

Mayor Nichols Reports Santa Claus Will Make Two Visits in Village

Genial King of the North Will Greet Children at Christmas Tree from 3 to 6 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 17

Santa Claus, the genial fellow from the North who is tops in popularity every year at this time, will make two public appearances in Northville this season, according to a press release which came early this week from Mayor Arthur S. Nichols.

Mayor Nichols issued a personal invitation to the kindergarten, first, second and third-grade pupils Monday morning at the grade school building to be present for Santa's initial visit here from 3 to 6 p. m., Saturday, Dec. 17. Santa, it is understood, will take up his headquarters at the four corners by the village Christmas tree.

Each child who comes to shake hands with him at this time is asked to bring a note (or she) wants most for Christmas. All notes are to be signed with the child's name and address.

Santa will make a tour of the village when he comes Dec. 24, the date set for his second visit. He will be escorted through the village streets in a sleigh if there is snow, if not, he'll make the trip in a wagon. He is making the second visit to issue an invitation to all Northville to attend the Community Christmas tree festivity that night at the four corners.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES INCREASE DESPITE START OF WINTER

Under favorable weather conditions home building and repairing have remained at a steady level during late fall months, according to reports to The Record.

Greater activity is forecast for 1939, states Harold Church, manager of Novels Lumber and Coal company, who explains that favorable market conditions, improvement of business conditions and low cost financing will combine to push construction to new gains.

Framework is going up at Fairbrook and Center streets for two-story English colonial style house of six rooms for Mrs. Julius Blake and Mrs. Elancho McKinney. Completion of the interior occupies workmen on the Lipp home at 440 Eaton drive. A home for L. V. Sonzberg at 440 Grace avenue has been completed by the Vernon Pignum company, builders of the Blake-McKinney and Lipp homes.

Ruffians have occupied their new Cape Cod type house on Grace avenue, likewise built by the Pignum company.

The home for Fred Cochran, located on East Eight Mile road near Meadowbrook, is well along. This home is of cement block construction.

Frame work is also up for the Albert Levine home on High street near the St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church. A large addition, including two bedrooms, bathroom and basement, is under construction for the home of Tom Holmes, located on Beck road near Six Mile. The original home and new addition are brick veneer.

Repairs and new construction were begun Tuesday on the house belonging to Mrs. J. L. Calkins, corner of Walnut and North Center streets. This property was damaged by fire and water last Friday afternoon. Nearby on Walnut street, Luther Lapham is constructing a new small cottage.

Merchants Contribute to Christmas Project

To the list of merchants and professional men published last week as contributors to the Civic Association fund for Christmas decorations and the movie party for children are added the following names inadvertently omitted from the original list:

E. M. Bogart, Dr. H. H. Handorf, George Hills, Dr. A. A. Holcomb, Fred W. Lyke, E. L. Smith and John Walker.

When the canvas is completed, according to Orlow Owen, sufficient funds will have been raised to defray expenses of the ice carnival to be sponsored by the association early in January. No further solicitation will be required, officers of the association hope.

Post Office Shows Proper Way To Wrap Christmas Packages

What happens to improperly wrapped Christmas packages is demonstrated this week in a display in the Northville post office window. The same display shows how to wrap a package so that it will go through the mails without causing damage to the contents.

A great deal of the mail at this time of the year is distributed by substitutes. In order to avoid delays, we ask the patrons to have their names clearly lettered on their boxes," comments Postmaster Fred E. Van Atta.

The Christmas rush began Monday morning at the post office and continued through Wednesday. "The mail this week has been heavier than we expected, but we have not needed to call in extra help," reports Mr. Van Atta.

POST OFFICE SITES RECEIVE INSPECTION

Northville came a step closer to its $75,000 post office building Tuesday when Roy LaForge, Detroit case inspector, looked over the 11 sites which have been offered for sale to the government.

Mr. LaForge returned to his Detroit office Tuesday night to make his final recommendation to Smith W. Pufund, fourth assistant United States postmaster, who in turn will send the recommendation to the treasury department. Mr. LaForge gave Postmaster Fred E. Van Atta reason to believe that work would come from the Washington office within a week.

Pictures of the 11 sites were taken Tuesday by LaForge, who told Mr. Van Atta that he was eliminating in his recommendation all sites which did not conform to the size specifications set up by the government.

WILLIAM LINCOLN'S FUNERAL RITES HELD

A former resident of Northville, William Lincoln died Monday Dec. 12 at his home on Six Mile road, Saleha, where he had lived for the past 27 years. At one time he had lived in North Star.

Last rites were held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 15, at the home with the Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, pastor of the Salem Congregational church, officiating.

Burial was made in the Walker cemetery, West Salem.

EARLY PAPER

So that The Northville Record may again serve shoppers and advertisers to the fullest extent, next week's issue will go to press Wednesday instead of Thursday.

It will be necessary for all of the ministers and correspondents to have their items on the news desk Monday morning to assure publication. General news and advertising copy will have to be prepared a day early to meet the deadline.

Judge Del Campbell Fines Woman on Petty Larceny Charge, Thursday

A judge Del Campbell fined a shoplifter $10 and court costs ($2.50) Thursday, Dec. 8, in the presence of the arresting officer, Chief of Police Loyd M. Gesman and Mayor Arthur S. Nichols.

The shoplifter, a 30-year-old woman, was sighted by Mrs. Gerald Woodworth in the D. & C. store, where the woman took 60 cents worth of merchandise (a pair of bloomers and a comb). Mrs. Woodworth followed her out of the store where the woman admitted the petty larceny charge. Chief Gesman took her to the village hall, where she paid her fine from a large roll of bills she had with her on her shopping excursion.

The D. & C. store is often the victim of shoplifters, but this is the first time any person has been turned over to the police. Other merchants in the village have reported similar losses. They say that they must be particularly watchful of their merchandise at this time of year.

Fifth Grade Heads Annual Seal Sale

"THAT'S FINE"

Editor Record:

I notice the city officials are asking us to obey the traffic laws of the town. That's fine. But may I suggest that it would be a good idea to have the village trucks and other municipal cars make a practice of stopping at stop streets as they ask the rest of us to do?

As has been the case in former years, worthwhile gifts will be given to the children. They will be mostly articles of clothing. A Christmas dinner will be a feature of the affair.

Tickets are on sale for $1 a plate. Northville merchants long ago placed their stamp of approval on this enterprise undertaken by the Legion and yearly back the project by buying tickets to the dinner.

Northville Merchants Dress Shops in Bright Yuletide Decorations

Attractive Windows and Stores Filled with Quality Merchandise Draw Shoppers to Village Business District

Though villagers may have reached the age of unbelief, a tour of Northville and its shops, stores and principal streets, aglow with traditional red and green mingling with the modern blue and silver will impress them that Northville has achieved a bigger and more colorful observance of the Christmas holiday season.

Never were Christmas greens so green, and bells and the like so red. Never did lights twinkle with so many points of brilliant beauty, and never were tinseled and cellophane so attractively used in decoration.

And in the stores one finds toys and wearables, games and home furnishings, pianos and fancy ones in glorious profusion.

Never was there such a Christmas when toys were so animated, dolls so pretty and lovable, and animals so much like their live models as this Christmas in Northville.

To stroll through the village stores is to uncover new worlds of gift ideas. Mother is entranced with the beautiful and many have the quick eye zipper, fasteners. She dreams of one on the family "tree when."

Mamma Mamma! Johnny cries in a tone and volume reserved only for catastrophe, you think! "I've got it! I've got it! I've got it!"

The club when about because of illness for the past two weeks. Don Armstrong, Junior Robinson was presented.

Vice-President Bogart was incapacitated by a heavy cold and Leslie G. Lee welded the gavel in his place. Guests were Vernon Pignum and Mr. Lanning. Next week's meeting will be observed as Rotary Ann night.

STUDENT LOAN FUND AIDS VILLAGE YOUTH

More than a dozen Northville young people have been enabled to continue their work in college through aid given by the student loan fund of the Rotary club. It was pointed out by Dr. H. S. Whitman, chairman of the committee, Tuesday at the noon meeting.

This interesting project of the club was started in the fall of 1934 and in the four years since, more than $1000 has been raised by the club in various ways to help worthy students. The fund has been secured through musical shows, dancing, rogn enterprises at the fair and through personal contributions.

E. L. Mills, for a number of years secretary of the club, was one of those instrumental in starting this movement.

The student loan fund is a revolving one and students are privileged to pay back the loan in installments. Last night's entertainment given in the high school auditorium by Magician Harry Cecil of Detroit, was for the benefit of this fund.

Floyd Lanning made an appeal for the support of the American Legion party to be given for Northville boys and girls, next Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church house. He reported that 60 boys and girls will be guests of the Legion at that time. Following the supper, Mr. Lanning explained, useful gifts, such as shirts, shoes, and groceries will be presented to the youngsters.

Vice-President Bogart was incapacitated by a heavy cold and Leslie G. Lee welded the gavel in his place. Guests were Vernon Pignum and Mr. Lanning. Next week's meeting will be observed as Rotary Ann night.

'Messiah' Ready for Presentation

Handel's "The Messiah," which was sung Wednesday evening in Walled Lake by a combined chorus of voices from Northville, Plymouth and Walled Lake will be presented in the village at 8 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 12 in the Presbyterian church under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, music director in the Northville school system.

Singing the solo roles this year are: Miss Evelyn Ambler, soprano; Mrs. Eleanor Phillips, mezzo; Warren Foster, tenor; Mrs. Erma S. Johnson, contralto; and Charles Hutton, bass.

The accompanying artists will be Miss Doris Teksbury and Mrs. item at Dorchester, pianists; Mrs. Doran S. Assen and Mrs. Dorotha Egea organists.

Included in the 100-voice chorus will be singers of the Walled Lake Methodist choir, the Northville Plymouth chorus and the Northville high school choir.

The first performance of "The Messiah" was given April 18, 1942, in Dublin. On the occasion of its first performance in England March 23, 1742 at the words in the Hallucination chorus. For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth, the auditors were so transported that, led by the King, they all rose to their feet and remained standing until the chorused ended. This practice has become as much a part of succeeding performances as the Christmas date and is observed here every year by music lovers in Northville and surrounding communities who come to hear its rendition.

Other merchants, one after the other, will report similarly. Many have had to re-order after heavy sales had depleted original stocks.

Letters from Mrs. O. F. Rengs and Miss Nora Wilson's second graders find their way into The Record columns this week. The notes, penned in all earnestness to Santa Claus reveal concern over health of Santa's reindeer. Worse Than War

The United States has had six major wars since 1776. In the fifteen years covered by these wars there were 244,357 fatalities. What a waste of human life it was, you say when you contemplate these figures. Yet in fifteen years of peace extending from 1923 to 1937 inclusive, the automobile was the cause of 441,914 deaths. Here are almost twice as many fatalities as were caused by all our wars.

Think of these facts the next time you are tempted to drive recklessly when you go out upon the highway.

Gone From Most Homes

A friend just tells us that he has put a coal stoker into his home. We thought: "Well, there will be fewer chores in that home for the boy to do."

Then we happened in another home in town where the small boy of the house was bringing in wood for the fire-place. "That boy is lucky," we thought, "for he still has some chores to do."

The day of "chores" in the average American home is going. There is no wood to split, not so many cows to milk and so far this winter, scarcely any snow to shovel.

With the passing of chores from the ordinary household, it is a splendid thing that our schools are providing a course in manual training to give our boys an outlet for their formal activity.

Ford Motor Company and Wages

People here in Northville realize what the Ford Motor Company does for our community in payment of wages to the workers of the local plant. This is a contribution that is greatly appreciated by our people.

Some interesting fact about the Ford Motor Company has done in the way of splitting profits in wages is shown in Edsel Ford's appearance last week before the Senate investigating committee.

Here was one hearing that was carried on without controversy and with the members themselves giving high praise to motor men who appeared before the committee. Here are some interesting facts that developed in Edsel Ford's testimony before the committee:

Since the Ford company announced the $5 a day rate for workers back in 1911, the Ford Motor company has distributed over $100,000,000 to its working men above their estimated "going" wage level.

Under the Ford profit sharing plan employees at the present time have received $11,000,000. Sometimes the workers receive as high as 16 per cent on their investment.

The Ford company has never had any serious labor trouble during all these years. Most people believe that this is the result of the company's playing fair in its labor policy. All of this is very good news to the many thousands of people who are influenced by the vast stretches of the Ford industries.

A Son Kills His Father

Widespread publicity was given last week to the murder of the Rev. Russell H. Bready by his son, Robert, at Bainbridge, Ohio, where Dr. Bready was the pastor of the Methodist church.

Dr. Bready had occupied Michigan pulpits in Hastings, Pontiac, Port Huron and Detroit and Cincinnati and other places in Ohio. Although a man of some eccentricities, Dr. Bready was a man of great native ability and was noted especially for his outstanding eloquence. For example, the Hastings Banner gives nearly a column to his tragic death and in the write-up says: "During his four years here he made a great impression upon Hastings. He was known for his kind impulses and was generous to a fault."

The fact that the preacher was killed by his own son, undoubtedly caused many to point the finger of scorn at preachers' sons and at the church in general. The preacher was killed by his son while the latter was intoxicated. The story of his murder might easily have been duplicated in any community of Michigan. The son had come home early in the morning drunk and the father, in the kindly impulses of his heart, had apparently not reprimanded him but had taken him for a walk to sober him up. While trying to stop his son from drinking more liquor from his bottle, he was shot dead by his son.

The son has since said that he has no recollection of how or why he killed his father. With a terrible pathos, the son said: "He was always kind to me."

Who killed this preacher? Why, the son, of course, and upon reading the whole shocking story one is convinced that the boy must have had some partner in his crime. If society allows the young man to become a murderer by letting him become an irresponsible alcoholic, then we say that someone besides the boy is responsible for killing the father.

Further, if anyone starts pointing cynical fingers at preachers' sons, let him first look well to the facts. For in the hundred years, preachers' boys have been pretty much the target for public criticism. Aroused by much criticism, someone took the time to look up the facts and then write a book about it. These cold facts about the much-talked-of preacher's boy is a success.

far beyond his proportionate part of the population. For example, not so many years ago the president of every great university in the Middle West was a preacher's son, and at one time the editors of several of our most widely known magazines were preachers' boys. In the banking and financial world, preachers' sons held four times as many responsible positions as they were entitled to hold.

Wandering Thoughts

Just nine days more!

Will it be a snowless winter?

It is not often that our farmers can plow in December.

When you hear that gossip, just ask yourself: "What's the other side to the story?"

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Cochran is a fine addition to East Base Line road.

Some of the Northville stores have some exceptionally fine stocks," says a Northville shopper to The Record.

A dollar invested in a ticket for the American Legion's children party on December 22 will bring big dividends.

Our post office force are the busiest folks in town. And a very courteous and kindly bunch from Postmaster Van Atta down.

Someone who knows says that if we get a system of "state medicine," as some are suggesting, the cost will be a billion dollars a year. What's another billion among friends?

This is from The Christian Science Monitor: Headlines in the news: "Son Confesses Killing Minister for a Drink." "Man Shot as Robber, Victim Held as Drunk." "Liquor continues to pile up its tragic case against society. It is a criminal and the maker of criminals."

CIVIL SERVICE SETS EXAMINATION DATES

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an open competitive examination for the position of head laundryman in the U. S. Marine hospital, Public Health Service, Detroit, and future vacancies in positions requiring similar qualifications in the same locality at approximately the same rate of pay ($1860 a year, less $450 a year for quarters, subsistence and laundry) will be filled from this examination unless it is found in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement, transfer or promotion. The salary named above is subject to a deduction of 3 1/2 per cent toward a retirement annuity.

Duties: To supervise and assist employees engaged in the operation of washing machines, extractors and other minor laundry machinery; to see that all machinery is kept in first class running condition and make necessary minor repairs when necessary; to prepare all washing solutions for the washing of laundry; and to perform related duties as required.

Basic of Ratings: Competitors will not be required to report for examination at any place, but will be rated on the extent and quality of their experience and fitness which are relevant to the duties of the position, on a scale of 100, such ratings being based upon competitors' sworn statements in their applications and upon corroborative evidence.

Applicants must possess the following qualifications: They must be citizens of the United States.

Experience: Applicants must be all-round laundrymen. They must show that they have had either at least three years of practical experience in all the operations of a first-class, modern equipped laundry, including the machinery; or at least one year of experience as assistant superintendent of a large, first-class, modern equipped laundry, or as foreman in complete charge of a smaller first-class modern equipped laundry.

Age: They must have reached their twentieth birthday but must not have passed their fiftieth birthday on the date of the close of receipt of applications. These age limits do not apply to persons granted preference because of military or naval service except that such persons must not have reached the retirement age.

Physical Ability: Applicants must be in sound physical health. Remediable defects or curable disease will not exclude a person from examination, but proof that such defects have been remedied, or the disease, if any cured, must be received during the life of the eligible register before person, otherwise qualified may be considered for appointment under civil service rules.

Vision must be at least 20/30 (Snellen) in one eye, glasses permitted. Uncorrected vision must be at least 20/200 (Snellen) in that eye. A rigid physical examination will be made by a Federal medical officer before appointment. Persons who are offered appointments must pay their own expenses in reporting for duty. If, upon reporting at the place of assignment, they are found ineligible because of physical defects they cannot be appointed, and no part of their expenses for returning home can be borne by the government.

by George Dusenroth did. When it was standing beneath the blower of a separator on threshing day, the straw came down and burned the hog, who, when discovered to be missing, was given up for lost. Seventy-seven days later, Dusenroth saw something struggling at the straw stack, and out came the hog, 150 pounds lighter, but still alive. Such songs have power to quiet the restless pulse of care. And come like the benediction that follows after prayer. —Longfellow.

Death Claims Herbert F. Andrews, 65, Saturday after Three-Week Illness

By C. E. HUTTON

WALLED LAKE—This community suffered the loss of another valued citizen, Saturday, with the death of Herbert F. Andrews, local station agent for the Grand Trunk railroad during the past 42 years.

He died in Pontiac General hospital after an illness of three weeks, at the age of 65. He was born at Milford, where he spent most of his boyhood. At the age of 10, he came to Wall Lake, where he lived for Dodge Park No. 4, Cass Lake. It would appear that the selection of future State park for this area the possibility of beach should be a dominant factor in the choice.

Not only is swimming the most popular summer activity, but it is the most intensive use of the area. Where it takes about 10 acres for 10 men to play a league game of baseball, ten thousand people can enjoy a beach of that size every day. A site on a good lake may cost two or three thousand dollars an acre on a good lake and be measured by its use by still more people than the land back of it. That may be had for $20 an acre, it is a good location even if the high cost may easily be self-justifying, and maintaining. At the New York beaches, booths, chairs, umbrellas and game equipment are rented and sandwichea, soft drinks and regular meals are sold.

Many English and Scotch schools have required swimming for graduation for a generation, and many American schools are coming to see that swimming is excellent exercise, taking nearly every muscle in the body and it may be the means of saving one's life or that of a friend.

The appeal of bathing is of this sort: physiological, hygienic and relief from the heat of summer, if social. On the physical side, it is nervous shock of the water, near always several degrees cooler than the air, and the feeling of relief from the heat of summer, if social. On the physical side, it is nervous shock of the water, near always several degrees cooler than the air, and the feeling of relief from the heat of summer, if social.

church Friday night was well attended. Seventy-five persons were present. After supper a splendid talk was given by Miss Frances Priest, who is working in the Friendliness House and other districts in Detroit. She emphasized particularly the need of a friendly helping hand among the less fortunate ones, especially those from other nations. She brought to our thoughts the fact that "The world is at our door," urging the help of all Her talk was largely to the girls of the World Wide Guild.

"Is the Universe Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Forces?" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches. The world on Sunday, Dec. 18. The Golden Text (Isaiah 48:13) is "Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am heath am the first, I am also the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand spanned the heavens."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rev. 4:11) "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power, for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 285) "God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them."

Ladies Aid Society Holds Christmas Party—

With a lighted Christmas tree making an appropriate background for the season the members of the Methodist Ladies' Aid society enjoyed their annual Christmas party in the upper room of the church house Tuesday afternoon. A cooperative luncheon preceded a program, which was in charge of Mrs. Herman Berend.

Mrs. Russell H. Steinhilber read a Christmas story and Miss Florence Johnson was heard in a group of songs accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Russell M. Atchison. Christmas carols were sung in unison.

The gifts on the tree were to be presented to children whose Christmas would otherwise be less merry. (Continued on page 5)

RECORD LETTER LOCATES LOST FRIEND IN WEST

It pays to have a letter published in the home paper writes Mr. Alden Miles who is living in the West. Through the letter which appeared in the Record a few weeks ago Mrs. Miles has located an old friend in Florida and an acquaintance was renewed.

Mrs. Miles writes from Orange Calif. where she is making an extended stay at the home of a son whose daughter is currently ill in Alhambra, Calif. Mrs. Miles ran across a former neighbor in Novi. She writes enthusiastically of the beauty of the Rocky mountains and of the Pacific ocean in which she and her son's family took a dip. She is interested in the acres of vegetables, lettuce, beets, carrots, onions and cabbages which look like a vast checker board as you look down into the valley from the heights. She writes "They are irrigated from the water from Boulder dam."

During her trips about California, Mrs. Miles has seen much of the results of the forest fires which have raged there.

THE RECORD SHOPPER

by Virginia G. Anderson

The shopping fund of the week for the pipe smoker is something that will endear the giver for many months to come. It's a smoking kit that Gussels have selected. It contains nine tobaccos, very special ones — like Perique, Old Mariner, Havana, Turkish, Virginia, Walnut — all ready for the smoker's own blending to his particular taste. Besides the tobaccos, the kit comes equipped with a blending jugger and a book filled with suggested blends.

The fast smoker can make a blend that will be mild and mellow. There are directions for mixing a rich full flavored smoke. The old-timer's favorite recipe is included, and there's even a suggested blend that will assure a cloud of fragrant smoke for the smoker's companion of the evening. It's truly a gift that promises many happy hours of enjoyment for the fastidious male who doesn't think much of the usual run of Yuletide presents. The price is $3.50. And there's a smaller kit with five tobacco favorites (of equal quality) for only $1.

Included on every shopping list is a person who really has everything. That person who has "everything" gets a thrill when a friend is smart enough to unearth an unusual gift that intrigues her because of its uniqueness, its beauty, its daintiness, its exclusiveness. Sometimes it is an article that can be put to some use, sometimes it's just a luxury, sometimes (happily) it's both.

We ran into a number of such trinkets this week. Here they are: A perfume bar which keeps under lock and key three choice scents for $1; glass bottles with jeweled tops for only 25 cents which can be filled with dainty, costly perfumes, making the entire gift cost somewhere between one and two dollars; manicure kits (packaged by nationally recognized houses) for the woman who insists on having lovely hands no matter how hard she works, costing from $1 to $5; jeweled single and double compact (one with a whisp of elder down for a puff) from $1.50 to $3.95, practically all of them boasting the felt padding to keep the powder from smearing; indispensable sewing kits for $1; mesh and velvet evening bags that shelter double compacts for $3.75 and $5.75, a travel bag fitted with someone's choice cosmetics of Carné, Norel, Coty or Helene Rubinstein makes for $3.75 to $12.50, all in leather cases, of course.

Just out of the packing boxes is a new line of toilet articles for both men and women — It's the Early American, Old Spice that gets its scent (refreshing and sweet) from crushed rose petals and sage spices. As if that weren't enough in itself, the line comes charmingly packaged in quaint treasure chests, trinket boxes and even the shaving mugs of Guss's gone by. The line, which is complete from soap to cologne, is not expensive, the individual items costing as little as $1.

Lyke's are doing something about making the Christmas season a happy one for the youngsters. We found a large assortment of ice skates with shoes, for $3.50 and $4.50 in sizes 7 to 11. Sleds need not be such costly items. We sighted them in this same store for $1 to $3.75. And for the very young there are bright red Teddy bikes (glorified stream-lined tricycles) for only $1.50, assuring a great deal of "motoring" pleasure for the tots who no longer belong to the "creeeping" set.

For hostesses who like to entertain informally at buffet affairs there's a really nice wooden salad bowl which has the essential matching self-serve spoon and fork. The bowl is $1.25. Because cookie jars (particularly red ones) have been such a favorite with shoppers this year, Mr. Lyke has found it a good idea to offer a second shipment. It consists of some hand-painted ivory ones, ready for selection this week. They are priced at $1.35.

Pastel waste baskets, decorated in good taste make inexpensive ($1) gifts. The baskets themselves are large enough to be of genuine usefulness in any orderly household.

Winter time is game time in the home where families gather. In the evening, for a bit of relaxation, Henry's Hardware store has it ready sold out one shipment of a 98 cent game, Chik Ball and another shipment will be in this week to supply the demands of the many shoppers who are just getting around to doing their buying. Another game which promises to be popular is a mechanical Shuff-L-Board, which also sells for 98 cents. For the same amount of money, a ping-pong set can be bought (two balls, a net and four reversible paddles).

Not exactly in the game line, but suggestive of a pleasant evening around the fireplace, are the popcorn sets which include five brightly colored bowls, one large and four individual sizes, all for $1.25.

It was in this same store that an aluminum constructed sled was seen. It costs $5.75. There are toboggans for kiddies for $3.50, as well as the seven-foot size for $7.50.

Maybe it's because lounging hours are at such a premium these busy days that we like to make the most of the occasions when we have the chance. An evening at home with the radio or a good book can be made even more attractive if one dresses for the occasion in a robe. A rich deep blue velvet wrap-around style is outstanding in the group which can be seen at the Woolen Goods store. This one is priced at $10.95, but there are suede cloth styles in bitter sweet, Roseberry, aqua and royal blue colors that are exceptional fashion and quality values for $4.95 and $5.95. They have zipper fastenings and deep roomy pockets.

Further increasing the lazy luxury of lounging and sleeping hours are the Tom Boy pajamas which are designed in three materials: this year flannel ($1.95), broadcloth ($1.19), pastel satin ($2.95). And for solid comfort, a bed jacket and bed socks are warm insurance policies for $1.25 and $1.50.

Should a motor trip South be in the offing for someone on the Christmas list, an auto robe in Scotch plaid ($3.95 and $5.95) will be acceptable. Once the South has been reached, the auto robe can be thrown aside and a summer frock of hopsacking, styled in the spectator sport manner, is the right thing to wear. This shop has several models which can be bought for $5.95 and $7.95.

A tourist, speeding along the highway at 70 or 80 miles an hour, was stopped by a highway patrolman. "Was I driving too fast?" he asked, apologetically.

"No, no, you were flying too low," the patrolman retorted.

Denton Home Is Scene of Christmas Party

Mrs. Joseph Denton opened her home on Six Mile road Monday to the members of the Northville Branch of the National Farm and Garden club.

DUNDEE DEBATERS WIN OVER N. H. S.

To debate the question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Form an Alliance with Great Britain," the Dundee debate team, coached by Margaret Sturt, met and defeated the Northville team, last Friday afternoon in E. C. Mollema's room.

Each member stated his case in an eight-minute constructive speech and attacked the flaws in his opponent's argument with four minutes of rebuttal.

Don Corbin, "Dundee" and Peggy Roads defended the negative in the order named, while Laura Bolton, John Costello and Julian Thorne upheld the affirmative. Granting the decision to the negative, B. J. Knittel, judge and President of the debate, said that his chief criticism was that things were started but not followed up. Comparing the affirmative team with a salesman trying to sell him a new car and the negative side with one trying to keep him from buying it, Mr. Knittel said that the affirmative had attacked the negative's argument but had failed to build up a good case to sell him the car. On the basis of argument both were equal but on refutation the negative had a very slight advantage. On delivery, however, the Dundee team was superior to the home team.

their playhouse for Xmas. They have made wreaths for the windows chains to go across the playhouse room, a fireplace and decorated a small Christmas tree in it which Richard Gussel brought to school. We have invited the mothers to come and see our room on Friday, Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday at 3 o'clock. We also wrote letters to Mr. Baldwin thanking him for letting us come to see his Record office.

We are practicing a play for the assembly next Wednesday afternoon. Several dolls have been to visit the kindergarten.

After looking at toys in the stores downtown the kindergarten "Busy Store" (groceries) has been changed to a "Toy Shop." Some of the toys are hand made others borrowed from kindergartners.

Mrs. James Huff's sixth grade is making maps of the British Isles, locating all important places.

Dorothy Steininger is the news reporter at the present time. Pauline Dickerson is back in school.

We are going to have a Christmas play called "Bravery Rewarded." It is a safety play and the following people are in the cast: Ruth, Betty Snow, Jean, Joanne Kitchen, Mother, Betty Tyler, Ann, Mary Ellen Babbitt, Tom, David Bell, Bob, David Amerman, Jack, Leroy McTigue, Messenger, Linwood Snow, and John, John Stark.

Both sixth grades are going out caroling Dec. 20. People who wish them to sing please call Mrs. Johnson on the phone.

Mrs. Robert Radcliff's fifth grade received the statue as prize for selling the most tuberculosis seals.

We are planning a Christmas play called "Who Believes in Santa Claus?" Marilyn Goza and David Willis are absent from school. We hope they are back soon.

Editor's Note...

Now that the boys basketball season is under way, could we persuade some of you fine students to lend an ear to the Junior Student Council announcement about tickets for the girls' games, which started last night when they met the alumni in the high school gym. Although the girls league games don't start until after the holidays, they will play, in addition to the alumni game, a practice game with Hazel Park at 6:30 at Hazel Park Dec. 20.

The Junior Student Council will launch the sale of season tickets immediately after the Christmas vacation. All those interested should see some member of that organization for information.

Tonight in our own gym is that highlight of the basketball season, the game with Plymouth. The games were split last year with each quintet winning one. We've been hearing a lot of talk from Plymouthites about the prowess of their team but were still picking the boys from N. H. S. to win from their arch rivals. Let's all be there tonight to do our part for a victory over Plymouth.

By the way, you students from the grade building, who will be at the game, don't forget about the fact that we of Northville aren't going to "bog" a single soul no matter what happens tonight! And let's try and remember that the referee knows much more about the sport than we onlookers could ever know. His decisions are final and let's not dispute them.

PRESIDENT GIVES ADVICE TO STUDENTS

This article written by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is taken from a back number of "The American Boy." We print it here feeling that it may be of interest to people of high school age about to enter college.

"To succeed in life, you need brains, industry, integrity, ability to make friends, ability to think clearly and to analyze closely."

President Franklin D. Roosevelt makes this statement to all high school boys and girls in an issue of The American Boy magazine.

The average man, according to Roosevelt, fails to make himself an outstanding success because he doesn't start soon enough. He should be getting his fundamentals in high school.

"If you want to be a lawyer," says President Roosevelt, "take the classics course in high school. Make good use of your high school vacations. You can put yourself ahead in vacations by doing some useful reading in history and government. Then there are certain kinds of work that will give you good background and experience."

While President Roosevelt advises college training, he says that it isn't absolutely necessary. It is possible for an ambitious young man to study in a law office or at night school. The start in law is hard. Roosevelt yawns. But if a young works hard, there isn't any limit to his possibilities.

"Don't get into a rut," concludes the president (who don't get in a rut himself). "As a lawyer, don't let life become dull."

If Desks Could Talk

By JEAN ORR

If desks had the ability to talk they probably would have filed many complaints against students of N. H. S. long ago. They, more than likely, would have complained because their once new tops had not been kept looking like new but have been marred with the names and initials of students who feared that they might not be remembered in the future. Many would undoubtedly complain because they had more than once been stuffed like a turkey (only not with dressing) but with everything imaginable from books to apples and handkerchiefs.

Some could tell many very interesting tales about the romances that had taken place in them, and how they were worked overtime many nights after school. They probably think it very interesting to eavesdrop every night from 3.30 on, while some Romeo whispers sweet nothings (or what have you) into his fair one's ear.

Yes, a desk does have a few events that are entertaining in the course of its long life.

ASSEMBLY ENJOYS PROGRAM OF MOVIES

Last Wednesday at 11 a. m. an assembly program arranged by William Hensch, was presented in the high school assembly. This program, consisting of movies, is one of a series of the varied types of assembly programs to be presented.

SOPHOMORES HONOR FRESHMEN AT PARTY

The sophomore class carried out the school tradition by giving a party for the freshmen, last Friday night, in the school gym.

Entertainment early in the evening consisted of cards, chess, checkers, and fiddle sticks. Later in the evening Mrs. Marshall Herick featured a relay game where fun was had by all who participated.

Following this the rest of the evening was devoted to dancing to the newly-formed swing orchestra composed of Harold Martens, Bob Boyden, Alan Gotro, Bob Reinowski, Peggy McCollough and Louise Eaton. Acting as emcee for the evening was Douglas McCluskey. Harold Martens became a favorite among the crowd when he sang, "I've Got a Pocketful of Dreams" and "The Mulberry Bush."

Refreshments, which consisted of a variety of sandwiches, cookies and cocoa, were served about 10:30. Chaperons for the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Ellison Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Snow, Merle Wheeler and R. H. Amerman. The party ended at 11:15.

Movie of the Week

By HULEN HARPER

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU (Columbia)

Translating this Pulitzer Prize play from stage to cinema, was so well done by Director Frank Capra, that it is easily the No. 1 cinema comedy of 1938.

The chief character is Grandpa Vanderhof (Lionel Barrymore), retired for 35 years because he decided one morning that working was getting him nowhere. His daughter, Penny Sycamore (Spring Byington), writes plays because, one day a typewriter was delivered to the house by mistake; his son-in-law (Samuel Hinds), manufactures fireworks in the basement, his granddaughter (Ann Miller), studies ballet with a Russian (Mischa Auer), Alice Sycamore (Jean Arthur), the one normal member of the family, falls in love with her boss (James Stewart), son of the immensely wealthy banker, Anthony P. Kirby (Edward Arnold).

The cameras follow the two families through side-splitting, heart-rending and breath-taking situations, all finally ends smoothly with the fued lifting between the Kirbys and Vanderhofs. Grandpa Vanderhof and Banker Kirby symbolize their inevitable meeting of minds by playing "Polly-Wolly-Dooodle" on harmonicas.

at intervals during the year. The first movie, entitled "Fleet Ho!", depicted the life of a U. S. sailor. Showing a typical day of his life, some of his tasks were swabbing the deck and getting a ship into shape for maneuvers. Airplane carriers were shown, as well as planes flying in formation. Also seen were other means of naval defense, such as submarines, dirigibles, and balloons.

"Neptunes' Realm" was another film showing the imitation of polynogs, or sailors who have never before crossed the equator. Following this, songs were thrown on the screen while the students joined in singing.

BERKLEY DEFEATS NORTHVILLE 18-16

By "SPECK"

N. H. S. dropped her first league game last Friday night when Berkley defeated the Orange and Black by a score of 18-16 on their floor.

During the early minutes of the game, Berkley scored three points while Northville's defense, and offense failed to click. At the end of the first quarter the score stood 5-1. Then the local attack began to function and N. H. S. started to score. As the teams were quite evenly matched, baskets were made by both sides and the first half ended with the score 12-10 in favor of Berkley. The third quarter started off with both teams making occasional baskets and neither being able to draw away from the other. Northville was ahead once in the last quarter but Berkley pulled away to win 18-16 as the final gun sounded.

High point man for this game was Ben Duguid, who scored six points. Nilder was next with four, while Houghton and Myers both made three points against the opposition.

Highlights of the game included a long shot by Houghton while Duguid's great defensive work and the foul shots he made, showed up very well.

The Berkley gym, with its pipes and low ceiling, handicapped the boys from Northville. Jack McCrumb was missing from the lineup due to a misunderstanding. The Orange and Black team's passing looked rather weak at times but outside of that the game was well played.

Starting first team lineup were: G. Myers, G. Houghton, B. Duguid, L. Fritz and J. Nilder.

French Club Notes

The second year French club had its meeting at the home of Gail Horning, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for both social and business reasons.

The business meeting conducted by President Lucille Lapham took place first after which it was decided to give out the parts for a French play to be given for the rest of the class as a Christmas entertainment. Some French songs were sung followed by games arranged by Marjorie Edgward.

Refreshments were served. Then the group broke up and each returned home after a very pleasant evening.

Peggy McCollough was hostess to the French club at a Christmas party in her home Monday evening. Mr. J. M. McCollough told stories of his experiences in France during the war, French customs and how he learned the French language. French Christmas songs were sung by the group. The games played were: Les Emplettes and Lepisades C'en Action.

Before the club adjourned French gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served by candlelight. The group dismissed about ten o'clock.

The first year French club had a candy sale last Wednesday which proved quite successful. Many of the members brought candy and the club made $168. Those who did not contribute candy are to pay 25c each. The profit will then amount to about $260 which will be used to buy club pins.

GRASSHOPPERS PROVE GOOEY TO STUDENT

By EUGENIA STANFORD

Ugghh! what a nauseating thought (and it proved a nauseating thing) dissecting grasshoppers. The members of the biology class noisily expressed their disapproval when their instructor informed them that they were to play surgeon to pickled grasshoppers.

In spite of their antagonism the teacher was determined, so nothing could be done, but to cut up the odorous "little sn-mules."

The boys all vowed that they weren't afraid of them. However, they held them most tenderly. After they got used to the little fellows and the smell, the students became quite fond of the queer creatures, and some even named them. They selected very attractive and suitable names, such as: Hortense, Susy-hop and Goggle-Ann.

Everyone who operated on his uncomplaining patient had drawn the pictures of the bewitched bodies and were sighing relievedly when Miss Ludwig told them, of all things, to draw the facial expression of their protege. Who ever heard of a grasshopper having a facial expression? From the portraits it was discovered that each grasshopper had quite an individual expression.

The students all groaned, "Never again," but just the same they'll be slicing frogs, pretty soon.

LOCAL CAGERS TO CLASH WITH ROCKS

The Northville basketballers go into action again tonight when they meet their long-standing rivals, the Plymouth Rocks.

This game should be the best fought one of the year for both teams are equally matched in strength. Plymouth lost several good men by graduation last year, which included Whitely Moe, high scoring guard, Orland Egloff, fast stepping forward, and their lanky center, Caccetti.

N. H. S. also lost four good men including Captain Charles Bishop, speedy forward, Albert Boelens, a most dependable guard, and Lester, their tall center. With these losses from both teams it should be a battle of the century.

Plymouth's team this year is composed of Jack Ross, Doug Proigli, Bud Krumm, Bob Hitt and Bill Rutherford.

The N. H. S. team includes this years captain, Ben Duguid, Cecil Nilder, Jack McCrumb, Leonard Fritz, Walt Myers, Clayton Myers, Dick Larkin and George Houghton.

Drivers To Reveal Change of Address

Relatively few licensed drivers of motor vehicles in the State have ever realized that the same law that requires them to be licensed also stipulates that they must notify the Department of State immediately of any change of residence address. Notification is made through local, police and sheriff's offices on forms supplied by the department.

The licensing statute provides that failure to have any change of address recorded in the prescribed manner may be cause for revocation or suspension of an operator's or chauffeur's license.

The operators and chauffeurs' division of the Department of State has been unable on many occasions to supply the correct home address of license operators when the appeal for aid in locating people sought was for the purpose of notifying friends or relatives of injuries or even death. Missing persons have been located through the records of the department by relatives who knew that the person was a licensed automobile driver in Michigan. In unsuccessful cases, failure to locate the missing person was attributable only to negligence on the part of the operator to file his change of address. There have been many instances in which badly injured persons could be identified only by their names or serial numbers on their drivers' licenses. But when the addresses are wrong, delays in more complete identifications are experienced and in some cases it is impossible ever to trace the proper residence address.

Leon D. Case, secretary of State advises that all licensed chauffeurs and operators check their home addresses on their licenses and requires only a few moments to properly record the correct address, and any subsequent changes that may be made.

Among the books placed on the Northville Branch of the Wayne County Library shelves this week were volumes for juvenile reading including:

High in the Mountains by Emma Brock. It is a story of Swiss peasants that any nine-year-old will enjoy.

Benjie's Hat by Mable Leigh Hunt. Benjie's Hat has pictures by Grace Paul that are as delightfully funny as the lovely story itself.

Chimney-Sweep Tower by Rita Kussin. This is a lively, amusing story of a boy and girl living in the oldest towns in Germany. Little Shepherd's Trust by E. Hughes. This is an unusually beautiful Christmas story of the boy Daniel.

The Nuggets of Singing Creek by Grace Dawson. The book tells the story of a boy sailing for California with his father to explore the gold region.

NAME ON BALLOT WOULD'N'T RUN

Blanchard — Here's the story of another gentleman who "did not choose to run." When Clyde V. Showalter received a prool ballot for the November election, he found his name as a candidate for auditor general on the Square Deal Ticket as he was a candidate for register of deeds for Isabella county. It cost him a telegram to every county clerk in Michigan to correct his name on the ballot.

UNIQUE NEWS STORY

Read City — Readers of the Oscoda County Herald found a unique news story in their paper recently. At the top of a front page column, in large type, were the words, "This Space Reserved." Below was one sentence: "This space reserved for a detailed account of the Reed City Rod & Gun club activities to the present time in 1938." Below that were 3 1/2 inches of blank white space.
