares ask the farmer now: "Are you better off now than you were a year ago?"

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

One Year Ago

Northville's schools opened Tuesday with every indication pointing to a successful year with a full time principal G. V. Harrison, heading the high school program.

The Harry Meyers home, corner of Wing and Fairbairn avenue, was the scene at 7:30 a. m. Monday, Sept. 6 of the first fire of the season resulting from a defective chimney.

Miss Marian Sprague, of this place, became the bride of Monroe B. Weston son of Mrs. Joseph Weston, of Northville, Saturday, Sept. 4 when the Rev. Fred Joseph, of St. Paul's, officiated at the ceremony in the church of Our Lady of Victory.

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Jean Weston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Weston of Plymouth, to James I. Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lake of Northville, was celebrated at St. Paul's church in the morning of the first Presbyterian church.

Fifteen Years Ago

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones on DuPont street was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday when Miss Ida May Jones was united in marriage to George A. Hunt of Farmington.

Edgar Lyfe who had been having trouble between life and death for several days, died at Harper hospital at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday afternoon.

Caris Nelson, a gifted and handsome herd of Jersey cattle at the State fair last week and received 14 premiums for the 15 head he took to the show.

A pretty garden wedding took place last Wednesday evening at Maple Grove, the pleasant farm home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Becker in Northville township, when their daughter, Marie, was united in marriage to Otto Reamer of Plymouth.

The Masonic lodge rooms now present a very attractive and inviting appearance. The walls have been finished in gray with a cream ceiling and a brown stencil border and they are a great improvement over the old ones.

Twenty Years Ago

Second Lieutenant C. F. Murphy of the U. S. Field Artillery has been sent home from France, where he had been for several months past to take his turn as an instructor in one of the military camps.

Private Harold Turner, who has been on recruiting service with the Jackies band left Monday to begin training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Fred Hall for some time one of the Edison employees here, was instantly killed by coming in contact with high voltage street light wires last evening. From a shoe and fall from the same pole in trying to rescue him, Roy Cramer sustained serious injuries and is in Harper hospital.

Thirty Years Ago

The record building is ready for painting and will be ready for occupancy by Oct. 1.

In the ball game between Salem and Northville Saturday afternoon, Northville won out by a score of 11 to 10.

The first residents of O. Keupp's just delivered a new lot of eight a wedding present from his son, Thud.

T. G. (Rich) Davidson has certainly the "hottest" auto in this part of the district. It's a 22 h. p. 1930 model Buick. It is capable of skidding over the ground at the rate of 50 miles an hour and carries three passengers. Two horses from Rattenbury and Starkweathers farm wandered from pasture Monday to the Pere Marquette track near the condenser and were struck by the train and instantly killed. There are no cattle guards at this point and it is thought the railroad company will be liable for the damage.

Word has been received of the marriage of Miss Kate Kimmel and Mr. Elbert Ausable which occurred at the home of the bride Monday, Sept. 7. Miss Kimmel is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kimmel, who recently lived in Northville and are now visiting Northville relatives and friends.

Village Resort Prepares for Winter;

1,000 Children Answer Call of School

By C. E. HUTTON
She was a vision of delight
When first she dawned upon my sight.
But like an apparition, to stay
Only for a moment—
Then to fade away.

WALLED LAKE. Thus ended, it doth seem, in this fair hamlet, where the chime of summer regatta, the supreme. Ay, and whither legends do come from near and far, garbed in but raiment gossamer, haste to return from whence they came, and to their woolen underthings, lest hiping frosts reach out and leave their shins—

Ah, foolish one, who dost not know the radiance of an autumn glow; who now departs from field and wooded glen where fall, its beauties doth bestow, and then dost fail to stay for a quiver and shake amidst wintry blasts from off the lake—the bard of Walled Lake.

Which is to say, after a fashion, that our season is over. Summer has come, and now summer has gone. It seems only about three weeks ago that things were opening up for the summer hereabouts. By anyone was cleaning up, packing up, fixing up, making ready for the multiple hosts, which annually visit us during the balmy months. And now, with the passing of Labor Day, we're holding in, as 'twere, for a long, cold spell, in the offing. South shore activities cease with a seeming unfinished suddenness. Summer dwellings become "empty" and deserted overnight, leaving a ghostly atmosphere in the wake of yesterday's gaiety.

Winter is almost at hand. Winter, with its blustering winds and drifting snows, and fields of cold, gray ice. But we of the village remain—come what may. We are a little forlorn, a bit lonesome, it is true, at first, and for a while after you are gone. But we look forward with renewed interest to our gentle fall with its re-verse color and its golden harvest, and feel a little sorry for you who will miss it while secure in your winter habitation. Nor do we mind our winter, what with a bustling, community life to keep us busy with duties and pleasures of a gentleness and intimacy such as could never be known by the dwellers of great cities who have only summer and never wintered the life of a small community.

Yes, we're holding in, but our fire-places will burn as brightly while our cheer will as fully radiate in a life as complete as his who, come fall—fold his blanket like the Arab, and slumber away.

What about news? I must admit to ignorance of it, for the most part, this week. I have had a few things—pol news—to preoccupy my mind. There have been many things, capable to be mentioned in a column of personal items—those who have returned to their winter homes in widely separated parts of the land. I just haven't had time to gather in the information, and I'm sorry.

You know, of course, that school starts here—rather, started here this week, with approximately a thousand students trying to pack themselves into the Walled Lake building. The new four room addition is expected to be ready to use in about three weeks. Even then, the school will be overcrowded, and will be until the completion of the recently approved addition. Arrangements are being completed as rapidly as possible for actual construction work to get under way, but it is as yet unknown when the work will start.

If you attended the State Fair last Friday afternoon, and were within a block of the band shell, at around three o'clock, you probably heard, via the public address system, some high pressure plugging in me interests of Walled Lake, as ballyhooed by—guess who—me. The Community Luncheon club presented a one-hour, Walled Lake program for the occasion, featuring the high school band, which did so well they played there again Monday and are there today, the Melodists' choir, Barbara Thayer, violinist; and short talks by Messrs. Hoffman, Gilliam, Boach and Mrs. Margaret Mesnard, in which were contained more plugs. So, Walled Lake became a by-word for the folks at the fair, Friday. Although the free acts, heat by loud speakers and other things provided serious and I might say unfair competition.

Sunday marked the celebration of my wife's folks' golden wedding anniversary, which we all attended. Same being another reason for the lack of news in this week's column. Had the pleasure of writing an account of it for the Nashville and Hastings papers. Another reason why I must say so long for this time.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Hebr. 11:1-3). "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: (p. 300) "The universe reflect sand, expresses the divine substance of Mind, therefore God is seen only in the spiritual universe, and spiritual man, as the sun is seen in the ray of light which goes out from it."

"The Adventures of Robin Hood," Filmed in Technicolor Heads Week's Booking

"THE ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD"

Robin Hood! How strange the fascination, how thrilling the sound of these two words—the legendary name of a hunted outlaw—beloved by thousands of Englishmen.

Well, may it thrill for "The Adventures of Robin Hood," a Warner Bros. film in technicolor, starring Errol Flynn is coming Sunday and Monday, Sept. 11 and 12, to the Penniman-Alen theatre.

Rich in lore is the story of how a Saxon noble, Sir Robin of Locksley, the ablest archer in all England, gathered a band of stalwarts around him to harass the cruel Norman knights. How the outlawed Robin Hood plundered the rich and fed the poor has been sung and sung in ballads and has come down through the centuries—an incomparably fascinating story.

With this wealth of material did two Warner Bros. writers sit down to fashion the script, the pictureization of which is due to reach Northville.

"Constant readers" all over the world are probably going to take their pens in hand to launch loud and lusty complaints to newspaper editors when they get a glimpse of the line "Original story by Norman Reilly Raine and Seton I. Miller," which will flash on the screen among the credits for "The Adventures of Robin Hood."

Messrs. Raine and Miller when assigned to do the screen play on Robin Hood, discovered a great wealth of material through which they waded with mounting enthusiasm. After digesting several dozen different versions of the popular legend, still popular after eight centuries, they went back to the original sources—old ballads, and legends, some of them printed in the archaic English of Chaucer's day.

Having done this, they tossed away all the notes they had made and wrote a skilful story of the particular incidents of Robin Hood they remembered from their boyhood days.

The picture contains no end of battling with bows and arrows, quarter staff pikes and broadswords and has a particularly thrilling duel between Robin and Sir Guy. Immense scenic sets were built for "The Adventures of Robin Hood" described as the most elaborate film of the year. It is accompanied by a superb musical score, composed by Eric Wolfgang Korngold.

Association will be held Wednesday and Thursday Sept. 14 and 15, at Noon.

Frazer Warns Voters

Not To Lose Vote

James E. Frazer, prominent attorney and candidate for the Democratic nomination to the Probate Judgeship, today warned the people of Wayne county that if they are not careful they will invalidate their ballot by marking it wrong.

In his message to the voters Mr. Frazer stated: "The new election law states that when you enter your election booth you will be handed ballots fastened together which will contain the names of all men seeking office. When you go into the private booth to mark your ballot you must separate these ballot forms and vote only for candidates of one party by placing an 'X' before the names of the ones you favor. This ballot is to be folded in the usual manner and given to the election clerk as you leave. The unused ballots are also to be folded and given to the clerk. Be sure to vote for the candidates of one party only and be sure to tell the clerk which is the ballot you have marked. Failure to do so will invalidate your vote."

"TELEPHONE OPERATOR"

The employees of the Southern California Telephone company got a thrill when Judith Allen and Alice White, stars of Monogram's "Telephone Operator," which opens Wednesday, Sept. 14, at the Penniman-Alen theatre, came down to learn how to master the intricacies of the switchboard.

Two expert operators were assigned to teach Judith and Alice how to run the board, and although the "teachers" enjoyed their work thoroughly, the actresses, after wrestling with wires and cords and telephone numbers for a six hour shift, decided that running a switchboard was also an art.

"I felt very stupid," said Miss Allen. "It looked so easy when the regular girls were on the board but I soon discovered that running a switchboard is a very complicated job."

At the end of the day, Miss White wearily remarked that she now had a great admiration for anyone who was a good telephone operator. "Because I know what it takes," said she.

In "Telephone Operator," Judith Allen and Alice White play two expert operators who save a whole community when a flood washes away the town.

Others in the cast include Grant Withers, Warren Hymer and Pat Flaherty.

Stark was with him on the trip and states that the story is on the up and up but also adds that he lost one that was 2 feet 4 inches long, so all of the stories seem to be in the skyscraper class. However Al is backing up his story with the head of the large fish that he captured.

Dr. B. J. Hamilton

Seeks Coroner Post

Knowing that the office of Coroner should receive the services of a man equipped with a thorough knowledge of legal and judicial as well as medical procedure, I feel that my dual training in law and medicine fully qualifies me for the office. I seek the message to voters from Dr. Birch J. Hamilton, republican candidate for Wayne county coronator at the Primaries Sept. 13.

Dr. Hamilton proposes that new and scientific methods for investigation and research in crime detection be introduced into the coroner's office and that full cooperation be given all law enforcing agencies of the city, county and State, through extreme care in securing all facts and clues when the coroner is called to the scene of a crime. He further advocates a courteous conscientious policy towards all who have business with the coroner's office.

Today's conditions demand that economy be the first consideration in the operation of a public office. Dr. Hamilton proposes to administer the office of coroner as economically as possible consistent with efficiency.

Dr. Hamilton, a native of Ohio, moved to the State of Washington where he graduated in Law at Washington. Then in 1915 he graduated from Loyola College of Chicago in Medicine and Surgery. He has practiced medicine and surgery in Detroit for the past 21 years. He is married and has one daughter.

THE POWER OF AVERAGES

Have you ever noticed how much engineers and scientists make use of averages? We can enjoy the same advantages as they — only we don't think of using such data for our own benefit. Yet in your life and mine, there are many averages we could turn to our use. After all, it isn't what we do once that counts in life — it is our average performance that sets our pace. And it is these same averages that make or break us. What, for instance, is your average income? I know many commission salesmen who think their best weeks are their average weeks and try to live accordingly! I know fat people who eat a small breakfast or lunch, and themselves that that is the average food intake and go the limit at other meals! I know men who shoot craps, play poker or bet on horses who never think of averaging the losses with the winnings — and who seem to remember only the winnings! The cold facts of such experiences might make a difference in your behavior. The minute you begin to measure the facts of your life you begin to control your destiny. Why should we drift like leaves floating down a stream? What is your average time spent in profitable reading before you become conscious of visual fatigue? Of, had you realized you had quit reading because of visual fatigue? That's my most people don't read.

BARE lamp bulbs are harmful to eyesight

Here's how to cover them up!

RAW light is never good for your eyes. You know what happens if you try to read a book out-of-doors on a bright summer day, with dazzling sunlight on the page. You are forced to squint because of the glare, and before long the type is dancing before your eyes. If you continue, serious eyestrain may result. But if you move out of the bright sun, under the shade of a tree, you have perfect light. You can enjoy your reading in comfort.

The same thing is true of artificial light indoors. A bare lamp bulb is irritating. It is a glaring light source that causes you to squint if you look directly at it. And even if you do not look at it, it is still a possible source of eyestrain. You may find yourself frowning slightly as you read a book or newspaper, and rubbing your eyes as they rapidly become tired.

All lamp bulbs should be shaded. No matter where bare bulbs appear—on decorative wall brackets, in ceiling fixtures, on stairways or in your basement—there are suitable shades and fixtures designed to cover them. These shades and "light adaptors" are surprisingly inexpensive. Our Home-Lighting Advisors will be glad to tell you about them, and to check the lighting in your home without charge. Call your Detroit Edison office.

The Detroit Edison Company does not sell light adaptors or floor or table lamps. See them on display at department stores, lighting fixture stores or electrical dealers.

We'll Tell the World Michigan Has Apples

C. C. Taylor, Abbot, president of the Michigan Apple Institute, Inc. (right) and Secretary-manager R. J. Martin, of Bangor, review some of the plans their organization has for signing up Michigan's 10,000 commercial apple growers in an advertising campaign to sell their 1937 crop. Each grower is being asked to pledge 15-cent per bushel on his estimated harvest this fall. Funds up to $5,000 paid in for advertising purposes will be matched dollar for dollar by the state of Michigan in support of the campaign.

Fruits of Her Realm

Blossom Queen Alice Merson inspects a carload of Michigan-grown McIntosh Red on-track at the South Haven Fruit Exchange. "They're crisp and juicy," she decides. "Folks in some town are going to get a real break if all the apples on board taste as good as this one."

The Chinese Li
The Chinese Li is a measure of length, is the equivalent of one hundredth of a day's walk, on the level, this slightly exceeds one-third of an English mile, but in hilly country it might be as little as one-eighth of a mile.

CAR ACCIDENT FATAL TO FRANK VAN ATTA

An automobile accident which occurred late Thursday afternoon, Sept. 1, on Grand River near the Kemp bridge, and the Duncan gas station was responsible for the fatal injuries sustained by Frank Van Atta, 67, of South Lyon, who died Tuesday at the Mellus hospital in Brighton.

Mrs. Van Atta, who was also in the car, is critically injured and is confined to the Mellus hospital.

Mr. Van Atta was the brother of Mrs. Grace Stark of 124 Randolph street, Northville.

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 8, from the Phillips Funeral home in South Lyon.

ROBINSON NAMES SHERIFF PLATFORM

"If elected, I will chop away the deadwood and save the taxpayers some money," says Harold C. Robinson, republican candidate for sheriff, 1941 Argyle Crescent, Detroit, who is of English-Scottish ancestry and a member of the Episcopal church.

Robinson is president of the Film Truck Service and is vice-president of the Variety club, president of the Robinson-Spicer Motor sales, member of International Police Chiefs association, member of Michigan Police Chiefs association, member of Southeastern Michigan Police Chiefs association. For about two years, he was undersheriff during the regime of Sheriff Henry Behrendt.

"I resigned as undersheriff because I couldn't stand the way things were going in that office," Robinson said.

"There is too much wasted effort and money. The office of sheriff is a back number. Its only valuable functions today are to provide a warden and guards for the county jail and process servers and guards for the court. If I am elected, I will restrict its activities to those spheres and eliminate the road patrol, detective bureau and all that sort of thing," Robinson declares.

Stanley C. Barker "Preferred" By Citizens' League

Stanley C. Barker, republican candidate for the State Senate in this district, pointed to the following experiences he has had as he came to the closing days of the campaign. He has been a practicing lawyer since 1929 and as such has represented large numbers of poor people who have lost their cars because they could not pay for them, and then found themselves being sued for the difference; and because of this experience advocates drastic reform in "small loan laws" looking toward protection of Mr. Average Citizen.

Mr. Barker is a small home owner who pays taxes like Mr. Average Citizen and, therefore, asks that the outworn practice of refusing welfare relief to a family until after it loses its home be changed so as to give the home owner-taxpayer a chance to save his home by having

TAKE MOTOR TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dean, Miss Dorothy Dean and Mrs. Eva Johnson returned Thursday, Sept. 1, from a motor trip along the St. Lawrence river road. They stopped at the Thousand Island Park.

Fig Not a Fruit
The fig is not really a fruit, but a fleshy growth which issues from the trunk and limbs of the tree without any flower preceding it. The real fruits are what we call the seeds inside the fig.

Clyde V. Fenner - State Sen. - Rep. (Paid Pol. Adv.)

the welfare give usual aid, and pay the land contract payments while the man is out of work, on condition that the man repay the principal advanced on the contract when he returns to work. The welfare department could hold the land contract in "escrow" until the family had repaid the principal advanced. Thus home ownership would stay in Michigan instead of going East.

Judge Barker has represented more than fifty taxpayers' associations, home owners organizations and PTAs during the last several years.

He is preferred by the Detroit Citizens' League, Republican Servicemen's League and other civic organizations in all parts of the 18th district.
