THIRD DEGREE IS CONFERRED BY FORD TEAM

31 Masonic Lodges Witness
Dramatic Work Directed
by Hayes Bennett
200 Reservations

The outstanding event of many a year took place at the Northville Masonic Temple Monday night when the Ford Rolling Mill Fellow Craft team, under the direction of Hayes R. Bennett, conferred the Third Degree. Over 200 Master Masons representing 31 lodges from New York to Seattle, witnessed the degree work, and enjoyed the dinner and entertainment.

Largest Gathering in Years

Saturday, with the return of 200 reservations, it became necessary to make different arrangements for the event. The dinner was therefore served at the Methodist church house by the members of the Eastern Star. Following a splendid repast, served with dispatch, J. Harry Bennett, senior warden, introduced Hayes Bennett to the assembly. During the dinner and during the hour's entertainment the Seven Vagabonds directed by C. Sarno of Detroit, and the Tassie Ranch Boys offered a number of songs and dances that brought waves of applause and demands for more. The solo work of Miss Stewart was outstanding and highly appreciated.

BOY SCOUT TROOP WINS DISTRICT'S RALLY AWARD

Civilian Trophy Held Here
Five Times. Is Lost to Newburg

Northville's Boy Scout troop No. 1 won the annual rally held Thursday, Apr. 13, in the Wayne County Training school, taking the meet with 58 points over four Plymouth troops, three from the Training school, one each from Newburg, Rosedale Gardens, Elm and Stark schools and a second troop from Northville.

Close behind, Northville in the competitive rally was Plymouth's Troop No. 3, with 50 1/2 points to its credit. Third place was won by Rosedale Gardens' Troop No. 1 with 44 points. Newburg's Troop No. 1 and Elm school's Troop No. 1 tied for fourth and fifth places with 19 points.

Are District Champions

In recognition of Northville's standing in the rally, Troop No. 1 was presented with the Honorary flag emblem of the district championship.

Although the troop added the civilian trophy to its list of awards, Troop No. 1 lost the trophy to Newburg's Troop No. 1. The Northville Troop No. 1 had set a record in holding this trophy for five consecutive times. The trophy was awarded by 240 Scouts, 35 Scouts and 40 adults. Troop No. 7 of Northville did not compete as it is still in the process of organization. According to Scoutmaster Richard Brown, the competition between Northville Troop No. 1 and Plymouth Troop No. 3 was close, the rally winner was not determined until the final event. The events included knot-tying, signaling, nature study, first aid and fire and friction and compass.

Lauds Team Work

"The rally events," Mr. Loomis says, "are set up so that every boy in the troop is active. Individual performances were outstanding, but the team work of the troop as a whole won the rally."

Camp Fire Group Gets Detroit Aid

As a result of the public meeting held Monday, Apr. 7, in the grade school building where Miss Catherine Stearns of Detroit, spoke to the mothers of the Camp Fire girls, Northville is to become affiliated with the Detroit Council of Camp Fire jurisdiction to the extent of receiving camp privileges and other aids from the governing body.

Miss Stearns told the Northville group that it will be necessary for the organization of a committee of eight sponsors so that a court of awards may be held in the village. This committee will meet May 11 in the home of Mrs. Ernest Wood for a luncheon, at which time Miss Stearns will be present as will the Detroit president.

The Camp Fire girls are to be divided into two groups. Mrs. E. D. Hart will supervise the activities of the Bluebirds, made up of girls from 8 to 10 years of age. Girls over 10 years of age will be under the direction of Mrs. Donald Ware and Mrs. Russell M. Atchison. The three guardians are to be in attendance each Thursday for the next six weeks at a guardians' training school in Detroit. In the fall, a Camp Fire training school for parents will be held in the village.

DEER CAUSES DEATH

A New-Hudson youth, 19 years of age, one Riley D. Reeves, was fatally injured Saturday, Apr. 15, when his automobile overturned on M-61 in the northern part of Bay county. Miss Daisy Alterbert of Whitmore Lake, who was with Reeves at the time, sustained slight injuries. She said that Reeves swerved the car to miss a deer.

POST OFFICE SITE VOTED DOWN, 13 TO 1

Report of Poll Sponsored by Exchangites Will Be Sent to Washington

No Parking Space

By a margin of 13 to 1, readers of The Record turned thumbs down on the site designated for the new $75,000 Northville post office by the United States Treasury department.

The results of the voting will be forwarded to Federal authorities by the Exchange club sponsors of the poll. The luncheon group had previously voted 19 to 3 against location of the new building at Main and Center streets.

Only one person living outside the village cast a vote in the volunteer poll. The few who favor the "Four Corners" site did so because they thought the corner would look better occupied than vacant.

Opponents stressed the smallness of the site preferred now by the treasury department, the possibility of traffic congestion if the new building is located there, and the difficulty of harmonizing the structure with its surroundings in their reasons for voting against the location.

No plans for an organized protest to Washington are contemplated, according to Exchange club officers. The club will, however, submit its own vote and the results of The Record poll in as evidence of popular feeling here against the proposed site.

EXCHANGITES HOSTS TO FORMER MEMBERS

Movies of European Trip
Are Shown by Harris Carr

Honoring the wives and former members, Exchangites celebrated "Ladies Night" Wednesday with dinner at the Methodist church house, followed by a program of movies and music by the Ford Mountaineers.

Dr. E. B. Cavell and John Walker, accompanied by their wives, were the former members in attendance. Present as guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ely, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ray Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Baldwin, Philip Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Carr and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Butlin.

Music by the Ford Mountaineers was enthusiastically received. The sextet played, sang and performed popular and sentimental numbers. Most novel was their imitation of a Scotch bagpipe band. The group gave several dances upon demand.

Marshall To Speak Tuesday Evening at Rotary Club

S. L. A. Marshall of The Detroit News staff will be the guest speaker Tuesday evening, Apr. 25, when the Rotary club entertains. The occasion is to be Rotary Ann-night—and that always means a dinner affair in the Presbyterian church house.

Harry B. Clark is chairman of the program. He made a point to get Mr. Marshall to accept the invitation to speak here, as Mr. Marshall is known by a number of village folk. He's been out more than once to look over the Northville Wayne County Fair and Horse Show.

Ford Mountaineers Entertain Exchangites

When members of the Northville Exchange club entertained their wives at a dinner Wednesday evening in the Methodist church house, the Ford Mountaineers presented a program of novelty music.

J-HOP DRAWS 300 DANCERS FOR LAST FORMAL THIS YEAR

Junior Social Event Is Profitable, Staff Reports

(Courtesy Orange and Black Staff)

The annual J-Hop, which took place last Friday evening, was definitely a social success. The music of the Sophisticated Cats was enjoyed by no less than 171 couples. Their comments showed that both the dancers and the spectators were enthusiastic about both the orchestra and Rosemary "Tabby" Calvin, who was besieged all evening by autograph hounds.

Juniors were made happy by the fact that the dance was also a financial success. The profits netted by the class were approximately $80 which pays the reburns of similar parties for several years.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game . . .

Seated in the upper deck at Briggs Stadium at the open birthday party of baseball. It was in 1839 that Abner Doubleday, a Cooperstown, N. Y., student conceived the idea and laid out the first diamond. Under a set of rules compiled by Alex Cartwright, the Knickerbockers of New York City became the first functioning amateur club. In those days the first team to make 21 aces or runs won, but in 1857 the present rule of nine innings came. In 1849 came uniforms. The first professional club, the Cincinnati Red Stockings survived their first season, 1869, without defeat.

Professional leagues came with the American Association in 1871 and gave way in 1876 to the National League of today, but of the original charter members (Chicago, Boston, Mutuals of New York, Philadelphia Athletics, Hartford, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville) only Boston and Chicago remain. The American Association founded in 1882 merged into the National League in 1891 to make a 12-club league. Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington and Louisville dropped out in 1900, leaving the present membership.

"Ban" Johnson organized the American League in 1900, and following three years of hostilities a national agreement was signed in 1903 recognizing two major leagues, a national commission, and post season games. The first world series was won 5-3 by the Boston Americans over the Pittsburgh Nationals that fall. Thirty years later came the all-star games, with the personnel selected by a national poll. 1935 saw the first night baseball at Cincinnati.

So there, in brief, is the history of America's great national game, and baseball's future holds many happy and glorious hours of recreation for an appreciative and sport-loving American public.

Advertising makes goods cost more. Now don't let anyone tell you that, for advertising reduces costs. Advertising sells more goods, decreases cost of handling per unit, and brings a greater outflow of goods to divide up the costs. Think it over.

You fourth graders never guessed it — but here in the editorial column of The Record we are going to insert your names. Mrs. Rabbitt's fourth graders lead the Easter Seal Sale. Someday you will see what good your effort does for some crippled child. Congratulations to David Schoutz and runner up Bob Masters. The grade raised $11.63. Next summer we'll take Bob and David to a crippled children's camp so they can see how those little seals help many less fortunate children. It's a promise boys.

Michigan weather is like army life — the next thing is something else. April 11th and 12th, snow and low temperature equalled the 65-year record for those dates.

"Stagnant capital markets, little money for enterprise, because American investors are fearful." Thus state 3,000 investors in all sections of the country in a recent poll. Excessive taxation, ill advised legislation are blamed for existing fear and uncertainty. This poll confirms the demand for more taxes, and economy in government as a sound remedy for deficits and business lull. Any brand of liberalism that destroys confidence, jobs and opportunities, while leading the country into more and more debt, can do little more than cause fear and business stagnation.

"He who expresses gentle courtesy, with forbearance, and compassionate forgiveness shows forth the presence of God."

A surplus of 11,000,000 grapefruit this year — news item. Well, we call that an awful.

In Tibet when a man greets another it goes beyond shaking hands. A Tibetan bows, extends both hands palm open and sticks out his tongue. This means he is a friend — he has no knives in his hands and no evil words on his tongue. Maybe it would help us all if we could follow the Tibetan idea of disarming our tongues, without showing them.

But you didn't notice it or did you? The Record of last week and this week is printed on the newsprint chosen by an 8 to 10 vote of the Record subscribers. Notice any difference?

Did you know that Michigan has an "Uncle Dudley." Among the many expressions of confidence accorded Gov. Luren D. (for Dudley) Dickinson a neighbor thinks that Michigan really has a straight-shooting Governor who may affectionately soon be known as Michigan's "Uncle Dudley."

Jim Farley says, "America should have two strong political parties." We aim to please.

From the West Point Park column edited by Mrs. William Zwahlen, we find real food for thought — West Point Park residents, who because of physical handicap or industrial conditions, were forced to go on relief this last winter, are now suffering additional hardships because of a 35 per cent cut in their food budgets. These are cases where churches and charitable organizations could lend a hand.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

LANSING — Michigan's capital city is being enthralled by two sensational thrillers.

First — "The Mystery of Frank McKay."

Second — "The Enigma of State Building."

Attorney General Thomas Read has been given the responsibility of making the official inquiry into the McKay case.

In making this assignment, Governor Dickinson found himself in the position of asking a McKay employee to investigate a McKay case.

HIKING PRICES — The second mystery thriller was uncovered by And for General Vernon J. Brown. It concerns the question of state officers to investigate McKay.

bill and of precedent-breaking methods obtained suspension of rules for the particular measure, for the deadline for introduction of bills had passed.

Barnard's power in Wayne county as the acknowledged ruler of county conventions, will be sharply curtailed if Brakes' bill receives legislative sanction. The McKay fee exposure has greatly enhanced its chances. It also sharpens the cleavage that is developing in Republican ranks.

THE DEFICIT GROWS. While double-header mysteries are still making the headlines, Governor Dickinson and the administration are wrestling with a critical financial dilemma — a treasury deficit prospect of approximately $30,000,000 by June 30.

The higher prices for state purchases authorized by buyers after lower-price orders had been cancelled, were directly counter to the governor's economy program. Governor Dickinson's salary cutting statement was an indication of the extremity to which he is ready to go in order to restore sound fiscal government to Michigan.

The administration at Lansing is confronted with the prospect of imposing additional taxes. If the $23,000,000 deficit for the current fiscal year is to be reduced, the state administration must obtain more money.

State Treasurer Miller Dinkel believes that the sales tax should be increased from 3 to 4 cents.

Brown Opposes New Taxes. Auditor General Vernon J. Brown offers a seven-point program to solve the state's financial problems without creating another levy or increasing an existing tax.

1. Abolish payroll increases and save $1,000,000 a year.

2. Abolish most commissions, bureaus and boards created by 1937 legislature, thus saving $1,000,000 a year.

3. Revive formula for distribution of state aid to public school to equalize districts that raise no school taxes locally, and other districts which get more than they need, thus saving $13,000,000 a year.

4. School aid this year was $28,000,000.

5. Revise property tax law and tax intangible property at a special low rate.

6. Plug sales tax loopholes, thus collecting "several millions."

7. Adopt a sane and sensible welfare plan.

State-Owned Autos. An unwritten law has permitted state officials and employees to obtain and to use at public expense expensive cars for personal as well as business purposes. A check-up revealed there are 683 state-owned machines, of which 116 are 1939 models.

The late Governor Frank Fitzgerald always declined to use a state-owned automobile for official business.

Liquor Interests. Liquor interests are slowly recovering from a bad case of jitters.

The governor, president of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, has let it be known that it was his duty as governor to carry out the will of the people in the best of his ability.

In other words to permit sale of liquor under rigid control.

Control, however, may be tightened up to require midnight closing for roadhouses outside of municipalities, enforce the prohibition of sale of liquor to minors and perhaps to ban Sunday liquor sales.

Democrats' Policy. Democratic leaders at Lansing have adopted the republican policy which has prevailed at Washington.

Efficient Seeing

Devoted to Eye Welfare for Everyone

MINDING OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Life has become so complex and specialized today that no one can, as we used to say, "mind his own business." The chances are that YOU mind some one's business as YOUR way of fulfilling your life's duties.

If you are a wife and mother, you mind the household business for your family. If you are an accountant you mind the financial records for some one. If you run a grocery you mind the food supply for the folks in your neighborhood. So we are all minding some one else's business these days.

That part of your business that optometrist minds is your SEEING. It is a work you cannot possibly do for yourself. It goes far deeper than eyes or even eye-sight; it is a matter of your COMPREHENSION of what you see. If seeing is a "chore" for you, your comprehension is reduced. Slow seeing, seeing that tires easily, that makes mistakes — all of these are of vital concern in your business of living. Is it any wonder we take our optometric responsibility seriously?

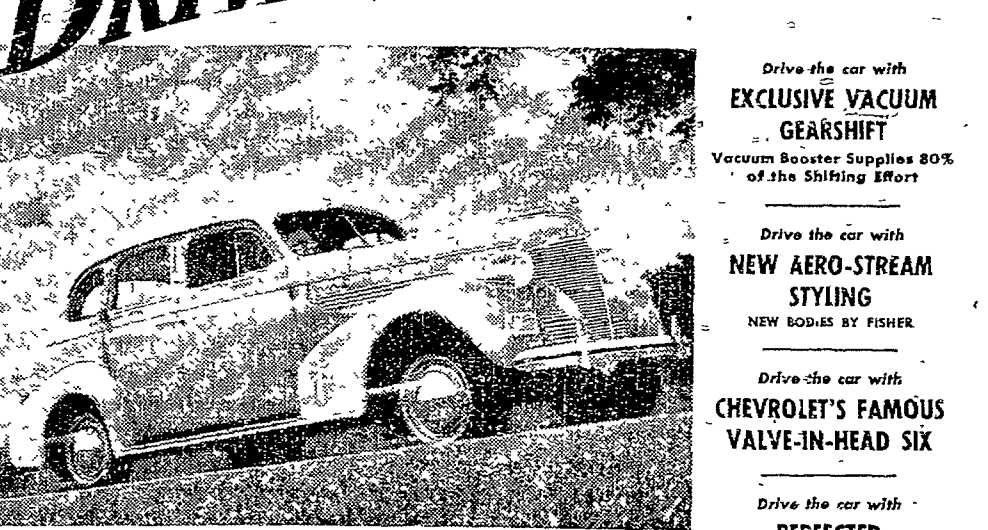

The business of seeing begins when a child is born and goes on (with more or less efficiency and success) to the day of our passing. Any handicap on your seeing capacity is a burden on your earning ability and on your enjoyment.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE VILLAGE OF NORTHVILLE

From March 1, 1938, to February 28, 1939

April 3, 1939.

The Honorable Commission of the Village of Northville, Northville, Michigan

We have made an examination of the balance sheet of the Village of Northville as at February 28, 1939 and of the statements of receipts and disbursements and of income for the year ended that date. In connection therewith, we examined or tested accounting records of the Village and other supporting evidence, obtained explanations from officials and employees, and made a general review of accounting methods and operating accounts, but we did not make a detailed audit of all transactions. The records for all funds except the Water Department fund have been kept on a modified cash receipts and disbursements basis. The receipts and other assets and the liabilities are recognized in the books, but revenues are recognized only upon receipt of cash. The records of the Water Department fund have been kept on an accrual basis.

We did not verify taxes and other receivables through correspondence with the persons involved. In our opinion, based upon our examination, the accompanying balance sheet and the statements of receipts and disbursements and of income fairly present, in accordance with accepted principles of accounting, consistent with those of the prior year, the financial position of the Village of Northville as at February 28, 1939 and the operating results for the year then ended.

Very truly yours,
BRIGGS & IORSMAN

Focal Points in Italo-French Crisis

Arrows indicate key Mediterranean and African territories where Italy is pressing concessions from France. In Tunisia, with almost as many Italian residents as French, Paris is willing to grant minority rights to the followers of Premier Mussolini. Italy also wants equal administration rights over the Suez canal, "lifeline" to her East African territory, and control over the railroad which runs from Djibouti, in French Somaliland, to Addis Ababa, in the heart of Italian East Africa. The island of Corsica, for which an unofficial Italian campaign has been started, will likely remain French territory.

Residents along US-20 received a surprise last week when Eskimo Island Abbott, 25, and Hector Despins, 23, of Alaska, passed through with their team of nine Hudson Bay huskies, on their way to the New York World's Fair. The sled which the huskies are pulling has been equipped with small rubber tired wheels to facilitate its use over the snowless roads. The long, arduous journey was started on the 23rd of January, and to date the men have covered 2800 miles. They expect to reach New York by the middle of April.

 "Probation after Death" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches in the world on Sunday, April 23.
 The Golden Text (Psalm 23:4) is: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."
 Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 8:5-9): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

Beckwith-Brown; Nelson-Heltenan Nuptial Rites Are Held Saturday in Ann Arbor and Salem Homes

Beckwith-Brown.
A quiet ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edwin B. Brown, 1016 Forest avenue, Ann Arbor, in the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie D. Beckwith, to Mr. D. M. Beckwith, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Beckwith of Howell.

The Rev. Homer Mitchell Noble, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Howell, read the double ring service before the members of the families and a few close friends. The wedding was very simple and informal because of the recent death of the bride's father.

The couple stood before the living room fireplace above which was an arrangement of white snapdragons and carnations with white tapers in candelabra. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Harry De Vries of Washtenaw avenue, Ann Arbor.

The bride wore a powder blue crepe frock with navy accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink roses and sweet peas. Mrs. De Vries, who was Miss Mary Ott of Ann Arbor, a college classmate of the bride, chose a duchesse gown with chartreuse green accents and her flowers were white carnations.

Mrs. Brown wore for her daughter's wedding a black ensemble with white accents. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

After the brief ceremony, Mrs. Anna Clinger, Smith of Forest avenue, Ann Arbor, presided at the coffee table, which was centered with jonquils and freesias.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith will live with the bride's mother until September when they will go to the new home which they will have completed at 203 Isbell street, Howell.

Mr. Beckwith is a graduate of the Howell high school and is in the United States postal service at Howell. Mrs. Beckwith was graduated from the Northville high school and the University of Michigan. Before going to Peoria, Ill. two years ago to become assistant librarian in the Bradley College library, she was a member of the University of Michigan library staff.

Nelson-Heltenan.
Miss Evelyn Heltenan of Houghton, became the bride of Millard Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Nelson of Salem, in a ceremony read at eight o'clock Saturday in the bridegroom's parents' home.

The vows were pledged before the Rev. Lucia Stroh of the Salem Congregational church, before an unadorned altar of palms, large baskets of flowers and ferns set in the living room bay window.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Reva Richards of South Lyon, a cousin of the bridegroom, sang "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Jane Bradley, also of South Lyon. Miss Bradley also played the wedding march.

Six small children, holding streamers of satin ribbons formed the aisle leading from the open stairway to the altar. The children were nephews and cousins of the bride and bridegroom: David and Everett Long of Lansing, Charles and Robert Freydl of Northville, Barbara and Virginia Drake of Detroit.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white silk marquisette over white satin, fashioned along princess lines.

The full skirt was accented with bouquets of lilacs of the valley, tied with lovers' knots of white ribbon. She carried a large bouquet of white roses.

She chose a brown tailored suit with chartreuse accessories for traveling.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Heltenan, a senior at the University of Michigan. She wore a gown of blue lace over blue satin. Her bouquet was of tea roses.

Thomas Estep of St. Louis, Mo., a Chicago lawyer, was Mr. Nelson's best man.

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of the Houghton high school with the Class of 1934 and since that time has been employed in Ann Arbor. Mr. Nelson is a graduate of the Plymouth high school of the Class of 1932.

In 1930 he entered the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, and was graduated in 1934. He is now employed by General Motors in the new plant.

Mrs. Nelson chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of navy lace over navy tulle. Her corsage was of white roses and lavender sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served in the dining room where blue was the predominant color in the table appointments. Mrs. Long of Lansing and Mr. McCullough of Detroit, guests of the bride, presided at the coffee table of the table, which was centered with a large wedding cake, served to 70 guests by Mrs. Charles and of Northville, sister of the bride. The bride's party was led at a table placed before the altar. A bouquet of sweet peas, tied with cord, centered this table.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are on a 17-day motor trip through the Southern States. Upon their return they will make their home in Northville.

Childhood Diseases
To Be Discussed.

The old belief that every child must have at some time each of the so-called "childhood diseases," and the sooner the better, has been discarded in the light of present day scientific knowledge, declares Dr. George Mills of the Michigan Department of Health.

Dr. Mills will lecture before the women's classes at 3:30 p. m. next Tuesday, Apr. 25, in the Northville grade school on the topic "Preventing Communicable Diseases."

Many of these diseases are recognized as preventable today if measures are taken to reduce the child's contact with disease carriers. These measures will be explained by Dr. Mills who will also describe how communicable diseases, including tuberculosis, are spread and the value to the community of quarantine and isolation. How immunity may be obtained, and the importance of vaccination and immunization in the early years of childhood. The Michigan Tuberculosis Association will show a sound picture on tuberculosis.

Whether bird houses look like hats, or hats look like bird houses is a debatable question. The spring bird house bonnet demonstrated by Dorothy Coggins is made of clothesline and glue. It was one of many entries in a Detroit, Mich., bird house contest.

Foreign Affairs
Forms Basis of New Library Volumes

Among the books placed on the shelves of the Northville Library for serious reading, include:

"Nazis Germany: Its Women and Family Life" by Clifford Kirkpatrick. This treatise is not, and it was hardly intended to be a definite survey of the topic. It expounds the views and findings of a liberal American sociologist, and is written in a spirit of devotion to the scientific mind. — New York Herald Tribune.

"Why Hitler Came Into Power" by Theodore Abel. "A study of the background of the Nazi movement based on original life stories of six hundred of Hitler's followers. The author does not take sides. He strives always to be objective. And his effort does much to clarify the essentials of a movement on whose origins and course there is still much confusion." — New York Times.

"When Capital Goes on Strike" by Arthur Dahlberg. There is little question that the adoption of Mr. Dahlberg's scheme would drive the money holders to a good position, but it would not necessarily compel the investment of savings in new real capital. — Nation.

"200,000 Feet: The Edge of the World" by Michael Powell. The island of Foula, off the western end of the Shetlands is a windswept stretch of rock on which a handful of small farmers and fishermen live. The author conceived the idea of a motion picture featuring the life of the island, with a love story added to give the picture a commercial interest. His account of the preparations for filming the picture, the five months spent on the island, and the difficulties encountered, form the material of this book. — Book Review Digest.

"Medicine in Modern Society" by David Riesman. "In recent times there have been many attempts to interpret the medical profession to the lay public. Few of the interpreters, however, have had Dr. Riesman's qualifications for the task and none have accomplished it more admirably. Dr. Riesman belongs to that group of teaching physicians who might have won equal distinction in either the scientific or the artistic fields." — Saturday Review of Literature.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Angell and daughter, Beverly Ann of Plymouth, were dinner guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. George Beasley.

"200,000 Feet: The Edge of the World" by Michael Powell. The island of Foula, off the western end of the Shetlands is a windswept stretch of rock on which a handful of small farmers and fishermen live. The author conceived the idea of a motion picture featuring the life of the island, with a love story added to give the picture a commercial interest. His account of the preparations for filming the picture, the five months spent on the island, and the difficulties encountered, form the material of this book. — Book Review Digest.

Forty-Two Seniors GO TO WASHINGTON

Annual Class Trip Will Begin Apr. 24; To Return Apr. 28

Forty-two members of Northville's senior class plan to be on board when the train pulls away from the local railroad station Monday afternoon enroute to Washington, D. C. Leaving Northville at 3:18 Monday afternoon, the students arrive in Washington the next morning after having changed trains in Detroit. From the train they are transferred to sight-seeing cars which take them on the first portion of their tour of Washington and surrounding country. Before Thursday night, when the trip home begins, they will have had the opportunity to see the White House, Supreme Court, Congress, Mount Vernon, Annapolis, Avenue of the Presidents, Library of Congress, Washington Monument, homes of famous men, the New Museum and the Old Museum, as well as many other interesting and educational spots.

BREVITIES

Nathaniel Hawthorne's widowed mother shut herself completely from normal contacts for 40 years, refusing to take her meals even with her children.

Rev. Joseph Moody, a New England clergyman, wore a veil throughout his long life as a symbol of sorrow at having accidentally killed a beloved friend.

Bret Hart was offered $10,000 a year as contributing editor of "The Atlantic Monthly" for whatever he might condense to write for the magazine.

Ralph Waldo Emerson who was pastor of the famous Old North Church of Boston where the signal lanterns were hung for Paul Revere, resigned because he could not agree with the doctrines of the church.

Mark Twain wrote on one of his wife's letters: "Opened by mistake to see what was inside."

Henry David Thoreau's aunt asked him before he died if he had made his peace with God to which he replied, "I didn't know we had ever quarreled."

Editor's Note...

Remember last year what fun we had in the tennis and horseshoe tournaments the school sponsored? They didn't turn out so very well because the students lost interest and didn't finish up their matches. It could be a lot more fun and more benefit to all if we had a contest of the same kind among the student body and the faculty could possibly spare a little more time to give to the matches. Let's try and have a real tournament this year and really make it worth something! Do you want to try?

Did you all know that there is a very strong possibility that if the student body doesn't hurry and show some signs of wanting to have a tournament that we will just have to drop the whole thing? The seniors, who should be most interested, aren't buying as fast as the lower classes. The staff reports that they have contacted nearly every student in the high school and so far the grand total of about fifty people have remembered to bring their down payment of 25 cents. If there is not an increased improvement in the sales records within a few days the whole book will be dropped. From now on it's up to you. No sales! No books! Which do you prefer?

It Seems To Us

In case a young man is asked by a young lady to come to her home for dinner it is wise after some consideration to answer yes or no, and to ask whether she is cooking it or not.

It is considered good etiquette to tip the waitress 10 per cent of your bill at a restaurant even though you bring your own sandwiches and order only coffee and pie.

It is never considered good form to borrow personal belongings, even though your own are at the pawn shop.

You may like the pattern on your soap bowl but just the same don't tip it up to get the last drop. (We've heard that student in N. H. S. has this habit.)

If you must drink your coffee while the spoon is in the cup, guard your eyesight with re-enforced aviation goggles.

CAVELL AND THIEME WIN SPEECH CONTEST

The sub-district speech contest was held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, Apr. 11, at the Roseville high school.

Some of the schools entered in this sub-district meet were: Northville, Romeo, Roseville and Walled Lake Cranbrook high school of Bloomfield Hills, although a member of this district, had no entries in the contest.

There were three types of speeches given: Declarations, extempore and orations. They followed in this order: Declarations, Marion Trichas, "Acres of Diamonds"; Warren Johns, "Labels"; Alan Frankel, "Toussaint L'Ouverstis"; Marilyn Caved, "To the Boys and Girls of Michigan"; Extempore, Julian Thieme, "The United States and the Armament Race"; Orations, Mary Pappa, "The Next Menace"; Robert Dobbs, "A Plea for World Peace"; Herschel Levine, "The Race to War."

Winners in the contest in declarations were Marilyn Cavell, of Northville, and Julian Thieme, also of N. H. S., won the extempore contest. Herschel Levine of Romeo finished first in the oratory contest. Judging the sub-district contest were Miss Estelle Griffiths of Northville, Miss Watson of Walled Lake, Miss Rowley of Romeo, and Mr. Harold Wilson, principal of the Roseville high school.

The district speech contest is to be held on May 5 at the Melvindale high school. This district contest promises to be very interesting as well as exciting, so why not go to see and hear it. The winners of the sub-district contest will be participating at the Melvindale contest.

SALEM AID TO MEET

A regular meeting of the Salem Federated Ladies Aid will be held Thursday, Apr. 27 in the church, where dinner will be served at noon. The members are asked to bring their thimbles so that work can be done on the quilt.

Some of your fellows who have had the same girl all year ought to do a little spring cleaning and get rid of them. So some of us undergrads can have a change—King Bishop, Prince Chappell and Duke Avey.

blue was chiffon and lace. Jean Or's took her place in the Grand March in the cutest little white taffeta formal you ever saw.

Cottons Make Appearance

The seniors thought it was really Spring, at least Louise Alexander, Helen Harper, Dorothy Heaton and Jane Van Afta did from the looks of their cottons.

They had competition, though, from Mrs. Frank Hawkins who also wore a cotton print of the definite super variety. Machine Perkins, Helen Bramer and Lucile Price wore blue and marquisette and were simply too too much. "Toots" Angove also wore a pink net with ruffles galore and looked sweet enough to eat. There were too many more to describe but Jeanne Aichison deserves a rave notice for her darling aqua number. Janet Stewart also chose aqua and looked very special.

The fellows can't have any fashion notices because they always wear just plain suits and "wags" new about a suit? Unless of course it's a new suit!
