"The good, as I conceive it, is happiness, happiness for each man after his own heart, and for each hour according to its inspiration."

Methodists Unite . . .

Methodism has united and eight million members of three great divisions of one denomination join hearts and hands in furthering the work of the Kingdom. This work of the unifying conference of the Methodist-Episcopal, Methodist Church South and the Methodist Protestants at Kansas City, is of much interest to 20 million people in the country.

In 1850 Methodism split on the episcopal form of church government, and again in 1844 the slavery issue brought a major break. A 110 to 68 vote censured a slave-owning bishop and then came the Methodist Church South. Half a century of effort to reunite the family apparently failed until recently, and now after 86 years, 85 per cent of the Methodists of the nation join hands.

This reunion means much in magnifying the force of religion as it is, and will be injected into the social, political and economic forces of morality. Methodism dedicates its united energy to the task of bettering the nation. The Christian Science Monitor stoutly contends that "the spectacle of Methodism joining heart and hand in a solemn imposing act of union is refreshing. Impetus is thereby given to forces of religion generally. Once more the grandeur and strength of religion is to be dramatized before the eyes of a great nation."

Figure it out: Put down eight eights in any manner you like so that they will add up to a thousand exactly.

After the first 18 holes of golf we read in the Michigan Bell: "Walking, next to breathing, is man's greatest privilege." O, yeah, we beg to differ.

Good Deeds . . .

With the championship bouts climaxing the winter sport program for some 125 youths of the village under the supervision of Scoutmaster Richard Loomis, attention is now turned to the extensive camping activities, which will take up practically every week end until fall. During the winter, the Cubs, Boy Scouts and Athletic club members have had many hours of pleasure through participation in the organized play directed by Mr. Loomis, together with A. C. Carlson, Dan Draper, Robert Power, Robert Radcliffe, Nelson Schrader, Charles Schoultz, Harold Pamenter, L. R. Lapham, Fred Moffitt, Al Zimmer, Neil Lammford, "Mike" Gunzell, Donnuck Dunn and George Simmons.

These leaders have given many hours of their time, and their efforts have been a blessing to the village. We extend a hearty "Thank You" to these persons who are more than just casually interested in seeing that young villagers get a break.

How many youthful ball players can you old timers count up who have been crucified by an over-analyst's press?

A prominent business man believes that a plug for a clean-up throughout the business district of the village would be most fitting.

Michigan workers were the highest paid in the country during 1937. Social security reports that among the 30 million workers in the nation covered by the old age insurance program, the average wage was $890.00. In Michigan the figure was $1102. Evidently there are other places worse to live in than Michigan in spite of the inclement Spring weather.

A bachelor is one who never makes the same mistake once.

We know a girl who has bowed legs the like of which are few and far between.

Never before have industrial opportunities been so lenient toward the smaller communities — SO, LET'S GO NORTHVILLE.

The Farmers' Corner

By E. I. BESSEMER, County Agent

The control of insects and diseases in our fruits is highly important if quality fruits are expected. The spray calendar, published and requested by the County Agent gives detailed directions for preparing the sprays. The next spray is the petal fall or calyx spray and should be made when most of the petals have dropped and after the bees have quit working.

Where fire blight caused considerable killing of young twigs last year and there is a probable chance of more damage being done this year it has been found helpful to spray with a 2-6-100 Bordeaux mixture at one quarter bloom and for a long bloom period again in full bloom.

MRS. T.W. SMITH TALKS ON POETRY

On Tuesday of last week a number of students from Mrs. F. W. Hawkins English classes listened to Mrs. Thomas W. Smith of the local Presbyterian Church read from her recently published book of poetry, "Trumpet Call," and talk on the technique of writing poetry.

Mrs. Smith passed out copies of her book to help the pupils to understand the talk more fully. She explained the difference between masculine and feminine endings in poetry, illustrating these by reading poems in which both were used. With the help of charts she endeavored to impress upon the students the tremendous amount of technique involved in good poetry-writing.

She explained the different types of poems, those about nature, and those about people and the homey side of life. Mrs. Smith read several of her poems about war which were examples of the latter mentioned type. To illustrate the first type she gave two poems—one about the apple blossoms of Michigan, the other about winter in Minnesota where Dr. Ed Mrs. Smith lived formerly. She describes the tall, snow-covered pines lighted by the winter moonlight, the feathery snow, falling softly, and pieces of ice dropping from the limbs of the trees.

FRESHMAN ASSEMBLY TO FEATURE MOVIE

Wednesday, May 10, the freshman class held a meeting to decide on the type of program to present at their assembly during the latter part of May.

The class decided to present a movie and in order to secure the film of their choice, each student is to contribute a dime so the order can be sent in at the earliest possible date.

A dance was suggested as a means of raising the necessary funds, but Principal G. V. Harrison told them that all convenient dates were taken up for dances or some type of entertainments by other organizations.

French Club

The second year French club entertained the first year group at a meeting in Virginia Kern's home last Wednesday evening.

A committee was appointed to plan an assembly program and suggestions were offered by other members at the meeting. It was decided that the program would be an invitational affair.

After the business meeting a play about "Jeanne d'Arc" was given by some of the second year members. Refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned at 9:20 o'clock.

Editor's Note...

In a little more than three weeks some 30 copies of O.R.A. will be graduated and the rare days of high school will come abruptly to a close. None of us realize at this time just what life is going to be when we stop coming to school every day, quit depending on our mothers' and dads for every little thing, and have to start being self-reliant and begin growing up. We'd better give the matter a thought or two within the next few days.

There are a lot of things being done around school that aren't appreciated because no one knows they're even happening. A good example of this is the very fine art work done on the division pages which were made by the art classes under the direction of Miss Doris Reber for the Palladium. Be sure to read the story about these interesting pages on our Orange and Black page.

Our hearty appreciation goes to Mary Geraghty for the swell job she did last week pinch-hitting for the editor. The Orange and Black was swell, Mary! Maybe the editor should catch cold more often!

MELVINDALE LOSES TO N.H.S. 5-3

By WHITEY HOLT
 Due to the very fine pitching of Ray Hartner, Northville won their second victory of the year over Melvindale last Tuesday.

Northville's fielding and hitting have improved greatly. Only one error was made in this game.

Punk McArthur, who started his first game last week seems to have it well in hand. He kept up his hitting and drove in some well-needed runs. Coach Smith says as long as he plays as well as he does now he will continue in that position.

The line ups follow:
 Northville—Robinson, cf; Wolfe, 2b; Holcomb, ss; Hartner, p; McArthur, 1b; Eaton, 3b; Norton, rf; Funke, lf; LaRue, c.
 Melvindale—Cherry, lf; Morabito, c; Eagle, ss; Wolan, cf; Wade, 3b; Andrews, 1b; Sezowski, rf; Carrel, 2b; Hendricks, p.

Art Classes Complete Work on Palladium Title Pages

The students of Miss Doris Reber's fourth hour art class are to be given credit for the new and different type of title pages that will startle your eye when the 1939 edition of the Palladium comes off the press in a few weeks.

Some time ago the students of the art class began working with clay. At first they modeled character heads of human beings with the clay. After completing several of these projects Miss Reber unfolded to them a new scheme for the title pages of the Palladium. With the assistance of their teacher they immediately made preparations to begin work.

The class was divided into groups and each group was given a title page to work on. Measurements and designs were decided upon before the modeling began. Soon the clay figures began to take shape, and before long they were completed and painted. Backgrounds were then painted and each project was arranged separately and photographed.

Both the Palladium staff and the art class waited breathlessly for the return of the pictures. When they returned they proved to be very successful.

This is the second year that the art class has undertaken the making of the title pages. The first year charcoal sketches were used.

Book Review

Seasoned Timber
 This best-selling novel by Dorothy Canfield Fisher is about Fascism in Vermont. Contrary to Sinclair Lewis' "It Can't Happen Here" with the same setting and subject Mrs. Fisher's novel gives the reader the feeling of security that when confronted with an important decision the American public would choose the right way.

The plot of the story deals with a school election which takes place after a local millionaire dies and leaves the school a large endowment provided certain undemocratic policies are adopted. It is up to the townspeople to decide which course will be taken.

Mrs. Fisher herself vouches for the steadiness of the Vermont people as she is one of them, although she was born in Kansas she considers herself a Vermonter, most of her writings having their settings there.

Even "Indian cooking" COSTS MONEY!

Whether you cook in a tin can over a fire, a wood stove, an oil stove or what, you PAY for cooking... but some methods of cooking give you better results than others. And the difference in cost between ordinary cooking methods and the best cooking method is very little. An electric range gives you better tasting food, cleanliness, ease and simplicity of operation, healthfulness, and cool, comfortable cooking in warm weather. Since you pay for cooking anyway, why not enjoy the advantages of the most modern, up-to-date method? The average cost of cooking on an electric range (family of three) is only $1.55 a month.
