Exchange Will Stage Big Christmas Party for "Kids" Saturday

Santa Claus Will Attend Event in Person
After Tour of Village; Repeats Visit of Last Saturday

Several hundred children will be treated to a huge Christmas party Saturday night at 7 o'clock at the "four corners" in Northville. The Northville Exchange club will be hosts to the youngsters.

Santa Claus will be present in person to distribute some 700 sacks of goodies to all boys and girls. Just before his appearance "downtown" Santa will parade the village in a special equipage. If there is snow and ice he'll ride in a sleigh, with bells and all. Dick Green and Andrew Torek Jr. buglers will accompany him.

Some 300 children handed letters to Santa Claus who was in the village Saturday afternoon at the invitation of the Northville Exchange club.

Santa took up his headquarters at the four corners by the big community Christmas tree, and there he interviewed the very young of the village who came to shake his hand and give him their carefully penned letters in which were listed the two most desired "wants" for Christmas.

According to information which comes from Santa himself, there seems to be no age limit so far as writing letters to Santa Saturday. Santa reports that he received requests from two villagers who long ago passed even the teen age. Letters asking for a kiddie car and a d-doll were signed by E. C. Hinkley and Mrs. L. A. Baughman. Santa refused to comment on the possibility that these two requests would be granted.

LEE'S CHOIR GIVES WEDNESDAY CONCERT

Dec. 21—Leslie G. Lee will present his high school choir in the annual Christmas program at 8 o'clock tonight (Wednesday, Dec. 21) in the high school gymnasium.

This same concert will be given again Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The high school students will make up the audience early Thursday afternoon when the program will be sung for the last time in the high school.

Lucille Lapham is to be the pianist; Cecil Giles the soloist; and Janet Van Atta the narrator. A prelude by the brass ensemble of the band will get the concert under way tonight.

In addition to the three performances of the concert, the members of the high school choir sang Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church in "The Messiah." They also appeared in the chorus last Wednesday in Walled Lake, and again Monday in the Plymouth Presbyterian church.

MERRY CHRISTMAS VISITS HERE

Orville Barnes, who works on the paper at Allegan, attended "The Messiah" Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church. Mr. Barnes who formerly worked in the subscription department of The Northville Record, plans to visit in the village later this week.

Masonic Lodges Install Officers

Northville's Masonic lodges elected and installed their officers for the year during the past week.

Monday, Dec. 12 the following took office in Northville Lodge, 156, P. & A. M. Ralph Foreman, worshipful master, Harry Bolton, senior warden, John Litsenberger, junior warden, Herbert Deary, treasurer, Robert Coolman, secretary, Dr. Charles Smith, senior deacon, William Duguid, junior deacon, Clifford Sinden, chaplain; Harman Blowers, marshal, Howard Alwood, steward; Harold Parmenter, steward, D. F. Griswold, honorary tyler, John McCully, tyler; Mr. Coolman, member Masonic association.

Officers for the Union Chapter, 55, Royal Arch Masons, were elected and installed Wednesday, Dec. 14. They are: John Litsenberger, high priest, Herman Reinhardt, king, Dr. C. R. Smith, scribe; T. R. Carrington, treasurer, Mr. Coolman, secretary, Fred Wendt, captain of host, Oscar A. Kuhn, principal sojourner, Howard Alwood, Royal Arch captain; James Nairn, third veil, Neil Hamford, second veil, Walter Essick, first veil, Mr. Sinden, chaplain, Mr. Griswold, honorary sentinel, Mr. McCully, sentinel; Mr. Duguid, member of Masonic association.

COUNCILMEN SEEK ADVICE OF LAWYER

Because the council continues to have inquiries from villagers wanting to know about paying tax refunds, the councilmen decided Monday evening in a regular session that their attorney, F. J. Cochran, will be asked to attend all council meetings until the matter is cleared up and the commissioners feel that they can proceed with the regular business without the aid of a lawyer.

With the paving taxes still confusing the general public and the Culbertson water reservoir case giving the councilmen headaches, the commissioners are seeking their lawyer's advice when the first meeting of the New Year is held around the council table Jan. 3. At that time, E. E. Williams, who claims he has $943.60 coming to him for work on the reservoir, will be present to state his case before the council and its attorney. Mr. Williams told members of the council Monday evening that he would like to have them consider immediate payment of his bill, which has been standing for over two years.

ORGANIZE FIVE BOWLING TEAMS

A bowling league of teams representing the A & P store, American Legion, Men's Shop, Northville Hardware and Schrader's has been organized to bowl every Thursday at the Northville Recreation. The teams will compete for a cash award, to be divided between the top two teams at the end of the season, and a trophy donated by Neil Hannaford of the Northville Hardware.

Mr. Hannaford is secretary and treasurer of the league. Other teams are expected to raise the total to six or eight.

CROWDED OUT

The grade school notes and the third grade Christmas stories which were crowded out of the paper this week, will appear next week.

The Message of Christmas

By the REV. FR. LUCIAN A. HEBERT,
Administrator of Our Lady of Victory Church

In all the long ages of this world's history, there is one central, commanding figure. It is the figure of Jesus Christ, the Eternal Son of God, true God and true Man—God from all eternity, made man in the course of time and come into this world its Saviour. His Birthday is the supreme date on the World's calendar. Christ's Birthday is supreme because He is God. For those who refuse to accept the Incarnation (God becoming man) Christmas has no meaning, and for such is just a pagan holiday filled with emptiness and sham.

Centuries of man's life had passed before God clothed Himself with our humanity and came to live His mortal life with mortal men. Thousands of years came and went between the day when Almighty God spoke to disobedient man in the Garden of Paradise and promised him a Redeemer, and that first Christmas night when the angels sang their hymn of praise to the new-born Saviour. For thousands of years men had been born, had lived and died. And all the while the world was waiting for its Saviour, but God waited too; He waited till, in the eternal decree of His Providence, the day dawned, and the hour came when out of Nazareth should come salvation and out of Bethlehem should go forth the Captain of His people, Israel. And when the world was at peace, Jesus Christ was born, the expected of nations, the longed for one of Israel.

The period of waiting was at an end, God's promise was kept: the prophecies were fulfilled. "And Mary brought forth her first born Son and wrapped Him up in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn."

The real message and lesson of Christmas is contained in a scene of the life of Christ which took place 40 days after His birth. Jesus was carried to the temple of Jerusalem and offered by Mary and Joseph to His Eternal Father. The Gospel tells us that the aged Simeon took the Child in his arms and said to Mary, His mother, "Behold, this Child is set for the fall and the resurrection of many in Israel, and for a sign that shall be contradicted." These words tell us briefly the whole life story of the Divine Child who was born for us on Christmas. "This Child is set for the ruin of many—for a sign which shall be contradicted." A strange note to sound on Christmas! Strange indeed, that while all the world rejoices and is glad; He whose birth is the source of all its joy should be heralded as a sign of contradiction! Yet how well have those prophetic words seen fulfillment!

When Jesus Christ came down from heaven, He came in a way that was sure to invite rejection at the hands of a world that was maddened in its search for riches, honors, pleasures and luxury. He entered a world that was ambitious, intemperate, proud and impure. That the Eternal God should be born a helpless Child, the uncreated should become a creature, the unchangeable should suffer, that a virgin should become a mother, that the King of Heaven should be sheltered in a stable, cradled in a manger, bound in swaddling clothes, and warmed by the breath of a dumb beast, that the expected of nations, the long-promised Deliverer of Israel, should come unto His chosen people in the stillness of a winter's night, that He should announce His royal presence first of all to the poor and

100 Musicians Sing Handel's "Messiah"

The Presbyterian church was filled to capacity Sunday evening by music lovers of Northville and surrounding communities who came to hear the sixth consecutive rendition of Handel's "Messiah" directed by Leslie G. Lee of the high school music department.

The appearance of Miss Evelyn Ambler daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler and a junior at the Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, is receiving more than passing notice in music circles. Since she was singing with the high school Glee club four years ago, she has developed in range and poise in a manner that has won her commendation from critics. Singing for the second time the soprano role of "The Messiah," Miss Ambler gave a new richness in interpretation. The other three solo parts were taken this year by one of town musicians. Mrs. Lillian Phillips, Bessie of South Lyon, W. A. Hutton of the Walled Lake, appeared for the first time in "The Messiah." Mr. Hutton director of the Walled Lake Methodist choir, who was the bass soloist and Warren Foster of Ann Arbor, tenor soloist were given most approval of music lovers by their renditions.

Mrs. Doris Tewksbury was the piano accompanist and Mrs. Dorothy Egge played the organ score. The chorus made up of 100 voices included the members of the Walled Lake Methodist church choir, the Northville-Plymouth Mixed chorus organization and some of the singers of the high school choir.

The chorus included: Isabelle Tewksbury, Jeanne Atchison, Jane Behn, Mrs. D. C. Nollar, Mrs. V. J. Lumley, David Hay, Maurice Giles, Cecil Giles, Mary Potter, Gale Hornum, James Hochkins, Helen Winter, Allen Gotro, Peggy McCollough, Bob Ross, Betty Carlson, E. K. HI-SPEED ADDS NEW SERVICING MACHINE

Described as the latest in modern lubricating equipment a streamlining Almo pressure machine has been installed at the Hi-Speed Station operated here by Hummel and Herrick for the Jacobs Oil corporation of Belleville.

A clean and efficient cabinet of air-flow design (conals three high pressure pumps which drive proper grades of lubricants to parts of the chassis. A variety of fittings, permit work in cramped quarters, on any make of car. Hand pumps are used to apply special greases for water pump and steering gears. Greases used are in accordance with manufacturer's specifications, according to Mr. Hummel. He and Mr. Herrick invite all motorists to inspect the new machine at their station.

HASKELL ANNOUNCES WEEK OF FESTIVITY

For the thirteenth time, the Wayne County Training school will open its auditorium doors at 2 p. m. Monday, Dec. 26 for a Christmas program which will be given for the parents of the children of the school and their friends. The performance Monday is the highlight in a week of festivity at the school. "The Mischievous Mouse" an operetta will be presented on this occasion. "It is a musical play about the antics of a mischievous mouse and his capers among the toys in Santa's workshop." The same afternoon a pageant "The Nativity Story" will be told by a group of children in the school. The following day, The Mischievous Mouse and "The Toy Maker" will be repeated for an audience of juvenile guests at the Training school. That evening, The Little Red Shoes will be given with Marionettes.

HOLD RUTHRUFF RITES THURSDAY, DECEMBER 22

Death claimed Mrs. John (Stella) Ruthruff early Tuesday morning at Sessions hospital at the age of 57. She had been in ill health for the past year. A sister of Mrs. N. C. Schrader and Mrs. Claude Riley of the village, Mrs. Ruthruff had spent much time in the village since the death of her husband in 1930. Last rites will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 22, from the Schrader funeral chapel, with the Rev. Harry J. Lord, officiating. Burial will be made in Rural Hill cemetery.

She is survived by two children, Lucille and Theodore of Detroit.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

We will be closed for repairs for several days, beginning Tuesday, Dec. 27. We will appreciate your patience and thank you for all your kindness.

The Mystery of Christmas

The throne of the Caesars has been toppled in the dust for centuries. It has gone the way of all thrones. Materialism reigns for a fleeting day and is gone with the coming of the night.

The Prince of Peace, Jesus, the Carpenter of Nazareth, born during the reign of the Roman emperors, never had a worldly throne but His Kingdom extends around the world. Today, 1900 years from its establishment in Palestine, His spiritual empire holds millions in cheer of submission. Never was the sway of "The Crystal Christ," more supreme, even though tragedy stalks around us all. Sunday, December 25, we observe the birthday of the Child born in Bethlehem. Never before has His birthday so touched a troubled world.

Sunday will be Christmas day.

What is Christmas day? Is it just a date? Is it only a holiday on which to eat, make merry and celebrate? We have just read somewhere that Christmas should be "an experience." That struck us forcibly. Christmas is not a day of anxiety, for fear we missed someone on the giving of presents or sending of greetings, not a day only of feasting and having a "good time" but a day of putting yourself into the spirit of Christmas and doing something "about it." What a thrill that should give us.

Yes, Christmas should be an experience. The world is sick, tired and lonely. We are all hungry for sympathy, for kindness, yes, we are all hungry for love, even though we might not admit it. Christmas should bring a satisfying of this love. The spirit of Christmas is found in the immortal words: "And on earth peace among men." We can write about peace, we can talk about it, we can dream about it, but until we make it an experience, all our talking and writing and dreaming is pretty much wasted effort. But when we bring peace and good will into the life of someone near us, then we experience the true meaning of Christmas.

Christmas as an experience means giving of ourselves. Thus Christmas day is a mystery, a paradox. "To get you must give. To gain, you must lose. To advance you must surrender. To triumph you must submit." What a challenge, what a triumph! This is the great thought that the Quaker had in mind when he said: "What I kept, I lost; what I gave away, I have." This is the paradox of which the Christ spoke when He said: "He that loveth his life shall lose it but he that loseth his life for My sake, shall find it."

The world awaits the conquest of this quality called love. Let the cynic laugh at it! Let the greedy sneer at it! Let the evil say there is no such thing as the conquest of love! What is the fact? The truth is that love alone will triumph in the end. Nothing is more transitory or more fleeting than the mountains of "things" which millions buy for each other for the Christmas holiday. Nothing is more enduring than the love shown on this great holiday which stills the commerce and industry of the civilized world. The paradox of the Christmas day is an amazing thing. To save our life, we must give it.

So, to all, a Merry Christmas! It will be that if we give ourselves, if we do something for others in the spirit of Him whose birthday we celebrate.

Christmas as an experience. That was in the mind of Dickens when he wrote the words we have so often used as the ending of a Christmas editorial:

"And as Tiny Tim would say, 'God bless us every one!'"

(The above Christmas editorial was written by the Record editor two years ago. It is even more appropriate this Christmas of 1938 with half the world torn by war and hatred and rumors of war.)

That Two-Hour Parking

Even though it may seem to mean a personal inconvenience to some of our business people, that two-hour parking rule for Main and Center streets is just plain gumption and just plain courtesy and consideration for people who come to Northville to trade.

Northville, like every other town or city, simply does not have enough parking room for all the cars that want to get to the heart of the town. That being the case, the smart community will be the one that provides the most possible parking space—that is, enlarging the available space by one way or another. Northville's council has been very alert and progressive in providing the two downtown parking areas free to all—on the corner of Main and Center and alongside the Penniman-Allen theatre. Now the city fathers add to parking space by keeping the home cars moving every two hours. This will bring dividends to all.

The fact that outsiders are watching Northville's effort to solve the parking problem is shown by the fact that the Wayne County Tribune, weekly paper published at Ann Arbor, recently commented favorably on Northville's attitude toward the parking problem. Let's keep talking about the problem and make any suggestion we can.

If any of us local drivers get one of those pretty yellow warning tickets, don't get peeved but remember this two-hour rule was made to help the town—means all of us.

If you have an idea on the subject, send them in.

Wandering Thoughts

"The same to you."

A pretty nice Northville Christmas present: A new $75,000 post office.

"Merry Christmas" to everyone of you. And not a single reservation goes with it.

A Christmas thought: "You cannot receive with a closed hand. You must first open it."

Heard in listening to a couple of Northville's civic leaders: "Strange how grown men can act like boys."

The Record would appreciate more letters on public affairs. If you desire your name will not be signed. But remember no anonymous communications will be published.

If you are interested in what President Roosevelt plans to do in 1949, spend five cents for a Saturday Evening Post of December 17 and read "Third Term???" by Hugh S. Johnson of NRA fame. If you start reading it you won't quit until you have read the last word.

Ypsilanti high school first and second teams came over to Northville Wednesday for two snappy games with Northville's first and second basketball teams. The Ypsilanti won both games, but the first game was a close one. The second game progressed. Had the "beats" of the game been even, Northville would have won. The score was 23-19.

The debating team representing the University of Michigan at which Miss Elizabeth VanVelsorburg of this place is a member, won from Ohio State at Columbus O. a few nights ago.

Conrad Langhe and T. M. Moss, motored over to the American Legion hospital at Battle Creek Saturday to attend the second anniversary ceremonies which took place in the afternoon and evening.

WALLED LAKE.—Last I forget to say something about it in this brief reference to the affairs of the village of the week past and the week to come. We now have some ice in the lake—enough to skate on. Of course, there's snow on the ice, but at least one enterprising place of business is making it its business to provide a generous sized spot of cleared surface for the free use of the public. Corner of East Lake Drive and 14 Mile road, at the hamburger dispensary. The hamburgers are good, and so is the coffee.

The town is taking on some semblance of the current Yuletide. The ladies club has again seen to it that the live evergreen at the main fork of our two principal streets is colorfully decorated. Jake Taylor's tree stands out once more in all its electrified glory. The one in the yard at home, and a couple of business places have gone in for lighted trees, and at least one string of lights between Guilford's shop and Taylor's garage suggests that down town appearance. With these and other observations one again concludes that this Christmas time at Wall Lake.

It again becomes my duty as town clerk to step out of my role as leader of the village choir to comment on the recent performance (Wednesday evening) at the Methodist church of "The Messiah." Our choir was host to the Northville-Plymouth Community chorus and several members of the Northville high school choir, all combining to sing this most popular of all oratorios.

The seventy-five voices, directed by Leslie Lee, accompanied by Miss Doris Tewksbury, gave to a capacity audience of Wall Lake folk, and those from distant points the most important local musical contribution ever to be heard here. That it was truly appreciated by all present was indicated by the many enthusiastic comments heard afterwards while refreshments were served to the chorus and friends by the ladies of the church.

Guest soloist, who added greatly to the success of the performance, was Miss Evelyn Ambler, soprano, of Michigan State Normal college and Warren Foster of the University of Michigan. Miss Fritz Johnson, a member of the Wall Lake choir, very capably sang the contralto solo. Some fellow by the name of Linton was the bass. Lulu was accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy McKibben.

Special observation of the season of Nativity was continued on Sunday morning at the Methodist church, when a religious drama was presented by members of the church school appropriate to the birth of the Infant Jesus as directed by Mrs. Frank Miner.

The next meeting of the club will be somewhere near Jan. 18.
Friday at 7 p. m.; Dec. 23, the annual Christmas festival will be held in the church house. There will be a Christmas tree and decorations. The primary class will open the program after the singing of carols by the school. Both the junior choir and the intermediate choir will give special numbers under the direction of Mrs. G. V. Harrison. Mrs. Victor Lunley will recite a Christmas story. After other numbers at the church, Santa Claus will appear with gifts of candy and fun for all.
Don't forget the pastor's Training Class at 3:45 p. m. Friday, for boys and girls from 12 to 17.

The decoration of the ladies parlor is proceeding with great good taste and will be ready probably for the New Year.
The New Christian Endeavor will hold a Christmas party at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 27, in the church house. Much fun has been planned. The Intermediate C. E. Society will hold a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Howard McKeague, 201 South Rogers street. This will be served at 7:30 p. m.

Time of Confessions:
3 to 4 p. m. and 7:30 to 9 p. m. Friday.
11 a. m. Saturday for all children. 3 to 4 p. m. and 7:30 to 9 p. m. Saturday. Please try to observe this arrangement.
Masses on Christmas:
Midnight, High Mass, Christmas Eve.
8:30 a. m.—Low Mass, Christmas Day.
11 a. m.—High Mass, Christmas Day.
Next Sunday is Christmas—the Birthday of Christ. You have, no doubt, purchased all your Christmas gifts and have your Christmas menu planned and are looking forward to the joy of Christmas Day.

with your friends. But have you prepared a Christmas gift for him whose love has given us Christmas and all the sacred joy that the event of history ushered into the world? The gift that Christ wants of His birthday is your heart. Have you prepared to give Christ your heart, on Christmas, by a true penance during advent and a good Confession? If you have not, do so this week, or Christmas for you will be just a pagan holiday filled with emptiness and sham. Every Catholic who is worthy of the name will get to Confession this week and thus prepare to make his heart a true replica of the crib of Bethlehem on Christmas.

First Methodist Church
Harry J. Lord, Minister.
10 a. m.—Church School.
11 a. m.—Worship.
Special observance of Christmas will mark the services, Christmas Day.
At 10 o'clock special Christmas music will be sung, and pictures shown.
At 11 o'clock instead of the usual order of service, there will be a hymn-sing of Christmas carols and a brief Christmas message. The services will be concluded promptly at 12 o'clock. We urge as many of our people as possible to attend the services. As Christmas people, we should not forget to make Christmas Sunday a special day of worship.

The evening services have been taken up Sunday so that Christmas night may be a family night.
This Friday evening the Sunday School program will be given in the church house. A fine program is being given by the primary and junior departments consisting of recitations, songs and Christmas plays. The other departments are also co-operating in the program.
The party for the cradle roll and nursery departments will be held in the primary room Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The parents are requested to accompany the children.

Novi Methodist Church
Harry J. Lord, Minister.
There will be no services at the Novi Methodist church on Christmas Day, the congregation being invited to attend the services at the Northville Methodist church.
Beginning New Year's Day, the services will begin at 10 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock.

First Baptist Church
Corner Wing Randolph Streets
Rev. Rufus M. Traver, D. D., Minister.
10 a. m.—Church School.
11 a. m.—Worship service. Dr. Traver expects to be with us and will bring a Christmas message. The young people's choir will contribute special music.
7:30 p. m.—Christmas services will be given Friday by the church school, parents, and friends are cordially invited. The choir will meet at 6:45 p. m. in the church for final rehearsal.
The Women's Union will meet Thursday Dec. 29 instead of Dec. 22. The place will be announced later.

Salem Federated Church
10:30 a. m.—The pastor will bring a Christmas message, "The Song the Angels Sang."
11:45 a. m.—Bible School with Christmas lessons in all classes.
The Bible-School Christmas program will be at 8 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 22. You are welcome and there will be a gift for everyone present.
Our young people are sponsoring a watch service from 8 to 12 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 31. Plan to come.

College Set Begins Round of Holiday Parties at Tea

The college set has started its round of holiday parties. As usual, the festivities began Sunday afternoon at a tea given by Miss Lois Chapman, who is home for the holiday recess at Vassar, where she is a freshman.

Besides three college friends from Detroit, Lois' guests included Betty VanHove, Barbara Phillips, Gwendolyn Jones, Margaret Walker, Nancy McLoughlin, Detroit, and Betty Schrader.

The following day, Betty VanHove, whose recess from Michigan State Normal college, East Lansing, began Wednesday noon, will entertain the same group at a luncheon in the country home of her parents. She plans to have her table festive with Christmas appointments.

Barbara, who isn't going to school this semester, but who plans to study art in Detroit after the holidays, will be hostess Christmas Eve at a formal open house affair. Nancy, who attends Mary Grove in Detroit, is entertaining at a tea for her college friends Monday.

Woman's Club Entertains
Children, Friday—

A puppet show was the feature Friday afternoon of the Christmas party which was given in the library by the Woman's club for the children.

Miss Charlotte Squires of Wayne, presented two plays, one a medieval story of England, and the other, "The Elves and the Shoemaker." She also told a Polish Christmas story, "In Clean-Hay."

Miss W. H. Johnston conducted a number of her grade school music pupils in carol-singing.

About 50 children were guests of the club on this occasion.

"That Perfect Little Dress"

Gay enough for jolly occasions, yet simple enough to fit into every day events, too. The kind of a dress that's so hard to find — yet once you have it you'll wear it and wear it.

We have just received a complete new selection of "perfect" dresses — arrived just in time for the all important holiday festivities — in all the radiant new colors. Sizes 11 to 20.

Mrs. Knapp Is Hostess At Pre-Christmas Tea—

A Christmas scene, with a miniature winter scene, below it, and a glowing fire in the fireplace made an ideal holiday background for the delightfully informal tea given by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp Saturday afternoon at her home on West Dunlap street.

Many of the guests were teachers from the Highland Park high school, who were friends of Mr. and Mrs. Knapp when the former was superintendent there a number of years ago.

The tea table was centered by a snow scene. Mrs. W. C. Yerkes of Northville, and Miss Emma Wines of Detroit presided at the tea. Mrs. Miss Wines is a cousin of Mrs. Knapp.

Other guests from Detroit, Huntington Woods and Highland Park were: Mrs. George Hoppin and George, Jr., Miss Isabel MacDonald, Miss Esra Rogers, Miss Hazel Root, Mr. Charles Miller, Miss Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. Neil Greer, Mrs. Manton Carpenter, Miss Frances Carpenter, Miss Gladys Lanch, Mr. Libby Streator, Miss Helen Streator, Mrs. Edith Ann Hunt.

In this happy event Mrs. Knapp carried out an annual custom which has been her habit for years when she opens her home to her friends during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Wagenschutz Entertains at Informal Tea—

The holiday season will be the occasion for two teas hostessed by Mrs. Harry F. Wagenschutz. The first will be held Thursday, Dec. 22, at which time Mrs. Maxwell's Austin will pour. At the second tea to be held Thursday, Dec. 29, Mrs. A. W. Hann will preside at the tea table.

Guests this week will include: Mrs. Austin, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. W. W. Masters, Mrs. Harold Bloom, Mrs. R. F. Coolman, Mrs. Hahn, Mrs. J. C. Burghman, Mrs. Walter L. Couss, Mrs. G. H. Stalker, Mrs. A. P. Spragen, Mrs. Maurice J. Lapham, Miss Vera Schrader and Mrs. Sterling Eaton and Mrs. Jack Taylor both of Plymouth.

Invitations for the social courtesy next week have been issued to: Mrs. T. N. Kampf, Jr., Mrs. Orlov, G. Owen, Mrs. Austin, Mrs. R. L. Leary, Mrs. Milton Adams, Mrs. Hahn, Mrs. Harry C. Duerksen, Mrs. W. L. Eiv, Mrs. Henry A. Grumshaw, Mrs. B. K. Kurth, Mrs. E. G. Wood, Mrs. R. M. Atchison, Mrs. A. J. Buckley, Mrs. E. H. Wood, Mrs. M. J. Kolovse, Mrs. G. V. Harrison, Mrs. S. K. Stephens, Mrs. Jean Givan and Mrs. D. C. Nollar.

Sparlings Hold Open House, Thursday—

The new home on East Main street of Dr. and Mrs. H. I. Sparling was open Thursday evening, Dec. 15, to a group of doctors and nurses in the village.

A buffet supper was served to the guests in the recreation room. Included in the guest list were: Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Holcomb, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Snow, Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Atchison, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Selig, Dr. H. H. Handorf, Dr. Anthony J. Font of Detroit, Miss Kathryn Krausmann, Miss Irene Fennel, Mrs. Christobel E. Fisher, Miss Constance Lee and Mrs. Fred Rieger.

Former Residents of Village
Are Honored on Anniversary—

Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Maclean, formerly of Northville, now of Detroit, were honored on the occasion of their fortieth wedding anniversary at the home of their son, Donald Maclean, Asbury Park. Mr. and Mrs. Allan Buckley of Northville were co-hosts at the event when a party of friends were entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Maclean lived in this village for many years until 10 years ago when they moved to the city where Mr. Maclean is in the employ of the Parke-Davis company. Both are in excellent health.

FAMILY PARTIES TAKE SPOTLIGHT

Child festivities and other social affairs are giving way this week to family dinner parties on Christmas.

A Christmas Eve supper will be an event at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Harrison where covers will be laid for Mr. and Mrs. George Schweigert of Ferndale, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mittstead, Mr. and Mrs. William Walcott, Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers, all of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meyers of Mt. Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyers and Dr. and Mrs. Ray Walcott of Birmingham.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Denne, Christmas dinner covers will be laid for Mr. and Mrs. Orin Hunter and daughter, Mary Lou of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Robbins and daughter, Mary Jane of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hale and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bowlers, Jr.

Monday, a holiday dinner will be held at the home of Mrs. B. G. Fulkens, where covers will be laid for Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dolph, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wellwood and daughter, Barbara of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Eberle Smith and son, Frederick of Detroit, Edwin Weinberg of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Charles Fikins and Guy Fikins of Ann Arbor.

Margaret Walker's homecoming from the Grier school in Burnside, Pa., was the occasion Friday evening for a family dinner party at Happy Acres, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walker, Jr. Present at this time were Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lees and Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Cunningham, all of Detroit.

Guests Christmas Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Vogtlin, 728 Grandview will be Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong of South Lyon, Christmas Day, the Vogtlins will be guests at the home of Mr. Vogtlin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vogtlin of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grumshaw will have a family Christmas dinner. Their guests will all be from Detroit and will include: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pletsch, Mrs. Mabel Miller and Robert Moore. Friday and Saturday they will be hosts to Mrs. Grumshaw's sister and brother-in-law from Louisville, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Allen Edmunds and their two children Jim and Peter.

Sunday School Class Has Holiday Dinner—

Dr. and Mrs. Russell M. Atchison will host Monday evening in the Hotel Mayflower Plymouth, to the members of Dr. Atchison's Sunday School class of boys.

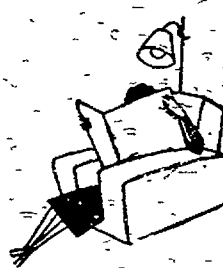

A dinner was served to the guests from a table centered with tapers and holiday appointments. There were places set for Howard Card, William Croll, Norman Hickok, Arthur Karschnick, Wilfred and Walter Pratt of Farmington and Harold King.

Keeping Home Is Scene of Birthday Party—

A double birthday celebration was held Sunday, Dec. 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Keeping.

The guests of honor were Miss Florence Johnson of Detroit, and Ronald Keeping, whose birthday anniversaries both occurred during the week. Sharing in the birthday celebration were Miss Virginia Coolman, one Tom Carrington of Northville, Miss Blanche Hockley, Jack Murdock, Miss Nellie Hockley, Albert Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weyermler of Detroit.

THE RECORD SHOPPER

by Virginia G. Anderson

The final tour of the village shops has been made and Christmas for 1938 can be wrapped up in fancy paper and the shopper can sit back, satisfied that the matter of gifts has been taken care of in a way to please the most fastidious.

In the Jack and Jill shop which caters to the younger set (from one minute to 16 years of age, so they say) we found wood cut out wall pictures in pastels which will greatly increase the attractiveness of the young son's or daughter's own room. The pictures are $1. A bunny, rabbit-made of wood, forms the base of a table lamp for a child's room. It is only $1.89.

Something to delight the young man of the house (anywhere from 2 to 4 years of age) is a large washable leather horse which can be bought for $2.98.

Even the very young like something nice to wear. For instance there's a lovely blue taffeta party dress (in several sizes) for as little as $3.98. We found a red one of the same material for $2.98. Then there are terry cloth and flannel robes in all the warm colors for $1.19, $2.98 and $3.98. Handkerchiefs and tie sets come attractively boxed for 59 cents. A box containing a leather belt and tie is only 79 cents.

Two clocks at the Northville Hardware store interested the shopper more than slightly. One was an electric affair attractively framed in blue glass. It costs $5.95. The other was a paper weight clock with a globe in the center which shelters the hand that marks out the time. This novel time piece costs $3.95. Just in case the handbag is not harboring so many things these days, perhaps a clock for the purse styled in black metal will please. The price is $2.98.

Something different in the way of hostess sets can be found in this store. One includes a toastmaster and four colored dishes along with a toast cutter. The cost is $19.50. And for the person who is serious about this business of watching the poundage, scales for the bathroom will be an acceptable gift. And the cost is only $3.19 for this accurate weight checker.

When looking through the smart line of dresses in Mrs. Cousins' Dress Shop to find the extra frock needed for Christmas festivities, some exquisite gift suggestions were noted in the cases. One was an aqua satin back crepe nightgown with fine detail. The price is $2.95. In tea rose crepe with delicate beige lace trim, one may buy a gown ($2.95), slip ($1.95), and dance set ($1.95) of the same pattern.

Seed pearl evening bags, large enough to be of real service cost $1. Hosiery always makes a gift that really delights the receiver. Sheer stockings can be bought, attractively boxed for 79 cents and $1. Rayon tailored pajamas in a broadcloth weave will give pleasant sleeping or lounging hours to someone lucky. They come in royal blue and raspberry shades and are priced at $1.95.

The Northville Library will close at 5 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 24, and will open again Tuesday, Jan. 3.

Marvin Schoutz, a freshman at Albion college, Albion, this year, is spending the holiday recess in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Forsyth, Detroit, will be Christmas guests of Mrs. Forsyth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ludwig.

Bob Lyke, who attends the Cleary Business college in Ypsilanti, is helping this week with the holiday rush at the Gussell Drug store.

The Rev. Charles Strasen of Plymouth, filled the pulpit in St. Paul's Lutheran church, in the absence of the Rev. E. E. Rossow, who was ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manning and children, Montie and Melba of Ypsilanti, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Baldwin, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Watts arrived in the village last week for the Christmas holiday. Mr. Watts is assistant coach this year at Albion college, Albion.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cummings of Caro arrived in the village Monday to be the holiday guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gussell.

Harry H. White is opening a hamburger stand on the corner of Plymouth road and Lilley street, Plymouth. He will be ready for business the first of the year.

A Christmas party was the feature of the Service League meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. F. Clark. Mrs. William Hensch and Mrs. Charles Woodward were the assistant hostesses. Mrs. Marshall Herrick had charge of the social hour.

Miss Marion Turnbull, who played with the alumni team Thursday evening in the practice game at the high school, was a guest host to the members of the alumni team, made up almost entirely of players from the Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton B. Bunn left Sunday for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will spend the winter as has been their custom for a number of years. They expected to motor by way of New Orleans and see a new part of the South. With Mr. and Mrs. Don F. Yerkes and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Northrop, who are already in St. Petersburg, they expect to have quite a Northville reunion on Christmas day.

One of the most attractive new homes in the outskirts of the village is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lush and their son, Blake, on the Six Mile road just a short distance off the Plymouth road. The site commands an especially sweeping view and the broad lines of the house are well adapted to the location. The former house that occupied this hill was the birthplace of Mrs. Lush. Mr. Lush is manager of the Benluman-Allen theatre.

Miss Margaret Hay, Detroit, will spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hay.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ludgard will be at home Sunday for their annual Christmas dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Hart and daughter, Collette, will be Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bunt of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil R. Hassler and son, Tommy, will visit Christmas at the home of Mrs. Hassler's parents in Brown City.

Miss Betty Ann Taylor, who is a student at St. Cornelius School of Nursing at Kalamazoo in the Burgess hospital, will spend the Christmas holidays in Northville with her friends and in Detroit with her mother.

Patrons of the local post office are welcoming Mrs. Charles L. Blackburn at her old post at the window where she greeted them for a number of years. Mrs. Blackburn is helping out during the Christmas rush.

Frank B. Knight and daughter, Phyllis Thayer boulevard, expect to leave Saturday for Galveston, Ind., to join Mrs. Knight who has been visiting there for the past month. They will return home after the holidays.

PLAY IS SELECTED BY JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class has decided upon a three act comedy, entitled, "Little Miss Dreamer," to be given on Feb. 2 and 3 under the direction of Mrs. Frank W. Hawkins.

"Little Miss Dreamer" is an excellent comedy. Jean Morrison, the "Little Miss Dreamer" of the title, is one of the most delightfully naive heroines you ever encountered on any stage. The setting is a California cattle ranch owned by Jean's mother, who rules the ranch with an iron hand. Ever since Jean's father, an impractical dreamer, had run away soon after Jean's birth, Mrs. Morrison had striven to shape her daughter's character in a cold, realistic mold. But she had reckoned without the power of heredity, for Jean, at 18, is her father all over again. Her life is one of a dream, and she is in a revolt against the humdrum ranch life. Instead she has visions of becoming a movie star and has subscribed to the Giganic Studio's mail order course on "How to Become a Great Star in Twelve Easy Lessons." Everyone on the ranch has been pressed into service to help Jean "study" her lessons, including Bud Simpson, the foreman; Concrete Jones, the colored maid; and Granny. But the greatest thrill of Jean's young life comes when a company from the Giganic Studio, on "location," arrives at the Morrison ranch to make a picture. In the company are Stark Davis, the screen's great lover and Jean's secret passion, and many other famous stars. Here, thinks Jean, is her great chance at last — alas for Jean, but quite happily for the audience, it isn't quite so simple. Finally, however, after many hilarious mishaps Jean's dreams do come true in a dramatic and unexpected manner.

SOCIOLOGY CLASS VISITS LOCAL PRISON

BY JULIAN THIEME

Last Wednesday the sociology class, conducted by E. C. Mollenau, visited all the departments of the Detroit House of Correction.

The first thing they did was to pass through four iron gates. Everyone seemed to be a quiet fellow when the doors were shut and locked. After passing through these doors, we went up a flight of stairs to see the various cell blocks. First we saw the psychopathic cell block then the cell block of the long termers. We were allowed to then enter an empty row of cells and see them at close range. There we saw the dormitory, this is where the inmates that can behave themselves rather well are put. The trusted men or trustees are on the farm, and they are never locked up. Their good behavior, and obedience warrants them a trustee job.

The cells are kept very clean, and there is a cot with a mattress no springs, a wash basin with running water, both hot and cold, then too there is a lavatory in each cell. At the end of each cell block there is a shower room for the inmates.

On the way out, we saw the "hole," or the solitary confinement cells. The prisoners that raise too much fuss, are put in here for a week or two. If they make a lot of noise in the "hole," they have their outside door closed. This makes it black as pitch inside. They receive bread and water three times a day, and one good meal on Sunday.

Then the class went over to the women's division. While waiting for the matrons to show them around, they talked about the men's division, and what they had seen.

The matrons first showed them the hospital. They were not allowed to enter the building.

The class then went into the laundry and saw how systematically the laundry was managed. Besides doing the laundry for the two divisions of the House of Correction the women inmates do the laundry for the Detroit police, firemen, D. S. R., and the Detention Home.

The Occupational Therapy room was visited next. In this building the women sew and make various objects. The class saw them mending socks, making socks, overalls, quilts, not pads dolls and toy dogs. They also saw hooked rugs that some

Editor's Note...

Two thousand years ago, in a stable in Bethlehem, a miracle came to us from our Heavenly Father. As we celebrate each year the birthday of the King on Dec. 25, our thoughts unite in one unanimous feeling of closeness. It is at this one season that the rich, the poor, the old and the young come together to be glad and thank God for the story of His Son which means so much to all of us.

Mansions are lit with decorations at this time and the wealthy give freely to help the less fortunate. The gifts, big or small, which symbolize the love in our hearts, means as much to fathers and mothers as they do to youngsters. The older ones are thankful for the wonderful years that have gone by and young people thank God and look forward to the fullness of the life that lies ahead of them. But the rich or poor, very young or very old, the spirit of Christmas is with us all. Hate is forgotten during these joyous holidays and only love and gratitude remain to light up the birthday of Christ.

Some people think that Christmas is primarily for children but it seems that the older one grows the more he is able to appreciate the meaning of this Holy Day. The little children love the tinsel and lights of the tree and Santa Claus, but when one is of high school age, these are only the decorations which help to show the joy we are trying to express. During these days when we are nearly bursting with love and the wonder of this day, when unselfishness reigns supreme and smiles and praises are seen and heard everywhere, one's mind runs to the words of "Tny Tim" and we murmur his sentiment, "God Bless Us Every One."

SENIORS ELECT D. A. R. CANDIDATE

The seniors held a class meeting at 3:30 p. m. Thursday. The spring trip and the Daughters of the American Revolution citizenship award were discussed.

Superintendent R. H. Amerman spoke to the class about the present financial standings and he also explained how the hours that were turned in for class activities, were figured — if a trip would be taken this June.

Facts that the honorary award are based on are as follows:

1. Dependability — which includes truthfulness loyalty and punctuality.
2. Service — cooperation, courtesy and consideration of others.
3. Leadership — personality, self control and ability to lead.
4. Patriotism — unselfish interest in school community and nation.

The three girls chosen by the class were Geraldine Johnston, Lucille Lapham and Kathleen Sprenger.

The ones chosen, who will be selected out of the three by the faculty, is yet undecided. The winner of the State contest is offered a trip to Washington D. C. with all expenses paid.

After leaving the occupational building, the class went to Cottage C. The living room was nicely furnished, with a radio and a piano for the entertainment of the women.

The cottage houses 34 women each having a separate room. The dining room has seven small tables, instead of the one long, crude table that is usually thought of in a prison. The kitchen was spotlessly clean, even though it had served 34 women three meals a day for 10 long years. Each cottage has a small garden in the back yard, and the women take pride in keeping it nice in the summer months.

The class then saw the separate rooms of the inmates. The rooms are kept very clean and orderly. There is an inspection of the rooms every morning, and everything must be in order. If not, the women are called from their work and they then have to fix their rooms properly.

If any of the women become unruly, they have their mail and privileges taken away from them for a certain length of time. In cases of extreme unruliness, the women are put in the dungeon, or solitary confinement cells. At night there is only one armed guard on duty. The women do not make it a necessity to have more than one guard.

The class then returned to the cars and to school. They arrived just in time for their sixth hour classes.

LETTER WINNERS REORGANIZE CLUB

The old N. Club is going to be reorganized by the high school boys in a big way. A petition was passed around the assembly last week to ascertain whether or not the club was really in demand. It seems as if the boys were anxious to start their varsity club again because 40 of them signed the petition.

A meeting was held for the planning of the reorganization and Coach Harry B. Smith read over a part of the constitution. They also talked of how to conduct the club. There were no officers elected at this meeting but there will be an election some time next week.

FRENCH CLASSES SING CAROLS TODAY

By NATALIE WHIPPLE

Following the custom begun two years ago, the first and second year French classes went to different rooms to sing French Christmas carols.

The students were dressed in peasant costumes, each carrying a lighted candle. A sheaf of wheat was carried which is traditional with French carolers. The sheaf is a large box which displays the Christmas scene in miniature.

The students then returned to their rooms, where they had an entertainment planned for the rest of the period. The first year class played games and served refreshments. Also the second year class had a play called "Noel en Provence," which pictured the French peasants and their quaint customs.

GERALD V. HARRISON ATTENDS MEETING

On the days of Dec. 8 and 9, G. V. Harrison, Northville High School principal, attended a principal's meeting at Lansing for the purpose of discussing "Educating for Social Competency."

The annual meeting of the principals of Michigan was held at the Hotel. There were approximately 300 principals attending and the two-day session was reported to be full of interesting speeches and programs.

Dr. F. F. Spaulding of Howard University, made a statement Thursday night, referring to the current program in secondary schools, in failing to provide pupils with knowledge about their communities, chances to make a good living and educational opportunities open when the pupils leave school.

Dr. Spaulding in addressing the principal's division of the Michigan Education Association at a banquet, pointed out three changes which he declared must be carried out if secondary schools were to educate young people for social competency.

These changes are:

1. That each high school make itself responsible for guidance and supervision of every pupil, who leaves school until he has made a "satisfactory vocational adjustment" or becomes 19 years of age.
2. That the conventional high school diploma be replaced by one which states that a pupil is ready to make a beginning, either in a specified vocation or in higher education and that the pupil is likely to become a good citizen.
3. That accrediting agencies which approve secondary school programs judge the work of individual schools by the success with which their pupils make a satisfactory beginning in life and not by their educational machinery.

Another speaker on this subject was Dr. Malcolm S. MacLean, director, General College, University of Minnesota.

N. H. S. LOSES TO PLYMOUTH 24-23

Plymouth's "Rocks" took the first of the two seasonal games from Northville last Friday night by a score of 24-23 in the N. H. S. gymnasium.

The Orange and Black started the game with the team functioning very well on both offense and defense. At the end of the opening quarter the score stood 8-1 in favor of the local team. In the second quarter the Northville team tumbled the ball a great deal and seemed to lose much of its effectiveness. The Plymouth lads clicked during this period and the first half ended 11-11.

Starting the third quarter the N. H. S. team was characterized by lack of coordination of team work. The rival squad didn't have a very hard time running up quite a score in this period. The score at the end of the third quarter stood 20-13 in favor of Plymouth.

During the final and most exciting quarter Northville seemed to regain its lost pace and swung into a spurt, that kept the crowd on its feet and was stopped only by the final gun. Northville made 10 points in the last quarter to the Rocks 4. When the gun sounded to end the game the score was 24-23 in favor of Plymouth.

Captain Ben Duguid was undoubtedly the outstanding player of the game. In addition to his great defensive work, he led the team in scoring with nine points. McCrumb made 5 points and was followed by Myers, Holcomb and Houghton, who each scored 3 points.

The starting lineup for the first team was: Guards, McCrumb and Houghton, center, Duguid; forwards, Ninder and Fritz.

Substitutions for Northville were: Holcomb for Fritz, Myers for Houghton, and Larkins for Ninder.

Coach Charles Bishop said his second team defeat the Plymouths led by a score of 23-21. Borgevann led the scoring by making 10 points. The starting lineup included: Guards, Finkbe and Orr, center, Wiedmer, forwards, Edson and Borgevann.

Substitutions were: Stenrich and McArthur.

N. H. S. GIRLS LOSE FIRST GAME 30-27

Opening the season, Thursday evening, a practice game with the Ypsilanti coed team from the Michigan State Normal college, the N. H. S. girls basketball team was defeated by the score of 30-27.

The N. H. S. girls got an early lead, but at the end of the first quarter, they only led by one point making the score 11-10. Points scored by Sark, Gordon, Hazar and Borwicz, brought the Ypsi score up and when the whistle blew signaling the end of the first half, the score was 18-15.

Very little happened in the third quarter, but the local girls really got going near the end of the fourth period and brought the score up to 30-27, which was still in favor of the opposition and thus it ended.

Mary Frances Batt won high scoring honors for the evening by making 15 points.

The lineup for Ypsi was as follows: Sark, Hazar, Borwicz, Mathews, Gordon, Collison and Turnbull. For Northville the following girls had positions: Alexander, Batt, Brunahsky, Atchison, Marburger and VanSickle.

Inquiring Reporter

"We have a question this week that has long been under discussion among students of the high school. It is a matter of utmost importance and should be considered very seriously by every senior as well as the underclassmen.

The question is, "Should the senior class donate some of its money to a student loan fund instead of using it all for the annual trip to Washington?" Here are a few of the answers we have received.

Betty Carlson, I think it's a good idea if the classes will get out and earn more money.

Mary Potter Many people plan to go to college take a college preparatory course in high school, get good marks and then find at graduation that they are not going to be able to go to college. Anyone who faces this predicament knows how much a loan would be appreciated.

Betty Gillespie I think it would be fine if it didn't leave the treasury short for the trip to Washington.

Maxine Perkins A very good idea if every class would contribute to make it a success.
