SANTA GIVES CANDY SACKS TO CHILDREN

Broadcast Christmas Carols
from Community Tree
Scene, Saturday

Kris Kringle, in person, appeared before some 500 village children Saturday evening to distribute gifts of candy and fruit for the Northville Exchange club. The big Christmas party was held at the four corners near the large decorated tree.

A program of talks and Christmas carols preceded Santa Claus' part in the festivity. The Rev. E. B. Rosow and Dr. T. W. Smith talked briefly of the significance of Christmas and the Rev. E. B. Rosow gave the invocation. Christmas carols were broadcast over the public address system in use during the holiday season.

Santa's scheduled appearance at Maybury sanatorium was cancelled when the morning snow did a disservice. Santa had been made for his honor to use a special sleigh in getting about on his calls. Calls were made on windows of former Exchange members according to Carl Ely.

Gift bags were sent to 150 patients of the children's unit at Maybury. A bushel of apples and 50 bags were also sent to the colored unit of Maybury. A bushel of apples went to patients of Eastlawn sanatorium. The sponsors declare the party a most successful one from their standpoint. Through Mayor Nichols, a reporter and cameraman of The Detroit News covered the event.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO JAMES B. WATTS

James B. Watts died Wednesday afternoon Dec. 21, at the home of his son, Ray G. Watts of Rosedale Gardens, where he had made his home since the death of his wife two years ago. He was 77 years of age.

Mr. Watts, a victim of a heart attack, had been in failing health for a long time. A retired dairyman and carpenter, Mr. Watts had made his home in Northville in 1916. He was a Mason and a member of the Odd Fellows organization.

Masons participated in the funeral rites held Friday, Dec. 23, from the Casterline funeral home. Burial was in Rural Hill cemetery and the Rev. Forsyth of Rosedale Gardens was the officiating minister.

Before coming to Northville, Mr. Watts made his home in Brownwood, Tex., and Rome, Ga. He was born at Cave Springs, Ga.

Surviving Mr. Watts are two sons, Ray of Rosedale Gardens, and Ted of Albion and Northville.

RECORD SELECTS WINNING LETTER IN PAPER CONTEST

From the letters submitted for The Record's subscription delinquency statement contest, the following letter wins the $250 cash award.

In keeping with the terms of the contest, the writer's name is withheld from publication.

The winner's letter reads: "Dear Subscriber:

"We people at The Record office are keenly interested in everything that is for the uplift and betterment of our community. We are as keenly interested in the good things that happen to our subscribers, and regret sadly the misfortunes that befall them.

"We believe that The Record, by following its policy of bringing you the news each week, conscientiously trying to keep you posted on the happenings of our town, and commenting on State and world-wide news, without prejudice or bias, is doing a worthwhile service.

"However, we must pay for printer's ink and the salaries of the people who find employment with us. The Editor and his family must live, too.

Training School Observes Holiday Week with Activity

With a whole week of special programs, the children of the Wayne County Training school are celebrating the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Beginning Christmas eve, carols were sung under the windows of every cottage and dwelling in the grounds. The Christmas pageant and a musical play are being repeated for various groups and added to these features are moving pictures, organized play groups and programs given by children's clubs in the school.

Monday afternoon, the auditorium was filled to capacity with the families of the children of the school and other visitors who listened with animated attention to the production of a colorful musical comedy, "The Mischievous Mouse," and a pageant, "The Nativity."

Santa Claus' workshop was the setting of the musical play which was produced by nearly 60 children who took part in the play itself or in the chorus. In bright costumes, they trooped upon the stage, dolls, tin soldiers, drums and tops—all come to life to go through their skillful maneuvers with Miss Mabel Bowers, who had trained them, leading them at the piano. The stage setting had been arranged by Miss Helen Diffenderfer with Lynn Sullivan.

DR. E. J. LINSLEY, 43, DIES SUNDAY, DEC. 25

Commerce township's health officer, Dr. Emerson Joel Linsley, was the victim of a heart attack suffered Sunday morning. Death claimed him at the age of 43.

Dr. Linsley had been practicing in Walled Lake for the past 10 years, having moved to the village from Detroit, where he had been associated with the Parke-Davis Research department and with the Detroit Board of Health.

Active in community affairs, he was a member of the Masonic lodge of Walled Lake.

Born in Montague, he attended the Michigan State college and was a graduate of the Detroit University of Medicine with the Class of 1926. Last rites were held from the home Tuesday, Dec. 27, where the Rev. Frank N. Miner of the Walled Lake Methodist church, and the Rev. William Pusey of the Walled Lake Baptist church, officiated. Burial was made in the White Chapel, where Masonic rites were conducted.

Surviving him are his wife, Allema Spencer Linsley, and two sisters, Susa Linsley of Whitehall and Eva Linsley Yeager of Montague.

TURMAN, DECORATES HIS BARBER CHAIRS

Ira Turman has made his work shop seem gay with new red leather covering for his barber chair and other chairs. The change was made for Christmas week and seemed to fit the spirit of the holiday season.

Mr. Turman, it is the opinion of The Record staff, is setting an example in progress that can well be followed by all of us who are blessed with more health and capacity for work than the barber of North Center street.

ACCIDENT INVOLVES THREE CCC ENROLLEES

Three CCC enrollees were brought in to Sessions hospital early Sunday morning after their car had crashed near the intersection of Novi and Grand River roads in Novi. Schrader's ambulance made the run. Injuries were not serious.

A second car crashed into the disabled vehicle before it was removed from the scene of the crash on orders of State Police.

1938 Passes in Review, Leaving in Its Wake 12 Months Marked by Improvements to the Village Sidewalks, a Law Suit and Changes in Two Pulpits

As the footsteps of 1938 begin to fade with the approach of 1939's march, echoes of the year's joys and troubles are heard.

Deaths entered the village taking lives of many figures familiar to Northville's streets, among them was Northville's one-man electric company of former years, Samuel Wilkinson.

The year, too, saw the appointment of the Rev. E. Joseph G. Schuler to the Guardian Angel church after a service of more than 25 years to Our Lady of Victory parish. To take up the work where he left it, came the Rev. Fr. Lucian A. Hebert.

The Rev. Dr. R. M. Traver was called early in the spring to the Northville Baptist pastorate. In June flames completely destroyed the Michigan Woods, Products company, drawing thousands of spectators to the scene.

August was marked by the Northville Wayne County Fair which opened its gates to a record crowd. It boasted the largest horse show, junior and senior, in its entire history. Travers back in the early spring that the village election created an unusual amount of excitement. Arthur S. Nichols was the people's choice for mayor over former councilman Elmer Perrin.

The year was yet young when a speech made by the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith at the Rotary club created a church controversy which lasted for weeks and brought comments from non-church-goers as well as from church members.

Several thousand feet of new sidewalk was laid in the village during the year. The council and the Legion joined hands on a youth recreation program which has drawn as many as 60 boys to the school gymnasium weekly.

Payment began on the paving tax refund affair but the aftermath gives promise of continuing into 1939.

The Exchange club revived the community Christmas tree custom of a few years ago and some 700 pounds of candy and fruit were given away last Saturday evening at the four corners.

January

1—The whole-hearted hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Clark was extended this morning to a company of over 40 Rotarians and guests at their home on East Base Lane road. This was the fourth annual pancake breakfast of the local group.

Several thousand persons attended Northville's first ice carnival held today on the Ford pond. It drew a big field of keen competition for the open events. Jahe Van Atta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Van Atta, was crowned queen of the winter festivity.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Maffinger opened their home this evening to compliment Miss Marguerite Kobold and Edmund Dowling who will pledge their marriage vows Saturday morning in Our Lady of Victory church.

Dayton B. Bunn was named tonight by the Northville Wayne County Fair board of directors to the secretary's post held for the past 12 years by Floyd A. Northrop.

The cashier's position, previously held by John A. Boyce in addition to his office as president of the Northville Depository State bank was given today to A. Russell Clark for four years teler in the bank.

A coroner's jury gave a verdict tonight at Sault Ste. Marie, which resulted in the arrest of Vernon Spencer, 40-year-old Wixom dairy farmer, on a warrant charging him with the murder of Miss Helen Greer Pontage and Battle Creek stenographer, who died Oct. 28, in Dr. A. R. Holcomb's cabin, on Long Lake, Algona.

Our Lady of Victory church was the setting at 10:30 this morning for the celebration of the nuptial hymn mass by the Rev. Fr. J. G. Schuler for Miss Marguerite Kobold and Edmund Dowling, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dowling.

Floyd Lanning tendered his resignation to the Depository State bank where he has been teller since the Northville State bank and the Lanning State Savings bank merged some six years ago. He leaves the bank Feb. 1 to become a clerk at the Maybury sanatorium.

Death closed the life story of one of the few remaining country doctors of this vicinity when it claimed Dr. A. T. Holcomb early this morning at Sessions hospital where a two-day illness of pneumonia was fatal.

The announcement has been made of the marriage today of Miss Ethel Hinds, daughter of James Hinds of Sault Ste. Marie, and Roland B. Widmeyer, son of Benjamin Widmeyer, which occurred in St. Peter's Evangelical church at Plymouth.

A heart attack suffered Monday was the cause of the sudden death early this afternoon of Judson Alden, 72-year-old retired farmer, who had lived for 40 years at his home, 244 South Center Street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Casterline and son, Fred, who is his father's assistant at the Casterline funeral home, were hosts today to a large number of friends who attended the public opening of the home.

Miss Ruth Mary Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Baldwin, became the bride of Dr. Russell M. Atchison, son of Dr. and Mrs. Russell E. Atchison, in a ceremony read tonight in the home of Dr. John L. Seaton, Albion.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Green were honored this evening on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary when 35 friends surprised them at their home on the Nine Mile road.

Dr. H. H. Burkard and the village councilmen named T. C. Richardson to fill the unexpired term of assessor, held by the late Charles L. Blackburn.

A minor accident which marked Northville's first boys' basketball game Dec. 10, is responsible for the school administration's hiring of Dr. Harold Todd following his moving to Plymouth.

Drum and Bugle Corps Is Trained by Andrew Torek

Andrew Torek, who gives hours and hours of his time in training the members of the newly organized drum and bugle corps, feels that the organization has reached the stage now where improvement in performance can be noted.

Mr. Torek, a crack bugler whose job it was to train buglers during the war, practices each week with this group which has for its drum major, Miss Helen Winter.

Mr. Torek is getting the boys lined up in good shape, reports Commander Arthur Carlson of the Legion, who keeps an eye on the progress of the corps.

The group paraded Saturday in the village as part of the Christmas activities. Dick Green and Andrew Torek, Jr., buglers rode through the village streets with Saira Claus, who was the Exchange club's guest of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lee are the parents of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hale are the parents of a son born today. A son was born today to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes.

With an epidemic of measles gaining headway daily in Salem where there is some talk of closing the school and in Plymouth, where more than 50 cases have been reported within a few days, Northville's health department and public schools clamped down more rigidly this week in an attempt to prevent an outbreak here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodward are the parents of a son born today.

Sherrill W. Ambler, secretary of the Northville board of education, announced today that Dr. L. W. Snow had accepted the appointment to the trustee post made vacant on the board by the resignation of Dr. Harold Todd following his moving to Plymouth.

William Robinson recently located here as a dental technician was introduced to the public by Dr. L. A. Brant. Other dentists in the town are Dr. W. H. and Dr. V. Van Allen, sons of Dr. A. Van Allen.

ANNOUNCE FARMERS' WEEK AT LANSING JAN. 30 TO FEB. 3

Announcement has been made of the date for the twenty-fourth annual Farmers' Week program at the Gussell Michigan State college. It will make Dr. Storey which came to an end in 1939 calendar for the week of Christmas Eve Jan. 30 to Feb. 3.

The program is becoming a tradition in Michigan agriculture. R. Washburne, Dawn Campbell, Marjorie Tenny, short course director at the college, and assistant to E. L. Kathryn Kampf and Dolores Black-Anthony, dean of agriculture and extension, are the event promises that this next Farmers' Week is being, piano and a doll wardrobe trunk, fashioned to a new pattern.

Poultry is to have top honors this year. In addition to programs from the Michigan department in the agricultural division of the college, the place of poultry in Michigan is to be depicted and highlighted.

C. G. Card head of the poultry department, agrees that poultry is important enough in Michigan to rate distinction.

Income from poultry in the State ranges around 45 million dollars annually, says Mr. Card. About five-fourths of this is from eggs the other fourth from poultry sold as meat. As a forerunner to the 1939 World's Poultry Congress which is to be held in July in Cleveland, the Farmers' Week attention to Michigan should be worthwhile for producers and consumers as well.

Poultry is specialized on many farms. Production is widespread, however, as estimates from census figures show that 180,000 of Michigan's 126,000 farms have poultry at least as a sideline.

VISIT IN DETROIT

The Lucius Blake family were the dinner guests Christmas day of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hogle of Detroit.

TO HOLD HUNTERS' BALL

The annual Hunters' Ball will be held this year, Jan. 13 in the high school gymnasium. As has been the custom for years, evergreen trees will form the decorative setting for this social event which swells the King's Daughters fund. Mrs. E. B. Cavell, general chairman, of the festivity, asks that persons save their Christmas trees to be used for decorating the gym. They will be picked up a day or two before the ball. Mrs. Floyd Shafer is chairman of the sale of tickets.

C. B. TURNBULL WINS EXCHANGE SILVER TROPHY

The Northville Electric shop's window won the silver cup offered this year for the fifth consecutive time by the Exchange club for the most attractive holiday window display.

Second place honors went to the Schrader Furniture Store, The Louis store was rated third and the Northville Hardware store was given fourth place by Bayard K. Kurth, a Detroit commander and a performer to the village who has made decorating a vocation. A turkey, two chickens and a duck were the second, third and fourth place awards.

The Freydl Department store, the Lika Hardware and the Jack and Jill shop were given fifth, sixth and seventh place ratings.

The custom of giving the silver cup to the merchant who had the most attractive decorations at Christmas time, was begun, some years ago by Robert G. Yerkes, who donated the silver cup with the understanding that it was to become the permanent possession of the person who won it three consecutive times.

Last December the cup went to the D and C store. Freydl's Department store won the turkey and the two chickens were given to Orville G. Owen for the Men's shop display. Mr. Owen's windows have won all three top ratings in other years.

The winners were announced Saturday evening when the Commandant Christmas tree party was held at the four corners.

SMALL VILLAGERS GET CONTEST GIFTS

Eight boys and eight girls of the village found Christmas doubly joyous this year after being notified that they were the successful contestants in the annual Rexall Drug contest sponsored at the Gussell Michigan State college. It will make Dr. Storey which came to an end in 1939 calendar for the week of Christmas Eve Jan. 30 to Feb. 3.

The winning girls were Phyllis Starr, Nancy Lutsenberger, Dana W. Tenny, short course director at the college, and assistant to E. L. Kathryn Kampf and Dolores Black-Anthony, dean of agriculture and extension, are the event promises that this next Farmers' Week is being, piano and a doll wardrobe trunk, fashioned to a new pattern.

• New Year Arithmetic

Add your pleasures, multiply your joys, divide your sympathy, subtract selfishness and never carry over any of your cares.—Ex.

• Who Makes Northville?

Our community is just exactly what we make it. For example, wasn't it great the way our business people cooperated in making Northville so attractive during the holiday season? Our fine looking streets were talked about far and wide—at least we have heard comments that came from a distance.

We can make Northville unbeatable if we will be "well willed" toward each other the whole year through, as well as at the Christmas season.

If we would all show "Good will toward men" for the next twelve months, there simply would be no better place to live in the whole world than Northville.

The proper spirit will make any town.

• Hitler Will Pass

Hitler, the mad man of Germany, will not always be an inhuman dictator. History tells of the collapse of every dictator the world ever had. We have thought this for months and have believed it down deep in our soul. Germany itself and the world as well will not always tolerate such madness, such bestial cruelty, such inhumanity to man.

In his column "Good Morning" in the Detroit Free Press of December 26, Malcolm W. Ungay in logical fashion proved beyond doubt that Hitler is but a passing phase. He concluded his column with these undeniable words:

"The Hitler regime will pass and its persecutions will be remembered in the generations to come only as one of the nightmares of history."

• A Prescription for 1939

Want a little medicine for 1939—for one of those occasional times that come to all of us?

Every one of us who reads the public—whether we teach school, run a grocery, fix tires, run a newspaper or do the cooking, we will all have times when people, yes just the people we meet, will irritate us perhaps make us want to "blow up." Well, when these times come, you need this little medicine. Taken in time it will prevent illness of spirit and keep your temperature and blood pressure normal. This prescription was given to us years ago by a successful business man, of fine discernment and exceptional judgment. Here is the prescription:

"Never expect BIG things of LITTLE people"

Use this prescription at those occasional times when you feel like kicking some one and you will grow bigger and better yourself.

• Welcome to 1939

Come on 1939!

What do we say when a New Year comes knocking at the house? What shall we do when the new days of the new year drop fast around our ears?

Well, say just this: "We are glad to meet you. You give us the chance to commence again; to forget the past, spotty as it may have been the opportunity to tighten our belt and tackle the troubles of life with new spirit and new hope. You bring a new page and give us the chance to write a little better than we did in 1938."

Isn't that chance enough for the most ambitious, opportunity enough for the most hopeful of us?

Except for those in exceptional circumstances or tied down by handicap of ill health or misfortune, the year 1939 should be full of good things. The glory of it is that, in the main, we have the chance to make it just what we will. We don't mean that we can all be rich or even half way rich. We don't mean that in a financial way we can break all records for we probably won't, although business prospects are said to be excellent. We mean that the good things of life don't all depend on money and that we can have these good things in 1939 if we keep heads up.

In 1939 we can have all these priceless gifts:

Our own self respect. Good friends who will stick by us through "thick and thin." The chance to work. Good books and good music. Travel—if only a few miles from our back door—Northville alone has glory enough to last a whole year. The chance to do nothing more than sit down and meditate—this is not as silly as it looks at first reading. And certainly best of all—the chance to make the world better for some one, the opportunity to brighter the path for some boy or girl, some elderly man or woman. Woman! What a chance to live in 1939 and to give your bit to the world's wealth of good things done! Come on 1939!

• Wandering Thoughts

The same to you. And a lot of them.

Welcome 1939. We have a feeling that if we are good, it will be good to a lot of us.

Happy 1938! You gave us a perfect year for all.

mate—a wonderful summer and what a fall and winter!

Farmers should have a better year in 1939, according to the dopesters. Here's hoping. No one more than the men on the soil deserve prosperity.

The papers say that Governor Frank Murphy will go into the Roosevelt cabinet. That is a fine honor for Mr. Murphy and for the state of Michigan as well.

The double tracks of the Michigan Central railroad run through Albion, our old home town where we spent eleven happy years in the newspaper business. We were chilled the other day to read in the Albion daily paper that a passenger on one of the trains going through the city had been seriously injured by a rock thrown through a train window by a boy. So serious, in fact, that the passenger may lose his eyesight as the result of this young rowdy's act. According to a railroad official who came to investigate the crime, "There is an inexplicable wave of lawlessness directed toward the railroads by youths and even children." Commenting editorially on the circumstance, Editor Walter S. Kennedy says: "Looks like our engendered class hatred is reaching down to the juveniles."

H. C. Church Predicts Good Building Year

The home building industry in 1939 is expected to have its best year since 1929, H. C. Church of the Novels Lumber and Coal company declared upon his return from a building industry merchandising clinic held in Detroit.

Citing facts and figures brought out at the conferences sponsored by Johns-Manville and which was attended by over 200 number yard owners from Michigan, Ohio and Canada, this year we can offer the prospective home builder more house for his money than at any other time in history. "We have better designs, better materials, better construction methods, insulation, air-conditioning, automatic heat, better equipment, lower cost financing; and, actually, because of better use of space, the home of today costs less than 10 years ago. Plans have been formulated to make it possible for prospective home owners to select and build a home much as they might purchase an automobile," says Mr. Church.

Commenting upon general business conditions, Mr. Church said: "Fast business cycles have shown that real recovery can be had only when supported by strength in the building industry. Today it is a fact that building is leading the current general improvement in business."

The latest figures made public, these for October of this year, show all construction is 26 per cent ahead of last year, residential building for October was 65 per cent ahead of a year ago, and for four months as up 50 per cent. Mortgages accepted for insurance by the FHA since April have shown increases for every month over the corresponding period of last year, and commitments for October were more than 80 per cent over October of last year. Practically all of these gains have been made since the middle of the year, and show that we are now in a definite upturn period.

If general business conditions continue to improve, Mr. Church said, "it is quite possible that 400,000 home units will be built next year through private initiative. Add to this the activity in the public housing field and another 100,000 may be easily added next year." "This Mr. Church pointed out, would bring a total of 500,000 home units, practically equalling the total for 1929."

The fourth grade has been doing long division. Also, the pupils have been keeping a December weather chart.

The beginner is printing on the line and learning how to write. In art, the pupils have been wood burning and metal tapping, and making Christmas posters.

The Christmas program was held Thursday night, Dec. 22, at the Deckay school. The room was full of spectators. Two former pupils, Lora and Lorraine Tibbitts from Northville, came to see the program. There was genuine mistletoe hanging over the door. The program included a Christmas greeting by Kenny Lash; a play by Robert Holman, Shirley Major, J. D. Woodson, Joe Major, Clyde Lash, Mary Ann Lafferty, Robert Prest, Charles Holman and Kenny Lash; and songs were sung by the entire school.

Ralphie Foreman, who was absent from school a long time due to an appendicitis operation, announced the program. The school wishes to thank Mrs. Marguerite Foreman for playing the piano for the Christmas songs.

Holdsworth-Litsenberger Nuptial Rites Are Read in Home Christmas Eve

Miss Marion Lucile Litsenberger, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Litsenberger of 372 Randolph street, became the bride of William Holdsworth, son of Wilbur Holdsworth of Plymouth, in a simple home ceremony read at 8 o'clock Christmas Eve.

The vows were spoken before the Rev. Harry J. Lord of the Methodist church. Only intimate members of the family were present for the service.

Mr. Litsenberger gave his daughter in marriage. She wore an afternoon frock of blue and gold. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Her sister, Miss Marjorie Litsenberger, attended her. Richard Leomin was Mr. Holdsworth's best man.

Cards and wedding music preceded the pledging of the marriage vows. Miss Jane Campbell sang, "O Promise Me."

A reception was held later in the evening for a few friends. Miss Doris Petkin of Brighton, and Miss Isabel Tibble, assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Holdsworth will make their home in Howell.

Mrs. Liebetreu and Mrs. Bailey are hostesses.

Mrs. William A. Liebetreu and Mrs. R. H. Bailey were hostesses Thursday afternoon, Dec. 22, to the children of the nursery and primary department of the Methodist church. They entertained in the church parlors and were assisted by Mrs. E. M. Bogart and Miss Faith Liebetreu.

After the afternoon had been spent playing games and singing songs, refreshments were served to the 25 children present. Mothers of the children who were present for the occasion were tea guests of the teachers of the two departments. The appointments were white and red, with candle treatment around the rooms and on the tables.

Luncheon For Guests from Out-of-Town.

A luncheon Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. F. Church street honored out-of-town guests. They were Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Rick of Elkhart, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Starr Northrop of Washington, D. C., who are vacationing until after the first of the year with relatives in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick are house guests of relatives in the village.

Power-Rattenbury Nuptials Announced at Reception.

Announcing the marriage of their daughter, Wilma, to Robert Power, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Power, Mr. and Mrs. William Rattenbury welcomed to their home on Beal avenue Tuesday evening a company of friends.

Assisting in receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Power, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Richardson, Miss Dorothy Richardson and Mrs. George Rattenbury.

Refreshments were served in the dining room where a large host of white snapdragons and mums flanked the table.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robert Power are well known in this community, both having finished their high school course here where they were prominent in activities. Mrs. Power was valedictorian of her class. She has since her graduation from the University of Michigan, taught in the high school at Bad Axe and will complete the year. Mr. Power is employed in the Maybury sanatorium and is a leader of the local Boy Scout troops.

Relatives from out-of-town present at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Baker, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ferguson all of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mitchell of Ferndale and Irving Jorgenson of Waukegan.

Farmington Is Scene of Blakeslee Reception.

Mrs. Ada Mary Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Patton of Farmington, and Gordon G. Blakeslee, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Blakeslee of St. Louis, spoke their marriage vows at 1 o'clock Friday morning, Dec. 23, in the home of the bride's parents. The service was held by the Rev. R. O. Thompson.

For her wedding the bride selected a shift of light brown satin on primrose blue with which she wore a light blue veil.

The sister Mrs. Barbara Patton attended her wearing a blue tulle cloak accented with pink to a trim Charles F. Blakeslee of Stoughton, O., was the best man.

Loher, Mrs. and M. M. Johnson's wedding hymns were played and Frederick Johnson sang "The Power of the Cross" and "The Power of the Cross" in the Button home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Blakeslee are graduates of Michigan State college. Last year, Mrs. Blakeslee teaches in the gymnasium at Bad Axe. Mr. Blakeslee is chief engineer of a ship at Farmington, Lansing and St. Louis, they will both resume their duties.

TRAILER TRAVEL WITH THE YOUNG

Everyone seems to be traveling about in trailers these days—even mothers with very young babies. You don't have to wait until your family's grown up before you get out to see the world. Feeding the young has been so simplified, now that commercially packed strained fruits and vegetables are available in the markets, that all you have to do is lay in a supply of infant provender and be off for a grand holiday.

It's nice to know you can take the whole family along, too—even down to the youngest member—once he's past the first months of most delicate handling. Feeding the young one doesn't seem as easy a matter after you have him well established on the milk formula, cod liver oil, tomato juice, and strained foods diet. Specially when you use carefully prepared products.

That's packed under scientifically controlled conditions. Of course, there are a few mothers who still strain fruits and vegetables for their babies at home, but it is almost impossible to manage this when you are moving about the country. In the first place it is absolutely essential that the baby's food supply be sure and safe. You must know there will be vegetables at hand when you need them—a factor that cannot be controlled in advance if you count on picking up vegetables as you go along. Then, too, you must be sure the source of supply is safe, that the water is good and the utensils sterile.

Miss Betty Schrader, who is home from Southern Seminary at Buena Vista Va., for the holidays, will entertain some of the college set to day at a luncheon in the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth.

Her guests in the hotel, The Misses Edith Allman, Lois Chapman, Betty Van Hove, Barbara Phillips, Nancy McLaughlin of Detroit, Gwendolyn Jones, Margaret Walker, Elizabeth Hegge of Plymouth, Marjorie Conant, Jean Baldwin of Ann Arbor, Virginia Washburne, Evelyn Ambler and Clara Rector of Plymouth.

Miss Margaret Walker is Luncheon Hostess.

Happy Acres, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walker, Jr., was the scene Thursday of a luncheon party hosted by Miss Margaret Walker who is vacationing from the Grier school at Burningham, Pa.

She had covers for the Misses Gwendolyn Jones, Nancy McLaughlin of Detroit, Lois Chapman, Louise Alexander, Nancy Ostergren and Shirley Bartz of Detroit. Betty Van Hove, Betty Schrader and Janice Gregg of Dundee.

Bogart's Will Celebrate Silver Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bogart, 335 North Center street, will be at home to their friends from 4 to 6 p. m. New Year's Day.

It's occasion Sunday, Jan. 1, will mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. Reng is Hostess at Holiday Tea.

The home of Mrs. O. F. Reng 718 Thayer boulevard was the scene Thursday afternoon of a holiday tea. Mrs. Reng used the Christmas motif in her table appointments. Mrs. P. W. Hawkins poured tea late in the afternoon for 15 guests.

Miss Patsy McLoughlin Detroit was a guest Monday of Miss Louise Alexander.

Recognized as one of the foremost women writers in the realm of American literature, the late Kate Douglas Wiggin was the author of "Mother Carey's Chickens," now brought to the screen in a faithful filmization with all the original sweetness and down-to-earth sentiment of the classic. It comes to the Penhman-Alled theatre, Jan. 9 and 10.

Annie Shirley, Ruby Keeler and James Ellison lead the cast in "Mother Carey's Chickens," which has become a "standard" book in the past two decades. Originally published as part of a trilogy of "best sellers," which included "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and "The Birds' Christmas Carol," "Mother Carey's Chickens" has been dramatized as a successful play by Mrs. Wiggin and Rachel Crothers.

Depicting the loving, sorrowing and rejoicing of a devoted family composed of a widow, two beautiful daughters and two young sons, RKO Radio's "Mother Carey's Chickens" offers the contrasting romances of the two lovely girls as a highlight. Its peaceful New England settings and its early 1900 period have been transferred to the screen by the magic of the camera and the technical skill of moviemakers. Its human, lovable characters live again in the fashion of the day.

The cast includes Fay Bainter, Walter Brennan, Ralph Morgan, Frank Albertson, Jackie Moran and Daphne Dunagan.

ALBINO DEER SEEN
Newberry — Albino deer, a rarely sighted animal freak, has been seen in several places in the upper peninsula this season. An albino buck was reported 18 miles south of Muhising. Conservation officers reported seeing several of the all white animals near Vanderbilt, and another one has been seen in the vicinity of L'Anse.

All pairs are nothing in respect of this.
All sorrows short—that gain eternal bliss.

PRESBYTERIANS BRING CHRISTMAS TO SICK CHILDREN AT MAYBURY

Members of the junior, intermediate and senior Christian Endeavor societies of the Presbyterian church brought Christmas happiness to 12 bed-ridden children at the Maybury sanatorium.

Christmas "wahr" lists from the children were filled to the very last request by these young workers. Cookies baked by the children at the Arthur Carlson home under the supervision of Mrs. Carlson, together with the gifts and three trees which were used in the church school party last Friday night, were taken Sunday to the sanatorium where they were received by the sick youngsters.

U. S. Lines Names New Flagship "America"

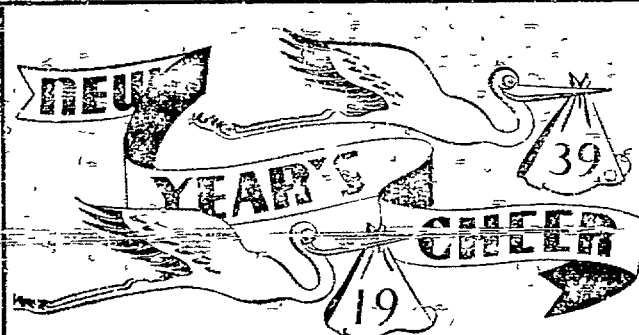

The largest liner ever to be built in the United States will be christened "America" when she is launched next July at Newport News. The big passenger vessel is under construction for the United States Lines, and will become the flagship of the fleet when she enters the New York-Channel ports-Hamburg service early in 1940 as running mate to the popular Manhattan and Washington, largest and fastest American liners now in operation. The name was chosen from among the many patriotic and historic names suggested in thousands of letters received by the United States Lines as the one best expressing the significance of the ship—the most important and most costly unit thus far under way in the country's merchant marine program which contemplates the construction of fifty designers of the life-sized toys in the workshop. Mrs. Florabel Sullivan directed the speaking parts of the play and Miss Wanda Brinkman, the dances. The children entered into the play with lively enthusiasm. As the second and more serious part of the program, the curtain rose on the "Nativity Story," enacted in pageant groups of children representing angels, shepherds and wise men in turn appeared before the manger scene. Carols, appropriate to each scene, were sung with Miss Bowers at the piano. In the closing scene the entire procession left the auditorium singing "Joy to the World."

Those who witnessed the productions of the afternoon were amazed at the ability of the children. It was of interest to learn that the elaborate costumes worn in these plays were made by the children directed by Miss Rose Bignell. Altogether it is estimated that over 200 participated in this program which has been rehearsed for many weeks while the Christmas spirit was emphasized in the lives of these children.

In 46 villages in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa 69 per cent of the families were reported as owning cars. In this group it was found that 692 families out of each thousand owned cars and that during the year 38 families, or 9.8 per cent, will buy new cars of an average value of $742, and 113 families or 11.3 per cent, will buy used cars of an average value of $247.

It was also found, through the survey, that families travel each year in proportion to the family income. For instance, families having an income of $1,000, travel an average of 4,500 miles each year, while families having an income of $5,000, a year or more, travel an average of 10,680 miles.

Ownership of cars also varies with the family income. About 62 per cent of families earning $1,000 annually have cars; 80 per cent of families earning $1,500 annually have cars; and almost 99 per cent of families earning $5,000 or more annually have cars.

Maintenance and operation expenses vary from $16 to $221 annually, also in proportion to income. In conducting this survey the Bureau of Home Economics selected 46 villages in this area (North Central and Middle Atlantic) as representative of American community life. It may be said that the American way of living definitely includes the automobile.
