TAX REFUND IS PUZZLER IN VILLAGE

Mayor Arthur Nichols Asks
Attorneys To Explain
Settlement.

Questions concerning the paying tax refund, brought before members of the village council Monday evening, have led to the writing of a letter to Village Attorney Fred J. Cochran and Attorney John L. Crandell asking that they appear before the council at the Oct. 3 public meetings to clarify any misunderstandings villagers may have on the matter.

The letter to notify Mr. Cochran and Mr. Crandell of the meeting was written by the village clerk, Mrs. Mary Alexander, at the request of Mayor Arthur S. Nichols with the approval of the councilmen who heard the inquiries made Monday evening by Harry Murphy, Oral B. Hubbard, Harold Hubbard, E. M. Flaherty and Leland W. Smith.

Mr. Murphy, Mr. Hubbard, Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Flaherty came before members of the council asking advice on the paying refund payment which was made to Hubbard, Murphy and Hubbard concerning that the payment should have been made to them. Mayor Nichols informed the men that the matter was between Crandell and them and that the village had no jurisdiction in the matter but because Cochran had signed papers in the tax refund settlement in behalf of the village, Mayor Nichols and the councilmen are of the opinion that a public explanation of the manner of handling the settlement should be made. Mr. Flaherty asserted that there were others in Northville who were just as puzzled as he over the procedure.

"I think we should have Cochran and Crandell and the people who have complaints attend a meeting and settle this thing once and for all" was the comment made by Commissioner Carl Scholtz.

COUNCILMEN BUY 3 NEW EXTINGUISHERS FOR TRUCK AND HALL

The efficiency of the Northville Fire Department was increased Monday evening when the members of the village council authorized the purchase of an instant extinguisher for the fire truck in addition to two small extinguishers for the first and second floors of the Village Hall.

Either of the two extinguishers which are to be placed in the Village Hall can be replaced for the one which is now used in the police car.

Councilmen voted to buy the equipment from Frank Holt of South Lyon, upon the recommendation of Chief Fred Hicks who said that the extinguisher for the fire truck would be handy and a needed protection. The only extinguisher in the building now is in the basement.

When asked by Mayor Arthur S. Nichols what he thought of the instant fire extinguisher for the fire truck, Mr. Hicks said he would like to use one very much. It is the ideal equipment to use for handling a fire in a home where the place has much of a story.

Northville Merchants Band Together To Offer New Fall Merchandise on Dollar Day

The American dollar will gain new importance in Northville next Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 it is predicted by local merchants who are now preparing to offer the values of the year in the semi-annual Dollar Days.

This renewal of a popular bargain event will be announced fully in next week's issue of the Record, but Friday Merchants have termed this the "Bigger Dollar" Dollar Days sale because they will take full advantage of market conditions in offering the biggest bargains in the history of Northville dollar sales.

Merchandise offered in this event will be new and timely, business men promise. Many stores have special purchases of fresh stock in order to present the best possible values. Prices will be in effect both Friday and Saturday, but early shopping is advised to permit the best selection.

Because of pay-days falling on or just before the great bargain days, pocketbooks will be better prepared for the temptation of unbelievably low prices. All Northville will be the mecca of all smart dollars and thrifty buyers when September boys out and October boys in.

R. J. KING UNFOLDS MYSTERY OF PAINT

Exchanges Hear Story of White Lead Given by Guest

The mystery that reposes in a can of paint was unfolded Wednesday before the Exchange club in a talk by H. J. King, district manager for the Sherwin-Williams company. The speaker appeared before the club as the guest of R. J. Hammermeister.

"Terminology white lead is 'body' of all good paints and linseed oil is the life of the product," Mr. King told the interesting story of paints from the source of materials in Magdalena Mexico, to its use on various surfaces. Mexico is the source of lead which is converted into white lead through the use of acetic acid and tanning bark. Samples of lead in its various stages before milling were displayed by the speaker.

The success of any paint job depends first on the preparation of the surface to receive the finish, and the quality and nature of the priming coat. In the priming coat, Mr. King averred, synthetic finishes, assembled from elements used in substitution for more natural materials, are crowding out paints from the scene. Mr. King cited Henry Ford's use of outside paint on the Ford Rotunda in which soy bean oil was substituted for linseed oil. Time and study will bring improved formulas for the use of synthetic elements, he predicted.

The Rev. H. J. Lora presided in the absence of Ray J. Castellino. Cyril N. Frid attended the luncheon as a guest of the club, and Dr. R. M. Atchison took his regular place after absence occasioned by illness.

NEW ENTRANCE TO RURAL HILL WILL BE BUILT

Sidewalk Project To Be Completed Within Two Weeks

Upon the completion in two weeks of the WPA sidewalk project, a new entrance (also a WPA enterprise) will be constructed at the Rural Hill cemetery using a government allotment of $11,478 which was applied for by members of the village commission. June 24, with the understanding that no taxes or assessments will be levied to cover the amount of federal funds expended on this project.

Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery says that between 25 and 30 men will be employed on the project which will be started just as soon as the sidewalks are completed.

We're putting in new sidewalks on the north side now. We have yet to build a 600-foot running walk between Johnson and Gardner avenues. About 400 feet of new walk in Orchard street will be completed by the jobs on the walk proposition, but of course there are still a number of patch jobs yet to do," explains Mr. Montgomery.

As many as 92 men are sent out from the Detroit office Wednesday morning to report for duty on the sidewalk project. In fact Mr. Montgomery points out, there have been two many men for the size of the job.

When we put about 40 here on the part of the job, that was enough doing us 20 for each shift. It is understood that lack of funds will be the cutting down of the work at the end of this week.

The sidewalk construction project is estimated to cost $4,000 and will be completed by the end of the month.

IS SHERIFF CANDIDATE

Word has been received here that Alexander Rennie is the democratic candidate for sheriff of Grand Traverse county, opposing David Core, republican. The Rennie family formerly lived in Northville. Mr. Rennie was the Ford dealer succeeded by Tom Edmondson.

CHIEF GERMAN GIVES 3 SPEEDERS TICKETS

Villagers and Detroiters alike are fuming that Chief Loy M. German's warning against traffic violations was not merely a temporary policy of the Northville Police Department.

Last week three speeders (two Detroiters and one villager) were given tickets for traffic violations in Northville. A Plymouth motorist failed to obey a traffic stop sign, and was given a ticket.

Councilmen Vote To Turn on Two Lights in Village

Commissioner George A. Hicks reports on the village street lighting situation given Monday evening when councilmen met in the Village Hall led to action by the group, which will result in the turning on of two street lights.

A light is to be turned on in the section on Cadz street, east from Church street to the foundry, where there has been no light used for several years.

A second light is to be put into use on East Dunlap street, between Center and Huron streets, which like East Cady, has been in need of more light for a long time.

The light in front of the DesAutels home, is to be turned on as soon as notification is given by Edison company by Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery who has been given instructions by the council.

SPORTSMEN ADOPT WILLIAMSTON PLAN

Take Protection Measures for Game Rights in Northville Area

The Western Wayne County Wildlife association at a meeting at the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth, recently adopted the Williamston plan for the protection of game rights in the Northville-Plymouth area. Under the plan an attempt will be made to obtain the cooperation of farmers who will allow their properties to be hunted only if permission is obtained from the hunters association. It has been found that this plan makes for better hunting and also protects the property of farmers through the mutual interest of both parties.

PLACES ARE FOUND FOR 2 MORE BOYS

E. V. Ellison reports that two more high school boys have been placed in the apprenticeship plan which is being put into use in the Northville school system for the first time this year.

Sidney J. Wood, a sophomore, has started work at the E-S-Speed gasoline station. Lee Thompson who is class president as a senior, is to be placed in the same position at the E-S-Speed station.

Commissioner George A. Hicks reports that the use of Thompson's name in the apprenticeship plan is being put into use in the Northville school system for the first time this year.

Ghost Light, a First Novel, Comes from the Pen of Miss Irene Fennell, Sessions Hospital Superintendent

Ghost Light, the first novel to come from the pen of Miss Irene Fennell, superintendent of Sessions hospital, gives promise of coming off the presses in time for Christmas season circulation following the signing Sept. 21 of a contract with the Pegasus Publishing company.

Miss Fennell, who has been in Northville for the past 10 years used her home background in northern Ontario for the setting of her book, a love story, which took her a year to write.

Since the book was in the rough, incomplete sketch, it has been passed from the bed of one patient to another at the hospital where its reading made the hours of the sick go by in pleasant fashion. So absorbed did the patients become in the story that the nurses often had difficulty in enforcing orders for treatment and complete rest left by the doctors.

Miss Fennell would not allow the patients to read Ghost Light. "I cannot get them to put out their lights until they have finished their book," she says. "I have found that this plan makes for better hunting and also protects the property of farmers through the mutual interest of both parties. This plan will be put into effect in the Williamston area."

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S SPONSORS WILL MEET

Two-Day Session Starts Sept. 30; Villagers To Attend

Perce Amodeo, vice-president of the International Society for Crippled Children, announced that the annual meeting of the Michigan Society will be held in Detroit Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. The headquarters will be at the Hotel Statler.

Mr. Amodeo who is chairman of the program and arrangements for the publication of a book on "Crippled Children" will be in Northville for the two-day session. The Friday morning session will be held at the Hotel Statler. The Saturday morning session will be held at the Hotel Statler.

PRISON STAFF EXPECTS CUT IMMEDIATELY

Withdrawal of Men State Prisoners Makes Change Necessary

A reorganization of the prison staff of the Detroit House of Correction looms in the immediate future because of economic losses and the recent arrangement with State officials for the withdrawal of all State prisoners from the institution except women, according to information released by John P. O'Hara, vice-president of the House of Correction Commission, who points out that more than a score of employees will have to be dismissed.

In a meeting Monday held at the institution, a resolution made in 1926 which placed the House of Correction employees under civil service was re-examined. The resolution was passed by the commission to effect its reorganization program without having to comply with civil service regulations.

Edward Pre, president of the Municipal Employees club informed persons at the meeting that the reorganization of city employees would mean the commission move with 2000 employees at its command.

How many of the 127 permanent employees in the institution will be dropped from the payroll, a Blake Gibbs superintendent does not know at this time. He has been ordered by the commission to make up a list of employees within the next three weeks. The list will be given to the House of Correction.

HOME REMODELING OVERSHADOWS NEW CONSTRUCTION HERE

Home improvement overshadowed new building activity here a survey of the village revealed this week. With the construction of a new outside garage, Clyde Castellino is completing an extensive program of remodeling at his home at 448 High Street. Mrs. Castellino is enjoying the transformation of a home and is remodeling built-in cabinets, new built-in new vanes and doors. Part of the remodeling has been partitioned off and a study room created. The restoration and a new room is being redecorated with new sidewalk and a new entrance to the front of the property.

New sidewalks also will be on the corner of the street property at the corner of Walled Lake and High Street. Mrs. Castellino is completing a garage at the rear of his property. The home of Clarence Sroebner at 317 Randolph street has had its old facade and a new one of asbestos siding applied. A new front porch and new flooring and improved lighting are other changes here. This is the former Moose place.

Nearby the home of Edward H. Lapman 239 High street is receiving new roofing and the house at 448 Randolph street has been partially resingled.

HOLDS DRUG SALE
A two-for-one sale, featuring two items at the regular price of one, begins Saturday at The Northville Drug store. It is announced elsewhere in this issue of the Record. The event closes Saturday, Oct. 1.

THOCKMORTON TO SPEAK SATURDAY IN NORTHVILLE

It Does Take Courage

Let us have the courage to stop borrowing to meet continuing deficits; stop the deficits.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, July 30, 1932.

You Can Hardly Blame Them

An unusually well-informed man tells us this: Scores of smaller industries in Detroit, driven almost to desperation by the increasing costs of labor production, are looking around the State with a view to locating in the smaller cities. Leaders of these industries certainly will not go on year after year tolerating all the grief, such as the CIO disasters have been making during the past year.

And Think As You Look

The next governor of Michigan will be chosen from two men who have been the chief executive of this great State—Frank D. Fitzgerald or Frank Murphy. You are not asked to pick between unknowns. A lot will depend on what the state of Michigan does in the next two years—it may mean a lot to you personally and to your own family.

How Many Friends Have You in Northville?

Within the last few months a comparatively new comer to Northville complained to us rather bitterly that he had found few friends here. We said to this man: "You ought to have many real friends. There is just as much chance for the kind of friends that count here in Northville as anywhere else in the world. A lot of us have many acquaintances, but a very limited number of that other type of people—friends."

Roosevelt Purge Flivvers

The purge is working beautifully—for the republicans.

The above sentence is from the editorial column of the Detroit News. No longer is President Roosevelt seen as the master politician. The failure of his attempt to defeat those in Congress who would not be 100 per cent "yes men" has been so complete and stunning that it will rank among the major debacles of his administration.

A man just returned from Maryland told us that the people of that State were very resentful of what they termed the President's attempt to run their affairs. In fact, this man told us that he talked to several Maryland voters who said they were for Mr. Lewis (the Roosevelt candidate) but would vote for Senator Trivings just to punish the President for his "butting in."

One of the finest things that ever happened to the country was the refusal of the voters from coast to coast to have a "yes man" Congress. Thanks to their independence, the three branches of our government still function. The nation is not yet ready for a dictator.

Where Will It Stop?

A conscientious Washington official in the treasury department tells his friends he has become almost hopeless about government finances.

The above sentence is taken from the Kansas City Times. It expresses the sentiments of a great many thoughtful people in these days when spending wild sums for taxes is taken as more or less a joke. Just how long can we go on joking this way?

Take the case of California, where a candidate for the United States senate was chosen lately pretty much because he promised to pay every person above the age of fifty $30 every week. Of course, as the Kansas City paper pointed out, the whole scheme is "perfectly crazy." Should California pass this law and find some way to pay to everybody above fifty $30 a week, it would cost the State nearly two billion dollars a year. Does anybody with an ounce of brains have any idea that this terrific sum could be raised even in so rich and resourceful a State as California?

If you care anything about your money or that of your neighbors, take the case of Michigan! We are not as wild

Charlotte Editor Predicts Victory By Fitzgerald

Charles E. DeFoe, editor of the Charlotte Republican Tribune, one of the keenest political commentators of the State, predicts that Frank Fitzgerald will decisively defeat Governor Murphy in the November election. Mr. DeFoe, a former Secretary of former Governor Charles S. Osborn, probably is one of the best informed country editors on State political conditions. He has the following comment on the recent primary in the last issue of the Charlotte Republican Tribune:

His emphatic primary majority has broken down the democratic strategy to charge Fitzgerald with being the machine candidate.

The republican voters have passed on that myth. This issue was decisively beaten in the counties Wayne and Kent—where this alleged combination is supposed to exist, and by cross section majorities that will make further attempts to revive the issue look like straight comedy.

The McKayism bugaboo is back in the political moth balls to stay. As a matter of fact, the rank and file voter is so sick of the New Deal philosophies that McKay could be elected, in November, almost as easily as Fitzgerald. White House interference, rubber stamp lackeys, etc., is the answer to what happened and why on Tuesday. Look at the diminishing democratic vote in every Michigan county from Kent to Keweenaw and you have the president's purge in reverse.

How long will it be before we wake up? Or will we go to the ultimate end of bankruptcy? Not even a State or a nation can lift itself by its bootstraps.

Wandering Thoughts It sometimes helps to see "the funny side."

Nomination for a good Northville booster—Chief Loyie M. Germain.

It is amazing how close to Northville is the war news. The conflict here is so small as it is now.

A fast age and no looking! The airplane record is now 257.59 miles an hour. And some cars race down Northville streets at 70 miles an hour.

What are we going to do with that apparently increasing number of people who think that the government should support them, yet have an honest return in work?

What a marvelous autumn is about here. We know people who think it is the most glorious season of the year. If we had the time and could afford to go to the northern part of the State, we could see some coloring.

A man who is a good deal and meets many people tells us this: "They are increasing sentiment everywhere. It goes among people that the high cost of taxes and the rising cost of government must stop. I predict that the rising indignation of the people will be registered before long in the ballot box."

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

One Year Ago: More than 2000 persons crowded Northville's business district Wednesday night for the harvest festival which marked the final merchants' event in the first series.

Two years ago: The public life career of Charles L. Blackburn came to an end at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 21 following a heart attack suffered at his home on East Main street.

Ten Years Ago: Following another special meeting of the village commission held Saturday afternoon to consider the high street paving problem, the commission decided to change the plans of paving of the street. The boulevard plan has been abolished and in its place a paving 36 feet wide will be put down.

Orville Porter, who has been associated with the Stinson Aircraft corporation for the past year, is one of the crew selected by Capt. Watkins on his South Pole exploration trip.

Rev. William Richards will, Sunday enter upon his seventh year as pastor of the First Methodist church of Northville.

E. C. Langfield business manager of the Northville Community band, and Director Head are lending their assistance to the officials and residents of the village.

Fifteen Years Ago

William Salow is building a handsome residence in Orchard Heights on the Eschery road. While working in the C. R. Ely coal yards in this village one day last week, Charles H. Ely had the misfortune to have a large piece of coal roll against his left leg and as a result his ankle bone was broken, although he did not realize it until a couple of days after the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dolph left yesterday for the East. They will spend Sunday with Mr. Dolph's father at Bradford, Conn., and on Monday will go to Springfield, Mass., to attend the annual convention of National Exchange clubs.

Twenty Years Ago

Through the American automobile association the U. S. Fuel Administration has requested the Northville Automobile club to assist the government in furthering the observance of the gasoline-less Sunday.

The beautiful weather Monday helped greatly in the final preparations for the reception of visitors to Northville's second annual fair, and although Tuesday forenoon was rather rainy, the work went on in good shape. By the close of Tuesday afternoon nearly all the exhibits—except the babies—were in place.

Ed Thompson and Al Bowman, who were hurt last Thursday afternoon when the former's threshing engine went through the Atwater street bridge are getting along nicely. Mr. Thompson escaped with only a few bruises while Mr. Bowman had a rib cracked over the heart blades being badly bruised.

As a Randolph is having a new kind of fence placed in front of his residence. It is wire with large slope posts and will make a very neat and pretty fence when completed.

An auto-pulling van from Detroit ran into town Tuesday and was the center of attraction for all the small boys and big one foot. It was here, of the purpose of moving Mrs. Lee's household goods to Detroit where she and her daughter expect to reside.

New Turntable To Be Used from 8 to 11:30 in Gymnasium

The Student Council, ruling body of N. H. S., is sponsoring the first dance of the year tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. Dancing will continue until 11:30 p. m.

Mayo, Jack McCrumb announced that as the music will come from a turntable owned by the council, the dancers will have their choice of any number of big name orchestras.

Admission to the dance is 15 cents a person. Mr and Mrs G. V. Harrison will chaperone the occasion.

SO THEY SAY

By KEN CHAPPELL

Well, gals and fellas, we're back again starting another year and wondering what will make this one any different from the ones just past. It seems that Willie Whipple, Warren Bogart, Kenmie Martens and Ray Parmenter have met a girl called Kay from Novi and since that time, traffic as a lot heavier over in that direction. They say that the Novi chief of police has an extra traffic cop to keep things straight in Novi between 7 and 10:30 every night since school started.

Wanda Benda has been walking in a dream lately and saying her name is Wanda Heiter by mistake every once in a while. Leonard Fritz, Bill Washburne and a few other noted guys have just out with a certain blonde called Norma Ward. Tough luck, boys. Every once in a while Homer Eckholdt gets bored with his classes, then he starts his would-be-clever rhyming. Here are some he passed across to Don Wilber the other day and chortled.

Bel you can't match this. Mary, quite contrary. How does your garden grow? Silver bells and cockle shells. And the rest haven't come up yet. Well that's not so hard. He said so. Ruffled this one. "Little Miss Muffet. Sit on a Tuffet. Eating her curds and whey. Along came a spider. And sat down beside her and asked: 'In this seat taken?' We only hope your rhyming gets better fella, or things brighten up a bit in class. Ken Willis said that he read a swell piece of advice the other night that said it's better to remain silent and be thought dumb than to speak and remove all doubt. Thanks he'll follow it from now on.

Henry Porter is out for football this year only to be a greater ladies' hero, according to D. A. Julian. Thieme can't make up his mind whether it's A or H. Dick A says that the latest romance is one with Dale Bray and Dorothy H. Margaret Zayz stepped down off the curb into the path of Wilfred Wilson's roadster. Wilfred, how the girls do fall for you. E. C. Mollema shocked his first hour World History class and possibly spoiled their lunch hour by telling them of the process of Egyptian embalming. Charles Altman is likely to start in the moving business since his experience in helping the Mollemas move into their new place on Grace avenue.

SEVERAL NEW BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Following is a list of new books that are now on the shelves of the Northville high school library. Resumes of these books may be obtained from Miss Frank W. Hawkins.

Junior high books include the following: Buttons by Tom Robinson; French Canada; Stories and Pictures by Hazel Boswell; The Great Road by Frederic Arnold Kummer; Sou'wester Goes North by Arthur Baldwin; Trudi and Hansel by Avel Duemuth; and Josie and Joe by Ruth Gibson Plowhead.

The senior high additions are: Honey of the Nile by Erick Berry; Penn by Elizabeth Janet Gray; The Mystery and the Detective, a recommended collection by Williams; and also A Collection of Present Day Essays by Ward.

Editor's Note...

While the youth of Europe is tense under the impending threat of war, boys and girls of the United States look forward to a year of healthy sports and youthful activity. Having always lived in a land where free thought and action are as much a part of life as breathing and taxes, the thought arises as to whether the advantages offered to us are always appreciated. The students of Northville high school are participating in various phases of work, play and study which appeal to them as individuals. But are they making the most of it? Right here in school, instructors are ready and eager to help us get the largest possible benefits from our high school education, but many of us shy away from a teacher as if he were poison. Our minds are not

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK AS SEEN BY COACH

The football team has good possibilities, remarked Coach Harry B. Smith when asked about Northville high school's outlook for the coming season.

"We have as many backfield men as linemen, so that we are well supplied with more men for every position that are needed. Thus the chances for substitution will be made much easier in the coming season. The backfield is light this year, but it is fairly fast."

JOURNALISM CLASS SEES RECORD OFFICE

The journalism class of our high school visited The Northville Record office Thursday afternoon. It saw the paper being printed and tried to learn a little about the evolution of a newspaper.

It was welcomed by Miss Virginia Anderson and R. T. Baldwin, who introduced us to V. R. Hassler, the advertising manager, and later to Frank Hart, who then showed us the mechanical side of a newspaper.

First we saw the linotype, which is a huge machine with a keyboard similar to a typewriter upon which the dummy of the newspaper is to

N. H. S. TEAM HAS FIRST CLASH TODAY

Northville Squad To Meet Walled Lake Players on Their Field

Coach Harry B. Smith sends the N. H. S. football squad out to meet Walled Lake on their own field at 4 p. m. Friday, Sept. 23.

The Captain Says

Warren Bogart has devised a new way of punting and that is, either in his stockings or barefoot. So far he averages ten to twenty yards more than he can with his football shoes on. Wonder what he'll do when snow comes?

There's a boy on our team this year that weighs 205 pounds. When you hit him he's like a brick wall. They didn't have a pair of pants to fit him so they had to send for new ones. Well that won't be much different than it will be when Bob Beasley and Stodge Strench grow up.

George Houghton is from our rival town Plymouth and he'll help us to beat them when they come over Nov. 18.

GRADE ACTIVITIES SEEN BY REPORTER

The grade school is buzzing once more with plans made by the teachers and students. As the Orange and Black reporter looked around here is what was discovered.

The Farmers' Corner

By E. I. BESEMER, County Agent

A hybrid corn field meeting to study the results of the field demonstration on five varieties as compared to the local variety will be held on the farm of George and James Renton, Belleville, at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Sept. 28. The farm is on the Martinville road between Savage and Hull roads.

The varieties in the demonstration are Wisconsin 606, Michigan 361, DeKalb 202, Pickett, and Ohio 823, compared with two local varieties a yellow dent and a white cap yellow dent.

Professor A. R. Marston, crops specialist, Michigan State college, will be present to conduct the official weighing and harvest records. He will also discuss hybrid corn and its possibilities. All interested in hybrid corn are invited to attend.

Sored grain may become infested with insects and a large loss incurred. In order to prevent damage the grain should be fumigated as soon as insects are noticed use 2 pounds of propylene dichloride mixture to each 100 cubic feet of space under the cover. Temperature of the grain must be about 70 degrees Fahrenheit and fumigation continued for 48 hours.

Weight of the dairy cow and the volume of milk she is giving determine largely the amount of feed necessary during the winter when pasture is no longer available, says C. F. Huffman of the Michigan State college dairy husbandry staff.

An approximate "rule of thumb" guide is to feed 3 pounds of silage for each 100 pounds of weight, thus, a 1,000-pound cow would require 30 pounds of silage. Twice daily the cow should have all the good hay she will eat, and no grain should be fed a cow producing less than 16 pounds of milk. The amount of grain to be added at the rate of one-half pound for each pound of milk produced over 16.

A more exact guide to the feeding of dairy cattle is contained in "Feeding Recommendation for 1938-39" issued by the dairy husbandry department of Michigan State college. East Lansing, a publication which will be sent free upon request.

According to this guide the amount of grain depends on the breed, the volume of milk produced and the quality of roughage fed. A Jersey or Guernsey cow producing less than 14 pounds of milk and getting all the good alfalfa hay she can eat, should get no grain but for every pound of milk over 14 pounds she should get one-half lb. of grain. A Holstein that is giving only 25 pounds of milk or less needs no grain, but for every pound of milk over 20 she should get four-tenths of a pound of grain. Tests at Michigan State college show Ayrshires should be given slightly less grain than Jerseys and more than Holsteins for each pound of milk over 20.

The dairyman says Dr. Huffman must be guided also by the condition of the cows. If they are getting thin, give them more grain and conversely. They should be kept in a medium state of flesh - neither fat nor thin.

OBITUARY

MRS. LENA CARNES

The Eastlawn Stethoscope, lost one of its most valued contributors Sept. 16 when death claimed Mrs. Lena Marie Carnes, associate editor who had been a Reporter and feature writer for several years. She took the post of associate editor in August, 1936, immediately becoming an inspiration to the entire staff.

A patient at the sanatorium for over eight years, Mrs. Carnes had made a gallant fight against tuberculosis and was looking forward to getting her discharge when an acute relapse proved fatal.

Her sudden death came as a terrible shock because all those who came in contact with Mrs. Carnes could not fail but to love and respect her, whether patient or member of the staff, for her sterling qualities of loyalty, gentleness and thoughtfulness. She was truly a grand person to know. She took an active part in all the patient activities and always was willing to do her bit for the good of all.

Mrs. Carnes was laid to rest at Sharon, Pa. the home of her parents. She leaves behind a husband and a son Royal 11 years of age. By Robert Lang of The Stethoscope staff.

Has your child a GOOD STUDY LIGHT?

SCHOOL days are here again, and children will spend many hours indoors—studying, reading and writing under artificial illumination. Has YOUR child a good study light?

The lighting of a child's study desk should receive careful consideration, because this is a place where young eyes are being used constantly on tasks requiring close visual application. Children tend to be careless of such things as proper light... and abuse of the eyes through poor illumination often results in eyestrain and impaired vision. This is doubly regrettable when GOOD lighting is so cheap and easy to provide.

An I. E. S. reflector-type table lamp, equipped with a 100- or 150-watt bulb, makes an ideal study light. There are also many excellent Pin-It-Up lamps on the market—using the principle of the reflector-bowl under the shade—that furnish good lighting. (These lamps may be pinned on the wall directly over the child's desk.) Perhaps you have a floor or table lamp of your own, one that is perfectly good but which was purchased some years ago and lacks the advantages of a reflector-bowl under the shade. In this case you may buy for very little money a clever new unit called an "I. E. S. adaptor," which transforms the old lamp into one utilizing the principle of a modern Better Light - Better Sight lamp. A diffusing bowl under the shade eliminates glare and assures pleasant illumination.

Our Home Lighting Dept. will be glad to help you with any lighting problem you may have. Call your Detroit Edison office. The Detroit Edison Company does not sell lighting fixtures or light adaptors. See them on display at department stores, lighting fixture stores or electrical dealers.
