

RURAL-URBAN ROTARY FETE HELD TUESDAY

S. L. A. Marshall Is Guest Speaker; Tells of Mexico's Customs and Problems of the Country

Baldwin Is Honored

Sponsored by Harry Clark, the rural-urban dinner of the Northville Rotary club held Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church house, was a most delightful and interesting event. An excellent dinner, a splendid and informative talk by S. L. A. Marshall, special writer of The Detroit News, and the high caliber of the guest personnel all contributed to a pleasant evening.

Following the dinner served by the women of the church and music by the orchestra, E. M. Bogart, president of the club, called for the introduction of the guests and requested Mr. Clark, as sponsor of the program, to introduce Mr. Marshall. After recalling local associations of his former residence here, Mr. Marshall spoke on times and conditions and then told most interestingly of his experiences in Mexico, and conditions in that country since the revolution.

Mr. Marshall felt that on the hills and plains of the U. S. A. was found the strength sufficient unto the trials and emergencies of the times. There are millions of people who, in spite of the contrary, who feel that America is the mother of their opportunities, and for The Detroit News whom they would gladly respond in peace or war to the call to duty.

States Problems
Mexico, thought Mr. Marshall, presents many problems in education.

Honor Comes to Journalism Class

Members of the journalism class of the Northville high school, who publish the Orange and Black page, under the instruction of Mrs. F. W. Hawkins, have been given high rating by the University of Minnesota.

Appearing in the group picture are: Top row—Julian Thome, Ken Chappell; second row—Eugenia Stanford, Mary Geraghty, Betty

Other class members not in the picture include: Charles Bishop, John Modos Lucille Price, Homer Eickholdt, Wanda Bender and Tom Martyn.

Mrs. F. W. Hawkins' Journalism Publication Gets High Rating

Rated at being awarded an honor rating of second class by the National Scholastic Press Association, the journalism class, taught by Mrs. F. W. Hawkins, has been scanning its recently received score book to find ways of improving the school publication. The Orange and Black, for the next year.

It is the policy of the N. S. P. A. with headquarters at the University of Minnesota, to conduct an annual contest to which papers published weekly, bi-weekly and monthly from high schools having an enrollment of from 200 to 2,500 pupils are submitted. To the contest are sent papers from schools having their own profit shop, those published with city papers such as The Orange and Black, and mimeographed copies.

Judges Give Rating
The judges in this competition are professors of journalism from the University of Wisconsin and the University of Wisconsin, together with several persons having practical newspaper experience who judge the papers on makeup, typography, news coverage, and news writing.

It was from this group of judges that The Orange and Black received a second class honor rating which is the equivalent of "good."

Assist Students
The National Scholastic Press Association was organized in 1915 by Fred L. Kidlow of the Department of Journalism of the University of Wisconsin for the purpose of assisting high school and college papers to develop publications according to the highest possible standards.

Northville's school paper, The Orange and Black, became affiliated with this organization last fall and has made every effort to develop the page according to the standards set up by the N. S. P. A.

Selby, hero of many fistie wars at the turn of the century, featured an action-filled boxing card at the high school Monday night, under the sponsorship of Northville Scouting and athletic groups. "No Holding"
"There must be no holding and hitting here, because when you hold with even one hand, the other fellow has two hands left to hit you with, and you'd be a 'chump to try to hold,'" McCoy told each of seven.

C. A. BERKEY LAUDS EXCHANGE ACTIVITIES ON ANNIVERSARY

Four Chapter Members Are Active in Local Organization

Urging exchanges to assert themselves in the interests of democracy and freedom, and a preservation of the fundamental principles of the nation, Chester A. Berkey, founder and past president of National Exchange Clubs of America, spoke at the sixteenth anniversary party of the Northville Exchange club Wednesday noon at the Methodist church house. C. A. Berkey, secretary of the local club, was honored by the national organization for faithful service and work for the club and the community in the presentation of a beautiful label pin by Mr. Berkey.

Reads History
C. A. Berkey was called upon by Pres. H. J. Lord to read a brief historical sketch of the club from the date of its founding. Only four of the 25 charter members are now active in the club. They are Mr. Dolph, Elmer L. Smith, L. C. Stewart and C. R. Ely, who attended the charter night April 18, 1923. Letters were read from National Exchange congratulating the club on its work, and its stabilizing and enlarging influence in Northville. A communication from Robert P. Brown, founder of the local office, was read, in which he regretted that ill health prevented his presence on the birthday of the club. Mr. Brown was the first president of the club, Mr. Dolph, secretary and L. B. Babbitt treasurer. Since then the club has had 107 members, now has 27, and is growing rapidly.

Service Is Noted
Mr. Berkey, in his brief talk, recounted the influence of the Exchange since its founding in 1917, the second service club in the nation, and emphasized the motto of the order, "Duty for Service," as being nothing essentially new, but a rediscovery of the age-old principle in modern life. He urged the members to be a force, as we and efficient for the most uplift and ideal of this nation, and not to let the organized minority take control as has happened in Russia and Germany. "Exchange needs action as well as education," he urged the local members to take the lead in national and community movements. Mr. Berkey's talk was roundly applauded, filled with good sound wisdom, and ringing with a challenge to Exchange members to enlist for active service for their community and nation.

Guests present were David J. Martin of Detroit, George E. Stucky and Ira E. Turman.

Northville, Michigan, Friday, April 28, 1939

What we don't know doesn't hurt us much, but we know it amuses a lot of people.

We are told that "more men can stand adversity than prosperity." Gosh, yes, and why not? Haven't we had more experience. But wouldn't mind a shoot at the prosperity stuff just to prove the rule.

In the passing of Dr. Horace Mellus of Brighton, we recall how a number of years ago when the good doctor was near death with pneumonia, that the village suspended all business, flocked to the churches to pray for his recovery. It is given to few men of any profession or occupation to merit such a devotion in his home town community.

● Clean Up Time in Northville

April showers, plenty, and May flowers will soon be here. That means spring clean-up time. Spring cleaning shouldn't mean just shaking out the rugs, washing the curtains, and dusting that little-used spare bedroom. It should mean a definite, planned program for putting property in apple-pie order, not only to improve its value and appearance, but to help prevent that dread destroyer that strikes when we least expect it—fire.

Trash-filled outbuildings are perfect incubators for fire from a carelessly dropped match or cigarette. Check over fireplaces and chimneys — from now on, such incidental heating units will be used more and central systems less. As warm, sunny days come, be especially careful to keep grass cut fields clear of debris. Never burn brush when there is a wind and have water handy in case matters get beyond control.

Above all, go through the house from cellar to attic on an inclusive "junk-disposing" program. Those old newspapers and magazines you've put carefully away and will never look at again — that broken furniture that belongs to the worst period of design — those odds and ends of "gay quantities" clothing — that tangle of worthless, inflammable knickknacks in the hall-closets: Get rid of them all. Give them to a charitable organization or the junk man. And you'll materially reduce the chance of a fire hitting your home.

A number of progressive communities carry on general spring clean-ups each year as a civic function. Parkways are tended and beautified, fences repaired, and old fire-traps are torn down. Fire departments and other municipal bureaus cooperate and direct the drives. The result is a more attractive and safer town — and a town whose residents may feel proud of it. Every community which doesn't do that now should think it over — and start the idea going around. It pays dividends in dollars as well as less tangible values.

If one life shines, the next one will catch the light—Browning

We wonder and worry and worry and wonder about Europe, War, and Recovery. In Washington the whole force of the government has been switched from reform, to the serious business of preparing the machinery of the nation to absorb the shock if war comes to Europe. Marine shipping rates are upped, no insurance is available to shipmen to Germany or Italy; gold keeps pouring into the U. S. A. and Time Marches On. War will come within six months or not for several years, think many observers.

Someone has defined civilization as an arrangement that pays the man who delivers milk four times as much as the farmer who produces it.

● Child Health Day

Monday, May 1 has been proclaimed as Child Health Day in Michigan and throughout the Nation by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. School and health organizations in Michigan are observing the day.

The President urges each community to consider better methods of promoting health among children and insuring proper care for the health of all children. Observing the gains in health during the passed year the President asks everyone to consider how best they may promote their own health and the health of the nation.

"The health of the child is the power of the nation" is the slogan for the day. Wisely used, May Day, so often associated with destructive influences, should be an effective instrument in calling the attention of the community to what is being done, and what may be done for the health and well being of its children. May Day, Child Health Day provides an opportunity to unite the forces of Northville under the banner of its greatest common interest — its children.

Hate is our modern American tragedy. We hate the Jew, we hate the German, we hate capital, we hate labor, we hate the Old Guard, we hate the New Deal, we hate the old men, and we hate the economic royalists. We seem to be baptized with prussic acid rather than the love of God. The above uttered by a New York pastor was offered by a friend as food for our thought in this column.

Will you hang a May Basket this year? Who will wind the May Pole?

A Northvillite thinks this town is just right; not too much industry; not too much keeping up with the Jones; that's more he hopes it keeps that way. He thinks a lot of folks would like to move to Northville if they could.

Through the courtesy of the Walled Lake school we have a copy of the "Student Chatter." The publication of, by and for the students of the school, is a credit to the journalistic efforts of the pupils. Jacqueline Goodrick is the editor-in-chief. The publication shows that the group from editor to faculty advisors is really on their toes.

present month often prefaces a too-warm May, which offsets any advantage of early rains. Nature should let us prepare our ground and do our planting before she gives us much rain," said Henry, who still agrees that we'll probably have to take our weather pretty much as we get it.

Today's mildness brought to the fore, generally, the youngsters and the oldsters alike, together with the townsmen and the farmers, all intent on ground work. Neighbor Carnes felt to early in the morning with a broom rake, and by 9:30 a. m. had been heard to make the comment, "it's hard work to work hard." Ma Hutton, too, became so absorbed in cleaning out flower beds that two hours slipped by before she called her catness from a long, comfortable snooze. Irene Koon, aged and Mrs. Ed Borge of 13 Mile road, were hard at it, as we went by, while the neighbor Tullies across the way were out, full force and had bonfires started by nightfall.

Just about everybody, I guess, is glad spring is finally here. Although "Blinker" Smith, just north of town, said he was keeping his snuggles on awhile yet. "I've seen 'er snow hell-ben for election the second week in May," he commented sagely.

Our high school band of 45 members, competing against 16 other schools in the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association, will be held at Ann Arbor, Apr. 29. The Walled Lake band finished second in a similar competition a year ago, with a score of 35 members.

Local entrants in the instrumental solo contest to take place Apr. 28 will be: Linda Reimer, Barbara Thayer, Evelyn Scott, John Henry Booth and Monroe Riley. Three of the local bandsmen were recently honored with positions in the All-State band which played during the North Central Music Conference, held in Detroit last month. Each received awards at that time.

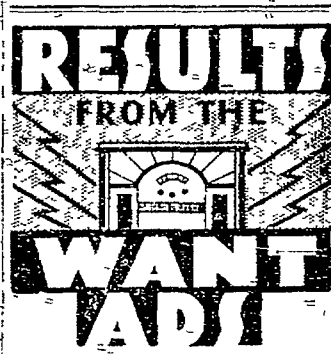

The first course in adult education to be offered by the Walled Lake school has been completed after a period of 15 weeks, during which time the subject of study dealt with farm management. The instructor for the term was Waldo A. Proctor, teacher of agriculture at the school facility. Class members receiving certificates are Carrie Andrews, Kenneth Bassett, Clair Sutton, Donald Dickie, Ira Pfeiffer, Harry George, Donald Gerds, Herman Gerds, Lester Gerds, Roger Green, Francis Keelby, William Knapp, Cecil LaFond, Leon Marsh, Brent Munro, James Munro, Joe Porter, Wencel Powers and Herman Rubinius. A similar course may be presented next year.

The Walled Lake fire department was called to extinguish a fire at Carroll Lake, Sunday afternoon. Figure that one out with all the rain we had.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wixom are moving this week to Ferndale. They have been highly regarded residents here for at least ten years and their many friends will deeply regret their leaving. Mr. Wixom holds a managerial position with a Detroit drug concern.

The opening dance at the Walled Lake Casino enjoyed an attendance of about 500 couples, Friday night, including male and female. The Casino will be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights for the next few weeks.

It seemed good to see a goodly number of cars parked about the churches, Sunday morning. Attendance seems definitely on the upswing, and should, in these critical times around the world.

Efficient Seeing

Devoted to Eye Welfare for Everyone

HOW TO LEAD A DULL LIFE

NEGLECT your eyesight. First you gradually stop reading, for it is too hard to follow the lines — they all seem to run together. After all, isn't one picture worth a thousand words? If anyone tells you to wear glasses just laugh at them — those wrinkles around your eyes and above your nose are a lot more decorative than a smart, useless mounting; and that squinting you do, — trying to see things may give lots of people the impression that you are pretty sure, but those who know you well, will remember your good heart.

You won't be able to see more than 50 per cent of what you look at, but who cares about that? All this talk about scenery, looking at mountains and down valleys, and at the rocks along the rivers and the ocean is just the bunk.

As time goes on, the movies will tire you more and more — the radio is good enough; who wants to see actors? And, if you fail to recognize people on the street, maybe it is better that way. You won't be bothered with so many friends. That job you once worked so hard to get, turned out to be a fake — it was all figures and it was so easy to make mistakes. Anyway, figures give you a headache. What do you care if that red-head got the job after all?

All this talk about eyesight! You see as much as you want to don't you? The picture magazines are pretty good and you can still read the comics in the paper. How do you know anybody else can see any better than you do?

Electric cooking costs HALF AS MUCH as you think!

The Dutch Susan electric cooker will prepare a whole meal at one time—two vegetables, a roast, potatoes and gravy—at a cost of about 2 cents. Women say: "As an economical way of cooking, it is unequalled." "I have no other oven so I use the cooker for everything. My only regret is that I didn't get it sooner." "Not only saves the natural flavor of foods, but also your 'sweet disposition' in hot weather. I'd hate to do without it!" "I like the small amount it costs to operate." Over two million electric cookers are now in use in the United States. See them on display at your electrical or hardware dealer, department stores, or any Detroit Edison office. Priced $9.50 up. RAIN, snow or wind mean little to the woman who has a telephone in the house... for she can do her shopping and "run" many other errands without exposing herself to the danger of icy streets or soaking rain.

The telephone does more than save her trouble. It saves her time too. It shortens her working day, adds to her leisure.
And it's just as useful in social affairs. Chats with friends... bridge games or parties gotten up on a moment's notice... your telephone not only enables you to arrange them, but to be included in them.

Day and night... at little cost... the telephone gives you a combined protection, convenience and pleasure that nothing else can provide.

GRASSELLI Spray Products

• Proper spraying practice with quality materials will result in less crop losses and higher yields. Start right with Gras-selli Spray Products—preferred by growers for over a quarter century.

PRE-PINK

GRASSELLI Lime Sulfur Solution plus NaREXFORM Lead
Arsenate will control Scab, Curculio and Bud Moth. If Aphids have not been controlled at this time the addition of Black Leaf
"40" is recommended.

PINK APPLICATION AND PETAL FALL

GRASSELLI Lime Sulfur Solution plus NaREXFORM Lead
Arsenate should be used for the control of Apple Scab, Cur-culio, and other chewing insects. In the petal fall application most growers prefer to use a milder fungicide for Scab control.
Kopper's Flotation Sulfur Paste or SULFORON can be substituted for Liquid Lime Sulfur, as both of these finely divided products have given excellent Scab control under severe conditions in the past.

Eichen-Elkington Nuptial Rites Are Read Saturday Evening

Miss Mary Elizabeth Eichen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Eichen of Detroit, became the bride of Kenneth Eichen, son of Mrs. Gertrude B. Eichen of Northville, in a home ceremony read at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, April 22, in the home of the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Thompson of 519 Fairbrook avenue.

The Rev. William Richards, pastor of the Belleville Methodist church, read the marriage ritual in the Thompson living room, where large baskets of flowers made an improvised altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white georgette gown and carried a bouquet of calla lilies and carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Juanita Eichen. Wedding music was played by Miss Hazel Pierce of Dearborn.

Jack Stubenvolt was Mr. Eichen's best man. A floral print crepe dress was worn by Mrs. Eichen at her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Eichen was dressed in black lace. Both wore gardenia corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception for some 50 guests was held at the Thompson home, where Mrs. Philip C. Eichen of Detroit, Mrs. Elmer Parmenter of Bad Axe and Mrs. Francis Pierce of Dearborn assisted at the table.

A brief wedding trip was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Eichen. Mrs. Eichen wore a blue travel ensemble. Mr. and Mrs. Eichen are making their home for the present at 519 Fairbrook avenue. Mr. Eichen is employed by the Ford Motor company and Mrs. Eichen is a nurse in Dr. R. M. Atchison's office. Both are graduates of the Northville high school and Mrs. Eichen was graduated from the Mercy College of Nursing in 1938.

Mrs. Ambler, Mrs. Stark and Mrs. Eichen were Wednesday hostesses.

Wednesday was another page in the history of the Merry-Go-Round club when 16 of its members and two guests were entertained in the home of Mrs. Clyde Schoutz where Mrs. William Ambler and Mrs. B. C. Stark entertained.

The home and tables were bright with beautiful spring flowers and music with the young (?) girls' happy faces made a picture long to be remembered.

We were glad to have one of our members Mrs. J. D. Dean, with us again after her long sojourn in the sunny southland and now when Mrs. Charles Rogers returns and but one sick member Mrs. S. G. Power, is well we will be one happy family again.

Our guests were Mrs. F. Beal and Mrs. E. Wall from Detroit, and we hope to have them come again.

Mrs. L. A. Babbitt and Mrs. Dean will be hostesses to the group in May.

Supprise Birthday Party Honors Virginia Price

Miss Virginia Price was feted Saturday evening, April 22, when a group of friends surprised her at her home, 104 Dublin street. The occasion was her birthday anniversary.

The guests were: Jeanne Atchison and Keith Avey, Betty Knowles and Edward Bloom, Jean and Chuck Sheppard, Bob Bry and Dorothy Emery, Lucile Price and Lawrence Parmenter, Shirley Price and Bob Parmenter, and Ray Parmenter.

CANCER

A member of the village committee, Mrs. Beard reported today that she had some 15 memberships and hoped to bring the number up to 25 before the end of the campaign. "Practically all of the persons who joined last year, renewed their memberships this year," she said.

Some 80 villagers gathered Monday evening in the homes of Mrs. C. W. Truett, Jr. and Mrs. Maxwell S. Austin where benefit-bridge parties were held in connection with the cancer cause. The two hostesses reported that over $20 was raised in this manner.

A. E. has been a consistent friend of many minority groups, but would be willing to change its present policies only when the community at large has worked out its problem.

THE ORANGE AND BLACK

Edited by the Journalism Class of Northville High School

HUMORIST ENJOYED BY STUDENT BODY

Last Tuesday the students of the junior and senior assemblies enjoyed a program given by Clarence Burdette, a humorist, make-up artist and actor from Battle Creek.

Mr. Burdette put on this program without assistance and, though a great many laughs from his audience. During his performance he portrayed sketches of several different types of people. The first sketch was of an old woman running on a train. The second was of an old man trying to wake his children in the morning. Mr. Burdette made up for this skit, explaining as he did so, the art of make up. The third and last of his skits was of a young farmer boy who had won an amateur contest by giving imitations and was to repeat his performance in school.

Mr. Burdette, whose residence is in Battle Creek, has been doing this type of work for 33 years. Among his travels he entertains at various charitable institutions, schools and theatres. He took it up when very young because he had always had a natural talent for that type of work and believed he could become successful at it.

His definition of a smile was "A smile is a frown turned upside down." Before he left, he gave his motto which is as follows: "Service to our fellow men is the rent we pay for the space we occupy on this earth."

PEGGY BLAKE'S PLAY WINS GOLD CUP

A play-writing contest conducted recently in Clearwater, Fla., was won by Miss Peggy Blake, an alumnae of Northville high school.

The prize was a gold cup, which was presented by the Little Theater of Clearwater. Miss Blake has been in Florida for the past winter where she has been writing plays for hotel production and the Little Theater group, acting and directing.

She is now in New York selecting plays for this summer's work in Suffield, Conn. Aside from acting and writing this summer, Miss Blake will be directing students in the theatrical colony.

Movie Review

By MARY POTTER

Alexander Graham Bell

The telephone which was considered to be a toy when it was first invented was serious business with Alexander Graham Bell who worked years to perfect it. After years of study and experiments he gave up his teaching to deaf-mutes in order to devote his whole time to research. This meant going hungry and living in a cheap basement work shop in order to buy materials with which to carry on his experiments. Although Mr. Bell had friends who were willing to back him financially as well as morally the general public would not accept his idea. One of these friends was Mabel Hubbard whom he later married. When he finally did convince the people that his invention was sound there was a battle over patent rights. Other men had been working on this same experiment, one even filed a patent the same day, but Bell was finally given the rights.

The picture, the story of Alexander Graham Bell, produced by 20th Century-Fox, Darryl F. Zanuck, directed by Irving Cummings, screen play by Lamar Trotti from an original story by Ray Harris, the picture should have been a success. However, Lorena Young, who plays the part of Mabel Hubbard, seems to be more outstanding than the telephone in the film. The story would have been more interesting if the telephone had been the main point of interest. Don Ameche, who plays the part of the hero is good, Henry Fonda as Watson is better, and Charles Coburn, as the crochety old gentleman, Gardner Hubbard, father of the bride is simply grand.

Editor's Note...

We overheard some students saying the other day that now that the seniors have gone to Washington just about everything is over with for this year. That is a very wrong idea, friends. Just lend an ear to some of the activities that the staff is to be.

In the first place the Girls' N. H. S. is sponsoring a formal dance in the high-school gym May 19. This will be the last of the big dances, but you'll at least have one more thing before this school year ends. Then the "Mikado" is still to be presented for your entertainment. By the way, the date has been changed for this production. It is now going to take place June 1 and 2.

Don't any of you think that will be an unimportant event. Maybe you don't think so, but baseball and track are usually considered quite important by most of the student body. These two interesting sports have just started in fact, the first baseball game was played yesterday. Last, but definitely not least, the Palladium is a topic of interest to all members of N. H. S. to whom their school means anything at all. It takes money and time to produce a worthwhile yearbook. If all of you would do just a little toward helping on this project you might find life a little more varied and interesting.

Queen Victoria Reigns over "Romans" at Annual Feast

Forty-one Latin students were present at the annual Roman banquet last Thursday. This affair was held in honor of the birthday of Rome which was April 21, and Roman costumes were worn.

The gym was arranged with four tables and couches, and decorated with columns and hollyhocks. Also there was a statue supplied by Walter Burdette, which he thought to be Venus, but it seemed to most of those present to bear a closer resemblance to Queen Victoria. Before dinner was served every one gathered together and around the altar while Edward Edwin, chief priest, took the auspices, the invocation was sung, and then everyone marched to his place.

At the beginning of the meal, finger bowls were passed. Then came the appetizer which consisted of eggs and lettuce, olives and radishes. The finger bowls were passed again and the servants put a large round loaf of black bread on each table. One person at the table broke the bread and there was honey and strawberry jam. After the finger bowls were passed once more, the main course of roast pork, roast beef and peas was served. The finger bowls (they ate with their fingers) and the servants were the next items and the feast was over.

After the "Romans" had finished their dinner the wine (grape juice) was brought in. Robert McCluskie rolled the dice to see how much water was to be added, and found it to be one-third. Then the servants poured perfume on everyone's head to make sure that no one would become incriminated. No one was.

Following the feast, a play was given by Mary Ann Murray, Helen Petright, Ruth Parmenter and Betty Cousins. It was entitled, "Bauds and Philomena."

Another important part of the entertainment was the javelin throw. Louis Eaton, Bill Widmeyer, Phil Baldwin, Dick Davis, Robert McCluskie and Edward Edwin competed, with Louis throwing his javelin farther than the others.

The most exciting event of the evening was the chariot race. Wagons were the chariots, Louis Eaton, Dick Davis and Chandler Parker were horses, and Bill Widmeyer, Phil Baldwin and Edward Edwin were the charioteers. Bill was the victor, and the southern half of the gym was used as the arena for these Olympic games.

The costumes were true Roman fashions — a little modified in some cases — as they had only recently been pulled from the beds of those attending. Chandler had an interesting helmet — a garbage container. Louis Eaton had a breast plate of an over which he wore his toga. Someone was heard to remark, "This looks like a convention of ghosts."

Keith Avey is wearing glasses, his eyes have gone bad on him because of looking at so many beautiful girls! (But where are they? I haven't seen them.)

Our dancing star, Ed Baughman, won a jitter-bug contest, with only two contestants, he and his partner. His partner, by the way, was one of the Smith girls from Nov. (Nice going Ed, keep it up and you may win one with three in it.)

Julian Theme interviewing a prominent business man on the four corners! A crowd gathers and Scoop gets nervous.

Julian: "Where were you born?" Business Man: "In Cleveland, O." Julian: "How old were you when you were born?" (Don't believe it, I don't.)

Gov. Dickinson has designated the week of Apr. 24, 1939 as "Michigan-Made Best Sugar Week." This industry gives Michigan 27,200,000 man hours of gainful employment and produces approximately $14,000,000 worth of new wealth in this state annually. Michigan people are urged to buy Michigan-made beet sugar.

bourne has returned to school after an absence of nearly a month. Monday the boys and girls planned a surprise party for Mrs. K. H. Babbit. Scout News

Troop N-7

Six boys have definitely enrolled in Northville's newest Scout troop, and hopes are held that the group can make application for its charter May 15.

Ralph Ray, Charles Starke, Harley Heuts, Richard Ritchie, Robert Ely and Homer Hodge have filed their applications and paid required registration fees. They are now working on Tenderfoot tests.

The Monday night fights have interfered with the regular meeting dates; and the boys will meet Thursday nights until May 15 in the Scout building.

K. K. Leary, troop committeeman, was a welcome visitor at the last meeting. All are welcome at the meetings of this group.
