

Three Die in Saturday Crash

BETTY FULTS AND FATHER ARE VICTIMS

Edith Hess, 17, Is Only
Survivor of Death
Automobile

Last rites were held in a double service conducted by the Rev. E. E. Roscoe of St. Paul's Lutheran church, at 2 p. m. Wednesday from the Casterline funeral home for Betty Fults and her father, George Fults. Burial was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Death christened newly paved Eight Mile road Saturday night with the blood of three victims even before the unfinished highway was officially opened to traffic. The crash occurred west of Beck road between the homes of M. J. Koldyke and Dr. H. S. Willis.

Betty Fults, 17, a sophomore in Northville high school, and Ralph Traxler, 36, 1520 Twenty-first street, Detroit, met instant death when Traxler's car was demolished after hitting a truck driven by Charles Reed, Napier road, while going at an unknown high speed. George Fults, 48, father of Betty, died Monday night in Pontiac General hospital to which he was removed from Sessions hospital Saturday night.

Edith Hess, who lives in the home of James D. Lafferty at 1624 West Six Mile road, is today the only survivor of the party of four that left the Fults home shortly after 6 p. m. Saturday to bring Betty Fults and Edith to town for the movies. Edith suffered a fracture of the ankle and was released from Sessions hospital Sunday afternoon to her home. Edith celebrated her seventeenth birthday Monday. John Smith, 37, passenger in the truck was treated for minor cuts at Sessions and released immediately.

Uninjured were Charles and Hollis Reed. Charles was the driver of the truck and Hollis sat atop the load of wood which the three men had cut in the woods and were taking to the Reed home on Napier road at the time of the fatal accident.

Raced to Death
These men reported to State police, the Oakland county coroner and other investigators that the death car sped to its conflict with their truck on the right side of the road. The time was fixed at about 6:15 p. m. With terrific, crushing force the 1938 Oldsmobile destroyed itself and the lives of the two passengers sitting on the left side, slid on the new concrete to a resting place next to a tree one hundred feet down the road. The shattered car faced the way from which it had come, with its driver's bloody head nestled in the roots of the sheltering tree.

A scene of horror greeted the men on the truck and those attracted to the scene. Carnage lay everywhere. The two girls had been thrown clear of the car, and Betty breathed her last as Dr. H. S. Willis and son, Kendall, arrived. Edith was unharmed in the darkness until she was raised on one elbow and asked, "What has happened?" according to Dr. Willis. George Fults was removed from the car and with Edith rushed in a truck to Sessions hospital. Smith was also taken in for first aid.

Police Take Charge

Proposed Welfare
Issue Is Opposed
by Frank D. Clark

Frank D. Clark, supervisor of Novi township, came out this week strongly against the proposed welfare legislative issue which voters must face when they go to the polls Tuesday.

"While the welfare laws as set up in proposal No. 4 contain some excellent provisions, some are so undesirable that I think we must label it all bad," he asserted.

"I am especially opposed to it as I believe in the rural areas it would be unfair both to the needy and to the taxpayer. Whoever is elected (Continued on page 12)

DEATH RODE IN THIS CAR

Only one person came out of this car to live after a crash with a truck on West Eight Mile road Saturday night. She is Edith Hess, 1624 West Six Mile road. George Fults lived for 48 hours, then succumbed. The bodies of Ralph Traxler, driver, and Betty Fults, instantly killed, were removed just before this picture was taken, two hours after the accident.

Evelyn R. Grennan Unveils Memorial Plaque at Church

Presbyterians in Northville do not forget their benefactors, the late M. and Mrs. Phil H. Grennan.

Filling to capacity the beautiful church house, made possible by the generosity of these friends, members and friends of the church honored their memory at the unveiling of a bronze plaque Wednesday evening. Very fitting it was that Miss Evelyn R. Grennan drew aside the curtain revealing the portraits of her parents above the plaque.

"I feel like an old friend rather than your former pastor," said the Rev. Harold C. Whitfield, who, with his family had come back over 800 miles from Hibbing, Minn. to speak at this significant event. "Northville always seems like home to me," he said.

It was during Mr. Whitfield's pastorate here that the building of this church house was undertaken. A close friend of the Grennans, he reminded his hearers of their "sensible generosity."

"I would build it myself but it wouldn't be good for the people. It is better that they make some effort," he quoted Mrs. Grennan as saying in reply to his suggestion for financial help. Her contribution of $7,000 made a substantial beginning of this big project. Later Mrs. Grennan noted the need for better ventilation and the new fan system was installed at his expense. Still later he left a generous bequest which finally lifted the burden from the shoulders of the church.

With strong emphasis Mr. Whitfield appealed to his hearers saying "the greatest appreciation we can show for this church house is the use we can put it to — the best good to our church and to the whole community."

"The former 'boy preacher' was greeted warmly by many friends to whom he paid this tribute: 'I have never known deeper loyalty and affection than in Northville.' In serious strain he urged the church to 'prevent wrecks rather than to try to salvage them afterward.'"

Mr. Whitfield's talk was sprinkled with kindly humor. He did not forget to remind those who enjoyed (Continued on page 6)

Warden Moore Cites Prison Experiences

Hold his hands up as the former inmate goes through those four changing gates to again take his place in society," Warden J. R. Moore of the Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson said as he concluded an address before the Rotary club and guests Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church house.

Taking his hearers back of the scenes of the vast penal institution Warden Moore mixed a fine philosophy with vivid descriptions of prison life. As the ex-prisoners go out into the world their biggest problem is to believe in themselves. That the program at Jackson is successful in doing this is shown by the fact that 80 per cent of them go out to become useful citizens of society.

"Paying the Penalty" was the title of the warden's address. This means more than just suffering, said Mr. Moore, for it is a strange world into which the prisoner enters. For the first 30 days he is studied by doctors, psychiatrists and chaplains and from these observations, every effort is made to map out a program for the prisoner which will fit him to go out and become a better citizen. "Changing old attitudes is the big job of the prisoner," he added. "Many prisoners have changed radically and have eagerly looked forward to the chance to go out and become good citizens."

100-DEMOCRATS HOLD PRE-ELECTION RALLY

A combination dance-rally Monday night in the high school gymnasium, attended by a half dozen candidates for state and county offices featured the democratic side of last-minute activities here this week.

The democratic candidates present included Attorney General George T. Gundry, Register of Deeds Harold E. Stoll, County Treasurer Jacob P. Sumner, and Patrick H. O'Brien, nominee for probate judge. Samuel G. Backus of Pontiac, nominee for Congress, and Clarence Doyle of Dearborn, nominee for the State Legislature. Prosecutor James A. C. McGraw was represented by one of his assistants, Richard DeCoursey. Mr. Gundry did not reach the rally until nearly midnight. He said he was delayed by a dense fog, which, according to local democratic officials, kept other state candidates away entirely.

Leland Smith of the Register of Deeds office, presided. About 100 persons were in attendance. The highlight of the speeches was the attack on State Representative Elton R. Eaton, made by his opponent, Mr. Doyle.

Mr. Doyle assailed Mr. Eaton as "a man who has done nothing but criticize, who has forgotten his district and who lives in the past."

L. G. Lee Receives Composers' Pictures

Six large reproductions of fine drawings and woodcuts of famous American composers have been presented to the public school of Northville by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. This gift from the society has been made through Leslie G. Lee of the music department on a non-commercial basis because of the school's importance in the field of music.

Among the portraits is a reproduction of a drawing of Victor Herbert by Obbo Ostrowsky, the Russian artist Mr. Herbert founded the society in 1914. The prints also include an Ostrowsky drawing of John Philip Sousa, famous composer and band leader, who, until his death, was vice-president of the society.

The woodcut of Edward MacDowell has a background illustration of his "Woodland Sketches" style. The background for the portrait of Henry Hadley symbolizes the composer's distinguished career as a musical director. The woodcut of Ethelbert Nevin is from an old photograph of this composer of that great composition "The Rescuer."

"Should an emergency drive be necessary sometime during the year, all of this money raised here would be sent directly to the headquarters in the stricken area," explains Mrs. Lester.

Expect Large Vote Tuesday

200 ATTEND GOP RALLY IN PLYMOUTH

Fitzgerald, Dondoro, Eaton,
Snow Speak Wednesday
at Dinner

About 200 republicans from Northville and Plymouth and vicinity gathered Wednesday night in the Hotel Mayflower at Plymouth to hear their nominees for governor and congress decide that the eyes of the nation are watching for Michigan to elect republican candidates next Tuesday.

In addition to the candidate for governor, Frank D. Fitzgerald, and the congressional candidate, Representative George A. Dondoro, several other republican nominees either spoke or were represented at the dinner-rally. Among them was State Representative Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, who introduced Dr. L. W. Snow, the toastmaster. Dr. Snow kept the meeting moving at a rapid rate and won general acclaim as an efficient toastmaster.

He also was praised by Mr. Fitzgerald and other candidates as "one of the most tireless and energetic campaign workers in the county."

Many democrats are with us shoulder to shoulder to defeat, in Michigan and in the nation, the policy of government that are taking us further and further into despair," Mr. Fitzgerald said. "We are going to have victory for sound, sane, honest and happy government. We are in need of faith and confidence in our government. Our people are feeling jittery and confused. The young voters are living in a fog. But we have finally decided what to do. We are going along for sound, sane government for the people of this state who want to show the nation that we want government with a sense of security."

YOUNG VILLAGER LEAVES PURSE HOME

To be swept along with a surging throng of 45,000 people moving toward the great stadium at the University of Michigan and to find on approaching the gate that his money was not in his pocket but lying at home was the none-too-happy experience of Bruce Turnbull, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Turnbull, last Saturday. Added to this was the embarrassing situation. Bruce had at his side Miss Pat McLoughlin, who was just as eager as he was to see that big game.

Just as these two young folks turned to go down the hill and swallow their disappointment like good sports along came four Northville friends, among them Fred Casterline, without hesitation Fred handed over a "V" and the happy youngsters turned about face and were off in high spirits. For the rest of the afternoon they did not see the familiar face among all that sea of strangers and they thanked their good luck that made them stumble onto Fred at the zero moment.

MRS. JENNIE COUSINS TO OPEN DRESS SHOP

Mrs. Jennie Cousins will open a new shop for ladies' ready-to-wear garments in the vacant outlying owned by the Schneider Brothers, just south of their place of business.

Mrs. Cousins needs no introduction to Northville having been actively connected with its interests for a number of years. For four terms she served successfully as township treasurer and for eight years was librarian of the library before it was taken over by Wayne county. When Mrs. Cousins began her work as librarian only 50 books on an average were taken out daily, but with personal interest in her patrons, she encouraged their reading until over 200 books were drawn daily.

Through Mrs. Cousins' contacts with the public in the community many friends have been won who will be interested in her new business venture.

TO SPEAK HERE

Judge Russell Holland

Villagers who attend the union service of the Baptist and Methodist churches at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 6 in the Baptist church, will hear Judge Russell Holland of the circuit court of Oakland county. His topic will be "Christian Citizenship."

EXCHANGITES SELL TICKETS FOR GAME SUNDAY IN DETROIT

Tickets for the Green Bay Packers-Detroit Lions football game Sunday, Nov. 13, are being sold by the Northville Exchange club, and local fans can obtain choice seats in a special section at low cost, according to Fred Van Atta.

Tomorrow Saturday Nov. 5 is the last day these tickets can be sold locally. Mr. Van Atta warns. The remaining tickets must be returned to Detroit.

The Exchange club of Michigan, have adopted this important game as the opportunity to meet at Briggs stadium. Delegations are expected from over the lower peninsula. Purchase of tickets in the special section will not be limited to members alone. Mr. Van Atta points out. The club wants as large a delegation of Northville persons as possible and offers the tickets at the same low cost as their members enjoy.

BAPTISTS TO SPONSOR WHITE ELEPHANT SALE

TO DEMONSTRATE AIDS FOR THE DEAF SUNDAY

A corporation of Detroit is giving a free demonstration at 11 a. m. Sunday in the Presbyterian church. The corporation has produced an acousticon that is accomplishing almost marvels for the deaf and the hard of hearing.

The Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith pastor, says that there will be ear-pieces for 25 or 30 who might wish to test the invention. It is understood that there is no obligation assumed by the church or by any one who uses the instrument which is adjustable for all degrees of deafness and can be easily applied. The community at large is invited by Dr. Smith to attend the demonstration on which is to be made by Mr. Porter.

Next Tuesday's Election

At the election next Tuesday we are not simply voting for good men. In our state election we are voting for a principle or a theory of government. Just what is the issue at stake next Tuesday? The issue is simply this, as many thoughtful people see it: The New Deal idea of government, which has cost this nation an untold amount of money.

If you favor the reckless expenditure of money and the continued accumulation of public debt, then you should vote for the New Deal candidates. If you believe, on the other hand, that wild public spending must be curtailed, then you should vote for the anti-New Deal candidates.

As for the Wayne County candidates, both parties have some very fine men running for office. We believe that most Northville voters have a real conscience when it comes to voting for men for public office. If you do not know who the best candidates are, there are certainly some good friends who are well informed who can guide you honestly and sincerely. Let your conscience be your guide.

Not because he is a fellow editor or a nearby resident, but because he has made an unusually capable representative to the State legislature, we favor the reelection of Editor Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth to office. He has courage and ability and will represent the district in an unusually efficient way in Lansing.

But above all things, no matter how you plan to vote, be sure to cast your ballot next Tuesday.

Arousing Race Hatred

Among the candidates for public office in Wayne County are men of various races—English, Irish, Polish, Italian and possibly those of other lands.

Detroit, as nearly everyone knows, is a great melting pot of the races.

In these closing days of the campaign, the efforts are being made to blacken certain candidates because they happen to belong to a certain race. In our opinion, this is very un-American and absolutely outrageous. If an office holder has to be an American to be a public servant, then the whole American system is based on lying sand.

We write this because of the fact that someone is tried to influence our vote on the Wayne county campaign simply because of the race of the candidates. We have seen this in the past and we have seen it in the future. It is a high crime and a high crime.

The other day a New York city man, not over the best 10,000 students from New York's nation's schools. These 10,000 had remarkable records. They were the ten thousand were picked only 50 boys and girls who could be said to hold the very highest standing for scholarship and all-around ability.

Of what nationalities were these children? Bigot would say they must have been all Americans. The facts are that their antecedents were of varied races. The forebears of these smartest boys and girls were Scotch, English, Swedish, Dutch, Irish, Polish, Jewish, German, Hungarian and (to some) the despised Negro race. It does us good to know that no race has a monopoly on brains or character.

This is the eleventh hour of this bitter campaign. If anyone comes around to you and tries to prejudice you against any candidate because of his race, you would be justified in showing him the door.

Communists At Work

During the last year and a half labor troubles in Michigan have cost the state millions of dollars. It is getting to be an open secret that during this time there have come to Michigan thousands of what may be called the "riff raff"—dangerous and vicious men who have aided in stirring up this trouble. Some of them are known Communists.

For the good of the entire state in Michigan, the influence of these Communists ought to be blotted out. They have already cost us tremendously and unless repressed, will cost us much more.

Many high minded, yet uninformed, people have laughed at the possible dangers from Communism. Little by little they are having their eyes opened. As a well-known Michigan editor says:

"If anyone is so naive as to believe the Communist party is not conducting anti-American activities he should have his head examined."

Bridge Influence In Voting

We think it would be perfectly outrageous for the possible building of a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac to have an effect on Michigan's voting next Tuesday. Michigan citizens should vote conscientiously for public officers no matter whether a bridge is built or not. Public funds should never be allowed to influence anyone's vote.

Wandering Thoughts

Four more days!

Can we soon forget the incomparable October of 1938?

Fitzgerald or Murphy? Your guess is as good as the other fellow's.

What will California voters do next week to the "Thirty dollars every Thursday plan?"

Theme song of too many of our people in Michigan: "Let the Government Do It."

"I'll bet any one even money there will never be another war."—Henry Ford.

Did the man from Mars scare you Sunday evening? To our notion, the Ford hour Sunday beats them all, for solid satisfaction.

The Charlotte Tribune says that the 164 acre farm of former governor Frank Fitzgerald is one of the two best on the Saginaw road between Grand Ledge and Lansing. He recently bought the old electric line right of way at the rear of the farm which added four acres to it.

One man's complaint against the radio: "At the end of about every fifteen minutes you have to switch advertisers." Speaking of radio, how much time does the average home give up to radio reception? One apparently reliable estimate of family listening is 4.1 hours. Except for those folks who have no other outlet, we would say that is about two or three hours too much.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

Verion Spencer, prosperous Wisconsin dairy farmer, is held without charge at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., while Ontario police continue their investigation of the mysterious shooting and death of Miss Helen Greer of Battle Creek and Pontiac Thursday, Oct. 28 in the wilderness town of Dr. A. A. Holcomb Northville physician.

An improvement program involving several thousand dollars is under way at the local Ford plant. Approximately 20 men are engaged in the work which will add new production space to the building and provide a large parking lot for the customers.

College Health Officer Schuyler E. Golder and Dr. Northville remain undecided as to whether or not to hold the annual health conference in the winter of 1939.

Robert Lanning and Miss Ida Low were quickly married at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Smith, Thursday at St. Clair. They left immediately for Northville where they began housekeeping in part of Mrs. Sara Lanning's house on the north side.

Mrs. Mary Yerkes widow of the late George D. Yerkes and mother of Mrs. Ella Mead and Attorney C. C. Yerkes of this place, died Thursday at her home. She was 85 years of age.

The Wayne high school football team will play a game with the Northville team this afternoon. On account of the athletic grounds undergoing repairs, this game will be played on the Charles Yerkes' farm on Northside.

I had 12 bottles of whiskey in my cellar and my wife told me to empty the contents of each and every bottle down the sink or else. So I said I would and proceeded with the unpleasant task.

I withdrew the cork from the first bottle and poured the contents down the sink, with the exception of one glass, which I drank. I extracted the cork from the second bottle and likewise, with the exception of one glass, which I drank.

I then withdrew the cork from the third bottle and emptied the good booze down the sink, except a glass, which I drank. I pulled the cork from the fourth sink and poured the bottle down the glass, which I drank.

me at 527 Washington Square building, Royal Oak.

Last year, in the United States, according to statistics presented by this conference, more persons died needlessly than were killed in the American Expeditionary Forces during the entire period of the World War. More than 100,000 men met an untimely end through accidental causes.

Home accidents account for more than one-third of these preventable deaths; highway accidents are responsible for about one-third of the total; almost one-sixth result from industrial accidents; and miscellaneous accidents account for the balance.

On the highways two-fifths of the fatal accidents involve pedestrians and three-fifths do not. In the latter group, speed is responsible for 32.6 per cent of the traffic deaths; driving on the wrong side of the road, 15 per cent; driving off the roadway, 14.5 per cent; disputing the right of way, 13.9 per cent; reckless driving, 12.9 per cent; failing to signal or giving an improper signal, cutting in, passing on the wrong side, and various other causes, 11.1 per cent.

About one-third of pedestrian fatalities were caused by crossing between intersections or against traffic signals; one-sixth were caused by walking on rural highways; one-eighth were the result of crossing where there were no signal lights; one-ninth involved children playing in streets; and one-tenth were the result of stepping from behind parked cars.

Because of the number of persons who die as the result of accidents each year our thoughts should be turned toward working out accident prevention plans. This terrible toll prompted my discussion of the problem on the floor of the U. S. House of Representatives in a previous session of Congress. The problem deserves the earnest attention of every thoughtful citizen.

It is interesting to note that industry, which presents such numerous hazards, accounts for slightly less than 17 per cent of our national fatalities. It is greatly to industry's credit that as a field which should be most prolific in accidents it has reduced its dangers to less than half those of the home and the highway. It appears that we are less liable to meet with accidents while at work than when at home or behind the wheel on the highway.

The booklet which I have previously mentioned points out that industry, public transportation companies, and manufacturers are constantly on the alert for new products which will contribute to greater safety.

The Aztec Club

The Aztec club of 1847 is an hereditary, patriotic society formed at Mexico City in 1847 by officers of the United States army in order to cherish the memories and traditions of the Mexican war. Each member nominates either his first-born son or a male blood relative to succeed him in the society.

The Farmers' Corner

By E. I. BESEMER, County Agent

This fall and winter will be a good time to apply lime, provided the soil needs it. Have the soil tested by your county agent before freezing weather if you plan on using lime. Many soils do not need it while others, such as the lighter types require from one to two tons of limestone meal per acre.

The county agent's office has a list of approved dairy sires for sale. Any one in need of a herd sire would do well to get one that has a good record.

More than 400,000 small trees including thousands adaptable for use in Wayne county already have been shipped out of the federal state nursery on the campus of Michigan State college as the 1938 fall shipping season nears an end. Workers scanning the supplies still left contemplate shipping many more thousands of young trees next spring as they are ordered by farmers.

One landowner, obtaining 4,000 tulip trees at cost, revealed that he had been raising 6,000 of his own for future use on his farm. The pines are most popular, says F. W. Robbins, nursery superintendent. Red, white and Scotch pine and Norway spruce have been sold in quantity.

Trees are available at cost of production except that no requests are filled if the intention is to plant the seedlings and young transplants within corporate limits of cities or villages or for ornamental planting or resale with roots attached.

Mrs. Addie Miles will leave next week to spend the winter months with relatives at Phoenix, Ariz.

The Fords Tell Their Plans for 1939

IF WE KNEW anything better we could do for the country than make good motor cars, we would do it.

By every one doing his best in the job he thinks most useful, this country is going to regain its momentum. We have tried to do our best in our job.

When business was suddenly halted in its recovery more than a year ago, we determined that we should keep going anyway, if not at full-volume motor car production, then at getting ready for greater motor car values that would help future production.

EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

We began to build 34 million dollars' worth of new plants and equipment. We felt that if we could not employ all our men building motor cars, we would employ as many as we could building better production facilities.

We were told, of course, that this was no time for expansion, that a wiser business policy would be to "hold everything"—which means, stop everything. But no one ever got anywhere standing still.

Besides, we are not defeatists. We do not believe this country has seen its best days. We believe this country is yet in the infancy of its growth. We believe that every atom of faith invested in our Country and our People will be amply justified by the future. We believe America is just beginning. Never yet have our People seen real Prosperity. Never yet have we seen adequate Production. But we shall see it! That is the assurance in which we have built.

Business is not just coming back. It will have to be brought back. That is now becoming well understood in this country: for that reason 1939 will be a co-operative year. Manufacturers, sellers and buyers will co-operate to bring back the business that is waiting to be brought back.

This construction program is almost completed. It has increased activity and payrolls in a number of related industries. It has given us better facilities for building better cars and trucks, and eventually our new tractor which is being perfected.

THIS MEANS MORE VALUE

The current program has provided a new tire plant, which will turn out a part of our tire requirements... a new tool and die plant that will help us cut the cost of dies... and a steel-press plant that will enable us to make more of our own automobile bodies. These are in addition to the plants we already had for producing glass, iron, steel, plastics, and many other things.

We don't supply all our own needs, of course, and never expect to. The Ford engine is one thing that no one's hand touches but ours. Of nearly everything else we use we build some quantity ourselves, to find, if possible, better and more economical ways of doing it. The experience and knowledge we gain are freely shared with our suppliers, and with other industries.

Henry and Edsel Ford, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Ford Motor Company, June 16, 1938

We take no profit on anything we make for ourselves and sell to ourselves. Every operation, from the Ford ships which first bring iron ore to the Rouge, is figured at accurate cost. The only profit is on the finished result—the car or truck as it comes off the line. Some years, there is no profit for us. But we see to it that our customers always profit. A basic article of our business creed is that no sale is economically constructive unless it profits the buyer as much as or more than the seller.

Our new plants have helped us build more value into all our cars for 1939. That means more profit on the purchase to the purchaser.

We have not cut quality to reduce costs. We simply will not build anything inferior.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT

While we were putting up new plants to produce cars, we constructed new equipment to test them. The first weather tunnel of its kind ever built for automobile research went into operation at our laboratories this year.

It makes any kind of weather to order. The weather it delivers every day would take months to find in Nature. Our cars are weather-tested to give you good service in any climate anywhere.

In other tests, every part of the car is punished unmercifully. Then our engineers tear it down to see if they can find abnormal wear or any sign of weakness.

The money we spend on tests saves you money on repairs. And your family car is safer and more dependable when we put it in your hands.

THE NEW CARS

We have two new Ford cars for 1939—better cars and better looking—but we also have an entirely new car.

It's called the Mercury 8. It fits into our line between the De Luxe Ford and the Lincoln Zephyr. It is larger than the Ford, with 116-inch wheelbase, hydraulic brakes, and a new 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine.

We know that our 1939 cars are cars of good quality. We think they're fine values in their price classes.

With new cars, new plants, new equipment, the whole Ford organization is geared to go forward.

TO THE VOTERS OF NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP:

Majestically surveying the National scene, The Detroit Free Press bestows its praise on Thomas E. Dewey of New York City.

In compiling a record of 72.8% convictions of his cases, Dewey, The Free Press says, "shows that a county prosecutor who knows how to prepare and present cases in court, and who is industrious and determined in his pursuit of law breakers, can do a lot toward making criminals understand that crime does not pay."

Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea has a record of 87.1% the first six months of 1938. He has never been below 80.7% and his average for three and one-half years is 82.89%.

Among his many convictions is Julia M. Barker. Give Mr. McCrea his due even if he is a Democrat.

Vote for Duncan C. McCrea for Prosecutor.

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches in the world on Sunday, Nov. 6.

The Golden Text (John 3:31) is: "He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 2:6). "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 523):

"The creations of matter arise from a mist of false claim, or from misaffirmation, and not from the firmament, or understanding, which God erects between the true and false."

Our Lady of Victory Church

Divine worship is held twice each Sunday with two Masses at 8:30 and 11 a. m. In the Catholic church all members, both adults and children, must attend Mass on Sundays and certain church days, called "holy days of obligation." The weekly church schools are merely schools, just opportunities for the proper information on and training in one's obligations to one's Creator. Attending this school is not attending church. Here one is taught how to attend church and on Sundays he puts that training into practice by actually attending church like adults.

The month of November is set aside as a memorial to our dear departed ones. The grave is not our goal, dust to dust thou must return, but was not spoken of the soul? It must be of utmost despot to think that the grave would sever all human ties. On the week days of November there will be a daily memorial Mass at 7 o'clock. On Saturdays it will be at 8 o'clock.

The so-called 40 Hours Devotion will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 11, 12 and 13. Practicing Catholics understand the customs of this devotion, and will carry them out each day. Confessions will be heard Thursday, night at 7:30, Nov. 10. Masses on Friday and Saturday at 6 and 8:30; on Sunday at 8:30 and 11. The three day evening services will start at 7:30. Father Bryan, C. P., will have full charge.

IS MICHIGAN HEADED for BANKRUPTCY?

LET'S CONSIDER THE FACTS

1) State payrolls increased more than $9,000,000 in 18 months — the greatest cost of tax-supported wages in Michigan history. Lack of building pace at Lansing for Murphy's job army has even forced several agencies to move to Detroit.

2) Steadily mounting deficit in the state treasury. On January 1, 1937, the treasury had a cash balance of $8,775,000. On June 30, 1938 — 18 months later, the officially admitted deficit was $8,741,487 — making a net total on June 30, of $17,000,000 UPWARD. And this does not include, in any way, the millions appropriated by the legislature at the special session in August for welfare needs. TODAY the Murphy deficit is somewhere between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000, and mounting every day!

What are YOU going to do about it? Old Age pensions have been reduced because tax money has been squandered! Wouldn't it be better for the unemployed to have adequate state funds for their needs, and what is more important, honest-to-goodness jobs in industry and business?

Restore Sound Government to Michigan! Restore business confidence by the American way! Michigan workers are not satisfied with only the Dole, they are entitled to real jobs.

SOME FACTS ABOUT AMENDMENT NO. 4

It is claimed that the purpose of the Welfare Bill is merely to set up an economic and centralized welfare system, but actually the people of Michigan are being kept in ignorance of the fact that there are terms in the Bill that take from the taxpayers the control over all relief money, including the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Commission, the Mothers' Pension, and over all persons and institutions.

It would be well for every voter to familiarize himself with this law and its technicalities, and to note how involved the amendment really is.

A few of the sections of the amendment are as follows:

Section 7 of Act 257 says that any member of the Commission or the directors can summon you, your wife or any member of your family, and take possession of your books and records or anything they may demand. Do you care to have such a law enforced in this State?

Section 9 of the Public Acts of 1937 says that all decisions of the Commission shall be binding upon the County. Don't you think the County tax-payers should have something to say in regard to this?

Section 13 of the Public Acts of 1937 gives the commission the authority to license all public, private and religious homes caring for children and aged persons. Don't you think that heads of various institutions have ability to handle their own affairs?

Section 1 of Act No. 258 provided for the establishment of one State Welfare office with 83 branch welfare offices in the State under the direction of the State Welfare officials. All of the employees in these 83 branch offices are supported by the taxpayers of their respective county. Does this stand for economy in your judgment?

Section 13 of Public Act No. 258 provides that each County is to provide for adult hospitalization, maintenance and support of County hospitals, "if patients and contagious diseases. This is not in addition to the equal matching of funds with the State's provided elsewhere in the Act.

Section 31 of Public Act No. 258 sets up that the State Board absolutely controls all welfare funds; they can give to any county as much as they desire and can cut off any county as they see fit. Why not have a generalized distribution of State Welfare funds the same as our primary school money is allocated to the several counties?

Section 25 of Act No. 258 provides that the Board of Supervisors are to pay all costs of welfare administration to maintain various welfare offices within the County, but they have not the slightest authority to fix the number of employees, their pay or expenses.

The proponents of this Bill claim that counties are given Home Rule, by stating that the Board of Supervisors appoint two members of the Commission but after saying that they let their voices drop, and do not inform the public that the two members appointed by the Board of Supervisors are under the direct control of the State Welfare Commission. Do you mean to tell me this is Home Rule or Gag Rule?

Section 29 of Act No. 258 abolishes the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Act. Don't you think that the soldiers and sailors who were good enough to fight for this country should have some voice in the way their hospitals and institutions should be run?

Act No. 260 of these laws abolishes Mothers' Pensions, and places widowed mothers with minor children under the complete domination of welfare workers. Don't you think that the Mother's Pension Law of the State of Michigan which was the first State to adopt that law and copied by 33 other States of the Union is still good enough?

The above are only a few of the vicious parts of the Welfare Reorganization Bills that are being put up to the voters on Nov. 8, 1938. I am quite sure that if everyone studies the law, without taking someone else's word, especially those who are endeavoring to misinform the voting public, they will see how complicated it really is.

We ask that you read the Law! Help us to preserve the things that America has always valued for, namely, HOME RULE.

Population of King Bird Is Increasing

Michigan farmers are being notified that the turkey crop this year will be about 3.7 per cent larger than in 1937 and about 6 per cent smaller than in 1936, according to a Sept. 1 survey by the United States Department of Agriculture covering about 6,000 flocks. All of which means that there will be many a king bird centering the festive tables during the holidays. Abundant supplies of grain and plenty of green feed in most sections, have favored rapid growth and good condition of the birds which are expected to be somewhat heavier than last year. Earlier marketings are planned in most sections and many early hatched birds have already been sold. The carry-over of turkeys in cold storage, which contributes to the total supply is smaller than last year, according to the late report which shows only 5,773,000 pounds compared with 12,312,000 pounds last year.

The wet spring over much of the country caused above average losses of poultry, according to many reporters. Complaints of heavy losses of young birds are as usual numerous from small flock owners, whereas such complaints are few from large producers who by use of improved methods of handling appear to be able usually to hold losses of poultry to within moderate limits.

The gains this year are due mainly to increases of turkeys in big flocks. The returns indicate that the number of small and medium size flocks (less than 300 birds) continues to decrease in most areas.

In Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois the increase is estimated at 5 per cent. Producers report the intention to market about 21.2 per cent of this year's crop in October or earlier, 37.5 percent in November, 29.8 per cent in December and 11.5 per cent later. They report that last year 13.9 per cent, 37.8 per cent, 35.7 per cent and 12.6 per cent of the crop were marketed in the corresponding periods. The tendency of earlier October marketing this year is seen in all areas except the South-Central. November marketings represent this year for the United States practically the same proportion of the total crop as last year.

The average weights of both hens and toms are expected to be heavier this year than last for the United States as a whole. The average expected weight for hens averages 11.9 pounds compared with 14.7 pounds last year. The gain in weight shown for the United States is partly due to some shift this year in relative production from south to north. The northern regions have an abundance of cheap feed this year, and normally tend to produce a somewhat heavier turkey.

ON PROPOSITION NO. 4
The Referendum on Act No. 257 of the Public Acts of 1937, being an act to centralize welfare problems and their control in the hands of an impersonal political state commission, subject to any command of the federal government, destroying the present quicker, more personal relationship of the local authorities.
Act No. 257, in its present form, is destructive to American Liberty, and established federal control of medicine in Michigan. It invalidates the right to keep private the personal records of every clergyman, dentist, lawyer, doctor, and of every office, institution, fraternal order or labor union, and will cover almost every phase of human life. It makes the state the lackey of federal government, and the citizen the serf of bureaucracy.

Northville Women Take Glimpse of Village's Past

The pages of Northville history were turned back Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Women's club when out from the past stepped daughters of the village pioneers dressed in the quaint garments of their grandmothers.

It was historical day and with Mrs. Thad J. Knapp in charge, one of the most interesting programs in the club calendar was carried out. In a setting which represented an old fashioned parlor with its antique furnishings, four members who were all either 60 or in the village or are descendants of early residents, brought to their bearers some of the local traditions and background.

Mrs. Knapp opened the program by giving realistic glimpses at some of the old houses of the village.

Mrs. C. C. Yerkes took her audience up the dusty stairs of the old, almost forgotten, opera house on the top floor of the old Cattermole building. It was here that Northville would be stars took their parts enthusiastically in home talent plays. The opera house was a social center in those days. The old stone school house, which once stood at the corner of Hutton and Dunlap streets was another place of historical interest described by Mrs. Yerkes, as was the school building which once occupied the present site of the high school and was later burned. Of special interest to the women was the reminder of the fact that the present building now used as a public library, was once a school house.

Very appropriate was it that Mrs. William H. Yerkes should describe the old families who once made Northville history, for she is a descendant of four of these founders. Yerkes, Meads, Carlises and Dunlaps. Mrs. Yerkes brought many an incident of interest about these early families.

Mrs. Edward H. Lapham surprised her listeners with accounts of the cultural life of early Northville when folks used their own talents in producing plays and musicals. Foremost among those who contributed to the intellectual life of the community was Lucy Stoughton, daughter of the present Mayor's club. Mrs. Lapham gave a vivid picture of this woman's life. Sitting in the audience were many members who made the scenes of the past more realistic in their antique garb. Mrs. Charles Bloom wore the 130-year-old bonnet of her great grandmother; Mrs. Milo Johnson was there in her own wedding bonnet; Mrs. Charles L. Blackburn carried a quaint parasol that tilted conveniently upward; Mrs. L. Eaton wore the wedding gown of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Susan Eaton. Miss Evelyn Zambler, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sherill W. Ambler, sang three old songs. Altogether, these women of modern Northville left this significant meeting with deeper regard for those who had laid its foundations. Today (Friday) the club will visit to Park's Davis company in Detroit. Those who can carry passengers will please notify the transportation committee or meet at the hotel at 12:00 o'clock where these who wish transportation will assemble.

Mr. Dondro asked if they would pledge never to vote this country into war except in case of actual invasion of continental United States. Warden Moore Cites Prison Experiences

5,024 prisoners. The number varies from day to day. The prison is so large that if one could sleep in a different cell every night he would not come out from the prison walls until 1954. A corps of inmate nurses is used to care for the patients in the hospital. Only once since the prison has been built has the hospital been full and that was at the time of an epidemic.

The speaker told in detail of the work program of the institution. Selfish manufacturers and selfish union leaders have said that men may not work on some lines in the prison and this has greatly handicapped our program. I wish I could find work for 1,000 more men.

The prisoners have lots of time to read and many of the 18,000 volumes in the library have been rebound repeatedly. Of the 5,000 prisoners, 2,800 are readers of books and half of the books read are non-fiction.

Not only do men go out with a changed attitude of life but many of them have been given better educational advantages to go out and face making a living. One in every nine of the prisoners has to be taught to read and write and school has to be kept going during twelve months of the year. Last year 1,642 pupils were taught in the school.

Warden Moore spoke very highly of the religious work done in the prison and said this was a vast help in equipping the men for a better view of life. Although there are 1,087 colored prisoners, there is no colored problem in the institution.

Mr. Moore's address was most vivid and optimistic. Vice-president E. M. Bogart was in charge of the meeting and the speaker was introduced by Superintendent Russell H. Angerman. Leslie G. Lee and Percy Angove led an enthusiastic group sing with Miss Lucille Lapham at the piano. Birthday flowers were presented to Mr. American by Mr. Lee. Mrs. Moore accompanied her husband. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs.

Disasters Strike 41 States During Year

Red Cross Aids 420,000 Persons Following Catastrophes

That the past year has not been an easy one for the American Red Cross is shown in a recent report listing disasters necessitating Red Cross relief throughout the United States during the past twelve months.

The report reveals that 129 domestic disasters called for Red Cross aid in 41 states, and that assistance was given to 420,000 persons who were disaster victims.

"That this has been a very active year is obvious when one compares this year's operations with the average of 32 disasters requiring Red Cross aid annually for the past 15 years," Chairman Norman H. Davis said in commenting on the Red Cross Disaster Relief Service report.

These catastrophes included cloudbursts, cyclones, epidemics, fires, floods, forest fires, hailstorms, mine explosions, a school bus accident, a shipwreck, tornadoes, typhoons, and wind storms.

"Disaster relief was the first humanitarian work of the American Red Cross after its organization in 1881," Mr. Davis said. "In the ensuing 57 years the flag of the Red Cross has flown upon every scene of major disaster in the United States. The Red Cross has carried relief—food, clothing, shelter, medical aid, rehabilitation of homes and families—to more than 2,200 scenes of disaster at home and abroad, and has expended over $140,000,000 contributed by the American public in this work of mercy."

The Red Cross policies of relief, the national chairman pointed out, have been established over a period of years through actual experience of its workers in the field. Relief is given on the basis of need of sufferers—not of losses. Loans, he pointed out, are never made, but relief is a gift from the Red Cross in the name of its members and contributors to its work.

"It would not be possible for the Red Cross to carry out such widespread relief activities without the help of thousands of volunteer workers," Mr. Davis said. "Volunteers are the mainstay of the organization, and in the past year's work assistance from many cooperating agencies has made it possible for us to answer the many calls for help."

While relief was being given to victims of natural catastrophes, the Red Cross was not unmindful of the necessity for preparedness plans to meet emergencies that may arise in any American community. Red Cross chapters in hundreds of counties have organized disaster preparedness committees to carry out responsibility to map relief plans in advance of need, and to organize resources of communities to prevent duplication of effort and waste of materials when calls for help are received.

These plans are proving especially advantageous in localities subject to frequent floods, tornadoes, or hurricanes, and actual tests of such planning have demonstrated the necessity for such measures.

"The administration of such relief for disaster victims is made possible by annual memberships of millions of Americans in all walks of life," Mr. Davis pointed out. "The extent of Red Cross aid to such sufferers is entirely dependent upon unselfish sharing on the part of all of us."

Blind Banker Sculptures Dinosaur In Wire

Fleeing a tornado near Clyde, Texas, parents of these babies were killed, their automobile tossed a quarter-mile away. Hours later a telephone lineman heard a child's whimper in a roadside ditch. There he found 2-year-old Jesse Donald Rutledge, water up to his chin, holding his 3-month-old brother Daryl's head above water. Relatives being unable to care for the orphans, Red Cross workers arranged a maintenance fund to support them until they are 16. A Texas college promised scholarships and ranchmen started a herd of cattle for their benefit. The Red Cross will help the boys make adjustments as they grow older.

Mark Shoenst, America's famous blind sculptor, inspects the wire dinosaur by Berthold Ordner, blind Viennese artist.

ALTHOUGH blind Berthold Ordner has accomplished the unique feat of creating a new type of sculpture. A "wire-plastic" dinosaur, 26 inches long and 12 inches in height was fashioned by Ordner by hand with no tools other than pliers and wire cutters. The figurine has just been purchased by the Sinclair Refining Company of New York, as an addition to its large collection of dinosaur models.

Ordner, a banker, developed his new art, "wire-plastic," as an escape from despair when his eyesight failed him in 1923. He found not only an escape but a new life. After trying many mediums, he evolved the new method of forming figures by twisting and looping wire over a frame. He is able to achieve a remarkable feeling for form and texture through his use of twists and loops and through blending different types of wire. Figurines modeled in this manner by Ordner are considered by experts as showing high artistry.

The National Bureau for Blind Artists, with headquarters in New York, aided Ordner in locating a client for the dinosaur piece. The Bureau is very much interested in Ordner's work, believing it improves the common impression that sculpturing of any kind is impossible for blind persons.

week called attention to collections in the personal tax department.

"Prior to 1933, there was little effort made to collect these taxes," he said. "There was a move afoot at one time to abolish the department; this would probably have meant a higher real estate tax."

Under Sumeracki's administration, personal taxes have been collected as high as 94 per cent the levy. No year has dropped below 90 per cent in collections, records show.

"We have concentrated on collection taxes," Sumeracki said, "because we know that such a policy leads directly to a lower tax rate. The more persons who carry a burden, the lighter becomes the share of each one. As proof of this, we see that the county tax rate in 1932 was $8.15 on each thousand dollar valuation. The figure in 1933 has dropped to $5.47, a saving of $2.68 on each thousand dollar assessment."

Reviewing the work of the office during his administration, Sumeracki revealed this week that his staff has collected, safeguarded and disbursed to county agencies, cities, villages, townships and school districts, $276,000,000 in the past 3 1/2 years. Accounts have balanced to the penny.

Jacob P. Sumeracki was identified with the real estate and building business in Detroit prior to the World War. He saw overseas duty with the 135th Field Artillery. He was first elected County Treasurer in 1932 at the age of 43.

THREE DIE IN CRASH SATURDAY EVENING

State Police took command of the situation upon their arrival. "The Oakland county coroner, Donald S. Bell of Birmingham, ordered the bodies of Traxler and Betty removed to the Casselberry funeral home. Traxler's body was taken Sunday afternoon to his home in Detroit.

"What we heard sounded like a terrific boiler explosion," Mrs. H. S. Willis reported of the noise made by the crash. The Willis home, only a few rods from the accident scene awaited guests for a party at the time.

"We thought that dynamite had been set off nearby, and we distinctly felt tremors from the awful impact," declared M. J. Koldyke, manager of the Twin Pines dairy plant which was as close to the fatal event as the Willis residence. The first call for an ambulance was made from the Koldyke home by Mrs. Ray Hogsinger.

Car Completely Demolished

Chief German described the wreckage as the worst he has seen of more than 200 wrecks. The scene bore witness to his appraisal. Parts of the car were under the load of wood. The heavy truck was pulled out of its course and left standing across both lanes. Bits of the car were strewn along the 400 feet between the two vehicles as they were found after the accident. The drive shaft, one front wheel assembly, a crumpled fender and countless bits of inner padding lay about. The rear cushion was 20 feet from the road in a field. A heavy coil spring of the front action unit landed one hundred feet down the road from the car.

The road side view or right hand side of the wrecked car gave no hint of its real damage. To see that, one went around to the left or side away from the road. The sight suggested that a giant force had struck there—as it had. Fenders, doors and hood were gone, torn in bits. The steel top hung like a crumpled bit of paper, and the entire windshield had been knocked out by the impact with the truck.

Reconstruction of Scene

As reconstructed by police, the Traxler car struck the truck first where the platform projected out from behind the cab and then plowed into that side of the truck. The left fender of the truck was crumpled and the stake body torn out on the same side. The load of wood was shifted to that side and some thrown off. Hollis Reed, either jumped or was thrown off his place atop the load. The frame of the truck was knocked out of line by the collision and its drive shaft broken in two places.

Elmer Jackson was first to identify the victims. He had been hunting with Traxler in the afternoon, and had left the Pullis home to go into town just before the men and the girls left to take the latter to the movies.

Sunday throngs milled around the wreckage of the car which was brought to Armstrong's garage on Randolph street. It made a mute but insistent plea for careful, safe driving that Northville drivers will heed for a week or so, according to Chief German. After that, the race to destruction will begin again.

EXPECT LARGE VOTE TUESDAY AT ELECTION

It is the one providing for a four year term for county clerks, prosecuting attorneys, sheriffs and registers of deeds and giving boards of supervisors the power to consolidate the offices of county clerk and register of deeds.

The second amendment provides for the appointment of State Supreme Court justices for eight-year terms by the Governor from a group of lawyers nominated by a non-partisan commission. The commission is to be composed of a supreme court justice, elected by the members of the supreme bench; a circuit judge, elected by the circuit court judges; a probate judge, elected by the probate court judges; three non-lawyers appointed by the Governor; and three members of the State Bar of Michigan. No more than two in the groups appointed by the Governor and the Bar may be of the same political party and no member of these groups may hold any other political office. The members of the commission are to serve overlapping terms of three years and may not serve consecutive terms.

Gasoline Amendment

The third amendment guarantees the use of taxes on gasoline, motor vehicle license plates fees, with the exception of the general sales tax and the tax used exclusively for highways, roads and streets. Road builders, the state highway department and county road commissions have favored it. The opposition comes from so-called good government groups. Such as the Detroit Citizens League, which contend such matters should be fixed by the legislature or administrative officials, rather than in the Constitution, and that it would put a severe burden on the already strained finances of the State.

The referendum act reorganizes State welfare services under a department of public assistance, administered by a five-man non-partisan public assistance commission. The department would have complete charge of welfare funds, although the local welfare administration is not taken away. Enactment of the measure would enable Michigan to get its full share of Federal welfare grants.

The welfare act was drawn up by a commission appointed during the Fitzgerald administration. The legislature passed the act, to go into effect Jan. 1, 1938, but it was forced out of the ballot by a petition movement of its opponents.

THE RED HUNT
(V. J. Brown, Michigan County News, Mason)

The Congressional investigating committee headed by Rep. Martin Dies and charged with investigating communist activity throughout the nation is uncovering some shameful things. That, what the committee is finding in Michigan is not surprising to Michigan people makes the findings all the more shameful.

It has long been stated on authority that Detroit and Flint and several other industrial cities have had active communists employed as teachers. Yet nothing has been done about it. Those who were in a position to know declared that communists played leading parts in the Flint strikes. There has been an organized communist party in Michigan for many years and there still is, although this year the party has no candidates of its own and for the first time in a decade the sickle and hammer of the communists will not appear on the ballot. The communists have endorsed Frank Murphy for governor.

Men and Women pledged to overthrow the American system of government and to replace it with the Soviet brain are traitors by their own confessions. They should not be permitted to hold public office and certainly they should not be permitted in the schools. Neither should they be permitted to have a place on the ballot. We have shown too much tolerance for communists. It is high time that America, and that means state and local governments as well, "got tough" with the communists. One way to "get tough" would be to drive them off all public payrolls and that would be letting them off easy. In their beloved Russia if they attempted to overthrow or undermine the government they would be lined up before a firing squad.

The American public school system is an integral part of the American plan for government. By and large the teachers are loyal, patriotic and unselfish in their service to the nation and to their charges. In simple fairness to that patriotic majority the teaching rolls should be immediately purged of those who are boring from within in their mad efforts to make this country ripe for a Lenin, Trotsky or a Stalin.

Another splendid gain in Sunday School interest and attendance was registered last Sunday, breaking a year's record. We hear much of gangs of boys committing misdeeds because of misguided activity. What a fine corrective it would be if all Northville made as its slogan "Every boy and girl in some Sunday School or week day school of religion."

"The Church's Responsibility to Youth" will be the sermon theme Sunday morning. Special music will be given under the direction of Leslie G. Lee.

DONDERO PROPOSES SEVEN POINTS FOR SOUND RECOVERY

Republican Congressman Seeks to Serve All People; Record Good

Rep. George A. Dondero, who seeks re-election to Congress from the 17th District on the Republican ticket, has the experience of service in the 13rd, 74th and 75th Congresses and membership on the Committees on Rivers and Harbors, Foreign Affairs, and Education to recommend his return to Washington.

According to a Washington newspaper writer, he is one of the hardest workers in Congress and he has a reputation for considering legislation on its merits. To effect a permanent business recovery, Rep. Dondero proposes that Federal expenditures be reduced by prudent management of national affairs; that private industry be encouraged in its efforts to expand employment; that an equitable method of settling labor disputes be developed to protect the interests of all parties concerned; that farmers be aided by stabilizing employment conditions and resuming competitive farm imports; that the Social Security Act be modified after a careful study of our old age pension problem; that relief be divorced from politics; and that government competition with private enterprise be ended.

Rep. Dondero secured the passage of an amendment to the National Firearms Act removing restrictions hampering industries in the 17th District. He also secured an amendment to the Tariff Act permitting the return of milk containers to dairy firms in this country without the payment of duty. He aided in securing post office buildings for Ferndale, Royal Oak, Birmingham, and Rochester.

He prevented the abandonment of the only Federal fish hatchery in Michigan, located at Northville, and worked to ease the tax burden on small business firms and for measures which would encourage business enterprises.

As the ranking republican member of the Committee on Education, Rep. Dondero is in a position to render valuable service to the cause of education. His other committee assignments and his seniority ranking make possible an even wider sphere of service in the future.

Read Why Chase S. Osborn IS GOING TO VOTE FOR Governor Frank Murphy

Osborn for Murphy for 'Good of State'
JACKSON, Mich., Oct. 26.—Chase S. Osborn, of Sault Ste. Marie, former Republican Governor, announced Monday he would support Gov. Murphy for re-election.

Osborn was at the Hayes Hotel when the Governor arrived at Jackson for his night speech. After consultation with members of the Governor's party, through Norman Hill, the Governor's secretary, this statement was issued: "Frank Murphy is a noble Roman Catholic. Now in the world can he be a noble Roman Catholic and a Communist at the same time? Versatile as he is, he can't quite accomplish that."

"I am on my way to Georgia, but one thing I am going to do before I leave Michigan is to pick up my share of voters' ballot, probably at Charlotte. I am going to vote for a Democrat for Governor for the first time."

Osborn issued a statement from his hotel room after Hill announced that he would vote for Murphy. "I do not want to do anything to upset the cohesion and, you might say, the success of the Republican party," Osborn said in clarifying his position. "I think highly of Gov. Murphy. I wish him well and I am sure that among those who have called for a change would be a Republican. But I have been a Republican for many years. I never left the Republican party—even for Theodore Roosevelt."

Pressed for an unqualified statement as to whether he endorsed Gov. Murphy outright, Osborn said: "I didn't want to go that far."

What Governor Murphy Has Done For The Farmers and For Farm Homes

Through the Rural Electrification program which Governor Murphy initiated he has established 3,000 miles of electrification and brought power to 16,000 farms through 14 Co-operatives. The cost of $10,000,000 has been paid for by the Federal Government. According to Joseph Dannelly of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission, it would have taken the private utility companies 55 years to have accomplished this at the rate they were building—but since Governor Murphy's program became operative, they have built 3,000 miles of new lines.

Michigan apple growers, grape growers and onion growers have benefited by more than $700,000 through the operations of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corp.

For the first time in Michigan history, sweet cream is now being shipped to the Eastern States. This has been made possible wholly because of Governor Murphy's Dairy Products Improvement Program which has established Statewide cream and milk tests and has brought about semi-monthly payments to producers.

For the first time in Michigan history, Governor Murphy's Department of Agriculture has inaugurated an effective marketing and grading program. As a result, Michigan potato growers received 17c per cwt more than growers from other states and Michigan potato growers have received $750,000 more than they would have otherwise obtained.

Through Governor Murphy's efforts, farmers are now protected from huge crop losses through the enforcement of an amended seed law.

A GOOD RECORD IN PUBLIC SERVICE

GOOD ROADS mean everything to all of us. Michigan's top-ranking automotive industry depends upon good roads. Our second most important industry—the tourist business—could not exist without them. Agriculture thrives only when farm products can be rushed to markets over good roads. Business prospers as these basic industries prosper.

On election day you will vote on Amendment No. 3, the Good Roads Amendment. Here's what a "yes" vote means to you: As a wage earner "yes" means more jobs; as a farmer "yes" means good farm-to-market roads; as a business man "yes" means more business, and as a taxpayer "yes" means a brake on your property taxes. To your family, Amendment 3 opens up new fields of safe and healthful recreation.
