NORTHVILLE REJECTS WPA CEMETERY JOB

Village Refuses To Pay Transportation for Men from Detroit

The fact that the WPA office could not see its way clear to put Northville men to work on the accepted project which calls for the construction of a new entrance to the Rural Hill cemetery is responsible for the refusal of the project by the village.

"We wanted Northville men on the job but they told us down in the WPA office that the Northville men had been assigned to the Fishery project. If we take the project which has already been approved, we'll have to pay transportation for the workers from Detroit and we can't afford that," explains Mayor Arthur S. Nichols following Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery's announcement that the project had been dropped.

A government allotment of $11,478 applied for by the members of the village commission June 24, has been granted for the job, with the understanding that no taxes or assessments would be levied to cover the amount of federal funds expended on the project.

The cemetery entrance construction was scheduled to get under way upon the completion of the extensive sidewalk project which was completed in September.

MRS. EBER W. LESTER APPOINTS RED CROSS ROLL CALL SOLICITORS

With the annual Red Cross roll call scheduled to get under way Tuesday, Nov. 1, Mrs. Eber Ward Lester head of the Northville unit, has her solicitors ready to work their assigned sections the opening day of the drive.

Her assistants include Mrs. Maxwell S. Austin, Mrs. Mark Brock, Mrs. Willard Ely, Mrs. Gerald W. Harrison, Mrs. Ernest A. Kohler, Mrs. Earl D. Kiser, Mrs. Robert K. Leary, Mrs. Joseph McCusker, Mrs. E. C. Nelson, Mrs. W. M. Peck, Mrs. William H. Sanford, Mrs. Arthur Schmutz, Mrs. A. H. Vogtlin, Mrs. Henry Wick and Mrs. Ernest H. Wood.

Join RED CROSS

That the past year has not been an easy one for the American Red Cross is shown up a recent report listing disasters necessitating Red Cross relief throughout the United States during the past 12 months.

The report reveals that 129 domestic disasters called for the Red Cross aid in 247 counties of 41 states, and that assistance was given to 420,000 persons who were disaster victims.

"That this has been a very active year is obvious when one compares this year's operations with the average of 92 disasters requiring Red Cross aid annually for the past 15 years," Chairman Norman H. Davis said in commenting on the Red Cross disaster relief service report.

These catastrophes include cloud-bursts, cyclones, epidemics, fires, floods, forest fires, hailstones, mine explosions, a school bus accident, a shipwreck, tornadoes, typhoons and wind storms.

RECREATION CENTER OPENING HERE TODAY

Stating that it is an experiment in providing a center for clean recreation, Albert Schlesinger, formerly associated with Walled Lake amusement park, has leased the Recreation building and will open it to the public today.

Table tennis, penny games of skill and bowling will be available to persons of all ages, boys and girls, men and women in the newly remodeled center, according to Mr. Schlesinger. Parents are assured that there will be no gambling or drinking on the premises, and children will be safer there than on the streets, he declares.

Wayne County Road Commission Fixes Charge for Clay Tennis Courts in Cass Benton Park

The Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners is planning to charge 40 cents an hour for use of the clay tennis courts at Cass Benton Park. The board learned this week from J. F. Bennett, superintendent of Parks.

The decision to charge for the clay courts was made by the board of road commissioners, Mr. Bennett said, and it is intended to go into effect at the start of the tennis season next spring. The concrete courts will be free, as in the past, he added. Mr. Bennett said the decision as far as he knows.

"The cost of maintaining the clay courts is too great," Mr. Bennett told The Record. He said he did not have figures pertaining to the cost, but that he could not make an estimate as to the cost, but he promised to have exact cost figures next week.

In addition to the caretakers or watchmen at the park, a man has been employed part-time to take care of the four clay courts. This has involved sprinkling, rolling and raking. The clay courts were not in use a considerable part of the time, however, because players were not allowed on them immediately after rains and were kept off if they did not have regulation crepe-sole, heel-less tennis shoes. Also, during a part of the last season, there were not enough nets to cover all the courts all of the time. The clay courts are generally favored by the more enthusiastic tennis players, many of whom refuse to play on concrete courts.

Mr. Bennett was asked if he did not consider 40 cents an hour to be an exorbitant price to charge for the courts. "It is high," he admitted, in reply, and it is to be regretted that any kind of a charge has to be imposed. He agreed that it might keep many tennis players away from the courts.

The clay courts at the Cass Benton Park are the only ones maintained by the county according to Mr. Bennett, and other county parks have only concrete courts.

"The decision to charge for the courts had not become generally known among tennis fans here this week. Informed of it, many doubted that a charge would be imposed. The opinion was expressed by some tennis players that any charge was unnecessary during the week and that although some fee might logically be assessed on Saturdays and Sundays, when many players from Detroit and other centers come out to the Benton park 40 cents was unreasonable."

Chicken Pie Dinner, Bazaar Head Events Tuesday, November 8

For more than 30 years the women of the Methodist church of Northville have every fall served a chicken pie dinner. Each year the event has grown bigger and better and this year will be no exception. Already preparations are going ahead for this popular dinner which will be served on the evening of Nov. 8.

Following is the tempting menu of home cooked food: chicken pie, mashed potatoes, squash, cabbage salad, celery, rolls, cranberries, coffee, apple or pumpkin pie. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. The price a plate is 50 cents for adults and 35 cents for children under ten years of age.

The president, Mrs. Amelia Ford, has a corps of assistants who are working hard to make this an outstanding event.

Working intensively on the bazaar which is held in connection with the chicken pie supper are members of the Service League headed by Mrs. Roy W. Covell, president of the organization, Mrs. S. J. Frid and Mrs. Walter Stammann, general chairman.

In addition to baked and canned goods, the group will have on display aprons, pillow cases, holders and many miscellaneous articles which have been made by members of the organization.

"CRASH" SCENES FILMED MONDAY FOR ADVERTISING

Villagers Witness Bridge
"Wreck" and Fake
Rain Storm

The intersection of Thayer boulevard and Orchard drive was the scene of a gruesome "accident" Tuesday night, and, if it had been a real one somebody might have been hurt.

But the "accident" wasn't real, any more than was the "driving rain" in which the car "crashed" into men repairing a bridge. It was just like the movies, and in fact, it was the movies. The accident was staged by the Jam Handy Motion Picture corporation of Detroit, as the part of an advertising film it is making for a rubber company.

The rain was produced from the hydrant, and the bridge was merely some pieces of wood and a lantern. The car was driven rapidly through the slower from the hydrant right up to the edge of the make-believe bridge. All the time the cameras were grinding, the brilliant arc lights were lighting up the neighborhood and residents from all over Orchard Heights were watching the progress of the film. Then very suddenly the car "crashed into the bridge with the workmen standing near."

Then it backed up, and the camera with the occupants and slowly, toes "crashed" into the bridge again. That was so, the camera could register the horror and other appropriate emotions on the face of the driver.

If the car had had tires made by the rubber company for whom the accident was filmed, it could have stopped right time to avert the "crash." Or at least that is what the finished movie will tell those who see it.

The filming of the episode was directed by Cullen Landis, of the Jam Handy Corp. Mr. Landis said the entire film had been photographed in this vicinity, and that last week an equally gruesome "accident" had been staged near Plymouth.

The episode staged here, Mr. Landis said will be shown as one of the first in the sequence of the completed film, but, he explained, it was one of the last to be filmed.

COMMISSION RELEASES 9 AT PRISON

Economy Movement Leads To Dropping Employees from Payroll

A combined economy and disciplinary movement by the Detroit House of Correction commission was responsible this week for the dropping of nine employees of the institution from the payroll.

Following a meeting of the commission two weeks ago, the nine employees were notified of their impending release by John O. Dancy, president of the governing body.

By not filling the vacancies in all but the positions held by the matrons and by not filling two vacant positions anticipated through retirements in the men's division, and by the reported deaths of four employees a saving of approximately $34,000 annually will be effected.

The shake-up had been anticipated for several weeks because of a report of Auditor General George Engle which disclosed that the prison was getting taxpayers $100,000 a year instead of being self-supporting.

Chief of Police German Warns Pranksters about Destruction of Property Halloween Night

"We absolutely will not tolerate any destruction of property," Chief of Police Loyle M. German warned Halloween pranksters this week.

"Good, clean fun is to be expected, but when it comes to damaging property and instigating tricks which may lead to physical harm, we'll draw the line," continued Chief German.

Mr. German reports that to date, pranksters have not been busy in the village. Usually merchants have had to spend sometime every morning cleaning the soap from their windows a week before Halloween. Nothing of this kind has been done this year. It is believed that the newly adopted recreation program may be responsible for this.

To safeguard villagers and their property Halloween night the entire police force (Chief German, Night Officer Richard Loomis and Relief Officer G. W. Gasson) will be on duty, Mr. German has announced.

30 BOYS TAKE PART IN PLAY PROGRAM

Some 30 boys between the ages of 12 and 17 years made their way to the high school gymnasium Monday evening to participate in the first of the recreational programs which are to be promoted in the village during the winter months.

MC AULIFFE, ARMLESS FARMERS TO MEET AT GRENNAN RANCH EXCHANGE SPEAKER

A living example and a sermon on the place of courage and ambition in defeating physical handicaps was set before members of Exchange club in their regular meeting Wednesday noon at the Methodist church house.

The example was Thomas McAuliffe, armless assistant to Wm. F. Dowling, Wayne county assistant prosecutor, and the sermon was given by McAuliffe in the course of a talk to the club. Members of the club were impressed by the heroism shown in his story of his arms when he was nine years old has proved a soul rather than a deterrent to the speaker.

"There is no handicap in this life except a mental one," is his guiding philosophy. Mr. McAuliffe declared. Following it he has earned a college education at M. S. C. traveled around the world can type 35 to 40 words a minute, writes, plays golf in the 80's and acts as the head of a family including three daughters. Ripley has pictured him in his "Believe It or Not" cartoons. Mr. McAuliffe holds pencil and pen in his mouth while writing and holds a golf club between shoulder and neck when golfing.

A highly effective and forceful speaker Mr. McAuliffe captured his audience with his fighting speech. He stressed that courage and ambition alone are requirements for success. He cited the examples of success won by persons without wealth, health, great heritage or physical completeness.

Showing a continuation of spirit and interest manifest for weeks, Exchange membership turned out almost 100 per cent for this meeting. Among the guests were the Rev. E. E. Rossow, E. E. Brown of Ann Arbor, Thomas McAuliffe, Wm. H. Hooks and A. H. Kirkpatrick of Detroit, and W. T. Williams of South Lyon.

Ground for New School Addition

WALLED LAKE — The only thing wrong with last week's contribution to what we more or less smilingly term as a "column" was the lack of a proper salutation. It should have started out — "Dear Friends," and it would have been complete, as a nice, newsy letter. You weren't bothered by subheads or earmarks of any kind, but could dash right down through everything from the lead school story, through the accidental death of one of our best-known citizens, and on to the account of a players' group organization, and without stopping, to the unusual account of deer being seen in this vicinity. A snappy setup! I call it. Even to the tricky headline—Well then—

Dear Friends:

With trusty typewriter answering to my pick and poke, I am dashing off a few lines to let you know that everyone here and hereabouts is as well as can be expected, and busy, as usual. Doc Lindsay told me today, however, that little Teddie Wisnom underwent the removal of her tonsils at Sessions Hospital, Northville, Monday (today), and is getting along fine. Charlie Rose has a cold and told me tonight he was going to bed and stay there, until he gets over it. He said that he and his wife enjoyed a partridge dinner as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Strong of Pines Lake, Sunday. Also, Lee Philip is being bothered lately by indigestion and gas and fidgets. It must be something he ate. For that matter, I feel a lot like that. Have, for some time, for that matter. Ain't got no appetite. If it doesn't get better I'm going over to Doc's and get something for it. As a matter of fact, I don't feel so good right now, but thought I better write you something anyway so you wouldn't worry.

Did you know that Eshe Meyer bought the old Village Inn, Friday?

That's the place that used to be run by John Rolston who didn't seem to make out with it very well. You remember that Ray Champe bought the place about 10 years ago with that wudfall he had and had some big ideas about fixing it up, for a summer resort hotel. After he got it fixed up with a lot of new rooms and fancy store wall, holding up a terrace and a big porch screened in and after burning a public toilet down on the street in front of the place for the five minute patrons, and even a small porch on the front of it with seats for the comfort of the weary wayfarer, he found he didn't seem to be doing much business. So he either sold it to John, or rented it, who in turn abandoned it. They let it go back and Eshe bought it from the receivers. Eshe figures on cleaning up the lot which is a full block with 200 feet face frontage and then tearing down all the extra rooms and stuff that lay built on, and making it into a residence again. It ought to make a pretty nice place when he gets it fixed up right? Especially with the outhouse gone from in front.

If any of you folks want to come to the next meeting of the Civic Welfare club it is going to be held Nov. 2, at the Masonic Temple. There will be a potluck luncheon and business meeting afterwards. Mrs. Mesnard wants everybody there, as she says a lot of important things will be discussed.

And we are finally going to get

Right To Have Christian Convictions"

Dr. Russell M. Atchison will be the speaker at the young people's meeting at 6:30 o'clock. The Baptist young people will unite in this service.

A fine interest is being shown in the union evening services Sunday evening. ## N. H. S. GRADUATES PROVE SUCCESSFUL

by Mary Potter

Frederick Kern a graduate of the Class of 1931 of Northville high school and a recent graduate of the engineering school of the U. of M., has accepted a position with the Standard Oil company on the island of Aruba near the coast of South America.

Mr. Kern has been gone approximately three weeks. He will probably live on this island for at least nine months.

The island of Aruba is very small. It is only about 15 miles long and from three to five miles wide. It lies about 30 miles north of the peninsula of Paragana—part of Venezuela. It is about 2,000 miles due south of Providence, R. I., and 800 miles north of the equator. It is near here that Lake Maracibo is situated, famous for being one of the most productive oil fields in the world and for the fact that about half of the oil field is actually in the lake.

There are wells of water scattered all over the island but there is no running water even in the best of these wells the water is slightly brackish. All the water absorbed by the American has to be brought from the State which is of course tremendously expensive.

Before the refinery, stated operations the native of Aruba was a fisherman and farmer on a small farm. When the refinery finally got started the shores had a third time adjusting their lives to routine and would give almost any excuse to keep from working but he was gradually improved until he was for the most part a dependable workman.

It is interesting to note that the longest automobile ride that can be taken on the island lasts only 43 minutes.

For the bachelors there is a dining hall. For amusement you can play golf or swimming. There are some fine beaches, the water being warm, salty and pleasant. Play tennis, play baseball (which is done very much here), go sailing, play pool or billiards, or go to movies. Most people in Aruba have some sort of hobby with which to interest themselves.

When going to Aruba, one must take a year's supply of dress shoes and hats. All other supplies can be bought on the island.

There are two tankers—like Pan Bolivar and Paul H. Harwood which are equipped to carry passengers.

When you arrive in Aruba after a journey of from six to eight days, the ship docks at San Nicholas Harbor. The port doctor comes aboard to see if you are healthy and have been vaccinated. Then comes the immigration officer and one of the men of the Personnel Department to inspect your baggage.

Still Taller Corn

Jonesville—A contest in Michigan among farmers to see who can raise the tallest corn might not be surprising, if this fall's specimens are considered. Top ranker now is a 15-foot stalk grown by Art Wells, and bearing six ears.

N. H. S. Swingsters Form School Band

By Mark Onthedes

When school started this fall Harold Martins and Bob Boyden felt that they just couldn't "carry on" another year without something in the shape of a swing orchestra.

So they contacted Maxine Perkins and convinced her that she had what it took to fill the pianist position.

Next they felt the need of a "doctor" who could play the flute, but Louis Eaton played the "sax" and clarinet so they thought, no doubt, he'd do well, after seeing him he enthusiastically joined their band.

Bob Boyden had often watched Bob Rembowski peek out from behind those great coils of his bass horn and thought surely if a "fella" can survive under all that he could hold up under the strain of getting the swing band started.

So Bob Rembowski was persuaded to "swing it" with the rest.

Then Allan Coffey, noted for his great musical ability, said he could hardly condescend to pool his talents with a group of such little fame, but remembering that he followed "art for art's sake," he reconsidered.

Now, Bob Boyden believes thoroughly that a swing band without a blues singer or a crooner is like soup without salt and that's the reason they rounded up Chuck Bishop and Helen Winter who are both "going strong."

May your swinging swing you on to better swing, swingers!

SCIENCE CLASSES HEAR CRIME TALK

Mr. Davis, the traffic engineer for the American Automobile association, was at school, Thursday afternoon to speak on safety and to show some movies to the sociology, the general science, and the civics classes.

Mr. Davis first spoke about crime and the different classes of crime such as felony, misdemeanor, larceny. He then showed a film on hit and run drivers. It explained how the clues are followed up and the driver is finally arrested and convicted.

After these pictures he talked about safety and traffic laws. He told the bicycle riders that they should always ride on the right hand side of the street and when riding after dark the bicycle should have both a tail reflector and a front light.

The importance of this was brought out by the fact that most accidents occur after 8 o'clock in the evening.

Silence and modesty are very valuable qualities in the art of conversation.—Montaigne

—But It Wasn't Pop

Banquet Enjoyed By Local Caddies

Under the supervision of the caddie committee the annual caddie banquet was held last Thursday evening at Meadowbrook Country club.

Approximately $700 was collected from the numerous caddies who earn part of their expenses and spending money at Meadowbrook Country Club each year. It was agreed by the caddies to allow the committee to deduct 10 cents from their fees for each 18 holes of caddy-ing. This amount was kept in a common fund and at the end of the season a banquet, together with many worthwhile prizes was to be given all fellows enrolled at the club.

Northville was well represented last Thursday night at the dinner as well as ably showing their ability at entertaining. The newly organized swing orchestra consisting of Harold Martins, Bob Boyden, Robert Rembowski, Louis Eaton, Allen Goro and Dick Larkins played the music. Charles "Bing" Bishop, after much persuasion, sang "I Love You Truly" and Kenneth Martins did his part by singing "I Got a Pocketful of Dreams." Each of the above entertainers was paid one dollar each for his performance.

Several boxing matches were put on with the winner being given $3 and the loser $2.

At the close of the banquet a ton of coal was given as a door prize and each caddy was given an expensive lumberjack.

SNOOPIN' AROUND

We saw Mary Geraghty in a very bad predicament last Thursday night. A certain pair of handcuffs were very tightly linked on her wrists. Mary, what did you do?

We've seen a specially happy face around school lately and if Kate I don't tell us her secret, we'll jump to our own conclusion.

What three girls visited what three boys — and which one claims he knew nothing but the cullies? Oh well, we know, so we won't force you to talk.

Tomorrow, were heard about a certain thing concerning H. H. Could it be true? We'll investigate.

A group from N. H. S. attended the West Point dance Friday night. We noticed Chuck and Bob (Tom Gillespie and Betty Stillwell) Jean and Kate Rembowski, Betty Gillespie, Bill Wisburne, Bob Orr and Ken Wolf.

Wanda takes no chances on some-one tampering her belongings, so she decided to stay away from the basketball stand, morning. We won't blame her.

Geary Johnston's having a week end guest so you can't say we didn't tip you fellows off.

We saw Jack McCormick strutting proudly through the assembly with a bright red flower. Whose the lucky one? I think if we tried at all we could guess.

It's getting to be a habit for Louis Babbitt to walk home with Louis Lloyd (Nice going Lou).

Wandering Spud Vine
Ulica—A potato vine which John Alts has grown here must have been bitten by the wanderlust bug, for, like Topsy, it just grew and grew and wandered around the garden until it measured 7 1/2 feet in length. And it wasn't all vine either. Alts said it has big potatoes on its roots.

HAYRIDES CONTINUE THEIR POPULARITY

By Jean Orr

Hayrides are exceptionally popular this season. Nearly everyone has been or is planning to go on one.

On Oct. 15, a hayride was given by Walter Borchering. The crowd gathered at Junior Balko's home where the fun began. After about an hour of singing, shouting, and scrambling in the hay, they returned to Balko's to get the cars to go to the Farm Crest Lodge.

The lodge gave the appearance of a western ranch house. At one end of the room was a fireplace where a crackling fire burned. Above the fire place hung snow shoes, cowboy hats, and horse whips. A huge leather davenport with a long table covered by a striped Mexican table cloth helped to give a western atmosphere.

Walter Borchering assisted by Julian Thieme did some "snappy" whip tricks similar to any done by professional entertainers. Then to show their skill further they tied Wallace Whipple securely in ropes from which he managed to escape in spite of their skill.

After their exhilarating ride in the hay which was topped by feats of strength and skill, they greatly enjoyed the refreshments of hot dogs, doughnuts, coffee, and hot chocolate.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pemberton and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baughman.

GRADE PROJECTS NOTED BY PRESS

Mrs. William Chizmar's first grade has completed their library. They appoint two librarians every week, and have made cards for the books. The librarians this week were Harold Atwood and Bob Taft.

Besides this they have painted flower pots in which they have plants growing. Each child has his own plant and they are racing with Mrs. Wilbur Johnston's class to see who can keep their plants alive.

The second grade which is taught by Mrs. Q. E. Reng is studying Indians. They have made a fine collection of Indian myths, legends, and songs. Indian and dolls. A fine display of Indian's tobacco pouches, bead bags and wrist bands, which were made and used by Indians, decorated the room. Indian designs decorated the windows that they have drawn. Their drawings of Indian boys are to be complimented. They intend to make Indian girls soon. Mrs. Reng read Hawaiian to them and they have read according to verses themselves. Mrs. Reng will now show her class how to make clay dishes and decorate them in Indian fashion.

Miss Ruth Carpenter's third grade pupils have made pumpkins in art class. On these they have painted hats, noses, eyes, and mouths to create different expressions. In connection with their farm projects and farm houses are being drawn. They are also cutting out silhouettes of farm animals.

Patricia Johnston brought her radio last Tuesday, so they listened to a Science program that proved to be very interesting. They will listen to the program every Tuesday.

The bulletin board which Mr. Westcott put up is greatly appreciated by Miss Carpenter's pupils. They are also making scrap books in connection with their health work.

Mrs. Johnston's 6th grade will be entertained Monday afternoon by a Halloween party in their room. They will wear the masks which they made in art class.

In connection with their history of the Greek, the boys are making Greek shields of refuse can tops on which they are putting Greek designs. The girls are making Greek costumes.

Mrs. Robert Raddcliffe's fifth grade pupils are now passing through with west in their imaginary transcontinental trip. They made masks and dolls in art class.

Mrs. H. K. Babbitt's fourth grade boys are organizing a football team. David Scholtz is the captain of the Taurerbits and Jack Sutton is captain of the Far Box boys. Scholtz's team is composed of the captain, Billy Weeks, Francis Smith, H. Hedge, Paul Fyng, Charles Frey, Bob Murray and Bob Masters. The Far Box team is made up of the captain, Jack Karhl, Lyster Wick, James Wick, Hugh Lockhart, Dino Poff, Oliver Raymond and George Maddox.
