● An Excellent Choice

(Detroit Free Press, Jan. 16)

Governor Fitzgerald's appointment of Muri H. DeFoe of Charlotte, to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission brings into the public service again, a man whose character and achievements promise that he will be an asset to the Commission.

As editor of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune Mr. DeFoe is known as a forceful thinker and writer. The term he served in the Michigan Senate and his later service as clerk to Gov. Osborn gave him an inside view of what goes on in Lansing. The active interest he has taken in the Boy Scout National Council reflects his wholesome attitude toward life in his community.

Although he does not use alcoholic beverages himself he is described by Governor Fitzgerald as "intelligently tolerant" toward those who do.

The State needs to have attracted to its service men of character and substance, who have shown that they take a deep and sympathetic interest in the welfare of their fellow-citizens, and whose achievements have raised them above the level of political nonentities.

The Governor has found such a man in Mr. DeFoe.

Editor's Note: The appointment of Muri H. DeFoe of Charlotte, to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission was a splendid recognition of one of the most capable and high minded men in the publishing ranks of Michigan. He has often been quoted in The Record. We had planned to write our own editorial about this fine recognition of one of our best friends but the Detroit Free Press editorial column has done a better job than we could have done hence, it is a pleasure to reproduce it in full. Muri DeFoe will give outstanding service, as he always has done through his whole life.

● A Decade of Deficits

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

President Roosevelt's budget message fills in with ten-digit figures the philosophy of deficit financing enunciated in his annual message to Congress. This rationalization of red figures was more fully elucidated a week ago by Chairman Rees of the Federal Reserve. Mr. Roosevelt prettifies it as "national investment for prosperity." But it adds up to a decade of deficits, $2,000,000,000 for the next fiscal year and a total public debt of nearly $15,000,000,000 by 1940.

And this time there is no promise of a balanced budget; only a hope that by continued Federal spending the lack of private spending can be made up until business so recovers that there will be an $80,000,000,000 national income. On that level there is hope of balance. Now it should be recognized that sound economists support the theory that Federal credit can usefully keep up the flow of investment while private enterprise is afraid to take hold. They believe the last recession was primarily due to too rapid shutting off of Federal spending.

But after a decade of deficits two fundamental facts make this theory a very dangerous basis for national policy. First is the fact that full-fledged business will lead to long-term investment of private capital. As Mr. Roosevelt said last year, "No Government can expect co-operation." And so long as there is fear that government competition, government-controlled labor disputes, government-devised tax burdens, government-controlled political spending and government-fostered public distrust of business are going to make profits small and doubtful, the pump of recovery will not be primed.

It is true that some investors need to realize that there never will be a return to the "good old days" when the lid was off for unconscionable exploitation. Co-operation must be two-sided. But there have been increasing evidences, particularly since the last election, that many business men have a new social outlook and are ready to go a long way on their side. In fairness, it should be said that Mr. Roosevelt also has shown a disposition to end the baiting of business. And his willingness to see some "polishing" of recent legislation which disturbs business men gives hope for better co-operation than at any time in the last six years.

But business confidence and co-operation will not be won after a decade of deficits, and with the unemployment problem still unsolved, by giving pleasant names to big debt increases. It would be better to face the second fact which undermines the Eccles-Roosevelt theory—the fact that these deficits are rooted in political causes. They are made up of grants to various pressure groups which no government and no party dares to defy. And they are manufactured by logrolling. Nearly every one of these groups would like to stop the spending for other groups—but it consents in order to get its own share.

Relief, farm subsidies, pensions—all these can be supported by arguments of necessity. But the amount of them is open to political pressures. And there is the difficulty about economy. The Roosevelt Administration might not be able to stop the spending. But it could take the lead in checking it, instead of rationalizing it.

Editor's Note: If you pay taxes—and who doesn't?—you should take off five minutes and read carefully—almost said "prayerfully"—the above editorial from the very fair-minded and non-partisan daily paper, The Christian Science Monitor. Some day, sooner or later, inevitably, we are going to have to face this national

● "Old Bum" Dies at Charlotte

One need never be ashamed if he cries when his dog dies. There is something tender and precious in such a sorrow.

Man seems to be more genuine and "as a little child" when his heart is torn as mine was Monday morning when my good old "Bum" dog was hit by a car and had to be put out of his helplessness. Not the slightest blame is attached to Muri Nichols, the driver of the car, who made two trips to Dr. Erickson's. I stood by and patted the head of the injured dog and remained until the doctor arrived when I started home in tears, as I am again now trying to write a suitable piece to the memory of my old pal.

A few years ago Governor Percival B. Baxter of Maine lowered the flag of the state house during the burial of his dog. Letters of criticism and praise became the big end of the governor's mail, for several days, and he finally issued an official statement in defense of his action. May I quote the opening and closing paragraphs of Governor Baxter's reply to his critics:

"My faithful dog, unlike many of my human friends, never betrayed nor believed all of me. In all his life he was never mean, nor dishonorable. Can this be said of many humans? If all men would acquire the outstanding virtues of the dog, great happiness soon would be spread broadcast over this sordid world. It is my prayer that I always may be as unselfish and as loyal to my Master, State, and nation as Garry was to me."

In saying goodbye and best of luck to old Bum—he was 15 past—I regret in everything the Maine governor said about his "Garry" and in my poignant grief I submit to dog lovers everywhere this lovely and utterly truthful sentiment by Confucius, the great Chinese philosopher, whose memory is now worshipped by millions of Yellow Men.

"To love with the heart of a dog one must see with the eyes of God."

(Note: the above editorial was written by Editor Muri H. DeFoe, mentioned in this column. If you are as tender-hearted as we are, you will drop a tear, too.)

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

● One-Year Ago

Floyd Lanning has tendered his resignation to the Depositors' State bank where he has been a teller since the Northville State bank and the Lapham State Savings bank merged some six years ago. He is accepted a clerical post at the Michigan State Bank.

Nelson C. Seltzer is to head the fourth annual President's Ball which will be held Saturday Jan. 29.

It is about the first day of one of the new farming country districts in this county when it claimed Dr. A. T. Hulcomb early Tuesday. Plans will be beyond repair the two to a 1938 DuPont street belonging to Charles Cornwell and owned by Dr. Philip S. Borg family who saw them.

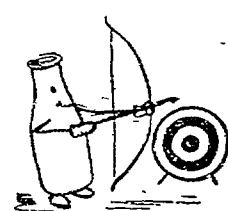

● Ten Years Ago

Rev. L. C. Eckhardt pastor of the German Lutheran church who has been recuperating from a nervous breakdown at the home of relatives in Northville. He will occupy the pulpit of his church Sunday morning for the first time in several months.

Thereminists Sunday registered anywhere from four to eleven below. Harry Clark out on the Base Line road said it was eleven below at his place Sunday evening.

● Fifteen Years Ago

Many Northville friends and acquaintances were greatly distressed Saturday morning when the news of the death of Mark S. Ambler at his Detroit home became current about the village. The following are officers of the Foresters. Past chief ranger W. E. Safford, chief ranger, Gay Martin, sub. chief ranger, Arthur Suwell, financial secretary J. W. Lay, recording secretary, Harvey White.

Boy Scouts Hold Meeting, Saturday

In connection with the annual Boy Scout meeting scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 21, at the General Motors auditorium, Dr. George J. Fisher will be the principal speaker.

The program will be of dramatic import. Tableaux depicting some of Norman Rockwell's famous paintings of Scouting characters, will be staged by members of Troop 3, Metropolitan Methodist church. Sixty Cub Scouts from Pack 612, Liberty school Highland Park, will offer a singing.

DR. G. J. FISHER, M. D., Deputy Chief Scout Executive, Boy Scouts of America

The final presentation is a pageant, "A Re-dedication to Democracy," by Scouts of Troop 25, Grose Pointe Memorial Presbyterian church.

Local selections will be given by girls and boys from Northern high school. Music is to be sung by a selected group from the All-City high school orchestra, under direction of Arthur H. Searle, supervisor of music for the Detroit public schools.

Dr. George J. Fisher, M. D., deputy chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America has had a long and distinguished career in the service of youth. He has received the Award of the Silver Buffalo from the Boy Scouts of America for distinguished service to his country and the Luther Halsey Gulick Award of the New York Physical Education society for distinguished service of a national character in the field of physical education.

Dr. Fisher has long been in the field of physical education and scientific publications. He was editor of Physical Training 1904-1919, Editor of "Volley Ball Rules" 1919-1930, Editor of the Athletic League Handbook beginning 1907-1931, Joint Author of Physical Effects of Smoking 1917, Author, "Studies in Physical Education and Other Monographs," and Joint Editor of the Army and Navy Athletic Handbook during 1918 and 1919.

Dr. Fisher was President of the New York City Kiwanis Club in 1926 and first chairman of the International Committee on Vocational Guidance. Member, Hygienic Reference Board of the Life Extension Institute. His clubs are the Building Trades club of New York City, the Lake Placid club, The Kiwanis club and Scarsdale Golf club.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wellwood and daughter Miss Barbara of Detroit, were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. E. G. Fikins, Harold Wood and Mrs. Plymouth, was also a guest at the Fillans home Sunday.

Carl Stephens appeared on the program last Thursday at the dinner for the Men's club at the Plymouth. Stephens delivered his song three number accompanied at the piano by Jean Hamill of Plymouth.

Mr. James Greene entertained his bridge club Thursday afternoon. The members who attended were Mr. H. Scaupstad of Detroit, Mrs. G. Duberry of Novi, Mrs. Al Zuercher, Mrs. Merrill Sweet, Mrs. H. C. Church, Mrs. Glenn Hummold and Mrs. Garret Barry.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday Jan. 24 for a potluck lunch on the meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Carls at Waterford. Persons wanting transportation are asked to call the Methodist parsonage.

Mrs. Kathryn Gahl of the Plymouth Michigan Bell Telephone office has been named to succeed Miss Ann Kolody as chief operator of the Northville Telephone office. Miss Kolody has been promoted to the Plymouth office where she is to be the chief operator.

Fred Simmons and M. C. Gussell got their hats moved up Monday evening at the Legion dinner in the Legion Hall. Mr. Simmons walked off with a hat much too small for him. Mr. Gussell took the only remaining hat on the rack when he was ready to go home; it was much too large for him. It was not until after the Rotary meeting Tuesday noon that the two villagers got the hat situation straightened out.

Overheard in the canteen hall:
I wonder what they call this soup?
"Why it's bean soup."
"I don't care what it's been when it was new."

BOWLING NOTES

Paced by the American Legion team which wrested the lead from the Northville Hardware five last Thursday night, the "race-in" the Mercantile League provides one upset after another. Last week's contest saw the leaders, Northville Hardware and A & P, each lose three while the Legion was sweeping its contest with the A & P grocers and gaining top place in the standings. Schrader's were also triple winners over the Recreation team which has yet to enter the win column.

Last week's contests were to bring together the Legion and Hardware teams in a death struggle for high honors. The Hardware squad has taken a vow that it will be in top place when the last pin is counted. The Owen Men's Shop team winner over Hardware, may also have something to say about team positions. Individual scores are given below for last week's games:

BUSINESS MAN...AGE 12

This youngster already knows the rudiments of business. He not only has learned how to raise poultry successfully but how to sell it at a profit. He uses the telephone to get authoritative advice from the county agent and to reach the merchants, poultry buyers and housewives to whom he sells his fowls.

Today, farmers young and old recognize the dollars-and-cents-value of the telephone in marketing activities. They know, too, that it provides an invaluable means of summoning veterinarian, doctor, and help when fire or other emergencies threaten. And for all members of the farm family, a telephone is the means to greater participation in the social life of the neighborhood.

Christian Science Churches
"Truth" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Jan. 22.
The Golden Text, (Deuteronomy 32:3-4) is: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he."
Among the Bible citations in this passage (Psalm 57:9-10): "I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people. I will sing unto thee among the nations. For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (page 286): "The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings."

HUMAN FLY
Romeo (MPA) — Charles E. Dodge, gasoline station attendant, turned in a professional job of the human fly type of wall climbing, recently. When he noticed sparks on the roof of a nearby church, Dodge ran from his station climbing up the porch column and eaves, he reached the roof and ripped off the burning shingles, holding the fire in check until firemen arrived.

JOKE SCARES KIDS
Fremont (MPA) — Several local youngsters were thoroughly frightened when a gas station attendant told them the foul-smelling substance they found in an old car was the body of a child. When State Police investigated, they couldn't find the corpse. Later it was learned that the station attendant had placed the body of a dead cat in the car, to discourage children from rummaging in old cars in a nearby used car lot.

Resort Villagers Begin Trek to South; Scribe Has To Stay Home; New Location Is Selected for 16-Year-Old Corner Stone

By C. E. HUTTON
WALLED LAKE — This is Florida week for Walled Lake folks. It would seem. In addition to the several Walled Lake who already are enjoying everything afforded by that delightful State, there has been an exodus, this week, which will continue into next week of another dozen families of the village, all headed on the 1,300-mile trek, due South.
Early Monday-morning saw the takeoff of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Taylor and Leon Clutz Mr. and Mrs. Manley. Bachelor left at about the same time Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Post were scheduled to leave some time this week, as were the Franks, Dickies. The Obyses were entertaining similar plans, and I heard that the Charles Obyses were contemplating a southern sojourn before long.
Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carnes are delaying their departure until after the Methodist choir reunion next Tuesday night. They expect to leave on Wednesday.
One of life's minor tragedies, developed for George Willard, who planned to leave this week for the balmy breezes, provided he could find a man to run his meat-market for him. No soap — or rather — no butcher. For that matter it is equally tragic to have the sickening realization that it is no soap, no dice or what have you for ye scribe and family. We thought perhaps by this time we'd be famous, or something, with these rather unique journalistic efforts widely syndicated, bringing about a choice assignment to cover Florida. But no. As a matter of fact, we're still maintaining a free lance status — off the roll.

The current construction at the school has made necessary the removal of the original corner stone of the 16-year-old building, to keep it accessible. It would, otherwise have been covered by the new addition to the building now under way.
J. Cecil Cox, president of the school board has selected a new location for the historic stone and its contents, comprising a seal of copper box. It will be placed in the wall, near the main entrance of the building, where it can be easily seen.

A new corner stone will be placed in the new $100,000 addition, with appropriate ceremonies, according to plans. All persons present at the time may place some token within the chest, which will in turn be placed within the stone.

Bids will be asked, within the near future on new equipment for the school gymnasium and new classrooms. This equipment will include 450 standard chairs for the gymnasium, 300 bleacher seats and 400 folding chairs, together with chairs, clothing laboratory tables for a class of 36 girls, a counter for the superintendent's office; a charging desk for the library, and a blue and gold curtain, 50 feet long, for the auditorium stage.

Suggestions for subjects for future feature bits seem to continue to reach me, verbally and via the mail. For which I'm grateful. I'm also humbly pleased with readers' comments on the little offering regarding the Christmas Spirit. To E. L. C. may I say thanks, for asking me to do some feature each week. I haven't, however, reached quite that prolific a stage, as yet, even if there were room enough for it, in me. Maybe, some day. But tanks, anyways.

O. J. CLEARY TALKS TO STUDENT BODY

Urges Students To Back Fight on Communism and Fascism

An assembly program, consisting of a selection by the verse-speaking choir and a speech by Dr. Owen J. Cleary, registrar of Cleary's Business College in Ypsilanti, was presented to the student body Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The verse-speaking choir, consisting of Virginia Kaluzny, Catherine Biery, Maxine Perkins, Thelma George, Mary Helen Tesch, Joanne Yronan, Betty Alger, and Florence Rentchler, recited "Winkum Binkum, and God".

Dr. Cleary, who has spoken to the students in the past, again talked on a very timely subject, Americanism. Although he has discussed this subject in past years, Dr. Cleary said that it is still important because we need more good old American spirit in the world. We live under the United States Constitution and have for the last 150 years and our happiness depends on it so we should defend it in our every-day actions. Because of such a great threat of another world war, we must be doubly careful as it is said that our democracy would never live through another war like the one from 1914-1918. Pointing out the danger of such dissident forces as the Communists and Fascists, he said that this menace was not thought to be as great until after the report by the Dies committee.

Discussing Naziism, Dr. Cleary stated that Hitler wants to spread his domain through the world, and it is up to us to prevent his doing this but it will be a difficult task because we have no inspiration from our elders. Hitler's idea that those of German descent can be good citizens of the United States only if first they are good Germans and good Nazis, is pure, unadulterated propaganda. Appealing to the younger generation to fight these enemies of democracy, he didn't think that flag waving nor music playing was the correct method, but preferred to use reason.

FRESHMAN CLASS TAKES I. Q. TESTS

The first part of last week the freshman class had three tests in the senior assembly given in connection with the psychology department of the University of Michigan to compare the students of Northville with those of other schools throughout the country.

The tests consisted of three parts, the first of which was a psychological test. The next was a Frazer Silent reading test. It was made up by the American Council on Education. The last the Pupil Inventory blank which contains information that is helpful to the school in the guidance program.

Book Review

A. J. Cronin's best seller, The Citadel, has been considered by some as propaganda. Based on the ethics of a modern medical man, it tells of how these principles have been purposely and completely disregarded in favor of the "soak the rich" idea.

Andrew Manson, a young Scotch doctor, began his career as assistant to Dr. Edward Page in Blaenelly. Besides making the acquaintance of Miss Page, the doctor's bossy wife, he also met Philip Denny, a big-town surgeon, who had come to this mining town and had become a drink addict. Christine Barlow, the village school teacher whom he later married, and the local health officer, who, not knowing much about medicine, wouldn't do anything to stop an epidemic and made it necessary for Denny and Andrew to take the situation into their own hands so they blew up the drain.

After leaving Blaenelly, Andrew and Christine went to the Aberlady Medical and Society to work under Dr. Llewellyn, a doctor who took all of the glory and most of the money. As a result of his dissatisfaction here, Andrew bought Dr. Foy's practice and set out for himself. His practice was not much at first, but gradually grew and in time he became a "society doctor." Heartbroken because Andrew had forgotten all his promises to always live up to the ideals that the title "doctor" stood for, Christine tried in every way to get him back to his old practice but she couldn't do it. Finally seeing light, because of an operation performed by one of his associates who was supposed to be a great surgeon but was really just a fake, Andrew returned home. Christine was so happy that she ran across the street to get something special for dinner and on returning she was killed by an automobile.

Editor's Note...

Due to a sudden shift in schedule the girls' first team plays a practice game with Westerville this afternoon at 4:30. Support is still the thing that helps teams win and so far the girls have had plenty of that. However, it seems that some of the worthy citizens of N. H. S. don't think that the girls are doing such a good job of backing the fellows at their games. Tonight the boys will play Van Dyke in our gymnasium at 7:00. Let's see every single student who can possibly come be there on time and watch our fellows run their wins up another notch (as far as league games go). They've honestly received the poorest support this year of any season for quite some time.

Could we call to the attention of the authorities in charge of the splinters on the chairs and desks that there is a fine chip this year and the well-known plague of "sticking runs" has resulted from it. We daughters of the taxpayers of Northville are about to rise up in revolt and demand that the chairs be replaced.

be handed or something so that we can once more know the joy of a happy mother and a full allowance. Later due to the abundance of splinters sticking forth we have heard nothing but groans from mammy and seen only about half of our allowances, the other half going to some stocking merchant who doesn't need the cash half as much as we do (we think). Maybe this sounds silly but we're really serious about the fact that we do catch a lot of perfectly good hose and completely run them and a little sandpapering by some of the shop students would remedy the cause in a hurry.

It was rumored around school last week that some of the chronic pencil-sharpeners had reformed and were not going to borrow any more pencils from good-natured people, when they weren't looking. Could a few of you try and live up to this resolution even if you didn't make it. It isn't that the students mind lending their pencils — it's not getting them back that hurts.

GIRLS' TEAM WINS OVER MELVINDALE

Playing their first league game of the season on the home floor the N. H. S. girls basketball squads won both the second and first team encounters from Melvindale last Thursday.

The first team girls defeated Melvindale 13-4 in a slow-scoring, well-played game. Guarding was a highlight of this game as the Orange and Blackguards held the rival forwards to three points in the first half and allowed no baskets and only one foul shot in the last half.

Melvindale's guards were tall and limited the local forwards to only 13 points. Louise Alexander was high scorer for the evening with 5 points. Brumansky, Batt and Kinnell accounted for the other points.

The reserve squad won their game very easily with a series of baskets which Melvindale could not seem to stop. Ruth Parmenter was high scorer with 14 points and Carol Carlson followed closely with 11 points. The final score was 36 to 11.

Coach Gladys Ludwig remarked about the game, "I think the girls played well. I only hope that they keep a level-head and finish with a victorious season."

Inquiring Reporter

What do you think of starting the Girl Reserves organization in N. H. S.?

I think the girls could have a lot of fun if they got together and formed a Girl Reserve group." Marjory Penberthy.

"Girl Reserves gives girls a chance to have fun and to develop a personality. It is an inexpensive club to join. They have conferences at the Y. W. C. A. which are fun. They have valuable literature on improving one's appearance and health. I'm for it." Mary Potter.

"N. H. S. needs more activities for both boys and girls. The Girl Reserves would provide entertainment and increase the knowledge among the girls. Let's get behind this movement and make it a big success!" Juanda Bender.

"I don't believe the girls would support the club. The clubs, already started, are not supported. It would be a good thing if it would go over." Laura Bolton.

"It would be a fine club. It should be very beneficial and lots of fun. There are plenty of girls who are interested enough to co-operate and make it a success." Eugenea Stafford.

council and the death of Christine. Andrew couldn't get a hold of himself until he accepted the offer of Denny, the surgeon, and Hope, the laboratory research man who came to him and asked him if he would consent to go with them and form a clinic at which he would be the diagnostician.

EAST DETROIT WINS OVER N. H. S. SQUAD

Local Debaters Lose on Rival's Superior Arguments

On Thursday, Jan. 12, Northville's debating team was defeated by East Detroit high school. The two teams were debating on the question of the year, "Resolved: That the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain." Northville defended the affirmative, East Detroit, the negative.

The affirmative team spoke as follows: Laura Bolton, first in construction, second in rebuttal, John Costello, second in construction, first in rebuttal. Julian Thieme, third in both construction and rebuttal. Ruth Wilde spoke first for the negative; Pat Rosette, second. Betty Pralliss, third.

Northville's team tried to bring out the fact that the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain in order to preserve the Monroe Doctrine concerning South America and to protect herself against the Fascist power which is supposedly menacing both countries. They quoted a statement made by President Roosevelt pertaining to the rearmament program "Fascism is a definite threat; therefore, we must begin to rearm."

The negative answered that there was a threat it would not develop for years. They stated that the Fascist powers were too small individually to do any harm, and there was nothing to lead us to believe that they would unite. Then the affirmative quoted the old adage, "Birds of a feather flock together," and said that the Fascists would unite of their own accord. The negative applied this to the United States and Great Britain, saying that in case of trouble the countries would form an alliance without any written agreement. Also the negative added that England was very tickle and had broken many treaties. When Northville mentioned the unbroken treaty with France they argued that this treaty would probably be broken as soon as England was required to take an active part in the treaty.

The judge, Mr. Harold Hughes of Hazel Park awarded the decision to East Detroit because of their quick response to the affirmative and their good argument. He commented on the speakers' appearance and delivery praising one of Northville's speakers especially.

The fourth quarter was also dominated by Melvindale and the game ended with the ball in Northville's possession and the score 34 to 15 in favor of the other team.

The N. H. S. starting line-up was as follows: Fritz, I. Nunder, I. Duguid, C. Houghton, G. W. Myers, G.

N-CLUB ELECTS BRAY PRESIDENT

At a meeting of the newly organized N-Club held in Miss Gladys Ludwig's room last week, officers for the coming year were elected. Dale Bray was named president, Dick LarKins, treasurer; and Bob Orr, secretary.

Several years ago the boys in N. H. S. who had won letters in sports organized the first N-Club. The purpose of which was to raise money to be used to have a banquet at the end of the year.

This year the 35 new members are planning to sponsor dances as well as raise money in other ways. They plan to purchase N-Club pins for the members. At the end of the year they plan to have a banquet and have one of the football players from Michigan State as guest speaker.

GRADE NOTES

Clare Smith is a new pupil. Mrs. O. F. Reng's second grade children are making free-hand drawings of their Christmas toys. They are also working out a dramatization of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Miss Buelah Miller's first grade is beginning a study of the community. "Scotter, the little yellow kitten, is very happy in school. The pupils have made a snow suit for him to wear to and from school. He has spent nights with Nancy Sonnenberg, Shirley Moore, Cleon Newton, Patricia Gregory and Brabelle Clark.

COACH SMITH STARTS INTRAMURAL GAMES

Coach Harry B. Smith has organized 60 high school boys into eight intramural basketball teams which will play games at noon.

There is a team from nearly every home town. These eight teams are divided into two brackets, each bracket being composed of four teams. The teams in each bracket will play among themselves to decide a winner and then the winners of each group will have a play-off to determine the champion team. The play-off will probably consist of three games and the team which wins two games will take the title. No one on the regular squad is eligible to play on an intramural team.

The rules for the games are as follows: All members of each team must play at least one quarter of each game. All games must be played at the time scheduled or they will be forfeited.

There will be five minutes for each quarter. One minute between quarters; one minute between halves; two minutes between the halves; and three minutes between the halves. Only three fouls allowed before disqualifications because of the short length of time for the games.

All games must start promptly at 12 noon.

The intramural basketball teams are divided into eight groups, consisting of the following players:

Team 1—Robert McCluckie, Louis Babitt, captain, Philip Baldwin, James LaRue, Edwin Webb, Robert Vogtlin, Ralph Hay, and Dwight Woodmansee.

Team 2—Homer Eickholdt, Eugene Hogan, James Reid, Richard Ward, Rex Dye, Myron Utey, Don Barnard, and Charles Altman.

Team 3—Robert Sears, captain, Louis Herrick, Robert Lindsey, Tom Widmayer, Max Coe, George Hunter, Arleigh Hamm, and Dick Ambler.

Team 4—Harold Hubbard, captain, Sidney Laney, Carter Church, Robert Garrough, Arthur Karschuck, Don Kreeger, Ransom Baldwin, and Wallace Whipple.

Team 5—Joe Defino, Joe Spagnuolo, Sprague Lester, Harold Martens, Douglas McCluckie, Lyman Larson, and Jim Beal.

Team 6—Wilfred Wilson, Fred Sterner, James Dixon, Fred Robinson, Max Roke, Edward Edwin and Eugene Reeves.

Team 7—Charles Bishop, Keith Avey, Bill Scholtz, Ralph Lawrence, Walter Botherfording, Walter Knapkiewicz, and Ed Baughman.

Team 8—Ray Parmenter, Tom Mayhew, Sydney Jimed, Lee Thompson, John Stoddard, Bill Washburne, and Frank Eaton.

The schedule arranged for Jan. 18 to Jan. 23 is:

Jan. 18 1 vs. 2.
Jan. 19 3 vs. 4.
Jan. 20 5 vs. 6.
Jan. 21 7 vs. 8.

Grade Notes

David Amerman of the sixth grade, has been chosen as the grade school reporter for the next three weeks.

The health classes of Frank Hewitt and Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnston are giving demonstrations of first-aid in drowning broken limbs, and cat blood vessels.

Betty Heintz has returned to the fifth grade after her illness.

The Student club had its meeting last Friday. Delphine Nally, president, led in a discussion of their program for the future.

Mrs. James A. Huff's art class is still working on maps of Europe and learning how to make manuscript letters.

The following children in Mrs. K.

H. Babbitt's room have been neither absent nor tardy since the beginning of school in September. Patsy Graham, Phyllis Kreeger, Daphne Shoebridge, Frances Smith, Lester Wick and Richard Widmayer.

The art-class is very interested in carving animals from soap, and hope very soon to have an exhibit of their work in the display case on the main floor of the grade school building.

The sixth graders are all giving book reports.

Vera Briggs is absent on account of illness.

Mrs. Robert Radcliffe's fifth grade is studying the Civil War period in history. In art, the pupils are drawing pictures of log cabins and other things which were used during that period in history.

A community bulletin board has been started by the citizenship club. On this board the pupils may take any article from the paper or any picture which they feel the class will be interested in. Marilyn Geza, brought some snapshots of her dogs which she took last summer. "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" hold a prominent place on the board beside some of our most famous historical figures. Ideas on safety rules and cartoons, reminding us of our manners are among the highlights.

The most interesting feature on the board seems to be a bibliography of good books in the public library.

Mrs. Albert Stage's third grade geography class is making posters and collecting pictures of winter scenes illustrating the many different climates of our country.

The library committee is very
