They'd Be Glad To See You

The other evening we did a strange thing — went calling on some friends. Calling is a little out of date so at first we hardly knew how to act.

Something We Can't Dodge

It just seems impossible to keep off the tax question. In an article we have just read, we learn the sad news that we have the unenviable distinction of having caught up with the English in paying taxes.

An Experiment in Relief

An experiment in giving relief to people is being tried out in Edmonton, Alberta, a thriving Canadian western city. It has so much sense to it that maybe some day it will be tried out in Michigan.

How Many People Are Courteous?

If tomorrow morning you had to start out to make your living by going from door to door, office to office or from store to store, selling something, how many people do you think would treat you courteously?

IN EUROPE

As this is being written the decision for war or peace in Europe is not made. The French have called to Uncle Sam to come over and help stop Hitler in his headlong course. England's prime minister has returned from his dramatic flight to visit Hitler.

meet all the ambitions of the European language groups without destroying any. All the powers of Europe are our to take everything and give nothing, and the devil take the hindmost.

We will do well to keep out of Europe's mess. With the killing machine running over to the west of us, and looting up to the brim across the eastern ocean, we will not find it easy to stay clear.

The protection afforded American citizens by the Constitution becomes apparent under a turbulent situation such as now exists. The Founding Fathers wisely safeguarded the interests of the common people by reserving to the Congress the power to declare war.

Congressional Comment

Today the fate of Europe is solely within the mind of one man — Hitler — and before you read this that continent may be in the throes of another war which will completely eclipse the sacrifice, horror and destruction of the World War.

There's Good News in Walled Lake About the Tax Situation; Township School Levy Will Not Be Increased

By C. E. HUTTON

WALLED LAKE — The lead-off item of this week's news gist of at least two items — maybe three — concerns TAXES. School taxes. The jitters which made up the opposition to an increase in school tax limitation while back, should take heart in learning that despite the fact that we are about to build a $120,000 addition to our local school, no increase in the township school tax levy is slated for this year.

The reason is also contrary to all of the misinformation which was copiously spread around the district before the recent election by unformed self appointed "opposition leaders."

Due to the shrewd and excellent handling of the district's business affairs by the present school administration, the healthy financial condition of the district makes it unnecessary to raise more than the normal amount of money contained in an ordinary tax for next year's operations.

And that isn't all. It should be a further source of relief to all concerned to learn that the bond issue will be $10,000 less than was called for in the original proposal, due again to wise administration.

Whereas the district voted to bond for $53,600, it is now found that only $43,600 will be necessary. Advertising of the bonds for sale has already been done, and bids will be opened Oct. 3. Plans for the addition have been completed and are now in the hands of PWA engineers for approval. Actual construction is expected to start before the middle of October.

Officers and leaders of the Dearborn Methodist church will hold a retreat at the Walled Lake church Saturday, of this week. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss and make plans for their church year. At 3:30 p. m. there will be a program of devotions and meditation, followed by a dinner at the church at 5:45 o'clock. The evening session will have as speaker the Rev. Frank N. Miner of Walled Lake.

Ed Welch — you know Ed — or do you? Well, anyway, Ed threw his arm out again, the other day. Funny, thing about Ed's arm. It got that way about four years ago, somehow. Ever since then it hasn't been right. This time a neighbor was driving by and Ed just waved at him, and out went his arm while in midair, so to speak. That's like my wife's knee. She twisted it one time while ago, playing golf. It hurt considerable for a spell, and then seemed to ease up. But just the other day it, caved in again, nearly spilling her. Parthena Philip said those things just have to out-grow themselves. Nothing you can do about it. She said Vera-Philip had a knee like it and it was better than a year getting over it. Doc Lindsey said about the same thing, for that matter. Funny about stuff like that. Take Frank Turtle's knee, last winter. He could hardly bend over for a week or so. Just had to wear off. Same way with Ira Carnes. His knee took him all of a sudden, and he walked like he was 80 years old. Left him just as quick as it came, too. Like Bill Parmenter's shirt neck he got when he misjudged the distance down to the chair he was sitting down in. All he could do to get up again. He's about over it now, though.

Even If Europe Does Take Up Arms, America Can Keep Out of Dispute

By FRID WALKER NEAL

The transcendental question of War or Peace may have been answered one way or another by the time The Record reaches its readers. Tomorrow the deadline of Chancellor Hitler's ultimatum to Czechoslovakia will have expired, and as these lines are written, the odds are against peace. Yet it is hoped that, through a last minute plea, to whatever sanity the German dictator may have, Armageddon will have been staved off.

But regardless of how the question of peace or war will have been answered in Europe, the United States still has its mind to make up on the issue. The question is not so significant in its relation to America simply because we do not have to give him an immediate answer. For a war in Europe, whether we were involved or not would have unmistakable and probably devastating effects on the United States. This was recognized by the President in his admirable, and apparently futile, note to the government's concerned.

Should there be war Americans want to keep out of it, they can be no doubt of that. And there is no reason why we should get in it, despite the fact that we would be un-neutral and definitely on the side of the democracies. For that of all we are in no way mixed up in it, in no way responsible for the conditions leading up to it, except, of course, as we are in part responsible for the weakness of the peace terms imposed on Germany in 1918 and for the myriad uncompleted "self-determined" nationalities and peace terms created in the second place though we could afford to see democracy lose and a lustful, mercenary control Europe with France, Britain and Russia lined up against Germany and whoever her allies might be. The military experts are pretty well agreed that Germany almost certainly would lose.

But to keep out of war requires more than the mere desire, we had that from 1914 to 1917 and even later. It requires definite planning. It requires that we must be prepared to suffer the consequences as a "neutral" and be convinced that however distasteful those consequences may be they would be far less distasteful than the consequences as a combatant.

We must decide, for example whether as an "un-neutral neutral" we would sell supplies and munitions to the dictatorships; whether we would sell them to both sides alike; or whether we would impose an embargo on all supplies and munitions to both sides. Whatever course we follow, our hastily-conceived, ill-devised neutrality act must be clarified. We must be on the alert for those mercenary interests which would attempt to profit not only at the expense of both combatants but at the expense of their country as well.

These questions and many others like them are not easy ones to answer. As an abstract proposition, for example it seems inconceivable that we would should value our foreign trade over our peace. To those persons who depend on foreign trade for their profits, however, it may seem differently. Yet should there be war in order to keep America out of it we might not only have to refrain from economic intercourse with the democracies but from economic intercourse with all nations. When Thomas Jefferson tried to take this drastic step through an embargo in the Napoleonic Wars, it nearly caused a revolution. Later the attempt was abandoned, and we promptly became involved in the conflict. It was not even attempted in 1914 and pretty soon the issue of the Freedom of the Seas again reared its head and again we fought. Americans must further realize that with all the determination in the world to keep out, a European conflict could bring dangers, however

WALLED LAKE BOWS TO N.H.S., 6 TO 0

Junod and Duguid Prove To Be Winning Pass Combination

By JULIAN B. THIEME
Last Friday on the Walled Lake gridiron the N. H. S. football team avenged the Walled Lake squad's victory of last year by defeating the opponent, 6-0. A season ago the local lads were beaten by a score of 29-0.

The game was exceedingly fast and there were very few injuries. Quite a few penalties were called against Northville, but they didn't let a few penalties discourage them. See of Walled Lake, kicked off to Northville, and Defino received the ball on the 40-yard line and made a slight gain. On the next play, Junod made a first down, then Larkins carried the ball for another first down. N. H. S. took the ball to Walled Lake's 15-yard line where a fumble gave Walled Lake the ball and the first two plays were stopped at the line of scrimmage for no gain. Then Walled Lake punted to Junod on the 40-yard line and he made a small gain. Larkins made another first down on the next play after which Northville was stopped. Then Larkins punted to Walled Lake, who made very little headway. McDermaid punted to Junod, who made three yards. The quarter then ended, score 0-0.

In the second quarter, it's Northville's ball, first down, 10 yards to go. On the first play, Duguid fumbled then recovered for a 5-yard loss, second and 15. Then N. H. S. lost five more yards for off-sides. Myers carried the ball and gained five yards on a run around end, play Larkins punted to the opponent. Lafond received the punt and was stopped by Defino before he knew what had happened. McDermaid tried to punt but fumbled and Northville recovered. Walled Lake then held the local gridiron for no gain on three plays, and finally Beall attempted a field goal. The kick was blocked. The Walled Lake team made practically no gains after this due to the very fine tackling of Defino, Bogart, Beall and Bruy. The score at the end of the half remained 0-0.

Between halves Coach Harry B. Smith noted by Ogden LaShrook, gave our boys some excellent hints and told them to go in and fight. The Walled Lake band played during this interval wearing uniforms of blue and gold. The drum major gave a fine exhibition of strutting and waddling the hater.

Beginning the third quarter, Walled Lake kicked off to Beall on the 40-yard line. He made no gain. A few yards were picked up on the first down. The second down was called back because both teams were off-sides. Larkins made six yards on the next play before being stopped. He kicked to Walled Lake who made about 15 yards in their first three plays. McDermaid was injured, but not seriously when he was tackled by Defino. Then a 15-yard penalty was tagged on Walled Lake for holding. Green punted to Puske who recovered on the 35-yard line and was tackled on the 40-yard line. Then Junod was penalized 15 yards for pushing. Larkins kicked to the opponent and Beall made a swell tackle. First and 10 for Walled Lake. Bray stopped Lafond just behind the line of scrimmage, time was called by Walled Lake. Funke intercepted a pass intended for Green and made four yards before being stopped. After a few unsuccessful plays, Larkins kicked to McDermaid and Bruy blocked him out. He was unconscious for about ten seconds. McDermaid punted to Puske who made five yards. Willis went in for Beall. Time was called and Martins and Larsen were substituted for Larkins and Lester. Martins made five yards before the third quarter ended, score 0-0.

At the beginning of the last quarter, Walled Lake made many heavy gains and Coach Smith sent Junod, Larkins and Beall back in place of Fritz, Willis and Martins. Time out and Lester went back into the game. Walled Lake fought their way up to the 8-yard line, but our line held and stopped them on three consecutive line plunges. Larkins was injured and Coach Smith was called in. The result of this

Editor's Note

Well, fellow pursuers of knowledge, our football team went out last Friday, played good football, and beat Walled Lake all the way around. They worked together, and checked. That, of course, is the way any winning team has to do. A fighting spirit was noticeable on the part of all the fellows who played. A goodly crowd of rooters followed the squad and cheered lustily when cheers were deserved. It's a great feeling to know that your first game is behind you, and that it is won, not by luck, but by sheer grit and by fighting with and for your teammates. With this start, if our griders retain the spirit it displayed in their first encounter, N. H. S. should have a good season as far as football is concerned. That will be something new and different around here. The gang who followed you last week will be following

DANCE PROVES TO BE SOCIAL SUCCESS

Northville high school's first dance this year proved a great success. There was a fine turnout of dance enthusiasts last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Harrison chaperoned the affair.

The turntable, owned by the Council, was used with several popular records, most of them hot by request. Several senior girls thought it would be fun to tag the dance. Kate Marburger, Jane Ven Atta, Rose Brunansky, Jeanne Abelson, Dorothy Heaton Helen Harper, Betty Gillispie and Elizabeth Nacker of Redford high. Other seniors were: Jerry Johnston, Jack McCrumb, Lucille Lapham, E. K. Starkweather, Walt Myers, Cec Ninder, Ray Parmenter, Bob Rembowski, Ken Martens, Don Alimstrong, Dick Larkins and Jim Beall.

Among the juniors were Jean Marburger, Toots Angove, Jean Lyke, Arlene Blake, Foley Sipes, Ken Willis, Bob Orr, Ken Wolfe and others. We noticed a goodly number of freshmen and sophs strutting their stuff around the dance floor. Also we were glad to see a portion of the alumni. Chuck Bishop, Buck Hinchman, Herman Thust, Sam A. J. Beckles, Bruce Turnbull with Pat McLaughlin, Ed Angove with Louise Alexander, Jina Harper, Lee Thompson, Ken Whier, Virginia Washburn, Eber Lester with Ida Marie Walker.

The main attraction of the evening was Hoo Diek, Larkins, and his beautiful black eye received in the football game at Walled Lake. We rather think Dick enjoyed the glances of admiration and sympathy of all the various femmes. Many out of town couples were there, haggag and big spilling at it, their best. During a few hot numbers some of our gayest male friends performed snake dances and took a stab at the good old big apple. The dance broke with a bang as everyone turned utterbug to "New Orleans."

Injury was a cut on one eyelid and a black eye for Larkins. He stayed in the game. Houghton tried to pass to Duguid but was carried for a loss of eight yards. Second down and 18 yards to go. Larkins took the ball around left end for a 17-yard gain. On the fourth down, however, Houghton had to punt. On Walled Lake's second play, Larkins intercepted a pass. Second down and six yards to go. Then with two minutes and 22 seconds left to play, Junod passed to Myers for a long gain. Several passes were knocked down and finally Funke passed to Duguid and as three men hit Duguid, he went over the line for a touchdown. The attempted conversion was fumbled. Walled Lake played like wildfire in the last few seconds of play but to no avail. Northville had beaten them 6-0.

MOLLEMA STARTS DEBATE TRYOUTS

E. C. Mollema urges all students who are interested in debate to swell the ranks of the present squad and to add to their knowledge of world affairs by joining the class. Monday at 3:30 p. m. in his room. Tryouts for debate were held Monday afternoon in Mr. Mollema's room. The debaters are to meet each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday immediately after school. Five hour credits will be given for each semester of work in this course. "It isn't too late to start and we need more debaters," states Mr. Mollema.

The question to be debated, Resolved: "That the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain," is both timely and interesting. The schedule has not yet been arranged so information cannot be given out as to when the first debate will be held nor which school will be selected as our opponent. Last year, there were approximately 350 schools participating in the contests of the Michigan Debating League. Of this number, Flint Central and Big Rapids took part in the final State Championship debate at Ann Arbor, April 29.

Who Went Where
We've had a chance to find out lately what some of the high school students did with their time this summer. Rose Brunansky journeyed to Beach Falls, Ont. where she visited relatives for two weeks. Mary and James Geraghy and their family motored to the Upper Peninsula. During their stay there, they went fishing but were disappointed at not catching any. Julie Modos spent most of the summer in Detroit doing everything. Hoke, Ind. was the place that captured Helen Kimmel's interest for two weeks this summer. It seems that besides visiting relatives, Howe Military Academy also claimed much of her attention. Laura Bolton considered herself very fortunate when she visited the Toronto Exposition and came home by the way of Niagara Falls. Arlene Blake and her mother made the rounds in Chicago. Arlene said they enjoyed the novelty of the elevated trolley the most of her many experiences. Mackinac Island welcomed Marjlyn Cavell. She in turn welcomed some members of the Boy Scout troop who happened to be spending the summer there. Helen Vansickle and Juanda Benner decided to spend several days in Chicago.

So They Say

Some students are wondering just why Peggy McCallough wears a compass on her left arm. Could it have anything to do with Alfred? A few of the French class have recently learned of the musical efforts of three of its members. It seems that James G. and John G. translate modern songs into French while Dale Bray renders them very effectively. Charles Altman asserts that since the Orange and Black always tells the truth, Julian Thieme should not join the staff. For he feels that the aforementioned Julian frequently alters the truth to suit his own convenience. Harold Shepard has taken a sudden dislike to his former seat in geography class and has asked to be placed nearer that of a newly enrolled young lady in N. H. S. Several persons around the school have heard from Cecil (Pepper) Giles who is "visiting relatives" in Bilov, Miss. We quote the following from one of his cards: "Went swimming in the Gulf of Mexico today. The sharks got after me, but I sure fixed them." William Hensch was heard to carry on the following conversation with his barber: "My hair is falling out," admitted Mr. Hensch. "Can you give me anything to keep it in?" "Certainly," replied the obliging barber. "Here's a nice cardboard box." Kate Marburger doesn't want her name in the paper. Just watch your step, K., and we won't say a thing about you from now on. They say that Warren B., Ben Duguid and Walter B. have the biggest understanding in school. We can't make up our mind who was the inspiration for last week's Collier's cover. Quite a few thought that it was most typical of Bill Schoutz. We found the following little jingle that might represent a few students' feeling around the school: Dick Ambler was a little "horse" the other day — as were many other placed near — that of a newly
